FORM A

ITEM 1. INSURER AND METHOD OF ACQUISITION.

This Form A Statement Regarding the Acquisition of Control of or Merger with a Domestic Insurer (this "Form A") is being submitted to the Insurance Commissioner (the "Commissioner") of the Insurance Division of Iowa (the "Division") by Apollo Global Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("AGM"), Leon Black, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors of AGM, Joshua Harris, Senior Managing Director and member of the Board of Directors of AGM, and Marc Rowan, Senior Managing Director and member of the Board of Directors of AGM (Mr. Black, Mr. Harris and Mr. Rowan, collectively, the "Individual Applicants," and collectively with AGM, the "Applicants").

As described more fully below, the acquisition of control of Aviva Life and Annuity Company, an Iowa-domiciled insurance company ("ALAC"), Aviva Re Iowa, Inc., an Iowa-domiciled limited purpose subsidiary life insurance company and a wholly owned subsidiary of ALAC ("Aviva Re"), Aviva Re Iowa II, Inc., an Iowa-domiciled limited purpose subsidiary life insurance company and a wholly owned subsidiary of ALAC ("Aviva Re II"), and Aviva Re Iowa III, Inc., an Iowa-domiciled limited purpose subsidiary life insurance company and a wholly owned subsidiary of ALAC ("Aviva Re III" and together with Aviva Re, Aviva Re II and ALAC, the "Domestic Insurers"),[1] will result from the proposed acquisition of 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Aviva USA Corporation, an Iowa corporation and ALAC's direct parent company ("AUSA"), by Athene Holding Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company under the control of AGM ("Athene Holding").[2] As described in Item 1(b) of this Form A, subject to receipt of required regulatory approvals, immediately following the closing of the proposed acquisition of control of the Domestic Insurers (the "Proposed Acquisition"), Athene Holding expects to effect certain internal restructuring transactions with respect to its U.S. subsidiaries. Therefore, following the closing of the Proposed Acquisition and the occurrence of the proposed restructuring transactions immediately thereafter, (i) AUSA will be a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Athene Holding, (ii) AUSA will be the direct parent company of Athene Annuity & Life Assurance Company, an insurance company organized under the laws of the state of Delaware ("Athene Annuity"), (iii) Athene Annuity will directly own all of the outstanding stock of ALAC, and (iv) ALAC will directly own all of the outstanding stock of Aviva Re, Aviva Re II, Aviva Re III, the New Domestic Insurer and Presidential Life Insurance Company, a New York-domiciled insurance company ("PLIC"). Promptly following the filing of this Form A, the Applicants will submit a filing with the New York Superintendent of Financial Services pursuant to Section 1506 of the New York Insurance Law (the "New York Form A")

[1] As further described in Item 5(b)(iii) of this Form A, in connection with the CMA Restructuring (as defined herein), ALAC plans to form a new, wholly owned, Iowa-domiciled subsidiary insurance company (the "New Domestic Insurer"). The Applicants plan to acquire control of the New Domestic Insurer through their acquisition of control of ALAC. The Applicants respectfully request that approval of this Form A be deemed to include approval of the acquisition of control of the New Domestic Insurer as well as the Domestic Insurers.

[2] AGM is the ultimate parent of the general partner or manager, as the case may be, of certain shareholders of Athene Holding and therefore "controls" Athene Holding within the meaning of Section 521A.1(3) of the Iowa Code.

with respect to the Applicants' proposed acquisition of control of ALAC's subsidiary, Aviva Life and Annuity Company of New York, a New York-domiciled insurance company ("ALACNY").[3]

AGM is a publicly traded company that is managed, operated and controlled by AGM Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("AGM Management"), and BRH Holdings GP, Ltd., a Cayman Islands company ("BRH"). Each of AGM Management and BRH are wholly owned, managed and controlled, directly or indirectly, by the Individual Applicants. AGM, its affiliates and/or funds managed by AGM or its affiliates control, directly or indirectly, a class of shares of Athene Holding, which, in the aggregate, accounts for 45% of the voting power of Athene Holding's equity. No other shareholder has a voting interest in Athene Holding that exceeds 9.9% of the voting power of Athene Holding's equity.[4] Therefore, upon the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, the Applicants will control the Domestic Insurers and the New Domestic Insurer.

(a) Domestic Insurers

The names and addresses of the Domestic Insurers to which this Form A relates are:

Aviva Life and Annuity Company (NAIC #: 61689)
P.O. Box 14539
Des Moines, Iowa 50309

Aviva Re Iowa, Inc. (Iowa Company Code #: 3136)
7700 Mills Civic Parkway
West Des Moines, Iowa 50266

Aviva Re Iowa II, Inc. (Iowa Company Code #: 3130)
7700 Mills Civic Parkway

[3] The New York Form A contemplates that, immediately prior to the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, PLIC, which is an indirect subsidiary of Athene Holding, will pay ALAC an amount in cash or other marketable securities equal to ALAC's statutory carrying value for ALACNY (which, as of December 31, 2012, was $91.8 million) in exchange for 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of ALACNY. Accordingly, on the Closing Date (as defined herein), ALACNY will be a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of PLIC. The Applicants understand that ALACNY and the New York State Department of Financial Services are currently discussing a potential increase in ALACNY's required reserves. Upon resolution of such discussions, the Applicants will notify the Division of changes (if any) to the Applicants' present plans or proposals with respect to ALAC.

[4] In a disclaimer letter that will be submitted separately to the Division (the "Disclaimer Letter"), Athene Holding plans to request that the Division grant certain disclaimers of control and affiliation with respect to the interests of certain parties related to AGM and the Individual Applicants in the Domestic Insurers.

Aviva Re Iowa III, Inc.[5]
7700 Mills Civic Parkway
West Des Moines, Iowa 50266

(b) Method of Acquisition

Set forth below is a summary of the Proposed Acquisition. The summary of the principal terms of the Proposed Acquisition is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of December 21, 2012, as amended by Amendment No. 1 to Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of April 8, 2013, which is attached hereto as Exhibit 1(b) (the "SPA").

On December 21, 2012, Athene Holding entered into the SPA with Aviva plc, a public limited company organized under the laws of England and Wales ("Aviva"). Subject to the conditions set forth in the SPA, on the closing date thereunder (the "Closing Date"), Athene Holding will acquire 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of AUSA. Subject to receipt of required regulatory approvals, immediately following the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, Athene Holding plans to (i) contribute Athene Annuity to AUSA and (ii) cause AUSA to contribute ALAC to Athene Annuity, such that Athene Annuity will directly own all the outstanding stock of ALAC.

The parties desire to close the Proposed Acquisition as soon as possible, subject to receipt of required approvals from, and the making of required filings and notices with, governmental and regulatory authorities (including approval by the New York State Department of Financial Services of the acquisition of ALACNY) and other customary closing conditions. As previously discussed with the Division, the timeline for closing the Proposed Acquisition may be adjusted in the event that, prior to closing, the Applicants enter into one or more definitive agreements to sell all or a portion of ALAC's life insurance business. The Applicants will promptly respond to the Division's requests to provide additional information regarding the status of the potential sale of all or a portion of ALAC's life insurance business and its effect (if any) on the closing timeline. A sale of the ALAC life business to a third party is not a closing condition for Athene Holding's acquisition of ALAC. (See Item 5(b)(i) for additional discussion of the Applicants' future plans with respect to ALAC's life insurance business.)

Following the combination of AUSA and Athene Annuity, Athene Holding's U.S. subsidiaries will constitute, on an aggregate basis, a leader in the fixed annuity business in the United States.

[5] On March 11, 2013, Aviva Re III filed an application (the "LPS Formation Application") with the Division requesting approval for Aviva Re III to be formed as a wholly owned subsidiary of ALAC to transact business as an Iowa limited purpose subsidiary life insurance company pursuant to Section 508.33A of the Iowa Code, which application is currently pending before the Division. The Applicants plan to acquire control of Aviva Re III through their acquisition of control of ALAC. The Applicants respectfully request that approval of this Form A be deemed to include approval of the acquisition of control of Aviva Re III as well as the other Domestic Insurers.

ITEM 2. IDENTITY AND BACKGROUND OF THE APPLICANTS.

(a) Name and Address of Non-Individual Applicant

The name and address of AGM, the only Applicant that is not an individual, is Apollo Global Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, which has its principal executive offices at 9 West 57th Street, 43rd Floor, New York, New York 10019.

(b) Business Operations of the Applicants

The only Applicant that is not an individual is AGM, which is a publicly traded company founded in 1990. AGM and its subsidiaries (together, "Apollo") operate as a global alternative investment manager, raising, investing and managing private equity, credit and real estate funds, with significant distressed investment expertise. As of December 31, 2012, Apollo had total assets under management of approximately $113 billion. The Individual Applicants are each managing partners of Apollo and lead a team of over 600 employees. Apollo's objective is to achieve superior long-term risk-adjusted returns for its fund investors, by following a value-oriented investment approach that focuses on nine core industries in which Apollo has considerable knowledge and experience.

(c) Organization Chart

Organization charts that present the identities of, and inter-relationships among, AGM and its affiliates that are in the chain of control of the Domestic Insurers before and after giving effect to the Proposed Acquisition and the Life Sale (as defined in Item 5(b)(i) below) are attached hereto as Exhibit 2(c). The organization charts indicate the type of organization and the state or other jurisdiction of domicile of each entity listed or depicted therein, and the percentage of voting securities of each entity owned (or to be owned) by an affiliate in the chain of control of the Domestic Insurers. Unless otherwise indicated, the entities identified in the organization charts own or control 100% of the voting securities or membership interests of their immediate downstream affiliates identified therein.

There are no court proceedings involving a reorganization or liquidation pending with respect to any of the entities depicted in the organization charts.

ITEM 3. IDENTITY AND BACKGROUND OF INDIVIDUALS ASSOCIATED WITH THE APPLICANTS.

(a) Names and Business Addresses

The names and business addresses of the directors and executive officers of AGM are set forth in Exhibit 3(a). The names and business addresses of the Individual Applicants are:

(i) Leon Black, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors of AGM, c/o Apollo Global Management, LLC, 9 West 57th Street, 43rd Floor, New York, New York 10019;

(ii) Joshua Harris, Senior Managing Director and member of the Board of Directors of AGM, c/o Apollo Global Management, LLC, 9 West 57th Street, 43rd Floor, New York, New York 10019; and

(iii) Marc Rowan, Senior Managing Director and member of the Board of Directors of AGM, c/o Apollo Global Management, LLC, 9 West 57th Street, 43rd Floor, New York, New York 10019.

(b), (c), (d) Background Information Regarding AGM's Directors and Executive Officers and the Individual Applicants

(i) AGM's Directors and Executive Officers

The Individual Applicants, through their ownership of BRH, beneficially own the Class B share of AGM and consequently are able to exercise control over all matters requiring the approval of shareholders of AGM. As of December 31, 2012, the Class B share represented 77.4% of the total voting power of AGM's shares entitled to vote. The Class B share does not represent an economic interest in AGM. The Individual Applicants' economic interests are instead represented by their indirect limited partnership interests in various indirect subsidiaries of AGM. AGM's operating agreement provides that so long as AGM Management, the Individual Applicants, the officers, directors, investment professionals and employees of AGM and its subsidiaries (past, present or future) and certain family members, estate planning vehicles and affiliates of any of the foregoing beneficially own at least 10% of the aggregate number of votes that may be cast by holders of AGM's outstanding voting shares (the "AGM Control Condition"), AGM Management has the power to conduct, direct and manage all activities of AGM. Accordingly, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, AGM Management is entitled to, among other things, (i) nominate and elect all directors to AGM's board of directors, (ii) set the number of directors of AGM's board of directors and (iii) fill any vacancies on AGM's board of directors. AGM's board currently consists of seven members—the three Individual Applicants and four independent directors (such independent directors, the "Outside Directors"). For so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, AGM Management may remove any director, with or without cause, at any time.

Based on this structure, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, AGM Management will manage all of AGM's operations and activities, and AGM's board of directors will have no authority other than that which AGM Management chooses to delegate to it (e.g., pursuant to a delegation of authority from AGM Management, which may be revoked, AGM's board of directors has established and will maintain audit and conflicts committees). Accordingly, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, the Outside Directors will have limited powers. In this regard, in the Disclaimer Letter, Athene Holding respectfully seeks confirmation that, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, the Outside Directors will not be considered individuals for whom information is required to be provided under this Item 3 or in ALAC's Form Bs.

A listing of all directors and executive officers of AGM is set forth in Exhibit 3(a). Biographical affidavits of each of the individuals identified in Exhibit 3(a), other than the Outside Directors, setting forth each such individual's current employment information (including position held and business address) and material employment information during the past five years (including position held, business address and starting and ending dates of employment) will be provided to the Division promptly following the filing of this Form A. None of the individuals with respect to whom biographical affidavits will be provided, including the Individual Applicants, have been convicted of any crimes, other than minor traffic violations, during the past ten years, except as otherwise provided in the biographical affidavits.

(ii) Leon Black

Mr. Black's business address is c/o Apollo Global Management, LLC, 9 West 57th Street, 43rd Floor, New York, New York 10019. A biographical affidavit of Mr. Black setting forth Mr. Black's current employment information (including position held and business address) and material employment information during the past five years (including position held, business address and starting and ending dates of employment) will be provided to the Division promptly following the filing of this Form A. The following is a summary of Mr. Black's employment information, but it is qualified in its entirety by the information contained in the biographical affidavit.

Mr. Black is the Chairman of the Board, Chief Executive Officer and a Director of AGM. Mr. Black co-founded Apollo in 1990 to manage investment capital on behalf of a group of institutional investors, focusing on corporate restructuring, leveraged buyouts and taking minority positions in growth-oriented companies. From 1977 to 1990, Mr. Black worked at Drexel Burnham Lambert Incorporated, where he served as Managing Director, head of the Mergers & Acquisitions Group and co-head of the Corporate Finance Department. He is the general partner of AP Alternative Assets.

Mr. Black is a trustee of The Museum of Modern Art, The Mount Sinai Medical Center, The Metropolitan Museum of Art and The Asia Society. He is also a member of The Council on Foreign Relations and The Partnership for New York City and a member of the boards of FasterCures and the Port Authority Task Force. He graduated summa cum laude from Dartmouth College with a major in Philosophy and History and received an MBA from Harvard Business School.

(iii) Joshua Harris

Mr. Harris's business address is c/o Apollo Global Management, LLC, 9 West 57th Street, 43rd Floor, New York, New York 10019. A biographical affidavit of Mr. Harris setting forth Mr. Harris's current employment information (including position held and business address) and material employment information during the past five years (including position held, business address and starting and ending dates of employment) will be provided to the Division promptly following the filing of this Form A. The following is a summary of Mr. Harris's employment information, but it is qualified in its entirety by the information contained in the biographical affidavit.

Mr. Harris is a Senior Managing Director and Director of AGM and co-founded Apollo in 1990. Prior to 1990, Mr. Harris was a member of the Mergers & Acquisitions Group of Drexel

Burnham Lambert Incorporated. Mr. Harris currently serves on the boards of directors of Berry Plastics Group Inc., LyondellBasell Industries B.V., CEVA Group plc, Momentive Performance Materials Holdings LLC, EPE Acquisitions, LLC and the holding company for Constellium. Mr. Harris has previously served on the boards of directors of Verso Paper Corp., Metals USA Inc., Nalco Corporation, Allied Waste Industries Inc., Pacer International Inc., General Nutrition Centers Inc., Furniture Brands International Inc., Compass Minerals International Inc., Alliance Imaging Inc., NRT Inc., Covalence Specialty Materials Corp., United Agri Products Inc., Quality Distribution Inc., Whitmire Distribution Corp., and Noranda Aluminum Holding Corporation.

Mr. Harris is actively involved in charitable and political organizations. He is a member and serves on the Corporate Affairs Committee of the Council on Foreign Relations. Mr. Harris serves as Chairman of the Department of Medicine Advisory Board for The Mount Sinai Medical Center and is on the Board of Trustees of the Mount Sinai Medical Center. Mr. Harris is a member of The Federal Reserve Bank of New York Investors Advisory Committee on Financial Markets. He is also a member of The University of Pennsylvania's Wharton Undergraduate Executive Board and is on the Board of Trustees for The Allen-Stevenson School and the Harvard Business School. Mr. Harris graduated summa cum laude and Beta Gamma Sigma from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business with a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics and received his MBA from the Harvard Business School, where he graduated as a Baker and Loeb Scholar.

(iv) Marc Rowan

Mr. Rowan's business address is c/o Apollo Global Management, LLC, 9 West 57th Street, 43rd Floor, New York, New York 10019. A biographical affidavit of Mr. Rowan setting forth Mr. Rowan's current employment information (including position held and business address) and material employment information during the past five years (including position held, business address and starting and ending dates of employment) will be provided to the Division promptly following the filing of this Form A. The following is a summary of Mr. Rowan's employment information, but it is qualified in its entirety by the information contained in the biographical affidavit.

Mr. Rowan is a Senior Managing Director and Director of AGM and co-founded Apollo in 1990. Prior to 1990, Mr. Rowan was a member of the Mergers & Acquisitions Group of Drexel Burnham Lambert Incorporated, with responsibilities in high yield financing, transaction idea generation and merger structure negotiation. Mr. Rowan currently serves on the boards of directors of the general partner of AP Alternative Assets, L.P., Athene Holding, Athene Life Re Ltd., Caesars Entertainment Corporation and Norwegian Cruise Lines. He has previously served on the boards of directors of AMC Entertainment, Inc., Cablecom GmbH, Culligan Water Technologies, Inc., Countrywide Holdings Limited, Furniture Brands International Inc., Mobile Satellite Ventures, LLC, National Cinemedia, Inc., National Financial Partners, Inc., New World Communications, Inc., Quality Distribution, Inc., Samsonite Corporation, SkyTerra Communications Inc., Unity Media SCA, Vail Resorts, Inc. and Wyndham International, Inc.

Mr. Rowan is also active in charitable activities. He is a founding member and serves on the executive committee of the Youth Renewal Fund and is a member of the boards of directors of the National Jewish Outreach Program and the Undergraduate Executive Board of the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business. Mr. Rowan graduated summa cum laude from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business with a BS and an MBA in Finance.

ITEM 4. NATURE, SOURCE AND AMOUNT OF CONSIDERATION.

(a) Nature, Source and Amount of Funds or Other Considerations Used or to be Used in Effecting the Proposed Acquisition

Pursuant to the terms and conditions of the SPA, Aviva will receive aggregate consideration of approximately $1.55 billion, subject to certain adjustments as set forth in the SPA (the "Purchase Price"), in connection with the sale of AUSA.

The Purchase Price will be paid to Aviva as provided in Table 1 below. Such steps will occur on the Closing Date and will occur at approximately the same time. The steps assume (i) receipt of approval of each constituent step requiring a distinct regulatory approval from the applicable regulatory authorities; (ii) that ALAC has recaptured all of the business it previously ceded to its affiliate, Curelife Ltd., a Bermuda reinsurance company in the process of being redomesticated to Barbados and a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of AUSA ("Curelife")[6]; and (iii) that as of the Closing Date, the Applicants have not entered into a definitive agreement to sell all or a portion of ALAC's life insurance business. The amounts included in Table 1 and Table 2 below are based on financial information of Aviva and its U.S. subsidiaries as of June 30, 2012, and the outstanding loan balance under AUSA's credit agreement with certain third-party banks as of December 31, 2012; therefore, the actual amounts payable on the Closing Date will change based on financial information as of the Closing Date and applicable adjustments.

Table 1—Purchase Price Components

1. Transfer of Surplus Notes of ALAC	• AUSA will distribute to Aviva Group Holdings Limited, a company organized under the laws of England and Wales and an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Aviva ("AGHL"), certain issued and outstanding surplus notes of ALAC originally issued to AUSA, in an aggregate principal amount of $250 million.[7]
2. Repayment of Intercompany Loans	• AUSA will pay cash in an amount equal to $896 million to AGHL in repayment of all loans

[6] Immediately after such recapture, Curelife is expected to distribute its remaining assets to AUSA via an extraordinary dividend, subject to the approval of the Barbados Office of the Supervisor of Insurance.

[7] The transfer of ALAC's surplus notes will not occur in the event that new captive insurance companies are established under PLIC-USA prior to the closing of the Proposed Acquisition. (See Item 5(b)(i) for additional information regarding the proposed PLIC-USA Reinsurance Transaction (as defined herein).)

	made by AGHL to AUSA as borrower under an intercompany loan agreement.[8]
3. Redemption of Shares by AUSA	• AUSA will pay approximately $207 million[9] (the "Share Redemption Cash Consideration") to purchase from AGHL a portion of the shares of AUSA held by AGHL.
4. Athene Holding's Purchase of Unredeemed Shares	• Athene Holding will pay approximately $197 million[10] in cash to purchase from AGHL all remaining shares of AUSA held by AGHL and not redeemed by AUSA as described above. Such cash payment will be made from available assets of Athene Holding and/or its subsidiaries. Athene Holding does not currently expect that any debt financing will be required in connection with the cash payment.
5. Total Purchase Price	• $1.55 billion

The sources of consideration for the redemption of shares by AUSA are as described below in Table 2.

Table 2—Share Redemption Components

A. Athene Annuity's Purchase of Surplus Notes of ALAC	• Subject to the approval of Athene Annuity's board of directors, Athene Annuity expects to purchase certain issued and outstanding surplus notes of ALAC originally issued to AUSA, in an aggregate principal amount of $140 million. Such purchase will be made with available assets of Athene Annuity. Athene Annuity does not currently expect that any debt financing will be required in connection with such purchase.
B. Extraordinary Distribution	• ALAC is separately applying to the Division for approval to pay an extraordinary distribution in an aggregate amount equal to $1.4 billion to AUSA (the "Extraordinary Distribution"). The proposed Extraordinary Distribution is comprised of (i) cash in an amount equal to $1.2 billion and (ii) an outstanding note of AUSA issued to ALAC (which will be cancelled following the distribution) in an aggregate principal amount of $200 million. o Only the amount of the cash will increase the total amount AUSA has available for the Share Redemption Cash Consideration.

[8] Accrued interest will also be paid in connection with repayment of the intercompany loan agreement.

[9] See row C in Table 2 below.

C. Total Amount of Cash Available for the Share Redemption Cash Consideration	• Following receipt of the Extraordinary Distribution and payment from Athene Annuity for the ALAC surplus notes, AUSA's total cash on hand is approximately $1.34 billion.[11] o AUSA's total cash on hand decreases dollar for dollar to reflect the $896 million repayment to AGHL of the intercompany loans. (See row 2 of Table 1 above.) o AUSA's total cash on hand also decreases dollar for dollar to reflect repayment of loan amounts owed to certain banks under the credit agreement to which AUSA is a party. The outstanding loan balance is variable, but as of December 31, 2012, the balance was $237 million. • After the above-described loan repayments totaling approximately $1.133 billion, the total amount of cash available for the Share Redemption Cash Consideration is approximately $207 million.[12]

(b) Criteria Used in Determining the Nature and Amount of Such Consideration

The nature and amount of the consideration to be paid in connection with the Proposed Acquisition was determined in connection with an auction process, by arm's-length negotiations among the parties to the SPA. The major items considered in determining the Purchase Price were actuarial projections, net investment earned rates, tax considerations and various contribution analyses including relative premium, relative capital, relative profitability and relative return on equity contributions.

[12] Subject to change based on closing financial information and adjustments.

ITEM 5. FUTURE PLANS FOR INSURER.

(a) Introduction

Other than as described below in this Item 5, the Applicants have no present plans or proposals to: (i) cause the Domestic Insurers to declare an extraordinary dividend; (ii) liquidate the Domestic Insurers; (iii) sell their assets (except for investment transactions and minor asset dispositions in the ordinary course of business and except with respect to the life reinsurance transactions described under Items 5(b) and (c)) to or merge them with any person or persons; or (iv) make any other material change in their business operations or corporate structure or management. During the pendency of this Form A, the Applicants will keep the Division apprised of any changes to the Applicants' present plans or proposals with respect to the Domestic Insurers, as described herein. From time to time following the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, the Applicants and the management of the Domestic Insurers may evaluate the business and operations of the Domestic Insurers.

The Applicants' present plans or proposals with respect to the future operations of ALAC, as described in this Item 5, are set forth in greater detail in the business plan, including pro forma financial statements, which are being separately filed under confidential cover as Exhibit 5(a). The Applicants respectfully request that (i) such materials be afforded confidential treatment, (ii) the Applicants be notified in advance of any proposed disclosure by the Division and (iii) the Applicants be given a reasonable opportunity to seek a protective order or take other action to prevent or limit any such disclosure.

(b) Transactions Proposed to Occur Immediately Prior to or at the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition

(i) Potential Sale of All of ALAC's Life Insurance Business; Capitalization of Presidential Life Insurance Company – USA

On April 30, 2013, Athene Holding entered into the Purchase and Sale Agreement (the "PSA") with Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts ("CALIC"), to sell all of ALAC's life insurance business to CALIC (the "Life Sale"). Set forth below is a summary of the principal terms of the Life Sale. Such summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the PSA, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 5(b)(i)(A).

First, pursuant to the terms of the PSA, two business days prior to the Closing Date, Athene Holding plans to sell, or cause to be sold, to CALIC 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock (the "Shares") of Presidential Life Insurance Company – USA, a Delaware insurance company in the process of redomesticating to Iowa ("PLIC-USA"). Pursuant to the terms of the PSA, in exchange for the Shares, Presidential Life LLC, a limited liability company organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and a subsidiary of Athene Holding, will receive aggregate consideration equal to $2 million, plus PLIC-USA's statutory capital and surplus as of the Shares Closing Date (as defined in the PSA). Under the PSA, following its purchase of the Shares and on or prior to the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, CALIC will contribute capital to PLIC-USA in an amount sufficient to ensure PLIC-USA's total adjusted capital is at least equal to 350% of company-action-level risk-based capital after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents (as defined in the PSA). The proposed acquisition of control of PLIC-USA by CALIC will be the subject of a Form A Statement Regarding the Acquisition of Control of or Merger with a Domestic Insurer, which CALIC will file separately with the Division.[13]

Prior to the PLIC-USA Reinsurance Transaction (as defined below), the Applicants anticipate that ALAC will recapture 100% of the business currently ceded to Aviva Re, Aviva Re II and Aviva Re III, and new limited purpose subsidiary life insurance companies will be formed as subsidiaries of PLIC-USA.[14] Immediately prior to the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, PLIC-USA, the new limited purpose subsidiary life insurance companies and certain financing counterparties plan to enter into a series of captive reinsurance agreements (the "Captive Reinsurance Agreements") on substantially similar terms to the captive reinsurance agreements currently in place under ALAC. The parties anticipate that under the Captive Reinsurance Agreements, ALAC will have the right to make payments of financing fees and costs in the event that PLIC-USA fails to pay such amounts and no alternative financing or other means of supporting reserves is in effect.

Immediately prior to the closing of the Proposed Acquisition and subject to the receipt of required regulatory approvals, ALAC plans to cede or retrocede, as applicable, its liabilities under substantially all of its life insurance business to PLIC-USA (such reinsurance transaction, the "PLIC-USA Reinsurance Transaction"). A copy of the form of the Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement to be entered into by and between ALAC and PLIC-USA to effect the PLIC-USA Reinsurance Transaction is attached hereto as Exhibit 5(b)(i)(B) (the "Reinsurance Agreement"). PLIC-USA will reinsure on a coinsurance basis 100% of the Reinsured Liabilities (as defined in the Reinsurance Agreement), except that PLIC-USA will reinsure the Closed Block Policies (as defined in the Reinsurance Agreement) on a funds withheld basis and ALAC will allocate to a notional funds withheld account established in its books and records (the "Funds Withheld Account") an amount in cash, cash equivalents and assets, as determined in accordance with the Reinsurance Agreement. ALAC will record the balance of the Funds Withheld Account on its statutory financial statements as a payable to PLIC-USA. Upon the effectiveness of the Reinsurance Agreement, pursuant to the terms of the PSA, CALIC or one or more of its affiliates will acquire the Purchased Assets (as defined in the PSA) from ALAC or one or more of its affiliates in exchange for the Purchased Assets Purchase Price (as defined in the PSA).

In connection with the Reinsurance Agreement, PLIC-USA, as grantor, ALAC, as beneficiary, and a trustee acceptable to each of them, will enter into a Trust Agreement, the form of which agreement is being separately filed under confidential cover as Exhibit 5(b)(i)(C) (the "Trust Agreement"). Pursuant to the Trust Agreement, as security for the payment of amounts due from PLIC-USA to ALAC under the Reinsurance Agreement (other than with respect to the [13] The Applicants expect PLIC-USA's redomestication from Delaware to Iowa to be complete prior to the sale of the Shares, and accordingly, CALIC expects to file with the Division its application to acquire control of PLIC-USA.

[14] Completion of the Life Sale, the PLIC-USA Reinsurance Transaction and the related transactions with the existing and new limited purpose subsidiary life insurance companies are not conditions to the obligations of any party under the SPA.

Closed Block Policies, as defined in the Reinsurance Agreement), PLIC-USA will transfer to a trust account cash and assets in an amount not less than the Required Balance (as defined in the Reinsurance Agreement), which includes an overcollateralization amount of approximately 2.75%. With respect to the Indy Life Closed Block Policies (as defined in the Reinsurance Agreement), subject to the receipt of required regulatory approvals, the liabilities associated with such policies will be coinsured by ALAC to PLIC-USA and PLIC-USA, as grantor, will establish a separate trust for the benefit of ALAC as security for the payment of amounts due from PLIC-USA to ALAC with respect to the Indy Life Closed Block Policies, which trust will not be subject to the above-described overcollateralization requirement.

For an interim period up to 24 months following the Closing Date, AUSA will provide or cause to be provided certain services to CALIC and its affiliates (including PLIC-USA) pursuant to a Transition Services Agreement to be entered into by and between AUSA and CALIC, the form of which is being separately filed under confidential cover as Exhibit 5(b)(i)(D). Pursuant to an Administrative Services Agreement by and between ALAC and PLIC-USA, the form of which is being separately filed under confidential cover as Exhibit 5(b)(i)(E), PLIC-USA will perform certain administrative services with respect to the life insurance policies reinsured under the Reinsurance Agreement. To facilitate PLIC-USA's administration of the life insurance business, certain employees of AUSA and its affiliates may receive offers of employment with CALIC or a subsidiary of CALIC (including PLIC-USA), as further described in the PSA.

(ii) Modified Coinsurance Agreement

At the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, pursuant to a Modified Coinsurance Agreement (the "Modco Agreement") to be entered into by ALAC and Athene Life Re Ltd., a reinsurance company organized under the laws of Bermuda and a wholly owned subsidiary of Athene Holding ("ALRe"), ALAC plans to cede to ALRe, on a modified coinsurance basis, an 80% quota share of certain of its liabilities in respect of its annuity business. The liabilities ceded under the Modco Agreement will include the guaranteed minimum death benefits riders and guaranteed living income benefit riders, in each case, identified in the Modco Agreement, and ALRe will not be obligated to pay any ceding commission to ALAC. The Applicants, on behalf of ALAC, will file a Form D seeking the Division's approval of the new Modco Agreement.

(iii) CMA Restructuring

On or prior to the Closing Date, ALAC plans to enter into (i) a coinsurance agreement with the New Domestic Insurer pursuant to which the New Domestic Insurer will coinsure 100% of all annuities issued by ALAC (and its predecessor by merger, Aviva Life Insurance Company) to Aviva London Assignment Corp., (ii) a capital and surplus maintenance agreement with AUSA and the New Domestic Insurer, under which ALAC and AUSA will agree, jointly and severally, to maintain the capital and surplus of the New Domestic Insurer at no less than an agreed-upon level and (iii) a letter agreement with the New Domestic Insurer and Aviva International Insurance Limited ("AII"), pursuant to which ALAC and the New Domestic Insurer will make certain covenants to AII and will grant AII certain rights of enforcement and inspection (the transactions contemplated by clauses (i), (ii) and (iii), collectively, the "CMA Restructuring"). The CMA Restructuring requires organization and licensing of the New Domestic Insurer. ALAC will submit filings to the Division regarding the CMA Restructuring under separate cover. As noted above, the Applicants respectfully request that approval of this Form A be deemed to include approval of the acquisition of control of the New Domestic Insurer.

(iv) Extraordinary Distribution

As described above in Item 4(a), on or prior to the Closing Date, ALAC is proposing to pay to AUSA the Extraordinary Distribution in an aggregate amount equal to $1.4 billion, comprised of (i) cash in an amount equal to $1.2 billion and (ii) an outstanding note of AUSA issued to ALAC (which will be subsequently cancelled) in an aggregate principal amount of $200 million. Following payment of the Extraordinary Distribution, the closing of the Proposed Acquisition and the occurrence of the proposed restructuring transactions described in Item 5(c)(i) below, ALAC expects to have total adjusted capital in an amount at least equal to 350% of company-action-level risk-based capital on the Closing Date, and the Applicants expect to maintain total adjusted capital in an amount at least equal to 350% of company-action-level risk-based capital on an ongoing basis thereafter. The request for approval of the Extraordinary Distribution will be filed separately by ALAC.

(c) Transactions Proposed to Occur Immediately After the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition

(i) Internal Restructuring of Athene Holding's Insurance Holding Company System

As noted in Item 1(b), subject to receipt of required regulatory approvals, immediately following the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, Athene Holding expects to effect certain internal restructuring transactions with respect to its U.S. subsidiaries. First, Athene Holding plans to contribute Athene Annuity to AUSA. Then, Athene Holding plans to cause AUSA to contribute ALAC to Athene Annuity (the "Proposed ALAC Contribution"), such that Athene Annuity will directly own all the outstanding stock of ALAC. Contemporaneously with the Proposed ALAC Contribution, Athene Annuity plans to contribute PLIC[15] to ALAC (the "Proposed PLIC Contribution"). The organization charts attached hereto as Exhibit 5(c)(i) set forth the steps involved in the proposed internal restructuring of Athene Holding's organizational structure, including ownership of each of ALAC and PLIC following the Proposed ALAC Contribution and the Proposed PLIC Contribution, respectively. Each of the Proposed ALAC Contribution and the Proposed PLIC Contribution is part of a plan to simplify Athene Holding's organizational structure following the acquisition of AUSA.[16]

The Applicants respectfully submit that no separate Form A Statement Regarding the Acquisition of Control of or Merger with a Domestic Insurer is required relating to the Proposed [15] It is currently contemplated that, with the prior written consent of Aviva, PLIC will directly acquire ALACNY immediately prior to the closing of the Proposed Acquisition.

[16] Completion of the Proposed ALAC Contribution and the Proposed PLIC Contribution are not conditions to the obligations of any party under the SPA.

ALAC Contribution and the resulting interposition of Athene Annuity as an intermediate holding company in ALAC's ownership chain, based on the fact that, following the Proposed ALAC Contribution, ALAC will remain under the ultimate control of the Applicants. On behalf of ALAC, the Applicants also respectfully request that the Division confirm that no Form D Prior Notice of a Transaction is required in connection with the Proposed PLIC Contribution.

(ii) Novation of Life Insurance Policies Reinsured Under the Reinsurance Agreement

Following the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, and subject to the receipt of required regulatory approvals, PLIC-USA will pursue novation of all of the life insurance policies reinsured under the Reinsurance Agreement, other than (A) such policies that are the subject of litigation or arbitration proceedings and (B) the Closed Block Policies (as defined in the Reinsurance Agreement). With respect to each applicable life insurance policy, upon satisfaction of all requirements for novation and assumption, as set forth in the Reinsurance Agreement, such policy shall be deemed assumed by novation and shall no longer be deemed indemnity coinsured under the Reinsurance Agreement.

(iii) Affiliate Agreements

Immediately following the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, the Applicants plan to cause ALAC and the New Domestic Insurer to become party to certain affiliate agreements between various insurers and service providers in Athene Holding's insurance holding company structure. These affiliate agreements include (i) an investment management agreement (including disclosure with respect to a master sub-advisory agreement), (ii) a shared services and cost sharing agreement and (iii) a tax allocation agreement. The affiliate agreements to which ALAC and the New Domestic Insurer are proposed to become party will be submitted to the Division for its approval under a separate transmittal. ALAC is currently party to (i) an investment management agreement, (ii) an administrative services agreement and (iii) a tax allocation and indemnification agreement with certain affiliates of Aviva, which will be terminated effective as of the closing of the Proposed Acquisition.

Aviva Re and Aviva Re II (and, following approval of the LPS Formation Application, Aviva Re III) are party to (i) an investment management agreement, (ii) tax allocation and indemnification agreements and (iii) an administrative services agreement with certain affiliates of Aviva, which will be terminated effective as of the closing of the Proposed Acquisition (subject to receipt of required approvals and consents). The Applicants plan to cause any new limited purpose subsidiary life insurance companies formed as subsidiaries of PLIC-USA to become parties to the following affiliate agreements: (i) an investment management agreement (including disclosure with respect to a master sub-advisory agreement) (ii) a tax allocation agreement and (iii) a shared services and cost sharing agreement. Iowa-domiciled limited purpose subsidiary life insurance companies are exempt from Form D filing requirements, but the details of such agreements will be described in such companies' plans of operation, to be filed separately with the Division in connection with the formation of such companies.

(d) Competitive Impact

As set forth in more detail in Exhibit 5(d) attached hereto, applying the criteria set forth in the NAIC Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Model Act, the market shares of Athene Holding's and AUSA's U.S. subsidiaries doing business in Iowa do not constitute prima facie evidence of a violation of the competitive standard.

(e) Proposed Directors and Executive Officers of the Domestic Insurers and the New Domestic Insurer

Upon the closing of the Proposed Acquisition, certain members of the Domestic Insurers' and the New Domestic Insurer's respective Boards of Directors and certain executive officers will be replaced, and new directors and executive officers will be selected from among those individuals currently serving as executive officers and/or directors (or managers, as applicable) of the Applicants or Athene Holding's U.S. subsidiaries. A list of the individuals that the Applicants anticipate will constitute the directors and executive officers of the Domestic Insurers and the New Domestic Insurer follows.

The proposed directors of each Domestic Insurer and the New Domestic Insurer after the Proposed Acquisition are:

James Richard Belardi
Grant Kvalheim
Guy Hudson Smith III
Imran Mohsin Siddiqui
Matthew Russell Michelini
Joshua Max Black
Hope Schefler Taitz
James Andrew Betts
Francis Patrick Sabatini

The proposed executive officers of each Domestic Insurer and the New Domestic Insurer after the Proposed Acquisition are:

James Richard Belardi	Chief Executive Officer and President
Brenda Jean Cushing	Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer
Stephen Eric Cernich	Executive Vice President and Head of Corporate Development
Christopher James Grady	Executive Vice President and Head of Retail
Christopher Lewis Jones	Executive Vice President and Chief Marketing Officer
Christopher Robert Welp	Executive Vice President, Insurance Operations
Matthew Stephen Easley	Executive Vice President and Chief Actuary
Jeffrey Ronald Boland	Executive Vice President and Chief Risk Officer
Richard Carlton Cohan, Jr.	Executive Vice President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary
William Jeffrey Heng	Senior Vice President and Appointed Actuary

With respect to any new proposed directors and executive officers of the Domestic Insurers and the New Domestic Insurer, information about such persons (including, without limitation, the present principal business activity, occupation or employment, including position and office held and the name, principal business and address of any corporation or other organization in which such employment is carried on) will be provided to the Division promptly following the filing of this Form A (other than the following individuals, (i) who currently serve as officers or directors of ALAC: Brenda Jean Cushing, Christopher Lewis Jones, Christopher Robert Welp, Richard Carlton Cohan, Jr. and William Jeffrey Heng or (ii) whose information is already on file with the Division in connection with PLIC-USA's application to redomesticate from Delaware to Iowa: James Richard Belardi, Guy Hudson Smith III, Imran Mohsin Siddiqui, Matthew Russell Michelini and Joshua Max Black).

ITEM 6. VOTING SECURITIES TO BE ACQUIRED.

ALAC is authorized to issue 10,000,000 voting shares and has issued and outstanding 10,000,000 voting shares. Currently, all stock of ALAC is owned by AUSA. Following the closing of the Proposed Acquisition and proposed internal restructuring transactions, Athene Annuity, which will be a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of AUSA and an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Athene Holding, will own 100% of the voting securities of ALAC, and ALAC will own 100% of the voting securities of Aviva Re, Aviva Re II, Aviva Re III and the New Domestic Insurer. As described further in Item 4(a), the SPA provides that upon completion of the Proposed Acquisition, Aviva will be entitled to receive the Purchase Price in exchange for 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of AUSA.

Aviva Re and Aviva Re II are each authorized to issue 25,000 voting shares, respectively, and have issued and outstanding 25,000 voting shares, respectively. Currently, all stock of Aviva Re and Aviva Re II is owned by ALAC. As described in the LPS Formation Application, Aviva Re III is authorized to issue 25,000 voting shares, and upon approval of the LPS Formation Application, will issue 25,000 voting shares to ALAC.

The New Domestic Insurer is currently in the process of being formed. A filing for the formation and licensing of the New Domestic Insurer will be submitted to the Division under separate cover. Prior to the Closing Date, the New Domestic Insurer will be wholly owned by ALAC. On the Closing Date, the Applicants will acquire control of the New Domestic Insurer through their acquisition of control of ALAC.

As described further in Item 4(b), the nature, amount and method of determination of the fairness of the consideration to be paid in connection with the Proposed Acquisition was determined in connection with an auction process, by arm's-length negotiations among the parties to the SPA.

ITEM 7. OWNERSHIP OF VOTING SECURITIES.

To the knowledge of the Applicants, except pursuant to the SPA, none of the Applicants, AGM's affiliates, or any person listed in Item 3, beneficially owns or has the right to acquire beneficial ownership of, voting securities of the Domestic Insurers.

ITEM 8. CONTRACTS, ARRANGEMENTS OR UNDERSTANDINGS WITH RESPECT TO VOTING SECURITIES OF THE INSURER.

The Proposed Acquisition will be effected pursuant to the terms of the SPA. To the knowledge of the Applicants, other than as described in the SPA and as described in Item 5 of this Form A, there are no contracts, arrangements or understandings with respect to any voting securities of the Domestic Insurers in which the Applicants, AGM's affiliates or any person listed in Item 3 is involved, including, without limitation, to transfer any of the securities involved in the Proposed Acquisition, or involving any joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against losses or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies.

ITEM 9. RECENT PURCHASES OF VOTING SECURITIES.

To the knowledge of the Applicants, there have been no acquisitions, direct or indirect, during the twelve calendar months preceding the filing of this Form A, of any voting securities of the Domestic Insurers that were effected by the Applicants, AGM's affiliates or any person listed in Item 3.

ITEM 10. RECENT RECOMMENDATIONS TO PURCHASE.

To the knowledge of the Applicants, none of the Applicants, AGM's affiliates, any person listed in Item 3 or any person based upon interviews or at the suggestion of the Applicants, AGM's affiliates or any person listed in Item 3, has made any recommendations to purchase any voting securities of the Domestic Insurers during the twelve (12) calendar months preceding the filing of this Form A, except as set forth herein.

ITEM 11. AGREEMENTS WITH BROKER-DEALERS.

To the knowledge of the Applicants, no agreement, contract or understanding has been made by the Applicants, AGM's affiliates or any person listed in Item 3, with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of voting securities of the Domestic Insurers for tender, and no fees, commissions or other compensation will be paid to any broker-dealer in connection with the same.

ITEM 12. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND EXHIBITS.

STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT, dated as of December 21, 2012 (this "Agreement"), between Aviva plc, a public limited company organized under the laws of England and Wales ("Seller"), and Athene Holding Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company ("Buyer").

WHEREAS, Seller indirectly owns 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Aviva Group Holdings Limited, a company organized under the laws of England and Wales ("AGHL"), which directly owns 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock (the "Shares") of Aviva USA Corporation, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Iowa ("AUSA");

WHEREAS, AUSA directly owns 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Aviva Life and Annuity Company, an insurance company organized under the laws of the State of Iowa ("ALAC"), and ALAC directly owns 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Aviva Life & Annuity Company of New York, an insurance company organized under the laws of the State of New York ("ALACNY" and, together with ALAC, the "Insurance Companies");

WHEREAS, Seller desires to cause AGHL to sell to Buyer, and Buyer desires to acquire from AGHL, all the Shares;

WHEREAS, after the date hereof, Buyer may enter into an agreement (the "LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement") with a reinsurer ("Life Reinsurer") pursuant to which, at the Closing but prior to the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares (as defined below) hereunder, the Insurance Companies will enter into one or more reinsurance agreements (the "Life Business Reinsurance Agreements" and, together with the LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, the "Life Business Agreements") with Life Reinsurer or one of its Affiliates pursuant to which the Insurance Companies will cede to Life Reinsurer or such Affiliates some or all of the liabilities in respect of their life insurance business;

WHEREAS, at the Closing but prior to the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares (as defined below), (i) ALAC will recapture the business ceded to Curelife Ltd. (the "Curelife Recapture") and each of ALAC and ALACNY will, if all applicable conditions to the Captive Recapture as set forth in this Agreement are met, recapture the business ceded to the AUSA Captives and use its reasonable best efforts to obtain releases, to be effective as of the Closing, from the respective financing counterparties reasonably satisfactory to Buyer (the "Captive Recapture"), in each case, under the respective reinsurance agreements between the applicable parties; and (ii) subject to Section 2.1(c), ALAC will enter into a reinsurance agreement with Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer in the form attached as Annex A hereto (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to Buyer and Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer in their sole discretion, provided that the substance of such changes would not be reasonably likely to affect adversely the likelihood of the satisfaction of the closing conditions to this Agreement), pursuant to which ALAC will cede to Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer, on a modified coinsurance basis, a quota share of certain of its liabilities in respect of its annuity business, other than the ALAS Policies (the "Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement");

WHEREAS, after the date hereof, Buyer may enter into an agreement (the "AR Reinsurance Framework Agreement") with a Third Party reinsurer ("Annuity Reinsurer") pursuant to which, at the Closing but prior to the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares (as defined below) hereunder, ALAC will enter into a reinsurance agreement (the "Annuity Business Reinsurance Agreement" and, together with the AR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, the "Annuity Business Agreements") with Annuity Reinsurer pursuant to which ALAC will cede to Annuity Reinsurer no more than 40% of the liabilities in respect of its annuity business, other than the ALAS Policies (the "Annuity Business Transaction");

WHEREAS, at the Closing but prior to the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares, AUSA will (i) distribute to AGHL an aggregate principal amount of the ALAC Surplus Notes calculated in accordance with Section 2.1(a)(v) and (ii) sell to Athene Annuity & Life Assurance Company ("Athene Annuity") the remainder of the ALAC Surplus Notes at par in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement;

WHEREAS, at the Closing but prior to the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares, ALAC will pay the Extraordinary Distribution to AUSA and in connection therewith the AUSA Note will be cancelled and discharged, in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement;

WHEREAS, at the Closing but prior to the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares, (i) AUSA will repay the Intercompany Loans and Credit Agreement Loans and (ii) AUSA will effect the Closing Date Share Redemption (the transactions contemplated to be taken at the Closing and described in, or contemplated by, this recital and the preceding five recitals (together with the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction (as defined herein)), are referred to herein as the "Pre-Closing Transactions"); and

WHEREAS, immediately after the Closing, Buyer will cause AUSA and the other Companies party thereto, to enter into each Buyer Affiliate Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained in this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I.
DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1.1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, the following terms shall have the respective meanings set forth below:

"1940 Act" means the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

"Action" means (i) any civil, criminal or administrative action, suit, claim, litigation or similar proceeding, in each case before a Governmental Entity, or (ii) any investigation or written inquiry by a Governmental Entity other than any examination by a taxing authority, including a Tax audit, in each case other than complaint activity by or on behalf of policyholders unless and until any such policyholder complaint activity results in any civil, criminal or administrative action, suit, claim, litigation or similar proceeding before a Governmental Entity, in which case it shall, without duplication, be treated as an Action hereunder.

"Advisers Act" means the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

"Affiliate" of any Person means another Person that directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with, such first Person; provided that, with respect to Buyer, the term "Affiliate" shall (A) include Apollo Global Management, LLC ("AGM"), Subsidiaries of AGM, including Athene Manager, engaged in alternative asset management (the "Apollo Entities") and any Subsidiaries and other controlling Affiliates of Buyer (including pooled investment funds invested in Buyer) and (B) not include (x) any of the other pooled investment vehicles, funds, managed accounts or other clients to whom Apollo Entities provide investment advice or otherwise serve in a fiduciary capacity or (y) any of the other portfolio companies in which the entities described in clause (x) directly or indirectly hold investments.

"Affiliate Agreements" means Contracts between (a) any Company, on the one hand, and any officer, director, employee or consultant who is a natural Person (in each case, who is not an employee of the Companies) of Seller or any Subsidiary of Seller (other than the Companies), or any Person related by blood or marriage to such natural Person, on the other hand, and (b) Seller or any Affiliate of Seller (other than the Companies), on the one hand, and any Employees, on the other hand.

"AIA" means Aviva Investors Americas LLC, a Delaware limited liability company.

"AIA Asset Purchase Agreement" means the Asset Purchase Agreement, dated as of the date hereof, between AINA and AIA.

"AIA Employees" shall have the meaning set forth in the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement.

"AINA" means Aviva Investors North America, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of AUSA.

"AINA Loan Restructuring Steps Plan" means the steps plan described on Section 4.10(c) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule.

"ALAC Surplus Notes" means the issued and outstanding surplus notes of ALAC issued to AUSA, in an aggregate principal amount of $390,000,000.

"ALAS Policies" means the structured settlement annuity Contracts issued by ALAC to Aviva London Assignment Corporation.

"Ameritas" means Ameritas Investment Corp., a minority of the capital stock of which is owned by Centralife Annuities Service, Inc., which is a wholly owned subsidiary of ALAC.

"Ancillary Agreements" means the Transition Services Agreements, the Trademark License Agreement, the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement, the Buyer Affiliate Agreements and the Assignment Agreements.

"Applicable Law" means any law, statute, regulation, rule, ordinance, order, injunction, judgment, decree, principle of common law, constitution or treaty enacted, promulgated, issued, enforced or entered by any Governmental Entity applicable to a party hereto, or any of its respective businesses, properties or assets, as may be amended from time to time.

"Appointed Actuary" means, with respect to an Insurance Company or AUSA Captive, the actuary appointed by such Insurance Company or AUSA Captive in accordance with Applicable Law to provide the actuarial opinion and supporting memorandum in respect of the liability reserve of such Insurance Company or AUSA Captive.

"Assignment Agreements" means, collectively, (a) the assignment agreement between Seller and Buyer, effective as of the Closing Date, pursuant to which Seller assigns to Buyer its rights under each Pre-Closing Confidentiality Agreement, to the extent assignable, (b) the assignment agreement between the applicable Companies and Seller or one of its Affiliates, effective as of the Closing Date, pursuant to which the Companies assign their rights in the Seller Trademarks to Seller or one of its Affiliates and (c) assuming receipt of all necessary consents, the assignment agreement between the applicable AUSA Advisers and Athene Manager, and any other necessary parties thereto, effective as of the Closing Date, pursuant to which such AUSA Advisers assign to Athene Manager the Transferred Advisory Agreements.

"Athene Manager" means Athene Asset Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company.

"AUSA Advisers" means AINA and Client One.

"AUSA Broker-Dealers" means Aviva Securities, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of ALAC, Client One and Advisor One Securities LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Creative Marketing.

"AUSA Captives" means, collectively, Aviva Re USA II, Inc., Aviva Re USA III, Inc., Aviva Re USA VI, Inc., Aviva Re Iowa, Inc., Aviva Re Iowa II, Inc. and any Subsidiary of AUSA established by an Insurance Company after the date hereof to enter into a Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction as permitted by Section 4.1 or contemplated by Section 4.30.

"AUSA Note" means the issued and outstanding note of AUSA issued to ALAC, in an aggregate principal amount of $200,000,000.

"Base Price" means $1,550,000,000.

"Books and Records" means the books, ledgers, files, reports, customer lists, policy information, contracts, administrative and pricing manuals, claims records, sales records, underwriting records, financial records, personnel files, compliance records (including those prepared for or filed with any Governmental Entity), plans and operating records (in whatever form maintained), Tax Returns (including work papers with respect to any Company), Tax records and all other records and information of or related to any Company or the conduct of the business of any Company, each in the possession or control of Seller, the applicable Company or their respective Affiliates, whether or not stored in hardcopy form or on electronic, magnetic, optical or other media.

"Broker-Dealer Activities" means activities by a Person that would require such Person to register with the SEC as a broker or dealer under the Exchange Act, except activities conducted pursuant to an exemption from such registration.

"Business Day" means any day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or any other day on which banking institutions in New York City or London are required or authorized by Applicable Law to be closed.

"Buyer Affiliate Agreements" means each of (i) the investment management agreements between the Clients party to the Replaced Advisory Agreements and Athene Manager, (ii) the master sub advisory agreement among Athene Manager and certain Affiliates of AGM that are also Affiliates of Buyer, (iii) the shared services and cost sharing agreement between each Insurance Company and AUSA and (iv) the tax allocation agreement between each Insurance Company and Athene Annuity, in each case, forms of which are attached hereto as Exhibit A and Exhibit D, as applicable (with such changes as are (A) acceptable to Buyer in its sole discretion; provided, that the substance of such changes pursuant to this clause (A) would not be reasonably likely to affect adversely the likelihood of the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Article VI, or (B) required by a Governmental Entity, except to the extent such changes would result in a Burdensome Condition).

ARTICLE II.
PURCHASE OF THE SHARES

SECTION 2.1. Purchase and Sale of Shares.

(a) Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, at the Closing, the following shall occur, in the following sequential order:

(i) Seller shall cause the board of directors of each of AUSA, ALAC, ALACNY and the AUSA Captives to be reconstituted such that all of the members of such boards of directors immediately prior to the Closing will cease to be members of such boards of directors and each such board of directors will comprise only employees of Buyer who are designated by Buyer at least two Business Days prior to the Closing, and such reconstituted board of directors shall authorize each of the transactions contemplated by clauses (ii) through (ix) of this Section 2.1(a), to the extent any authorization of any such board of directors is required in connection therewith;

(ii) (x) the Curelife Recapture shall be consummated and (y) if (A) Buyer enters into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement with a Life Reinsurer prior to the Filing Date that calls for the recapture of one or more Redundant Reserve Financing Transactions and (B) either (1) the Specified Lender under each such Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction consents to the establishment of a Replacement Facility with respect thereto and the termination at the Closing of such Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction or (2) the conditions to early termination of such Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction are otherwise satisfied, then the Captive Recapture with respect to each such AUSA Captive shall be consummated;

(iii) the transactions contemplated by the LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, if any, to be consummated at the Closing thereof shall be consummated, including the entry by the parties thereto into the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements;

(iv) (A) the transactions contemplated by the AR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, if any, to be consummated at the Closing thereof shall be consummated, including the entry by the parties thereto into the Annuity Business Reinsurance Agreement and (B) subject to Section 2.1(c), ALAC shall enter into the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement with Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer;

(v) (A) AUSA shall distribute to AGHL an aggregate principal amount of the ALAC Surplus Notes equal to the sum of the Pro Rata Amounts of each Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction that has not been terminated as of the Closing; provided the ALAC Surplus Notes distributed to AGHL pursuant to this Section 2.1(a)(v) shall not include any of the ALAC Surplus Notes that were issued by AmerUs Life Insurance Company on December 11, 1996 and (B) Buyer shall cause Athene Annuity to purchase the remainder of the ALAC Surplus Notes for a price equal to the par amount thereof by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account of AUSA designated by Seller;

(vi) ALAC shall pay the Extraordinary Distribution to AUSA and the AUSA Note shall be discharged in connection therewith;

(vii) AUSA shall repay the Intercompany Loans and Credit Agreement Loans;

(viii) (A) AGHL shall surrender to AUSA for cancellation, stock certificates representing the Redeemed Shares and (B) AUSA shall (1) redeem and cancel the Redeemed Shares and (2) pay the Share Redemption Cash Consideration to AGHL or its designee by wire transfer of immediately available funds (the "Closing Date Share Redemption"); and

(ix) Buyer shall purchase the Transferred Shares from AGHL pursuant to Section 2.1(b).

Each such transaction shall be consummated on the same day immediately after the preceding transaction and shall be conditioned upon the completion of the prior transaction or transactions; provided that no Person shall be obligated to consummate any such transaction unless it shall have received reasonable assurances that the subsequent transactions will be so consummated on such day. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary in this Agreement, neither the termination of any Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction (except as provided in Section 4.30(a)), the consummation of any Captive Recapture nor the sale (by reinsurance or otherwise) of the Companies' life insurance business to Life Reinsurer or any Third Party or the permitted portion of its annuity business to Annuity Reinsurer or any other Third Party (pursuant to any LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, AR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, Life Business Reinsurance Agreement, Annuity Business Reinsurance Agreement or otherwise, and regardless of whether any such agreement is executed after the date hereof) will be a condition to the obligations of any party or any party's Affiliates under this Section 2.1(a).

(b) Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement, at the Closing and after giving effect to the Closing Date Share Redemption, Seller agrees to cause AGHL to sell to Buyer, and Buyer agrees to purchase from AGHL, all of the Transferred Shares for an aggregate purchase price in cash equal to the Adjusted Initial Amount (as defined in Annex C), as adjusted pursuant to Annex C.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 2.1(a)(v)(B), Buyer may notify Seller on or before making the applications called for by Section 4.4(b)(1) with respect to ALAC, of its intention to cause ALAC and the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer to enter into the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement following the day of the Closing rather than on the Closing Date. Unless any relevant Governmental Entity indicates that the execution of the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement at the time specified by Buyer in such notification would prevent or materially delay receipt of any consents, approvals or authorizations of such Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement shall be entered into at such time; otherwise the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement will be entered into at the time specified in Section 2.1(a). If the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement is executed after the Closing, the transactions effected pursuant to the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement shall not be treated as Pre-Closing Transactions for purposes of this Agreement.

SECTION 2.2. Closing. The closing of the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares (the "Closing") shall take place at 10:00 a.m. local time at the offices of Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP, 787 7th Avenue, New York, New York 10019, on the date that is the first Business Day of the month following the month in which the last of the conditions set forth in Article VI has been satisfied or waived (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing) in accordance with this Agreement (the "Condition Satisfaction") or, if the Condition Satisfaction occurs less than three Business Days prior to the first Business Day of any month and the parties do not have prior notice that the Condition Satisfaction will likely take place during that time period, then the Closing shall take place on the first Business Day of the immediately succeeding month, or at such other time, date and place as the parties hereto may mutually agree in writing. The Closing shall be deemed to be effective as of 11:59 p.m. New York City time on the last calendar day of the month prior to the month in which the Closing occurs, and such date and time are referred to herein as the "Closing Date."

SECTION 2.3. Closing Deliveries.

(a) Seller's Closing Deliveries. At the Closing, Seller shall deliver or cause to be delivered to Buyer:

(i) certificates representing the Transferred Shares, duly endorsed in blank or accompanied by sufficient instruments of transfer with all appropriate Tax transfer stamps attached;

(ii) a certificate or certificates evidencing the cancellation of all of the Redeemed Shares;

(iii) a certificate of the Secretary, Assistant Secretary or other duly authorized officer of Seller, dated the Closing Date, as to the resolutions duly and validly adopted by the Board of Directors of Seller evidencing its authorization of the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents to which Seller or its Affiliates, as applicable and other than as contemplated by Section 2.1(a)(i), is a party;

(iv) a certificate of Seller duly executed by an authorized signatory of Seller, dated as of the Closing Date, certifying as to Seller's compliance with the conditions set forth in Section 6.2(a) and Section 6.2(b);

(v) each other Transaction Document, duly executed by Seller or any Affiliate that is a party thereto;

(vi) the written resignations of the directors of each of the Companies from their positions as directors of the Companies to the extent requested by Buyer, to be effective as contemplated by Section 2.1(a)(i);

(vii) a statement for each of AUSA and ALACNY in accordance with Treasury Regulation §§ 1.1445-2(c)(3) and 1.897-2(h), dated not earlier than 20 days prior to the Closing Date, each certifying that AUSA or ALACNY (as the case may be) is not, and has not been, a "United States real property holding corporation" for purposes of Sections 897 and 1445 of the Code, with respect to which Buyer shall have no actual knowledge that such statement is false or receive a notice that the statement is false pursuant to Treasury Regulation § 1.1445-4; and the notification to the Internal Revenue Service described in

Treasury Regulation § 1.897-2(h)(2) regarding delivery of the statement referred to in the preceding sentence, signed by a responsible corporate officer of AUSA. Seller acknowledges that Buyer may cause AUSA to file such notification with the Internal Revenue Service on or after the Closing Date;

(viii) a copy (or originals to the extent required to be maintained by the Companies in accordance with Applicable Law) of the Books and Records of the Companies (other than Books and Records in the possession or control of the Companies at the Closing);

(ix) the releases contemplated by Section 4.10(a); and

(x) a copy of each Pre-Closing Confidentiality Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby.

(b) Buyer's Closing Deliveries. At the Closing, Buyer shall make or cause to be made the payments contemplated by Section 2.4 and deliver to Seller:

(i) each other Transaction Document, duly executed by the parties thereto, other than Seller or any of its Affiliates;

(ii) a certificate of the Secretary, Assistant Secretary or other duly authorized officer of Buyer, dated the Closing Date, as to the resolutions duly and validly adopted by the Board of Directors of Buyer evidencing the authorization of the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents to which Buyer or its Affiliates, as applicable, is a party; and

(iii) a certificate duly executed by an authorized officer of Buyer, dated as of the Closing Date, certifying as to Buyer's compliance with the conditions set forth in Section 6.3(a) and Section 6.3(b).

SECTION 2.4. Payments at Closing. In addition to the deliveries contemplated by Section 2.3, at the Closing, Buyer (i) shall pay to AGHL or its designee the Adjusted Initial Amount in accordance with Annex C and (ii) shall cause Athene Annuity to pay the amount contemplated by Section 2.1(a)(v) to be paid by it.

SECTION 2.5. Post-Closing Adjustment. The Adjusted Initial Amount shall be adjusted after the Closing in accordance with the terms of Annex C.

ARTICLE III.
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

SECTION 3.1. Representations and Warranties of Seller. Subject to and as qualified by the matters set forth or, as contemplated by Section 10.3, deemed to be set forth in correspondingly numbered sections or subsections of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule delivered by Seller to Buyer on the date hereof (the "Seller's Disclosure Schedule"), Seller makes the following representations and warranties to Buyer as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date; provided, however, that any representations and warranties that are made as of a specific date or as of the date of this Agreement are made only as of such date:

(a) Organization, Standing and Corporate Power.

(i) Seller (1) is a public limited company duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of England and Wales, (2) has all requisite corporate power to operate its business as now conducted and (3) is duly qualified as a foreign corporation to do business, and is in good standing (if applicable), in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification necessary, except where failure to so qualify or be in good standing would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller. Each of the Companies (1) is an organization duly organized, validly existing and in good standing (to the extent such concept is applicable) under the laws of the jurisdiction of its organization and (2) has the requisite corporate or other entity power and authority to own, lease or otherwise hold the assets and properties owned, leased or otherwise held by it and to carry on its business as now being conducted and (3) is duly qualified as a foreign corporation or other entity to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification necessary, except, in the case of clause (2) and (3), where the failure to have such power and authority or to be so qualified or in good standing, as the case may be, would not reasonably be expected, individually or in the aggregate, to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies.

(ii) Seller has made available to Buyer true, complete and correct copies of the certificate of incorporation and bylaws (or other organizational documents), each as amended to date (collectively, the "Organizational Documents"), of each of the Companies. The Organizational Documents of the Companies that have been so made available are in full force and effect.

(b) Capital Structure. The issued and outstanding capital stock of AUSA as of the date hereof consists of 116 shares, no par value per share, which constitute the Shares. Except for the Shares, no shares of capital stock or other equity interests of AUSA are issued, reserved for issuance or outstanding. All outstanding shares of capital stock or other equity interests of each Company are duly authorized, validly issued and are fully paid and nonassessable and were not issued in violation of any preemptive or subscription rights, Applicable Law, contract or any of the Companies' Organizational Documents. AGHL is the record and beneficial owner of 100% of the Shares, free and clear of any mortgage, deed of trust, pledge, hypothecation, security interest, encumbrance, claim, lien or charge of any kind (collectively, "Liens"). There are no restrictions upon the voting or transfer of any shares or other equity interests pursuant to any of the Companies' Organizational Documents or any agreement to which Seller, AGHL or any Company is a party. Assuming Buyer has the requisite power and authority to be the lawful owner of the Shares, upon delivery of and payment for the Shares at the Closing as herein provided, good and valid title to the Shares will pass to Buyer, free and clear of all Liens. There are no capital appreciation rights, phantom stock plans or securities with participation rights or features, or similar obligations and commitments with respect to the Companies (other than the Shares and the outstanding shares of capital stock of the Companies). There are no obligations, contingent or otherwise, to repurchase, redeem (or establish a sinking fund with respect to redemption) or otherwise acquire any shares of capital stock or other equity interests of any of the Companies. As of the date hereof, (i) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Intercompany Loans is $896,000,000 and (ii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Credit Agreement Loans is $237,000,000.

(c) Subsidiaries. Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(c) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, all of the outstanding shares of capital stock and other equity interests of each Subsidiary of AUSA are owned by AUSA or a Subsidiary of AUSA, free and clear of all Liens. Except as set forth in Section 3.1(c) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, there are not any securities, options, warrants, rights, commitments or agreements of any kind to which any Company is a party or by which any of them is bound obligating any of them to issue, sell or deliver shares of capital stock or other equity interests of any of them. Except as set forth in Section 3.1(c) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, none of the Companies owns, directly or indirectly, any stock of, or any other equity interest in, any Person, except that the Companies may own interests held for investment purposes not exceeding 5% of the voting securities of any such single Person.

(d) Authority.

(i) Seller has the requisite corporate power and authority to enter into this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party and to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents to which it is a party. The execution and delivery of this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party by Seller and the consummation by Seller of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of Seller. No action by the stockholders of Seller is necessary to authorize the execution and delivery by Seller of this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents to which it is a party and the consummation by Seller of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. This Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party have been duly executed and delivered by Seller and, assuming this Agreement and such other Transaction Documents constitute valid and binding agreements of Buyer and any other party (other than the Companies or any other Affiliate of Seller) thereto, constitute valid and binding obligations of Seller, enforceable against Seller in accordance with their terms, except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

(ii) The execution and delivery by any Affiliate of Seller (including each Company) of each Specified Transaction Document to which such Affiliate is or will be a party and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby are within the corporate powers, as applicable, of each such Affiliate and have been, or will be, duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of each such Affiliate. As of the Closing Date, each Specified Transaction Document to which each such Affiliate will be a party will constitute, assuming such Specified Transaction Documents constitute a valid and binding agreement of each other party thereto that is not an Affiliate of Seller, a valid and binding agreement of each such Affiliate, enforceable against such Affiliate in accordance with its terms, except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

(e) Noncontravention; Consents. Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(e) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, the execution and delivery by Seller of this Agreement and by Seller or any of its Affiliates (including each Company) of each other Transaction Document to which it will be a party do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents will not, (i) conflict with any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of any Company or of Seller or AGHL, (ii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, conflict with, result in a breach or violation of, or a default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of termination under, or result in the creation of any Lien on any property or asset of any Company or any acceleration of remedies, penalty or change in the terms under, or require the consent of any Third Party under, any Material Contract to which Seller, AGHL or any Company is a party, Reinsurance Agreement or Lease or (iii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, contravene any Applicable Law applicable to Seller, AGHL or any Company, except, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) above, as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Companies. No consent, approval or authorization of, or declaration or filing with, or notice to, any Governmental Entity is required by or with respect to Seller, AGHL or any Company in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Seller or of any other Transaction Document by Seller or any of its Affiliates (including each Company), as the case may be, or the consummation by Seller or any of its Affiliates (including each Company) of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, except for (i) the filing required under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the "HSR Act"), (ii) the approvals, filings and notices required under the insurance laws as set forth in Section 3.1(e) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, (iii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices as are set forth in Section 3.1(e) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule and (iv) such other consents, approvals or authorizations from, declarations by, filings with, or notices to, any Governmental Entity that, if not obtained or made, would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Company. To the Knowledge of Seller as of the date hereof, no fact or circumstance exists with respect to Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies) that would render them unable promptly to obtain any approval, authorization or consent of a Governmental Entity to be obtained to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document.

(f) Financial Statements.

(i) Seller has previously made available to Buyer true and complete copies of the audited consolidated balance sheet of AUSA and its Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009 and related audited consolidated statements of income and shareholder's equity of such Companies for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009 (collectively, the "GAAP Financial Statements"). The GAAP Financial Statements (A) were derived from the Books and Records, (B) were prepared in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") applied on a consistent basis during the periods presented and (C) except as set forth in Section 3.1(f)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule and except that they do not include statements of cash flows, fairly present in all material respects in conformity with GAAP, the consolidated financial position and results of operations of AUSA and its Subsidiaries as of the respective dates of, and for the periods referred to in, the GAAP Financial Statements.

(ii) Seller has previously made available to Buyer true and complete copies of (1) the audited annual statutory financial statements of each Insurance Company as of and for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009 (the "Annual Statutory Statements") and (2) the unaudited financial statements of each Insurance Company as of and for the six-month and nine-month periods ended June 30, 2012 and September 30, 2012, respectively (the "Quarterly Statutory Statements" and, together with the Annual Statutory Statements, the "Statutory Statements"). Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(f)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, the Statutory Statements (A) were derived from the Books and Records, (B) were prepared in conformity with SAP applied on a consistent basis during the periods presented and (C) fairly present, in all material respects, in accordance with SAP, the statutory financial position of such Insurance Company at their respective dates and the results of operations and changes in cash flows of such Insurance Company for the periods covered thereby, subject, in the case of the Quarterly Statutory Statements referred to in clause (2) above, to normal recurring year-end adjustments that are not material. No material deficiency has been asserted by any Governmental Entity with respect to any of the Statutory Statements.

(iii) Seller has previously made available to Buyer true and complete copies of the balance sheet information of AUSA and its Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2011, June 30, 2012 and September 30, 2012 (collectively, the "Historical IFRS Balance Sheets"). The Historical IFRS Balance Sheets were prepared in accordance with IFRS consistently applied in a manner sufficient to allow such information to be incorporated into the consolidated IFRS balance sheets of Seller and its Subsidiaries as of their respective dates and fairly present in all material respects the financial position of AUSA and its Subsidiaries as of their respective dates, subject to the matters described in Section 3.1(f)(iii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, the absence of footnotes, the use of a materiality threshold appropriate for Seller and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole and, in the case of the Historical IFRS Balance Sheet as of June 30, 2012, normal year-end adjustments.

(iv) Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(f)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, (1) no Insurance Company has applied for nor obtained any permitted accounting practice from the applicable Insurance Regulator that is currently in effect or was in effect at any time since December 31, 2011 and (2) the Statutory Statements as of December 31, 2011 and June 30 and September 30, 2012 were not prepared on the basis of any permitted accounting practice other than as set forth in Section 3.1(f)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule.

(g) No Undisclosed Liabilities. None of the Companies (other than the Insurance Companies) has any liability that is required to be reflected in a consolidated balance sheet (or the notes thereto) of AUSA and its Subsidiaries prepared in accordance with IFRS and none of the Insurance Companies has any liability that is required to be reflected in statutory statements (or the notes thereto) of such Insurance Company prepared in accordance with SAP except (i) those liabilities provided for or disclosed in (1) the Historical IFRS Balance Sheet as of and for the period ended September 30, 2012 or (2) the Statutory Statements as of and for the period ended September 30, 2012 or in the notes thereto, (ii) liabilities disclosed in Section 3.1(g) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, (iii) liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business since September 30, 2012, (iv) liabilities under this Agreement or incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby or by the other Transaction Documents and (v) Tax liabilities.

(h) Absence of Certain Changes or Events.

(i) Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(h)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, from December 31, 2011 through the date hereof, (1) the Companies have conducted their business in the ordinary course, (2) there has not been any event or change having, or that would reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies and (3) none of Seller or any of its Affiliates (including each Company) has taken any action or failed to take any action that, if taken or failed to have been taken after the date hereof, would require Buyer's consent under any of paragraphs (iii), (iv), (v), (viii), (ix), (x), (xi), (xvi) (other than clause (C) thereof), (xvii), (xviii) or (xix) (with respect to such identified paragraphs) of Section 4.1(a).

(ii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(h)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule and except for the Extraordinary Distribution, since December 31, 2011, no Company has declared, set aside or paid any dividend or distribution on any shares of its capital stock or other equity interest, or purchased, redeemed, repaid, repurchased or otherwise acquired any shares of its capital stock or other equity interest.

(iii) Since June 30, 2012, none of Seller or any of its Affiliates (including each Company) has taken any action or failed to take any action that, if taken or failed to have been taken after the date hereof, would violate Section 4.1(a)(xiii).

(iv) As of the Closing Date, the Insurance Companies have conducted their business since January 1, 2013 consistently in all material respects as described in Section 3.1(h)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule.

(i) Employees and Benefit Plans.

(i) Section 3.1(i)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule includes a list of all material Company Benefit Plans. With respect to each material Company Benefit Plan, Seller has made available to Buyer true and complete copies of (a) each writing constituting such Company Benefit Plan (including the plan document, related trust agreements, insurance contracts and policies, and all amendments thereto), (b) the most recent summary plan description for each Company Benefit Plan for which such a summary plan description is required, (c) the most recent favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service with respect to each Company Benefit Plan intended to qualify under Section 401(a) of the Code, (d) the Form 5500 annual reports and accompanying schedules and actuarial reports, as filed, for the most recently completed three plan years and (e) summaries of any material Company Benefit Plans for which there is not a plan document. The Aviva USA Severance Plan has not been amended (including by any extension of its term) to apply to any position elimination or other employment termination occurring (based on release date, as defined in such plan) at any time after December 31, 2013.

(ii) Except as disclosed on Section 3.1(i)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, there are no material claims or disputes pending, or to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened with respect to any Company Benefit Plan, other than claims for benefits in the ordinary course of business and other than Actions that would not, individually or in the aggregate with other Actions arising from the same facts or circumstances or from a series of substantially similar actions taken by the same Third Party or a group of Third Parties acting in concert, reasonably be expected to result in a loss to the Companies of at least $2,000,000.

(iii) Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(i)(iii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule or to the extent required by COBRA, no Company Benefit Plan provides medical, dental, or life insurance coverage or any other welfare benefits after termination of employment.

(iv) There does not now exist, nor do any circumstances exist that would reasonably be expected to result in, any Controlled Group Liability that would be a liability of the Companies following the Closing. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, except as set forth on Section 3.1(i)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, none of Seller, any Company or any of their respective ERISA Affiliates maintains, has ever maintained, contributes to or contributed to, or been required to contribute to any "multiemployer plan" as defined in Section 3(37) of ERISA or a multiple employer plan within the meaning of Sections 4063 and 4064 of ERISA or Section 413(c) of the Code.

(v) Each Company Benefit Plan that is intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code is the subject of a favorable determination letter by the Internal Revenue Service and, to the Knowledge of Seller, no event has occurred and no condition exists that has adversely affected or would reasonably be expected to adversely affect the tax qualification of any such Company Benefit Plan.

(vi) Each Company Benefit Plan (i) has been maintained and administered in all material respects in accordance with its terms and (ii) is in compliance in all material respects with all Applicable Laws. Each Company Benefit Plan that is subject to Section 409A of the Code has been documented, operated and administered in compliance in all material respects with Section 409A of the Code. There are no pending audits, investigations or inquiries by any Governmental Entity with respect to the Company Benefit Plans.

(vii) Seller has provided to Buyer a true and complete list as of December 18, 2012 that sets forth all outstanding Seller Incentive Awards and Seller Retention Awards granted to officers, Employees, directors, consultants, agents or independent contractors of the Companies or their beneficiaries prior to the date hereof.

(viii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(i)(viii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, neither the execution nor delivery of this Agreement or any other Transaction Document nor the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document will, either alone or in conjunction with any other event (whether contingent or otherwise), (i) result in any payment or benefit becoming due or payable, or required to be provided, to any officer, Employee, director, consultant, agent or independent contractor of the Companies, (ii) increase the amount or value of any benefit or compensation otherwise payable or required to be provided to any such officer, Employee, director, consultant, agent or independent contractor, (iii) result in the acceleration of the time of payment, vesting or funding of any such benefit or compensation payable to, or forgiveness of any debt of any officer, Employee, director, consultant, agent or independent contractor or (iv) result in payments under any Company Benefit Plan that would not be deductible as a result of the application of Section 162(m) of the Code. No amount paid or payable (whether in cash, in property, or in the form of benefits) by AUSA or its Subsidiaries in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby (either alone or in conjunction with any other event) will be an "excess parachute payment" within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code, or would constitute an "excess parachute payment" if such amounts were subject to the provisions of Section 280G of the Code. No Person is entitled to receive any additional payment from AUSA or its Subsidiaries as a result of the imposition of a Tax under Section 4999 of the Code.

(ix) Neither the Companies nor any ERISA Affiliate has any material liability, whether direct, indirect, contingent or otherwise, (i) on account of any violation of the health care requirements of Part 6 or 7 of Title I of ERISA or Section 4980B or 4980D of the Code;(ii) under Section 502(i) or 502(l) of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code or (iii) under Section 4971, Section 4972, Section 4979 or Section 4980 of the Code, and to the Knowledge of Seller, no fact or event exists that would give rise to any such liability.

(x) All material contributions required to be made under each Company Benefit Plan have been properly accrued and reflected in the financial statements.

(xi) None of the assets of the Company Benefit Plans are the subject of any Lien arising under ERISA or the Code, and none of the Companies or Seller, or any of their ERISA Affiliates, has been required to post any security under ERISA or Section 401(a)(29) or 436 of the Code with respect to any Company Benefit Plan, and no fact or event exists that might give rise to any such Lien or requirement to post any such security.

(xii) Except as set forth on Section 3.1(i)(xii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, (i) no steps have been taken to terminate any Pension Plan (as defined under Section 3(2) of ERISA and that is covered by Title IV of ERISA) and (ii) no termination of any Pension Plan has occurred pursuant to which all liabilities have not been satisfied in full. No proceeding has been initiated by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation to terminate any Pension Plan or to appoint a trustee to administer any Pension Plan. Except as set forth on Section 3.1(i)(xii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, with respect to each Pension Plan, (i) there has been no "reportable event" within the meaning of Section 4043 of ERISA, (ii) no plan has applied for or received a waiver of the minimum funding standards or an extension of any amortization period within the meaning of Section 412 of the Code or Sections 302 or 303 of ERISA; (iii) there has been no determination that any such plan is, or is expected to be, in "at risk" status (within the meaning of Section 303(i)(4) of ERISA or Section 430 of the Code) and (iv) the present value of all "benefit liabilities" (as defined in Section 4001(a)(16) of ERISA) does not exceed the current fair market value of the assets of such plan (determined by using the actuarial assumptions used for the most recent actuarial valuation).

(xiii) Seller has provided to Buyer a true and complete list, dated and current as of December 14, 2012 containing, for each Employee of any of the Companies, the Companies' classification of such Employee's employer, division or business unit (if applicable), position, location (including, for remote employees, home city/state and office to which they report), date of hire, classification by the Companies as full-time or part-time, classification by the Companies as exempt or non-exempt for overtime purposes, current annual salary, hourly rate of pay, commission or bonus arrangement (as applicable), dates of service, current classification by the Companies as either active or on leave of absence and, if on a leave of absence, the type and commencement date of such leave and anticipated return-to-work date, if known, and whether the employee is employed on a work authorization, such as a visa or green card, issued by a Governmental Entity.

(xiv) Seller has provided to Buyer a true and complete list, dated and current as of December 14, 2012 containing, for each former Employee of any of the Companies whose employment with any of the Companies terminated at any time within the twelve (12) months prior to such date the individual's employer, division or business unit (if applicable), employment location (including, for remote employees, home city/state and office to which they report), position, date of hire, classification by the Companies as full-time or part-time, date of termination, reason for termination, as classified by the Companies (e.g., voluntary, for performance, reduction in force, position elimination), whether WARN Act notice was given, and whether the Employee signed a release of claims. Within the twelve (12) months prior to the date hereof, no Employee of any of the Companies has had his or her normal hours of work, as classified by the Companies, reduced on an indefinite basis (or otherwise for a period of six months or more) by fifty percent (50%) or more (other than pursuant to any bona fide part-time employment arrangement voluntarily agreed to by any such Person, leave of absence or termination of employment), or is or has been on a layoff subject to recall. With respect to each work location of any of the Companies where any Employee is employed as of the date hereof, except as set forth on Section 3.1(i)(xiv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, no current or former employee of Seller or of any Affiliate of Seller (other than the Companies) is or has been employed at any such work location as of or within the twelve (12) months prior to the date hereof.

(xv) Except as set forth on Section 3.1(i)(xv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, no condition exists that would prevent AUSA or its Subsidiaries from amending or terminating any Company Benefit Plan in accordance with its terms.

(xvi) Except as set forth on Section 3.1(i)(xvi) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, none of the Company Benefit Plans limits or restricts a Company's ability to terminate the employment or service of any officer, director, Employee, consultant, agent or independent contractor of a Company at any time for any or no reason without liability.

(xvii) Each of the Companies is and has been in compliance, in all material respects, with all Applicable Laws regarding employment, labor and wage and hour matters, including discrimination, sexual harassment, civil rights, immigration, safety and health, workers' compensation, classification of employees and independent contractors, classification of exempt and non-exempt status for overtime eligibility purposes, plant closing and layoff or other notices including under the WARN Act, and the collection and payment of withholding taxes, Social Security taxes and similar Taxes. None of the Companies is or ever has been a party to any collective bargaining agreement or other labor agreement. No labor organization or group of Employees of the Companies has made a demand for recognition or certification, and there are no representation, election or certification proceedings or petitions seeking any such proceeding presently pending or threatened to be brought or filed with the National Labor Relations Board or any other labor relations tribunal or authority. There are no, nor have there been in the three years preceding the date hereof, union organizing activities, organized strikes, organized work stoppages, organized slowdowns or lockouts, pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened against or involving the Companies.

(j) Taxes. Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(j) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule:

(i) (A) All material Tax Returns required to be filed by or filed on behalf of each of the Companies have been properly prepared and duly and timely filed (after giving effect to any valid extensions of time in which to make such filings) with the appropriate Tax authorities in all jurisdictions in which such Tax Returns are required to be filed (B) all such Tax Returns are complete and accurate in all material respects and disclose all Taxes required to be paid by or with respect to any Company for the periods covered thereby, and (C) all material Taxes required to be shown on such Tax Returns have been timely paid. No Company is currently the beneficiary of any extension of time within which to file any material Tax Return.

(ii) Each of the Companies has complied in all material respects with all Applicable Laws relating to the payment and withholding of Taxes and has duly and timely withheld from employee salaries, wages and other compensation and other amounts. All material amounts required to be withheld or collected therefrom have been paid to the appropriate Governmental Entity or have been accrued, reserved against and entered on the books of such Company.

(iii) No material deficiencies, audits, actions, suits, investigations or claims with respect to Taxes are pending, have been proposed, asserted or assessed in writing against or with respect to the income or assets of any Company. No agreement, waiver, written request for waiver, or other document or arrangement is currently in effect extending the period for assessment or collection of Taxes (including any applicable statute of limitation) by or on behalf of any Company.

(iv) Since December 31, 2009, no claim has ever been made by a Governmental Entity in a jurisdiction where a Company has never paid Taxes or filed Tax Returns asserting that such Company is or may be subject to Taxes assessed by such jurisdiction. There are no Tax rulings, requests for rulings, closing agreements or other similar agreements or requests (including any gain recognition agreements under Section 367 of the Code and applications for a change in accounting method or to change the basis for determining items under Section 481 or Section 807 of the Code) in effect or filed with any Governmental Entity relating to any Company which could materially affect such Company's liability for Taxes following the Closing Date. No election under Section 108(i) of the Code will affect any item of income, gain, loss or deduction of any Company after the Closing.

(v) With respect to each of the Insurance Companies: (A) it is and has been a life insurance company under Section 816(a) of the Code and subject to United States federal income taxation under Section 801 of the Code; (B) its Tax reserves have been computed and maintained in the manner required under Sections 807, 817, 817A and 846 of the Code and any Treasury Regulations and administrative guidance issued thereunder; and (C) all reinsurance contracts entered into by it are insurance contracts for purposes of the Code and are not subject to recharacterization under Section 845 of the Code.

(vi) None of the Companies is a party to any agreement dealing primarily with Tax sharing, allocation, indemnity or distribution pursuant to which it will have any obligation to make any payments after the Closing, other than any agreement between or among two or more of the Companies.

(vii) No Company has any liability for the Taxes of any Person (other than another Company) under Treasury Regulations Section 1.1502-6 or any similar provision of state, local or foreign law. To the Knowledge of Seller, any powers of attorney granted by any Company prior to the Closing relating to Taxes will terminate and be of no effect following the Closing.

(viii) There are no material Liens for Taxes as a result of any unpaid Taxes upon the assets of any Company other than Permitted Liens.

(ix) During the past three years, none of the Companies has been a "distributing corporation" or a "controlled corporation" within the meaning of Code Section 355(a)(1)(A).

(x) None of the Companies has ever engaged in any "listed transactions" within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(b)(2) and none of the Companies has ever participated in any other "reportable transaction" within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(b) that has not been property disclosed to the appropriate Governmental Entity.

(xi) As of June 30, 2012, (1) the net operating loss carryovers or operations loss carryovers (within the meaning of Section 172 or Section 810 of the Code, respectively), (2) the unamortized specified acquisition expense balance, (3) tax credit carryforwards (with the amounts in clauses (1) – (3) referred to herein as, the "Tax Attributes") of the Companies, in each case determined on a closing of the books basis, were not less than the amounts identified in Section 3.1(j)(xi) of Seller's Disclosure Schedule and, as of such date, such Tax Attributes were not subject to any limitations on their use under Section 382, 383, 384 or 1502, or any provision of any Treasury Regulation promulgated under such Code provisions.

(xii) Seller has made available to Buyer a schedule reflecting the Insurance Companies' treatment for tax purposes of "specified policy acquisition expenses," which schedule was correct in all material respects as of June 30, 2012 and was properly computed in all material respects in accordance with Section 848 of the Code.

(xiii) As of June 30, 2012, (A) the amount of the Insurance Companies' policyholders surplus account was not more than the amount set forth on Section 3.1(j)(xiii)(A) of Seller's Disclosure Schedule and (B) the amount of the Insurance Companies' shareholders surplus account (as defined in Section 815 of the Code) was not less than the amount set forth on Section 3.1(j)(xiii)(B) of Seller's Disclosure Schedule.

(k) Insurance Product-Related Tax Matters. Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(k) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule and except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies:

(i) Each Insurance Company has substantially complied with all applicable requirements under the Code with respect to the Insurance Contracts issued, assumed, entered into as insurer or sold by or novated to, such Company, including reporting, withholding and disclosure requirements, and has reported all distributions under such Insurance Contracts substantially in accordance with the Tax laws relevant to such Insurance Contracts.

(ii) Each item of hardware and software used by any Insurance Company to maintain such Insurance Contracts' qualification (but only as to Insurance Contracts which were entered into prior to, or in effect as of, in each case, the Closing Date) for Tax treatment under the Code for which such policies, plans or contracts purported by their terms or, to the Knowledge of Seller, were represented by the Independent Producers of the Insurance Companies, to qualify at the time of their issuance or purchase has been properly designed and implemented to maintain such qualification.

(iii) No Company is party to any "hold harmless," Tax sharing or indemnification agreements regarding the Tax qualification or treatment of any product or plan sold, issued, entered into as insurer or administered by such Company (whether developed by, administered by, or reinsured with any Third Party).

(iv) There are no currently pending U.S. federal, state, local or foreign audits or other administrative or judicial proceedings against any of the Companies, or, to Seller's Knowledge, against any other party, with regard to the Tax treatment of any Insurance Contract issued, reinsured to or sold by any Insurance Company.

(v) Each Insurance Contract issued, assumed, exchanged, modified or sold by, or novated to, each Insurance Company provides, and since the date of issuance, assumption, exchange, modification, sale or novation, as applicable, of such Insurance Contract has provided, the purchaser, policyholder, account holder, other holder or intended beneficiary thereof with Tax treatment under the Code that is not materially less favorable than the Tax treatment (1) that was purported to apply in materials provided by the Insurance Companies or, to the Knowledge of Seller, by their Independent Producers at the time of issuance, assumption, exchange, modification, purchase or novation or (2) for which such policies or contracts were intended or reasonably expected by the Insurance Companies to qualify under the Code at the time of issuance, assumption, exchange, modification, purchase or novation.

(vi) No Insurance Contract constitutes or has constituted a "modified endowment contract" under Section 7702A of the Code except where the holder of the contract was timely notified in writing upon its issuance, assumption, exchange or modification of its status or future status as a "modified endowment contract" under Section 7702A.

(vii) Since December 31, 2009, no Insurance Company has requested relief from the IRS concerning the qualification of any Insurance Contract issued by such Insurance Company under, or in compliance with, the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, and the IRS has not asserted in writing that any such policy or contract fails to so qualify or comply. Since December 31, 2009, no Company has requested relief from the IRS concerning the treatment of any life insurance policy issued by such Company as a modified endowment contract within the meaning of Section 7702A of the Code, and the IRS has not asserted in writing that any such policy not known or intended to be a modified endowment contract is a modified endowment contract.

(viii) With respect to each Insurance Company, the assets of any Separate Account maintained by such Insurance Company that is required to be diversified pursuant to Section 817(h) of the Code are and, at all times required under the Code and the Treasury Regulations, have been adequately diversified within the meaning of Section 817(h) of the Code and Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, and such Insurance Company is treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as the owner of the assets underlying the respective Insurance Contracts issued by such Company.

(l) Compliance with Applicable Laws.

(i) Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(l)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, each of the Companies is, and at all times since December 31, 2009 has been, in compliance with all Applicable Laws, including all applicable requirements of Applicable Law related to federal and state securities laws, except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. Except as disclosed on Section 3.1(l)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, no Company has at any time since December 31, 2009 (1) received any written notice or other written communication from any Governmental Entity regarding any actual or alleged violation of, or failure on the part of the Companies to comply with, any Applicable Laws, including all applicable requirements of Applicable Law related to federal and state securities laws, or (2) received any written notice or other written communication from any Governmental Entity alleging any deficiency in its reserves (other than any such written notice or other written communication received from a Governmental Entity in connection with the process of obtaining the permits, orders or other consents, approvals or authorizations of Governmental Entities set forth in Section 4.4(b)), in each case other than any such item that has been cured or otherwise resolved to the satisfaction of such Governmental Entity, that is no longer being pursued by such Governmental Entity following a response by the relevant Company or that would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies.

(ii) The Companies have filed all material reports, statements, documents, registrations, filings or submissions required to be filed with any Governmental Entity since December 31, 2009, and all such material reports, statements, documents, registrations, filings and submissions were in material compliance with all Applicable Laws when filed or as amended or supplemented, and no material deficiencies that remain unsatisfied have been asserted by any Governmental Entity with respect to such material reports, statements, documents, registrations, filings or submissions. Seller has previously made available to Buyer true and complete copies of the annual statutory statements of each Insurance Company, as filed with the Insurance Regulators, as of and for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, and such statements did not omit any material information required to be disclosed in such statements.

(iii) Each of the Companies owns, holds, possesses or lawfully uses in its business all Governmental Entity permits, licenses, approvals, authorizations, consents, registrations and similar documents (collectively, "Permits") necessary for the conduct of its business as now conducted or the ownership and use of its assets or properties, in compliance with all Applicable Laws, except for those Permits the failure to hold or loss of which would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. Each of the Companies is, and at all times since December 31, 2009 has been, in material compliance with all of the terms and requirements of each such Permit. With respect to the Permits of the Companies, none of the Companies has at any time since December 31, 2009 received any written notice from any Governmental Entity regarding any actual or proposed revocation, suspension or termination of, or material modification to, any such Permit, in each case other than any such item that has been cured or otherwise resolved to the satisfaction of such Governmental Entity, that is no longer being pursued by such Governmental Entity following a response by the relevant Company or that would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. No Company is the subject of any pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened Action seeking, or that would reasonably be expected to lead to, the revocation, cancellation, suspension, limitation, amendment, termination, modification, restriction, impairment or non-renewal of any material Permit.

(iv) Each of the Companies has implemented and maintains an information security program that complies with Applicable Law in all material respects and includes administrative, technical and physical safeguards to protect against reasonably anticipated threats or hazards to the privacy, security, integrity and confidentiality of personally identifiable information of customers. Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(l)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, to the Knowledge of Seller, since December 31, 2009, there has been no material (i) loss or misuse of personally identifiable information, (ii) inadvertent, unauthorized, and/or unlawful processing, disclosure, access, alteration, corruption, transfer, sale or rental, destruction, or use of personally identifiable information, or (iii) any other act or omission that compromises the security, confidentiality, or integrity of personally identifiable information, in each case of (i), (ii) and (iii), requiring under Applicable Law that a Company notify its customers thereof.

(v) The Companies are not party to any Contract with a Governmental Entity that grants to the Companies any permanent or temporary exemption from any Applicable Law that by its terms would terminate as a result of the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents.

(m) Litigation.

(i) Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(m)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, there is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened, against any of the Companies or any of their respective assets, properties or businesses, other than (1) Actions relating to claims under policies or contracts of insurance written by any Insurance Company which involve claims that are within applicable policy limits and do not allege bad faith or extra-contractual obligations and (2) Actions that would not, individually or in the aggregate with other Actions arising from the same facts and circumstances or from a series of substantially similar actions taken by the same Third Party or a group of Third Parties acting in concert, reasonably be expected to result in a loss to the Companies of at least $2,000,000 in excess of the related policy reserves.

Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(m)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, as of the date hereof, there are no pending Actions against any Company as to which certification as a class is being sought or has been granted.

(ii) There is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened, against Seller, any of its Affiliates (including each Company) or any of their respective assets, properties or businesses that questions the validity of, or seeks injunctive relief with respect to, this Agreement or any of the other Transaction Documents or the right of Seller or any of its Affiliates (including each Company) to enter into this Agreement or any of the other Transaction Documents to the extent Seller or any of its Affiliates (including each Company) is or will be a party thereto.

(iii) Except (x) as disclosed in Section 3.1(m)(iii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, (y) for Governmental Orders issued after the date hereof in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document and (z) for limitations imposed by Applicable Law that are applicable to each Company's industry generally, no Company is party or subject to any Governmental Order (and no Company has received any written notice from a Governmental Entity that is still pending that such Governmental Entity intends to issue any Governmental Order) (A) that is applicable to any of its assets, properties or businesses, including its reserve adequacy, in each case other than any such items that are not, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Companies taken as a whole or to any Insurance Company individually, or (B) that would be binding on such Company following the Closing and would (1) prohibit or restrict the payment of shareholder dividends or other shareholder distributions by such Company, (2) require the maintenance of any employees or physical location or (3) require the maintenance of an Insurance Company's surplus at any particular level.

(n) Contracts. Section 3.1(n)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a complete and accurate list of all Material Contracts in effect on the date hereof or pursuant to which a Company has any rights or obligations as of the date hereof. The term "Material Contracts" means all of the following types of Contracts to which any Company is a party or by which any of the Companies' respective assets are bound (excluding any Insurance Contract, any Reinsurance Agreement and any Lease):

(i) any Contract that restricts or limits any Company's ability to freely engage in any line or type of business in any particular geographic area or any particular medium, or provides for "exclusivity" or any similar requirement in favor of any Person other than a Company;

(ii) any Contract for the acquisition or disposition by any Company of any company or business or a material portion of the assets of any company or business (whether by merger, sale of stock, sale of assets or otherwise), other than Investment Assets in the ordinary course of business;

(iii) mortgages, indentures, loan or credit agreements, security agreements and other agreements and instruments relating to the borrowing of money or extension of credit to any Company (other than any such Contract with any Company or an extension of credit from any Company) or the direct or indirect guarantee, capital maintenance agreement or keep-well by any Company of any obligation for borrowed money of any Person (other than a Company) or any other liability of any Company in respect of indebtedness for borrowed money of any Person (other than a Company);

(iv) Contracts and agreements that provide for the imposition of any Lien, other than a Permitted Lien, on any tangible assets of any Company;

(v) agency, broker, selling, marketing or similar agreements between any Insurance Company and any Producer of the Insurance Companies who or which was responsible for placing 1% or more of the aggregate statutory gross written premium of the Insurance Companies for the year ended December 31, 2011 (each a "Specified Producer");

(vi) Contracts and agreements with the five largest vendors (measured by total annual payments made to vendors) of the Companies, taken as a whole, for the year ended December 31, 2011;

(vii) any Intercompany Agreement or Affiliate Agreement;

(viii) any Contract pursuant to which any Third Party provides third party administration or claims administration services with respect to any Insurance Contracts, or investment management services to the Companies;

(ix) any master ISDA agreements under which any Company has outstanding derivatives, any prime brokerage agreement and any futures customer agreement to which any Company is a party;

(x) any joint venture or partnership contract binding on any Company, in each case except for Investment Assets;

(xi) any Contract under which any Company may become obligated to pay any brokerage or finder's or similar fees or expenses in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby;

(xii) any collective bargaining agreement;

(xiii) any Contract for the purchase or sale of real property (other than any Contract relating to the Companies' REO activities);

(xiv) any Transferred Advisory Agreement or Replaced Advisory Agreement;

(xv) (A) the five highest grossing (as measured by commission payments or fees paid to or earned by an AUSA Broker-Dealer since January 1, 2011) selling or distribution Contracts to which an AUSA Broker-Dealer is a party and (B) any wholesaling Contract to which an AUSA Broker-Dealer is a party;

(xvi) any Contract required to be disclosed by Section 3.1(v)(i)(B) or 3.1(v)(i)(C);

(xvii) any other Contract of any Company (other than any Contract between any Company and any Producer and other than Contracts constituting Investment Assets) that requires or is reasonably likely to require payments in aggregate to or from a Company in excess of $1,000,000 in any prospective (12) twelve-month period, or $5,000,000 throughout the term of such contract after the Closing, or the delivery or receipt by a Company of goods or services with a fair market value in excess of $1,000,000 in any prospective twelve (12) month period, or $5,000,000 throughout the term of such contract after the Closing, and is not terminable by a Company upon sixty (60) days or less notice without penalty or premium; and (xviii) a Contract that obligates one or more Companies to enter into any of the foregoing.

Seller has made available to Buyer true and complete copies of the Material Contracts, in each case as amended or otherwise modified and in effect as of the date hereof. Each of the Material Contracts constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the applicable Company and, to the Knowledge of Seller, each other party thereto, enforceable against the applicable Company and, to the Knowledge of Seller, each other party thereto in accordance with its terms (except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought) and is in full force and effect. No Company has received written notice of cancellation of any Material Contract, the cancellation of which would, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. There exists no material breach or event of default with respect to any Material Contract on the part of any Company or, to the Knowledge of Seller, any other party thereto. No Material Contract grants to any Third Party a right of first refusal or first offer with respect to any material asset or service sold or provided by the Companies, or "most favored nation" status with respect to the pricing or terms of any such material asset or service. Section 3.1(n)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a complete and accurate list of the Excluded Advisory Agreements in effect on the date hereof or pursuant to which a Company has any material rights or obligations as of the date hereof.

(o) Insurance Regulatory Matters.

(i) All policy and contract forms on which an Insurance Company has issued Insurance Contracts that are currently in effect or were in effect at any time after December 31, 2009 and all amendments, applications, marketing materials, brochures, illustrations and certificates pertaining thereto prepared by the Companies or at the request or direction of, or otherwise approved by, the Companies have, to the extent required by Applicable Law, been approved by all applicable Governmental Entities or filed with and not objected to by such Governmental Entities within the period provided by Applicable Law for objection, subject to such exceptions as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. All Insurance Contracts that are currently in effect or were in effect at any time after December 31, 2009 and all such policy and contract forms, amendments, applications, marketing materials, brochures, illustrations and certificates prepared by the Companies or at the request or direction of, or otherwise approved by, the Companies comply with, and have been administered in accordance with, Applicable Law, in each case except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. Any rates with respect to Insurance Contracts and all amendments pertaining thereto issued by an Insurance Company which are required to be filed with or approved by any Governmental Entity have been so filed or approved, in each case except for as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. Seller has previously made available to Buyer a list of all forms of Insurance Contracts that appear on the Insurance Companies' internal policy administration systems and that either (1) are currently used by an Insurance Company or (2) have been used by an Insurance Company for business which is still in force, including specific categorization of such forms by product line and range of dates during which each such policy form was used.

(ii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(o)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, neither Insurance Company is, as of the date hereof, subject to any pending financial, market conduct or other examination by an Insurance Regulator. Seller has made available for inspection of Buyer true and complete copies of (1) all examination reports (including financial, market conduct and similar examinations) issued by any Insurance Regulator with respect to an Insurance Company or its business which have been completed and issued since December 31, 2009, (2) any draft or incomplete examination reports (including financial, market conduct and similar examinations) provided to an Insurance Company by any Insurance Regulator with respect to such Insurance Company or its business pursuant to any examinations that are incomplete or ongoing and (3) all material Holding Company System Act filings or submissions made by an Insurance Company with any Insurance Regulator since December 31, 2009. No Insurance Company is deemed "commercially domiciled" under the Applicable Laws of any jurisdiction and is not otherwise treated as domiciled in a jurisdiction other than, in the case of ALAC, the State of Iowa and, in the case of ALACNY, the State of New York.

(iii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(o)(iii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, all benefits payable (including by credit) to, any Person under any Insurance Contract have in all material respects been paid or credited (or provision as required under SAP for payment thereof has been made) in accordance with the terms of the applicable Insurance Contract, and such payments, credits or provisions were not materially delinquent, except for any such claim for benefits for which there is a reasonable basis to contest payment.

(iv) There are no unpaid claims or assessments made against an Insurance Company by any state insurance guaranty association or similar organizations in connection with such association's insurance guaranty fund.

(v) True and complete copies of the underwriting standards and guidelines utilized since December 31, 2009 and rates and rating factors and criteria applied since December 31, 2009 by each Insurance Company with respect to Insurance Contracts outstanding as of the date hereof have been previously made available to Buyer by Seller.

(vi) True and complete copies of all printed advertising materials used between January 1, 2011 and the date hereof by each Insurance Company and that were generated by the Insurance Companies for the purpose of marketing Insurance Contracts to customers have been previously made available to Buyer by Seller. Seller has also made available to Buyer a list of all printed advertising materials generated by Independent Producers for the purpose of marketing Insurance Contracts that were submitted to the Insurance Companies for approval between January 1, 2011 and the date hereof, and has made available to Buyer true and correct copies of all the printed advertising materials set forth on such list that Buyer has prior to the date hereof requested to review.

(vii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(o)(vii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule and except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to be materially adverse to the Companies, taken as a whole, each Insurance Company has since December 31, 2009, marketed, sold and issued the Insurance Contracts in compliance with Applicable Law, including (1) all applicable requirements and prohibitions under Applicable Law relating to suitability of sales and replacement of policies and annuity products, (2) all applicable requirements of Applicable Law relating to the disclosure of the nature of insurance products as policies of insurance, (3) all applicable requirements of Applicable Law related to federal and state securities laws, (4) all applicable requirements of Applicable Law relating to insurance product projections and illustrations, and (5) all applicable requirements of Applicable Law relating to the advertising, sales and marketing of insurance and annuity products and guaranteed investment contracts.

(viii) The Insurance Companies have not received any written notice with respect to any retained asset account audit or investigation from any Governmental Entity or Third Party representing a Governmental Entity. The Insurance Companies maintain and have maintained retained asset account policies, procedures and guidelines which comply and have complied in all material respects with the terms of the applicable Insurance Contracts and all Applicable Laws. Each Insurance Company is and at all times has been in compliance in all material respects with all such policies, procedures and guidelines and any Applicable Laws related thereto.

(p) Reinsurance.

(i) Section 3.1(p)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list, as of the date hereof, of all Reinsurance Agreements. Seller has made available to Buyer true and complete copies of the Reinsurance Agreements, in each case as amended or otherwise modified and in effect as of the date hereof. Each of the Reinsurance Agreements constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the applicable Company and, to the Knowledge of Seller, each other party thereto, enforceable against the applicable Company and, to the Knowledge of Seller, each other party thereto in accordance with its terms (except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought) and is in full force and effect. All reinsurance premiums due under any such Reinsurance Agreements pursuant to which any Insurance Company cedes risk to a reinsurer have been paid in full or were adequately accrued or reserved for by the applicable Insurance Company.

(ii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(p)(ii) of Seller's Disclosure Schedule, (1) since December 31, 2009 neither Seller nor the applicable Insurance Company has received any written notice from any ceding party or reinsurer party to a Reinsurance Agreement that any amount of reinsurance ceded or assumed by such Insurance Company pursuant to such Reinsurance Agreement will be uncollectible or otherwise defaulted upon or that there is a dispute that is unresolved as of the date hereof with respect to any material amounts recoverable or payable by such Insurance Company pursuant to such Reinsurance Agreement, (2) to the Knowledge of Seller, no counterparty to any such Reinsurance Agreement is in default in any material respect under any Reinsurance Agreement and (3) no Insurance Company party to any such Reinsurance Agreement is in default in any material respect under any such Reinsurance Agreement, other than defaults in respect of the matters which are the subject of Section 3.1(p)(vi).

(iii) Except as set forth on Section 3.1(p)(iii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, to the Knowledge of Seller, none of the Reinsurance Agreements is or would be deemed to be finite reinsurance, financial reinsurance or such other form of reinsurance that does not meet the risk transfer requirements under Applicable Law.

(iv) Section 3.1(p)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list of all Liens, collateral or security arrangements, including by means of a credit for reinsurance trust or letter of credit, to or for the benefit of any cedent under any Reinsurance Agreement.

(v) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(p)(v) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, as of the date hereof, there are no pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened, Actions with respect to any Reinsurance Agreement.

(vi) With respect to any Insurance Contracts reinsured in whole or in part under any Reinsurance Agreement, except as set forth in Section 3.1(p)(vi) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, the underwriting standards and guidelines utilized and rates and rating factors applied by the applicable Insurance Company conform in all material respects to the standards, rates and rating factors required pursuant to the terms of such Reinsurance Agreement, except where the failure to utilize such standards or guidelines or apply such rates or rating factors would not permit the assuming reinsurer to deny coverage for, force the recapture of, or otherwise terminate with respect to, a substantial portion of the liabilities ceded under such Reinsurance Agreement.

(q) Actuarial Report and Reserves.

(i) Seller has made available to Buyer a complete and correct copy of (1) the actuarial report dated May 27, 2012, and the addendum thereto dated June 6, 2012, each prepared by Towers Watson with respect to the Insurance Companies for the benefit of Seller and its Affiliates (collectively, and together with any exhibits and other addenda thereto, the "Actuarial Report"), (2) each Regulatory Asset Adequacy Issues Summary, actuarial opinion from the Appointed Actuary of each Insurance Company supporting the applicable Regulatory Asset Adequacy Issues Summary, actuarial memorandum supporting the applicable actuarial opinion, and actuarial report prepared for the benefit of the Insurance Companies, Seller or any of their respective Affiliates by other independent actuaries, with respect to an Insurance Company, in each case that are described on Section 3.1(q)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, including all attachments, addenda, supplements and modifications thereto (the "Other Actuarial Materials") and (3) the actuarial reports prepared by Towers Watson with respect to each AUSA Captive on or around the date on which the Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction entered into by such AUSA Captive first become effective (the "Captive Actuarial Reports"). Other than as described on Section 3.1(q)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, Towers Watson has not issued any new report or errata with respect to the Actuarial Report, nor has it notified Seller or its Affiliates that the Actuarial Report is inaccurate in any material respect. The factual information and data furnished by Seller and each of its Affiliates, including, without limitation, each of the Insurance Companies, to their respective actuaries in connection with the preparation of the Actuarial Report and the Other Actuarial Materials, including the factual information and data furnished to Towers Watson in connection with the preparation of the Actuarial Report, was based upon inventories of policies and contracts for the Insurance Companies that were accurate in all material respects at their respective times of preparation and upon the Books and Records of the Insurance Companies. The factual information and data furnished by Seller and its Affiliates to Towers Watson in connection with the preparation of the Captive Actuarial Reports were accurate in all material respects. The Other Actuarial Materials have not been supplemented, modified, amended or replaced with any similar summary, opinion, memorandum or report not itself included in the Other Actuarial Materials.

(ii) The policy reserves of the Insurance Companies recorded in the Statutory Statements and the policy reserves of the AUSA Captives recorded in their statutory financial statements, as of their respective dates: (1) have been computed in all material respects in accordance with generally accepted actuarial principles consistently applied; (2) have been based in all material respects on actuarial assumptions which produced reserves at least as great as those called for in any Insurance Contract provision as to reserve basis and method, and are in accordance with all other Insurance Contract provisions; (3) in all material respects met the requirements of Applicable Law and regulatory requirements of each Insurance Company's and AUSA Captive's Insurance Regulator and are at least as great as the minimum aggregate amounts required by such Insurance Regulator; (4) included provision for all actuarial reserves and related statement items which were certified by the actuaries of each Insurance Company and AUSA Captive pursuant to applicable insurance Laws and (5) included all Additional Actuarial Reserves recommended by the Appointed Actuary as a result of each Insurance Company's Annual Asset Adequacy Analysis.

(iii) For clarity, Seller makes no express or implied representation or warranty hereby or otherwise under this Agreement (including in Sections 3.1(f), (g) or (r) hereof) as to the future experience or profitability arising from the business of the Companies or that the reserves held by or on behalf of any of Insurance Companies or AUSA Captives or the assets supporting such reserves are or will be adequate or sufficient for the purposes for which they were established or that the reinsurance recoverables taken into account in determining the amount of such reserves will be collectible.

(iv) Seller has made available to Buyer a complete and correct copy of the MG-ALFA actuarial model.

(v) The statements set forth on Section 3.1(q)(v) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule are true and correct in all material respects.

(r) Risk-Based Capital. Seller has made available to Buyer true and complete copies of all material filings submitted by the Insurance Companies to any Insurance Regulator during the twelve (12) months preceding the date of this Agreement that report risk-based capital calculations. The risk-based capital calculations were made in accordance with, and met all requirements of, Applicable Law in all material respects at the time such filings were made.

(s) Producers.

(i) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(s)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, since December 31, 2009, each Person, including salaried Employees, performing the duties of insurance producer, agency, managing general agent, third party administrator, broker, securities broker or dealer, solicitor, marketer, underwriter, wholesaler or distributor for a Company (collectively, "Producers"), at the time such Producer wrote, sold, solicited, produced or serviced business, or performed such other act for or on behalf of any Company that may require a producer's, solicitor's, broker's, securities broker's or dealer's, or other insurance license, was (to the Knowledge of Seller in the case of Independent Producers only) duly licensed and appointed, where required, as an insurance producer, managing general agent, third party administrator, broker, securities broker or dealer, or solicitor, as applicable (for the type of business written, sold or produced by such Producer), in the particular jurisdiction in which such Producer wrote, sold, produced, solicited or serviced such business, as may be required by any applicable Governmental Entity, except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, be materially adverse to the Companies taken as a whole.

(ii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(s)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, since December 31, 2009, neither Seller nor any Insurance Company has made a filing with any Governmental Entity seeking an exemption under 18 USC §1033(e)(2) with respect to any Producer.

(iii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(s)(iii) of Seller's Disclosure Schedule, as of the date hereof no Insurance Company has received written notice from any Specified Producer to the effect that such Specified Producer will be unable or unwilling to continue its relationship with the applicable Insurance Company after the Closing, except as would not be materially adverse to the Insurance Companies, taken as a whole.

(iv) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(s)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, no Producer nor any Affiliate of any Producer has any right (1) to receive any payment based on the profitability or financial performance of any of the Insurance Contracts and (2) that requires an Insurance Company to reinsure or otherwise transfer the economic benefits of the Insurance Contracts (or any portion thereof) to any Person.

(t) Investment Advisers.

(i) Each AUSA Adviser is registered with the SEC as an investment adviser under the Advisers Act or is exempt from such registration and is registered as an investment adviser in each state in which such registration is required, and each AUSA Adviser is a member in good standing of such other organizations in which its membership is required in order to conduct its business as now conducted, in each case except such failures which would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies.

(ii) AINA is registered as a commodity trading adviser (a "CTA") with the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC") and is a member of the National Futures Association (the "NFA"). No other AUSA Adviser is required to register as a CTA or become a member of the NFA. No AUSA Adviser is required to register with the CFTC as a commodity pool operator.

(iii) Each AUSA Adviser has filed a Form ADV with the appropriate Governmental Entities, which form at the time of filing, and as amended and supplemented as of the date hereof is, in effect pursuant to and in material compliance with the requirements of the Advisers Act or applicable state investment adviser laws. Seller has heretofore made available to the Buyer true and correct copies of such Forms ADV as amended or supplemented as of the date hereof.

(iv) AINA has adopted a code of ethics, which complies in all material respects with all applicable provisions of the Advisers Act (including Section 204 thereof and Rule 204A-1 thereunder), and each AUSA Adviser has adopted a written policy regarding insider trading and other material policies as required by Applicable Law, copies of which have been made available to Buyer. Since December 31, 2009, there have been no material violations or, to the Knowledge of Seller, allegations of material violations of such code of ethics, insider trading policies and material policies.

(v) Except as disclosed on Section 3.1(t)(v) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, no Company, no separate account of any Company, nor any "affiliated person" (within the meaning of the 1940 Act), is required to be registered with the SEC under the 1940 Act.

(vi) No AUSA Adviser and, to the Knowledge of Seller, no "person associated" (within the meaning of the Advisers Act) with an AUSA Adviser is ineligible pursuant to Section 203(e) of the Advisers Act to act as an investment adviser or as a person associated with a registered investment adviser.

(vii) The officers and employees of the AUSA Advisers who are required to be approved, licensed or registered for the activities conducted by them on behalf of the Companies are and at all times since December 31, 2009 have been duly approved, licensed or registered in each state or jurisdiction in which and with each Governmental Entity with whom such approval, licensing or registration is so required, except where the failure to be so approved, licensed or registered, individually or in the aggregate has not had and would not be reasonably expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

(viii) All material exemptive orders, "no-action letters" or similar exemptions or regulatory relief that the AUSA Advisers have obtained and that are currently relied upon have been identified to Buyer.

(ix) Each ERISA Client to which an AUSA Adviser provides investment management, advisory or sub-advisory service has, since December 31, 2009, been managed or advised by such AUSA Adviser such that the exercise of such management or provision of such advisory services is in compliance in all material respects with (A) the applicable requirements of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code and (B) the applicable Contract. Each AUSA Adviser satisfies the requirements of Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption 84-14 for a "qualified professional asset manager" (as such term is used in Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption 84-14) and, to the Knowledge of Seller, no event has occurred or circumstance exists with respect to such AUSA Adviser that would reasonably be expected to cause any AUSA Adviser to fail to satisfy Part I(g) of Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption 84-14.

(x) Other than as disclosed in the AUSA Advisers' Form ADV, as of the date hereof, there is no event which would require any AUSA Adviser or any "affiliated person" of such AUSA Adviser or, to the Knowledge of Seller, Ameritas or any "affiliated person" of Ameritas, to give an affirmative response to any of the questions in Item 11 to Part I of its Form ADV (or any similar or successor form).

(u) Broker-Dealers.

(i) Each AUSA Broker-Dealer and, to the Knowledge of Seller, Ameritas, is and has been, since December 31, 2009, duly registered as a broker-dealer under the Exchange Act and in all jurisdictions where such registration, licensing or qualification is so required. Since December 31, 2009, none of the Companies other than the AUSA Broker-Dealers engages or has engaged in Broker-Dealer Activities. Each AUSA Broker-Dealer and, to the Knowledge of Seller, Ameritas, is a member in good standing of FINRA and such other organizations in which its membership is required in order to conduct its business as now conducted, except as would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies. All of the "registered representatives" (as such term is defined under the rules of FINRA (the "FINRA Rules")) of each AUSA Broker-Dealer as of the date hereof are set forth on Section 3.1(u)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule. Seller has made available to Buyer true and complete copies of each AUSA

Broker-Dealer's Form BD as most recently filed with the SEC and all state registration forms, each as amended to date. The information contained in each such form was true and complete in all material respects at the time of filing and each AUSA Broker-Dealer has made all amendments to such form as it is required to make under any Applicable Law, except as would not reasonably be expected, individually or in the aggregate, to be materially adverse to the Companies, taken as a whole.

(ii) No AUSA Broker-Dealer and, to the Knowledge of Seller, neither Ameritas nor any "associated person" (within the meaning of the Exchange Act) of any AUSA Broker-Dealer is ineligible or disqualified pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Exchange Act to act as a broker-dealer or as an associated person of a registered broker-dealer. There is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened in writing that would reasonably be expected to result in any AUSA Broker-Dealer or any "associated person" (as defined in the Exchange Act or FINRA Rules) thereof becoming ineligible to act in such capacity. To the Knowledge of Seller, there is no Action pending or threatened in writing that would reasonably be expected to result in Ameritas becoming ineligible to act in such capacity.

(iii) Set forth on Section 3.1(u)(iii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule is each "branch office" and "office of supervisory jurisdiction" (as defined under the FINRA Rules) of each AUSA Broker-Dealer.

(iv) No security holder, officer or director of any AUSA Broker-Dealer or, to the Knowledge of Seller, of Ameritas, has engaged in any conduct which could reasonably be expected to give rise to an affirmative answer to any of the questions in Item 11 of the Form BD of such AUSA Broker-Dealer or Ameritas, as applicable, except as would not be material to the Companies, taken as a whole.

(v) Except as disclosed in any Form BD filed by an AUSA Broker-Dealer or Ameritas prior to the date of this Agreement, none of the AUSA Broker-Dealers or their respective directors, officers, employees, or "associated persons" (as defined in FINRA Rules) or, to the Knowledge of Seller, Ameritas, is subject to any order of any Governmental Entity that permanently enjoins such Person from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with any activity involving or in connection with Broker-Dealer Activities, except as would not be material to the Companies, taken as a whole.

(vi) Each of the AUSA Broker-Dealers' respective officers, employees, "associated persons" (as defined in FINRA Rules) and independent contractors, or any other natural persons who are "associated persons" of a Company and who are parties to any selling, distribution or wholesaling agreement to which an AUSA Broker-Dealer is a party, who are required under Applicable Law to be registered, licensed or qualified as a "registered representative" (as such term is defined under FINRA Rules) are, and have been since December 31, 2009, duly registered as such and such registrations are and were, since December 31, 2009, in full force and effect, or are or were in the process of being registered as such within the time periods required by any Governmental Entity, as applicable, except as would not be material to the Companies, taken as a whole.

(vii) Each AUSA Broker-Dealer and, to the Knowledge of Seller, Ameritas, maintains its minimum net capital (A) in compliance in all material respects with all Applicable Law imposed by the SEC or any other Governmental Entity and (B) in an amount sufficient to ensure that it has not been required to file notice under Rule 17a-11 under the Exchange Act.

(viii) Ameritas is and has been operated in a manner such that no common law claim based on "piercing the corporate veil" would be reasonably likely to impose liability on any Company for the liabilities of Ameritas.

(v) Intellectual Property.

(i) Other than as set forth in Section 3.1(v)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule: (I) the Companies shall, immediately after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, own, or have the right to use pursuant to a valid and enforceable license, sublicense, agreement, or permission, all Intellectual Property rights necessary for the operation of their business as presently conducted that such Companies owned or had the right to use pursuant to a valid and enforceable license, sublicense, agreement, or permission (including pursuant to any Shared Contract pursuant to which any Company received any rights to use Intellectual Property) immediately prior to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; and (II) the Companies shall, immediately after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, receive from Seller and its Affiliates (other than the Companies) all services that prior to the date hereof had been performed by the employees now employed by Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Companies) or provided pursuant to contracts to which Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Companies) is a party, or assets now owned by Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Companies) that, in each case, are necessary for the operation of the Companies' businesses as presently conducted. Section 3.1(v)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth, as of the date hereof: (A) all issued patents and pending applications for patents, all registered Trademarks and all pending applications to register Trademarks, all material unregistered Trademarks, all registered copyrights and all applications for copyrights, all Internet domain names and all material Software, in each case owned by any Company (the foregoing, together with all material trade secrets, know-how and other proprietary and confidential information of any Company, the "Company Intellectual Property Rights"); (B) all licenses granting to a Third Party any right to use any Company Intellectual Property Rights, other than non-exclusive rights granted to customers and agents in the ordinary course of business; (C) all licenses granting to a Company or an Affiliate of a Company the right to use

Intellectual Property, including Software, owned by a Third Party and used in the conduct of the business of a Company, excluding Software that is licensed under agreements for a fee of less than $1,000,000, or under which the Companies paid during the year ended December 31, 2011, or reasonably expect to pay during the year ending December 31, 2012, amounts (including license fees and maintenance charges) of less than $1,000,000. With respect to each item of the Company Intellectual Property Rights, except as set forth in Section 3.1(v)(i)(I) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, the Companies possess all right, title, and interest in and to the item, free and clear of any Lien, other than a Permitted Lien. To the Knowledge of Seller, all Intellectual Property that has been licensed by or on behalf of a Company that is set forth in Section 3.1(v)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule is being used substantially in accordance with the applicable license pursuant to which the Company has the right to use such Intellectual Property and there exists no material breach or event of default with respect to any such license by such Company.

(ii) Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(v)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule and since December 31, 2009, none of the Companies has received any written notice that it has infringed, misappropriated, diluted or otherwise violated any Intellectual Property rights owned by any Third Party, and there are no claims pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened, alleging any such infringement, misappropriation, dilution or violation. The conduct of the businesses of the Companies as currently conducted and as conducted since December 31, 2009 does not infringe, misappropriate, dilute or otherwise violate and has not infringed, misappropriated, diluted or otherwise violated any Intellectual Property rights of any Third Party, except to the extent that any such infringement, misappropriation, dilution or violation would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to be materially adverse to the Companies, taken as a whole.

(iii) To the Knowledge of Seller, no Third Party is infringing, misappropriating, diluting or otherwise violating any Company Intellectual Property Rights. There are no pending claims by any Company against any Third Party alleging infringement, misappropriation, dilution or other violation of any material Company Intellectual Property Right, and no Company has made any such written claim since December 31, 2009.

(iv) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(v)(iv) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule: (i) there are no claims pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened, challenging the ownership, validity or enforceability of any of the registered Company Intellectual Property Rights; and (ii) a Company has the sole and exclusive right to bring actions for infringement or unauthorized use of the Company Intellectual Property Rights.

(v) To the Knowledge of Seller, all employees and consultants who contributed to the discovery or development of any material Company Intellectual Property Rights used in the conduct of the business of any Company did so either (a) within the scope of his or her employment such that, in accordance with Applicable Law, such Intellectual Property arising therefrom became the exclusive property of a Company or (b) pursuant to written agreements assigning such Intellectual Property arising therefrom to a Company.

(vi) Except as disclosed in Section 3.1(v)(vi) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, the use and dissemination by any Company of any and all data and information concerning consumers of its services or users of any websites operated by any Company is in compliance with all applicable privacy policies and terms of use, and Applicable Laws, except to the extent that any such failure to comply would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to be materially adverse to the Companies, taken as a whole. The Companies use reasonable best efforts to protect the secrecy of all trade secrets, know-how and other proprietary and confidential information used in the business of the Companies, including personal information concerning such consumers that they collect and maintain.

(w) Real Property.

(i) Other than as set forth in Section 3.1(w)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule and other than Investment Assets, the Companies do not own any real properties nor are they obligated or bound by any option, obligation or right of first refusal or contractual rights to (1) sell or lease any real property owned by the Companies or (2) acquire or lease any real property. The real properties listed in Section 3.1(w)(i) of the Sellers Disclosure Schedule are referred to herein as the "Owned Real Property." The applicable Company set forth in Section 3.1(w)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule with respect to an Owned Real Property has good and marketable fee simple title to such Owned Real Property, free and clear of all Liens other than Permitted Liens and other Liens set forth in Section 3.1(w)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule.

(ii) Section 3.1(w)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of all real property (other than any Investment Assets) leased, subleased, licensed or occupied by the Companies from or to any Third Party (the "Leased Real Property") and also identifies each lease, sublease, license or occupancy agreement under which such Leased Real Property is leased, subleased, or licensed or otherwise used or occupied by the Companies or such Owned Real Property is leased, licensed or otherwise used or occupied by a Third Party (the "Leases"). The Company that is a party to any such Lease has a valid leasehold interest in the Leased Real Property, free and clear of all Liens other than Permitted Liens or any Liens created by the landlord under such Leases or the owner of the Leased Real Property. Each of the Leases constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the applicable Company and, to the Knowledge of Seller, each other party thereto, enforceable against the applicable Company and, to the Knowledge of Seller, each other party thereto in accordance with its terms (except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought) and is in full force and effect. No material breach or default exists with respect to any Lease on the part of the applicable Company and, to the Knowledge of Seller, no event has occurred that, with notice or lapse of time, would constitute such a breach or default. Seller has made available to Buyer true and complete copies of the Leases, in each case as amended or otherwise modified and in effect as of the date hereof. The Companies have the right to use all the Leased Real Property for the full term of each such Lease. None of the Companies has assigned, transferred or pledged any interest in any of the Leases.

(iii) Neither the whole nor any part of the Owned Real Property is subject to any pending suit for condemnation or other taking by any Governmental Entity, and, to the Knowledge of the Seller, no such condemnation or other taking is threatened or contemplated. To the Knowledge of Seller, (1) there are no leases, subleases, licenses, or other agreements granting to any Person the right of use or occupancy of any portion of the Owned Real Property (except under the Leases); (2) all buildings, structures, facilities and improvements located on the Owned Real Property, including buildings, structures, facilities and improvements which are under construction (collectively, "Improvements") comply in all material respects with valid and current certificates of occupancy or similar permits to the extent required by Applicable Law; and (3) the Improvements are in all material respects (A) in good operating condition and repair (ordinary wear and tear excepted) and (B) suitable and adequate for continued use in the manner in which they are presently being used. No written notice from any Governmental Entity has been received by the Companies concerning the possible imposition of any special assessments on the Owned Real Property.

(x) Environmental Matters.

(i) The Companies are and have been in compliance with all Applicable Laws concerning pollution, the protection of the environment or human health, worker health and safety, or Hazardous Substances (as defined herein) (collectively, "Environmental Laws"), except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a material liability to the Companies, taken as a whole.

(ii) There are no pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened Actions against any of the Companies that seek to impose, or that are reasonably likely to result in, any material liability or obligation on the part of any of the Companies under any Environmental Laws, and none of the Companies is subject to any Governmental Order imposing any liability or obligation on such entity under any Environmental Laws.

(iii) There has been no release, discharge, or disposal by the Companies of any substance, material, or waste that is defined, listed or identified as a pollutant or contaminant, or as hazardous, toxic, explosive, corrosive, radioactive or carcinogenic under any Environmental Law or that is otherwise regulated pursuant to Environmental Laws, including asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, petroleum, petroleum derived substances, by-products or wastes (collectively "Hazardous Substances") nor are Hazardous Substances present in, on, or under any Owned Real Property, or to the Knowledge of Seller, on any Leased Real Property or Investment Assets, in quantities or conditions which, in each case, would constitute a material violation of or non-compliance with, or require remediation or result in material liability of the Companies, taken as a whole, under any Environmental Laws.

(iv) Since December 31, 2009, neither Seller nor any Company has received any written claim or demand relating to the presence of asbestos in or on any Leased Real Property, Owned Real Property or Investment Asset.

(y) Brokers. Seller is solely responsible for the payment of the fees and expenses of any broker, investment banker, financial adviser or other Person acting in a similar capacity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the Transaction Documents based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Seller or any Affiliate.

(z) Insurance. Section 3.1(z) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list of all insurance policies covering any Company or any of its properties, assets, employees or operations that are in effect as of the date of this Agreement, other than policies procured by Seller or any of its Affiliates that name any Company as an insured, and such policies have previously been made available to Buyer. All such insurance policies are in full force and effect (and all premiums due and payable thereon have been paid in full on a timely basis); and no written notice of cancellation, termination or revocation or other written notice that any such insurance policy is no longer in full force or effect or that the issuer of any policy is not willing or able to perform its obligations thereunder has been received by Seller or any Company; and there is no claim by Seller or any Company pending under any of such insurance policies as to which coverage has been denied by the insurer or that, after reviewing the information provided with respect to such claim, the insurer has advised Seller or such Company in writing that it intends to deny; and neither Seller nor any Company is in material default under any provision of such insurance policies, except such defaults as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Companies.

(aa) Affiliate Transactions. Section 3.1(aa) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list of (a) all Intercompany Agreements in effect as of the date hereof, (b) all material Affiliate Agreements in effect as of the date hereof and (c) each Intercompany Obligation as of June 30, 2012.

(bb) Separate Accounts; Regulatory Filings. Section 3.1(bb) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list of all separate accounts maintained by the Insurance Companies (collectively, the "Separate Accounts"). Except as set forth in Section 3.1(bb) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, (1) each Separate Account is duly and validly established and maintained under the Applicable Laws of the applicable Insurance Company's state of domicile, is operated in compliance with Applicable Laws and is not an investment company as defined in Section 3(a) of the Investment Company Act or is excluded from the definition of an investment company pursuant to Sections 3(c)(1), 3(c)(7) or 3(c)(11) of the Investment Company Act; (2) the portion of the assets of each Separate Account equal to the reserves and other contract liabilities of such Separate Account is not chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other business the applicable Insurance Company may conduct or may have conducted; and (3) the Insurance Contracts under which any Separate Account's assets are held are duly and validly issued and are exempt from registration under the Securities Act, pursuant to Section 3(a)(2), 3(a)(8) or 4(2) of the Securities Act or Regulation D thereunder. None of the Separate Accounts are maintained for or with respect to Insurance Contracts which are life insurance products.

(cc) Bank Accounts. Seller has previously made available to Buyer a list of the bank names, locations and account numbers of all bank and safe deposit box accounts of each Company, including any custodial accounts for securities owned by a Company, and the names of all persons authorized to draw thereon or to have access thereto.

(dd) Internal Controls.

(i) The Companies maintain financial books and records reflecting their assets and liabilities that are accurate in all material respects, and maintain, in all material respects, systems of internal accounting controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that: (1) transactions are executed with management's general or specific authorization; (2) transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of its financial statements in conformity in all material respects with SAP or IFRS, as applicable, and to maintain accountability for their assets; (3) access to their assets is permitted only in accordance with management's general or specific authorization; and (4) the recorded accountability for assets is compared with existing assets at reasonable intervals and appropriate actions are taken with respect to any differences.

(ii) Except as set forth in Section 3.1(dd)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, to the Knowledge of Seller, since December 31, 2010, no Company nor any of its Representatives has received any non-frivolous complaint, allegation, assertion or claim, whether written or oral, regarding deficiencies with respect to the accounting, reserving or auditing practices, procedures, methodologies or methods of a Company or its internal accounting controls, including any complaint, allegation, assertion or claim that any Company has engaged in questionable accounting, reserving or auditing practices.

(iii) Each Company has in place risk management and disaster recovery policies and procedures that are reasonably sufficient in scope and operation to protect against risks of the types reasonably expected to be incurred by Persons similarly situated.

(ee) Material Shared Contracts; Business Assets.

(i) Section 3.1(ee)(i) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list of (1) all material Contracts to which Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies) is a party under which any Company receives material benefits (the "Material Shared Contracts") and (2) all assets owned by Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Companies) which are material to the operation or conduct of the businesses of the Companies.

(ii) Section 3.1(ee)(ii) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list of (1) any employee of Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies) who predominantly provides services to the business of any Company and (2) any employee of the Companies who predominantly provides services to the business of Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies).

(iii) The Companies are in possession of and have valid title to or have a valid leasehold interest in or valid rights under contract to use, all material tangible personal property and assets used as of the date hereof in the conduct of their respective businesses, or shown on the balance sheets included in the Statutory Statements for the quarter ended September 30, 2012, free and clear of all Liens (other than Permitted Liens), except for properties and assets disposed of in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice since September 30, 2012 or as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement (the "Business Assets").

SECTION 3.2. Representations and Warranties of Buyer. Subject to and as qualified by the matters set forth or, as contemplated by Section 10.3, deemed to be set forth, in correspondingly numbered sections or subsections of the Buyer's Disclosure Schedule delivered by Buyer to Seller on the date hereof the "Buyer's Disclosure Schedule"), Buyer makes the following representations and warranties to Seller as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date; provided, however, that any representations and warranties that are made as of a specific date or as of the date of this Agreement are made only as of such date:

(a) Organization and Standing. Buyer (a) is an exempted company duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of Bermuda, (b) has all requisite corporate power to operate its business as now conducted and (c) is duly qualified as a foreign corporation to do business, and is in good standing (if applicable), in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification necessary, except where failure to so qualify or be in good standing would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Buyer.

(b) Authority.

(i) Buyer has the requisite corporate power and authority to enter into this Agreement and to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The execution and delivery of this Agreement, each other Transaction Document, each Life Business Agreement and each Annuity Business Agreement to which it is a party by Buyer and the consummation by Buyer of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of Buyer. No action by the stockholders of Buyer is necessary to authorize the execution and delivery by Buyer of this Agreement, any of the other Transaction Documents to which it is a party, any of the Life Business Agreements or Annuity Business Agreements or the consummation by Buyer of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby. This Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party have been duly executed and delivered by Buyer and, assuming this Agreement and such other Transaction Documents constitute the valid and binding agreement of Seller and each other party thereto that is not an Affiliate of Buyer, constitute valid and binding obligations of Buyer, enforceable against Buyer in accordance with their terms except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

(ii) The execution and delivery by any Affiliate of Buyer of each Transaction Document, Life Business Agreement or Annuity Business Agreement to which such Affiliate is or will be a party and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby are within the corporate powers, as applicable, of each such Affiliate and have been, or will be, duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of each such Affiliate. As of the Closing Date, each Transaction Document, Life Business Agreement and Annuity Business Agreement to which each such Affiliate will be a party will constitute, assuming such Transaction Documents, Life Business Agreements or Annuity Business Agreements constitute a valid and binding agreement of each other party thereto that is not an Affiliate of Buyer, a valid and binding agreement of each such Affiliate, enforceable against such Affiliate in accordance with its terms, except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

(c) Noncontravention; Consents. Except as disclosed in Section 3.2(c) of the Buyer's Disclosure Schedule, the execution and delivery of this Agreement and each other Transaction Document, Life Business Agreement or Annuity Business Agreement to which it is a party do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and such other Transaction Documents, Life Business Agreements or Annuity Business Agreement will not, (i) conflict with any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of Buyer or the comparable documents of any of its Subsidiaries, (ii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, conflict with, result in a breach or violation of, or a default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of termination under, or result in the creation of any Lien on any property or asset of Buyer or any of its Subsidiaries or any acceleration of remedies, penalty or material change in the terms under, or require the consent of any Third Party under, any agreement, permit, license or instrument to which Buyer or any of its Subsidiaries is a party or (iii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, contravene any Applicable Law applicable to Buyer or any of its Subsidiaries, except, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) above, as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Buyer. No consent, approval or authorization of, or declaration or filing with, or notice to, any Governmental Entity is required by or with respect to Buyer or any of its Affiliates in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Buyer or any of the other Transaction Documents by Buyer or any of its Affiliates or the consummation by Buyer or its Affiliates of any of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, except for (i) the filing required under the HSR Act, (ii) the approvals, filings and notices required under the insurance laws of the jurisdictions set forth in Section 3.2(c) of the Buyer's Disclosure Schedule, (iii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices as are set forth in Section 3.2(c) of the Buyer's Disclosure Schedule and (iv) such other consents, approvals or authorizations from, declarations by, filings with, or notices to, any Governmental Entity that, if not obtained or made, would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Buyer. To the Knowledge of Buyer as of the date hereof, no fact or circumstance exists with respect to Buyer or any of its Affiliates that would render them unable promptly to obtain any approval, authorization or consent of a Governmental Entity to be obtained to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, any other Transaction Document or any Life Business Agreement or Annuity Business Agreement.

(d) Purchase Not for Distribution. The Transferred Shares to be acquired under the terms of this Agreement will be acquired by Buyer for its own account and not with a view to distribution. Buyer will not resell, transfer, assign, pledge or otherwise dispose of any Transferred Shares, except in compliance with the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws, or pursuant to an available exemption therefrom.

(e) Litigation. There is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Buyer, threatened in writing against or affecting Buyer or any Affiliate of Buyer that (i) seeks to restrain or enjoin the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the other Transaction Documents or (ii) would reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Buyer to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the other Transaction Documents. Neither Buyer nor any Affiliate of Buyer that is a party to a Transaction Document, nor, to the Knowledge of Buyer, any officer, director or employee of Buyer or any such Affiliate has been permanently or temporarily enjoined or barred by any Government Order from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with the business conducted by the Companies or otherwise that would reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Buyer.

(f) Brokers. Buyer is solely responsible for the payment of the fees and expenses of any broker, investment banker, financial adviser or other Person acting in a similar capacity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, any of the other

Transaction Documents, any Life Business Agreement or any Annuity Business Agreement based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Buyer or any Affiliate.

(g) Financial Ability. (i) Buyer has, and on the Closing Date will have (whether or not any sale of the Companies' life insurance business is consummated or any reinsurance to Annuity Reinsurer is consummated) sufficient funds available to purchase the Transferred Shares on the terms contemplated by this Agreement, to consummate the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and to pay all associated costs and expenses required to be paid by Buyer or any of its Affiliates. Athene Annuity has, and on the Closing Date will have, sufficient funds available to purchase the ALAC Surplus Notes as contemplated by Section 2.1(a)(v).

(ii) Buyer has delivered to Seller true, correct and complete copies of (A) a commitment letter dated the date hereof from Apollo Principal Holdings III, L.P. in which it has agreed to provide equity financing in the amount set forth therein (the "ACL") and (B) certain redacted subscription agreements, under which certain parties are obligated to purchase an aggregate of $82.14 million of additional equity securities of Buyer (the "Remaining LP Equity Commitments" and, together with the ACL, the "Commitments"). The Commitments are in full force and effect and constitute the legal, valid and binding obligations of Buyer and the other parties thereto and are enforceable against such parties in accordance with their terms. Buyer has no reason to believe that the financing provided for in the Commitments will not be available when drawn.

ARTICLE IV.
COVENANTS

SECTION 4.1. Conduct of Business of the Companies.

(a) Ordinary Course of Business; Preservation and Maintenance. Except as contemplated or expressly permitted by this Agreement or the other Transaction Documents, as required by Applicable Law, as set forth in Section 4.1 of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule or as Buyer otherwise consents in writing in advance, from the date of this Agreement to the Closing, Seller shall cause the Companies to carry on their respective businesses only in the ordinary course of business and, to the extent consistent therewith, use reasonable best efforts to preserve intact their current business organizations and their material relationships with Third Parties (including insureds, Producers, Governmental Entities, suppliers, creditors and others having business dealings with them) and employees. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, from the date of this Agreement to the Closing, except as contemplated or expressly permitted by this Agreement, as required by Applicable Law or as set forth in Section 4.1 of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, Seller shall not permit the Companies, without the prior written consent of Buyer (which consent, with respect to paragraphs (i), (ii), (vii), (ix), (xii), (xiii), (xiv), (xv), (xvi)(C) and (xix) (with respect to such specified paragraphs) will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), to:

(i) modify or amend in any material respect or terminate any of the Material Contracts or waive, release or assign any material rights or claims thereunder or enter into any Contract (A) which would, if entered into prior to the date hereof, have been a Material Contract or (B) that is an advisory agreement pursuant to which AINA would provide advisory services, except as otherwise permitted by Section 5.2(c) of the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement;

(ii) other than Investment Assets of an Insurance Company, sell, pledge, exchange, or otherwise dispose of any property or assets for which the aggregate consideration in any individual transaction is in excess of $2,500,000 or in the aggregate in excess of $10,000,000;

(iii) (A) split, combine or reclassify any of the Companies' outstanding capital stock or equity securities or issue or authorize the issuance of any other stock or securities in respect of, in lieu of or in substitution for shares or other interests representing any of the Companies' outstanding capital stock or equity securities, (B) declare, set aside or pay any dividend or distribution on any shares of capital stock or other equity interest, (C) whether directly or indirectly, purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any shares or other interests representing outstanding capital stock or equity securities of the Companies or any rights, warrants or options to acquire any such shares or interests or (D) amend the Organizational Documents, or adopt or enter into a plan of complete or partial liquidation, dissolution, merger, consolidation, restructuring, recapitalization or other reorganization, of any of the Companies;

(iv) issue, sell, grant, pledge or otherwise encumber any shares or other interests representing the capital stock of or equity interests in the Companies, any other voting securities or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for any such shares or interests, or issue, sell, grant or enter into any subscription, warrant, option, conversion or other right, agreement, commitment, arrangement or understanding of any kind, contingent or otherwise, to purchase or otherwise acquire, any such shares or interests, or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for any such shares or interests;

(v) acquire (by merger, consolidation, acquisition of stock or assets or otherwise) any other Person or substantially all the assets of any other Person;

(vi) increase or decrease, promise, grant or agree to increase, take any action to accelerate the vesting or payment or fund or in any other way secure the payment of, the compensation (including any bonus or other incentive opportunity) or benefits of, or forgive the indebtedness of, any current or former Employee, officer, director, consultant, agent or independent contractor of any of the Companies (other than any compensation paid to an Independent Producer), other than as required by any Company Benefit Plan in force as of the date hereof, or with respect to the top 50 Employees (measured by annual base salary), with the consent of Buyer (which consent may not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) or, with respect to all other Employees, in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(vii) (A) hire, retain, terminate or transfer to any Affiliate (other than as contemplated by the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement and Section 5.1(a)) any Employee, officer, director, or consultant (other than a consultant with twenty (20) or more employees), other than in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, (B) enter into any employment, consulting, severance (other than in accordance with any Company Benefit Plan in force as of the date hereof) or other Contract with any Employee, officer, director or consultant (other than a consultant with twenty (20) or more employees), other than an offer of employment or consulting Contract prepared or entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice that can be terminated by the Companies (1) in the case of an Employee, without notice or cost (other than severance benefits pursuant to a Company Benefit Plan in force as of the date hereof) or (2) in the case of a consultant, upon reasonably short notice and for immaterial cost (other than the continued payment of fees and compensation through the effective date of the termination of such consultant's Contract), (C) adopt, terminate, amend, extend or renew the term or expiration date of (other than pursuant to an existing (as of the date hereof) express auto-renewal provision that does not require any action by Seller or any of its Affiliates to renew or permit renewal), any Company Benefit Plan, other than in connection with an action expressly permitted or contemplated by the terms of this Agreement, or (D) take or omit to take any action with respect to any Employee that creates any notice obligation or any liability in each case under the WARN Act (without regard to any actions or omissions of Buyer);

(viii) (A) make any material change in the accounting, actuarial, investment, reserving, underwriting or claims administration policies, practices or principles of the Companies, except as may be required by IFRS, GAAP, SAP or Applicable Law, (B) change the Investment Guidelines Aviva USA dated December 7, 2012, the Policy for OTTI (AUSA & AINA) effective October 25, 2005, as updated June 19, 2012 or the Aviva USA Investment Policy Statement for the Commercial Mortgage Loans Strategy September 2012 or (C) make any investment not in compliance with such policies;

(ix) other than Investment Assets of an Insurance Company, purchase, lease or otherwise acquire property or assets for which the aggregate consideration paid or payable is, or otherwise make or authorize any capital expenditures that are, in the aggregate, in excess of $10,000,000;

(x) other than incurring additional short-term indebtedness for borrowed money under, and in accordance with the terms of, AUSA's existing bank credit facility to fund ordinary course working capital needs or amounts needed to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby, incur, assume or guarantee any indebtedness for borrowed money or guarantee the obligations of another Person, in each case in excess of $5,000,000;

(xi) other than in connection with the management of Investment Assets of an Insurance Company, make any loans, advances or capital contributions to, or investments in, any other Person, other than to another Company and other than loans and advances to Producers in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice;

(xii) pay, settle or compromise any Action or threatened Action, except for claims under policies and certificates of insurance within applicable policy limits and other than any settlement or compromise of an Action that involves solely monetary damages not exceeding $2,000,000 individually, or in the aggregate with other Actions arising from the same facts and circumstances or from a series of substantially similar actions taken by the same Third Party or a group of Third Parties acting in concert, in excess of the related policy reserves;

(xiii) make, change or revoke any election (other than a tax election that will not (i) have the effect of reducing Tax Attributes or (ii) materially impact any of the Companies in a Post-Closing Tax Period) related to Taxes, settle or compromise any Tax liability (other than state and local Tax liabilities arising in the ordinary course of business the settlement or compromise of which would not cause a reduction in Tax Attributes), enter into any closing agreement related to Tax (other than closing agreements entered into in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice that, would not (i) have the effect of reducing Tax Attributes or (ii) materially impact any of the Companies in a Post-Closing Tax Period), consent to any extension or waiver of the limitations period applicable to any Tax claim or assessment, change any taxable period or any Tax accounting method, or, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, engage in any transaction, or otherwise take any action, outside the ordinary course of business that would have the effect of reducing the Tax Attributes of the Companies (including, for the avoidance of doubt, engaging in any transaction (1) in respect of (A) the LILO Interest, (B) the COLI Policies or (C) the Redundant Reserve Financing Transactions) or (2) that would require recognition of income previously deferred);

(xiv) amend in any material respect, extend or terminate any Lease or enter into a new real property lease, sublease, license or other occupancy agreement or acquire any real property or enter any agreement obligating any of the Companies to do the same, in each case other than in connection with the Companies' REO activities in accordance with the Aviva USA Investment Policy Statement for the Commercial Mortgage Loans Strategy September 2012;

(xv) amend in any material respect, extend or terminate any Reinsurance Agreement or enter into a new Reinsurance Agreement;

(xvi) (A) enter into any new line of business, (B) introduce any new products or services, or (C) change in any material respect existing products or services, except as may be required by Applicable Law;

(xvii) modify or amend in any material respect or terminate any of the Intercompany Agreements or Affiliate Agreements or waive, release or assign any material rights or claims thereunder or enter into any Contract which would, if entered into prior to the date hereof, have been an Intercompany Agreement or an Affiliate Agreement;

(xviii) incur any Intercompany Obligations other than in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice; or

(xix) authorize or enter into a binding agreement to take any of the foregoing actions.

SECTION 4.2. Access to Information; Confidentiality; Public Announcements; Access to Books and Records.

(a) Prior to the Closing Date, Seller shall and shall cause the Companies to afford to Buyer and its Representatives reasonable access upon reasonable notice during normal business hours to all of the properties of the Companies and, during such period, Seller shall and shall cause the Companies to provide to Buyer access to the Books and Records and to furnish such other information that relates to the business, properties, financial condition, operations and senior personnel of the Companies as Buyer may from time to time reasonably request, other than (i) as prohibited by Applicable Law and (ii) any such properties, books, contracts, records and information that are subject to an attorney-client or other legal privilege that in the reasonable opinion of counsel to Seller would be impaired by such disclosure. The access afforded pursuant to the foregoing sentence shall be for any reasonable business purpose, including with respect to matters relating to the anticipated integration of the business of the Companies with Buyer and its Affiliates following the Closing, matters relating to personnel evaluation, work relating to purchase accounting under GAAP, information technology systems strategies and potential Third Party administrator analysis. All requests for access or information pursuant to this Section 4.2(a) shall be directed to such Person or Persons as Seller shall designate. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Seller and the Companies will not be required to, and Seller shall use its reasonable best efforts to ensure that it and the Companies do not, prior to the Closing Date, disclose to Buyer, its Representatives or any of its Affiliates, any medical information regarding any Employees or other current or former employees, agents, consultants or independent contractors of any of them, including any "genetic information" within the meaning of the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 ("GINA"), further including an individual's family medical history except as otherwise permitted by GINA and the Family and Medical Leave Act, the results of an individual's or family member's genetic tests, the fact that an individual or an individual's family member sought or received genetic services, and genetic information of a fetus carried by an individual or an individual's family member or an embryo lawfully held by an individual or family member receiving assistive reproductive services.

(b) Seller will afford Buyer and its Representatives cooperation and assistance in connection with a reserve audit conducted, at Buyer's cost, by an accounting or actuarial firm of national reputation selected by Buyer covering the policy reserves of ALAC, ALACNY and the AUSA Captives. The scope of such audit will comprise a review (by reference to a representative sample of policies, to be selected by Buyer, being not fewer than 200 in number) of (i) the statutory policy reserves for the life business in its entirety, to verify that such reserves have been calculated in all material respects in accordance with SAP with respect to the Insurance Companies and generally accepted actuarial principles applied on a basis consistent with the relevant Company's past practice and (ii) the economic reserves in respect of each AUSA Captive, to verify that such reserves have been calculated in all material respects in accordance with the transaction documents for the financing of such AUSA Captive. The full report and working papers relating to such audit will be made available to Seller no later than forty-five (45) calendar days after Buyer's receipt from ALAC and ALACNY of complete reserve documentation and a seriatim extract that supports the applicable statutory balance sheet as of September 30, 2012. Buyer may take any findings from the foregoing reserve audit into account in its preparation of the Subject Balance Sheets (as defined in Annex C), which nevertheless must be prepared in all events in accordance with Annex C. Any disagreement between Seller and Buyer in relation thereto shall be resolved in accordance with the provisions of Annex C.

(c) Through the Closing Date, Seller shall, and shall cause the Companies to, preserve and maintain the Books and Records in all material respects in the same manner and with the same care that the Books and Records have been maintained prior to the execution of this Agreement. At the Closing, Seller shall, or shall cause its Affiliates to, deliver to Buyer or its designee, or cause the Companies to have possession of, (1) all original corporate records of the Companies, including but not limited to, any such corporate records relating to the Companies' legal existence, stock or other equity ownership and corporate governance and (2) all Permits of the Companies.

(d) Buyer acknowledges that the information provided to it in connection with this Agreement (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any information received by it from any potential Life Reinsurer or from Annuity Reinsurer relating to the Companies) is subject to the Confidentiality Agreement. The Confidentiality Agreement shall terminate at the Closing. If, for any reason, the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents are not consummated, the Confidentiality Agreement shall nonetheless continue in full force and effect in accordance with its terms.

(e) Seller, Buyer and their respective Affiliates shall not make public the terms or conditions of this Agreement or the negotiations relating to this Agreement or any documents referred to herein or the transactions contemplated hereby; provided, however, that the foregoing obligation of Seller, Buyer and their respective Affiliates shall not prohibit disclosure of any such information (1) if required by Applicable Law, stock exchange rules or any Governmental Entity, in which case the party required to make such disclosure shall, if practical, allow the other party a reasonable opportunity to comment on such disclosure in advance of such disclosure, (2) to auditors or ratings agencies; provided, that such auditors or ratings agencies are made aware of the provisions of this Section 4.2(e), (3) to an advisor for the purpose of advising in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents; provided, further, that such advisor is made aware of the provisions of this Section 4.2(e), (4) by Seller and its Affiliates to custodians, retrocessionaires or investment managers of the Companies or the business of any Company, in order to facilitate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, (5) to the extent that the information has been made public by, or with the prior consent of, the other party, (6) in connection with any Action or in any dispute with respect to this Agreement or any other Transaction Document and (7) by Buyer and its Affiliates to any potential Life Reinsurer that has executed a confidentiality agreement with Seller or one of its Affiliates as contemplated by Section 4.28 or to Annuity Reinsurer in connection with the Annuity Business Transaction; provided, that if either party or any of their respective Affiliates becomes legally compelled by Applicable Law, stock exchange rules, any Governmental Entity, deposition, interrogatory, request for documents, subpoena, civil investigative demand or similar judicial or administrative process to disclose such confidential information, such party shall provide the other party with prompt written notice of such requirement prior to such disclosure if practical and, to the extent reasonably practicable, cooperate with such other party and its Affiliates to obtain a protective order or similar remedy to cause such information not to be disclosed. In the event that such protective order or other similar remedy is not obtained, the party compelled to disclose any confidential information shall furnish only that portion of such confidential information that has been legally compelled, and shall exercise its reasonable best efforts to obtain assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded such disclosed information. Buyer shall ensure that any LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement and any AR Reinsurance Framework Agreement will include a confidentiality provision for the benefit of Seller substantially consistent with this Section 4.2(e).

(f) For a period of five years after the Closing, (i) Seller and its Affiliates shall, and shall cause each of their Representatives to, maintain in confidence any written, oral or other confidential information relating to the Companies or the business of any Company or obtained from Buyer or its Affiliates (including the Companies) and (ii) Buyer and its Affiliates shall, and shall cause each of their Representatives to, maintain in confidence any written, oral or other confidential information relating to Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Companies) or the business of any of them, except that the foregoing requirements in clauses (i) and (ii) of this Section 4.2(e) shall not apply to the extent that (1) any such information is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of disclosure by Seller or its Affiliates (in the case of clause (i)) or Buyer and its Affiliates (in the case of clause (ii)) or any of their respective Representatives, in violation of this Section 4.2(f), (2) any such information is required by Applicable Law, stock exchange rules, Governmental Order or a Governmental Entity to be disclosed after prior notice has been given to Seller (in the case of clause (i)) or Buyer (in the case of clause (ii)), as applicable (including any report, statement, testimony or other submission to such Governmental Entity), if practical, (3) any such information was or becomes available to Seller or its Affiliates (in the case of clause (i)) or Buyer or its Affiliates (in the case of clause (ii)) on a non-confidential basis and from a source (other than the other party or any Affiliate (including the Companies) or Representative of such other party or its Affiliates) that is not bound by a confidentiality agreement with respect to such information or is not otherwise obligated to keep such information confidential or (4) any such information is reasonably necessary to be disclosed in connection with any Action or in any dispute with respect to this Agreement or any other Transaction Document; provided, that if either party or any of its Affiliates becomes legally compelled by deposition, interrogatory, request for documents, subpoena, civil investigative demand or similar judicial or administrative process to disclose such confidential information, such party shall provide the other party with prompt written notice of such requirement prior to such disclosure if practical and, to the extent reasonably practicable, cooperate with the other party and its Affiliates, at such other party's expense, to obtain a protective order or similar remedy to cause such information not to be disclosed. In the event that such protective order or other similar remedy is not obtained, the party required to make such disclosure or its Affiliates shall furnish only that portion of confidential information that has been legally compelled, and shall exercise its reasonable best efforts to obtain assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded such disclosed information. Each party shall instruct its Affiliates and its and their respective Representatives having access to such confidential information of such obligation of confidentiality. This Section 4.2(f) shall not apply to Confidential Information as defined in the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement, as to which the provisions of such agreement shall apply.

(g) Until the later of the sixth anniversary of the Closing, Buyer shall afford to Seller and its Representatives access, upon reasonable notice at reasonable times during normal business hours and at Seller's expense, to the Books and Records of the Companies and the books, records, officers, employees, auditors and other advisors of the Companies, and provide information with respect to the Companies in a readily accessible form (including financial information in a form consistent with the Companies' historical practice for the preparation of such financial information), to the extent relating to periods prior to the Closing Date and reasonably required by Seller for any litigation (except litigation involving Buyer or its Affiliates), disputes (except disputes involving Buyer or its Affiliates), compliance, financial reporting (including financial audits of historical information), loss reporting, regulatory and accounting matters (including for any such matters related to the Transition Services Agreements), or for any other reasonable business purpose relating to Seller's prior ownership of the Companies, Buyer shall cooperate with Seller and its Representatives to furnish such books and records and information and make available such officers, employees, auditors and other advisors of the Companies; provided that (i) such access does not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of the business of Buyer or the Companies and (ii) such books, records and information are not subject to an attorney-client or other legal privilege that in the reasonable opinion of counsel to Buyer would be impaired by such access and (iii) Buyer will not be required to, and Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to ensure that it does not, afford access or disclose to Seller, any of its Representatives or any of their respective Affiliates, any medical information regarding any Employees or other current or former employees, agents, consultants or independent contractors of Buyer, the Companies or any of their respective Affiliates, including any "genetic information" within the meaning of GINA, further including an individual's family medical history except as otherwise permitted by GINA and the Family and Medical Leave Act, the results of an individual's or family member's genetic tests, the fact that an individual or an individual's family member sought or received genetic services, and genetic information of a fetus carried by an individual or an individual's family member or an embryo lawfully held by an individual or family member receiving assistive reproductive services. Seller shall, and shall cause its Representatives to, maintain such books, records and information in confidence using the same internal policies used for maintaining confidential information of Seller. Notwithstanding the foregoing, access to records relating to Taxes shall be governed exclusively by Section 8.4. All requests for access or information pursuant to this Section 4.2(g) shall be directed to such Person or Persons as Buyer shall designate. Buyer shall, and shall cause the Companies to, implement an internal process to ensure the deletion of all data relating to Seller or its Affiliates from any computers, hard drives or other similar electronic devices prior to disposing of any such device, and such internal process shall conform in all material respects to the internal process currently in place at the Companies for deletion of data prior to disposition of such devices.

(h) Until the period provided for in Section 4.2(g) has expired, Seller shall afford promptly to Buyer and its Representatives the same access to be provided by Buyer to Seller and its Representatives under Section 4.2(g), upon the same terms and conditions in Section 4.2(g), with respect to any written, oral or other information relating to the Companies, the Transferred Advisory Agreements, the Replaced Advisory Agreements or the business of any Company that Seller has in its possession after the Closing, other than any such information that is included in the Books and Records or is otherwise in the possession of Buyer or the Companies at or after the Closing Date.

(i) Seller shall, and shall cause the Companies to, cooperate with Buyer in Buyer obtaining on or before the Closing Date an update, dated and current as of no earlier than five (5) Business Days prior to the Closing Date, of the information provided to Buyer or scheduled pursuant to Section 3.1(i)(xiv) (it being understood that such update need not itself be scheduled) so that such updated information covers the twelve (12)-month period prior to the date of such update.

(j) Seller shall, and shall cause the Companies to, cooperate with Buyer in Buyer obtaining on or before the Closing Date an update, dated and current as of no earlier than five (5) Business Days prior to the Closing Date, of the information provided to Buyer pursuant to the last sentence of Section 3.1(o)(i) (it being understood that such update need not itself be scheduled).

(k) Any cooperation by Seller or any of the Companies with Buyer's efforts to enter into or consummate an Annuity Business Transaction shall not unreasonably interfere with the operation of the business of the Companies.

SECTION 4.3. Reasonable Best Efforts. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions and other agreements set forth in this Agreement, each of Buyer and Seller (1) shall use its reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all further actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and make effective, as soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement, the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, including payment of the Extraordinary Distribution and (2) not in limitation of any other provision of this Agreement, shall use their respective reasonable best efforts to cause all the conditions to the obligations of the parties to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement to be met as soon as reasonably practicable.

SECTION 4.4. Governmental Consents, Approvals and Filings.

(a) Seller and Buyer shall each use, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to use, their reasonable best efforts, and shall cooperate (and cause their respective Affiliates to cooperate) fully with each other (i) to comply as promptly as practicable with all governmental requirements applicable to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document and (ii) to obtain as promptly as practicable all necessary permits, orders or other consents, approvals or authorizations of Governmental Entities necessary in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document. For the avoidance of doubt, Buyer's reasonable best efforts as used in the foregoing sentence shall include filing, or causing the filing, of disclaimers of control or similar filings as requested by a Governmental Entity or as otherwise required by Applicable Law, in respect of any Person that is not an Affiliate of Buyer but which may otherwise be deemed by a Governmental Entity to be a controlling Person of the Insurance Companies upon consummation of the Closing absent such filing and approval or non-disapproval thereof. In connection therewith, Seller and Buyer shall make and cause their respective Affiliates to make all legally required filings as promptly as practicable in order to facilitate prompt consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document, shall provide and shall cause their respective Affiliates to provide such information and communications to Governmental Entities as such Governmental Entities may request, shall take and shall cause their respective Affiliates to take all steps that are necessary, proper or advisable to avoid any Action by any Governmental Entity with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document, shall defend or contest in good faith any Action by any Third Party (including any Governmental Entity), whether judicial or administrative, challenging this Agreement, any of the other Transaction Documents or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, or that could otherwise prevent, impede, interfere with, hinder or delay in any material respect the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, including by using its reasonable best efforts to have vacated or reversed any stay or temporary restraining order entered with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document by any Governmental Entity. Each of Seller and Buyer shall not (and shall cause its Affiliates not to) take or cause to be taken any action that, to its knowledge, would be reasonably likely to materially delay or impair the receipt of any such permits, orders or other consents from a Governmental Entity. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, whether in this Section 4.4(a), Section 4.3 or otherwise, neither Seller nor Buyer shall be obligated to take or refrain from taking or to agree to it, its Affiliates or any Company taking or refraining from any action if taking or refraining from taking such action, as applicable, would, or to suffer to exist any condition, limitation, restriction or requirement that, individually or in the aggregate with any other actions, conditions, limitations, restrictions or requirements would, or would reasonably be expected to, result in a Burdensome Condition. As used herein, "Burdensome Condition" means any condition that, to the extent it cannot be mitigated through the Resolution Process, (A) with respect to Seller, (1) is imposed in connection with the CMA Restructuring and results in a severe impairment of the aggregate economic benefits that as of the date hereof Seller and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, reasonably expect to obtain from the transactions contemplated hereby, or (2) is otherwise imposed in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (other than the CMA Restructuring) and results in an adverse effect on the aggregate economic benefits that as of the date hereof Seller and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, reasonably expect to obtain from the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or (B) with respect to Buyer, (1) results in a severe impairment of the aggregate economic benefits that as of the date hereof Buyer and its Affiliates, taken as a whole, reasonably expect to obtain from the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, (2) requires that Buyer sell, transfer or divest to a Third Party any insurance company owned by Buyer or any of the Insurance Companies, or any substantial portion of the assets or liabilities of any such insurance company or any of the Insurance Companies (in each case other than a sale in accordance with Buyer's Form A filings of the Companies' life insurance business to Life Reinsurer and the cession of less than a majority of the Companies' annuities business to Annuity Reinsurer or another Third Party) or (3) results in the loss, disallowance or expiration of any of the permitted accounting, actuarial or reporting practices of an Insurance Company identified on Schedule 4.4(B)(3); it being understood that no condition imposed in connection with any sale or reinsurance of all or part of the Life Business or of any portion of the Companies' annuities business to Annuity Reinsurer proposed by Buyer shall, individually or in the aggregate, constitute a "Burdensome Condition." For the avoidance of doubt, Seller and Buyer shall each be obligated to take or refrain from taking, to cause its Affiliates to take or refrain from taking or to agree to it, its Affiliates or any Company taking or refraining from, any action imposed or requested by a Governmental Entity in connection with obtaining any permit, order or consent of such Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, if taking and refraining from taking such action, as applicable, would not, and to suffer to exist and cause its Affiliates to suffer to exist any condition, limitation, restriction or requirement that would not, result in a Burdensome Condition.

(b) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, as promptly as practicable after the date hereof each party shall make (and shall cause its respective Affiliates to make) all filings and notifications with all Governmental Entities that may be or become reasonably necessary, proper or advisable for the execution and delivery of, and the performance of the obligations pursuant to, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, including (1) subject to Section 4.4(d), Buyer causing "Form A" or similar change of control applications to be filed in each jurisdiction where required by applicable insurance laws with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, (2) Seller and Buyer each causing to be made an appropriate filing of a notification and report form pursuant to the HSR Act (which filing, including the exhibits thereto, notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, need not be shared or otherwise disclosed to the other party) with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, (3) promptly following the filings required by clause (1) above, Seller causing ALAC to request approval for payment of the Extraordinary Distribution, (4) Seller and Buyer each making any other filing that may be required under any other antitrust or competition law or by any Governmental Entity with jurisdiction over enforcement of any applicable antitrust or competition laws and (5) Seller and Buyer each causing to be made any other filing that may be required under any insurance or financial services law, federal law governing broker-dealers or similar Applicable Law or by any Governmental Entity with jurisdiction over enforcement of any applicable insurance, financial services or similar law, including those listed in Sections 3.1(e) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule or 3.2(c) of the Buyer's Disclosure Schedule. Buyer shall ensure that such filings and requests for approval to be made by Buyer or its Affiliates as contemplated by the previous sentence, unless otherwise required by the applicable Governmental Entity or consented to in writing by Seller, be consistent with the points set forth on Annex D. Buyer and Seller shall as promptly as reasonably practicable make any and all other filings and submissions of information and documentary materials with such Governmental Entities which are required or requested by such Governmental Entities in order to obtain the approvals required by such Governmental Entities to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents. Buyer shall have responsibility for the filing fees associated with any "Form A" or similar change of control application and any filings associated with the Pre-

Closing Transactions; subject to the foregoing and to Section 4.22, Seller and Buyer shall have responsibility for their other respective filing fees associated with any other required filings, except that Seller and Buyer shall have equal responsibility for the filing fees associated with the HSR Act filing.

(c) Subject to Applicable Laws relating to the sharing of information, each of Seller and Buyer shall promptly notify each other of any communication it receives from any Governmental Entity relating to the matters that are the subject of this Agreement, any of the other Transaction Documents, any Life Business Agreement or Annuity Business Agreement and, to the extent practicable, permit the other party to review in advance, and consider in good faith the views of the other party in connection with, any proposed material communication to any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, and promptly provide each other with true and complete copies of all correspondence, filings or written communications between such Party or any of its Representatives, on the one hand, and any Governmental Entity or members of the staff of any Governmental Entity, on the other hand. Prior to submitting any substantive letter, filing or other written communication with any Governmental Entity relating to the matters that are the subject of this Agreement, the other Transaction Documents, the Life Business Agreements and the Annuity Business Agreements, each party shall allow the other party, to the extent practicable, not less than three Business Days to review and provide comments on a draft of such written communication in advance of submitting such written communication to such Governmental Entity. Neither party shall participate, agree to participate or permit its Representatives to participate or agree to participate, in any substantive in-person or telephonic meeting or hearing with any Governmental Entity relating to the matters that are the subject of this Agreement unless it consults with the other party in advance and, to the extent permitted by the applicable Governmental Entity, gives the other Party the opportunity to attend and participate in any such meeting or hearing. Subject to the Confidentiality Agreement, Seller and Buyer shall coordinate and cooperate fully with each other in exchanging such information and providing such assistance as the other party may reasonably request in connection with the foregoing (including in seeking early termination of any applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act); provided, however, that neither party nor any of their respective Affiliates shall be required (1) to disclose any information that in the reasonable judgment of such party would (x) result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of Third Parties or (y) violate any of its contractual obligations or obligations with respect to confidentiality owing to Third Parties (other than Life Reinsurer (if a Third Party) and Annuity Reinsurer) or (2) to disclose any privileged information or confidential competitive information. Neither party shall be required to comply with any of the foregoing provisions of this Section 4.4(c) to the extent that such compliance would be prohibited by Applicable Law.

(d) Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to enter into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, as soon as practicable after the date hereof and, in connection therewith, Seller shall cooperate with Buyer in such efforts as and to the extent contemplated by Section 4.28. Buyer shall keep Seller reasonably informed on an ongoing basis of, and all material developments with respect to, any discussions or negotiations with an Annuity Reinsurer and with potential Life Reinsurers. Buyer shall cause the applications described in clause (1) of Section 4.4(b) to be filed with the applicable Governmental Entities on or prior to the earliest of (i) the date that is 15 Business Days after the date on which Buyer or any of its Affiliates enters into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement with a Life Reinsurer, (ii) the date that is 15

Business Days after the date on which Buyer ceases to use its reasonable best efforts to enter into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement with a Third Party reinsurer and (iii) March 31, 2013; provided that the date specified in this clause (iii) may be extended to April 30, 2013 with the consent of Seller, which consent may not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed if Buyer is engaged in ongoing discussions with a potential Third Party Life Reinsurer that are reasonably likely to lead to the execution by Buyer and such potential Life Reinsurer of an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, and the filing of such applications, on or prior to April 30, 2013. The date on which the last of such applications is filed with the applicable Governmental Entities is referred to herein as the "Filing Date." If such applications are made with such Governmental Entities at a time when Buyer has not entered into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement or has not entered into an AR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, then Buyer shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, make any filing with or proposal to any Governmental Entity with respect to any Life Business Transaction or any aspect thereof, or any Annuity Business Transaction or any aspect thereof, as applicable, until after the Closing. In the event that it becomes reasonably apparent that the Iowa Insurance Division or any other applicable Governmental Entity will not grant its approval to the transactions contemplated hereby in whole or in part due to any facts related to the Life Business Transaction or Annuity Business Transaction, then Buyer shall, upon the written request of Seller, abandon the Life Business Transaction or the Annuity Business Transaction, as applicable, promptly submit any new or amended filings, applications or other documents with the applicable Governmental Entities to exclude any Life Business Transaction or the Annuity Business Transaction, as applicable, from the applications and other filings it previously submitted to such Governmental Entities in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and use its reasonable best efforts to promptly consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

SECTION 4.5. Other Third Party Consents; Shared Contracts.

(a) Seller and Buyer shall use their reasonable best efforts to obtain any consents, waivers and approvals of Third Parties (other than Governmental Entities) and make any other notifications that may be required in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents; provided, that, except as otherwise provided in the Transition Services Agreements, Buyer shall be responsible for all out-of-pocket costs (including any license or other fees and expenses) associated with obtaining any such consents, approvals or waivers; provided that Seller must obtain Buyer's prior written consent before incurring any out-of-pocket costs which are expected to exceed $20,000. Seller's reasonable best efforts shall include encouraging Third Parties with which it has existing relationships at AUSA and the wider Seller group level to expedite obtaining such approval and to minimize such out-of-pocket costs. Each party shall promptly advise the other party of any communication that causes such party to believe that there is a reasonable likelihood that any such consent or approval will not be obtained or that the receipt of such consent or approval will be materially delayed or conditioned.

(b) Seller shall identify and cause its Affiliates to identify all Material Shared Contracts and other Contracts to which Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies) is a party and that are necessary for the operation of the Companies' business (collectively, "Shared Contracts"), and Seller shall cooperate and cause its Affiliates to cooperate with Buyer in the development of a plan to enable Buyer, its designated Affiliate or Life Reinsurer to receive such benefits or replacements therefor. Upon Buyer's request to Seller, Seller and Buyer shall each use its reasonable best efforts to cause the counterparties to such Shared Contracts to (a) enter into new Contracts with Buyer, its designated Affiliate or Life Reinsurer, as applicable, to receive the applicable benefits and (b) transfer to such new Contracts (or such existing Contracts between Buyer or one of its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the counterparty to such Contract, on the other hand) the benefit of any pre-paid expenses or other amounts under such Shared Contracts that are allocable to the Companies. If the parties are not able to obtain any such new Contract with a counterparty prior to Closing, then: (i) Seller and Buyer shall and shall cause their respective Affiliates to use their reasonable best efforts to secure an arrangement reasonably satisfactory to both parties under which the Companies would, in compliance with Applicable Law, obtain the benefits associated with the applicable Shared Contracts, which arrangement may include Seller and its Affiliates providing the Companies with such benefits for a transitional period reasonably acceptable to both parties pursuant to the Transition Services Agreements; and (ii) the parties will (A) for a period of three months after Closing use their reasonable best efforts to cause the applicable counterparty to such Shared Contract to enter into a new Contract with Buyer, its designated Affiliate or the Life Reinsurer, as applicable, to receive the applicable benefits and (B) for a period of six months after Closing use their reasonable best efforts to cause the applicable counterparty to such Shared Contract to transfer to such new Contract (or such existing Contracts between Buyer or one of its Affiliates and the counterparty to such Contract) the benefit of any pre-paid expenses or other amounts under such Shared Contract that are allocable to the Companies. Buyer shall be responsible for any fees or other expense paid to Third Parties in connection with the actions contemplated by this Section 4.5(b); provided, however, that the foregoing shall not relieve Seller of its obligation to use reasonable best efforts with respect to pre-paid expenses or other amounts, as set forth in this Section 4.5(b)(ii)(B), and shall not require Buyer to convey the benefit of such pre-paid amount to Seller or its Affiliates, or otherwise to reimburse such amount.

SECTION 4.6. Delivery of Financial Information. As soon as practicable, but in any event within 47 days following the end of each calendar quarter that is not a year-end that is completed prior to the Closing Date, commencing with the quarter ended March 31, 2013, Seller shall cause to be delivered to Buyer the unaudited quarterly financial statements of each Insurance Company as of and for the end of such quarter prepared in accordance with SAP and required to be filed with the Insurance Regulators. As soon as practicable, but in any event within 62 days following the end of each calendar year that is completed prior to the Closing Date, commencing with the year ended December 31, 2012, Seller shall cause to be delivered to Buyer the annual statutory financial statements of each Insurance Company as of and for the end of such year prepared in accordance with SAP and required to be filed with the Insurance Regulators. As soon as practicable, but in any event on or prior to June 1st following each calendar year that is completed prior to the Closing Date, commencing with the calendar year ended December 31, 2012, if the Closing has not yet occurred, Seller shall cause to be delivered to Buyer a true and complete copy of the Insurance Companies' audited annual statutory financial statements as of and for the end of such year together with the report of the Insurance Companies' independent certified public accountant with respect thereto.

SECTION 4.7. Investment Assets. AUSA shall, or shall cause its applicable Subsidiaries to, deliver to Buyer, on a weekly basis, a summary report of (i) all transaction activity and other significant events with respect to the Investment Assets and (ii) the cash management strategy and activities of AUSA and its Subsidiaries, in each case in form and substance as such weekly or similar reports have historically been prepared by the Companies in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice. From and after the date hereof until the Closing, AUSA shall cause the applicable executives or managers having primary responsibility for the matters set forth in the foregoing clauses (i) and (ii) to consult with Representatives of Buyer as reasonably requested by Buyer, not to exceed once per week, with respect to such matters, including future planned or potential purchases and sales of Investment Assets and the treatment of any impaired or potentially impaired Investment Assets. In such meetings with management, Buyer or its Representative may make recommendations to AUSA with respect to such matters.

SECTION 4.8. Certain Securities. Prior to the Closing, AUSA shall cause ALAC to sell its Morgan Stanley Managed ACES securities in exchange for cash.

SECTION 4.9. Ancillary Agreements. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions in this Agreement, at the Closing, Buyer shall and shall cause its relevant Affiliates to, and Seller shall and shall cause its relevant Affiliates (including any Company) to, enter into each of the Ancillary Agreements and to consummate the transactions described in Section 2.1(a).

SECTION 4.10. Intercompany Agreements.

(a) Except as set forth in Section 4.10(a) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, take all actions as may be necessary (including executing one or more instruments evidencing such termination and one or more releases, in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer) prior to or concurrent with the Closing to terminate the Companies' participation in, and to procure mutual releases of the Companies, on the one hand, and Seller and its Affiliates on the other hand, from any and all liabilities to each other arising in connection with (1) all Material Shared Contracts and (2) all Intercompany Agreements, after giving effect to Section 4.10(b); provided, however, that this Section 4.10(a) shall not apply to any Intercompany Agreement set forth in Section 4.10(a) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule. At the Closing, Seller shall provide evidence of the termination and release of, and indemnification for, of any and all liabilities, including liabilities to any Third Party, of the Companies with respect to, the Intercompany Agreements (other than any Intercompany Agreement set forth in Section 4.10(a) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule), in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer.

(b) Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, take all actions as may be necessary (including executing one or more releases in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer) so that, immediately prior to the Closing, the Companies, on the one hand, and Seller and its Affiliates (other than the Companies), on the other hand, shall settle, discharge, offset, pay, repay in full, terminate or extinguish all Intercompany Obligations, regardless of their maturity, for the amount due, including any accrued and unpaid interest to but excluding the date of payment, fees and other amounts due or outstanding thereunder; provided, however, that this Section 4.10(b) shall not apply to the Intercompany Loans (which shall be repaid as part of the Closing as set forth in Section 2.1) or to any Intercompany Obligations (1) set forth in Section 4.10(a) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule or (2) arising under any Intercompany

Agreement set forth in Section 4.10(a) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule; and provided, further, that if each such item is not paid in full in cash, the method of discharge must be satisfactory to Buyer in Buyer's sole discretion.

(c) Seller shall cause the actions contemplated by the AINA Loan Restructuring Steps Plan to be effected prior to the Closing.

SECTION 4.11. Use of Names.

(a) Prior to or at the Closing, the Companies shall transfer any and all right, title or interest, including all associated goodwill, which any of them may have in or to the names, trademarks and service marks set forth on Section 4.11(a) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule or any name, trademark, service mark, acronym or logo based on or incorporating any of such names, trademarks or service marks (collectively, the "Seller Trademarks"), or any Internet domain name containing all or a portion of a Seller Trademark or set forth on Section 4.11(a) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, to Seller or as Seller may direct. Prior to or at the Closing, Seller or an Affiliate of Seller shall enter into a royalty-free license agreement with the Companies in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C (the "Trademark License Agreement"). Buyer shall, within the time period set forth in the Trademark License Agreement, cause each Company to change its name to a name that does not include any Seller Trademark or any confusingly similar name or derivative thereof.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in the Trademark License Agreement, (i) following the Closing Date, Buyer shall cause the Companies promptly to cease and discontinue any and all uses of the Seller Trademarks, whether or not in combination with other words, symbols or other distinctive or non-distinctive elements, and all trade, corporate or business names, trademarks, tag-lines, identifying logos, trade dress, monograms, slogans, service marks, domain names, brand names and other name or source identifiers that are derivations, translations, adaptations, combinations or variations of the Seller Trademarks or embodying any of the foregoing whether or not in combination with other words, symbols or other distinctive or non-distinctive elements and (ii) Buyer, for itself and its Affiliates, agrees that any and all rights of the Companies to the Seller Trademarks, including any such rights licensed to the Companies pursuant to any agreements or other arrangements, whether written or oral, with Seller or its Affiliates, shall terminate on the Closing Date without recourse by Buyer or the Companies. Neither Buyer nor any of its Affiliates shall seek to register in any jurisdiction any trade, corporate or business name, trademark, tag-line, identifying logo, trade dress, monogram, slogan, service mark, domain name, brand name or other name or source identifier that is a derivation, translation, adaptation, combination or variation of the Seller Trademarks.

(c) Beginning at the time that Buyer notifies Seller of the Trademarks of Buyer and/or Life Reinsurer to which it will transition after the Closing Date, Seller shall, and shall cause each of its Affiliates to, use its reasonable best efforts to prepare the Companies to transition from the use of the Seller Trademarks to such Trademarks designated by Buyer, including: (i) cooperating in the identification of all forms, documents, marketing materials, signage, websites and other materials using the brand and name, and identifying changes that may be necessary to administrative, print and other systems; and (ii) cooperation in preparing state filings; provided that (1) Buyer shall compensate Seller for reasonable fees, costs or other expenses payable by Seller or its Affiliates to any Third Parties that are related directly to such actions, to the extent such actions would not, absent the pendency of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, otherwise have been performed by Seller or its Affiliates; and (2) such actions shall not unreasonably interfere with the operation of the Companies' business. In any event, Seller and its Affiliates shall, prior to Closing, remove the term "Aviva Investors" from all marketing, advertising, promotional or branding materials of the Companies intended to be provided to Third Parties, other than use solely to identify the legal name of a Company; provided that Buyer designates the Trademarks and other necessary branding information concerning the brand to which the Companies will transition after the Closing Date by a date that is at least six weeks prior to the Closing Date. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing herein shall grant Seller or any of its Affiliates a license or any other right to any Trademark of Buyer, its Affiliates or any Life Reinsurer.

SECTION 4.12. Further Assurances. Seller and Buyer agree, and Seller, prior to the Closing, and Buyer, after the Closing, each agrees to cause the Companies, to use their reasonable best efforts to execute and deliver, at no cost to the other party, such other documents, certificates, agreements and other writings and to take such other actions as may be necessary or desirable in order to consummate or implement expeditiously the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents.

SECTION 4.13. Notice of Certain Events.

(a) Each party shall give prompt written notice to the other party of (a) the occurrence, or failure to occur, of any event or the existence of any condition that has caused or would reasonably be likely to cause any of its representations or warranties contained in this Agreement to be inaccurate or breached in any material respect at any time from and after the date of this Agreement, up to and including the Closing Date, (b) any notice or other communication received by such party from any Governmental Entity or Third Party in connection with the transactions contemplated under this Agreement or the other Transaction Documents or the transactions contemplated by the Life Business Agreements or Annuity Business Agreements, (c) any Action commenced or, to the Knowledge of Seller or Buyer, as applicable, threatened, relating to or involving the Companies or in respect of this Agreement or any other Transaction Document or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or the transactions contemplated by the Life Business Agreements or Annuity Business Agreements and (d) any failure on its part to comply with or satisfy, in any material respect, any covenant, condition or agreement to be complied with or satisfied by it under this Agreement.

(b) From the date hereof through the Closing Date, each of Seller and Buyer shall notify the other of any event or change that has resulted in or would reasonably be expected to have, in the case of Seller, a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Companies and, in the case of Buyer, a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Buyer.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither Seller nor Buyer shall have any liability for any breach or alleged breach of this Section 4.13, and the failure of Seller or Buyer to comply with the terms of this Section 4.13, in and of itself, shall not cause the failure of the condition set forth in Sections 6.2(b) or 6.3(b), as applicable. Any notification delivered pursuant to this Section 4.13 will be subject to the terms of Section 7.3(d).

SECTION 4.14. D&O Liabilities. For a period of six (6) years after the Closing Date and, with respect to any claims made prior to the end of such six-year period with respect to which any D&O Indemnified Person may be entitled to indemnification or expense reimbursement from any Company under Applicable Law or such Company's Organizational Document, for such longer period as such claim may remain pending, Buyer and Seller shall not, and shall cause the Companies (in the case of Buyer) or Seller's Affiliates (in the case of Seller) not to, take any steps that would reasonably be expected to affect adversely the rights of any individual who served as a director or officer of any of the Companies at any time prior to the Closing Date (each, a "D&O Indemnified Person") to be indemnified, either under Applicable Law (to the extent not inconsistent with the Organizational Documents) or the Organizational Documents of the Companies as they existed prior to the Closing Date, against any costs or expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses of investigation, defense and ongoing monitoring), judgments, penalties, fines, losses, charges, demands, actions, suits, proceedings, settlements, assessments, deficiencies, Taxes, interest, obligations, damages, liabilities or amounts paid in settlement incurred in connection with any claim, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising out of or pertaining to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Closing Date and relating to the fact that the D&O Indemnified Person was a director or officer of a Company, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Closing Date.

SECTION 4.15. Guaranties.

(a) From and after the date of this Agreement, the parties shall use their respective reasonable best efforts to obtain, on or prior to the Closing, the termination of, and full release of Seller and its Affiliates (other than the Companies) from, the Seller Guaranties. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) such efforts shall include an offer by Buyer to substitute its own obligations effective as of the Closing for those of Seller and its Affiliates (other than any of the Companies) on no less favorable terms to Buyer, AUSA or their respective Affiliates, as applicable, than those that exist as of the date hereof under the Seller Guaranties or the transactions to which the Seller Guaranties relate and (ii) if and to the extent that the parties are unable to obtain the full release contemplated by the first sentence of this Section 4.15(a) before the Closing, the parties shall, for a period of one year after the Closing, continue to use their respective reasonable best efforts to obtain such full release. From and after the Closing, Buyer shall indemnify and hold harmless Seller and each such Affiliate from and against any and all liabilities, costs, expenses or obligations (including any attorneys' fees) under or in respect of the Seller Guaranties whether or not a termination thereof and release with respect thereto has been obtained pursuant to this Section 4.15(a). Seller shall reimburse Buyer and its Affiliates for all costs and expenses incurred in connection with effecting such terminations and releases that are approved in advance by Seller, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

(b) From and after the Closing, Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless ALAC from and against any and all liabilities, costs, expenses or obligations (including any attorneys' fees) under or in respect of the guaranty identified in Section 4.15(b) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule.

SECTION 4.16. Seller Employees. Immediately prior to the Closing Date, Seller shall cause each of Seller's employees to cease being paid through the payroll systems of the Companies.

SECTION 4.17. Noncompetition.

(a) Except as contemplated by this Agreement or the other Transaction Documents, from the Closing until the second (2nd) anniversary of the Closing Date (the "Non-Compete Period"), Seller agrees not to, and shall cause each of its controlled Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, engage, as a principal or jointly with others or otherwise, in the business of writing, issuing or selling any annuity or life products within the United States (a "Competing Business") or grant any Third Party a license to use any Trademark using the term "Aviva" or any derivation thereof in connection with conducting any Competing Business.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in Section 4.17(a), and without implication that the following activities otherwise would be subject to the provisions of this Section 4.17, nothing in this Agreement shall preclude, prohibit or restrict Seller from engaging, or require Seller to cause any of its controlled Affiliates not to engage, in any manner in any of the following:

(i) making investments in the ordinary course of business, including in a general or separate account of an insurance company, in Persons engaging in a Competing Business; provided, that each such investment is a passive investment where Seller or such Affiliate of Seller: (A) does not have the right to designate a majority of the members of the board of directors or other governing body of such entity or to otherwise direct the operation or management of any such entity, (B) is not a participant with any other Person in any group (as such term is used in Regulation 13D of the Exchange Act) with such intention or right, and (C) owns less than 10% of the outstanding voting securities (including convertible securities) of such entity, excluding any investment held in a separate account of any insurance company or in any portfolio managed for or on behalf of a Third Party;

(ii) selling any of its assets or businesses to a Person engaged in lines of business that compete with the Competing Business; provided, that Seller does not sell, transfer or license any Trademark using the term "Aviva" or any derivation thereof to such Person for use in connection with such Person's Competing Business;

(iii) engaging in any activity that does not constitute the business of insurance in the applicable jurisdiction; or

(iv) acquiring any assets, or acquiring, merging or combining with any Person, that would cause Seller and its controlled Affiliates (as then constituted) to violate this Section 4.17 after the Closing Date (an "After-Acquired Business"); provided that, either (A) at the time of such acquisition, merger or combination, the revenues derived from the Competing Business by the After-Acquired Business (the "Competing After-Acquired Revenues") constitute no more than 20% of the gross revenues of the After-Acquired Business (for the avoidance of doubt, including the revenues of all Persons directly or indirectly acquired as a result of such acquisition, merger or combination) in the most recently completed fiscal year immediately prior to the date of such acquisition, merger or combination (the "Aggregate After-Acquired Revenues"), or (B) if at the time of such acquisition, merger or combination, the Competing After-Acquired Revenues constitute more than 20% of the Aggregate After-Acquired Revenues then, within one (1) year after such acquisition, merger or combination, (x) Seller or such Affiliate of Seller signs a definitive agreement to dispose, and subsequently disposes of, the relevant portion of the business or securities of such After-Acquired Business, (y) Seller or such Affiliate of Seller otherwise modifies the After-Acquired Business such that the Competing After-Acquired Revenues constitute not more than 20% of the Aggregate After-Acquired Revenues, or (C) the business of such After-Acquired Business otherwise complies with this Section 4.17; in each case, only if any Trademark using the term "Aviva" or any derivation thereof are not used during the Non-Compete Period in connection with the portion of such After-Acquired Business that is the Competing Business.

SECTION 4.18. Non-Solicitation.

(a) During the Non-Compete Period, Seller shall not, and shall cause its controlled Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, solicit for employment or hire any Person who is at the Closing employed by the Companies at the Closing; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 4.18(a) shall prohibit Seller or any of its Affiliates from (a) engaging in general advertising or (b) soliciting for employment or hiring any Person who is employed by the Companies at the Closing (i) who contacts Seller or any of its Affiliates on his or her own initiative without direct solicitation or only as a result of a general solicitation to the public or general advertising, (ii) whose employment has been terminated by the Companies, or, as applicable, Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any of their respective Affiliates, (iii) who voluntary left his or her employment by the Companies, Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any of their respective Affiliates more than six months prior to the time of such employment or hire by Seller or any of its Subsidiaries. For the avoidance of doubt, the restrictions in this Section 4.18(a) do not apply with respect to any of Seller's employees referred to in Section 4.16.

(b) During the Non-Compete Period, Seller shall not, and shall cause its controlled Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, specifically target holders of Insurance Contracts for the purpose of selling any life insurance or annuity product; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 4.18(b) shall prohibit Seller or any of its Affiliates from engaging in general advertising.

(c) Buyer agrees that during the Non-Compete Period, it shall not, and it shall cause its Affiliates not to, solicit any client under an Excluded Advisory Agreement for investment advisory services relating to the Transferred Strategies (as defined in the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement). This Section 4.18(c) shall not apply to any Affiliate of Buyer that is not a Subsidiary of Buyer and does not use or review any AIA Confidential Information (as defined in the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement) in connection with any such solicitation.

SECTION 4.19. AXXX Reserve Facilities.

(a) From the date hereof to the Closing Date, Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, use reasonable best efforts to cooperate in Buyer's and any potential Life Reinsurer's efforts to negotiate with the Companies' counterparties under their existing Redundant Reserve Financing Transactions (the "Specified Lenders") the establishment of similar financing arrangements with such Life Reinsurer (each, a "Replacement Facility"), including by providing strong continuing support at Seller's senior management levels to encourage the cooperation of the Specified Lenders and to seek to minimize termination or breakage fees or other ancillary costs payable to the Specified Lenders. Except in connection with the transactions contemplated by Section 4.19(b) and 4.30, Seller and Buyer shall each be responsible for 50% of any early termination or breakage fees or other ancillary costs payable to the Specified Lenders by Seller and its Subsidiaries, including the Companies, with respect to the termination of the Contracts in respect of such Redundant Reserve Financing Transactions; provided that the maximum aggregate liability of Seller under this Section 4.19(a) shall not exceed $5,000,000.

(b) Buyer may, after the date hereof, submit to Seller a proposal that sets forth in reasonable detail the changes it would propose to make to the existing Contract between a AUSA Captive and Swiss Reinsurance Company Ltd or one of its Affiliates ("Swiss Re") to remove one provision thereof previously discussed by Seller and Buyer relating to events of default under such Contract, which proposal shall include revisions to other terms of such Contract to make them more favorable to Swiss Re than the current terms so as to create an incentive for Swiss Re to accept such proposal. If Seller in its reasonable judgment believes that such proposal is one that Swiss Re would accept, then Buyer and Seller shall confirm to each other in writing the terms of such proposal and that such proposal has been agreed upon by Buyer and Seller (such agreed proposal, an "Acceptable Proposal"). Seller and Buyer shall each be responsible for 50% of any early termination or breakage fees or other ancillary costs payable to Swiss Re with respect to the termination of such Contract if such termination occurs in connection with a refusal by Swiss Re to amend the Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction or establish a Replacement Facility on terms that are either consistent with an Acceptable Proposal or substantially the same as the terms in effect as of the date hereof with respect to the Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction to which Swiss Re is a party; provided that the (i) maximum aggregate liability of Seller under this Section 4.19(b) shall not exceed $20,000,000, and Buyer shall be responsible for the remainder of such fees or costs and (ii) Seller shall have no obligation under this Section 4.19(b) from and after the first anniversary of the Closing Date.

SECTION 4.20. Policyholder Lists. After the date of this Agreement, neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates (including, prior to the Closing, the Companies) shall share or provide any policyholder lists of any Company or similar information with or to any Producer or other Person, except for the provision of any such information as required by judicial or administrative process or, in the written opinion of counsel to Seller or any of its Affiliates, as applicable, by other requirements of Applicable Law, and except, prior to Closing, for the provision of any such information in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice of the Companies.

SECTION 4.21. Acquisition Proposals.

(a) From the date hereof through the earlier of the Closing Date and the date of termination of this Agreement pursuant to Article IX, as applicable, Seller and its Affiliates shall not and shall cause the Companies and their Representatives not to, directly or indirectly (except with respect to Buyer, Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer and their Affiliates in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement) (1) solicit, initiate, encourage, facilitate or accept any inquiries, proposals, offers or other indications of interest by or from any Person with respect to an Acquisition Proposal, (2) participate in any discussions, conversations, negotiations or other communications with any Person with respect to an Acquisition Proposal, (3) furnish or confirm any information to any Person in connection with an Acquisition Proposal or (4) enter into any term sheet, letter of intent, agreement or other non-binding or binding understanding or arrangement with, or accept or agree to any offer or proposal by or from, any Person other than Buyer and its Affiliates with respect to an Acquisition Proposal.

(b) From the date hereof through the earlier of the Closing Date and the date of termination of this Agreement pursuant to Article IX, as applicable, Seller and each of its Affiliates shall, and shall cause the Companies and their Representatives to, cease and terminate immediately any existing discussions or negotiations with respect to or in furtherance of any Acquisition Proposal with any Person other than Buyer, its Affiliates and its Representatives.

(c) For purposes of this Section 4.21, "Acquisition Proposal" means any of the following transactions (but excluding, in each case, this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby): (1) any acquisition, purchase or other transaction involving the direct or indirect sale or transfer of all or any substantial part of the business or assets (excluding sales of Investment Assets of an Insurance Company) of the Companies, or any of the equity interests of the Companies, (2) any merger, consolidation, business combination, reorganization, dissolution, recapitalization or similar transaction involving the Companies, (3) any bulk reinsurance involving all or any substantial part of the business of the Insurance Companies, (4) the issuance of any security exercisable or convertible into, or exchangeable or redeemable for, capital stock or other equity interests of any of the Companies or (5) the granting of any rights, warrants, options, calls or commitments to acquire capital stock or other equity interest of any of the Companies.

(d) In the event that Seller, the Companies or any Affiliate of Seller or the Companies receives an Acquisition Proposal, the Person receiving such Acquisition Proposal shall promptly, but in no event later than forty-eight (48) hours thereafter, notify Buyer in writing of such proposal and provide a copy thereof (if in written or electronic form) or, if in oral form, a written summary of the terms and conditions thereof, including the names of the interested parties.

(e) Seller shall, or shall cause the Companies to, request that all Third Parties who executed a Pre-Closing Confidentiality Agreement in connection with the consideration of a possible Acquisition Proposal return to the Companies, or destroy, all confidential information heretofore furnished to such Third Parties by or on behalf of each of Seller or any of its Affiliates, including, without limitation, the Companies, as promptly as practicable, subject to the terms of such agreements.

SECTION 4.22. Insurance.

(a) From and after the Closing Date, the Companies shall cease to be insured by Seller's or its Affiliates' insurance policies (other than any insurance policy that a Company maintains directly) or by any of their self-insured programs to the extent such insurance policies or programs cover any Company. With respect to events or circumstances relating to the Companies that occurred or existed prior to the Closing Date that are covered by liability policies or workers' compensation insurance policies issued by a Third Party and that apply to locations at which the businesses of the Companies operate, the Companies may, to the extent permitted thereunder, make claims under such policies.

(b) With respect to any open claims against the insurance policies of Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies) relating to losses suffered by the Companies prior to the Closing Date, Seller agrees to remit to Buyer all proceeds realized from such claims; provided that (i) such amounts were reflected as receivables on the Final Balance Sheets (as defined in Annex C) and (ii) no Buyer Indemnified Person has been indemnified with respect to such amounts under Article VII.

SECTION 4.23. Title Insurance Policies. Seller acknowledges that for each parcel of Owned Real Property, Buyer desires to obtain a 2006 form ALTA owner's title insurance policy covering such Owned Real Property, issued to the applicable Company by Chicago Title Insurance Company ("Title Company"), in each case: (i) having an effective date as of the Closing Date, (ii) in amount, form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Buyer, (iii) insuring that each applicable Company has good and marketable title to the Owned Real Property, free and clear of all Liens except Permitted Liens, and (iv) including such endorsements as Buyer may reasonably request (which may include endorsements providing for extended coverage over the general title exceptions, zoning 3.1 endorsements (including parking and loading docks), contiguity endorsements, access endorsements, endorsements insuring compliance with any covenants, conditions and restrictions of record and tax parcel or tax number and non-imputation endorsements (collectively, "Title Policies"). In order to obtain the Title Policies, Seller shall or shall cause the applicable Company to deliver the following documents to the Title Company in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Title Company (and from the entity designated by the Title Company): (1) customary owners title affidavits (including customary information regarding on-going construction at the Owned Real Property); (2) owners GAP Indemnities, if applicable; (3) non-imputation affidavit and indemnity (including financial information reasonably requested by the Title Company in connection with such indemnity); and (4) any such additional customary documentation on behalf of the applicable Companies required for the issuance of the Title Policies, all of the foregoing as reasonably requested by the Title Company (collectively, "Title Documents"). Seller agrees to deliver or cause the applicable Company to use reasonable best efforts to deliver the Title Documents to the Title Company a reasonable period of time prior to the date on which it is reasonably anticipated that the Closing will occur; provided that none of the obligations of Seller or the Companies under the Title Documents will be effective prior to the Closing and any out-of-pocket costs or expenses incurred by the Companies or the Seller pursuant to this Section 4.23 shall be paid by Buyer.

SECTION 4.24. Advisory Agreements. Subject to the terms of Section 4.4(a), during the period from the date hereof through the Closing Date, Seller and Buyer shall and shall cause their respective Affiliates to (a) seek all approvals, consents and authorizations of, and make all necessary filings with and notices to or required by, any Governmental Entity or Third Party necessary to permit (i) the AUSA Advisers to assign the Transferred Advisory Agreements to Athene Manager, (ii) the termination of the Replaced Advisory Agreements, (iii) the Client party to each Replaced Advisory Agreement to enter into an agreement with Athene Manager in lieu of such Replaced Advisory Agreement in substantially the form set forth as Exhibit D and (iv) the AUSA Advisers to terminate or assign to AIA each of the Excluded Advisory Agreements and (b) assuming receipt of the relevant consents and authorizations, and the making of such filings and notices, complete each of the actions set forth in clauses (i) through (iii) of this Section 4.24 on the Closing Date and terminate or assign to AIA each of the Excluded Advisory Agreements. In addition, Seller shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the other transactions contemplated by the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement to be completed prior to or as of the Closing Date.

SECTION 4.25. CMA Restructuring. On or prior to the Closing Date, Seller shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the transactions described on Schedule 4.25 (the "CMA Restructuring") to occur.

SECTION 4.26. Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction. Prior to the Closing, upon the written request of Buyer, with respect to an ALAC bond portfolio determined by Buyer, at Buyer's direction, Seller shall cause ALAC to (a) execute futures contracts in volumes and with terms that substantially diminish the risk that the bonds in the selected portfolio will lose value by reason of a rise in market interest rates and (b) take any steps necessary to identify the offsetting positions as a mixed straddle pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.1092(b)-3T(d) (the "Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction"); provided that in no event shall Seller or ALAC be required to execute the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction until after the conditions set forth in Sections 6.1(a) and 6.1(b) are satisfied. Buyer and ALAC shall reasonably cooperate with one another, and Buyer shall allow ALAC a reasonable period of time, to construct and execute the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction; provided, however, that the size of the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction shall ultimately be determined by Buyer. ALAC shall terminate the positions relating to the transaction at the direction of Buyer; provided that the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction shall be left open for at least 24 hours (including one Business Day). The Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction shall be considered a Pre-Closing Transaction for all purposes of this Agreement.

SECTION 4.27. ALAC Surplus Notes. Buyer may, between the date hereof and the Closing Date, make the appropriate filings or applications with the Iowa Insurance Division to amend the terms of the ALAC Surplus Notes to be distributed by AUSA to AGHL pursuant to Section 2.1(a)(v)(A) so that such ALAC Surplus Notes will, subject to the other terms and conditions of such notes, bear interest at a rate per annum equal to 6.0% for the period beginning on the Closing Date and ending on the date that is six months after the Closing Date, and will thereafter bear interest at the rate calculated pursuant to the terms of such notes as in effect as of immediately prior to the Closing; provided that (a) the approval by the Iowa Insurance Division of such amended terms shall not be a condition to either party's obligations under this Agreement and (b) if the terms of such ALAC Surplus Notes are not so amended as of the Closing Date, such ALAC Surplus Notes will continue to bear interest in accordance with their terms. At any time (i) after a Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction is terminated, at Seller's or Buyer's option, Buyer, AUSA or one of its Affiliates designated by Buyer shall acquire an aggregate principal amount of ALAC Surplus Notes distributed to Seller pursuant to Section 2.1(a)(v)(A) equal to the Pro Rata Amount with respect to such Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction, (ii) on or after the first anniversary of the Closing Date, at Seller's option, Buyer, AUSA or one of its Affiliates designated by Buyer shall acquire any or all remaining ALAC Surplus Notes distributed to AGHL pursuant to Section 2.1(a)(v)(A) and (iii) at Buyer's option, Buyer, AUSA or one of its Affiliates designated by Buyer may acquire any or all remaining ALAC Surplus Notes distributed to AGHL pursuant to Section 2.1(a)(v)(A), in each case for a purchase price in cash equal to the par amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest through the applicable sale date. Such purchase price shall be paid promptly by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account designated by Seller. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Buyer and Seller may agree to extend the period for which AGHL holds all or a portion of the ALAC Surplus Notes.

SECTION 4.28. Life Business Cooperation.

(a) Seller shall, and shall cause AUSA and its Subsidiaries to, cooperate in good faith with Buyer and use its and their reasonable best efforts to assist Buyer in its efforts to structure and enter into a reinsurance or similar disposition transaction (the "Life Business Transaction") with respect to the life insurance business of the Companies (the "Life Business"), which cooperation and assistance shall include the items listed in Section 4.28(b) below. Seller's obligations under this Section 4.28 shall be subject to any potential Life Reinsurer entering into a customary confidentiality agreement with Seller or an Affiliate in form reasonably satisfactory to Seller. Such cooperation shall not unreasonably interfere with the operation of the businesses of the Companies. Buyer recognizes that certain of the matters referred to in Section 4.28(b) (including clauses (ii) and (v)) may require assistance from Third Parties retained by Buyer in order to be accomplished, given the resources available at the Companies and the need to avoid disruption to ordinary business operations. The selection and retention of, and access to be provided to, any such Third Party shall be subject to Seller's consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any costs or expenses payable to any Third Parties in connection with any of the matters referred to in this Section 4.28 shall be paid by Buyer. Seller's obligations under this Section 4.28 shall be subject to the continued retention by the Companies of adequate personnel to accomplish the requested cooperation. Seller shall have no liability if the Companies are unable to retain such personnel, and Seller shall have no obligation to cause the Companies to hire any personnel specifically to provide such cooperation. In connection with the foregoing, and subject to Seller obtaining all necessary internal approvals, Buyer and Seller shall jointly establish a pool of up to $5,000,000 in retention incentives to facilitate the retention of adequate qualified personnel at the Companies to achieve the requested cooperation. Buyer and Seller shall mutually agree on the personnel who will receive such incentives and the amount of any payments from such pool. Buyer and Seller shall each bear 50% of such $5,000,000 obligation.

(b) The cooperation required by this Section 4.28 shall include:

(i) Access to Information. Causing the Companies to afford each potential Life Reinsurer reasonable access upon reasonable notice during normal business hours to the properties of the Companies and to such other information relating to the business, properties, financial condition, operations and personnel of the Companies as reasonably requested by such Life Reinsurer. In connection therewith, Seller will grant such Life Reinsurer full access to the Project Panther electronic data room, subject to ordinary "clean team" requirements. Additionally, in order to facilitate the evaluation of the Life Business, Seller shall make management personnel of the Companies in Des Moines, Iowa reasonably available to each Life Reinsurer.

(ii) Transition Services Planning. Cooperating and causing the Companies to cooperate with Buyer and/or any potential Life Reinsurer in the development of a separation and migration plan for (i) the separation of the information technology systems, business records, data and processes used in the Life Business from that of the other businesses of the Companies, Seller and Seller's other Affiliates and (ii) the integration and migration of the information technology systems, business records, data and processes used in the Life Business to the environments and systems of such Life Reinsurer. In connection therewith, Seller shall participate with Buyer and/or such Life Reinsurer in a separation and migration committee.

(iii) Identification of Life Business Assets. Causing the Companies to assist Buyer and/or any potential Life Reinsurer to identify the assets (financial and otherwise) that are used primarily in the operation of the Life Business.

(iv) Identification of Life Business Employees. Causing the Companies to assist Buyer and/or any potential Life Reinsurer with the identification of employees primarily dedicated to the Life Business.

(v) Financial Reporting of the Life Business. Causing the Companies to facilitate the conversion to U.S. GAAP for post-Closing financial reporting of the Life Business, including cooperation in the separation of life policies, premiums, commissions, expenses and other life-only items and the development of separate ledger accounts relating to the Life Business. For the avoidance of doubt, this clause (v) shall only require assistance in preparing to be ready to produce GAAP financial statements covering the Life Business after the Closing. Nothing in this Agreement shall require the Companies to produce GAAP financial statements prior to the Closing or any other financial statements they do not currently produce in the ordinary course of business.

(vi) Financing. Causing the Companies to provide such other cooperation and assistance as may be reasonably requested by any potential Life Reinsurer in connection with any equity or debt financing required to be obtained by such Life Reinsurer in connection with the Life Business Transaction, subject to Buyer or such Life Reinsurer agreeing to indemnify and hold harmless Seller and its Affiliates on customary terms in connection with any such assistance or financing.

(vii) Third-Party Consents and Assignment of Contracts. Cooperating and causing the Companies to cooperate with any potential Life Reinsurer and Buyer to obtain all third-party consents, waivers and approvals reasonably required in connection with the Life Business Transaction, including consents with respect to the novation of inuring reinsurance agreements and other agreements relating to the Life Business to such Life Reinsurer and waivers of minimum retention requirements under inuring reinsurance agreements relating to the Life Business.

(viii) Reserve Audit. Causing the Companies to cooperate with any potential Life Reinsurer and Buyer in connection with a reserve audit with respect to the Life Business pursuant to Section 4.2(b), if such an audit has not previously been conducted.

(ix) Third-Party Administrators. Causing the Companies to cooperate with any potential Life Reinsurer and/or Buyer in the evaluation of potential Third Party administrators with respect to the Life Business.

SECTION 4.29. Transition Planning. Seller shall cooperate and cause the Companies to cooperate with Buyer in the development of a separation and migration plan for (i) the separation of the information technology systems, business records, data and processes of the Companies from that of the other businesses of Seller and its Affiliates (other than the Companies) and (ii) the integration and migration of the information technology systems, business records, data and processes of the Companies to the environments and systems of Buyer and its Affiliates, including using reasonable best efforts to help Buyer identify any Contracts to which Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies) is a party and under which any Company receives benefits. In connection therewith, Seller shall participate with Buyer in a separation and migration committee. Such activities shall be coordinated with the activities contemplated by Section 4.28(b)(ii).

SECTION 4.30. Redundant Reserve Financings.

(a) Seller shall cause the Insurance Companies to use their reasonable best efforts, and Buyer shall cooperate with Seller and the Insurance Companies' efforts, to enter into Redundant Reserve Financing Transactions (the "Relevant Transactions") with the counterparties (the "Relevant Parties") and covering the blocks of business (the "Relevant Policies") described on Schedule 4.30 on substantially the terms described therein. Seller shall have the right, after all conditions set forth in Article VI have been satisfied or waived (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing) in accordance with this Agreement, to delay the Closing (but not past the End Date) in order to complete such Relevant Transactions. If either such Relevant Transaction (or any replacement transaction for such Relevant Transaction on substantially similar terms or at Seller's option on terms otherwise reasonably approved by Buyer) is not completed by the Closing (as so extended), then Seller shall cause its existing financings intended to be refinanced by such Relevant Transaction to be terminated on or prior to the Closing and Seller shall be responsible for all early termination or breakage fees or other ancillary costs payable with respect to such existing financings. In such event, following the Closing Buyer shall cause the Insurance Companies to use their reasonable best efforts (and shall cause Life Reinsurer, if any, to use its reasonable best efforts) to enter into redundant reserve financing transactions covering the Relevant Policies prior to the first anniversary of the Closing Date ("Replacement Transactions"). Buyer shall keep Seller reasonably informed on an ongoing basis of the progress of its (and Life Reinsurer's) efforts to complete any Replacement Transactions in accordance with the preceding sentence. In the event that a Replacement Transaction is entered into on or prior to the first anniversary of the Closing Date, Buyer shall promptly pay or cause to be paid to Seller, by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount equal to 85% of the increase in the Final Combined Net Worth that would have been reflected in the Subject Balance Sheets (each as defined in Annex C) had such Replacement Transaction been in effect on the Closing Date.

(b) Seller shall be entitled, and Buyer shall cooperate with Seller, to cause the Insurance Companies to enter into Redundant Reserve Financing Transactions prior to the Closing on terms that are reasonably acceptable to Buyer in each case with respect to life insurance policies issued by the Insurance Companies during 2013 ("2013 Transactions"). If such 2013 Transactions do not occur prior to the Closing, Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Insurance Companies (and shall cause Life Reinsurer, if any, to use its reasonable best efforts) to enter into 2013 Transactions on terms reasonably acceptable to Buyer and Life Reinsurer (if applicable) prior to the first anniversary of the Closing Date. Buyer shall keep Seller reasonably informed on an ongoing basis of the progress of its (and Life Reinsurer's) efforts to complete any 2013 Transactions in accordance with the preceding sentence. In the event that a 2013 Transaction is entered into on or prior to the first anniversary of the Closing Date, Buyer shall promptly pay or cause to be paid to Seller, by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount equal to 75% of the increase in the Final Combined Net Worth that would have been reflected in the Subject Balance Sheets (each as defined in Annex C) had such 2013 Transaction been in effect on the Closing Date.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 4.19(a), Section 4.28 or any other provision of this Agreement, the first priority of the key personnel of the Companies involved in AXXX financing transactions in the period prior to the Closing shall be ordinary business operations, including effecting the Relevant Transactions and the 2013 Transactions. Further, Buyer and any potential Life Reinsurer will not, in connection with matters referred to in Section 4.19(a) or Section 4.28, request access to and information from the Relevant Parties, in connection with efforts to structure replacement facilities or otherwise, that interferes with or detracts from the Companies' efforts to structure the Relevant Transactions.

SECTION 4.31. Capital Support

(a) Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to arrange Capital Support from Third Parties (which for purposes of this Section 4.31 shall include Apollo Principal Holdings III, L.P. and its Affiliates other than Buyer and its Subsidiaries) in an amount of not less than $580,000,000 on a basis previously disclosed to Seller. "Capital Support" means capital for the operations of Buyer and its Subsidiaries (including the Companies) which may be in the form of debt, equity, reinsurance, a sale of the Life Business or otherwise, including the proceeds of any Hedge (as defined below). No later than January 31, 2013, Buyer shall or shall cause Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer to enter into one or more agreements with persons other than Buyer and its Subsidiaries to hedge no less than $580,000,000 in unrealized gains (the "Hedge") on a portfolio of the assets which will be part of the modco account under the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement. Proceeds realized on the Hedge and gains realized as a result of the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement on assets subject to the Hedge shall be Capital Support. As of the Closing, no less than $580,000,000 of capital shall be created by the Hedge and the other transactions described in this paragraph (a) and shall remain available to be applied by Buyer and its Subsidiaries in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby.

(b) Buyer shall keep Seller reasonably informed on an ongoing basis with regard to the status of its efforts to obtain, and any other developments with respect to, the Capital Support and the Hedge. Seller shall cause the Companies to provide reasonable cooperation in connection with Buyer's efforts to arrange the Capital Support and the Hedge. All costs and expenses of obtaining the Capital Support and the Hedge shall be paid by Buyer. Buyer shall indemnify and hold harmless Seller and its Affiliates from and against any and all losses, liabilities, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) arising out of or relating to the Capital Support and the Hedge or Buyer's efforts to arrange them.

(c) Prior to the Closing, Buyer will draw down the Remaining Equity Commitments and contribute the proceeds to Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer. The Remaining Equity Commitments do not constitute a portion of the Capital Support.

(d) The ceding commission paid by Buyer Affiliate Reinsurer to ALAC under the Buyer Affiliate Reinsurance Agreement will, if neither a Life Business Transaction nor Annuity Business Transaction occurs, increase the capital and surplus of ALAC by $400,000,000.

SECTION 4.32. Curelife Surplus. Seller shall use reasonable best efforts to cause Curelife to dividend or otherwise distribute all of Curelife's remaining assets to AUSA immediately after the Curelife Recapture.

SECTION 4.33. Certain Adjustments. Upon the request of Buyer to increase reserves related to any Insurance Contract, and only after all conditions to the Closing have been satisfied under Article VI but prior to the Closing, Seller shall cause ALAC to make such reserve increase prior to the Closing, subject to Applicable Law. Any such reserve increase shall not be considered in determining the Final Combined Net Worth under Annex C.

ARTICLE V.
EMPLOYEE MATTERS

SECTION 5.1. Terms and Conditions of Employment.

(a) Seller shall cause all transfers of employment of AIA Employees from AINA to AIA, and all terminations of employment from AINA of Prospective AIA Employees who do not become AIA Employees, in each case as contemplated by the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement, to occur prior to the Closing Date (all such Prospective AIA Employees and AIA Employees collectively referred to as "Non-Covered Employees"), and shall ensure in the case of any and all such employment transfers that no period of unemployment, or other gap in employment, occurs between the cessation of such Non-Covered Employees' employment with any of the Companies and the commencement of their employment with any one or more Seller Affiliates other than the Companies. For avoidance of doubt, all Non-Covered Employees shall be among the Employees included in the list provided to Buyer pursuant to Section 3.1(i)(xiii). Seller shall retain any and all liabilities with respect to all Non-Covered Employees and all other current and former employees of Seller and any of its Affiliates (other than the Companies), and Buyer and its Affiliates (including the Companies) shall have no liabilities or other obligations or responsibilities with respect to any such Persons. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Seller acknowledges and agrees that it alone is making and is responsible for the selection decisions as to which Employees are and are not Non-Covered Employees, and the terms and conditions of employment offered to Prospective AIA Employees, and that Buyer, its Affiliates and the Companies are not making, participating in, ratifying or responsible for any such decisions.

(b) With respect to each Employee of the Companies (other than the Non-Covered Employees) as of the Closing (each a "Covered Employee"), for a period of twelve (12) months from and after the Closing Date while such Covered Employee remains employed, Buyer shall provide, or cause the Companies to provide, such Covered Employee with cash compensation (including base salary or wage rates and annual incentive compensation opportunities) and employee benefits (excluding defined benefit pension plans, retiree welfare plans, severance plans and equity and equity-based programs) that, respectively, are, in the aggregate, (i) in the case of a Covered Employee whose rate of annual base salary immediately prior to the Closing is less than or equal to $100,000, substantially similar to the cash compensation and employee benefits provided to such Covered Employee immediately prior to the Closing and (ii) in the case of a Covered Employee whose rate of annual base salary immediately prior to the Closing exceeds $100,000, substantially similar to the cash compensation and employee benefits, respectively, provided by Buyer or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the Companies) to similarly-situated employees of Buyer or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the Companies) who have substantially similar positions and responsibilities to the Covered Employee; provided that, if no person is then employed by Buyer or its Subsidiaries (other than the Companies) in a substantially similar position with substantially similar responsibilities to the Covered Employee, then cash compensation and employee benefits determined in good faith by Buyer, by extrapolation from the cash compensation and employee benefits of the most comparable employees of Buyer and its Subsidiaries (other than the Companies). Buyer shall provide, or shall cause the Companies or one of its other Affiliates to provide, severance pay and benefits to any Covered Employee (regardless of whether the terms of clause (i) or clause (ii) above apply with respect to such Covered Employee) whose employment is terminated (for the avoidance of doubt, other than in connection with the individual's (x) hiring and employment by Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any of their Affiliates (in any position and at any level of cash compensation and employee benefits), or (y) non-acceptance of an employment offer from Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any of their Affiliates to perform comparable responsibilities for cash compensation and employee benefits that are, in the aggregate, substantially similar to the cash compensation and employee benefits, respectively, provided to such Covered Employee pursuant to clause (i) or clause (ii) above, as applicable) (A) during the period beginning on the Closing Date (if the Closing Date occurs prior to December 31, 2013) and ending on December 31, 2013, on terms and conditions (including eligibility conditions), and in amounts that are no less favorable than those applicable to such Covered Employee immediately prior to the Closing under the AUSA Severance Plan in effect immediately prior to the Closing Date (the "AUSA Severance Plan") and (B) during any post-Closing period beginning on or after January 1, 2014 and ending on the one year anniversary of the Closing Date, on terms and conditions (including eligibility conditions), and in amounts determined pursuant to Buyer's severance plan as in effect as of the date hereof or as amended hereafter (provided that any such amendment shall not impact any Covered Employee in a manner which is disproportionate to the manner in which a similarly situated employee of Buyer and its Affiliates (other than the Companies) is impacted); provided that, in the case of either clause (A) or clause (B), as applicable, a Covered Employee's severance benefits under the applicable plan shall: (I) in the case of a severance-eligible employment termination occurring (based on release date) at any time within the period that starts at the Closing and ends on the date that is the later of (1) December 31, 2013 and (2) 90 calendar days following the Closing, in no event be less favorable than what the Covered Employee would receive under the applicable plan if determined based on such Covered Employee's base compensation in effect immediately prior to the Closing (other than for purposes of any pre-termination notice period, if any, required by the applicable plan), and (II) in the case of a severance-eligible employment termination occurring (based on release date) at any time during the period commencing on the first calendar day after the end of the period described in clause (I) above and ending on the one year anniversary of the Closing, be determined based on such Covered Employee's base compensation in effect as of the effective date of such Covered Employee's termination of employment. Nothing in this Agreement shall restrict or prohibit Buyer or any of its Affiliates (including, as of and after the Closing, any of the Companies) from negotiating, amending or entering into any employment, severance or other Contract with any Covered Employee (in each case, with such Covered Employee's consent, except to the extent that such consent is not required under the applicable Contract, if any, or Applicable Law).

SECTION 5.2. Credit for Service. On and after the Closing Date, Buyer shall provide, or cause to be provided, to each Covered Employee under each Company Benefit Plan and each other Employee Benefit Plan maintained or contributed to by Buyer or any Affiliate of Buyer (collectively, the "Buyer Benefit Plans") credit for purposes of eligibility to participate, vesting and benefit accrual (but not for purposes of determining benefit accruals under a defined benefit plan) for full and partial years of service with Seller or its Affiliates (including the Companies and any of their predecessors) performed at any time prior to the Closing Date to the extent such service was taken into account under the analogous Company Benefit Plan immediately prior to the Closing Date; provided, that no such prior service shall be taken into account to the extent it would result in the duplication of benefits.

SECTION 5.3. Seller Incentive Plans. Each Employee and former employee of the Companies shall become vested in his or her Seller Incentive Awards that are outstanding on the Closing in accordance with the terms and conditions of the applicable Seller Incentive Plan, as determined by Seller. No later than the date on which payment with respect to a Seller Incentive Award becomes due to an Employee or former employee of the Companies, Seller or one of its Affiliates shall transfer to the Companies an amount of cash equal to the Applicable Percentage (as defined below) of (i) the full amount to be paid in respect of the Seller Incentive Award, as determined by Seller in accordance with the applicable Seller Incentive Plan (such full amount, the "Incentive Cash Payment") and (ii) the full amount of the employment Taxes including Social Security, Medicare, Federal Unemployment Tax and Unemployment Insurance, to be paid in respect of the Incentive Cash Payment. For purposes of this Section 5.3 and Section 5.4, the "Applicable Percentage" shall equal 100% minus the maximum federal corporate income tax rate in effect under the Code at the time of the relevant transfer. After receipt of such funds, Buyer shall cause the Companies to promptly pay any Incentive Cash Payments (less any applicable withholding) to the applicable Employees and former employees of the Companies and shall be responsible for all Tax withholding and reporting obligations that arise in connection with the payment of the Incentive Cash Payments. Notwithstanding anything in this Section 5.3 to the contrary, Buyer's sole obligation and responsibility with respect to the Seller Incentive Awards shall be to pay to applicable Employees and former employees of the Companies any Incentive Cash Payments as directed by Seller and to comply with all applicable and related Tax withholding and reporting obligations. Seller shall retain any and all other liabilities with respect to the Seller Incentive Awards. Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates (for the avoidance of doubt, including the Companies from and after the Closing Date) from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses relating to, resulting from or arising out of the Seller Incentive Awards to the extent not directly related to Buyer's failure to perform its obligations as set forth in this Section 5.3 pursuant to Article VII.

SECTION 5.4. Seller Retention Awards. No later than the date on which payment with respect to a Seller Retention Award becomes due to a Covered Employee, Seller or one of its Affiliates shall transfer to the Companies an amount of cash equal to the Applicable Percentage of (i) the full amount to be paid in respect of the Seller Retention Award, as determined by Seller in accordance with the applicable Seller Retention Agreement (such full amount, the "Retention Cash Payment") and (ii) the full amount of the employment Taxes, including Social Security, Medicare, Federal Unemployment Tax and Unemployment Insurance, to be paid in respect of the Retention Cash Payment; provided that Buyer shall, no earlier than 10 and no later than two Business Days prior to any date on which any Retention Cash Payment becomes due, deliver to Seller an update on the employment status of each Employee who has entered into a Seller Retention Agreement (including, with respect to any such Employee whose employment with the Companies or with Buyer or any of its other Affiliates has been terminated, the circumstances of and reasons for such termination). After receipt of such funds, Buyer shall cause the Companies promptly to pay any Retention Cash Payments (less any applicable withholding) to the applicable Covered Employees and former Covered Employees and shall be responsible for all Tax withholding and reporting obligations that arise in connection with the payment of the Retention Cash Payments. Notwithstanding anything in this Section 5.4 to the contrary, Buyer's sole obligation and responsibility with respect to the Seller Retention Awards shall be to notify Seller of a Covered Employee or former Covered Employee's employment status, pay to applicable Covered Employees and former Covered Employees any Retention Cash Payments as directed by Seller and to comply with all applicable and related Tax withholding and reporting obligations. Seller shall retain any and all other liabilities with respect to the Seller Retention Awards. Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates (for the avoidance of doubt, including the Companies from and after the Closing Date) from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses relating to, resulting from or arising out of the Seller Retention Awards to the extent not directly related to Buyer's failure to perform its obligations as set forth in this Section 5.4 pursuant to Article VII.

SECTION 5.5. Preexisting Conditions, Exclusions and Waiting Periods; Deductibles. The Companies, Buyer and their respective Affiliates shall (a) waive or cause to be waived all limitations as to preexisting conditions, exclusions and waiting periods or required physical examinations with respect to participation and coverage requirements applicable to Covered Employees and their eligible dependents under any health, medical, disability and life insurance plans of Buyer or its Affiliates (including the Companies), other than limitations or waiting periods that are already in effect with respect to such Covered Employees and that have not been satisfied as of the Closing Date; and (b) use reasonable best efforts to provide or cause to be provided to each Covered Employee with credit for any co-payments and deductibles paid by such Covered Employee and his or her respective dependents prior to the Closing Date and in the same plan year as that in which the Closing Date occurs for purposes of satisfying any applicable deductible or out-of-pocket requirements under the analogous Buyer Benefit Plan for its plan year in which the Closing Date occurs.

SECTION 5.6. COBRA. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Agreement, Buyer shall be, or shall cause the Companies or their respective Affiliates to be, responsible and liable for providing, or continuing to provide, health care continuation coverage as required under COBRA with respect to any individual who experienced a COBRA "qualifying event" before the Closing Date under any Company Benefit Plan subject to COBRA.

SECTION 5.7. No Modification. Nothing in this Article V, express or implied, is intended to be, shall constitute or shall be construed as an amendment to or modification of any employee benefit plan or arrangement of Seller, Buyer, the Companies or any of their Affiliates or limit in any way the right of Seller, Buyer, the Companies or any of their respective Affiliates to amend, modify or terminate any of their respective employee benefit plans or arrangements. Further, without limiting the generality of Section 10.4, nothing in this Article V, express or implied, shall create any third party beneficiary rights in favor of any Person, including any Employee, or create any third party beneficiary or other rights to continued employment with the Companies, Buyer, or any of their respective Affiliates and nothing in this Article V shall limit the right of Seller, Buyer or the Companies or any of their Affiliates to terminate the employment of any Person, including any Employee, at any time for any or no reason in a manner consistent with applicable contractual obligations, if any (for avoidance of doubt, further including Buyer's and the Companies' respective rights as of or after the Closing Date to cause or permit any transfer of employment of any of the Covered Employees to Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any other Person).

SECTION 5.8. Reinsurer Obligations. Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause (a) Life Reinsurer (if any) to assume and perform the obligations of Buyer under this Article V with respect to any Covered Employee who becomes employed by Life Reinsurer or its Affiliates in connection with the Insurance Companies ceding to Life Reinsurer all of their liabilities in respect of their life insurance businesses and (b) Annuity Reinsurer (if and only to the extent that any Covered Employee becomes employed by Annuity Reinsurer in connection with an Annuity Business Transaction) to assume and perform the obligations of Buyer under this Article V with respect to any Covered Employee who becomes employed by Annuity Insurer or its Affiliates in connection with ALAC ceding to Annuity Reinsurer any share of its liabilities in respect of its annuity businesses. No transfer of any Covered Employee to Life

Reinsurer or Annuity Reinsurer shall occur until after the Closing. For the avoidance of doubt, Buyer shall have no obligations hereunder with respect to any Covered Employee who becomes employed by Life Reinsurer (unless an Affiliate of Buyer), Annuity Reinsurer or their respective Affiliates.

ARTICLE VI.
CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

SECTION 6.1. Conditions to Each Party's Obligations. The respective obligations of each party to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and the other actions to be taken at the Closing are subject to the satisfaction or waiver on or prior to the Closing Date of the following conditions:

(a) Approvals. The waiting period (and any extension thereof) applicable to the transactions contemplated hereby under the HSR Act shall have been terminated or shall have otherwise expired without the imposition of a Burdensome Condition with respect to the party seeking to invoke this condition. All other consents, approvals or authorizations of, declarations or filings with or notices to any Governmental Entity required to be obtained or made by Seller, Buyer or any of their Affiliates in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the CMA Restructuring, but excluding the amendment of the ALAC Surplus Notes as contemplated by Section 4.27) or by the other Transaction Documents shall have been obtained or made and shall be in full force and effect and all waiting periods required by Applicable Law shall have expired or been terminated, in each case without the imposition of a Burdensome Condition with respect to the party seeking to invoke the failure of this condition to be satisfied.

(b) No Injunctions, Restraints or Actions.

(i) No temporary restraining order, preliminary or permanent injunction or other order issued by any court of competent jurisdiction and no statute, rule or regulation of any Governmental Entity preventing the consummation of the Closing Date Share Redemption, the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares or any other transaction contemplated hereby or by any other Transaction Document shall be in effect; provided, however, that the party invoking this condition shall have used its reasonable best efforts to have any such order or injunction vacated.

(ii) No Action brought by any Governmental Entity shall be pending before any Governmental Entity that has the effect, or would be reasonably likely to have the effect if determined adversely, of preventing the consummation of the Closing Date Share Redemption, the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby or by the other Transaction Documents or imposing any Burdensome Condition with respect to the party seeking to invoke the failure of this condition to be satisfied; and no Action brought by any Third Party that is reasonably likely to result in one of the foregoing effects shall be pending before any Governmental Entity.

(c) Actuarial Guideline XXXIII. The Companies shall not have been required to comply with Actuarial Guideline XXXIII as otherwise strictly interpreted and applied with respect to non-variable deferred annuities containing guaranteed minimum withdrawal benefits and guaranteed minimum death benefits.

SECTION 6.2. Conditions to Obligations of Buyer. The obligations of Buyer to effect the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares and the other actions to be taken at the Closing are further subject to the satisfaction (or waiver by Buyer) on or prior to the Closing Date of the following conditions:

(a) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of Seller set forth in this Agreement (without giving effect to any limitation set forth therein as to materiality or Material Adverse Effect, other than as set forth in Section 3.1(h)(i)(2)) shall be true and correct in all respects at and as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of the Closing Date (except to the extent any such representation and warranty speaks only as of an earlier date, in which event such representation and warranty shall have been true and correct as of such date), except where the failure of all such representations and warranties to be so true and correct would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Companies.

(b) Performance of Obligations of Seller. Seller shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all agreements, obligations and covenants required to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement on or prior to the Closing Date.

(c) Closing Deliveries. Seller shall have delivered or caused to be delivered to Buyer each of the documents required to be delivered pursuant to Section 2.3.

(d) Material Adverse Effect. Since the date of this Agreement, except as set forth in Section 6.2(d) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule, there shall not have been any event, change or development that, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Companies.

(e) Actuarial Guideline XLIII. The Companies shall be permitted to use Actuarial Guideline XLIII in accordance with the Practical Considerations section of Actuarial Guideline XXXIII with respect to non-variable deferred annuities containing guaranteed minimum withdrawal benefits and guaranteed minimum death benefits, including for such annuities issued on or after January 1, 2013, on the same terms as set forth in the Iowa Insurance Division's September 28, 2012 letter to ALAC relating thereto, unless the difference in the basis of accounting or changes in the terms would not in the aggregate reasonably be expected to have the effect described in clause (B)(1) of the definition of Burdensome Condition.

SECTION 6.3. Conditions to Obligations of Seller. The obligations of Seller to effect the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares and the other actions to be taken at the Closing are further subject to the satisfaction or waiver by Seller on or prior to the Closing Date of the following conditions:

(a) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of Buyer set forth in this Agreement (without giving effect to any limitation set forth therein as to materiality or Material Adverse Effect) shall be true and correct in all respects at and as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of the Closing Date (except to the extent any such representation and warranty speaks only as of an earlier date, in which event such representation and warranty shall have been true and correct as of such date), except where the failure of all such representations and warranties to be so true and correct would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Buyer.

(b) Performance of Obligations of Buyer. Buyer shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all agreements, obligations and covenants required to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement on or prior to the Closing Date.

(c) Closing Deliveries. Buyer shall have delivered or caused to have delivered to Seller each of the documents required to be delivered pursuant to Section 2.3.

(d) Actuarial Guideline XLIII. The Companies shall be permitted to use Actuarial Guideline XLIII in accordance with the Practical Considerations section of Actuarial Guideline XXXIII with respect to non-variable deferred annuities containing guaranteed minimum withdrawal benefits and guaranteed minimum death benefits, including for such annuities issued on or after January 1, 2013 and prior to the Closing Date, and ALAC's right to use Actuarial Guideline XLIII shall not be modified, terminated or limited, except to the extent such modification, termination or limitation would not reasonably be expected to result in a significant reduction in the Purchase Price by operation of the adjustments contemplated by Annex C.

ARTICLE VII.
INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 7.1. Survival.

(a) The representations and warranties of Seller contained in this Agreement shall survive the Closing solely for purposes of this Article VII and shall terminate and expire on the date that is 18 months following the Closing Date; provided, however, that (i) the representations and warranties made in Sections 3.1(a) (Organization, Standing and Corporate Power), 3.1(b) (Capital Structure), 3.1(c) (Subsidiaries), 3.1(d) (Authority) and 3.1(y) (Brokers) shall survive until the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations, (ii) the representations and warranties made in Section 3.1(k) (Insurance Product-Related Tax Matters) shall terminate on the date that is 36 months after the Closing Date, (iii) the representations and warranties made in Section 3.1(j) (Taxes) clauses (i), (ii), (viii) and (x) shall terminate at the Closing, (iv) the representations and warranties made in Section 3.1(o) (Insurance Regulatory Matters) and 3.1(i) (Employees and Benefit Plans) shall terminate on the date that is 30 months after the Closing Date and (v) the representations and warranties made in Section 3.1(j) (Taxes) (other than those clauses of Section 3.1(j) listed in clause (iii) of this Section 7.1(a)) shall terminate 30 days after the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations (the representations and warranties of Seller referenced in clauses (i) and (v), the "Seller Specified Representations"). The representations and warranties of Buyer contained in this Agreement shall survive the Closing solely for purposes of this Article VII and shall terminate and expire on the date that is 18 months following the Closing Date; provided, however, that the representations and warranties made in Sections 3.2(a) (Organization and Standing), 3.2(b) (Authority) and 3.2(f) (Brokers) (such representations of Buyer, the "Buyer Specified Representations") shall survive until the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations. Any claim for indemnification in respect of any representation, warranty or covenant that is not asserted by notice given as required herein prior to the expiration of the specified period of survival shall not be valid and any right to indemnification is hereby irrevocably waived after the expiration of such period of survival. Any claim properly made for an Indemnifiable Loss in respect of such a breach asserted within such period of survival as herein provided will be timely made for purposes hereof.

(b) For purposes of this Article VII, (i) the covenants and agreements contained in this Agreement that by their terms are required to be performed at or prior to the Closing will survive for 18 months following the Closing Date, (ii) the covenants and agreements contained in this Agreement that by their terms are required to be performed after the Closing and which do not provide a period for which they are required to be performed will survive until fully performed and (iii) all other covenants and agreements will survive for the period provided in such covenants and agreements plus a period of 18 months.

(c) No claim for indemnification in respect of the Special Indemnity may be made after the date that is 36 months after the Closing.

SECTION 7.2. Indemnification.

(a) Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates (for avoidance of doubt, including the Companies from and after the Closing Date) (the "Buyer Indemnified Persons") from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent relating to, resulting from or arising out of:

(i) any breach of any representation or warranty of Seller made in this Agreement or in any certificate furnished by Seller in connection with this Agreement;

(ii) any breach or nonfulfillment of any agreement or covenant of Seller under this Agreement;

(iii) the Excluded Advisory Agreements and the transactions effected pursuant to the AIA Asset Purchase Agreement (other than any breach following the Closing Date of covenants of the Companies that survive the Closing thereunder);

(iv) the Seller Incentive Awards and the Seller Retention Awards, to the extent not directly related to Buyer's failure to perform its obligations under Sections 5.3 and 5.4, respectively;

(v) any claim or Action to the extent relating to the business of Seller and its Affiliates (other than the Companies); or

(vi) the matter described on Schedule 7.2(a)(vi) (the "Special Indemnity").

(b) Buyer shall indemnify and hold harmless Seller and its Affiliates (the "Seller Indemnified Persons") from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent relating to, resulting from, or arising out of:

(i) any breach of representation or warranty of Buyer under this Agreement or in any certificate furnished by Buyer in connection with this Agreement that survives the Closing;

(ii) any breach or nonfulfillment of any agreement or covenant of Buyer under this Agreement; or

(iii) the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction or the compliance by Seller or any of its Subsidiaries with the obligations under Section 4.26; except to the extent (A) arising out of (1) any gross negligence or willful misconduct of Seller, any of its Subsidiaries or any Person acting on their behalf or (2) any act or omission of Seller, any of its Subsidiaries or any Person acting on their behalf in connection with the execution of the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction (or any portion thereof) that constitutes a breach of Section 4.26 or (B) such Indemnifiable Losses are Taxes to which Sections 8.1(a) and (b) apply.

(c) For purposes of this Article VII (including for determining whether or not any breaches of representations or warranties have occurred), each representation and warranty contained in this Agreement (other than Section 3.1(h)(i)(2), the first sentence of Section 3.1(i)(i), the first sentence of Section 3.1(r), Section 3.1(ee)(i) and clauses (1) and (2) of Section 3.1(q)(ii)) shall be read without regard to any materiality or Material Adverse Effect qualifier or exception contained therein.

SECTION 7.3. Certain Limitations.

(a) No party shall be obligated to indemnify and hold harmless its respective Indemnitees under Section 7.2(a)(i) (in the case of Seller) or Section 7.2(b)(i) (in the case of Buyer) (i) with respect to any claim thereunder, unless such claim involves Indemnifiable Losses in excess of $200,000 (the "Threshold Amount") (nor shall any claim that does not exceed the Threshold Amount be applied to or considered for purposes of calculating the amount of Indemnifiable Losses for which the Indemnitor is responsible under clause (ii) below); provided, that any series of Indemnifiable Losses relating to the same facts and circumstances will be aggregated for purposes of determining whether such Indemnifiable Losses exceed the Threshold Amount (and shall be applied to and considered for purposes of calculating the amount of Indemnifiable Losses for which the Indemnitor is responsible under clause (ii) below) and (ii) unless and until the aggregate amount of all Indemnifiable Losses of the Indemnitees under such Section 7.2(a)(i) or such Section 7.2(b)(i), as the case may be, exceeds 1.5% of the Purchase Price for all Indemnifiable Losses (the "Deductible"), at which point such Indemnitor shall be liable to its respective Indemnitees for the value of the Indemnitee's claims under Sections 7.2(a)(i) or such Section 7.2(b)(i), as the case may be, that is in excess of the Deductible, subject to the limitations set forth in this Article VII. The maximum aggregate liability of Seller, on the one hand, and Buyer on the other hand, to their respective Indemnitees for any and all Indemnifiable Losses under Sections 7.2(a)(i) and 7.2(a)(vi), in the case of Seller, or Section

7.2(b)(i), in the case of Buyer, shall be 25% of the Purchase Price (the "Cap"). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, none of the Threshold Amount, the Deductible and the Cap shall apply with respect to Indemnifiable Losses and such Indemnifiable Losses shall not be taken into account in determining the Threshold Amount, the Deductible and the Cap, (1) in respect of any Seller Specified Representation or any Buyer Specified Representation or (2) otherwise under Section 7.2(a)(i) or Section 7.2(b)(i) to the extent relating to, resulting from or arising out of fraud or willful misconduct regarding the representations and warranties in this Agreement. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (i) Seller shall be obligated to indemnify the Buyer Indemnified Persons for 50% of the first $25,000,000 of any Indemnifiable Losses relating to, resulting from or arising out of the Special Indemnity (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall be calculated after giving effect to any reserve or other provision with respect to such matters on the Final Balance Sheets) and for 100% of any Indemnifiable Losses in excess of $25,000,000, (ii) Seller shall not be required to indemnify the Buyer Indemnified Persons for any Indemnifiable Loss to the extent relating to, resulting from or arising out of any Tax Attribute (or any portion thereof) that remains unused immediately after the Closing, or that would have remained unused immediately after the Closing if the representations and warranties set forth in Section 3.1(j)(xi) had been true and correct, and (iii) the maximum aggregate liability of Seller to all Buyer Indemnified Persons for any and all Indemnifiable Losses under this Agreement (including under Article VIII but excluding Indemnifiable Losses arising out of fraud or willful misconduct regarding Seller's representations and warranties in this Agreement) shall not exceed the Purchase Price.

(b) If any Indemnitee actually recognizes a Tax benefit in respect of an Indemnifiable Loss as described in the proviso in the definition of "Indemnifiable Losses" set forth in Section 7.4(iii) subsequent to an Indemnity Payment made by an Indemnitor to such Indemnitee with respect to such Indemnifiable Loss, then such Indemnitee shall promptly pay to the Indemnitor the amount of such Tax benefit recognized by such Indemnitee up to the amount of such Indemnity Payment received by the Indemnitee, net of any expenses incurred by such Indemnitee in pursuing such Tax benefit, within 15 days after the Indemnitee recognizes such Tax benefit in the form of cash actually received or reduction in cash Taxes actually paid. If any Tax benefit (or portion thereof) in respect of an Indemnifiable Loss as described in the proviso in the definition of "Indemnifiable Losses" set forth in Section 7.4(iii), that either (x) reduces the Indemnity Payments made by an Indemnitor prior to the time such payment is made or (y) obligates an Indemnitee to make payments to the Indemnitor under the immediately preceding sentence of this Section 7.3(b), is disallowed as a result of an audit or otherwise, the applicable Indemnitor shall promptly pay to the applicable Indemnitee the amount of such disallowed Tax benefit within 15 days after the Indemnitee notifies the Indemnitor that the adjustment with respect to such disallowance has been paid or otherwise taken into account.

(c) Each Indemnitee shall use reasonable best efforts to mitigate all Indemnifiable Losses for which indemnification may be sought hereunder.

(d) Seller shall not be obligated to indemnify any Buyer Indemnified Person, and Buyer shall not be obligated to indemnify any Seller Indemnified Person, for any breach of this Agreement existing as of the date hereof to the extent any Buyer Indemnified Person or Seller Indemnified Person, as applicable, has actual knowledge of such breach as of the date hereof. Subject to the previous sentence, if Seller provides Buyer or Buyer provides Seller with notice of any breach pursuant to Section 4.13 and concurrently states that such breach would cause either of the conditions set forth in Section 6.2(a) or Section 6.2(b) or Section 6.3(a) or Section 6.3(b), as applicable, to fail to be satisfied and Buyer or Seller, as applicable, nonetheless proceeds with the Closing, then Buyer or Seller, as applicable, shall be deemed to have waived, on behalf of itself and each other Buyer Indemnified Person or Seller Indemnified Person, any right to indemnification with respect to such breach under this Agreement. Except for the foregoing, neither the delivery of any notice pursuant to Section 4.13 nor any knowledge obtained by Buyer or Seller after the date hereof shall be deemed to cure any breach of a representation, warranty or covenant in this Agreement, serve to update the Seller's Disclosure Schedule or Buyer's Disclosure Schedule or otherwise affect the rights and remedies of the Buyer Indemnified Persons or Seller Indemnified Parties under this Agreement.

SECTION 7.4. Definitions. As used in this Agreement:

(i) "Indemnitee" means any Person entitled to indemnification under this Agreement;

(ii) "Indemnitor" means any Person required to provide indemnification under this Agreement;

(iii) "Indemnifiable Losses" means any and all damages, losses, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses); provided, however that any Indemnity Payment (x) shall not include any consequential or punitive damages (in each case, except to the extent paid to a Third Party in connection with a Third-Party Claim, excluding Third-Party Claims made by Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any of their Affiliates (in each case, if a Third Party), unless such damages are paid by Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any of their Affiliates in respect of a claim made by a Third Party that is not Life Reinsurer, Annuity Reinsurer or any of their Affiliates), or any damages for lost profits except to the extent that such damages for lost profits are direct damages or relate to, result from or arise out of the matters described in Section 7.2(a)(ii) or Section 7.2(b)(ii), in which event Indemnifiable Losses will include such damages for lost profits whether or not they constitute consequential damages, but only if they are recoverable under the laws of the State of New York and the Indemnitee satisfies all elements necessary for proof of such damages for lost profits under such laws, and (y) shall be net of any (A) amounts actually recovered (after deducting related reasonable costs and expenses) by the Indemnitee for the Indemnifiable Losses for which such Indemnity Payment is made under any insurance policy, warranty or indemnity or otherwise from any Person other than a party hereto, except with respect to any amounts recovered by the Indemnitee from either a Life Reinsurer or Annuity Reinsurer or any of its respective Affiliates under the LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement, AR Reinsurance Framework Agreement or any Contract entered into in connection therewith to the extent that such amount does not result in a double recovery after accounting for any obligation under such agreement, to pay over amounts to Life Reinsurer or Annuity Reinsurer, as applicable, (B) as determined pursuant to Section 7.3(b), Tax benefits actually recognized by the Indemnitee (or, in the case of a Buyer Indemnified Person, any other Buyer Indemnified Person) in respect of any Indemnifiable Losses for which such Indemnity Payment is made (it being understood that no Indemnity Payment to be made hereunder may be withheld or otherwise delayed due to the fact that an anticipated Tax benefit has not actually been recognized by the applicable Indemnitee) and (C) matter to the extent (but only to the extent) reflected or reserved against in the Final Balance Sheets;

(iv) "Indemnity Payment" means any amount of Indemnifiable Losses required to be paid pursuant to this Agreement; and

(v) "Third-Party Claim" means any claim, action, suit, or proceeding made or brought by any Third Party.

SECTION 7.5. Procedures for Third-Party Claims.

(a) If any Indemnitee receives notice of assertion or commencement of any Third-Party Claim against such Indemnitee in respect of which an Indemnitor may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor reasonably prompt written notice thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim; provided, however, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation or otherwise affect the rights of any Indemnitee hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay with respect to such claim. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third-Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third-Party Claim and, if it so chooses, to assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. Should the Indemnitor so elect to assume the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor shall not as long as it conducts such defense be liable to the Indemnitee for legal expenses subsequently incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense; provided, however, that if the Indemnitee determines in good faith that the representation of the Indemnitee and the Indemnitor by the same counsel creates an actual or potential conflict of interest for such counsel, the reasonable fees and expenses of one counsel employed by the Indemnitee with respect to such matter shall be considered Indemnifiable Losses hereunder. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof (other than during any period in which the Indemnitee shall have not yet given notice of the Third-Party Claim as provided above). If the Indemnitor chooses to defend any Third-Party Claim, the parties hereto shall cooperate in the defense thereof. Such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information which are relevant to such Third-Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder.

Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise or discharge, such Third-Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned). If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, admit any liability with respect to or discharge a Third-Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned; provided, however, that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise or discharge such a Third-Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a complete and unconditional release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third-Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third-Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third-Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third-Party Claim.

(c) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Seller shall have the sole right to represent the interests of the Companies and settle all issues in its sole discretion, and to employ counsel of its choice at its expense, in any audit or other examination or administrative or court proceeding relating to Taxes ("Tax Contest") for any Pre-Closing Tax Period (other than any Straddle Period); provided that Seller shall not pay, discharge, settle, compromise, litigate, or otherwise dispose of any item subject to such Tax Contest in a manner that will materially adversely affect Buyer or any of its Affiliates (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall included the Companies following the Closing Date) without obtaining the prior written consent of Buyer, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed; provided, further, that to the extent such Tax Contest relates in whole or in part to the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction, the portion of such Tax Contest relating to the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction shall be subject to the provisions applicable to Tax Contests for any Straddle Period. Notwithstanding the foregoing and subject to Seller's rights set forth in the preceding sentence, Buyer shall be entitled, at its expense, to participate in the conduct of any such Tax Contest. Buyer shall have the sole right to represent the interests of the Companies and settle all issues in its sole discretion, and to employ counsel of its choice at its expense, in any Tax Contest for any Straddle Period or Post-Closing Tax Period; provided that Buyer shall not pay, discharge, settle, compromise, litigate, or otherwise dispose of any item subject to such Tax Contest that could give rise to an Indemnifiable Loss for which Seller would be liable pursuant to this Agreement without obtaining the prior written consent of Seller, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Notwithstanding the foregoing and subject to Buyer's rights set forth in the preceding sentence, Seller shall be entitled, at its expense, to participate in the conduct of any such Tax Contest.

SECTION 7.6. Direct Claims. The Indemnitor will have a period of 15 Business Days within which to respond in writing to any claim by an Indemnitee on account of an Indemnifiable Loss that does not result from a Third-Party Claim. If the Indemnitor does not so respond within such 15 Business Day period, the Indemnitor will be deemed to have rejected such claim, in which event the Indemnitee will be entitled to pursue such remedies as may be available to the Indemnitee. This Article VII shall become effective immediately following the Closing.

SECTION 7.7. Sole Remedies. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that, except as set forth in Section 10.7(b) or as otherwise specifically provided herein, if the Closing occurs, their sole and exclusive monetary remedy following the Closing with respect to any and all claims arising out of or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be pursuant to the provisions set forth in this Article VII or Article VIII, as applicable. Further, the parties agree that with respect to the matters described on Schedule 7.2(a)(vi), the sole remedy of the Buyer Indemnified Persons with respect to such matters shall be pursuant to Section 7.2(a)(vi), and the representations and warranties set forth in Section 3.1(k) are the only representations or warranties made by Seller with respect to the matters that are the subject of Section 3.1(k), which, for the avoidance of doubt, are not subject to indemnification under Article VIII.

SECTION 7.8. No Right of Contribution. None of Seller or any of its Affiliates shall have any right of contribution against the Companies with respect to any inaccuracy, breach or failure to timely perform any of Seller's representations, warranties, covenants or agreements contained in this Agreement or in any other Transaction Document.

SECTION 7.9. Certain Other Matters. Upon making any Indemnity Payment, Indemnitor will, to the extent of such Indemnity Payment, be subrogated to all rights and obligations of Indemnitee against any third Person (other than any Tax authority or any Affiliate of the Indemnitee, including the Companies) in respect of the Indemnifiable Loss to which the Indemnity Payment related. Without limiting the generality or effect of any other provision hereof, each such Indemnitee and Indemnitor will duly execute upon request and at the sole cost and expense of the Indemnitor all instruments reasonably necessary to evidence and perfect the above-described subrogation rights. The Indemnitees are intended third party beneficiaries of this Article VII and may specifically enforce its terms.

SECTION 7.10. Product Tax Claims. With respect to any claim (whether a Third-Party Claim or a direct claim) for breach of Section 3.1(k) (any such claim, a "Product Tax Claim") the following provisions shall apply in addition to the other relevant provisions of Articles VII and VIII:

(a) Seller shall have no liability with respect to any Insurance Contract sold more than six months after the Closing Date;

(b) With respect to any breach of Section 3.1(k)(ii) or (vi), Seller shall have no liability with respect to the period from and after the date that is eighteen months after the Closing Date;

(c) Seller shall have no liability except to the extent that the relevant representation or warranty was breached based on the facts that existed and the Applicable Law as in effect as of or before the Closing Date;

(d) Seller shall be entitled to initiate, assume the handling of and control any negotiation or settlement with the IRS with respect to any such breach, including any proposed closing agreement with respect thereto, as though such IRS process constituted a Third-Party Claim hereunder pursuant to the procedures described in Section 7.5(a) and (b); and

(e) Without limiting Section 7.3(c), the parties shall work together to mitigate the amount of any Indemnifiable Loss resulting from any such breach.

ARTICLE VIII.
TAX MATTERS

SECTION 8.1. Indemnification for Taxes.

(a) Seller shall be liable for and pay and shall indemnify and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnified Persons from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses in connection with or arising out of Taxes (other than Conveyance Taxes) imposed on any of the Companies, or for which any of the Companies may otherwise be liable, (i) for all Pre-Closing Tax Periods, (ii) arising out of any transaction outside the ordinary course of business occurring between the Closing Date and the Closing and (iii) to the extent described in the proviso to the first sentence of Section 8.1(b), except in each case to the extent of any accrued liability for Taxes taken into account in the calculation of the Final Adjustment Amount and as provided in Section 8.1(b).

(b) Buyer shall be liable for and pay and shall indemnify and hold harmless the Seller Indemnified Persons from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses in connection with or arising out of liabilities for (i) Taxes imposed on any of the Companies, or for which the Companies may otherwise be liable, that are not subject to indemnification by Seller pursuant to Article VII or Section 8.1(a) and (ii) any Taxes imposed on any of the Companies, or for which the Companies may otherwise be liable, as a result of the Pre-Closing Transactions other than any withholding Taxes imposed in connection with any distributions made to Seller pursuant to such transactions; provided, that, in the event that any Taxes described in clause (ii) (A) would not have arisen in the absence of a breach of the representations made in Sections 3.1(h)(iii) or 3.1(j) or a breach of the covenants made in Sections 4.1(a)(xiii) or 8.6 or (B) would not have constituted Indemnifiable Losses if subject to Section 7.2(b)(iii) as a result of clause (A) thereto, then (1) Seller shall be liable for such Taxes pursuant to Section 8.1(a) and (2) notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, such Taxes shall not constitute Indemnifiable Losses for which any Buyer Indemnified Person is entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 7.2(a) (except to the extent Seller fails to pay such Taxes in accordance with Section 8.2(d)). For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that the Tax Attributes of the Companies immediately following the day of the Closing are less than they would have been in the absence of a breach of the representations made in Sections 3.1(h)(iii) or 3.1(j) or a breach of the covenants made in Sections 4.1(a)(xiii) or 8.6, the Buyer Indemnified Persons shall not be entitled to indemnification pursuant to Article VII for any Indemnifiable Losses attributable to such difference. For purposes of the proviso to the first sentence of this Section 8.1(b), the representations made in Section 3.1(j)(xi) shall be considered to have been breached if, for any reason (including as a result of items otherwise disclosed in the Seller's Disclosure Schedule), the amount of any Tax Attribute as of June 30, 2012, determined on a closing of the books basis, is less than the amount identified in Section 3.1(j)(xi) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule.

(c) For purposes of this Agreement, Taxes for a Straddle Period shall be allocated between the Pre-Closing Tax Period and the Post-Closing Tax Period in the following manner:

(i) in the case of Taxes based on or measured by income, gain, or receipts, or related to the actual or deemed sale or transfer of property, or which are withholding Taxes, such Taxes shall be allocated based on an interim closing of the books as of the Closing Date; and

(ii) in the case of Taxes calculated on a periodic basis, the portion of such Taxes allocable to the Pre-Closing Tax Period shall be deemed to be the amount of such Taxes for the entire Straddle Period multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in the portion of the Straddle Period ending on the Closing Date and the denominator of which is the number of days in the entire Straddle Period.

(iii) If any Company is a United States shareholder (within the meaning of Section 951(b) of the Code) of a controlled foreign corporation (within the meaning of Section 957 of the Code), amounts, if any, included in the income of such Company under Section 951 of the Code with respect to the Straddle Period of the controlled foreign corporation shall be allocated between such two taxable years or periods of such Company by assuming that, for purposes of Section 951 of the Code, the Straddle Period of the controlled foreign corporation consisted of two taxable years or periods, one which ended at the close of the Closing Date and the other of which began at the beginning of the day following the Closing Date.

SECTION 8.2. Filing of Tax Returns.

(a) Seller shall prepare and timely file, or cause to be prepared and timely filed, all Tax Returns that are required to be filed by or with respect to each of the Companies that are due on or prior to the day of the Closing (taking into account all extensions properly obtained) and Seller shall remit or cause to be remitted any Taxes due in respect of such Tax Returns. Such Tax Returns shall be prepared in a manner consistent with the positions taken, and with accounting methods used, on the Tax Returns filed by or with respect to the appropriate Company prior to the date on which the Closing occurs, unless otherwise required by Applicable Law.

(b) Buyer shall prepare and timely file, or cause to be prepared and timely filed, all Tax Returns that are required to be filed by or with respect to each of the Companies that are due after the day of the Closing (taking into account all extensions properly obtained) and Buyer shall remit or cause to be remitted any Taxes due in respect of such Tax Returns. To the extent related to taxable periods ending on or before the day of the Closing or to any Straddle Period, such Tax Returns shall be prepared in a manner consistent with the positions taken, and with accounting methods used, on the Tax Returns filed by or with respect to the appropriate Company prior to the Closing Date, unless otherwise required by Applicable Law or agreed by Seller and Buyer. Buyer shall deliver any Tax Return described in the preceding sentence to

Seller for Seller's review at least 30 days (or, in the case of premium tax returns, 10 days) prior to the date such Tax Return is required to be filed and (i) in the case of any Tax Return relating to a taxable period ending on or before the Closing Date, shall accept all comments of the Seller in respect of such Tax Returns made prior to the date that is three days prior to the due date of such Tax Return, to the extent consistent with Applicable Law and prior practice of the relevant Company, and (ii) in the case of any Tax Return relating to a Straddle Period, shall consider in good faith making any changes to such Tax Return reasonably requested by Seller.

(c) Except to the extent otherwise required by Applicable Law, Buyer shall not, and shall not permit any of its Affiliates to, without the prior written consent of Seller, which consent may not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, amend any Tax Returns of the Companies relating in whole or in part to a Pre-Closing Tax Period.

(d) Seller or Buyer shall reimburse the other party the Taxes for which Seller or Buyer is liable pursuant to this Agreement but which are remitted in respect of any Tax Return to be filed by the other party pursuant to Section 8.2(a) or Section 8.5 upon the written request of the party entitled to reimbursement setting forth in detail the computation of the amount owed by Seller or Buyer, as the case may be, but in no event earlier than three days prior to the due date for paying such Taxes. For the avoidance of doubt, such reimbursement obligations shall not be subject to the limitations on indemnification set forth in Article VII.

SECTION 8.3. Tax Refunds. Any Tax refund, credit, or similar benefit (including any interest paid or credited with respect thereto) (a "Tax Refund") relating to any of the Companies for Taxes paid for any Pre-Closing Tax Period (other than any such Taxes for which Buyer is liable pursuant to Section 8.1(b)) shall be the property of Seller except to the extent such Tax Refund was taken into account in calculating the Final Adjustment Amount. If received by Buyer or any of the Companies, Buyer shall, or shall cause such Company to, pay such Tax Refund promptly to Seller, net of any Tax cost to Buyer or any of its Affiliates (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall include the Companies following the Closing Date) attributable to the receipt of such refund. In the event that any such Tax Refund is subsequently contested by any Tax authority, such Tax Contest shall be handled in accordance with the procedures in Section 7.5. Any additional Taxes resulting from such Tax Contest shall be indemnified in accordance with Section 8.1.

SECTION 8.4. Cooperation and Exchange of Information.

(a) Seller and Buyer shall provide each other with such cooperation and information as either of them or their respective Affiliates reasonably may request of the other in filing any Tax Return, amended Tax Return or claim for Tax Refund, determining a liability for Taxes or a right to a Tax Refund, or participating in or conducting any Tax Contest. Such cooperation and information shall include providing copies of relevant Tax Returns or portions thereof, together with accompanying schedules, related work papers and documents relating to rulings or other determinations by Tax authorities. Each party and its Affiliates shall make its employees available on a basis mutually convenient to both parties to provide explanations of any documents or information provided hereunder. Each of Seller and Buyer shall retain all Tax Returns, schedules and work papers, records and other documents in its possession relating to Tax matters of the Companies for each Tax period first ending after the Closing and for all prior

Tax periods until the later of (i) the expiration of the statute of limitations of the Tax period to which such Tax Returns and other documents relate, without regard to extensions except to the extent notified in writing of such extensions for the respective Tax periods, or (ii) three years following the due date (without extension) for such Tax Returns. Any information obtained under this Section 8.4 shall be kept confidential except as otherwise may be necessary in connection with the filing of Tax Returns or claims for Tax Refunds or in conducting a contest or as otherwise may be required by Applicable Law or the rules of any stock exchange.

(b) Prior to the Closing, Buyer and Seller agree to reasonably cooperate with each other in connection with any potential tax planning which Buyer reasonably believes will improve the economics of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement to Buyer, provided that in Seller's sole discretion, such actions will not adversely affect Seller and its Affiliates.

SECTION 8.5. Conveyance Taxes. Buyer or Seller, as appropriate, shall execute and deliver all instruments and certificates necessary to enable the other to comply with any filing requirements relating to any real property transfer or sales, use, transfer, value added, stock transfer and stamp taxes, any transfer, recording, registration and other fees and any similar Taxes ("Conveyance Taxes") which become payable in connection with the purchase of the Transferred Shares by Buyer or the consummation of any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and shall file such applications and documents as shall permit any Conveyance Taxes to be assessed and paid. Any Conveyance Taxes incurred in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be borne equally by Seller, on one hand, and Buyer, on the other hand.

SECTION 8.6. Net Capital Gains. Without regard to any capital loss recognized for federal income tax purposes on the disposition of the Morgan Stanley Managed ACES securities or any capital gain recognized for federal income tax purposes as a result of the Identified Mixed Straddle Transaction, the Companies will not recognize any net capital gains during the period beginning on November 1, 2012, and ending immediately prior to the Pre-Closing Transactions occurring on the day of the Closing, determined on a closing of the books basis, that were not taken into account in determining the final Capital Gain Offset Amount as defined in, and determined pursuant to, Annex C.

SECTION 8.7. Miscellaneous.

(a) Each of Seller and Buyer agrees that (i) AUSA shall make a "closing of the books" election pursuant to Treas. Reg. § 1.382-6(b) on its Tax Return for the taxable year that includes the day of the Closing, (ii) for U.S. federal income tax purposes, each of the Pre-Closing Transactions shall be treated as occurring in the taxable year or period (or portion thereof) ending on the day of the Closing and (iii) neither it nor any of its Affiliates shall file any Tax Return or otherwise take any position that is inconsistent with such treatment.

(b) Seller and Buyer agree to treat all payments (other than interest on a payment) made by either of them to or for the benefit of the other or the other's Affiliates or the Companies under this Article VIII and under other indemnity provisions of this Agreement as adjustments to the Purchase Price for Tax purposes and that such treatment shall govern for purposes hereof to the extent permissible under Applicable Law.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement to the contrary, the obligations of Seller to indemnify and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnified Persons, as well as the obligations of Buyer to indemnify and hold harmless the Seller Indemnified Persons, pursuant to this Article VIII shall terminate on the later of three months after the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations (taking into account any applicable extensions or tollings thereof) with respect to the Tax liabilities in question or 60 days after the final administrative or judicial determination of such Tax liabilities, except for any indemnity obligations as to which a claim has been made before the expiration of the applicable period.

(d) In the event of any Tax Contest, the conduct of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of Section 7.5.

(e) Should it be necessary, equitable adjustments will be made to prevent duplicate recovery for indemnification with respect to the same item under Article VII and this Article VIII.

ARTICLE IX.
TERMINATION PRIOR TO CLOSING

SECTION 9.1. Termination of Agreement. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing:

(a) by Seller or Buyer in writing, if there shall be any order, injunction or decree of any Governmental Entity that prohibits or restrains any party from consummating the transactions contemplated hereby, and such order, injunction or decree shall have become final and non-appealable; provided that the party seeking to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1(a) shall have performed in all material respects its obligations under this Agreement;

(b) by Seller or Buyer in writing, if the Closing has not occurred on or prior to the date that is nine months after the Filing Date, unless due to the failure of the party seeking to terminate this Agreement to materially perform each of its obligations under this Agreement required to be performed by it on or prior to the Closing Date; provided that such date shall automatically be extended by the number of days elapsed during any Resolution Process, including the third-party review process described on Annex E (such date, as so extended, the "End Date");

(c) by either Seller or Buyer in writing, if a breach of any provision of this Agreement that has been committed by the other party would cause the failure of any mutual condition to Closing or any condition to Closing for the benefit of the non-breaching party and such breach is not capable of being cured or is not cured within 20 calendar days after the breaching party receives written notice from the non-breaching party that the non-breaching party intends to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1(c);

(d) by Buyer in writing if there shall have occurred and be continuing for forty-five (45) days after receipt by Seller of a written notice from Buyer that it intends to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1(d) any change, event or development, individually or in the aggregate, which results in, or would reasonably be expected to result in, a

Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Companies, except as set forth in Section 6.2(d) of the Seller's Disclosure Schedule;

(e) by Seller in writing if Buyer shall have failed to make the filings required to be made by it or any of its Affiliates under Section 4.4(b)(1) by the deadline for such filings determined in accordance with Section 4.4(d); or

(f) at any time on or prior to the Closing Date, by mutual written consent of Seller and Buyer.

SECTION 9.2. Survival. If this Agreement is terminated as permitted by Section 9.1, and the transactions contemplated hereby are not consummated as described above, this Agreement shall become null and void and of no further force and effect without liability of either party (or any Representative of such party) to the other party to this Agreement, except for (a) the provisions of the last sentence of Section 4.31(b), this Section 9.2 and Article X and (b) rights and obligations arising from any fraud or intentional breach by a party of its obligations under this Agreement. The Confidentiality Agreement shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding any termination of this Agreement.

ARTICLE X.
GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 10.1. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the purchase and sale of the Transferred Shares is consummated, each party hereto shall, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, pay its own Transaction Expenses incident to preparing for, entering into and carrying out this Agreement, the other Transaction Documents and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby.

SECTION 10.2. Notices. All notices, requests, claims, demands and other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be delivered personally, by overnight courier (providing proof of delivery) or by email; provided, that the email is promptly confirmed, to the parties at the following addresses (or at such other address for a party as shall be specified by like notice). Any such notice shall be deemed given when so delivered personally, by courier or by overnight delivery service or sent by email (and immediately after transmission by such email receipt of which has been confirmed by telephone by the sender) or, if mailed, four (4) Business Days after the mailing as follows:

SECTION 10.3. Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to a Section, Exhibit or Schedule, such reference shall be to a Section of, or an Exhibit or Schedule to, this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Any fact or item disclosed on any section of a Disclosure Schedule shall be deemed disclosed on all other sections of such Disclosure Schedule to the extent the applicability of such fact or item to such other section of the Disclosure Schedule is reasonably apparent on its face from a plain reading thereof, notwithstanding the omission of a reference or cross-reference thereto. Disclosure of any item in a Disclosure Schedule shall not be deemed an admission that such item represents a material item, fact, exception of fact, event or circumstance or that occurrence or non-occurrence of any change or effect related to such item would reasonably be expected to result in a Material

Adverse Effect with respect to Seller, the Companies or Buyer, as applicable. The table of contents and headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation" whether or not such words actually appear thereafter. As used in this Agreement, the words "the transactions contemplated by this Agreement," "the transaction contemplated by the Transaction Documents" and similar words or phrases shall be deemed not to include the Life Business Transaction, the Annuity Business Transaction or any transactions that Buyer or any of its Affiliates may intend to effect other than pursuant to the Transaction Documents, including, for the avoidance of doubt, the potential assignment of the shares of ALACNY to an insurance company Affiliate of Buyer as referenced in Section 10.6, which assignment shall be deemed not to be included in any such words or phrases. Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the parties hereto and shall not be construed by any Governmental Entity against either party by virtue of the fact that such party was the drafting party.

SECTION 10.4. Entire Agreement; Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement (including all exhibits and schedules hereto), the Confidentiality Agreement and the other Transaction Documents constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties, both written and oral, among the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents. Except as set forth in (i) Section 4.14 with respect to the directors and officers referred to therein, (ii) Section 4.15 with respect to Affiliates of Seller and (iii) Articles VII and VIII with respect to the Buyer Indemnified Persons and the Seller Indemnified Persons, this Agreement is not intended to and shall not confer upon any Person other than the parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

SECTION 10.5. Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

SECTION 10.6. Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise (other than following the Closing by operation of law in a merger or scheme of arrangement), by any of the parties without the prior written consent of the other party, and any such assignment that is not consented to shall be null and void; provided, that the shares of ALACNY acquired as part of the transactions contemplated hereby may be assigned to an insurance company Affiliate of Buyer domesticated in the State of New York concurrently with the Closing, subject to the prior written consent of Seller (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned) (and, if so assigned, such assignment shall be considered a Pre-Closing Transaction for purposes of this Agreement (including Annex C)). Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns.

SECTION 10.7. Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such action, suit or other proceeding is improper; provided that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 10.2 of this Agreement, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof. Notwithstanding this Section 10.7(a), the determination of the Final Adjustment Amount shall be made as set forth in Annex C.

(b) The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that, without the necessity of posting bond or other undertaking, the parties hereto shall, subject to Section 9.2, be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in accordance with this Agreement, this being in addition (subject to the terms of this Agreement) to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity. In the event that any Action is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no party hereto shall allege, and each party hereto hereby waives any defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law.

(c) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 10.7.

SECTION 10.8. Severability; Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

(a) Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under Applicable Law, but if any provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect under any Applicable Law in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability will not affect any other provision or portion of any provision in such jurisdiction, and this Agreement will be reformed, construed and enforced in such jurisdiction as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or portion of any provision had never been contained herein.

(b) Except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement, this Agreement may be amended or a provision hereof waived only by a written instrument signed by each of Buyer and Seller in the case of an amendment or, in the case of a waiver, by the party hereto entitled to make such waiver.

(c) No delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any waiver on the part of any party of any right, power or privilege, nor any single or partial exercise of any such right, power or privilege, preclude any further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other such right, power or privilege.

SECTION 10.9. Certain Limitations. Buyer acknowledges and agrees that neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates (including the Companies), nor any Representative of any of them, makes or has made, and Buyer has not relied on, any inducement or promise to Buyer except as specifically made in this Agreement or any representation or warranty to Buyer, oral or written, express or implied, other than as set forth in this Agreement or in any certificate delivered pursuant to the terms hereof. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, other than as set forth in this Agreement or in any certificate delivered pursuant to the terms hereof, no Person has made any representation or warranty to Buyer with respect to the Companies, the Shares or any other matter, including with respect to (A) merchantability or fitness for any particular purpose, (B) the operation of the Companies by Buyer after the Closing, (C) the probable success or profitability of the Companies after the Closing or (D) any information, documents or material made available to Buyer, its Affiliates or their respective Representatives in any "data rooms," information memoranda, management presentations, functional "break-out" discussions or in any other form or forum in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including any valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast with respect to all or any of the Companies. With respect to any such valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast, Buyer acknowledges that: (A) there are uncertainties inherent in attempting to make such valuations, appraisals, projections and forecasts; and (B) it is familiar with such uncertainties.

SECTION 10.10. No Offset. Except as expressly provided for in this Agreement, no party to this Agreement may offset any amount due to the other party hereto or any of such other party's Affiliates against any amount owed or alleged to be owed from such other party or its Affiliates under this Agreement or any other Transaction Document without the written consent of such other party.

SECTION 10.11. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the parties and delivered to the other parties. Each party may deliver its signed counterpart of this Agreement to the other parties by means of electronic mail or any other electronic medium utilizing image scan technology, and such delivery will have the same legal effect as hand delivery of an originally executed counterpart.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 TO STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

This Amendment No. 1 to Stock Purchase Agreement (this "Amendment"), dated as of April 8, 2013, is made and entered into between Aviva plc, a public limited company organized under the laws of England and Wales ("Seller"), and Athene Holding Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company ("Buyer"), with respect to the Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of December 21, 2012, between Seller and Buyer (the "Agreement"). Capitalized terms used in this Amendment but not otherwise defined herein have the meanings assigned to them in the Agreement.

WHEREAS, the parties desire to amend and restate Section 4.4(d) of the Agreement pursuant to Section 10.8(b) thereof;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto, intending to be legally bound, hereby agree as follows:

1. Amendment to the Agreement. Effective as of the date of this Amendment, Section 4.4(d) of the Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

> (d) Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to enter into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement as soon as practicable after the date hereof and, in connection therewith, Seller shall cooperate with Buyer in such efforts as and to the extent contemplated by Section 4.28. Buyer shall keep Seller reasonably informed on an ongoing basis of, and of all material developments with respect to, any discussions or negotiations with potential Life Reinsurers. Buyer shall cause the applications described in clause (1) of Section 4.4(b) to be filed with the applicable Governmental Entities on or prior to April 8, 2013 (April 8, 2013, or the date on which the last of any amendment of any such application that is permitted to be filed as described below, is filed with the applicable Governmental Entities (but in no event a date later than April 30, 2013), is referred to herein as the "Filing Date".) If, on or prior to April 30, 2013, Buyer executes and delivers an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement and substantially agrees the form of the principal ancillary agreements thereto with one of the two potential Third Party Life Reinsurers identified to Seller as of the date of Amendment No. 1 to the Agreement, then Buyer may file amendments to such applications on or prior to April 30, 2013 to reflect such LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement and ancillary agreements. Buyer's initial applications may describe a Life Business Transaction with Presidential Life Insurance Company-USA, an Affiliate of Buyer that would be retained by Buyer to serve as the Life Reinsurer and enter into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement with Buyer pursuant to which such Life Business Transaction would be effected (the "PLUSA Transaction"), which Life Business Transaction would be replaced in whole or in part with the Life Business Transaction described in the preceding sentence, if the amendments described therein are filed. Except as set forth above, Buyer shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, file any amendments to such applications or make any filing with or proposal to any Governmental Entity with respect to any other Life Business Transaction or any aspect thereof until after the Closing. If Buyer does not enter into an LR Reinsurance Framework Agreement with a Third Party Life Reinsurer prior to April 30, 2013, it will promptly amend its previously filed applications to clarify that it does not intend to enter into such a transaction with a Third Party prior to Closing. In the event that (i) it becomes reasonably apparent that the Iowa Insurance Division or any other applicable Governmental Entity will not grant its approval to the transactions contemplated hereby in whole or in part due to any facts related to a Life Business Transaction or (ii) the conditions to the completion of a Life Business Transaction (other than items that are also conditions to the transactions contemplated hereby) are not satisfied by the Cut-off Date (as defined below) with respect to such Life Business Transaction, then Buyer shall, upon the written request of Seller, abandon such Life Business Transaction, promptly submit any new or amended filings, applications or other documents with the applicable Governmental Entities to exclude such Life Business Transaction from the applications and other filings it previously submitted to such Governmental Entities in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and use its reasonable best efforts to promptly consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; provided however that if Buyer so abandons a Third Party Life Business Transaction, the transaction reflected in such new or amended filings, applications and other documents may at Buyer's option include the PLUSA Transaction unless as a result of such inclusion the circumstances described in the foregoing clause (i) or (ii) would exist. As used herein, the "Cut-off Date" with respect to any Life Business Transaction shall mean the last date by which the parties would reasonably expect to be able to terminate such Life Business Transaction, submit the new or amended filings, applications or other documents described in the preceding sentence and be able to complete the transactions contemplated hereby a reasonable period of time prior to the End Date. For the avoidance of doubt, completion of a Life Business Transaction (including the PLUSA Transaction) is not a condition to the closing of the transactions contemplated hereby.

2. Annuity Business Transaction. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Agreement, Buyer shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, (i) pursue any Annuity Business Transaction or any aspect thereof until after the Closing or (ii) make any filing with or proposal to any Governmental Entity with respect to any Annuity Business Transaction or any aspect thereof until after the Closing.

3. Binding Effect. This Amendment shall be binding upon and inure solely to the benefit of each party hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

4. Severability. Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Amendment will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under Applicable Law, but if any provision or portion of any provision of this Amendment is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect under any Applicable Law in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability will not affect any other provision or portion of any provision in such jurisdiction, and this Amendment will be reformed, construed and enforced in such jurisdiction as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or portion of any provision had never been contained herein.

5. Integration. The provisions set forth in this Amendment shall be deemed to be and shall be construed as part of the Agreement to the same extent as if fully set forth verbatim therein. In the event of any variation or inconsistency between any provision contained in this Amendment and any provision contained in the Agreement, the provision contained herein shall govern. All references in the Agreement or any other agreements, instruments and documents executed and delivered in connection therewith to the "Agreement" (including, without limitation, the terms "hereof," "hereunder," "herein," "hereby" and similar terms) shall be deemed to refer to the Agreement as amended hereby, except in the case where any such reference relates to the original date of the execution of the Agreement, in which case such reference shall relate to the Agreement before giving effect to this Amendment.

6. Governing Law. This Amendment and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

7. No Other Amendments. Except as expressly amended or modified hereby, the terms and conditions of the Agreement shall continue in full force and effect.

8. Counterparts. This Amendment may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the parties and delivered to the other parties. Each party may deliver its signed counterpart of this Amendment to the other party by means of electronic mail or any other electronic medium utilizing image scan technology, and such delivery will have the same legal effect as hand delivery of an originally executed counterpart.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Seller and Buyer have caused this Amendment to be signed by their respective duly authorized officers, all as of the date first written above.

ANNEX C

DETERMINATION AND PAYMENT OF PURCHASE PRICE

1. Payments at Closing. Not less than two Business Days prior to the anticipated Closing Date, Seller shall deliver to Buyer a statement (the "Estimated Adjustment Statement"), in the form set forth in Attachment 1, setting forth (A) an estimated balance sheet of ALAC as of the Closing Date prepared in accordance with the Accounting Principles (the "Estimated Statutory Balance Sheet") and showing Seller's calculation of the Statutory Net Worth based thereon after giving effect to the Statutory Balance Sheet Adjustments (the "Estimated Statutory Net Worth"), (B) an estimated stand-alone balance sheet of AUSA as of the Closing Date prepared in accordance with the Accounting Principles (the "Estimated IFRS Balance Sheet") and showing Seller's calculation of the IFRS Net Worth based thereon after giving effect to the IFRS Balance Sheet Adjustments, which include an adjustment to capture the value of the Subsidiaries of AUSA other than ALAC and its Subsidiaries (the "Estimated IFRS Net Worth"), (C) calculations of the Estimated Combined Net Worth, (D) the estimated amount of the Intercompany Loan Balance as of the Closing Date, (E) the Share Redemption Cash Consideration, (F) the estimated Capital Gain Offset Amount and (G) calculations of the Adjusted Initial Amount based on the foregoing. In addition to the deliveries contemplated by Section 2.3, at the Closing, Buyer shall pay to AGHL or its designee the Adjusted Initial Amount by wire transfer of immediately available funds to a bank account designated by Seller.

2. Post-Closing Payments. The Final Adjustment Amount shall be determined as set forth below. If the Final Adjustment Amount is a positive number, then Buyer shall pay such Final Adjustment Amount to AGHL or its designee within five Business Days after the final determination thereof. If the Final Adjustment Amount is a negative number, then Seller shall cause AGHL to pay the absolute value of such Final Adjustment Amount to Buyer within five Business Days after the final determination thereof. Any payments required to be made by either party pursuant to this Section 2 shall (i) be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds and (ii) include interest on the amount required to be paid at the Applicable Rate, compounded annually, from the Closing Date to the date such payment is made. The Final Adjustment Amount shall be determined as follows:

(a) No later than 65 Business Days after the Closing Date, Buyer shall deliver to Seller (i) a statement (the "Final Adjustment Statement") in the form set forth in Attachment 2 setting forth (A) the balance sheet of ALAC as of the Closing Date prepared in accordance with the Accounting Principles (the "Subject Statutory Balance Sheet") and showing Buyer's calculation of the Statutory Net Worth based thereon after giving effect to the Statutory Balance Sheet Adjustments and (B) the stand alone balance sheet of AUSA as of the Closing Date prepared in accordance with the Accounting Principles (the "Subject IFRS Balance Sheet") and Buyer's calculation of the IFRS Net Worth based thereon after giving effect to the IFRS Balance Sheet Adjustments, (ii) a written certificate of the chief financial officer of AUSA certifying that the Subject Balance Sheets were prepared in accordance with the Accounting Principles and setting forth in reasonable detail Buyer's calculation of the Final Combined Net Worth and the Final Adjustment Amount based thereon and (iii) supporting documentation with respect to the calculation of the amounts set forth on the Final Adjustment Statement, including balance sheets of each of AUSA's Subsidiaries as of the Closing Date prepared in accordance with the Accounting Principles.

(b) (i) Seller shall have 30 Business Days from the date on which the Final Adjustment Statement is delivered to it to review the Final Adjustment Statement, the Subject Balance Sheets and the calculations of Statutory Net Worth, IFRS Net Worth, Final Combined Net Worth and the Final Adjustment Amount based thereon (the "Review Period"). In furtherance of such review, Buyer and the Companies shall provide Seller and its Representatives with full access to the employees of Buyer and the Companies and to all documentation, records and other information of Buyer and the Companies as Seller or any of its Representatives may reasonably request; provided that such access does not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of the business of Buyer or the Companies.

(ii) If Seller disagrees in any respect with any amount or computation shown or reflected in the Final Adjustment Statement, Seller may, on or prior to the last day of the Review Period, deliver a notice to Buyer setting forth, in reasonable detail, each disputed item or amount and the basis for Seller's disagreement therewith (the "Dispute Notice"). The Dispute Notice shall set forth, with respect to each disputed item, Seller's position as to the correct amount or computation that should have been included in the Final Adjustment Statement and as to the Final Adjustment Amount.

(iii) If no Dispute Notice is received by Buyer with respect to any such item on or prior to the last day of the Review Period, the amount or computation with respect to such item as set forth in the Final Adjustment Statement shall be deemed accepted by Seller, whereupon the amount or computation of such item or items shall be final and binding on the parties.

(iv) For 15 Business Days after Buyer receives a Dispute Notice, if any, Buyer and Seller shall endeavor in good faith to resolve by mutual agreement all matters identified in the Dispute Notice. In the event that the parties are unable to resolve by mutual agreement any matter in the Dispute Notice within such 15 Business Day period, Buyer or Seller may engage Deloitte & Touche LLP, or if Deloitte & Touche LLP is unwilling to serve, another accounting firm of national reputation with experience and expertise in the life insurance industry or any other Person, as mutually agreed by the parties hereto (the "Independent Accounting Firm"), to make a determination respecting the matters in dispute.

(v) Once engaged, Buyer and Seller will direct the Independent Accounting Firm to render a determination within 25 Business Days of its retention, and Buyer, Seller and their respective employees and agents will cooperate with the Independent Accounting Firm during its engagement. Buyer, on the one hand, and Seller, on the other hand, shall each submit a binder to the Independent Accounting Firm promptly (and in any event within 10 Business Days) after the Independent Accounting Firm's engagement, which binder shall contain their respective computations of the disputed items identified in the Dispute Notice and information, arguments and support for their respective positions, and shall concurrently deliver a copy thereof to the other party. Each party shall then be given an opportunity to supplement the information, arguments and support included in its binder with one additional submission to respond to any arguments or positions taken by the other party in its binder, which supplemental information shall be submitted to the Independent Accounting Firm (with a copy thereof to the other party) within five Business Days after the first date on which both parties have submitted their respective binders to the Independent Accounting Firm. The Independent Accounting Firm shall thereafter be permitted to request additional or clarifying information from the parties, and each of the parties shall cooperate and shall cause their Representatives to cooperate with such requests of the Independent Accounting Firm. The Independent Accounting Firm shall determine, based solely on such binders presented and upon information received in response to such requests for additional or clarifying information and not by independent review, only those issues in dispute specifically set forth in the Dispute Notice and shall render a written report to Buyer and Seller (the "Adjustment Report") in which the Independent Accounting Firm shall, after considering all matters set forth in the Dispute Notice, determine what adjustments, if any, should be made to the amounts and computations set forth in the Final Adjustment Statement solely as to the disputed items and shall determine the appropriate Final Adjustment Amount on that basis.

(vi) The Adjustment Report shall set forth, in reasonable detail, the Independent Accounting Firm's determination with respect to each of the disputed items or amounts specified in the Dispute Notice, and the revisions, if any, to be made to the Final Adjustment Statement, together with supporting calculations. In resolving any disputed item, the Independent Accounting Firm (i) shall be bound to the principles of this Annex C and the terms of this Agreement, (ii) shall limit its review to matters specifically set forth in the Dispute Notice and (iii) shall not assign a value to any item higher than the highest value for such item claimed by either party or less than the lowest value for such item claimed by either party.

(vii) All fees and expenses relating to the work of the Independent Accounting Firm shall be shared equally by Buyer and Seller. The Adjustment Report, absent fraud, shall be final and binding upon Buyer and Seller, and shall be deemed a final arbitration award that is binding on each of Buyer and Seller, and no party shall seek further recourse to courts, other tribunals or otherwise, other than to enforce the Adjustment Report.

(viii) The final form of the balance sheet of ALAC as of the Closing Date as finally determined pursuant to this Section 2 is referred to herein as the "Final Statutory Balance Sheet" and the amount of the Statutory Net Worth calculated therefrom after giving effect to the Statutory Balance Sheet Adjustments is referred to as the "Final Statutory Net Worth." The final form of the stand alone balance sheet of AUSA as of the Closing Date as finally determined pursuant to this Section 2 is referred to herein as the "Final IFRS Balance Sheet" and the amount of the IFRS Net Worth calculated therefrom after giving effect to the IFRS Balance Sheet Adjustments is referred to as the "Final IFRS Net Worth."

Accounting Principles

Overriding accounting principles, practices and policies

(a) The Closing Balance Sheets shall be prepared as of the Closing Date (as defined in Section 2.2 of this Agreement, i.e. as of the close of business on the last day of the month prior to the month in which the Closing occurs) and account shall only be taken of any act, occurrence or information which arises after the Closing Date to the extent that accounting for such act, occurrence or information is in accordance with IFRS (with respect to the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets) or SAP (with respect to the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets) consistently applied, except with respect to matters described below. Subject to the foregoing, account may be taken of information obtained after the Closing Date only where such information is obtained by the date of delivery of the Final Adjustment Statement by Buyer to Seller.

(b) The Closing Balance Sheets shall not include any double counting of assets or liabilities and shall exclude items typically eliminated in consolidation as were excluded in the preparation of the Reference Combined Net Worth; provided that such items eliminated in consolidation are accounted for using the same basis of accounting (i.e., under IFRS or statutory accounting).

(c) The Closing Balance Sheets shall be prepared on the basis that the Closing Date represents a full year-end general ledger close process for the Companies, consistent with that applied at December 31, 2011, in respect of figures presented in the Closing Balance Sheets (including with respect to the accounting policies, principles, bases, practices, methods, evaluation rules and procedures); provided that such process shall in all cases be subject to compliance with the Accounting Principles.

(d) The Closing Balance Sheets shall be prepared on a going-concern basis and, for the avoidance of doubt, without taking into account (i) any of the Pre-Closing Transactions or (ii) any assets or liabilities to the extent that they arise as a result of the change of ownership of the Companies (including any reinsurance ceded in connection with such change in ownership) or changes to the value of existing assets or liabilities existing as at the Closing Date as a result of such change in ownership.

(e) Except as otherwise provided herein, the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets shall, where applicable, take into account the tax impact of the adjustments made to the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets as a result of applying the specific accounting principles, practices and policies set out in this Attachment 3 on a basis consistent with the principles, practices and policies used in calculating the tax impact of assets and liabilities in the preparation of the Historical IFRS Balance Sheet as of June 30, 2012. For the avoidance of doubt, except as otherwise provided herein, (i) in connection with the preparation of the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets, no account shall be taken of the tax impact of the adjustments set forth in Attachment 4 of this Annex C, and (ii) in connection with the preparation of the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets, no account shall be taken of the tax impact of the adjustments set forth in Attachment 3 or Attachment 4 of this Annex C.

(f) For the avoidance of doubt, it is intended that except to the extent such item is accrued prior to the day of Closing, net assets shall be reduced by the value, if any, of severance related to employees transferred from AINA to AIA.

Specific accounting principles, practices and policies

In respect of the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets:

1. Tax

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principle shall apply.

> (i) Except as noted below, tax assets and liabilities shall be calculated on the same basis as used for the preparation of the Historical IFRS Balance Sheet as of December 31, 2011 and in accordance with the policies, processes and methodologies as set out in Document 1 ("Completion Mechanism–Tax") of the Policy Binder.

(b) With respect to any pending tax audit, no increase shall be made to the accrual therefor from the amount reflected on the books and records of the Companies as of the Closing Date, whether or not there are any developments with respect thereto after the Closing Date.

(c) The value of the net deferred tax asset/liability included in the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets shall be zero.

2. Pensions and Other Retirement Benefit Arrangements

(a) The provision for pensions and other retirement benefit arrangements shall be calculated using the same policies, processes and methodologies as those used to prepare the Historical IFRS Balance Sheet as of June 30, 2012, except that (i) any increases in the provision shall be taken into account on a pre-tax basis and any decreases in the provision shall be taken into account on an after-tax basis and (ii) the provision in respect of the Aviva Pension Plan, the Aviva Financing Plan for Retiree Welfare Benefits, the Indianapolis Life Insurance Company Excess Benefit Plan, the Central Life Assurance Company Supplemental Pension Plan, the American Mutual Life Insurance Company Supplemental Pension Plan, the Aviva Service Corporation Excess Benefit Retirement Plan shall be included in the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets at an aggregate value reflected in independent valuation reports with respect thereto to be prepared as of the Closing Date for each such plan at the sole cost and expense of Buyer; provided that each such independent valuation report shall be prepared by the same Third Party that prepared an independent valuation report with respect to the relevant plan as of December 31, 2012 using the methods and assumptions adopted by Seller for year-end 2012, as updated for market movements through the Closing Date; and provided further, that where the actuary is permitted to use a range of reasonable assumptions, the actuary shall use the mid-point of such range. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) updates for market movements shall include assumptions regarding interest rates and discount rates and (ii) no other provision with respect to these schemes will be included in the Closing IFRS Balance Sheets.

3. Legal Claims

(a) With respect to any pending or threatened legal proceedings, no increase shall be made to any accrual therefor from the amount reflected on the books and records of the Companies as of the Closing Date, whether or not there are any developments with respect thereto after the Closing Date.

4. Retention Payments

(a) To the extent not paid prior to the Closing Date, full provision shall be made for the pre-Closing retention payments expected to be paid to staff in anticipation of the transaction. Such provision shall be determined on a pre-tax basis. No accruals for Seller Retention Awards or related employment Taxes described in Section 5.4 that are payable subject to the staff member remaining employed with the group for the required period post-Closing shall be included in the Closing Balance Sheets.

5. Seller Incentive Awards

(a) No accruals for Seller Incentive Awards or related employment Taxes described in Section 5.4 shall be included in the Closing Balance Sheets.

6. Des Moines Headquarters

(a) The property at 7700 Mills Civic Parkway, West Des Moines, Iowa, will be included on the Closing Balance Sheets at the value ascribed to such property for purposes of preparing the Historical IFRS Balance Sheet as of June 30, 2012.

In respect of the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets:

1. Bonds

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principles shall apply.

(i) Updates to the pre-payment rates used shall be made in accordance with the annual process described in Document 2A ("Structured Securities prepayment speed update process" (dated June 25, 2012)) of the Policy Binder.

(ii) To the extent not inconsistent with paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) below:

(A) Fair valued bonds, which represent securities that were other than temporarily impaired ("OTTI") at year-end or NAIC 6 rated, shall be accounted for in accordance with the policies and procedures set out in the SSAP No. 100 hierarchy.

(B) OTTIs for corporate bonds shall be accounted for in accordance with SSAP 26 and the policies and procedures set out in Document 2B ("Policy for OTTI (AUSA & AINA) – Other than temporary impairments" (dated 20 June 2012)) of the Policy Binder.

(C) OTTIs for structured securities shall be accounted for in accordance with SSAP 43R and Document 2B ("Policy for OTTI (AUSA & AINA) Other than temporary impairments" (dated 20 June 2012)) of the Policy Binder. The valuation sources and process for OTTI valuation of RMBS and CMBS securities shall be in accordance with Document 2C ("Summary of sources used and process for OTTI valuation of RMBS and CMBS securities" (dated 27 June 2012)).

(b) Where bonds or other securities are recognized as OTTI at the Closing Date (without reference to clause (c) below), the relevant company shall nonetheless make an adjustment to the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets to reflect accrued interest thereon from the latest payment date through the Closing Date as a receivable; provided that, to the extent accrued interest on the security is in arrears at the Closing Date, no accrued interest on the security shall be included in the Closing Balance Sheet. Any interest received on such bonds or other securities during the 65-Business Day period after the Closing Date shall be added as an adjustment to the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets.

(c) (i) For the purpose of assessing whether any bonds or other securities are OTTI as of the Closing Date, any impairment made in the books and records of the Companies in the period from and excluding June 30, 2012 to and including the Closing Date shall be excluded for the purposes of the Closing Balance Sheets; provided that, if the following criteria are satisfied, an adjustment shall be made in the Closing Balance Sheets in accordance with paragraph (ii) below: (A) an event of default consisting of a failure to pay principal or interest on the security when due (subject to any grace period or permitted period of deferral included in the terms of the security) has occurred and is continuing as of the Closing Date and remains uncured for 65 business days after the Closing Date; (B) the issuer of the securities is the subject of bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings as of the Closing Date; or (C) measured at the security identifier level, the market value of the bond or other security is less than or equal to 60% of its statutory carrying value for (x) 6 consecutive calendar quarter ends prior to and including the Closing Date (if the Closing Date is a quarter end), or (y) if longer, the calendar quarter ends from and including June 30, 2012 prior to and including the Closing Date. For the avoidance of doubt no other impairments or associated accounting entries with respect to any bonds or other securities booked from and excluding June 30, 2012 to and including the Closing Date will be included within the Closing Balance Sheets and no account shall be taken of changes arising after the Closing Date to the relevant company's asset and liability management policy or the application thereof.

(ii) Where a bond or other security is classified as OTTI as at the Closing Date under (c)(i) above, the value of that bond or other security recorded in the Closing Balance Sheets shall be calculated as the market value as at Closing Date.

(d) The investments in the two Morgan Stanley Managed ACES assets with notional values of $225 million and $25 million and maturity dates of 9/20/2017 and 9/20/2014, respectively, shall be sold prior to the Closing Date. To the extent the proceeds from the sales of such assets are different than $92 million, the associated change in proceeds will be reflected on the Closing Balance Sheets. The Closing Balance Sheets shall reflect a liability equal to 35% of the amount, if any, by which $139 million exceeds the capital loss recognized for federal income tax purposes in connection with the sale of such Morgan Stanley Managed ACES assets.

2. Common stock of unaffiliated companies

(a) The investment held in the Federal Home Loan Bank of Des Moines shall continue to be recorded at cost.

3. Other invested assets

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principle shall apply.

(i) Other invested assets will be valued and recorded in accordance with the process as set out in Document 3 ("Fair Value Measurement and Leveling of Alternative Investments" (dated June 12, 2012)) of the Policy Binder.

(b) Where external valuations are used, these will be in accordance with the latest available external valuation received prior to the Closing Date.

4. Mortgage loans and real estate

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principle shall apply.

(i) Mortgage loans and real estate assets shall be assessed for OTTI in accordance with Document 2B ("Policy for OTTI (AUSA & AINA) – Other than temporary impairments" (dated 20 June 2012)) of the Policy Binder.

(b) Real estate valuations shall be accounted for in accordance with the latest available internal valuation prior to the Closing Date, with any external valuations completed and received in the period between June 30, 2012 and the Closing Date being included in the consideration of the internal valuation at the Closing Date.

5. Derivatives and hedge accounting

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principles shall apply.

(i) In respect of OTC Derivatives held by ALAC under the Indexed Linked Hedging Strategy, these shall continue to be accounted for in accordance with Iowa Administrative Code (IAC) Section 191-97, Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments Used to Hedge the Growth in Interest Credited for Indexed Insurance Products and Accounting for the Indexed Insurance Products Reserve, as in effect as of December 31, 2011 ("IAC Section 191-97"). The processes and criteria used for assessing hedge effectiveness shall be the same as those used in the preparation of the Statutory Statements as of December 31, 2011.

(ii) Valuation procedures related to derivatives shall follow Document 4 ("Section 17 – Valuation Policy") of the Policy Binder. Part B of such Document 4 details the sources of pricing information for all invested assets, including derivatives. Also, Appendix A of such Document 4 documents the hierarchy of pricing sources to be used for valuation each period for each asset class. When, in accordance with the standard procedures set out in Section F and Appendix F of such Document 4, a derivative is moved from being valued by an external source to an internal model, this model must have been approved by the model review committee prior to Closing. The model review committee's terms of reference are set forth in Appendix E of such Document 4. Derivative valuation processes will remain consistent with the aforementioned policy during the period from June 30, 2012 to the Closing Date.

6. Insurance Reserves

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principles shall apply.

(i) The insurance reserves shall be calculated on the same underlying basis of valuation as that used for the December 31, 2011 Statutory Statements and in accordance with IAC Section 191-97.

(ii) For purposes of the Closing Balance Sheets, the insurance reserves with respect to policies issued in 2013 shall be calculated based on the valuation rates set by the NAIC.

(iii) Economic assumptions used in the calculation shall be updated as of the Closing Date in accordance with the process and procedures used to update and source the economic assumptions as of December 31, 2011 and as set out in Document 5A ("Supporting Material with respect to Insurance Reserves") and Document 5B ("AUSA USA Reserving Methodology for Non-Variable Deferred Annuities Containing GMWB and GMDB") of the Policy Binder. The economic assumptions that will be considered are as set out in such document.

(b) Demographic assumptions will not be updated from those used for the balance sheet as of June 30, 2012 included in the Statutory Statements. A summary of the principal demographic assumptions used is set out in Document 5C ("ALAC 2011 Asset Adequacy Analysis") and Document 5D ("ALACNY Asset Adequacy Analysis") of the Policy Binder.

7. Pensions and Other Retirement Benefit Arrangements

(a) The provision for pensions and other retirement benefit arrangements shall be calculated using the same policies, processes and methodologies as those used to prepare ALAC's statutory balance sheet as of June 30, 2012 included in the Quarterly Statutory Statements, except that the provision in respect of the ALAC Pre-1985 Agent's Pension Plan (formerly the Indianapolis Life Insurance Company Pre-1985 Agent's Defined Contribution Pension Plan), the ALAC General Agent's Retirement Plan (formerly the AmerUs Life General Agent's Retirement Plan) and the Aviva Life and Annuity Company General Agent's Deferred Compensation Plan (formerly the American Mutual Life General Agent Deferred Compensation Plan) shall be included in the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets at an aggregate value reflected in independent valuation reports with respect thereto to be prepared as of the Closing Date for each such plan at the sole cost and expense of Buyer; provided that each such independent valuation report shall be prepared by the same Third Party that prepared an independent valuation report with respect to the relevant plan as of December 31, 2012 using the methods and assumptions adopted by Seller for year-end 2012, as updated for market movements through the Closing Date; and provided further, that where the actuary is permitted to use a range of reasonable assumptions, the actuary shall use the mid-point of such range. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) updates for market movements shall include assumptions regarding interest rates and discount rates and (ii) no other provision with respect to these schemes will be included in the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets.

8. Taxation

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, except as noted in paragraph (c) of this item 7 below, the following principle shall apply.

(i) The tax assets and liabilities shall be calculated on the same basis as used for the Statutory Statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011 and following the policies, processes and methodologies as set out in Document 1 ("Completion Mechanism –Tax") of the Policy Binder.

(b) With respect to any pending tax audit, no increase shall be made to the accrual therefor from the amount reflected on the books and records of the Companies as of the Closing Date, whether or not there are any developments with respect thereto after the Closing Date.

(c) The value of the net deferred tax asset/liability included in the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets shall be zero.

9. Remittances and items not collected

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principle shall apply.

(i) The same process for identification and inclusion of remittance items shall be followed at the Closing Date as was followed at December 31, 2011 in accordance with Document 6 ("Claims and benefits: Insurance accounts – Suspense accounts") of the Policy Binder.

10. Legal Claims

(a) With respect to any pending or threatened legal proceedings, no increase shall be made to any accrual therefor from the amount reflected on the books and records of the Companies as of the Closing Date, whether or not there are any developments with respect thereto after the Closing Date.

11. Curelife reinsurance agreement

(a) The Reference Combined Net Worth includes an adjustment of $67.2 million related to the experience refund for the period January 1, 2012 through June 30, 2012 with respect to the Curelife reinsurance agreement (which, for the avoidance of doubt, is internal to the Companies). The Closing Statutory Balance Sheet will be adjusted for the settlement and experience refund (calculated on an after-tax basis) arising during the period from the last settlement date prior to the Closing Date to the Closing Date, except to the extent that such item was accrued prior to the Closing.

12. Other assets and liabilities

(a) Consistent with the full year-end general ledger close process as of December 31, 2011, and for the avoidance of doubt, the following principle shall apply.

(i) Buyer shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to reconcile any suspense accounts or other reconciling items, in accordance with the Companies' regular period end accounting processes, prior to providing Seller with the Final Adjustment Statement.

Attachment 4

Balance Sheet Adjustments

IFRS Balance Sheet Adjustments:

1. Eliminate Investment in Subsidiaries

(a) Being an adjustment to exclude from the IFRS Net Worth the amount of the investments in Subsidiaries as reported in the applicable Closing IFRS Balance Sheet prior to giving effect to any other IFRS Balance Sheet Adjustment.

2. Add net worth of Subsidiaries of AUSA other than ALAC and its Subsidiaries

(a) Being an adjustment to add the sum of the total net worth (being an amount equal to total assets less total liabilities) of each of the Subsidiaries of AUSA other than ALAC and its Subsidiaries derived from balance sheets of such Subsidiaries as of the Closing Date prepared using the Accounting Principles.

3. Eliminate surplus note

(a) Being an adjustment to reduce net assets by the value of principal and accrued interest with respect to the surplus note issued by ALAC that is reported in the applicable Closing IFRS Balance Sheet.

4. Eliminate Intercompany Loan Balance

(a) Being an adjustment to exclude from the IFRS Net Worth the Intercompany Loan Balance, which will be repaid in full by Buyer at the Closing.

Statutory Balance Sheet Adjustments:

1. Add back asset valuation reserve

(a) Being the amount as reported in the asset valuation reserve caption in the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets, plus the value of the asset valuation reserve within ALAC’s insurance company Subsidiaries.

2. Add back reinsurance in unauthorized entities

(a) Being the amount as reported in reinsurance in unauthorized companies caption within “Total Liabilities” in the Closing Statutory Balance Sheets, plus the amount of reinsurance in unauthorized companies reported within ALAC’s insurance company Subsidiaries.

3. Add back non-admitted assets and reduce to IFRS basis values

(a) Being an add back of all non-admitted assets held within the statutory accounts (including those of ALAC's insurance company Subsidiaries) as of the Closing Date, excluding non-admitted deferred tax assets. With respect to each of these assets, reduce values by the amount of any IFRS-basis allowances held for such asset as of the Closing Date, such allowances to be calculated in a manner consistent with the calculation of the Reference Combined Net Worth.

4. Add benefit of Specified AXXX/ XXX Transactions

(a) The Reference Combined Net Worth includes an adjustment of $73.9 million related to the excess reserves as of June 30, 2012 which is expected to be financed prior to the Closing Date. There should be no adjustment to the Closing Balance Sheets for the benefit related to any 2013 business or any of such $73.9 million of excess reserves that has not been financed by Seller prior to the Closing Date.

5. Deduct provision related to future index crediting

(a) Being an adjustment to reflect a deduction for future index crediting, calculated in accordance with Document 9 ("Future Index Crediting") of the Policy Binder, related to the value of derivatives held under the index linked hedging strategy, which are not accounted for in accordance with IAC Section 191-97.

6. CMA Restructuring

(a) Being an adjustment (i) to reverse the increase or decrease, if any, in net worth resulting from the CMA Restructuring; provided, however, that any costs resulting from the formation and establishment of the captive insurer shall reduce net worth and shall not be reversed; and (ii) to decrease the net worth by $2.8 million, if the CMA Restructuring is completed, in consideration for the agreement of Buyer to fund all future ongoing administration costs to be incurred in connection with the new captive insurer to be established for the CMA Restructuring.

ANNEX D

AGREED REGULATORY POINTS

1. Athene transferring its U.S. headquarters from S.C. to the Des Moines area and consolidating annuity operations at the Companies' building in West Des Moines, Iowa.

2. A commitment to combine ALACNY with Presidential Life Insurance Company or any of its Affiliates, subject to NYDFS approval.

3. ALAC continuing to write a meaningful volume of new annuities.

Annex E
Third Party Review Process

If (x) Buyer or Seller believes that any condition or conditions imposed by a Governmental Entity ("Imposed Conditions") would or would reasonably be expected to result in the imposition of a Burdensome Condition as described in Section 4.4(a) of the Agreement with respect to such party, including believing that any proposed alternative terms or requirements discussed by Buyer and Seller pursuant to clause (i) of the definition of Resolution Process (the "Proposed Alternatives") would not substantially eliminate such condition or conditions or mitigate its effect so that it would no longer constitute a Burdensome Condition with respect to such party, or (y) Buyer is asserting that the condition contained in Section 6.2(e) of the Agreement regarding the use of Actuarial Guideline XLIII would fail to be satisfied ("AG 43 Change") , and if the parties are unable to reach resolution pursuant to clause (i) of the Resolution Process within ten (10) Business Days of (A) in the case of clause (x), Buyer or Seller believing that the Imposed Conditions would or would reasonably be expected to result in a Burdensome Condition with respect to such party and giving notice thereof to the other party or (B) in the case of clause (y), Buyer asserting an AG 43 Change and giving notice thereof to Seller, then the party which does not believe that the Burdensome Condition would result in the case of the foregoing clause (x) or Seller in the case of the foregoing clause (y), may initiate the third-party review process in accordance with this Annex E; provided, that the failure of such party to initiate the third-party review within fifteen (15) Business Days of receipt of such notice thereof shall be deemed an irrevocable consent and agreement that the position of the party claiming that the Burdensome Condition would result is correct or that the AG 43 Change has occurred is correct.

1. Initiation of Third-Party Review. The party permitted to request third-party review (the "Claimant") may so initiate the review (the "Third Party Review") by delivering a written notice thereof (the "Demand for Third Party Review") to the other party (the "Respondent"). The Third Party Review will be deemed to have been commenced on the date the Demand for Third Party Review is delivered to the Respondent.

2. Single Third Party Reviewer; Qualifications. The Third Party Review will be conducted by a single individual agreed upon and jointly appointed by the parties (the "Third Party Reviewer") who (i) is (x) an active or retired executive officer of a life and annuity insurance or reinsurance company or (y) is a retired accounting partner or actuary who specialized in the life and annuity business, (ii) is independent of and not under the control of any party, (iii) has no financial interest in the outcome of the Third Party Review and (iv) otherwise possesses knowledge, experience and expertise reasonably sufficient and suitable to enable the Third Party Reviewer to make the determination required under this Annex E.

3. Selection of the Third Party Reviewer. The parties will negotiate in good faith to select the Third Party Reviewer as soon as practicable after delivery of the Demand for Third Party Review by the Claimant. If the parties fail to agree on the appointment of the Third Party Reviewer within ten (10) Business Days after the Third Party Review has been commenced, each party within five (5) Business Days after the Third Party Review has been commenced shall nominate three (3) candidates who satisfy the requirements set forth in Section 2 of this Annex E to serve as the Third Party Reviewer, of whom the other party shall decline two, and the Third Party Reviewer shall be selected by drawing lots. The Third Party Reviewer must be appointed within ten (10) Business Days after the Third Party Review has been commenced. If the parties fail to agree on the appointment of the Third Party Reviewer and one party fails to nominate any or all Third Party Reviewer candidates within the time period called for by this Section 3, the party who has nominated three candidates may select one of those candidates to serve as the Third Party Reviewer.

4. Form of Submissions. Within seven (7) Business Days after appointment of the Third Party Reviewer, the party asserting that a Burdensome Condition would exist with respect to it or the Buyer if it asserts an AG 43 Change exists (the "Asserting Party") shall submit to the Third Party Reviewer and to the other party (the "Non-Asserting Party") its written position supporting whether or not the Imposed Conditions would or would reasonably be expected to result in a Burdensome Condition, taking into account the effect of any Proposed Alternatives, or an AG 43 Change exists, as applicable. The Non-Asserting Party shall have 15 Business Days following its receipt thereof to review such submission. In furtherance of such review, the Asserting Party shall provide the Non-Asserting Party with all documentation, records and other information relevant to the dispute and with reasonable access to relevant employees; provided, such documentation, records and other information are not subject to an attorney-client or other legal privilege that in the reasonable opinion of counsel to the Asserting Party would be impaired by providing such materials or granting such access. Within 15 Business Days after its receipt of such materials and access the Non-Asserting Party shall submit to the Third Party Reviewer and the Asserting Party its written supporting position . The Asserting Party shall have 10 Business Days following its receipt thereof to review such submission. In furtherance of such review, the Non-Asserting Party shall provide the Asserting Party with all documentation, records and other information relevant to the dispute and with reasonable access to relevant employees; provided, such documentation, records and other information are not subject to an attorney-client or other legal privilege that in the reasonable opinion of counsel to the Non-Asserting Party would be impaired by providing such materials or granting such access. Within 10 Business Days after its receipt of such materials and access the Asserting Party shall submit to the Third Party Reviewer and the Non-Asserting Party its written response to the Non-Asserting Party's submission. The Third Party Reviewer shall have authority to resolve all disputes with respect to the information and access to be provided.

5. Timing of Hearing. The Third Party Reviewer shall as soon as practicable (but in any event within ten (10) Business Days) after receipt of the papers called for in Section 4 of this Annex E schedule a hearing (the "Hearing") at a venue designated by the Third Party Reviewer. The Hearing shall be conducted no later than seven (7) Business Days after the Third Party Reviewer's receipt of both parties' submissions.

6. Conduct of Hearing. The Hearing shall be conducted on a private and confidential basis and each party shall have the right to be represented at the hearing by legal counsel. Each party shall have two hours for initial presentation of its case and one hour for rebuttal and summation. Cross-examination of witnesses shall not count against these time limitations, and these time limitations may be extended by the Third Party Reviewer for good cause shown. The Third Party Reviewer shall not be obligated to follow judicial formalities or the rules of evidence in conducting the Hearing and shall prescribe such procedural rules for the conduct of the Hearing as the Third Party Reviewer deems appropriate.

7. Authority of the Third Party Reviewer. The Third Party Reviewer's authority shall be limited to deciding whether the evidence, facts and circumstances reasonably demonstrate that the Imposed Conditions would or would reasonably be expected to result in a Burdensome Condition (including after taking into account the effect of implementation of any Proposed Alternatives; provided that, with respect to any Proposed Alternative the Non-Asserting Party advocates pursuing, the Non-Asserting Party shall have proved by a preponderance of the evidence that such Proposed Alternative would be reasonably likely to be acceptable to the applicable Governmental Entity) or that an AG 43 Change exists, as applicable. The Asserting Party shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that its position is the correct resolution of the matters in dispute.

8. Determination of the Third Party Reviewer. As soon as practicable (but in any event within five (5) Business Days) after the Hearing, the Third Party Reviewer shall deliver to the parties his or her written determination (the "Determination"), stating whether the Imposed Conditions would or would reasonably be expected to result in a Burdensome Condition (including after taking into account the effect of implementation of any Proposed Alternatives) or that an AG 43 Change exists, as applicable (and identify with specificity the reasons for such determination).

9. Finality. The Determination shall be final, non-appealable and binding on the parties. Judgment may be entered on the Determination in any court having jurisdiction with respect thereto.

10. Costs. The fees, costs and expenses of the Hearing and of the Third Party Reviewer will be borne equally by the parties. Each party shall bear its own costs and expenses incurred in connection with the procedures described in this Annex E.

EXHIBIT B-1

Form of Aviva Canada/AUSA Transition Services Agreement

TRANSITION SERVICES AGREEMENT BETWEEN AUSA AND AVIVA CANADA

This Transition Services Agreement (this "Agreement"), effective as of _______, 2013, is by and between AVIVA USA CORPORATION, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Iowa ("AUSA" or "Party"), and AVIVA CANADA INC., a corporation organized under the laws of the Province of Ontario ("Aviva Canada" or "Party"). ARTICLE II
SCHEDULED SERVICES

2.1 Scheduled Services.

2.1.1 Services.

(a) AUSA, directly or through its Affiliates, and their respective employees, agents or contractors, shall provide or cause to be provided to Aviva Canada and certain of its Affiliates all services set forth on Schedule 1(a) from and after the Closing Date for the duration set forth in Schedule 1(a). Aviva Canada shall pay, or cause to be paid, the Service Fees as set forth in Section 4.1 to AUSA for providing the services set forth on Schedule 1(a), or causing such services to be provided.

(b) Aviva Canada, directly or through its Affiliates, and their respective employees, agents or contractors, shall provide or cause to be provided to AUSA and certain of its Affiliates all services set forth on Schedule 1(b) from and after the Closing Date for the duration set forth in Schedule 1(b). AUSA shall pay, or cause to be paid, the Service Fees as set forth in Section 4.1 to Aviva Canada for providing the services set forth on Schedule 1(b), or causing such services to be provided.

(c) The services set forth on Schedules 1(a) and 1(b) are hereinafter referred to as the "Scheduled Services", and the duration for which the Scheduled Services are to be provided as set forth in Schedules 1(a) and 1(b) is the "Service Term". As used herein, with respect to each Scheduled Service the "Providing Party" shall mean the Party responsible for providing such Scheduled Service and the "Receiving Party" shall mean the Party entitled to receive, or whose Designated Recipient is entitled to receive, such Scheduled Service. Schedules 1(a) and 1(b) sets forth, for each Scheduled Service, the Providing Party and the Receiving Party and, where appropriate, the Affiliate or permitted third party designated by the Receiving Party to receive such Service (the "Designated Recipient"). The Receiving Party, in its sole discretion, may change any Affiliate designated as the Designated Recipient for a Scheduled Service from the Person currently so designated in Schedule 1(a), provided that any additional cost to the Providing Party caused by such change shall be borne by the Receiving Party. With respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party, AUSA may designate the Life Reinsurer or any of its Affiliates as a Designated Recipient.

2.1.2 Data Trimming. Each Party shall use reasonable best efforts to diligently pursue activities such that, by September 30, 2013, each Party shall have permanently deleted, overwritten, substituted, or, to the extent necessary to maintain operability of the database, disabled user access to, the data and information relating solely to the business, operations or customers of the other Party that was maintained in the shared general ledger database maintained on the shared Oracle Financial R12 system (the "General Ledger") until separate general ledger database systems are established and fully operational, a copy of which was received or retained by each Party; provided that Aviva Canada shall pay or reimburse AUSA for all Out of Pocket Costs incurred by AUSA or its Affiliates in connection with the foregoing activities, to the extent such activities are of the scope currently contemplated, after the Closing Date in excess of $80,000.00 US Dollars. All data and information relating solely to the business, operations or customers of a Party in the General Ledger shall be considered Confidential Information of such Party under ARTICLE VII of this Agreement, and, for so long as such data or information relating solely to the business, operations or customers of the other Party remain on systems under its control, each Party shall use reasonable best efforts to restrict access to such information to those personnel reasonably requiring access in connection with their job responsibilities. Promptly upon written request, each Party shall provide written certification of compliance with this Section.

2.1.3 Shared Software License. In recognition of Aviva Canada's prior payment of license fees associated with the Success Factor application, to the extent allowed, AUSA hereby grants a nonexclusive, fully paid up sublicense to Aviva Canada of the license to the Success Factor application and work product granted under the Subscription Agreement between Successfactors, Inc. and Amerus Group Co. dated June 27, 2007, and subsequent renewals, which sublicense shall terminate on August 1, 2013; provided that the Parties acknowledge that Aviva Canada is required to obtain Successfactors, Inc.'s consent prior to AUSA granting and Aviva Canada receiving such sublicense.

2.1.4 Direction of Employees. Each Party shall be solely responsible for all salary, employment, payroll and other benefits of and liabilities relating to, and compliance with immigration and visa laws and requirements in respect of its personnel assigned to perform the Scheduled Services for which such Party is the Providing Party. In performing their respective duties hereunder, all personnel of a Party engaged in providing Scheduled Services shall be under the direction, control and supervision of such Party; and such Party shall have the sole right to exercise all authority with respect to the employment (including termination of employment), assignment and compensation of such personnel. The employees of a Providing Party engaged in providing Scheduled Services to a Receiving Party shall not, by virtue thereof, become employees of such Receiving Party. The Providing Party shall provide prompt written notice to the Receiving Party upon the departure of any key employee who is providing a Scheduled Service.

2.1.5 Cooperation. The Receiving Party of a Scheduled Service shall use, and where applicable shall cause the relevant Designated Recipient to use, its reasonable efforts to (a) cooperate with the Providing Party with respect to the provision of such Scheduled Service and (b) enable the Providing Party to provide such Scheduled Service in accordance with this Agreement. The failure of a Receiving Party to comply with this provision with respect to a Scheduled Service in a way that prevents or materially hinders the relevant Providing Party from providing such Scheduled Service at all or in accordance with the service standard in Section 2.4.1 shall excuse the relevant Providing Party from providing such Scheduled Service, until such failure has been cured.

2.1.6 Permits. Aviva Canada represents and covenants that as of the date hereof, it, AUSA and any of their Affiliates through which either Party intends to provide a Scheduled Service have all material Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which such Party is responsible, and such Permits shall survive and remain effective immediately after Closing Date, and Aviva Canada represents that Schedule 2.1.6 sets forth a complete and accurate list of all such Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services and, except as set forth on Schedule 2.1.6, no such Permits shall expire within sixty (60) days after the Closing Date. If any Permit necessary to provide a Scheduled Service is not in place as of the Closing Date, Aviva Canada shall, at its costs, use its reasonable best efforts to obtain such Permit for the Providing Party or Receiving Party, as applicable, as promptly as practicable. After the Closing Date, each Providing Party shall be responsible for keeping in force all Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Providing Party of a Scheduled Service shall not be obligated to provide such Scheduled Service if the provision of such Scheduled Service would violate any Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics. If a Providing Party is prevented from providing, or causing to be provided, any Scheduled Service because: (a) any necessary Permit is not in place; or (b) providing such Scheduled Service or causing it to be provided would violate any Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics, such Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to (i) notify the Receiving Party of such prevention as soon as practicable, and (ii) provide alternative equivalent services, and Aviva Canada shall pay any additional costs associated with such alternative services; provided that if such alternative equivalent service is required due to a change to Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics occurring after the Closing Date the Receiving Party shall pay any additional costs associated with such alternative. If, after the Closing Date, AUSA changes the manner in which it provides the Scheduled Services such that it or its Affiliates must obtain any additional Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible, AUSA shall be responsible for obtaining such necessary Permits.

2.1.7 Additional Services.

(a) The Parties each have exerted their commercially reasonable efforts to identify and describe the Scheduled Services. However, the Parties acknowledge and agree that:

(i) with respect to Aviva Canada as the Receiving Party, there may be services that (A) prior to the date hereof had been performed by the employees now employed by AUSA or provided pursuant to contracts to which AUSA is now a party (subject to Section 2.7), or assets now owned by AUSA, in each case, for the businesses now being performed by Aviva Canada, and (B) which are not identified on Schedule 1(a); and

(ii) with respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party, there may be services that (A) prior to the date hereof had been performed by the employees now employed by Aviva Canada or provided pursuant to contracts to which Aviva Canada is now a party (subject to Section 2.7), or assets now owned by Aviva Canada, in each case, for the businesses now being performed by AUSA and its Affiliates, and (B) which are not identified on Schedule 1(b). (such services in (i) and (ii), collectively, the "Additional Services").

At any time within ninety (90) days after the Closing Date or, for an Additional Service that has historically been only provided on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis, within fifteen (15) days after the first quarterly, semi-annual or annual period after the Closing Date when such Additional Service would have been provided, each Party may provide written notice to the other Party requesting Additional Services setting forth in reasonable detail a description of the requested Additional Service(s), the proposed start date or dates and the proposed termination date or dates.

(b) With respect to Aviva Canada as the Receiving Party of a potential Additional Service, the Parties agree to cooperate and negotiate in good faith to reach an agreement regarding the provision of Additional Services on terms and conditions that are reasonably acceptable to the Parties (AUSA's consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed); provided that the manner and scope of Additional Service requested by Aviva Canada are substantially identical to the manner and scope of such service as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date. If AUSA no longer has access to necessary systems or personnel to perform the requested Additional Service in the manner and scope requested because AUSA has terminated or removed such systems or personnel for reasons other than to comply with Applicable Law, decree, request or order of any Governmental Entity, or rules of professional ethics, AUSA shall use reasonable best efforts to provide such Services in a reasonable manner and scope; provided that AUSA shall not be held to a service standard for such Services that is higher than as set forth in Section 2.4.1. Where such an agreement is reached, the provision of such Additional Services shall in all respects be subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall be added to Schedule 1(a) by amendment, shall be signed by the Parties, shall constitute an amendment to this Agreement and shall thereafter be considered a Scheduled Service.

(c) With respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party of a potential Additional Service, Aviva Canada shall provide or cause to be provided such Additional Service upon AUSA's written request; provided that the manner and scope of Additional Service requested by AUSA are substantially identical to the manner and scope of such service as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date. The provision of such Additional Services shall in all respects be subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall be considered added to Schedule 1(b), shall constitute an amendment to this Agreement and shall thereafter be considered a Scheduled Service. Unless otherwise agreed by the Parties, the term for such Additional Services shall be the latest Service Term for any other Scheduled Service. With respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party, Additional Services shall also include those services added pursuant to Section 4.5(b) of the SPA.

(d) Notwithstanding Sections 2.1.7(b) and (c), neither Party shall be obligated to provide an Additional Service unless the requesting Party demonstrates that such service, prior to the Closing Date, had been performed by the employees employed immediately after the Closing Date by the Providing Party or provided (i) pursuant to contracts to which the Providing Party was a party or (ii) using assets owned or previously owned by the Providing Party, in each case immediately after the Closing Date, in each case, to the applicable businesses.

2.2 Provision and Migration of Scheduled Services. The Parties will work together to begin or continue the process of Migrating the Scheduled Services from the Providing Party to the Receiving Party, or one or more of its Affiliates, or to a third party (at the Receiving Party's direction) such that the completion of the Migration of the Scheduled Services shall occur, to the extent commercially reasonable, prior to the end of the Service Term. Except as otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties, such Migration shall consist of the procurement by the Receiving Party of replacement services for the Scheduled Services (whether performed internally or by third parties) and not of the transfer of personnel or assets to the Receiving Party or its designee. Each Providing Party shall provide or cause to be provided each of the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible through the expiration of the applicable Service Term, except (a) as automatically modified by earlier termination of a Scheduled Service by the Receiving Party in accordance with this Agreement or (b) as otherwise agreed to by the Parties in writing. Each Providing Party shall also provide the "Migration Assistance Services" as set forth on Schedule 1(a) or 1(b), as applicable, provided that if a Receiving Party requests any Migration Assistance Services other than for Migration directly relating to a Scheduled Service, the Parties agree to cooperate and negotiate in good faith to reach an agreement regarding the provision of such Migration Assistance Services on terms and conditions that are reasonably acceptable to the Parties, the Providing Party's consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. For the avoidance of doubt, Separation activities conducted or caused to be conducted by Aviva Canada shall not be considered "Migration Assistance Services" and shall be conducted by Aviva Canada and its Affiliates without charge.

2.3 Dispute Resolution.

2.3.1 Amicable Resolution. The Parties mutually desire that friendly collaboration will continue between them during the Term. Accordingly, they will try to resolve in an amicable manner all disagreements and misunderstandings connected with their respective rights and obligations under this Agreement, including any amendments hereto. In furtherance thereof, in the event of any dispute or disagreement (a "Dispute") between the Parties in connection with this Agreement (including the standard of performance, delay of performance or non-performance of obligations, or payment or non-payment of Service Fees hereunder), then the Transition Managers shall seek to resolve the Dispute amicably. If the Transition Managers are unable to resolve a Dispute in a timely manner, then either Transition Manager, by written request to the other, may request that such Dispute be referred for resolution to the president (or similar position) of the division implicated by the matter for AUSA and Aviva Canada, which presidents will have 15 days to resolve such Dispute. If the presidents of the relevant divisions for each Party do not agree to a resolution of such Dispute within 15 days after the reference of the matter to them, such presidents of the relevant divisions will refer such matter to the presidents of AUSA and Aviva Canada for final resolution. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 2.3.1, any amendment to the terms of this Agreement may only be effected in accordance with Section 11.7. In the event that the Dispute is not resolved in a friendly manner as set forth in this Section 2.3.1, either Party involved in the Dispute may bring an action regarding such dispute as set forth in Section 11.6.

2.3.2 Non-Exclusive Remedy. Nothing in this Section 2.3 will prevent either Party from immediately seeking injunctive or interim relief (i) in the event of any actual or threatened breach of any of the provisions of ARTICLE VIII, (ii) in the event that the Dispute relates to, or involves a claim of, actual or threatened infringement or violation of intellectual property or (iii) to the extent necessary for either Party to preserve any right. All such actions for injunctive or interim relief shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with Section 11.6. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for breach of this Agreement, and further remedies may be pursued in accordance with Section 2.3.1.

2.3.3 Commencement of Dispute Resolution Procedure. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, each Party, but none of their respective Affiliates, is entitled to commence a dispute resolution procedure under this Agreement pursuant to this Section 2.3, and each Party will cause its respective Affiliates not to commence any dispute resolution procedure in connection with this Agreement other than through such Party as provided in this Section 2.3.3.

2.3.4 Compensation. During the pendency of any Dispute, the Receiving Party shall continue to make all payments due and owing under ARTICLE IV for Scheduled Services, except that the Receiving Party may off-set the amount of Service Fees for Scheduled Services that are the subject of any pending Dispute against any such payments and withhold such amounts from such payments.

2.4 Standard of Services.

2.4.1 General Standard. The Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to perform each Scheduled Service for which it is responsible or to cause such Scheduled Services to be performed for the Receiving Party or its Designated Recipient at a level that is not materially less favorable than past practices of the Providing Party in providing such service to itself and/or its Affiliates as such practices existed during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the Closing. Each Receiving Party understands and agrees that the Providing Party is not in the business of providing transition services to third parties, and under no circumstances shall the Providing Party be held accountable to a higher standard of care than that set forth herein. No service level or similar service standard set forth in Schedule 1(a) or 1(b) shall alter, amend or supplement this service standard, all such service standards shall be of no force or effect and all such service standards shall only be illustrative of past aspirational service standards of the Parties.

2.4.2 Investment Management Services. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Scheduled Services hereunder shall in no event include investment management or advisory services.

2.4.3 Shortfall in Services. If a Receiving Party provides the Providing Party with written notice of the occurrence of any Significant Service Shortfall (as defined below) in the Scheduled Services, as reasonably determined by such Receiving Party in good faith, the Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to rectify such Significant Service Shortfall as soon as reasonably possible. For purposes of this Section 2.4.3, a "Significant Service Shortfall" shall be deemed to have occurred if the timing or quality of performance of one or more Scheduled Services provided by the Providing Party hereunder falls below the standard required by Section 2.4.1 hereof; provided that the Providing Party's obligations under this Agreement shall be relieved to the extent, and for the duration of, any Force Majeure Event as set forth in ARTICLE VI. Any dispute as to whether a Significant Service Shortfall occurred shall be resolved in accordance with Section 2.3.1.

2.4.4 Abandonment. Neither Providing Party shall Abandon (as defined below) any of the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible. The Parties agree that if a Providing Party breaches or threatens to breach the foregoing covenant, the relevant Receiving Party may be irreparably harmed, and such Receiving Party shall be entitled to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction compelling specific performance by the relevant Providing Party of its obligations under this Agreement. "Abandon" or "Abandonment" means the threatened or actual intentional refusal by a Providing Party to provide or perform any material element(s) of the Scheduled Services in breach of its obligations under this Agreement.

2.4.5 Disaster Recovery Program. For as long as Scheduled Services are provided hereunder, each Providing Party shall, and shall cause its relevant Affiliates to, maintain backup, business continuation and disaster recovery plans consistent with past practices as they existed during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the Closing.

2.5 No Agency. Each Party acknowledges that it has entered into this Agreement for independent business reasons. The relationship of the Parties hereunder are those of independent contractors and nothing contained herein shall be deemed to create a joint venture, partnership or any other relationship. Neither Party shall have any power or authority to negotiate or conclude any agreement, or to make any representation or to give any understanding on behalf of the other in any way whatsoever.

2.6 Subcontracting. Each Providing Party may subcontract for the performance of any Scheduled Service to: (a) any Person if the service to be subcontracted is primarily a routine task or function generally considered ancillary to the Scheduled Services that does not require the service provider to interact with any customer or to have access to any Customer Information or Confidential Information of the Receiving Party; (b) an Affiliate of such Providing Party; (c) with respect to AUSA as the Providing Party, the Life Reinsurer or its Affiliates; (d) an existing sub-contractor that was providing such service to the Providing Party and/or the Receiving Party immediately before the Closing Date; or (e) any other Person with the prior written consent of the applicable Receiving Party, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed; provided that no such subcontracting shall relieve such Providing Party from any of its obligations or liabilities hereunder, and such Providing Party shall remain responsible for all obligations or liabilities of such subcontractor with respect to the providing of such service or services as if provided by such Providing Party.

2.7 Consents. Aviva Canada represents as of the Closing Date, that it has obtained all consents, licenses and approvals of any third party (other than a Governmental Party) reasonably necessary for the provision and receipt of all Scheduled Services hereunder as currently contemplated during the Term, and such consents, licenses and approvals shall survive and remain effective immediately after Closing Date. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, if the provision of any Scheduled Service as contemplated by this Agreement requires the consent, license or approval of any third party not previously obtained, Aviva Canada shall use reasonable efforts to obtain as promptly as possible after the Closing Date such consent, license, or approval. Aviva Canada shall be solely responsible for all costs of obtaining such third party consents, licenses or approvals necessary for the provision and receipt of the Scheduled Services as of the Closing Date, including any payments that are required to any third party; provided that if, after the Closing Date, AUSA changes the manner in which it provides the Scheduled Services, or requests that the Scheduled Services it receives be provided in a different manner or scope than such service as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date, such that it, Aviva Canada, or any Designated Recipient of such Scheduled Services must obtain any additional consent, license or approval necessary for the provision or receipt of such Scheduled Services, AUSA shall be responsible for the costs and effort of obtaining such necessary consents, licenses and approvals. For the avoidance of doubt, the fact that AUSA is, after the Closing Date, no longer an Affiliate of Aviva Canada and its Affiliates shall not be considered a request that the Scheduled Services be provided in a manner and scope different from how the services were provided prior to Closing. If the Providing Party reasonably believes that it is unable to provide such Scheduled Service because of a failure to obtain necessary consents, licenses, sublicenses or approvals, the Parties shall cooperate to determine the best alternative approach; provided, however, that under no circumstances shall the performance of such Scheduled Service require the Providing Party or any of its directors (or persons in similar positions), officers, employees or agents to violate any Applicable Laws or breach any contract or other agreement.

2.8 Transition Management. Each Party shall appoint a transition manager (each, a "Transition Manager"). The Transition Managers shall have the authority to represent the position of their respective Parties and to make operational decisions regarding the Parties' performance of this Agreement. Each Transition Manager shall appoint or designate in writing, directed to the other Transition Manager, a person or person to act in his or her stead on day-to-day matters within various functional areas when the Transition Manager is unavailable. Subject to the right to delegate duties to others, the Transition Managers shall serve as the primary contact point for the respective principals with respect to the obligations of the Parties under this Agreement. The Transition Manager's responsibilities shall include: (a) conducting reviews of compliance with the service standard in Section 2.4.1; (b) assuring compliance with this Agreement, including the schedules; (c) resolving disputes under this Agreement; (d) mitigating and resolving technical and business issues; (e) managing the service migration process; and (f) participating in the Dispute resolution process under Section 2.3. A Party may designate a replacement for its Transition Manager by written notice to the other Party. The Transition Manager, and any successor, shall have an educational background, experience, skills and other qualifications necessary to perform his or her assigned duties. Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to authorize either Transition Manager to amend this Agreement in any way.

2.9 Records and Audit. Each Party shall maintain true and correct records of all receipts, invoices, reports and other documents relating to the provision and receipt of Scheduled Services in accordance with their respective standard accounting practices and procedures, consistently applied, and shall provide each other with reasonable access to such records, subject to Applicable Law and the obligations of ARTICLE VIII.

ARTICLE III
TERM AND TRANSITION ASSISTANCE

3.1 Term. The term (the "Term") of this Agreement shall commence as of the date hereof and, subject as to any Scheduled Service to the earlier expiration of the Service Term with respect thereto, shall continue until the earliest of:

3.1.1 the date on which the last of the Scheduled Services under this Agreement is terminated; or

3.1.2 the date on which this Agreement is terminated by mutual agreement of the Parties.

3.2 Extension and Termination.

3.2.1 Extension.

(a) If Aviva Canada is not able by the end of the Service Term to complete its Migration of one or more Scheduled Services that it receives, then upon written notice provided to AUSA at least 30 days prior to the end of the Service Term, Aviva Canada shall have the right to request and cause AUSA to provide such Scheduled Services for up to 90 additional days; provided that Aviva Canada shall pay for all such additional Scheduled Services at a price equal to the applicable Service Fees plus twenty percent (20%) thereof.

(b) If AUSA is not able by the end of the Service Term to complete its Migration of one or more Scheduled Services that it receives, then upon written notice provided to Aviva Canada at least 30 days prior to the end of the Service Term, AUSA shall have the right to request and cause Aviva Canada to provide such Scheduled Services for up to 90 additional days or such longer period set forth in Schedule 1(b); provided that AUSA shall pay for all such additional Scheduled Services at a price equal to the applicable Service Fees plus ten percent (10%) thereof.

3.2.2 Early Termination. If the Receiving Party wishes to terminate a Scheduled Service (or a portion thereof) on a date that is earlier than the end of the Service Term, the Receiving Party shall notify the Providing Party in writing of the proposed date on which such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof) shall terminate (the "Termination Date"), at least 30 days prior to the Termination Date. Effective on the Termination Date, such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof) shall be discontinued and thereafter, this Agreement shall be of no further force and effect with respect to such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof), except as to obligations accrued prior to the Termination Date.

3.3 Return of Materials. After a Scheduled Service is terminated, each Party will return or destroy all materials and property owned by the other Party and materials and property of a proprietary nature involving a Party or its Affiliates relevant solely to the provision or receipt of that Scheduled Service and no longer needed regarding the performance of other Scheduled Services under this Agreement, and will do so (and will cause its Affiliates to do so) within 30 days after the applicable termination.

ARTICLE IV
COMPENSATION AND PAYMENT ARRANGEMENTS FOR SCHEDULED SERVICES

4.1 Compensation for Scheduled Services.

4.1.1 Compensation Generally. In accordance with the payment terms set forth in Section 4.2 and subject to Section 4.1.3, each Party, in its capacity of Receiving Party, agrees to timely pay the other Party, the reasonable fully-burdened, actual costs incurred by such Providing Party and its Affiliates in providing the Scheduled Services such Receiving Party or its Designated Recipients have received hereunder ("Service Costs").

4.1.2 Out of Pocket Costs. Without limiting the foregoing and subject to Section 2.6 and Section 4.1.3, each Party agrees to pay, or reimburse the other Party for its payment of, all Out of Pocket Costs (as defined below) of the other Party in its capacity as Providing Party. For purposes hereof, the term "Out of Pocket Costs" means all reasonable fees, costs or other expenses (including Sales and Service Taxes) payable by a Providing Party or its Affiliates to third parties that are not Affiliates of such Providing Party in connection with the Scheduled Services provided by such Providing Party hereunder, other than the cost of Permits necessary for the Providing Party or its Affiliates to provide the Scheduled Services. Each Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to: (a) not incur Out of Pocket Costs that are inconsistent with the type of Out of Pocket Costs incurred under past practices with the applicable Scheduled Services without the prior written consent of the Receiving Party; and (b) minimize the amount of its Out of Pocket Costs, consistent with providing the Scheduled Services in accordance with the standard set forth in Section 2.4.1.

4.1.3 Cap on Service Fees. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Service Fees payable by AUSA for: (i) all Scheduled Services in the aggregate provided to AUSA and its Designated Recipients shall not exceed $180,000[1] in any month during the Term (the "Monthly Cap"); and (ii) each Scheduled Service provided to AUSA or its Designated Recipient in a month shall not exceed the "Maximum Monthly Charge" for such Scheduled Services set forth in Schedule 1(b) (each, a "Maximum Monthly Charge"). When an Additional Service is added to Schedule 1(b) as set forth in Section 2.1.7(b), the parties shall agree upon a reasonable Maximum Monthly Charge for such Additional Service which shall apply only to the Service Costs for such Additional Service. Out-of-Pocket Costs incurred by

[1] NTD: If the services set forth on Exhibit B as of signing of the SPA are removed from the final Schedule 1(b) at Closing, the Monthly Cap shall be reduced by the amount of the estimated fee for such removed service, such that the sum of the Maximum Monthly Charges equals $40,000 less than the Monthly Cap.

Aviva Canada or its Affiliates with respect to any Additional Service, and reimbursable by AUSA, shall be excluded from, and shall not be subject to, the Monthly Cap and the applicable Maximum Monthly Charge. When a Scheduled Service is terminated or expires pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the Monthly Cap shall reduce by the amount of the Maximum Monthly Charge associated with such Scheduled Service. Any "Migration Assistance Services" identified on Schedule 1(a) shall be excluded from, and shall not be subject to the limits set forth in this Section. If AUSA requests that a Scheduled Service be provided in a manner or scope that is not substantially identical to the manner and scope as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date, and Aviva Canada agrees to such change to the Scheduled Service, any additional Service Fees arising or resulting from such change shall not be covered by the applicable Maximum Monthly Charge and the Monthly Cap.

4.1.4 Taxes.

(a) Each Receiving Party will pay and be liable for all sales, goods or services, excise, privilege, value added tax ("VAT"), lease, use, transfer, consumption or similar gross receipts based taxes (the "Sales and Service Taxes") imposed on Scheduled Services provided by the Providing Party. Such taxes will be payable by each Receiving Party to the Providing Party in the manner set forth in Section 4.2 or as otherwise mutually agreed in writing by the Parties and under the terms of the Applicable Law which governs the relevant Sales and Service Tax. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, if the Receiving Party is exempt from liability for such taxes, the Receiving Party shall provide the Providing Party with a certificate (or other proof), which certificate or proof is reasonably acceptable to the Providing Party, evidencing an exemption from liability for such Sales and Service Taxes. The Receiving Party's obligation to pay Sales and Service Taxes under this Section 4.1.4 shall be subject to the receipt of a valid and customary invoice or other document under the terms of Applicable Law for each Sales and Service Tax. The Providing Party shall be responsible for any losses (including any deficiency, interest and penalties) imposed as a result of a failure to timely remit any Sales and Service Taxes to the applicable tax authority to the extent the Receiving Party timely remits such Sales and Service Taxes to the Providing Party or the Receiving Party's failure to do so results from the Providing Party's failure to timely charge or provide notice of such Sales and Service Taxes to the Receiving Party. The Receiving Party shall be entitled to any refund on any Sales and Service Taxes paid in excess of liability as determined at a later date. Each Party shall promptly notify the other Party of any deficiency claim or similar notice by a taxing authority with respect to Sales and Service Taxes payable under this Agreement, and of any pending tax audit or other proceeding that could lead to the imposition of Sales and Services Taxes payable under this Agreement. The Receiving Party shall have the sole right to control, contest, resolve and defend against any matters relating to Sales and Services Taxes for which it is responsible pursuant to this Section.

(b) Each Party shall pay and be responsible for its own personal property taxes and taxes based on its own income or profits or assets. Payments for Scheduled Services or other amounts under this Agreement shall be made net of withholding taxes, provided however that if a Providing Party believes that a reduced rate of withholding applies or the Providing Party is exempt from withholding, the relevant Receiving Party shall only be required to apply such reduced rate of withholding or not withhold if such Providing Party provides the relevant Receiving Party with evidence satisfactory to the Receiving Party that a reduced rate of or no withholding is required. Satisfactory evidence for this purpose may include rulings from, or other correspondence with tax authorities and tax opinions rendered by qualified persons satisfactory to such Receiving Party, to the extent reasonably requested by such Receiving Party. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Aviva Canada shall provide AUSA with executed originals of Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN certifying it is entitled to claim treaty benefits with respect to amounts to be paid under this Agreement. The Receiving Party shall promptly remit any amounts withheld to the appropriate taxing authority and in the event that such Receiving Party receives a refund of any amounts previously withheld from payments to the relevant Providing Party and remitted, such Receiving Party shall surrender such refund to such Providing Party.

(c) With respect to each provision in this Section 4.1.4, the Receiving Party and the Providing Party shall reasonably cooperate with each other and take any action to provide or make available any information reasonably requested (and with a sufficient level of detail) in order to minimize any Sales and Service Taxes payable with respect to the Scheduled Services.

4.2 Payment Terms. Each Party in its capacity as Providing Party shall invoice the other Party on a monthly basis in arrears for Service Fees listing separately, to the extent practicable, any applicable Sales and Service Taxes. Each monthly invoice shall list all Scheduled Services and Service Fees in the format of Schedule 4.2. Payment in full of the amounts so invoiced or noticed shall be made by electronic funds transfer or other method satisfactory to the Parties, within 30 days after the date of receipt of the monthly invoice. Should a Party dispute any portion of the amount due from it on any invoice or require any adjustment to an invoiced amount, then such Party shall notify the other Party in writing of the nature and basis of the dispute or adjustment as soon as reasonably possible using, if necessary, the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 2.3. The Parties shall use their reasonable best efforts to resolve the dispute prior to the payment due date. All amounts required to be paid pursuant to this Agreement shall be paid and payable in U.S. dollars.

INDEMNIFICATION

5.1 Indemnification by AUSA. AUSA shall indemnify and hold harmless Aviva Canada and each of its Affiliates (each, an "Aviva Canada Indemnified Person"), from any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent related to, resulting from or arising out of Third-Party Claims relating to, resulting from or arising out of: (a) any fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct by or on behalf of AUSA or any of its Affiliates in providing any of the Scheduled Services that AUSA is obligated to provide hereunder; or (b) any material breach by AUSA of any of its obligations under this Agreement; provided that, AUSA shall have no obligation to indemnify or hold harmless any Aviva Canada Indemnified Person to the extent AUSA's or its Affiliates' acts or omissions giving rise to the Indemnifiable Losses were performed during the period of thirty (30) days immediately after the Closing Date, in a manner consistent with the manner in which the Scheduled Services were performed during the twelve (12) month period prior to the date hereof.

5.2 Indemnification by Aviva Canada. Aviva Canada shall indemnify and hold harmless AUSA and each of its Affiliates (each, an "AUSA Indemnified Person") from any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent related to, resulting from or arising out of Third-Party Claims relating to, resulting from or arising out of: (a) any fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct by or on behalf of Aviva Canada or any of its Affiliates in providing any of the Scheduled Services that Aviva Canada is obligated to provide hereunder; or (b) any material breach by Aviva Canada of any of its obligations under this Agreement.

5.2.1 Indemnification Procedures.

(a) If any Indemnitee receives notice of assertion or commencement of any Third-Party Claim against such Indemnitee in respect of which an Indemnitor may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor reasonably prompt written notice thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim; provided, however, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation or otherwise affect the rights of any Indemnitee hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay with respect to such claim. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third-Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third-Party Claim and, if it so chooses, to assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. Should the Indemnitor so elect to assume the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor shall not as long as it conducts such defense be liable to the Indemnitee for legal expenses subsequently incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense; provided, however, that if the Indemnitee determines in good faith that the representation of the Indemnitee and the Indemnitor by the same counsel creates an actual or potential conflict of interest for such counsel, the reasonable fees and expenses of one counsel employed by the Indemnitee with respect to such matter shall be considered Indemnifiable Losses hereunder. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof (other than during any period in which the Indemnitee shall have not yet given notice of the Third-Party Claim as provided above). If the Indemnitor chooses to defend any Third-Party Claim, the parties hereto shall cooperate in the defense thereof. Such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information which are relevant to such Third-Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise or discharge, such Third-Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned). If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, admit any liability with respect to or discharge a Third-Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned; provided, however, that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise or discharge such a Third-Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a complete and unconditional release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third-Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third-Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third-Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third-Party Claim.

FORCE MAJEURE

If performance by a Party of any terms or provisions hereof shall be delayed or prevented, in whole or in part, because of or related to compliance with any Applicable Law, decree, request or order of any Governmental Entity, or because of riots, war, public disturbance, fire, explosion, storm, flood, acts of God, acts of terrorism, or for any other reason which is not within the control of the Providing Party and which by the exercise of reasonable diligence the Party is unable to prevent (each, a "Force Majeure Event"), then (i) the Party shall give written notice to the other Party, (ii) the Parties shall promptly confer, in good faith, to agree upon equitable, reasonable action to minimize the impact, on both Parties, of such conditions, and (iii) the affected Party shall be excused from its obligations hereunder during the period such Force Majeure Event continues, and no liability shall attach against it on account thereof. The affected Party shall not be excused from performance if it fails to use reasonable diligence to remedy the situation and remove the cause and effect of the Force Majeure Event.

ARTICLE VII
REMEDIES AND SURVIVAL

7.1 Financial Remedies Upon Material Breach. In the event of material breach of any provision of this Agreement by a Party, the non-defaulting Party shall give the defaulting Party written notice thereof, and:

7.1.1 If such breach arises from a Party's non-payment of an amount that is not in dispute, such Party shall cure the breach within ten (10) calendar days after receipt of written notice of such non-payment. If such Party does not cure such breach by such date, then such Party shall pay the Party to whom the amount is due the undisputed amount plus an amount of interest equal to four percent (4%) per annum above the "prime rate" as announced in the "Money Rates" section of the most recent edition of the Eastern Edition of The Wall Street Journal, which interest rate shall change as and when the "prime rate" changes. The Parties agree that this rate of interest constitutes reasonable liquidated damages and not an unenforceable penalty.

7.1.2 If such breach is for any other material failure to perform in accordance with this Agreement, the defaulting Party shall cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days of the date of such notice. The defaulting Party shall remain liable for any damages relating to such breach, subject to the limits set forth in Section 7.2.

7.1.3 In the case of any such breach that is not cured in accordance with Sections 7.1.1 and 7.1.2 above, then the non-defaulting Party shall also have the right to terminate the Scheduled Service(s) to which such breach relates, upon written notice thereof to the defaulting Party.

7.2 Limitation of Liability. The maximum liability of any Party hereto to the other Party and such other Party's Affiliates or Designated Recipients hereunder shall not exceed U.S. $400,000.00, except that no cap shall apply: (a) to claims based on a Party's willful misconduct or fraud; (b) to claims based on a Party's failure to pay compensation under Section 4.1 hereunder when due; (c) to claims based on a breach of ARTICLE VIII hereunder; or (d) claims for indemnity under ARTICLE V hereunder. Notwithstanding anything else in this Agreement, the Parties, on behalf of themselves and all other indemnitees, waive any claim to any punitive or consequential damages against each other, except: (i) to the extent awarded to a third party in connection with a third-party claim; and (ii) for claims based on a breach of ARTICLE VIII hereunder.

7.3 Survival Upon Expiration or Termination. The provisions of Sections 2.5 and 3.3, and Articles IV, V, VII, VIII, IX, X and XI shall survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement unless otherwise agreed to in writing by both Parties.

ARTICLE VIII
CONFIDENTIALITY

8.1 Confidential Information. Each Party covenants that it will (a) accord the Confidential Information (as defined below) of the other party the same degree of confidential treatment that it accords its similar proprietary and confidential information, (b) not use such Confidential Information for any purpose other than those stated in this Agreement, and (c) not disclose such Confidential Information to any Person unless disclosure to such Person is made in the ordinary course of such Party's conduct of its business and is subject to protections comparable to those such Party would apply in connection with a comparable disclosure of its own Confidential Information. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, a party may disclose Confidential Information of the other Party, without liability for such disclosure, to the extent the disclosing party demonstrates that such disclosure is (v) required to be made pursuant to Applicable Law, government authority, duly authorized subpoena, or court order, (w) required to be made to a court or other tribunal in connection with the enforcement of such Party's rights under this Agreement or to contest claims between the Parties, (x) made to such Party's service providers or Affiliates or, with respect to client information and client account information or records, the applicable current or then-existing client, (y) with respect to Intellectual Property, made to such Party's clients or prospective clients in connection with marketing activities or servicing of client accounts, in each case for clauses (x) and (y) subject to a confidentiality agreement that includes protections no less restrictive than those set forth herein, or (z) approved by the prior written consent of the other Party. Each Party will promptly notify the other Party, if it receives a subpoena or otherwise becomes aware of events that may legally require it to disclose Confidential Information of the other Party, and will cooperate with the other Party (at the other Party's expense) to obtain an order quashing or otherwise modifying the scope of such subpoena or legal requirement, in an effort to prevent the disclosure of such Confidential Information. For purposes of this Agreement, "Confidential Information" means all confidential or proprietary information and documentation of either Party made available to the other Party under this Agreement that is either identified in writing as confidential or which the receiving Party should reasonably have recognized at the time of disclosure as being of a confidential nature.

8.2 Unauthorized Acts. Each Party shall (a) notify the other Party promptly of any unauthorized possession, use, or knowledge of any Confidential Information by any person which shall become known to it, any attempt by any person to gain possession of Confidential Information without authorization or any attempt to use or acquire knowledge of any Confidential Information without authorization (collectively, "Unauthorized Access"), (b) promptly furnish to the other Party full details of the Unauthorized Access and use reasonable efforts to assist the other Party in investigating or preventing the reoccurrence of any Unauthorized Access, (c) cooperate with the other Party in any litigation and investigation against third parties deemed necessary by such Party to protect its proprietary rights, and (d) use commercially reasonable efforts to prevent a recurrence of any such Unauthorized Access.

SYSTEM ACCESS AND CONSUMER PRIVACY

9.1 System Access. If the Providing Party and/or the Receiving Party are at any time given access (each in such capacity, a "Guest User") to the other's computer system(s) or software (collectively, "Systems") in connection with the performance of this Agreement, such Guest User shall comply with the other party's (each in such capacity, a "Host") Systems security policies, procedures and requirements which the Host makes available to the Guest User in writing from time to time.

9.2 Consumer Privacy. In providing the Scheduled Services, each Providing Party shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, comply with Applicable Law with respect to privacy or data security relative to Customer Information (as defined below), and shall maintain the information security program in place prior to the date hereof. "Customer Information" means all tangible and intangible information provided or disclosed hereunder about present or former present or former clients, life insurance or annuity policy holders, annuitants, or other beneficiaries (collectively, hereinafter "Customers") or potential Customers of any party or its Affiliates, including name, address, telephone number, email address, account or policy information, and any list, description, or other grouping of Customers or potential Customers, and any medical records or other medical information of such Customers or potential Customers and any other type of information deemed "nonpublic" and protected by privacy laws and any other Applicable Law.

DISCLAIMER OF REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

Except for the representations, warranties and covenants expressly made in this Agreement, each Party has not made and does not hereby make any express or implied representations, warranties or covenants, statutory or otherwise, of any nature, including with respect to the warranties of merchantability, quality, quantity, suitability or fitness for a particular purpose or the results obtained by the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible as Providing Party. All other representations, warranties, and covenants, express or implied, statutory, common law or otherwise, of any nature, including with respect to the warranties of merchantability, quality, quantity, suitability or fitness for a particular purpose or the results obtained by the Scheduled Services are hereby disclaimed by each Party .

ARTICLE XI
MISCELLANEOUS

11.1 Notices. All notices, requests, claims, demands and other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be delivered personally, by overnight courier (providing proof of delivery) or by email; provided, that the email is promptly confirmed, to the Parties at the following addresses (or at such other address for a Party as shall be specified by like notice). Any such notice shall be deemed given when so delivered personally, by courier or by overnight delivery service or sent by email (and immediately after transmission by such email receipt of which has been confirmed by telephone by the sender) or, if mailed, four (4) Business Days after the mailing as follows:

11.2 Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to a Section, Exhibit or Schedule, such reference shall be to a Section of, or an Exhibit or Schedule to, this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. The table of contents and headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation" whether or not such words actually appear thereafter. Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the parties hereto and shall not be construed by any Governmental Entity against either party by virtue of the fact that such party was the drafting party.

11.3 Entire Agreement; Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement (including all Exhibits and Schedules hereto), the SPA and the other documents executed in connection with the SPA constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior or contemporaneous agreements and understandings, negotiations, inducements or conditions, express or implied, oral or written of the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof. Except as set forth in ARTICLE V with respect to Aviva Canada Indemnified Persons and AUSA Indemnified Persons, this Agreement is not intended to and shall not confer upon any Person other than the Parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

11.4 Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

11.5 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise (other than by operation of law in a merger), by either of the Parties without the prior written consent of the other Party, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, and any such assignment that is not consented to shall be null and void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the Parties and their respective successors and assigns.

11.6 Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

11.6.1 Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such action, suit or other proceeding is improper; provided that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 11.1 of this Agreement, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

11.6.2 EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 11.6.

11.7 Severability; Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

11.7.1 Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under Applicable Law, but if any provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect under any Applicable Law in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability will not affect any other provision or portion of any provision in such jurisdiction, and this Agreement will be reformed, construed and enforced in such jurisdiction as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or portion of any provision had never been contained herein.

11.7.2 Except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement, this Agreement may be amended or a provision hereof waived only by a written instrument signed by each of Buyer and Seller in the case of an amendment or, in the case of a waiver, by the party hereto entitled to make such waiver.

11.7.3 No delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any waiver on the part of any party of any right, power or privilege, nor any single or partial exercise of any such right, power or privilege, preclude any further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other such right, power or privilege.

11.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the Parties and delivered to the other Party. Each Party may deliver its signed counterpart of this Agreement to the other Party by means of electronic mail or any other electronic medium utilizing image scan technology, and such delivery will have the same legal effect as hand delivery of an originally executed counterpart.

ARTICLE II
SCHEDULED SERVICES

2.1 Scheduled Services.

2.1.1 Services.

(a) AUSA, directly or through its Affiliates, and their respective employees, agents or contractors, shall provide or cause to be provided to AIA and certain of its Affiliates all services set forth on Schedule 1(a) from and after the Closing Date for the duration set forth in Schedule 1(a). AIA shall pay, or cause to be paid, the Service Fees as set forth in Section 4.1 to Aviva USA for providing the services set forth on Schedule 1(a), or causing such services to be provided.

(b) AIA, directly or through its Affiliates, and their respective employees, agents or contractors, shall provide or cause to be provided to AUSA and certain of its Affiliates all services set forth on Schedule 1(b) from and after the Closing Date for the duration set forth in Schedule 1(b). Aviva USA shall pay, or cause to be paid, the Service Fees as set forth in Section 4.1 to AIA for providing the services set forth on Schedule 1(b), or causing such services to be provided.

(c) The services set forth on Schedules 1(a) and 1(b) are hereinafter referred to as the "Scheduled Services", and the duration for which the Scheduled Services are to be provided as set forth in Schedules 1(a) and 1(b) is the "Service Term". As used herein, with respect to each Scheduled Service the "Providing Party" shall mean the Party responsible for providing such Scheduled Service and the "Receiving Party" shall mean the Party entitled to receive, or whose Designated Recipient is entitled to receive, such Scheduled Service. Schedules 1(a) and 1(b) sets forth, for each Scheduled Service, the Providing Party and the Receiving Party and, where appropriate, the Affiliate or permitted third party designated by the Receiving Party to receive such Service (the "Designated Recipient"). The Receiving Party, in its sole discretion, may change any Affiliate designated as the Designated Recipient for a Scheduled Service from the Person currently so designated in Schedule 1(a), provided that any additional cost to the Providing Party caused by such change shall be borne by the Receiving Party. With respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party, AUSA may designate the Life Reinsurer or any of its Affiliates as a Designated Recipient.

2.1.2 Direction of Employees. Each Party shall be solely responsible for all salary, employment, payroll and other benefits of and liabilities relating to, and compliance with immigration and visa laws and requirements in respect of its personnel assigned to perform the Scheduled Services for which such Party is the Providing Party. In performing their respective duties hereunder, all personnel of a Party engaged in providing Scheduled Services shall be under the direction, control and supervision of such Party; and such Party shall have the sole right to exercise all authority with respect to the employment (including termination of employment), assignment and compensation of such personnel. The employees of a Providing Party engaged in providing Scheduled Services to a Receiving Party shall not, by virtue thereof, become employees of such Receiving Party. The Providing Party shall provide prompt written notice to the Receiving Party upon the departure of any key employee who is providing a Scheduled Service.

2.1.3 Cooperation. The Receiving Party of a Scheduled Service shall use, and where applicable shall cause the relevant Designated Recipient to use, its reasonable efforts to (a) cooperate with the Providing Party with respect to the provision of such Scheduled Service and (b) enable the Providing Party to provide such Scheduled Service in accordance with this Agreement. The failure of a Receiving Party to comply with this provision with respect to a Scheduled Service in a way that prevents or materially hinders the relevant Providing Party from providing such Scheduled Service at all or in accordance with the service standard in Section 2.4.1 shall excuse the relevant Providing Party from providing such Scheduled Service, until such failure has been cured.

2.1.4 Permits. AIA represents and covenants that as of the date hereof, it, AUSA and any of their Affiliates through which either Party intends to provide a Scheduled Service have all material Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which such Party is responsible, and such Permits shall survive and remain effective immediately after Closing Date, and AIA represents that Schedule 2.1.4 sets forth a complete and accurate list of all such Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services and, except as set forth on Schedule 2.1.4, no such Permits shall expire within sixty (60) days after the Closing Date. If any Permit necessary to provide a Scheduled Service is not in place as of the Closing Date, AIA shall, at its costs, use its reasonable best efforts to obtain such Permit for the Providing Party or Receiving Party, as applicable, as promptly as practicable. After the Closing Date, each Providing Party shall be responsible for keeping in force all Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Providing Party of a Scheduled Service shall not be obligated to provide such Scheduled Service if the provision of such Scheduled Service would violate any Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics. If a Providing Party is prevented from providing, or causing to be provided, any Scheduled Service because: (a) any necessary Permit is not in place; or (b) providing such Scheduled Service or causing it to be provided would violate any Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics, such Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to (i) notify the Receiving Party of such prevention as soon as practicable, and (ii) provide alternative equivalent services, and AIA shall pay any additional costs associated with such alternative services; provided that if such alternative equivalent service is required due to a change to Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics occurring after the Closing Date the Receiving Party shall pay any additional costs associated with such alternative. If, after the Closing Date, AUSA changes the manner in which it provides the Scheduled Services such that it or its Affiliates must obtain any additional Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible, AUSA shall be responsible for obtaining such necessary Permits.

2.1.5 Additional Services.

(a) The Parties each have exerted their commercially reasonable efforts to identify and describe the Scheduled Services. However, the Parties acknowledge and agree that:

(i) with respect to AIA as the Receiving Party, there may be services that (A) prior to the date hereof had been performed by the employees now employed by AUSA or provided pursuant to contracts to which AUSA is now a party (subject to Section 2.7), or assets now owned by AUSA, in each case, for the businesses now being performed by AIA, and (B) which are not identified on Schedule 1(a); and

(ii) with respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party, there may be services that (A) prior to the date hereof had been performed by the employees now employed by AIA or provided pursuant to contracts to which AIA is now a party (subject to Section 2.7), or assets now owned by AIA, in each case, for the businesses now being performed by AUSA and its Affiliates, and (B) which are not identified on Schedule 1(b). (such services in (i) and (ii), collectively, the "Additional Services").

At any time within ninety (90) days after the Closing Date or, for an Additional Service that has historically been only provided on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis, within fifteen (15) days after the first quarterly, semi-annual or annual period after the Closing Date when such Additional Service would have been provided, each Party may provide written notice to the other Party requesting Additional Services setting forth in reasonable detail a description of the requested Additional Service(s), the proposed start date or dates and the proposed termination date or dates.

(b) With respect to AIA as the Receiving Party of a potential Additional Service, the Parties agree to cooperate and negotiate in good faith to reach an agreement regarding the provision of Additional Services on terms and conditions that are reasonably acceptable to the Parties (AUSA's consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed); provided that the manner and scope of Additional Service requested by AIA are substantially identical to the manner and scope of such service as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date. If AUSA no longer has access to necessary systems or personnel to perform the requested Additional Service in the manner and scope requested because AUSA has terminated or removed such systems or personnel for reasons other than to comply with Applicable Law, decree, request or order of any Governmental Entity, or rules of professional ethics, AUSA shall use reasonable best efforts to provide such Services in a reasonable manner and scope; provided that AUSA shall not be held to a service standard for such Services that is higher than as set forth in Section 2.4.1. Where such an agreement is reached, the provision of such Additional Services shall in all respects be subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall be added to Schedule 1(a) by amendment, shall be signed by the Parties, shall constitute an amendment to this Agreement and shall thereafter be considered a Scheduled Service.

(c) With respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party of a potential Additional Service, AIA shall provide or cause to be provided such Additional Service upon AUSA's written request; provided that the manner and scope of Additional Service requested by AUSA are substantially identical to the manner and scope of such service as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date. The provision of such Additional Services shall in all respects be subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall be considered added to Schedule 1(b), shall constitute an amendment to this Agreement and shall thereafter be considered a Scheduled Service. Unless otherwise agreed by the Parties, the term for such Additional Services shall be the latest Service Term for any other Scheduled Service. With respect to AUSA as the Receiving Party, Additional Services shall also include those services added pursuant to Section 4.5(b) of the SPA.

(d) Notwithstanding Sections 2.1.5(b) and (c), neither Party shall be obligated to provide an Additional Service unless the requesting Party demonstrates that such service, prior to the Closing Date, had been performed by the employees employed immediately after the Closing Date by the Providing Party or provided (i) pursuant to contracts to which the Providing Party was a party or (ii) using assets owned or previously owned by the Providing Party, in each case immediately after the Closing Date, in each case, to the applicable businesses.

2.2 Provision and Migration of Scheduled Services. The Parties will work together to begin or continue the process of Migrating the Scheduled Services from the Providing Party to the Receiving Party, or one or more of its Affiliates, or to a third party (at the Receiving Party's direction) such that the completion of the Migration of the Scheduled Services shall occur, to the extent commercially reasonable, prior to the end of the Service Term. Except as otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties, such Migration shall consist of the procurement by the Receiving Party of replacement services for the Scheduled Services (whether performed internally or by third parties) and not of the transfer of personnel or assets to the Receiving Party or its designee. Each Providing Party shall provide or cause to be provided each of the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible through the expiration of the applicable Service Term, except (a) as automatically modified by earlier termination of a Scheduled Service by the Receiving Party in accordance with this Agreement or (b) as otherwise agreed to by the Parties in writing. Each Providing Party shall also provide the "Migration Assistance Services" as set forth on Schedule 1(a) or 1(b), as applicable, provided that if a Receiving Party requests any Migration Assistance Services other than for Migration directly relating to a Scheduled Service, the Parties agree to cooperate and negotiate in good faith to reach an agreement regarding the provision of such Migration Assistance Services on terms and conditions that are reasonably acceptable to the Parties, the Providing Party's consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. For the avoidance of doubt, Separation activities conducted or caused to be conducted by AIA shall not be considered "Migration Assistance Services" and shall be conducted by AIA and its Affiliates without charge.

2.3 Dispute Resolution.

2.3.1 Amicable Resolution. The Parties mutually desire that friendly collaboration will continue between them during the Term. Accordingly, they will try to resolve in an amicable manner all disagreements and misunderstandings connected with their respective rights and obligations under this Agreement, including any amendments hereto. In furtherance thereof, in the event of any dispute or disagreement (a "Dispute") between the Parties in connection with this Agreement (including the standard of performance, delay of performance or non-performance of obligations, or payment or non-payment of Service Fees hereunder), then the Transition Managers shall seek to resolve the Dispute amicably. If the Transition Managers are unable to resolve a Dispute in a timely manner, then either Transition Manager, by written request to the other, may request that such Dispute be referred for resolution to the president (or similar position) of the division implicated by the matter for Aviva USA and AIA, which presidents will have 15 days to resolve such Dispute. If the presidents of the relevant divisions for each Party do not agree to a resolution of such Dispute within 15 days after the reference of the matter to them, such presidents of the relevant divisions will refer such matter to the presidents of Aviva USA and AIA for final resolution. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 2.3.1, any amendment to the terms of this Agreement may only be effected in accordance with Section 11.7. In the event that the Dispute is not resolved in a friendly manner as set forth in this Section 2.3.1, either Party involved in the Dispute may bring an action regarding such dispute as set forth in Section 11.6.

2.3.2 Non-Exclusive Remedy. Nothing in this Section 2.3 will prevent either Party from immediately seeking injunctive or interim relief (i) in the event of any actual or threatened breach of any of the provisions of ARTICLE VIII, (ii) in the event that the Dispute relates to, or involves a claim of, actual or threatened infringement or violation of intellectual property or (iii) to the extent necessary for either Party to preserve any right. All such actions for injunctive or interim relief shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with Section 11.6. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for breach of this Agreement, and further remedies may be pursued in accordance with Section 2.3.1.

2.3.3 Commencement of Dispute Resolution Procedure. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, each Party, but none of their respective Affiliates, is entitled to commence a dispute resolution procedure under this Agreement pursuant to this Section 2.3, and each Party will cause its respective Affiliates not to commence any dispute resolution procedure in connection with this Agreement other than through such Party as provided in this Section 2.3.3.

2.3.4 Compensation. During the pendency of any Dispute, the Receiving Party shall continue to make all payments due and owing under ARTICLE IV for Scheduled Services, except that the Receiving Party may off-set the amount of Service Fees for Scheduled Services that are the subject of any pending Dispute against any such payments and withhold such amounts from such payments.

2.4 Standard of Services.

2.4.1 General Standard. The Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to perform each Scheduled Service for which it is responsible or to cause such Scheduled Services to be performed for the Receiving Party or its Designated Recipient at a level that is not materially less favorable than past practices of the Providing Party in providing such service to itself and/or its Affiliates as such practices existed during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the Closing. Each Receiving Party understands and agrees that the Providing Party is not in the business of providing transition services to third parties, and under no circumstances shall the Providing Party be held accountable to a higher standard of care than that set forth herein. No service level or similar service standard set forth in Schedule 1(a) or 1(b) shall alter, amend or supplement this service standard, all such service standards shall be of no force or effect and all such service standards shall only be illustrative of past aspirational service standards of the Parties.

2.4.2 Investment Management Services. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Scheduled Services hereunder shall in no event include investment management or advisory services [other than the "Derivative Management" services set forth in Schedule 1(a).][1]

2.4.3 Shortfall in Services. If a Receiving Party provides the Providing Party with written notice of the occurrence of any Significant Service Shortfall (as defined below) in the Scheduled Services, as reasonably determined by such Receiving Party in good faith, the Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to rectify such Significant Service Shortfall as soon as reasonably possible. For purposes of this Section 2.4.3, a "Significant Service Shortfall" shall be deemed to have occurred if the timing or quality of performance of one or more Scheduled Services provided by the Providing Party hereunder falls below the standard required by Section 2.4.1 hereof; provided that the Providing Party's obligations under this Agreement shall be relieved to the extent, and for the duration of, any Force Majeure Event as set forth in ARTICLE VI. Any dispute as to whether a Significant Service Shortfall occurred shall be resolved in accordance with Section 2.3.1.

2.4.4 Abandonment. Neither Providing Party shall Abandon (as defined below) any of the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible. The Parties agree that if a Providing Party breaches or threatens to breach the foregoing covenant, the relevant Receiving Party may be irreparably harmed, and such Receiving Party shall be entitled to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction compelling specific performance by the relevant Providing Party of its obligations under this Agreement. "Abandon" or "Abandonment" means the threatened or actual intentional refusal by a Providing Party to provide or perform any material element(s) of the Scheduled Services in breach of its obligations under this Agreement.

[1] NTD: Remove if such services are not on Schedule 1(a) at Closing.

2.4.5 Disaster Recovery Program. For as long as Scheduled Services are provided hereunder, each Providing Party shall, and shall cause its relevant Affiliates to, maintain backup, business continuation and disaster recovery plans consistent with past practices as they existed during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the Closing.

2.5 No Agency. Each Party acknowledges that it has entered into this Agreement for independent business reasons. The relationship of the Parties hereunder are those of independent contractors and nothing contained herein shall be deemed to create a joint venture, partnership or any other relationship. Neither Party shall have any power or authority to negotiate or conclude any agreement, or to make any representation or to give any understanding on behalf of the other in any way whatsoever.

2.6 Subcontracting. Each Providing Party may subcontract for the performance of any Scheduled Service to: (a) any Person if the service to be subcontracted is primarily a routine task or function generally considered ancillary to the Scheduled Services that does not require the service provider to interact with any customer or to have access to any Customer Information or Confidential Information of the Receiving Party; (b) an Affiliate of such Providing Party; (c) with respect to AUSA as the Providing Party, the Life Reinsurer or its Affiliates; (d) an existing sub-contractor that was providing such service to the Providing Party and/or the Receiving Party immediately before the Closing Date; or (e) any other Person with the prior written consent of the applicable Receiving Party, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed; provided that no such subcontracting shall relieve such Providing Party from any of its obligations or liabilities hereunder, and such Providing Party shall remain responsible for all obligations or liabilities of such subcontractor with respect to the providing of such service or services as if provided by such Providing Party.

2.7 Consents. AIA represents as of the Closing Date, that it has obtained all consents, licenses and approvals of any third party (other than a Governmental Party) reasonably necessary for the provision and receipt of all Scheduled Services hereunder as currently contemplated during the Term, and such consents, licenses and approvals shall survive and remain effective immediately after Closing Date. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, if the provision of any Scheduled Service as contemplated by this Agreement requires the consent, license or approval of any third party not previously obtained, AIA shall use reasonable efforts to obtain as promptly as possible after the Closing Date such consent, license, or approval. AIA shall be solely responsible for all costs of obtaining such third party consents, licenses or approvals necessary for the provision and receipt of the Scheduled Services as of the Closing Date, including any payments that are required to any third party; provided that if, after the Closing Date, AUSA changes the manner in which it provides the Scheduled Services, or requests that the Scheduled Services it receives be provided in a different manner or scope than such service as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date, such that it, AIA, or any Designated Recipient of such Scheduled Services must obtain any additional consent, license or approval necessary for the provision or receipt of such Scheduled Services, AUSA shall be responsible for the costs and effort of obtaining such necessary consents, licenses and approvals. For the avoidance of doubt, the fact that AUSA is, after the Closing Date, no longer an Affiliate of AIA and its Affiliates shall not be considered a request that the Scheduled Services be provided in a manner and scope different from how the services were provided prior to Closing. If the Providing Party reasonably believes that it is unable to provide such Scheduled Service because of a failure to obtain necessary consents, licenses, sublicenses or approvals, the Parties shall cooperate to determine the best alternative approach; provided, however, that under no circumstances shall the performance of such Scheduled Service require the Providing Party or any of its directors (or persons in similar positions), officers, employees or agents to violate any Applicable Laws or breach any contract or other agreement.

2.8 Transition Management. Each Party shall appoint a transition manager (each, a "Transition Manager"). The Transition Managers shall have the authority to represent the position of their respective Parties and to make operational decisions regarding the Parties' performance of this Agreement. Each Transition Manager shall appoint or designate in writing, directed to the other Transition Manager, a person or person to act in his or her stead on day-to-day matters within various functional areas when the Transition Manager is unavailable. Subject to the right to delegate duties to others, the Transition Managers shall serve as the primary contact point for the respective principals with respect to the obligations of the Parties under this Agreement. The Transition Manager's responsibilities shall include: (a) conducting reviews of compliance with the service standard in Section 2.4.1; (b) assuring compliance with this Agreement, including the schedules; (c) resolving disputes under this Agreement; (d) mitigating and resolving technical and business issues; (e) managing the service migration process; and (f) participating in the Dispute resolution process under Section 2.3. A Party may designate a replacement for its Transition Manager by written notice to the other Party. The Transition Manager, and any successor, shall have an educational background, experience, skills and other qualifications necessary to perform his or her assigned duties. Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to authorize either Transition Manager to amend this Agreement in any way.

2.9 Records and Audit. Each Party shall maintain true and correct records of all receipts, invoices, reports and other documents relating to the provision and receipt of Scheduled Services in accordance with their respective standard accounting practices and procedures, consistently applied, and shall provide each other with reasonable access to such records, subject to Applicable Law and the obligations of ARTICLE VIII.

ARTICLE III
TERM AND TRANSITION ASSISTANCE

3.1 Term. The term (the "Term") of this Agreement shall commence as of the date hereof and, subject as to any Scheduled Service to the earlier expiration of the Service Term with respect thereto, shall continue until the earliest of:

3.1.1 the date on which the last of the Scheduled Services under this Agreement is terminated; or

3.1.2 the date on which this Agreement is terminated by mutual agreement of the Parties.

3.2 Extension and Termination.

3.2.1 Extension.

(a) If AIA is not able by the end of the Service Term to complete its Migration of one or more Scheduled Services that it receives, then upon written notice provided to Aviva USA at least 30 days prior to the end of the Service Term, AIA shall have the right to request and cause AUSA to provide such Scheduled Services for up to 90 additional days; provided that AIA shall pay for all such additional Scheduled Services at a price equal to the applicable Service Fees plus twenty percent (20%) thereof.

(b) If AUSA is not able by the end of the Service Term to complete its Migration of one or more Scheduled Services that it receives, then upon written notice provided to AIA at least 30 days prior to the end of the Service Term, AUSA shall have the right to request and cause AIA to provide such Scheduled Services for up to 90 additional days or such longer period set forth in Schedule 1(b); provided that Aviva USA shall pay for all such additional Scheduled Services at a price equal to the applicable Service Fees plus ten percent (10%) thereof.

3.2.2 Early Termination. If the Receiving Party wishes to terminate a Scheduled Service (or a portion thereof) on a date that is earlier than the end of the Service Term, the Receiving Party shall notify the Providing Party in writing of the proposed date on which such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof) shall terminate (the "Termination Date"), at least 30 days prior to the Termination Date. Effective on the Termination Date, such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof) shall be discontinued and thereafter, this Agreement shall be of no further force and effect with respect to such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof), except as to obligations accrued prior to the Termination Date.

3.3 Return of Materials. After a Scheduled Service is terminated, each Party will return or destroy all materials and property owned by the other Party and materials and property of a proprietary nature involving a Party or its Affiliates relevant solely to the provision or receipt of that Scheduled Service and no longer needed regarding the performance of other Scheduled Services under this Agreement, and will do so (and will cause its Affiliates to do so) within 30 days after the applicable termination.

ARTICLE IV
COMPENSATION AND PAYMENT ARRANGEMENTS FOR SCHEDULED SERVICES

4.1 Compensation for Scheduled Services.

4.1.1 Compensation Generally. In accordance with the payment terms set forth in Section 4.2 and subject to Section 4.1.3, each Party, in its capacity of Receiving Party, agrees to timely pay the other Party, the reasonable fully-burdened, actual costs incurred by such Providing Party and its Affiliates in providing the Scheduled Services such Receiving Party or its Designated Recipients have received hereunder ("Service Costs").

4.1.2 Out of Pocket Costs. Without limiting the foregoing and subject to Section 2.6 and Section 4.1.3, each Party agrees to pay, or reimburse the other Party for its payment of, all Out of Pocket Costs (as defined below) of the other Party in its capacity as Providing Party. For purposes hereof, the term "Out of Pocket Costs" means all reasonable fees, costs or other expenses (including Sales and Service Taxes) payable by a Providing Party or its Affiliates to third parties that are not Affiliates of such Providing Party in connection with the Scheduled Services provided by such Providing Party hereunder, other than the cost of Permits necessary for the Providing Party or its Affiliates to provide the Scheduled Services. Each Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to: (a) not incur Out of Pocket Costs that are inconsistent with the type of Out of Pocket Costs incurred under past practices with the applicable Scheduled Services without the prior written consent of the Receiving Party; and (b) minimize the amount of its Out of Pocket Costs, consistent with providing the Scheduled Services in accordance with the standard set forth in Section 2.4.1.

4.1.3 Cap on Service Fees. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Service Fees payable by AUSA for: (i) all Scheduled Services in the aggregate provided to AUSA and its Designated Recipients shall not exceed $300,000[2] in any month during the Term (the "Monthly Cap"); and (ii) each Scheduled Service provided to AUSA or its Designated Recipient in a month shall not exceed the "Maximum Monthly Charge" for such Scheduled Services set forth in Schedule 1(b) (each, a "Maximum Monthly Charge"). When an Additional Service is added to Schedule 1(b) as set forth in Section 2.1.5(b), the parties shall agree upon a reasonable Maximum Monthly Charge for such Additional Service which shall apply only to the Service Costs for such Additional Service. Out-of-Pocket Costs incurred by AIA or its Affiliates with respect to any Additional Service, and reimbursable by AUSA, shall be excluded from, and shall not be subject to, the Monthly Cap and the applicable Maximum Monthly Charge. When a Scheduled Service is terminated or expires pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the Monthly Cap shall reduce by the amount of the Maximum Monthly Charge associated with such Scheduled Service. Any "Migration Assistance Services" identified on Schedule 1(a) shall be excluded from, and shall not be subject to the limits set forth in this Section. If AUSA requests that a Scheduled Service be provided in a manner or scope that is not substantially identical to the manner and scope as was provided during the twelve (12) months prior to the Closing Date, and AIA agrees to such change to the Scheduled Service, any additional Service Fees arising or resulting from such change shall not be covered by the applicable Maximum Monthly Charge and the Monthly Cap.

4.1.4 Taxes.

(a) Each Receiving Party will pay and be liable for all sales, goods or services, excise, privilege, value added tax ("VAT"), lease, use, transfer, consumption or similar gross receipts based taxes (the "Sales and Service Taxes") imposed on Scheduled Services provided by the Providing Party. Such taxes will be payable by each Receiving Party to the Providing Party in the manner set forth in Section 4.2 or as otherwise mutually agreed in writing by the Parties and under the terms of the Applicable Law which governs the relevant Sales and Service Tax. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, if the Receiving Party is exempt from liability for such taxes, the Receiving Party shall provide the Providing Party with a certificate

[2] NTD: If the services set forth on Exhibit B as of signing of the SPA are removed from the final Schedule 1(b) at Closing, the Monthly Cap shall be reduced by the amount of the estimated fee for such removed service, such that the sum of the Maximum Monthly Charges equals $40,000 less than the Monthly Cap.

(or other proof), which certificate or proof is reasonably acceptable to the Providing Party, evidencing an exemption from liability for such Sales and Service Taxes. The Receiving Party's obligation to pay Sales and Service Taxes under this Section 4.1.4 shall be subject to the receipt of a valid and customary invoice or other document under the terms of Applicable Law for each Sales and Service Tax. The Providing Party shall be responsible for any losses (including any deficiency, interest and penalties) imposed as a result of a failure to timely remit any Sales and Service Taxes to the applicable tax authority to the extent the Receiving Party timely remits such Sales and Service Taxes to the Providing Party or the Receiving Party's failure to do so results from the Providing Party's failure to timely charge or provide notice of such Sales and Service Taxes to the Receiving Party. The Receiving Party shall be entitled to any refund on any Sales and Service Taxes paid in excess of liability as determined at a later date. Each Party shall promptly notify the other Party of any deficiency claim or similar notice by a taxing authority with respect to Sales and Service Taxes payable under this Agreement, and of any pending tax audit or other proceeding that could lead to the imposition of Sales and Services Taxes payable under this Agreement. The Receiving Party shall have the sole right to control, contest, resolve and defend against any matters relating to Sales and Services Taxes for which it is responsible pursuant to this Section.

(b) Each Party shall pay and be responsible for its own personal property taxes and taxes based on its own income or profits or assets. Payments for Scheduled Services or other amounts under this Agreement shall be made net of withholding taxes, provided however that if a Providing Party believes that a reduced rate of withholding applies or the Providing Party is exempt from withholding, the relevant Receiving Party shall only be required to apply such reduced rate of withholding or not withhold if such Providing Party provides the relevant Receiving Party with evidence satisfactory to the Receiving Party that a reduced rate of or no withholding is required. Satisfactory evidence for this purpose may include rulings from, or other correspondence with tax authorities and tax opinions rendered by qualified persons satisfactory to such Receiving Party, to the extent reasonably requested by such Receiving Party. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, each Party shall provide the other with executed originals of Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 certifying such Party is exempt from U.S. federal backup withholding tax, and any updates as appropriate. The Receiving Party shall promptly remit any amounts withheld to the appropriate taxing authority and in the event that such Receiving Party receives a refund of any amounts previously withheld from payments to the relevant Providing Party and remitted, such Receiving Party shall surrender such refund to such Providing Party.

(c) With respect to each provision in this Section 4.1.4, the Receiving Party and the Providing Party shall reasonably cooperate with each other and take any action to provide or make available any information reasonably requested (and with a sufficient level of detail) in order to minimize any Sales and Service Taxes payable with respect to the Scheduled Services.

4.2 Payment Terms. Each Party in its capacity as Providing Party shall invoice the other Party on a monthly basis in arrears for Service Fees listing separately, to the extent practicable, any applicable Sales and Service Taxes. Each monthly invoice shall list all Scheduled Services and Service Fees in the format of Schedule 4.2. Payment in full of the amounts so invoiced or noticed shall be made by electronic funds transfer or other method satisfactory to the Parties, within 30 days after the date of receipt of the monthly invoice. Should a Party dispute any portion of the amount due from it on any invoice or require any adjustment to an invoiced amount, then such Party shall notify the other Party in writing of the nature and basis of the dispute or adjustment as soon as reasonably possible using, if necessary, the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 2.3. The Parties shall use their reasonable best efforts to resolve the dispute prior to the payment due date. All amounts required to be paid pursuant to this Agreement shall be paid and payable in U.S. dollars.

INDEMNIFICATION

5.1 Indemnification by Aviva USA. Aviva USA shall indemnify and hold harmless AIA and each of its Affiliates (each, an "AIA Indemnified Person"), from any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent related to, resulting from or arising out of Third-Party Claims relating to, resulting from or arising out of: (a) any fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct by or on behalf of AUSA or any of its Affiliates in providing any of the Scheduled Services that AUSA is obligated to provide hereunder; or (b) any material breach by AUSA of any of its obligations under this Agreement; provided that, Aviva USA shall have no obligation to indemnify or hold harmless any AIA Indemnified Person to the extent AUSA's or its Affiliates' acts or omissions giving rise to the Indemnifiable Losses were performed during the period of thirty (30) days immediately after the Closing Date, in a manner consistent with the manner in which the Scheduled Services were performed during the twelve (12) month period prior to the date hereof.

5.2 Indemnification by AIA. AIA shall indemnify and hold harmless AUSA and each of its Affiliates (each, an "AUSA Indemnified Person") from any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent related to, resulting from or arising out of Third-Party Claims relating to, resulting from or arising out of: (a) any fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct by or on behalf of AIA or any of its Affiliates in providing any of the Scheduled Services that AIA is obligated to provide hereunder; or (b) any material breach by AIA of any of its obligations under this Agreement.

5.2.1 Indemnification Procedures.

(a) If any Indemnitee receives notice of assertion or commencement of any Third-Party Claim against such Indemnitee in respect of which an Indemnitor may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor reasonably prompt written notice thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim; provided, however, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation or otherwise affect the rights of any Indemnitee hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay with respect to such claim. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third-Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third-Party Claim and, if it so chooses, to assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. Should the Indemnitor so elect to assume the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor shall not as long as it conducts such defense be liable to the Indemnitee for legal expenses subsequently incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense; provided, however, that if the Indemnitee determines in good faith that the representation of the Indemnitee and the Indemnitor by the same counsel creates an actual or potential conflict of interest for such counsel, the reasonable fees and expenses of one counsel employed by the Indemnitee with respect to such matter shall be considered Indemnifiable Losses hereunder. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof (other than during any period in which the Indemnitee shall have not yet given notice of the Third-Party Claim as provided above). If the Indemnitor chooses to defend any Third-Party Claim, the parties hereto shall cooperate in the defense thereof. Such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information which are relevant to such Third-Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise or discharge, such Third-Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned). If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, admit any liability with respect to or discharge a Third-Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned; provided, however, that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise or discharge such a Third-Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a complete and unconditional release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third-Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third-Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third-Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third-Party Claim.

FORCE MAJEURE

If performance by a Party of any terms or provisions hereof shall be delayed or prevented, in whole or in part, because of or related to compliance with any Applicable Law, decree, request or order of any Governmental Entity, or because of riots, war, public disturbance, fire, explosion, storm, flood, acts of God, acts of terrorism, or for any other reason which is not within the control of the Providing Party and which by the exercise of reasonable diligence the Party is unable to prevent (each, a "Force Majeure Event"), then (i) the Party shall give written notice to the other Party, (ii) the Parties shall promptly confer, in good faith, to agree upon equitable, reasonable action to minimize the impact, on both Parties, of such conditions, and (iii) the affected Party shall be excused from its obligations hereunder during the period such Force Majeure Event continues, and no liability shall attach against it on account thereof. The affected Party shall not be excused from performance if it fails to use reasonable diligence to remedy the situation and remove the cause and effect of the Force Majeure Event.

ARTICLE VII

7.1 Financial Remedies Upon Material Breach. In the event of material breach of any provision of this Agreement by a Party, the non-defaulting Party shall give the defaulting Party written notice thereof, and:

7.1.1 If such breach arises from a Party's non-payment of an amount that is not in dispute, such Party shall cure the breach within ten (10) calendar days after receipt of written notice of such non-payment. If such Party does not cure such breach by such date, then such Party shall pay the Party to whom the amount is due the undisputed amount plus an amount of interest equal to four percent (4%) per annum above the "prime rate" as announced in the "Money Rates" section of the most recent edition of the Eastern Edition of The Wall Street Journal, which interest rate shall change as and when the "prime rate" changes. The Parties agree that this rate of interest constitutes reasonable liquidated damages and not an unenforceable penalty.

7.1.2 If such breach is for any other material failure to perform in accordance with this Agreement, the defaulting Party shall cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days of the date of such notice. The defaulting Party shall remain liable for any damages relating to such breach, subject to the limits set forth in Section 7.2.

7.1.3 In the case of any such breach that is not cured in accordance with Sections 7.1.1 and 7.1.2 above, then the non-defaulting Party shall also have the right to terminate the Scheduled Service(s) to which such breach relates, upon written notice thereof to the defaulting Party.

7.2 Limitation of Liability. The maximum liability of any Party hereto to the other Party and such other Party's Affiliates or Designated Recipients hereunder shall not exceed U.S. $800,000.00, except that no cap shall apply: (a) to claims based on a Party's willful misconduct or fraud; (b) to claims based on a Party's failure to pay compensation under Section 4.1 hereunder when due; (c) to claims based on a breach of ARTICLE VIII hereunder; or (d) claims for indemnity under ARTICLE V hereunder. Notwithstanding anything else in this Agreement, the Parties, on behalf of themselves and all other indemnitees, waive any claim to any punitive or consequential damages against each other, except: (i) to the extent awarded to a third party in connection with a third-party claim; and (ii) for claims based on a breach of ARTICLE VIII hereunder.

7.3 Survival Upon Expiration or Termination. The provisions of Sections 2.5 and 3.3, and Articles IV, V, VII, VIII, IX, X and XI shall survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement unless otherwise agreed to in writing by both Parties.

ARTICLE VIII
CONFIDENTIALITY

8.1 Confidential Information. Each Party covenants that it will (a) accord the Confidential Information (as defined below) of the other party the same degree of confidential treatment that it accords its similar proprietary and confidential information, (b) not use such Confidential Information for any purpose other than those stated in this Agreement, and (c) not disclose such Confidential Information to any Person unless disclosure to such Person is made in the ordinary course of such Party's conduct of its business and is subject to protections comparable to those such Party would apply in connection with a comparable disclosure of its own Confidential Information. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, a party may disclose Confidential Information of the other Party, without liability for such disclosure, to the extent the disclosing party demonstrates that such disclosure is (v) required to be made pursuant to Applicable Law, government authority, duly authorized subpoena, or court order, (w) required to be made to a court or other tribunal in connection with the enforcement of such Party's rights under this Agreement or to contest claims between the Parties, (x) made to such Party's service providers or Affiliates or, with respect to client information and client account information or records, the applicable current or then-existing client, (y) with respect to Intellectual Property, made to such Party's clients or prospective clients in connection with marketing activities or servicing of client accounts, in each case for clauses (x) and (y) subject to a confidentiality agreement that includes protections no less restrictive than those set forth herein, or (z) approved by the prior written consent of the other Party. Each Party will promptly notify the other Party, if it receives a subpoena or otherwise becomes aware of events that may legally require it to disclose Confidential Information of the other Party, and will cooperate with the other Party (at the other Party's expense) to obtain an order quashing or otherwise modifying the scope of such subpoena or legal requirement, in an effort to prevent the disclosure of such Confidential Information. For purposes of this Agreement, "Confidential Information" means all confidential or proprietary information and documentation of either Party made available to the other Party under this Agreement that is either identified in writing as confidential or which the receiving Party should reasonably have recognized at the time of disclosure as being of a confidential nature.

8.2 Unauthorized Acts. Each Party shall (a) notify the other Party promptly of any unauthorized possession, use, or knowledge of any Confidential Information by any person which shall become known to it, any attempt by any person to gain possession of Confidential Information without authorization or any attempt to use or acquire knowledge of any Confidential Information without authorization (collectively, "Unauthorized Access"), (b) promptly furnish to the other Party full details of the Unauthorized Access and use reasonable efforts to assist the other Party in investigating or preventing the reoccurrence of any Unauthorized Access, (c) cooperate with the other Party in any litigation and investigation against third parties deemed necessary by such Party to protect its proprietary rights, and (d) use commercially reasonable efforts to prevent a recurrence of any such Unauthorized Access.

SYSTEM ACCESS AND CONSUMER PRIVACY

9.1 System Access. If the Providing Party and/or the Receiving Party are at any time given access (each in such capacity, a "Guest User") to the other's computer system(s) or software (collectively, "Systems") in connection with the performance of this Agreement, such Guest User shall comply with the other party's (each in such capacity, a "Host") Systems security policies, procedures and requirements which the Host makes available to the Guest User in writing from time to time.

9.2 Consumer Privacy. In providing the Scheduled Services, each Providing Party shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, comply with Applicable Law with respect to privacy or data security relative to Customer Information (as defined below), and shall maintain the information security program in place prior to the date hereof. "Customer Information" means all tangible and intangible information provided or disclosed hereunder about present or former present or former clients, life insurance or annuity policy holders, annuitants, or other beneficiaries (collectively, hereinafter "Customers") or potential Customers of any party or its Affiliates, including name, address, telephone number, email address, account or policy information, and any list, description, or other grouping of Customers or potential Customers, and any medical records or other medical information of such Customers or potential Customers and any other type of information deemed "nonpublic" and protected by privacy laws and any other Applicable Law.

DISCLAIMER OF REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

Except for the representations, warranties and covenants expressly made in this Agreement, each Party has not made and does not hereby make any express or implied representations, warranties or covenants, statutory or otherwise, of any nature, including with respect to the warranties of merchantability, quality, quantity, suitability or fitness for a particular purpose or the results obtained by the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible as Providing Party. All other representations, warranties, and covenants, express or implied, statutory, common law or otherwise, of any nature, including with respect to the warranties of merchantability, quality, quantity, suitability or fitness for a particular purpose or the results obtained by the Scheduled Services are hereby disclaimed by each Party .

11.1 Notices. All notices, requests, claims, demands and other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be delivered personally, by overnight courier (providing proof of delivery) or by email; provided, that the email is promptly confirmed, to the Parties at the following addresses (or at such other address for a Party as shall be specified by like notice). Any such notice shall be deemed given when so delivered personally, by courier or by overnight delivery service or sent by email (and immediately after transmission by such email

11.2 Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to a Section, Exhibit or Schedule, such reference shall be to a Section of, or an Exhibit or Schedule to, this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. The table of contents and headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation" whether or not such words actually appear thereafter. Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the parties hereto and shall not be construed by any Governmental Entity against either party by virtue of the fact that such party was the drafting party.

11.3 Entire Agreement; Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement (including all Exhibits and Schedules hereto), the SPA and the other documents executed in connection with the SPA constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior or contemporaneous agreements and understandings, negotiations, inducements or conditions, express or implied, oral or written of the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof. Except as set forth in ARTICLE V with respect to AIA Indemnified Persons and AUSA Indemnified Persons, this Agreement is not intended to and shall not confer upon any Person other than the Parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

11.4 Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

11.5 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise (other than by operation of law in a merger), by either of the Parties without the prior written consent of the other Party, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, and any such assignment that is not consented to shall be null and void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the Parties and their respective successors and assigns.

11.6 Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

11.6.1 Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such action, suit or other proceeding is improper; provided that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 11.1 of this Agreement, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

11.6.2 EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 11.6.

11.7 Severability; Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

11.7.1 Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under Applicable Law, but if any provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect under any Applicable Law in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability will not affect any other provision or portion of any provision in such jurisdiction, and this Agreement will be reformed, construed and enforced in such jurisdiction as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or portion of any provision had never been contained herein.

11.7.2 Except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement, this Agreement may be amended or a provision hereof waived only by a written instrument signed by each of Buyer and Seller in the case of an amendment or, in the case of a waiver, by the party hereto entitled to make such waiver.

11.7.3 No delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any waiver on the part of any party of any right, power or privilege, nor any single or partial exercise of any such right, power or privilege, preclude any further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other such right, power or privilege.

11.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the Parties and delivered to the other Party. Each Party may deliver its signed counterpart of this Agreement to the other Party by means of electronic mail or any other electronic medium utilizing image scan technology, and such delivery will have the same legal effect as hand delivery of an originally executed counterpart.

EXHIBIT C

Form of Trademark License Agreement

LICENSE AGREEMENT

This LICENSE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement") dated as of [●], 201_, is by and between Aviva plc, a public limited company organized under the laws of England and Wales ("Aviva plc") and Aviva Brands Limited, a private limited company organized under the laws of England and Wales ("Aviva Brands Limited," and each of Aviva plc and Aviva Brands Limited a "Licensor" and together the "Licensors"), and Aviva Life and Annuity Company, an Iowa-domiciled life insurance company ("Licensee") (collectively, the "Parties").

WHEREAS, Aviva plc and Athene Holding Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company ("Buyer"), are parties to the Stock Purchase Agreement (the "Purchase Agreement"), dated as of December 21, 2012, pursuant to which Buyer has acquired all of the outstanding shares of capital stock of Licensee;

WHEREAS, each Licensor is the owner of those trademarks and service marks set forth against its name on Schedule 1 attached hereto (the "Aviva Marks");

WHEREAS, the Parties desire that Licensee have limited use of the Aviva Marks in connection with its insurance business in the United States conducted by Licensee and permitted sublicensees on and for a transitional period of up to nine (9) months after the Closing Date on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth;

WHEREAS, the Parties desire that Licensee have limited use of the Aviva Marks in connection with its and its permitted sublicensees' company names for a transitional period of up to twelve (12) months after the Closing Date (with certain possible extensions) on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth;

WHEREAS, the Parties desire that Licensee have use of the YOUMANITY trademark ("Youmanity Mark") in connection with its insurance business in the United States conducted by Licensee and permitted sublicensees for so long as Licensee is owned and controlled by Buyer or one of its Affiliates, on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and covenants contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which the parties acknowledge, the parties agree as follows:

1. Definitions. Capitalized terms used herein but not otherwise defined herein shall be used as defined in the Purchase Agreement.

2. Transitional License to the Aviva Marks. Each Licensor hereby grants Licensee the non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-transferable, non-sublicensable (except as set forth in Section 6), royalty-free license to use the Aviva Marks owned by that Licensor in the United States solely in connection with (i) the advertisement, promotion, marketing, sale, distribution and servicing of products and services, including the issuance of policies, within the United States, and in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations in connection with the foregoing, in each case on a basis consistent with the current use of the Aviva Marks by Licensee and the Sublicensees (as defined below); and (ii) in connection with Licensee's and Sublicensees' rebranding efforts. The rights granted in this Section shall, unless terminated earlier in accordance with Section 14 below, terminate after a period of six months after the Closing Date ("Transitional Brand Term"); provided that Licensee may extend the Transitional Brand Term for an additional ninety (90) days period solely with respect to use of the Aviva Marks in the life insurance businesses of Licensee and its Affiliates by providing Licensor with written notice of such extension at least fifteen (15) days prior to the end of the initial six-month period. [Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Transitional Brand Term with respect to the name or phrase "Aviva Investors" shall expire upon the earlier to occur of: (a) the date on which Licensor and its Affiliates have completed the transition of all relevant marketing, advertising, promotional and branding materials using the "Aviva Investors" name to a new brand; or (b) the date that is sixty (60) days after the Closing Date.][1]

3. Use of Corporate Names. Each Licensor hereby grants Licensee the non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-transferable, non-sublicensable (except as set forth in Section 6), royalty-free license to continue to use the Aviva Marks in the legal names of Licensee and its Sublicensees as those legal names exist on the Closing Date, solely as necessary to identify the corporate entity. For the avoidance of doubt, this Section does not grant any right to use the legal name as a brand in connection with the advertisement, promotion, marketing, sale, distribution and servicing of products and services, but Licensee shall be permitted to identify itself as the seller of its products and services in an informational, and non-brand, context. The rights granted in this Section shall, unless terminated earlier in accordance with Section 14 below, terminate after a period of twelve months after the Closing Date ("Transitional Name Term"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensee shall, and shall cause its Sublicensees to, as promptly as is reasonably practicable after the Closing Date, (a) file appropriate applications with all applicable Governmental Entities to change its current legal name to a name that does not use an Aviva Mark, (b) file other applications that may be required for Licensee and its Sublicensees to affect a name change or related to such name change, including applications related to the products and services of Licensee and its Sublicensees and (c) diligently pursue those applications; provided that Licensee and its Sublicensees may reasonably coordinate the effective date of such applications so that the name changes can be implemented at the same time. If, notwithstanding Licensee's diligence and reasonable best efforts, Licensee or any of its Sublicensees is unable to complete or obtain approval for such an application in one or more states prior to the end of the Transitional Name Term, the Transitional Name Term shall continue solely with respect to such state or states until such time as the application in such state is completed and/or approved, and during such extension Licensee shall use reasonable best efforts to diligently and promptly pursue each such application without further coordination as to the effective date of name changes.

4. Transition of and License to Aviva Mark Domain Names. With respect to domain names used by Licensee and the Sublicensees immediately prior to the date hereof which consisted of or included an Aviva Mark, and including the domain names listed on Schedule 2 (the "Mark Domain Names"), Licensee shall transfer and assign, and hereby does transfer and assign, all rights in the Mark Domain Names to Licensor. At Licensor's reasonable request,

[1] NTD: If Buyer provides sufficient information to transition all relevant marketing and branding materials from Aviva Investors name and phrase to a new brand at least six weeks prior to the Closing Date, and such transition is completed by the Closing Date, this provision to be updated so that the license does not cover Aviva Investors.

Licensee agrees to execute such documents or perform such further acts as necessary to effect such transfer. To the extent such Mark Domain Name is in use in the United States in connection with any products or services of Licensee or its Sublicensees immediately prior to the date of the Purchase Agreement, Licensor hereby grants a non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-transferable, non-sublicensable (except as set forth in Section 6), royalty-free license to Licensee to use such Mark Domain Names during the Transitional Brand Term provided that Licensee shall use reasonable best efforts to cease all use of the Mark Domain Names as soon as reasonably practicable. For the Transitional Brand Term, Licensor shall permit Licensee to cause visitors to the website associated with such Mark Domain Names to be automatically forwarded to a website designated by Licensee, or shall provide a prominent link to such website designated by Licensee on the website associated with such Mark Domain Names.

5. License to Youmanity Mark. Aviva Brands Limited hereby grants Licensee the non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-transferable, irrevocable (except as set forth in Section 14), non-sublicensable (except as set forth in Section 6), royalty-free license to use the Youmanity Mark in the United States during the period until the Youmanity Mark expires or is cancelled, unless terminated earlier in accordance with Section 14 below (the "Youmanity Term"), such use solely in connection with the advertisement, promotion, marketing, sale, distribution and servicing of products and services, including the issuance of policies, offered by Licensee and the Sublicensees within the United States, and in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations in connection with the foregoing.

6. Sublicenses. Licensee shall have the right to grant written sublicenses on terms no more extensive than those granted in Section 2, 3, 4, and 5, but without the right to further sublicense, to: (i) Athene Holding Limited and its Subsidiaries (only for so long as they remain Subsidiaries); and (ii) Life Reinsurer and its Affiliates (only for so long as they remain Affiliates) ("Sublicensees"); provided that each such Person agrees in writing to be bound by the terms, obligations and conditions consistent with and at least as protective of the Marks as the terms, obligations and conditions set forth in this Agreement with respect to Licensee; provided, further, that Licensee shall cause the Sublicensees to comply with the terms of this Agreement and Licensee shall remain liable for any breach of this Agreement by a Sublicensee.

7. Quality Control and Standards. Licensee acknowledges that Aviva Marks and the Youmanity Mark (collectively, the "Marks") have established valuable goodwill and reputation, and that it is of great importance to each Licensor that this goodwill and reputation be maintained. Licensee agrees that the nature and quality of all products and services provided or offered by Licensee or the Sublicensees in connection with the Marks as permitted hereunder shall be at least equal to the standard of quality maintained by Licensee in connection with such products and services during the twelve (12)-month period immediately prior to the date of the Purchase Agreement (collectively, "Licensor Standards"). Licensee agrees to make available for review, upon Licensor's reasonable request, true and correct samples of any materials in commercial use that incorporate the Marks including advertising copy, labels, stickers, policies, brochures or other materials, including any applicable materials in connection with Licensee's rebranding efforts (collectively, the "Materials"). If Licensor reasonably determines that any Material does not conform to the Licensor Standards, upon written notice from Licensor, Licensee or the applicable Sublicensee shall use reasonable best efforts to promptly cease use of the applicable Material, and shall take commercially reasonable steps necessary to remedy any such deficiencies within 15 Business Days after such notification. If Licensee and the applicable Sublicensees do not comply, Licensor may terminate this Agreement, or in the case of a deficiency by a Sublicensee that is not an Affiliate of Licensee cause Licensee to terminate the applicable sublicense to such Sublicensee, upon written notice delivered to Licensee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensor shall not and may not object to any Materials that were in use by Licensee or its Affiliates prior to the Closing Date of the Purchase Agreement. Licensee shall promptly notify Licensor of any complaints received in writing from third parties regarding the products or services offered or provided under the Marks that could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect, individually or in the aggregate, on the Marks or the goodwill associated therewith and, at the request of Licensor, shall reasonably cooperate with Licensor or shall cause the applicable Sublicensee to cooperate in addressing and mitigating the circumstances giving rise to such complaints.

8. Depiction of the Marks. Licensee agrees to comply and agrees to cause any Sublicensee to comply with any requirements established by Licensor and provided to Licensee concerning the style, design, display and use of the Marks, including the Licensor Standards and any such requirements regarding (a) the use of the trademark symbols "tm" or "sm" or United States registration symbol "®", and (b) use of a clear notice or other appropriate disclosure, approved by Licensor, concerning the ownership of the Marks and the licensing relationship between the Parties ("Ownership Disclosure"). Licensor shall discuss any material changes to the requirements with which Licensee must comply pursuant to this Section 8 prior to making such changes. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) the Marks may only be used hereunder in the same appearance in use as of the Closing Date or as otherwise approved by Licensor and (ii) the Marks may not be modified through combination with any other logo, design, symbol, trademark, service mark, company or corporate name or commercial slogan or with any prefix or suffix or any modifying word or term hereunder, except as agreed to in writing by the Parties prior to any such use. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensee shall not be required to change any Material that existed prior to the Closing Date of the Purchase Agreement or required to change any Material after a Licensor changes its Licensor Standards if such Material complied with the Licensor Standards prior to such change.

9. Right to Inspect. Licensee shall permit Licensor or a nationally recognized accounting firm reasonable access to such of Licensee's or the Sublicensees' facilities and personnel as are actively involved in use of the Marks on reasonable prior written notice, as requested by Licensor from time to time solely for the purpose of verifying that Licensee's use or any of the Sublicensees' use of the Marks complies with Licensor Standards and to the extent reasonably necessary to maintain the validity of the Marks and the valuable goodwill and reputation established by the Marks. Licensors shall coordinate their inspections so that they are conducted at the same time. Licensors may conduct, in the aggregate, such inspections no more often than once in any six (6)-month period, unless such Licensor has reasonable cause to conduct inspections more frequently based on information regarding non-compliance with this Agreement, or Licensee's and/or its Sublicensees' misuse, impairment, disparagement or dilution of one or more of the Marks or the goodwill associated with one or more of the Marks. All such inspections shall be conducted during normal Licensee business hours and in a manner so as to minimize the impact on Licensee's and the Sublicensees' operation of their businesses. All information disclosed to or otherwise obtained by any Licensor or its accounting firm in connection with conducting such inspections shall be considered "confidential information" of Licensee and its Sublicensees and maintained in confidence in accordance with Section 4.2 of the Purchase Agreement, unless such information already exists in the public domain.

10. Ownership. Licensee acknowledges and agrees, as between Licensee and Licensors, that: (a) each Licensor is the exclusive owner of all right, title and interest in and to the Marks, including for each Aviva Mark as set forth opposite its name in Schedule 1, and [Aviva Brands Limited] for the Youmanity Mark; (b) ownership of the Marks and the goodwill relating thereto shall remain vested in the relevant Licensor both during the period of this Agreement and thereafter; (c) any use of the Marks by Licensee or the Sublicensees (and any goodwill arising therefrom) shall inure to the exclusive benefit of the relevant Licensor; (d) neither Licensee nor any of the Sublicensees will adopt, use, register, file or maintain any registration or application for registration of, any trademark, service mark, trade name, slogan, Internet domain name or other identifier or device that constitutes or includes any Mark or is confusingly similar to any Mark; and (e) neither Licensee nor any of the Sublicensees will represent that it has an ownership interest in the Marks or any registrations or applications for registration therefor.

11. Policing of Marks. If Licensee's general counsel or other in-house counsel become aware of the use by any third party of any marks confusingly similar to the Marks or any potential infringements of the Marks, Licensee shall inform Licensors. Licensors shall determine, in their sole discretion, whether or not any action shall be taken with respect to such alleged violation or infringement and the nature of the action to be taken. Licensors shall have full authority and control over any assertion of infringement of or with respect to the Marks and Licensee shall provide assistance to Licensors at Licensors' reasonable request, including being joined to any infringement action. In connection with such assistance, Licensor shall also reimburse Licensee for any out-of-pocket costs, and for time spent by Licensee's employees, in the aggregate, above 20 hours at each such employee's customary and reasonable compensation rate, such rate not to exceed $250 per hour. Any recovery obtained by Licensors as a result of any such action shall belong solely to Licensors.

12. Indemnification.

(a) Subject to Seller's obligation to indemnify the Buyer Indemnified Parties in the Purchase Agreement, Licensee ("Indemnitor") shall indemnify and hold harmless each Licensor and their Affiliates (each an "Indemnitee" or "Indemnified Party") from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent relating to, resulting from or arising out of any Third-Party Claim relating to, resulting from or arising out of Licensee's or its Sublicensees' use of the Marks; provided, however, that such indemnification shall not extend to any Indemnifiable Losses that arise out of or are based upon the infringement or alleged infringement of the trademark rights of any third party by reason of Licensee's or Sublicensees' use, in accordance with this Agreement, of the Marks.

(b) If any Indemnitee receives notice of assertion or commencement of any Third-Party Claim against such Indemnitee in respect of which an Indemnitor may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor reasonably prompt written notice thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim; provided, however, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation or otherwise affect the rights of any Indemnitee hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay with respect to such claim. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third-Party Claim.

(c) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third-Party Claim and, if it so chooses, to assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. Should the Indemnitor so elect to assume the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor shall not as long as it conducts such defense be liable to the Indemnitee for legal expenses subsequently incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense; provided, however, that if the Indemnitee determines in good faith that the representation of the Indemnitee and the Indemnitor by the same counsel creates an actual or potential conflict of interest for such counsel, the reasonable fees and expenses of one counsel employed by the Indemnitee with respect to such matter shall be considered Indemnifiable Losses hereunder. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof (other than during any period in which the Indemnitee shall have not yet given notice of the Third-Party Claim as provided above). If the Indemnitor chooses to defend any Third-Party Claim, the parties hereto shall cooperate in the defense thereof. Such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information which are relevant to such Third-Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise or discharge, such Third-Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned). If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, admit any liability with respect to or discharge a Third-Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned; provided, however, that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise or discharge such a Third-Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a complete and unconditional release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third-Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third-Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third-Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third-Party Claim.

13. Term. The term of this Agreement shall commence on the Closing Date and shall continue until the later of the expiration of the Transitional Brand Term, the Transitional Name Term or the Youmanity Term, unless earlier terminated in accordance with Section 14 below.

14. Termination.

(a) Licensors shall have the rights to terminate this Agreement, and to cause Licensee to terminate the applicable sublicense to a Sublicensee that is an Affiliate of Licensee, on written notice to Licensee: (i) in accordance with Section 7 of this Agreement; (ii) in the event Licensee or such Sublicensee directly or indirectly challenges, attacks, disputes, opposes or contests any of the Marks, or Licensor's exclusive ownership of, or any other rights in, any Mark; (iii) in the event Licensee or such Sublicensee commits any other material breach of the Agreement and, to the extent that such breach is capable of cure, Licensee or such Sublicensee fails to cure such breach within 15 Business Days after Licensor provides Licensee with written notice of such breach; or (iv) in the event Licensee or such Sublicensee: (A) becomes insolvent, is adjudicated bankrupt, or makes a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors; (B) voluntarily or involuntarily enters into liquidation; or (C) has a receiver or manager appointed over the whole or a substantial part of its undertakings or assets.

(b) Licensors shall have the rights to cause Licensee to terminate the applicable sublicense to a Sublicensee that is not an Affiliate of Licensee, on written notice to Licensee: (i) in accordance with Section 7 of this Agreement; (ii) in the event such Sublicensee directly or indirectly challenges, attacks, disputes, opposes or contests any of the Marks, or Licensor's exclusive ownership of, or any other rights in, any Mark; (iii) in the event such Sublicensee commits any other material breach of the Agreement and, to the extent that such breach is capable of cure, such Sublicensee fails to cure such breach within 15 Business Days after Licensor provides Licensee with written notice of such breach; or (iv) in the event such Sublicensee: (A) becomes insolvent, is adjudicated bankrupt, or makes a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors; (B) voluntarily or involuntarily enters into liquidation; or (C) has a receiver or manager appointed over the whole or a substantial part of its undertakings or assets.

(c) Further, this Agreement shall automatically terminate at such time that Licensee is not an Affiliate of Buyer. For the avoidance of doubt, the licenses set forth in this Agreement are not revocable at will.

15. Effect of Termination of Transitional Brand Rights. Upon the expiration of the Transitional Brand Term, Licensee and each Sublicensee shall (except to the extent permitted by the license in Section 3) cease all use of the Aviva Marks and Mark Domain Names, and shall remove all Aviva Marks from all Materials, stationery, computer and electronic systems, and any and all documents (whether in written, electronic, optical or other form) in Licensee's possession or control, and Licensee shall take one of the following actions, at Licensee's option and at Licensee's sole expense: (a) deliver to Licensors all Materials that bear the Aviva Marks; or (b) destroy all such Materials and provide Licensors with written confirmation of such destruction, in each case except for internal business records including archival copies kept (i) in accordance with Applicable Laws or with any judicial or administrative process or proceeding or (ii) in the ordinary course of business in accordance with internal policies of Licensee or the applicable Sublicensee.

16. Effect of Termination of Youmanity Rights. Upon the expiration or termination of the Youmanity Term, Licensee and each Sublicensee shall cease all use of the Youmanity Mark and shall remove the Youmanity Mark from all Materials, stationery, computer and electronic systems, and any and all documents (whether in written, electronic, optical or other form) in Licensee's possession or control. Upon such expiration or termination of the Youmanity Term, Licensee shall take one of the following actions, at Licensee's option and at Licensee's sole expense: (a) deliver to Licensor all Materials that bear the Youmanity Mark; or (b) destroy all such Materials and provide Licensor with written confirmation of such destruction, in each case except for internal business records including archival copies kept (i) in accordance with Applicable Laws or with any judicial or administrative process or proceeding or (ii) in the ordinary course of business in accordance with internal policies of Licensee or the applicable Sublicensee.

17. Disclaimer of Representations and Warranties. EACH LICENSOR HEREBY SPECIFICALLY DISCLAIMS ANY AND ALL REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED (INCLUDING ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, VALIDITY, REGISTRABILITY, OWNERSHIP OR NON-INFRINGEMENT, AND IMPLIED WARRANTIES ARISING FROM COURSE OF DEALING OR COURSE OF PERFORMANCE), REGARDING THE MARKS; PROVIDED THAT NOTHING IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL LIMIT ANY REPRESENTATION, WARRANTY, COVENANT OR INDEMNITY PROVIDED IN THE PURCHASE AGREEMENT OR ANY OTHER ANCILLARY AGREEMENT. WITHOUT LIMITING THE GENERALITY OF THE FOREGOING, LICENSEE ACKNOWLEDGES THAT THE LICENSE GRANTED IN THIS AGREEMENT AND THE MARKS ARE PROVIDED "AS IS."

18. Force Majeure. No Party shall be responsible to the other Party for delays or errors in its performance or any breach under this Agreement occurring solely by reason of circumstances beyond its control, including acts of civil or military authority, national emergencies, fire, major mechanical breakdown, labor disputes, flood, landslide, hurricane, tsunami or other catastrophe, acts of God, insurrection, terrorism, war, riots, or failure of transportation, communication or power supply.

19. Notices. All notices, requests, claims, demands and other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be delivered personally, by overnight courier (providing proof of delivery) or by email; provided, that the email is promptly confirmed, to the parties at the following addresses (or at such other address for a party as shall be specified by like notice). Any such notice shall be deemed given when so delivered personally, by courier or by overnight delivery service or sent by email (and immediately after transmission by such email receipt of which has been confirmed by telephone by the sender) or, if mailed, four (4) Business Days after the mailing as follows:

20. Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to a Section or Schedule, such reference shall be to a Section of, or a Schedule to, this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. The table of contents and headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation" whether or not such words actually appear thereafter. Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the parties hereto and shall not be construed by any Governmental Entity against either party by virtue of the fact that such party was the drafting party.

21. Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including all exhibits and schedules hereto), the Purchase Agreement and any other documents delivered by the Parties herewith or therewith constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties, both written and oral, among the Parties with respect to the subject matter contained herein. Except as set forth in Section 12 with respect to Indemnitees, this Agreement is not intended to and shall not confer upon an Person other than the Parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

22. Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

23. Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such action, suit or other proceeding is improper; provided that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 19 of this Agreement, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(b) The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties hereto shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in accordance with this Agreement, this being in addition (subject to the terms of this Agreement) to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity. In the event that any Action is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no party hereto shall allege, and each party hereto hereby waives any defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law.

(c) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 23.

24. Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise (other than by operation of law in a merger), by Licensee without the prior written consent of Licensor, and any such assignment that is not consented to shall be null and void. Any attempt by Licensee to assign, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise, this Agreement, or any of the rights, interests or obligations hereunder, in violation of this Section 24, shall be considered a material breach under this Agreement. Licensor may freely assign this Agreement and any of the rights, interest or obligations under this Agreement, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise, to any Affiliate without prior written consent. Subject to the preceding sentences, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

25. Severability; Amendment; Modification and Waiver.

(a) Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under Applicable Law, but if any provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect under any Applicable Law in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability will not affect any other provision or portion of any provision in such jurisdiction, and this Agreement will be reformed, construed and enforced in such jurisdiction as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or portion of any provision had never been contained herein.

(b) Except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement, this Agreement may be amended or a provision hereof waived only by a written instrument signed by each of Buyer and Seller in the case of an amendment or, in the case of a waiver, by the party hereto entitled to make such waiver.

(c) No delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any waiver on the part of any party of any right, power or privilege, nor any single or partial exercise of any such right, power or privilege, preclude any further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other such right, power or privilege.

26. No Strict Construction. The Parties hereto have participated jointly in the negotiation and drafting of this Agreement. In the event any ambiguity or question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by all Parties hereto, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any Party by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

27. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the parties and delivered to the other parties. Each party may deliver its signed counterpart of this Agreement to the other parties by means of electronic mail or any other electronic medium utilizing image scan technology, and such delivery will have the same legal effect as hand delivery of an originally executed counterpart.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, each Licensor and Licensee have caused this Agreement to be signed by their respective duly authorized officers, all as of the date first written above.

PURCHASE AND SALE AGREEMENT

This Purchase and Sale Agreement, dated as of April 30, 2013 (this "Agreement"), between Athene Holding Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company ("Seller"), and Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Massachusetts ("Buyer").

WHEREAS, Seller indirectly owns 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Presidential Life LLC, a limited liability company organized under the laws of the State of Delaware ("PLFE"), which directly owns 100% of the issued and outstanding capital stock (the "Shares") of Presidential Life Insurance Company – USA, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware (the "Company");

WHEREAS, Seller intends to acquire all of the common stock of Aviva USA Corporation ("AUSA") from Aviva plc ("Aviva"), an indirect parent of AUSA, pursuant to a Stock Purchase Agreement (as amended, modified or supplemented in accordance with its terms, the "SPA"), dated as of December 21, 2012, between Aviva and Seller;

WHEREAS, Seller desires to sell and assign, or cause to be sold and assigned, to Buyer, and Buyer desires to purchase and assume, from Seller and its Affiliates, two (2) Business Days prior to the SPA Closing (as defined below), the Shares, on the terms and conditions set forth herein;

WHEREAS, in connection with the acquisition of the common stock of AUSA (the "SPA Closing") by Seller pursuant to the SPA, the parties desire that Buyer indirectly acquire immediately prior to the SPA Closing all of the Life Business (as defined below) of AUSA and its Subsidiaries in the manner described below;

WHEREAS, Aviva Life and Annuity Company ("ALAC") is a wholly-owned subsidiary of AUSA and Aviva Life and Annuity Company of New York ("ALACNY" and, together with ALAC, the "Aviva Insurers") is a wholly-owned subsidiary of ALAC;

WHEREAS, in connection with Buyer's acquisition of the Life Business, Seller desires to sell and assign, or cause to be sold and assigned, to Buyer, and Buyer desires to purchase and assume, from Seller and its Affiliates, the Purchased Assets (as such term is defined below) pursuant to a Bill of Sale and Assignment Agreement to be entered into by and among AUSA, the Aviva Insurers, Buyer and the Company, as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached as Annex A hereto (the "Bill of Sale");

WHEREAS, in connection with Buyer's acquisition of the Life Business, the parties desire that the Company (following its acquisition by Buyer) and the NY Reinsurer, as applicable, reinsure immediately prior to the SPA Closing the Aviva Insurers' liabilities arising under certain life insurance policies pursuant to (a) a coinsurance and assumption agreement to be entered into by and between ALAC and the Company, as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached as Annex B hereto (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties) (the "ALAC Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement"), and (b) a coinsurance and assumption agreement to be entered into by and between ALACNY and the NY Reinsurer, as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached as Annex C hereto (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties) (the "ALACNY Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement", together with the ALAC Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement, the "Life Business Reinsurance Agreements");

WHEREAS, (i) in connection with the ALAC Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement, ALAC, the Company and a trustee acceptable to each of them will enter into a trust agreement, as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached to the ALAC Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties) (the "ALAC Trust Agreement") and (ii) in connection with the ALACNY Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement, ALACNY, the NY Reinsurer and a trustee acceptable to each of them will enter into a trust agreement, as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached to the ALACNY Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties) (together with the ALAC Trust Agreement, the "Trust Agreements");

WHEREAS, as contemplated by the term sheets that are attached hereto as Annex G (each, with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties, a "Captive Financing Term Sheet"), the Company and captive reinsurers of the Company will, by the Effective Time, enter into a series of captive reinsurance agreements;

WHEREAS, AUSA will, for an interim period after the Closing Date, provide or cause to be provided certain services to the Company and its Affiliates pursuant to a Transition Services Agreement to be entered into by and between AUSA and the Company as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached as Annex D hereto (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties) (the "Transition Services Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, Seller (i) desires that the Reinsured Policies under the ALAC Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement be administered by the Company pursuant to an Administrative Services Agreement to be entered into by and between ALAC and the Company, as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached as Annex E hereto (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties) (the "ALAC Administrative Services Agreement") and (ii) desires that the Reinsured Policies under the ALACNY Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement be administered by the NY Reinsurer pursuant to an Administrative Services Agreement to be entered into by and between ALACNY and the NY Reinsurer, as of the Effective Time, substantially in the form attached as Annex F hereto (with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the parties) (the "ALACNY Administrative Services Agreement" and, together with the ALAC Administrative Services Agreement, the "Administrative Service Agreements").

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained in this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I.
DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, the following terms shall have the respective meanings set forth below:

"Accounting Expert" has the meaning specified in Section 2.1(b)(iii).

"Action" means (i) any civil, criminal or administrative action, suit, claim, litigation or similar proceeding, in each case before a Governmental Entity or (ii) any investigation or written inquiry by a Governmental Entity other than any examination by a taxing authority, including a Tax audit, in each case other than complaint activity by or on behalf of policyholders unless and until any such policyholder complaint activity results in any civil, criminal or administrative action, suit, claim, litigation or similar proceeding before a Governmental Entity, in which case it shall, without duplication, be treated as an Action hereunder.

"Actuarial Expert" has the meaning specified in Annex J.

"Additional Reserve Requirement" has the meaning specified in Section 5.35.

"Administrative Services Agreements" has the meaning specified in the recitals hereto.

"Affiliate" of any Person means another Person that directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, Controls, is Controlled by or is under common Control with, such first Person. With respect to Seller, the term "Affiliate" shall not include (a) any of the pooled investment vehicles, funds, managed accounts or other clients to whom Apollo Global Management LLC ("AGM") or Subsidiaries of AGM engaged in alternative asset management provide investment advice or otherwise serve in a fiduciary capacity or (b) any of the other portfolio companies in which the entities described in clause (a) directly or indirectly hold investments.

"Agreement" has the meaning specified in the preamble hereto.

"ALAC" has the meaning specified in the recitals hereto.

"ALAC Administrative Services Agreement" has the meaning specified in the recitals hereto.

ARTICLE II.
PURCHASE AND SALE OF THE SHARES AND THE PURCHASED ASSETS

SECTION 2.1 Shares Closing.

(a) Purchase and Sale of the Shares. On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, at the Shares Closing, Seller shall, or shall cause one or more of its Affiliates to, sell, assign, transfer, convey and deliver to Buyer, and Buyer shall purchase from Seller and the applicable selling Affiliates, the Shares free and clear of all Encumbrances; provided, that neither Seller nor Buyer shall be obligated to consummate the Shares Closing unless it has received reasonable assurances that the SPA Closing will occur two Business Days after the Shares Closing.

(b) Preliminary and Closing Date Balance Sheet.

(i) No later than 10:00 AM New York City time on the Business Day immediately prior to the anticipated Shares Closing Date, Seller shall provide Buyer with a balance sheet of the Company prepared in accordance with SAP reflecting balances estimated as of the Shares Closing Date (the "Preliminary Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet"). The Preliminary Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet shall be prepared in the form of the Pro Forma Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet. Seller shall ensure that the capital and surplus of the Company that is set forth in accordance with SAP in the Preliminary Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet (the "Preliminary Shares Closing Date Company Capital") does not exceed $15,000,000.00.

(ii) On or before the date which is fifteen (15) Business Days following the end of the month in which the Shares Closing occurs, Buyer shall prepare and deliver to Seller an updated balance sheet of the Company prepared in accordance with SAP reflecting the actual balances as of the Shares Closing Date (the "Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet"). The capital and surplus as set forth in the Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet is referred to herein as the "Shares Closing Date Company Capital". The Preliminary Shares Closing Date Company Capital and the Shares Closing Date Company Capital shall be calculated consistently with line 38 of page 3 of the 2012 annual statutory statement of the Company.

(iii) The Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet shall become final, binding and conclusive upon Seller and Buyer on the thirtieth (30^{th}) day following the date of its delivery to Seller by Buyer, unless prior to such thirtieth (30^{th}) day Seller delivers to Buyer a written notice (a "Dispute Notice") specifying in reasonable detail each item that Seller disputes (each, a "Disputed Item"), the amount in dispute for each Disputed Item and the reasons supporting Seller's positions. During the fifteen-day period beginning on the date Buyer receives the Dispute Notice (the "Resolution Period"), the parties shall seek in good faith to resolve the Disputed Items. If the parties are unable to resolve all of the Disputed Items during the Resolution Period, then the parties shall jointly engage and submit the unresolved Disputed Items (the "Unresolved Items") to an independent internationally recognized accounting firm mutually agreed upon by Buyer and Seller (the "Accounting Expert"). If Buyer and Seller do not appoint an Accounting Expert within ten (10) days after the Resolution Period, they shall request the American Arbitration Association to appoint as the Accounting Expert an independent internationally recognized accounting firm that has not had a material relationship with Buyer, Seller or the Company within the preceding two years. The Accounting Expert shall act as an arbitrator to determine, based solely on presentations by Buyer and Seller and not by independent review, only the Unresolved Items still in dispute and shall be limited to those adjustments, if any, required to be made to the Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet to comply with the provisions of this Agreement. The parties shall agree, promptly after the Accounting Expert has been appointed, on procedures governing the resolution of any Unresolved Item by the Accounting Expert, provided that if the parties fail to agree on such procedures, the dispute resolution procedures of the American Arbitration Association shall govern. Buyer and Seller shall use their reasonable best efforts to cause the Accounting Expert to issue its written determination regarding the Unresolved Items within thirty (30) days after such Unresolved Items are submitted for review. In no event shall the Accounting Expert's determination of the Unresolved Items be for an amount that is outside the range of Buyer's and Seller's disagreement. Each party shall use its reasonable best efforts to furnish to the Accounting Expert such work papers and other documents and information pertaining to the Unresolved Items as the Accounting Expert may reasonably request. The determination of the Accounting Expert shall be final, binding and conclusive upon Buyer and Seller absent fraud or manifest error. Either of Buyer or Seller may petition a court having jurisdiction over the other party or its assets to reduce the Accounting Expert's decision to judgment. The fees, expenses and costs of the Accounting Expert shall be borne in the same proportion as the aggregate amount of the Unresolved Items that is unsuccessfully disputed by each (as determined by the Accounting Expert) bears to the total amount of the Unresolved Items submitted to the Accounting Expert.

(iv) At any time following delivery of a Dispute Notice and until any Disputed Items are finally resolved, each party shall use its reasonable best efforts to provide promptly to the other party all information and reasonable access to employees as such other party shall reasonably request in connection with review of the Preliminary Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet, Preliminary Shares Closing Date Company Capital, Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet, Shares Closing Date Company Capital or Dispute Notice, as the case may be, including all work papers of any accountants, actuaries or financial advisors who audited, compiled or reviewed such statements or notices (subject to the party and its Representatives that receive such work papers entering into any undertakings required by such accountants, actuaries or financial advisors in connection herewith), and shall otherwise cooperate in good faith with such other party to arrive at a final determination of the Disputed Items.

(v) Upon the final resolution of all Disputed Items in accordance with Section 2.1(b)(iii), Buyer shall prepare a balance sheet (the "Final Balance Sheet") in substantially the same form as the Shares Closing Date Balance Sheet that reflects the resolution of the Disputed Items as resolved in accordance with Section 2.1(b)(iii).

(c) Payment of Shares Purchase Price and Post-Closing Adjustment.

(i) At the Shares Closing, Buyer shall pay Seller or a designated Affiliate of Seller the Estimated Shares Purchase Price, by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account or accounts designated by Seller in writing at least one (1) Business Day prior to the Shares Closing Date ("Seller's Account").

(ii) Within ten (10) Business Days following the final determination of the Shares Closing Date Company Capital:

(A) if the Shares Closing Date Company Capital exceeds the Preliminary Shares Closing Date Company Capital, Buyer shall pay to Seller an amount in cash equal to such excess by wire transfer of immediately available funds, and

(B) if the Preliminary Shares Closing Date Company Capital exceeds the Shares Closing Date Company Capital, Seller shall pay to Buyer an amount equal to such excess by wire transfer of immediately available funds.

(d) Shares Closing Date. The closing of the purchase and sale of the Shares (the "Shares Closing"), shall take place at the offices of Sidley Austin LLP, 787 Seventh Avenue, New York, NY 10019 at 9:00 a.m., New York City time, two Business Days prior to the anticipated day on which the SPA Closing will occur, provided that the conditions set forth in Article VI have been satisfied or waived on the date of the Shares Closing in accordance with the terms of this Agreement (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing), or at such other time and place as may be agreed upon in writing by Buyer and Seller. The time and date on which the Shares Closing is actually held is referred to herein as the "Shares Closing Date".

(e) Shares Closing Deliveries.

(i) At the Shares Closing, Seller shall deliver or cause to be delivered to Buyer:

(A) certificates representing the Shares, duly endorsed in blank or accompanied by sufficient instruments of transfer, and bearing or accompanied by all requisite stock transfer stamps;

(B) the written resignations of the directors of the Company from their positions as directors of the Company to the extent requested by Buyer;

(C) one or more certificates, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, certifying that withholding is not required under Section 1445 of the Code or the regulations promulgated thereunder in connection with the sale of the Shares; and

(D) the Company Books and Records in accordance with Section 5.28.

(ii) At the Shares Closing, Buyer shall make the payment contemplated by Section 2.1(c)(i).

(f) Tax Treatment. Buyer and Seller agree that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the purchase price for the Shares shall be equal to (i) the Estimated Shares Purchase Price, plus or minus (ii) any adjustment to the Estimated Shares Purchase Price described in Section 2.1(c)(ii) (the "Shares Purchase Price").

SECTION 2.2 Closing.

(a) Life Business Reinsurance Agreements; Purchase and Sale of the Purchased Assets. On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, at the Closing, the following shall occur:

(i) Buyer shall, or shall cause one or more of its Affiliates to, purchase, acquire and accept from ALAC and its Affiliates, and Seller shall cause ALAC or one or more of its Affiliates to, sell, assign, transfer, convey and deliver to Buyer or an Affiliate of Buyer, free and clear of all Encumbrances (other than Permitted Encumbrances), all right, title and interest in and to all of the Purchased Assets pursuant to the Bill of Sale; and

(ii) the transactions contemplated by the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, the Trust Agreements, the Administrative Services Agreements and the Transition Services Agreement shall be consummated.

(b) Purchased Assets Purchase Price. At the Closing, Buyer or an Affiliate of Buyer shall pay Seller the Purchased Assets Purchase Price by wire transfer of immediately available funds to Seller's Account.

(c) Closing Date. The closing of the transactions contemplated by Section 2.2(a) (the "Closing"), shall take place at the offices of Sidley Austin LLP, 787 Seventh Avenue, New York, NY 10019, on the day the SPA Closing occurs and immediately prior to the SPA Closing, provided that the conditions set forth in Article VI have been satisfied or waived in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, or at such other time and place as may be agreed upon in writing by Buyer and Seller. The Closing shall be deemed effective as of 11:58 PM New York City time on the last calendar day of the month prior to the month in which the Closing occurs. Such date is referred to herein as the "Closing Date" and such time on such date is referred to herein as the "Effective Time".

(d) Closing Deliveries.

(i) At the Closing, Seller shall deliver or cause to be delivered to Buyer:

(A) each Transaction Document, duly executed by the parties thereto (other than Buyer); and

(B) one or more certificates, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, certifying that withholding is not required under Section 1445 of the Code or the regulations promulgated thereunder in connection with the sale of the Purchased Assets.

(ii) At the Closing, Buyer shall make the payment contemplated by Section 2.2(b) and deliver or cause to be delivered to Seller, each Transaction Document to which Buyer or an Affiliate (including the Company) thereof is a party, duly executed by Buyer or its Affiliate, as applicable.

(e) Purchase Price Allocation. Buyer and Seller agree that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the purchase price for the Purchased Assets shall be equal to (i) the Purchased Assets Purchase Price, plus (ii) the amount, if any, of any liabilities assumed pursuant to the terms of the Transaction Documents that are properly taken into account in determining the purchase price for the Purchased Assets (the "Asset Purchase Price"). For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Asset Purchase Price shall be allocated among the Purchased Assets as provided in Schedule I to the Bill of Sale.

ARTICLE III.
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF SELLER

Except as set forth in the disclosure schedule supplied by Seller to Buyer dated as of the date hereof (the "Seller Disclosure Schedule"), Seller hereby represents and warrants to Buyer as of the date hereof, the Shares Closing Date and the Closing Date (except, in all cases, to the extent any such representations and warranties address matters only as of a particular date, in which case such representations and warranties shall speak only as of such date) as follows; provided, that Seller makes no representations or warranties in this Agreement with respect to the Company with respect to any effects resulting from any action or omission of Buyer or any of its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing) from and after the Shares Closing:

SECTION 3.1 Organization, Standing and Corporate Power.

(a) Seller is an exempted company duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of Bermuda.

(b) The Company is (i) a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware and (ii) has the requisite corporate power and authority to own, lease or otherwise hold the assets and properties owned, leased or otherwise held by it and to carry on its business as now being conducted, except, in the case of clause (ii), where the failure to have such power and authority would not reasonably be expected, individually or in the aggregate, to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Company. The Company is duly qualified as a foreign corporation to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification necessary, other than in such jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified or in good standing (individually or in the aggregate) would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Company.

(c) Seller has made available to Buyer true, complete and correct copies of the certificate of incorporation and bylaws, each as amended to date (collectively, the "Organizational Documents"), of the Company. The Organizational Documents of the Company that have been so delivered are in full force and effect.

SECTION 3.2 Capital Structure. The issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company consists of 200,000 shares, par value $12.50 per share, which constitute the Shares. Except for the Shares, no shares of capital stock or other equity interests of the Company are issued, reserved for issuance or outstanding. All of the Shares are duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and not subject to preemptive rights. PLFE is the record and beneficial owner of 100% of the Shares, free and clear of all Encumbrances. There are no restrictions upon the voting or transfer of any Shares pursuant to the Company's Organizational Documents or any agreement to which Seller, PLFE or the Company is a party. Assuming Buyer has the requisite power and authority to be the lawful owner of the Shares, upon delivery of and payment for the Shares at the Closing as herein provided, good and valid title to the Shares will pass to Buyer, free and clear of all Encumbrances, other than any Encumbrances arising from acts of Buyer. There are no capital appreciation rights, phantom stock plans or securities with participation rights or features, or similar obligations and commitments with respect to the Company (other than the Shares). There are no obligations, contingent or otherwise, to repurchase, redeem (or establish a sinking fund with respect to redemption) or otherwise acquire any shares of capital stock or other equity interests of the Company. There are no securities, options, warrants, rights, commitments or agreements of any kind, except for this Agreement, to which the Company or Seller is a party or by which either is bound obligating it to issue, sell or deliver shares of capital stock or other equity interests of the Company.

SECTION 3.3 Authority.

(a) Seller has the requisite corporate power and authority to enter into this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party, and to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents to which it is a party. The execution and delivery of this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party by Seller, and the consummation by Seller of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of Seller. No action by the stockholders of Seller is necessary to authorize the execution and delivery by Seller of this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents to which it is a party, and the consummation by Seller of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. This Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party has been or will be duly executed and delivered by Seller and, assuming this Agreement and such other Transaction Documents constitute valid and binding agreements of Buyer and Affiliates of Buyer party thereto, constitute valid and binding obligations of Seller, enforceable against Seller in accordance with their terms, except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

(b) The execution and delivery by ALAC, ALACNY and any Affiliate of Seller (including the Company) of each Transaction Document to which ALAC, ALACNY and such Affiliate is or will be a party and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby are within the corporate powers, as applicable, of each of ALAC, ALACNY and such Affiliate and have been, or will be, duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of each of ALAC, ALACNY and such Affiliate. As of the Closing Date, each Transaction Document to which each of ALAC, ALACNY and such Affiliate will be a party will constitute, assuming such Transaction Document constitutes a valid and binding agreement of each other party thereto, a valid and binding agreement of each of ALAC, ALACNY and such Affiliate, enforceable against ALAC, ALACNY and such Affiliate in accordance with its terms, except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

SECTION 3.4 Noncontravention; Consents.

(a) Except as disclosed in Section 3.4 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, the execution and delivery by Seller of this Agreement and by ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or any of their respective Affiliates of each other Transaction Document to which it will be a party do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents will not, (i) conflict with any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or PLFE, (ii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, conflict with, result in a breach or violation of, or a default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of termination under, or result in the creation of any Encumbrance on any property or asset of the Company or any acceleration of remedies, penalty or change in the terms under, or require the consent of any Third Party under, any Contract to which ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or PLFE is a party or (iii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, contravene any Applicable Law applicable to ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or PLFE, except, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) above, as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or PLFE. No consent, approval or authorization of, or declaration or filing with, or notice to, any Governmental Entity is required by or with respect to ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or PLFE in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Seller or of any other Transaction Document by ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or any of their respective Affiliates, as the case may be, or the consummation by ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or any of their respective Affiliates of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, except for (i) any filing required under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the "HSR Act"), (ii) the approvals, filings and notices required under the insurance laws of the jurisdictions set forth in Section 3.4 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, (iii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices as are set forth in Section 3.4 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule and (iv) such other consents, approvals or authorizations from, declarations by, filings with, or notices to, any Governmental Entity that, if not obtained or made, would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or PLFE. To the Knowledge of Seller, as of the date hereof, no fact or circumstance exists with respect to ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Company) that would render them unable promptly to obtain any approval, authorization or consent of a Governmental Entity required to be obtained to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document.

(b) Except as disclosed in Section 3.4 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, the execution and delivery by Seller of this Agreement and by ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or any of their respective Affiliates (including the Company prior to the Shares Closing) of each other Transaction Document to which it will be a party do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents will not, (i) conflict with any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of the Company, (ii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, conflict with, result in a breach or violation of, or a default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, give rise to a right of termination under, or result in the creation of an Encumbrance on any property or asset of the Company or any acceleration of remedies, penalty or change in the terms under, or require the consent of any Third Party under, any Contract to which the Company is a party or (iii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, contravene any Applicable Law applicable to the Company, except, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) above, as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Company. No consent, approval or authorization of, or declaration or filing with, or notice to, any Governmental Entity is required by or with respect to the Company in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Seller or of any other Transaction Document by the Company, as the case may be, or the consummation by Seller or the Company of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, except for (i) any filing required under the HSR Act, (ii) the approvals, filings and notices required under the insurance laws of the jurisdictions set forth in Section 3.4 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, (iii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices as are set forth in Section 3.4 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule and (iv) such other consents, approvals or authorizations from, declarations by, filings with, or notices to, any Governmental Entity that, if not obtained or made, would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Company. To the Knowledge of Seller as of the date hereof, no fact or circumstance exists with respect to ALAC, ALACNY, Seller or any of their respective Affiliates (including the Company) that would render them unable promptly to obtain any approval, authorization or consent of a Governmental Entity required to be obtained to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document.

SECTION 3.5 Financial Statements. Seller has previously delivered or made available to Buyer copies of the audited balance sheets and statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flow as of and for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2010 and December 31, 2011, for the Company (collectively, the "Financial Statements"). The Financial Statements (including the notes thereto) have been prepared in accordance with SAP throughout the periods covered thereby and present fairly in all material respects the financial condition of the Company as of such dates and the results of operations of the Company for such periods.

SECTION 3.6 No Undisclosed Liabilities. The Company has no material liability, except (i) those liabilities provided for or disclosed in the Financial Statements or in the notes thereto, (ii) liabilities incurred since December 31, 2012 not exceeding $100,000 in the aggregate and (iii) liabilities under this Agreement or incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby or by the other Transaction Documents.

SECTION 3.7 Taxes. Except as disclosed in Section 3.7 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule:

(a) All material Tax Returns required to be filed by or with respect to the Company have been timely filed with the appropriate Tax authorities. All such Tax Returns are true, complete, and correct in all material respects as they relate to the Company. All Taxes payable by or with respect to the Company have been paid in full or properly accrued for on the books of the Company. There are no Encumbrances for Taxes (other than Taxes which are Permitted Encumbrances) upon the stock or assets of the Company.

(b) There is no audit, examination, or other matter in controversy with respect to any Taxes due and owing insofar as any such matter pertains to the Company and there is no Tax deficiency or claim assessed or, to the Knowledge of Seller, proposed or threatened (whether orally or in writing) insofar as any such deficiency or claim pertains to the Company.

(c) All Taxes required to have been withheld and paid by the Company in connection with amounts paid or owing to any employee, independent contractor, creditor, stockholder, policyholder, contract holder, or other Third Party in respect of the Company, have been withheld, and such withheld Taxes have either been duly paid to the proper Governmental Entity or set aside in accounts for such purpose. The Company has complied in all material respects with all applicable Tax information reporting and disclosure requirements. Neither the Company nor Seller has waived any statutory period of limitations for the assessment of any Taxes relating to the Company or agreed to any extension of time with respect to a Tax assessment or deficiency relating to the Company other than in the case of any such waivers or extensions in respect of an assessment or deficiency of Tax the liability for which has been satisfied or settled.

(d) The Company has not been a member of any affiliated, consolidated, combined, unitary or aggregate Tax group (within the meaning of Section 1504 of the Code or any comparable provision of Applicable Law) in any Tax year for which the statute of limitations for the assessment or collection of Tax remains open.

(e) An election under Section 338(h)(10) of the Code was properly made in connection with the Company Acquisition.

(f) Since the date of the Company Acquisition, the Company has not received a Tax ruling or entered into a closing agreement or other agreement with respect to Taxes with any Government Entity, in either case that would be applicable to the Company for any taxable year or period ending after the Shares Closing Date.

(g) The Company will not be required to include any amount in income or forego any deduction in any taxable year or period ending after the Shares Closing Date resulting from (i) a change in method of accounting effected after the date of the Company Acquisition and on or before the Shares Closing Date, (ii) installment sale or other open transaction entered into after the date of the Company Acquisition and on or before the Shares Closing Date, (iii) prepaid amount received after the date of the Company Acquisition and on or before the Shares Closing Date or (iv) change in the basis for computing any item described in Section 807(c) of the Code effected after the date of the Company Acquisition and on or before the Shares Closing Date. No election for Tax purposes made after the date of the Company Acquisition (other than the election described in Section 3.7(e) above) is currently in force by which the Company will be bound in any taxable year or period ending after the Shares Closing Date.

(h) Since the date of the Company Acquisition, and, to the Knowledge of Seller, with respect to periods ending on or before the date of the Company Acquisition, the Company has not participated in (within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(c)) and has not been a "material advisor" or "promoter" (as defined in Section 6111 and 6112 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder) with respect to any transaction that is a "listed transaction" as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4(b)(2).

(i) Since the date of the Company Acquisition, the Company has not been a "distributing corporation" or a "controlled corporation" within the meaning of Section 355 of the Code (i) in the two years prior to the date of this Agreement or (ii) in a distribution that could otherwise constitute part of a "plan" or "series of related transactions" (within the meaning of Section 355(e) of the Code) in conjunction with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

SECTION 3.8 Compliance with Applicable Laws; Certificates of Authority.

(a) The Company is, and at all times since July 3, 2012 has been, in compliance with all Applicable Laws, except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Company. The Company has not at any time since July 3, 2012 received any written notice or other written communication from any Governmental Entity regarding any actual or alleged violation of, or failure on the part of the Company to comply with, any Applicable Laws, in each case other than any such item that has been cured or otherwise resolved to the satisfaction of such Governmental Entity, that is no longer being pursued by such Governmental Entity following a response by the Company or that would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Company.

(b) Section 3.8(b) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule lists (i) each Certificate of Authority held by the Company and (ii) the lines of insurance the Company is authorized to transact within each jurisdiction listed thereon. Seller has delivered or made available to Buyer true, complete and correct copies of all such Certificates of Authority. The Certificates of Authority are valid and in full force and effect.

SECTION 3.9 Litigation. Except as disclosed in Section 3.9 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, (i) there is no Action with respect to which the Company has been served with notice or any other Action that, to the Knowledge of Seller, is pending or threatened against or affecting the Company or any of its respective assets, properties or businesses except for any such Action that individually (A) would not reasonably be expected to result in any loss to the Company of $10,000 or more or (B) would not reasonably be expected to have the effect of preventing any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and any other Transaction Document and (ii) there is no order of any Governmental Entity outstanding or, to the Knowledge of Seller, pending or threatened against or affecting the Company or any of its assets, properties or businesses (A) resulting in, or that would reasonably be expected to result in, a loss to the Company of $10,000 or more or (B) that enjoins or would reasonably be expected to have the effect of preventing any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document.

SECTION 3.10 Employees. The Company (i) has no employees, (ii) engages no independent contractors, (iii) does not sponsor, maintain or contribute to any Employee Benefit Plans and (iv) has no liabilities, contingent or otherwise, related to employees, independent contractors or compensation or Employee Benefit Plans.

SECTION 3.11 Real Property. The Company does not own or have a leasehold interest in any real property or interest in real property.

SECTION 3.12 Intellectual Property. The Company does not own, and has no rights or licenses to use, any Intellectual Property material to the Company's business.

SECTION 3.13 In-Force Policies. The Company has no in-force insurance policies other than those set forth on Section 3.13 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule.

SECTION 3.14 Brokers. Seller is solely responsible for the payment of the fees and expenses of any broker, investment banker, financial adviser or other Person acting in a similar capacity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the other Transaction Documents based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Seller or any Affiliate.Absence of Changes. Except as set forth on Schedule 3.15, since December 28, 2012, the Company has not conducted any business other than as necessary to maintain the Certificates of Authority in full force and effect.Contracts.

(a) Schedule 3.16(a) lists all Contracts to which the Company is a party as of the date of this Agreement (collectively, the "Company Contracts").

(b) Schedule 3.16(b) lists, as of the date of this Agreement, all Contracts between the Company, on the one hand, and Seller or any other Affiliates of the Company, on the other hand (collectively, the "Related Party Contracts").

(c) Seller has furnished or made available to Buyer complete and correct copies of the Company Contracts and the Related Party Contracts as in effect on the date of this Agreement.

(d) Except for the Transaction Documents, as of the Closing Date, the Company will not be bound by any Related Party Contracts.

SECTION 3.17 No Subsidiaries. The Company does not own any Subsidiaries.

SECTION 3.18 No Knowledge of Breach. None of Seller or any Seller Indemnified Person (as defined in the SPA) had actual knowledge as of the date of the SPA of a breach of the SPA by Aviva.

SECTION 3.19 Capital and Surplus. As of the date hereof, the assets constituting the capital and surplus of the Company under SAP are as set forth in Section 3.19 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule.

ARTICLE IV.
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF BUYER.

Except as set forth in the disclosure schedule supplied by Buyer to Seller dated as of the date hereof (the "Buyer Disclosure Schedule"), Buyer hereby represents and warrants to Seller as of the date hereof, as of the Shares Closing Date and as of the Closing Date (except to the extent any such representations and warranties address matters only as of a particular date, in which case such representations and warranties shall speak only as of such date) as follows:

SECTION 4.1 Organization and Standing. Buyer is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Massachusetts.

SECTION 4.2 Authority. Buyer has the requisite corporate power and authority to enter into this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party, and to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party. The execution and delivery of this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party by Buyer and the consummation by Buyer of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of Buyer. No action by the stockholders of Buyer is necessary to authorize the execution and delivery by Buyer of this Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party, and the consummation by Buyer of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. This Agreement and each other Transaction Document to which it is a party has been or will be duly executed and delivered by Buyer and, assuming this Agreement and such other Transaction Documents constitute the valid and binding agreements of Seller or Affiliates of Seller party thereto, constitute valid and binding obligations of Buyer, enforceable against Buyer in accordance with their terms except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

SECTION 4.3 Noncontravention; Consents. Except as disclosed in Section 4..3 of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Buyer and by Buyer and the NY Reinsurer of each other Transaction Document to which it will be a party do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents will not, (i) conflict with any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of Buyer or the NY Reinsurer, (ii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, conflict with, result in a breach of or default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, give rise to a right of termination under, or result in the creation of an Encumbrance on any property or asset of Buyer or the NY Reinsurer or any acceleration of remedies, penalty or change in the terms under, or require the consent of any Third Party under, any Contract to which Buyer or the NY Reinsurer is a party, or (iii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, contravene any Applicable Law applicable to Buyer or the NY Reinsurer, except, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) above, as would not reasonably be expected to materially impair the ability of Buyer to consummate any of the transactions contemplated hereby. No consent, approval or authorization of, or declaration or filing with, or notice to, any Governmental Entity is required by or with respect to Buyer or any of its Affiliates in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement or of any other Transaction Document by Buyer or the consummation by Buyer of any of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, except for (i) any filing required under the HSR Act, (ii) the approvals, filings and notices required under the insurance laws of the jurisdictions set forth in Section 4.3 of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, (iii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices as are set forth in Section 4.3 of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule and (iv) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices which if not obtained or made would not, in the aggregate, materially impair the ability of Buyer to consummate any of the transactions contemplated hereby. To the Knowledge of Buyer, no fact or circumstance relating to Buyer or its Affiliates (including their plans for funding the purchase of the Shares or financing or operating the Company after the Closing) exists that would render Buyer unable to promptly obtain any approval, authorization or consent of a Governmental Entity required to be obtained to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document.

SECTION 4.4 Purchase Not for Distribution. The Shares to be acquired under the terms of this Agreement will be acquired by Buyer for its own account and not with a view to distribution. Buyer will not resell, transfer, assign, pledge or otherwise dispose of any Shares, except in compliance with the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws, or pursuant to an available exemption therefrom.

SECTION 4.5 Litigation. There is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Buyer, threatened in writing against or affecting Buyer or any Affiliate of Buyer that (i) seeks to restrain or enjoin the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or (ii) would reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Buyer to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Neither Buyer nor any of its Affiliates nor, to the Knowledge of Buyer, any officer, director or employee of Buyer or any of its Affiliates has been permanently or temporarily enjoined or barred by any order, judgment or decree of any Governmental Entity from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with the business conducted by the Company or otherwise that would reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a material adverse effect on the ability of Buyer to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents.

SECTION 4.6 Brokers. Buyer is solely responsible for the payment of the fees and expenses of any broker, investment banker, financial adviser or other Person acting in a similar capacity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the other Transaction Documents based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Buyer or any Affiliate.

SECTION 4.7 Financial Ability. Buyer has and on the Closing Date will have sufficient funds available to purchase the Shares on the terms and conditions contemplated by this Agreement and fund the Company's obligations under the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, to consummate the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and to pay all associated costs and expenses required to be paid by Buyer.

ARTICLE V.
COVENANTS

SECTION 5.1 Conduct of the Company. During the period from the date of this Agreement until the Shares Closing, except (a) as required by Applicable Law or expressly contemplated by the terms and conditions of this Agreement or any other Transaction Document, (b) as expressly required by the Great American Life Coinsurance Agreement, (c) as set forth on Section 5.1 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule or (d) to the extent Buyer otherwise consents in writing in advance, Seller shall cause the Company not to conduct any business, including any of the following:

(i) issue, directly or indirectly through any agent, broker, producer, fronting company or other similar arrangement, any insurance or reinsurance policy, binder, slip, contract, endorsement or certificate or enter into any transaction to provide credit protection, whether in the form of financial guaranty insurance or derivatives;

(ii) enter into any reinsurance or retrocessional treaty or agreement, slip, binder, cover note or similar arrangement;

(iii) declare, set aside or pay any dividends, or make any other distributions, in respect of any of the Shares;

(iv) authorize for issuance, deliver, transfer, issue, sell, grant, pledge or otherwise dispose of or encumber any shares of the Company's capital stock, any other voting securities or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for, or any options, warrants, calls or other rights to purchase or otherwise acquire any such shares, voting securities, or convertible or exchangeable securities, in each case, of the Company;

(v) enter into any agreement with respect to any merger, consolidation, liquidation, dissolution or business combination involving the Company;

(vi) acquire (by merger, consolidation, acquisition of stock or assets, bulk reinsurance or otherwise) any corporation, partnership or other business organization or assets or liabilities comprising a business or segment, division or line of business or any material amount of property or assets in or of any other Person or create or acquire any Subsidiaries;

(vii) amend any of the Company's Organizational Documents;

(viii) alter, repeal, amend or waive any terms or conditions of the Great American Life Coinsurance Agreement or otherwise terminate or recapture all or any portion of the Great American Life Coinsurance Agreement;

(ix) purchase, sell, lease, pledge, exchange, encumber or otherwise dispose or acquire any property or assets or make, or commit to make, any capital expenditures;

(x) (1) incur any indebtedness, (2) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to, or investments in, any other Person, other than investments made in the ordinary course of business in accordance with its investment policies or (3) assume, grant, guarantee or endorse, pledge or otherwise secure any assets or property or otherwise as an accommodation become responsible for (whether primary or secondary), the obligations of any Person;

(xi) enter into, assume or materially amend any Company Contract or Related Party Contract, or any new agreement that would constitute a Company Contract or Related Party Contract;

(xii) (1) hire or retain the services of any employee or independent contractor, (2) pay, enter into any agreement to pay or incur any liability to pay compensation for services to any Person or (3) establish or adopt any Employee Benefit Plan;

(xiii) sell, transfer, redeem, exchange or make any other change to the assets constituting the capital and surplus of the Company, other than any transaction that has the effect of exchanging or replacing any such asset with an amount of cash in U.S. dollars equal to or greater than the Statutory Book Value of such asset; or

(xiv) agree or commit to do any of the foregoing.

SECTION 5.2 General Cooperation and SPA Consent Rights.

(a) Upon the terms and subject to the conditions and other agreements set forth in this Agreement, each of the parties (i) shall use its reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and make effective, as soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement, the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents and (ii) (A) shall refrain from taking any actions that would reasonably be expected to impair, delay or impede the Shares Closing or the Closing and (B) not in limitation of any other provision of this Agreement, shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause all the conditions to the obligations of the parties to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement to be met as soon as reasonably practicable.

(b) Seller shall cooperate in good faith with Buyer and use its reasonable best efforts to ensure that Aviva honors its obligations under Section 4.28 of the SPA.

(c) When making recommendations pursuant to Section 4.7 of the SPA, Seller shall in good faith take into account any relevant recommendations made by Buyer in relation to assets supporting the Life Business.

(d) Each of the parties shall reasonably promptly notify the other of any material communication, and provide the other with copies thereof if such communication is in writing, received from AUSA, Aviva or any of their Affiliates or Representatives relating to or affecting the status of the transactions contemplated by the SPA that have or would reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the Life Business or the matters that are the subject of the Transaction Documents.

(e) Each party shall, in connection with the efforts referenced in Section 5.2(a), keep the other party reasonably apprised of the status of the matters relating to the completion of the transactions contemplated by the SPA and the Transaction Documents, including by providing the other party with copies of any orders or authorizations necessary in order to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents.

(f) Notwithstanding this Section 5.2, Section 5.3 or any other provision herein, Seller shall not be required to take any action or refrain from taking any action that (i) would be or would result in a breach under the SPA or that (ii) would or would reasonably be expected to impair, delay or impede Seller from exercising any right or remedy available to it under the SPA to the extent that the exercise of such right or remedy would not reasonably be expected to be detrimental in any material respect to the Life Business.

(g) Seller shall not amend, consent to or waive a provision or condition under the SPA or another Transaction Document (as defined in the SPA) that would or would reasonably be expected to be detrimental in any material respect to the Life Business without first obtaining Buyer's written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned); provided that Seller shall not be required to obtain such Buyer consent if doing so will result in the SPA Closing being impaired, delayed or impeded; provided, further, that Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates from and against any and all Losses suffered by Buyer to the extent relating to, resulting from or arising out of any such amendment, consent or waiver made without such prior written consent of Buyer.

SECTION 5.3 Regulatory Filings.

(a) Seller and Buyer shall each use, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to use, their reasonable best efforts, and shall cooperate (and cause their respective Affiliates to cooperate) fully with each other (i) to comply as promptly as practicable with all governmental requirements applicable to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document and (ii) to obtain as promptly as practicable all necessary permits, orders or other consents, approvals or authorizations of Governmental Entities necessary in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document (each, a "Governmental Authorization"). In connection therewith, Seller and Buyer shall make and cause their respective Affiliates to make all legally required filings as promptly as practicable in order to facilitate prompt consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document, shall provide and shall cause their respective Affiliates to provide such information and communications to Governmental Entities as such Governmental Entities may request, shall take and shall cause their respective Affiliates to take all steps that are necessary, proper or advisable to avoid any Action by any Governmental Entity with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document, shall defend or contest in good faith any Action by any Third Party (including any Governmental Entity), whether judicial or administrative, challenging this Agreement, any of the other Transaction Documents or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, or that could otherwise prevent, impede, interfere with, hinder or delay in any material respect the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, including by using its reasonable best efforts to have vacated or reversed any stay or temporary restraining order entered with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Document by any Governmental Entity. Each of Seller and Buyer shall not (and shall cause its Affiliates not to) take or cause to be taken any action that, to its knowledge, would be reasonably likely to materially delay or impair the receipt of any such permits, orders or other consents from a Governmental Entity. Except as otherwise provided in the last sentence of this Section 5.3(a), notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, whether in this Section 5.3(a), Section 5.2 or otherwise, neither Seller nor Buyer shall be obligated to take or refrain from taking or to agree to it, its Affiliates or any Company taking or refraining from any action if taking or refraining from taking such action, as applicable, would, or to suffer to exist any condition, limitation, restriction or requirement that, individually or in the aggregate with any other actions, conditions, limitations, restrictions or requirements would, or would reasonably be expected to, result in a Burdensome Condition. As used herein, "Burdensome Condition" means any condition that (A) with respect to Seller, results in a severe impairment of the aggregate economic benefits that as of the date hereof Seller and its Affiliates, taken as a whole, reasonably expect to obtain from the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the SPA and (B) with respect to Buyer, results in a severe impairment of the aggregate economic benefits that as of the date hereof Buyer and its Affiliates, taken as a whole, reasonably expect to obtain from the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, prior to a party being entitled to invoke the actual or potential existence of a Burdensome Condition, such party shall: (1) provide the other party with all information reasonably requested by it to enable the other party to analyze the causes and potential implications of such condition and effect; and (2) meet with the other party to: (A) exchange and review each party's views as to such condition, limitation, restriction or requirement; (B) discuss any potential approaches that would avoid such condition, limitation, restriction or requirement or mitigate its impact; and (C) negotiate in good faith to attempt to agree to modify the transactions contemplated hereby and by the other Transaction Documents, on mutually acceptable terms and on an equitable basis in a way that would substantially eliminate any such condition, limitation, restriction or requirement or sufficiently mitigate its adverse impact so that it would no longer constitute a Burdensome Condition; it being understood and agreed that if reasonable steps can be identified to avoid such effect or condition or sufficiently mitigate the negative impact thereof, each party will take, or cause its Affiliates to take, as applicable, all such reasonable steps.

(b) Seller shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause ALAC and ALACNY to comply with Section 5.3(a) as though parties thereto.

(c) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, as promptly as practicable after the date hereof each party shall make (and shall cause its respective Affiliates to make) all filings and notifications with all Governmental Entities that may be or become reasonably necessary, proper or advisable for the execution and delivery of, and the performance of the obligations pursuant to, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, including (i) Buyer causing "Form A" or similar change of control applications to be filed in each jurisdiction where required by applicable insurance laws with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, (ii) Seller using its reasonable best efforts to cause ALAC and ALACNY to make all filings and notifications required to be made by them in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents, (iii) any filing that may be required under any antitrust or competition law or by any Governmental Entity with jurisdiction over enforcement of any applicable antitrust or competition laws and (iv) any other filing that may be required under any insurance or financial services law or similar Applicable Law or by any Governmental Entity with jurisdiction over enforcement of any applicable insurance, financial services or similar law, including those listed on Sections 3.4(a) and (b) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule with respect to Seller, and Section 4.3 of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule with respect to Buyer. Each of Seller and Buyer shall have responsibility for the costs and expenses associated with its filings, as applicable, except that Seller and Buyer shall have equal responsibility for the costs and expenses associated with any HSR Act filing.

(d) Subject to Applicable Laws relating to the sharing of information, each of the parties shall promptly notify the other party of any communication it receives from any Governmental Entity relating to the matters that are the subject of this Agreement or any of the other Transaction Documents, permit the other party to review in advance, and consider in good faith the views of the other Party in connection with, any proposed material communication to any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, and promptly provide each other with true and complete copies of all correspondence, filings or written communications between such party or any of its Representatives, on the one hand, and any Governmental Entity or members of the staff of any Governmental Entity, on the other hand. Prior to submitting any substantive letter, filing or other written communication with any Governmental Entity relating to the matters that are the subject of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, each party shall allow the other party, to the extent practicable, not less than three Business Days to review and provide comments on a draft of such written communication in advance of submitting such written communication to such Governmental Entity. Neither party shall participate, agree to participate or permit its Representatives to participate or agree to participate, in any substantive in-person or telephonic meeting or hearing with any Governmental Entity relating to the matters that are the subject of this Agreement unless it consults with the other party in advance and, to the extent permitted by the applicable Governmental Entity, gives the other party the opportunity to attend and participate in any such meeting or hearing. Subject to the Confidentiality Agreement, Seller and Buyer shall coordinate and cooperate fully with each other in exchanging such information and providing such assistance as the other party may reasonably request in connection with the foregoing (including in seeking early termination of any applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act).

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, neither party nor any of their respective Affiliates shall be required to disclose pursuant to this Section 5.3 (1) any information that in the reasonable judgment of such party would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of such party or Third Parties, (2) any privileged information or confidential competitive information or (3) any information to the other party or any of its Affiliates that in the reasonable judgment of such non-disclosing party would violate any of its contractual obligations with respect to confidentiality; provided, that with respect to clause (3), the non-disclosing party shall have first used its reasonable best efforts to obtain a waiver or consent necessary to allow it to disclose such information; provided, further, that if such consent or waiver to disclose is not obtained, the non-disclosing party shall provide such information directly to the applicable Governmental Entity and may seek to have such information treated confidentially. Neither party shall be required to comply with any of the foregoing provisions of this Section 5.3(e) or Section 5.3(d) to the extent that such compliance would be prohibited by Applicable Law.

(f) The parties shall use their reasonable best efforts to obtain all Governmental Authorizations required in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, including those set forth in Schedules 3.4(a) and (b) and Schedule 4.3, prior to the Cut-off Date.

(g) Other than as specified in Section 5.11, notwithstanding this Section 5.3 or any other provision herein, Seller shall be under no obligation to provide Buyer with notices, filings or other communications, allow Buyer to review, comment or consult on any notices, filings or other communications or provide Buyer the opportunity to consult, attend or participate in any meeting or hearing, with Governmental Entities, Aviva or any Third Party with respect to the SPA or the transactions contemplated thereunder.

SECTION 5.4 Third Party Consents and Assignment of Contracts.

(a) Seller shall be solely responsible for obtaining, and shall use its, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to use their, reasonable best efforts to obtain, prior to the Effective Time, any Third Party consent, waiver or approval required under the Assumed Reinsurance Agreements and the Other Reinsurance Agreements (each as defined in each of the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements) and the other Third Party consents, waivers and approvals set forth on Schedule 5.4, and to seek to have the Aviva Insurers and their applicable counterparties make any other notifications, in each case, that are required in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, including obtaining consents with respect to waivers of minimum retention requirements necessary to allow all Policies to be reinsured to the Company or the NY Reinsurer for the duration of the period during which such Policies are outstanding, if applicable. In connection with obtaining consents, waivers or approvals under Assumed Reinsurance Agreements and Other Reinsurance Agreements, Seller shall not agree or cause the Aviva Insurers to agree to an amendment or waiver of the terms and conditions of such agreements without the prior written consent of Buyer, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Seller shall bear all costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Section 5.4(a).

(b) Seller and Buyer shall cooperate in good faith with each other to obtain any of the Third Party consents, waivers or approvals described above. In the event such Third Party consents cannot be obtained prior to the Effective Date (as defined in each of the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements), Buyer and Seller agree to cooperate in good faith to determine a mutually agreeable solution relating to such Third Party consents taking into consideration and ensuring that the economic benefits, risks and rewards that the parties reasonably expect to derive from the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents are achieved. Each party shall inform the other party with respect to the status of such Third Party consents, waivers and approvals upon such other party's reasonable request, and Buyer and Seller will use reasonable best efforts to agree on the form of any treaty and/or solution prior to the Effective Date (as defined in each of the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements). Neither Seller nor Buyer shall be required to pay any consideration to obtain the consents, waivers or approvals in connection with this Section 5.4.

(c) Each party shall promptly advise the other party of any communication that causes it to believe that there is a reasonable likelihood that any such Third Party consent, waiver or approval will not be obtained or that the receipt of any such Third Party consent, waiver or approval will be materially delayed or conditioned.

SECTION 5.5 Provision of Services and Systems. Except as may be provided under the Transition Services Agreement, Buyer shall be solely responsible for obtaining, and shall use its, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to use their, reasonable best efforts to obtain, any licenses, services and systems required to perform Buyer's and its Subsidiaries' obligations following Closing under the Administrative Services Agreements.

SECTION 5.6 Reinsurance Assets.

(a) The Reinsurance Assets to be delivered to the Company or the NY Reinsurer or deposited in the Funds Withheld Account on the Closing Date pursuant to the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements shall be selected using the Assets List, as modified in accordance with the Asset Identification Protocol. The Assets List, as so modified, will provide the content for the annexes of transferred assets and funds withheld assets that will be appended to the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements upon their execution and delivery at the Closing. To the extent any of the assets listed in the Assets List become an Impaired Asset or otherwise become subject to removal based on the Asset Identification Protocol, such asset shall be removed from the Assets List and Seller shall replace any such removed assets with one or more other assets in accordance with the Asset Identification Protocol. Either Seller or Buyer may circulate an updated Assets List to the other party after any such change.

(b) The parties acknowledge that the Assets List delivered on the date hereof remains subject to review by both parties. The parties agree that they will cooperate in good faith to review and agree on a final Assets List by May 3, 2013 or such later date as the parties may mutually agree in writing.

SECTION 5.7 Employee Matters.

(a) Offers of Employment.

(i) As soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement, but in no event later than sixty (60) days prior to the date on which the Closing Date is expected to occur, Buyer shall advise Seller of the employees of the Companies whom Buyer wishes to employ beginning on the day following the Closing Date (the "Closing Employees"). From the date of this Agreement through the date on which the Closing Date is expected to occur, Buyer shall, or shall cause one or more of its Subsidiaries to, offer a Comparable Job to all of the Closing Employees effective as of the Closing Date and shall negotiate in good faith with the Closing Employees to cause the Closing Employees to accept such offers; provided, however, that Buyer shall not offer employment to any employee listed on Section 5.7(a) of Seller's Disclosure Schedule without the prior written consent of Seller. A Closing Employee who accepts such offer of employment, which acceptance shall be in writing, shall become an employee of Buyer or of its applicable Subsidiary (and not of the Companies) effective as of the day following the Closing Date. From the date of this Agreement through the Closing Date, Seller shall use its reasonable best efforts pursuant to Section 4.28 of the SPA to cause AUSA and its Affiliates to make the Closing Employees reasonably available to Buyer for the purpose of making offers of employment as contemplated by this Section 5.7(a).

(ii) From time to time during the period that the Transition Services Agreement is in effect, and in connection with the termination of one or more of the services being provided under the Transition Services Agreement, Buyer may, upon written notice to Seller at least sixty (60) days prior to the Covered Employee's Commencement Date, make offers of Comparable Jobs to one or more employees of the Companies whose employment relates to the services being provided, with such employment with Buyer or any of its Subsidiaries to be effective as of the day following the date on which such services terminate; provided, however, that Buyer shall not offer employment to any employee listed on Section 5.7(a) of Seller's Disclosure Schedule without the prior written consent of Seller.

(iii) Each employee of the Companies who commences employment with Buyer or one of its Subsidiaries in accordance with this Section 5.7(a) shall be referred to herein as a "Covered Employee", and the date that such Covered Employee commences employment with Buyer or one of its Subsidiaries is referred to herein as such Covered Employee's "Commencement Date".

(iv) Buyer and its Subsidiaries shall make all offers of employment (and any decisions to make or fail to make an offer) pursuant to this Section 5.7(a) in compliance with all material applicable employment laws.

(v) If (i) any employee of the Companies is offered employment with Buyer or its Subsidiaries pursuant to this Section 5.7(a) and, following negotiation of the potential terms and conditions of such employment, does not agree to such employment, and (ii) Buyer and its Subsidiaries subsequently hire such employee prior to January 1, 2014, but not in connection with the offer of employment pursuant to this Section 5.7(a), then Buyer shall reimburse Seller for the aggregate value of any severance pay and benefits paid or provided to such employee by the Companies, Seller or any of their Affiliates under the AUSA Severance Plan, as in effect on the date hereof and set forth on Section 5.7(a)(v) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule (the "Severance Plan").

(b) Without limiting the generality of Section 5.7(a), each offer of employment made pursuant to Section 5.7(a) with respect to an employee of the Companies shall be (i) for a position substantially comparable to the position he or she holds , (ii) with duties and responsibilities that are substantially comparable to the duties and responsibilities of such employee's current employment, and (iii) with compensation and employee benefits that are substantially the same as provided to similarly situated employees of Buyer and its Subsidiaries. The offer of employment shall also state the severance protection that would be afforded such Closing Employee consistent with this Section 5.7(a) should the employee accept the offer of employment. For the twelve (12) month period following the date of the SPA Closing, except with the express written agreement of the Covered Employee, Buyer or its Subsidiaries, as applicable, shall provide each Covered Employee with cash compensation and employee benefits, respectively, that are no less favorable in the aggregate than the cash compensation and employee benefits, respectively, required to be provided to such Covered Employee by Seller or its applicable Affiliate pursuant to the SPA. In addition, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, each such offer of employment by Buyer or one of its Subsidiaries shall provide severance pay and benefits to any Covered Employee whose employment is terminated following the Commencement Date and prior to January 1, 2014 on terms and conditions (including eligibility conditions) and in amounts as set forth under the Severance Plan and thereafter on terms and conditions and in amounts as are applicable to similarly situated terminated employees of Buyer and its Subsidiaries under any general severance policy of Buyer and its Subsidiaries as in effect from time to time. Each such offer of employment shall be conditioned upon the waiver and release of any right of the Covered Employee to severance pay or termination benefits from the Companies, Seller and its Affiliates, effective as of such Covered Employee's Commencement Date. An offer of employment that is materially consistent with this Section 5.7(b) is referred to in this Agreement as a "Comparable Job".

(c) On and after a Covered Employee's Commencement Date, Buyer shall provide, or cause one of its Subsidiaries to provide, to each Covered Employee under each employee benefit plan maintained or contributed to by Buyer or any Subsidiary of Buyer for its similarly situated employees, credit for purposes of eligibility to participate, vesting and benefit accrual (but not for purposes of determining benefit accruals under a defined benefit plan or any retiree medical plan) for full and partial years of service with Seller and their Affiliates (including the Companies and any of their predecessors) performed prior to the Commencement Date to the extent such service was credited for such purpose under the analogous benefit plan immediately prior to the Commencement Date; provided, no such prior service shall be taken into account to the extent it would result in the duplication of benefits, or in respect of any equity compensation. Seller shall provide Buyer with the amount of service to be credited for such Covered Employee on or prior to the applicable Commencement Date, or if not reasonably practicable to provide such information as of the Commencement Date, as soon as reasonably practicable following the Commencement Date.

(d) Buyer shall (i) subject to obtaining any required consent of any insurer, waive or cause to be waived all limitations as to preexisting conditions, exclusions and waiting periods or required physical examinations with respect to participation and coverage requirements applicable to Covered Employees and their eligible dependents under any health, medical, disability and life insurance plans offered by Buyer or its Subsidiaries, other than limitations or waiting periods that are already in effect with respect to such Covered Employees and that have not been satisfied as of the applicable Commencement Date; and (ii) use commercially reasonable efforts to provide or cause to be provided to each Covered Employee with credit for any co-payments and deductibles paid by such Covered Employee and his or her respective dependents prior to the applicable Commencement Date and in the same plan year as that in which such Commencement Date occurs for purposes of satisfying any applicable deductible or out-of-pocket requirements under the analogous Buyer benefit plan for the relevant plan year. Seller shall provide Buyer with all of the information necessary for Buyer to give effect to this Section 5.7(d) on or prior to the applicable Commencement Date, or if not reasonably practicable to provide such information as of the Commencement Date, as soon as reasonably practicable following the Commencement Date.

(e) Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Agreement, (i) Buyer shall be, or shall cause its Subsidiaries to be, responsible and liable for providing health care continuation coverage as required under COBRA with respect to any Covered Employee (or any eligible dependent of a Covered Employee) who experiences a COBRA "qualifying event" on or after such Covered Employee's Commencement Date under any employee benefit plan maintained by or contributed to Buyer or its Subsidiaries that is subject to COBRA, and (ii) Seller shall be, or shall cause its Subsidiaries to be, responsible and liable for providing or continuing to provide, health care continuation coverage as required under COBRA with respect to any Covered Employee (or any eligible dependent of a Covered Employee) who experiences a COBRA "qualifying event" prior to such Covered Employee's Commencement Date under any employee benefit plan maintained by or contributed to Seller or its Subsidiaries that is subject to COBRA.

(f) Nothing in this Section 5.7, express or implied, is intended to be, shall constitute or shall be construed as an amendment to or modification of any employee benefit plan or arrangement of Buyer, Seller, the Companies, or any of their Affiliates or limit in any way the right of Buyer, Seller, the Companies or any of their respective Affiliates to amend, modify or terminate any of their respective employee benefit plans or arrangements. Further, without limiting the generality of Section 10.4, nothing in this Section 5.7, express or implied, shall create any third party beneficiary rights in favor of any Person, including any Covered Employee, or create any third party beneficiary or other rights to continued employment with Buyer, the Companies, Seller, or any of their respective Affiliates and nothing in this Section 5.7 shall limit the right of Buyer, Seller or the Companies or any of their Affiliates to terminate the employment of any Person, including any Covered Employee, at any time for any or no reason in a manner consistent with applicable contractual obligations, if any.

SECTION 5.8 Life Business Reinsurance Agreements.

(a) Attached as Annex H hereto is a preliminary form (the "Pro Forma Life Reference Balance Sheet") that the parties contemplate will be the basis for the Life Reference Balance Sheet. On or prior to June 30, 2013, the parties shall cooperate in good faith and use their reasonable best efforts to amend, remove or add to the line items listed in the Pro Forma Life Reference Balance Sheet so that the Pro Forma Life Reference Balance Sheet reflects all of the line items necessary to prepare a balance sheet for the Life Business in accordance with SAP and the accounting and actuarial practices of AUSA and its Subsidiaries, consistently applied.

(b) If Buyer and Seller cannot agree on such amendments, removals or additions by June 30, 2013, Buyer and Seller shall jointly engage an Accounting Expert to resolve the dispute. The Accounting Expert shall act as an arbitrator to determine what amendments, removals or additions are necessary or advisable in light of SAP and the accounting and actuarial practices of AUSA and its Subsidiaries, consistently applied. The parties shall agree, promptly after the Accounting Expert has been appointed, on procedures to govern the resolution of the dispute, provided that if the parties fail to agree on such procedures, the dispute resolution procedures of the American Arbitration Association shall govern. Buyer and Seller shall use their reasonable best efforts to cause the Accounting Expert to issue a written determination resolving the dispute within ten (10) Business Days. Each party shall use its reasonable best efforts to furnish to the Accounting Expert such work papers and other documents and information pertaining to the dispute as the Accounting Expert may reasonably request. The determination of the Accounting Expert shall be final, binding and conclusive upon Buyer and Seller absent fraud or manifest error. The fees, expenses and costs of the Accounting Expert engaged under this Section 5.8(b) shall be borne equally by Buyer and Seller.

(c) On or prior to July 31, 2013 (or on or prior to August 15, 2013 if an Accounting Expert is engaged pursuant to Section 5.8(b) or ten (10) Business Days after the Accounting Expert makes a final and binding determination under Section 5.8(b), if later), Seller shall provide Buyer with the Pro Forma Life Reference Balance Sheet as of December 31, 2012 prepared in the format as modified by Sections 5.8(a) and 5.8(b) and in accordance with SAP and the accounting and actuarial practices of AUSA and its Subsidiaries, consistently applied. The Pro Forma Life Reference Balance Sheet, as so delivered by Seller shall constitute the Pro Forma Life Reference Balance Sheet.

(d) At least three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date, Seller shall deliver to Buyer the Life Reference Balance Sheet prepared in the form of the Pro Forma Life Reference Balance Sheet and in accordance with SAP and the accounting and actuarial practices of AUSA and its Subsidiaries, consistently applied, with the amounts set forth thereon being estimated as of the Effective Date.

(e) At least three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date, Seller shall deliver to Buyer a completed version of Schedule 2.12 of the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements showing the interest maintenance reserve amounts contemplated by such agreements.

(f) Prior to the Closing Date, the parties shall cooperate and use their respective reasonable best efforts to take all actions which the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements state that the parties shall take or shall have taken prior to the Closing Date.

(g) For the avoidance of doubt, in accordance with SAP and the accounting and actuarial practices of AUSA and its Subsidiaries, consistently applied, the Life Reference Balance Sheet shall fully reflect:

(i) all litigation and abandoned property reserves maintained in respect of the Life Business as of the Effective Time;

(ii) the write-off of all Other Reinsurance (as defined in each of the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements) that became unrecoverable prior to the Effective Time; and

(iii) the exclusion of agent debit balances, except to the extent such balances relate to the Life Business and Buyer has indicated that it intends to assume such balances.

SECTION 5.9 Conveyance of Purchased Assets. Prior to the anticipated Closing Date, Buyer and Seller shall cooperate and use their respective reasonable best efforts to agree to the final list of Purchased Assets related to the Life Business that will be sold, transferred and conveyed to Buyer on the Closing Date pursuant to the Bill of Sale, which shall include but not be limited to the assets listed on Schedule 5.9.

SECTION 5.10 Post-Closing Access.

(a) Until the sixth anniversary of the Shares Closing, Buyer shall afford to Seller and its Representatives access, upon reasonable notice at reasonable times during normal business hours and at Seller's expense, to the Company Books and Records, the Life Business Books and Records, and the officers, employees, auditors and other advisors of the Company, and provide information with respect to the Company in a readily accessible form (including financial information in a form consistent with the Company's historical practice for the preparation of such financial information), to the extent relating to periods prior to the Closing Date and reasonably required by Seller for any litigation (except litigation involving Buyer or its Affiliates), disputes (except disputes involving Buyer or its Affiliates), compliance, financial reporting (including financial audits of historical information), loss reporting, regulatory and accounting matters (including for any such matters related to the Transition Services Agreement), or for any other reasonable business purpose relating to Seller's prior ownership of the Company. Buyer shall cooperate with Seller and its Representatives to furnish such books and records and information and make available such officers, employees, auditors and other advisors of the Company.

(b) Until the period provided for in Section 5.10(a) has expired, Seller shall afford promptly to Buyer and its Representatives the same access to be provided by Buyer to Seller and its Representatives under Section 5.10(a), upon the same terms and conditions in Section 5.10(a), with respect to any written, oral or other information relating to the Company or the Life Business that Seller has in its possession after the Shares Closing, other than any such information that is included in the Company Books and Records or Life Business Books and Records delivered to Buyer or that is otherwise in the possession of Buyer or the Company at or after the Shares Closing Date.

SECTION 5.11 Delivery of Financial Statements and Notices. As soon as practicable after receipt thereof, Seller shall deliver to Buyer:

(a) a copy of the information it receives from Aviva pursuant to Sections 4.6 and 4.7 of the SPA; and

(b) a copy of any written notice or other written communication relating to the Life Business received from Aviva, its Affiliates or its Representatives pursuant to the SPA.

SECTION 5.12 Confidentiality.

(a) Buyer acknowledges that the information provided to it in connection with this Agreement is subject to the Confidentiality Agreement. Buyer's obligations under the Confidentiality Agreement relating to information provided to it concerning the Life Business shall terminate at the Closing. If, for any reason, the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents are not consummated, the Confidentiality Agreement shall nonetheless continue in full force and effect in its entirety in accordance with its terms.

(b) Seller and Buyer and their respective Affiliates shall not make public the terms or conditions of this Agreement (except as contemplated by Section 5.17) or the negotiations relating to this Agreement or any Transaction Documents or the transactions contemplated hereby; provided, however, that the foregoing obligation of Seller and Buyer and their respective Affiliates shall not prohibit disclosure of any such information (i) if required by Applicable Law, stock exchange rules (including pursuant to disclosure obligations under securities laws), or if required or requested by any Governmental Entity (provided, in the case of this clause (i), that the party required to make such disclosure shall, if practical, allow the other party a reasonable opportunity to comment on such disclosure in advance of such disclosure),

(ii) to auditors or ratings agencies; provided, that such auditors or ratings agencies are made aware of the provisions of this Section 5.12, (iii) to an advisor for the purpose of advising in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents; provided, that such advisor is made aware of the provisions of this Section 5.12, (iv) to the extent that the information has been made public by, or with the prior consent of, the other party or (v) in connection with any Action or in any dispute with respect to this Agreement or any other Transaction Document; provided, further, that if any party or any of their respective Affiliates becomes legally compelled by Applicable Law, stock exchange rules, any Governmental Entity, deposition, interrogatory, request for documents, subpoena, civil investigative demand or similar judicial or administrative process to disclose such confidential information, such party shall provide the other party with prompt written notice of such requirement prior to such disclosure if practical and, to the extent reasonably practicable, cooperate with such other party and its respective Affiliates to obtain a protective order or similar remedy to cause such information not to be disclosed. In the event that such protective order or other similar remedy is not obtained, the party compelled to disclose any confidential information shall furnish only that portion of such confidential information that has been legally compelled, and shall exercise its reasonable best efforts to obtain assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded such disclosed information.

(c) From and after the Closing Date, Seller shall hold, and shall cause its Affiliates and each of its and their respective Representatives to hold in confidence any confidential information relating to the Company obtained by virtue of Seller's ownership of the Company, or any confidential information relating to the Life Business obtained by virtue of AUSA and its Subsidiaries' operation of the Life Business or the transactions entered into between Seller and Aviva pursuant to the SPA, other than any such information that (i) is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of disclosure by any Person in violation of this Section 5.12(c), (ii) is reasonably necessary for Seller and its Affiliates to perform their obligations under the other Transaction Documents or as otherwise contemplated by such other Transaction Documents, but in each case subject to the confidentiality provisions of such other Transaction Documents, or (iii) is required by Applicable Law, stock exchange rules, Governmental Order or is required or requested by any Governmental Entity to be disclosed after prior notice has been given to Buyer (including any report, statement, testimony or other submission to such Governmental Entity), if practical.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing, Buyer acknowledges that Seller and its Affiliates may use or authorize the use of policyholder lists relating to the Life Business for the sole purpose of offering to holders of Reinsured Policies (but not to holders of Novated Contracts) fixed annuities products that do not contain riders or other product features that are designed to compete with the Life Business; provided that the use of such policyholder lists must be consistent in all material respects with relevant business practices of AUSA and its Subsidiaries in effect as of the Effective Time.

SECTION 5.13 Captive Financing.

(a) Seller agrees to use its reasonable best efforts to effectuate the Captive Financing as of the Closing Date. Buyer and its Affiliates (including the Company following the Shares Closing) shall (i) at Seller's reasonable request use its reasonable best efforts to assist

Seller to effectuate changes to the Captive Financing Term Sheets to improve the terms set forth in such Captive Financing Term Sheets and (ii) cooperate with Seller and take such actions as reasonably requested by Seller to effectuate the Captive Financing as of the Closing Date, including by executing, acknowledging and delivering any agreement, undertaking, documents or assurances as is consistent with the Captive Financing Term Sheets or otherwise reasonably requested by Seller in connection therewith (such assistance and cooperation, "Seller Requested Cooperation").

(b) Buyer agrees to use its reasonable best efforts in the context of current market conditions following the Closing Date to effectuate changes to the Captive Financings to improve the terms in such Captive Financings to reduce the amount of the Supplemental Allowance.

(c) Seller covenants to Buyer that all representations and warranties contained in the transaction documents entered into in connection with the Captive Financings and addressing the accuracy of reports, financial statements, certificates, data or other analyses or information (actuarial or otherwise) of or related to the Aviva Insurers or the applicable Policies will be accurate in all material respects as of each date such representations and warranties are made.

(d) Seller agrees, that from and after the date hereof, that it and its Affiliates will not take any action or omit to take any action that would reasonably be expected to result in the termination of any Captive Financing following the Closing.

(e) Except any such fees, costs, expenses, termination or make-whole fees or other Liabilities relating to the termination or amendment of any captive reinsurance or captive financing arrangement or the transfer to the Company or the NY Reinsurer of any Captive Financing related to or arising, in significant part, from (x) (i) an internal company solution (including a parental guaranty solution) implemented by Buyer or its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing), other than at Seller's request, or (ii) (A) any action by Buyer or its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing) that was not in compliance with Seller Requested Cooperation or (B) the failure of Buyer or any of its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing) to take any action reasonably requested by Seller in connection with the Captive Financings or (y) as expressly agreed by Buyer to effectuate changes to the Captive Financing Term Sheets to improve the terms set forth in such Captive Financing Term Sheets, Seller shall be solely responsible for any fees and expenses, including termination or make-whole fees, associated with the Captive Financing incurred prior to the Closing.

(f) Buyer shall be responsible for any fees relating to the termination or amendment of captive reinsurance or captive financing arrangements or the transfer to the Company or the NY Reinsurer of any Captive financing related to or arising, in significant part, from (x) (i) an internal company solution (including a parental guaranty solution) implemented by Buyer or its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing), other than at Seller's request, or (ii) (A) any action by Buyer or its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing) that was not in compliance with Seller Requested Cooperation or (B) the failure of Buyer or any of its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing) to take any action reasonably requested by Seller in connection with the Captive Financings and (y) any fees and expenses, including termination or make-whole fees, associated with the Captive Financing incurred on or following the Closing.

(g) From the date hereof, each party shall, in connection with the matters referenced in this Section 5.13, keep the other party reasonably apprised of the status of the Captive Financings.

SECTION 5.14 Capital of Buyer.

(a) During the period from the date of this Agreement until the Closing, Buyer shall not, without Seller's prior written consent, (i) declare, set aside or pay any dividend or distribution on any shares of capital stock or other equity interest, or purchase, redeem, repay, repurchase or otherwise acquire any shares of its capital stock or other equity interest, (ii) adopt a plan of complete or partial liquidation or rehabilitation or authorize or undertake a dissolution, rehabilitation, consolidation, restructuring, or other similar reorganization, or (iii) fail to maintain Total Accessible Capital of at least (a) (1) $250,000,000 as of June 30, 2013, or (2) $300,000,000 as of September 30, 2013, plus (b) an amount equal to the "total adjusted capital" (as defined under SAP) which, if held by Buyer, would lead to an RBC Ratio equal to 300%.

(b) For purposes of Section 5.14(a), "Total Accessible Capital" means the sum of: (a) the capital and surplus of Buyer after taking into account all transactions that Buyer or its Subsidiaries have entered into prior to the Closing other than this Agreement, but excluding transactions to which Buyer or its Subsidiaries have agreed which have a closing date later than the Closing, which amount shall be in cash and/or invested in debt securities that have an active trading market and can be readily valued, plus (b) the amount committed, in writing, by any of Buyer's direct or indirect shareholders, as available to be contributed as capital to Buyer if necessary to effectuate the Closing, provided that Seller shall be an express third party beneficiary of any such commitments.

(c) On or prior to the Closing, Buyer shall contribute capital to the Company and the NY Reinsurer sufficient to ensure a 350% RBC Ratio of the Company and the NY Reinsurer after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents.

(d) Buyer shall provide Seller with periodic updates as to the amount and sources of the Total Accessible Capital, not less frequently than monthly, or at Seller's request.

SECTION 5.15 Further Assurances. At any time after the Closing Date, each party shall or shall cause its Affiliates to promptly execute, acknowledge and deliver any assurances or documents reasonably requested by the other party and necessary for each party as to satisfy its obligations hereunder or to give effect to the provisions of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby.

SECTION 5.16 Allocation of Indemnification under the SPA; Assignment; Consents to Settlements.

(a) Buyer shall have the right to direct Seller to make claims under the SPA for any Loss reasonably believed by Buyer to be an Aviva Indemnified Loss arising from the Life Business as such Aviva Indemnified Loss is incurred by Buyer, the Company or any of their respective Affiliates (each, a "Buyer SPA Claim") by delivering to Seller written notification of such Aviva Indemnified Loss. Upon receipt of direction from Buyer to make a Buyer SPA Claim, Seller shall pursue such Buyer SPA Claim on its own behalf and subject to the terms and conditions of the SPA. In connection with any Buyer SPA Claim, Seller shall (i) follow the directions of Buyer in pursuit of such Buyer SPA Claim, including to retain counsel or other Third Parties as directed by Buyer, (ii) enter into any joint defense or similar agreement with Buyer at Buyer's request and (iii) not enter into or consent to any settlement or take any other actions under Article VII of the SPA with respect to any Buyer SPA Claim without the prior written consent of Buyer; provided, that Seller shall only be required to take such actions and follow such directions if Buyer has provided to Seller written confirmation that it will fully indemnify Seller for any Losses (other than for lost profits and diminution in value) that Seller or Affiliates of Seller may suffer, sustain or otherwise incur in respect of such Buyer SPA Claim pursuant to Article VII and, to the extent any such Losses (other than for lost profits and diminution in value) have been incurred, Buyer or the Company has fully reimbursed Seller or its applicable Affiliate for such costs and expenses. Subject to Section 5.3(e), Seller shall share with Buyer information regarding material communications to and from Aviva and any other material information related to any Buyer SPA Claim. To the extent that any consent or other action is required to be taken by Seller under the SPA in respect of such Buyer SPA Claim, Buyer shall have the right to so direct Seller as to the course of action to take. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (x) Buyer shall, upon receipt of any payments in respect of a Buyer SPA Claim or any other Aviva Indemnified Loss, reimburse Seller or its Affiliates for any Losses suffered, sustained or otherwise incurred by any of them arising from, in connection with or related to such Buyer SPA Claim or other Aviva Indemnified Loss for which Seller is entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 7.2(b) and that have not otherwise been reimbursed by Buyer pursuant to this Agreement or another Transaction Document (such Losses, "Seller Unreimbursed Losses"), and Seller shall, upon receipt of any payments in respect of an Aviva Indemnified Loss, reimburse Buyer or its Affiliates for any Losses suffered, sustained or otherwise incurred by any of them arising from, in connection with or related to such Aviva Indemnified Loss for which Buyer is entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 7.2(a) and that have not otherwise been reimbursed by Seller pursuant to this Agreement or another Transaction Document (such Losses, "Buyer Unreimbursed Losses").

(b) Except as otherwise contemplated in this Section 5.16, Buyer, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, hereby distributes, assigns, conveys, delivers and transfers to Seller all of its and its Affiliates' right, title and interest to any and all Seller Unreimbursed Losses and to all amounts received in respect of any Aviva Indemnified Loss that do not arise from or relate to the Life Business. Except as otherwise contemplated in this Section 5.16, Seller, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, hereby distributes, assigns, conveys, delivers and transfers to Buyer all of its and its Affiliates' right, title and interest to any and all Buyer Unreimbursed Losses and to all amounts received in respect of any Aviva Indemnified Loss that arise from or relate to the Life Business, other than amounts paid by Seller pursuant to Section 5.16(m)(ii).

(c) Seller and Buyer shall, within twenty (20) Business Days from the date of the request of Seller or Buyer, appoint a mutually acceptable escrow agent (which shall be a bank or other financial institution authorized to act as trustee that is not an Affiliate of either party) (the "Escrow Agent") and prepare, agree upon and execute a mutually agreeable escrow agreement (the "Escrow Agreement") as is necessary to open an account (the "Escrow Account") and implement the provisions of this Agreement. Such Escrow Agreement shall also contain appropriate provisions, mutually acceptable to Seller and Buyer, providing for deliveries of documents outside of the United States, the investment of any amounts deposited in the Escrow Account in securities eligible for the portfolio interest exemption from U.S. federal withholding tax and other procedures as may be reasonably required and consistent with the nature of Seller as a Bermuda domiciled entity. Expenses of the Escrow Agent shall be shared equally by Seller and Buyer.

(i) Upon receipt, Seller or Buyer, as applicable, shall deposit all Seller Paid Indemnified Losses in excess of the Seller Indemnification Cap and all Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses in excess of the Buyer Indemnification Cap (including amounts received pursuant to a Buyer SPA Claim) into the Escrow Account; provided, that, (1) any amounts received from Aviva by Seller in respect of any Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses (including amounts received pursuant to a Buyer SPA Claim) up to the Buyer Indemnification Cap or Buyer Unreimbursed Losses shall be paid directly to Buyer and (2) any amounts received from Aviva by Buyer in respect of Seller Paid Indemnified Losses up to the Seller Indemnification Cap or Seller Unreimbursed Losses shall be paid directly to Seller.

(ii) Each of Buyer and Seller acknowledges and agrees (1) that any and all payments that are received from Aviva by Seller or Buyer, as the case may be, that are required to be paid to the other party or the Escrow Account pursuant to this Section 5.16, as applicable, shall be held by Buyer or Seller, as applicable, in trust for the account and benefit of the other party and (2) to pay such amounts to the other party or deposit such amounts into the Escrow Account, as applicable, promptly following receipt thereof by Buyer or Seller, as applicable. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, any Seller Paid Indemnified Losses deposited into the Escrow Account shall be treated as owned by Seller, and any Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses deposited into the Escrow Account shall be treated as owned by Buyer. The Escrow Agreement shall provide that, if the party treated as the owner of any deposited amounts is subject to U.S. federal income tax with respect to earnings on the escrowed assets then such Party shall be entitled to request distributions from the Escrow Account in amounts intended to enable such party to discharge its U.S. federal tax liabilities, in a timely manner as they become due, arising from any such earnings included in income by such party.

(e) If, as of the fifth (5^{th}) anniversary of the Closing Date, any Aviva Indemnified Losses have been paid, then Seller and Buyer shall work together in good faith to prepare and submit promptly after such anniversary a joint report to the Escrow Agent of the amount and description of all Seller Paid Indemnified Losses, Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses and Seller's and Buyer's Unpaid Indemnified Losses (including any Seller Unreimbursed Losses or Buyer Unreimbursed Losses that have not otherwise been paid) (each such report, a "Indemnified Losses Report").

(f) Two (2) Business Days following the Escrow Agent's receipt of the Indemnified Losses Report, Seller and Buyer shall cause the Escrow Agent to calculate the allocation of the amount in the Escrow Account and any payments between Seller and Buyer as follows:

(i) If the Seller Paid Indemnified Losses exceeded the Seller Indemnification Cap and Buyer (or its Affiliates or Representatives entitled to indemnification pursuant to a Buyer SPA Claim) suffered Unpaid Indemnified Losses, (A) an amount equal to (1) the lesser of (x) the Seller Paid Indemnified Losses deposited into the Escrow Account and (y) the amount of Buyer's and such Affiliates' and Representatives' aggregate Unpaid Indemnified Losses, minus (2) any amounts described in Section 5.16(d)(i)(2) received by Buyer and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Seller, as applicable, plus (3) any amounts described in Section 5.16(d)(i)(1) received by Seller and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Buyer, as applicable, shall be paid over to Buyer; and (B) the excess amount of Seller Paid Indemnified Losses remaining in the Escrow Account after giving effect to the payment of the amount set forth in (A) above, if any, shall be paid over to Seller; provided, that if, but for the operation of this proviso, Seller (and its Affiliates and Representatives entitled to indemnification from Aviva under the SPA) would incur Unpaid Indemnified Losses equal to or greater than Buyer (and its Affiliates and Representatives entitled to indemnification pursuant to a Buyer SPA Claim), then the amount so paid over to Buyer shall be reduced (but not below zero) by an amount equal to the Buyer Basket Amount, and an amount equal to the Buyer Basket Amount shall be paid over from the Escrow Account to Seller;

(ii) If the Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses exceeded the Buyer Indemnification Cap and Seller (or its Affiliates and Representatives entitled to indemnification from Aviva under the SPA) suffered Unpaid Indemnified Losses, (A) an amount equal to (1) the lesser of (x) the Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses deposited into the Escrow Account, and (y) the amount of Seller's and such Affiliates' and Representatives' Unpaid Indemnified Losses, minus (2) any amounts described in Section 5.16(d)(i)(1) received by Seller and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Buyer, as applicable, plus (3) any amounts described in Section 5.16(d)(i)(2) received by Buyer and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Seller, as applicable, shall be paid over to Seller; and (B) the excess amount of Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses remaining in the Escrow Account, after giving effect to the payment set forth in (A) above, if any, shall be paid over to Buyer; provided, that if, but for the operation of this proviso, Buyer (and its Affiliates and Representatives entitled to indemnification from Aviva under the SPA) would incur Unpaid Indemnification Losses equal to or greater than Seller (and each of their respective Affiliates and Representatives entitled to indemnification from Aviva under the SPA), the amount so paid over to Seller shall be reduced (but not below zero) by an amount equal to the Seller Basket Amount, and an amount equal to the Seller Basket Amount shall be paid over from the Escrow Account to Buyer;

(iii) If no amounts are contained in the Escrow Account because neither Seller nor Buyer (or their respective Affiliates or Representatives entitled to indemnification from Aviva under the SPA) has received Paid Indemnified Losses above the Seller Indemnification Cap or the Buyer Indemnification Cap, as applicable, the Escrow Agent shall make the following calculation for each party: the product of (A) the Deductible multiplied by (B) a fraction, the numerator of which is the sum of such party's or its Affiliates' Unpaid Indemnified Losses attributable to the application of the Deductible plus such party's or such Representatives' or Affiliates' Paid Indemnified Losses, and the denominator of which is an amount equal to (1) the aggregate Unpaid Indemnified Losses attributable to the application of the Deductible plus (2) Paid Indemnified Losses of both parties and their Affiliates and Representatives entitled to indemnification from Aviva under the SPA or pursuant to a Buyer SPA Claim, as applicable. If such calculation results in an amount greater than the sum of (1) such party's or such Affiliates' actual Unpaid Indemnified Losses attributable to the application of the Deductible, and (2) (x) in the case of Seller, an amount equal to the amount of any Seller Unreimbursed Losses received by Buyer and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Seller, as applicable, in accordance with this Section 5.16, minus the amount of any Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses (including, without duplication, any amounts paid in respect of any claim that constituted a Buyer SPA Claim) and Buyer Unreimbursed Losses received by Seller and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Buyer, as applicable, in accordance with this Section 5.16 or (y) in the case of Buyer, an amount equal to the amount of any Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses (including, without duplication, any amounts paid in respect of any claim that constituted a Buyer SPA Claim) received by Seller and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Buyer, as applicable, in accordance with this Section 5.16, minus the amount of any Seller Paid Indemnified Losses and Seller Unreimbursed Losses that have been received by Buyer and not otherwise deposited into the Escrow Account or paid to Seller, as applicable, in accordance with this Section 5.16, such party shall pay the difference between such calculation made in respect of such party and such party's or such Representatives' or Affiliates' Unpaid Indemnified Losses plus the amount determined with respect to such Party in (2)(x) or (y) above, as applicable, attributable to the application of the Deductible to the other party; and

(iv) Any investment income earned on amounts held in the Escrow Account (as reduced by any distributions made to either party pursuant to Section 5.16(d)(ii)) shall be paid over to Buyer and Seller in connection with the distributions contemplated by this Section 5.16(f) in the same proportion as the principal amount held in the Escrow Account is so paid over to Buyer and Seller; provided, that if such amount to be paid over was reduced by a distribution to the other party under Section 5.16(d)(ii), such party shall pay over to the other party the amount that was distributed under Section 5.16(d)(ii).

(g) Seller and Buyer shall cooperate in good faith, and each shall use its reasonable best efforts, to cause the Escrow Agent to effect any payments required by Section 5.16(f).

(h) If (i) no amounts have been deposited into the Escrow Account as of the fifth (5^{th}) anniversary of the Closing Date or (ii) all of the funds in the Escrow Account have been distributed in accordance with Section 5.16(f) and, in either case, there is no expectation of any amount subsequently being deposited into the Escrow Account, then Seller and Buyer shall cause the Escrow Account to be closed and the Escrow Agreement to be terminated.

(i) With respect to the receipt by Seller or its Affiliates of any Paid Indemnified Losses following the closing of the Escrow Account and the termination of the Escrow Agreement pursuant to Section 5.16(h), Seller agrees to cooperate in good faith with Buyer and use its reasonable best efforts to effectuate an allocation of such Paid Indemnified Losses and payment to Buyer, as contemplated by and calculated in accordance with the allocation principles under Section 5.16(f), if applicable, on each annual anniversary of the termination of the Escrow Agreement; provided, that upon Seller's or Buyer's reasonable request, Seller and Buyer shall enter into a new escrow agreement on terms substantially identical to the Escrow Agreement and with a mutually acceptable escrow agent for an agreed upon period of time.

(j) In connection with any Third-Party Claim (as defined in the SPA) in respect of which Buyer has the right to make a Buyer SPA Claim, but has not, made a Buyer SPA Claim, Seller shall not pay, settle, compromise, admit any liability with respect to or discharge such Third-Party Claim without the prior written consent of Buyer, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned.

(k) If Seller is required to make a payment to Buyer pursuant to clause (1) of the proviso of Section 5.16(d)(1) following the receipt of a payment from Aviva in respect of any Buyer Paid Indemnified Loss, to the extent such payment to Buyer is deductible for U.S. federal income tax purposes by Seller or any of its Affiliates, the amount of such payment to Buyer shall be increased by the amount of any Tax benefit taken into account pursuant to Section 7.4(iii) of the SPA in determining the amount received from Aviva in respect of such Buyer Paid Indemnified Loss. If Buyer becomes entitled to a release from the Escrow Account described in Section 5.16(f), and such release is deductible for U.S. federal income tax purposes by Seller or any of its Affiliates, then Seller shall pay to Buyer an amount equal to (A) the total amount of any Tax benefit taken into account pursuant to Section 7.4(iii) of the SPA in determining the amounts received from Aviva in respect of Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses that were deposited into the Escrow Account pursuant to Section 5.16(d)(1), multiplied by (B) a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of such release (without giving effect to this sentence) and the denominator of which is the total amount of Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses deposited into the Escrow Account.

(l) For the avoidance of doubt, this Section 5.16 and Section 8.7 shall apply to "Indemnifiable Losses" within the meaning of the SPA arising from Product Tax Claims that are "Extra Contractual Obligations" as defined in the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements.

(m) If a Buyer Indemnified Person under this Agreement suffers or would suffer a Loss that, if such Loss were suffered by a "Buyer Indemnified Person" as defined under the SPA, would be indemnified by Aviva under the SPA (an "Aviva Covered Loss"):

(i) such Aviva Covered Loss shall not be payable by the Company or the NY Reinsurer if due under either of the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements (an "Excluded Reinsured Liability"); and

(ii) if such Aviva Covered Loss (x) is not an Excluded Reinsured Liability, and (y) has not been otherwise paid to such Buyer Indemnified Person, Seller shall pay to such Buyer Indemnified Person the amount of such unpaid Aviva Covered Loss (net of any related costs and expenses not otherwise paid by Buyer or its Affiliates).

SECTION 5.17 Public Announcement. The parties shall consult with each other before issuing any press release or other public statement or communication with respect to this Agreement, the Transaction Documents or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, and each party will accept reasonable comments it deems appropriate or desirable to any such release, statement or communication; provided, that the parties hereto may, without the prior consent of the other parties (but after prior consultation, to the extent practicable in the circumstances), issue such communication or make such public statement as may be required by Applicable Law or stock exchange rules. The parties shall cooperate in good faith to jointly develop all public communications.

SECTION 5.18 Producer Matters; Contract Terminations.

(a) After the Closing, Buyer (in consultation with Seller) shall provide a list to Seller of any producer and distribution contracts of the Aviva Insurers related to the Life Business and any other Third Party contracts of the Aviva Insurers with respect to the Life Business, if any, that Buyer desires to enter into, on its own behalf, with such producer, distributor or other Third Party. Seller and Buyer shall use their reasonable best efforts to cause such producer, distributor or other Third Party to enter into contracts with Buyer which are substantially similar to the terms of the contracts such producers, distributors or other Third Parties have with the Aviva Insurers and to allow Seller to terminate such producer and distribution contracts and Third Party contracts as soon as possible under the terms of such contracts without imposition of any termination costs associated with such terminations. To the extent any such contracts relate to both the Life Business and any other business of the Aviva Insurers or AUSA, Seller shall not terminate such contracts, but Seller and Buyer shall use their reasonable best efforts to cause such contracts to be amended solely to remove the rights and obligations of the parties solely related to the Life Business from such contracts. Seller shall be solely responsible for any expenses related to the termination or amendment of such producer and distribution contracts and such other Third Party contracts.

(b) If, prior to the termination or amendment of contracts as contemplated in this Section 5.18(b), any producer, distributor or other Third Party (including a Covered Employee) engages in business activities with respect to the Life Business that results in (x) the generation of Producer Payments (as defined in the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements) incurred following the Closing or (y) increased benefits accruals or contributions relating solely to such business activities of such producer, distributor or other Third Party incurred following the Closing, as required under the terms of any Seller benefit plan as in effect as of the date of this Agreement, Buyer shall pay or cause to be paid to Seller the amount of such Producer Payments or the amount of such accruals or contributions, and Seller shall cause to be paid to such producer, distributor or other Third Party such Producer Payments or benefits under such benefit plans consistent with the terms and conditions of the applicable contracts or benefit plans. Seller shall promptly reimburse Buyer for the amount of such Producer Payments or the amount of such accruals or contributions that are forfeited by the producer, distributor or other Third Party. For the avoidance of doubt, except with respect to its obligation to pay or cause to be paid to Seller the amounts provided in this Section 5.18 and Section 2.5 of the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, neither Buyer nor any of its Affiliates shall assume any Liability or obligation under any such contract or benefit plan.

SECTION 5.19 D&O Liabilities. From and after the Shares Closing Date, Buyer shall not, and shall cause the Company not to, take any steps that would reasonably be expected to adversely affect the rights of any individual who served as a director or officer of the Company at any time prior to the Shares Closing Date (each, a "D&O Indemnified Person") to be indemnified under the Company's Organizational Documents as in effect on the date hereof, arising out of or pertaining to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Shares Closing Date and relating to the fact that the D&O Indemnified Person was a director or officer of the Company, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Shares Closing Date.

SECTION 5.20 No Right or License; Use of Names. Except as otherwise provided in Section 5.33, Buyer acknowledges and agrees that, other than as contemplated by the Transaction Documents, Buyer is not purchasing, acquiring or otherwise obtaining any right, title or interest in or to any Intellectual Property or Software owned or licensed by Seller or any of its Affiliates including any Trademark of or licensed to Seller or any of its respective Affiliates or any Trademark based upon such a Trademark or any Trademarks derivative thereof or confusingly similar thereto (collectively, the "Seller Trademarks"). Buyer shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Company to change its name to a name that does not include any Seller Trademark or any confusingly similar name or derivative thereof as soon as reasonably practicable after the Shares Closing Date, but in any event within twelve (12) months after the Shares Closing Date.

SECTION 5.21 Insurance. From and after the Closing Date, the Company shall cease to be insured by Seller's or its Affiliates' insurance policies or by any of their self-insured programs to the extent such insurance policies or programs cover the Company.

SECTION 5.22 Transition Services Planning and Pre-Closing Migration Activities.

(a) Prior to the Closing Date, the parties shall cooperate in the development of plans for (i) the separation of the information technology systems, business records, data and processes used in the Life Business from that of the other businesses of AUSA, ALAC, ALACNY, Aviva and Aviva's other Affiliates and the migration of such information technology systems, business records, data and processes from Aviva and its Affiliates to Buyer, and (ii) post-Closing financial reporting of the Life Business, including cooperation in the separation of life policies, premiums, commissions, expenses and other life-only items and the development of separate ledger accounts relating to the Life Business. Each of Seller and Buyer shall bear its own costs for the development of the plans set forth in this Section 5.22(a).

(b) If Buyer requests that Seller, its Affiliates or any Third-Party contractors (including Aviva and its Affiliates) begin to perform any activities (other than planning) related to Migration prior to the Closing Date, and Seller agrees to perform or cause the performance of the same ("Pre-Closing Migration Services"), then Seller shall provide to Buyer reasonable and documented estimates of the costs related to such Pre-Closing Migration Services, and, if Buyer approves such estimates, Seller shall perform or cause the performance of the Pre-Closing Migration Services, and Buyer shall reimburse Seller, on a time and materials basis, for all such Pre-Closing Migration Services actually performed by or on behalf of Seller or its Affiliates, including reimbursing Seller for fees, costs or other expenses payable by Seller or its Affiliates to any Third Parties (including Aviva and its Affiliates) for such Pre-Closing Migration Services. For any approved Pre-Closing Migration Services, Seller shall not exceed the amount set forth in the Buyer approved estimate (nor bill Seller for the same) without obtaining Buyer's prior written approval (which may be in the form of an email approval without separate written confirmation); provided that Seller shall not be required to perform any further work on such Pre-Closing Migration Services until Buyer approves payment of the costs in excess of the estimate. Seller shall bill Buyer in arrears for such amounts on a monthly basis, and Buyer shall pay all such amounts within thirty (30) days after the date of the applicable invoice.

(c) Prior to the Closing Date, the parties shall cooperate in good faith to approach one or more third-party administrators (each, a "TPA") to explore whether and on what terms such TPAs would administer both the Life Business and the other businesses to be acquired by Seller and its Affiliates pursuant to the SPA and the other Contracts and transactions to be entered into in connection therewith. If there is such interest and upon agreement of the parties, the parties shall negotiate and enter into with a TPA one or more Contracts between or among such TPA and the parties or their Affiliates regarding such administration. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing herein shall require either party or their Affiliates to enter into any Contract with any TPA.

SECTION 5.23 Post Shares Closing Organizational Matters. Immediately after the Shares Closing, Buyer shall duly elect a board of directors of the Company and shall cause such board of directors to appoint and maintain necessary officers of the Company in accordance with Applicable Law.

SECTION 5.24 Statutory Deposits. If the statutory deposits required by insurance regulators in the jurisdictions in which the Company has Certificates of Authority are not maintained at any time prior to the Shares Closing Date, Seller shall cause the Company promptly to comply with any such statutory deposit requirements.

SECTION 5.25 Bank Accounts. At the written request of Buyer, Seller shall take all reasonable steps, at the Shares Closing, to transfer over to one or more financial institutions designated by Buyer any bank or securities accounts of the Company, or to change the name in which such accounts are held to a name designated by Buyer or the authorized persons permitted to effect transactions in relation to such accounts to one or more persons designated by Buyer.

SECTION 5.26 Redomestication to Iowa. Seller agrees to use its reasonable best efforts to effectuate the redomestication of the Company to Iowa with the approval of the Iowa Insurance Division prior to the Shares Closing Date.

SECTION 5.27 Outstanding Certificates of Authority. Upon receipt of a written request from Buyer, Buyer and Seller shall reasonably cooperate with each other to obtain the outstanding Certificates of Authority set forth on Schedule 5.27 no later than the Closing Date. In connection with any such request, Buyer and its Affiliates (including the Company following the Shares Closing Date) shall take such actions as reasonably requested by Seller to obtain the outstanding Certificates of Authority set forth on Schedule 5.27 by the Closing Date, including by executing, acknowledging and delivering any agreement, undertaking, documents reasonably requested by Seller in connection therewith. Buyer shall reimburse all out-of-pocket costs incurred by Seller (including reasonable attorney's fees) in connection with its performance of its obligations under this Section 5.27.

SECTION 5.28 Company Books and Records. Except to the extent prohibited by Applicable Law, Seller shall deliver to Buyer on or prior to the Shares Closing Date, at an address Buyer may designate, all of the Company Books and Records. Seller shall have the right to retain for its records copies of any such Company Books and Records, and, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, promptly forward to Buyer any additional Company Books and Records of which it becomes aware following the Shares Closing Date. Buyer shall not destroy the originals of any Company Books and Records for seven years following the Shares Closing Date without the prior written consent of Seller. On or prior to the Shares Closing Date, Seller shall deliver to Buyer, at an address Buyer may designate, (a) complete copies of all federal and state income and franchise Tax Returns filed by or with respect to the Company for the tax years 2011 through 2012, and (b) complete copies of all premium Tax Returns filed by or with respect to the Company for the tax year 2012.

SECTION 5.29 Termination of Related Party Contracts. On or prior to the Shares Closing Date, Seller shall cause each of the Related Party Contracts other than those listed on Section 5.29 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule to be terminated without any further obligations or liabilities to the Company thereunder and shall cause there to be no outstanding receivables or payables thereunder, with written evidence of same provided to Buyer.

SECTION 5.30 Novation. Seller and Buyer shall each use, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to use, their reasonable best efforts, and shall cooperate (and cause their respective Affiliates to cooperate) fully with each other to (i) (a) novate the Reinsurance Agreement between ALACNY and The United States Business of the Canada Life Assurance Company, effective October 1, 2012 to the NY Reinsurer (the "Novated Agreement"); provided that the Reinsurer's Share (as defined therein) shall be decreased to 90% and (b) terminate the Funds Withheld Retrocession Agreement between The United States Business of the Canada Life Assurance Company and ALAC, effective October 1, 2012, in each case, effective as of the Effective Time and consistent with the Captive Financing Term Sheet in respect of such transaction and (ii) promptly after the Closing, (a) make any necessary filings with the New York

Department of Financial Services or any other applicable Governmental Entity to increase such Reinsurer's Share to 100% and (b) restructure the Novated Agreement from a coinsurance funds withheld basis to a coinsurance basis with a trust arrangement to provide security for the payment of amounts due to the ceding company under the Novated Agreement. The reserves ceded to the NY Reinsurer under the Novated Agreement shall not include additional actuarial reserves (as used in connection with SAP), if any, established by ALACNY as a result of its annual cash flow testing.

SECTION 5.31 Non-Solicit.

(a) Except as provided in Section 5.7, from the Closing until the termination of all of the services provided to Buyer under the Transition Services Agreement, Buyer shall not, and shall cause its Controlled Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, solicit for employment or hire any Person employed by Seller, the Companies or any of their Affiliates or any Person who is performing or has performed services under the Transition Services Agreement; provided, however, that subject to Section 5.7(a)(v), nothing in this Section 5.31(a) shall prohibit Buyer or any of its Affiliates from soliciting for employment or hiring any Person (i) who contacts Buyer or any of its Affiliates on his or her own initiative without direct solicitation or only as a result of a general solicitation to the public or general advertising, (ii) whose employment has been terminated by Seller, its Affiliates or the Companies or (iii) who voluntarily left his or her employment by Seller, its Affiliates or the Companies more than six months prior to the time of such employment or hire by Buyer or any of its Controlled Affiliates.

(b) For the same period provided in Section 5.31(a), Seller shall not, and shall cause its Controlled Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, solicit for employment or hire any Person employed by the Buyer or its Affiliates; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 5.31(b) shall prohibit Seller or any of its Affiliates from soliciting for employment or hiring any Person (i) who contacts Seller or any of its Affiliates on his or her own initiative without direct solicitation or only as a result of a general solicitation to the public or general advertising, (ii) whose employment has been terminated by Buyer or its Affiliates or (iii) who voluntarily left his or her employment by Buyer or its Affiliates more than six months prior to the time of such employment or hire by Seller or any of its Controlled Affiliates.

SECTION 5.32 Ceding Commission Adjustments.

(a) The Ceding Commission shall be adjusted, as of the Effective Date, in accordance with Annex I hereto, to account for consents and waivers not obtained prior to the Effective Date in respect of minimum retention requirements to allow the applicable Policies to be reinsured to the Company or the NY Reinsurer, as applicable.

(b) The Ceding Commission shall be adjusted, as of the Effective Time, in accordance with Annex J hereto, if a Life Business Material Adverse Effect occurs during the period from and after January 1, 2013 through the Effective Time. The amount of any change in the output of the Valuation Model that would result from the procedure specified in Annex J shall not be taken into account when determining whether a Life Business Material Adverse Effect has occurred under this Section 5.32(b).

SECTION 5.33 Life Business Cooperation. For a period of twelve (12) months after the Closing, Seller shall cooperate in good faith with Buyer and use its reasonable best efforts to identify the assets, properties, rights and services the parties reasonably believe are necessary to conduct the Life Business in all material respects as currently conducted. In connection with such cooperation, Seller will transfer, lease, license or otherwise make available such assets, properties, rights and services to Buyer, on terms and conditions mutually determined by the parties in good faith, including the payment by Buyer of any applicable license or other fees or, if Seller is not able to transfer, lease, license or otherwise make available any such asset, property, right or service to Buyer, Seller will use its reasonable best efforts to provide Buyer with the benefit of such asset, property, right or service or alternative assets, properties, rights or services through a workaround on terms and conditions mutually determined by the parties in good faith or assist Buyer in obtaining alternatives for such asset, property, right or service from a Third Party. For the avoidance of doubt, such assets, properties, rights and services may be made available pursuant to the Transition Services Agreement only on a transitional basis for a limited period of time.

SECTION 5.34 Life Business Books and Records. Except as set forth on Schedule 5.34, and except to the extent prohibited by Applicable Law, Seller shall deliver to Buyer on or prior to the Closing Date, or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, copies of all of the Life Business Books and Records.

SECTION 5.35 Additional Reserve Requirement. If, prior to or on the Closing Date, the New York Department of Financial Services imposes on the NY Reinsurer, in lieu of on ALACNY, an asset adequacy or cash flow testing reserve requirement based on a scenario substantially similar to the cash flow testing scenario imposed on ALACNY by the New York Department of Financial Services as part of ALACNY's most recent triennial exam (an "Additional Reserve Requirement") with respect to either (x) the business to be ceded pursuant to the ALACNY Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement (the "Non-NLG ALACNY Block") or (y) the business to be ceded pursuant to the Novated Agreement (the "Financed ALACNY Block"), then:

(a) with respect to the Non-NLG ALACNY Block, at the request of ALACNY, the parties may convert the form of reinsurance from coinsurance to coinsurance on a funds withheld basis; provided, that ALACNY shall fund any Additional Reserve Requirement as provided in clause (c) below;

(b) with respect to the Financed ALACNY Block, ALACNY may fund any Additional Reserve Requirement as provided in clause (c) below;

(c) the funding provided in clauses (a) and (b) above shall be accomplished by a deposit of assets into the respective funds withheld account; the income on such assets will be paid to the NY Reinsurer, and the NY Reinsurer will pay to ALACNY the portfolio yield on a similar pool of assets of similar duration and credit characteristics as determined by reference to a nationally recognized third party index;

(d) if the provisions described in clauses (a) through (c) above are not implemented (including because the parties are not satisfied that the implementation of such clauses will result in an Additional Reserve Requirement not being imposed on the NY Reinsurer without offsetting assets being made available) within two (2) Business Days prior to the projected Shares Closing Date, then either party may determine not to proceed with the reinsurance of the Non-NLG ALACNY Block or the Financed ALACNY Block, as the case may be (and the ALACNY Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement and the Novated Agreement shall not be deliveries at the Closing);

(e) in the event that the funding contemplated by clauses (a) through (c) above is implemented, then ALACNY shall retain the right to recapture the Non-NLG ALACNY Block and the Financed ALACNY Block, as applicable, for as long as such funding remains in effect; and

(f) the funding of any accounts, as contemplated by causes (a) through (c) above, shall be released back to ALACNY concurrently with, and in the same amount as, any releases of the respective Additional Reserve Requirement.

ARTICLE VI.
CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

SECTION 6.1 Conditions to Each Party's Obligations. The respective obligations of each party to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and the other actions to be taken at the Shares Closing and the Closing are subject to the satisfaction or waiver, on or prior to the Shares Closing Date and the Closing Date (provided, that clauses (h), (i) and (j) below are only subject to satisfaction or waiver on the Closing Date), of the following conditions:

(a) All Governmental Authorizations required in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, including those set forth in Schedules 3.4(a) and (b) and Schedule 4.3, shall have been obtained or made and shall be in full force and effect and all waiting periods required by Applicable Law shall have expired or been terminated, in each case without the imposition of a Burdensome Condition with respect to the party seeking to invoke the failure of this condition to be satisfied.

(b) No temporary restraining order, preliminary or permanent injunction or other order issued by any court of competent jurisdiction and no statute, rule or regulation of any Governmental Entity preventing the consummation of any transaction contemplated hereby or by any other Transaction Document shall be in effect; provided, however, that the party invoking this condition shall have used its reasonable best efforts to have any such order or injunction vacated.

(c) No Action brought by any Governmental Entity shall be pending before any Governmental Entity that has the effect, or would be reasonably likely to have the effect if determined adversely, of preventing the consummation of any transaction contemplated hereby or by the other Transaction Documents or imposing any Burdensome Condition; and no Action brought by any Third Party that is reasonably likely to result in one of the foregoing effects shall be pending before any Governmental Entity.

(d) The conditions set forth in Article VI of the SPA shall have been satisfied or waived.

(e) The other party shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all agreements, obligations, undertakings and covenants required to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement on or prior to the Shares Closing Date.

(f) The other party shall have delivered or caused to be delivered each of the documents required to be delivered by it or its Affiliates pursuant to Section 2.1(e).

(g) All of the representations and warranties that the other party has made in Articles III or IV (as the case may be) as of the Shares Closing Date shall be true and correct at and as of the Shares Closing Date (except that those representations and warranties qualified with the words "as of the date hereof" shall be true and correct only as of such date) without regard to any materiality or Material Adverse Effect qualification included in such representation or warranty, with such exceptions as would not, in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Company (in the case of Seller's representations and warranties) or with respect to Buyer (in the case of Buyer's representations and warranties).

(h) The other party shall have delivered or caused to be delivered each of the documents required to be delivered by it or its Affiliates pursuant to Section 2.2(d).

(i) All of the representations and warranties that the other party has made in Articles III or IV (as the case may be) as of the Closing Date shall be true and correct at and as of the Closing Date (except that those representations and warranties qualified with the words "as of the date hereof" shall be true and correct only as of such date) without regard to any materiality or Material Adverse Effect qualification included in such representation or warranty, with such exceptions as would not, in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to Seller or the Company (in the case of Seller's representations and warranties) or with respect to Buyer (in the case of Buyer's representation and warranties).

(j) The other party shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all agreements, obligations, undertakings and covenants required to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement on or prior to the Closing Date.

SECTION 6.2 Further Conditions to Buyer's Obligations. The respective obligations of Buyer to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and the other actions to be taken at the Shares Closing and the Closing are subject to the satisfaction or waiver, on or prior to the Shares Closing Date (in the case of clause (a)) and the Closing Date (in the case of clause (b)), of the following conditions:

(a) The redomestication of the Company to Iowa shall have been approved by the Iowa Insurance Division and shall have been completed.

(b) The Captive Financing shall have become effective, unless a significant factor in the failure of the Captive Financing to so become effective was (i) the taking of any action by Buyer or its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing) in connection with the Captive Financing that was not Seller Requested Cooperation or (ii) the failure of Buyer or any of its Affiliates (including the Company after the Shares Closing) to take any action reasonably requested by Seller in connection with the Captive Financings.

ARTICLE VII.
INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 7.1 Survival of Representations, Warranties, and Covenants.

(a) The representations and warranties of Seller and Buyer contained in this Agreement shall survive the Closing solely for purposes of this Article VII and shall terminate and expire on the date that is 12 months following the Closing Date; provided, however, that (i) the representations and warranties made in Sections 3.1, 3.2, 3.3, 3.4, 3.7 and 3.14 (the "Seller Fundamental Representations") and Sections 4.1, 4.2, 4.3 and 4.6 (the "Buyer Fundamental Representations") shall survive until the sixtieth day following the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations and (ii) the representation and warranty made in Section 3.18 shall survive only until the corresponding period of survival under the SPA for the applicable SPA breach by Aviva that Buyer had actual knowledge of as of the date of the SPA (the "Specified Representation"). Any claim for indemnification in respect of any representation or warranty that is not asserted by notice given as required herein prior to the expiration of the specified period of survival shall not be valid and any right to indemnification is hereby irrevocably waived after the expiration of such period of survival. Any claim properly made for a Loss in respect of such a breach asserted within such period of survival as herein provided will be timely made for purposes hereof.

(b) The covenants and agreements of the parties hereto contained in this Agreement shall survive the Closing until fully performed or for any shorter period expressly provided in such covenants and agreements.

SECTION 7.2 Indemnification.

(a) Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates (for the avoidance of doubt, including the Company from and after the Closing Date) (the "Buyer Indemnified Persons") from and against any and all Losses to the extent relating to, resulting from or arising out of:

(i) any breach of any representation or warranty of Seller made in this Agreement (without regard to any qualifications or references to "Material Adverse Effect", "material" or any other materiality qualifications or references contained in any specific representation or warranty); provided, that Seller shall have no liability to any Buyer Indemnified Person for any breach of Section 3.18 to the extent Seller has informed Buyer in writing as of the date hereof of the breach by Aviva under the SPA which gives rise to Seller's breach of Section 3.18;

(ii) any Excluded Liabilities;

(iii) any breach or nonfulfillment of any agreement or covenant of Seller under this Agreement;

(iv) any Liabilities of the Company (other than Losses (a) for Taxes indemnified under Section 8.1 or (b) reflected on the Final Balance Sheet) to the extent arising out of or relating to the activities of the Company or the operation of the Company, in each case prior to the Shares Closing (including, without limitation, the imposition of any premium, charge or assessment upon or against the Company by any Governmental Entity or insurance guaranty fund in respect of any period of time prior to the Shares Closing Date, and all filing fees and administrative assessments for insurance guaranty funds and/or Government Entity expenses arising out of or associated with the conduct of the business of the Company prior to the Shares Closing Date); and

(v) any reduction in the amount of Buyer Paid Indemnified Losses that Buyer would otherwise receive under this Agreement as a result of the exercise by Aviva under the SPA of any right to set-off against its indemnification obligations to Seller any claims that Aviva may have against Seller under the SPA or any related agreement.

(b) Buyer shall indemnify and hold harmless Seller and its Affiliates (the "Seller Indemnified Persons") from and against any and all Losses to the extent relating to, resulting from, or arising out of:

(i) any breach of any representation or warranty of Buyer made in this Agreement (without regard to any qualifications or references to "Material Adverse Effect", "material" or any other materiality qualifications or references contained in any specific representation or warranty);

(ii) any breach or nonfulfillment of any agreement or covenant of Buyer under this Agreement;

(iii) any insurance or reinsurance risk or other liability or obligation to the extent related to or arising from the Life Business, whether or not related to the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, other than any Excluded Liabilities, any Excluded Reinsured Liabilities or any Losses incurred or arising after the Effective Time solely as a result of (x) actions or omissions of ALAC or ALACNY to the extent such actions or omissions of ALAC or ALACNY constitute gross negligence or bad faith and were not taken or omitted at the direction of the Company or the NY Reinsurer or consented to by the Company or the NY Reinsurer in writing or (y) U.S. federal or state income or capital stock or similar taxes (or any interest or penalties imposed with respect to the payment or reporting thereof) imposed upon ALAC, ALACNY or any of their Affiliates;

(iv) any Covered Employee's employment with Buyer and its Subsidiaries on or after such Covered Employee's Commencement Date (but excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, any Employment-Related Liabilities with respect to such Covered Employee to the extent relating to, resulting from or arising out of any incident, event, fact or circumstance occurring prior to such Covered Employee's Commencement Date); and

(v) any Losses (other than for lost profits and diminution in value) related to or arising in connection with any Buyer SPA Claims as a result of Buyer's directions given or actions taken pursuant to Sections 5.16(a)(i) or 5.16(a)(iii).

(c) The maximum aggregate liability of Seller, on the one hand, and Buyer on the other hand, to their respective Indemnitees for any and all Losses under Section 7.2(a)(i) (other than Losses in respect of the Seller Fundamental Representations and the Specified Representation) in the case of Seller, or Section 7.2(b)(i) (other than Losses in respect of the Buyer Fundamental Representations) in the case of Buyer, shall be the Shares Purchase Price; provided, that there shall be no maximum aggregate liability for Losses relating to, resulting from or arising out of fraud, intentional breach or willful misconduct regarding the representations and warranties in this Agreement.

SECTION 7.3 Procedures for Third-Party Claims.

(a) If any Indemnitee receives notice of assertion or commencement of any Third-Party Claim against such Indemnitee in respect of which an Indemnitor may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor reasonably prompt written notice thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim; provided, however, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation or otherwise affect the rights of any Indemnitee hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay with respect to such claim. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third-Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third-Party Claim and, if it so chooses, to assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. Should the Indemnitor so elect to assume the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor shall not as long as it conducts such defense be liable to the Indemnitee for legal expenses subsequently incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense; provided, however, that if the Indemnitee determines in good faith that the representation of the Indemnitee and the Indemnitor by the same counsel creates an actual or potential conflict of interest for such counsel, the reasonable fees and expenses of one counsel employed by the Indemnitee with respect to such matter shall be considered Losses hereunder. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof (other than during any period in which the Indemnitee shall have not yet given notice of the Third-Party Claim as provided above). If the Indemnitor chooses to defend any Third-Party Claim, the parties hereto shall cooperate in the defense thereof. Such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information which are relevant to such Third-Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise or discharge, such Third-Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned). If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, admit any liability with respect to or discharge a Third-Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned; provided, however, that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise or discharge such a Third-Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a complete and unconditional release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third-Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third-Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third-Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third-Party Claim.

SECTION 7.4 Direct Claims. The Indemnitor will have a period of 30 days within which to respond in writing to any claim by an Indemnitee on account of a Loss that does not result from a Third-Party Claim. If the Indemnitor does not so respond within such 30 day period, the Indemnitor will be deemed to have rejected such claim, in which event the Indemnitee will be entitled to pursue such remedies as may be available to the Indemnitee.

SECTION 7.5 Sole Remedy. Except in the case of fraud, intentional breach, willful misconduct or as otherwise specifically provided herein, including in Section 5.16, from and after the Closing, the remedies provided in this Article VII shall be the exclusive monetary remedies (including equitable remedies that involve monetary payment, such as restitution or disgorgement, other than specific performance to enforce any payment or performance due hereunder) of the Indemnified Persons from and after Closing in connection with any breach or inaccuracy of a representation or warranty or non-performance of any covenant or agreement contained herein or any breach or inaccuracy of any certificate. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Article VII shall affect any right to indemnification under the terms of any other agreement between the Parties or their Affiliates or the Parties' right to specific performance in accordance with Section 10.11.

SECTION 7.6 Indemnification under the Other Transaction Documents. It is the intent of the parties to allow each party to pursue indemnification pursuant to any Transaction Document to which it is a party or third party beneficiary; provided, that no party (including for purposes of such determination, amounts received by any of its Affiliates) shall be entitled to receive duplicate payments for a Loss.

ARTICLE VIII.
TAX MATTERS

SECTION 8.1 Indemnification for Taxes.

(a) Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnified Persons from any and all Losses to the extent arising out of (A) Taxes imposed on the Company pursuant to Treas. Reg. § 1.1502-6 or any similar provision of state or local law as a result of the Company having been a member of any Company Group prior to the Shares Closing Date and (B) all Taxes imposed on the Company for any taxable year or period that ends on or before the Shares Closing Date and, with respect to any Straddle Period, the portion of such Straddle Period ending on and including the Shares Closing Date, (C) any inaccuracy in or breach of any representation or warranty contained in Section 3.7, or (D) any Taxes of another Person for which the Company is liable as a result of (1) any obligation under any agreement or arrangement relating primarily to Taxes (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall include any Tax sharing arrangement, but shall exclude customary tax gross-up provisions in lease or commercial lending arrangements) entered into on or prior to the Closing Date or (2) as a result of the Company being a transferee or successor with respect to such an obligation on or prior to the Closing Date; provided, that Seller shall not be liable for or pay any such Taxes to the extent of any accrued liability for Taxes taken into account in the Final Balance Sheet.

(b) Buyer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Seller Indemnified Persons from and against any and all Losses to the extent arising out of liabilities for Taxes imposed on the Company for any taxable year or period that begins after the Shares Closing Date and, with respect to any Straddle Period, the portion of such Straddle Period beginning on the day after the Shares Closing Date and any Taxes to the extent taken into account as an accrued liability for Taxes in the Final Balance Sheet.

(c) For purposes of this Agreement, whenever it is necessary to determine the liability for Taxes of the Company for the portion of a Straddle Period that ends on the Shares Closing Date, and the portion of a Straddle Period that begins after the Shares Closing Date:

(i) in the case of Taxes based on or measured by income, gain, or receipts, or related to the actual or deemed sale or transfer of property, or which are withholding Taxes, such Taxes shall be allocated based on an interim closing of the books as of the Shares Closing Date; and

(ii) in the case of Taxes calculated on a periodic basis, the portion of such Taxes allocable to the period that ends on the Shares Closing Date shall be deemed to be the amount of such Taxes for the entire Straddle Period multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in the portion of the Straddle Period ending on the Shares Closing Date and the denominator of which is the number of days in the entire Straddle Period.

SECTION 8.2 Filing of Tax Returns.

(a) Seller shall timely file or cause to be timely filed when due (taking into account all extensions properly obtained) all income Tax Returns that are required to be filed by or with respect to the Company for taxable years or periods ending on or before the Shares Closing Date. In each case Seller shall remit or cause to be remitted any Taxes due in respect of such Tax Returns. Buyer shall timely file or cause to be timely filed when due (taking into account all extensions properly obtained) all other Tax Returns that are required to be filed by or with respect to the Company after the Shares Closing Date and, subject to Section 8.1(a) above, Buyer shall remit or cause to be remitted any Taxes due in respect of such Tax Returns.

(b) All Tax Returns that Buyer is required to file or cause to be filed in accordance with this Section 8.2 that relate to any taxable year or period ending on or before the Shares Closing Date or any Straddle Period shall be prepared and filed in a manner consistent with past practice and, on such Tax Returns, no position shall be taken, election made or method adopted that is inconsistent with positions taken, elections made or methods used in preparing and filing similar Tax Returns in prior periods, except, in either case, with the consent of Seller (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). With respect to any such Tax Return to be filed by Buyer, not less than thirty (30) days prior to the due date for such Tax Return, taking into account extensions (or, if such due date is within thirty (30) days following the Shares Closing Date, as promptly as practicable following the Shares Closing Date), Buyer shall provide Seller with a draft copy of such Tax Return for Seller's review and comments, which Buyer shall reasonably take into account.

(c) Except to the extent otherwise required by Applicable Law, Buyer shall not, and shall not permit any of its Affiliates to, without the prior written consent of Seller, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), amend any Tax Returns of the Company relating to any Tax period ending before the Shares Closing Date, or, with respect to any Straddle Period, in a manner that could result in an increase in Taxes attributable to the portion of the Straddle Period ending on the Shares Closing Date.

SECTION 8.3 Tax Refunds. Any Tax refund, credit, or similar benefit (including any interest paid or credited with respect thereto) (a "Tax Refund") relating to the Company for Taxes paid for any taxable period (or portion thereof) ending on or prior to the Shares Closing Date shall be the property of Seller except to the extent such Tax Refund (i) was taken into account in the Final Balance Sheet or (ii) is attributable to the carryback of any item of loss, deduction, credit or other Tax benefit from a tax year or period ending (or portion thereof) after the Share Closing Date and the Company is not permitted by Applicable Law to waive such carryback. If received by Buyer or the Company, Buyer shall, or shall cause the Company to, pay any Tax Refund that is the property of Seller promptly to Seller, net of any Tax cost to Buyer or any of its Affiliates attributable to the receipt of such refund and any other cost reasonably incurred by Buyer to obtain such refund. In the event that any such Tax Refund is subsequently contested by any Tax authority, such contest shall be handled in accordance with the procedures in Section 7.3. Any additional Taxes resulting from the contest shall be indemnified in accordance with Section 8.1.

SECTION 8.4 Cooperation and Exchange of Information.

(a) Seller and Buyer shall provide each other with such cooperation and information as either of them or their respective Affiliates reasonably may request of the other in filing any Tax Return, amended Tax Return or claim for Tax Refund, determining a liability for Taxes of the Company or a right to a Tax Refund of the Company, or participating in or conducting any contest in respect of Taxes of the Company (a "Tax Contest"). Such cooperation and information shall include providing copies of relevant Tax Returns or portions thereof, together with accompanying schedules, related work papers and documents relating to rulings or other determinations by Tax authorities. Each party and its Affiliates shall make its employees available on a basis mutually convenient to both parties to provide explanations of any documents or information provided hereunder. Any information obtained under this Section 8.4 shall be kept confidential except as otherwise may be necessary in connection with the filing of Tax Returns or claims for Tax Refunds or in conducting a contest or as otherwise may be required by Applicable Law or the rules of any stock exchange.

(b) From and after the SPA Closing, Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, provide promptly to Buyer and its Affiliates, such information and assistance, including access to policy administration systems (including hardware or software) and related personnel, as reasonably requested by Buyer for purposes of the identification (through actuarial studies, systems testing and other appropriate means) and remediation of Losses or potential Losses attributable to the Tax treatment of the Reinsured Policies, the treatment of any Reinsured Policy as a "modified endowment contract" within the meaning of Section 7702A of the Code or any deficiency in compliance with Tax information reporting or Tax disclosure requirements applicable to the Reinsured Policies.

SECTION 8.5 Conveyance Taxes. Buyer or Seller, as appropriate, shall execute and deliver all instruments and certificates necessary to enable the other to comply with any filing requirements relating to any real property transfer or sales, use, transfer, value added, stock transfer and stamp taxes, any transfer, recording, registration and other fees and any similar Taxes ("Conveyance Taxes") which become payable in connection with the purchase of Shares by Buyer or the consummation of any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and shall file such applications and documents as shall permit any Conveyance Taxes to be assessed and paid. Any Conveyance Taxes incurred in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be borne 50% by Buyer and 50% by Seller.

SECTION 8.6 Termination of Tax Sharing Arrangements. Any agreement or arrangement relating primarily to Taxes (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall include any Tax sharing arrangement, but shall exclude customary tax gross-up provisions in lease or commercial lending arrangements) to which the Company is a party shall be terminated as to the Company as of the Shares Closing Date and the Company shall have no further liability thereunder from and after the Shares Closing Date.

SECTION 8.7 Certain Tax Claims.

(a) Seller shall promptly notify Buyer of any audit by a Governmental Entity, proposed adjustment or other Action with respect to Taxes that could reasonably be expected to result in a claim for indemnification under the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, provided that the failure of Seller to so notify Buyer shall not affect Seller's right to such indemnification except to the extent Buyer is materially prejudiced as a consequence of such failure. Unless Buyer shall have notified Seller of its intention to control such matter in accordance with Section 8.7(b), Seller shall have the right to control the conduct of any Action related to such audit or proposed adjustment, provided that Buyer shall be permitted, at Buyer's expense, to participate in any such audit, proposed adjustment or other Action. Notwithstanding such control, Seller shall not settle, either administratively or after the commencement of litigation, any such audit, proposed adjustment or other Action, in a manner that will result in a claim for indemnification under the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, without the written consent of Buyer, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

(b) In the case of any matter relating to Taxes that is an Extra Contractual Obligation or is otherwise indemnifiable under the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, including matters relating to (i) the Tax treatment of the Reinsured Policies, (ii) the treatment of any Reinsured Policy as a "modified endowment contract" within the meaning of Section 7702A of the Code, or (iii) compliance with any applicable Tax information reporting or Tax disclosure requirements with respect to the Reinsured Policies, Buyer shall (in each case subject to Aviva's rights under the SPA) have the exclusive right to: (A) initiate and control any proceeding, dispute or other Action with any Governmental Entity, including the IRS or other Third Party, (B) determine and implement the appropriate remediation and mitigation measures including obtaining remediation or other corrective relief from the IRS or modifying the administration of the Reinsured Policies in order to make such administration compliant with the requirements of Applicable Law and (C) give (or withhold) consent to (or from) Aviva, or exercise any other right or discretion afforded to Seller under the terms of the SPA; provided, that Buyer shall have first notified Seller in writing (i) of its intention to do so, (ii) of the identity of counsel, if any, chosen by Buyer in connection therewith and (iii) that Buyer has identified such matter as an Extra Contractual Obligation or as otherwise indemnifiable under the Life Business Reinsurance Agreement; provided, further, that Seller shall be entitled to participate at its own expense in the actions described in clauses (A) and (B) of the preceding sentence. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Buyer shall not take any action described in clause (B) of the preceding sentence which would result in a right of indemnification against Seller pursuant to Section 7.2(a)(ii) without Seller's consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

(c) Seller shall provide Buyer with assistance as reasonably requested by Buyer in order to exercise Buyer's rights described in Section 8.7(b), including by executing applicable powers of attorney.

(d) Buyer's rights described in Section 8.7(b) (and any actions taken pursuant to such rights) may be exercised and undertaken by Buyer in the time and manner determined by Buyer in its sole discretion, provided that in the case of any action that involves any admission that would reasonably be expected to form the basis of the determination of any material future liability of Seller or any of its Affiliates with respect to its annuity business, involves any material nonmonetary relief against Seller or any of its Affiliates with respect to its annuity business, or otherwise restricts the future activity or conduct of the annuity business by Seller or any of its Affiliates, then Buyer may not take such action without Seller's consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Should Seller decide to withhold such consent, Seller shall promptly communicate such decision in writing to Buyer.

(e) In the case of any matter related to Taxes controlled by Seller (e.g., a matter with respect to Seller's annuity business and not otherwise described in this Section 8.7), Seller shall not, and shall not permit any of its Affiliates to, take any action that involves any admission that would reasonably be expected to form the basis of the determination of any material future liability of Buyer or any of its Affiliates with respect to the Reinsured Policies, or involves any material nonmonetary relief against Buyer or any of its Affiliates with respect to the Reinsured Policies, or otherwise restricts the future activity or conduct of Buyer or any of its Affiliates relating to the Reinsured Policies, without Buyer's consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Should Buyer decide to withhold such consent, Buyer shall promptly communicate such decision in writing to Seller.

(f) If either party withholds its consent pursuant to Section 8.7(d) or (e), then the parties shall cooperate in good faith to determine any incremental costs, penalties, fees, interest, Taxes and other expenses that would not have arisen but for such withholding and shall share such amounts on a mutually agreeable basis taking into account the incremental cost to the proposing party and the benefit to the withholding party of the proposing party's forbearance from taking the proposed action.

SECTION 8.8 Miscellaneous.

(a) Seller and Buyer agree to treat all payments (other than interest on a payment) made by either of them to or for the benefit of the other or the other's Affiliates or the Company under this Article VIII, Section 5.16 and under other indemnity provisions of this Agreement as adjustments to one or more of the following, as appropriate: the Share Purchase Price, the Asset Purchase Price, payments under the Life Business Reinsurance Agreements, and the purchase price paid by Seller under the SPA.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement to the contrary, the obligations of Seller to indemnify and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnified Persons, as well as the obligations of Buyer to indemnify and hold harmless the Seller Indemnified Persons, pursuant to this Article VIII shall terminate on the later of three months after the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations (taking into account any applicable extensions or tollings thereof) with respect to the Tax liabilities in question or sixty (60) days after the final administrative or judicial determination of such Tax liabilities, except for any indemnity obligations as to which a claim has been made before the expiration of the applicable period.

(c) In the event of any Tax Contest (which for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include any matter described in Section 8.7), the conduct of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of Section 7.3.

(d) Except for Section 7.3 and Section 7.5, and except with respect to breaches of the covenants contained in Section 8.7, indemnification under this Agreement for or with respect to any Taxes of the Company shall be provided exclusively in this Article VIII and the provisions of Article VII shall not apply.

(e) Should it be necessary, equitable adjustments will be made to prevent duplicate recovery for indemnification with respect to the same item.

ARTICLE IX.
TERMINATION PRIOR TO CLOSING

SECTION 9.1 Termination of Agreement.

(a) This Agreement may be terminated prior to the Closing:

(i) by the written agreement of Buyer and Seller;

(ii) automatically upon the termination of the SPA in accordance with its terms;

(iii) by Buyer or Seller in writing, if there shall be any order, injunction or decree of any Governmental Entity that prohibits or restrains any party from consummating the transactions contemplated hereby, and such order, injunction or decree shall have become final and non-appealable; provided, that the party seeking to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1(a)(iii) shall have performed in all material respects its obligations under this Agreement;

(iv) by either Buyer or Seller in writing, if a breach of any provision of this Agreement that has been committed by the other party would cause the failure of any mutual condition to Closing or any condition to Closing for the benefit of the non-breaching party and such breach is not capable of being cured or is not cured within twenty (20) calendar days (or such shorter period available prior to the SPA Closing) after the breaching party receives written notice from the non-breaching party that the non-breaching party intends to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1(a)(iv);

(v) by either Buyer or Seller in writing, after the actual or threatened imposition on it of a Burdensome Condition, but only after it has complied with its obligations set forth in the last sentence of Section 5.3(a);

(vi) by Seller in writing in the event that it becomes reasonably apparent to Seller that the Iowa Insurance Division or any other applicable Governmental Entity will not grant its approval to the transactions contemplated by the SPA in whole or in part due to any facts related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the other Transaction Documents;

(vii) subject to Section 9.1(c), by Seller on or after the Cut-off Date;

(viii) by Seller or Buyer in writing, upon the SPA Closing, if either the Shares Closing or the Closing shall not have occurred prior thereto; or

(ix) by Seller in writing if there is an adjustment to the Ceding Commission pursuant to Section 5.32(b).

(b) If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to this Section 9.1, this Agreement shall become null and void and of no further force and effect without liability of either party (or any Representative of such party) to the other party to this Agreement, except for (i) the provisions of this Article IX and Article X, and (ii) rights and obligations arising from any fraud or intentional breach by a party of its obligations under this Agreement prior to such termination.

(c) If the Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1(a)(vii), the parties shall cooperate in good faith to negotiate documentation for, and consummate within six months after the SPA Closing, transactions on mutually acceptable terms and providing substantially similar economic benefits to the parties as the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, which may include a transaction involving the retrocession of the business reinsured by the Company under the ALAC Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement and Buyer forming a new Iowa domiciled life insurance company.

(d) Any provision of this Agreement may be amended or waived if, and only if, such amendment or waiver is in writing and signed, in the case of an amendment, by the parties hereto, or in the case of a waiver, by the party against whom the waiver is to be effective. No failure or delay by any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any such right, power or privilege preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or privilege.

ARTICLE X.
GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 10.1 Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the Closing is consummated, each party hereto shall, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, pay its own Transaction Expenses incident to preparing for, entering into and carrying out this Agreement, the other Transaction Documents and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby.

SECTION 10.2 Notices. All notices or other communications hereunder shall be deemed to have been duly given and made if in writing and if served by personal delivery upon the party for whom it is intended, if delivered by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or by a national courier service, or if sent by facsimile or e-mail; provided, that the facsimile or e-mail is promptly confirmed, to the Person at the address set forth below, or such other address as may be designated in writing hereafter, in the same manner, by such Person. Any such notice shall be deemed given when so delivered personally by courier or by overnight delivery service or sent by facsimile transmission (and immediately after transmission receipt of which has been confirmed by telephone by the sender), sent by e-mail (and immediately after transmission receipt of which has been confirmed by telephone by the sender) or, if mailed, four (4) Business Days after the mailing as follows:

SECTION 10.3 Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to a Section, Exhibit or Schedule, such reference shall be to a Section of, or an Exhibit or Schedule to, this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Any fact or item disclosed on any section of a Disclosure Schedule shall be deemed disclosed on all other sections of such Disclosure Schedule to the extent the applicability of such fact or item to such other section of the Disclosure Schedule is reasonably apparent. Disclosure of any item in a Disclosure Schedule shall not be deemed an admission that such item represents a material item, fact, exception of fact, event or circumstance or that occurrence or non-occurrence of any change or effect related to such item would reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The table of contents and headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation." Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the parties hereto and shall not be construed by any Governmental Entity against either party by virtue of the fact that such party was the drafting party.

SECTION 10.4 Entire Agreement; Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement and the other Transaction Documents contain the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents and supersede all prior agreements and understandings, oral or written, with respect to such matters. Except as provided in Article VII or Section 5.16(m), this Agreement is for the sole benefit of the parties and their permitted successors and assigns and nothing expressed or implied in this Agreement is intended to or shall confer any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities upon any Person other than the Parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns.

SECTION 10.5 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under it may be assigned or delegated, in whole or in part, by any of the Parties without the prior written consent of the other Parties, and any attempted or purported assignment or delegation in violation of this Section 10.5 shall be null and void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by the Parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns.

SECTION 10.6 Governing Law; Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) This Agreement and its enforcement will be governed by, and interpreted in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York applicable to agreements made and to be performed entirely within such State, without regard to any principles of conflicts of laws principles of such State that would provide for the application of the laws of any other jurisdiction.

(b) Each party hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and of any New York state court sitting in New York County, for purposes of all legal proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, or for recognition and enforcement of any judgment in respect thereof. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each party hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such proceedings brought in such court and any claim that any such proceeding brought in such a court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Each party also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding shall be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Each party agrees that any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered, sent or mailed in accordance with Section 10.2, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(c) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION, ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR COUNTERCLAIM (WHETHER BASED IN CONTRACT, TORT OR OTHERWISE) DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (A) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (B) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (C) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (D) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 10.6.

SECTION 10.7 Severability. The provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed severable and the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the other provisions hereof. If any provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any Person or entity or any circumstance, is found by a court or other Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unenforceable, (a) a suitable and equitable provision shall be substituted therefor in order to carry out, so far as may be valid and enforceable, the intent and purpose of such invalid or unenforceable provision and (b) the remainder of this Agreement and the application of such provision to other Persons or circumstances shall not be affected by such invalidity or unenforceability, nor shall such invalidity or unenforceability affect the validity or enforceability of such provision, or the application thereof, in any other jurisdiction.

SECTION 10.8 Certain Limitations. Buyer acknowledges and agrees that neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates (including the Company), nor any Representative of any of them, makes or has made, and Buyer has not relied on, any inducement or promise to Buyer from any such Person except as specifically made in this Agreement or the other Transaction Documents or any representation or warranty from any such Person to Buyer, oral or written, express or implied, other than as set forth in Article III or the other Transaction Documents; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, the parties acknowledge that Buyer has relied on the representations and warranties set forth in the SPA. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, other than as set forth in Article III or the other Transaction Documents, neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates (including the Company) has made any representation or warranty to Buyer with respect to the Company, the Shares or any other matter, including with respect to (A) merchantability or fitness for any particular purpose, (B) the operation of the Company by Buyer after the Closing, (C) the probable success or profitability of the Company after the Closing or (D) any information, documents or material made available to Buyer, its Affiliates or their respective Representatives in any “data rooms,” information memoranda, management presentations, functional “break-out” discussions or in any other form or forum in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including any valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast with respect to all or the Company. With respect to any such valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast, Buyer acknowledges that: (A) there are uncertainties inherent in attempting to make such valuations, appraisals, projections and forecasts; (B) it is familiar with such uncertainties; and (C) it shall have no claim, other than for fraud, against Seller or any of its Affiliates with respect to any such valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast.

SECTION 10.9 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which will be deemed to constitute an original, and may be delivered by facsimile or other electronic means intended to preserve the original graphic or pictorial appearance of a document.

SECTION 10.10 No Withholding.

(a) Neither party shall (absent a change in Applicable Law (or the official government interpretation thereof) after the date hereof) withhold any amount from a payment made to the other party under the terms of this Agreement. Seller shall indemnify Buyer for the full amount of any liability (including penalties, interest and expenses) for any withholding tax arising from any payment made by Buyer to Seller under the terms of this Agreement and Buyer shall indemnify Seller for the full amount of any liability (including penalties, interest and expenses) for any withholding tax arising from any payment made by Seller to Buyer under the terms of this Agreement.

SECTION 10.11 Specific Performance. The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur if any provision of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with the terms hereof and that the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement or to enforce specifically the performance of the terms and provisions hereof in any court specified in Section 10.6(b), in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity. The parties hereby waive, in any action for specific performance, the defense of adequacy of a remedy at law and the posting of any bond or other security in connection therewith.

COINSURANCE

Section 2.1 Scope and Basis of Reinsurance. The reinsurance provided under this Agreement applies to all Policies, other than Novated Contracts, that are (a) issued by the Company and in force as of the Effective Time, (b) issued by the Company after the Effective Time in accordance with Section 5.6 hereof, (c) reinsured by the Company under the terms of any Assumed Reinsurance Agreement as of the Effective Time, and (d) reinstated by the Company in accordance with Section 5.4 hereof (collectively, the "Reinsured Policies").

Section 2.2 Reinsuring Clause. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Company hereby cedes and the Reinsurer hereby reinsures on a coinsurance basis as of the Effective Time, 100% (the "Reinsurer's Share") of all Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 2.3 Transfer of Assets and Ceding Commission.

(a) Coinsurance Premium.

(i) On the Effective Date, the Company will pay to the Reinsurer an initial coinsurance premium that relates to the Reinsured Policies consisting of assets that are listed and that have Fair Market Values set forth on Annex A (with any modifications made pursuant to the Asset Identification Protocol) (the "Reinsurance Assets"), equal to the Reinsurer's Share of the following amount: (A) the Statutory Reserves held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies, plus (B) the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities, plus (C) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve that is created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement divided by 65%, minus (D) the amount of outstanding policy loans on the Reinsured Policies (to the extent such policy loans constitute admitted assets under SAP, net of any unearned policy loan interest on such loans but including amounts of interest due and accrued with respect thereto), minus (E) the net due and deferred Premiums on the Reinsured Policies, minus (F) the aggregate Statutory Book Value of the EI Hedges as of the Effective Date, plus (G) the other liabilities set forth on the Life Reference Balance Sheet, in the case of each of clauses (A) through (D), determined in accordance with SAP, consistently applied, as of the Effective Time (such amount, the "Initial Coinsurance Premium"). For the avoidance of doubt, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, for purposes of calculating the Initial Coinsurance Premium, the term "Reinsured Policies" shall not include the portion of the policies from which Net Retained Liabilities, if any, arise.

(ii) The amount of the Initial Coinsurance Premium paid on the Effective Date shall be determined on an estimated basis (the "Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium") as follows: (x) with respect to each of the items set forth in clauses (A), (B), (D) and (G) of the definition of "Initial Coinsurance Premium" the portion of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium attributable to such items shall be equal to the respective amounts set forth on the Life Reference Balance Sheet; and (y) with respect to the items set forth in clauses (C), (E) and (F) of the definition of the "Initial Coinsurance Premium," the portion of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium attributable to such items shall be determined by the Company in good faith and in a manner consistent with the principles governing the preparation of the Life Reference Balance Sheet on an estimated basis as of the date that is three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date.

(iii) On the Effective Date, the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement setting forth (A) the amount of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium, determined as of the date that is three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date, and (B) the final list of Reinsurance Assets, which will be based on Annex A and the Asset Identification Protocol, and will include the Fair Market Value and the Statutory Book Value of the Reinsurance Assets, determined as of the date that is three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date.

(iv) No later than sixty (60) Business Days after the Effective Date (the "True-Up Date"), the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement (the "Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement") prepared in good faith by the Company, in the same form as, and using the same principles that govern, the Life Reference Balance Sheet, setting forth, as of the Effective Date, (1) the calculation of each of the items set forth in clauses (A) through (G) of the definition of the "Initial Coinsurance Premium" (such amount, the "Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium") and (2) the Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets as of the Effective Date. The "Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment" shall be equal to the following amount (whether positive or negative): (A) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium minus the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium, minus (B) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets on the Effective Date minus the Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium pursuant to Section 2.3(a)(i). If the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is positive, then the Company shall pay to the Reinsurer an amount of cash equal to the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment. If the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is negative, then the Reinsurer shall pay to the Company an amount of cash equal to the absolute value of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment.

(v) No later than thirty (30) Business Days following any final adjustments to the Purchase Price (as defined in the SPA) in accordance with Annex C of the SPA, the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement (the "SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement") prepared in good faith by the Company, in the same form as, and using the same principles that govern, the Life Reference Balance Sheet, setting forth, as of the Effective Date, (1) the calculation of each of the items set forth in clauses (A) through (G) of the definition in the "Initial Coinsurance Premium" (such amount, the "SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium") and (2) the Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets as of the Effective Date. The "SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment" shall be equal to the following amount (whether positive or negative): (A) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium minus the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium, minus (B) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium minus the Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium. If the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is positive, then the Company shall pay to the Reinsurer an amount of cash equal to the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment. If the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is negative, then the Reinsurer shall pay to the Company an amount of cash equal to the absolute value of the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment.[1]

Section 2.4 Net Retained Liabilities.

(a) The Company shall be solely responsible for, and the Reinsurer will cooperate reasonably to obtain all waivers and consents necessary in order to reinsure 100% of the Net Retained Liabilities under this Agreement. The Company and the Reinsurer, at the Company's reasonable instruction, shall each use their reasonable best efforts in the context of current market conditions to obtain any such waivers and consents (it being understood that the Company's and the Reinsurer's executive officers shall, to the extent reasonably appropriate, be personally engaged in that process) and promptly advise the other Party of any communications with respect to any such waivers and consents. All correspondence from the Reinsurer to any Person from whom such a waiver or consent is sought shall be in a form approved by the Company. The Company shall effect any such action with respect to such waivers and consents, including sending correspondence requesting such waivers and consents. To the extent that after the Effective Time, any written waivers or consents are obtained to reinsure a Net Retained Liability in respect of a Policy under the terms of this Agreement or the Parties otherwise agree in writing that any such waivers or consents shall not be required as a condition to coverage of such Policy hereunder, then the liability and obligation pertaining to such Policy shall no longer be deemed a Net Retained Liability for purposes of this Agreement and the liability and obligation pertaining to such Policy shall be reinsured hereunder effective as of the date of such written consent, waiver or agreement by the Parties, as applicable.

1 SPA post closing true up subject to Buyer confirmation.

(b) With respect to any such written waiver or consent that is obtained or any such other agreement between the Parties that any such waivers or consents shall not be required as a condition to coverage hereunder, in each case, after the Effective Date:

(i) the Company shall pay the Reinsurer an amount of cash equal to the Net Retained Liability Reserve Transfer Amount with respect to such Net Retained Liability for which waiver or consent was obtained or with respect to which the Parties agreed did not require a consent or waiver as a condition to coverage hereunder;

(ii) the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement setting forth the Company's good faith calculation of the difference (whether positive or negative) between (x) the aggregate amount of the premiums and considerations, premium adjustments and any and all amounts or payments, including any and all policy fees, charges, reimbursements, reinsurance recoverables and similar amounts, received or collected by the Company in respect of the portion of the Policies from which the relevant Net Retained Liabilities arise during the period following the Effective Date and prior to the date on which such waiver or consent was obtained or with respect to which the Parties agreed such waiver or consent was not required as a condition to coverage hereunder (the "Net Retained Liabilities Adjustment Period"); and (y) the aggregate amount equal to the obligations, including any and all death claims, cash surrender benefits, policyholder dividends, reinsurance premiums, commissions and similar amounts, arising out of or relating to the portion of the Policies from which the relevant Net Retained Liabilities arise (including Extra Contractual Obligations) incurred by the Company during the Net Retained Liabilities Adjustment Period. If such amount is positive, then such amount shall be due to be paid the Company by the Reinsurer, and if such amount is negative, then such amount shall be due to be paid to the Reinsurer by the Company, in each case, together with an amount of interest on such payment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment.

(iii) The payment of the amounts in clauses (i) and (ii) shall be reflected in the Net Settlement for the month in which such consent or waiver was obtained and paid in accordance with Section 6.2.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, prior to obtaining any such required written consents or waivers, or the making of any such written agreement, the portion of each Policy from which Net Retained Liabilities arise shall not be deemed to constitute a Reinsured Policy for purposes of this Agreement; provided that the Reinsurer shall provide administrative services with respect to any Net Retained Liabilities (and the associated Policies) pursuant to the Administrative Services Agreement. Except as otherwise contemplated by this Section 2.4, the Company shall bear the cost of obtaining any waivers or consents to reinsure a Net Retained Liability.

(d) Until 100% of the Net Retained Liabilities have been reinsured under this Agreement, the Net Settlement for each month shall reflect an adjustment to the Ceding Commission calculated by reference to the then-current amount of the Net Retained Liabilities in accordance with Annex C.

Section 2.5 Producer Payments.

(a) The Reinsurer hereby assumes any and all liabilities and obligations of the Company to make, and agrees that it shall be financially responsible for, all Producer Payments owed from and after the Effective Time that are due in respect of premiums collected and received with respect to the Reinsured Policies. The Company hereby designates the Reinsurer as "paying agent" to make such Producer Payments directly to the applicable Producers from and after the Effective Date. The Company shall act at the Reinsurer's written direction and expense to exercise all rights of the Company relating to the Reinsured Policies under the terms of the Producer Agreements, including any rights to suspend or terminate Producer Payments to such Producers for any reason or cause set forth in the Producer Agreements, in each case only to the extent such rights thereunder relate to the Reinsured Policies; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer.As part of the Net Settlement, the Reinsurer shall pay to the Company from Producer Payments due to a Producer aggregate amounts equal to the agent debit balance maintained by the Company with respect to the applicable Producer and identified by the Company and the Reinsurer. The Reinsurer shall not be required to pay any such amounts paid to the Company under this Section 2.5(b) to a Producer pursuant to Section 2.5(a).

(c) At any such time in which the Reinsurer enters into a new producer agreement with a Producer and the Company terminates its Producer Agreement with such Producer, then the Company shall transfer any remaining agent debit balance associated with such Producer to the Reinsurer and the Reinsurer shall be obligated to pay the Company for such remaining amount of such agent debit balance.

Section 2.6 Guaranty Fund Assessments and Premium Taxes.

(a) Guaranty Funds Assessments. In the event the Company is required to pay an assessment on or after the Effective Date in respect of the Reinsured Policies to any insurance guaranty, insolvency or other similar fund maintained by any jurisdiction, the portion, if any, of such assessment related to such Reinsured Policies shall be reimbursed by the Reinsurer as part of the applicable monthly settlement pursuant to Section 6.2. To the extent there is any recovery of any such assessment paid by the Reinsurer, the Company shall promptly pay the Reinsurer's Share of such recovery to the Reinsurer.

(b) Premium Taxes.

(i) The Reinsurer shall pay to the Company a provision for premium taxes and other charges, fees, taxes and assessments, including retaliatory taxes (collectively, "Premium Taxes"), incurred or imposed on or after the Effective Date in connection with premiums written or received under the Reinsured Policies. The provision for Premium Taxes shall be estimated at 1.8% of premiums received under the Reinsured Policies, as calculated on a monthly basis, and shall be paid by the Reinsurer to the Company as part of the monthly settlement pursuant to Section 6.2 and adjusted annually to an actual rate for each year as part of the monthly settlement pursuant to Section 6.2 for the second calendar month of the following year, with such monthly settlement to reflect the difference between actual Premium Taxes in respect of the Reinsured Policies (after giving effect to any offsets for guaranty fund assessments reimbursed by the Reinsurer pursuant to Section 2.6(a)) and estimated Premium Taxes.

(ii) Each Party shall promptly notify the other in writing upon receipt by it or any of its Affiliates of notice of any pending or threatened Action related to any Premium Taxes or any Tax Returns filed in connection with such Premium Taxes.

(i) The Company shall have the right to control the conduct of any Action related to any Premium Taxes or any Tax Returns filed in connection with such Premium Taxes, and to employ counsel of the Company's choice; provided, that the Reinsurer shall be permitted, at the Reinsurer's expense, to be present at, and to participate in, any Action related to Premium Taxes. Notwithstanding such control, the Company shall not settle, either administratively or after the commencement of litigation, any claim for Premium Taxes without the consent of the Reinsurer, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. The Parties shall furnish or cause to be furnished to each other, upon request, as promptly as practicable, such information and assistance relating to the preparation for any Premium Tax audit or other Action related to Premium Taxes, and the prosecution or defense of any Action related to any Premium Taxes or any Premium Tax Returns filed in connection with such Premium Taxes. The Parties shall reasonably cooperate with each other in the conduct of any Action related to any Premium Taxes. Any information obtained under this Section 2.6(b)(iii) shall be kept confidential, except as otherwise reasonably may be required in connection with the filing of Premium Tax Returns or claims for Premium Tax refunds or in conducting any Action related to Premium Taxes..

Section 2.7 Other Reinsurance. This Agreement is written on a "gross" basis and thus the costs and benefits of Other Reinsurance inuring on the Reinsured Policies are intended to be borne by the Reinsurer. Other Reinsurance with respect to the Reinsured Policies shall be deemed to be inuring to the Reinsurer's benefit for all purposes of this Agreement and shall be accounted for herein such that the Reinsurer participates in the Reinsurer's Share of any premiums, benefits, recoveries, ceding or expense allowances, other allowances and other adjustments as such amounts and such risks are paid, received or otherwise collected by the Company with respect to such Other Reinsurance, it being understood that the Reinsurer shall bear all risk of collecting third party reinsurance (except as otherwise provided in Section 3.2(c)). Risks under the terms of any agreement of Other Reinsurance as shall be terminated or recaptured with the Reinsurer's prior written consent shall be ceded automatically hereunder to the Reinsurer without any further action required, subject to the receipt by the Reinsurer of the Reinsurer's Share of any reserve transfer or similar transfer or settlement amount received by the Company from the applicable third party reinsurer. In connection with any such termination or recapture with the Reinsurer's prior written consent, the Reinsurer shall pay the Reinsurer's Share of any resulting special transfer or recapture fee incurred by the Company. The Company covenants that absent the prior written consent of the Reinsurer, the Company shall not enter into any new or change any existing reinsurance cession with respect to any of the Reinsured Policies.

Section 2.8 Policy Changes and Non-Guaranteed Elements.

(a) Policy Changes. The Company agrees that it shall not make any changes in the provisions and conditions of a Reinsured Policy or an Assumed Reinsurance Agreement except with the Reinsurer's prior written consent or to the extent that any change to the terms of any Reinsured Policy is required by Applicable Law. To the extent a change is required by Applicable Law, the Company shall, within a reasonable period of time prior to effecting such change, provide reasonably detailed written notice to the Reinsurer describing the nature of such change and the reasons for making such change. The Company shall also afford the Reinsurer, at the Reinsurer's expense, the opportunity, to the extent reasonably practicable, to object to such change under applicable administrative procedures; provided, that the Reinsurer may only object to such change in the same manner and to the same extent as it objects to any similar change required by any Applicable Law to substantially similar Novated Contracts.

(b) Non-Guaranteed Elements. The Company will be responsible for determining the cost of insurance charges, loads and expense charges, credited interest rates, mortality and expense charges, administrative expense risk charges and policyholder dividends, as applicable, under the Reinsured Policies ("Non-Guaranteed Elements"); provided, that the Reinsurer may provide written recommendations regarding the Non-Guaranteed Elements to the Company and, provided that such recommendations are the same as the Non-Guaranteed Elements established by the Reinsurer for substantially similar Novated Contracts and comply with the written terms of the Policies, Applicable Law and Actuarial Standards of Practice promulgated by the Actuarial Standards Board governing redetermination of non-guaranteed charges. The Company shall fully consider any such recommendations and act reasonably and in good faith in determining whether to accept any such recommendations and shall not unreasonably delay implementation of any accepted recommendations more than ten (10) Business Days after such recommendations are provided to the Company in writing.

Section 2.9 Ownership of Premiums. Payment of Premiums to the Reinsurer, as Administrator pursuant to the Administrative Services Agreement, by or on behalf of a policyholder shall be deemed received by the Company. All monies, checks, drafts, money orders, postal notes and other instruments that may be received after the Effective Date by the Company for premiums, fees or other payments on or in respect of the Reinsured Policies shall be held in trust by the Company for the benefit of the Reinsurer and shall be immediately transferred and delivered to the Reinsurer, and any such instruments when so delivered shall bear all endorsements required to effect the transfer of same to the Reinsurer. The Reinsurer is hereby authorized to endorse for payment to the Reinsurer any such checks, drafts, money orders and other instruments pertaining to the Reinsured Policies that are payable to, or to the order of, the Company and received by the Reinsurer under this Agreement. As between the Parties, the Reinsurer shall be deemed owner of all such payments.

Section 2.10 Assignment; Security Interest.

(a) The Company hereby assigns, transfers and conveys to the Reinsurer, effective as of the Effective Time, all of Company's right, title and interest (legal, equitable or otherwise), if any, (i) under the Reinsured Policies to receive principal and interest paid on policy loans, (ii) in and to the Premiums, fees and other payments due or made on or after the Effective Date under the Reinsured Policies and (iii) in and to agent debit balances included in the Life Reference Balance Sheet. The Reinsurer and the Company hereby agree that, in connection with any termination of this Agreement, all of the Reinsurer's right, title and interest (legal, equitable or otherwise) in and to the items set forth in (i), (ii) and (iii) above shall be immediately assigned, transferred and conveyed to the Company without any further action by the Parties. Each Party, as reasonably requested by the other from time to time, shall take all reasonably appropriate action and execute any reasonably necessary and appropriate additional documents, instruments or conveyances of any kind which may be reasonably necessary to carry out the provisions of this Section 2.10(a).

(b) The Parties intend that at all times prior to the termination of this Agreement the Company's assignment pursuant to Section 2.10(a) to be a present assignment of all of the Company's rights, title and interest and not an assignment as collateral. However, to the extent that such assignment is not recognized as a present assignment, is not valid or is recharacterized as a pledge rather than a lawful conveyance to the Reinsurer, the Company does hereby bargain, sell, convey, assign and otherwise pledge to the Reinsurer, and grant a first priority security interest to the Reinsurer in, all of the Company's right, title and interest (legal, equitable or otherwise), if any, (i) under the Reinsured Policies to receive principal and interest paid on policy loans, (ii) in and to all Premiums, fees and other payments due or made on or after the Effective Date under the Reinsured Policies and (iii) in and to agent debit balances included in the Life Reference Balance Sheet (collectively, the "Collateral") to secure all of the Company's obligations under this Agreement.

(c) Upon the failure of the Company to fully perform any of its material obligations under this Agreement, including Sections 6.2 and 10.5, which failure is not caused by the Reinsurer as Administrator and remains uncured ten (10) days after written notice thereof is received by the Company, the Reinsurer shall have, in addition to all other rights under this Agreement or under Applicable Law, the following rights:

(i) the right to exercise all rights and remedies granted a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code, as said code has been enacted in the State of New York or any other applicable jurisdiction (the "UCC"), as though all the Collateral constituted property subject to a security interest under Article 9 thereof;

(ii) the right to set off against any of the Collateral any amounts owed by the Company to the Reinsurer;

(iii) the right to attorneys' fees incurred in connection with the enforcement of this Agreement or in connection with the disposition of the Collateral; and

(iv) the right to dispose of the Collateral, subject to commercial reasonableness.

(d) This Section 2.10 is being included in this Agreement to ensure that, if an insolvency or other court determines that, notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement, including Sections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, 2.9, 6.2 and 13.1, and the intent of this Agreement, the Company retained ownership of or any rights in the Collateral, the Reinsurer's rights to the Collateral are protected with a first priority, perfected security interest, and it is the intent of the Parties that this Section 2.10 be interpreted as such.

(e) At or prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall file, and the Reinsurer is authorized to file, any and all financing statements reasonably requested by the Reinsurer in order to perfect the Reinsurer's right title and interest under Article 9 of the UCC in and to the Collateral, and the Company shall do such further acts and things as Reinsurer may reasonably request in order that the security interest granted hereunder may be maintained as a first priority perfected security interest; provided, that the Reinsurer shall be required to bear all out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by the Company in connection with any such action or other thing requested by the Reinsurer.

Section 2.11 Hedging.

(a) For a period of [●] following the Effective Date, the Company shall purchase derivatives to hedge the index risk associated with the Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies (each, an "EI Hedge" and collectively, the "EI Hedges"). The Company hereby conveys, transfers and assigns to the Reinsurer, effective as of the Effective Date, a 100% interest in the gross proceeds in respect of the EI Hedges purchased by the Company prior to or following the Effective Date, intended to hedge the index risk associated with the Reinsurer's Share of the Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies (such fractional interest, the "Assigned EI Hedge Interest Proportion"). Such assignment shall occur automatically, without further action on the part of either Party, upon the purchase by the Company of any

EI Hedge or, in the case of any EI Hedges entered into prior to the date hereof, as of the date hereof.[3]

(b) The Company shall pay to the Reinsurer any Assigned EI Hedge Proceeds Amounts to the Bank Accounts (as defined in the Administrative Services Agreement).

(c) The Reinsurer shall pay the Company any Assigned EI Hedge Costs Amounts in accordance with Section 6.2 until the applicable EI Hedges have been novated to the Reinsurer.

(d) The Company shall use reasonable care in its hedging activities with respect to the Reinsured Policies, and such activities shall be (i) consistent with the Company's hedging strategies with respect to equity indexed reinsured policies issued by the Company, including with respect to counterparty exposure, and (iii) no less favorable than the hedging activities used by the Company with respect to equity indexed policies issued by the Company that are not Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies. In addition, the Company shall not treat the EI Hedges in any respect in a manner that is different than the manner in which it treats the hedges it enters into with respect to equity indexed policies issued by the Company that are not Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies.

(e) The Company agrees that other than as provided expressly in this Agreement, it shall take any actions reasonably requested by the Reinsurer to maintain in full force and effect each of the EI Hedges and to perform fully each of its obligations thereunder. The Company may not modify, amend or terminate any EI Hedge or waive any of its rights under any such EI Hedge without the Reinsurer's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) and shall fully enforce, at the expense of the Reinsurer, all of its rights thereunder, including, at the Reinsurer's request and if applicable, requiring the collateralization by the Hedge Counterparty of exposure and other amounts required to be paid or delivered thereunder. With the Reinsurer's prior written consent, the Company may exercise any right it may have to terminate any such EI Hedge and shall, at the Reinsurer's instruction and expense, effect any discretionary action with respect to the management or administration of the EI Hedges as the Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including termination, as may be available pursuant to the terms and conditions of any EI Hedge; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such discretionary action so requested by the Reinsurer and the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless the Reinsurer for Losses to the extent arising out of any failure by the Company to take any such discretionary action as reasonably requested by the Reinsurer. The Company agrees that it shall, at the direction and at the cost and expense of the Reinsurer, pursue commercially reasonable management and collection efforts with respect to the EI Hedges and, in general, will reasonably cooperate with the Reinsurer in the management and administration of the EI Hedges.

3 The parties will cooperate to implement any revisions that are necessary, based on accounting advice, in order to allocate the EI Hedges to an account in the Company's books and records or to otherwise assure that statutory credit is given for the EI Hedges.

(f) Following the Effective Date, at the Reinsurer's request and expense, the Company shall cooperate with the Reinsurer and use its reasonable best efforts in the context of current market conditions to novate any EI Hedges from the Company to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer. The Company shall promptly advise the Reinsurer of any communications with respect to any such proposed novation. All material, written correspondence from either the Company or the Reinsurer to any Hedge Counterparty in connection with any such proposed novation shall be in a form approved by the other Party; provided that any such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. At the Reinsurer's instruction and at the Reinsurer's cost and expense, the Company shall take any such action with respect to any such proposed novation as Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including sending correspondence requesting that an EI Hedge be novated to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer in a form approved by the Reinsurer; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer and the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless the Reinsurer for Losses to the extent arising out of any failure by the Company to take any such action as reasonably requested by the Reinsurer.

Section 2.12 Interest Maintenance Reserve. Set forth on Schedule 2.12 is the Reinsurer's Share of the existing Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities and the amount of the new Interest Maintenance Reserve that is created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The entirety of such Interest Maintenance Reserve shall be calculated by the Company and ceded to and held by the Reinsurer, and shall be amortized as set forth on Schedule 2.12. The Company shall have no obligation to establish any such Interest Maintenance Reserve.

Section 2.13 Redundant Reserve Financing. The Reinsurer shall use its reasonable best efforts to enter into a Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction with respect to the 2013 Policies prior to the first anniversary of the Effective Date. The Reinsurer shall keep the Company reasonably informed on an ongoing basis of the progress of its efforts to complete any Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction with respect to the 2013 Policies in accordance with the preceding sentence. In the event that a Redundant Reserve Financing is entered into following the Effective and on or prior to the first anniversary of the Effective Date with respect to the 2013 Policies, the Reinsurer shall promptly pay to the Company, by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount equal to seventy-five percent (75%) of the difference between (i) the Statutory Reserves with respect to the 2013 Policies transferred to the Reinsurer as of the Effective Date, minus (ii) the economic reserves as of the Effective Date with respect to the 2013 Policies. Reinsurer's obligation under this Section 2.13 to make a payment to the Company shall in no event result in a duplication of payments to the Company under this agreement and under the corresponding provision of the ALAC Coinsurance Agreement.

Section 2.14 Additional Reserve Requirement

(a) If, prior to three (3) years following the Effective Date, the New York Department of Financial Services imposes on the Reinsurer, in lieu of on the Company, an asset adequacy or cash flow testing reserve requirement based on a scenario substantially similar to the cash flow testing scenario imposed on the Company by the New York

Department of Financial Services as part of its most recent triennial exam (an "Additional Reserve Requirement") with respect to the Reinsured Policies:

(i) the Company will promptly transfer assets to the Reinsurer in an amount equal to the Additional Reserve Requirement that the Company maintained or would have been required to maintain had there not been reinsurance in effect at the Effective Time; or

(ii) the Company may recapture the Reinsured Policies as provided in Sections 10.3(f) and 10.5.

(b) If an Additional Reserve Requirement is imposed as described above and the event the company elects to transfer assets in accordance with Section 2.13(a), the funding shall be accomplished by a deposit of assets into the respective funds withheld account; the income on such assets will be paid to the Reinsurer, and the Reinsurer will pay to the Company the portfolio yield on a similar pool of assets of similar duration and credit characteristics as determined by reference to a nationally recognized third party index. In addition, in the event of such funding, the Company shall retain the right to recapture the Reinsured Policies as provided in Sections 10.3(f) and 10.5 for as long as such funding remains in effect.

(c) The funding of any accounts, as contemplated above, shall be released back to the Company concurrently with, and in the same amount as, any releases of the respective Additional Reserve Requirement. Furthermore, on the third (3rd) anniversary of the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall in any event return to the Company assets in an amount equal to the amount of the Additional Reserve Requirement together with any unpaid financing cost.

(d) If the recapture contemplated by this Section 2.13 occurs, then the parties will cooperate to cause the transition to the Company of any administrative servicing then being provided by third party administrators.

ARTICLE III
REINSURANCE LIABILITY

Section 3.1 Reinsurance Liability. The reinsurance by the Reinsurer of the Reinsured Policies is subject to the same rates, conditions, limitations and restrictions as the insurance under the Reinsured Policies written by the Company on which the reinsurance is based. The liability of the Reinsurer hereunder on the terms described herein begins as of the Effective Time and, subject to Article X hereof, the liability of the Reinsurer on any Reinsured Policy will terminate as and when all liability of the Company with respect to such Reinsured Policy terminates.

Section 3.2 Other Reinsurance.

(a) The Company agrees that other than as provided expressly in this Agreement, it shall take any actions reasonably requested by the Reinsurer to maintain in full force and effect each of the Other Reinsurance Agreements and to perform fully each of its obligations thereunder. The Company may not modify, amend, terminate or recapture any Other Reinsurance Agreement or waive any of its rights under any such agreement without the Reinsurer's prior written consent and shall fully enforce, at the expense of the Reinsurer, all of its rights thereunder, including, at the Reinsurer's request, requiring the collateralization by the third party reinsurer of reserve balances and other amounts thereunder. With the Reinsurer's prior written consent, the Company may exercise any right it may have to recapture risks ceded thereby under any of the Other Reinsurance Agreements or to otherwise terminate any such agreement and shall, at the Reinsurer's instruction and expense, effect any such action with respect to the management or administration of the Other Reinsurance as the Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including termination or recapture, as may be available under or with respect to the terms of any Other Reinsurance Agreement; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer. Subject to the terms and conditions of the Administrative Services Agreement, the Company agrees that it shall, at the direction and at the cost and expense of the Reinsurer (including any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Company), pursue commercially reasonable management and collection efforts with respect to the Other Reinsurance and, in general, will reasonably cooperate with the Reinsurer in the management of the Other Reinsurance.

(b) Following the Effective Date, at the Reinsurer's expense and reasonable request, the Company shall cooperate with the Reinsurer and shall use its reasonable best efforts in the context of current market conditions to novate any Other Reinsurance from the Company to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer. The Parties shall promptly advise each other of any communications with respect to any such proposed novation. All correspondence from either the Company or the Reinsurer to any reinsurer under Other Reinsurance in connection with any such proposed novation shall be in a form approved by the other Party; provided that any such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. At the Reinsurer's instruction and at the Reinsurer's cost and expense (including any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Company), the Company shall effect any such action with respect to any such proposed novation as the Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including sending correspondence requesting that an Other Reinsurance Agreement be novated to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer in a form approved by the Reinsurer; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer.

(c) The recoverability of the Other Reinsurance from reinsurers shall be at the risk of and for the account of the Reinsurer; provided, that to the extent the Other Reinsurance became unrecoverable (in accordance with the Company's ordinary-course evaluation and statutory accounting treatment) prior to the Effective Time, the recoverability of such amounts shall be borne by the Company. The Company agrees that whenever an

Other Reinsurance Agreement provides the Company with a right of set-off, the Company shall exercise such right of set-off in the event that amounts are due and unpaid from the Reinsurer. The Company shall have no obligation to pursue any claims it may have for indemnification to which it may be entitled in connection with the Other Reinsurance unless requested to do so by the Reinsurer and at the cost and expense of the Reinsurer (including reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Company). In no event shall any such right to indemnification reduce the Reinsurer's responsibility for the risk of all Other Reinsurance. The Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by Reinsurer.

Section 3.3 Disclaimer. The Company has no duties, whether express or implied, including the duty of utmost good faith and other similar duties, which the Company expressly disclaims, and makes no representations or warranties to the Reinsurer, other than those expressly contained in this Agreement. The Reinsurer has no duties, whether express or implied, including the duty of utmost good faith and other similar duties, which the Reinsurer expressly disclaims, and makes no representations or warranties to the Company, other than those expressly contained in this Agreement.

ARTICLE IV
CERTAIN FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

Section 4.1 Provision of Security by the Reinsurer.

(a) On the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall establish and fund with an amount of cash and assets having a Statutory Book Value equal to the Required Balance, calculated in good faith by the Reinsurer as of the Effective Date based on the information set forth in the statement delivered by the Company pursuant to Section 2.3(a)(ii), a trust account (the "Trust Account") with a Qualified United States Financial Institution unaffiliated with the Reinsurer and the Company and which is reasonably acceptable to the Reinsurer and the Company (the "Trustee") at the sole cost and expense of the Reinsurer naming the Company as sole beneficiary and shall enter into the Trust Agreement to provide security for the payment of amounts due the Company under this Agreement. The Reinsurer shall transfer or pay into the Trust Account, and shall thereafter maintain in the Trust Account, cash and assets managed by the Reinsurer or its designee in accordance with the requirements set forth in the Trust Agreement, having a Statutory Book Value, determined in good faith by the Reinsurer on a quarterly basis, to be not less than the Required Balance.

(b) For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Required Balance", as of any date of determination, means an amount equal to (i) (A) the Reinsurer's Share of the Statutory Reserves that would be required to be held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies if this Agreement were not in effect, plus (B) the Reinsurer's Share of the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities, plus (C) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve that is created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, in each case, as of such date of determination and determined in accordance with SAP, consistently applied, plus (ii) the Trust OC Amount, plus (iii) the Trust Ceding Commission Amount. The Required Balance and the Statutory Book Value of any assets held in the Trust Account shall be calculated by the Reinsurer as of the last day of each calendar quarter, and the Reinsurer shall provide a certification with respect to such valuation, including the Statutory Book Value and Fair Market Value of the assets (both on an asset-by-asset basis and a cumulative basis), to the Company and the Trustee within thirty (30) days after the end of such quarter. If the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of assets held in the Trust Account as of any quarter end is less than the Required Balance as of such quarter end, the Reinsurer shall within five (5) Business Days after such determination is made make such further deposits to the Trust Account as are required in order to restore the Required Balance as of such quarter end. If the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of assets held in the Trust Account as of any quarter end is greater than the Required Balance as of such quarter end, the Reinsurer may provide notice to the Company of its desire to withdraw assets from the Trust Account, specifying the amount and type of assets to be withdrawn. Within five (5) Business Days following its delivery of such notice to the Company, the Reinsurer may withdraw such assets from the Trust Account in excess of the amount necessary to maintain such Required Balance as of the applicable quarter end in accordance with the requirements set forth in the Trust Agreement. Any disputes by the Company of the amount of the Required Balance or the valuation of any asset deposited in the Trust Account pursuant to this Section 4.1 shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.1. Upon resolution of any such dispute in accordance with Section 11.1, either (A) the Reinsurer shall cause to be deposited additional assets that comply with Section 4.1(a) within two (2) Business Days following such resolution, such that following any such deposit, the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of the assets held in the Trust Account is sufficient to maintain the Required Balance as of the applicable quarter end; or (B) the Reinsurer may withdraw assets from the Trust Account in accordance with this Section 4.1(b), such that following any such withdrawal, the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of the assets held in the Trust Account is sufficient to maintain the Required Balance as of the applicable quarter end. Unless otherwise agreed upon in writing by the Company, the Reinsurer shall maintain the Trust Account until all obligations of the Reinsurer under this Agreement have been fully satisfied, as determined by the Company in its sole discretion.

(c) The Company and the Reinsurer agree that the assets maintained in the Trust Account may be withdrawn by the Company only after a default by the Reinsurer in the performance of its monetary obligations hereunder that is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith, which undisputed payment default has not been cured by the Reinsurer within five (5) Business Days following its receipt of a written notice thereof delivered by the Company. The amount of any such withdrawal in excess of amounts then due to Company hereunder shall be deemed maintained in trust for the benefit of the Reinsurer and promptly returned to the Trust Account. Upon prior written notice to the Company, the Reinsurer shall have the right to substitute or exchange assets maintained in the Trust Account in accordance with the requirements set forth in the Trust Agreement.

(d) With respect to the transfer of any Reinsurance Assets to the Trust Account, the Reinsurer will hold valid title to all such Reinsurance Assets free and clear of all liens or other encumbrances, other than interests of nominees, custodians or similar intermediaries. As of the date of the transfer of any assets to the Trust Account after the Effective Date, the Reinsurer will have good and marketable title to all such assets transferred by it to the Trust Account, all assets transferred by the Reinsurer after the Effective Date to the Trust Account shall be transferred free and clear of any liens other than interests of nominees, custodians or similar intermediaries, and the Reinsurer will not create, incur, assume or permit any lien or other encumbrance on any of the assets held in the Trust Account, or on any interest therein or on any of the proceeds thereof, other than interests of nominees, custodians or similar intermediaries.

(e) The Reinsurer shall notify the Company in writing of any payment default occurring as to any asset in the Trust Account promptly after the Reinsurer receives notice of such default. In the event the Reinsurer determines that a delinquency of a timely payment in regard to any of the assets in the Trust Account has occurred, the Reinsurer shall inform the Company of such delinquency promptly upon such determination.

(f) Assets in the Trust Account may be withdrawn and applied by the Company or any successor of the Company without diminution because of insolvency on the part of the Company or the Reinsurer only for the following purposes:

(i) to pay to the Company any amount due to be paid out of the Trust Account as part of the Reinsurer Termination Payment to the extent such amount is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith;

(ii) to pay any portion of the Net Settlement due to be paid to the Company from the Trust Account in accordance with Section 6.2(b) to the extent such portion is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith; or

(iii) to pay or reimburse the Company for any other amounts due but not yet recovered from the Reinsurer under this Agreement in order to satisfy liabilities under the Reinsured Policies to the extent such amounts are not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith.

For the avoidance of doubt, any amounts referred to above that are not the subject of a good faith dispute may be withdrawn and applied for the purposes provided above.

Section 4.2 Credit for Reinsurance. If at any time during the term of this Agreement, the Reinsurer fails to hold and maintain all licenses, permits and authorities required under Applicable Law to enable the Company to receive statutory reserve credit for the reinsurance ceded to the Reinsurer hereunder in the Company's state of domicile, the Reinsurer shall, at its sole expense, establish and maintain security in the form of letters of credit, assets held in a reinsurance trust or a combination thereof in a manner that meets all Applicable Laws regarding credit for reinsurance, so as to permit the Company to receive full statutory reserve credit for the reinsurance ceded to the Reinsurer hereunder in the Company's state of domicile.

Section 4.3 RBC Reports.

(a) Within forty-five (45) days following the end of the first three calendar quarters of each year during the term of this Agreement, the Reinsurer shall provide to the Company a report of its RBC Ratio as of the end of such calendar quarter, as estimated in good faith by the Reinsurer.

(b) Within five (5) Business Days of the submission by the Reinsurer to the insurance department of its domiciliary state of a report of its risk-based capital levels as of the end of the previous calendar year, but in no event later than 60 days following the end of each calendar year, the Reinsurer shall provide to the Company written certification of its RBC Ratio as of the end of such calendar year.

ARTICLE V
PLAN OF REINSURANCE

Section 5.1 Plan. Reinsurance under this Agreement is on a 100% coinsurance basis and is subject to the terms and conditions of the original policy forms for the Reinsured Policies and any amendments thereto in effect as of the Effective Date.

Section 5.2 Follow the Fortunes. The Reinsurer's liability under this Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date, and all reinsurance with respect to which the Reinsurer shall be liable by virtue of this Agreement shall be subject in all respects to the same risks, terms, rates, conditions, interpretations, assessments, waivers, proportion of premiums paid to, and reinsurance recoveries benefiting, the Company with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities and the Reinsured Policies, the true intent of this Agreement being that the Reinsurer shall follow the fortunes of the Company with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities and Reinsured Policies.

Section 5.3 Reductions and Terminations. Reinsurance amounts are calculated in terms of coverages on a "per policy" basis. If the coverage of any Reinsured Policy on an insured is reduced or terminated, reinsurance under this Agreement on such Reinsured Policy will be equally reduced or terminated.

Section 5.4 Reinstatements. Reinsured Policies ceded under this Agreement shall include any Policy that is reduced, terminated, lapsed or surrendered, and later reinstated pursuant to and in accordance with its policy provisions and will be reinsured by the Reinsurer in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. The Reinsurer will retain any Premiums and interest that the Company has received for reinstatement in respect of periods on or after the Effective Date. A terminated Policy that would have been a Reinsured Policy had it been in force at the Effective Time, that later reinstates pursuant to and in accordance with its policy provisions, will be reinsured by the Reinsurer and become a Reinsured Policy. The Reinsurer will be entitled to retain any Premiums and interest for coverage on or after the Effective Date that is received for such reinstatement, and the Company will transfer to the Reinsurer the amount of reserves for such reinstated Reinsured Policy as of the Effective Date, calculated in a manner that is consistent with the reserve calculations used for the other Reinsured Policies. The date of reinsurance for such reinstated Reinsured Policies shall be the Effective Date. For the avoidance of doubt, the reinstated Policies reinsured under this Section 5.4 shall include any Policy treated as lapsed or otherwise terminated prior to the Effective Time under which the Company subsequently becomes liable as a result of a determination that the policyowner, insured or beneficiary has died prior to the lapse or termination.

Section 5.5 Contractual Conversions; Internal Replacement.

(a) Any conversion, exchange or replacement policy or contract arising from the Reinsured Policies that is converted, exchanged or replaced pursuant to and in accordance with its policy terms shall be deemed to constitute a Reinsured Policy for purposes of this Agreement and, in the event of a conversion, exchange or replacement of any Reinsured Policy, the Reinsurer shall reinsure the risk resulting from such conversion on the basis set forth hereby with respect to the Reinsured Policies; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall not be required to pay any additional ceding commission with respect to any such converted, exchanged or replacement policy or contract. The Reinsurer will reimburse the Company for any expenses incurred in issuing a converted, exchanged or replacement policy or contract, but only to the extent such expenses are not covered by payments made by the Reinsurer under the Transition Services Agreement.

(b) Absent the Reinsurer's prior written consent (which may be withheld in its sole discretion), the Company will not solicit owners, beneficiaries or policyholders in connection with, or sponsor or assist, directly or indirectly, in the conduct of, (and will cause each of its Affiliates to refrain from soliciting in connection with, and sponsoring or assisting, directly or indirectly, in the conduct of) any program of internal replacement under which the owners, beneficiaries or policyholders of Reinsured Policies are or would be encouraged to exchange, or assisted in the exchange of, Reinsured Policies for other insurance policies or contracts that are not reinsured under this Agreement. Should the Company or its Affiliates or any of their respective successors or assigns initiate such a program of internal replacement that would include any of the risks reinsured hereunder in violation of the preceding sentence, the Company will immediately notify the Reinsurer. For each risk reinsured hereunder that has been replaced under a program of internal replacement, the Reinsurer shall have the option, at its sole discretion, of either treating the risks reinsured as recaptured on terms reasonably acceptable to the Reinsurer or continuing reinsurance on the new policy under the terms of this Agreement without any additional ceding commission therefor.

Section 5.6 New Policies. From and after the Effective Date, the Company shall issue in its name (a) new Policies issued or reinstated pursuant to Section 5.4 or 5.5(a) and (b) new Policies issued or renewed in accordance the terms of the Administrative Services Agreement.

Section 5.7 Policy List Errors.

(a) The Company or the Reinsurer, as applicable, shall notify the other Party if any life insurance policies or contracts issued or reinsured by the Company and in force as of the Effective Date were inadvertently not included on the Policy List and are determined to be a Policy, which shall in no event include any insurance policies and contracts falling within the following lines of business: health, annuities, funding agreements, corporate-owned life insurance and bank-owned life insurance when sold on a group basis, synthetic guaranteed investment contracts and variable life or other variable business.

(b) If any policies or contracts (or components thereof) are determined to be Policies in accordance with this Section 5.7, then:

(i) the Company shall transfer cash or assets reasonably satisfactory to the Reinsurer in an amount equal to the Statutory Reserves required to be held with respect to such Policies to the extent such Statutory Reserves were not previously transferred to the Reinsurer; and

(ii) the Parties shall adjust the Ceding Commission in a manner consistent with the adjustment required under Section 2.4(b)(ii) in connection with changes in the Net Retained Liabilities to the extent such Ceding Commission relates to an aggregate increase in Statutory Reserves equal to or greater than $10,000,000.

ADMINISTRATION

Section 6.1 Administrative Services. The Parties hereby agree that the Policies, Other Reinsurance Agreements [and, subject to Section 2.11, the EI Hedges] shall be administered in accordance with or as otherwise provided in the Administrative Services Agreement and the Transition Services Agreement.

Section 6.2 Net Settlements.

(a) For each Monthly Accounting Period, the Parties will effect a settlement on a net basis (the "Net Settlement") as contemplated in Annex B hereto.

(b) A report reflecting in detail the Net Settlement determinations contemplated in Annex B shall be prepared not later than fifteen (15) Business Days after the end of each Monthly Accounting Period. For as long as required under the Transition Services Agreement, the Company shall prepare and deliver such report to the Reinsurer. After such time, the Reinsurer shall prepare and deliver such report to the Company. If a Net Settlement report reflects a balance due the Company, the amount(s) shown as due shall be paid within ten (10) Business Days of the delivery of the report. If a Net Settlement report reflects a balance due the Reinsurer, the amount(s) shown as due shall be paid within ten (10) Business Days after the date on which the report was delivered. If there is a delayed settlement of any payment due hereunder, interest will accrue on such payment at the Applicable Rate. For purposes of this section, a payment will be considered overdue on the date which is ten (10) Business Days after the date such payment is due hereunder; provided that such interest will begin to accrue from the original due date with respect to such payment. All settlements of account between the Company and the Reinsurer shall be made in cash or its equivalent.

(c) To the extent that the Reinsurer makes any direct payments to or on behalf of the Company in respect of Reinsured Liabilities or other amounts payable to the Company pursuant to the Net Settlement in respect of a Monthly Accounting Period prior to the Net Settlement process, whether in its capacity as the Administrator or otherwise, the amount of any such payments shall be taken into account for purposes of determining the Net Settlement. In addition, to the extent the Reinsurer receives any Premiums or other amounts payable to the Reinsurer pursuant to the Net Settlement in respect of a Monthly Accounting Period prior to the Net Settlement process, whether in its capacity as the Administrator or otherwise, the amount of any such Premiums received shall be taken into account for purposes of determining the Net Settlement.

(d) In connection with any settlement under this Agreement, the Reinsurer shall not be obligated to pay any Excluded Reinsured Liability.

ARTICLE VII
OPTION LETTERS; ASSUMPTION CERTIFICATES; NOVATION

Section 7.1 Novation. The Reinsurer shall pursue novation of all of the Reinsured Policies other than any Reinsured Policies that are the subject of litigation or arbitration proceedings (the "Targeted Policies"). The Reinsurer may manage the novation process so as to ensure that the Targeted Policies are novated to the Reinsurer only once the requisite systems are in place in order to reflect the Novated Contracts on the books and records of the Reinsurer in accordance with the migration processes and related time periods contemplated by the Transition Services Agreement.

Section 7.2 Licenses; Regulatory Approvals for Novation.

(a) Following the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall use its reasonable best efforts to obtain all material licenses, permits and authorizations required under Applicable Law to qualify the Reinsurer to transact life insurance business in each state where any Targeted Policies are in force as of the Effective Date.

(b) Following the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall use its reasonable best efforts to obtain all required regulatory approvals, including approval of the requisite form and rate filings, from each applicable Governmental Entity to assume by novation such Targeted Policies (effective as of their inception) including all of the Company's liabilities and obligations under each such Targeted Policy, in order to ensure that such liabilities and obligations are solely, directly and exclusively vested in the Reinsurer.

(c) Each Party shall cooperate fully with the other in all reasonable respects in order to effectuate the novation and assumption of the Targeted Policies as set forth in this Article VII. The Reinsurer shall be responsible for and shall pay its own costs, fees and expenses relating to the regulatory filings contemplated under this Section 7.2, and shall reimburse the Company for any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses that it incurs in connection with such filings.

Section 7.3 Option Letter.

(a) Subject to Section 7.3(b), the Reinsurer, at its sole cost and expense, promptly following receipt of the requisite approvals of applicable Governmental Entities, shall transmit by mail to every Required Party as required by the Applicable Law and in accordance with the consent solicitation procedures set forth on Schedule 7.3(a), an option letter (the "Option Letter"), together with a Notice and Certificate of Assumption, including, where required, a form for rejection or acceptance, as permitted by Applicable Law, and a self-addressed return envelope, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit II (which identifies and includes the forms of Option Letters to be furnished to the various classes of Required Parties), as modified to reflect such changes as may be required by the relevant Governmental Entity following the Effective Date (the "Notice and Certificate of Assumption"). Option Letters and Notices and Certificates of Assumption shall not be sent with respect to a Targeted Policy unless and until all requisite approvals of applicable Governmental Entities have been received with respect to such Targeted Policy.

(b) Subject to the receipt of the requisite regulatory approvals and Applicable Law, the Reinsurer may, at its option, in lieu of transmission of an Option Letter to a Required Party by mail, effect such transmission by electronic mail to an appropriately confirmed electronic mail address for the Required Party, or in the alternative, by any other method allowed under Applicable Law.

(c) The Reinsurer and the Company shall in good faith agree to modify the procedures set forth in this Section 7.3 and in Schedule 7.3(a) on a state-by-state basis to the extent required to conform to any procedures for novation and assumption of Targeted Policies imposed or required by the applicable Governmental Entity or as reasonably requested by the Reinsurer.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, with respect to the classes of Required Parties described on Schedule 7.3(d), the Option Letter, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, may be accompanied by a form for rejection, and a self-addressed return envelope, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit III, and the Reinsurer shall not be required to seek affirmative consent from such Required Parties, unless required by Applicable Law.

(e) The Reinsurer shall pay its own costs, fees and expenses relating to soliciting or obtaining the consent of a Required Party to the novation and assumption by the Reinsurer of a Targeted Policy. The Company shall cooperate in any such actions taken by the Reinsurer, and the Reinsurer shall reimburse the Company for its reasonable out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with such cooperation.

Section 7.4 Novated Contracts. Targeted Policies satisfying all of the requirements for novation and assumption under Section 7.3 and Applicable Law shall be assumed by the Reinsurer on the applicable Assumption Date and shall be deemed to have been assumed by novation. Such contracts shall cease to be deemed "Reinsured Policies," shall thenceforth not be deemed indemnity coinsured under Article II hereof, and shall be defined herein as "Novated Contracts." Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that (a) a Required Party rejects or fails to provide any consent required by Applicable Law to the novation of a Reinsured Policy, or (b) a Novated Contract is determined by appropriate Governmental Entities or a court of competent jurisdiction to be not novated from the Company to the Reinsurer (including, but not limited to, jurisdictions requiring the insured's affirmative consent for novation where the insured or policyholder, as the case may be, either did not or refused to provide such consent), then in the case of either of (a) or (b), such Novated Contract shall for all purposes of this Agreement be deemed, retroactive to the Effective Date, to be a Reinsured Policy and such novation shall be null and void and of no effect. For the avoidance of doubt, the Reinsured Liabilities for each such Novated Contract that is deemed to be a Reinsured Policy in accordance with the foregoing shall be deemed assumed by the Reinsurer retroactive to the Effective Date for all purposes of this Agreement. For each Novated Contract, the date of assumption shall be the later of (i) the date of assumption set forth in the relevant form of Option Letter with respect to the applicable Targeted Policy or (ii) the date on which all required consents and approvals of all Governmental Entities and Required Parties with respect to the applicable Targeted Policy have actually been received and all other requirements and conditions for novation and assumption have been satisfied (the "Assumption Date"). All Targeted Policies not novated by the Reinsurer shall remain Reinsured Policies of the Company.

Section 7.5 Effect of Assumption. Upon the satisfaction of all requirements for the novation and assumption of a Targeted Policy, the Company shall be deemed to have assigned and transferred all of its rights relating to such Novated Contract as of the Assumption Date and the Reinsurer shall be deemed to have assumed and accepted all of the risks, liabilities and obligations (including, without limitation, any Extra Contractual Obligations) under or arising out of the applicable Novated Contract, whether arising prior, on or subsequent to the applicable Assumption Date. The Reinsurer hereby agrees that it shall be directly and solely liable for such risks, liabilities and obligations. On each Assumption Date, the Reinsurer shall assume all risks, liabilities and obligations under or arising out of the applicable Novated Contract such that the Reinsurer shall be considered and deemed the original party in lieu of the Company, from the inception date of the applicable Reinsured Policy. The Novated Contracts shall continue and remain in full force and effect, except as modified by the Notice and Certificate of Assumption. For the avoidance of doubt, a Novated Contract shall not constitute the creation of a new contract or the termination of the applicable Reinsured Policy, rather such Novated Contract shall be considered and deemed a continuation of the existing contract as if the Reinsurer were the original party in lieu of the Company. It is understood and agreed that such assignment, transfer and assumption shall not affect any indemnification rights of the parties pursuant to Article XII, or any other indemnification or right to recovery provided to a party under any other agreement. Pursuant to the terms of the Trust Agreement, the portion of the assets held in the Trust Account relating to Novated Contracts not in dispute shall be released from the Trust Account and transferred to the Reinsurer. Promptly after assumption by the Reinsurer of any Novated Contracts, the Company shall deliver original books and records that relate to such Novated Contracts to the Reinsurer to the extent required by Applicable Law.

DAC TAX

Section 8.1 DAC Tax Election. The Company and the Reinsurer hereby elect and agree under Treasury Regulations Section 1.848-2(g)(8) as follows:

(a) The Company and the Reinsurer will each attach a schedule to its federal income tax return for the first taxable year ending after the Effective Date that identifies this Agreement as a reinsurance agreement for which a joint election under Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2(g)(8) has been made, and will otherwise file its respective federal income tax returns in a manner consistent with the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2 as in effect on the date this Agreement is executed;

(b) For each taxable year under this Agreement, the Party with the net positive consideration, as defined in the regulations promulgated under Section 848 of the Code, will capitalize specified policy acquisition expenses with respect to this Agreement without regard to the general deductions limitation of Section 848(c)(1) of the Code;

(c) The Company and the Reinsurer agree to exchange information pertaining to the amount of net consideration under this Agreement each year to ensure consistency or as otherwise required by the Code and applicable Treasury Regulations;

(d) The first tax year for which this election is effective is [2013];

(e) The Reinsurer will submit to the Company by May 15 each year its calculation of the amount of the net consideration for the preceding calendar year. This schedule of calculations will be accompanied by a statement that the Reinsurer will report such amount of net consideration in its tax return for the preceding calendar year;

(f) The Company may contest such calculation by providing an alternative calculation to the Reinsurer in writing within thirty (30) days of the Company's receipt of the Reinsurer's calculation. If the Company does not so notify the Reinsurer, the Company will report the amount of net consideration as determined by the Reinsurer in the Company's tax return for the previous calendar year;

(g) If the Company contests the Reinsurer's calculation of the amount of net consideration, the dispute shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.2.

Both the Company and the Reinsurer are subject to U.S. taxation under Subchapter L of Chapter 1 of the Code.

ARTICLE IX
INSOLVENCY AND CUT THROUGH

Section 9.1 Insolvency. The reinsurance ceded hereunder shall be payable by the Reinsurer on the basis of liability of the Company under the Reinsured Policies without diminution because of the insolvency of the Company, directly to the Company or its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor, except (i) where this Agreement specifically provides for another payee of the reinsurance in the event of the insolvency of the Company or (ii) where the Reinsurer, with the consent of the direct insured, has assumed the policy obligations of the Company as direct obligations of the Reinsurer to the payees under a Reinsured Policy and in substitution for the obligations of the Company to the payees. It is agreed and understood, however, that (i) in the event of the insolvency of the Company, the liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Company shall give the Reinsurer written notice of the pendency of a claim against the insolvent Company on a Reinsured Policy within a reasonable time after such claim is filed in the insolvency proceeding and (ii) during the pendency of such claim the Reinsurer may investigate such claim and interpose, at its own expense, in the proceeding where such claim is to be adjudicated any defenses which it deems available to the Company, its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor

Section 9.2 Expenses. It is further understood that any expense thus incurred by the Reinsurer pursuant to Section 9.1 shall be chargeable, subject to court approval, against the insolvent Company as part of the expense of liquidation to the extent of a proportionate share of the benefit which may accrue to the Company solely as a result of the defense undertaken by the Reinsurer. Where two or more assuming reinsurers are involved in the same claim and a majority in interest elect to interpose defenses to such claim, the expense shall be apportioned in accordance with the terms of this Agreement as though such expense had been incurred by the Company.

Section 9.3 Cut Through.

(a) Subject to Applicable Law and the applicable terms of the Reinsured Policies, if the Company becomes insolvent or is subject to any liquidation, rehabilitation, conservatorship, receivership, administrative supervision or any other similar proceeding, the Reinsurer may pay any Reinsured Liabilities otherwise due and payable by the Reinsurer to the Company hereunder directly to the named insureds or their designees under the applicable Reinsured Policies (the "Payee"), in accordance with and subject to the terms, conditions, exclusions and limitations of such Reinsured Policies. Any such payment by the Reinsurer shall discharge the Company from its related payment obligation under the subject Reinsured Policy and shall be treated as a payment by the Company for all purposes of such Reinsured Policy and related documentation and otherwise.

(b) The Reinsurer shall have no obligation to indemnify the Company for amounts paid or payable by the Company in respect of a Reinsured Policy to the extent of any payments made by the Reinsurer to the applicable Payee under such Reinsured Policy in accordance with Section 9.3(a), and the Reinsurer shall be discharged of its payment obligations to the Company, or to its liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, conservator or other similar Person, under this Agreement to the extent of such payments. The cut-through afforded by Section 9.3(a) shall not be available pursuant to this Agreement if, under Applicable Law, regulation, court rule or order or similar requirement either: (i) the Reinsurer's direct payment to such Payee will not, to the extent thereof, discharge the Reinsurer's obligations to the Company or its legal representative or (ii) the Reinsurer is required by Applicable Law to make any payment to the Company or its liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, conservator or other similar Person notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement. Nothing herein or in any Reinsured Policy shall be construed to require the Reinsurer to make duplicative payments or payments duplicative of payments that have been made by the Company.

TERMINATION

Section 10.1 Duration of Coinsurance. This Agreement will be effective as of the Effective Time. Subject to the provisions of this Article X, this Agreement will remain in effect, and the reinsurance provided hereunder will remain in force, until termination of the policy or policies on which the reinsurance is based (whether by expiration of the term thereof or by novation thereof by the Reinsurer or one of its Affiliates) in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. Except as provided in Sections 10.3, the Reinsured Policies are not eligible for recapture by the Company.

Section 10.2 Termination. This Agreement shall terminate:

(a) at any time upon the mutual written consent of the Parties hereto, which writing shall state the effective date of termination; or

(b) automatically at such time as no liability remains under this Agreement.

Section 10.3 Termination by the Company. The Company, in its sole discretion, shall have the option to terminate this Agreement upon the occurrence of any one of the following events:

(a) the Reinsurer is placed in receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation or liquidation by any insurance regulatory authority;

(b) the Reinsurer breaches Section 4.1, and the Reinsurer fails to cure such breach within the earlier of (i) thirty (30) days following receipt of written notice of such breach from the Company and (ii) the last day of the calendar year in which such breach occurs; provided that, in the case of clause (ii) only, the Company shall have no right to terminate with a cure period of fewer than thirty (30) days to the extent that the Company continues to receive full credit for the Trust Account in its risk-based capital calculation;

(c) the Reinsurer breaches Section 4.2, and the Reinsurer fails to cure such breach within the earlier of (i) thirty (30) days following receipt of written notice of such breach from the Company and (ii) the last day of the calendar quarter in which such breach occurs; provided that the Company shall have no right to terminate if the Reinsurer cannot take any action reasonably required for the Company to receive statutory reserve credit without the reasonable cooperation of the Company and the Company shall not have reasonably cooperated with the Reinsurer; provided, further, that it shall be deemed unreasonable to require the Company to cooperate in the event such cooperation would impose on the Company any cost and the Reinsurer has not agreed to be responsible for such cost;

(d) the Reinsurer fails to pay any material amount due to the Company under this Agreement and (i) such amount is not subject to a good faith dispute and (ii) such failure is not cured within ten (10) Business Days following the Reinsurer's receipt of written notice of such failure from the Company;

(e) in the event that (i) the Reinsurer's RBC Ratio is less than 175% or (ii) the Reinsurer fails to provide its RBC Ratio in accordance with Section 4.4 and, upon delivery of written notice from the Company to the Reinsurer, the Reinsurer shall fail to provide its RBC Ratio within ten (10) Business Days following such notice; or

(f) in the circumstance described in Section 2.13(b).

Section 10.4 Termination by the Reinsurer. Upon the occurrence of a Reinsurer Termination Event, the Reinsurer shall have the right (but not the obligation) to terminate this Agreement by providing written notice of its intent to terminate. Termination of this Agreement shall be effective on the date specified in such notice, provided that such date shall not be prior to the date on which the Termination Event occurred. Upon termination of this Agreement pursuant to this Section 10.4, the Company shall be deemed to have recaptured and reassumed all Reinsured Liabilities. Recapture of the Reinsured Policies shall be effective on the date specified in the notice of termination.

Section 10.5 Settlement Upon Termination. Upon the termination of this Agreement by the Company pursuant to Section 10.3 or by the Reinsurer pursuant to Section 10.4, subject to payment by the Reinsurer of any amounts due to the Company pursuant to this Section 10.5 and the payment by the Company of any amounts due to the Reinsurer pursuant to this Section 10.5, the Company shall recapture all liabilities previously ceded to the Reinsurer and the Reinsurer's liability under this Agreement will terminate (provided, that such termination shall not relieve any Party of any pre-termination breach of this Agreement). The Company shall prepare a Net Settlement report for the period commencing on the first day of the then-current calendar month and ending on the date this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Sections 10.3 or 10.4. On the tenth Business Day following the delivery of such Net Settlement report (a) the applicable Party shall pay any amounts due and owing by such Party on such Net Settlement report; (b) the Reinsurer shall transfer to the Company cash and assets with an aggregate Fair Market Value equal to 100% of an amount equal to: (i) the Reinsurer's Share of the Statutory Reserves held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies, plus (ii) the Reinsurer's Share of the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities, plus (iii) (x) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve created at the time of recapture as a result of such recapture divided by 65%, and (y) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement that remains unamortized as of the date of termination, minus (iv) the Reinsurer's Share of the amount of outstanding policy loans on the Reinsured Policies (to the extent such policy loans constitute admitted assets under SAP, net of any unearned policy loan interest on such loans but including amounts of interest due and accrued with respect thereto), minus (v) the Reinsurer's Share of net due and deferred Premiums on the Reinsured Policies reduced by advances thereon, minus (vi) the Ceding Commission multiplied by the ratio of (x) the remaining number of months in the Amortization Period over (y) 120, in each case, determined by the Company in accordance with SAP, consistently applied, as of the date of termination (such amount, the "Reinsurer Termination Payment"); and (c) the Company shall pay to the Reinsurer cash equal to the amount of any cash and assets withdrawn by the Company or any successor by operation of law, including any liquidator, rehabilitator, receiver or conservator of the Company, from the Trust Account prior to the date of termination, and not used to satisfy claims of policyholders under the Reinsured Policies prior to the date of termination or to otherwise pay amounts due to the Company pursuant to this Agreement (the "Company Termination Payment"). Any dispute by either Party of the Company Termination Payment or the Reinsurer Termination Payment shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.2.

RESOLUTION OF CERTAIN DISPUTES

Section 11.1 Disputes over Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium Calculations and SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium.

(a) Within thirty (30) days following its receipt from the Company of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, (such period, a "Review Period"), the Reinsurer shall either (i) notify the Company in writing of its agreement with the calculation of the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium or SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium, as applicable, set forth therein ("Notice of Agreement"); or (ii) if the Company determines that the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, or the calculations reflected therein either (x) have not been prepared on the basis set forth in Section 2.3 or in Section 5.8 of the Purchase Agreement or (y) contain or reflect mathematical errors, inform the Company in writing of its objection (the "Reinsurer's Objection"), which notice shall set forth in reasonable detail a description of the basis of the Reinsurer's Objection and the adjustments to such Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, or the calculations reflected therein that the Reinsurer requests be made. The Company, as applicable, shall, following the Effective Date through the date that the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, becomes final in accordance with the last sentence of Section 11.1(c), take all actions necessary or desirable to maintain and preserve all accounting books, records, policies and procedures on which such Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or SPA Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, are based or on which the finalized Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment or SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment, as applicable, are to be based so as not to impede or delay the determination of the finalized Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium, the finalized SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium, the finalized Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets as of the Effective Date or the preparation of the Reinsurer's Objection in the manner and utilizing the methods permitted by this Agreement. Upon receipt by the Company of a Notice of Agreement from the Reinsurer or if no Reinsurer's Objection is received by the Company prior to the expiration of the Review Period, the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium, the SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium and the Reinsurer's calculation of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment (as set forth in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement) and the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment (as set forth in the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement) shall be deemed to have been accepted by the Reinsurer and will become final and binding upon the Parties in accordance with the last sentence of Section 11.1(c).

(b) If the Reinsurer timely delivers a Reinsurer's Objection to the Company, the Company shall have thirty (30) days from the date of such delivery to review and respond to such Reinsurer's Objection (the "Consultation Period"). The Parties shall use reasonable, good faith efforts to resolve any disagreements that they may have with respect to the matters set forth in the Reinsurer's Objection. If the Parties are unable to resolve all of their disagreements with respect to the matters set forth in the Reinsurer's Objection within ten

(10) Business Days following the expiration of the Consultation Period, then the Parties shall submit all matters that remain in dispute with respect to the Reinsurer's Objection (along with a copy of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and the Company's calculation of the amounts set forth therein, marked to indicate those line items that are still in dispute) to an independent internationally recognized accounting firm of independent certified public accountants with appropriate actuarial expertise mutually agreed by the Parties (the "CPA Firm"), which shall, acting as an expert and not as an arbitrator, make a final determination, on the basis of the standards set forth in Section 2.3 hereof, and only with respect to any remaining differences submitted to the CPA Firm, in accordance with this Section 11.1(b), of the appropriate amount of each line item in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and the Company's calculation of the amounts set forth therein as to which the Parties disagree (such items that remain in dispute, the "Unresolved Items").

(c) The Parties shall instruct the CPA Firm to deliver its written determination to the Reinsurer and the Company no later than fifteen Business Days after the Unresolved Items are referred to the CPA Firm. The CPA Firm's determination shall include a certification that it reached such determination in accordance with this Section 11.1(c) and shall be conclusive and binding upon the Parties, absent fraud or clear and manifest error. With respect to each Unresolved Item, the CPA Firm's determination, if not in accordance with the position of either the Company or the Reinsurer, shall not be more favorable to the Reinsurer than the amounts advocated by the Reinsurer in the Reinsurer's Objection or more favorable to the Company than the amounts advocated by the Company in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the Company's calculations of the amounts set forth therein with respect to such disputed line item and/or calculation. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) the CPA Firm's review of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and the Company's calculation of the amounts set forth therein shall be limited to a determination of whether such documents and calculations were prepared in accordance with Section 2.3, and (ii) the CPA Firm shall not review any line items or make any determination with respect to any matters other than the Unresolved Items that were referred to the CPA Firm for resolution pursuant to this Section 11.1(c). The determination of the amounts set forth in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, that are final and binding on the Parties, as determined either through (1) the Reinsurer's delivery of a Notice of Agreement pursuant to Section 11.1(a), (2) the Reinsurer's failure to deliver Reinsurer's Objection prior to expiration of the Review Period pursuant to Section 11.1(a), (3) agreement by the Parties during the Consultation Period or (4) the determination of the CPA Firm pursuant to this Section 11.1(c) are referred to herein as the "finalized Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium," the "finalized Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment," the "finalized Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets as of the Effective Date," the "finalized SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium," and the "finalized SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment" as the case may be.

(d) The Parties agree that judgment may be entered upon the CPA Firm's determination in any court having jurisdiction over the Reinsurer or the Company or their respective assets, as the case may be. The fees and disbursements of the CPA Firm shall be paid by the Parties in proportion to those matters submitted to the CPA Firm that are resolved against that Party, as such fees and disbursements are allocated by the CPA Firm in accordance with this Section 11.1 at the time of the CPA Firm's determination. At any time following delivery of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, the Reinsurer shall provide to the Company and its Representatives full access to books and records and other information with respect to the Reinsured Policies, the Net Retained Liabilities and the Ceding Commission, including work papers of its accountants (subject to execution by the Company and/or its Representatives, as applicable, of a customary hold-harmless agreement in form and substance reasonably acceptable to such accountants), and to any employees during regular business hours and on reasonable advance notice, to the extent necessary for the Company to prepare the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or to prepare materials for presentation to the CPA Firm. The Parties shall make readily available to the CPA Firm, during regular business hours and on reasonable advance notice, interviews with such employees, and all relevant information, books and records and any work papers of their respective accountants (in each case, subject to execution by the CPA Firm of a customary hold-harmless agreement in form and substance reasonably acceptable to such accountants) relating to the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and any Unresolved Items and all other items reasonably required by the CPA Firm to fulfill its obligations under Section 11.1(c). In acting under this Section 11.2, the CPA Firm will be entitled to the privileges and immunities of an arbitrator.

(e) For the avoidance of doubt, this Section 11.1 shall not apply to any dispute between the Parties with respect to the interpretation of any provision, term or condition of this Agreement.

Section 11.2 Disputes over Calculations. After the Effective Date, any dispute between the Parties with respect to the calculation of amounts that are to be calculated or reported pursuant to this Agreement (other than disputes with respect to the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium and the SPA Adjusted Initial Coinsurance Premium, which shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.1 hereof), including disputes with respect to any Net Settlement, calculations relating to DAC tax, valuation of the assets held in the Trust Account or the amount of the Reinsurer Termination Payment or the Company Termination Payment, that cannot be resolved by the Parties within sixty (60) calendar days, shall be referred to an independent accounting firm of national recognized standing (which shall not have any material relationship with the Reinsurer or the Company) mutually agreed to by the Parties; provided, however, that where the dispute involves an actuarial issue, the dispute shall instead be referred to an independent actuarial firm of national recognized standing (which shall not have any material relationship with the Reinsurer or the Company) mutually agreed to by the Parties. Within twenty (20) Business Days following the selection of the accounting firm or actuarial firm, as applicable, the Parties shall submit their positions and supporting documentation to such accounting firm or actuarial firm. Within forty (40) Business Days of such submission, the accounting firm or actuarial firm, as applicable, shall, in light of the evidence provided by both Parties, determine the calculations in dispute within the range of difference between the Reinsurer's position thereto and the Company's position thereto. There shall be no appeal from the decision made by such firm, which shall be final and binding (absent fraud or clear and manifest error), except that, either Party may petition a court having jurisdiction over the other Party or its assets to reduce the arbitrator's decision to judgment. The fees charged by the accounting firm or actuarial firm, as applicable, to resolve the dispute shall be allocated between the Company and the Reinsurer by such firm in accordance with its judgment as to the relative merits of the Parties' positions in respect of the dispute. For the avoidance of doubt, this Section 11.2 shall not apply to any dispute between the Parties with respect to the interpretation of any provision, term or condition of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XII
INDEMNIFICATION

Section 12.1 Indemnification of the Reinsurer by the Company. From and after the Effective Date, the Company shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Reinsurer and its officers, directors and authorized Representatives (the "Reinsurer Indemnified Parties") from and against, and pay and reimburse the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties for, all Losses imposed on, sustained, incurred or suffered by, or asserted against, the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties (a) solely as a result of actions or omissions of the Company, but only to the extent such actions or omissions of the Company constitute gross negligence or bad faith and were not taken or omitted at the direction of the Reinsurer or consented to by the Reinsurer or (b) arising out of any breach or nonfulfillment by the Company of, or any failure by the Company to perform, any of the covenants, terms or conditions of or any of its duties or obligations under this Agreement unless such breach, nonfulfillment or failure arises out of or results from the action or omission of the Reinsurer pursuant to the Administrative Services Agreement; provided, however, that the Company shall have no obligation to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties for any Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 12.2 Indemnification of the Company by the Reinsurer. From and after the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Company, and its officers, directors and authorized Representatives (the "Company Indemnified Parties") from and against, and pay and reimburse the Company Indemnified Parties for, all Losses imposed on, sustained or incurred or suffered by, or asserted against, the Company Indemnified Parties to the extent such Losses (a) constitute Reinsured Liabilities, (b) arise out of any breach or nonfulfillment by the Reinsurer of, or any failure by the Reinsurer to perform, any of the covenants, terms or conditions of or any of its duties or obligations under this Agreement unless such breach, nonfulfillment or failure arises out of or results from the action or omission of the Company or its Affiliates pursuant to the Transition Services Agreement, (c) arise out of written instructions of the Reinsurer given pursuant to Section 2.5 or 3.2 hereof, or (d) arise out of the Company following a written recommendation of the Reinsurer given in accordance with Section 2.8(b).

ARTICLE XIII
CONFIDENTIALITY

Section 13.1 Confidentiality. Except as provided in the Other Transaction Agreements, each of the Reinsurer and the Company agrees to hold any Confidential Information with respect to the other Party in strictest confidence and to take all reasonable steps to ensure that such Confidential Information is not disclosed in any form by any means by it or by its Affiliates, employees, advisors, agents or administrators (collectively, "Representatives") to third parties of any kind or used by it or its Representatives for any purpose other than the performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided that the foregoing obligation shall not prohibit disclosure of any such information (a) if required by Applicable Law or stock exchange rules, or if required or requested by any Governmental Entity (provided in the case of this clause (a) that the disclosing party shall allow (to the extent permitted by Applicable Law and reasonably practicable) the other Party a reasonable opportunity to comment on such disclosure in advance of such disclosure); (b) to the disclosing Party's Representatives, auditors or ratings agencies, provided, that such Representatives, auditors or ratings agencies are made aware of the provisions of this Article XIII; (c) to the extent that the information has been made public by or on behalf of, or with the prior consent of, the non-disclosing Party; (d) if required in connection with any report required to be filed or submitted with any Governmental Entity; (e) to a retrocessionaire of the Reinsurer; (f) to the extent reasonably necessary in connection with any dispute with respect to this Agreement; and (g) as necessary for the Reinsurer to perform its obligations as Administrator under the Administrative Services Agreement. The Reinsurer agrees to hold medical, financial and other personal information about proposed, current, and former policyowners, insureds, applicants and beneficiaries of Policies in confidence to the extent required to be held in confidence under Applicable Law and the Reinsurer's privacy policy or policies and shall establish and maintain safeguards against the unauthorized access, destruction, loss or alteration of such information which are no less rigorous than those maintained by Reinsurer for its own information of a similar nature. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, for purposes of this Section 13.1, the Reinsurer, in its capacity as Administrator on behalf of the Company, shall not be considered an advisor, agent or administrator of the Company.

ARTICLE XIV
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

Section 14.1 Representations and Warranties of Reinsurer. The Reinsurer hereby represents and warrants to the Company as of the Effective Time:

(a) Organization, Standing and Authority. The Reinsurer is a corporation duly organized and validly existing under the laws of the State of Massachusetts and has all requisite power and authority to own, lease and operate its assets, properties and business and to carry on the operations of its business as they are now being conducted, except where the failure to have such authority would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect. The Reinsurer is duly qualified to do business as a foreign corporation and is in good standing in each jurisdiction where such qualification is necessary, except for those jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Reinsurer has all requisite corporate power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Reinsurer, and, subject to the due execution and delivery by the Company, this Agreement is valid and the binding obligation of the Reinsurer, enforceable against the Reinsurer in accordance with its terms, subject to (i) bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent transfer, moratorium and other similar laws now or hereafter in effect relating to or affecting the rights of creditors of insurance companies or creditor's rights generally and (ii) general principles of equity (regardless of whether considered in a proceeding at law or in equity).

(c) Actions and Proceedings. There are no outstanding orders, decrees or judgments by or with any Governmental Entity applicable to the Reinsurer or its properties or assets that, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. There are no actions, suits, arbitrations or legal, administrative or other proceedings pending or, to the knowledge of the Reinsurer, threatened against, at law or in equity, or before or by any Governmental Entity or before any arbitrator of any kind which would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) No Conflict or Violation. The execution, delivery and performance by the Reinsurer of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby in accordance with the terms and conditions hereof will not: (i) violate any provision of the charter, bylaws or other organizational document of the Reinsurer, (ii) violate, conflict with or result in the breach of any of the terms of, result in any modification of the effect of, otherwise give any other contracting party the right to terminate or constitute (or with notice or lapse of time or both, constitute) a default under, any contract to which the Reinsurer is a party or by or to which its properties may be bound or subject, (iii) violate any order, judgment, injunction, award or decree of any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, or any agreement with, or condition imposed by, any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, binding upon, the Reinsurer, (iv) violate any Applicable Law or (v) result in a breach or violation of any of the terms or conditions of, constitute a default under, or otherwise cause an impairment of, any license or authorization related to the Reinsurer's business or necessary to enable the Reinsurer to perform its obligations under this Agreement, except for any such violations, conflicts or breaches which would not individually or in the aggregate reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(e) Brokers and Financial Advisers. No broker, finder or financial adviser has acted directly or indirectly as such for, or is entitled to any compensation from, the Reinsurer in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

Section 14.2 Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Reinsurer as of the Effective Time:

(a) Organization, Standing and Authority. The Company is a corporation duly organized and validly existing under the laws of the State of New York and has all requisite power and authority to own, lease and operate its assets, properties and business and to carry on the operations of its business as they are now being conducted, except where the failure to have such authority would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect. The Company is duly qualified to do business as a foreign corporation and is in good standing in each jurisdiction where such qualification is necessary, except for those jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Company has all requisite corporate power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Company, and, subject to the due execution and delivery by the Reinsurer, this Agreement is valid and the binding obligation of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with its terms, subject to (i) bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent transfer, moratorium and other similar laws now or hereafter in effect relating to or affecting the rights of creditors of insurance companies or creditor's rights generally and (ii) general principles of equity (regardless of whether considered in a proceeding at law or in equity).

(c) Actions and Proceedings. There are no outstanding orders, decrees or judgments by or with any Governmental Entity applicable to the Company or its properties or assets that, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. There are no actions, suits, arbitrations or legal, administrative or other proceedings pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened against, at law or in equity, or before or by any Governmental Entity or before any arbitrator of any kind which would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) No Conflict or Violation. The execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby in accordance with the terms and conditions hereof will not: (i) violate any provision of the charter, bylaws or other organizational document of the Company, (ii) violate, conflict with or result in the breach of any of the terms of, result in any modification of the effect of, otherwise give any other contracting party the right to terminate or constitute (or with notice or lapse of time or both, constitute) a default under, any contract to which the Company is a party or by or to which its properties may be bound or subject, (iii) violate any order, judgment, injunction, award or decree of any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, or any agreement with, or condition imposed by, any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, binding upon, the Company, (iv) violate any Applicable Law or (v) result in a breach or violation of any of the terms or conditions of, constitute a default under, or otherwise cause an impairment of, any license or authorization related to the Company's business or necessary to enable the Company to perform its obligations under this Agreement, except for any such violations, conflicts or breaches which would not individually or in the aggregate reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(e) Brokers and Financial Advisers. No broker, finder or financial adviser has acted directly or indirectly as such for, or is entitled to any compensation from, the Company in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

ARTICLE XV
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 15.1 Errors and Omissions. If any delay, omission, error or failure to pay amounts due or to perform any other act required by this Agreement is caused by mistake, misunderstanding or oversight, the Parties will equitably adjust the situation to what it would have been had the mistake, misunderstanding or oversight not occurred, and the reinsurance provided hereunder will not be invalidated. Should it not be possible to adjust the situation, it will be resolved in accordance with dispute resolution procedures mutually selected by the Parties.

Section 15.2 Offset and Recoupment. The Company or the Reinsurer may offset or recoup any undisputed balance or amount due from one Party to the other Party under this Agreement; provided, that in the event of the insolvency of the Company, offsets shall only be allowed in accordance with New York Insurance Law Section 7427. The right of setoff shall not be affected or diminished because of the insolvency of either Party.

Section 15.3 Expenses. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement each Party shall bear its own costs and expenses incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. All transfer, sales, use, value added, excise, stock transfer, documentary, stamp, recording, registration and any similar taxes that become payable as a result of the acquisition by the Reinsurer from the Company of the Reinsurance Assets (including any real property transfer tax and any similar tax) shall be borne fifty percent (50%) by the Company and fifty percent (50%) by the Reinsurer.

Section 15.4 Parties to this Agreement. This is an agreement for indemnity reinsurance solely between the Company and the Reinsurer. The performance of the obligations of each Party under this Agreement shall be rendered solely to the other Party. The acceptance of risks under this Agreement shall create no right or legal relationship between the Reinsurer and the insured, owner or beneficiary of any insurance policy or other contract of the Company.

Section 15.5 Authority. Neither the Company nor the Reinsurer shall have any power or authority to act for or on behalf of the other except as expressly granted herein or in the Administrative Services Agreement or Transition Services Agreement, and no other or greater power or authority shall be implied by the grant or denial of power or authority specifically mentioned herein. No employee or agent of either Party shall be considered an employee or agent of the other.

Section 15.6 No Assignment. This Agreement may not be assigned by either of the Parties hereto without the prior written approval of the other Party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Reinsurer shall not be prohibited from further transfer of risks accepted hereunder on a retrocession or other basis without the prior approval of the Company; provided that any transfer shall not relieve the Reinsurer of its obligations under this Agreement.

Section 15.7 Notices. Any notice, approval, request, consent, instruction, or other document to be given hereunder by any Party hereto to the other Party hereto will be delivered by personal delivery, overnight express or facsimile (followed by telephone confirmation with the intended recipient), as follows:

or at such other address for a Party as will be specified by like notice. Each notice or other communication required or permitted under this Agreement that is addressed as provided in this Section 15.7 will be deemed given upon delivery.

Section 15.8 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under any present or future law, and if the rights or obligations of the Company or the Reinsurer under this Agreement will not be materially and adversely affected thereby, (a) such provision will be fully severable, (b) this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof, (c) the remaining provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision or by its severance from this Agreement, and (d) in lieu of such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision, there will be added automatically as a part of this Agreement a legal, valid and enforceable provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision as may be possible.

Section 15.9 Announcements. Except as required by Applicable Law or in connection with public disclosure to investors or analysts, the content and timing of public announcements by either Party concerning the transactions contemplated by this Agreement must be approved in advance by both Parties, but such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

Section 15.10 Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits. All Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits to this Agreement are attached hereto and are incorporated herein by reference. The provisions of this Agreement (without reference to any attached Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits) shall be deemed to control in the event of any inconsistency or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement (without reference to any attached Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits) and the Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits attached hereto.

Section 15.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including all Exhibits, Annexes and Schedules hereto), and the Other Transaction Agreements constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties, both written and oral, between the Parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and such other agreements. Except as set forth in Sections 12.1 and 12.2 with respect to the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties and the Company Indemnified Parties, this Agreement is not intended to and shall not confer upon any Person other than the Parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

Section 15.12 Binding Effect. This Agreement is binding upon, and will inure to the benefit of, the Parties and their respective permitted assignees and successors (including any liquidator, rehabilitator, receiver or conservator of a Party).

Section 15.13 Waiver and Amendment. This Agreement may be modified or amended only by a writing duly executed by the Company and the Reinsurer. Any term or condition of this Agreement may be waived at any time by the Party that is entitled to the benefit thereof. A waiver must be in writing and must be executed by such Party. A waiver on any occasion shall not be deemed to be a waiver of the same or any term or condition on a future occasion.

Section 15.14 Headings. The headings in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

Section 15.15 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed simultaneously in any number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which will constitute one and the same instrument.

Section 15.16 No Prejudice. The Parties agree that this Agreement has been jointly negotiated and drafted by the Parties hereto and that the terms hereof shall not be construed in favor of or against any Party on account of its participation in such negotiations and drafting.

Section 15.17 Governing Law; Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York without giving effect to the principles of conflicts of law rules thereof.

(b) Subject to Section 11.1 and Section 11.2, each party hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and of any New York state court sitting in New York County, for purposes of all legal proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement, or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, or for recognition and enforcement of any judgment in respect thereof. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each party hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such proceedings brought in such court and any claim that any such proceeding brought in such a court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Each party also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding shall be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Each party agrees that any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered, sent or mailed in accordance with Section 15.7, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(c) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION, ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR COUNTERCLAIM (WHETHER BASED IN CONTRACT, TORT OR OTHERWISE) DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT

OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (A) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (B) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (C) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (D) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 15.17.

Section 15.18 Further Assurances. Each Party shall take, or cause to be taken, any and all reasonable actions, including the execution, acknowledgment, filing and delivery of any and all documents and instruments that the other Party may reasonably request in order to effect the intent and purpose of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

COINSURANCE AND ASSUMPTION AGREEMENT

This Coinsurance and Assumption Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as of [●], 2013, is made by and between Aviva Life and Annuity Company, an insurance company organized under the laws of the State of Iowa (the "Company"), and [Presidential Life Insurance Company - USA], an insurance company organized under the laws of the State of Iowa (the "Reinsurer"; each of the Company and the Reinsurer, a "Party" and together, the "Parties").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Company desires to cede or retrocede to the Reinsurer, on the terms and conditions stated herein, all of its liabilities under certain life insurance policies issued and reinsured by it;

WHEREAS, the Reinsurer desires to reinsure such policies from the Company on the terms and conditions stated herein;

WHEREAS, the Company and the Reinsurer intend that the basis of the reinsurance shall be 100% coinsurance by the Reinsurer;

WHEREAS, subject to a transition services agreement entered into on the date hereof between Aviva USA Corporation and the Reinsurer (the "Transition Services Agreement"), the Company and the Reinsurer intend that the Reinsurer will provide certain administrative services for policies reinsured hereunder, and the Company and the Reinsurer have entered into an Administrative Services Agreement, dated as of the date hereof (the "Administrative Services Agreement"), pursuant to which the Reinsurer shall provide such administrative services on the terms and conditions stated therein; and

WHEREAS, with the exception of the Closed Block Policies (as defined herein), the Reinsurer is required to novate each Reinsured Policy (as defined herein) for which Required Party (as defined herein) consents have been obtained and to assume any such Reinsured Policy as the Reinsurer's direct obligation, and the Company and the Reinsurer intend to cooperate fully in effectuating the assumption and novation of any such Reinsured Policies in accordance with all requirements of Applicable Law (as defined herein).

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants set forth herein, and for other good and valuable consideration the receipt and adequacy of which is hereby acknowledged, and intending to be legally bound hereby, the Company and the Reinsurer hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I
DEFINITIONS AND CONSTRUCTION

Section 1.1 Definitions. Unless the context requires otherwise, for all purposes of this Agreement, the capitalized terms set forth below shall have the following meanings:

"2013 Policies" means any Policies issued or reinsured by the Company on or after January 1, 2013 and prior to the Effective Date.

"Action" has the meaning ascribed thereto in the Purchase Agreement.

"Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium" has the meaning ascribed thereto in Section 2.3(a)(vi).

"Administrative Services Agreement" has the meaning ascribed thereto in the Recitals.

"Administrator" means the Reinsurer in its capacity as administrator under the Administrative Services Agreement.

"Affiliate" means, as applied to any Person, any other Person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with, such other Person at the time at which the determination of affiliation is made. The term "control" (including, with correlative meanings, the terms "controlled by" and "under common control with"), as applied to any Person, means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of that Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities or other ownership interests, by contract or otherwise.

"Agreement" has the meaning ascribed thereto in the Recitals.

"AmerUS Closed Block" means the closed block of business established pursuant to the AmerUS Plan of Reorganization and operated in accordance with the AmerUS Closed Block Memorandum.

"Trust Ceding Commission Amount" means an amount equal to (i) the ratio of (x) the Reinsurer's Share of the Statutory Reserves that would be required to be held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies if this Agreement were not in effect as of the date of determination, over (y) the Reinsurer's Share of the Statutory Reserves with respect to the Reinsured Policies as of the Effective Date, multiplied by (ii) the absolute value of the Ceding Commission, multiplied by (iii) the ratio of (x) the remaining number of months in the Amortization Period over (y) 120.

"Trustee" has the meaning ascribed thereto in Section 4.1(a).

"Trust OC Amount" means 2.75% multiplied by the sum of (i) the Reinsurer's Share of the Statutory Reserves that would be required to be held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies (other than the Captive Policies and the Closed Block Policies) if this Agreement were not in effect, plus (ii) the Reinsurer's Share of the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities (other than any Interest Maintenance Reserve with respect to the Closed Block Policies), plus (iii) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve that is created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (other than any new Interest Maintenance Reserve created with respect to the Closed Block Policies), in each case, as of such date of determination and determined in accordance with SAP, consistently applied.

"UCC" has the meaning ascribed thereto in Section 2.9(c)(i).

"Unresolved Items" has the meaning ascribed thereto in Section 11.1(b).

Section 1.2 Construction.

(a) For purposes of this Agreement, the words "hereof," "herein," "hereby" and other words of similar import refer to this Agreement as a whole unless otherwise indicated.

(b) Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate.

(c) For purposes of this Agreement, the term "including" means "including but not limited to."

(d) Whenever used in this Agreement, the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neutral genders.

(e) All references herein to Articles, Sections, Subsections, Paragraphs, Exhibits, Annexes and Schedules shall be deemed references to Articles, Sections, Subsections and Paragraphs of, and Exhibits, Annexes and Schedules to, this Agreement, unless the context shall otherwise require.

(f) Any reference herein to any statute, agreement or document, or any section thereof, shall, unless otherwise expressly provided, be a reference to such statute, agreement, document or section as amended, modified, restated, supplemented or otherwise changed (including any successor section) and in effect from time to time.

(g) All terms defined in this Agreement shall have the defined meaning when used in any Schedule, Annex, Exhibit, certificate or other documents attached hereto or made or delivered pursuant hereto unless otherwise defined therein.

ARTICLE II
COINSURANCE

Section 2.1 Scope and Basis of Reinsurance. The reinsurance provided under this Agreement applies to all Policies, other than Novated Contracts, that are (a) issued by the Company and in force as of the Effective Time, (b) issued by the Company after the Effective Time in accordance with Section 5.6 hereof, (c) reinsured by the Company under the terms of any Assumed Reinsurance Agreement as of the Effective Time, and (d) reinstated by the Company in accordance with Section 5.4 hereof (collectively, the "Reinsured Policies").

Section 2.2 Reinsuring Clause. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Company hereby cedes and the Reinsurer hereby reinsures on a coinsurance basis as of the Effective Time, 100% (the "Reinsurer's Share") of all Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 2.3 Transfer of Assets and Ceding Commission.

(a) Coinsurance Premium.

(i) On the Effective Date, the Company will pay to the Reinsurer an initial coinsurance premium that relates to the Reinsured Policies other than the Closed Block Policies consisting of assets that are listed and that have Fair Market Values set forth on Annex A-1 (with any modifications made pursuant to the Asset Identification Protocol) equal to the Reinsurer's Share of the following amount: (A) the Statutory Reserves held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies (other than the Captive Policies), plus (B) the Economic Reserves held by the Company with respect to the Captive Policies, plus (C) the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities, plus (D) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve that is created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement divided by 65%, minus (E) the amount of outstanding policy loans on the Reinsured Policies (to the extent such policy loans constitute admitted assets under SAP, net of any unearned policy loan interest on such loans but including amounts of interest due and accrued with respect thereto), minus (F) the net due and deferred Premiums on the Reinsured Policies, minus (G) the aggregate Statutory Book Value of the EI Hedges as of the Effective Date, plus (H) the other liabilities set forth on the Life Reference Balance Sheet, in the case of each of clauses (A) through (E), determined in accordance with SAP, consistently applied, as of the Effective Time (such amount, the "Non-Closed Block Initial Coinsurance Premium"); provided, that notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, solely for purposes of calculating the Non-Closed Block Initial Coinsurance Premium, the term "Reinsured Policies" shall not include the portion of the Policies which are Closed Block Policies.

(ii) On the Effective Date, the Company will allocate to a funds withheld account established in its books and records (the "Funds Withheld Account") an initial coinsurance premium that relates to the Closed Block Policies consisting of cash, cash equivalents and the assets that are listed and that have the Statutory Book Values set forth on Annex A-2 (with any modifications made pursuant to the Asset Identification Protocol) (the "Funds Withheld Assets", and together with the Transferred Assets, the "Reinsurance Assets") with an aggregate Statutory Book Value, determined three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date, equal to the Reinsurer's Share of the following amount: (A) the Statutory Reserves held by the Company with respect to the Closed Block Policies, plus (B) the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Closed Block Policies, minus (C) the amount of outstanding policy loans on the Closed Block Policies (to the extent such policy loans constitute admitted assets under SAP, net of any unearned policy loan interest on such loans but including amounts of interest due and accrued with respect thereto), minus (D) the net due and deferred Premiums on the Closed Block Policies, minus (E) the aggregate Statutory Book Value of the EI Hedges solely with respect to the Closed Block Policies as of the Effective Date, in the case of each of clauses (A) through (C), determined in accordance with SAP, consistently applied, as of the Effective Time (such amount, the "Initial Funds Withheld Amount", and together with the Non-Closed Block Initial Coinsurance Premium, the "Initial Coinsurance Premium").

(iii) For the avoidance of doubt, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, for purposes of calculating the Initial Coinsurance Premium, the term "Reinsured Policies" shall not include the portion of the policies from which Net Retained Liabilities, if any, arise.

(iv) The amount of the Initial Coinsurance Premium paid on the Effective Date shall be determined on an estimated basis (the "Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium") as follows: (x) with respect to each of the items set forth in clauses (A), (B), (C), (E) and (H) of the definition of "Non-Closed Block Initial Coinsurance Premium" and the items set forth in clauses (A), (B) and (C) of the definition of "Initial Funds Withheld Amount," the portion of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium attributable to such items shall be equal to the respective amounts set forth on the Life Reference Balance Sheet; and (y) with respect to the items set forth in clauses (D), (F) and (G) of the definition of "Non-Closed Block Initial Coinsurance Premium" and the items set forth in clauses (D) and (E) of the definition of "Initial Funds Withheld Amount," the portion of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium attributable to such items shall be determined by the Company in good faith and in a manner consistent with the principles governing the preparation of the Life Reference Balance Sheet on an estimated basis as of the date that is three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date.

(v) On the Effective Date, the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement setting forth (A) the amount of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium, determined as of the date that is three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date, and (B) the final list of Reinsurance Assets, which will be based on Annexes A-1 and A-2 and the Asset Identification Protocol, and will include the Fair Market Value and the Statutory Book Value of the Reinsurance Assets, determined as of the date that is three (3) Business Days prior to the Effective Date.

(vi) No later than sixty (60) Business Days after the Effective Date (the "True-Up Date"), the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement (the "Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement") prepared in good faith by the Company, in the same form as, and using the same principles that govern, the Life Reference Balance Sheet, setting forth, as of the Effective Date, (1) the calculation of each of the items set forth in clauses (A) through (E) of the definition in each of the "Non-Closed Block Initial Coinsurance Premium" and clauses (A) through (F) of the definition of the "Initial Funds Withheld Amount" (such amount, the "Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium") and (2) the Fair Market Value of the Transferred Assets as of the Effective Date and the Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets as of the Effective Date. The "Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment" shall be equal to the following amount (whether positive or negative): (A) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium minus the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium, minus (B) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Fair Market Value of the Transferred Assets on the Effective Date minus the Fair Market Value of the Transferred Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium pursuant to Section 2.3(a)(i), minus (C) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets on the Effective Date minus the Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the Estimated Initial Coinsurance Premium pursuant to Section 2.3(a)(ii). If the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is positive, then the Company shall pay to the Reinsurer an amount of cash equal to the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment. If the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is negative, then the Reinsurer shall pay to the Company an amount of cash equal to the absolute value of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment.

(vii) No later than thirty (30) Business Days following any final adjustments to the Purchase Price (as defined in the SPA) in accordance with Annex C of the SPA, the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement (the "SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement") prepared in good faith by the Company, in the same form as, and using the same principles that govern, the Life Reference Balance Sheet, setting forth, as of the Effective Date, (1) the calculation of each of the items set forth in clauses (A) through (H) of the definition in each of the "Non-Closed Block Initial Coinsurance Premium" and in clauses (A) through (F) of the definition of "Initial Funds Withheld Amount" (such amount, the "SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium") and (2) the

Fair Market Value of the Transferred Assets as of the Effective Date and the Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets as of the Effective Date. The "SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment" shall be equal to the following amount (whether positive or negative): (A) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium minus the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium, minus (B) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Fair Market Value of the Transferred Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium minus the Fair Market Value of the Transferred Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium, minus (C) the difference (whether positive or negative) between the Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium minus the Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets determined in connection with the calculation of the SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium. If the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is positive, then the Company shall pay to the Reinsurer an amount of cash equal to the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment. If the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is negative, then the Reinsurer shall pay to the Company an amount of cash equal to the absolute value of the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment within five (5) Business Days after the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment is finalized pursuant to Section 11.1, together with an amount of interest on the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment.[5]

(b) Ceding Commission. [redacted]

Section 2.4 Net Retained Liabilities.

(a) The Company shall be solely responsible for, and the Reinsurer will cooperate reasonably to obtain all waivers and consents necessary in order to reinsure 100% of the Net Retained Liabilities under this Agreement. The Company and the Reinsurer, at the Company's reasonable instruction, shall each use their reasonable best efforts in the context of current market conditions to obtain any such waivers and consents (it being understood that the Company's and the Reinsurer's executive officers shall, to the extent reasonably appropriate, be personally engaged in that process) and promptly advise the other Party of any communications with respect to any such waivers and consents. All correspondence from the Reinsurer to any Person from whom such a waiver or consent is sought shall be in a form approved by the Company. The Company shall effect any such action with respect to such waivers and consents, including sending correspondence requesting such waivers and consents. To the extent that after the Effective Time, any written waivers or consents are obtained to reinsure a Net Retained Liability in respect of a Policy under the terms of this Agreement or the Parties otherwise agree in writing that any such waivers or consents shall not be required as a condition to coverage of such Policy hereunder, then the liability and obligation pertaining to such Policy shall no longer be deemed a Net Retained Liability for purposes of this Agreement and the liability and obligation pertaining to such Policy shall be reinsured hereunder effective as of the date of such written consent, waiver or agreement by the Parties, as applicable.

(b) With respect to any such written waiver or consent that is obtained or any such other agreement between the Parties that any such waivers or consents shall not be required as a condition to coverage hereunder, in each case, after the Effective Date:

(i) the Company shall pay the Reinsurer an amount of cash equal to the Net Retained Liability Reserve Transfer Amount with respect to such Net Retained Liability for which waiver or consent was obtained or with respect to which the Parties agreed did not require a consent or waiver as a condition to coverage hereunder;

(ii) the Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a statement setting forth the Company's good faith calculation of the difference (whether positive or negative) between (x) the aggregate amount of the premiums and considerations, premium adjustments and any and all amounts or payments, including any and all policy fees, charges, reimbursements, reinsurance recoverables and similar amounts, received or collected by the Company in respect of the portion of the Policies from which the relevant Net Retained Liabilities arise during the period following the Effective Date and prior to the date on which such waiver or consent was obtained or with respect to which the Parties agreed such waiver or consent was not required as a condition to coverage hereunder (the "Net Retained Liabilities Adjustment Period"); and (y) the aggregate amount equal to the obligations, including any and all death claims, cash surrender benefits, policyholder dividends, reinsurance premiums, commissions and similar amounts, arising out of or relating to the portion of the Policies from which the relevant Net Retained Liabilities arise (including Extra Contractual Obligations) incurred by the Company during the Net Retained Liabilities Adjustment Period. If such amount is positive, then such amount shall be due to be paid the Company by the Reinsurer, and if such amount is negative, then such amount shall be due to be paid to the Reinsurer by the Company, in each case, together with an amount of interest on such payment at the Applicable Rate, calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual number of days elapsed, accrued from the Effective Date until, but not including, the date of payment.

(iii) The payment of the amounts in clauses (i) and (ii) shall be reflected in the Net Settlement for the month in which such consent or waiver was obtained and paid in accordance with Section 6.2.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, prior to obtaining any such required written consents or waivers, or the making of any such written agreement, the portion of each Policy from which Net Retained Liabilities arise shall not be deemed to constitute a Reinsured Policy for purposes of this Agreement; provided that the Reinsurer shall provide administrative services with respect to any Net Retained Liabilities (and the associated Policies) pursuant to the Administrative Services Agreement. Except as otherwise contemplated by this Section 2.4, the Company shall bear the cost of obtaining any waivers or consents to reinsure a Net Retained Liability.

(d) Until 100% of the Net Retained Liabilities have been reinsured under this Agreement, the Net Settlement for each month shall reflect an adjustment to the Ceding Commission calculated by reference to the then-current amount of the Net Retained Liabilities in accordance with Annex C.

Section 2.5 Producer Payments.

(a) The Reinsurer hereby assumes any and all liabilities and obligations of the Company to make, and agrees that it shall be financially responsible for, all Producer Payments owed from and after the Effective Time that are due in respect of premiums collected and received with respect to the Reinsured Policies. The Company hereby designates the Reinsurer as "paying agent" to make such Producer Payments directly to the applicable Producers from and after the Effective Date. The Company shall act at the Reinsurer's written direction and expense to exercise all rights of the Company relating to the Reinsured Policies under the terms of the Producer Agreements, including any rights to suspend or terminate Producer Payments to such Producers for any reason or cause set forth in the Producer Agreements, in each case only to the extent such rights thereunder relate to the Reinsured Policies; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer.

(b) As part of the Net Settlement, the Reinsurer shall pay to the Company from Producer Payments due to a Producer aggregate amounts equal to the agent debit balance maintained by the Company with respect to the applicable Producer and identified by the Company and the Reinsurer. The Reinsurer shall not be required to pay any such amounts paid to the Company under this Section 2.5(b) to a Producer pursuant to Section 2.5(a).

(c) At any such time in which the Reinsurer enters into a new producer agreement with a Producer and the Company terminates its Producer Agreement with such Producer, then the Company shall transfer any remaining agent debit balance associated with such Producer to the Reinsurer and the Reinsurer shall be obligated to pay the Company for such remaining amount of such agent debit balance.

Section 2.6 Guaranty Fund Assessments and Premium Taxes.

(a) Guaranty Funds Assessments. In the event the Company is required to pay an assessment on or after the Effective Date in respect of the Reinsured Policies to any insurance guaranty, insolvency or other similar fund maintained by any jurisdiction, the portion, if any, of such assessment related to such Reinsured Policies shall be reimbursed by the Reinsurer as part of the applicable monthly settlement pursuant to Section 6.2. To the extent there is any recovery of any such assessment paid by the Reinsurer, the Company shall promptly pay the Reinsurer's Share of such recovery to the Reinsurer.

(b) Premium Taxes.

(i) The Reinsurer shall pay to the Company a provision for premium taxes and other charges, fees, taxes and assessments, including retaliatory taxes (collectively, "Premium Taxes"), incurred or imposed on or after the Effective Date in connection with premiums written or received under the Reinsured Policies. The provision for Premium Taxes shall be estimated at 1.8% of premiums received under the Reinsured Policies, as calculated on a monthly basis, and shall be paid by the Reinsurer to the Company as part of the monthly settlement pursuant to Section 6.2 and adjusted annually to an actual rate for each year as part of the monthly settlement pursuant to Section 6.2 for the second calendar month of the following year, with such monthly settlement to reflect the difference between actual Premium Taxes in respect of the Reinsured Policies (after giving effect to any offsets for guaranty fund assessments reimbursed by the Reinsurer pursuant to Section 2.6(a)) and estimated Premium Taxes.

(ii) Each Party shall promptly notify the other in writing upon receipt by it or any of its Affiliates of notice of any pending or threatened Action related to any Premium Taxes or any Tax Returns filed in connection with such Premium Taxes.

(i) The Company shall have the right to control the conduct of any Action related to any Premium Taxes or any Tax Returns filed in connection with such Premium Taxes, and to employ counsel of the Company's choice; provided, that the Reinsurer shall be permitted, at the Reinsurer's expense, to be present at, and to participate in, any Action related to Premium Taxes. Notwithstanding such control, the Company shall not settle, either administratively or after the commencement of litigation, any claim for Premium Taxes without the consent of the Reinsurer, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. The Parties shall furnish or cause to be furnished to each other, upon request, as promptly as practicable, such information and assistance relating to the preparation for any Premium Tax audit or other Action related to Premium Taxes, and the prosecution or defense of any Action related to any Premium Taxes or any Premium Tax Returns filed in connection with such Premium Taxes. The Parties shall reasonably cooperate with each other in the conduct of any Action related to any Premium Taxes. Any information obtained under this Section 2.6(b)(iii) shall be kept confidential, except as otherwise reasonably may be required in connection with the filing of Premium Tax Returns or claims for Premium Tax refunds or in conducting any Action related to Premium Taxes..

Section 2.7 Other Reinsurance. This Agreement is written on a "gross" basis and thus the costs and benefits of Other Reinsurance inuring on the Reinsured Policies are intended to be borne by the Reinsurer. Other Reinsurance with respect to the Reinsured Policies shall be deemed to be inuring to the Reinsurer's benefit for all purposes of this Agreement and shall be accounted for herein such that the Reinsurer participates in the Reinsurer's Share of any premiums, benefits, recoveries, ceding or expense allowances, other allowances and other adjustments as such amounts and such risks are paid, received or otherwise collected by the Company with respect to such Other Reinsurance, it being understood that the Reinsurer shall bear all risk of collecting third party reinsurance (except as otherwise provided in Section 3.2(c)). Risks under the terms of any agreement of Other Reinsurance as shall be terminated or recaptured with the Reinsurer's prior written consent shall be ceded automatically hereunder to the Reinsurer without any further action required, subject to the receipt by the Reinsurer of the Reinsurer's Share of any reserve transfer or similar transfer or settlement amount received by the Company from the applicable third party reinsurer. In connection with any such termination or recapture with the Reinsurer's prior written consent, the Reinsurer shall pay the Reinsurer's Share of any resulting special transfer or recapture fee incurred by the Company. The Company covenants that absent the prior written consent of the Reinsurer, the Company shall not enter into any new or change any existing reinsurance cession with respect to any of the Reinsured Policies.

Section 2.8 Policy Changes and Non-Guaranteed Elements.

(a) Policy Changes. The Company agrees that it shall not make any changes in the provisions and conditions of a Reinsured Policy or an Assumed Reinsurance Agreement except with the Reinsurer's prior written consent or to the extent that any change to the terms of any Reinsured Policy is required by Applicable Law. To the extent a change is required by Applicable Law, the Company shall, within a reasonable period of time prior to effecting such change, provide reasonably detailed written notice to the Reinsurer describing the nature of such change and the reasons for making such change. The Company shall also afford the Reinsurer, at the Reinsurer's expense, the opportunity, to the extent reasonably practicable, to object to such change under applicable administrative procedures; provided, that the Reinsurer may only object to such change in the same manner and to the same extent as it objects to any similar change required by any Applicable Law to substantially similar Novated Contracts.

(b) Non-Guaranteed Elements. The Company will be responsible for determining the cost of insurance charges, loads and expense charges, credited interest rates, mortality and expense charges, administrative expense risk charges and policyholder dividends, as applicable, under the Reinsured Policies ("Non-Guaranteed Elements"); provided, that the Reinsurer may provide written recommendations regarding the Non-Guaranteed Elements to the Company and, provided that such recommendations are the same as the Non-Guaranteed Elements established by the Reinsurer for substantially similar Novated Contracts and comply with the written terms of the Policies, Applicable Law and Actuarial Standards of Practice promulgated by the Actuarial Standards Board governing redetermination of non-guaranteed charges, if the Company does not follow such recommendations, then, the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless the Reinsurer for Losses arising out of the Company's failure to follow the recommendations of the Reinsurer.

The Company may not change the Non-Guaranteed Elements without the Reinsurer's prior written consent.[7]

Section 2.9 Ownership of Premiums. Payment of Premiums to the Reinsurer, as Administrator pursuant to the Administrative Services Agreement, by or on behalf of a policyholder shall be deemed received by the Company. All monies, checks, drafts, money orders, postal notes and other instruments that may be received after the Effective Date by the Company for premiums, fees or other payments on or in respect of the Reinsured Policies shall be held in trust by the Company for the benefit of the Reinsurer and shall be immediately transferred and delivered to the Reinsurer, and any such instruments when so delivered shall bear all endorsements required to effect the transfer of same to the Reinsurer. The Reinsurer is hereby authorized to endorse for payment to the Reinsurer any such checks, drafts, money orders and other instruments pertaining to the Reinsured Policies that are payable to, or to the order of, the Company and received by the Reinsurer under this Agreement. As between the Parties, the Reinsurer shall be deemed owner of all such payments.

Section 2.10 Assignment; Security Interest.

(a) The Company hereby assigns, transfers and conveys to the Reinsurer, effective as of the Effective Time, all of Company's right, title and interest (legal, equitable or otherwise), if any, (i) under the Reinsured Policies to receive principal and interest paid on policy loans, (ii) in and to the Premiums, fees and other payments due or made on or after the Effective Date under the Reinsured Policies and (iii) in and to agent debit balances included in the Life Reference Balance Sheet. The Reinsurer and the Company hereby agree that, in connection with any termination of this Agreement, all of the Reinsurer's right, title and interest (legal, equitable or otherwise) in and to the items set forth in (i), (ii) and (iii) above shall be immediately assigned, transferred and conveyed to the Company without any further action by the Parties. Each Party, as reasonably requested by the other from time to time, shall take all reasonably appropriate action and execute any reasonably necessary and appropriate additional documents, instruments or conveyances of any kind which may be reasonably necessary to carry out the provisions of this Section 2.10(a).

(b) The Parties intend that at all times prior to the termination of this Agreement the Company's assignment pursuant to Section 2.10(a) to be a present assignment of all of the Company's rights, title and interest and not an assignment as collateral. However, to the extent that such assignment is not recognized as a present assignment, is not valid or is recharacterized as a pledge rather than a lawful conveyance to the Reinsurer, the Company does hereby bargain, sell, convey, assign and otherwise pledge to the Reinsurer,

7 Language with respect to Non-Guaranteed Elements would change to reflect the New York Department of Insurance requirements in connection with the reinsurance of the ALACNY business. There will be an indemnification arrangement in connection with the ALACNY reinsurance agreement in which AUSA will indemnify the NY Reinsurer if ALACNY does not follow the NY Reinsurer's instructions regarding non-guaranteed elements. If such an arrangement is not possible under applicable law, the parties will work together to develop an alternate construct that gives the NY Reinsurer the same benefits and protections as an indemnification arrangement.

and grant a first priority security interest to the Reinsurer in, all of the Company's right, title and interest (legal, equitable or otherwise), if any, (i) under the Reinsured Policies to receive principal and interest paid on policy loans, (ii) in and to all Premiums, fees and other payments due or made on or after the Effective Date under the Reinsured Policies and (iii) in and to agent debit balances included in the Life Reference Balance Sheet (collectively, the "Collateral") to secure all of the Company's obligations under this Agreement.

(c) Upon the failure of the Company to fully perform any of its material obligations under this Agreement, including Sections 6.2 and 10.5, which failure is not caused by the Reinsurer as Administrator and remains uncured ten (10) days after written notice thereof is received by the Company, the Reinsurer shall have, in addition to all other rights under this Agreement or under Applicable Law, the following rights:

(i) the right to exercise all rights and remedies granted a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code, as said code has been enacted in the State of Iowa or any other applicable jurisdiction (the "UCC"), as though all the Collateral constituted property subject to a security interest under Article 9 thereof;

(ii) the right to set off against any of the Collateral any amounts owed by the Company to the Reinsurer;

(iii) the right to attorneys' fees incurred in connection with the enforcement of this Agreement or in connection with the disposition of the Collateral; and

(iv) the right to dispose of the Collateral, subject to commercial reasonableness.

(d) This Section 2.10 is being included in this Agreement to ensure that, if an insolvency or other court determines that, notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement, including Sections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, 2.9, 6.2 and 13.1, and the intent of this Agreement, the Company retained ownership of or any rights in the Collateral, the Reinsurer's rights to the Collateral are protected with a first priority, perfected security interest, and it is the intent of the Parties that this Section 2.10 be interpreted as such.

(e) At or prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall file, and the Reinsurer is authorized to file, any and all financing statements reasonably requested by the Reinsurer in order to perfect the Reinsurer's right title and interest under Article 9 of the UCC in and to the Collateral, and the Company shall do such further acts and things as Reinsurer may reasonably request in order that the security interest granted hereunder may be maintained as a first priority perfected security interest; provided, that the Reinsurer shall be required to bear all out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by the Company in connection with any such action or other thing requested by the Reinsurer.

Section 2.11 Hedging.

(a) For a period of [●] following the Effective Date, the Company shall purchase derivatives to hedge the index risk associated with the Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies (each, an "EI Hedge" and collectively, the "EI Hedges"). The Company hereby conveys, transfers and assigns to the Reinsurer, effective as of the Effective Date, a 100% interest in the gross proceeds in respect of the EI Hedges purchased by the Company prior to or following the Effective Date, intended to hedge the index risk associated with the Reinsurer's Share of the Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies (such fractional interest, the "Assigned EI Hedge Interest Proportion"). Such assignment shall occur automatically, without further action on the part of either Party, upon the purchase by the Company of any EI Hedge or, in the case of any EI Hedges entered into prior to the date hereof, as of the date hereof.[8]

(b) The Company shall pay to the Reinsurer any Assigned EI Hedge Proceeds Amounts to the Bank Accounts (as defined in the Administrative Services Agreement) [or, with respect to any EI Hedges in respect of the Closed Block Policies, to the Funds Withheld Account].

(c) The Reinsurer shall pay the Company any Assigned EI Hedge Costs Amounts in accordance with Section 6.2 until the applicable EI Hedges have been novated to the Reinsurer.

(d) The Company shall use reasonable care in its hedging activities with respect to the Reinsured Policies, and such activities shall be (i) consistent with the Company's hedging strategies with respect to equity indexed reinsured policies issued by the Company, including with respect to counterparty exposure, and (iii) no less favorable than the hedging activities used by the Company with respect to equity indexed policies issued by the Company that are not Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies. In addition, the Company shall not treat the EI Hedges in any respect in a manner that is different than the manner in which it treats the hedges it enters into with respect to equity indexed policies issued by the Company that are not Equity Indexed Reinsured Policies.

(e) The Company agrees that other than as provided expressly in this Agreement, it shall take any actions reasonably requested by the Reinsurer to maintain in full force and effect each of the EI Hedges and to perform fully each of its obligations thereunder. The Company may not modify, amend or terminate any EI Hedge or waive any of its rights under any such EI Hedge without the Reinsurer's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) and shall fully enforce, at the expense of the Reinsurer, all of its rights thereunder, including, at the Reinsurer's request and if applicable, requiring the collateralization by the Hedge Counterparty of exposure and other amounts required to be paid or delivered thereunder. With the Reinsurer's prior written consent, the Company may exercise any right it may have to terminate any such EI Hedge and shall, at the Reinsurer's instruction and expense, effect any discretionary action with respect to the management or administration of the EI Hedges as the Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including termination, as may be available pursuant to the terms and conditions of any EI Hedge; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such discretionary action so requested by the Reinsurer and the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless the Reinsurer for Losses to the extent arising out of any failure by the Company to take any such discretionary action as reasonably requested by the Reinsurer. The Company agrees that it shall, at the direction and at the cost and expense of the Reinsurer, pursue commercially reasonable management and collection efforts with respect to the EI Hedges and, in general, will reasonably cooperate with the Reinsurer in the management and administration of the EI Hedges.

(f) Following the Effective Date, at the Reinsurer's request and expense, the Company shall cooperate with the Reinsurer and use its reasonable best efforts in the context of current market conditions to novate any EI Hedges from the Company to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer. The Company shall promptly advise the Reinsurer of any communications with respect to any such proposed novation. All material, written correspondence from either the Company or the Reinsurer to any Hedge Counterparty in connection with any such proposed novation shall be in a form approved by the other Party; provided that any such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. At the Reinsurer's instruction and at the Reinsurer's cost and expense, the Company shall take any such action with respect to any such proposed novation as Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including sending correspondence requesting that an EI Hedge be novated to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer in a form approved by the Reinsurer; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer and the Company shall indemnify and hold harmless the Reinsurer for Losses to the extent arising out of any failure by the Company to take any such action as reasonably requested by the Reinsurer.

Section 2.12 Interest Maintenance Reserve. Set forth on Schedule 2.12 is the Reinsurer's Share of the existing Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities and the amount of the new Interest Maintenance Reserve that is created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The entirety of such Interest Maintenance Reserve shall be calculated by the Company and ceded to and held by the Reinsurer, and shall be amortized as set forth on Schedule 2.12. The Company shall have no obligation to establish any such Interest Maintenance Reserve.

Section 2.13 Redundant Reserve Financing. The Reinsurer shall use its reasonable best efforts to enter into a Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction with respect to the 2013 Policies prior to the first anniversary of the Effective Date. The Reinsurer shall keep the Company reasonably informed on an ongoing basis of the progress of its efforts to complete any Redundant Reserve Financing Transaction with respect to the 2013 Policies in accordance with the preceding sentence. In the event that a Redundant Reserve Financing is entered into following the Effective and on or prior to the first anniversary of the Effective Date with respect to the 2013 Policies, the Reinsurer shall promptly pay to the Company, by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount equal to seventy-five percent (75%) of the difference between (i) the Statutory Reserves with respect to the 2013 Policies transferred to the Reinsurer as of the Effective Date, minus (ii) the economic reserves as of the Effective Date with respect to the 2013 Policies.

Section 2.14 Supplemental Allowance. Following the Effective Date and for so long as the Supplemental Allowance remains payable, Buyer shall provide Seller copies of any amendment made to the documents constituting the Captive Financings to the extent such amendment is reasonably expected to change the value of the Supplemental Allowance in accordance with the Reduction Methodology, as well as any change to the investment guidelines under any Captive Financings. For the avoidance of doubt, amendments to such documents include any termination, partial termination or recapture.[9]

ARTICLE III
REINSURANCE LIABILITY

Section 3.1 Reinsurance Liability. The reinsurance by the Reinsurer of the Reinsured Policies is subject to the same rates, conditions, limitations and restrictions as the insurance under the Reinsured Policies written by the Company on which the reinsurance is based. The

[9] To be added to the New York Reinsurance Agreements covering both the Non-NLG ALACNY Block and the Financed ALACNY Block:

Section 2.15. Additional Reserve Requirement. If, prior to three (3) years following the Effective Date, the New York Department of Financial Services imposes on the Reinsurer, in lieu of on the Company, an asset adequacy or cash flow testing reserve requirement based on a scenario substantially similar to the cash flow testing scenario imposed on the Company by the New York Department of Financial Services as part of its most recent triennial exam (an "Additional Reserve Requirement") with respect to the Reinsured Policies:

(a) the Company will promptly transfer assets to the Reinsurer in an amount equal to the Additional Reserve Requirement that the Company maintained or would have been required to maintain had there not been reinsurance in effect at the Effective Time; or

(b) the Company may recapture the Reinsured Policies as provided in Sections 10.3(f) and 10.5.

If an Additional Reserve Requirement is imposed as described above and the event the company elects to transfer assets in accordance with Section 2.15(a), the funding shall be accomplished by a deposit of assets into the respective funds withheld account; the income on such assets will be paid to the Reinsurer, and the Reinsurer will pay to the Company the portfolio yield on a similar pool of assets of similar duration and credit characteristics as determined by reference to a nationally recognized third party index. In addition, in the event of such funding, the Company shall retain the right to recapture the Reinsured Policies as provided in Sections 10.3(f) and 10.5 for as long as such funding remains in effect.

The funding of any accounts, as contemplated above, shall be released back to the Company concurrently with, and in the same amount as, any releases of the respective Additional Reserve Requirement. Furthermore, on the third (3rd) anniversary of the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall in any event return to the Company assets in an amount equal to the amount of the Additional Reserve Requirement together with any unpaid financing cost.

If the recapture contemplated by this Section 2.15 occurs, then the parties will cooperate to cause the transition to the Company of any administrative servicing then being provided by third party administrators.

liability of the Reinsurer hereunder on the terms described herein begins as of the Effective Time and, subject to Article X hereof, the liability of the Reinsurer on any Reinsured Policy will terminate as and when all liability of the Company with respect to such Reinsured Policy terminates.

Section 3.2 Other Reinsurance.

(a) The Company agrees that other than as provided expressly in this Agreement, it shall take any actions reasonably requested by the Reinsurer to maintain in full force and effect each of the Other Reinsurance Agreements and to perform fully each of its obligations thereunder. The Company may not modify, amend, terminate or recapture any Other Reinsurance Agreement or waive any of its rights under any such agreement without the Reinsurer's prior written consent and shall fully enforce, at the expense of the Reinsurer, all of its rights thereunder, including, at the Reinsurer's request, requiring the collateralization by the third party reinsurer of reserve balances and other amounts thereunder. With the Reinsurer's prior written consent, the Company may exercise any right it may have to recapture risks ceded thereby under any of the Other Reinsurance Agreements or to otherwise terminate any such agreement and shall, at the Reinsurer's instruction and expense, effect any such action with respect to the management or administration of the Other Reinsurance as the Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including termination or recapture, as may be available under or with respect to the terms of any Other Reinsurance Agreement; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer. Subject to the terms and conditions of the Administrative Services Agreement, the Company agrees that it shall, at the direction and at the cost and expense of the Reinsurer (including any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Company), pursue commercially reasonable management and collection efforts with respect to the Other Reinsurance and, in general, will reasonably cooperate with the Reinsurer in the management of the Other Reinsurance.

(b) Following the Effective Date, at the Reinsurer's expense and reasonable request, the Company shall cooperate with the Reinsurer and shall use its reasonable best efforts in the context of current market conditions to novate any Other Reinsurance from the Company to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer. The Parties shall promptly advise each other of any communications with respect to any such proposed novation. All correspondence from either the Company or the Reinsurer to any reinsurer under Other Reinsurance in connection with any such proposed novation shall be in a form approved by the other Party; provided that any such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. At the Reinsurer's instruction and at the Reinsurer's cost and expense (including any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Company), the Company shall effect any such action with respect to any such proposed novation as the Reinsurer shall reasonably request, including sending correspondence requesting that an Other Reinsurance Agreement be novated to the Reinsurer or a designated Affiliate of the Reinsurer in a form approved by the Reinsurer; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by the Reinsurer.

(c) The recoverability of the Other Reinsurance from reinsurers shall be at the risk of and for the account of the Reinsurer; provided, that to the extent the Other Reinsurance became unrecoverable (in accordance with the Company's ordinary-course evaluation and statutory accounting treatment) prior to the Effective Time, the recoverability of such amounts shall be borne by the Company. The Company agrees that whenever an Other Reinsurance Agreement provides the Company with a right of set-off, the Company shall exercise such right of set-off in the event that amounts are due and unpaid from the Reinsurer. The Company shall have no obligation to pursue any claims it may have for indemnification to which it may be entitled in connection with the Other Reinsurance unless requested to do so by the Reinsurer and at the cost and expense of the Reinsurer (including reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Company). In no event shall any such right to indemnification reduce the Reinsurer's responsibility for the risk of all Other Reinsurance. The Reinsurer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company for Losses arising out of any such action so requested by Reinsurer.

Section 3.3 Disclaimer. The Company has no duties, whether express or implied, including the duty of utmost good faith and other similar duties, which the Company expressly disclaims, and makes no representations or warranties to the Reinsurer, other than those expressly contained in this Agreement. The Reinsurer has no duties, whether express or implied, including the duty of utmost good faith and other similar duties, which the Reinsurer expressly disclaims, and makes no representations or warranties to the Company, other than those expressly contained in this Agreement.

ARTICLE IV
CERTAIN FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

Section 4.1 Provision of Security by the Reinsurer.[10]

(a) On the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall establish and fund with an amount of cash and assets having a Statutory Book Value equal to the Required Balance, calculated in good faith by the Reinsurer as of the Effective Date based on the information set forth in the statement delivered by the Company pursuant to Section 2.3(a)(iii), a trust account (the "Trust Account") with a Qualified United States Financial Institution unaffiliated with the Reinsurer and the Company and which is reasonably acceptable to the Reinsurer and the Company (the "Trustee") at the sole cost and expense of the Reinsurer naming the Company as sole beneficiary and shall enter into the Trust Agreement to provide security for the payment of amounts due the Company under this Agreement. The Reinsurer shall transfer or pay into the Trust Account, and shall thereafter maintain in the Trust Account, cash and assets managed by the Reinsurer or its designee in accordance with the requirements set forth in the Trust Agreement, having a Statutory Book Value, determined in good faith by the Reinsurer on a quarterly basis, to be not less than the Required Balance.

10 Captive Reinsurance Agreements to include a cut-through whereby the Company may continue to make payments of financing fees and costs if the Reinsurer fails to pay such financing fees and costs and no alternative financing or means of supporting reserves through an Iowa parental guarantee is in place.

(b) For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Required Balance", as of any date of determination, means an amount equal to (i) (A) the Reinsurer's Share of the Statutory Reserves that would be required to be held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies (other than the Captive Policies and the Closed Block Policies) if this Agreement were not in effect, plus (B) the Reinsurer's Share of the Economic Reserves that would be required to be held by the Company with respect to the Captive Policies if this Agreement were not in effect, less (C) the amount of any assets supporting Economic Reserves to the extent such assets are held by a Captive Reinsurer or in a trust established by a Captive Reinsurer pursuant to the terms of any Captive Reinsurance Agreement, plus (D) the Reinsurer's Share of the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities (other than any Interest Maintenance Reserve with respect to the Closed Block Policies), plus (E) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve that is created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (other than any new Interest Maintenance Reserve created with respect to the Closed Block Policies), in each case, as of such date of determination and determined in accordance with SAP, consistently applied, plus (ii) the Trust OC Amount, plus (iii) the Trust Ceding Commission Amount. The Required Balance and the Statutory Book Value of any assets held in the Trust Account shall be calculated by the Reinsurer as of the last day of each calendar quarter, and the Reinsurer shall provide a certification with respect to such valuation, including the Statutory Book Value and Fair Market Value of the assets (both on an asset-by-asset basis and a cumulative basis), to the Company and the Trustee within thirty (30) days after the end of such quarter. If the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of assets held in the Trust Account as of any quarter end is less than the Required Balance as of such quarter end, the Reinsurer shall within five (5) Business Days after such determination is made make such further deposits to the Trust Account as are required in order to restore the Required Balance as of such quarter end. If the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of assets held in the Trust Account as of any quarter end is greater than the Required Balance as of such quarter end, the Reinsurer may provide notice to the Company of its desire to withdraw assets from the Trust Account, specifying the amount and type of assets to be withdrawn. Within five (5) Business Days following its delivery of such notice to the Company, the Reinsurer may withdraw such assets from the Trust Account in excess of the amount necessary to maintain such Required Balance as of the applicable quarter end in accordance with the requirements set forth in the Trust Agreement. Any disputes by the Company of the amount of the Required Balance or the valuation of any asset deposited in the Trust Account pursuant to this Section 4.1 shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.1. Upon resolution of any such dispute in accordance with Section 11.1, either (A) the Reinsurer shall cause to be deposited additional assets that comply with Section 4.1(a) within two (2) Business Days following such resolution, such that following any such deposit, the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of the assets held in the Trust Account is sufficient to maintain the Required Balance as of the applicable quarter end; or (B) the Reinsurer may withdraw assets from the Trust Account in accordance with this Section 4.1(b), such that following any such withdrawal, the amount of cash plus the Statutory Book Value of the assets held in the Trust Account is sufficient to maintain the Required Balance as of the applicable quarter end. Unless otherwise agreed upon in writing by the Company, the Reinsurer shall maintain the Trust Account until all obligations of the Reinsurer under this Agreement have been fully satisfied, as determined by the Company in its sole discretion.

(c) The Company and the Reinsurer agree that the assets maintained in the Trust Account may be withdrawn by the Company only after a default by the Reinsurer in the performance of its monetary obligations hereunder that is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith, which undisputed payment default has not been cured by the Reinsurer within five (5) Business Days following its receipt of a written notice thereof delivered by the Company. The amount of any such withdrawal in excess of amounts then due to Company hereunder shall be deemed maintained in trust for the benefit of the Reinsurer and promptly returned to the Trust Account. Upon prior written notice to the Company, the Reinsurer shall have the right to substitute or exchange assets maintained in the Trust Account in accordance with the requirements set forth in the Trust Agreement.

(d) With respect to the transfer of any Transferred Assets to the Trust Account, the Reinsurer will hold valid title to all such Transferred Assets free and clear of all liens or other encumbrances, other than interests of nominees, custodians or similar intermediaries. As of the date of the transfer of any assets to the Trust Account after the Effective Date, the Reinsurer will have good and marketable title to all such assets transferred by it to the Trust Account, all assets transferred by the Reinsurer after the Effective Date to the Trust Account shall be transferred free and clear of any liens other than interests of nominees, custodians or similar intermediaries, and the Reinsurer will not create, incur, assume or permit any lien or other encumbrance on any of the assets held in the Trust Account, or on any interest therein or on any of the proceeds thereof, other than interests of nominees, custodians or similar intermediaries.

(e) The Reinsurer shall notify the Company in writing of any payment default occurring as to any asset in the Trust Account promptly after the Reinsurer receives notice of such default. In the event the Reinsurer determines that a delinquency of a timely payment in regard to any of the assets in the Trust Account has occurred, the Reinsurer shall inform the Company of such delinquency promptly upon such determination.

(f) Assets in the Trust Account may be withdrawn and applied by the Company or any successor of the Company without diminution because of insolvency on the part of the Company or the Reinsurer only for the following purposes:

(i) to pay to the Company any amount due to be paid out of the Trust Account as part of the Reinsurer Termination Payment to the extent such amount is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith;

(ii) to pay any portion of the Net Settlement due to be paid to the Company from the Trust Account in accordance with Section 6.2(b) to the extent such portion is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith; or

(iii) to pay or reimburse the Company for any other amounts due but not yet recovered from the Reinsurer under this Agreement in order to satisfy liabilities under the Reinsured Policies (other than the Closed Block Policies) to the extent such amounts are not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith.

For the avoidance of doubt, any amounts referred to above that are not the subject of a good faith dispute may be withdrawn and applied for the purposes provided above.

Section 4.2 Credit for Reinsurance. If at any time during the term of this Agreement, the Reinsurer fails to hold and maintain all licenses, permits and authorities required under Applicable Law to enable the Company to receive statutory reserve credit for the reinsurance ceded to the Reinsurer hereunder in the Company's state of domicile, the Reinsurer shall, at its sole expense, establish and maintain security in the form of letters of credit, assets held in a reinsurance trust or a combination thereof in a manner that meets all Applicable Laws regarding credit for reinsurance, so as to permit the Company to receive full statutory reserve credit for the reinsurance ceded to the Reinsurer hereunder in the Company's state of domicile.

Section 4.3 RBC Reports.

(a) Within forty-five (45) days following the end of the first three calendar quarters of each year during the term of this Agreement, the Reinsurer shall provide to the Company a report of its RBC Ratio as of the end of such calendar quarter, as estimated in good faith by the Reinsurer.

(b) Within five (5) Business Days of the submission by the Reinsurer to the insurance department of its domiciliary state of a report of its risk-based capital levels as of the end of the previous calendar year, but in no event later than 60 days following the end of each calendar year, the Reinsurer shall provide to the Company written certification of its RBC Ratio as of the end of such calendar year.

Section 4.4 Funds Withheld Account.

(a) The Funds Withheld Account shall be a notional account established in relation to the Closed Block Policies, and shall be clearly designated on the books, records and information systems of the Company. The Company will retain, control and own the Funds Withheld Assets. The Company shall record the balance of the Funds Withheld Account on its statutory financial statements as a payable to the Reinsurer.

(b) Funds Withheld Assets may be withdrawn and applied by the Company or any successor of the Company without diminution because of insolvency on the part of the Company or the Reinsurer only for the following purposes:

(i) to pay to the Company any amount due to be paid out of the Funds Withheld Account as part of the Reinsurer Termination Payment to the extent such amount is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith;

(ii) to adjust the Funds Withheld Account on a monthly basis in accordance with Section 6.2(b) to the extent such adjustment is not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith, and to pay the Reinsurer any amounts due in connection with such monthly adjustment to the extent such amounts are not being disputed by the Company in good faith;

(iii) to pay to the Reinsurer any amounts remaining in the Funds Withheld Account, if any, after the payment of any amounts due to be paid out of the Funds Withheld Account as part of the Reinsurer Termination Payment to the extent such amount is not being disputed by the Company in good faith; or

(iv) to pay or reimburse the Company for any other amounts due but not yet recovered from the Reinsurer under this Agreement in order to satisfy liabilities under the Closed Block Policies to the extent such amounts are not being disputed by the Reinsurer in good faith.

For the avoidance of doubt, any amounts referred to above that are not the subject of a good faith dispute may be withdrawn and applied for the purposes provided above.

(c) The Funds Withheld Assets shall be managed on behalf of the Company by the Reinsurer or by an investment manager selected by the Reinsurer pursuant to an investment management agreement. The Funds Withheld Assets must be invested in accordance with requirements of Applicable Law.

ARTICLE V
PLAN OF REINSURANCE

Section 5.1 Plan. Reinsurance under this Agreement is on a 100% coinsurance basis and is subject to the terms and conditions of the original policy forms for the Reinsured Policies and any amendments thereto in effect as of the Effective Date.

Section 5.2 Follow the Fortunes. The Reinsurer's liability under this Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date, and all reinsurance with respect to which the Reinsurer shall be liable by virtue of this Agreement shall be subject in all respects to the same risks, terms, rates, conditions, interpretations, assessments, waivers, proportion of premiums paid to, and reinsurance recoveries benefiting, the Company with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities and the Reinsured Policies, the true intent of this Agreement being that the Reinsurer shall follow the fortunes of the Company with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities and Reinsured Policies.

Section 5.3 Reductions and Terminations. Reinsurance amounts are calculated in terms of coverages on a "per policy" basis. If the coverage of any Reinsured Policy on an insured is reduced or terminated, reinsurance under this Agreement on such Reinsured Policy will be equally reduced or terminated.

Section 5.4 Reinstatements. Reinsured Policies ceded under this Agreement shall include any Policy that is reduced, terminated, lapsed or surrendered, and later reinstated pursuant to and in accordance with its policy provisions and will be reinsured by the Reinsurer in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. The Reinsurer will retain any Premiums and interest that the Company has received for reinstatement in respect of periods on or after the Effective Date. A terminated Policy that would have been a Reinsured Policy had it been in force at the Effective Time, that later reinstates pursuant to and in accordance with its policy provisions, will be reinsured by the Reinsurer and become a Reinsured Policy. The Reinsurer will be entitled to retain any Premiums and interest for coverage on or after the Effective Date that is received for such reinstatement, and the Company will transfer to the Reinsurer the amount of reserves for such reinstated Reinsured Policy as of the Effective Date, calculated in a manner that is consistent with the reserve calculations used for the other Reinsured Policies. The date of reinsurance for such reinstated Reinsured Policies shall be the Effective Date. For the avoidance of doubt, the reinstated Policies reinsured under this Section 5.4 shall include any Policy treated as lapsed or otherwise terminated prior to the Effective Time under which the Company subsequently becomes liable as a result of a determination that the policyowner, insured or beneficiary has died prior to the lapse or termination.

Section 5.5 Contractual Conversions; Internal Replacement.

(a) Any conversion, exchange or replacement policy or contract arising from the Reinsured Policies that is converted, exchanged or replaced pursuant to and in accordance with its policy terms shall be deemed to constitute a Reinsured Policy for purposes of this Agreement and, in the event of a conversion, exchange or replacement of any Reinsured Policy, the Reinsurer shall reinsure the risk resulting from such conversion on the basis set forth hereby with respect to the Reinsured Policies; provided, however, that the Reinsurer shall not be required to pay any additional ceding commission with respect to any such converted, exchanged or replacement policy or contract. The Reinsurer will reimburse the Company for any expenses incurred in issuing a converted, exchanged or replacement policy or contract, but only to the extent such expenses are not covered by payments made by the Reinsurer under the Transition Services Agreement.

(b) Absent the Reinsurer's prior written consent (which may be withheld in its sole discretion), the Company will not solicit owners, beneficiaries or policyholders in connection with, or sponsor or assist, directly or indirectly, in the conduct of, (and will cause each of its Affiliates to refrain from soliciting in connection with, and sponsoring or assisting, directly or indirectly, in the conduct of) any program of internal replacement under which the owners, beneficiaries or policyholders of Reinsured Policies are or would be encouraged to exchange, or assisted in the exchange of, Reinsured Policies for other insurance policies or contracts that are not reinsured under this Agreement. Should the Company or its Affiliates or any of their respective successors or assigns initiate such a program of internal replacement that would include any of the risks reinsured hereunder in violation of the preceding sentence, the Company will immediately notify the Reinsurer. For each risk reinsured hereunder that has been replaced under a program of internal replacement, the Reinsurer shall have the option, at its sole discretion, of either treating the risks reinsured as recaptured on terms reasonably acceptable to the Reinsurer or continuing reinsurance on the new policy under the terms of this Agreement without any additional ceding commission therefor.

Section 5.6 New Policies. From and after the Effective Date, the Company shall issue in its name (a) new Policies issued or reinstated pursuant to Section 5.4 or 5.5(a) and (b) new Policies issued or renewed in accordance the terms of the Administrative Services Agreement.

Section 5.7 Policy List Errors.

(a) The Company or the Reinsurer, as applicable, shall notify the other Party if any life insurance policies or contracts issued or reinsured by the Company and in force as of the Effective Date were inadvertently not included on the Policy List and are determined to be a Policy, which shall in no event include any insurance policies and contracts falling within the following lines of business: health, annuities, funding agreements, corporate-owned life insurance and bank-owned life insurance when sold on a group basis, synthetic guaranteed investment contracts and variable life or other variable business.

(b) If any policies or contracts (or components thereof) are determined to be Policies in accordance with this Section 5.7, then:

(i) the Company shall transfer cash or assets reasonably satisfactory to the Reinsurer in an amount equal to the Statutory Reserves required to be held with respect to such Policies to the extent such Statutory Reserves were not previously transferred to the Reinsurer; and

(ii) the Parties shall adjust the Ceding Commission in a manner consistent with the adjustment required under Section 2.4(b)(ii) in connection with changes in the Net Retained Liabilities to the extent such Ceding Commission relates to an aggregate increase in Statutory Reserves equal to or greater than $10,000,000.

ARTICLE VI
ADMINISTRATION

Section 6.1 Administrative Services. The Parties hereby agree that the Policies, Other Reinsurance Agreements [and, subject to Section 2.11, the EI Hedges] shall be administered in accordance with or as otherwise provided in the Administrative Services Agreement and the Transition Services Agreement.

Section 6.2 Net Settlements.

(a) For each Monthly Accounting Period, the Parties will effect a settlement on a net basis (the "Net Settlement") as contemplated in Annex B hereto.

(b) A report reflecting in detail the Net Settlement determinations contemplated in Annex B shall be prepared not later than fifteen (15) Business Days after the end of each Monthly Accounting Period. For as long as required under the Transition Services Agreement, the Company shall prepare and deliver such report to the Reinsurer. After such time, the Reinsurer shall prepare and deliver such report to the Company. If a Net Settlement report reflects a balance due the Company, the amount(s) shown as due shall be paid within ten (10) Business Days of the delivery of the report. If a Net Settlement report reflects a balance due the Reinsurer, the amount(s) shown as due shall be paid within ten (10) Business Days after the date on which the report was delivered. If there is a delayed settlement of any payment due hereunder, interest will accrue on such payment at the Applicable Rate. For purposes of this section, a payment will be considered overdue on the date which is ten (10) Business Days after the date such payment is due hereunder; provided that such interest will begin to accrue from the original due date with respect to such payment. All settlements of account between the Company and the Reinsurer shall be made in cash or its equivalent.

(c) To the extent that the Reinsurer makes any direct payments to or on behalf of the Company in respect of Reinsured Liabilities or other amounts payable to the Company pursuant to the Net Settlement in respect of a Monthly Accounting Period prior to the Net Settlement process, whether in its capacity as the Administrator or otherwise, the amount of any such payments shall be taken into account for purposes of determining the Net Settlement. In addition, to the extent the Reinsurer receives any Premiums or other amounts payable to the Reinsurer pursuant to the Net Settlement in respect of a Monthly Accounting Period prior to the Net Settlement process, whether in its capacity as the Administrator or otherwise, the amount of any such Premiums received shall be taken into account for purposes of determining the Net Settlement.

(d) In connection with any settlement under this Agreement, the Reinsurer shall not be obligated to pay any Excluded Reinsured Liability.

ARTICLE VII
OPTION LETTERS; ASSUMPTION CERTIFICATES; NOVATION

Section 7.1 Novation. The Reinsurer shall pursue novation of all of the Reinsured Policies other than the Closed Block Policies and any Reinsured Policies that are the subject of litigation or arbitration proceedings (the "Targeted Policies"). The Reinsurer may manage the novation process so as to ensure that the Targeted Policies are novated to the Reinsurer only once the requisite systems are in place in order to reflect the Novated Contracts on the books and records of the Reinsurer in accordance with the migration processes and related time periods contemplated by the Transition Services Agreement.

Section 7.2 Licenses; Regulatory Approvals for Novation.

(a) Following the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall use its reasonable best efforts to obtain all material licenses, permits and authorizations required under Applicable Law to qualify the Reinsurer to transact life insurance business in each state where any Targeted Policies are in force as of the Effective Date.

(b) Following the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall use its reasonable best efforts to obtain all required regulatory approvals, including approval of the requisite form and rate filings, from each applicable Governmental Entity to assume by novation such Targeted Policies (effective as of their inception) including all of the Company's liabilities and obligations under each such Targeted Policy, in order to ensure that such liabilities and obligations are solely, directly and exclusively vested in the Reinsurer.

(c) Each Party shall cooperate fully with the other in all reasonable respects in order to effectuate the novation and assumption of the Targeted Policies as set forth in this Article VII. The Reinsurer shall be responsible for and shall pay its own costs, fees and expenses relating to the regulatory filings contemplated under this Section 7.2, and shall reimburse the Company for any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses that it incurs in connection with such filings.

Section 7.3 Option Letter.

(a) Subject to Section 7.3(b), the Reinsurer, at its sole cost and expense, promptly following receipt of the requisite approvals of applicable Governmental Entities, shall transmit by mail to every Required Party as required by the Applicable Law and in accordance with the consent solicitation procedures set forth on Schedule 7.3(a), an option letter (the "Option Letter"), together with a Notice and Certificate of Assumption, including, where required, a form for rejection or acceptance, as permitted by Applicable Law, and a self-addressed return envelope, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit II (which identifies and includes the forms of Option Letters to be furnished to the various classes of Required Parties), as modified to reflect such changes as may be required by the relevant Governmental Entity following the Effective Date (the "Notice and Certificate of Assumption"). Option Letters and Notices and Certificates of Assumption shall not be sent with respect to a Targeted Policy unless and until all requisite approvals of applicable Governmental Entities have been received with respect to such Targeted Policy.

(b) Subject to the receipt of the requisite regulatory approvals and Applicable Law, the Reinsurer may, at its option, in lieu of transmission of an Option Letter to a Required Party by mail, effect such transmission by electronic mail to an appropriately confirmed electronic mail address for the Required Party, or in the alternative, by any other method allowed under Applicable Law.

(c) The Reinsurer and the Company shall in good faith agree to modify the procedures set forth in this Section 7.3 and in Schedule 7.3(a) on a state-by-state basis to the extent required to conform to any procedures for novation and assumption of Targeted Policies imposed or required by the applicable Governmental Entity or as reasonably requested by the Reinsurer.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, with respect to the classes of Required Parties described on Schedule 7.3(d), the Option Letter, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, may be accompanied by a form for rejection, and a self-addressed return envelope, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit III, and the Reinsurer shall not be required to seek affirmative consent from such Required Parties, unless required by Applicable Law.

(e) The Reinsurer shall pay its own costs, fees and expenses relating to soliciting or obtaining the consent of a Required Party to the novation and assumption by the Reinsurer of a Targeted Policy. The Company shall cooperate in any such actions taken by the Reinsurer, and the Reinsurer shall reimburse the Company for its reasonable out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with such cooperation.

Section 7.4 Novated Contracts. Targeted Policies satisfying all of the requirements for novation and assumption under Section 7.3 and Applicable Law shall be assumed by the Reinsurer on the applicable Assumption Date and shall be deemed to have been assumed by novation. Such contracts shall cease to be deemed "Reinsured Policies," shall thenceforth not be deemed indemnity coinsured under Article II hereof, and shall be defined herein as "Novated Contracts." Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that (a) a Required Party rejects or fails to provide any consent required by Applicable Law to the novation of a Reinsured Policy, or (b) a Novated Contract is determined by appropriate Governmental Entities or a court of competent jurisdiction to be not novated from the Company to the Reinsurer (including, but not limited to, jurisdictions requiring the insured's affirmative consent for novation where the insured or policyholder, as the case may be, either did not or refused to provide such consent), then in the case of either of (a) or (b), such Novated Contract shall for all purposes of this Agreement be deemed, retroactive to the Effective Date, to be a Reinsured Policy and such novation shall be null and void and of no effect. For the avoidance of doubt, the Reinsured Liabilities for each such Novated Contract that is deemed to be a Reinsured Policy in accordance with the foregoing shall be deemed assumed by the Reinsurer retroactive to the Effective Date for all purposes of this Agreement. For each Novated Contract, the date of assumption shall be the later of (i) the date of assumption set forth in the relevant form of Option Letter with respect to the applicable Targeted Policy or (ii) the date on which all required consents and approvals of all Governmental Entities and Required Parties with respect to the applicable Targeted Policy have actually been received and all other requirements and conditions for novation and assumption have been satisfied (the "Assumption Date"). All Targeted Policies not novated by the Reinsurer shall remain Reinsured Policies of the Company.

Section 7.5 Effect of Assumption. Upon the satisfaction of all requirements for the novation and assumption of a Targeted Policy, the Company shall be deemed to have assigned and transferred all of its rights relating to such Novated Contract as of the Assumption Date and the Reinsurer shall be deemed to have assumed and accepted all of the risks, liabilities and obligations (including, without limitation, any Extra Contractual Obligations) under or arising out of the applicable Novated Contract, whether arising prior, on or subsequent to the applicable Assumption Date. The Reinsurer hereby agrees that it shall be directly and solely liable for such risks, liabilities and obligations. On each Assumption Date, the Reinsurer shall assume all risks, liabilities and obligations under or arising out of the applicable Novated Contract such that the Reinsurer shall be considered and deemed the original party in lieu of the Company, from the inception date of the applicable Reinsured Policy. The Novated Contracts shall continue and remain in full force and effect, except as modified by the Notice and Certificate of Assumption. For the avoidance of doubt, a Novated Contract shall not constitute the creation of a new contract or the termination of the applicable Reinsured Policy, rather such Novated Contract shall be considered and deemed a continuation of the existing contract as if the Reinsurer were the original party in lieu of the Company. It is understood and agreed that such assignment, transfer and assumption shall not affect any indemnification rights of the parties pursuant to Article XII, or any other indemnification or right to recovery provided to a party under any other agreement. Pursuant to the terms of the Trust Agreement, the portion of the assets held in the Trust Account relating to Novated Contracts not in dispute shall be released from the Trust Account and transferred to the Reinsurer. Promptly after assumption by the Reinsurer of any Novated Contracts, the Company shall deliver original books and records that relate to such Novated Contracts to the Reinsurer to the extent required by Applicable Law.

DAC TAX

Section 8.1 DAC Tax Election. The Company and the Reinsurer hereby elect and agree under Treasury Regulations Section 1.848-2(g)(8) as follows:

(a) The Company and the Reinsurer will each attach a schedule to its federal income tax return for the first taxable year ending after the Effective Date that identifies this Agreement as a reinsurance agreement for which a joint election under Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2(g)(8) has been made, and will otherwise file its respective federal income tax returns in a manner consistent with the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2 as in effect on the date this Agreement is executed;

(b) For each taxable year under this Agreement, the Party with the net positive consideration, as defined in the regulations promulgated under Section 848 of the Code, will capitalize specified policy acquisition expenses with respect to this Agreement without regard to the general deductions limitation of Section 848(c)(1) of the Code;

(c) The Company and the Reinsurer agree to exchange information pertaining to the amount of net consideration under this Agreement each year to ensure consistency or as otherwise required by the Code and applicable Treasury Regulations;

(d) The first tax year for which this election is effective is [2013];

(e) The Reinsurer will submit to the Company by May 15 each year its calculation of the amount of the net consideration for the preceding calendar year. This schedule of calculations will be accompanied by a statement that the Reinsurer will report such amount of net consideration in its tax return for the preceding calendar year;

(f) The Company may contest such calculation by providing an alternative calculation to the Reinsurer in writing within thirty (30) days of the Company's receipt of the Reinsurer's calculation. If the Company does not so notify the Reinsurer, the Company will report the amount of net consideration as determined by the Reinsurer in the Company's tax return for the previous calendar year;

(g) If the Company contests the Reinsurer's calculation of the amount of net consideration, the dispute shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.2.

Both the Company and the Reinsurer are subject to U.S. taxation under Subchapter L of Chapter 1 of the Code.

ARTICLE IX
INSOLVENCY AND CUT THROUGH

Section 9.1 Insolvency. In the event of the insolvency of the Company, all reinsurance made, ceded, renewed or otherwise becoming effective under this Agreement shall be payable by the Reinsurer on the basis of the liability of the Company under the Reinsured Policies without diminution because of the insolvency of the Company directly to the Company or to its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor, except (i) where this Agreement specifically provides for another payee of the reinsurance in the event of the insolvency of the Company or (ii) where the Reinsurer, with the consent of the direct insured, has assumed the policy obligations of the Company as direct obligations of the Reinsurer to the payees under a Reinsured Policy and in substitution for the obligations of the Company to the payees. It is understood, however, that in the event of the insolvency of the Company, the liquidator or receiver or statutory successor of the insolvent Company shall give written notice to the Reinsurer of the pendency of the claim against the Company on any Reinsured Policy within a reasonable time after such claim is filed in the insolvency proceeding, and during the pendency of such claim, the Reinsurer may investigate such claim and interpose, at its own expense, in the proceeding where such claim is to be adjudicated any defense of defenses which it may deem available to the Company or its liquidator or receiver or statutory successor. The expenses incurred by the Reinsurer shall be chargeable, subject to court approval, against the Company as part of the expense of conservation or liquidation to the extent of a proportionate share of the benefit which may accrue to the Company in conservation or liquidation, solely as a result of the defense undertaken by the Reinsurer.

Section 9.2 Cut Through.

(a) Subject to Applicable Law and the applicable terms of the Reinsured Policies, if the Company becomes insolvent or is subject to any liquidation, rehabilitation, conservatorship, receivership, administrative supervision or any other similar proceeding, the Reinsurer may pay any Reinsured Liabilities otherwise due and payable by the Reinsurer to the Company hereunder directly to the named insureds or their designees under the applicable Reinsured Policies (the "Payee"), in accordance with and subject to the terms, conditions, exclusions and limitations of such Reinsured Policies. Any such payment by the Reinsurer shall discharge the Company from its related payment obligation under the subject Reinsured Policy and shall be treated as a payment by the Company for all purposes of such Reinsured Policy and related documentation and otherwise.

(b) The Reinsurer shall have no obligation to indemnify the Company for amounts paid or payable by the Company in respect of a Reinsured Policy to the extent of any payments made by the Reinsurer to the applicable Payee under such Reinsured Policy in accordance with Section 9.2(a), and the Reinsurer shall be discharged of its payment obligations to the Company, or to its liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, conservator or other similar Person, under this Agreement to the extent of such payments. The cut-through afforded by Section 9.2(a) shall not be available pursuant to this Agreement if, under Applicable Law, regulation, court rule or order or similar requirement either: (i) the Reinsurer's direct payment to such Payee will not, to the extent thereof, discharge the Reinsurer's obligations to the Company or its legal representative or (ii) the Reinsurer is required by Applicable Law to make any payment to the Company or its liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, conservator or other similar Person notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement. Nothing herein or in any Reinsured Policy shall be construed to require the Reinsurer to make duplicative payments or payments duplicative of payments that have been made by the Company.

TERMINATION

Section 10.1 Duration of Coinsurance. This Agreement will be effective as of the Effective Time. Subject to the provisions of this Article X, this Agreement will remain in effect, and the reinsurance provided hereunder will remain in force, until termination of the policy or policies on which the reinsurance is based (whether by expiration of the term thereof or by novation thereof by the Reinsurer or one of its Affiliates) in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. Except as provided in Sections 10.3, the Reinsured Policies are not eligible for recapture by the Company.

Section 10.2 Termination. This Agreement shall terminate:

(a) at any time upon the mutual written consent of the Parties hereto, which writing shall state the effective date of termination; or

(b) automatically at such time as no liability remains under this Agreement.

Section 10.3 Termination by the Company. The Company, in its sole discretion, shall have the option to terminate this Agreement upon the occurrence of any one of the following events:

(a) the Reinsurer is placed in receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation or liquidation by any insurance regulatory authority;

(b) the Reinsurer breaches Section 4.1, and the Reinsurer fails to cure such breach within the earlier of (i) thirty (30) days following receipt of written notice of such breach from the Company and (ii) the last day of the calendar year in which such breach occurs; provided that, in the case of clause (ii) only, the Company shall have no right to terminate with a cure period of fewer than thirty (30) days to the extent that the Company continues to receive full credit for the Trust Account in its risk-based capital calculation;

(c) the Reinsurer breaches Section 4.2, and the Reinsurer fails to cure such breach within the earlier of (i) thirty (30) days following receipt of written notice of such breach from the Company and (ii) the last day of the calendar quarter in which such breach occurs; provided that the Company shall have no right to terminate if the Reinsurer cannot take any action reasonably required for the Company to receive statutory reserve credit without the reasonable cooperation of the Company and the Company shall not have reasonably cooperated with the Reinsurer; provided, further, that it shall be deemed unreasonable to require the Company to cooperate in the event such cooperation would impose on the Company any cost and the Reinsurer has not agreed to be responsible for such cost;

(d) the Reinsurer fails to pay any material amount due to the Company under this Agreement and (i) such amount is not subject to a good faith dispute and (ii) such failure is not cured within ten (10) Business Days following the Reinsurer’s receipt of written notice of such failure from the Company; or

(e) in the event that (i) the Reinsurer’s RBC Ratio is less than 175% or (ii) the Reinsurer fails to provide its RBC Ratio in accordance with Section 4.4 and, upon delivery of written notice from the Company to the Reinsurer, the Reinsurer shall fail to provide its RBC Ratio within ten (10) Business Days following such notice.[11]

Section 10.4 Termination by the Reinsurer. Upon the occurrence of a Reinsurer Termination Event, the Reinsurer shall have the right (but not the obligation) to terminate this Agreement by providing written notice of its intent to terminate. Termination of this Agreement shall be effective on the date specified in such notice, provided that such date shall not be prior to the date on which the Termination Event occurred. Upon termination of this Agreement pursuant to this Section 10.4, the Company shall be deemed to have recaptured and reassumed all Reinsured Liabilities. Recapture of the Reinsured Policies shall be effective on the date specified in the notice of termination.

Section 10.5 Settlement Upon Termination. Upon the termination of this Agreement by the Company pursuant to Section 10.3 or by the Reinsurer pursuant to Section 10.4, subject to payment by the Reinsurer of any amounts due to the Company pursuant to this Section 10.5 and the payment by the Company of any amounts due to the Reinsurer pursuant to this Section 10.5, the Company shall recapture all liabilities previously ceded to the Reinsurer and the Reinsurer's liability under this Agreement will terminate (provided, that such termination shall not relieve any Party of any pre-termination breach of this Agreement). The Company shall prepare a Net Settlement report for the period commencing on the first day of the then-current calendar month and ending on the date this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Sections 10.3 or 10.4. On the tenth Business Day following the delivery of such Net Settlement report (a) the applicable Party shall pay any amounts due and owing by such Party on such Net Settlement report; (b) the Company shall withdraw the assets in the Funds Withheld Account; (c) the Reinsurer shall transfer to the Company cash and assets with an aggregate Fair Market Value equal to 100% of an amount equal to: (i) the Reinsurer's Share of the Statutory Reserves held by the Company with respect to the Reinsured Policies (other than the Captive Policies), plus (ii) the Reinsurer's Share of the Economic Reserves held by the Company with respect to the Captive Policies, plus (iii) the Reinsurer's Share of the Interest Maintenance Reserve attributable to the Reinsured Liabilities, plus (iv) (x) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve created at the time of recapture as a result of such recapture divided by 65% and (y) the amount of any new Interest Maintenance Reserve created at the Effective Time as a direct result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement that remains unamortized as of the date of termination, minus (v) the Reinsurer's Share of the amount of outstanding policy loans on the Reinsured Policies (to the extent such policy loans constitute admitted assets under SAP, net of any unearned policy loan interest on such loans but including amounts of interest due and accrued with respect thereto), minus (vi) the Reinsurer's Share of net due and deferred Premiums on the Reinsured Policies reduced by advances thereon, minus (vii) the Ceding Commission multiplied by the ratio of (x) the remaining number of months in the Amortization Period over (y) 120, minus (viii) the Statutory Book Value of the assets in the Funds Withheld Account (immediately prior to the withdrawal contemplated by clause (b) above), in each case, determined by the Company in accordance with SAP, consistently applied, as of the date of termination (such amount, the "Reinsurer Termination Payment"); and (c) the Company shall pay to the Reinsurer cash equal to the amount of any cash and assets withdrawn by the Company or any successor by operation of law, including any liquidator, rehabilitator, receiver or conservator of the Company, from the Trust Account or the Funds Withheld Account prior to the date of termination, and not used to satisfy claims of policyholders under the Reinsured Policies prior to the date of termination or to otherwise pay amounts due to the Company pursuant to this Agreement (the "Company Termination Payment"). Any dispute by either Party of the Company Termination Payment or the Reinsurer Termination Payment shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.2.

ARTICLE XI
RESOLUTION OF CERTAIN DISPUTES

Section 11.1 Disputes over Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium Calculations and SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium.

(a) Within thirty (30) days following its receipt from the Company of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, (such period, a "Review Period"), the Reinsurer shall either (i) notify the Company in writing of its agreement with the calculation of the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium or SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium, as applicable, set forth therein ("Notice of Agreement"); or (ii) if the Company determines that the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, or the calculations reflected therein either (x) have not been prepared on the basis set forth in Section 2.3 or in Section 5.8 of the Purchase Agreement, or (y) contain or reflect mathematical errors, inform the Company in writing of its objection (the "Reinsurer's Objection"), which notice shall set forth in reasonable detail a description of the basis of the Reinsurer's Objection and the adjustments to such Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, or the calculations reflected therein that the Reinsurer requests be made. The Company, as applicable, shall, following the Effective Date through the date that the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, becomes final in accordance with the last sentence of Section 11.1(c), take all actions necessary or desirable to maintain and preserve all accounting books, records, policies and procedures on which such Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or SPA Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, are based or on which the finalized Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment or SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment, as applicable, are to be based so as not to impede or delay the determination of the finalized Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium, the finalized SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium, the finalized Fair Market Value of the Reinsurance Assets as of the Effective Date, the finalized Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets as of the Effective Date or the preparation of the Reinsurer's Objection in the manner and utilizing the methods permitted by this Agreement. Upon receipt by the Company of a Notice of Agreement from the Reinsurer or if no Reinsurer's Objection is received by the Company prior to the expiration of the Review Period, the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium, the SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium and the Reinsurer's calculation of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment (as set forth in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement) and the SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment (as set forth in the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement) shall be deemed to have been accepted by the Reinsurer and will become final and binding upon the Parties in accordance with the last sentence of Section 11.1(c).

(b) If the Reinsurer timely delivers a Reinsurer's Objection to the Company, the Company shall have thirty (30) days from the date of such delivery to review and respond to such Reinsurer's Objection (the "Consultation Period"). The Parties shall use reasonable, good faith efforts to resolve any disagreements that they may have with respect to the matters set forth in the Reinsurer's Objection. If the Parties are unable to resolve all of their disagreements with respect to the matters set forth in the Reinsurer's Objection within ten (10) Business Days following the expiration of the Consultation Period, then the Parties shall submit all matters that remain in dispute with respect to the Reinsurer's Objection (along with a copy of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and the Company's calculation of the amounts set forth therein, marked to indicate those line items that are still in dispute) to an independent internationally recognized accounting firm of independent certified public accountants with appropriate actuarial expertise mutually agreed upon by the Parties (the "CPA Firm"), which shall, acting as an expert and not as an arbitrator, make a final determination, on the basis of the standards set forth in Section 2.3 hereof, and only with respect to any remaining differences submitted to the CPA Firm, in accordance with this Section 11.1(b), of the appropriate amount of each line item in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and the Company's calculation of the amounts set forth therein as to which the Parties disagree (such items that remain in dispute, the "Unresolved Items").

(c) The Parties shall instruct the CPA Firm to deliver its written determination to the Reinsurer and the Company no later than fifteen Business Days after the Unresolved Items are referred to the CPA Firm. The CPA Firm's determination shall include a certification that it reached such determination in accordance with this Section 11.1(c) and shall be conclusive and binding upon the Parties, absent fraud or clear and manifest error. With respect to each Unresolved Item, the CPA Firm's determination, if not in accordance with the position of either the Company or the Reinsurer, shall not be more favorable to the Reinsurer than the amounts advocated by the Reinsurer in the Reinsurer's Objection or more favorable to the Company than the amounts advocated by the Company in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the Company's calculations of the amounts set forth therein with respect to such disputed line item and/or calculation. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) the CPA Firm's review of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and the Company's calculation of the amounts set forth therein shall be limited to a determination of whether such documents and calculations were prepared in accordance with Section 2.3, and (ii) the CPA Firm shall not review any line items or make any determination with respect to any matters other than the Unresolved Items that were referred to the CPA Firm for resolution pursuant to this Section 11.1(c). The determination of the amounts set forth in the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, that are final and binding on the Parties, as determined either through (1) the Reinsurer's delivery of a Notice of Agreement pursuant to Section 11.1(a), (2) the Reinsurer's failure to deliver Reinsurer's Objection prior to expiration of the Review Period pursuant to Section 11.1(a), (3) agreement by the Parties during the Consultation Period or (4) the determination of the CPA Firm pursuant to this Section 11.1(c) are referred to herein as the "finalized Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium," the "finalized Initial Coinsurance Premium Adjustment," the "finalized Fair Market Value of the Transferred Assets as of the Effective Date," the "finalized SPA Adjusted Coinsurance Premium," the "finalized SPA Coinsurance Premium Adjustment" and the "finalized Statutory Book Value of the Funds Withheld Assets as of the Effective Date," as the case may be.

(d) The Parties agree that judgment may be entered upon the CPA Firm's determination in any court having jurisdiction over the Reinsurer or the Company or their respective assets, as the case may be. The fees and disbursements of the CPA Firm shall be paid by the Parties in proportion to those matters submitted to the CPA Firm that are resolved against that Party, as such fees and disbursements are allocated by the CPA Firm in accordance with this Section 11.1 at the time of the CPA Firm's determination. At any time following delivery of the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, as applicable, the Reinsurer shall provide to the Company and its Representatives full access to books and records and other information with respect to the Reinsured Policies, the Net Retained Liabilities and the Ceding Commission, including work papers of its accountants (subject to execution by the Company and/or its Representatives, as applicable, of a customary hold-harmless agreement in form and substance reasonably acceptable to such accountants), and to any employees during regular business hours and on reasonable advance notice, to the extent necessary for the Company to prepare the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement or to prepare materials for presentation to the CPA Firm. The Parties shall make readily available to the CPA Firm, during regular business hours and on reasonable advance notice, interviews with such employees, and all relevant information, books and records and any work papers of their respective accountants (in each case, subject to execution by the CPA Firm of a customary hold-harmless agreement in form and substance reasonably acceptable to such accountants) relating to the Initial Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement, the SPA Coinsurance Premium Reconciliation Statement and any Unresolved Items and all other items reasonably required by the CPA Firm to fulfill its obligations under Section 11.1(c). In acting under this Section 11.2, the CPA Firm will be entitled to the privileges and immunities of an arbitrator.

(e) For the avoidance of doubt, this Section 11.1 shall not apply to any dispute between the Parties with respect to the interpretation of any provision, term or condition of this Agreement.

Section 11.2 Disputes over Calculations. After the Effective Date, any dispute between the Parties with respect to the calculation of amounts that are to be calculated or reported pursuant to this Agreement (other than disputes with respect to the Actual Initial Coinsurance Premium and the SPA Adjusted Initial Coinsurance Premium, which shall be resolved in accordance with Section 11.1 hereof), including disputes with respect to any Net Settlement, calculations relating to DAC tax, valuation of the assets held in the Trust Account or the amount of the Reinsurer Termination Payment or the Company Termination Payment, that cannot be resolved by the Parties within sixty (60) calendar days, shall be referred to an independent accounting firm of national recognized standing (which shall not have any material relationship with the Reinsurer or the Company) mutually agreed to by the Parties; provided, however, that where the dispute involves an actuarial issue, the dispute shall instead be referred to an independent actuarial firm of national recognized standing (which shall not have any material relationship with the Reinsurer or the Company) mutually agreed to by the Parties. Within twenty (20) Business Days following the selection of the accounting firm or actuarial firm, as applicable, the Parties shall submit their positions and supporting documentation to such accounting firm or actuarial firm. Within forty (40) Business Days of such submission, the accounting firm or actuarial firm, as applicable, shall, in light of the evidence provided by both Parties, determine the calculations in dispute within the range of difference between the Reinsurer's position thereto and the Company's position thereto. There shall be no appeal from the decision made by such firm, which shall be final and binding (absent fraud or clear and manifest error), except that, either Party may petition a court having jurisdiction over the other Party or its assets to reduce the arbitrator's decision to judgment. The fees charged by the accounting firm or actuarial firm, as applicable, to resolve the dispute shall be allocated between the Company and the Reinsurer by such firm in accordance with its judgment as to the relative merits of the Parties' positions in respect of the dispute. For the avoidance of doubt, this Section 11.2 shall not apply to any dispute between the Parties with respect to the interpretation of any provision, term or condition of this Agreement.

INDEMNIFICATION

Section 12.1 Indemnification of the Reinsurer by the Company. From and after the Effective Date, the Company shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Reinsurer and its officers, directors and authorized Representatives (the "Reinsurer Indemnified Parties") from and against, and pay and reimburse the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties for, all Losses imposed on, sustained, incurred or suffered by, or asserted against, the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties (a) solely as a result of actions or omissions of the Company, but only to the extent such actions or omissions of the Company constitute gross negligence or bad faith and were not taken or omitted at the direction of the Reinsurer or consented to by the Reinsurer, (b) arising out of any breach or nonfulfillment by the Company of, or any failure by the Company to perform, any of the covenants, terms or conditions of or any of its duties or obligations under this Agreement unless such breach, nonfulfillment or failure arises out of or results from the action or omission of the Reinsurer pursuant to the Administrative Services Agreement or (c) arising out of the Company's rejection of a written recommendation of the Reinsurer given in accordance with Section 2.8(b); provided, however, that except as provided in Section 2.8(b) and clause (c) of this Section 12.1, the Company shall have no obligation to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties for any Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 12.2 Indemnification of the Company by the Reinsurer. From and after the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Company, and its officers, directors and authorized Representatives (the "Company Indemnified Parties") from and against, and pay and reimburse the Company Indemnified Parties for, all Losses imposed on, sustained or incurred or suffered by, or asserted against, the Company Indemnified Parties to the extent such Losses (a) constitute Reinsured Liabilities, (b) arise out of any breach or nonfulfillment by the Reinsurer of, or any failure by the Reinsurer to perform, any of the covenants, terms or conditions of or any of its duties or obligations under this Agreement unless such breach, nonfulfillment or failure arises out of or results from the action or omission of the Company or its Affiliates pursuant to the Transition Services Agreement, (c) arise out of written instructions of the Reinsurer given pursuant to Section 2.5 or 3.2 hereof, or (d) arise out of the Company following a written recommendation of the Reinsurer given in accordance with Section 2.8(b).

ARTICLE XIII
CONFIDENTIALITY

Section 13.1 Confidentiality. Except as provided in the Other Transaction Agreements, each of the Reinsurer and the Company agrees to hold any Confidential Information with respect to the other Party in strictest confidence and to take all reasonable steps to ensure that such Confidential Information is not disclosed in any form by any means by it or by its Affiliates, employees, advisors, agents or administrators (collectively, "Representatives") to third parties of any kind or used by it or its Representatives for any purpose other than the performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided that the foregoing obligation shall not prohibit disclosure of any such information (a) if required by Applicable Law or stock exchange rules, or if required or requested by any Governmental Entity (provided in the case of this clause (a) that the disclosing party shall allow (to the extent permitted by Applicable Law and reasonably practicable) the other Party a reasonable opportunity to comment on such disclosure in advance of such disclosure); (b) to the disclosing Party's Representatives, auditors or ratings agencies, provided, that such Representatives, auditors or ratings agencies are made aware of the provisions of this Article XIII; (c) to the extent that the information has been made public by or on behalf of, or with the prior consent of, the non-disclosing Party; (d) if required in connection with any report required to be filed or submitted with any Governmental Entity; (e) to a retrocessionaire of the Reinsurer; (f) to the extent reasonably necessary in connection with any dispute with respect to this Agreement; and (g) as necessary for the Reinsurer to perform its obligations as Administrator under the Administrative Services Agreement. The Reinsurer agrees to hold medical, financial and other personal information about proposed, current, and former policyowners, insureds, applicants and beneficiaries of Policies in confidence to the extent required to be held in confidence under Applicable Law and the Reinsurer's privacy policy or policies and shall establish and maintain safeguards against the unauthorized access, destruction, loss or alteration of such information which are no less rigorous than those maintained by Reinsurer for its own information of a similar nature. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, for purposes of this Section 13.1, the Reinsurer, in its capacity as Administrator on behalf of the Company, shall not be considered an advisor, agent or administrator of the Company.

ARTICLE XIV
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

Section 14.1 Representations and Warranties of Reinsurer. The Reinsurer hereby represents and warrants to the Company as of the Effective Time:

(a) Organization, Standing and Authority. The Reinsurer is a corporation duly organized and validly existing under the laws of the State of Iowa and has all requisite power and authority to own, lease and operate its assets, properties and business and to carry on the operations of its business as they are now being conducted, except where the failure to have such authority would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect. The Reinsurer is duly qualified to do business as a foreign corporation and is in good standing in each jurisdiction where such qualification is necessary, except for those jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Reinsurer has all requisite corporate power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Reinsurer, and, subject to the due execution and delivery by the Company, this Agreement is valid and the binding obligation of the Reinsurer, enforceable against the Reinsurer in accordance with its terms, subject to (i) bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent transfer, moratorium and other similar laws now or hereafter in effect relating to or affecting the rights of creditors of insurance companies or creditor's rights generally and (ii) general principles of equity (regardless of whether considered in a proceeding at law or in equity).

(c) Actions and Proceedings. There are no outstanding orders, decrees or judgments by or with any Governmental Entity applicable to the Reinsurer or its properties or assets that, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. There are no actions, suits, arbitrations or legal, administrative or other proceedings pending or, to the knowledge of the Reinsurer, threatened against, at law or in equity, or before or by any Governmental Entity or before any arbitrator of any kind which would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) No Conflict or Violation. The execution, delivery and performance by the Reinsurer of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby in accordance with the terms and conditions hereof will not: (i) violate any provision of the charter, bylaws or other organizational document of the Reinsurer, (ii) violate, conflict with or result in the breach of any of the terms of, result in any modification of the effect of, otherwise give any other contracting party the right to terminate or constitute (or with notice or lapse of time or both, constitute) a default under, any contract to which the Reinsurer is a party or by or to which its properties may be bound or subject, (iii) violate any order, judgment, injunction, award or decree of any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, or any agreement with, or condition imposed by, any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, binding upon, the Reinsurer, (iv) violate any Applicable Law or (v) result in a breach or violation of any of the terms or conditions of, constitute a default under, or otherwise cause an impairment of, any license or authorization related to the Reinsurer's business or necessary to enable the Reinsurer to perform its obligations under this Agreement, except for any such violations, conflicts or breaches which would not individually or in the aggregate reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(e) Brokers and Financial Advisers. No broker, finder or financial adviser has acted directly or indirectly as such for, or is entitled to any compensation from, the Reinsurer in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

Section 14.2 Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Reinsurer as of the Effective Time:

(a) Organization, Standing and Authority. The Company is a corporation duly organized and validly existing under the laws of the State of Iowa and has all requisite power and authority to own, lease and operate its assets, properties and business and to carry on the operations of its business as they are now being conducted, except where the failure to have such authority would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect. The Company is duly qualified to do business as a foreign corporation and is in good standing in each jurisdiction where such qualification is necessary, except for those jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Company has all requisite corporate power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Company, and, subject to the due execution and delivery by the Reinsurer, this Agreement is valid and the binding obligation of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with its terms, subject to (i) bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, fraudulent transfer, moratorium and other similar laws now or hereafter in effect relating to or affecting the rights of creditors of insurance companies or creditor's rights generally and (ii) general principles of equity (regardless of whether considered in a proceeding at law or in equity).

(c) Actions and Proceedings. There are no outstanding orders, decrees or judgments by or with any Governmental Entity applicable to the Company or its properties or assets that, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. There are no actions, suits, arbitrations or legal, administrative or other proceedings pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened against, at law or in equity, or before or by any Governmental Entity or before any arbitrator of any kind which would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) No Conflict or Violation. The execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby in accordance with the terms and conditions hereof will not: (i) violate any provision of the charter, bylaws or other organizational document of the Company, (ii) violate, conflict with or result in the breach of any of the terms of, result in any modification of the effect of, otherwise give any other contracting party the right to terminate or constitute (or with notice or lapse of time or both, constitute) a default under, any contract to which the Company is a party or by or to which its properties may be bound or subject, (iii) violate any order, judgment, injunction, award or decree of any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, or any agreement with, or condition imposed by, any arbitrator or Governmental Entity, binding upon, the Company, (iv) violate any Applicable Law or (v) result in a breach or violation of any of the terms or conditions of, constitute a default under, or otherwise cause an impairment of, any license or authorization related to the Company's business or necessary to enable the Company to perform its obligations under this Agreement, except for any such violations, conflicts or breaches which would not individually or in the aggregate reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(e) Brokers and Financial Advisers. No broker, finder or financial adviser has acted directly or indirectly as such for, or is entitled to any compensation from, the Company in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 15.1 Errors and Omissions. If any delay, omission, error or failure to pay amounts due or to perform any other act required by this Agreement is caused by mistake, misunderstanding or oversight, the Parties will equitably adjust the situation to what it would have been had the mistake, misunderstanding or oversight not occurred, and the reinsurance provided hereunder will not be invalidated. Should it not be possible to adjust the situation, it will be resolved in accordance with dispute resolution procedures mutually selected by the Parties.

Section 15.2 Offset and Recoupment. Any debits or credits incurred on or after the Effective Time in favor of or against either the Company or the Reinsurer with respect to this Agreement are deemed mutual debits or credits and may be set off and recouped, and only the net balance shall be allowed or paid hereunder. In the event of any insolvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, conservatorship, supervision, receivership or comparable proceeding by or against the Company or the Reinsurer, the rights of offset and recoupment set forth in this Section 15.2 shall apply to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law.

Section 15.3 Expenses. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement each Party shall bear its own costs and expenses incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. All transfer, sales, use, value added, excise, stock transfer, documentary, stamp, recording, registration and any similar taxes that become payable as a result of the acquisition by the Reinsurer from the Company of the Transferred Assets (including any real property transfer tax and any similar tax) or the allocation of the Funds Withheld Assets to the Funds Withheld Account shall be borne fifty percent (50%) by the Company and fifty percent (50%) by the Reinsurer.

Section 15.4 Parties to this Agreement. This is an agreement for indemnity reinsurance solely between the Company and the Reinsurer. The performance of the obligations of each Party under this Agreement shall be rendered solely to the other Party. The acceptance of risks under this Agreement shall create no right or legal relationship between the Reinsurer and the insured, owner or beneficiary of any insurance policy or other contract of the Company.

Section 15.5 Authority. Neither the Company nor the Reinsurer shall have any power or authority to act for or on behalf of the other except as expressly granted herein or in the Administrative Services Agreement or Transition Services Agreement, and no other or greater power or authority shall be implied by the grant or denial of power or authority specifically mentioned herein. No employee or agent of either Party shall be considered an employee or agent of the other.

Section 15.6 No Assignment. This Agreement may not be assigned by either of the Parties hereto without the prior written approval of the other Party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Reinsurer shall not be prohibited from further transfer of risks accepted hereunder on a retrocession or other basis without the prior approval of the Company; provided that any transfer shall not relieve the Reinsurer of its obligations under this Agreement.

Section 15.7 Notices. Any notice, approval, request, consent, instruction, or other document to be given hereunder by any Party hereto to the other Party hereto will be delivered by personal delivery, overnight express or facsimile (followed by telephone confirmation with the intended recipient), as follows:

or at such other address for a Party as will be specified by like notice. Each notice or other communication required or permitted under this Agreement that is addressed as provided in this Section 15.7 will be deemed given upon delivery.

Section 15.8 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under any present or future law, and if the rights or obligations of the Company or the Reinsurer under this Agreement will not be materially and adversely affected thereby, (a) such provision will be fully severable, (b) this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof, (c) the remaining provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision or by its severance from this Agreement, and (d) in lieu of such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision, there will be added automatically as a part of this Agreement a legal, valid and enforceable provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision as may be possible.

Section 15.9 Announcements. Except as required by Applicable Law or in connection with public disclosure to investors or analysts, the content and timing of public announcements by either Party concerning the transactions contemplated by this Agreement must be approved in advance by both Parties, but such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

Section 15.10 Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits. All Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits to this Agreement are attached hereto and are incorporated herein by reference. The provisions of this Agreement (without reference to any attached Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits) shall be deemed to control in the event of any inconsistency or conflict between the provisions of this Agreement (without reference to any attached Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits) and the Schedules, Annexes and Exhibits attached hereto.

Section 15.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including all Exhibits, Annexes and Schedules hereto), and the Other Transaction Agreements constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties, both written and oral, between the Parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and such other agreements. Except as set forth in Sections 12.1 and 12.2 with respect to the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties and the Company Indemnified Parties, this Agreement is not intended to and shall not confer upon any Person other than the Parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

Section 15.12 Binding Effect. This Agreement is binding upon, and will inure to the benefit of, the Parties and their respective permitted assignees and successors (including any liquidator, rehabilitator, receiver or conservator of a Party).

Section 15.13 Waiver and Amendment. This Agreement may be modified or amended only by a writing duly executed by the Company and the Reinsurer. Any term or condition of this Agreement may be waived at any time by the Party that is entitled to the benefit thereof. A waiver must be in writing and must be executed by such Party. A waiver on any occasion shall not be deemed to be a waiver of the same or any term or condition on a future occasion.

Section 15.14 Headings. The headings in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

Section 15.15 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed simultaneously in any number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which will constitute one and the same instrument.

Section 15.16 No Prejudice. The Parties agree that this Agreement has been jointly negotiated and drafted by the Parties hereto and that the terms hereof shall not be construed in favor of or against any Party on account of its participation in such negotiations and drafting.

Section 15.17 Governing Law; Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York without giving effect to the principles of conflicts of law rules thereof, except that the laws of the State of Iowa shall apply with respect to insurance and reinsurance matters, including credit for reinsurance.

(b) Subject to Section 11.1 and Section 11.2, each party hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and of any New York state court sitting in New York County, for purposes of all legal proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement, or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, or for recognition and enforcement of any judgment in respect thereof. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each party hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such proceedings brought in such court and any claim that any such proceeding brought in such a court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Each party also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding shall be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Each party agrees that any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered, sent or mailed in accordance with Section 15.7, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(c) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION, ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR COUNTERCLAIM (WHETHER BASED IN CONTRACT, TORT OR OTHERWISE) DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (A) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (B) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (C) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (D) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 15.17.

Section 15.18 Further Assurances. Each Party shall take, or cause to be taken, any and all reasonable actions, including the execution, acknowledgment, filing and delivery of any and all documents and instruments that the other Party may reasonably request in order to effect the intent and purpose of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be executed by their respective duly authorized officers, effective as of the date first written above.

Competitive Impact

Set forth below are the market shares in Iowa of Athene Holding Ltd.'s ("Athene") and Aviva USA Corporation's ("AUSA") U.S. subsidiaries by line of business for 2011 as reported by A.M. Best. Applying the criteria set forth in the NAIC's Model Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act, the combined market share of Athene and AUSA is less than 5% of the total market for each line of business, which would fully exempt the Proposed Acquisition from application of the pre-acquisition notification requirements. Accordingly, the Proposed Acquisition will not substantially lessen competition in any line of business in Iowa or tend to create a monopoly in any line of business in Iowa.

ITEM 8. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY DATA

Index to Consolidated Financial Statements

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of
Apollo Global Management, LLC
New York, New York

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statements of financial condition of Apollo Global Management, LLC and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive income (loss), changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2012. We also have audited the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2012, based on criteria established in Internal Control—Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. The Company's management is responsible for these financial statements, for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting, and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Management's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and an opinion on the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement and whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audits of the financial statements included examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. Our audit of internal control over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. Our audits also included performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, the company's principal executive and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, and effected by the company's board of directors, management, and other personnel to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of the inherent limitations of internal control over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. Also, projections of any evaluation of the effectiveness of the internal control over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Apollo Global Management, LLC and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2012, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also, in our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2012, based on the criteria established in Internal Control—Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(dollars in thousands, except share data)

1. ORGANIZATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Apollo Global Management, LLC and its consolidated subsidiaries (the "Company" or "Apollo"), is a global alternative investment manager whose predecessor was founded in 1990. Its primary business is to raise, invest and manage private equity, credit and real estate funds as well as strategic investment accounts, on behalf of pension, endowment and sovereign wealth funds, as well as other institutional and individual investors. For these investment management services, Apollo receives management fees generally related to the amount of assets managed, transaction and advisory fees for the investments made and carried interest income related to the performance of the respective funds that it manages. Apollo has three primary business segments:

- Private equity—primarily invests in control equity and related debt instruments, convertible securities and distressed debt investments;
- Credit—primarily invests in non-control corporate and structured debt instruments; and
- Real estate—primarily invests in legacy commercial mortgage-backed securities, commercial first mortgage loans, mezzanine investments and other commercial real estate-related debt investments. Additionally, the Company sponsors real estate funds that focus on opportunistic investments in distressed debt and equity recapitalization transactions.

During the third quarter of 2012, the Company changed the name of its capital markets business segment to the credit segment. The Company believes this new name provides a more accurate description of the types of assets which are managed within this segment. In addition, this segment name change is consistent with the Company's management reporting and organizational structure as well as the manner in which resource deployment and compensation decisions are made.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, its wholly-owned or majority-owned subsidiaries, the consolidated entities which are considered to be variable interest entities and for which the Company is considered the primary beneficiary, and certain entities which are not considered variable interest entities but which the Company controls through a majority voting interest. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated upon consolidation.

Reorganization of the Company

The Company was formed as a Delaware limited liability company on July 3, 2007 and completed a reorganization of its predecessor businesses on July 13, 2007 (the "2007 Reorganization"). The Company is managed and operated by its manager, AGM Management, LLC, which in turn is indirectly wholly-owned and controlled by Leon Black, Joshua Harris and Marc Rowan (the "Managing Partners").

As of December 31, 2012, the Company owned, through three intermediate holding companies that include APO Corp., a Delaware corporation that is a domestic corporation for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, APO Asset Co., LLC ("APO Asset"), a Delaware limited liability company that is a disregarded entity for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, and APO (FC), LLC ("APO (FC)"), an Anguilla limited liability company that is treated as a corporation for U.S Federal income tax purposes (collectively, the "Intermediate Holding Companies"), 35.1% of the economic interests of, and operated and controlled all of the businesses and affairs of, the Apollo Operating Group through its wholly-owned subsidiaries.

AP Professional Holdings, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("Holdings"), is the entity through which the Managing Partners and certain of the Company's other partners (the "Contributing Partners") indirectly beneficially own, including in certain cases estate planning vehicles (through Holdings), Apollo Operating Group units ("AOG Units") that represent 64.9% of the economic interests in the Apollo Operating Group as of December 31, 2012. The Company consolidates the financial results of the Apollo Operating Group and its consolidated subsidiaries. Holdings' ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group is reflected as a Non-Controlling Interest in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Apollo also entered into an exchange agreement with Holdings that allows the partners in Holdings, subject to the vesting and minimum retained ownership requirements and transfer restrictions set forth in the partnership agreements of the Apollo Operating Group, to exchange their AOG Units for the Company's Class A shares on a one-for-one basis up to four times each year, upon notice, subject to customary conversion rate adjustments for splits, unit distributions and reclassifications. A limited partner in Holdings must exchange one partnership unit in each of the ten Apollo Operating Group partnerships to affect an exchange for one Class A share.

Initial Public Offering—On April 4, 2011, the Company completed the initial public offering ("IPO") of its Class A shares, representing limited liability company interests of the Company. The Company received net proceeds from the IPO of approximately $382.5 million, which were used to acquire additional AOG Units. As a result, Holdings' ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group decreased from 70.7% to 66.5% and Apollo Global Management, LLC's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group increased from 29.3% to 33.5% upon consummation of the IPO. As such, the difference between the fair value of the consideration paid for the Apollo Operating Group level ownership interest and the book value on the date of the IPO is reflected in Additional Paid in Capital.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of Consolidation—Apollo consolidates those entities it controls through a majority voting interest or through other means, including those funds in which the general partner is presumed to have control (e.g., AP Alternative Assets, L.P., ("AAA") and the Apollo Credit Senior Loan Fund, L.P. ("Apollo Senior Loan Fund")). Apollo also consolidates entities that are VIEs for which Apollo is the primary beneficiary. Under the amended consolidation rules, an enterprise is determined to be the primary beneficiary if it holds a controlling financial interest. A controlling financial interest is defined as (a) the power to direct the activities of a VIE that most significantly impact the entity's business and (b) the obligation to absorb losses of the entity or the right to receive benefits from the entity that could potentially be significant to the VIE.

Certain of the Company's subsidiaries hold equity interests in and/or receive fees qualifying as variable interests from the funds that the Company manages. The amended consolidation rules require an analysis to determine whether (a) an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE and (b) Apollo's involvement, through holding interests directly or indirectly in the entity or contractually through other variable interests (e.g., carried interest and management fees), would give it a controlling financial interest. When the VIE has qualified for the deferral of the amended consolidation rules in accordance with U.S. GAAP, the analysis is based on previous consolidation rules, which require an analysis to determine whether (a) an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE and (b) Apollo's involvement, through holding interests directly or indirectly in the entity or contractually through other variable interests (e.g., carried interest and management fees), would be expected to absorb a majority of the variability of the entity.

Under both the previous and amended consolidation rules, the determination of whether an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE requires judgments which include determining whether the equity investment at risk is sufficient to permit the entity to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support, evaluating whether the equity holders, as a group, can make decisions that have a significant effect on the success of the entity, determining whether two or more parties' equity interests should be aggregated, and determining whether the equity investors have proportionate voting rights to their obligations to absorb losses or rights to receive returns from an entity. Under both the previous and amended consolidation rules, Apollo determines whether it is the primary beneficiary of a VIE at the time it becomes involved with a VIE and reconsiders that conclusion continuously. The consolidation analysis can generally be performed qualitatively. However, if it is not readily apparent whether Apollo is the primary beneficiary, a quantitative expected losses and expected residual returns calculation will be performed. Investments and redemptions (either by Apollo, affiliates of Apollo or third parties) or amendments to the governing documents of the respective Apollo fund may affect an entity's status as a VIE or the determination of the primary beneficiary.

Apollo assesses whether it is the primary beneficiary and will consolidate or deconsolidate the entity accordingly. Performance of that assessment requires the exercise of judgment. Where the variable interests have qualified for the deferral, judgments are made in estimating cash flows in evaluating which member within the equity group absorbs a majority of the expected profits or losses of the VIE. Where the variable interests have not qualified for the deferral, judgments are made in determining whether a member in the equity group has a controlling financial interest including power to direct activities that most significantly impact the VIE's economic performance and rights to receive benefits or obligations to absorb losses that are potentially significant to the VIE. Under both guidelines, judgment is made in evaluating the nature of the relationships and activities of the parties involved in determining if there is a related-party group, and if so, which party within the related-party group is most closely associated with the VIE. The use of these judgments has a material impact to certain components of Apollo's consolidated financial statements.

The only VIE formed prior to 2010, the adoption date of amended consolidation guidance, was consolidated as of the date of transition resulting in recognition of the assets and liabilities of the consolidated VIE at fair value and recognition of a cumulative effect transition adjustment presented as a component of Non-Controlling Interests in Consolidated Entities in the consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity for the year ended December 31, 2010. The transition adjustment is classified as a component of Non-Controlling Interest rather than an adjustment to appropriated partners' capital because the VIE is funded with equity and 100% of the equity ownership of the VIE is held by unconsolidated Apollo funds and one unaffiliated third party. Changes in the fair value of assets and liabilities and the related interest, dividend and other income for this VIE are recorded within Non-Controlling Interests in consolidated entities in the consolidated statement of financial condition and within net gains from investment activities of consolidated VIEs and net (income) loss attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statement of operations.

Certain of the consolidated VIEs were formed to issue collateralized notes in the legal form of debt backed by financial assets. The difference between the fair value of the assets and liabilities of these VIEs is presented within appropriated partners' capital in the consolidated statements of financial condition as these VIEs are funded solely with debt. Changes in the fair value of the assets and liabilities of these VIEs and the related interest and other income is presented within net gains from investment activities of consolidated variable interest entities and net (income) loss attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statement of operations. Such amounts are recorded within appropriated partners' capital as, in each case, the VIE's note holders, not Apollo, will ultimately receive the benefits or absorb the losses associated with the VIE's assets and liabilities.

Assets and liability amounts of the consolidated VIEs are shown in separate sections within the consolidated statements of financial condition as of December 31, 2012 and 2011.

Refer to additional disclosures regarding VIEs in note 5 to our consolidated financial statements. Intercompany transactions and balances, if any, have been eliminated in consolidation.

Equity Method Investments—For investments in entities over which the Company exercises significant influence but which do not meet the requirements for consolidation, the Company uses the equity method of accounting, whereby the Company records its share of the underlying income or loss of

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

such entities. Income (loss) from equity method investments is recognized as part of other income (loss) in the consolidated statements of operations. The carrying amounts of equity method investments are reflected in investments in the consolidated statements of financial condition. As the underlying entities that the Company manages and invests in are, for U.S. GAAP purposes, primarily investment companies which reflect their investments at estimated fair value, the carrying value of the Company's equity method investments in such entities are at fair value.

Non-Controlling Interests—For entities that are consolidated, but not 100% owned, a portion of the income or loss and corresponding equity is allocated to owners other than Apollo. The aggregate of the income or loss and corresponding equity that is not owned by the Company is included in Non-Controlling Interest in the consolidated financial statements. As of December 31, 2012, the Non-Controlling Interests relating to Apollo Global Management, LLC primarily includes the 64.9% ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group held by the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners through their limited partner interests in Holdings and other ownership interests in consolidated entities, which primarily consist of the approximately 97% ownership interest held by limited partners in AAA as of December 31, 2012. Non-Controlling Interests also include limited partner interests of Apollo managed funds in certain consolidated VIEs.

Non-Controlling Interests are presented as a separate component of shareholders' equity on the Company's consolidated statements of financial condition; net income (loss) includes the net income (loss) attributed to the holders of Non-Controlling Interests on the Company's consolidated statements of operations; the primary components of Non-Controlling Interests are separately presented in the Company's consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity to clearly distinguish the interests in the Apollo Operating Group and other ownership interests in the consolidated entities; and profits and losses are allocated to Non-Controlling Interests in proportion to their ownership interests regardless of their basis.

Cash and Cash Equivalents—Apollo considers all highly liquid short-term investments with original maturities of 90 days or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. Substantially all amounts are on deposit in interest-bearing accounts with major financial institutions and exceed insured limits.

Restricted Cash—Restricted cash represents cash deposited at a bank, which is pledged as collateral in connection with leased premises.

Revenues—Revenues are reported in three separate categories that include (i) advisory and transaction fees from affiliates, which relate to the investments of the funds and may include individual monitoring agreements with the portfolio companies and debt investment vehicles of the private equity funds and credit funds; (ii) management fees from affiliates, which are based on committed capital, invested capital, net asset value, gross assets or as otherwise defined in the respective agreements; and (iii) carried interest income (loss) from affiliates, which is normally based on the performance of the funds subject to preferred return.

Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates—Advisory and transaction fees, including directors' fees are recognized when the underlying services rendered are substantially completed in accordance with the terms of the transaction and advisory agreements. Additionally, during the normal course of business, the Company incurs certain costs related to certain transactions that are not consummated ("broken deal costs"). These costs (e.g. research costs, due diligence costs, professional fees, legal fees and other related items) are determined to be broken deal costs upon management's decision to no longer pursue the transaction. In accordance with the related fund agreement, in the event the deal is deemed broken, all of the costs are reimbursed by the funds and then included in the calculation of the Management Fee Offset described below. If a deal is successfully completed, Apollo is reimbursed by the fund or fund's portfolio company of all costs incurred and no offset is generated.

Advisory and Transaction fees from Affiliates also include underwriting fees. Underwriting fees include gains, losses and fees, net of syndicate expenses, arising from securities offerings in which one of the Company's subsidiaries participates in the underwriter syndicate. Underwriting fees are recognized at the time the underwriting is completed and the income is reasonably assured and are included in the consolidated statements of operations. Fees recognized but not received are included in other assets on the consolidated statements of financial condition.

As a result of providing advisory services to certain private equity and credit portfolio companies, Apollo is generally entitled to receive fees for transactions related to the acquisition, in certain cases, and disposition of portfolio companies as well as ongoing monitoring of portfolio company operations and directors' fees. The amounts due from portfolio companies are included in "—Due from Affiliates," which is discussed further in note 15. Under the terms of the limited partnership agreements for certain funds, the management fee payable by the funds may be subject to a reduction based on a certain percentage of such advisory and transaction fees, net of applicable broken deal costs ("Management Fee Offset"). Such amounts are presented as a reduction to Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates in the consolidated statements of operations.

Management Fees from Affiliates—Management fees for private equity funds, real estate funds and certain credit funds are recognized in the period during which the related services are performed in accordance with the contractual terms of the related agreement, and are generally based upon (1) a percentage of the capital committed during the commitment period, and thereafter based on the remaining invested capital of unrealized investments, or (2) net asset value, gross assets or as otherwise defined in the respective agreements.

Carried Interest Income from Affiliates—Apollo is entitled to an incentive return that can normally amount to as much as 20% of the total returns on funds' capital, depending upon performance. Performance-based fees are assessed as a percentage of the investment performance of the funds. The carried interest income from affiliates for any period is based upon an assumed liquidation of the fund's net assets on the reporting date, and distribution of the net proceeds in accordance with the fund's income allocation provisions. Carried interest receivable is presented separately in the consolidated statements of financial condition. The carried interest income from affiliates may be subject to reversal to the extent that the carried interest income recorded exceeds the amount due to the general partner based on a fund's cumulative investment returns. When applicable, the accrual for potential repayment of previously received carried interest income, which is a component of due to affiliates, represents all amounts previously distributed to the general partner that would need to be repaid to the Apollo funds if these funds were to be liquidated based on the current fair value of the underlying funds' investments as of the reporting date. The actual general partner obligation, however, would not become payable or realized until the end of a fund's life.

Management Fee Waiver and Notional Investment Program—Under the terms of certain investment fund partnership agreements, Apollo may from time to time elect to forgo a portion of the management fee revenue that is due from the funds and instead receive a right to a proportionate interest in future distributions of profits of those funds. Waived fees recognized during the period are included in management fees from affiliates in the consolidated statements of operations. This election allows certain employees of Apollo to waive a portion of their respective share of future income from Apollo and receive, in lieu of a cash distribution, title and ownership of the profits interests in the respective fund. Apollo immediately assigns the profits interests received to its employees. Such assignments of profits interests are treated as compensation and benefits when assigned. The investment period for Fund VII and ANRP for the management fee waiver plan was terminated as of December 31, 2012.

Deferred Revenue—Apollo earns management fees subject to the Management Fee Offset. When advisory and transaction fees are earned by the management company, the Management Fee Offset reduces the management fee obligation of the fund. When the management company receives cash for advisory and transaction fees, a certain percentage of such advisory and/or transaction fees, as applicable, is allocated as a credit to reduce future management fees, otherwise payable by such fund. Such credit is classified as deferred revenue in the consolidated statements of financial condition. As the management fees earned by the management company are presented on a gross basis, any Management Fee Offsets calculated are presented as a reduction to Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates in the consolidated statements of operations.

Additionally, Apollo earns advisory fees pursuant to the terms of the advisory agreements with certain of the portfolio companies that are owned by the funds. When Apollo receives a payment from a portfolio company that exceeds the advisory fees earned at that point in time, the excess payment is classified as deferred revenue in the consolidated statements of financial condition. The advisory agreements with the portfolio companies vary in duration and the associated fees are received monthly, quarterly or annually. Deferred revenue is reversed and recognized as revenue over the period that the agreed upon services are performed.

Under the terms of the funds' partnership agreements, Apollo is normally required to bear organizational expenses over a set dollar amount and placement fees or costs in connection with the offering and sale of interests in the funds to investors. The placement fees are payable to placement agents, who are independent third parties that assist in identifying potential investors, securing commitments to invest from such potential investors, preparing or revising offering and marketing materials, developing strategies for attempting to secure investments by potential investors and/or providing feedback and insight regarding issues and concerns of potential investors, when a limited partner either commits or funds a commitment to a fund. In certain instances the placement fees are paid over a period of time. Based on the management agreements with the funds, Apollo considers placement fees and organizational costs paid in determining if cash has been received in excess of the management fees earned. Placement fees and organizational costs are normally the obligation of Apollo but can be paid for by the funds. When these costs are paid by the fund, the resulting obligations are included within deferred revenue. The deferred revenue balance will also be reduced during future periods when management fees are earned but not paid.

Interest and Other Income—Apollo recognizes security transactions on the trade date. Interest income is recognized as earned on an accrual basis. Discounts and premiums on securities purchased are accreted or amortized over the life of the respective securities using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are recorded based on the specific identification method.

Due from/to Affiliates—Apollo considers its existing partners, employees, certain former employees, portfolio companies of the funds and non-consolidated private equity, credit and real estate funds to be affiliates or related parties.

Investments, at Fair Value—The Company follows U.S. GAAP attributable to fair value measurements, which among other things, requires enhanced disclosures about investments that are measured and reported at fair value. Investments, at fair value, represent investments of the consolidated funds, investments of the consolidated VIEs and certain financial instruments for which the fair value option was elected. The unrealized gains and losses resulting from changes in the fair value are reflected as net gains (losses) from investment activities and net gains (losses) from investment activities of the consolidated variable interest entities, respectively, in the consolidated statements of operations. In accordance with U.S. GAAP, investments measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following categories:

Level I—Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the reporting date. The type of investments included in Level I include listed equities and listed derivatives. As required by U.S. GAAP, the Company does not adjust the quoted price for these investments, even in situations where the Company holds a large position and the sale of such position would likely deviate from the quoted price.

Level II—Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies. Investments that are generally included in this category include corporate bonds and loans, less liquid and restricted equity securities and certain over-the-counter derivatives where the fair value is based on observable inputs. These investments exhibit

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

higher levels of liquid market observability as compared to Level III investments. The Company subjects broker quotes to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level II investment. These criteria include, but are not limited to, the number and quality of broker quotes, the standard deviation of obtained broker quotes, and the percentage deviation from independent pricing services.

Level III—Pricing inputs are unobservable for the investment and includes situations where there is little observable market activity for the investment. The inputs into the determination of fair value may require significant management judgment or estimation. Investments that are included in this category generally include general and limited partnership interests in corporate private equity and real estate funds, opportunistic credit funds, distressed debt and non-investment grade residual interests in securitizations and CDOs and CLOs where the fair value is based on observable inputs as well as unobservable inputs. When a security is valued based on broker quotes, the Company subjects those quotes to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level II or Level III investment. Some of the factors we consider include the number of broker quotes we obtain, the quality of the broker quotes, the standard deviations of the observed broker quotes and the corroboration of the broker quotes to independent pricing services.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment when the fair value is based on unobservable inputs.

In cases where an investment or financial instrument that is measured and reported at fair value is transferred into or out of Level III of the fair value hierarchy, the Company accounts for the transfer as of the end of the reporting period.

Private Equity Investments

The value of liquid investments, where the primary market is an exchange (whether foreign or domestic) is determined using period end market prices. Such prices are generally based on the close price on the date of determination.

Valuation approaches used to estimate the fair value of investments that are less liquid include the income approach and the market approach. The market approach provides an indication of fair value based on a comparison of the subject company to comparable publicly traded companies and transactions in the industry. The market approach is driven more by current market conditions, including actual trading levels of similar companies and, to the extent available, actual transaction data of similar companies. Judgment is required by management when assessing which companies are similar to the subject company being valued. Consideration may also be given to such factors as the Company's historical and projected financial data, valuations given to comparable companies, the size and scope of the Company's operations, the Company's strengths, weaknesses, expectations relating to the market's receptivity to an offering of the Company's securities, applicable restrictions on transfer, industry and market information and assumptions, general economic and market conditions and other factors deemed relevant. The income approach provides an indication of fair value based on the present value of cash flows that a business or security is expected to generate in the future. The most widely used methodology used in the income approach is a discounted cash flow method. Inherent in the discounted cash flow method are assumptions of expected results and a calculated discount rate.

On a quarterly basis, Apollo utilizes a valuation committee, consisting of members from senior management, to review and approve the valuation results related to our private equity investments. The Company also retains independent valuation firms to provide third-party valuation consulting services to Apollo, which consist of certain limited procedures that management identifies and requests them to perform. The limited procedures provided by the independent valuation firms assist management with validating their valuation results or determining fair value. The Company performs various back-testing procedures to validate their valuation approaches, including comparisons between expected and observed outcomes, forecast evaluations and variance analysis. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, those estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed, and the differences could be material.

Credit Investments

The majority of the investments in Apollo's credit funds are valued based on quoted market prices and valuation models. Debt and equity securities that are not publicly traded or whose market prices are not readily available are valued at fair value utilizing recognized pricing services, market participants or other sources. The credit funds also enter into foreign currency exchange contracts, total return swap contracts, credit default swap contracts, and other derivative contracts, which may include options, caps, collars and floors. Foreign currency exchange contracts are marked-to-market by recognizing the difference between the contract exchange rate and the current market rate as unrealized appreciation or depreciation. If securities are held at the end of this period, the changes in value are recorded in income as unrealized. Realized gains or losses are recognized when contracts are settled. Total return swap contracts and credit default swap contracts are recorded at fair value as an asset or liability with changes in fair value recorded as unrealized appreciation or depreciation. Realized gains or losses are recognized at the termination of the contract based on the difference between the close-out price of the total return or credit default swap contract and the original contract price.

Forward contracts are valued based on market rates obtained from counterparties or prices obtained from recognized financial data service providers. When determining fair value pricing when no market value exists, the value attributed to an investment is based on the enterprise value at the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Valuation approaches used to estimate the fair value of illiquid investments included in Apollo's credit funds also may use the income approach or market approach. The valuation approaches used consider, as applicable, market risks, credit risks, counterparty risks and foreign currency risks.

On a quarterly basis, Apollo utilizes a valuation committee, consisting of members from senior management, to review and approve the valuation results related to our credit investments. The Company performs various back-testing procedures to validate their valuation approaches, including comparisons between expected and observed outcomes, forecast evaluations and variance analysis.

Real Estate Investments

For the CMBS portfolio of Apollo's funds, the estimated fair value is determined by reference to market prices provided by certain dealers who make a market in these financial instruments. Broker quotes are only indicative of fair value and may not necessarily represent what the funds would receive in an actual trade for the applicable instrument. Additionally, the loans held-for-investment are stated at the principal amount outstanding, net of deferred loan fees and costs for certain investments. For Apollo's opportunistic and value added real estate funds, valuations of non-marketable underlying investments are determined using methods that include, but are not limited to (i) discounted cash flow estimates or comparable analysis prepared internally, (ii) third party appraisals or valuations by qualified real estate appraisers, and (iii) contractual sales value of investments/properties subject to bona fide purchase contracts. Methods (i) and (ii) also incorporate consideration of the use of the income, cost, or sales comparison approaches of estimating property values.

On a quarterly basis, Apollo utilizes a valuation committee, consisting of members from senior management, to review and approve the valuation results related to our real estate investments. The Company performs various back-testing procedures to validate their valuation approaches, including comparisons between expected and observed outcomes, forecast evaluations and variance analysis.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

Except for the Company's debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement (as defined in note 12), Apollo's financial instruments are recorded at fair value or at amounts whose carrying value approximates fair value. See "—Investments, at Fair Value" above. While Apollo's valuations of portfolio investments are based on assumptions that Apollo believes are reasonable under the circumstances, the actual realized gains or losses will depend on, among other factors, future operating results, the value of the assets and market conditions at the time of disposition, any related transaction costs and the timing and manner of sale, all of which may ultimately differ significantly from the assumptions on which the valuations were based. Other financial instruments carrying values generally approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of those instruments or variable interest rates related to the borrowings. As disclosed in note 12, the Company's long term debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement is believed to have an estimated fair value of approximately $795.6 million based on a yield analysis using available market data of comparable securities with similar terms and remaining maturities as of December 31, 2012. However, the carrying value that is recorded on the consolidated statements of financial condition is the amount for which we expect to settle the long term debt obligation. The Company has determined that the long term debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement would be categorized as a Level III liability in the fair-value hierarchy.

Fair Value Option—Apollo has elected the fair value option for the convertible notes issued by HFA and for the assets and liabilities of the consolidated VIEs. Such election is irrevocable and is applied to financial instruments on an individual basis at initial recognition. Apollo has applied the fair value option for certain corporate loans, other investments and debt obligations held by the consolidated VIEs that otherwise would not have been carried at fair value. For the convertible notes issued by HFA, Apollo has elected to separately present interest income from other changes in the fair value of the convertible notes in the consolidated statements of operations. Refer to notes 4 and 5 for further disclosure on the investment in HFA and financial instruments of the consolidated VIEs for which the fair value option has been elected.

Interest Rate Swap Agreements—Apollo recognizes derivatives as either an asset or liability measured at fair value. In order to reduce interest rate risk, Apollo entered into interest rate swap agreements which were formally designated as cash flow hedges. To qualify for cash flow hedge accounting, interest rate swaps must meet certain criteria, including (a) the items to be hedged expose Apollo to interest rate risk and (b) the interest rate swaps are highly effective in reducing Apollo's exposure to interest rate risk. Apollo formally documents at inception its hedge relationships, including identification of the hedging instruments and the hedged items, its risk management objectives, its strategy for undertaking the hedge transaction and Apollo's evaluation of effectiveness. Effectiveness is periodically assessed based upon a comparison of the relative changes in the cash flows of the interest rate swaps and the items being hedged.

For derivatives that have been formally designated as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivatives are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income ("OCI"). Amounts in OCI are reclassified into earnings when interest expense on the underlying borrowings is recognized. If, at any time, the swaps are determined to be ineffective, in whole or in part, due to changes in the interest rate swap or underlying debt agreements, the fair value of the portion of the interest rate swap determined to be ineffective will be recognized as a gain or loss in the consolidated statements of operations.

Financial Instruments held by Consolidated VIEs

The consolidated VIEs hold investments that are traded over-the-counter. Investments in securities that are traded on a securities exchange or comparable over-the-counter quotation systems are valued based on the last reported sale price at that date. If no sales of such investments are reported on such date, and in the case of over-the-counter securities or other investments for which the last sale date is not available, valuations are based on independent market quotations obtained from market participants, recognized pricing services or other sources deemed relevant, and the prices are based on the average of the "bid" and "ask" prices, or at ascertainable prices at the close of business on such day. Market quotations are generally based on valuation pricing models or market transactions of similar securities adjusted for security-specific factors such as relative capital structure priority and interest and yield risks, among other factors. When market quotations are not available a model based approach is used to determine fair value.

The consolidated VIEs also have debt obligations that are recorded at fair value. The primary valuation methodology used to determine fair value for debt obligation is market quotation. Prices are based on the average of the "bid" and "ask" prices. In the event that market quotations are not available a model based approach is used. The valuation approach used to estimate the fair values of debt obligations for which market quotations are not available is the discounted cash flow method, which includes consideration of the cash flows of the debt obligation based on projected quarterly interest payments and quarterly amortization. Debt obligations are discounted based on the appropriate yield curve given the loan's respective maturity and credit rating. Management uses its discretion and judgment in considering and appraising relevant factors for determining the valuations of its debt obligations.

Pending Deal Costs

Pending deal costs consist of certain costs incurred (e.g. research costs, due diligence costs, professional fees, legal fees and other related items) related to private equity, credit and real estate fund transactions that we are pursuing but which have not yet been consummated. These costs are deferred until such transactions are broken or successfully completed. A transaction is determined to be broken upon management's decision to no longer pursue the transaction. In accordance with the related fund agreements, in the event the deal is broken, all of the costs are generally reimbursed by the funds and considered in the calculation of the Management Fee Offset. These offsets are included in Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates in the Company's consolidated statements of operations. If a deal is successfully completed, Apollo is reimbursed by the fund or a fund's portfolio company for all costs incurred.

Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets consist primarily of ownership interests in aircraft, leasehold improvements, furniture, fixtures and equipment, computer hardware and software and are recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization is calculated using the straight-line method over the assets' estimated useful lives and in the case of leasehold improvements the lesser of the useful life or the term of the lease. Aircraft engine overhauls are capitalized and depreciated until the next expected overhaul. Expenditures for repairs and maintenance are charged to expense when incurred. The Company evaluates long-lived assets for impairment periodically and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amounts of the assets may be impaired.

Business Combinations—The Company accounts for acquisitions using the purchase method of accounting in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Under the purchase method of accounting, the purchase price of an acquisition is allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed using the fair values determined by management as of the acquisition date.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets—Goodwill and indefinite-life intangible assets must be reviewed annually for impairment or more frequently if circumstances indicate impairment may have occurred. Identifiable finite-life intangible assets, by contrast, are amortized over their estimated useful lives, which are periodically re-evaluated for impairment or when circumstances indicate an impairment may have occurred. Apollo amortizes its identifiable finite-life intangible assets using a method of amortization reflecting the pattern in which the economic benefits of the finite-life intangible asset are consumed or otherwise used up. If that pattern cannot be reliably determined, Apollo uses the straight-line method of amortization. At June 30, 2012, the Company performed its annual impairment testing and determined there was no impairment of goodwill or indefinite life intangible assets at such time.

Profit Sharing Payable—Profit sharing payable primarily represents the amounts payable to employees and former employees who are entitled to a proportionate share of carried interest income in one or more funds. This portion of the liability is calculated based upon the changes to realized and unrealized carried interest and is therefore not payable until the carried interest itself is realized.

Profit sharing payable also includes amounts payable to certain employees of the Company who are entitled to a share in the earnings of and any appreciation in the value in one of the Company's subsidiaries, during the term of their employment. This portion of the liability is recognized ratably over the requisite service period and thereafter will be recognized at the time the distributions are determined. This amount shall be payable out of distributable funds based upon proceeds received by the subsidiary through management fees earned.

Profit sharing payable also includes contingent obligations that were recognized in connection with certain Apollo acquisitions.

Debt Issuance Costs—Debt issuance costs consist of costs incurred in obtaining financing and are amortized over the term of the financing using the effective interest method. These costs are included in Other Assets on the consolidated statements of financial condition.

Foreign Currency—The Company may, from time to time, hold foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities. Such assets and liabilities are translated using the exchange rates prevailing at the end of each reporting period. The functional currency of the Company's international subsidiaries is the U.S. Dollar, as their operations are considered an extension of U.S. parent operations. Non-monetary assets and liabilities of the Company's international subsidiaries are remeasured into the functional currency using historical exchange rates specific to each asset and liability. The results of the Company's foreign operations are normally remeasured using an average exchange rate for the respective reporting period. All currency remeasurement adjustments are included within other income (loss), net in the consolidated statements of operations. Gains and losses on the settlement of foreign currency transactions are also included within other income (loss), net in the consolidated statements of operations.

Compensation and Benefits

Equity-Based Compensation—Equity-based compensation is measured based on the grant date fair value of the award. Equity-based awards that do not require future service (i.e., vested awards) are expensed immediately. Equity-based employee awards that require future service are expensed over the relevant service period. The Company estimates forfeitures for equity-based awards that are not expected to vest. Equity-based awards granted to non-employees for services provided to the affiliates are remeasured to fair value at the end of each reporting period and expensed over the relevant service period.

Salaries, Bonus and Benefits—Salaries, bonus and benefits includes base salaries, discretionary and non-discretionary bonuses, severance and employee benefits. Bonuses are generally accrued over the related service period.

From time to time, the Company may assign profits interests received in lieu of management fees to certain investment professionals. Such assignments of profits interests are treated as compensation and benefits when assigned.

The Company sponsors a 401(k) Savings Plan whereby U.S.-based employees are entitled to participate in the plan based upon satisfying certain eligibility requirements. The Company may provide discretionary contributions from time to time. No contributions relating to this plan were made by the Company for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

Profit Sharing Expense—Profit sharing expense consists of a portion of carried interest recognized in one or more funds allocated to employees and former employees. Profit sharing expense is recognized on an accrued basis as the related carried interest income is earned. Profit sharing expense can be reversed during periods when there is a decline in carried interest income that was previously recognized. Additionally, profit sharing expenses previously distributed may be subject to clawback from employees, former employees and Contributing Partners.

Changes in the fair value of the contingent obligations that were recognized in connection with certain Apollo acquisitions will be reflected in the Company's consolidated statements of operations as profit sharing expense.

Profit sharing expense is also the result of profits interests issued to certain employees whereby they are entitled to a share in earnings of and any appreciation of the value in a subsidiary of the Company during their term of employment. Profit sharing expense related to these profits interests is recognized ratably over the requisite service period and thereafter will be recognized at the time the distributions are determined.

In June 2011, the Company adopted a performance based incentive arrangement for certain Apollo partners and employees designed to more closely align compensation on an annual basis with the overall realized performance of the Company. This arrangement enables certain partners and employees to earn discretionary compensation based on carried interest realizations earned by the Company in a given year, which amounts are reflected in profit sharing expense in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Incentive Fee Compensation—Certain employees are entitled to receive a discretionary portion of incentive fee income from certain of our credit funds, based on performance for the year. Incentive fee compensation expense is recognized on an accrual basis as the related carried interest income is earned. Incentive fee compensation expense may be subject to reversal until the carried interest income crystallizes.

Other Income (Loss)

Net Gains (Losses) from Investment Activities—Net gains (losses) from investment activities include both realized gains and losses and the change in unrealized gains and losses in the Company's investment portfolio between the opening balance sheet date and the closing balance sheet date. The consolidated financial statements include the net realized and unrealized gains (losses) of investments at fair value.

Net Gains from Investment Activities of Consolidated Variable Interest Entities—Changes in the fair value of the consolidated VIEs' assets and liabilities and related interest, dividend and other income and expenses subsequent to consolidation are presented within net gains (losses) from investment activities of consolidated variable interest entities and are attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statements of operations.

Other Income (Loss), Net—Other income, net includes the recognition of bargain purchase gains as a result of Apollo acquisitions, gains (losses) arising from the remeasurement of foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities of foreign subsidiaries, and other miscellaneous non-operating income and expenses.

Comprehensive (Loss) Income—U.S. GAAP guidance establishes standards for reporting comprehensive income and its components in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. U.S. GAAP requires that the Company classify items of OCI by their nature in the financial statements and display the accumulated balance of OCI separately in the shareholders' equity section of the Company's consolidated statements of financial condition. Comprehensive income (loss) consists of net income (loss) and OCI. Apollo's OCI is primarily comprised of the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the interest rate swap agreements discussed previously. If, at any time, any of the Company's subsidiaries' functional currency becomes non-U.S. dollar denominated, the Company will record foreign currency cumulative translation adjustments in OCI.

Income Taxes—The Apollo Operating Group and its subsidiaries generally operate as partnerships for U.S. Federal income tax purposes. As a result, except as described below, the Apollo Operating Group has not been subject to U.S. income taxes. However, these entities in some cases are subject to New York City unincorporated business taxes (" NYC UBT") and non-U.S. entities, in some cases, are subject to non-U.S. corporate income taxes. In addition, APO Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, is subject to U.S. Federal, state and local corporate income tax, and the Company's provision for income taxes is accounted for in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

As significant judgment is required in determining tax expense and in evaluating tax positions, including evaluating uncertainties, we recognize the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only where the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. The tax benefit is measured as the largest amount of benefit that has a greater than 50% likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. If a tax position is not considered more likely than not to be sustained, then no benefits of the position are recognized. The Company's tax positions are reviewed and evaluated quarterly to determine whether or not we have uncertain tax positions that require financial statement recognition.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the expected future tax consequences of differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities and their respective tax basis using currently enacted tax rates. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period when the change is enacted. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized.

Net Income (Loss) Per Class A Share—U.S. GAAP requires use of the two-class method of computing earnings per share for all periods presented for each class of common stock and participating security as if all earnings for the period had been distributed. Under the two-class method, during periods of net income, the net income is first reduced for distributions declared on all classes of securities to arrive at undistributed earnings. During periods of net losses, the net loss is reduced for distributions declared on participating securities only if the security has the right to participate in the earnings of the entity and an objectively determinable contractual obligation to share in net losses of the entity.

The remaining earnings are allocated to Class A Shares and participating securities to the extent that each security shares in earnings as if all of the earnings for the period had been distributed. Each total is then divided by the applicable number of shares to arrive at basic earnings per share. For the diluted earnings, the denominator includes all outstanding common shares and all potential common shares assumed issued if they are dilutive. The numerator is adjusted for any changes in income or loss that would result from a hypothetical conversion of these potential common shares.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Apollo's most significant estimates include goodwill, intangible assets, income taxes, carried interest income from affiliates, contingent consideration obligations related to acquisitions, non-cash compensation and fair value of investments and debt in the consolidated and unconsolidated funds and VIEs. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2011, the FASB issued guidance to enhance disclosures about financial instruments and derivative instruments that are either (1) offset or (2) subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement, irrespective of whether they are offset. Under the guidance, an entity is required to disclose quantitative information relating to recognized assets and liabilities that are offset or subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement, including the gross amounts of those recognized assets and liabilities, the amounts offset to determine the net amount presented in the statement of financial position, and the net amount presented in the statement of financial position. With respect to amounts subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement which are not offset, disclosure is required of the amounts related to recognized financial instruments and other derivative instruments, the amount related to financial collateral (including cash collateral), and the overall net amount after considering amounts that have not been offset. The guidance is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2013 and interim periods within those annual periods and retrospective application is required. As the amendments are limited to disclosure only, the adoption of this guidance will not have a material impact on the Company's financial statements.

In July 2012, the FASB issued amended guidance related to testing indefinite-lived intangible assets, other than goodwill, for impairment. Under the revised guidance, entities have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that an indefinite-lived intangible asset is impaired. If an entity determines, on the basis of qualitative factors, that the fair value of the indefinite-lived intangible asset is more likely than not to be less than the carrying amount, then the entity must perform the quantitative impairment test; otherwise, further testing would not be required. The amendments are effective for all entities for annual and interim impairment tests performed for fiscal years beginning after September 15, 2012. The adoption of this guidance will not have an impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements when the Company performs its annual impairment test in June 2013.

In February 2013, the FASB issued an update which includes amendments that require an entity to report the effect of significant reclassifications out of accumulated other comprehensive income (OCI) on the respective line items in net income if the amount being reclassified is required under U.S. GAAP to be reclassified in its entirety to net income. For other amounts that are not required under U.S. GAAP to be reclassified in their entirety to net income in the same reporting period, an entity is required to cross-reference other required disclosures that provide additional detail about those amounts. The new requirement presents information on amounts reclassified out of accumulated OCI and their corresponding effect on net income in one place or in some cases, provides for cross-references to related footnote disclosures. For public entities, the amendments are effective prospectively for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2012. As the amendments are limited to disclosure only, the adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

3. ACQUISITIONS AND BUSINESS COMBINATIONS

Business Combinations

Stone Tower

On April 2, 2012, the Company completed its previously announced acquisition of the membership interests of Stone Tower Capital LLC and its related management companies ("Stone Tower"), a leading alternative credit manager. The acquisition was consummated by the Company for total consideration at fair value of approximately $237.2 million. The transaction added significant scale and several new credit product capabilities and increased the assets under management of the credit segment.

Consideration exchanged at closing included a payment of approximately $105.5 million, which the Company funded from its existing cash resources, and equity granted to the former owners of Stone Tower with grant date fair value of $14.0 million valued using the Company's closing stock price on April 2, 2012 of $14.40. Additionally, the Company will also make payments to the former owners of Stone Tower under a contingent consideration obligation which requires the Company to transfer cash to the former owners of Stone Tower based on a specified percentage of carried interest income. The contingent consideration obligation had an acquisition date fair value of approximately $117.7 million, which was determined based on the present value of the estimated future carried interest payments of approximately $139.4 million using a discount rate of 9.5%, and is reflected in profit sharing payable in the consolidated statements of financial condition.

As a result of the acquisition, the Company incurred $4.6 million in acquisition costs, of which $2.8 million was incurred during the year ended December 31, 2012.

Tangible assets acquired in the acquisition consisted of management and carried interest receivable and other assets. Intangible assets acquired consisted primarily of certain management contracts providing economic rights to management fees, senior fees, subordinate fees, and carried interest from existing CLOs, funds and strategic investment accounts.

The Company has performed an analysis and an evaluation of the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The estimated fair value of the assets acquired exceeded the estimated fair value of the liabilities assumed as of the acquisition date resulting in a bargain purchase gain of approximately $1,951.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2012. The bargain purchase gain is reflected in other income, net within the consolidated statements of operations with corresponding amounts reflected as components of appropriated partners' capital within the consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity. The estimated fair values for the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed are summarized in the following table:

Tangible Assets:
Cash	$ 6,310
Carried Interest Receivable	36,097
Due from Affiliates	1,642
Other Assets	2,492
Total assets of consolidated variable interest entities	10,136,869
Intangible Assets:
Management Fees Contracts	9,658
Senior Fees Contracts	568
Subordinate Fees Contracts	2,023
Carried Interest Contracts	85,071
Non-Compete Covenants	200
Fair Value of Assets Acquired	10,280,930
Liabilities Assumed:
Accounts payable and accrued expenses	3,570
Due to Affiliates	4,410
Other Liabilities	8,979
Total liabilities of consolidated variable interest entities	7,815,434
Fair Value of Liabilities Assumed	7,832,393
Fair Value of Net Assets Acquired	2,448,537
Less: Net assets attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in consolidated entities	260,203
Less: Fair Value of Consideration Transferred	237,201
Gain on Acquisition	$ 1,951,133

The bargain purchase gain was recorded in other income, net in the consolidated statements of operations. During the one year measurement period, any changes resulting from facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date will be reflected as a retrospective adjustment to the bargain purchase gain and the respective asset acquired or liability assumed.

The acquisition related intangible assets valuation and related amortization are as follows:

	Weighted Average Useful Life in Years	As of December 31, 2012
Management Fees contracts	2.2	$ 9,658
Senior Fees Contracts	2.4	568

Gulf Stream

On October 24, 2011, the Company completed its previously announced acquisition of 100% of the membership interests of Gulf Stream Asset Management, LLC ("Gulf Stream"), a manager of collateralized loan obligations. The acquisition was consummated by the Company for total consideration at fair value of approximately $39.0 million.

The transaction broadens Apollo's existing senior credit business by expanding our credit coverage as well as investor relationships and increases the assets under management of Apollo's credit business.

Consideration exchanged at closing consisted of payment of approximately $29.6 million, of which $6.7 million was used to repay subordinated notes and debt due to the existing shareholder on behalf of Gulf Stream. The Company funded the consideration exchanged at closing from its existing cash resources. Additional consideration of $4.0 million having an acquisition date fair value of $3.9 million will be paid to the former owners of Gulf Stream on the fourteen-month anniversary of the closing date. The Company will also make payments to the former owners of Gulf Stream under a contingent consideration obligation which requires the Company to transfer cash to the former owners of Gulf Stream based on a specified percentage of carried interest income. The contingent consideration liability had an acquisition date fair value of approximately $5.4 million, which was determined based on the present value of the estimated range of future carried interest payments between $0 and approximately $8.7 million using a discount rate of 13.7%.

Tangible assets acquired in the acquisition consisted of a management fee receivable. Intangible assets acquired consisted primarily of certain management contracts providing economic rights to senior fees, subordinate fees, and incentive fees from existing CLOs managed by Gulf Stream. Additionally, as part of the acquisition, the Company acquired the assets and liabilities of six consolidated CLOs.

The Company has performed an analysis and an evaluation of the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The estimated fair value of the assets acquired exceeded the estimated fair value of the liabilities assumed as of the acquisition date resulting in a bargain purchase gain of approximately $196.2 million. The bargain purchase gain is reflected in other income, net within the consolidated statements of operations with a corresponding amount reflected in appropriated partners' capital within the consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity. The estimated fair values for the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed are summarized in the following table:

Tangible Assets:

Other Acquisitions

On February 1, 2010, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of a limited company incorporated under the laws of Hong Kong and related entities thereto. The Company paid cash consideration of $1.4 million for identifiable assets with a combined fair value of $0.4 million, which resulted in $1.0 million of additional goodwill.

CPI

On November 12, 2010, Apollo completed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of Citi Property Investors ("CPI"), the real estate investment management group of Citigroup Inc. CPI had AUM of approximately $3.6 billion as of December 31, 2010. CPI is an integrated real estate investment platform with investment professionals located in Asia, Europe and North America. As part of the acquisition, Apollo received cash of $15.5 million and acquired general partner interests in, and advisory agreements with, various real estate investment funds and co-invest vehicles and added to its team of real estate professionals. The consideration transferred in the acquisition is a contingent consideration in the form of a liability incurred by Apollo to CPI. The liability is an obligation of Apollo to transfer cash to CPI based on a specified percentage of future earnings. The estimated fair value of the contingent liability was $1.2 million as of November 12, 2010. The acquisition was accounted for as a business combination and the Company recorded a $24.1 million gain on acquisition which is included in other income (loss), net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations for the year ended December 31, 2010.

Securities

At December 31, 2012 and 2011, the sole investment held by AAA was its investment in AAA Investments, L.P. ("AAA Investments"), which is measured based on AAA's share of net asset value of AAA investments. The following tables represent each investment of AAA Investments constituting more than five percent of the net assets of the funds that the Company consolidates (excluding VIEs) as of the aforementioned dates:

	December 31, 2012
	Instrument Type	Cost	Fair Value	% of Net Assets of Consolidated Funds
Athene Holding Ltd.(1)	Equity	$1,276,366	$1,578,954	93.4%

(1) Two subsidiaries of AAA Investments, AAA Guarantor-Athene, L.P. and Apollo Life Re Ltd., own the majority of the equity of Athene Holding Ltd.

AAA Investments owns through its subsidiaries the majority of the equity of Athene Holding Ltd. ("Athene"), the direct or indirect parent of the following principal operating subsidiaries: Athene Life Re Ltd., a Bermuda-based reinsurance company focused on the fixed annuity reinsurance sector, Athene Annuity & Life Assurance Company (formerly Liberty Life Insurance Company), a Delaware-domiciled (formerly South Carolina-domiciled) stock life insurance company focused on retail sales and reinsurance in the retirement services market, Athene Life Insurance Company, a Delaware-domiciled (formerly Indiana-domiciled) stock life insurance company focused on the institutional funding agreement backed note and funding agreement markets, and Presidential Life Corporation, a New-York-domiciled stock life insurance company focused on retail sales of fixed annuity products principally in New York.

During the fourth quarter of 2012, AAA and AAA Investments consummated a transaction whereby a wholly-owned subsidiary of AAA Investments contributed substantially all of its investments to Athene Holding Ltd. in exchange for common shares of Athene Holding Ltd., cash and a short term promissory note (the "AAA Transaction"). After the AAA Transaction, Athene Holding Ltd. was AAA's only material investment and as of December 31, 2012, AAA through its investment in AAA Investments was the largest shareholder of Athene Holding Ltd with an approximate 77% ownership stake (without giving to effect to restricted common shares issued under Athene's management equity plan).

Apollo Strategic Value Offshore Fund, Ltd. (the "Apollo Strategic Value Fund") has an ownership interest in a special purpose vehicle, Apollo VIF/SVF Bradco LLC, which owns interests in Bradco Supply Corporation. AAA Investments' combined share of these investments is greater than 5.0% of the net assets of the consolidated funds valued at $80.9 million at December 31, 2011.

In addition to the AAA Investments' private equity co-investment in Momentive Performance Materials ("Momentive") noted above, AAA Investments had an ownership interest in the debt of Momentive. AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments is greater than 5% of the net assets of the consolidated funds and is valued at $85.9 million at December 31, 2011.

The Apollo Strategic Value Fund primarily invests in the securities of leveraged companies in North America and Europe through three core strategies: distressed investments, value-driven investments and special opportunities. In connection with the redemptions requested by AAA Investments of its investment in the Apollo Strategic Value Fund, the remainder of AAA Investments' investment in the Apollo Strategic Value Fund was converted into liquidating shares issued by the Apollo Strategic Value Fund. The liquidating shares were initially allocated a pro rata portion of each of the Apollo Strategic Value Fund's existing investments and liabilities, and as those investments are sold, AAA Investments is allocated the proceeds from such disposition less its proportionate share of any current expenses incurred by the Apollo Strategic Value Fund.

During the first quarter of 2012, the general partner of the Apollo Asia Opportunity Offshore Fund, Ltd. (the "Apollo Asia Opportunity Fund") determined that it was in the best interests of the limited partners in the Apollo Asia Opportunity Fund to wind down the fund and begin making distributions to investors as investments are liquidated. The remainder of the investment in the Apollo Asia Opportunity Fund is currently expected to be distributed as the less liquid investments are realized, with the final liquidation expected to occur in 2013, although the actual timing of the realizations may differ substantially from this estimate.

Apollo Senior Loan Fund

On December 31, 2011, the Company invested $26.0 million in the Apollo Credit Senior Loan Fund, L.P. ("Apollo Senior Loan Fund"). As a result, the Company became the sole investor in the fund and therefore consolidated the assets and liabilities of the fund. The fund invests in U.S. denominated senior secured loans, senior secured bonds and other income generating fixed-income investments. At least 90% of the Apollo Senior Loan Fund's portfolio of investments must consist of senior secured, floating rate loans or cash or cash equivalents. Up to 10% of the Apollo Senior Loan Fund's portfolio may consist of non-first lien fixed income investments and other income generating fixed income investments, including but not limited to senior secured bonds. The Apollo Senior Loan Fund may not purchase assets rated (tranche rating) at B3 or lower by Moody's, or equivalent rating by another nationally recognized rating agency.

The Company has classified the instruments associated with the Apollo Senior Loan Fund investment as Level II and Level III investments. All Level II and Level III investments of the Apollo Senior Loan Fund were valued using broker quotes.

HFA

On March 7, 2011, the Company invested $52.1 million (including expenses related to the purchase) in a convertible note with an aggregate principal amount of $50.0 million and received 20,833,333 stock options issued by HFA, an Australian based specialist global funds management company.

The terms of the convertible note allow the Company to convert the note, in whole or in part, into common shares of HFA at an exchange rate equal to the principal plus accrued payment-in-kind interest (or "PIK" interest) divided by US$0.98 at any time, and convey participation rights, on an as-converted basis, in any dividends declared in excess of $6.0 million per annum, as well as seniority rights over HFA common equity holders. Unless previously converted, repurchased or cancelled, the note will be converted on the eighth anniversary of its issuance on March 11, 2019. Additionally, the note has a percentage coupon interest of 6% per annum, paid via principal capitalization (PIK interest) for the first four years, and thereafter either in cash or via principal capitalization at HFA's discretion. The PIK interest provides for the Company to receive additional common shares of HFA if the note is converted. The Company has elected the fair value option for the convertible note. The convertible note is valued using an "if-converted basis," which is based on a hypothetical exit through conversion to common equity(for which quoted price exists) as of the valuation date. The Company separately presents interest income in the consolidated statements of operations from other changes in the fair value of the convertible note. For the years ended December 31, 2012 and 2011 the Company has recorded $3.1 million and $2.5 million, respectively in PIK interest income included in interest income in the consolidated statements of operations. The terms of the stock options allow for the Company to acquire 20,833,333 fully paid ordinary shares of HFA at an exercise price in Australian Dollars ("A$") of A$8.00 (exchange rate of A$1.00 to $1.04 and A$1.00 to $0.84 as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively) per stock option. The stock options became exercisable upon issuance and expire on the eighth anniversary of the issuance date. The stock options are accounted for as a derivative and are valued at their fair value under U.S. GAAP at each balance sheet date. As a result, for the years ended December 31, 2012 and 2011, the Company recorded an unrealized loss of approximately $1.1 million and $5.9 million, respectively, related to the convertible note and stock options within net gains (losses) from investment activities in the consolidated statements of operations.

The Company has classified the instruments associated with the HFA investment as Level III investments.

(1) Balances include other assets and liabilities of certain funds in which AAA Investments has invested. Other assets and liabilities at the fund level primarily include cash and cash equivalents, broker receivables and payables and amounts due to and from affiliates. Carrying values approximate fair value for other assets and liabilities, and accordingly, extended valuation procedures are not required.

(2) Balances include other assets, liabilities and general partner interests of AAA Investments. Balance at December 31, 2012 is primarily comprised of $113.3 million in notes receivable from affiliate. Balance at December 31, 2011 was primarily comprised of $402.5 million in long-term debt offset by cash and cash equivalents. Carrying values approximate fair value for other assets and liabilities (except for debt), and, accordingly, extended valuation procedures are not required.

The significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of the Level III investments are the comparable multiples and weighed average cost of capital rates applied in the valuation models for each investment. These inputs in isolation can cause significant increases or decreases in fair value. Specifically, the comparable multiples are generally multiplied by the underlying companies embedded value to establish the total enterprise value of our portfolio company investments. The comparable multiple is determined based on the implied trading multiple of public industry peers. Similarly, when a discounted cash flow model is used to determine fair value, the significant input used in the valuation model is the discount rate applied to present value the projected cash flows. An increase in the discount rate can significantly lower the fair value of an investment; conversely a decrease in the discount rate can significantly increase the fair value of an investment. The discount rate is determined based on the weighted average cost of capital calculation that weights the cost of equity and the cost of debt based on comparable debt to equity ratios.

5. VARIABLE INTEREST ENTITIES

The Company consolidates entities that are VIEs for which the Company has been designated as the primary beneficiary. The purpose of such VIEs is to provide strategy-specific investment opportunities for investors in exchange for management and performance based fees. The investment strategies of the entities that the Company manages may vary by entity, however, the fundamental risks of such entities have similar characteristics, including loss of invested capital and the return of carried interest income previously distributed to the Company by certain private equity and credit entities. The nature of the Company's involvement with VIEs includes direct and indirect investments and fee arrangements. The Company does not provide performance guarantees and has no other financial obligations to provide funding to VIEs other than its own capital commitments. There is no recourse to the Company for the consolidated VIEs' liabilities.

The assets and liabilities of the consolidated VIEs are comprised primarily of investments and debt, at fair value, and are included within assets and liabilities of consolidated variable interest entities, respectively, in the consolidated statements of financial condition.

Consolidated Variable Interest Entities

In accordance with the methodology described in note 2, Apollo has consolidated VIEs as of December 31, 2012, in connection with the Company's October 2011 acquisition of Gulf Stream Asset Management, LLC and the Company's April 2012 acquisition of Stone Tower. Refer to note 3 for further discussion of the Stone Tower and Gulf Stream acquisitions.

The majority of the consolidated VIEs were formed for the sole purpose of issuing collateralized notes to investors. The assets of these VIEs are primarily comprised of senior secured loans and the liabilities are primarily comprised of debt. Through its role as collateral manager of these VIEs, it was determined that Apollo had the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the economic performance of these VIEs. Additionally, Apollo determined that the potential fees that it could receive directly and indirectly from these VIEs represent rights to returns that could potentially be significant to such VIEs. As a result, Apollo determined that it is the primary beneficiary and therefore should consolidate the VIEs.

The assets of these consolidated VIEs are not available to creditors of the Company. In addition, the investors in these consolidated VIEs have no recourse against the assets of the Company. The Company has elected the fair value option for financial instruments held by its consolidated VIEs, which includes investments in loans and corporate bonds, as well as debt obligations held by such consolidated VIEs. Other assets include amounts due from brokers and interest receivables. Other liabilities include payables for securities purchased, which represent open trades within the consolidated VIEs and primarily relate to corporate loans that are expected to settle within the next sixty days.

Fair Value Measurements

The following table summarizes the valuation of Apollo's consolidated VIEs in fair value hierarchy levels as of December 31, 2012 and 2011:

	Level I		Level II		Level III		Totals
	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011

	Level I		Level II		Level III		Totals
Liabilities, at fair value	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$11,834,955	$3,189,837	$11,834,955	$3,189,837

Level III investments include corporate loan and corporate bond investments held by the consolidated VIEs, while the Level III liabilities consist of notes and loans, the valuations of which are discussed further in note 2. All Level II investments were valued using broker quotes. Transfers of investments out of Level III and into Level II or Level I, if any, are accounted for as of the end of the reporting period in which the transfer occurred.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

The following table summarizes the fair value transfers between Level I and Level II:

Transfers from Level II into Level I(1)	$ 164	$ —

(1) Transfers into Level I represents those financial instruments for which an unadjusted quoted price in an active market became available for the identical asset.

The following table summarizes the quantitative inputs and assumptions used for Investments, at fair value, categorized as Level III in the fair value hierarchy as of December 31, 2012. The disclosure below excludes Level III Investments, at fair value as of December 31, 2012, for which the determination of fair value is based on broker quotes:

	Fair Value at December 31, 2012	Valuation Techniques	Unobservable Inputs	Ranges	Weighted Average
Financial Assets:
Bank Debt Term Loans	$ 67,920	Discounted Cash Flow – Comparable Yields	Discount Rates	11.8%–25.2%	16.3%
Stocks	3,624	Market Comparable Companies	Comparable Multiples	6.63x	6.63x
Total	$ 71,544

The significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of the bank debt term loans and stocks include the discount rate applied and the multiples applied in the valuation models. These unobservable inputs in isolation can cause significant increases (decreases) in fair value. Specifically, when a discounted cash flow model is used to determine fair value, the significant input used in the valuation model is the discount rate applied to present value the projected cash flows. Increases in the discount rate can significantly lower the fair value of an investment; conversely decreases in the discount rate can significantly increase the fair value of an investment. The discount rate is determined based on the market rates an investor would expect for a similar investment with similar risks. When a comparable multiple model is used to determine fair value, the comparable multiples are generally multiplied by the underlying companies EBITDA to establish the total enterprise value of the company. The comparable multiple is determined based on the implied trading multiple of public industry peers.

The following table summarizes the changes in investments of consolidated VIEs, which are measured at fair value and characterized as Level III investments:

Senior Secured Notes, Subordinated Note, Term Loans—Included within debt are amounts due to third-party institutions of the consolidated VIEs. The following table summarizes the principal provisions of the debt of the consolidated VIEs as of December 31, 2012 and 2011:

	December 31, 2012			December 31, 2011
	Principal Outstanding	Weighted Average Interest Rate	Weighted Average Remaining Maturity in Years	Principal Outstanding	Weighted Average Interest Rate	Weighted Average Remaining Maturity in Years
Senior Secured Notes(2)(3)	$11,409,825	1.30%	7.3	$3,121,126	1.35%	8.9
Subordinated Notes(2)(3)	1,074,904	N/A(1)	7.7	416,275	N/A(1)	8.8
	$ 12,484,729			$ 3,537,401

(1) The subordinated notes do not have contractual interest rates but instead receive distributions from the excess cash flows of the VIEs.
(2) The fair value of Senior Secured and Subordinated Notes as of December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011 was $11,835 million and $3,190 million, respectively.
(3) The debt at fair value of the consolidated VIEs is collateralized by assets of the consolidated VIEs and assets of one vehicle may not be used to satisfy the liabilities of another. As of December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the fair value of the consolidated VIE assets was $14,672 million and $3,533 million, respectively. This collateral consists of cash and cash equivalents, investments at fair value and other assets.

The following table summarizes the quantitative inputs and assumptions used for Liabilities, at fair value categorized as Level III in the fair value hierarchy as of December 31, 2012. The disclosure below excludes Level III Liabilities, at fair value as of December 31, 2012, for which the determination of fair value is based on broker quotes:

	As of December 31, 2012
	Fair Value	Valuation Technique	Unobservable Input	Ranges
Subordinated Notes	$ 195,357	Discounted Cash Flow	Discount Rate	17.0%
			Default Rate	1.5%–4.0%
			Recovery Rate	80.0%
Senior Secured Notes	$2,066,250	Discounted Cash Flow	Discount Rate	1.65%–1.95%
			Default Rate	2.0%
			Recovery Rate	30.0%–60.0%

The significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of the subordinated and senior secured notes include the discount rate applied in the valuation models, default and recovery rates applied in the valuation models. These inputs in isolation can cause significant increases (decreases) in fair value. Specifically, when a discounted cash flow model is used to determine fair value, the significant input used in the valuation model is the discount rate applied to present value the projected cash flows. Increases in the discount rate can significantly lower the fair value of subordinated and senior secured notes; conversely decrease in the discount rate can significantly increase the fair value of subordinated and senior secured notes. The discount rate is determined based on the market rates an investor would expect for similar subordinated and senior secured notes with similar risks.

The consolidated VIEs have elected the fair value option to value the term loans and notes payable. The general partner uses its discretion and judgment in considering and appraising relevant factors in determining valuation of these loans. As of December 31, 2012, the debt, at fair value, is classified as Level III liabilities. Because of the inherent uncertainty in the valuation of the term loans and notes payable, which are not publicly traded, estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been reported had a ready market for such investments existed.

Carried Interest Receivable, December 31, 2011	$ 672,952	$ 195,630	$ —	$ 868,582
Change in fair value of funds(1)	1,592,234	448,670	15,074	2,055,978
Acquisition of Stone Tower	—	36,097	—	36,097
Fund cash distributions to the Company	(851,880)	(226,242)	(4,279)	(1,082,401)
Carried Interest Receivable, December 31, 2012	$ 1,413,306	$ 454,155	$10,795	$1,878,256

(1) Included in change in fair value of funds for the year ended December 31, 2012 was a reversal of $75.3 million of the entire general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income with respect to Fund VI and reversal of previously realized carried interest income due to the general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income of $1.2 million and $0.3 million for SOMA and APC, respectively. Included in change in fair value of funds for the year ended December 31, 2011 was a reversal of previously realized carried interest income due to the general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income of $75.3 million and $18.1 million for Fund VI and SOMA, respectively. The general partner obligation is recognized based upon a hypothetical liquidation of the funds' net assets as of the balance sheet date. The actual determination and any required payment of any such general partner obligation would not take place until the final disposition of a fund's investments based on the contractual termination of the fund.

(2) Reclassified to include related foreign exchange loss attributable to credit segment in order to conform to current period presentation.

The timing of the payment of carried interest due to the general partner or investment manager varies depending on the terms of the applicable fund agreements. Generally, carried interest with respect to the private equity funds is payable and is distributed to the fund's general partner upon realization of an investment if the fund's cumulative returns are in excess of the preferred return. For most credit funds, carried interest is payable based on realizations after the end of the relevant fund's fiscal year or fiscal quarter, subject to high watermark provisions.

7. FIXED ASSETS

Fixed assets consist of the following:

	Useful Life in Years	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011
Ownership interests in aircraft	15	$ 10,184	$ 10,184
Leasehold improvements	8-16	48,610	44,433

Less – accumulated depreciation and amortization		(49,642)	(39,684)
Fixed Assets, net		$ 53,452	$ 52,683

In December 2010, the Company committed to a plan to sell its ownership interests in certain aircraft, which occurred in the first half of 2011. Accordingly, in 2010, the Company reclassified the assets to assets held for sale and measured the assets at the lower of cost or fair value less costs to sell. As a result of reclassifying the assets to assets held for sale, the Company recognized a loss of $2.8 million during the year ended December 31, 2010 on the assets held for sale, which is included in other income (loss), net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

As part of the plan to liquidate its ownership interest in aircraft, the Company determined that the remaining interests in aircraft were higher than its current fair value. In 2010, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $3.1 million related to its remaining ownership in aircraft. This loss is included in other income (loss), net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

Depreciation expense for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010 was $10.2 million, $11.1 million and $11.5 million, respectively.

8. OTHER ASSETS

Other assets consist of the following:

Interest Rate Swap Agreements—The principal financial instruments used for cash flow hedging purposes are interest rate swaps. Apollo enters into interest rate swap agreements to manage its exposure to interest rate changes. The swaps effectively converted a portion of the Company's variable rate debt under the AMH Credit Agreement (discussed in note 12) to a fixed rate, without exchanging the notional principal amounts. Apollo entered into interest rate swap agreements whereby Apollo receives floating rate payments in exchange for fixed rate payments of 5.175%, on the notional amount of $167.0 million, effectively converting a portion of its floating rate borrowings to a fixed rate. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $167.0 million notional amount expired in May 2012. Apollo had hedged only the risk related to changes in the benchmark interest rate (three month LIBOR). As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, the Company has recorded a liability of $0.0 million and $3.8 million, to recognize the fair value of these derivatives.

The Company has determined that the valuation of the interest rate swaps fall within Level II of the fair value hierarchy. The Company estimates the fair value of its interest rate swaps using discounted cash flow models, which project future cash flows based on the instruments' contractual terms using market-based expectations for interest rates. The Company also includes a credit risk adjustment to the cash flow discount rate to incorporate the impact of non-performance risk in the recognized measure of the fair value of the swaps. This adjustment is based on the counterparty's credit risk when the swaps are in a net asset position and on the Company's own credit risk when the swaps are in a net liability position.

11. INCOME TAXES

The Company is treated as a partnership for income tax purposes and is therefore not subject to U.S. Federal and State income taxes. APO Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, is subject to U.S. Federal, State and Local corporate income taxes. In addition, certain subsidiaries of the Company are subject to NYC UBT attributable to the Company's operations apportioned to New York City. Certain non-U.S. subsidiaries of the Company are subject to income taxes in their local jurisdictions. APO Corp. is required to file a standalone Federal corporate income tax return, as well as file standalone corporate state and local income tax returns in California, New York State and New York City. The Company's provision for income taxes is accounted for in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

The Company's (provision) benefit for income taxes totaled $(65.4) million, $(11.9) and $(91.7) million for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively. The Company's effective tax rate was approximately 2.10%, (0.92) % and 14.45% for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

The provision for income taxes is presented in the following table:

	For the Year Ended December 31,
	2012	2011	2010
Federal income tax	$ —	$ (856)	$ (8,051)

As of December 31, 2012, the Company has approximately $4.8 million of federal net operating loss (NOL) carryforwards and $60.7 million of state and local NOL carryforwards available to be utilized in future periods. If the Company is unable to utilize its NOL carryforwards, they will begin to expire in 2031. For tax year ended December 31, 2012, the Company expects to utilize NOLs carried forward from prior periods to offset its entire federal and state taxable income. In addition, the Company has foreign tax credit carryforwards of $6.0 million that will begin to expire in 2020.

The Company has recorded a significant deferred income tax asset for the future amortization of tax basis intangibles as a result of the 2007 Reorganization. The amortization period for these tax basis intangibles is 15 years and accordingly, the related deferred income tax assets will reverse over the same period.

The Company considered its historical and current year earnings in addition to the 15-year amortization period of the tax basis of its intangible assets in evaluating whether it should establish a valuation allowance. The Company also considered large recurring book expenses that do not provide a corresponding reduction in taxable income. The Company's short-term and long-term projections anticipate positive book income. In addition, the Company's projection of future taxable income, including the effects of originating and reversing temporary differences including those for the tax basis intangibles, indicates that deferred income tax liabilities will reverse substantially in the same period and jurisdiction and are of the same character as the temporary differences giving rise to the deferred income tax assets. Based upon this positive evidence, the Company has concluded it is more likely than not, that the deferred income tax assets will be realized and that no valuation allowance is needed at December 31, 2012.

Under U.S. GAAP, a tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including resolutions of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits. Based upon the Company's review of its federal, state, local and foreign income tax returns and tax filing positions, the Company determined that no unrecognized tax benefits for uncertain tax positions were required to be recorded. In addition, the Company does not believe that it has any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that it will be required to record significant amounts of unrecognized tax benefits within the next twelve months.

The Company files its tax returns as prescribed by the tax laws of the jurisdictions in which it operates. In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to examination by federal and certain state, local and foreign tax authorities. With a few exceptions, as of December 31, 2012, Apollo and its predecessor entities' U.S. Federal, state, local and foreign income tax returns for the years 2009 through 2012 are open under the general statute of limitations provisions and therefore subject to examination. In addition, the State of New York is examining APO Corp.'s tax returns for tax years 2008 to 2010 and the

12. DEBT

Debt consists of the following:

	December 31, 2012		December 31, 2011
	Outstanding Balance	Annualized Weighted Average Interest Rate	Outstanding Balance	Annualized Weighted Average Interest Rate
AMH Credit Agreement	$728,273	4.95%(1)	$ 728,273	5.39%(1)
CIT secured loan agreements	9,545	3.47	10,243	3.39
Total Debt	$737,818	4.93%	$738,516	5.35%

(1) Includes the effect of interest rate swaps.

AMH Credit Agreement—On April 20, 2007, Apollo Management Holdings, L.P. ("AMH"), a subsidiary of the Company which is a Delaware limited partnership owned by APO Corp. and Holdings, entered into a $1.0 billion seven year credit agreement (the "AMH Credit Agreement"). Interest payable under the AMH Credit Agreement may from time to time be based on Eurodollar ("LIBOR") or Alternate Base Rate ("ABR") as determined by the borrower. Through the use of interest rate swaps, AMH irrevocably elected three-month LIBOR for $167 million of the debt for five years from the closing date of the AMH Credit Agreement, which expired in May 2012. The interest rate of the Eurodollar loan, which was amended as discussed below, is the daily Eurodollar rate plus the applicable margin rate (3.75% for $995 million of the loan, as discussed below, and 1.00% for $5 million of the loan as of December 31, 2012 and 3.75% for $995 million of the loan and 1.00% for $5 million of the loan as of December 31, 2011). The interest rate on the ABR term loan, which was amended as discussed below, for any day, will be the greatest of (a) the prime rate in effect on such day, (b) the Federal Funds Rate in effect on such day plus 0.5% and (c) the one-month Eurodollar Rate plus 1.00%, in each case plus the applicable margin. The AMH Credit Agreement originally had a maturity date of April 2014.

On December 20, 2010, Apollo amended the AMH Credit Agreement to extend the maturity date of $995.0 million (including the $90.9 million of fair value debt repurchased by the Company) of the term loan from April 20, 2014 to January 3, 2017 and modified certain other terms of the AMH Credit Agreement. Pursuant to this amendment, AMH or an affiliate was required to purchase from each lender that elected to extend the maturity date of its term loan a portion of such extended term loan equal to 20% thereof. In addition, AMH or an affiliate is required to repurchase at least $50.0 million aggregate principal amount of the term loan by December 31, 2014 and at least $100.0 million aggregate principal amount of the term loan (inclusive of the previously purchased $50.0 million) by December 31, 2015 at a price equal to par plus accrued interest. The sweep leverage ratio was also extended to end at the new loan term maturity date. The interest rate for the highest applicable margin for the loan portion extended changed to LIBOR plus 4.25% and ABR plus 3.25%. On December 20, 2010, an affiliate of AMH that is a guarantor under the AMH Credit Agreement repurchased approximately $180.8 million of the term loan in connection with the extension of the maturity date of such loan and thus the AMH Credit Agreement (excluding the portions held by AMH affiliates) had a remaining balance of $728.3 million. The Company determined that the amendments to the AMH Credit Agreement resulted in a debt extinguishment which did not result in any gain or loss.

The interest rate on the $723.3 million, net ($995.0 million portion less amount repurchased by the Company) of the loan at December 31, 2012 was 4.07% and the interest rate on the remaining $5.0 million portion of the loan at December 31, 2012 was 1.32%. The estimated fair value of the Company's long-term debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement is believed to be approximately $795.6 million based on a yield analysis using available market data of comparable securities with similar terms and remaining maturities. The $728.3 million carrying value of debt that is recorded on the consolidated statement of financial condition at December 31, 2012 is the amount for which the Company expects to settle the AMH Credit Agreement.

As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, the AMH Credit Agreement was guaranteed by, and collateralized by, substantially all of the assets of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH, as well as cash proceeds from the sale of assets or similar recovery events and any cash deposited pursuant to the excess cash flow covenant, which will be deposited as cash collateral to the extent necessary as set forth in the AMH Credit Agreement. As of December 31, 2012, the consolidated net assets (deficit) of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH and its consolidated subsidiaries were $94.9 million, $91.1 million, $62.3 million, $217.5 million and $(858.9) million, respectively. As of December 31, 2011, the consolidated net assets (deficit) of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH were $56.6 million, $46.2 million, $50.1 million, $131.9 million and $(1,014.3) million, respectively.

In accordance with the AMH Credit Agreement as of December 31, 2012, Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH and their respective subsidiaries were subject to certain negative and affirmative covenants. Among other things, the AMH Credit Agreement includes an excess cash flow covenant and an asset sales covenant. The AMH Credit Agreement does not contain any financial maintenance covenants.

If AMH's debt to EBITDA ratio (the "Leverage Ratio") as of the end of any fiscal year exceeds the level set forth in the next sentence (the "Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio"), AMH must deposit in the cash collateral account the lesser of (a) 100% of its Excess Cash Flow (as defined in the AMH Credit Agreement) and (b) the amount necessary to reduce the Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis as of the end of such fiscal year to 0.25 to 1.00 below the Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio. The Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio is: for 2011, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2012, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2013, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2014, 3.75 to 1.00; and for 2015 and thereafter, 3.50 to 1.00.

In addition, AMH must deposit the lesser of (a) 50% of any remaining Excess Cash Flow and (b) the amount required to reduce the Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis at the end of each fiscal year to a level 0.25 to 1.00 below the Sweep Leverage Ratio (as defined in the next paragraph) for such fiscal year.

If AMH receives net cash proceeds from certain non-ordinary course asset sales, then such net cash proceeds shall be deposited in the cash collateral account as necessary to reduce its Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis as of the last day of the most recently completed fiscal quarter (after giving effect to such non-ordinary course asset sale and such deposit) to (the following specified levels for the specified years, the "Sweep Leverage Ratio") (i) for 2011, 2012 and 2013, a Leverage Ratio of 3.50 to 1.00, (ii) for 2014, a Leverage Ratio of 3.25 to 1.00, (iii) for 2015, a Leverage Ratio of 3.00 to 1.00 and (iv) for all other years, a Leverage Ratio of 3.00 to 1.00.

The AMH Credit Agreement contains customary events of default, including events of default arising from non-payment, material misrepresentations, breaches of covenants, cross default to material indebtedness, bankruptcy and changes in control of AMH. As of December 31, 2012, the Company was not aware of any instances of non-compliance with the AMH Credit Agreement.

CIT Secured Loan Agreements—During the second quarter of 2008, the Company entered into four secured loan agreements totaling $26.9 million with CIT Group/Equipment Financing Inc. ("CIT") to finance the purchase of certain fixed assets. The loans bear interest at LIBOR plus 318 basis points per annum with interest and principal to be repaid monthly and a balloon payment of the remaining principal totaling $9.4 million due at the end of the terms in April 2013. At December 31, 2012, the interest rate was 3.40%. On April 28, 2011, the Company sold its ownership interest in certain assets which served as collateral to the CIT secured loan agreements for $11.3 million with $11.1 million of the proceeds going to

CIT directly. As a result of the sale and an additional payment made by the Company of $1.1 million, the Company satisfied the loan associated with the related asset of $12.2 million on April 28, 2011. As of December 31, 2012, the carrying value of the remaining CIT secured loan is $9.5 million.

Apollo has determined that the carrying value of this debt approximates fair value as the loans are primarily variable rate in nature.

As of December 31, 2012, the table below presents the contractual maturities for the AMH Credit Agreement and CIT secured loan agreements:

	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	Total

13. NET INCOME (LOSS) PER CLASS A SHARE

U.S. GAAP requires use of the two-class method of computing earnings per share for all periods presented for each class of common stock and participating security as if all earnings for the period had been distributed. Under the two-class method, during periods of net income, the net income is first reduced for distributions declared on all classes of securities to arrive at undistributed earnings. During periods of net losses, the net loss is reduced for distributions declared on participating securities only if the security has the right to participate in the earnings of the entity and an objectively determinable contractual obligation to share in net losses of the entity.

The remaining earnings are allocated to Class A Shares and participating securities to the extent that each security shares in earnings as if all of the earnings for the period had been distributed. Each total is then divided by the applicable number of shares to arrive at basic earnings per share. For the diluted earnings, the denominator includes all outstanding common shares and all potential common shares assumed issued if they are dilutive. The numerator is adjusted for any changes in income or loss that would result from the assumed conversion of these potential common shares.

(1) The Company declared a $0.46 distribution on Class A shares on February 10, 2012, a $0.25 distribution on Class A shares on May 8, 2012, a $0.24 distribution on Class A shares on August 12, 2012, and a $0.40 distribution on Class A shares on November 9, 2012. As a result, there is a decrease in undistributed income attributable to Class A shareholders presented during the year ended December 31, 2012

(2) The Company declared a $0.17 distribution on Class A shares on January 4, 2011, a $0.22 distribution on Class A shares on May 12, 2011, a $0.24 distribution on Class A shares on August 9, 2011, and a $0.20 distribution on Class A shares on November 3, 2011. As a result, there is an increase in undistributed loss attributable to Class A shareholders presented during the year ended December 31, 2011.

(3) The Company declared a $0.07 distribution on Class A shares on May 27, 2010, August 2, 2010 and November 1, 2010. As a result, there is a decrease in undistributed income attributable to Class A shareholders presented during the year ended December 31, 2010.

(4) No allocation of losses was made to the participating securities as the holders do not have a contractual obligation to share in losses of the Company with the Class A shareholders.

(5) For the year ended December 31, 2012, unvested RSUs and share options were determined to be dilutive and accordingly included in the diluted earnings per share calculation. For the year ended December 31, 2011, unvested RSUs, share options, AOG Units and RSUs that participate in dividends were determined to be anti-dilutive. For the year ended December 31, 2010, unvested RSUs were determined to be dilutive and accordingly included in the diluted earnings per share calculation. The resulting diluted earnings per share amounts were not significantly different from basic earnings per share and therefore were presented as the same amount. The AOG Units and RSUs that participate in dividends were determined to be anti-dilutive for the years ended December 31, 2012 and 2010. The share options were also determined to be anti-dilutive for the year ended December 31, 2010.

On October 24, 2007, the Company commenced the granting of restricted share units ("RSUs") that provide the right to receive, upon vesting, Class A shares of Apollo Global Management, LLC, pursuant to the Company's 2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan. Certain RSU grants to employees during 2011 and 2012 provide the right to receive distribution equivalents on vested RSUs on an equal basis any time a distribution is declared. The Company refers to these RSU grants as "Plan Grants." For certain Plan Grants made before 2010, distribution equivalents are paid in January of the calendar year next following the calendar year in which a distribution on Class A shares was declared. In addition, certain RSU grants to employees in 2011 and 2012 (the Company refers to these as "Bonus Grants") provide that both vested and unvested RSUs participate in distribution equivalents on an equal basis with the Class A shareholders any time a distribution is declared. As of December 31, 2012, approximately 22.5 million vested RSUs and 4.4 million unvested RSUs were eligible for participation in distribution equivalents.

Any distribution equivalent paid to an employee will not be returned to the Company upon forfeiture of the award by the employee. Vested and unvested RSUs that are entitled to non-forfeitable distribution equivalents qualify as participating securities and are included in the Company's basic and diluted earnings per share computations using the two-class method. The holder of an RSU participating security would have a contractual obligation to share in the losses of the entity if the holder is obligated to fund the losses of the issuing entity or if the contractual principal or mandatory redemption amount of the participating security is reduced as a result of losses incurred by the issuing entity. Because the RSU participating securities do not have a mandatory redemption amount and the holders of the participating securities are not obligated to fund losses, neither the vested RSUs nor the unvested RSUs are subject to any contractual obligation to share in losses of the Company.

Holders of AOG Units are subject to the vesting requirements and transfer restrictions set forth in the agreements with the respective holders, and may up to four times each year, upon notice (subject to the terms of the exchange agreement), exchange their AOG Units for Class A shares on a one-for-one basis. A limited partner must exchange one partnership unit in each of the ten Apollo Operating Group partnerships to affect an exchange for one Class A share. If fully converted, the result would be an additional 240,000,000 Class A shares added to the diluted earnings per share calculation.

Apollo has one Class B share outstanding, which is held by BRH Holdings GP, Ltd. The voting power of the Class B share is reduced on a one vote per one AOG Unit basis in the event of an exchange of AOG Units for Class A shares, as discussed above. The Class B share has no net income (loss) per share as it does not participate in Apollo's earnings (losses) or distributions. The Class B share has no distribution or liquidation rights. The Class B share has voting rights on a pari passu basis with the Class A shares. The Class B share currently has a super voting power of 240,000,000 votes.

14. EQUITY-BASED COMPENSATION

AOG Units

The fair value of the AOG Units of approximately $5.6 billion is charged to compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the five or six year service period, as applicable. For the years ended December 2012, 2011 and 2010, $480.9 million, $1,032.8 million and $1,032.9 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively. The estimated forfeiture rate was 0% for Contributing Partners and 0% for Managing Partners based on actual forfeitures as well as the Company’s future forfeiture expectations. As of December 31, 2012, there was $30.0 million of total unrecognized compensation cost related to unvested AOG Units that are expected to vest over the next 6 months.

RSUs

On October 24, 2007, the Company commenced the granting of RSUs under the Company's 2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan. These grants are accounted for as a grant of equity awards in accordance with U.S. GAAP. All grants after March 29, 2011 consider the public share price of the Company. The fair value of grants made in 2012, 2011 and 2010 was approximately $73.5 million, $116.6 million and $120.2 million, respectively. Of these awards, 972,266 RSUs relate to awards granted as part of the Stone Tower acquisition. The fair value of these awards was not charged to compensation expense, but charged to additional paid in capital in the consolidated statements of changes in shareholder's equity. Refer to note 3 for further discussion of the Stone Tower acquisition. For Plan Grants, the fair value is based on grant date fair value, and is discounted for transfer restrictions and lack of distributions until vested. For Bonus Grants, the valuation methods consider transfer restrictions and timing of distributions. The total fair value is charged to compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, which is generally up to 24 quarters (for Plan Grants) or annual vesting over three years (for Bonus Grants). The actual forfeiture rate was 3.9%, 2.3% and 7.9% for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, $110.2 million, $108.2 million and $78.9 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively.

Delivery of Class A Shares

During 2012 and 2011, the Company delivered Class A Shares for vested RSUs. The Company generally allows RSU participants to settle their tax liabilities with a reduction of their Class A share delivery from the originally granted and vested RSUs. The amount, when agreed to by the participant, results in a tax liability and a corresponding accumulated deficit adjustment. The adjustment was $26.0 million and $19.6 million in 2012 and 2011, respectively, and is disclosed in the consolidated statement of equity.

The delivery of RSUs does not cause a transfer of amounts in the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Shareholders' Equity to the Class A Shareholders. The delivery of Class A shares for vested RSUs causes the income allocated to the Non-Controlling Interests to shift to the Class A shareholders from the date of delivery forward. During the year ended December 31, 2012, the Company delivered 6.1

Units Expected to Vest—As of December 31, 2012, approximately 13,841,000 RSUs are expected to vest during the next six years.

Share Options

Under the Company's 2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan, 5,000,000 options were granted on December 2, 2010. These options vested and became exercisable with respect to 4/24 of the option shares on December 31, 2011 and the remainder vest in equal installments over each of the remaining 20 quarters with full vesting on December 31, 2016. In addition, 555,556 options were granted on January 22, 2011 and 25,000 options were granted on April 9, 2011. Of the options granted on January 22, 2011, half of such options that vested and became exercisable on December 31, 2011 were exercised on March 5, 2012 and the other half that were due to become exercisable on December 31, 2012 were forfeited during the quarter ended March 31, 2012. The options granted on April 9, 2011 vested and became exercisable with respect to half of the options shares on December 31, 2011 and the other half vests in four equal quarterly installments starting on March 31, 2012 and ending on December 31, 2012. In addition, 50,000 and 200,000 options were granted on July 9, 2012 and December 28, 2012, respectively. These options will vest and become exercisable with respect to 4/24 of the option shares on June 30, 2013 and the remainder vest in equal installments over each of the remaining 20 quarters with full vesting on June 30, 2018. For the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011, and 2010, $4.8 million, $6.9 million, and $0.3 million of compensation expense were recognized as a result of option grants, respectively.

Apollo measures the fair value of each option award on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for options awarded during 2012 and 2011:

Assumptions:	2012(2)	2011(2)	2010
Risk-free interest rate	1.11%	2.79%	2.34%
Weighted average expected dividend yield	8.13%	2.25%	2.79%
Expected volatility factor(1)	45.00%	40.22%	40.00%
Expected life in years	6.66	5.72	6.79
Fair value of options per share	$ 3.01	$ 8.44	$5.62

(1) The Company determined its expected volatility based on comparable companies using daily stock prices and the Company's volatility.
(2) Represents weighted average of 2012 and 2011 grants, respectively.

The following table summarizes the share option activity for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010:

Exercisable at December 31, 2012	1,691,665	$ 8.15	$ 9,535	7.92

Units Expected to Vest—As of December 31, 2012, approximately 3,368,000 options are expected to vest.

The expected life of the options granted represents the period of time that options are expected to be outstanding and is based on the contractual term of the option. Unamortized compensation cost related to unvested share options at December 31, 2012 was $18.3 million and is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 4.0 years. The total intrinsic value of options exercised during the year ended December 31, 2012 was $1.4 million.

AAA RDUs

Incentive units that provide the right to receive AAA restricted depository units ("RDUs") following vesting are granted periodically to employees of Apollo. These grants are accounted for as equity awards in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The incentive units granted to employees generally vest over three years. In contrast, the Company's Managing Partners and Contributing Partners have received distributions of fully-vested AAA RDUs. The fair value at the date of the grants is recognized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period (or upon grant in the case of fully vested AAA RDUs). The grant date fair value is based on the public share price of AAA. Vested AAA RDUs can be converted into ordinary common units of AAA subject to applicable securities law restrictions. During the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, the actual forfeiture rate was 0%, 0% and 1.5%, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, $1.0 million, $0.5 million and $5.5 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively.

During the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, the Company delivered 60,702, 389,785 and 596,375 RDUs, respectively, to individuals who had vested in these units. The deliveries in 2012, 2011 and 2010 resulted in a satisfaction of liability of $1.8 million, $3.8 million and $7.6 million, respectively, and the recognition of a net decrease of additional paid in capital in 2012 of $2.5 million and a net decrease and increase in 2011 and 2010 of $2.7 million and $0.6 million, respectively. These amounts are presented in the consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity. There was $1.0 million and $0.5 million of liability for undelivered RDUs included in accrued compensation and benefits in the consolidated statements of financial condition as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively. The following table summarizes RDU activity for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010:

(1) During 2012, the Company delivered 193,080 RDUs to certain employees as part of AAA's carry reinvestment program. This resulted in a decrease in profit sharing payable of $1.2 million in the consolidated statements of financial condition. No additional compensation expense was recognized.

Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Unit Awards—Apollo Commercial Real Estate Finance, Inc. ("ARI")

On September 29, 2009, 97,500 and 145,000 shares of ARI restricted stock were granted to the Company and certain of the Company's employees, respectively. Additionally, on December 31, 2009, 5,000 shares of ARI restricted stock were granted to an employee of the company. The fair value of the Company and employee awards granted was $1.8 million and $2.7 million, respectively. These awards generally vest over three years or twelve quarters, with the first quarter vesting on January 1, 2010. On March 23, 2010, July 1, 2010 and July 21, 2010, 102,084, 5,000 and 16,875 shares of ARI restricted stock units ("ARI RSUs"), respectively, were granted to certain of the Company's employees. Pursuant to the March 23, 2010 and July 21, 2010 issuances, 102,084 and 16,875 shares of ARI restricted stock, respectively, were forfeited by the Company's employees. As the fair value of ARI RSUs was not greater than the forfeiture of the restricted stock, no additional value will be amortized. On April 1, 2011 and August 4, 2011, 5,000 and 152,750 ARI RSUs, respectively, were granted to certain of the Company's employees. On August 4, 2011, 156,000 ARI RSUs were granted to the Company. On December 28, 2011, the Company issued 45,587 ARI RSUs to certain of the Company's employees. On March 15, 2012, 20,000 ARI RSUs were granted to an employee of the Company. The awards granted to the Company are accounted for as investments and deferred revenue in the consolidated statements of financial condition. As these awards vest, the deferred revenue is recognized as management fees. The investment is accounted for using the equity method of accounting for awards granted to the Company and as a deferred compensation asset for the awards granted to employees. Compensation expense will be recognized on a straight line-basis over the vesting period for the awards granted to the employees. The Company recorded an asset and a liability upon receiving the awards on behalf of the Company's employees. The fair value of the awards to employees is based on the grant date fair value, which utilizes the public share price of ARI, less discounts for transfer restrictions and timing of distributions. The awards granted to the Company's employees are remeasured each period to reflect the fair value of the asset and other liabilities and any changes in these values are recorded in the consolidated statements of operations. For the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, $2.3 million, $2.9 million and $1.5 million of management fees and $1.5 million, $1.3 million and $0.8 million of compensation expense were recognized in the consolidated statements of operations, respectively. The actual forfeiture rate for unvested ARI restricted stock awards and ARI RSUs was 1%, 7% and 2% for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

Restricted Stock Unit Awards—Apollo Residential Mortgage, Inc. ("AMTG")

On July 27, 2011, 18,750 and 11,250 AMTG restricted stock units ("AMTG RSUs") were granted to the Company and certain of the Company's employees, respectively. On September 26, 2011, 875 AMTG RSUs were granted to certain employees of the Company. The fair value of the Company and employee awards granted were $0.3 million and $0.2 million, respectively. These awards generally vest over three years or twelve calendar quarters, with the first quarter vesting on October 1, 2011. On June 30, 2012 and September 30, 2012, 5,000 AMTG RSUs were granted to employees of the Company with a Fair Value of $0.1 million. On November 26, 2012, 133,244 AMTG RSUs were granted to employees of the Company with a fair value of $2.8 million. The awards granted to the Company are accounted for as investments and deferred revenue in the consolidated statement of financial condition. As these awards vest, the deferred revenue is recognized as management fees. The investment is accounted for using the equity method of accounting for awards granted to the Company and as a deferred compensation asset for the awards granted to employees. Compensation expense will be recognized on a straight line-basis over the vesting period for the awards granted to the employees. The Company recorded an asset and a liability upon receiving the awards on behalf of the Company's employees. The awards granted to the Company's employees are remeasured each period to reflect the fair value of the asset and other liabilities and any changes in these values are recorded in the consolidated statements of operations.

The fair value of the awards to employees is based on the grant date fair value, which utilizes the public share price of AMTG less discounts for transfer restrictions and timing of distributions. For the year ended December 31, 2012, $0.2 million of management fees and $0.1 million of compensation expense were recognized in the consolidated statements of operations. For the year ended December 31, 2011, $0.1 million of management fees and $0.0 million of compensation expense were recognized in the consolidated statement of operations. The actual forfeiture rate for AMTG RSUs was 0% for the years ended December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

Equity-Based Compensation Allocation

Equity-based compensation is allocated based on ownership interests. Therefore, the amortization of the AOG Units is allocated to Shareholders' Equity attributable to Apollo Global Management, LLC and the Non-Controlling Interests, which results in a difference in the amounts charged to equity-based compensation expense and the amounts credited to shareholders' equity attributable to Apollo Global Management, LLC in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Below is a reconciliation of the equity-based compensation allocated to Apollo Global Management, LLC for the year ended December 31, 2012:

Tax Receivable Agreement and Other

Subject to certain restrictions, each of the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners has the right to exchange their vested AOG Units for the Company's Class A shares. Certain Apollo Operating Group entities have made an election under Section 754 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, which will result in an adjustment to the tax basis of the assets owned by Apollo Operating Group at the time of the exchange. These exchanges will result in increases in tax deductions that will reduce the amount of tax that APO Corp. will otherwise be required to pay in the future. Additionally, the further acquisition of AOG Units from the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners also may result in increases in tax deductions and tax basis of assets that will further reduce the amount of tax that APO Corp. will otherwise be required to pay in the future.

APO Corp. entered into a tax receivable agreement ("TRA") with the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners that provides for the payment to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners of 85% of the amount of cash savings, if any, in U.S. Federal, state, local and foreign income taxes that APO Corp. would realize as a result of the increases in tax basis of assets that resulted from the 2007 Reorganization. If the Company does not make the required annual payment on a timely basis as outlined in the TRA, interest is accrued on the balance until the payment date. These payments are expected to occur approximately over the next 20 years. In connection with the amendment of the AMH partnership agreement in April of 2010, the tax receivable agreement was revised to reflect the Managing Partners' agreement to defer 25% or $12.1 million of the required payments pursuant to the TRA that is attributable to the 2010 fiscal year for a period of four years until April 5, 2014.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In April 2011, Apollo made cash payments of $39.8 million, in connection with the TRA to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners resulting from realized tax benefits for the 2010 tax year. Included in the 2011 payment was $29.0 thousand and $3.0 thousand of interest paid to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners, respectively. In April 2012, Apollo made a $5.8 million cash payment pursuant to the TRA resulting from the realized tax benefit for the 2011 tax year. Included in the payment was approximately $1.2 million and approximately $0.1 million of interest paid to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners, respectively. Because distributions from the Apollo Operating Group are made pari passu to all unit holders, the TRA payment noted above resulted in an additional $11.0 million distribution to Holdings.

In addition, Apollo adjusted the remaining liability by $(3.9) million, $(0.1) million and $7.6 million and recorded a corresponding gain in other income (loss), net in the consolidated statement of operations during the years ended December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively, and a corresponding loss in other income (loss), net in the consolidated statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2010 due to changes in projected income estimates and fluctuations in the tax rates.

Special Allocation

In December 2009, the AMH partnership agreement was amended to provide for special allocations of income to APO Corp. and a reduction of income allocated to Holdings for the 2009 and 2010 calendar years. The amendment allowed for a maximum allocation of income from Holdings of $22.1 million in 2009 and $117.5 million in 2010. There was no extension of the special allocation after December 31, 2010. Therefore as a result, the Company did not allocate any additional income from AMH to APO Corp. related to the special allocation beyond such date. The Company will continue to allocate income to APO Corp. based on the current economic sharing percentage.

Due from Contributing Partners, Employees and Former Employees

For the year ended December 31, 2011, the Company accrued $22.1 million in receivables from the Contributing Partners and certain employees and former employees of Fund VI for the potential return of carried interest income that would be due if the private equity fund were liquidated at the balance sheet date. For the year ended December 31, 2012, the Company has no liability to Fund VI in connection with the potential general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income. As a result, for the year ended December 31, 2012, the Company has no receivables from the Contributing Partners, certain employees and former employees of Fund VI in connection with the potential general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income.

Management Fee Waiver and Notional Investment Program

Apollo has forgone a portion of management fee revenue that it would have been entitled to receive in cash and instead received profits interests and assigned these profits interests to employees and partners. The amount of management fees waived and related compensation expense amounted to $6.2 million, $23.5 million and $24.8 million for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively. The investment period for Fund VII and ANRP for the management fee waiver plan was terminated as of December 31, 2012.

Indemnity

Carried interest income from certain funds that the Company manages can be distributed to us on a current basis, but is subject to repayment by the subsidiary of the Apollo Operating Group that acts as general partner of the fund in the event that certain specified return thresholds are not ultimately achieved. The Managing Partners, Contributing Partners and certain other investment professionals have personally guaranteed, subject to certain limitations, the obligation of these subsidiaries in respect of this general partner obligation. Such guarantees are several and not joint and are limited to a particular Managing Partner's or Contributing Partner's distributions. An existing shareholders agreement includes clauses that indemnify each of the Company's Managing Partners and certain Contributing Partners against all amounts that they pay pursuant to any of these personal guarantees in favor of certain funds that the Company manages (including costs and expenses related to investigating the basis for or objecting to any claims made in respect of the guarantees) for all interests that the Company's Managing Partners and Contributing Partners have contributed or sold to the Apollo Operating Group.

Accordingly, in the event that the Company's Managing Partners, Contributing Partners and certain investment professionals are required to pay amounts in connection with a general partner obligation for the return of previously made distributions, we will be obligated to reimburse the Company's Managing Partners and certain Contributing Partners for the indemnifiable percentage of amounts that they are required to pay even though we did not receive the certain distribution to which that general partner obligation related. The Company recorded an indemnification liability of $0.8 million as of December 31, 2011. There was no indemnification liability as of December 31, 2012.

Due to Private Equity Funds

On June 30, 2008, the Company entered into a credit agreement with Fund VI, pursuant to which Fund VI advanced $18.9 million of carried interest income to the limited partners of Apollo Advisors VI, L.P., who are also employees of the Company. The loan obligation accrues interest at an annual fixed rate of 3.45% and terminates on the earlier of June 30, 2017 or the termination of Fund VI. In March 2011, a right of offset for the indemnified portion of the loan obligation was established between the Company and Fund VI, therefore the loan was reduced in the amount of $10.9 million, which is offset in carried interest receivable on the consolidated statements of financial condition. During the year ended December 31, 2011, there was a $0.9 million interest paid and $0.3 million accrued interest on the outstanding loan obligation. At December 31, 2011, the total outstanding loan aggregated $9.0 million, including accrued interest of $1.0 million, which approximated fair value, of which approximately $6.5 million was not subject to the indemnity discussed above and is a receivable from the Contributing Partners and certain employees. During the year ended December 31, 2012, there was no interest paid and $1.3 million accrued interest on the outstanding loan obligation. As of December 31, 2012, the total outstanding loan aggregated $9.3 million, including accrued interest of $1.3 million which approximated fair value, of which approximately $6.7 million was not subject to the indemnity discussed above and is a receivable from the Contributing Partners and certain employees.

As of December 31, 2011, the Company had also accrued a liability to Fund VI of $75.3 million, in connection with the potential general partner obligation to return carried interest income that was previously distributed from Fund VI. Of this amount, approximately $22.1 million was a receivable from Contributing Partners, employees and former employees. As of December 31, 2012, the general partner obligation was reversed and there was no liability.

Due to Credit Funds

In connection with the Gulf Stream acquisition during October 2011, the Company will also make payments to the former owners of Gulf Stream under a contingent consideration obligation which requires the Company to transfer cash to the former owners of Gulf Stream based on a specified percentage of incentive fee revenue. Additionally the Company has deferred a payment obligation to the former owners. This obligation was $3.9 million at date of acquisition and was paid in December 2012. The contingent consideration liability had a fair value of approximately $4.7 million as of October 24, 2011 (the date of acquisition) and $14.1 million as of December 31, 2012. As of December 31, 2012, the former owner is no longer an employee of Apollo therefore the contingent consideration is reported within profit sharing payable in the consolidated statements of financial condition.

Similar to the private equity funds, certain credit funds allocate carried interest income to the Company. As of December 31, 2011, the Company had accrued a liability to SOMA of $18.1 million, in connection with the potential general partner obligation for carried interest income that was previously distributed from SOMA. This amount increased by $1.2 million during the year ended December 31, 2012. The Company also accrued a liability to APC of $0.3 million, in connection with the potential general obligation for carried interest income that was previously distributed from APC as of December 31, 2012. As such, there was a general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income of $19.6 million accrued as of December 31, 2012.

Due to Real Estate Funds

In connection with the acquisition of CPI during November 2010, Apollo has a contingent liability to Citigroup Inc. based on a specified percentage of future earnings from the date of acquisition through December 31, 2012. The estimated fair value of the contingent liability was $1.2 million as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, which was determined based on discounted cash flows from the date of acquisition through December 31, 2012 using a discount rate of 7%.

Regulated Entities

During 2011, the Company formed Apollo Global Securities, LLC (“AGS”), which is a registered broker dealer with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, subject to the minimum net capital requirements of the SEC. AGS is in compliance with these requirements at December 31, 2012. From time to time, this entity is involved in transactions with affiliates of Apollo, including portfolio companies of the funds we manage, whereby AGS earns underwriting and transaction fees for its services. The Company also has an entity based in London which is subject to the capital requirements of the U.K. Financial Services Authority. This entity has continuously operated in excess of these regulatory capital requirements.

All of the investment advisors of the Apollo funds are affiliates of certain subsidiaries of the Company that are registered as investment advisors with the SEC. Registered investment advisors are subject to the requirements and regulations of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Underwriting Fee Paid for ARI

During 2009, the Company incurred $8.0 million in underwriting expenses for the benefit of ARI, which may be repaid to the Company if during any period of four consecutive calendar quarters during the sixteen full calendar quarters after the consummation of ARI's IPO on September 29, 2009, ARI's core earnings, as defined in the corresponding management agreement, for any such four-quarter period exceeds an 8% performance hurdle rate. During the second quarter of 2011, the core earnings had exceeded the hurdle rate and the Company recorded $8.0 million of other income in the consolidated statement of operations.

(4) Appropriated Partners' Capital is included in total Apollo Global Management, LLC shareholders' equity and is therefore not a component of comprehensive (income) loss attributable to non-controlling interest on the statement of comprehensive income (loss).

16. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Financial Guarantees—Apollo has provided financial guarantees on behalf of certain employees for the benefit of unrelated third-party lenders, in connection with their capital commitment to certain funds managed by the Company. As of December 31, 2012, the maximum exposure relating to these financial guarantees approximated $3.4 million. Apollo has historically not incurred any liabilities as a result of these agreements and does not expect to in the future. Accordingly, no liability has been recorded in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

As the general partner of Apollo/Artus Investor 2007-I, L.P. ("Artus"), the Company may be obligated for certain losses in excess of those allocable to the limited partners to the extent that there is negative equity in that fund. As of December 31, 2012, the Company had no current obligations to Artus.

Investment Commitments—As a limited partner, general partner and manager of the Apollo private equity funds, credit and real estate funds, Apollo has unfunded capital commitments as of December 31, 2012 and 2011 of $258.3 million and $137.9 million, respectively.

Apollo has an ongoing obligation to acquire additional common units of AAA in an amount equal to 25% of the aggregate after-tax cash distributions, if any, that are made to its affiliates pursuant to the carried interest distribution rights that are applicable to investments made through AAA Investments.

On December 21, 2012, the Company agreed to provide up to $100 million of capital support to Athene to the extent such support is necessary in connection with Athene's pending acquisition of Aviva plc's annuity and life insurance operations in the United States.

Debt Covenants—Apollo's debt obligations contain various customary loan covenants. As of the balance sheet date, the Company was not aware of any instances of noncompliance with any of these covenants.

Litigation and Contingencies—We are, from time to time, party to various legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business, including claims and litigation, reviews, investigations and proceedings by governmental and self-regulatory agencies regarding our business.

On July 16, 2008, Apollo was joined as a defendant in a pre-existing purported class action pending in Massachusetts federal court against, among other defendants, numerous private equity firms. The suit alleges that beginning in mid-2003, Apollo and the other private equity firm defendants violated the U.S. antitrust laws by forming "bidding clubs" or "consortia" that, among other things, rigged the bidding for control of various public corporations, restricted the supply of private equity financing, fixed the prices for target companies at artificially low levels, and allocated amongst themselves an alleged market for private equity services in leveraged buyouts. The suit seeks class action certification, declaratory and injunctive relief, unspecified damages, and attorneys' fees. On August 27, 2008, Apollo and its co-defendants moved to dismiss plaintiffs' complaint and on November 20, 2008, the Court granted Apollo's motion. The court also dismissed two other defendants, Permira and Merrill Lynch. On September 17, 2010, the plaintiffs filed a motion to amend the complaint by adding an additional eight transactions and adding Apollo as a defendant. On October 6, 2010, the court granted plaintiffs' motion to file that amended complaint. Plaintiffs' fourth amended complaint, filed on October 7, 2010, adds Apollo as a defendant. Apollo joined in the other defendants' October 21, 2010 motion to dismiss the third claim for relief and all claims by the PanAmSat Damages Sub-class in the fourth amended complaint, which motion was granted on January 13, 2011. On November 4, 2010, Apollo moved to dismiss, arguing that the claims against Apollo are time-barred and that the allegations against Apollo are insufficient to state an antitrust conspiracy claim. On February 17, 2011, the court denied Apollo's motion to dismiss, ruling that Apollo should raise the statute of limitations issues on summary judgment after discovery is completed. Apollo filed its answer to the fourth amended complaint on March 21, 2011. On July 11, 2011, the plaintiffs filed a motion for leave to file a fifth amended complaint, adding ten additional transactions and expanding the scope of the class seeking relief. On September 7, 2011, the court denied the motion for leave to amend without prejudice and gave plaintiffs permission to take limited discovery on the ten additional transactions. By court order, the parties concluded discovery on May 21, 2012. The plaintiffs then filed a fifth amended complaint on June 14, 2012. One week later, the defendants filed a motion to dismiss portions of the Fifth Amended Complaint. On July 18, 2012, the court granted the defendants' motion in part and denied it in part. On July 21, 2012, all defendants filed motions for summary judgment. While those motions were pending, the New York Times moved to intervene and unseal the fifth amended complaint. After a court order, the defendants submitted a version of the complaint containing only four redactions. The court publicly filed this version of the fifth amended complaint on the case docket on October 10, 2012. On December 18 and 19, 2012, the court heard oral argument on the defendants' motions for summary judgment. Those motions remain pending. Apollo does not believe that a loss from liability in this case is either probable or reasonably estimable. Apollo believes the plaintiffs' claims lack factual and legal merit and intends to defend it vigorously. For these reasons, no estimate of possible loss, if any, can be made at this time.

In March 2012, plaintiffs filed two putative class actions, captioned Kelm v. Chase Bank (No. 12-cv-332) and Miller v. 1-800-Flowers.com, Inc. (No. 12-cv-396), in the District of Connecticut on behalf of a class of consumers alleging online fraud. The defendants included, among others, Trilegiant Corporation, Inc. ("Trilegiant"), its parent company, Affinion Group, LLC ("Affinion"), and Apollo Global Management, LLC, which is affiliated with funds that are the beneficial owners of 69% of Affinion's common stock. In both cases, plaintiffs allege that Trilegiant, aided by its business partners, who include e-merchants and credit card companies, developed a set of business practices intended to create consumer confusion and ultimately defraud consumers into unknowingly paying fees to clubs for unwanted services. Plaintiffs allege that Apollo is a proper defendant because of its indirect stock ownership and ability to appoint the majority of Affinion's board. The complaints assert claims under the Racketeer Influenced Corrupt Organizations Act; the Electronic Communications Privacy Act; the Connecticut Unfair Trade Practices Act; and the California Business and Professional Code, and seek, among other things, restitution or disgorgement, injunctive relief, compensatory, treble and punitive damages, and attorneys' fees. The allegations in Kelm and Miller are substantially similar to those in Schnabel v. Trilegiant Corp. (No. 3:10-cv-957), a putative class action filed in the District of Connecticut in 2010 that names only Trilegiant and Affinion as defendants. The court has consolidated the Kelm, Miller, and Schnabel cases under the caption In re: Trilegiant Corporation, Inc. and ordered that they proceed on the same schedule. On June 18, 2012, the court appointed lead plaintiffs' counsel, and on September 7, 2012, plaintiffs filed their consolidated amended complaint ("CAC"), which alleges the same causes of action against Apollo as did the complaints in the Kelm and Miller cases. Defendants filed motions to dismiss on December 7, 2012, and plaintiffs filed opposition papers on February 7, 2013. Defendants' replies are due on March 11, 2013. On December 5, 2012, plaintiffs filed another putative class action, captioned Frank v. Trilegiant Corp. (No. 12-cv-1721), in the District of Connecticut, naming the same defendants and containing allegations substantially similar to those in the CAC. On January 23, 2013, plaintiffs moved to transfer and consolidate Frank into In re: Trilegiant, and on February 15, 2013, the Frank Court extended all defendants' deadlines to respond to the Frank complaint until the earlier of (i) April 1, 2013 or (ii) a ruling on the motion to transfer and consolidate. Apollo believes that plaintiffs' claims against it in these cases are without merit. For this reason, and because the claims against Apollo are in their early stages, no reasonable estimate of possible loss, if any, can be made at this time.

On July 9, 2012, Apollo was served with a subpoena by the New York Attorney General's Office regarding Apollo's fee waiver program. The subpoena is part of what we understand to be an industry-wide investigation by the New York Attorney General into the tax implications of the fee waiver program implemented by numerous private equity and hedge funds. Under the fee waiver program, individual fund managers for Apollo-managed funds may elect to prospectively waive their management fees. Program participants receive an interest in the future profits, if any, earned on the invested amounts that represent waived fees. They receive such profits from time to time in the ordinary course when distributions are made generally, as provided for in the applicable fund governing documents and waiver agreements. Four Apollo funds have implemented the program. Apollo believes its fee waiver program complies with all applicable laws, and is cooperating with the investigation.

Various state attorneys general and federal and state agencies have initiated industry-wide investigations into the use of placement agents in connection with the solicitation of investments, particularly with respect to investments by public pension funds. Certain affiliates of Apollo have received subpoenas and other requests for information from various government regulatory agencies and investors in Apollo's funds, seeking information regarding the use of placement agents. CalPERS, one of our Strategic Investors, announced on October 14, 2009, that it had initiated a special review of placement agents and related issues. The Report of the CalPERS Special Review was issued on March 14, 2011. That report does not allege any wrongdoing on the part of Apollo or its affiliates. Apollo is continuing to cooperate with all such investigations and other reviews. In addition, on May 6, 2010, the California Attorney General filed a civil complaint against Alfred Villalobos and his company, Arvco Capital Research, LLC ("Arvco") (a placement agent that Apollo has used) and Federico Buenrostro Jr., the former Chief Executive Officer of CalPERS, alleging conduct in violation of certain California laws in connection with CalPERS's purchase of securities in various funds managed by Apollo and another asset manager. Apollo is not a party to the civil lawsuit and the lawsuit does not allege any misconduct on the part of Apollo. On December 29, 2011, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Nevada approved an application made by Mr. Villalobos, Arvco and related entities (the "Arvco Debtors") in their consolidated bankruptcy proceedings to hire special litigation counsel to pursue certain claims on behalf of the bankruptcy estates of the Arvco Debtors, including potential claims against Apollo (a) for fees that Apollo purportedly owes the Arvco Debtors for placement agent services, and (b) for indemnification of legal fees and expenses arising out of the Arvco Debtors' defense of the California Attorney General action described above. To date, no such claims have been brought. On April 23, 2012, the SEC filed a lawsuit alleging securities fraud on the part of Arvco, as well as Messrs. Buenrostro and Villalobos, in connection with their activities concerning certain CalPERS investments in funds managed by Apollo. This lawsuit also does not allege wrongdoing on the part of Apollo, and in fact alleges that Apollo was defrauded by Arvco, Villalobos, and Buenrostro. Apollo believes that it has handled its use of placement agents in an appropriate manner. Apollo denies the merit of any such claims and will vigorously contest them, if they are brought.

Although the ultimate outcome of these matters cannot be ascertained at this time, we are of the opinion, after consultation with counsel, that the resolution of any such matters to which we are a party at this time will not have a material effect on our financial statements. Legal actions material to us could, however, arise in the future.

Commitments—Apollo leases office space and certain office equipment under various lease and sublease arrangements, which expire on various dates through 2022. As these leases expire, it can be expected that in the normal course of business, they will be renewed or replaced. Certain lease agreements contain renewal options, rent escalation provisions based on certain costs incurred by the landlord or other inducements provided by the landlord. Rent expense is accrued to recognize lease escalation provisions and inducements provided by the landlord, if any, on a straight-line basis over the lease term and renewal periods where applicable. Apollo has entered into various operating lease service agreements in respect of certain assets.

As of December 31, 2012, the approximate aggregate minimum future payments required for operating leases were as follows:

Aggregate minimum future payments	$36,109	$36,853	$36,105	$35,265	$32,680	$74,174	$251,186

Expenses related to non-cancellable contractual obligations for premises, equipment, auto and other assets were $41.2 million, $38.3 million and $28.8 million for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

Other Long-term Obligations—These obligations relate to payments on management service agreements related to certain assets and payments with respect to certain consulting agreements entered into by Apollo Investment Consulting, LLC. A significant portion of these costs are reimbursable by funds or portfolio companies. As of December 31, 2012, fixed and determinable payments due in connection with these obligations are as follows:

Other long-term obligations	$7,418	$700	$250	$—	$—	$ —	$8,368

Contingent Obligations—Carried interest income in private equity funds and certain credit and real estate funds is subject to reversal in the event of future losses to the extent of the cumulative carried interest recognized in income to date. If all of the existing investments became worthless, the amount of cumulative revenues that has been recognized by Apollo through December 31, 2012 and that would be reversed approximates $3.2 billion. Management views the possibility of all of the investments becoming worthless as remote. Carried interest income is affected by changes in the fair values of the underlying investments in the funds that Apollo manages. Valuations, on an unrealized basis, can be significantly affected by a variety of external factors including, but not limited to, bond yields and industry trading multiples. Movements in these items can affect valuations quarter to quarter even if the underlying business fundamentals remain stable. The table below indicates the potential future reversal of carried interest income:

Fund VII	$ 1,440,907
Fund VI	567,106
Fund V	213,739
Fund IV	19,739

(1) Reclassified to conform to current presentation.

Additionally, at the end of the life of certain funds that the Company manages, there could be a payment due to a fund by the Company if the Company as general partner has received more carried interest income than was ultimately earned. The general partner obligation amount, if any, will depend on final realized values of investments at the end of the life of each fund. As discussed in note 15, the Company has recorded a general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income of $19.3 million and $0.3 million relating to SOMA and APC, respectively, as of December 31, 2012. As of December 31, 2012, the general partner obligation for Fund VI was reversed and there was no liability as discussed in note 15.

Certain funds may not generate carried interest income as a result of unrealized and realized losses that are recognized in the current and prior reporting period. In certain cases, carried interest income will not be generated until additional unrealized and realized gains occur. Any appreciation would first cover the deductions for invested capital, unreturned organizational expenses, operating expenses, management fees and priority returns based on the terms of the respective fund agreements.

One of the Company's subsidiaries, AGS, provides underwriting commitments in connection with security offerings to the portfolio companies of the funds we manage. As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, there were no underwriting commitments outstanding related to such offerings.

Contingent Consideration

In connection with the Stone Tower acquisition, the Company agreed to pay the former owners of Stone Tower a specified percentage of any future carried interest income earned from certain of the Stone Tower funds, CLOs, and strategic investment accounts. This contingent consideration liability had an acquisition date fair value of $117.7 million, which was determined based on the present value of estimated future carried interest payments, and is recorded in profit sharing payable in the consolidated statements of financial condition. The fair value of the contingent obligation was $126.9 million as of December 31, 2012. Refer to note 3 for additional details related to the Stone Tower acquisition.

In connection with the Gulf Stream acquisition, as discussed in note 3, the Company will also make payments to the former owners of Gulf Stream under a contingent consideration obligation which requires the Company to transfer cash to the former owners of Gulf Stream based on a specified percentage of carried interest income. The contingent liability had a fair value of approximately $14.1 million as of December 31, 2012, which is recorded in profit sharing payable in the consolidated statements of financial condition. The contingent liability had a fair value of approximately $4.7 million as of December 31, 2011, which is recorded in due to affiliates in the consolidated statements of financial condition.

In connection with the CPI acquisition, the consideration transferred in the acquisition was a contingent consideration in the form of a liability incurred by Apollo to CPI. The liability is an obligation of Apollo to transfer cash to CPI based on a specified percentage of future earnings. The estimated fair value of the contingent liability is $1.2 million as of December 31, 2012 and 2011 and is recorded in due to affiliates in the consolidated statements of financial condition.

The contingent consideration obligations will be remeasured to fair value at each reporting period until the obligations are satisfied. The changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration obligations will be reflected in profit sharing expense in the consolidated statements of operations.

During the one year measurement period, any changes resulting from facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date will be reflected as a retrospective adjustment to the bargain purchase gain and the respective asset acquired or liability assumed.

The Company has determined that the contingent consideration obligations are categorized as a Level III liability in the fair value hierarchy as the pricing inputs into the determination of fair value requires significant management judgment and estimation.

The following table summarizes the quantitative inputs and assumptions used for the contingent consideration obligations categorized in Level III of the fair value hierarchy as of December 31, 2012:

	Fair Value at December 31, 2012	Valuation Techniques	Unobservable Inputs	Ranges
Financial Assets:
Contingent consideration obligations	$ 142,219	Discounted cash flow	Discount rate	7.0%-11.6%

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(dollars in thousands, except share data)

The significant unobservable input used in the fair value measurement of the contingent obligations is the discount rate applied in the valuation models. This input in isolation can cause significant increases (decreases) in fair value. Specifically, when a discounted cash flow model is used to determine fair value, the significant input used in the valuation model is the discount rate applied to present value the projected cash flows. Increases in the discount rate can significantly lower the fair value of the contingent consideration obligations; conversely decrease in the discount rate can significantly increase the fair value of the contingent consideration obligations. In order to determine the discount rate the Company considered the following: the weighted average cost of capital for the Company, the implied internal rate of return for the transaction, and weighted average return on assets.

The following table summarizes the changes in contingent consideration obligations, which are measured at fair value and characterized as Level III liabilities:

	For the Year Ended December 31,

17. MARKET AND CREDIT RISK

In the normal course of business, Apollo encounters market and credit risk concentrations. Market risk reflects changes in the value of investments due to changes in interest rates, credit spreads or other market factors. Credit risk includes the risk of default on Apollo’s investments, where the counterparty is unable or unwilling to make required or expected payments.

The Company is subject to a concentration risk related to the investors in its funds. As of December 31, 2012, there were more than 1,000 limited partner investors in Apollo’s active private equity, credit and real estate funds, and no individual investor accounted for more than 10% of the total committed capital to Apollo’s active funds.

Apollo’s derivative financial instruments contain credit risk to the extent that its counterparties may be unable to meet the terms of the agreements. Apollo seeks to minimize this risk by limiting its counterparties to highly rated major financial institutions with good credit ratings. Management does not expect any material losses as a result of default by other parties.

Substantially all amounts on deposit with major financial institutions that exceed insured limits are invested in interest-bearing accounts with U.S. money center banks.

Apollo is exposed to economic risk concentrations insofar as Apollo is dependent on the ability of the funds that it manages to compensate it for the services the management companies provide to these funds. Further, the incentive income component of this compensation is based on the ability of such funds to generate returns above certain specified thresholds.

Additionally, Apollo is exposed to interest rate risk. Apollo has debt obligations that have variable rates. Interest rate changes may therefore affect the amount of interest payments, future earnings and cash flows. At December 31, 2012 and 2011, $737.8 million and $738.5 million of Apollo’s debt balance (excluding debt of the consolidated VIEs) had a variable interest rate, respectively. However, as of December 31, 2011, $167.0 million of the debt had been effectively converted to a fixed rate using interest rate swaps as discussed in note 12. As the interest rate swap expired in May 2012, the $167 million of debt was no longer converted to a fixed rate.

18. SEGMENT REPORTING

Apollo conducts its management and incentive businesses primarily in the United States and substantially all of its revenues are generated domestically. These businesses are conducted through the following three reportable segments:

- Private Equity—primarily invests in control equity and related debt instruments, convertible securities and distressed debt investments;
- Credit—primarily invests in non-control corporate and structured debt instruments; and
- Real Estate—primarily invests in legacy commercial mortgage-backed securities, commercial first mortgage loans, mezzanine investments and other commercial real estate-related debt investments. Additionally, the Company sponsors real estate funds that focus on opportunistic investments in distressed debt and equity recapitalization transactions.

These business segments are differentiated based on the varying investment strategies. The performance is measured by management on an unconsolidated basis because management makes operating decisions and assesses the performance of each of Apollo's business segments based on financial and operating metrics and data that exclude the effects of consolidation of any of the affiliated funds.

The Company's financial results vary, since carried interest, which generally constitutes a large portion of the income from the funds that Apollo manages, as well as the transaction and advisory fees that the Company receives, can vary significantly from quarter to quarter and year to year. As a result, the Company emphasizes long-term financial growth and profitability to manage its business.

The tables below present the financial data for Apollo's reportable segments further separated between the management and incentive business as of December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010 and for the years ended December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010, respectively, which management believes is useful to the reader. The Company's management business has fairly stable revenues and expenses except for transaction fees, while its incentive business is more volatile and can have significant fluctuations as it is affected by changes in the fair value of investments due to market performance of the Company's business. The financial results of the management entities, as reflected in the "management" business section of the segment tables that follow, generally include management fee revenues, advisory and transaction fees and expenses exclusive of profit sharing expense. The financial results of the advisory entities, as reflected in the "incentive" business sections of the segment tables that follow, generally include carried interest income, investment income, profit sharing expense and incentive fee based compensation.

During the third quarter of 2012, the Company changed the name of its capital markets business segment to the credit segment. The Company believes this new name provides a more accurate description of the types of assets which are managed within this segment. In addition, this segment name change aligns with the Company's management reporting and organizational structure and is consistent with the manner in which resource deployment and compensation decisions are made.

Economic Net Income (Loss)

Economic Net Income ("ENI") is a key performance measure used by management in evaluating the performance of Apollo's private equity, credit and real estate segments. Management also believes the components of ENI such as the amount of management fees, advisory and transaction fees and carried interest income are indicative of the Company's performance. Management also uses ENI in making key operating decisions such as the following:

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(dollars in thousands, except share data)

- Decisions related to the allocation of resources such as staffing decisions including hiring and locations for deployment of the new hires;
- Decisions related to capital deployment such as providing capital to facilitate growth for the business and/or to facilitate expansion into new businesses; and
- Decisions relating to expenses, such as determining annual discretionary bonuses and equity-based compensation awards to its employees. With respect to compensation, management seeks to align the interests of certain professionals and selected other individuals with those of the investors in such funds and those of the Company's shareholders by providing such individuals a profit sharing interest in the carried interest income earned in relation to the funds. To achieve that objective, a certain amount of compensation is based on the Company's performance and growth for the year.

ENI is a measure of profitability and has certain limitations in that it does not take into account certain items included under U.S. GAAP. ENI represents segment income (loss) attributable to Apollo Global Management, LLC, which excludes the impact of (i) non-cash charges related to RSUs granted in connection with the 2007 private placement and amortization of AOG Units, (ii) income tax expense, (iii) amortization of intangibles associated with the 2007 Reorganization as well as acquisitions and (iv) Non-Controlling Interests excluding the remaining interest held by certain individuals who receive an allocation of income from certain of our credit management companies. In addition, segment data excludes the assets, liabilities and operating results of the funds and VIEs that are included in the consolidated financial statements.

During the fourth quarter 2011, the Company modified the measurement of ENI to better evaluate the performance of Apollo's private equity, credit and real estate segments in making key operating decisions. These modifications include a reduction to ENI for equity-based compensation expense for RSUs (excluding RSUs granted in connection with the 2007 private placement) and share options, reduction for non-controlling interests related to the remaining interest held by certain individuals who receive an allocation of income from certain of our credit management companies and an add-back for amortization of intangibles associated with the 2007 Reorganization and acquisitions. These modifications to ENI have been reflected in the prior period presentation of our segment results. The impact of this modification on ENI is reflected in the table below for the year ended December 31, 2010:

	Impact of Modification on ENI
	Private Equity Segment	Credit Segment	Real Estate Segment	Total Reportable Segments

ITEM 8. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY DATA

Index to Consolidated Financial Statements

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of
Apollo Global Management, LLC
New York, New York

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statements of financial condition of Apollo Global Management, LLC and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, and the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive (loss) income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2011. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Apollo Global Management, LLC and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2011, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. ORGANIZATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Apollo Global Management, LLC and its consolidated subsidiaries (the "Company" or "Apollo"), is a global alternative investment manager whose predecessor was founded in 1990. Its primary business is to raise and invest private equity, capital markets and real estate funds as well as managed accounts, on behalf of pension and endowment funds, as well as other institutional and high net worth individual investors. For these investment management services, Apollo receives management fees generally related to the amount of assets managed, transaction and advisory fees for the investments made and carried interest income related to the performance of the respective funds that it manages. Apollo has three primary business segments:

- Private equity—invests in control equity and related debt instruments, convertible securities and distressed debt investments;
- Capital markets—primarily invests in non-control debt and non-control equity investments, including distressed debt securities; and
- Real estate—invests in legacy commercial mortgage-backed securities, commercial first mortgage loans, mezzanine investments and other commercial real estate-related debt investments. Additionally, the Company sponsors real estate funds that focus on opportunistic investments in distressed debt and equity recapitalization transactions.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, its wholly-owned or majority-owned subsidiaries, the consolidated entities which are considered to be variable interest entities and for which the Company is considered the primary beneficiary, and certain entities which are not considered variable interest entities but in which the Company has a controlling financial interest. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated upon consolidation.

Reorganization of the Company

The Company was formed as a Delaware limited liability company on July 3, 2007 and completed a reorganization of its predecessor businesses on July 13, 2007 (the "Reorganization"). The Company is managed and operated by its manager, AGM Management, LLC, which in turn is wholly-owned and controlled by Leon Black, Joshua Harris and Marc Rowan (the "Managing Partners").

As of December 31, 2011, the Company owned, through three intermediate holding companies that include APO Corp., a Delaware corporation that is a domestic corporation for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, APO Asset Co., LLC ("APO Asset"), a Delaware limited liability company that is a disregarded entity for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, and APO (FC), LLC ("APO (FC)"), an Anguilla limited liability company that is treated as a corporation for U.S Federal income tax purposes (collectively, the "Intermediate Holding Companies"), 34.1% of the economic interests of, and operated and controlled all of the businesses and affairs of, the Apollo Operating Group through its wholly-owned general partners.

AP Professional Holdings, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("Holdings"), is the entity through which the Managing Partners and the Company's other partners (the "Contributing Partners") indirectly own (through Holdings) Apollo Operating Group units ("AOG Units") that represent 65.9% of the economic interests in the Apollo Operating Group as of December 31, 2011. The Company consolidates the financial results of the Apollo Operating Group and its consolidated subsidiaries. Holdings' ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group is reflected as a Non-Controlling Interest in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Apollo also entered into an exchange agreement with Holdings that allows the partners in Holdings, subject to the vesting and minimum retained ownership requirements and transfer restrictions set forth in the partnership agreements of the Apollo Operating Group, to exchange their AOG Units for the Company's Class A shares on a one-for-one basis up to four times each year, subject to customary conversion rate adjustments for splits, unit distributions and reclassifications. A limited partner must exchange one partnership unit in each of the ten Apollo Operating Group partnerships to effect an exchange for one Class A share.

The Company has historically consolidated Apollo Commodities Trading Fund, L.P. In April 2010, the Company became the sole investor in the master and feeder fund structure of Apollo Metals Trading Fund, L.P. (the "Metals Trading Fund") and Apollo Commodities Trading Fund, L.P., respectively, and began to consolidate the Metals Trading Fund. The Metals Trading Fund and Apollo Commodities Trading Fund were liquidated prior to December 31, 2010.

Initial Public Offering—On April 4, 2011, the Company completed the initial public offering ("IPO") of its Class A shares, representing limited liability company interests of the Company. AGM received net proceeds from the initial public offering of approximately $382.5 million, which was used to acquire additional AOG Units. As a result, Holdings ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group decreased from 70.7% to 66.5% and the Company's ownership interest increased from 29.3% to 33.5%. As such, the difference between the fair value of the consideration paid for the Apollo Operating Group level ownership interest and the book value on the date of the IPO is reflected in additional paid in capital.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of Consolidation—Apollo consolidates those entities it controls through a majority voting interest or through other means, including those funds in which the general partner is presumed to have control (e.g., AP Alternative Assets, L.P., a Guernsey limited partnership that, through AAA Investments L.P., its investment partnership, generally invests alongside certain of the Company's private equity funds and directly in certain of its capital markets funds and in other transactions that the Company sponsors and manages ("AAA") and Apollo Credit Senior Loan Fund, L.P. ("Apollo Senior Loan Fund")). Apollo also consolidates entities that are VIEs for which Apollo is the primary beneficiary. Under the amended consolidation rules, an enterprise is determined to be the primary beneficiary if it holds a controlling financial interest. A controlling financial interest is defined as (a) the power to direct the activities of a VIE that most significantly impact the entity's business and (b) the obligation to absorb losses of the entity or the right to receive benefits from the entity that could potentially be significant to the VIE.

Certain of the Company's subsidiaries hold equity interests in and/or receive fees qualifying as variable interests from the funds that the Company manages. The amended consolidation rules require an analysis to determine whether (a) an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE and (b) Apollo's involvement, through holding interests directly or indirectly in the entity or contractually through other variable interests (e.g., carried interest and management fees), would give it a controlling financial interest. When the VIE has qualified for the deferral of the amended consolidation rules in accordance with U.S. GAAP, the analysis is based on previous consolidation rules, which require an analysis to determine whether (a) an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE and (b) Apollo's involvement, through holding interests directly or indirectly in the entity or contractually through other variable interests (e.g., carried interest and management fees), would be expected to absorb a majority of the variability of the entity.

Under both the previous and amended consolidation rules, the determination of whether an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE requires judgments which include determining whether the equity investment at risk is sufficient to permit the entity to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support, evaluating whether the equity holders, as a group, can make decisions that have a significant effect on the success of the entity, determining whether two or more parties' equity interests should be aggregated, and determining whether the equity investors have proportionate voting rights to their obligations to absorb losses or rights to receive returns from an entity. Under both the previous and amended consolidation rules, Apollo determines whether it is the primary beneficiary of a VIE at the time it becomes involved with a VIE and reconsiders that conclusion continuously. The consolidation analysis can generally be performed qualitatively. However, if it is not readily apparent whether Apollo is the primary beneficiary, a quantitative expected losses and expected residual returns calculation will be performed. Investments and redemptions (either by Apollo, affiliates of Apollo or third parties) or amendments to the governing documents of the respective Apollo fund may affect an entity's status as a VIE or the determination of the primary beneficiary.

Apollo assesses whether it is the primary beneficiary and will consolidate or deconsolidate the entity accordingly. Performance of that assessment requires the exercise of judgment. Where the variable interests have qualified for the deferral, judgments are made in estimating cash flows in evaluating which member within the equity group absorbs a majority of the expected profits or losses of the VIE. Where the variable interests have not qualified for the deferral, judgments are made in determining whether a member in the equity group has a controlling financial interest including power to direct activities that most significantly impact the VIE's economic performance and rights to receive benefits or obligations to absorb losses that are potentially significant to the VIE. Under both guidelines, judgment is made in evaluating the nature of the relationships and activities of the parties involved in determining which party within a related-party group is most closely associated with a VIE. The use of these judgments has a material impact to certain components of Apollo's consolidated financial statements.

The only VIE formed prior to 2010, the adoption date of amended consolidation guidance, was consolidated as of the date of transition resulting in recognition of the assets and liabilities of the consolidated VIE at fair value and recognition of a cumulative effect transition adjustment presented as a component of Non-Controlling Interests in Consolidated Entities in the consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity for the year ended December 31, 2010. The transition adjustment is classified as a component of Non-Controlling Interest rather than an adjustment to appropriated partners' capital because the VIE is funded with equity and 100% of the equity ownership of the VIE is held by unconsolidated Apollo funds and one unaffiliated third party. Changes in the fair value of assets and liabilities and the related interest, dividend and other income for this VIE are recorded within Non-Controlling Interests in consolidated entities in the consolidated statement of financial condition and within net gains from investment activities of consolidated VIEs and net (income) loss attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statement of operations.

Certain of the consolidated VIEs were formed to issue collateralized notes in the legal form of debt backed by financial assets. Changes in the fair value of the assets and liabilities of these VIEs and the related interest and other income are presented within appropriated partners' capital in the consolidated statement of financial condition as these VIEs are funded solely with debt and within net gains from investment activities of consolidated variable interest entities and net (income) loss attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statement of operations. Such amounts are recorded within appropriated partners' capital as, in each case, the VIE's note holders, not Apollo, will ultimately receive the benefits or absorb the losses associated with the VIE's assets and liabilities.

Assets and liability amounts of the consolidated VIEs are shown in separate sections within the consolidated statement of financial condition as of December 31, 2011 and 2010.

Refer to additional disclosures regarding VIEs in note 5. Intercompany transactions and balances, if any, have been eliminated in the consolidation.

Equity Method Investments—For investments in entities over which the Company exercises significant influence but which do not meet the requirements for consolidation, the Company uses the equity method of accounting, whereby the Company records its share of the underlying income or loss of such entities. Income (loss) from equity method investments is recognized as part of other income (loss) in the consolidated statements of operations. The carrying amounts of equity method investments are reflected in investments in the consolidated statements of financial condition. As the underlying entities that the Company manages and invests in are, for U.S. GAAP purposes, primarily investment companies which reflect their investments at estimated fair value, the carrying value of the Company's equity method investments in such entities are at fair value.

Non-Controlling Interest—For entities that are consolidated, but not 100% owned, a portion of the income or loss and corresponding equity is allocated to owners other than Apollo. The aggregate of the income or loss and corresponding equity that is not owned by the Company is included in Non-Controlling Interest in the consolidated financial statements. The Non-Controlling Interest relating to Apollo Global Management, LLC primarily includes the 65.9% ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group held by the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners through their limited partner interests in Holdings and other ownership interests in consolidated entities, which primarily consist of the approximate 98% ownership interest held by limited partners in AAA as of December 31, 2011. Non-Controlling Interests also include limited partner interests of Apollo managed funds in certain consolidated VIEs.

Non-Controlling Interests are presented as a separate component of shareholders' equity on the Company's consolidated statements of financial condition; net income (loss) includes the net income (loss) attributed to the Non-Controlling Interest holders on the Company's consolidated statements of operations; the primary components of Non-Controlling Interest are separately presented in the Company's consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity to clearly distinguish the interests in the Apollo Operating Group and other ownership interests in the consolidated entities; and profits and losses are allocated to Non-Controlling Interests in proportion to their ownership interests regardless of their basis.

Cash and Cash Equivalents—Apollo considers all highly liquid short-term investments with original maturities of 90 days or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. Substantially all amounts on deposit in interest-bearing accounts with major financial institutions exceed insured limits.

Restricted Cash—Restricted cash represents cash deposited at a bank, which is pledged as collateral in connection with leased premises.

Revenues—Revenues are reported in three separate categories that include (i) advisory and transaction fees from affiliates, which relate to the investments of the funds and may include individual monitoring agreements with the portfolio companies and debt investment vehicles of the private equity funds and capital markets funds;

(ii) management fees from affiliates, which are based on committed capital, invested capital, net asset value, gross assets or as otherwise defined in the respective agreements; and (iii) carried interest income (loss) from affiliates, which is normally based on the performance of the funds subject to preferred return.

Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates—Advisory and transaction fees, including directors' fees are recognized when the underlying services rendered are substantially completed in accordance with the terms of their transaction and advisory agreements. Additionally, during the normal course of business, the Company incurs certain costs related to private equity fund transactions that are not consummated ("Broken Deal Costs"). Refer to the "Pending Deal Costs" policy below for information regarding how and when the Company accounts for Broken Deal Costs.

As a result of providing advisory services to certain private equity and capital markets portfolio companies, Apollo is generally entitled to receive fees for transactions related to the acquisition and disposition of portfolio companies as well as ongoing monitoring of portfolio company operations. The amounts due from portfolio companies are included in "Due from Affiliates," which is discussed further in note 15. Under the terms of the limited partnership agreements for certain funds, the management fee payable by the funds may be subject to a reduction based on a certain percentage of such advisory and transaction fees, net of applicable broken deal costs ("Management Fee Offset"). Such amounts are presented as a reduction to Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates in the consolidated statements of operations.

Management Fees from Affiliates—Management fees for private equity funds, real estate funds and certain capital markets funds are recognized in the period during which the related services are performed in accordance with the contractual terms of the related agreement, and are based upon (1) a percentage of the capital committed during the commitment period, and thereafter based on the remaining invested capital of unrealized investments, or (2) net asset value, gross assets or as otherwise defined in the respective agreements.

Carried Interest Income from Affiliates—Apollo is entitled to an incentive return that can normally amount to as much as 20% of the total returns on funds' capital, depending upon performance. Performance-based fees are assessed as a percentage of the investment performance of the funds. The carried interest income from affiliates for any period is based upon an assumed liquidation of the fund's net assets on the reporting date, and distribution of the net proceeds in accordance with the fund's income allocation provisions. Carried interest receivable is presented separately in the consolidated statements of financial condition. The carried interest income may be subject to reversal to the extent that the carried interest income recorded exceeds the amount due to the general partner based on a fund's cumulative investment returns. When applicable, the accrual for potential repayment of previously received carried interest income, which is a component of due to affiliates, represents all amounts previously distributed to the general partner that would need to be repaid to the Apollo funds if these funds were to be liquidated based on the current fair value of the underlying funds' investments as of the reporting date. The actual general partner obligation, however, would not become payable or realized until the end of a fund's life.

Management Fee Waiver and Notional Investment Program—Under the terms of certain investment fund partnership agreements, Apollo may from time to time elect to forgo a portion of the management fee revenue that is due from the funds and instead receive a right to a proportionate interest in future distributions of profits of those funds. Waived fees recognized during the period are included in management fees from affiliates in the consolidated statements of operations. This election allows certain employees of Apollo to waive a portion of their respective share of future income from Apollo and receive, in lieu of a cash distribution, title and ownership of the profits interests in the respective fund. Apollo immediately assigns the profits interests received to its employees. Such assignments of profits interests are treated as compensation and benefits when assigned.

(dollars in thousands, except share data)

Deferred Revenue—Apollo earns management fees subject to the Management Fee Offset. When advisory and transaction fees are earned by the management company, the Management Fee Offset reduces the management fee obligation of the fund. When the management company receives cash for advisory and transaction fees, a certain percentage is allocated as a credit to reduce future management fees, otherwise payable by such fund. Such credit is classified as deferred revenue in the consolidated statements of financial condition. As the management fees earned by the management company are presented on a gross basis, any Management Fee Offsets calculated are presented as a reduction to advisory and transaction fees in the consolidated statements of operations.

Additionally, Apollo earns advisory fees pursuant to the terms of the advisory agreements with certain of the portfolio companies that are owned by the funds. When Apollo receives a payment from a portfolio company that exceeds the advisory fees earned at that point in time, the excess payment is classified as deferred revenue in the consolidated statements of financial condition. The advisory agreements with the portfolio companies vary in duration and the associated fees are received monthly, quarterly or annually. Deferred revenue is reversed and recognized as revenue over the period that the agreed upon services are performed.

Under the terms of the funds' partnership agreements, Apollo is normally required to bear organizational expenses over a set dollar amount and placement costs in connection with the offering and sale of interests in the funds to investors. The placement fees are payable to placement agents, who are independent third parties that assist in identifying potential investors, securing commitments to invest from such potential investors, preparing or revising offering and marketing materials, developing strategies for attempting to secure investments by potential investors and/or providing feedback and insight regarding issues and concerns of potential investors, when a limited partner either commits or funds a commitment to a fund. In certain instances the placement fees are paid over a period of time. Based on the management agreements with the funds, Apollo considers placement fees and organizational costs paid in determining if cash has been received in excess of the management fees earned. Placement fees and organizational costs are normally the obligation of Apollo but can be paid for by the funds. When these costs are paid by the fund, the resulting obligations are included within deferred revenue. The deferred revenue balance will also be reduced during future periods when management fees are earned but not paid.

Interest and Other Income—Apollo recognizes security transactions on the trade date. Interest income is recognized as earned on an accrual basis. Discounts and premiums on securities purchased are accreted or amortized over the life of the respective securities using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are recorded based on the specific identification method.

Due from/to Affiliates—Apollo considers its existing partners, employees, certain former employees, portfolio companies of the funds and non-consolidated private equity, capital markets and real estate funds to be affiliates or related parties.

Investments, at Fair Value—The Company follows U.S. GAAP attributable to fair value measurements, which among other things, requires enhanced disclosures about investments that are measured and reported at fair value. Investments, at fair value, represent investments of the consolidated funds, investments of the consolidated VIEs and certain financial instruments for which the fair value option was elected and the unrealized gains and losses resulting from changes in the fair value are reflected as net gains (losses) from investment activities and net gains (losses) from investment activities of the consolidated variable interest entities, respectively, in the consolidated statements of operations. In accordance with U.S. GAAP, investments measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following categories:

Level I—Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the reporting date. The type of investments included in Level I include listed equities and listed derivatives. As required by U.S. GAAP, the Company does not adjust the quoted price for these investments, even in situations where the Company holds a large position and the sale of such position would likely deviate from the quoted price.

Level II—Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies. Investments that are generally included in this category include corporate bonds and loans, less liquid and restricted equity securities and certain over-the-counter derivatives where the fair value is based on observable inputs. These investments exhibit higher levels of liquid market observability as compared to Level III investments. The Company subjects broker quotes to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level II investment. These criteria include, but are not limited to, the number and quality of broker quotes, the standard deviation of obtained broker quotes, and the percentage deviation from independent pricing services.

Level III—Pricing inputs are unobservable for the investment and includes situations where there is little observable market activity for the investment. The inputs into the determination of fair value may require significant management judgment or estimation. Investments that are included in this category generally include general and limited partnership interests in corporate private equity and real estate funds, mezzanine funds, funds of hedge funds, distressed debt and non-investment grade residual interests in securitizations and collateralized debt obligations where the fair value is based on observable inputs as well as unobservable inputs. When a security is valued based on broker quotes, the Company subjects those quotes to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level II or Level III investment. Some of the factors we consider include the number of broker quotes we obtain, the quality of the broker quotes, the standard deviations of the observed broker quotes and the corroboration of the broker quotes to independent pricing services.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment when the fair value is based on unobservable inputs.

In cases where an investment or financial instrument that is measured and reported at fair value is transferred into or out of Level III of the fair value hierarchy, the Company accounts for the transfer as of the end of the reporting period.

Private Equity Investments

The value of liquid investments, where the primary market is an exchange (whether foreign or domestic) is determined using period end market prices. Such prices are generally based on the last sales price on the date of determination.

Valuation approaches used to estimate the fair value of investments that are less liquid include the income approach and the market approach. The income approach provides an indication of fair value based on the present value of cash flows that a business or security is expected to generate in the future. The most widely used methodology used in the income approach is a discounted cash flow method. Inherent in the discounted cash flow method are assumptions of expected results and a calculated discount rate. The market approach provides an indication of fair value based on a comparison of the subject company to comparable publicly traded companies and transactions in the industry. The market approach is driven more by current market conditions of actual trading levels of similar companies and actual transaction data of similar companies. Consideration may also be given to such factors as the Company's historical and projected financial data, valuations given to comparable companies, the size and scope of the Company's operations, the Company's strengths, weaknesses, expectations relating to the market's receptivity to an offering of the Company's securities, applicable restrictions on transfer, industry information and assumptions, general economic and market conditions and other factors deemed relevant. As part of management's process, the Company utilizes a valuation committee to review and approve the valuations. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, those estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed, and the differences could be material.

Capital Markets Investments

The majority of the investments in Apollo's capital markets funds are valued using quoted market prices. Debt and equity securities that are not publicly traded or whose market prices are not readily available are valued at fair value utilizing recognized pricing services, market participants or other sources. The capital markets funds also enter into foreign currency exchange contracts, credit default swap contracts, and other derivative contracts, which may include options, caps, collars and floors. Foreign currency exchange contracts are marked-to-market by recognizing the difference between the contract exchange rate and the current market rate as unrealized appreciation or depreciation. If securities are held at the end of this period, the changes in value are recorded in income as unrealized. Realized gains or losses are recognized when contracts are settled. Credit default swap contracts are recorded at fair value as an asset or liability with changes in fair value recorded as unrealized appreciation or depreciation. Realized gains or losses are recognized at the termination of the contract based on the difference between the close-out price of the credit default contract and the original contract price.

Forward contracts are valued based on market rates obtained from counterparties or prices obtained from recognized financial data service providers. When determining fair value pricing when no market value exists, the value attributed to an investment is based on the enterprise value at the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Valuation approaches used to estimate the fair value of illiquid investments included in Apollo's capital markets funds also may use the income approach or market approach. The valuation approaches used consider, as applicable, market risks, credit risks, counterparty risks and foreign currency risks.

Real Estate Investments—For the CMBS portfolio of Apollo's funds, the estimated fair value is determined by reference to market prices provided by certain dealers who make a market in these financial instruments.

(dollars in thousands, except share data)

Broker quotes are only indicative of fair value and may not necessarily represent what the funds would receive in an actual trade for the applicable instrument. Loans that the funds plan to sell or liquidate in the near term will be treated as loans held-for-sale and will be held at the lower of cost or fair value. For the illiquid investments, valuations of non-marketable underlying investments are determined using methods that include, but are not limited to (i) discounted cash flow estimates or comparable analysis prepared internally, (ii) third party appraisals or valuations by qualified real estate appraisers, and (iii) contractual sales value of investments/properties subject to bona fide purchase contracts. Methods (i) and (ii) also incorporate consideration of the use of the income, cost, or sales comparison approaches of estimating property values.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

Except for the Company's debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement (as defined in note 12), Apollo's financial instruments are recorded at fair value or at amounts whose carrying value approximates fair value. See "Investments, at Fair Value" above. While Apollo's valuations of portfolio investments are based on assumptions that Apollo believes are reasonable under the circumstances, the actual realized gains or losses will depend on, among other factors, future operating results, the value of the assets and market conditions at the time of disposition, any related transaction costs and the timing and manner of sale, all of which may ultimately differ significantly from the assumptions on which the valuations were based. Other financial instruments carrying values generally approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of those instruments or variable interest rates related to the borrowings. As disclosed in note 12, the Company's long term debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement is believed to have an estimated fair value of approximately $752.2 million based on a yield analysis using available market data of comparable securities with similar terms and remaining maturities. However, the carrying value that is recorded on the consolidated statement of financial condition is the amount for which we expect to settle the long term debt obligation.

Fair Value Option—Apollo has elected the fair value option for the convertible notes issued by HFA and for the assets and liabilities of the consolidated VIEs. Such election is irrevocable and is applied to financial instruments on an individual basis at initial recognition. Apollo has elected to separately present interest income in the consolidated statement of operations from other changes in the fair value of the convertible notes issued by HFA. Apollo has applied the fair value option for certain corporate loans, other investments and debt obligations held by these entities that otherwise would not have been carried at fair value. Refer to note 5 for further disclosure on financial instruments of the consolidated VIEs for which the fair value option has been elected.

Interest Rate Swap Agreements—Apollo recognizes derivatives as either an asset or liability measured at fair value. In order to reduce interest rate risk, Apollo entered into interest rate swap agreements which were formally designated as cash flow hedges. To qualify for cash flow hedge accounting, interest rate swaps must meet certain criteria, including (a) the items to be hedged expose Apollo to interest rate risk and (b) the interest rate swaps are highly effective in reducing Apollo's exposure to interest rate risk. Apollo formally documents at inception its hedge relationships, including identification of the hedging instruments and the hedged items, its risk management objectives, its strategy for undertaking the hedge transaction and Apollo's evaluation of effectiveness. Effectiveness is periodically assessed based upon a comparison of the relative changes in the cash flows of the interest rate swaps and the items being hedged.

For derivatives that have been formally designated as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivatives are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income ("OCI").

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(dollars in thousands, except share data)

Amounts in OCI are reclassified into earnings when interest expense on the underlying borrowings is recognized. If, at any time, the swaps are determined to be ineffective, in whole or in part, due to changes in the interest rate swap or underlying debt agreements, the fair value of the portion of the interest rate swap determined to be ineffective will be recognized as a gain or loss in the consolidated statements of operations.

Financial Instruments held by Consolidated VIEs

The consolidated VIEs hold investments that are traded over-the-counter. Investments in securities that are traded on a securities exchange or comparable over-the-counter quotation systems are valued based on the last reported sale price at that date. If no sales of such investments are reported on such date, and in the case of over-the-counter securities or other investments for which the last sale date is not available, valuations are based on independent market quotations obtained from market participants, recognized pricing services or other sources deemed relevant, and the prices are based on the average of the "bid" and "ask" prices, or at ascertainable prices at the close of business on such day. Market quotations are generally based on valuation pricing models or market transactions of similar securities adjusted for security-specific factors such as relative capital structure priority and interest and yield risks, among other factors.

The consolidated VIEs also have debt obligations that are recorded at fair value. The valuation approach used to estimate the fair values of debt obligations is the discounted cash flow method, which includes consideration of the cash flows of the debt obligation based on projected quarterly interest payments and quarterly amortization. Debt obligations are discounted based on the appropriate yield curve given the loan's respective maturity and credit rating. Management uses its discretion and judgment in considering and appraising relevant factors for determining the valuations of its debt obligations.

Pending Deal Costs

Pending deal costs consist of certain costs incurred (e.g. research costs, due diligence costs, professional fees, legal fees and other related items) related to private equity and capital markets fund transactions that we are pursuing but which have not yet been consummated. These costs are deferred until such transactions are broken or successfully completed. A transaction is determined to be broken upon management's decision to no longer pursue the transaction. In accordance with the related fund agreements, in the event the deal is broken, all of the costs are reimbursed by the funds and considered in the calculation of the Management Fee Offset. These offsets are included in Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates in the Company's consolidated statements of operations. If a deal is successfully completed, Apollo is reimbursed by the fund or a fund's portfolio company for all costs incurred.

Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets consist primarily of ownership interests in aircraft, leasehold improvements, furniture, fixtures and equipment, computer hardware and software and are recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization is calculated using the straight-line method over the assets' estimated useful lives and in the case of leasehold improvements the lesser of the useful life or the term of the lease. Aircraft engine overhauls are capitalized and depreciated until the next expected overhaul. Expenditures for repairs and maintenance are charged to expense when incurred. The Company evaluates long-lived assets for impairment periodically and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amounts of the assets may be impaired.

Business Combinations—The Company accounts for acquisitions using the purchase method of accounting in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The purchase price of the acquisition is allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed using the fair values determined by management as of the acquisition date.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets—Goodwill and indefinite-life intangible assets must be reviewed annually for impairment or more frequently if circumstances indicate impairment may have occurred. Identifiable finite-life intangible assets, by contrast, are amortized over their estimated useful lives, which are periodically re-evaluated for impairment or when circumstances indicate an impairment may have occurred. Apollo amortizes its identifiable finite-life intangible assets using a method of amortization reflecting the pattern in which the economic benefits of the finite-life intangible asset are consumed or otherwise used up. If that pattern cannot be reliably determined, Apollo uses the straight-line method amortization. At June 30, 2011, the Company performed its annual impairment testing and determined there was no impairment of goodwill or indefinite life intangible assets at such time.

Profit Sharing Payable—Profit sharing payable represents the amounts payable to employees and former employees who are entitled to a proportionate share of carried interest income in one or more funds. The liability is calculated based upon the changes to realized and unrealized carried interest and is therefore not payable until the carried interest itself is realized.

Debt Issuance Costs—Debt issuance costs consist of costs incurred in obtaining financing and are amortized over the term of the financing using the effective interest method. These costs are included in Other Assets on the consolidated statements of financial condition.

Foreign Currency—The Company may, from time to time, hold foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities. Such assets and liabilities are translated using the exchange rates prevailing at the end of each reporting period. The functional currency of the Company's international subsidiaries is the U.S. Dollar, as their operations are considered an extension of U.S. parent operations. Non-monetary assets and liabilities of the Company's international subsidiaries are remeasured into the functional currency using historical exchange rates specific to each asset and liability. The results of the Company's foreign operations are normally remeasured using an average exchange rate for the respective reporting period. All currency remeasurement adjustments are included within other income (loss), net in the consolidated statements of operations. Gains and losses on the settlement of foreign currency transactions are also included within other income (loss), net in the consolidated statements of operations.

Compensation and Benefits

The components of compensation and benefits have been expanded in the consolidated statements of operations in 2009 and 2010 to conform with the 2011 presentation.

Equity-Based Compensation—Equity-based compensation is measured based on the grant date fair value of the award. Equity-based awards that do not require future service (i.e., vested awards) are expensed immediately. Equity-based employee awards that require future service are expensed over the relevant service period. The Company estimates forfeitures for equity-based awards that are not expected to vest. Equity-based awards granted to non-employees for services provided to the affiliates are remeasured to fair value at the end of each reporting period and expensed over the relevant service period.

Salaries, Bonus and Benefits—Salaries, bonus and benefits includes base salaries, discretionary and non-discretionary bonuses, severance and employee benefits. Bonuses are accrued over the service period.

From time to time, the Company may assign profits interests received in lieu of management fees to certain investment professionals. Such assignments of profits interests are treated as compensation and benefits when assigned.

The Company sponsors a 401(k) Savings Plan whereby U.S.-based employees are entitled to participate in the plan based upon satisfying certain eligibility requirements. The Company may provide discretionary contributions from time to time. No contributions relating to this plan were made by the Company for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Profit Sharing Expense—Profit sharing expense consists of a portion of carried interest earned in one or more funds allocated to employees and former employees. Profit sharing expense is recognized as the related carried interest income is recognized. Profit sharing expense can be reversed during periods when there is a decline in carried interest income that was previously recognized. Additionally, profit sharing expenses paid may be subject to clawback from employees, former employees and Contributing Partners.

In June 2011, the Company adopted a performance based incentive arrangement for certain Apollo partners and employees designed to more closely align compensation on an annual basis with the overall realized performance of the Company. This arrangement enables certain partners and employees to earn discretionary compensation based on carried interest realizations earned by the Company in a given year, which amounts are reflected in profit sharing expense in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Incentive Fee Compensation—Certain employees are entitled to receive a discretionary portion of incentive fee income from certain of our capital markets funds, based on performance for the year. Incentive fee compensation expense is recognized on accrual basis as the related carried interest income is earned. Incentive fee compensation expense may be subject to reversal until the carried interest income crystallizes.

Other Income (Loss)

Net Gains (Losses) from Investment Activities—Net gains (losses) from investment activities include both realized gains and losses and the change in unrealized gains and losses in the Company's investment portfolio between the opening balance sheet date and the closing balance sheet date. The consolidated financial statements include the net realized and unrealized gains (losses) of AAA and the investment in HFA discussed in note 4.

Net Gains from Investment Activities of Consolidated Variable Interest Entities—Changes in the fair value of the consolidated VIEs' assets and liabilities and related interest, dividend and other income and expenses subsequent to consolidation are presented within net gains (losses) from investment activities of consolidated variable interest entities and are attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statements of operations.

Comprehensive (Loss) Income—U.S. GAAP guidance establishes standards for reporting comprehensive income and its components in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. U.S. GAAP requires that the Company classify items of OCI by their nature in the financial statements and display the accumulated balance of OCI separately in the shareholders' equity section of the Company's consolidated statements of financial condition. Comprehensive income (loss) consists of net income (loss) and OCI. Apollo's OCI is primarily comprised of the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the interest rate swap agreements discussed previously. If, at any time, any of the Company's subsidiaries' functional currency becomes non-U.S. dollar denominated, the Company will record foreign currency cumulative translation adjustments in OCI.

Income Taxes—The Apollo Operating Group and its subsidiaries continue to generally operate in the U.S. as partnerships for U.S. Federal income tax purposes and generally as corporate entities in non-U.S. jurisdictions. Accordingly, these entities in some cases are subject to New York City unincorporated business tax, or in the case of non-U.S. entities, to non-U.S. corporate income taxes. In addition, APO Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, is subject to U.S. Federal, state and local corporate income tax, and the Company's provision for income taxes is accounted for in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

As significant judgment is required in determining tax expense and in evaluating tax positions, including evaluating uncertainties, we recognize the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only where the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. The tax benefit is measured as the largest amount of benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. If a tax position is not considered more likely than not to be sustained, then no benefits of the position are recognized. The Company's tax positions are reviewed and evaluated quarterly and determine whether or not we have uncertain tax positions that require financial statement recognition.

Deferred income taxes are provided for the effects of temporary differences between the tax basis of an asset or liability and its reported amount in the consolidated statements of financial condition. These temporary differences result in taxable or deductible amounts in future years.

Net Income (Loss) Per Class A Share—U.S. GAAP requires use of the two-class method of computing earnings per share for all periods presented for each class of common stock and participating security as if all earnings for the period had been distributed. Under the two-class method, during periods of net income, the net income is first reduced for distributions declared on all classes of securities to arrive at undistributed earnings. During periods of net losses, the net loss is reduced for distributions declared on participating securities only if the security has the right to participate in the earnings of the entity and an objectively determinable contractual obligation to share in net losses of the entity.

The remaining earnings are allocated to common Class A Shares and participating securities to the extent that each security shares in earnings as if all of the earnings for the period had been distributed. Each total is then divided by the applicable number of shares to arrive at basic earnings per share. For the diluted earnings, the denominator includes all outstanding common shares and all potential common shares assumed issued if they are dilutive. The numerator is adjusted for any changes in income or loss that would result from a hypothetical conversion of these potential common shares.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Apollo's most significant estimates include goodwill, intangible assets, income taxes, carried interest income from affiliates, non-cash compensation and fair value of investments and debt in the consolidated and unconsolidated funds and VIEs. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In April 2011, the FASB amended existing guidance for agreements to transfer financial assets that both entitle and obligate the transferor to repurchase or redeem the financial assets before their maturity. The amendments remove from the assessment of effective control the criterion requiring the transferor to have the ability to repurchase or redeem the financial assets on substantially the agreed terms, even in the event of default by the transferee and the collateral maintenance implementation guidance related to that criterion. The guidance is effective for the first interim or annual period beginning on or after December 15, 2011 and is to be applied prospectively. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In May 2011, the FASB issued an update which includes amendments that result in common fair value measurement and disclosure requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRSs. Consequently, the amendments change the wording used to describe many of the requirements in U.S. GAAP for measuring fair value and for disclosing information about fair value measurements. Certain of the amendments could change how the fair value measurement guidance is applied including provisions related to highest and best use and valuation premise for nonfinancial assets, application to financial assets and financial liabilities with offsetting positions in market risks or counterparty credit risk, premiums or discounts in fair value measurement, fair value of an instrument classified in a reporting entity's shareholders' equity, and additional disclosure requirements about fair value measurements. The update is effective for interim and annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011 for public entities and is to be applied prospectively. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In June 2011, the FASB issued an update which includes amendments that eliminate the option to present components of other comprehensive income (OCI) as part of the statement of changes in stockholders' equity and requires entities to report components of other comprehensive income in either (1) a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or (2) two separate but consecutive statements. In a single continuous statement, entities must include the components of net income, a total for net income, the components of OCI, a total for OCI, and a total for comprehensive income. Under the two separate but continuous statements approach, the first statement would include components of net income, consistent with the income statement format used today, and the second statement would include components of OCI. For public entities, the amendments are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2011. In December 2011, the FASB issued an amendment to this update deferring changes related to the presentation of reclassification adjustments out of accumulated other comprehensive income. The adoption of this guidance will not have an impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements as the Company presents a separate statement of comprehensive income.

In September 2011, the FASB issued an update which amends the guidance related to testing goodwill for impairment. Under the revised guidance, entities testing goodwill for impairment have the option to perform a qualitative assessment before calculating the fair value of the reporting unit (i.e., step 1 of the goodwill impairment test). If entities determine, on the basis of qualitative factors, that the fair value of the reporting unit is more likely than not to be less than the carrying amount, the two-step impairment test would be required. Otherwise, further testing would not be needed. The update does not amend the requirement to test goodwill for impairment between annual tests if events or circumstances warrant. The amendments are effective for all entities for annual and interim goodwill impairment tests performed for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2011. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have an impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In December 2011, the FASB issued amended guidance which will enhance disclosures required by U.S. GAAP by requiring improved information about financial instruments and derivative instruments that are either (1) offset or (2) subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement, irrespective of whether they are offset. This information will enable users of an entity's financial statements to evaluate the effect or potential effect of netting arrangements on an entity's financial position, including the effect or potential effect of rights of setoff associated with certain financial instruments and derivative instruments. An entity is required to apply the amendments for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2013, and interim periods within those annual periods. An entity should provide the disclosures required by those amendments retrospectively for all comparative periods presented. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact that this guidance will have on its consolidated financial statements.

3. ACQUISITIONS AND BUSINESS COMBINATIONS

Business Combinations

Gulf Stream

On October 24, 2011 (the "Acquisition Date"), the Company completed its previously announced acquisition (the "Acquisition") of 100% of the membership interests of Gulf Stream Asset Management, LLC ("Gulf Stream"), a manager of collateralized loan obligations. The Acquisition was consummated by the Company for total consideration at fair value of approximately $38.3 million.

The transaction broadens Apollo's existing senior credit business by expanding our credit coverage as well as investor relationships and increases the Assets Under Management of Apollo's capital markets.

Consideration exchanged at closing consisted of payment of approximately $29.6 million, of which $6.7 million was used to repay subordinated notes and debt due to the existing shareholder on behalf of Gulf Stream. The Company funded the consideration exchanged at closing from its existing cash resources. Additional consideration of $4.0 million having an acquisition date fair value of $3.9 million will be paid to the former owners of Gulf Stream on the fourteen-month anniversary of the closing date. The Company will also make payments to the former owners of Gulf Stream under a contingent consideration obligation which requires the Company to transfer cash to the former owners of Gulf Stream based on a specified percentage of incentive fee revenue. The contingent consideration liability has an Acquisition Date fair value of approximately $4.7 million, which was determined based on the present value of the estimated range of undiscounted incentive fee payable cash flows between $0 and approximately $8.7 million using a discount rate of 13.7%.

Tangible assets acquired in the Acquisition consisted of a management fee receivable. Intangible assets acquired consisted primarily of certain management contracts providing economic rights to senior fees, subordinate fees, and incentive fees from existing CLOs managed by Gulf Stream. Additionally, as part of the Acquisition, the Company acquired the assets and liabilities of six consolidated CLOs.

The Company has performed an analysis and an evaluation of the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The estimated fair value of the assets acquired exceeded the estimated fair value of the liabilities assumed as of the Acquisition Date resulting in a bargain purchase gain of approximately $195.5 million. The bargain purchase gain is reflected in other income, net within the consolidated statements of operations with a corresponding amount reflected in appropriated partners' capital within the consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity. The estimated fair values for the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed are summarized in the following table:

Tangible Assets:
Receivable, management fees	$	1,720

The 2011 and 2010 supplemental pro forma earnings include an adjustment to exclude $4.9 million and $9.7 million, respectively of compensation expense not expected to recur due to termination of certain contractual arrangements as part of the closing of the Acquisition.

Other Acquisitions

On February 1, 2010, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of a limited company incorporated under the laws of Hong Kong and related entities thereto. The Company paid cash consideration of $1.4 million for identifiable assets with a combined fair value of $0.4 million, which resulted in $1.0 million of additional goodwill.

CPI

On November 12, 2010, Apollo completed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of Citi Property Investors ("CPI"), the real estate investment management group of Citigroup Inc. CPI had AUM of approximately $3.6 billion as of December 31, 2010. CPI is an integrated real estate investment platform with investment professionals located in Asia, Europe and North America. As part of the acquisition, Apollo received cash of $15.5 million and acquired general partner interests in, and advisory agreements with, various real estate investment funds and co-invest vehicles and added to its team of real estate professionals. The consideration transferred in the acquisition is a contingent consideration in the form of a liability incurred by Apollo to CPI. The liability is an obligation of Apollo to transfer cash to CPI based on a specified percentage of future earnings. The estimated fair value of the contingent liability is $1.2 million as of November 12, 2010. The acquisition was accounted for as a business combination and the Company recorded a $24.1 million gain on acquisition which is included in Other Income (Loss), Net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations for the year ended December 31, 2010.

AAA Investments owns equity as a private equity co-investment in Caesars Entertainment Corporation (formerly known as Harrah's Entertainment, Inc.) and AAA Investments has an ownership interest in LeverageSource, L.P., which owns debt of Caesars Entertainment Corporation. At December 31, 2010, AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments was greater than 5% of the net assets of the consolidated funds and VIEs and was valued at $102.8 million. In addition to AAA Investments' private equity co-investment in Momentive Performance Materials Holdings Inc. ("Momentive") noted above, AAA Investments has an ownership interest in the debt of Momentive. AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments is valued at $85.9 million and $138.8 million at December 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010, respectively. At December 31, 2010, AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments was greater than 5% of the net assets of the consolidated funds and VIEs. Furthermore, AAA Investments owns equity, as a private equity co-investment, and debt, through its investment in Autumnleaf, L.P. and Apollo Fund VI BC, L.P., in CEVA Logistics. AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments was valued at $75.2 million and $124.6 million as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively. At December 31, 2010, AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments was greater than 5% of the net assets of the consolidated funds and VIEs. Apollo Strategic Value Offshore Fund, Ltd. (the "Apollo Strategic Value Fund") has an ownership interest in a special purpose vehicle, Apollo VIF/SVF Bradco LLC, which owns interests in Bradco Supply Corporation. AAA Investments' share of this investment is valued at $80.9 million at December 31, 2011.

Apollo Strategic Value Fund primarily invests in the securities of leveraged companies in North America and Europe through three core strategies: distressed investments, value-driven investments and special opportunities. In connection with the redemptions requested by AAA Investments of its investment in Apollo Strategic Value Fund, the remainder of AAA Investments' investment in the Apollo Strategic Value Fund was converted into liquidating shares issued by the Apollo Strategic Value Fund. The liquidating shares were initially allocated a pro rata portion of each of the Apollo Strategic Value Fund's existing investments and liabilities, and as those investments are sold, AAA Investments is allocated the proceeds from such disposition less its proportionate share of any current expenses incurred by the Apollo Strategic Value Fund.

Apollo Asia Opportunity Offshore Fund, Ltd. ("Asia Opportunity Fund") is an investment vehicle that seeks to generate attractive risk-adjusted returns across market cycles by capitalizing on investment opportunities created by the increasing demand for capital in the rapidly expanding Asian markets. In connection with a

The liquidating shares were initially allocated a pro rata portion of each of the Asia Opportunity Fund's existing investments and liabilities, and as those investments are sold, AAA Investments is allocated the proceeds from such disposition less its proportionate share of any current expenses incurred or reserves set by the Asia Opportunity Fund. At December 31, 2011 and 2010, the liquidating shares of Asia Opportunity Fund had a fair value of $26.1 million and $45.0 million, respectively.

Apollo Life Re Ltd. is an Apollo-sponsored vehicle that owns the majority of the equity of Athene Holding Ltd., ("Athene"), the parent of Athene Life Re Ltd., a Bermuda-based reinsurance company focused on the life reinsurance sector, Athene Annuity & Life Assurance Company, a recently acquired Delaware-domiciled (formerly South Carolina domiciled) stock life insurance company focused on retail sales and reinsurance in the retirement services market, Investors Insurance Corporation, a recently acquired Delaware-domiciled stock life insurance company focused on the retirement services market and Athene Life Insurance Company, a recently organized Indiana-domiciled stock life insurance company focused on the institutional guaranteed investment contract ("GIC") backed note and funding agreement markets.

Senior Loan Fund

On December 31, 2011, the Company invested $26.0 million in the Apollo Credit Senior Loan Fund, L.P. ("Senior Loan Fund"). As a result, the Company became the sole investor in the fund and therefore consolidated the assets and liabilities of the fund. The fund invests in U.S. denominated senior secured loans, senior secured bonds and other income generating fixed-income investments. At least 90% of the Senior Loan Fund's portfolio of investments must consist of senior secured, floating rate loans or cash or cash equivalents. Up to 10% of the Senior Loan Fund's portfolio may consist of non-first lien fixed income investments and other income generating fixed income investments, including but not limited to senior secured bonds. The Senior Loan Fund may not purchase assets rated (tranche rating) at B3 or lower by Moody's, or equivalent rating by another nationally recognized rating agency.

The Company has classified the instruments associated with the Senior Loan Fund investment as Level II and Level III investments.

HFA

On March 7, 2011, the Company invested $52.1 million (including expenses related to the purchase) in a convertible note with an aggregate principal amount of $50.0 million and received 20,833,333 stock options issued by HFA, an Australian based specialist global funds management company.

The terms of the convertible note allow the Company to convert the note, in whole or in part, into common shares of HFA at an exchange rate equal to the principal plus accrued payment-in-kind interest (or "PIK" interest) divided by US$0.98 at any time, and convey participation rights, on an as-converted basis, in any dividends declared in excess of $6.0 million per annum, as well as seniority rights over HFA common equity holders. Unless previously converted, repurchased or cancelled, the note will be converted on the eighth anniversary of its issuance on March 11, 2019. Additionally, the note has a percentage coupon interest of 6% per annum, paid via principal capitalization (PIK interest) for the first four years, and thereafter either in cash or via principal capitalization at HFA's discretion. The PIK interest provides for the Company to receive additional common shares of HFA if the note is converted. The Company has elected the fair value option for the convertible note. The convertible note is valued using an as "if-converted basis." The Company separately presents interest income in the consolidated statement of operations from other changes in the fair value of the convertible note. For the year ended December 31, 2011 the Company has recorded $2.5 million in PIK interest income included in interest income in the consolidated statements of operations. The terms of the stock options allow for the Company to acquire 20,833,333 fully paid ordinary shares of HFA at an exercise price in Australian Dollars ("A$") of A$8.00 (exchange rate of A$1.00 to $0.84 as of December 31, 2011) per stock option. The stock options became exercisable upon issuance and expire on the eighth anniversary of the issuance date. The stock options are accounted for as a derivative and are valued at their fair value under U.S. GAAP at each balance sheet date. As a result, for the year ended December 31, 2011, the Company recorded an unrealized loss of approximately $5.9 million, related to the convertible note and stock options within net (losses) gains from investment activities in the consolidated statements of operations.

The Company has classified the instruments associated with the HFA investment as Level III investments.

Net (Losses) Gains from Investment Activities

Net (losses) gains from investment activities in the consolidated statements of operations include net realized gains from sales of investments, and the change in net unrealized (losses) gains resulting from changes in fair value of the consolidated funds' investments and realization of previously unrealized (losses) gains. Additionally net (losses) gains from investment activities include changes in the fair value of the investment in HFA and other investments held at fair value. The following tables present Apollo's net (losses) gains from investment activities for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009:

5. VARIABLE INTEREST ENTITIES

The Company consolidates entities that are VIEs for which the Company has been designated as the primary beneficiary. The purpose of such VIEs is to provide strategy-specific investment opportunities for investors in exchange for management and performance based fees. The investment strategies of the entities that the Company manages may vary by entity, however, the fundamental risks of such entities have similar characteristics, including loss of invested capital and the return of carried interest income previously distributed to the Company by certain private equity and capital markets entities. The nature of the Company's involvement with VIEs includes direct and indirect investments and fee arrangements. The Company does not provide performance guarantees and has no other financial obligations to provide funding to VIEs other than its own capital commitments.

Consolidated Variable Interest Entities

In accordance with the methodology described in note 2, Apollo consolidated four VIEs under the amended consolidation guidance during 2010, an additional VIE during the second quarter of 2011, and six additional VIEs during the fourth quarter of 2011 in connection with its acquisition of Gulf Stream.

One of the consolidated VIEs was formed to purchase loans and bonds in a leveraged structure for the benefit of its limited partners, which included certain Apollo funds that contributed equity to the consolidated VIE. Through its role as general partner of this VIE, it was determined that Apollo had the characteristics of the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the VIE's economic performance. Additionally, the Apollo funds have involvement with the VIE that have the characteristics of the right to receive benefits from the VIE that could potentially be significant to the VIE. As a group, the Company and its related parties have the characteristics of a controlling financial interest. Apollo determined that it is the party within the related party group that is most closely associated with the VIE and therefore should consolidate it.

The remaining consolidated VIEs including the VIE formed during the second quarter 2011 and the six VIEs consolidated in connection with the acquisition of Gulf Steam were formed for the sole purpose of issuing collateralized notes to investors. The assets of these VIEs are primarily comprised of senior secured loans and the liabilities are primarily comprised of debt. Through its role as collateral manager of these VIEs, it was determined that Apollo had the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the economic performance of these VIEs. Additionally, Apollo determined that the potential fees that it could receive directly and indirectly from these VIEs represent rights to returns that could potentially be significant to such VIEs. As a result, Apollo determined that it is the primary beneficiary and therefore should consolidate the VIEs.

One of the consolidated VIEs, which qualified as an asset-backed financing entity, was formed during the fourth quarter of 2010 and the Company determined that it was the primary beneficiary of such VIE. Based on a restructuring of this VIE which occurred later in the fourth quarter of 2010, the Company no longer possessed the power to direct the activities of such VIE resulting in deconsolidation of such VIE in the fourth quarter of 2010.

Apollo holds no equity interest in any of the consolidated VIEs described above. The assets of these consolidated VIEs are not available to creditors of the Company. In addition, the investors in these consolidated

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

VIEs have no recourse to the assets of the Company. The Company has elected the fair value option for financial instruments held by its consolidated VIEs, which includes investments in loans and corporate bonds, as well as debt obligations held by such consolidated VIEs. Other assets include amounts due from brokers and interest receivables. Other liabilities include payables for securities purchased, which represent open trades within the consolidated VIEs and primarily relate to corporate loans that are expected to settle within the next sixty days.

Fair Value Measurements

The following table summarizes the valuation of Apollo's consolidated VIEs in fair value hierarchy levels as of December 31, 2011 and 2010:

	Level I		Level II		Level III		Totals
	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010

	Level I		Level II		Level III		Totals
	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010

(1) During the first quarter of 2011, one of the consolidated VIEs sold all of its investments. At December 31, 2010, the cost and fair value of the investments of this VIE were $719.5 million and $684.1 million, respectively. The consolidated VIE had a net investment gain of $16.0 million relating to the sale for the year ended December 31, 2011, which is reflected in the net (losses) gains from investment activities of consolidated variable interest entities on the consolidated statement of operations.

Level III investments include corporate loan and corporate bond investments held by the consolidated VIEs, while the Level III liabilities consist of notes and loans, the valuations of which are discussed further in note 2. All Level II and III investments were valued using broker quotes. Transfers of investments out of Level III and into Level II or Level I, if any, are recorded as of the quarterly period in which the transfer occurred.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

(1) At December 31, 2010, the cost and fair value of the term loans were $453.9 million and $408.7 million, respectively. The term loans were paid down in the first quarter of 2011, with payments totaling $412.1 million, resulting in a gain of $41.8 million. This realized gain was offset by a reversal of unrealized gains of $45.2 million, which result in a net loss on term loans of $3.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2011, which is reflected in the net (losses) gains from investment activities of consolidated variable interest entities on the consolidated statements of operations.
(2) Each class of notes will mature at par on the stated maturity, unless previously redeemed or repaid. Principal will not be payable on the notes except in certain limited circumstances. Interest on the notes is payable quarterly in arrears on the outstanding amount of the notes on scheduled payment dates. The subordinated note will be fully redeemed on the stated maturity unless previously redeemed. The subordinated note may be redeemed, in whole but not in part, on or after the redemption or repayment in full of principal and interest on the secured notes. No interest accrues or is payable on the subordinated note.
(3) The subordinated notes were issued to an affiliate of the Company. Amount is reduced by approximately $2.1 million due to elimination of equity investment attributable to consolidated VIEs as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively.
(4) The subordinated notes do not have contractual interest rates but instead receive distributions from the excess cash flows of the VIEs.
(5) The required interest coverage ratio is 100.0% through January 2012 and 120.0% thereafter.

The consolidated VIEs have elected the fair value option to value the term loans and notes payable. The general partner uses its discretion and judgment in considering and appraising relevant factors in determining valuation of these loans. As of December 31, 2011, the notes payable are classified as Level III liabilities. Because of the inherent uncertainty in the valuation of the term loans and notes payable, which are not publicly traded, estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been reported had a ready market for such investments existed.

The consolidated VIEs' debt obligations contain various customary loan covenants as described above. As of the balance sheet date, the Company was not aware of any instances of noncompliance with any of these covenants.

As of December 31, 2011, the table below presents the maturities for the consolidated debt of the VIEs:

	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	Thereafter	Total
Secured notes	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ 3,121,126	$ 3,121,126

Total Obligations as of December 31, 2011	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ 3,537,401	$ 3,537,401

Note: All of the CLOs are past their call date and therefore the collateral manager can call the CLO and liquidate (with the consent of each of the majority of the subordinated notes).

Variable Interest Entities Which are Not Consolidated

The Company holds variable interests in certain VIEs which are not consolidated, as it has been determined that Apollo is not the primary beneficiary.

6. CARRIED INTEREST RECEIVABLE

Carried interest receivable from private equity and capital markets funds consists of the following:

	For the Year Ended December 31, 2011	2010
Private equity	$ 672,952	$ 1,578,135
Capital markets	195,630	288,938
Total Carried Interest Receivable	$ 868,582	$ 1,867,073

The table below provides a roll-forward of the carried interest receivable balance for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010:

	Private Equity	Capital Markets	Total
Carried Interest Receivable, January 1, 2010	$ 328,246	$ 155,608	$ 483,854
Change in fair value of funds(1)	1,308,030	277,907	1,585,937
Foreign exchange gain	—	1,728	1,728
Fund cash distributions to the Company	(58,141)	(146,305)	(204,446)
Carried interest receivable, December 31, 2010	1,578,135	288,938	1,867,073
Change in fair value of funds(2)	(373,906)	69,424	(304,482)
Foreign exchange loss	—	(1,453)	(1,453)
Fund cash distributions to the Company	(531,277)	(161,279)	(692,556)
Carried Interest Receivable, December 31, 2011	$ 672,952	$ 195,630	$ 868,582

(1) The change in fair value of funds in 2010 includes the carried interest income of $13.1 million associated with recognized realized gains, which was previously reversed due to the estimated general partner obligation attributable to Fund VI.

(2) As of December 31, 2011, the Company recorded a general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income of $75.3 million and $18.1 million relating to Fund VI and SOMA, respectively. The general partner obligation is recognized based upon a hypothetical liquidation of the funds as of December 31, 2011. The actual determination and any required payment of a general partner obligation would not take place until the final disposition of a fund's investments based on the contractual termination of the fund.

The timing of the payment of carried interest due to the general partner or investment manager varies depending on the terms of the applicable fund agreements. Generally, carried interest with respect to the private equity funds is payable and is distributed to the fund's general partner upon realization of an investment if the fund's cumulative returns are in excess of the preferred return. For most capital markets funds, carried interest is payable based on realizations after the end of the relevant fund's fiscal year or fiscal quarter, subject to high watermark provisions. There is currently no carried interest receivable associated with the Company's real estate segment.

7. FIXED ASSETS

Fixed assets consist of the following:

	Useful Life in Years	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010
Ownership interests in aircraft	15	$ 10,184	$ 10,029
Leasehold improvements	8-10	44,433	31,625

Less—accumulated depreciation and amortization		(39,684)	(30,258)
Fixed Assets, net		$ 52,683	$ 44,696

In December 2010, the Company committed to a plan to sell its ownership interests in certain aircraft, which occurred in the first half of 2011. Accordingly, in 2010, the Company reclassified the assets to assets held for sale and measured the assets at the lower of cost or fair value less costs to sell. As of December 31, 2010, these assets held for sale had a fair value of $11.3 million and are included in Other Assets in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial condition. As a result of reclassifying the assets to assets held for sale, the Company recognized a loss of $2.8 million during the year ended December 31, 2010 on the assets held for sale, which is included in other income (loss), net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

As part of the plan to liquidate its ownership interest in aircraft, the Company determined that the remaining interests in aircraft were higher than its current fair value. In 2010, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $3.1 million related to its remaining ownership in aircraft. This loss is included in other income (loss), net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

Depreciation expense for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009 was $11.1 million, $11.5 million and $11.6 million, respectively.

9. OTHER LIABILITIES

Other liabilities consist of the following:

	December 31, 2011	December 31, 2010
Deferred rent	$ 14,798	$ 10,318
Deferred payment related to acquisition (note 3)	3,858	—

Deferred taxes	2,774	2,424
Other	4,875	1,422
Total Other Liabilities	$ 33,050	$ 25,695

Interest Rate Swap Agreements—The principal financial instruments used for cash flow hedging purposes are interest rate swaps. Apollo enters into interest rate swap agreements to manage its exposure to interest rate changes. The swaps effectively converted a portion of the Company's variable rate debt under the AMH Credit Agreement (discussed in note 12) to a fixed rate, without exchanging the notional principal amounts. Apollo entered into interest rate swap agreements whereby Apollo receives floating rate payments in exchange for fixed rate payments of 5.068% (weighted average) and 5.175%, on the notional amounts of $433.0 million and $167.0 million, respectively, effectively converting a portion of its floating rate borrowings to a fixed rate. The interest rate swap agreements related to the $433.0 million notional amount are comprised of two components: a $333.0 million portion and a $100.0 million portion. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $333.0 million portion expired in May 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $100.0 million portion expired in November 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $167.0 million notional amount expires in May 2012. Apollo has hedged only the risk related to changes in the benchmark interest rate (three month LIBOR). As of December 31, 2011 and 2010, the Company has recorded a liability of $3.8 million and $11.5 million, respectively, to recognize the fair value of these derivatives.

The Company has determined that the valuation of the interest rate swaps fall within Level II of the fair value hierarchy. The Company estimates the fair value of its interest rate swaps using discounted cash flow models, which project future cash flows based on the instruments' contractual terms using market-based expectations for interest rates. The Company also includes a credit risk adjustment to the cash flow discount rate to incorporate the impact of non-performance risk in the recognized measure of the fair value of the swaps. This adjustment is based on the counterparty's credit risk when the swaps are in a net asset position and on the Company's own credit risk when the swaps are in a net liability position.

11. INCOME TAXES

The Company is treated as a partnership for tax purposes and is therefore not subject to U.S. Federal income taxes; however, APO Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, is subject to U.S. Federal corporate income taxes. In addition, certain subsidiaries of the Company are subject to New York City Unincorporated Business Tax ("NYC UBT") attributable to the Company's operations apportioned to New York City and certain non-U.S. subsidiaries of the Company are subject to income taxes in their local jurisdictions. APO Corp. is required to file a standalone Federal corporate tax return, as well as filing standalone corporate state and local tax returns in California, New York and New York City. The Company's provision for income taxes is accounted for under the provisions of U.S. GAAP.

The Company's effective tax rate was approximately (0.92)%, 14.45% and (43.18)% for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

The Company had a U.S. federal taxable loss of $55.9 million at the end of 2011 of which $19.2 million will be carried back and used against prior year taxable income and $36.7 million will be carried forward and will expire in 2031. The Company has cumulative state tax losses of $60.5 million that will begin to expire in 2027. In addition, the Company has foreign tax credit carryforwards of $5.5 million that will begin to expire in 2020.

The Company has recorded a significant deferred tax asset for the future amortization of tax basis intangibles as a result of the Reorganization. The amortization period for these tax basis intangibles is 15 years and accordingly, the related deferred tax assets will reverse over the same period.

The Company considered the 15-year amortization period of the tax basis intangibles in evaluating whether it should establish a valuation allowance. The Company also considered large recurring book expenses that do not provide a corresponding reduction in taxable income. The Company's short-term and long-term projections anticipate positive book income. In addition, the Company's projection of future taxable income includes the effects of originating and reversing temporary differences including those for the tax basis intangibles, indicates that deferred tax liabilities will reverse substantially in the same period and jurisdiction and are of the same character as the temporary differences giving rise to the deferred tax asset. Based upon this positive evidence, the Company has concluded it is more likely than not that the deferred tax asset will be realized and that no valuation allowance is needed at December 31, 2011.

The following table reconciles the provision for taxes to the U.S. federal statutory tax rate:

	For the Year Ended December 31,

Under U.S. GAAP, a tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including resolutions of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits.

We recognize tax liabilities in accordance with U.S. GAAP and we adjust these liabilities when our judgment changes as a result of the evaluation of new information not previously available. Due to the complexity of some of these uncertainties, the ultimate resolution may result in a payment that is materially different from our current estimate of the tax liabilities. These differences will be reflected as increases or decreases to income tax expense in the period in which they are determined.

Based upon the Company's review of its federal, state, local and foreign income tax returns and tax filing positions, the Company determined no unrecognized tax benefits for uncertain tax positions were required to be recorded. In addition, the Company does not believe that it has any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that it will be required to record significant amounts of unrecognized tax benefits within the next twelve months.

The Company files its tax returns as prescribed by the tax laws of the jurisdictions in which it operates. In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to examination by federal and certain state, local and foreign tax authorities. With few exceptions, as of December 31, 2011, Apollo and its predecessor entities' U.S. federal, state, local and foreign income tax returns for the years 2008 through 2010 are open under the normal statute of limitations and therefore subject to examination. The City of New York is examining certain other subsidiary tax returns for the years 2006 and 2007.

12. DEBT

Debt consists of the following:

	December 31, 2011		December 31, 2010
	Outstanding Balance	Annualized Weighted Average Interest Rate	Outstanding Balance	Annualized Weighted Average Interest Rate
AMH Credit Agreement	$ 728,273	5.39%(1)	$ 728,273	3.78%(1)
CIT secured loan agreement	10,243	3.39%	23,252	3.50%
Total Debt	$ 738,516	5.35%	$ 751,525	3.77%

(1) Includes the effect of interest rate swaps.

AMH Credit Agreement—On April 20, 2007, Apollo Management Holdings, L.P. ("AMH"), a subsidiary of the Company which is a Delaware limited partnership owned by APO Corp. and Holdings, entered into a $1.0 billion seven year credit agreement (the "AMH Credit Agreement"). Interest payable under the AMH Credit Agreement may from time to time be based on Eurodollar ("LIBOR") or Alternate Base Rate ("ABR") as determined by the borrower. Through the use of interest rate swaps, AMH has irrevocably elected three-month LIBOR for $433 million of the debt for three years from the closing date of the AMH Credit Agreement and $167 million of the debt for five years from the closing date of the AMH Credit Agreement. The interest rate swap agreements related to the $433 million notional amount were comprised of two components: a $333 million portion and a $100 million portion. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $333 million portion expired in May 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $100 million portion expired in November 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $167 million notional amount expires in May 2012. The remaining amount of the debt is computed currently based on three-month LIBOR. The interest rate of the Eurodollar loan, which was amended as discussed below, is the daily Eurodollar rate plus the applicable margin rate (3.75% for loans with extended maturity, as discussed below, and 1.00% for loans without the extended maturity as of December 31, 2011 and 4.25% for loans with extended maturity and 1.50% for loans without the extended maturity as of December 31, 2010). The interest rate on the ABR term loan, which was amended as discussed below, for any day, will be the greatest of (a) the prime rate in effect on such day, (b) the Federal Funds Rate in effect on such day plus 0.5% and (c) the one-month Eurodollar Rate plus 1.00%, in each case plus the applicable margin. The AMH Credit Agreement originally had a maturity date of April 2014.

On December 20, 2010, Apollo amended the AMH Credit Agreement to extend the maturity date of $995.0 million (including the $90.9 million of fair value debt repurchased by the Company) of the term loans from

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

April 20, 2014 to January 3, 2017 and modified certain other terms of the credit facility. Pursuant to this amendment, AMH or an affiliate was required to purchase from each lender that elected to extend the maturity date of its term loan a portion of such extended term loan equal to 20% thereof. In addition, AMH or an affiliate is required to repurchase at least $50.0 million aggregate principal amount of term loans by December 31, 2014 and at least $100.0 million aggregate principal amount of term loans (inclusive of the previously purchased $50.0 million) by December 31, 2015 at a price equal to par plus accrued interest. The sweep leverage ratio was also extended to end at the new loan term maturity date. The interest rate for the highest applicable margin for the loan portion extended changed to LIBOR plus 4.25% and ABR plus 3.25%. On December 20, 2010, an affiliate of AMH that is a guarantor under the AMH Credit Agreement repurchased approximately $180.8 million of term loans in connection with the extension of the maturity date of such loans and thus the AMH loans (excluding the portions held by AMH affiliates) had a remaining balance of $728.3 million. The Company determined that the amendments to the AMH Credit Agreement resulted in a debt extinguishment which did not result in any gain or loss.

The interest rate on the $723.3 million, net ($995.0 million portion less amount repurchased by the Company) of the loan at December 31, 2011 was 4.23% and the interest rate on the remaining $5.0 million portion of the loan at December 31, 2011 was 1.48%. The estimated fair value of the Company's long-term debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement is believed to be approximately $752.2 million based on a yield analysis using available market data of comparable securities with similar terms and remaining maturities. The $728.3 million carrying value of debt that is recorded on the consolidated statement of financial condition at December 31, 2011 is the amount for which the Company expects to settle the AMH Credit Agreement.

As of December 31, 2011 and 2010, the AMH Credit Agreement was guaranteed by, and collateralized by, substantially all of the assets of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH, as well as cash proceeds from the sale of assets or similar recovery events and any cash deposited pursuant to the excess cash flow covenant, which will be deposited as cash collateral to the extent necessary as set forth in the AMH Credit Agreement. As of December 31, 2011, the consolidated net assets (deficit) of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH and its consolidated subsidiaries were $56.6 million, $46.2 million, $50.1 million, $131.9 million and $(1,014.3) million, respectively. As of December 31, 2010, the consolidated net assets (deficit) of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH were $123.1 million, $24.0 million, $39.0 million, $136.0 million and $(1,126.6) million, respectively.

In accordance with the AMH Credit Agreement as of December 31, 2011, Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH and their respective subsidiaries were subject to certain negative and affirmative covenants. Among other things, the AMH Credit Agreement includes an excess cash flow covenant and an asset sales covenant. The AMH Credit Agreement does not contain any financial maintenance covenants.

If AMH's debt to EBITDA ratio (the "Leverage Ratio") as of the end of any fiscal year exceeds the level set forth in the next sentence (the "Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio"), AMH must deposit in the cash collateral account the lesser of (a) 100% of its Excess Cash Flow (as defined in the AMH Credit Agreement) and (b) the amount necessary to reduce the Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis as of the end of such fiscal year to 0.25 to 1.00 below the Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio. The Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio is: for 2011, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2012, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2013, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2014, 3.75 to 1.00; and for 2015 and thereafter, 3.50 to 1.00.

In addition, AMH must deposit the lesser of (a) 50% of any remaining Excess Cash Flow and (b) the amount required to reduce the Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis at the end of each fiscal year to a level 0.25 to 1.00 below the Sweep Leverage Ratio (as defined in the next paragraph) for such fiscal year.

If AMH receives net cash proceeds from certain non-ordinary course asset sales, then such net cash proceeds shall be deposited in the cash collateral account as necessary to reduce its Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis as of the last day of the most recently completed fiscal quarter (after giving effect to such non-ordinary course asset sale and such deposit) to (the following specified levels for the specified years, the "Sweep Leverage Ratio") (i) for 2011, 2012 and 2013, a Leverage Ratio of 3.50 to 1.00, (ii) for 2014, a Leverage Ratio of 3.25 to 1.00, (iii) for 2015, a Leverage Ratio of 3.00 to 1.00 and (iv) for all other years, a Leverage Ratio of 3.00 to 1.00.

The AMH Credit Agreement contains customary events of default, including events of default arising from non-payment, material misrepresentations, breaches of covenants, cross default to material indebtedness, bankruptcy and changes in control of AMH. As of December 31, 2011, the Company was not aware of any instances of non-compliance with the AMH Credit Agreement.

CIT Secured Loan Agreement—During the second quarter of 2008, the Company entered into four secured loan agreements totaling $26.9 million with CIT Group/Equipment Financing Inc. ("CIT") to finance the purchase of certain fixed assets. The loans bear interest at LIBOR plus 318 basis points per annum with interest and principal to be repaid monthly and a balloon payment of the remaining principal totaling $9.4 million due at the end of the terms in April 2013. At December 31, 2011, the interest rate was 3.45%. On April 28, 2011, the Company sold its ownership interest in certain assets which served as collateral to the CIT secured loan agreement for $11.3 million with $11.1 million of the proceeds going to CIT directly. As a result of the sale and an additional payment made by the Company of $1.1 million, the Company satisfied the loan associated with the related asset of $12.2 million on April 28, 2011. As of December 31, 2011, the carrying value of the remaining CIT secured loan is $10.2 million.

Apollo has determined that the carrying value of this debt approximates fair value as the loans are primarily variable rate in nature.

As of December 31, 2011, the table below presents the contractual maturities for the AMH Credit Agreement and CIT secured loan agreement:

13. NET (LOSS) INCOME PER CLASS A SHARE

U.S. GAAP requires use of the two-class method of computing earnings per share for all periods presented for each class of common stock and participating security as if all earnings for the period had been distributed. Under the two-class method, during periods of net income, the net income is first reduced for distributions declared on all classes of securities to arrive at undistributed earnings. During periods of net losses, the net loss is reduced for distributions declared on participating securities only if the security has the right to participate in the earnings of the entity and an objectively determinable contractual obligation to share in net losses of the entity.

The remaining earnings are allocated to common Class A Shares and participating securities to the extent that each security shares in earnings as if all of the earnings for the period had been distributed. Each total is then divided by the applicable number of shares to arrive at basic earnings per share. For the diluted earnings, the denominator includes all outstanding common shares and all potential common shares assumed issued if they are dilutive. The numerator is adjusted for any changes in income or loss that would result from the assumed conversion of these potential common shares.

The table below presents basic and diluted net loss (income) per Class A share using the two-class method for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009:

(1) The Company declared a $0.17 distribution on Class A shares on January 4, 2011, a $0.22 distribution on Class A shares on May 12, 2011, a $0.24 distribution on Class A shares on August 9, 2011, and a $0.20 distribution on Class A shares on November 3, 2011. As a result, there is an increase in net loss attributable to Class A shareholders presented during the year ended December 31, 2011.

(2) The Company declared a $0.07 distribution on Class A shares on May 27, 2010, August 2, 2010 and November 1, 2010. As a result, there is an increase in net loss attributable to Class A shareholders presented during the year ended December 31, 2010.

(3) The Company declared a $0.05 distribution on Class A shares in January 2009. As a result, there is an increase in net loss attributable to Class A shareholders presented for the year ended December 31, 2009.

(4) No allocation of losses was made to the participating securities as the holders do not have a contractual obligation to share in losses of the Company with the Class A shareholders.

(5) For the year ended December 31, 2010, unvested RSUs were determined to be dilutive, and were accordingly included in the diluted earnings per share calculation. The resulting diluted earnings per share amount was not significantly different from basic earnings per share and therefore, was presented as the same amount. The AOG Units and the share options were determined to be anti-dilutive for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009.

On October 24, 2007, the Company commenced the granting of restricted share units ("RSUs") that provide the right to receive, upon vesting, Class A shares of Apollo Global Management, LLC, pursuant to the Company's

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan. Certain RSU grants to employees during 2010 and 2011 provide the right to receive distribution equivalents on vested RSUs on an equal basis any time a distribution is declared. The Company refers to these RSU grants as "Plan Grants." For certain Plan Grants made before 2010, distribution equivalents are paid in January of the calendar year next following the calendar year in which a distribution on Class A shares was declared. In addition, certain RSU grants to employees in 2010 and 2011 (the Company refers to these as "Bonus Grants") provide that both vested and unvested RSUs participate in distribution equivalents on an equal basis with the Class A shareholders any time a distribution is declared. As of December 31, 2011, approximately 20.2 million vested RSUs and 5.6 million unvested RSUs were eligible for participation in distribution equivalents.

Any distribution equivalent paid to an employee will not be returned to the Company upon forfeiture of the award by the employee. Vested and unvested RSUs that are entitled to non-forfeitable distribution equivalents qualify as participating securities and are included in the Company's basic and diluted earnings per share computations using the two-class method. The holder of an RSU participating security would have a contractual obligation to share in the losses of the entity if the holder is obligated to fund the losses of the issuing entity or if the contractual principal or mandatory redemption amount of the participating security is reduced as a result of losses incurred by the issuing entity. Because the RSU participating securities do not have a mandatory redemption amount and the holders of the participating securities are not obligated to fund losses, neither the vested RSUs nor the unvested RSUs are subject to any contractual obligation to share in losses of the Company.

Holders of AOG Units are subject to the vesting requirements and transfer restrictions set forth in the agreements with the respective holders, and may up to four times each year (subject to the terms of the exchange agreement) exchange their AOG Units for Class A shares on a one-for-one basis. A limited partner must exchange one partnership unit in each of the eight Apollo Operating Group partnerships to effect an exchange for one Class A share. If fully converted, the result would be an additional 240,000,000 Class A shares added to the diluted earnings per share calculation.

Apollo has one Class B share outstanding, which is held by Holdings. The voting power of the Class B share is reduced on a one vote per one AOG Unit basis in the event of an exchange of AOG Units for Class A shares, as discussed above. The Class B share has no net income (loss) per share as it does not participate in Apollo's earnings (losses) or distributions. The Class B share has no distribution or liquidation rights. The Class B share has voting rights on a pari passu basis with the Class A shares. The Class B share currently has a super voting power of 240,000,000 votes.

14. EQUITY-BASED COMPENSATION

AOG Units

The fair value of the AOG Units of approximately $5.6 billion is charged to compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the five or six year service period, as applicable. For the years ended December 2011, 2010 and 2009, $1,032.8 million, $1,032.9 million and $1,033.3 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively. The estimated forfeiture rate was 3% for Contributing Partners and 0% for Managing Partners based on actual forfeitures as well as the Company's future forfeiture expectations. As of December 31, 2011, there was $507.2 million of total unrecognized compensation cost related to unvested AOG Units that are expected to vest over the next 18 months.

Units Expected to Vest—As of December 31, 2011, approximately 22,400,000 AOG Units are expected to vest over the next 12 months.

RSUs

On October 24, 2007, the Company commenced the granting of RSUs under the Company's 2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan. These grants are accounted for as a grant of equity awards in accordance with U.S. GAAP. All grants after March 29, 2011 consider the public share price of the Company. The fair value of grants was approximately $116.6 million, $120.2 million and $10.0 million in 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively. For Plan Grants the fair value is based on grant date fair value, and are discounted for transfer restrictions and lack of distributions until vested. For Bonus Grants, the valuation methods consider transfer restrictions and timing of distributions. The total fair value is charged to compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, which is generally up to 24 quarters (for Plan Grants) or annual vesting over three years (for Bonus Grants). The actual forfeiture rate was 2.3%, 7.9% and 6.6% for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, $108.2 million $78.9 million and $60.7 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively.

Delivery of Class A Shares

In 2011 and 2010, the Company delivered Class A Shares for vested RSUs. The Company allows RSU participants to settle their tax liabilities with a reduction of their Class A share delivery from the originally granted and vested RSUs. The amount, when agreed to by the participant, results in a tax liability and a corresponding accumulated deficit adjustment. The adjustment was $19.6 million and $2.9 million in 2011 and 2010, respectively, and is disclosed in the consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity.

The delivery of RSUs does not cause a transfer of amounts in the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Shareholders' Equity to the Class A Shareholders. The delivery of Class A shares for vested RSUs causes the income allocated to the Non-Controlling Interests to shift to the Class A shareholders from the date of delivery forward. During the year ended December 31, 2011, the Company delivered 4.5 million Class A shares in settlement of vested RSUs, which caused the Company's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group to increase to 34.1% from 29.0%.

The following table summarizes RSU activity for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009:

Units Expected to Vest—As of December 31, 2011, approximately 19,300,000 RSUs are expected to vest during the next six years.

Share Options

Under the Company's 2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan, 5,000,000 options were granted on December 2, 2010. These options vested and became exercisable with respect to 4/24 of the option shares on December 31, 2011 and the remainder vest in equal installments over each of the remaining 20 quarters with full vesting on December 31, 2016. In addition, 555,556 options were granted on January 22, 2011 and 25,000 options were granted on April 9, 2011. The options granted on January 22, 2011 vested and became exercisable with respect to half of the option shares on December 31, 2011 and the other half were due to become exercisable on December 31, 2012. The options granted on April 9, 2011 vested and became exercisable with respect to half of the options shares on December 31, 2011 and the other half vests in four equal quarterly installments starting on March 31, 2012 and ending on December 31, 2012. For the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010, $6.9 million and $0.3 million of compensation expense were recognized as a result of option grants, respectively.

Apollo measures the fair value of each option award on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for options awarded during 2011 and 2010:

Assumptions:	2011[(2)]	2010
Risk-free interest rate	2.79%	2.34%
Weighted average expected dividend yield	2.25%	2.79%
Expected volatility factor[(1)]	40.22%	40.00%
Expected life in years	5.72	6.79
Fair value of options per share	$ 8.44	$ 5.62

(1) The Company determined its expected volatility based on comparable companies using daily stock prices.
(2) Represents weighted average of 2011 grants.

The following table summarizes the share option activity for the year ended December 31, 2011 and 2010:

Exercisable at December 31, 2011	1,123,611	$ 8.36	$ 7,131	8.96

Units Expected to Vest—As of December 31, 2011, approximately 4,200,000 options are expected to vest.

The expected life of the options granted represents the period of time that options are expected to be outstanding and is based on the contractual term of the option. Unamortized compensation cost related to unvested share options at December 31, 2011 was $25.8 million and is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 4.5 years.

AAA RDUs

Incentive units that provide the right to receive AAA restricted depositary units ("RDUs") following vesting are granted periodically to employees of Apollo. These grants are accounted for as equity awards in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The incentive units granted to employees generally vest over three years. In contrast, the Company's Managing Partners and Contributing Partners have received distributions of fully-vested AAA RDUs. The fair value at the date of the grants is recognized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period (or upon grant in the case of fully vested AAA RDUs). The grant date fair value considers the public share price of AAA. Vested AAA RDUs can be converted into ordinary common units of AAA subject to applicable securities law restrictions. During the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, the actual forfeiture rate was 0%, 1.5% and 11.0%, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, $0.5 million, $5.5 million and $5.8 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively.

During the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, the Company delivered 389,785, 596,375 and 435,954 RDUs, respectively, to individuals who had vested in these units. The deliveries in 2011, 2010 and 2009 resulted in a reduction of the accrued compensation liability of $3.8 million, $7.6 million and $6.6 million, respectively, and the recognition of a net decrease of additional paid in capital in 2011 of $2.7 million and a net increase in 2010 and 2009 of $0.6 million and $2.8 million, respectively. These amounts are presented in the consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity. There was $0.5 million and $4.1 million of liability for undelivered RDUs included in accrued compensation and benefits in the consolidated statements of financial condition as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively. Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Unit Awards—Apollo Commercial Real Estate Finance, Inc. ("ARI")

On September 29, 2009, 97,500 and 145,000 shares of ARI restricted stock were granted to the Company and certain of the Company's employees, respectively. Additionally, on December 31, 2009, 5,000 shares of ARI restricted stock were granted to a company employee. The fair value of the Company and employee awards granted was $1.8 million and $2.7 million, respectively. These awards generally vest over three years or twelve quarters, with the first quarter vesting on January 1, 2010. On March 23, 2010, July 1, 2010 and July 21, 2010, 102,084, 5,000 and 16,875 shares of ARI restricted stock units ("ARI RSUs"), respectively, were granted to certain of the Company's employees. Pursuant to the March 23, 2010 and July 21, 2010 issuances, 102,084 and 16,875 shares of ARI restricted stock, respectively, were forfeited by the Company's employees. As the fair value of ARI RSUs was not greater than the forfeiture of the restricted stock, no additional value will be amortized. On April 1, 2011 and August 4, 2011, 5,000 and 152,750 ARI RSUs, respectively, were granted to certain of the Company's employees. On August 4, 2011, 156,000 ARI RSUs were granted to the Company. On December 28, 2011, the Company issued 45,587 ARI RSUs to certain of the Company's employees. The awards granted to the Company are accounted for as investments and deferred revenue in the consolidated statement of financial condition. As these awards vest, the deferred revenue is recognized as management fees. The investment is accounted for using the equity method of accounting for awards granted to the Company and as a deferred compensation asset for the awards granted to employees. Compensation expense will be recognized on a straight line-basis over the vesting period for the awards granted to the employees. The Company recorded an asset and a liability upon receiving the awards on behalf of the Company's employees. The fair value of the awards to employees is based on the grant date fair value, which utilizes the public share price of ARI, less discounts for certain restrictions. The awards granted to the Company's employees are remeasured each period to reflect the fair value of the asset and liability and any changes in these values are recorded in the consolidated statements of operations. For the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, $2.9 million, $1.5 million and $0.4 million of management fees and $1.3 million, $0.8 million and $0.2 million of compensation expense were recognized in the consolidated statements of operations, respectively. The actual forfeiture rate for unvested ARI restricted stock awards and ARI RSUs was 7%, 2% and 0% for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

On July 27, 2011, 18,750 and 11,250 AMTG restricted stock units ("AMTG RSUs") were granted to the Company and certain of the Company's employees, respectively. On September 26, 2011, 875 AMTG RSUs were granted to certain employees of the Company. The fair value of the Company and employee awards granted was $0.3 million and $0.2 million, respectively. These awards generally vest over three years or twelve calendar quarters, with the first quarter vesting on October 1, 2011. The awards granted to the Company are accounted for as investments and deferred revenue in the consolidated statement of financial condition. As these awards vest, the deferred revenue is recognized as management fees. The investment is accounted for using the equity method of accounting for awards granted to the Company and as a deferred compensation asset for the awards granted to employees. Equity-Based Compensation Allocation

Equity-based compensation is allocated based on ownership interests. Therefore, the amortization of the AOG Units is allocated to Shareholders' Equity attributable to Apollo Global Management, LLC and the Non-Controlling Interests, which results in a difference in the amounts charged to equity-based compensation expense and the amounts credited to Shareholders' Equity attributable to Apollo Global Management, LLC in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Tax Receivable Agreement

Subject to certain restrictions, each of the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners has the right to exchange their vested AOG Units for the Company's Class A shares. Certain Apollo Operating Group entities have made an election under Section 754 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which will result in an adjustment to the tax basis of the assets owned by Apollo Operating Group at the time of the exchange. These exchanges will result in increases in tax deductions that will reduce the amount of tax that APO Corp. will otherwise be required to pay in the future. Additionally, the further acquisition of AOG Units from the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners also may result in increases in tax deductions and tax basis of assets that will further reduce the amount of tax that APO Corp. will otherwise be required to pay in the future.

APO Corp. entered into a tax receivable agreement ("TRA") with the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners that provides for the payment to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners of 85% of the amount of cash savings, if any, in U.S. Federal, state, local and foreign income taxes that APO Corp. would realize as a result of the increases in tax basis of assets that resulted from the Reorganization. If the Company does not make the required annual payment on a timely basis as outlined in the TRA, interest is accrued on the balance until the payment date. These payments are expected to occur approximately over the next 20 years.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(dollars in thousands, except share data)

In April 2011 and 2010, Apollo made cash payments of $39.8 million and $15.0 million, respectively, in connection with the TRA to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners resulting from realized tax benefits for the 2010 and 2009 tax years. Included in the 2011 payment was $29.0 thousand and $3.0 thousand of interest paid to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners, respectively. In connection with the amendment of the AMH partnership agreement in April of 2010, the tax receivable agreement was revised to reflect the Managing Partners' agreement to defer 25% or $12.1 million of the required payments pursuant to the tax receivable agreement that is attributable to the 2010 fiscal year for a period of four years until April 5, 2014. In addition, Apollo adjusted the remaining liability by $(0.1) million and $7.6 million and recorded a corresponding gain (loss) in other income (loss), net in the consolidated statement of operations during the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively, due to changes in projected income estimates and fluctuations in the tax rates.

Special Allocation

In December 2009, the AMH partnership agreement was amended to provide for special allocations of income to APO Corp. and a reduction of income allocated to Holdings for the 2009 and 2010 calendar years. The amendment allowed for a maximum allocation of income from Holdings of $22.1 million in 2009 and $117.5 million in 2010. There was no extension of the special allocation after December 31, 2010. Therefore as a result, the Company did not allocate any additional income from AMH to APO Corp. related to the special allocation beyond such date. The Company will continue to allocate income to APO Corp. based on the current economic sharing percentage.

Due from Contributing Partners, Employees and Former Employees

The Company has accrued $22.1 million in receivables at December 31, 2011 from the Contributing Partners and certain employees and former employees of Fund VI for the potential return of carried interest income that would be due if the private equity fund were liquidated at the balance sheet date. In addition, there was a $6.5 million receivable at December 31, 2011 and 2010 from the Contributing Partners and certain employees associated with a credit agreement with Fund VI as described below in Due to Private Equity Funds.

Management Fee Waiver and Notional Investment Program

Apollo has forgone a portion of management fee revenue that it would have been entitled to receive in cash and instead received profits interests and assigned these profits interests to employees and partners. The amount of management fees waived and related compensation expense amounted to $23.5 million, $24.8 million and $19.7 million for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Indemnity

Carried interest income from certain funds that the Company manages can be distributed to us on a current basis, but is subject to repayment by the subsidiary of the Apollo Operating Group that acts as general partner of the fund in the event that certain specified return thresholds are not ultimately achieved. The Managing Partners, Contributing Partners and certain other investment professionals have personally guaranteed, subject to certain limitations, the obligation of these subsidiaries in respect of this general partner obligation. Such guarantees are several and not joint and are limited to a particular Managing Partner's or Contributing Partner's distributions. An existing shareholders agreement includes clauses that indemnify each of the Company's Managing Partners and certain Contributing Partners against all amounts that they pay pursuant to any of these personal guarantees in favor of certain funds that the Company manages (including costs and expenses related to investigating the basis for or objecting to any claims made in respect of the guarantees) for all interests that the Company's Managing Partners and Contributing Partners have contributed or sold to the Apollo Operating Group.

Accordingly, in the event that the Company's Managing Partners, Contributing Partners and certain investment professionals are required to pay amounts in connection with a general partner obligation for the return of previously made distributions, we will be obligated to reimburse the Company's Managing Partners and certain Contributing Partners for the indemnifiable percentage of amounts that they are required to pay even though we did not receive the certain distribution to which that general partner obligation related. As of December 31, 2011, the Company recorded an indemnification liability of $0.8 million.

Due to Private Equity Funds

On June 30, 2008, the Company entered into a credit agreement with Fund VI, pursuant to which Fund VI advanced $18.9 million of carried interest income to the limited partners of Apollo Advisors VI, L.P., who are also employees of the Company. The loan obligation accrues interest at an annual fixed rate of 3.45% and terminates on the earlier of June 30, 2017 or the termination of Fund VI. At December 31, 2010, the total outstanding loan aggregated $20.5 million, including accrued interest of $1.6 million, which approximated fair value, of which approximately $6.5 million was not subject to the indemnity discussed above and is a receivable from the Contributing Partners and certain employees. In March 2011, a right of offset for the indemnified portion of the loan obligation was established between the Company and Fund VI, therefore the loan was reduced in the amount of $10.9 million, which is offset in carried interest receivable on the consolidated statement of financial condition. During the year ended December 31, 2011, there was $0.9 million interest paid and $0.3 million accrued interest on the outstanding loan obligation. As of December 31, 2011, the total outstanding loan aggregated $9.0 million, including accrued interest of $1.0 million which approximated fair value, of which approximately $6.5 million was not subject to the indemnity discussed above and is a receivable from the Contributing Partners and certain employees.

In addition, assuming Fund VI is liquidated on the balance sheet date, the Company has also accrued a liability to Fund VI of $75.3 million, in connection with the potential general partner obligation to return carried interest income that was previously distributed from Fund VI. Of this amount, approximately $22.1 million is receivable from Contributing Partners, employees and former employees.

Due to Capital Markets Funds

Similar to the private equity funds, certain capital markets funds allocate carried interest income to the Company. Assuming SOMA liquidated on the balance sheet date, the Company has accrued a liability to SOMA of $18.1 million, in connection with the potential general partner obligation for carried interest income that was previously distributed from SOMA.

Due from Real Estate Funds

In connection with the acquisition of CPI during November 2010, Apollo is contingently obligated to Citigroup Inc. based on a specified percentage of future earnings from the date of acquisition through December 31, 2012. The estimated fair value of the contingent liability was $1.2 million as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, which was determined based on discounted cash flows from the date of acquisition through December 31, 2012 using a discount rate of 7%.

Regulated Entities

During 2011, the Company formed Apollo Global Securities, LLC ("AGS"), which is a registered broker dealer with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, or "FINRA", subject to the minimum net capital requirements of the SEC. AGS has continuously operated in excess of these requirements. From time to time, this entity is involved in transactions with affiliates of Apollo, including portfolio companies of the funds we manage, whereby AGS will earn underwriting and transaction fees for its services. The Company also has one entity based in London which is subject to the capital requirements of the U.K. Financial Services Authority. This entity has continuously operated in excess of these regulatory capital requirements.

Due to Strategic Investor/Strategic Relationship Agreement

On April 20, 2010, the Company announced that it entered into a strategic relationship agreement with the California Public Employees' Retirement System ("CalPERS"). The strategic relationship agreement provides that Apollo will reduce management and other fees charged to CalPERS on funds it manages, or in the future will manage, solely for CalPERS by $125 million over a five-year period or as close a period as required to provide CalPERS with that benefit. The agreement further provides that Apollo will not use a placement agent in connection with securing any future capital commitments from CalPERS.

Underwriting Fee Paid for ARI

During 2009, the Company incurred $8.0 million in underwriting expenses for the benefit of ARI, which may be repaid to the Company if during any period of four consecutive calendar quarters during the sixteen full calendar quarters after the consummation of ARI's initial public offering on September 29, 2009, ARI's core earnings, as defined in the corresponding management agreement, for any such four-quarter period exceeds an 8% performance hurdle rate. During the second quarter of 2011, the core earnings had exceeded the hurdle rate and the Company recorded $8.0 million of other income in the consolidated statement of operations.

(1) Reflects the Non-Controlling Interests in the net loss (income) of AAA and is calculated based on the Non-Controlling Interests ownership percentage in AAA, which was approximately 98% during the year ended December 31, 2011 and approximately 97% during the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

(2) Reflects the Non-Controlling Interests in the net loss (income) of the consolidated VIEs and includes $202.2 million and $11.4 million of gains recorded within appropriated partners' capital related to consolidated VIEs during the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

(3) Reflects the remaining interest held by certain individuals who receive an allocation of income from certain of our capital markets management companies.

16. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Financial Guarantees—Apollo has provided financial guarantees on behalf of certain employees for the benefit of unrelated third-party lenders, in connection with their capital commitment to certain funds managed by the Company. As of December 31, 2011, the maximum exposure relating to these financial guarantees approximated $4.0 million. Apollo has historically not incurred any liabilities as a result of these agreements and does not expect to in the future. Accordingly, no liability has been recorded in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

As the general partner of Apollo/Artus Investor 2007-I, L.P. ("Artus"), the Company may be obligated for certain losses in excess of those allocable to the limited partners to the extent that there is negative equity in that fund. As of December 31, 2011, the Company has no current obligations to Artus.

Investment Commitments—As a limited partner, general partner and manager of the Apollo private equity funds, capital markets and real estate funds, Apollo has unfunded capital commitments as of December 31, 2011 and 2010 of $137.9 million and $140.6 million, respectively.

Apollo has an ongoing obligation to acquire additional common units of AAA in an amount equal to 25% of the aggregate after-tax cash distributions, if any, that are made to its affiliates pursuant to the carried interest distribution rights that are applicable to investments made through AAA Investments.

Debt Covenants—Apollo's debt obligations contain various customary loan covenants. As of the balance sheet date, the Company was not aware of any instances of noncompliance with any of these covenants.

Litigation and Contingencies—We are, from time to time, party to various legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business, including claims and litigation, reviews, investigations and proceedings by governmental and self-regulatory agencies regarding our business.

On July 16, 2008, Apollo was joined as a defendant in a pre-existing purported class action pending in Massachusetts federal court against, among other defendants, numerous private equity firms. The suit alleges that beginning in mid-2003, Apollo and the other private equity firm defendants violated the U.S. antitrust laws by forming "bidding clubs" or "consortia" that, among other things, rigged the bidding for control of various public corporations, restricted the supply of private equity financing, fixed the prices for target companies at artificially low levels, and allocated amongst themselves an alleged market for private equity services in leveraged buyouts. The suit seeks class action certification, declaratory and injunctive relief, unspecified damages, and attorneys' fees. On August 27, 2008, Apollo and its co-defendants moved to dismiss plaintiffs' complaint and on November 20, 2008, the Court granted Apollo's motion. The Court also dismissed two other defendants, Permira and Merrill Lynch. In an order dated August 18, 2010, the Court granted in part and denied in part plaintiffs' motion to expand the complaint and to obtain additional discovery. The Court ruled that plaintiffs could amend the complaint and obtain discovery in a second discovery phase limited to eight additional transactions. The Court gave the plaintiffs until September 17, 2010 to amend the complaint to include the additional eight transactions. On September 17, 2010, the plaintiffs filed a motion to amend the complaint by adding the additional eight transactions and adding Apollo as a defendant. On October 6, 2010, the Court granted plaintiffs' motion to file the fourth amended complaint. Plaintiffs' fourth amended complaint, filed on October 7, 2010, adds Apollo Global Management, LLC, as a defendant. On November 4, 2010, Apollo moved to dismiss, arguing that the claims against Apollo are time-barred and that the allegations against Apollo are insufficient to state an antitrust conspiracy claim. On February 17, 2011, the Court denied Apollo's motion to dismiss, ruling that Apollo should raise the statute of limitations issues on summary judgment after discovery is completed. Apollo filed its answer to the fourth amended complaint on March 21, 2011. On July 11, 2011, the plaintiffs filed a motion for leave to file a fifth amended complaint that adds ten additional transactions and expands the scope of the class seeking relief. On September 7, 2011, the Court denied the motion for leave to amend without prejudice and gave plaintiffs permission to take limited discovery on the ten additional transactions. The Court set April 17, 2012, as the deadline for completing all fact discovery. Currently, Apollo does not believe that a loss from liability in this case is either probable or reasonably estimable. The Court granted Apollo's motion to dismiss plaintiffs' initial complaint in 2008, ruling that Apollo was released from the only transaction in which it allegedly was involved. While plaintiffs have survived Apollo's motion to dismiss the fourth amended complaint, the Court stated in denying the motion that it will consider the statute of limitations (one of the bases for Apollo's motion to dismiss) at the summary judgment stage. Based on the applicable statute of limitations, among other reasons, Apollo believes that plaintiffs' claims lack factual and legal merit. For these reasons, no estimate of possible loss, if any, can be made at this time.

Various state attorneys general and federal and state agencies have initiated industry-wide investigations into the use of placement agents in connection with the solicitation of investments, particularly with respect to investments by public pension funds. Certain affiliates of Apollo have received subpoenas and other requests for information from various government regulatory agencies and investors in Apollo's funds, seeking information regarding the use of placement agents. CalPERS, one of our Strategic Investors, announced on October 14, 2009, that it had initiated a special review of placement agents and related issues. The report of the CalPERS Special Review was issued on March 14, 2011. That report does not allege any wrongdoing on the part of Apollo or its affiliates. Apollo is continuing to cooperate with all such investigations and other reviews. In addition, on May 6, 2010, the California Attorney General filed a civil complaint against Alfred Villalobos and his company, Arvco Capital Research, LLC ("Arvco") (a placement agent that Apollo has used) and Federico Buenrostro Jr., the former CEO of CalPERS, alleging conduct in violation of certain California laws in connection with CalPERS's purchase of securities in various funds managed by Apollo and another asset manager. Apollo is not a party to the civil lawsuit and the lawsuit does not allege any misconduct on the part of Apollo. Apollo believes that it has handled its use of placement agents in an appropriate manner. Finally, on December 29, 2011, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Nevada approved an application made by Mr. Villalobos, Arvco and related entities (the "Arvco Debtors") in their consolidated bankruptcy proceedings to hire special litigation counsel to pursue certain claims on behalf of the bankruptcy estates of the Arvco Debtors, including potential claims against Apollo (a) for fees that Apollo purportedly owes the Arvco Debtors for placement agent services and (b) for indemnification of legal fees and expenses arising out of the Arvco Debtors' defense of the California Attorney General action described above. To date, no such claims have been brought. Apollo denies the merit of any such claims and will vigorously contest them, if they are brought.

Although the ultimate outcome of these matters cannot be ascertained at this time, we are of the opinion, after consultation with counsel, that the resolution of any such matters to which we are a party at this time will not have a material effect on our financial statements. Legal actions material to us could, however, arise in the future.

Commitments—Apollo leases office space and certain office equipment under various lease and sublease arrangements, which expire on various dates through 2022. As these leases expire, it can be expected that in the normal course of business, they will be renewed or replaced. Certain lease agreements contain renewal options, rent escalation provisions based on certain costs incurred by the landlord or other inducements provided by the landlord. Rent expense is accrued to recognize lease escalation provisions and inducements provided by the landlord, if any, on a straight-line basis over the lease term and renewal periods where applicable. Apollo has entered into various operating lease service agreements in respect of certain assets.

As of December 31, 2011, the approximate aggregate minimum future payments required for operating leases were as follows:

Aggregate minimum future payments	$ 31,175	$ 30,657	$ 30,242	$ 28,921	$ 28,871	$ 92,426	$ 242,292

Expenses related to non-cancellable contractual obligations for premises, equipment, auto and other assets were $38.3 million, $28.8 million and $35.1 million for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Other Long-term Obligations—These obligations relate to payments on management service agreements related to certain assets and payments with respect to certain consulting agreements entered into by Apollo Investment Consulting, LLC. A significant portion of these costs are reimbursable by funds or portfolio companies. As of December 31, 2011, fixed and determinable payments due in connection with these obligations are as follows:

Other long-term obligations	$ 10,221	$ 630	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ 10,851

Contingent Obligations—Carried interest income in both private equity funds and certain capital markets funds is subject to reversal in the event of future losses to the extent of the cumulative carried interest recognized in income to date. If all of the existing investments became worthless, the amount of cumulative revenues that has been recognized by Apollo through December 31, 2011 and that would be reversed approximates $1.3 billion. Management views the possibility of all of the investments becoming worthless as remote. Carried interest income is affected by changes in the fair values of the underlying investments in the funds that Apollo manages. Valuations, on an unrealized basis, can be significantly affected by a variety of external factors including, but not limited to, bond yields and industry trading multiples. Movements in these items can affect valuations quarter to quarter even if the underlying business fundamentals remain stable. The table below indicates the potential future reversal of carried interest income:

	December 31, 2011
Private Equity Funds:
Fund VII	$ 651,491
Fund V	246,656
Fund IV	57,104
AAA	22,090
Total Private Equity Funds	$ 977,341
Capital Markets Funds:
Distressed and Event-Driven Hedge Funds (Value Funds, SOMA, AAOF)	12,625
Mezzanine Funds (AIE II)	20,459
Non-Performing Loan Fund (EPF)	51,463
Senior Credit Funds (COF I/COF II, Gulf Stream)	233,139
Total Capital Market Funds	$ 317,686
Total	$ 1,295,027

Additionally, at the end of the life of certain funds that the Company manages, there could be a payment due to a fund by the Company if the Company as general partner has received more carried interest income than was ultimately earned. The general partner obligation amount, if any, will depend on final realized values of investments at the end of the life of each fund. As discussed in note 15, the Company has recorded a general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income of fees of $75.3 million and $18.1 million relating to Fund VI and SOMA as of December 31, 2011, respectively.

Certain private equity and capital markets funds may not generate carried interest income as a result of unrealized and realized losses that are recognized in the current and prior reporting period. In certain cases, carried interest income will not be generated until additional unrealized and realized gains occur. Any appreciation would first cover the deductions for invested capital, unreturned organizational expenses, operating expenses, management fees and priority returns based on the terms of the respective fund agreements.

One of the Company's subsidiaries, Apollo Global Securities, LLC ("AGS"), provides underwriting commitments in connection with security offerings to the portfolio companies of the funds we manage. As of December 31, 2011, there were no underwriting commitments outstanding related to such offerings.

In connection with the Gulf Stream acquisition, as discussed in note 3, the Company will also make payments to the former owners of Gulf Stream under a contingent consideration obligation which requires the Company to transfer cash to the former owners of Gulf Stream based on a specified percentage of incentive fee revenue.

In connection with the CPI acquisition, as discussed in note 3, the consideration transferred in the acquisition is a contingent consideration in the form of a liability incurred by Apollo to CPI. The liability is an obligation of Apollo to transfer cash to CPI based on a specified percentage of future earnings. The estimated fair value of the contingent liability is $1.2 million as of December 31, 2011.

17. MARKET AND CREDIT RISK

In the normal course of business, Apollo encounters market and credit risk concentrations. Market risk reflects changes in the value of investments due to changes in interest rates, credit spreads or other market factors. Credit risk includes the risk of default on Apollo's investments, where the counterparty is unable or unwilling to make required or expected payments.

The Company is subject to a concentration risk related to the investors in its funds. As of December 31, 2011, there were more than approximately 1,000 limited partner investors in Apollo's active private equity, capital markets and real estate funds, and no individual investor accounted for more than 10% of the total committed capital to Apollo's active funds.

Apollo's derivative financial instruments contain credit risk to the extent that its counterparties may be unable to meet the terms of the agreements. Apollo seeks to minimize this risk by limiting its counterparties to highly rated major financial institutions with good credit ratings. Management does not expect any material losses as a result of default by other parties.

Substantially all amounts on deposit with major financial institutions that exceed insured limits are invested in interest-bearing accounts with U.S. money center banks.

Apollo is exposed to economic risk concentrations insofar as Apollo is dependent on the ability of the funds that it manages to compensate it for the services the management companies provide to these funds. Further, the incentive income component of this compensation is based on the ability of such funds to generate returns above certain specified thresholds.

Additionally, Apollo is exposed to interest rate risk. Apollo has debt obligations that have variable rates. Interest rate changes may therefore affect the amount of interest payments, future earnings and cash flows. At December 31, 2011 and 2010, $738.5 million and $751.5 million of Apollo's debt balance (excluding debt of the consolidated VIEs) had a variable interest rate, respectively. However, as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, $167.0 million of the debt had been effectively converted to a fixed rate using interest rate swaps as discussed in note 9.

18. SEGMENT REPORTING

Apollo conducts its management and incentive businesses primarily in the United States and substantially all of its revenues are generated domestically. These businesses are conducted through the following three reportable segments:

- Private Equity—invests in control equity and related debt instruments, convertible securities and distressed debt investments;
- Capital Markets—primarily invests in non-control debt and non-control equity investments, including distressed debt instruments; and
- Real Estate—primarily invests in legacy commercial mortgage-backed securities, commercial first mortgage loans, mezzanine investments and other commercial real estate-related debt investments. Additionally, the Company sponsors real estate funds that focus on opportunistic investments in distressed debt and equity recapitalization transactions.

These business segments are differentiated based on the varying investment strategies. The performance is measured by management on an unconsolidated basis because management makes operating decisions and assesses the performance of each of Apollo's business segments based on financial and operating metrics and data that exclude the effects of consolidation of any of the affiliated funds.

The Company's financial results vary, since carried interest, which generally constitutes a large portion of the income from the funds that Apollo manages, as well as the transaction and advisory fees that the Company receives, can vary significantly from quarter to quarter and year to year. As a result, the Company emphasizes long-term financial growth and profitability to manage its business.

The following tables present the financial data for Apollo's reportable segments further separated between the management and incentive business as of December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009 and for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively, which management believes is useful to the reader. The Company's management business has fairly stable revenues and expenses except for transaction fees, while its incentive business is more volatile and can have significant fluctuations as it is affected by changes in the fair value of investments due to market performance of the Company's business. The financial results of the management entities, as reflected in the "management" business section of the segment tables that follow, generally include management fee revenues, advisory and transaction fees and expenses exclusive of profit sharing expense. The financial results of the advisory entities, as reflected in the "incentive" business sections of the segment tables that follow, generally include carried interest income, investment income, profit sharing expense and incentive fee based compensation.

Economic Net Income (Loss)

Economic Net Income ("ENI") is a key performance measure used by management in evaluating the performance of Apollo's private equity, capital markets and real estate segments. Management also believes the

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(dollars in thousands, except share data)

components of ENI such as the amount of management fees, advisory and transaction fees and carried interest income are indicative of the Company's performance. Management also uses ENI in making key operating decisions such as the following:

- Decisions related to the allocation of resources such as staffing decisions including hiring and locations for deployment of the new hires;
- Decisions related to capital deployment such as providing capital to facilitate growth for the business and/or to facilitate expansion into new businesses; and
- Decisions related to expense, such as determining annual discretionary bonuses and stock-based compensation awards to its employees. As it relates to compensation, management seeks to align the interests of certain professionals and selected other individuals who have a profit sharing interest in the carried interest income earned in relation to the funds, with those of the investors in such funds and those of the Company's shareholders. To achieve that objective, a certain amount of compensation is based on the Company's performance and growth for the year.

ENI is a measure of profitability and has certain limitations in that it does not take into account certain items included under U.S. GAAP. ENI represents segment income (loss) attributable to Apollo Global Management, LLC, which excludes the impact of non-cash charges related to RSUs granted in connection with the 2007 private placement and amortization of AOG Units, income tax expense, amortization of intangibles associated with the 2007 Reorganization as well as acquisitions and Non-Controlling Interests excluding the remaining interest held by certain individuals who receive an allocation of income from certain of our capital markets management companies. In addition, segment data excludes the assets, liabilities and operating results of the funds and VIEs that are included in the consolidated financial statements.

During the fourth quarter 2011, the Company modified the measurement of ENI to better evaluate the performance of Apollo's private equity, capital markets and real estate segments in making key operating decisions. These modifications include a reduction to ENI for equity-based compensation expense for RSUs (excluding RSUs granted in connection with the 2007 private placement) and share options, reduction for non-controlling interests related to the remaining interest held by certain individuals who receive an allocation of income from certain of our capital markets management companies and an add-back for amortization of intangibles associated with the 2007 Reorganization and acquisitions. These modifications to ENI have been reflected in the prior period presentation of our segment results. The impact of this modification on ENI is reflected in the table below for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009:

	Impact of Modification on ENI
	Private Equity Segment	Capital Markets Segment	Real Estate Segment	Total Reportable Segments

(1) Included in unrealized carried interest (loss) income from affiliates is reversal of previously realized carried interest income due to the general partner obligation to return previously distributed carried interest income or fees of $75.3 million and $18.1 million with respect to Fund VI and SOMA, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2011. The general partner obligation is recognized based upon a hypothetical liquidation of the funds' net assets as of December 31, 2011. The actual determination and any required payment of a general partner obligation would not take place until the final disposition of a fund's investments based on the contractual termination of the fund.

(2) Pursuant to the modification in the ENI measurement as discussed above, compensation and benefits includes equity-based compensation expense related to the management business for RSUs (excluding RSUs granted in connection with the 2007 private placement) and share options. In addition, other expenses excludes amortization of intangibles associated with the 2007 Reorganization as well as acquisitions.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of
Apollo Global Management, LLC
New York, New York

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statements of financial condition of Apollo Global Management, LLC and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive income (loss), changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2010. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Apollo Global Management, LLC and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2010, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(dollars in thousands, except share data)

1. ORGANIZATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Apollo Global Management, LLC and its consolidated subsidiaries (the "Company" or "Apollo"), is a global alternative asset manager whose predecessor was founded in 1990. Its primary business is to raise, invest and manage private equity, capital markets and real estate funds on behalf of pension and endowment funds, as well as other institutional and high net worth individual investors. For these investment and management services, Apollo receives management fees generally related to the amount of assets managed, transaction and advisory fees for the investments made and carried interest income related to the performance of the respective funds that it manages. Apollo has three primary business segments:

- Private equity—primarily invests in control equity and related debt instruments, convertible securities and distressed debt investments;
- Capital markets—primarily invests in non-control debt and non-control equity investments, including distressed debt securities; and
- Real estate—primarily invests in legacy commercial mortgage-backed securities, commercial first mortgage loans, mezzanine investments and other commercial real estate-related debt investments. The Company may seek to sponsor additional real estate funds that focus on opportunistic investments in distressed debt and equity recapitalization transactions.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") under the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification (the "Codification"), as the source of authoritative accounting principles in the preparation of financial statements, and include the accounts of Apollo entities and variable interest entities ("VIEs"). Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated upon consolidation.

Reorganization of the Company

The Company was formed as a Delaware limited liability company on July 3, 2007 and completed a reorganization of its predecessor businesses on July 13, 2007 (the "Reorganization"). The Company is managed and operated by its manager, AGM Management, LLC, which in turn is wholly owned and controlled by Leon Black, Joshua Harris and Marc Rowan (the "Managing Partners").

Prior to the Reorganization of the Company on July 13, 2007, the consolidated financial statements included the entities engaged in the above businesses and their related funds under the common ownership of Leon Black, Joshua Harris, and Marc Rowan (the "Managing Partners" or "Control Group").

As of December 31, 2010, the Company owned, through three intermediate holding companies that include APO Corp. ("APO Corp"), a Delaware corporation that is a domestic corporation for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, APO Asset Co., LLC ("APO Asset"), a Delaware limited liability company that is a disregarded entity for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, and APO (FC), LLC ("APO (FC)"), an Anguilla limited liability company that is treated as a corporation for U.S Federal income tax purposes (collectively, the "Intermediate Holding Companies"), 29.0% of the economic interests of, and operated and controlled all of the businesses and affairs of, the Apollo Operating Group as general partners.

AP Professional Holdings, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("Holdings"), is the entity through which the Managing Partners and other contributing partners (the "Contributing Partners") hold Apollo Operating Group Units ("AOG Units") that represent 71.0% of the economic interests in the Apollo Operating Group as of December 31, 2010. The Company consolidates the financial results of the Apollo Operating Group and its consolidated subsidiaries. Holdings' ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group is reflected as a Non-Controlling Interest in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Apollo also entered into an exchange agreement with Holdings that allows the partners in Holdings, subject to the vesting and minimum retained ownership requirements and transfer restrictions set forth in the partnership agreements of the Apollo Operating Group, to exchange their AOG Units for the Company's Class A shares on a one-for-one basis up to four times each year, subject to customary conversion rate adjustments for splits, unit distributions and reclassifications. A limited partner must exchange one partnership unit in each of the ten Apollo Operating Group partnerships to effect an exchange for one Class A share.

The Company has historically consolidated Apollo Commodities Trading Fund, L.P. In April 2010, the Company became the sole investor in the master and feeder fund structure of Apollo Metals Trading Fund, L.P. (the "Metals Trading Fund") and Apollo Commodities Trading Fund, L.P., respectively, and began to consolidate the Metals Trading Fund. The fund was liquidated prior to December 31, 2010.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of Consolidation—Apollo consolidates those entities it controls through a majority voting interest or through other means, including those funds in which the general partner is presumed to have control over them (e.g. AP Alternative Assets, L.P. ("AAA")). Apollo also consolidates entities that are VIEs for which Apollo is the primary beneficiary. Under the amended consolidation rules, an enterprise is determined to be the primary beneficiary if it holds a controlling financial interest. A controlling financial interest is defined as (a) the power to direct the activities of a VIE that most significantly impact the entity's business and (b) the obligation to absorb losses of the entity or the right to receive benefits from the entity that could potentially be significant to the VIE.

Certain of our subsidiaries hold equity interests in and/or receive fees qualifying as variable interests from the funds that the Company manages. The amended consolidation rules require an analysis to determine whether (a) an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE and (b) Apollo's involvement, through holding interests directly or indirectly in the entity or contractually through other variable interests (e.g., carried interest and management fees), would give it a controlling financial interest. When the VIE has qualified for the deferral of the amended consolidation rules as discussed in "Recent Accounting Pronouncements," the analysis is based on previous consolidation rules, which require an analysis to determine whether (a) an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE and (b) Apollo's involvement, through holding interests directly or indirectly in the entity or contractually through other variable interests (e.g., carried interest and management fees), would be expected to absorb a majority of the variability of the entity.

Under both guidelines, the determination of whether an entity in which Apollo holds a variable interest is a VIE requires judgments which include determining whether the equity investment at risk is sufficient to permit the entity to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support, evaluating whether the equity holders, as a group, can make decisions that have a significant effect on the success of the entity, determining whether two or more parties' equity interests should be aggregated, and determining whether the equity investors have proportionate voting rights to their obligations to absorb losses or rights to receive returns from an entity.

Under both guidelines, Apollo determines whether it is the primary beneficiary of a VIE at the time it becomes involved with a VIE and reconsiders that conclusion continuously. The consolidation analysis can generally be performed qualitatively. However, if it is not readily apparent whether Apollo is the primary beneficiary, a quantitative expected losses and expected residual returns calculation will be performed. Investments and redemptions (either by Apollo, affiliates of Apollo or third parties) or amendments to the governing documents of the respective Apollo fund may affect an entity's status as a VIE or the determination of the primary beneficiary.

Apollo assesses whether it is the primary beneficiary and will consolidate or deconsolidate the entity accordingly. Performance of that assessment requires the exercise of judgment. Where the variable interests have qualified for the deferral, judgments are made in estimating cash flows in evaluating which member within the equity group absorbs a majority of the expected profits or losses of the VIE. Where the variable interests have not qualified for the deferral, judgments are made in determining whether a member in the equity group has a controlling financial interest including power to direct activities that most significantly impact the VIE's economic performance and rights to receive benefits or obligations to absorb losses that are potentially significant to the VIE. Under both guidelines, judgment is made in evaluating the nature of the relationships and activities of the parties involved in determining which party within a related-party group is most closely associated with a VIE. The use of these judgments has a material impact to certain components of Apollo's consolidated financial statements.

Following adoption of the amended consolidation guidance on January 1, 2010, the Company consolidated four VIEs. The first VIE, formed prior to 2010, was consolidated as of the date of transition to the amended guidance resulting in recognition of the assets and liabilities of the consolidated VIE at fair value and recognition of a cumulative effect transition adjustment presented as a component of Non-Controlling Interests in Consolidated Entities in the consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity for the year ended December 31, 2010. The transition adjustment is classified as a component of Non-Controlling Interest rather than an adjustment to Appropriated Partners' Capital because the VIE is funded with equity and 100% of the equity ownership of the VIE is held by unconsolidated Apollo funds and one unaffiliated third party. Changes in the fair value of assets and liabilities and the related interest, dividend and other income for this VIE subsequent to adoption of the amended guidance are recorded within Non-Controlling Interests in consolidated entities in the consolidated statement of financial condition and within net gains from investment activities of consolidated VIEs and net (income) loss attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statement of operations.

Two VIEs were formed during 2010 to issue collateralized notes in the legal form of debt backed by financial assets resulting in consolidation of each of these entities at fair value. Changes in the fair value of the assets and liabilities of these two VIEs and the related interest and other income are presented within Appropriated Partners' Capital in the consolidated statement of financial condition as these VIEs are funded solely with debt and within net gains from investment activities of consolidated variable interest entities and net (income) loss attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the consolidated statement of operations. Such amounts are recorded within Appropriated Partners' Capital as, in each case, the VIE's note holders, not Apollo, will ultimately receive the benefits or absorb the losses associated with the VIE's assets and liabilities.

The fourth VIE was formed during the fourth quarter of 2010, and the Company determined at the time of formation that it was the primary beneficiary of such VIE. The VIE was funded solely with equity and held by an unconsolidated fund and qualified as an asset-backed financing entity. Based on a restructuring of the VIE, which occurred later in the fourth quarter of 2010, the Company no longer possessed the power to direct the activities of such VIE resulting in deconsolidation of the VIE. As a result of the deconsolidation, the assets and liabilities are not reflected on the Company's consolidated statement of financial condition as of December 31, 2010, but the entity's profits and losses for the period it was consolidated are reflected within net gains from investing activities of consolidated variable interest entities and net (income) loss attributable to Non-Controlling Interests in the Company's consolidated statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2010.

Assets and liability amounts of the consolidated VIEs are shown in separate sections within the consolidated statement of financial condition as of December 31, 2010.

Refer to additional disclosures regarding VIEs in note 5. Intercompany transactions and balances, if any, have been eliminated in the consolidation.

Equity Method—For entities over which the Company exercises significant influence but which do not meet the requirements for consolidation, the Company uses the equity method of accounting, whereby the Company records its share of the underlying income or loss of these entities. Income (loss) from equity method investments is recognized as part of other income (loss) in the consolidated statements of operations.

Apollo evaluates its equity method investments for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amounts of such investments may not be recoverable. The difference between the carrying value of the equity method investments and the estimated fair value of such investments is recognized as an impairment when the loss is deemed other than temporary.

Non-Controlling Interest—For entities that are consolidated, but not 100% owned, a portion of the income or loss and corresponding equity is allocated to owners other than Apollo. The aggregate of the income or loss and corresponding equity that is not owned by the Company is included in Non-Controlling Interest in the consolidated financial statements. The Non-Controlling Interest relating to Apollo Global Management, LLC primarily includes the approximately 71% ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group held by the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners through their limited partner interests in Holdings and other ownership interests in consolidated entities, which primarily consist of the approximate 97% ownership interest held by limited partners in AAA. Non-Controlling Interests also include limited partner interests of Apollo managed funds in certain consolidated VIEs.

The authoritative guidance for Non-Controlling Interest in consolidated financial statements requires reporting entities to present Non-Controlling Interests as equity and provides guidance on the accounting for transactions between an entity and Non-Controlling Interests. According to the guidance, (1) Non-Controlling Interests are presented as a separate component of shareholders' equity on the Company's consolidated statements of financial condition, (2) net income (loss) includes the net income (loss) attributed to the Non-Controlling Interest holders on the Company's consolidated statements of operations, (3) the primary components of Non-Controlling Interest are separately presented in the Company's consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity to clearly distinguish the interests in the Apollo Operating Group and other ownership interests in the consolidated entities and (4) profits and losses are allocated to Non-Controlling Interests in proportion to their ownership interests regardless of their basis.

Cash and Cash Equivalents—Apollo considers all highly liquid short-term investments with original maturities of 90 days or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. Substantially all amounts on deposit in interest-bearing accounts with major financial institutions exceed insured limits.

Restricted Cash—Restricted cash represents cash deposited at a bank, which is pledged as collateral in connection with leased premises.

Revenues—Revenues are reported in three separate categories that include (i) management fees from affiliates, which are based on committed capital, invested capital, net asset value, gross assets or as otherwise defined in the respective agreements; (ii) advisory and transaction fees from affiliates, which relate to the investments the funds make and may include individual monitoring agreements with the portfolio companies and debt investment vehicles of the private equity funds and capital markets funds; and (iii) carried interest income (loss) from affiliates, which is normally based on the performance of the funds subject to preferred return.

Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates—Advisory and transaction fees, including directors' fees are recognized when the underlying services rendered are substantially completed in accordance with the terms of their transaction and advisory agreements. Additionally, during the normal course of business, the Company incurs certain costs related to private equity fund transactions that are not consummated ("Broken Deal Costs"). Refer to the "Pending Deal Costs" policy below for information regarding how and when the Company accounts for Broken Deal Costs.

As a result of providing advisory services to certain private equity and capital markets portfolio companies, Apollo is entitled to receive fees for transactions related to the acquisition and disposition of portfolio companies as well as ongoing monitoring of portfolio company operations. The amounts due from portfolio companies are included in "Due from Affiliates," which is discussed further in note 15. Under the terms of the limited partnership agreements for certain funds, the management fee payable by the funds is subject to a reduction based on a certain percentage of such transaction fees, net of applicable broken deal costs ("Management Fee Offset"). Such amounts are presented as a reduction to Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates in the consolidated statements of operations.

Management Fees from Affiliates—Management fees for private equity funds, real estate funds and certain capital markets funds are recognized in the period during which the related services are performed in accordance with the contractual terms of the related agreement. Management fees for private equity funds and certain capital markets funds are based upon a percentage of the capital committed during the commitment period, and thereafter based on the remaining invested capital of unrealized investments. For most capital markets funds, management fees are recognized in the period during which the related services are performed and are based upon net asset value, gross assets or as otherwise defined in the respective agreements.

Carried Interest Income (Loss) from Affiliates—Apollo is entitled to an incentive return that can normally amount to as much as approximately 20% of the total returns on funds' capital, depending upon performance. Performance-based fees are assessed as a percentage of the investment performance of the funds. The carried interest income from affiliates for any period is based upon an assumed liquidation of the fund's net assets on the reporting date, and distribution of the net proceeds in accordance with the fund's income allocation provisions. The net carried interest income distributed may be subject to repayment based on subsequent performance of the fund in accordance with the respective partnership agreements. Carried interest receivable is presented separately in the consolidated statements of financial condition.

Management Fee Waiver and Notional Investment Program—Under the terms of certain investment fund partnership agreements, Apollo may from time to time elect to forgo a portion of the management fee revenue that is due from the funds and instead receive a right to a proportionate interest in future distributions of profits of those funds. Waived fees recognized during the period are included in management fees from affiliates in the consolidated statements of operations. This election allows certain employees of Apollo to waive a portion of their respective share of future income from Apollo and receive, in lieu of a cash distribution, title and ownership of the profits interests in the respective fund. Apollo immediately assigns the profits interests received to its employees. Such assignments of profits interests are treated as compensation and benefits when assigned.

Deferred Revenue—Apollo earns management fees subject to the Management Fee Offset. When advisory and transaction fees are earned by the management company, the Management Fee Offset reduces the management fee obligation of the fund. When the management company receives cash for advisory and transaction fees, a certain percentage is allocated as a credit to reduce future management fees, otherwise payable by such fund. Such credit is classified as deferred revenue in the consolidated statements of financial condition. As the management fees earned by the management company are presented on a gross basis, any Management Fee Offsets calculated are presented as a reduction to advisory and transaction fees in the consolidated statements of operations.

Additionally, Apollo earns advisory fees pursuant to the terms of the advisory agreements with certain of the portfolio companies that are owned by the funds. When Apollo receives a payment from a portfolio company that exceeds the advisory fees earned at that point in time, the excess payment is classified as deferred revenue in the consolidated statements of financial condition. The advisory agreements with the portfolio companies vary in duration and the associated fees are received monthly, quarterly or annually. Deferred revenue is reversed and recognized as revenue over the period that the agreed upon services are performed.

Under the terms of the funds' partnership agreements, Apollo is normally required to bear organizational expenses over a set dollar amount and placement costs in connection with the offering and sale of interests in the funds to investors. The placement fees are payable to placement agents, who are independent third parties that assist in identifying potential investors, securing commitments to invest from such potential investors, preparing or revising offering and marketing materials, developing strategies for attempting to secure investments by potential investors and/or providing feedback and insight regarding issues and concerns of potential investors, when a limited partner either commits or funds a commitment to a fund. In certain instances the placement fees are paid over a period of time. Based on the management agreements with the funds, Apollo considers placement fees and organizational costs paid in determining if cash has been received in excess of the management fees earned. Placement fees and organizational costs are normally the obligation of Apollo but can be paid for by the funds. When these costs are paid by the fund, the resulting obligations are included within deferred revenue. The deferred revenue balance will also be reduced during future periods when management fees are earned but not paid.

Interest and Other Income—Apollo recognizes security transactions on the trade date. Interest income is recognized as earned on an accrual basis. Discounts and premiums on securities purchased are accreted or amortized over the life of the respective securities using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are recorded based on the specific identification method.

Due from/to Affiliates—Apollo considers its existing partners, employees, certain former employees, non-consolidated private equity funds, non-consolidated capital markets funds, real estate funds, private equity fund portfolio companies, certain real estate management companies and certain advisors to be affiliates or related parties.

Investments, at Fair Value—The Company follows U.S. GAAP attributable to fair value measurements, which among other things, requires enhanced disclosures about investments that are measured and reported at fair value. Investments, at fair value, represent investments of the consolidated funds and investments of the consolidated VIEs and the unrealized gains and losses resulting from changes in the fair value are reflected as net gains from investment activities and net gains from investment activities of the consolidated variable interest entities, respectively, in the consolidated statement of operations. In accordance with U.S. GAAP, investments measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following categories:

Level I—Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical investments as of the reporting date. The type of investments included in Level I include listed equities and listed derivatives. As required by U.S.

GAAP, the Company does not adjust the quoted price for these investments, even in situations where the Company holds a large position and the sale of such position would likely deviate from the quoted price.

Level II—Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies. Investments that are generally included in this category include corporate bonds and loans, less liquid and restricted equity securities and certain over-the-counter derivatives where the fair value is based on observable inputs. These investments exhibit higher levels of liquid market observability as compared to Level III investments. The Company subjects broker quotes to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level II investment. These criteria include, but are not limited to, the number and quality of broker quotes, the standard deviation of obtained broker quotes, and the percentage deviation from independent pricing services.

Level III—Pricing inputs are unobservable for the investment and includes situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the investment. The inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgment or estimation. Investments that are included in this category generally include general and limited partnership interests in corporate private equity and real estate funds, mezzanine funds, funds of hedge funds, distressed debt and non-investment grade residual interests in securitizations and collateralized debt obligations where the fair value is based on observable inputs as well as unobservable inputs. When a security is valued based on broker quotes, the Company subjects those quotes to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level II or Level III investment. Some of the factors we consider include the number of broker quotes we obtain, the quality of the broker quotes, the standard deviations of the observed broker quotes and the corroboration of the broker quotes to independent pricing services.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment when the fair value is based on unobservable inputs.

Private Equity Investments

The value of liquid investments, where the primary market is an exchange (whether foreign or domestic) is determined using period end market prices. Such prices are generally based on the last sales price on the date of determination.

Valuation approaches used to estimate the fair value of investments that are less liquid include the income approach and the market approach. The income approach provides an indication of fair value based on the present value of cash flows that a business or security is expected to generate in the future. The most widely used methodology used in the income approach is a discounted cash flow method. Inherent in the discounted cash flow method are assumptions of expected results and a calculated discount rate. The market approach provides an indication of fair value based on a comparison of the subject company to comparable publicly traded companies and transactions in the industry. The market approach is driven more by current market conditions of actual trading levels of similar companies and actual transaction data of similar companies. Consideration may also be given to such factors as the Company's historical and projected financial data, valuations given to comparable companies, the size and scope of the Company's operations, the Company's strengths, weaknesses, expectations relating to the market's receptivity to an offering of the Company's securities, applicable restrictions on transfer, industry information and assumptions, general economic and market conditions and other factors deemed relevant. As part of management's process, the Company utilizes a valuation committee to review and approve the valuations. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, those estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed, and the differences could be material.

Capital Markets Investments

The majority of the investments in Apollo's capital markets funds are valued using quoted market prices. Debt and equity securities that are not publicly traded or whose market prices are not readily available are valued at fair value utilizing recognized pricing services, market participants or other sources. The capital markets funds also enter into foreign currency exchange contracts, credit default swap contracts, and other derivative contracts, which may include options, caps, collars and floors. Foreign currency exchange contracts are marked-to-market by recognizing the difference between the contract exchange rate and the current market rate as unrealized appreciation or depreciation. If securities are held at the end of this period, the changes in value are recorded in income as unrealized. Realized gains or losses are recognized when contracts are settled. Credit default swap contracts are recorded at fair value as an asset or liability with changes in fair value recorded as unrealized appreciation or depreciation. Realized gains or losses are recognized at the termination of the contract based on the difference between the close-out price of the credit default contract and the original contract price.

Forward contracts are valued based on market rates obtained from counterparties or prices obtained from recognized financial data service providers. When determining fair value pricing when no market value exists, the value attributed to an investment is based on the enterprise value at the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Valuation approaches used to estimate the fair value of illiquid investments included in Apollo's capital markets funds also may use the income approach or market approach. The valuation approaches used consider, as applicable, market risks, credit risks, counterparty risks and foreign currency risks.

Real Estate Investments

For ARI and the AGRE CMBS Account, we seek market pricing data from brokers, collateral agents or market makers, when available, and corroborate quotes received by attempting to obtain quotes from independent pricing services. We value all other assets of the fund at fair value in accordance with U.S. GAAP. For our opportunistic real estate funds (in the case of CPI), valuations of non-marketable underlying investments are determined using methods that include, but are not limited to (i) discounted cash flow estimates or comparable analysis prepared internally, (ii) third party appraisals or valuations by qualified real estate appraisers, and (iii) contractual sales value of investments/properties subject to bona fide purchase contracts. Due to the inherent uncertainty of determining the fair value of investments that do not have a readily available market value, the value of investments by certain of our real estate funds may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a readily available market value existed for such investments, and the differences could be material.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

U.S. GAAP guidance requires the disclosure of the estimated fair value of financial instruments. The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

Except for the Company's debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement (as defined in note 12), Apollo's financial instruments are recorded at fair value or at amounts whose carrying value approximates fair value. See "Investments, at Fair Value" above. While Apollo's valuations of portfolio investments are based on assumptions that Apollo believes are reasonable under the circumstances, the actual realized gains or losses will depend on, among other factors, future operating results, the value of the assets and market conditions at the time of disposition, any related transaction costs and the timing and manner of sale, all of which may ultimately differ significantly from the assumptions on which the valuations were based. Other financial instruments carrying values generally approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of those instruments or variable interest rates related to the borrowings. As disclosed in note 12, the Company's long term debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement is believed to have an estimated fair value of approximately $728.3 million based on a yield analysis using available market data of comparable securities with similar terms and remaining maturities. However, the carrying value that is recorded on the consolidated statement of financial condition is the amount for which we expect to settle the long term debt obligation.

Fair Value Option—Apollo has elected the fair value option for the assets and liabilities of the consolidated VIEs. Such election is irrevocable and is applied to financial instruments on an individual basis at initial recognition. Apollo has applied the fair value option for certain corporate loans, other investments and debt obligations held by these entities that otherwise would not have been carried at fair value. Refer to note 5 for further disclosure on financial instruments of the consolidated VIEs for which the fair value option has been elected.

Interest Rate Swap Agreements—In accordance with U.S. GAAP, Apollo recognizes derivatives as either an asset or liability measured at fair value. In order to reduce interest rate risk, Apollo entered into interest rate swap agreements which were formally designated as cash flow hedges. To qualify for cash flow hedge accounting, interest rate swaps must meet certain criteria, including (a) the items to be hedged expose Apollo to interest rate risk and (b) the interest rate swaps are highly effective in reducing Apollo's exposure to interest rate risk. Apollo formally documents at inception its hedge relationships, including identification of the hedging instruments and the hedged items, its risk management objectives, its strategy for undertaking the hedge transaction and Apollo's evaluation of effectiveness. Effectiveness is periodically assessed based upon a comparison of the relative changes in the cash flows of the interest rate swaps and the items being hedged.

For derivatives that have been formally designated as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivatives are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income ("OCI"). Amounts in OCI are reclassified into earnings when interest expense on the underlying borrowings is recognized. If, at any time, the swaps are determined to be ineffective, in whole or in part, due to changes in the interest rate swap or underlying debt agreements, the fair value of the portion of the interest rate swap determined to be ineffective will be recognized as a gain or loss in the consolidated statements of operations.

Financial Instruments held by Consolidated VIEs

The consolidated VIEs hold investments that are traded over-the-counter. Investments in securities that are traded on a securities exchange or comparable over-the-counter quotation systems are valued based on the last reported sale price at that date. If no sales of such investments are reported on such date, and in the case of over-the-counter securities or other investments for which the last sale date is not available, valuations are based on independent market quotations obtained from market participants, recognized pricing services or other sources deemed relevant, and the prices are based on the average of the "bid" and "ask" prices, or at ascertainable prices at the close of business on such day. Market quotations are generally based on valuation pricing models or market transactions of similar securities adjusted for security-specific factors such as relative capital structure priority and interest and yield risks, among other factors.

The consolidated VIEs also have debt obligations that are recorded at fair value. The valuation approach used to estimate the fair values of debt obligations is the discounted cash flow method, which includes consideration of the cash flows of the debt obligation based on projected quarterly interest payments and quarterly amortization. Debt obligations are discounted based on the appropriate yield curve given the loan's respective maturity and credit rating. Management uses its discretion and judgment in considering and appraising relevant factors for determining the valuations of its debt obligations.

Loan impairment—For loans classified as held-for-investment, the Company evaluates the loans for possible impairment on a quarterly basis. Impairment occurs when it is deemed probable that the company will not be able to collect all amounts due according to the contractual terms of the loan. Impairment is then measured based on the present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the loan's effective rate or the fair value of the collateral, if the loan is collateral dependent. Upon measurement of impairment, the Company records an allowance to reduce the carrying value of the loan with a corresponding charge to net income. Significant judgments are required in determining impairment, including making assumptions regarding the value of the loan, the value of the underlying collateral and other provisions such as guarantees. At December 31, 2010, the Company's impairment analysis was done on a specific identification basis and no allowance for loan loss was recorded.

Other Investments—The Company's investments in the funds that it manages and are not consolidated, are accounted for under the equity method of accounting, whereby the Company records its share of the underlying income or loss of such funds as income (loss) from equity method investments in the consolidated statements of operations. The funds that the Company manages are, for U.S. GAAP purposes, investment companies and therefore apply specialized accounting principles and reflect their underlying investments at estimated fair value.

Pending Deal Costs—Pending deal costs consist of certain costs incurred (e.g. research costs) related to private equity and capital markets fund transactions that we are pursuing but which have not yet been consummated. These costs are deferred until such transactions are broken or successfully completed. A transaction is determined to be broken upon management's decision to no longer pursue the transaction. In accordance with the related fund agreements, in the event the deal is broken, all of the costs are reimbursed by the funds and considered in the calculation of the Management Fee Offset. These offsets are included in Advisory and Transaction Fees from Affiliates in the Company's consolidated statements of operations. If a deal is successfully completed, Apollo is reimbursed by the fund or a fund's portfolio company for all costs incurred.

Fixed Assets—Fixed Assets consist primarily of ownership interests in aircraft, leasehold improvements, furniture, fixtures and equipment, computer hardware and software and are recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization is calculated using the straight-line method over the assets' estimated useful lives. Aircraft engine overhauls are capitalized and depreciated until the next expected overhaul. Expenditures for repairs and maintenance are charged to expense when incurred. The Company evaluates long-lived assets for impairment periodically and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate, the carrying amounts of the assets may be impaired.

Business Combinations—The Company accounts for acquisitions using the purchase method of accounting in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The purchase price of the acquisition is allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed using the fair values determined by management as of the acquisition date. The acquisitions and dispositions described in notes 1 and 3 are accounted for using the purchase method of accounting.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets—Goodwill and indefinite-life intangible assets must be reviewed annually for impairment or more frequently if circumstances indicate impairment may have occurred. Identifiable finite-life intangible assets, by contrast, are amortized over their estimated useful lives, which are periodically re-evaluated for impairment or when circumstances indicate an impairment may have occurred. Apollo amortizes its identifiable finite-life intangible assets using the straight-line method. At June 30, 2010, the Company performed its annual impairment testing and determined there was no impairment of goodwill or indefinite life intangible assets at such time.

Profit Sharing Payable—Profit sharing payable represents the amounts payable to employees and former employees who are entitled to a proportionate share of carried interest income in one or more funds. The liability is calculated based upon the changes to realized and unrealized carried interest and is therefore not payable until the carried interest itself is realized.

Debt Issuance Costs—Debt issuance costs consist of costs incurred in obtaining financing and are amortized over the term of the financing using the effective interest method. These costs are included in Other Assets on the consolidated statements of financial condition.

Foreign Currency—The Company may, from time to time, hold foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities. Such assets and liabilities are translated using the exchange rates prevailing at the end of each reporting period. The functional currency of the Company's international subsidiaries is the U.S. Dollar, as their operations are considered an extension of U.S. parent operations. Non-monetary assets and liabilities of the Company's international subsidiaries are remeasured into the functional currency using historical exchange rates specific to each asset and liability. The results of the Company's foreign operations are normally remeasured using an average exchange rate for the respective reporting period. All currency remeasurement adjustments are included within other income (loss) in the consolidated statements of operations. Gains and losses on the settlement of foreign currency transactions are also included within Other Income (Loss), Net in the consolidated statements of operations.

Compensation and Benefits—Compensation and benefits includes salaries, bonuses, severance and employee benefits. Individuals who owned direct equity interests and participated in the governing process are considered partners.

Bonuses are accrued over the service period. From time to time, the Company may distribute profit interests received in lieu of management fees. Profits interests in funds received as a result of waived management fees, which are considered compensation, are granted to certain investment professionals. Additionally, certain employees have arrangements whereby they are entitled to receive a percentage of carried interest income based on the fund's performance. To the extent that individuals are entitled to a percentage of the carried interest income, and such entitlement is subject to potential forfeiture at inception, such arrangements are accounted for as profit sharing plans, and compensation expense is recognized as the related carried interest income is recognized. Profit sharing expense can be reversed during periods when there is a decline in carried interest income that was previously recognized.

The Company sponsors a 401(k) Savings Plan whereby U.S.-based employees are entitled to participate in the plan based upon satisfying certain eligibility requirements. The Company may provide discretionary contributions from time to time. No contributions relating to this plan were made by the Company for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

(dollars in thousands, except share data)

The components of compensation and benefits have been expanded in 2009 and 2008 to conform with the 2010 presentation.

Equity-Based Compensation—Equity-based compensation is accounted for in accordance with U.S. GAAP, which requires that the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments generally be measured based on the grant date fair value of the award. Equity-based awards that do not require future service (i.e., vested awards) are expensed immediately. Equity-based employee awards that require future service are expensed over the relevant service period. The Company estimates forfeitures for equity-based awards that are not expected to vest.

Comprehensive (Loss) Income —U.S. GAAP guidance establishes standards for reporting comprehensive income and its components in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. U.S. GAAP requires that the Company classify items of OCI by their nature in the financial statements and display the accumulated balance of OCI separately in the shareholders' equity section of the Company's consolidated statements of financial condition. Comprehensive income (loss) consists of net income (loss) and OCI. Apollo's OCI is primarily comprised of the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the interest rate swap agreements discussed previously. If, at any time, any of the Company's subsidiaries' functional currency becomes non-U.S. dollar denominated, the Company will record foreign currency cumulative translation adjustments in OCI.

Income Taxes—The Apollo Operating Group and its subsidiaries continue to generally operate in the U.S. as partnerships for U.S. Federal income tax purposes and generally as corporate entities in non-U.S. jurisdictions. Accordingly, these entities in some cases are subject to New York City unincorporated business tax, or in the case of non-U.S. entities, to non-U.S. corporate income taxes. In addition, APO Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, is subject to U.S. Federal, state and local corporate income tax, and the Company's provision for income taxes is accounted for in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

As significant judgment is required in determining tax expense and in evaluating tax positions, including evaluating uncertainties, we recognize the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only where the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. The tax benefit is measured as the largest amount of benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. If a tax position is not considered more likely than not to be sustained, then no benefits of the position are recognized. The Company's tax positions are reviewed and evaluated quarterly and determine whether or not we have uncertain tax positions that require financial statement recognition.

Deferred income taxes are provided for the effects of temporary differences between the tax basis of an asset or liability and its reported amount in the consolidated statements of financial condition. These temporary differences result in taxable or deductible amounts in future years.

Net Income (Loss) Per Class A Share—U.S. GAAP requires use of the two-class method of computing earnings per share for all periods presented for each class of common stock and participating security as if all earnings for the period had been distributed. Under the two-class method, during periods of net income, the net income is first reduced for dividends declared on all classes of securities to arrive at undistributed earnings. During periods of net losses, the net loss is reduced for dividends declared on participating securities only if the security has the right to participate in the earnings of the entity and an objectively determinable contractual obligation to share in net losses of the entity.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

Under the two-class method, the numerator for basic earnings per share is determined by allocating the undistributed earnings among common and participating securities to the extent each security shares in such earnings. The numerator for diluted earnings per share is determined by adding dividends declared to the allocated undistributed earnings for the respective common and participating securities. Each total is then divided by the applicable number of shares to arrive at diluted earnings per share.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Apollo's most significant estimates include goodwill, intangible assets, income taxes, carried interest income from affiliates, non-cash compensation and fair value of investments and debt in the consolidated and unconsolidated funds. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

On January 1, 2010, the Company adopted amended consolidation guidance issued by FASB on issues related to VIEs. The amended guidance significantly affects the overall consolidation analysis, changing the approach taken by companies in identifying which entities are VIEs and in determining which party is the primary beneficiary. The amended guidance requires continuous assessment of the reporting entity's involvement with such VIEs. The amended guidance also enhances the disclosure requirements for a reporting entity's involvement with VIEs, including presentation on the consolidated statements of financial condition of assets and liabilities of consolidated VIEs that meet the separate presentation criteria and disclosure of assets and liabilities recognized in the consolidated statements of financial condition and the maximum exposure to loss for those VIEs in which a reporting entity is determined to not be the primary beneficiary but in which it has a variable interest. The guidance provides a limited scope deferral for a reporting entity's interest in an entity that meets all of the following conditions: (a) the entity has all the attributes of an investment company as defined under AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Investment Companies, or does not have all the attributes of an investment company but is an entity for which it is acceptable based on industry practice to apply measurement principles that are consistent with the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Investment Companies, (b) the reporting entity does not have explicit or implicit obligations to fund any losses of the entity that could potentially be significant to the entity and (c) the entity is not a securitization entity, asset-backed financing entity or an entity that was formerly considered a qualifying special-purpose entity. The reporting entity is required to perform a consolidation analysis for entities that qualify for the deferral in accordance with previously issued guidance on variable interest entities. Apollo's involvement with the funds it manages is such that all three of the above conditions are met with the exception of certain vehicles which fail condition (c) above. As previously mentioned, the incremental impact of adopting the amended consolidation guidance has resulted in the consolidation of certain VIEs managed by the Company. Additional disclosures related to Apollo's involvement with VIEs are presented in note 5.

In January 2010, the FASB issued guidance on improving disclosures about fair value measurements. The guidance requires additional disclosure on transfers in and out of Levels I and II fair value measurements in the fair value hierarchy and the reasons for such transfers. In addition, for fair value measurements using significant unobservable inputs (Level III), the reconciliation of beginning and ending balances must be presented on a gross basis, with separate disclosure of gross purchases, sales, issuances, settlements and transfers in and transfers out of Level III. The new guidance also requires enhanced disclosures on the fair value hierarchy to disaggregate disclosures by each class of assets and liabilities. In addition, an entity is required to provide further disclosures on valuation techniques and inputs used to measure fair value for fair value measurements that fall in either Level II or Level III. Except for the Level III reconciliation disclosures, this guidance became effective for the Company beginning January 1, 2010. The adoption of this guidance did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements. The Level III reconciliation disclosures are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2010. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In April 2010, the FASB issued guidance on the accounting for stock awards to employees of a foreign operation or employees whose pay is denominated in a currency other than the one in which the equity security trades. The guidance clarifies that share-based payment awards with an exercise price denominated in the currency of a market in which a substantial portion of the entity's equity securities trade shall not be considered to contain a condition that is not a market, performance or service condition. Such an award shall not be classified as a liability if it otherwise qualifies for equity classification. The guidance is effective for fiscal years and interim periods ending after December 15, 2010. The Company makes share-based payment awards to employees in foreign operations. The guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In December 2010, the FASB issued an update which includes amendments to modify Step 1 of the goodwill impairment test for reporting units with zero or negative carrying amounts. For those reporting units, an entity is required to perform Step 2 of the goodwill impairment test if it is more likely than not that a goodwill impairment exists. For public entities, the amendments in this update are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2010. For nonpublic entities, the amendments are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2011. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In December 2010, the FASB issued an update which includes amendments to specify that if a public entity presents comparative financial statements, the entity should disclose revenue and earnings of the combined entity as though the business combination(s) that occurred during the current year had occurred as of the beginning of the comparable prior annual reporting period only. The amendments in this update also expand the supplemental pro forma disclosures under Topic 805 to include a description of the nature and amount of material, non-recurring pro forma adjustments directly attributable to the business combination included in the reported pro forma revenue and earnings. The amendments in this update are effective prospectively for business combinations for which the acquisition date is on or after the beginning of the first annual reporting period beginning on or after December 15, 2010. The adoption of this guidance does not currently have an impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements. The Company will continue to evaluate the future impact that this guidance may have on the Company's consolidated financial statements as it relates to any future business combinations.

3. ACQUISITIONS AND BUSINESS COMBINATIONS

Acquisition of Non-Controlling Interests

Pursuant to the Reorganization described in note 1, the Company acquired interests in the predecessor businesses from the predecessor owners. These interests were acquired, in part, through an exchange of Holdings' units ("Units") and, in part, through the payment of cash.

This Reorganization has been accounted for partially as a transfer of interests under common control and as an acquisition of Non-Controlling Interests in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The cash paid for the interests acquired from members of the Control Group has been charged to equity. Cash payments related to the acquisition of interests outside of the Control Group have been accounted for using the purchase method of accounting.

The total consideration paid to the Contributing Partners including contingent consideration of $7.8 million paid in January and April 2008, aggregated to $164.2 million. The excess of the purchase price paid over the fair value of the tangible assets acquired approximates $148.2 million and has been included in the captions Goodwill and Intangible Assets, Net in the consolidated statements of financial condition as of December 31, 2010 and 2009.

The finite-life intangible assets related to (i) trade names, (ii) the contractual right to receive future fee income from management and advisory services and (iii) the contractual right to earn future carried interest income from the private equity and capital markets funds. These finite-life intangible assets were estimated to be $100.3 million. The residual amount representing the purchase price in excess of fair value of the tangible and intangible assets is $47.9 million and has been recorded as Goodwill.

The Company has performed an analysis and an evaluation of the excess of the cost over the net tangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The Company has determined the following estimated fair values for the acquired assets and liabilities assumed as of the date of acquisition.

Purchase price	$ 164,246
Net assets acquired, at fair value	$ 16,049
Trade names/contractual rights	100,300
Total	116,349
Goodwill	47,897
Purchase price allocation	$ 164,246

The estimated useful lives of the finite-life intangibles range between 2 and 20 years. The Company is amortizing these finite-life intangibles over their estimated useful lives using the straight-line method. The weighted average useful life of the finite-life intangibles is approximately 10 years.

	Useful Life in Years	December 31, 2010	December 31, 2009
Trade names	20	$ 400	$ 400
Existing contractual relationships—Capital Markets	14	42,700	42,700
Existing contractual relationships—Private Equity	2–15	57,200	57,200
Total identifiable intangible asset, at fair value		100,300	100,300
Less: Accumulated amortization of intangibles		(43,593)	(31,249)
Net identifiable intangible assets, at fair value		$ 56,707	$ 69,051

Business Combinations

On February 1, 2010, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of a limited company incorporated under the laws of Hong Kong and related entities thereto. The Company paid cash consideration of $1.4 million for identifiable assets with a combined fair value of $0.4 million, which resulted in $1.0 million of additional goodwill.

On November 12, 2010, Apollo completed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of Citi Property Investors ("CPI"), the real estate investment management group of Citigroup Inc. CPI had AUM of approximately $3.6 billion as of December 31, 2010. CPI is an integrated real estate investment platform with investment professionals located in Asia, Europe and North America. As part of the acquisition, Apollo received cash of $15.5 million and acquired general partner interests in, and advisory agreements with, various real estate investment funds and co-invest vehicles and added to its team of real estate professionals. The consideration transferred in the acquisition is a contingent consideration in the form of a liability incurred by Apollo to CPI. The liability is an obligation of Apollo to transfer cash to CPI based on a specified percentage of future earnings from the date of acquisition through December 31, 2012. The estimated fair value of the contingent liability is $1.2 million as of December 31, 2010, which was determined based on discounted cash flows from the date of acquisition through December 31, 2012 using a discount rate of 7%. In accordance with U.S. GAAP, the acquisition was accounted for as a business combination and the Company recorded a $24.1 million gain on acquisition which is included in Other Income (Loss), Net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

The finite-life intangible assets relate to management contracts associated with the CPI funds. The fair value of the management contracts was estimated to be $8.3 million, which was determined using a discounted cash flow model from the date of acquisition through the estimated life of five years at a discount rate of 7%. The Company also received $15.5 million of cash and recorded a receivable valued at $1.5 million as of December 31, 2010.

The Company utilized a discounted cash flow model to perform an analysis and an evaluation of the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The Company has determined the following estimated fair values for the acquired assets and liabilities assumed:

Tangible Assets:
Cash	$	15,468
Receivables, at fair value		1,500
Intangible Assets:
Management Contracts		8,300
Total Assets		25,268
Less: Contingent consideration, at fair value		(1,200)
Gain on Acquisition	$	24,068

The estimated useful life of the management contracts is 2.5 years. The Company is amortizing the management contracts over their estimated useful life using the straight-line method.

	Useful Life in Years		December 31, 2010
Management contracts	2.5	$	8,300
Less: Accumulated amortization of intangibles			(433)
Net identified intangible assets, at fair value		$	7,867

Intangible Assets

Amortization expense related to the intangible assets subject to amortization, including the intangible assets in the current period of acquisition and the intangible assets as part of the acquisitions of Non-Controlling Interests, was $12.8 million, $12.7 million and $13.9 million for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009, and 2008, respectively. Expected amortization of these intangible assets for each of the next 5 years and thereafter is as follows:

Amortization of intangible assets	$ 14,836	$ 13,487	$ 7,831	$ 3,677	$ 3,677	$ 21,066	$ 64,574

Other Acquisition

On December 3, 2010, Apollo entered into a subscription agreement under which HFA Holdings Limited ("HFA") will issue $75 million of mandatory convertible notes (the "MCNs") to Apollo and a co-investor. Additionally, Apollo will distribute the investment products and services of Lighthouse Investment Partners, LLC ("Lighthouse"), HFA's US-based subsidiary. Lighthouse is a fund of hedge funds and managed account investment advisor for institutional and private investors. The transaction is subject to a number of conditions, including HFA shareholder approval and receipt of governmental and regulatory approvals, and is expected to close in the first half of 2011.

In addition to AAA Investments' private equity co-investment in Caesars Entertainment Corporation (formerly known as Harrah's Entertainment, Inc.) ("Caesars"), as shown in the tables above, AAA Investments has an ownership interest in LeverageSource, L.P., which owns Caesars' debt. AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments is greater than 5% of the net asset of the consolidated funds and VIEs and is valued at $102.8 million and $129.4 million at December 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. In addition to AAA Investments' private equity co-investment in Momentive Performance Materials Holdings Inc. ("Momentive") noted above, AAA Investments has an ownership interest in the debt of Momentive. AAA Investments' combined share of these debt and equity investments is greater than 5% of the net assets of consolidated funds and VIEs and is valued at $138.8 million at December 31, 2010. Furthermore, AAA Investments owns equity, as a private equity co-investment, and debt, through its investment in Autumnleaf, L.P. and Apollo Fund VI BC, L.P., in CEVA Logistics. AAA Investments' combined share of CEVA Logistics' debt and equity investments was greater than 5% of the net assets of consolidated funds and was valued at $124.6 million and $97.8 million as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Apollo Strategic Value Offshore Fund, Ltd. (the "Apollo Strategic Value Fund") primarily invests in the securities of leveraged companies in North America and Europe through three core strategies: distressed investments, value-driven investments and special opportunities. In connection with the redemptions requested by AAA Investments of its investment in the Apollo Strategic Value Fund, the remainder of AAA Investments' investment in the Apollo Strategic Value Fund, was converted into liquidating shares issued by the Apollo Strategic Value Fund. The liquidating shares are generally allocated a pro rata portion of each of Apollo Strategic Value Fund's existing investments and liabilities, and as those investments are sold, AAA Investments is allocated the proceeds from such disposition less its proportionate share of any expenses incurred by the Apollo Strategic Value Fund.

Apollo Asia Opportunity Offshore Fund, Ltd. ("Asia Opportunity Fund") is an investment vehicle that seeks to generate attractive risk-adjusted returns across market cycles by capitalizing on investment opportunities created by the increasing demand for capital in the rapidly expanding Asian markets. In connection with a redemption requested by AAA Investments of its investment in Asia Opportunity Fund, a portion of AAA Investments' investment was converted into liquidating shares issued by the Asia Opportunity Fund. The liquidating shares are generally allocated a pro rata portion of each of Asia Opportunity Fund's existing investments and liabilities, and as those investments are sold, AAA Investments is allocated the proceeds from such disposition less its proportionate share of any expenses incurred or reserves set by Asia Opportunity Fund. At December 31, 2010, the liquidating shares of Asia Opportunity Fund had a fair value of $45.0 million.

(1) Balances include other assets and liabilities of certain funds in which AAA Investments has invested. Other assets and liabilities at the fund level primarily includes cash and cash equivalents, broker receivables and payables and amounts due to and from affiliates. Carrying values approximate fair value for other assets and liabilities, and accordingly, extended valuation procedures are not required.

(2) Balances include other assets, liabilities and general partner interests of AAA Investments and are primarily comprised of $537.5 million and $650.0 million in long-term debt offset by cash and cash equivalents at the December 31, 2010 and 2009 balance sheet dates, respectively. Carrying values approximate fair value for other assets and liabilities (except for debt), and, accordingly, extended valuation procedures are not required.

5. VARIABLE INTEREST ENTITIES

The Company consolidates entities that are VIEs of which the Company has been designated as the primary beneficiary. The purpose of such VIEs is to provide strategy-specific investment opportunities for investors in exchange for management and performance based fees. The investment strategies of the entities that the Company manages may vary by entity, however, the fundamental risks of such entities have similar characteristics, including loss of invested capital and the return of carried interest income previously distributed to the Company by certain private equity and capital markets entities. The nature of the Company's involvement with VIEs includes direct and indirect investments and fee arrangements. The Company does not provide performance guarantees and has no other financial obligation to provide funding to VIEs other than its own capital commitments.

Consolidated Variable Interest Entities

In accordance with the methodology described in note 2, Apollo consolidated four VIEs under the amended consolidation guidance during 2010.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

One of the consolidated VIEs was formed to purchase loans and bonds in a leveraged structure for the benefit of its limited partners, which included certain Apollo funds that contributed equity to the consolidated VIE. Through its role as general partner of this VIE, it was determined that Apollo had the characteristics of the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the VIE's economic performance. Additionally, the Apollo funds have involvement with the VIE that have the characteristics of the right to receive benefits from the VIE that could potentially be significant to the VIE. As a group, the Company and its related parties have the characteristics of a controlling financial interest. Apollo determined that it is the party within the related party group that is most closely associated with the VIE and therefore should consolidate it.

Two of the consolidated VIEs were formed for the sole purpose of issuing collateralized notes to investors, which included one Apollo fund. The assets of these VIEs are primarily comprised of senior secured loans and the liabilities are primarily comprised of debt. Through its role as collateral manager of these VIEs, it was determined that Apollo had the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the economic performance of these VIEs. Additionally, Apollo determined that the potential fees that it could receive indirectly from these VIEs represent rights to returns that could potentially be significant to such VIEs. As a result, Apollo determined that it is the primary beneficiary and therefore should consolidate the VIEs.

A fourth VIE was formed during the fourth quarter of 2010 which qualified as an asset-backed financing entity and the Company determined that it was the primary beneficiary. Based on a restructuring of this VIE which occurred later in the fourth quarter of 2010, the Company no longer possessed the power to direct the activities of such VIE resulting in deconsolidation of such VIE. As a result of its deconsolidation, the assets and liabilities will not be reflected on the Company's consolidated statement of financial condition as of December 31, 2010, but the entity's profit and loss activity for the period it was consolidated is reflected within net gains from investing activities of consolidated variable interest entities in the Company's consolidated statement of operations for the period ended December 31, 2010.

Apollo holds no equity interest in any of the four consolidated VIEs described above. The assets of these consolidated VIEs are not available to creditors of the Company. In addition, the investors in these consolidated VIEs have no recourse to the assets of the Company. The Company has elected the fair value option for financial instruments held by its consolidated VIEs, which includes investments in loans and corporate bonds, as well as debt obligations held by such consolidated VIEs. Other assets include amounts due from brokers and interest receivables. Other liabilities include payables for securities purchased, which represent open trades within the consolidated VIEs and primarily relate to corporate loans that are expected to settle within the next sixty days.

Fair Value Measurements

The following table summarizes the valuation of Apollo's consolidated VIEs in fair value hierarchy levels as of December 31, 2010 and 2009:

	Level I		Level II		Level III		Totals
	December 31,		December 31,		December 31,		December 31,
	2010	2009	2010	2009	2010	2009	2010	2009

	2010	2009	2010	2009	2010	2009	2010	2009
Liabilities, at fair value	$ —	$ —	$—	$ —	$ 1,127,180	$ —	$ 1,127,180	$ —

Level III investments include corporate loan and corporate bond investments held by the consolidated VIEs, while the Level III liabilities consist of notes and loans, the valuations of which are discussed further in note 2. All Level II and III investments were valued using broker quotes. Transfers of investments out of Level III and into Level II or Level I, if any, are recorded as of the quarterly period in which the transfer occurred. During the year, there were no transfers in and out of Level I.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

The following table summarizes the changes in investments of consolidated VIEs, which are measured at fair value and characterized as a Level III investment:

(1) Scheduled amortization payments received from investments held by the VIE are applied first against the loans until they are repaid in full. Scheduled interest payments received are generally used first to pay all fees and expenses under the agreement, then to pay interest due and payable to repay the loans. Any residual amounts are then paid to the VIE. To the extent certain of the investments are sold, the sales proceeds are applied first to repay the loans in an amount agreed upon under the credit agreement (currently 70% of such sales proceeds), and the remaining to the VIE.

(2) The term loans are subject to certain affirmative and negative covenants which include, but are not limited to, a Market Trigger Event ("MTE") covenant. An MTE occurs with respect to any loan receivable in the portfolio if the market price on any business day is 20 (or more) percentage points lower than its purchase price and the Loan-to-Value Ratio is greater than 87.5%. Additionally the term loans are subject to an Interest Coverage Ratio ("ICR") covenant. ICR is calculated as of each interest payment date. The ratio of interest income to income expense for the twelve months ended each interest payment date must not be less than 1.75:1.00. If an MTE or a breach of the ICR occurs, the VIE must cure such breach by either prepaying a portion of the loans or selling the loan in the portfolio for which the breach pertains (applying 100% of the proceeds to the term loan). The loans are subject to a Trigger Event provision. A Trigger Event occurs any time (a) an MTE has occurred and is continuing, (b) the Loan-to-Value Ratio at such time exceeds 90% and (c) an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing for at least 30 days. If a Trigger Event with respect to any loan is continuing, periodic cash flows of interest from the loans in the portfolio are applied first to prepay any and all outstanding loans before any proceeds are received by the VIE.

(3) Loan amount is denominated in GBP. Amortized cost at December 31, 2010 was £73,997 and amounts are translated into U.S. dollars at a historical exchange rate of £1.00 to $1.96.

(4) Each class of notes will mature at par on the stated maturity, unless previously redeemed or repaid. Principal will not be payable on the notes except in certain limited circumstances. Interest on the notes is payable quarterly in arrears on the outstanding amount of the notes on scheduled payment dates. The subordinated note will be fully redeemed on the stated maturity unless previously redeemed. The subordinated note may be redeemed, in whole but not in part, on or after the redemption or repayment in full of principal and interest on the secured notes. No interest accrues or is payable on the subordinated note.

(5) The notes are subject to two coverage tests. These tests are primarily used to determine whether principal and interest may be paid on the secured notes and distributions may be made on the subordinated notes. The "Coverage Tests" consist of the Overcollateralization Ratio Test and the Interest Coverage Test; each test applies to each note. The Overcollateralization Ratio Test and Interest Coverage Test applicable to the indicated classes of secured notes will be satisfied as of any date on which such Coverage Test is applicable, if (1) the applicable Overcollateralization Ratio or Interest Coverage Ratio is at least equal to the applicable ratio or (2) the class or classes of secured notes is no longer outstanding. The applicable Interest Coverage Ratio for Class A Notes and B Notes is 110.0% and 105.0%, respectively. The applicable Overcollateralization Ratio for Class A Notes and B Notes is 137.5% and 126.4%, respectively.

(6) The subordinated notes were issued to an affiliate of the Company. Amount is reduced by approximately $2.1 million due to elimination of equity investment attributable to consolidated VIEs.

(7) During the third quarter of 2010, the VIE entered into an agreement with the bank that provided the loan, whereby proceeds from the sales of a predetermined list of assets, after deducting for interest and expenses, are split 70% to repay the term loans and 30% to the VIE. The 70% of proceeds allocated to the bank of the VIE are used to repay the term loans at less than par, either 96% or 96.5% of par, depending on the individual asset. This agreement expired on December 31, 2010. During January 2011, the VIE renegotiated the agreement and subsequently liquidated substantially all of its assets.

(8) During the fourth quarter of 2010, the Company consolidated another VIE that had been issued secured notes and a subordinated note. The notes are subject to two coverage tests. These tests are primarily used to determine whether principal and interest may be paid on the secured notes and distributions may be made on the subordinated notes. The "Coverage Tests" consist of the Overcollateralization Ratio Test and the Interest Coverage Test; each test applies to each note. The Overcollateralization Ratio Test and Interest Coverage Test applicable to the indicated classes of secured notes will be satisfied as of any date on which such Coverage Test is applicable, if (1) the applicable Overcollateralization Ratio or Interest Coverage Ratio is at least equal to the applicable ratio or (2) the class or classes of secured notes is no longer outstanding. The applicable Interest Coverage Ratio for Class A Notes, Class B Notes, Class C Notes and Class D Notes is 110.0%, 105.0%, 102.0% and 101.0%, respectively. The applicable Overcollateralization Ratio for Class A Notes, Class B Notes, Class C Notes and Class D Notes is 135.59%, 124.76%, 120.13% and 117.39%, respectively.

The consolidated VIEs have elected the fair value option to value the term loans and notes payable. The general partner uses its discretion and judgment in considering and appraising relevant factors in determining valuation of these loans. As of December 31, 2010, the term loans and notes payable are classified as Level III liabilities. Because of the inherent uncertainty in the valuation of the term loans and notes payable, which are not publicly traded, estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been reported had a ready market for such investments existed.

The consolidated VIEs debt obligations contain various customary loan covenants as described above. As of the balance sheet date, the Company was not aware of any instances of noncompliance with any of these covenants.

As of December 31, 2010, the table below presents the maturities for the consolidated debt of the VIEs:

	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	Thereafter	Total
Term loans	$ 453,876[1]	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ 453,876

6. CARRIED INTEREST RECEIVABLE

Carried interest receivable from private equity and capital markets funds consists of the following:

	For the Year Ended December 31,
	2010	2009
Private equity	$ 1,578,135	$ 328,246
Capital markets	288,938	155,608
Total Carried Interest Receivable	$ 1,867,073	$ 483,854

The timing of the payment of carried interest due to the general partner or investment manager varies depending on the terms of the applicable fund agreements. Generally, carried interest with respect to the private equity funds is payable and is distributed to the fund's general partner upon realization of an investment if the fund's cumulative returns are in excess of the preferred return. For most capital markets funds, carried interest is payable in certain cases based on realizations or after the end of the relevant fund's fiscal year or fiscal quarter, subject to high watermark provisions. There is currently no carried interest receivable associated with the Company's real estate segment.

Less—Accumulated depreciation and amortization		(30,258)	(25,030)
Fixed Assets, net		$ 44,696	$ 67,794

In December 2010, the Company committed to a plan to sell its ownership interests in certain aircraft, which is expected to occur in the first half of 2011. In accordance with U.S. GAAP, the Company reclassified the assets to assets held for sale and measured the assets at the lower of cost or fair value less costs to sell. As of December 31, 2010, these assets held for sale had a fair value of $11.3 million and are included in Other Assets in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial condition. As a result of reclassifying the assets to assets held for sale, the Company recognized a loss of $2.8 million during the year ended December 31, 2010 on the assets held for sale, which is included in Other Income (Loss), Net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

As part of the plan to liquidate its ownership interest in aircraft, the Company determined that the remaining interests in aircraft were higher than its current fair value. In 2010, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $3.1 million related to its remaining ownership interest in aircraft. This loss is included in other income (loss), net in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

Interest Rate Swap Agreements—The principal financial instruments used for cash flow hedging purposes are interest rate swaps. Apollo enters into interest rate swap agreements to manage its exposure to interest rate changes. The swaps effectively converted a portion of the Company's variable rate debt under the AMH Credit Agreement (discussed in note 12) to a fixed rate, without exchanging the notional principal amounts. Apollo entered into interest rate swap agreements whereby Apollo receives floating rate payments in exchange for fixed rate payments of 5.068% (weighted average) and 5.175%, on the notional amounts of $433.0 million and $167.0 million, respectively, effectively converting a portion of its floating rate borrowings to a fixed rate. The interest rate swap agreements related to the $433.0 million notional amount are comprised of two components: a $333.0 million portion and a $100.0 million portion. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $333.0 million portion expired in May 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $100.0 million portion expired in November 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $167.0 million notional amount expires in May 2012. Apollo has hedged only the risk related to changes in the benchmark interest rate (three month LIBOR). As of December 31, 2010 and 2009, the Company has recorded a liability of $11.5 million and $26.6 million, respectively, to recognize the fair value of these derivatives.

The Company has determined that the valuation of the interest rate swaps fall within Level II of the fair value hierarchy. The Company estimates the fair value of its interest rate swaps using discounted cash flow models, which project future cash flows based on the instruments' contractual terms using market-based expectations for interest rates. The Company also includes a credit risk adjustment to the cash flow discount rate to incorporate the impact of non-performance risk in the recognized measure of the fair value of the swaps. This adjustment is based on the counterparty's credit risk when the swaps are in a net asset position and on the Company's own credit risk when the swaps are in a net liability position.

11. INCOME TAXES

The Company is treated as a partnership for tax purposes and is therefore not subject to U.S. Federal income taxes; however, APO Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, is subject to U.S. Federal corporate income taxes. In addition, certain subsidiaries of the Company are subject to New York City Unincorporated Business Tax ("NYC UBT") attributable to the Company's operations apportioned to New York City and certain non-U.S. subsidiaries of the Company are subject to income taxes in their local jurisdictions. APO Corp. is required to file a standalone Federal corporate tax return, as well as filing standalone corporate state and local tax returns in California, New York and New York City. The Company's provision for income taxes is accounted for under the provisions of U.S. GAAP.

The Company's effective tax rate was approximately 14.45%, (43.18)% and 1.26% for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

For 2010, 2009 and 2008, the amount of federal income tax benefit (provision) netted in the deferred state and local income tax amounts was $4.2 million, $7.9 million and $(7.6) million, respectively.

Deferred income taxes are provided for the effects of temporary differences between the tax basis of an asset or liability and its reported amount in the consolidated statements of financial condition. These temporary differences result in taxable or deductible amounts in future years.

The Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities on the consolidated statements of financial condition consist of the following:

	December 31, 2010	2009	2008
Deferred Tax Assets:
Depreciation and amortization	$ 505,485	$ 540,907	$ 576,304

Other	$ 2,424	$ 2,754	$ 6,330
Total Deferred Tax Liabilities	$ 2,424	$ 2,754	$ 6,330

The Company has recorded a significant deferred tax asset for the future amortization of tax basis intangibles as a result of the reorganization. The amortization period for these tax basis intangibles is 15 years and accordingly, the related deferred tax assets will reverse over the same period.

APOLLO GLOBAL MANAGEMENT, LLC

The Company considered the 15-year amortization period of the tax basis intangibles in evaluating whether it should establish a valuation allowance. The Company also considered large recurring book expenses that do not provide a corresponding reduction in taxable income. The Company's short-term and long-term projections anticipate positive book income. In addition, the Company's projection of future taxable income include the effects of originating and reversing temporary differences including those for the tax basis intangibles, indicate that deferred tax liabilities will reverse substantially in the same period and jurisdiction and are of the same character as the temporary differences giving rise to the deferred tax asset. Based upon this positive evidence, the Company has concluded it is more likely than not that the deferred tax asset will be realized and that no valuation allowance is needed at December 31, 2010.

The following table reconciles the provision for taxes to the U.S. federal statutory tax rate:

	Year Ended December 31,
	2010	2009	2008
Reconciliation of the Statutory Income Tax Rate:
U.S. Statutory Federal income tax rate	35.00%	35.00%	35.00%

Under U.S. GAAP a tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including resolutions of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits.

We recognize tax liabilities in accordance with U.S. GAAP and we adjust these liabilities when our judgment changes as a result of the evaluation of new information not previously available. Due to the complexity of some of these uncertainties, the ultimate resolution may result in a payment that is materially different from our current estimate of the tax liabilities. These differences will be reflected as increases or decreases to income tax expense in the period in which they are determined.

Based upon the Company's review of its federal, state, local and foreign income tax returns and tax filing positions, the Company determined no unrecognized tax benefits for uncertain tax positions were required to be recorded. In addition, the Company does not believe that it has any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that it will be required to record significant amounts of unrecognized tax benefits within the next twelve months.

The Company files its tax returns as prescribed by the tax laws of the jurisdictions in which it operates. In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to examination by federal and certain state, local, and foreign tax authorities. As of December 31, 2010, Apollo and its predecessor entities' U.S. federal, state, local and foreign income tax returns for the years 2007 through 2009 are open under the normal statute of limitations and therefore subject to examination.

Debt consists of the following:

(1) Includes the effect of interest rate swaps.

AMH Credit Agreement—On April 20, 2007, Apollo Management Holdings, L.P. ("AMH") entered into a $1.0 billion seven year credit agreement (the "AMH Credit Agreement"). Interest payable under the AMH Credit Agreement may from time to time be based on Eurodollar ("LIBOR") or Alternate Base Rate ("ABR") as determined by the borrower. Through the use of interest rate swaps, AMH has irrevocably elected three-month LIBOR for $433 million of the debt for three years from the closing date of the AMH Credit Agreement and $167 million of the debt for five years from the closing date of the AMH Credit Agreement. The interest rate swap agreements related to the $433 million notional amount were comprised of two components: a $333 million portion and a $100 million portion. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $333 million portion expired in May 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $100 million portion expired in November 2010. The interest rate swap agreement related to the $167 million notional amount expires in May 2012. The remaining amount of the debt is computed currently based on three-month LIBOR. The interest rate of the Eurodollar loan, which was amended as discussed below, is the daily Eurodollar rate plus the applicable margin rate (4.25% for loans with extended maturity, as discussed below, and 1.50% for loans without the extended maturity as of December 31, 2010 and 1.50% as of December 31, 2009). The interest rate on the ABR term loan, which was amended as discussed below, for any day, will be the greatest of (a) the prime rate in effect on such day, (b) the Federal Funds Rate in effect on such day plus 0.5% and (c) the one-month Eurodollar Rate plus 1.00%, in each case plus the applicable margin. The AMH Credit Agreement originally had a maturity date of April 2014. During April and May 2009, the Company repurchased a combined total of $90.9 million of face value of debt for $54.7 million and recognized a gain of $36.2 million, which is included in other income in the consolidated statements of operations.

On December 20, 2010, Apollo amended the AMH Credit Agreement to extend the maturity date of $995.0 million (including the $90.9 million of fair value debt repurchased by the Company) of the term loans from April 20, 2014 to January 3, 2017 and modified certain other terms of the credit facility. Pursuant to this amendment, AMH was required to purchase from each lender that elected to extend the maturity date of its term loan a portion of such extended term loan equal to 20% thereof. In addition, the Company is required to repurchase at least $50.0 million aggregate principal amount of term loans by December 31, 2014 and at least $100.0 million aggregate principal amount of term loans (inclusive of the previously purchased $50.0 million) by December 31, 2015 at a price equal to par plus accrued interest. The sweep leverage ratio was also extended to end at the new loan term maturity date. The interest rate for the highest applicable margin for the loan portion extended changed to LIBOR plus 4.25% and ABR plus 3.25%. On December 20, 2010, an affiliate of AMH that is a guarantor under the AMH Credit Agreement repurchased approximately $180.8 million of term loans in connection with the extension of the maturity date of such loans and thus the AMH loans (excluding the portions held by AMH affiliates) had a remaining balance of $728.3 million. The Company determined that the amendments to the AMH Credit Agreement resulted in a debt extinguishment which did not result in any gain or loss.

The interest rate on the $723.3 million, net ($995.0 million portion less amount repurchased) of the loan at December 31, 2010 was 4.54% and the interest rate on the remaining $5.0 million portion of the loan at December 31, 2010 was 1.79%. The estimated fair value of the Company's long-term debt obligation related to the AMH Credit Agreement is believed to be approximately $728.3 million based on a yield analysis using available market data of comparable securities with similar terms and remaining maturities. The $728.3 million carrying value of debt that is recorded on the consolidated statement of financial condition at December 31, 2010 is the amount for which the Company expects to settle the AMH Credit Agreement.

As of December 31, 2010 and 2009, the AMH Credit Agreement is guaranteed by, and collateralized by, substantially all of the assets of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P., AMH, AAA Holdings, L.P., Apollo Management, L.P., Apollo Capital Management, L.P. and Apollo International Management, L.P., as well as cash proceeds from the sale of assets or similar recovery events and any cash deposited pursuant to the excess cash flow covenant, which will be deposited as cash collateral to the extent necessary as set forth in the AMH Credit Agreement. As of December 31, 2010, the consolidated net assets (deficit) of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P. and AMH and its consolidated subsidiaries were $123.1 million, $24.0 million, $39.0 million, $136.0 million and $(1,126.6) million, respectively. As of December 31, 2009, the consolidated net assets (deficit) of Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P., AAA Holdings, L.P. and AMH were $13.2 million, $(7.8) million, $37.0 million, $70.2 million and $(1,284.1) million, respectively.

In accordance with the AMH Credit Agreement, Apollo Principal Holdings II, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IV, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings V, L.P., Apollo Principal Holdings IX, L.P., AAA Holdings, L.P. and AMH and their respective subsidiaries are subject to certain negative and affirmative covenants. Among other things, the AMH Credit Agreement includes an excess cash flow covenant and an asset sales covenant. The AMH Credit Agreement does not contain any financial maintenance covenants.

If AMH's debt to EBITDA ratio (the "Leverage Ratio") as of the end of any fiscal year exceeds the level set forth in the next sentence (the "Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio"), AMH must deposit in the cash collateral account the lesser of (a) 100% of its Excess Cash Flow (as defined in the AMH Credit Agreement) and (b) the amount necessary to reduce the Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis as of the end of such fiscal year to 0.25 to 1.00 below the Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio. The Excess Sweep Leverage Ratio will be: for 2010, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2011, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2012, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2013, 4.00 to 1.00; for 2014, 3.75 to 1.00; and for 2015 and thereafter, 3.50 to 1.00.

In addition, AMH must deposit the lesser of (a) 50% of any remaining Excess Cash Flow and (b) the amount required to reduce the Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis at the end of each fiscal year to a level 0.25 to 1.00 below the Sweep Leverage Ratio (as defined in the next paragraph) for such fiscal year.

If AMH receives net cash proceeds from certain non-ordinary course asset sales, then such net cash proceeds shall be deposited in the cash collateral account to the extent necessary to reduce its Leverage Ratio on a pro forma basis as of the last day of the most recently completed fiscal quarter (after giving effect to such non-ordinary course asset sale and such deposit) to (the following specified levels for the specified years, the "Sweep Leverage Ratio") (i) for 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013, a Leverage Ratio of 3.50 to 1.00, (ii) for 2014, a Leverage Ratio of 3.25 to 1.00, (iii) for 2015, a Leverage Ratio of 3.00 to 1.00 and (iv) for all other years, a Leverage Ratio of 3.00 to 1.00.

The AMH Credit Agreement contains customary events of default, including events of default arising from non-payment, material misrepresentations, breaches of covenants, cross default to material indebtedness, bankruptcy and changes in control of AMH. As of December 31, 2010, the Company was not aware of any instances of non-compliance with the AMH Credit Agreement.

CIT Secured Loan Agreement—During the second quarter of 2008, the Company entered into four secured loan agreements totaling $26.9 million with CIT Group/Equipment Financing Inc. ("CIT") to finance the purchase of certain fixed assets. The loans bear interest at LIBOR plus 318 basis points per annum with interest and principal to be repaid monthly and a balloon payment of the remaining principal totaling $20.1 million due at the end of the terms in April 2013. At December 31, 2010, the interest rate was 3.45%.

Apollo has determined that the carrying value of this debt approximates fair value as the loans are primarily variable rate in nature.

As of December 31, 2010, the table below presents the contractual maturities for the AMH Credit Agreement and CIT secured loan agreement:

	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	Thereafter	Total
AMH Credit Agreement	$ —	$ —	$ —	$ 55,000	$ 50,000	$ 623,273	$ 728,273

(1) During December 2010, the Company committed to a plan to sell its interest in certain assets related to the CIT secured loan agreement. Upon the sale, the Company will satisfy the loan associated with the related asset which the Company approximates to be $12.2 million.

13. NET INCOME (LOSS) PER CLASS A SHARE

U.S. GAAP requires use of the two-class method of computing earnings per share for all periods presented for each class of common stock and participating security as if all earnings for the period had been distributed. Under the two-class method, during periods of net income, the net income is first reduced for dividends declared on all classes of securities to arrive at undistributed earnings. During periods of net losses, the net loss is reduced for dividends declared on participating securities only if the security has the right to participate in the earnings of the entity and an objectively determinable contractual obligation to share in net losses of the entity.

Under the two class method, the numerator for basic earnings per share is determined by allocating the undistributed earnings among common and participating securities to the extent each security shares in such earnings. The numerator for diluted earnings per share is determined by adding dividends declared to the allocated undistributed earnings for the respective common and participating securities. Each total is then divided by the applicable number of shares to arrive at diluted earnings per share.

(1) The Company declared a $0.07 dividend on Class A shares in each of May, August and November 2010. As a result, there is a reduction in net income attributable to Class A shareholders presented during the year ended December 31, 2010.

(2) The Company declared a $0.05 dividend on Class A shares in January 2009. As a result, there is an increase in net loss attributable to Class A shareholders presented for the year ended December 31, 2009.

(3) The Company declared a $0.33 and $0.23 dividend on Class A shares in April and July 2008, respectively. As a result, there is an increase in net loss attributable to Class A shareholders presented for the year ended December 31, 2008.

(4) No allocation of losses was made to the participating securities as the holders do not have a contractual obligation to share in losses of the Company with the Class A shareholders.

(5) Basic and diluted net income per share for the year ended December 31, 2010 and basic and diluted net loss per share for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 are identical as Class A share equivalents using the if converted method with respect to vested and unvested AOG Units and restricted share units, and the treasury method with respect to vested and unvested share options, were, in each case, determined to be anti-dilutive. For the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, a total of 240,000,000 AOG Units and 35,108,637, 31,711,573 and 27,063,816, respectively, of vested and unvested restricted share units, and for the year ended December 31, 2010, 5,000,000 share options were determined to be anti-dilutive and therefore were excluded from the diluted earnings per share calculation.

On October 24, 2007, the Company commenced the granting of restricted share units ("RSUs") that provide the right to receive, upon vesting, Class A shares of Apollo Global Management, LLC, pursuant to the 2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan. RSU grants to Company employees during 2007, 2008 and certain RSU grants to Company employees in 2009 and 2010 provide the right to receive distribution equivalents on vested RSUs on an equal basis any time a dividend is declared. The Company refers to these RSU grants as "Plan Grants." For certain Plan Grants made before 2010, distribution equivalents are paid in January of the calendar year next following the calendar year in which a dividend on Class A shares was declared. In addition, certain RSU grants to Company employees in 2009 and 2010 (the Company refers to these as "Bonus Grants") provide that both vested and unvested RSUs participate in distribution equivalents on an equal basis with the Class A shareholders any time a dividend is declared. As of December 31, 2010, approximately 15.6 million vested RSUs and 3.5 million unvested RSUs were eligible for participation in distribution equivalents.

Any distribution equivalent paid to an employee will not be returned to the Company upon forfeiture of the award by the employee. Vested and unvested RSUs that are entitled to non-forfeitable distribution equivalents qualify as participating securities and are included in the Company's basic and diluted earnings per share computations using the "two-class" method. The holder of a RSU participating security would have a contractual obligation to share in the losses of the entity if the holder is obligated to fund the losses of the issuing entity or if the contractual principal or mandatory redemption amount of the participating security is reduced as a result of losses incurred by the issuing entity. Because the RSU participating securities do not have a mandatory redemption amount and the holders of the participating securities are not obligated to fund losses, neither the vested RSUs nor the unvested RSUs are subject to any contractual obligation to share in losses of the Company.

Holders of AOG Units are subject to the vesting requirements and transfer restrictions set forth in the agreements with the respective holders, and may up to four times each year (subject to the terms of the exchange agreement) exchange their AOG Units for Class A shares on a one-for-one basis. A limited partner must exchange one partnership unit in each of the eight Apollo Operating Group partnerships to effect an exchange for one Class A share. If converted, the result would be an additional 240,000,000 Class A shares added to the diluted earnings per share calculation. Consequently, the Company applies the "if converted method" to determine the dilutive effect, if any, that the exchange of all AOG Units would have on diluted earnings per Class A share.

Apollo has one Class B share outstanding, which is held by Holdings. The voting power of the Class B share is reduced on a one vote per one AOG Unit basis in the event of an exchange of AOG Units for Class A shares, as discussed above. The Class B share has no net income (loss) per share as it does not participate in Apollo's earnings (losses) or distributions. The Class B share has no dividend or liquidation rights. The Class B share has voting rights on a pari passu basis with the Class A shares. The Class B share currently has a super voting power of 240,000,000 votes.

On February 11, 2009, Apollo repurchased 1.7 million Class A shares for $2 per share. The repurchase was followed by a corresponding exchange and cancellation of AOG Units by the Apollo Operating Group. The Company's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group was 28.9% prior to the repurchase and 28.5% after the repurchase. As Holdings did not sell any AOG Units to the Apollo Operating Group, its ownership in the Apollo Operating Group increased from 71.1% to 71.5%.

On March 12, 2010, the Company issued 0.7 million Class A shares in exchange for vested RSUs. This issuance caused the Company's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group to increase to 28.6% from 28.5%. As Holdings did not participate in this Class A share issuance, its ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group decreased from 71.5% to 71.4%.

On July 9, 2010 and July 23, 2010, the Company issued a total of 1.6 million Class A shares in exchange for vested RSUs. This issuance caused the Company's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group to increase to 29.0% from 28.6%. As Holdings did not participate in this Class A share issuance, its ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group decreased from 71.4% to 71.0%.

On September 16, 2010, the Company repurchased 7,135 Class A shares from an employee who left the firm. This repurchase did not cause a material change to the Company's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group.

On September 30, 2010, the Company issued 11,405 Class A shares in exchange for vested RSUs. This issuance did not cause a material change to the Company's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group.

14. EQUITY-BASED COMPENSATION

AOG Units

As a result of the service requirement, the fair value of the AOG Units of approximately $5.6 billion will be charged to compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the five or six year service period, as applicable. Accordingly, we have recognized $1,032.9 million, $1,033.3 million and $1,034.9 million of compensation expense in the Company's consolidated statements of operations for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively. The estimated forfeiture rate was 3% for Contributing Partners and 0% for Managing Partners based on actual forfeitures as well as the Company's future forfeiture expectations. As of December 31, 2010, there was $1.5 billion of total unrecognized compensation cost related to unvested AOG Units that are expected to vest over the next three years.

Units Expected to Vest—As of December 31, 2010, approximately 66,400,000 AOG Units are expected to vest over the next three years.

RSUs

On October 24, 2007, the Company commenced the granting of RSUs under the Company's 2007 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan. These grants are accounted for as a grant of equity awards in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The fair value of Plan Grants made in 2010 was approximately $120.2 million, which is based on valuation methods that consider market comparables for transfer restrictions and lack of distributions until vested. For Bonus Grants, the valuation methods consider transfer restrictions and timing of distributions. The total fair value will be charged to compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, which generally can be up to 24 quarters or annual vesting over three years. The actual forfeiture rate was 7.9%, 6.6% and 2.9% for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, $78.9 million, $60.7 million and $75.4 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively. During the year ended December 31, 2010, the Company delivered 2.3 million Class A shares (net of vested shares forfeited in lieu of withholding taxes) in settlement of vested RSUs, which caused the Company's ownership interest in the Apollo Operating Group to increase to 29.0% from 28.5%. Certain RSU shares that were delivered during 2010 were reclassified from equity awards to liability awards, based on a one-time option offered to certain employees to receive cash in lieu of such RSU shares, in the amount of $3.5 million.

Delivery of Class A Shares

In 2010, the Company delivered Class A Shares for vested RSUs. The Company allows RSU participants to settle their tax liabilities with a reduction of their Class A share delivery from the originally granted and vested RSUs. The amount, when agreed to by the participant, results in a tax liability and a corresponding accumulated deficit adjustment. The adjustment was $2.9 million in 2010 and is disclosed in the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Shareholders' Equity.

The delivery of RSUs does not cause a transfer of amounts in the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Shareholders' Equity to the Class A Shareholders. The delivery of Class A shares for vested RSUs causes the income allocated to the Non-Controlling Interests to shift to the Class A shareholders from the date of delivery forward. Upon conversion of the AOG units, there will be a transfer of amounts from Non-Controlling Interests to the Company's equity.

The following table summarizes RSU activity for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008:

December 31, 2011 and the remainder in equal installments over each of the remaining 20 quarters with full vesting on December 31, 2016. For the year ending December 31, 2010, $0.3 million of compensation expense was recognized as a result of this grant.

Apollo measures fair value of each option award on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for options awarded during 2010.

Assumptions:	2010
Risk-free interest rate	2.34%
Weighted average expected dividend yield	2.79%
Expected volatility factor	40.00%
Expected life in years	6.79
Fair Value of options per share	$ 5.62

The Company determined its expected volatility based on comparable companies using daily stock prices.

The following table summarizes the share option activity for the year ended December 31, 2010:

	Options Outstanding	Weighted Average Exercise Price	Aggregate Fair Value	Weighted Average Remaining Contractual Term
Balance at January 1, 2010	—	$ —	$ —	—

Forfeited	—	—	—	—
Balance at December 31, 2010	5,000,000	$ 8.00	$ 28,100,000	9.92

Units Expected to Vest— As of December 31, 2010, 5,000,000 options are expected to vest.

The expected term of the options granted represents the period of time that options are expected to be outstanding and is based on the contractual term of the option. Unamortized compensation cost related to unvested share options at December 31, 2010 was $27.8 million and is expected to be recognized over a period of 6.0 years. None of the share options were exercisable at December 31, 2010.

AAA RDUs

Incentive units that provide the right to receive AAA restricted depository units ("RDUs") following vesting are granted periodically to employees of Apollo. These grants are accounted for as equity awards in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The RDUs subject to incentive units granted to employees generally vest over three years. In contrast, the Company's Managing Partners and Contributing Partners have received distributions of fully vested AAA RDUs. The fair value of the grants is recognized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period (or upon grant in the case of fully vested AAA RDUs). Vested AAA RDUs can be converted into ordinary common units of AAA. During the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, the actual forfeiture rate was 1.5%, 11.0% and 3.9%, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, $5.5 million, $5.8 million and $14.9 million of compensation expense was recognized, respectively.

During the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, the Company delivered 596,375, 435,954 and 1,775,819 RDUs, respectively, to individuals who had vested in these units. The delivery in 2010 resulted in a reduction of the accrued compensation liability of $7.6 million and the recognition of net additional paid in capital of $0.6 million. These amounts are presented in the consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity. There was $4.1 million and $6.2 million of liability for undelivered RDUs included in accrued compensation and benefits in the consolidated statements of financial condition as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The following table summarizes RDU activity for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008:

Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Unit Awards—Apollo Commercial Real Estate Finance, Inc. ("ARI")

On September 29, 2009, 97,500 and 140,000 shares of ARI restricted stock were granted to the Company and certain of the Company's employees, respectively. Additionally, on December 31, 2009, 5,000 shares of ARI restricted stock were granted to a Company employee. The fair value of the Company and employee awards granted was $1.8 million and $2.7 million, respectively. These awards generally vest over three years or twelve quarters, with the first quarter vesting on January 1, 2010. On March 23, 2010, July 1, 2010 and July 21, 2010, 102,084, 5,000 and 16,875 shares of ARI restricted stock units ("ARI RSUs"), respectively, were granted to certain of the Company's employees. Pursuant to the March 23, 2010 and July 21, 2010 issuances, 102,084 and 16,875 shares of ARI restricted stock, respectively, were forfeited by the Company's employees. As the fair value of ARI RSUs was not greater than the forfeiture of the restricted stock, no additional value will be amortized. The awards granted to the Company are accounted for as investments and deferred revenue in the consolidated statement of financial condition. As these awards vest, the deferred revenue is recognized as management fees. The investment is accounted for using the equity method of accounting for awards granted to the Company and as a deferred compensation asset for the awards granted to employees. Compensation expense will be recognized on a straight line-basis over the vesting period for the awards granted to the employees. The Company recorded an asset and a liability upon receiving the awards on behalf of the Company's employees. The awards granted to the Company's employees are remeasured each period to reflect the fair value of the asset and liability and any changes in these values are recorded in the consolidated statements of operations. For the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, $1.5 million and $0.4 million of management fees and $0.8 million and $0.2 million of compensation expense were recognized in the consolidated statements of operations, respectively. The forfeiture rate for unvested ARI restricted stock awards and ARI RSUs was 2% and 0% as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, as the forfeiture noted above was an exchange of securities and did not impact the overall expense recognized by the Company.

Units Expected to Vest—As of December 31, 2010, approximately 90,500 and 65,000 shares of ARI RSUs and ARI restricted stock, respectively, are expected to vest.

Equity-based compensation is allocated based on ownership interests. Therefore, the amortization of the AOG Units is allocated to Shareholders' Equity and the Non-Controlling Interests, which results in a difference in the amounts charged to equity-based compensation expense and the amounts credited to Shareholders' Equity in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Below is a reconciliation of the equity-based compensation allocated to Apollo Global Management, LLC for the year ended December 31, 2010:

Tax Receivable Agreement

Subject to certain restrictions, each of the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners has the right to exchange their vested AOG Units for the Company's Class A shares. Certain Apollo Operating Group entities have made an election under Section 754 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which will result in an adjustment to the tax basis of the assets owned by Apollo Operating Group at the time of the exchange. These exchanges will result in increases in tax deductions that will reduce the amount of tax that APO Corp. will otherwise be required to pay in the future. Additionally, the further acquisition of AOG Units from the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners also may result in increases in tax deductions and tax basis of assets that will further reduce the amount of tax that APO Corp. will otherwise be required to pay in the future.

APO Corp. entered into a tax receivable agreement with the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners that provides for the payment to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners of 85% of the amount of cash savings, if any, in U.S. Federal, state, local and foreign income taxes that APO Corp. would realize as a result of the increases in tax basis of assets that resulted from the Reorganization. These payments are expected to occur approximately over the next 20 years.

In September 2009, Apollo made a $9.1 million payment against the tax receivable agreement from proceeds distributed by the Apollo Operating Group. In December 2009, Apollo increased the liability an additional $6.6 million, due to a change in the projected state tax rates, thus increasing future tax savings resulting from the tax receivable agreement. In April 2010, the Company made a cash payment to the Managing Partners and Contributing Partners amounting to $15.0 million resulting from a realized tax benefit for the 2009 tax year. In December 2010, Apollo decreased the liability by $7.6 million and recorded the gain in Other Income (Loss), net in the consolidated statement of operations due to a change in projected income estimates and fluctuations in state tax rates.

Special Allocation

In December 2009, the AMH partnership agreement was amended to provide for special allocations of income to APO Corp. and a reduction of income allocated to Holdings for the 2009 and 2010 calendar years. In connection with the amendment of the AMH partnership agreement in April of 2010, the tax receivable agreement was revised to reflect the managing partners' agreement to defer 25% of required payments pursuant to the tax receivable agreement that is attributable to the 2010 fiscal year for a period of four years. The amendment allows for a maximum allocation of income from Holdings of approximately $22.1 million in 2009 and eliminates any income allocation to Holdings in 2010. The Company allocated $117.5 million and $22.1 million of AMH income to APO Corp. for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Due from Contributing Partners, Employees and Former Employees

The Company has accrued a receivable from the Contributing Partners and certain employees and former employees for the potential return of carried interest income that would be due if the private equity funds were liquidated at the balance sheet date. Also see Due to Private Equity Funds.

Management Fee Waiver and Notional Investment Program

Apollo has forgone a portion of management fee revenue that it would have been entitled to receive in cash and instead received profits interests and assigned these profits interests to employees and partners. The amount of management fees waived and related compensation expense amounted to $24.8 million, $19.7 million and $35.4 million for the years ended December 31, 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively.
