This Form A Statement Regarding the Acquisition of Control of or Merger with a Domestic Insurer (this "Form A") is being submitted to the Insurance Commissioner (the "Commissioner") of the Insurance Division of Iowa (the "Division") for the acquisition of control of the Domestic Insurer (the "Proposed Acquisition") by:

(i) Venerable Holdings, Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware (the "Buyer") and VA Capital Company LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Buyer Parent" and, together with Buyer, the "Venerable Applicants");

Black, Harris and Rowan, collectively, the "Apollo Individual Applicants" and, together with APH-I, APH-I GP and AGM, the "Apollo Applicants");

(iii) Athene Life Re Ltd., a Bermuda reinsurer ("ALRe") and Athene Holding Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company ("AHL" and, together with ALRe, the "Athene Applicants");

Volpert, Chief Executive Officer of Crestview Partners, and Thomas S. Murphy, Jr., Managing Director of Crestview Partners (Messrs. Volpert and Murphy, collectively, the "Crestview Individual Applicants" and, together with Crestview Indigo TE, Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Partners, the "Crestview Applicants"); and

(v) Reverence Capital Partners Opportunities Fund II, L.P, a Delaware limited partnership ("RCP II Delaware"), Reverence Capital Partners Opportunities Fund II (Cayman), L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("RCP II Cayman"), RCP Opp Fund II GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership ("RCP Fund II GP"), RCP GenPar LP, a Delaware limited partnership ("RCP GenPar LP"), RCP GenPar HoldCo LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("RCP GenPar HoldCo"), Peter C. Aberg, a Co-Founder and Member of RCP GenPar Holdings, Milton R. Berlinski, a Co-Founder and Member of RCP GenPar Holdings, and Alexander A. Chulack, a Co-Founder and Member of RCP GenPar Holdings (Messrs. Aberg, Berlinski, and Chulack, collectively, the "Reverence Individual Applicants" and, together with RCP II Delaware, RCP II Cayman, RCP Fund II GP, RCP GenPar LP and RCP GenPar HoldCo, the "Reverence Applicants").

The persons identified in clauses (i)-(v) above are collectively referred to herein as the "Applicants".

As described more fully in Item 1(b) below, the acquisition of control of the Domestic Insurer will result from the proposed acquisition by Buyer of 100% of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of the Domestic Insurer from Voya Holdings Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Connecticut ("VHI") and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Voya Financial, Inc. ("Seller"). Buyer is a newly-formed Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Buyer Parent. Buyer Parent is a newly-formed Delaware limited liability company that, at the time of the acquisition of the Domestic Insurer, will be jointly controlled by (i) AGM, through an equity investment made by APH-I, (ii) AHL, through an equity investment made by ALRe, (iii) Crestview Partners, through an equity investment made by Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE, and (iv) RCP GenPar HoldCo, through an equity investment made by RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman. In addition, Seller will subscribe for 9.9% of the membership interests in Buyer Parent at the closing (the "Closing") of the Proposed Acquisition. Buyer proposes to acquire the Domestic Insurer due to the opportunities it sees in managing the Domestic Insurer's variable annuity run-off exposure.

In addition to the equity investments described above, Athene Annuity & Life Assurance Company, an insurance company organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of AHL ("AADE") and Athene Annuity and Life Company, an Iowa insurance company and indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of AHL ("AAIA"), have each committed to purchase subordinated notes issued by Buyer (the "Subordinated Notes") on the Closing Date (as defined in the Master Transaction Agreement described in Item 1(b) below).

Substantially all of the proceeds of the equity investment in Buyer Parent will be contributed to Buyer and, together with the proceeds of the Subordinated Notes, will be used by Buyer to purchase all of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of the Domestic Insurer and to capitalize the Domestic Insurer as described herein. As a result, following the Closing, the Applicants will be controlling persons of the Domestic Insurer through their ownership interests in Buyer Parent.

In addition, upon investing in Buyer Parent on the Closing Date, each of Seller, Buyer Parent, APH-I, ALRe, Crestview Indigo Holdings, Crestview Indigo TE, RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman, will enter into an amended and restated limited liability company agreement of Buyer Parent (the "LLC Agreement") (the terms of which are attached as Exhibit A to the Master Transaction Agreement (the "MTA")) that will govern the relationships among each of the parties and set forth the corporate governance of Buyer Parent. Pursuant to the LLC Agreement, each of (i) APH-I, (ii) ALRe, (iii) Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE, and (iv) RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman, will have the right to appoint one manager to the Buyer Parent board. Additionally, each of (i) APH-I and ALRe, on the one hand, and (ii) Crestview Indigo Holdings, Crestview Indigo TE, RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman, on the other hand, will have the right to nominate one independent person to serve as a manager on the Buyer Parent board; provided, however, any such nomination shall be reasonably acceptable to the other parties. Seller will not have the right to appoint or approve managers to serve on the Buyer Parent board and will only be able to attend meetings of the Buyer Parent board as a non-voting observer.

The biographical affidavits attached as Exhibit D, the plan of operations and financial projections attached as Exhibits E-1 and E-2 and the financial statements of the Apollo Individual Applicants, Crestview Individual Applicants and the Reverence Individual Applicants attached as Exhibit H are submitted to the Commissioner in confidence under separate cover and contain information that is not otherwise available to the public. Accordingly, the Applicants respectfully request that such information be afforded confidential treatment and be excepted from disclosure pursuant to all applicable provisions of law, including, but not limited to, Iowa Code Section 505.8, and Iowa Code Sections 22.7(3) and 22.7(6) and Iowa Administrative Code Sections 191.1.3(11)(a) and (c). All such information is provided with the express understanding that the confidentiality of such information will be safeguarded and, as concerns the biographical affidavits and individual financial statements, the executive officers, directors and controlling owners of the Applicants will be protected from any and all unwarranted invasions of personal privacy pursuant to all applicable provisions of law.

ITEM 1. INSURER AND METHOD OF ACQUISITION.

(a) Domestic Insurer

Voya Insurance and Annuity Company (NAIC #: 80942)
699 Walnut Street, Suite 1350
Des Moines, Iowa 50309

(b) Method of Acquisition

Set forth below is a summary of the Proposed Acquisition. The summary of the principal terms of the Proposed Acquisition is qualified in its entirety by reference to the MTA, dated as of December 20, 2017, which is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

As described more fully in Item 5 below, pursuant to the MTA, prior to the Closing Date, the Domestic Insurer will undergo a series of restructuring transactions to (i) recapture the portion of the Domestic Insurer's closed block variable annuity business (the "CBVA Business") currently reinsured to Roaring River II, Inc., an Arizona captive insurance company and indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Seller ("RRII"), and (ii) cede, commute, assign or novate to certain affiliates of Seller (A) the individual life insurance business and a block of variable annuity business that is not being transferred to Buyer in connection with the Proposed Acquisition (collectively, the "Life and VA Business"), (B) the employee benefits business (the "Employee Benefits Business"), and (C) the retained asset account or "lifelines" business (the "Lifelines Business" and, together with the Life and VA Business and the Employee Benefits Business, the "Excluded Business").

Following the completion of the restructuring transactions, the Domestic Insurer will retain only its CBVA Business and its fixed annuity business (the "FA Business"). The CBVA Business will be retained by the Domestic Insurer following the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition, and the FA Business will be ceded to AADE and ALRe immediately prior to the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition.

In addition to the shares of capital stock of the Domestic Insurer, Buyer will purchase (i) all of the outstanding membership interests in Directed Services LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and SEC registered broker-dealer and an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of VHI ("DSL"), and (ii) all of the outstanding equity interests in Services Company, a Delaware corporation wholly-owned by Seller and to be formed prior to the Closing for the purpose of transferring certain employees to Buyer (the "Services Company"). DSL serves as the broker-dealer that acts as the principal underwriter of registered variable annuities and receives 12b-1 fees in connection with those variable annuities. The parties have agreed that Seller will transfer the in-scope employees supporting the Domestic Insurer's business to Services Company prior to the Closing Date such that those employees will be transferred to Buyer upon the acquisition by Buyer of Services Company at Closing.

Subject to receipt of required approvals from, and the making of required filings and notices with, governmental and regulatory authorities and other customary closing conditions, the parties desire to close the Proposed Acquisition as soon as possible.

(b) Business Operations of the Applicants

(i) The Venerable Applicants

Buyer Parent is a newly-formed Delaware limited liability company formed to invest in Buyer, a newly-incorporated Delaware corporation formed for the purpose of acquiring the Domestic Insurer and potentially other closed block variable annuity businesses.

(ii) The Apollo Applicants

AGM is a publicly traded company. AGM and its predecessors and their respective subsidiaries and affiliates (together, "Apollo"), originally founded in 1990, operate as a global alternative investment manager, raising, investing and managing private equity, credit and real estate funds, with significant distressed investment expertise. As of December 31, 2017, Apollo had total assets under management of approximately $248.9 billion. Apollo's objective is to achieve superior long-term risk-adjusted returns for its fund investors and shareholders, by following a value-oriented investment approach that focuses on nine core industries in which Apollo has considerable knowledge and experience.

Apollo manages its funds through a partnership structure, which includes APH-I. APH-I GP, as the general partner of APH-I, makes all policy and investment decisions relating to the conduct of APH-I's business, and is responsible for all decisions concerning making, monitoring and disposing of investments.

(iii) The Athene Applicants

AHL is a publicly traded company founded in 2009 to capitalize on favorable market conditions in the dislocated life insurance sector. AHL, through its subsidiaries, is a leading retirement services company that issues, reinsures and acquires retirement savings products designed for the increasing number of individuals and institutions seeking to fund retirement needs. The products and services offered by AHL include fixed and fixed indexed annuity products, reinsurance services offered to third-party annuity providers, and institutional products, such as pension risk transfer and funding agreements.

AHL conducts a majority of its reinsurance transactions through its subsidiary, ALRe, which was founded in 2009. ALRe is licensed as a Class E insurer carrying on long-term business in Bermuda. As a fixed annuity reinsurer, ALRe partners with life and annuity insurance companies to develop solutions to their capital requirements, enhance their presence in the retirement market and improve their financial results.

(iv) The Crestview Applicants

Crestview Indigo Holdings is a limited partnership formed to invest in Buyer Parent. 100% of the voting interests of Crestview Indigo Holdings are controlled by Crestview Partners, its general partner. The limited partners of Crestview Indigo Holdings are various funds managed by Crestview Advisors, L.L.C. ("Crestview Advisors" and such funds the "Crestview Funds").

Crestview Indigo TE is a limited partnership formed to invest in Buyer Parent. 100% of the voting interests of Indigo TE are controlled by Crestview Partners, its general partner. The limited partner of Crestview Indigo TE is one of the Crestview Funds.

Crestview Partners is the general partner of Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE, both of which were formed for the purpose of making an equity investment in Buyer Parent. The sole business of Crestview Partners is the management and control of Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE. The members of Crestview Partners, each of whom has a 50% interest in Crestview Partners, are Barry S. Volpert and Thomas S. Murphy Jr., who are also the co-founders of Crestview Advisors, an SEC-registered investment adviser that manages funds with over $7 billion of aggregate capital commitments. Crestview Advisors follows a contrarian, value-oriented investment strategy reflecting its partners' many years of experience investing in challenging and often volatile market conditions. It seeks to generate superior investment performance for the Crestview Funds with a focus on dislocations and investing where Crestview Advisors believes it has a deep understanding of the opportunity.

(v) The Reverence Applicants

RCP II Delaware is a pooled investment vehicle of private equity capital managed by Reverence Capital Partners, L.P. ("Reverence"), a private investment firm focused on thematic investing in leading global, middle-market financial services businesses through control and influence-oriented investments with approximately $938.85 million of assets under management.

Reverence was founded in 2013, by the Reverence Individual Applicants, Milton R. Berlinski, Peter C. Aberg and Alexander A. Chulack, after distinguished careers advising and investing in a broad array of financial services businesses. Over the course of their careers, the Reverence Individual Applicants have been active advisors and investors in the financial services sector, have collectively advised on hundreds of transactions across financial services, and have investment experience of investing billions of dollars on behalf of institutional and high net worth investors.

RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman, together with their affiliated funds, make, and intend to make, privately-negotiated equity and equity-related investments in leading middle-market financial services businesses where Reverence can collaborate with management to add value and drive meaningful long-term value creation. Each of RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman pursue and will pursue, global investment opportunities and will seek both control and influence-oriented minority positions, where Reverence believes it can add value.

RCP Fund II GP is the sole general partner and control person of each of RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman. RCP GenPar LP is the sole general partner and control person of RCP Fund II LP. RCP GenPar LP is a management vehicle established by Reverence to serve as the sole general partner of RCP Fund II GP. In addition to the foregoing, RCP GenPar LP serves as the sole general partner and control person of certain limited partnerships that serve as general partner and control person of funds associated with the first pooled investment vehicle of private equity capital managed by Reverence.

RCP GenPar HoldCo is the sole general partner and control person of RCP GenPar LP. RCP GenPar HoldCo is a management vehicle established by Reverence to serve as the general partner of RCP GenPar LP.

(c) Organization Chart

Organization charts that present the identities of, and inter-relationships among, the Applicants and each of their affiliates that are in the chain of control before and after giving effect to the Proposed Acquisition are attached hereto as Exhibits B-1 and B-2, respectively. The organization charts indicate the type of organization and the state or other jurisdiction of domicile of each entity listed or depicted therein, and the percentage of voting securities of each entity owned (or to be owned) by an affiliate in the chain of control of the Domestic Insurer. Unless otherwise indicated, the entities identified in the organization charts own or control 100% of the voting securities or membership interests of their respective immediate downstream affiliates identified therein.

As previously discussed, equity interests in Buyer Parent will be directly owned by APH-I, ALRe, Crestview Indigo Holdings, Crestview Indigo TE, RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman.

There is no pending court proceeding involving a reorganization or liquidation where any of the Applicants or entities depicted in the organization charts is involved as a debtor.

(i) The Apollo Applicants and the Athene Applicants

APH-I GP controls 100% of the voting interests in APH-I, and APH-I GP is ultimately, through an intermediate holding company, APO Asset Co., LLC, operated and controlled by AGM.

ALRe is a wholly-owned subsidiary of AHL. AGM, its affiliates and/or funds managed by AGM or its affiliates control, and are expected to continue to control, 45% of the total voting power of AHL. In addition, five of the 13 directors of AHL are employees of, or consultants to, Apollo. No other shareholder has a voting interest in AHL that exceeds 9.9% of the voting power of AHL's equity.

AGM is managed, operated and controlled by BRH Holdings GP, Ltd., a Cayman Islands company ("BRH"), and AGM Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("AGM Management"). BRH owns (i) 53.9% of AGM's voting power (as of January 11, 2018) and (ii) 100% of AGM Management. AGM Management is AGM's manager. BRH, in turn, is equally wholly-owned and controlled by the Apollo Individual Applicants (33.33% each). Other than BRH (which is controlled by the Apollo Individual Applicants), no single person or entity owns or controls more than 10% of AGM's voting securities.

Accordingly, AGM and the Apollo Individual Applicants will be ultimate controlling persons of the holding company system of which the Domestic Insurer will become a member upon completion of the Proposed Acquisition (the "Holding Company System"). The Apollo Applicants note that in a disclaimer letter that has been submitted separately to the Division (the "Disclaimer Letter"), AGM has requested that the Division grant certain disclaimers of control and affiliation with respect to the interests of certain parties related to AGM.

(ii) The Crestview Applicants

As Crestview Partners is the sole general partner of Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE, the Crestview Individual Applicants indirectly have control over all of their decisions. Crestview Partners is controlled by the Crestview Individual Applicants. Accordingly, Crestview Partners and the Crestview Individual Applicants will be ultimate controlling persons of the Holding Company System.

(iii) The Reverence Applicants

RCP GenPar HoldCo is a passive investment vehicle controlled and managed by the Reverence Individual Applicants. RCP GenPar HoldCo is the sole general partner of RCP GenPar LP and RCP GenPar LP is the sole general partner of RCP Fund II GP. RCP Fund II GP is the sole general partner of each of RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman. Accordingly, RCP GenPar HoldCo and the Reverence Individual Applicants will be ultimately controlling persons of the Holding Company System.

(b), (c), (d) Background Information Regarding the Directors and Executive Officers and the Individual Applicants

A listing of all directors and executive officers of the Applicants is set forth in Exhibit C. Biographical affidavits of each of these individuals identified in Item 3(a), other than the Outside Directors (as defined below), setting forth each such individual's current employment information (including position held and business address) and material employment information during the past five years (including position held, business address and starting and ending dates of employment) are attached as Exhibit D.[2] Additionally, the Applicants have engaged an NAIC approved vendor to complete an independent third-party background check with respect to each of the individuals listed on Exhibit C. None of the individuals with respect to whom biographical affidavits are provided, including the Apollo Individual Applicants, the Crestview Individual Applicants and the Reverence Individual Applicants, has been convicted of any crime, other than minor traffic violations, during the past ten years, except as otherwise may be provided in the biographical affidavits.

In addition, in a letter that has been submitted separately to the Division, the Applicants respectfully seek a waiver from the Division of the requirement under Iowa Administrative Code Section 191-6.9 that a majority of directors of an Iowa-domiciled insurance company shall be bona fide residents of the State of Iowa. In order to realize certain efficiencies in the corporate governance structure of the Domestic Insurer following the Proposed Acquisition, the Applicants desire for certain individuals involved in the management of the Applicants to act as directors and officers of the Domestic Insurer.

(i) Apollo Individual Applicants

The Apollo Individual Applicants, through their ownership of BRH, beneficially own the Class B share of AGM and consequently are able to exercise control over all matters requiring the approval of shareholders of AGM. As of January 11, 2018, the Class B share represented 53.9% of the total voting power of AGM's shares entitled to vote. The Class B share does not represent an economic interest in AGM. The Apollo Individual Applicants' economic interests are instead represented by their indirect limited partnership interests in various indirect subsidiaries of AGM. AGM's operating agreement provides that so long as AGM Management, the Apollo Individual Applicants, the officers, directors, investment professionals and employees of AGM and its subsidiaries (past, present or future) and certain family members, estate planning vehicles and affiliates of any of the foregoing beneficially own at least 10% of the aggregate number of votes that may be cast by holders of AGM's outstanding voting shares (the "AGM Control Condition"),

[2] In the Disclaimer Letter, the Apollo Applicants respectfully seek confirmation that the Outside Directors of AGM will not be considered individuals for whom information is required to be provided under this Item 3 or in the Domestic Insurer's Holding Company Registration Statement on Form B. Additionally, the biographical affidavits for each of the independent directors of AHL and ALRe will be submitted promptly following the filing of this Form A.

AGM Management has the power to conduct, direct and manage all activities of AGM. Accordingly, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, AGM Management is entitled to, among other things, (i) nominate and elect all directors to AGM's board of directors, (ii) set the number of directors of AGM's board of directors and (iii) fill any vacancies on AGM's board of directors. AGM's board currently consists of eight members—the three Apollo Individual Applicants and five independent directors (such independent directors, the "Outside Directors"). For so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, AGM Management may remove any director, with or without cause, at any time.

Based on this structure, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, AGM Management will manage all of AGM's operations and activities, and AGM's board of directors will have no authority other than that which AGM Management chooses to delegate to it (e.g., pursuant to a delegation of authority from AGM Management, which may be revoked, AGM's board of directors has established and will maintain independent audit and conflicts committees). Accordingly, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, the Outside Directors will have limited powers. In this regard, in the Disclaimer Letter, AGM respectfully seeks confirmation that, for so long as the AGM Control Condition is satisfied, the Outside Directors will not be considered individuals for whom information is required to be provided under this Item 3 or in the Domestic Insurer's Form Bs.

ITEM 4. NATURE, SOURCE AND AMOUNT OF CONSIDERATION.

(a) Nature, Source and Amount of Funds or Other Considerations Used or to be Used in Effecting the Proposed Acquisition

Buyer and Seller have agreed that Buyer will acquire the Domestic Insurer with a targeted adjusted book value equal to the Required Adjusted Book Value, which will be an amount calculated in accordance with the MTA, and includes (i) an amount of assets determined by reference to an agreed CTE95 model with certain adjustments in specified market conditions, plus (ii) an amount of assets proportional to the reserves in respect of the Domestic Insurer's payout annuities as of the Effective Time (as defined in the MTA).[3] The foregoing amount is calculated as of the Effective Time, taking into account the Restructuring Transactions, as reflected in the financial projections included in Exhibit E-2. As described in more detail below, Buyer is generally obligated to pay to Seller a maximum amount of $600 million as the purchase price only if, and to the extent that, the Domestic Insurer's Estimated Total Adjusted Book Value (as defined in the MTA) exceeds the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value (as defined in the MTA). If the amount of such excess is between zero and $500 million, Buyer will pay Seller the amount of such excess as the purchase price and will contribute additional funds to the Domestic Insurer as more fully described below. If the Domestic Insurer's Total Adjusted Book Value is less than the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value, Seller is obligated to contribute cash to the Domestic [3] The Required Adjusted Book Value would additionally be increased by $80 million if the parties do not receive satisfactory tax opinions with respect to certain federal income tax matters. In such case, Buyer Parent has agreed to call an equivalent amount of additional capital from the investors on a pro rata basis.

Insurer in the amount of such shortfall, but only up to $200 million (subject to certain adjustments), and Buyer will pay $10,000 to Seller and will contribute additional funds to the Domestic Insurer, as more fully described below.

In connection with the Proposed Acquisition, Buyer has agreed to pay to Seller a maximum amount of $600 million (the "Maximum Funding Amount"), which amount will be funded from the sources described in more detail below. The Maximum Funding Amount will be used (i) first, for the purchase by Buyer from Seller or its applicable affiliates at par value of any portion of the total amount of the Domestic Insurer's issued and outstanding surplus notes to the extent in excess of $350 million (expected to be approximately $85 million), (ii) second, to purchase the membership interests of DSL for an amount not to exceed $4 million, and (iii) third, as payment to Seller to the extent the Estimated Total Adjusted Book Value of the Domestic Insurer is greater than the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value (as defined in the MTA). If the total payments described in the preceding clauses (i)-(iii) are less than $500 million in the aggregate, Buyer will contribute the amount of such difference to the Domestic Insurer such that, immediately following the Closing, the Domestic Insurer will have not less than the minimum capitalization reflected in the financial projections included in Exhibit E-2.

In order to reduce the amount of excess assets held by the Domestic Insurer on the Closing Date, Seller has agreed, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, pursuant to the MTA, to cause the Domestic Insurer to pay a dividend to VHI in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the excess of the Estimated Total Adjusted Book Value above the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value, or (ii) such amount that is approved by the Commissioner, if such dividend requires regulatory approval by the Commissioner.

If the Total Adjusted Book Value exceeds the Required Adjusted Book Value above the amount available from the $600 million in funds described above, Seller may purchase a senior note with an aggregate amount equal to such excess from Buyer Parent, up to a maximum of $100 million (the terms of which are set forth in Schedule 2.3(b)(iii) to the MTA, the "Senior Note"), and Buyer will use the proceeds from the issuance of the Senior Note to pay the additional amount in respect of such excess.

If the Estimated Total Adjusted Book value of the Domestic Insurer is less than the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value, prior to the Closing, Seller will contribute cash to the Domestic Insurer in an amount equal to the difference of such amount up to a maximum of $200 million. As a result of such payment, the Estimated Total Adjusted Book Value will be equal to the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value at Closing and (i) as described below, the payment to Seller in respect of the Domestic Insurer will be $10,000 and (ii) Buyer will contribute the additional funds to the Domestic Insurer as described above.

Notwithstanding the payments described above, Buyer has agreed to pay Seller a minimum of $10,000 in consideration for the shares in connection with the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition (e.g., when the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value is equal to the Estimated Total Adjusted Book Value).

Pursuant to the Equity Commitment Letters (copies of which are attached as Exhibit I to the MTA and as Exhibits F-1 and F-2 hereto), each of (i) APH-I, (ii) ALRe, (iii) each of Crestview

Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE, and (iv) each of RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman will purchase equity in Buyer Parent for cash (the "Equity Investments"). Each of (i) APH-I, (ii) each of Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE, collectively, and (iii) each of RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman, collectively, will purchase an approximate 22.9% membership interest in Buyer Parent. ALRe will purchase membership interests in Buyer Parent such that ALRe will hold an approximate 21.4% interest in Buyer Parent.

Pursuant to a Subscription Agreement entered into between Seller and Buyer Parent (a copy of which is attached as Exhibit M to the MTA) (the "Seller Subscription Agreement"), at Closing, Seller will purchase a 9.9% membership interest in Buyer Parent. Seller will purchase such membership interest for a cash purchase price of approximately $35 million, as may be increased proportionally relative to the Equity Investments provided by each of (i) APH-I, (ii) ALRe, (iii) each of Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE, and (iv) each of RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman such that, as of the Closing, Seller will hold a 9.9% interest in Buyer Parent.

In addition to the Equity Investments described above, AADE and AAIA have entered into a debt commitment letter (the "Debt Commitment Letter") with Buyer and Buyer Parent (a copy of which is attached as Exhibit F-3 hereto), pursuant to which AADE and AAIA severally, and not jointly, have committed to lend to Buyer up to $180 million in the aggregate in exchange for the Subordinated Notes in Buyer. On the Closing Date, AADE and AAIA are expected to purchase approximately $150 million of Subordinated Notes in the aggregate from Buyer Parent; however, such amount may be increased up to $180 million in the aggregate to the extent additional amounts are required in connection with the payments to be made by Buyer on the Closing Date in connection with the Proposed Acquisition.

The proceeds of the Equity Investments, the Seller Subscription Agreement, the Subordinated Notes, and the Senior Notes, if any, will be used by Buyer to pay the required closing payments due from Buyer to Seller, to contribute capital to the Domestic Insurer at Closing as described in this Form A, and to pay certain transaction expenses incurred by or on behalf of Buyer in connection with the Proposed Acquisition. While the precise amounts funded will be dependent on a number of variables, including the Total Adjusted Book Value of the Domestic Insurer as of the Closing Date and the amount of expenses actually incurred on behalf of the Domestic Insurer prior to the Closing, the source of funds and equity ownership of Buyer Parent are set forth below assuming $500 million and $700 million, respectively, of funding in the aggregate on the Closing Date:

Source	Type	Amount ($500 million in aggregate)	Amount ($700 million in aggregate)	Equity Interest in Buyer Parent[4]
APH-I	Membership Interests in Buyer Parent	$80,000,000	$96,000,000	22.9%
Crestview Indigo Holdings and Crestview Indigo TE	Membership Interests in Buyer Parent	$80,000,000	$96,000,000	22.9%
RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman	Membership Interests in Buyer Parent	$80,000,000	$96,000,000	22.9%
ALRe	Membership Interests in Buyer Parent	$75,000,000	$90,000,000	21.4%
Seller	Membership Interests in Buyer Parent	$35,000,000	$42,000,000	9.9%
AADE/AAIA	Subordinate Note issued by Buyer	$150,000,000 (in aggregate)	$180,000,000 (in aggregate)	N/A
Seller	Senior Notes issued by Buyer	$0	$100,000,000[5]	N/A
TOTAL:		$500,000,000	$700,000,000	100%

Additional adjustments may be paid to the extent the actual Required Adjusted Book Value and Total Adjusted Book Value, calculated as of the Closing Date, differ from the estimated amounts calculated prior to the Closing Date, including to the extent adjustments are made to the amounts payable under the FA Business reinsurance agreements described in Item 5(b)(ii) below. Any adjustments will be paid by the Domestic Insurer to Seller (e.g., the Domestic Insurer was actually over-capitalized on the Closing Date based on the estimated amounts) or by Seller to the Domestic Insurer (e.g., the Domestic Insurer was actually under-capitalized on the Closing Date

[4] As further described in Item 8 below, the percentages presented in this chart are subject to change.
[5] As described above, Seller has the option, but is not required, to purchase the Senior Notes. If Seller elects not to purchase the Senior Notes where the total required funding is in excess of $600 million, the closing conditions under the MTA will not be satisfied.

based on the estimated amounts), as applicable, by wire-transfer of immediately available funds. To the extent any such adjustment results from final settlement of amounts due under the FA Business reinsurance agreements, such amount will be settled between the Domestic Insurer and AADE or ALRe, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of the applicable reinsurance agreement.

The surplus notes issued by the Domestic Insurer that are not purchased by Buyer as described above will continue to be held by affiliates of Seller following the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition.

(b) Criteria Used in Determining the Nature and Amount of Such Consideration

The nature and amount of the consideration to be paid in connection with the Proposed Acquisition was determined by arm's-length negotiations among the parties to the MTA. The major items considered in determining such amounts were actuarial projections, net investment earned rates, tax considerations and various contribution analyses including relative premium, relative capital, relative profitability and relative return on equity contributions.

ITEM 5. FUTURE PLANS FOR INSURER.

(a) Introduction

Other than as described above in Item 4 and in this Item 5, the Applicants have no present plans or proposals to: (i) cause the Domestic Insurer to declare an extraordinary dividend; (ii) liquidate the Domestic Insurer; (iii) sell the Domestic Insurer's assets (except for investment transactions and minor asset dispositions in the ordinary course of business) or merge the Domestic Insurer with any person or persons; or (iv) make any other material change in the Domestic Insurer's business operations or corporate structure or management.

During the pendency of this Form A, the Applicants will keep the Division apprised of any changes (including such management changes) to the Applicants' present plans or proposals with respect to the Domestic Insurer, as described herein. From time to time following the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition, the Applicants and the management of the Domestic Insurer may evaluate the business and operations of the Domestic Insurer and make any necessary or desirable changes to such business and operations, subject in each case to obtaining any required regulatory approvals.

The Applicants' present plans or proposals with respect to the future operations of the Domestic Insurer are set forth in greater detail in the plan of operations filed confidentially under separate cover as Exhibit E-1 and four-year financial projections filed confidentially under separate cover as Exhibit E-2. The Applicants respectfully request that (i) such materials be afforded confidential treatment, (ii) the Applicants be notified in advance of any proposed disclosure by the Division and (iii) the Applicants be given a reasonable opportunity to seek a protective order or take other action to prevent or limit any such disclosure.

(b) Transactions Proposed to Occur Immediately Prior to or at the Closing of the Proposed Acquisition

(i) Restructuring Transactions

Immediately prior to the Closing, the Domestic Insurer will undergo a series of restructuring transactions in order to transfer the Excluded Business to certain affiliates of Seller and recapture the CBVA Business previously ceded to RRII (the "Restructuring Transactions"). The Restructuring Transactions include:

ITEM 6. VOTING SECURITIES TO BE ACQUIRED.

The Domestic Insurer is authorized to issue 250,000 shares of common stock and has issued and outstanding 250,000 shares of common stock. Currently, all of the Domestic Insurer's stock is held by VHI. At Closing, Buyer will purchase all 250,000 shares of common stock from VHI and will thereafter own 100% of the voting securities of the Domestic Insurer.

As described further in Item 4(b), the nature, amount and method of determination of the fairness of the consideration to be paid in connection with the Proposed Acquisition was determined in connection with an auction process, by arm's-length negotiations among the parties to the MTA.

ITEM 7. OWNERSHIP OF VOTING SECURITIES.

To the knowledge of the Applicants, except pursuant to the MTA, none of the Applicants, their respective affiliates, or any person listed in Item 3, beneficially owns or has the right to acquire beneficial ownership of, voting securities of the Domestic Insurer.

ITEM 8. CONTRACTS, ARRANGEMENTS OR UNDERSTANDINGS WITH RESPECT TO VOTING SECURITIES OF THE INSURER.

The Proposed Acquisition will be effected pursuant to the terms of the MTA. To the knowledge of the Applicants, other than as described in the MTA and as described in Item 5 and this Item 8 of this Form A, there is no contract, arrangement or understanding with respect to any voting securities of the Domestic Insurer in which any of the Applicants, their respective affiliates or any person listed in Item 3 is involved, including, without limitation, to transfer any of the securities involved in the Proposed Acquisition, or involving any joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against losses or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies.

It is contemplated that AGM and its subsidiaries will offer certain of its employees, including the Apollo Individual Applicants, an opportunity to invest in the ownership of Buyer Parent through APH-I. The terms and size of such offering have not yet been finalized. Any investment by employees would reduce on a dollar-for-dollar basis AGM's investment in Buyer Parent.

Similarly, Reverence and its subsidiaries will offer certain of its employees and limited partners an opportunity to invest in the ownership of Buyer Parent through RCP Indigo Co-Invest L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("RCP Indigo Co-Invest"). The terms and size of such offering have not yet been finalized; however, any investment by RCP Indigo Co-Invest will reduce on a dollar for dollar basis the equity investment made by RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman.

In addition, certain directors and officers of Buyer and Buyer Parent may also directly or indirectly acquire an interest in Buyer Parent in an amount that will be less than 9.99% of Buyer Parent's total membership interests. Any such acquisition by such director and officers will reduce the ownership interests of (i) APH-I, (ii) ALRe, (iii) Crestview Indigo Holding and Crestview Indigo TE, and (iv) RCP II Delaware and RCP II Cayman in Buyer Parent on a pro rata basis.

Once the terms and size of the above described investments have been finalized, the Applicants will furnish to the Commissioner an amended Exhibit B-2 indicating such investment.

ITEM 9. RECENT PURCHASES OF VOTING SECURITIES.

ITEM 11. AGREEMENTS WITH BROKER-DEALERS.

To the knowledge of the Applicants, no agreement, contract or understanding has been made by any of the Applicants, their respective affiliates or any person listed in Item 3, with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of voting securities of the Domestic Insurer for tender, and no fees, commissions or other compensation will be paid to any broker-dealer in connection with the same.

The registration of each Separate Account registered under the Investment Company Act is in full force and effect.

(e) Except as set forth in Section 3.24(e) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates has received written notice of any examinations, investigations, reviews, inspections or formal or informal inquiries of the Separate Accounts, including periodic regulatory examinations of the Separate Accounts' affairs and condition, civil investigative demands and market conduct examinations, by any Governmental Entity that have been conducted, or are pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened in writing, since December 31, 2014 through the date hereof.

(f) (i) Each Separate Account currently is and has been since December 31, 2014 in compliance with its investment objectives, investment policies and restrictions (as they may be amended from time to time) and other contract terms; (ii) the value of the net assets of each Separate Account has been determined and is being determined using portfolio valuation methods that comply with the methods described in its offering or plan documents and (iii) each Acquired Company, Seller and Affiliate of Seller that has provided investment advisory services to any Separate Account has done so in compliance with such Separate Account's investment objectives, investment policies and restrictions (as they may be amended from time to time) and other contract terms, except, in each case, as would not reasonably be expected to be, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole.

(g) Each Registered Separate Account has written policies and procedures adopted pursuant to Rule 38a-1 under the Investment Company Act that are reasonably designed to prevent material violations of the United States Federal Securities Laws, as such term is defined in Rule 38a-1(e)(1) under the Investment Company Act. Since December 31, 2014, there have been no Material Compliance Matters (as such term is defined in Rule 38a-1 under the Investment Company Act) that are materially adverse to any Registered Separate Account, as such term is defined in Rule 38a-1(e)(2) under the Investment Company Act, other than those which have been reported as required by Rule 38a-1(a)(4)(iii)(B), if any, and satisfactorily remedied or are in the process of being remedied and those that would not reasonably be expected to be, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole.

SECTION 3.25 Broker-Dealer.

(a) DSL is and has been, since the commencement of its engagement in activities for which registration as a broker-dealer is or was required under the Exchange Act (such activities, the "Broker-Dealer Activities"), duly registered as a broker-dealer under the Exchange Act, applicable state securities law, and the rules of FINRA ("FINRA Rules"). DSL is a member firm of FINRA, in good standing. DSL is not a member of any other self-regulatory organization. DSL is duly registered, licensed and qualified as a broker-dealer in all jurisdictions where such registration, licensing or qualification is so required. Neither the Company nor, solely with respect to the FA Business, RLI have been at any time since December 31, 2014 or are currently required to be registered, licensed or qualified as a broker or a dealer under the Exchange Act, FINRA Rules or any other Applicable Laws. DSL is in compliance in all material respects with all Applicable Laws requiring registration, licensing or qualification as a broker-dealer, and is in compliance with all Applicable Laws concerning its operations as a broker-dealer, except as would not reasonably be expected to be, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole. Since December 31, 2014, DSL has filed all regulatory reports, schedules, forms, registrations and other documents, including Form BD and filings pursuant to FINRA Rule 4530 and SEC Rules 17a-5 and 17a-11, as applicable, together with any material amendments required to be made with respect thereto, that it was required to file with any applicable Governmental Entities on its own behalf or on behalf of any of its "associated persons", as such term is defined in the Exchange Act and the rules and Bylaws of FINRA (the "Associated Persons") (collectively, the "BD Regulatory Filings"), and has paid all fees and assessments due and payable in connection therewith, except in each case, as would not reasonably be expected to be individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole. Since December 31, 2014, the information contained in DSL's BD Regulatory Filings, including the information contained in DSL's Form BD as most recently filed with the SEC, was true, complete and correct in all material respects at the time of filing, and DSL has made all material amendments to such BD Regulatory Filings as it is required to make under any Applicable Law. Seller has provided to Buyer Parent prior to the date hereof a true, complete and correct copy of DSL's membership agreement with FINRA, and DSL is operating in compliance with the terms and conditions of such membership agreement except, as would not reasonably be expected to be, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole, and no Action is pending with FINRA to amend such membership agreement.

(b) Except as set forth in Section 3.25(b) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, neither DSL, Seller nor any of Seller's Affiliates or, to the Knowledge of Seller, any of DSL's officers, directors, security holders, employees or Associated Persons has received written notice of any Action, audit, sweep letter, examination or other inquiry (including by the SEC, FINRA, the Department of Labor or any other Governmental Entity) pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller threatened in writing, against DSL or against or involving any officer, director, security holder, employee or Associated Persons of DSL, as the case may be. Neither DSL nor, to the Knowledge of Seller, any Associated Person thereof is ineligible or disqualified pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Exchange Act to act as a broker-dealer or as an associated person of a registered broker-dealer. There is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Seller, threatened in writing, that would reasonably be expected to result in DSL or any Associated Person thereof becoming ineligible to act in such capacity. Neither DSL nor, to the Knowledge of Seller, any of its directors, officers, employees or Associated Persons is or has been adjudged or is under current investigation or Action, whether preliminary or otherwise, for "statutory disqualification" as defined in Section 3(a)(39) of the Exchange Act or is subject to any of the events set forth in Rule 1014(a)(3)(A) and (C) through (E) of the former National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and, to the Knowledge of Seller, none of such directors, officers, employees or Associated Persons is subject to heightened supervision under the rules, regulations, ordinances or by-laws of any Governmental Entity. Neither DSL nor, to the Knowledge of Seller, any Affiliate or Associated Person is subject to a disqualification under Rule 262 of Regulation A under the Securities or Rule 506(d) of Regulation D under the Securities Act, or any similar disqualification provisions under Regulation E under the Securities Act, except as would not reasonably be expected to be, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole.

(c) Except as disclosed in any Form BD or Form U-4 filed by DSL prior to the date of this Agreement, neither DSL nor, to the Knowledge of Seller, any of its directors, officers, employees or Associated Persons is subject to any order or Action of any Governmental Entity that permanently enjoins such Person from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with any activity involving or in connection with Broker-Dealer Activities. Neither DSL nor, to the Knowledge of Seller, any of its directors, officers, employees or Associated Persons is, or has been, the subject of any Action or disciplinary event requiring disclosure on Form BD, Form U-4 or otherwise with any Governmental Entity that has not been so disclosed, except, with respect to such non-disclosure, as would not reasonably be expected to be, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole.

(d) Section 3.25(d) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true, complete and correct list of each "branch office" and "office of supervisory jurisdiction" (as defined under FINRA Rules) of DSL.

(e) Each of DSL's directors, officers, employees, Associated Persons and independent contractors, who are required under Applicable Law to be registered, licensed or qualified as a principal, a representative, an agent or a salesperson (or a limited subcategory thereof) with any Governmental Entity are, and have been since December 31, 2014 (or such more recent date on which such Person first became associated with DSL or the Business), duly registered as such and such registrations are and were, since December 31, 2014 (or such more recent date), in full force and effect, or are or were in the process of being registered as such within the time periods required by any Governmental Entity, as applicable, except as would not be material to the Business taken as a whole. Section 3.25(e) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule sets forth all Governmental Entities with which DSL and each of its directors, officers, employees, Associated Persons and independent contractors are registered, licensed, authorized or approved as a broker-dealer, a principal, a representative, an agent or a salesperson (or any limited subcategory thereof), including any membership in or registration with any such Governmental Entity. Except as set forth in Section 3.25(e) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, none of such principals, representatives, agents or salespersons is registered on behalf of any broker-dealer other than DSL.

(f) DSL has adopted written supervisory procedures that are reasonably designed to detect and prevent any material violations under Applicable Laws, and there has been no material non-compliance by DSL with respect to the foregoing requirements or its own internal procedures and policies related to the foregoing, other than those which would not reasonably be expected to be, individually or in the aggregate, materially adverse to the Business taken as a whole.

(g) DSL maintains its minimum net capital (i) in compliance in all material respects with all Applicable Laws imposed by the SEC or any other Governmental Entity and (ii) in an amount sufficient to ensure that it has not been required to file notice under Rule 17a-11 under the Exchange Act. DSL has no agreement, arrangement or understanding with any Governmental Entity to increase its regulatory capital above the amounts required to be maintained pursuant to Rule 15c3-1 under the Exchange Act. Since December 31, 2014, no capital withdrawal or transfer of assets from DSL has occurred that was not in compliance with FINRA Rule 4110, NASD Rule 1017(a)(3) or SEC Rule 15c3-1. DSL does not guarantee any other person's liabilities, and none of DSL's assets has been pledged to secure financing or a loan to it or any Affiliate or Associated Person. DSL does not have any subordinated debt outstanding to any Affiliate or Associated Person.

SECTION 3.27 Investment Assets.

As of the date hereof, except as set forth in Section 3.27(a) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, none of the Investment Assets are subject to any Liability to fund any capital calls or capital commitments or similar obligations. The Investment Assets set forth on Section 3.27(a)(i) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule are referred to as the "CBVA Allocated Investment Assets." The Investment Assets set forth on Section 3.27(a)(ii) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule are referred to as the "Payout Annuity Allocated Investment Assets."

(b) Seller has provided to Buyer Parent true, complete and correct copies of the investment guidelines and policies and the hedging guidelines with respect to the Business as of the date hereof.

(c) The CTE 95 Model used at Closing when fed with the Valuation Input Set (as defined in the CTE95 Model and Calculation Methodologies) as of June 30, 2017 will exactly reproduce Anchor Valuation 1 output.

(d) The CTE 95 Model used at Closing when fed with the Sensitivity Input Set (as defined in the CTE95 Model and Calculation Methodologies) as of June 30, 2017 used to generate Anchor Valuation 2 will exactly reproduce Anchor Valuation 2 output.

(e) The processes that will be used to generate the Valuation Input Set as of the Closing Date are consistent with the processes used to the generate the Valuation Input Set as of June 30, 2017 such that if the processes that will be used at Closing Date were rerun with conditions as of June 30, 2017, the Valuation Input Set for Anchor Valuation 1 would result.

SECTION 3.29 Internal Controls. Each Acquired Company and, with respect to the Business, Seller and its Affiliates, maintains, in all material respects, systems of internal accounting controls designed to provide assurance that: (i) transactions are executed with management's general or specific authorization; (ii) transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of its financial statements in conformity in all material respects with SAP, Modified GAAP or GAAP, as applicable, and to maintain accountability for its assets; (iii) access to its assets is permitted only in accordance with management's general or specific authorization; and (iv) the recorded accountability for assets is compared with existing assets at reasonable intervals and appropriate actions are taken with respect to any differences.

For purposes of this Section 3.30, the provisions of Applicable Law relating to the Tax treatment of such Insurance Contracts shall include, but not be limited to, Sections 72, 101, 817, 7702, 7702A and 7702B of the Code.

(b) All Insurance Contracts that are subject to none of Section 72, Section 101(f) or Section 7702 of the Code qualify as life insurance contracts for purposes of the Code. All Insurance Contracts that are subject to Section 101(f) of the Code satisfy the requirements of that section and otherwise qualify as life insurance contracts for purposes of the Code. All Insurance Contracts that are subject to Section 7702 of the Code satisfy the requirements of Section 7702(a) of the Code and otherwise qualify as life insurance contracts for purposes of the Code.

(c) Each Insurance Contract that is subject to Section 817 of the Code complies with, and, at all times since its issuance, has complied with, the diversification requirements applicable thereto, and the Company or RLI (as the case may be), is treated, for federal Tax purposes, as the owner of the assets underlying such Insurance Contract.

(d) None of the Insurance Contracts is a "modified endowment contract" within the meaning of Section 7702A of the Code, except for any Insurance Contract that is being administered as a "modified endowment contract" and with respect to which the policyholder either (i) consented in writing to the treatment of such policy as a "modified endowment contract" and has not acted to revoke such consent or (ii) was informed in writing about the treatment of such policy as a "modified endowment contract."

(f) The Company, and, with respect to the Business, Seller and its Affiliates, has maintained the information reasonably necessary to determine the Insurance Contracts' qualification for any applicable Tax treatment under the Code, to monitor the Insurance Contracts for treatment as "modified endowment contracts," or to facilitate compliance with the Tax reporting, withholding, and disclosure requirements applicable to the Insurance Contracts in the manner required by Revenue Procedure 98-25.

(g) None of the Company, and, with respect to the Business, Seller or any of its Affiliates, is bound by any agreement or arrangement, or is involved in any discussions or negotiations with the IRS or any other Tax Authority, or otherwise has requested relief, regarding the failure of any Insurance Contracts to meet the requirements of the Product Tax Law Rules. (a) Organization and Standing. Buyer is a corporation, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware. Buyer Parent is a limited liability company duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware.

(b) Authority. Each Buyer Party has the requisite corporate or other entity power and authority to enter into the Transaction Agreements to which it is a party and to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby. The execution and delivery by each Buyer Party of the Transaction Agreements to which it is or will be a party and the consummation by each Buyer Party of the transactions contemplated thereby have been and, with respect to the Transaction Agreements to be executed and delivered at the Closing, will be, duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of such Buyer Party. Each of the Transaction Agreements to which a Buyer Party is or will be a party have been or, with respect to the Transaction Agreements to be executed and delivered at the Closing, will be, duly executed and delivered by such Buyer Party and, assuming such Transaction Agreements constitute the valid and binding agreements of the other parties thereto (other than the Buyer Parties), constitute valid and binding obligations of such Buyer Party, enforceable against such Buyer Party in accordance with their terms except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

(c) Capital Structure. Apollo is the record and beneficial owner of all of the outstanding equity interests of Buyer Parent. Buyer Parent is the record and beneficial interest of all of the capital stock of Buyer. Except as contemplated by the Equity Financing, no shares of capital stock or other equity interests of Buyer Parent or Buyer are issued, reserved for issuance or outstanding. Except as contemplated by the Subscription Agreement and the Equity Commitment Letters or as set forth in Section 4.1(c) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, there are no securities, options, calls, puts, tag alongs, drag alongs, warrants, rights, capital appreciation rights, phantom stock plans, securities with participation rights or features, or similar commitments or agreements, contingent or otherwise, which obligate Buyer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries to issue, sell, repurchase, redeem (or establish a sinking fund with respect to redemption), or otherwise acquire or deliver shares of capital stock or other equity interests of any Buyer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries. Except as contemplated by this Agreement or the Debt Commitment Letter or as set forth in Section 4.1(c) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, there are no bonds, debentures, notes or other indebtedness of Buyer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries. Buyer Parent and Buyer were each formed for the purpose of entering into this Agreement and consummating the transactions contemplated hereby and by the other Transaction Agreements, and has conducted no business, performed any activities or incurred any Liability other than activities related to their formation and activities taken in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (including entering into documentation with respect to the Financing).

(d) Noncontravention; Consents. Except as disclosed in Section 4.1(d) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements by each Buyer Party that is or will be a party thereto and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby by such Buyer Party do not and will not (i) conflict with any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of any Buyer Party, (ii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, conflict with, result in a breach or violation of, or default (with or without notice or lapse of time or both) under, give rise to a right of termination under, or result in the creation of any Lien (other than a Permitted Lien) on any property or asset of Buyer Parent, Buyer or any Subsidiary of Buyer under, any agreement, permit, license or instrument to which Buyer Parent, Buyer or any other Subsidiary of Buyer Parent is a party or (iii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, contravene any Applicable Law, which, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) above, would materially impair the ability of Buyer to consummate any of the transactions contemplated hereby. No consent, approval or authorization of, or declaration or filing with, or notice to, any Governmental Entity is required by or with respect to any Buyer Party in connection with the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements by the Buyer Parties or the consummation by the Buyer Parties of any of the transactions contemplated thereby, except for (i) the approvals, filings and notices required under the insurance laws of the jurisdictions set forth in Section 4.1(d) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, (ii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices as are set forth in Section 4.1(d) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule and (iii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices which if not obtained or made would not, in the aggregate, materially impair the ability of Buyer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated hereby.

(e) Compliance with Applicable Laws. Except as disclosed in Section 4.1(e) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, Buyer Parent is, and at all times since the date of its formation has been, in compliance with all Applicable Laws, except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Buyer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Except as disclosed in Section 4.1(e) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, Buyer Parent has not, at any time since the date of its formation, received any written notice or other written communication from any Governmental Entity regarding any actual or alleged violation of, or failure on the part of Buyer Parent to comply with, any Applicable Laws, in each case other than any such item that would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Buyer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(f) Purchase Not for Distribution. The Shares and DSL Interests to be acquired under the terms of this Agreement will be acquired by Buyer on behalf of Buyer Parent for Buyer Parent's own account and not with a view to distribution. Buyer Parent will not, and shall cause Buyer not to, resell, transfer, assign, pledge or otherwise dispose of any Shares or DSL Interests, except in compliance with the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws, or pursuant to an available exemption therefrom.

(g) Litigation. There is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Buyer Parent, threatened in writing against or affecting Buyer Parent or any Affiliate of Buyer Parent that (i) seeks to restrain or enjoin the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or (ii) would reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Buyer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Neither Buyer Parent nor any of its Affiliates nor, to the Knowledge of Buyer Parent, any officer, director or employee of Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates has been permanently or temporarily enjoined or barred by any order, judgment or decree of any Governmental Entity from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with the business conducted by the Acquired Companies, the Business or otherwise that would reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a material adverse effect on the ability of any Buyer Party to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by any Transaction Agreement.

(h) Financial Ability.

(i) Attached as Exhibit I are true, complete and correct copies of (A) the executed equity commitment letter, dated as of the date hereof, by and between Buyer Parent and Apollo (the "Apollo Equity Commitment Letter"), (B) the executed equity commitment letter, dated as of the date hereof, by and between Buyer Parent and ALRe (the "Athene Equity Commitment Letter" and, together with the Apollo Equity Commitment Letter, the "Equity Commitment Letters"), pursuant to which each of Apollo and ALRe has committed, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth therein, to invest in Buyer Parent the respective cash amounts set forth therein (the "Equity Financing"), and which, make Seller an express third party beneficiary to the Equity Commitment Letters entitled to enforce the obligations of Apollo and ALRe thereunder, subject to the limitations set forth therein.

(ii) Buyer Parent has delivered to Seller a true, complete and correct copy of the executed commitment letter, dated as of the date hereof, by and among Buyer Parent, Buyer, AAIA and Reinsurer (the "Debt Commitment Letter," and together with the Equity Commitment Letters, the "Financing Commitments"), pursuant to which each of AAIA and Reinsurer have committed, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth therein, to lend Buyer the amounts set forth therein for purposes of funding a portion of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Debt Financing" and, together with the Equity Financing, the "Financing"), and which make Seller an express third party beneficiary entitled to enforce the obligations of AAIA and Reinsurer thereunder, subject to the limitations set forth therein.

(iii) The Financing Commitments have not been amended or modified prior to the date of this Agreement, and, as of the date hereof, the commitments contained in the Financing Commitments have not been withdrawn, terminated or rescinded in any respect. As of the date hereof, the Financing Commitments (x) are in full force and effect and (y) are legal, valid and binding obligations of Buyer Parent and, in the case of the Debt Commitment Letter, Buyer, and the other parties thereto and are enforceable against Buyer Parent and in the case of the Debt Commitment Letter, Buyer, and each of the other parties thereto, in each case except that (A) such enforceability may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (B) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought. Other than as set forth in the Financing Commitments, there are no conditions related to the funding of the full amount of the Financing under any agreement relating to the Financing to which Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates is a party. As of the date of this Agreement, no event has occurred and no circumstance exists that, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a default or breach on the part of Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates or on the part of any other party to the Financing Commitments, under any term or condition of the Financing Commitments. Assuming the conditions set forth in Article VI will be satisfied at or prior to the Closing, and assuming compliance in all material respects by Seller with its obligations under this Agreement, Buyer Parent has no reason to believe, as of the date of this Agreement, that Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates will be unable to satisfy on a timely basis any term or condition that is required to be satisfied by Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates as a condition to the funding of the Financing by Apollo, ALRe, Reinsurer or AAIA, or that the Financing will not be made available to Buyer Parent on the Closing Date. There are no side letters or Contracts or arrangements, written or oral, related to the funding or investing, as applicable, of the full amount of the Financing.

(iv) Assuming the Financing is funded in accordance with the Financing Commitments and performance by Seller of its obligations under this Agreement, the funding commitments under the Financing Commitments are in an amount sufficient to permit Buyer Parent to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and by the other Transaction Agreements (other than the payment by Seller to Buyer Parent of the Subscription Amount) and to perform its obligations under this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the payment of any amounts in respect of the purchase and sale of the Shares contemplated by this Agreement) and to pay all fees and expenses payable by it at Closing in connection with this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements.

(i) Solvency. Assuming (v) the accuracy of the representations and warranties of Seller in Section 3.6 (disregarding any references to Knowledge, material, Material Adverse Effect or similar qualifiers), (w) the satisfaction of the conditions precedent set forth in Article VI, (x) the performance by Seller of its obligations under this Agreement and (y) that, immediately prior to the Closing, clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) below, as if they were made in respect of the Acquired Companies and the Business at such time, are true, then immediately following the Closing and after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements, including the payment of all amounts required to be paid by the Acquired Companies or by Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates or Reinsurer Parent or any of its Affiliates in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements and all related fees and expenses, each of Buyer

Parent and the Acquired Companies will be Solvent. No transfer of property is being made and no obligation is being incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements with the intent to hinder, delay or defraud either present or future creditors of Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent or any of their respective Affiliates, or of the Acquired Companies. For the purposes of this Agreement, the term "Solvent," when used with respect to any Person, means that, as of any date of determination, (i) the amount of the "fair saleable value" (on a going concern basis) of the assets of such Person will, as of such date, exceed (x) the value of all liabilities of such Person, including a reasonable estimate of contingent and other liabilities, as of such date, as such quoted terms are generally determined in accordance with Applicable Law governing determinations of the insolvency of debtors, and (y) the amount that will be required to pay the probable and reasonably estimated liabilities of such Person with respect to its existing debts (including contingent and other liabilities) as such debts become absolute and mature, (ii) such Person will not have, as of such date, an unreasonably small amount of capital for the operation of the businesses in which it is engaged or proposed to be engaged following such date and (iii) such Person will be able to pay its liabilities, as of such date, including contingent and other liabilities, as they mature. For purposes of this definition, (A) "not have an unreasonably small amount of capital for the operation of the businesses in which it is engaged or proposed to be engaged" and "able to pay its liabilities, as of such date, including a reasonable estimate of contingent and other liabilities" means that such Person will be able to generate enough cash to meet its obligations as they become due and (B) the "contingent and other liabilities" of a Person as of such date shall be computed as the amount that, in the light of all the facts and circumstances known to such Person at such date, represents the amount that can reasonably be expected to become an actual or matured liability of such Person.

(j) Brokers. Buyer Parent is solely responsible for the payment of the fees and expenses of any broker, investment banker, financial adviser or other Person acting in a similar capacity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Buyer Parent or any Affiliate.

SECTION 4.2 Representations and Warranties of Reinsurer Parent. Subject to and as qualified by the matters set forth in the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, and subject to Section 10.12, Reinsurer Parent represents and warrants to Seller as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date as follows; provided, however, that any representations and warranties that are made as of a specific date or as of the date of this Agreement are made only as of such date:

(a) Organization and Standing. Reinsurer Parent is a company duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of Bermuda.

(b) Authority. Each Reinsurer Party has the requisite corporate power and authority to enter into the Transaction Agreements to which it is a party and to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby. The execution and delivery by each Reinsurer Party of the Transaction Agreements to which it is or will be a party and the consummation by each Reinsurer Party of the transactions contemplated thereby have been and, with respect to the Transaction Agreements to be executed and delivered at the Closing, will be, duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of such Reinsurer Party. Each of the Transaction Agreements to which a Reinsurer Party is or will be a party have been or, with respect to the Transaction Agreements to be executed and delivered at the Closing, will be, duly executed and delivered by such Reinsurer Party and, assuming such Transaction Agreements constitute the valid and binding agreements of the other parties thereto (other than the Reinsurer Parties), constitute valid and binding obligations of such Reinsurer Party, enforceable against such Reinsurer Party in accordance with their terms except that (i) such enforcement may be subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws, now or hereafter in effect, affecting creditors' rights generally and (ii) the remedy of specific performance and injunctive and other forms of equitable relief may be subject to equitable defenses and to the discretion of the court before which any proceeding therefor may be brought.

(c) Noncontravention; Consents. Except as disclosed in Section 4.2(c) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements by each Reinsurer Party that is or will be a party thereto and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby by such Reinsurer Party do not and will not (i) conflict with any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of such Reinsurer Party, (ii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, conflict with, result in a breach or violation of, or default (with or without notice or lapse of time or both) under, give rise to a right of termination under, or result in the creation of any Lien (other than a Permitted Lien) on any property or asset of Reinsurer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries under, any agreement, permit, license or instrument to which Reinsurer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is a party or (iii) subject to the matters referred to in the next sentence, contravene any Applicable Law, which, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) above, would materially impair the ability of Reinsurer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated hereby. No consent, approval or authorization of, or declaration or filing with, or notice to, any Governmental Entity is required by or with respect to any Reinsurer Party in connection with the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements by the Reinsurer Parties or the consummation by the Reinsurer Parties of any of the transactions contemplated thereby, except for (i) the approvals, filings and notices required under the insurance laws of the jurisdictions set forth in Section 4.2(c) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, (ii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices as are set forth in Section 4.2(c) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule and (iii) such other consents, approvals, authorizations, declarations, filings or notices which if not obtained or made would not, in the aggregate, materially impair the ability of Reinsurer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated hereby.

(d) Compliance with Applicable Laws. Except as disclosed in Section 4.2(d) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, Reinsurer Parent is, and at all times since December 31, 2014 has been, in compliance with all Applicable Laws, except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Reinsurer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Except as disclosed in Section 4.2(d) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, Reinsurer Parent has not, at any time since December 31, 2014, received any written notice or other written communication from any Governmental Entity regarding any actual or alleged violation of, or failure on the part of Reinsurer Parent to comply with, any Applicable Laws, in each case other than any such item that would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Reinsurer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(e) Litigation. There is no Action pending or, to the Knowledge of Reinsurer Parent, threatened in writing against or affecting Reinsurer Parent or any Subsidiary of Reinsurer

Parent that (i) seeks to restrain or enjoin the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or (ii) would reasonably be expected to impair materially the ability of Reinsurer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Neither Reinsurer Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries nor, to the Knowledge of Reinsurer Parent, any officer, director or employee of Reinsurer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries has been permanently or temporarily enjoined or barred by any order, judgment or decree of any Governmental Entity from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with the FA Business conducted by the Company and RLI or otherwise that would reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a material adverse effect on the ability of any Reinsurer Party to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by any Transaction Agreement.

(f) Financial Ability. Reinsurer Parent has and on the Closing Date will have sufficient funds available to perform its obligations under this Agreement and each other Transaction Agreement to which any of the Reinsurer Parties are a party and to pay all associated costs and expenses required to be paid by the Reinsurer Parties.

(g) Brokers. Reinsurer Parent is solely responsible for the payment of the fees and expenses of any broker, investment banker, financial adviser or other Person acting in a similar capacity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Reinsurer Parent or any Subsidiary.

(h) Financial Statements. Reinsurer Parent has previously provided to Seller true, complete and correct copies of the following financial statements (collectively, the "Reinsurer Financial Statements"): (i) the audited annual statutory financial statements of the Reinsurer and ALRe as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016, in each case as filed with the Insurance Regulator of the jurisdiction of domicile of Reinsurer, and (ii) the unaudited interim statutory financial statements of Reinsurer and ALRe as of and for the six-month period ending September 30, 2017 (collectively, the "Reinsurer Statutory Statements"). Except as set forth in Section 4.2(h) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, each of the Reinsurer Financial Statements were prepared in accordance with SAP at and for the periods indicated, subject, in the case of the unaudited financial statements referenced above, to normal recurring year-end adjustments.

(i) No Undisclosed Liabilities. Neither Reinsurer nor ALRe has any Liability that is required to be reflected in a balance sheet (or notes thereto) of Reinsurer or ALRe, as applicable, prepared in accordance with SAP except (i) those Liabilities provided for or disclosed in the Reinsurer Financial Statements or in the notes thereto, (ii) Liabilities disclosed in Section 4.2(h) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule, (iii) Liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business since December 31, 2016, (iv) Liabilities incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements, and (v) other Liabilities that, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to be material to Reinsurer or ALRe.

(j) Section 4.2(j) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true, complete and correct list of all accounting practices used by Reinsurer and, solely with respect its respective Financial Statements that depart from the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual (each such departure, a "Reinsurer Permitted or Prescribed Accounting Practice"), if any. All such Reinsurer Permitted or Prescribed Accounting Practices have been approved by the applicable Insurance Regulators in writing at or prior to the time used by the applicable company in connection with the applicable Reinsurer Financial Statement.

SECTION 5.2 Access to Information; Confidentiality.

(a) Prior to the Closing Date, Seller shall, and shall cause each Acquired Company to, afford to Buyer Parent and its Representatives reasonable access upon reasonable notice at reasonable times during normal business hours to the Acquired Company Books and Records and, during such period, Seller shall, and shall cause each Acquired Company as applicable, to, furnish to Buyer Parent such information to the extent relating to the Business as Buyer Parent may from time to time reasonably request, other than any such properties, books, Contracts, records and information that (i) are subject to an attorney-client or other legal privilege that would reasonably be expected to be impaired by such disclosure or (ii) are subject to a contractual obligation of confidentiality. If any properties, books, Contracts, records and information is withheld by Seller pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) of the preceding sentence, Seller shall, and shall cause each Acquired Company and, with respect to the Business, each of its Affiliates, to, inform Buyer Parent of that fact and provide a description of the general nature of what is being withheld, and cooperate with any requests for, and use its reasonable best efforts to (A) develop substitute arrangements that do not result in the loss of such privilege or the breach of such obligations (including redacting information or entering into joint defense agreements) and (B) to obtain any consent or waiver necessary from any Person to whom any contractual confidentiality obligation is owed in order to disclose such information to Buyer Parent and restructure the form of access, and/or make other arrangements, so as to permit the access requested. For the avoidance of doubt, Seller shall have no obligation under this Agreement to furnish Buyer Parent the Excluded Business Books and Records. All requests for access or information pursuant to this Section 5.2(a) shall be directed to such Person or Persons as Seller shall designate. Without limiting the terms thereof, the Confidentiality Agreement shall govern the obligations of Buyer Parent and its Representatives with respect to all information of any type furnished or provided to them pursuant to this Section 5.2(a).

(b) Through the Closing Date, Seller shall, and shall cause the Acquired Companies, and, with respect to the Business, each of its Affiliates, to, preserve and maintain the Acquired Company Books and Records, the RLI FA Business Books and Records and the Excluded Books and Records in all material respects in the same manner and with the same care that all such Acquired Company Books and Records, RLI FA Business Books and Records and Excluded Books and Records have been maintained prior to the execution of this Agreement. At the Closing, Seller shall, or shall cause its Affiliates, as applicable, to, (subject to Section 5.2(c) and subject to the last sentence of this paragraph) deliver to Buyer Parent, or its designee, or cause the Acquired Companies to have possession of, (i) all original corporate records of the Acquired Companies, including any such corporate records relating to the Acquired Companies' legal existence, stock or other equity ownership and corporate governance and (ii) all tangible embodiments of Acquired Company Books and Records. Prior to the Closing Date, the parties shall develop and implement a plan that will result in the delivery or transfer, subject to compliance with Applicable Law and Section 5.2(c), of the electronic or intangible embodiments of the Acquired Company Books and Records to Buyer Parent (or a Person designated by Buyer Parent) at or after the Closing; provided, that any costs attributable to such plan and the transfer of the Acquired Company Books and Records are Separation and Migration Costs and shall be borne by the parties in accordance with Section 5.24(b).

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates shall be required to transfer the Books and Records that: (i) are necessary for Seller to provide services under the Transition Services Agreement; provided that Seller shall transfer and shall cause its applicable Affiliates to transfer, such Books and Records to Buyer Parent upon termination of the Transition Services Agreement; or (ii) Seller or its Affiliates are required to retain under Applicable Law; provided that, in the case of (i) and (ii), to the extent such Books and Records would otherwise have been transferred, copies of such Books and Records will be transferred to Buyer Parent. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Seller and its Affiliates shall be entitled to retain copies of any Books and Records transferred to Buyer Parent for accounting, Tax and regulatory purposes. Any such retained Books and Records may only be used by Seller or its agents for accounting, Tax and regulatory purposes.

(d) For a period of five (5) years after the Closing, (i) Seller and its Affiliates shall, and shall cause each of their Representatives to, maintain in confidence any written, oral or other confidential information relating to the Acquired Companies or the Business (including any Acquired Company Books and Records retained pursuant to Section 5.3(e) and any Deal Communications retained pursuant to Section 10.13(b)) or obtained from Buyer Parent or its Affiliates (including the Acquired Companies) and (ii) Buyer Parent and its Affiliates shall, and shall cause each of their Representatives to, maintain in confidence any written, oral or other confidential information relating to Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Acquired Companies or the Business) or the business of any of them or any Privileged Deal Communications that intentionally or inadvertently come into possession of the Acquired Companies or their Affiliates as contemplated by Section 10.13, except that the foregoing requirements in clauses (i) and (ii) of this Section 4.2(e) shall not apply to the extent that (1) any such information is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of disclosure by Seller or its Affiliates (in the case of clause (i)) or Buyer Parent and its Affiliates (in the case of clause (ii)) or any of their respective Representatives, in violation of this Section 4.2(e), (2) any such information is required by Applicable Law, stock exchange rules, Governmental Order or a Governmental Entity to be disclosed; after prior notice has been given to Seller (in the case of clause (i)) or Buyer Parent (in the case of clause (ii)), as applicable (including any report, statement, testimony or other submission to such Governmental Entity), (3) any such information was or becomes available to Seller or its Affiliates (in the case of clause (i)) or Buyer Parent or its Affiliates (in the case of clause (ii)) on a non-confidential basis and from a source (other than the other party or any Affiliate (including the Acquired Companies) or Representative of such other party or its Affiliates) that is not bound by a confidentiality agreement with respect to such information or is not otherwise obligated to keep such information confidential or (4) any such information is reasonably necessary to be disclosed in connection with any Action or in any dispute with respect to this Agreement or any other Transaction Document; provided, that if either party or any of its Affiliates becomes legally compelled by deposition, interrogatory, request for documents, subpoena, civil investigative demand or similar judicial or administrative process to disclose such confidential information, such party shall provide the other party with prompt prior written notice of such requirement and reasonably cooperate with the other party and its Affiliates, at such other party's expense, to obtain a protective order or similar remedy to cause such information not to be disclosed. In the event that such protective order or other similar remedy is not obtained, the party required to make such disclosure or its Affiliates shall furnish only that portion of confidential information that has been legally compelled, and shall exercise its reasonable best efforts to obtain assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded such disclosed information. Each party shall instruct its Affiliates and its and their respective Representatives having access to such confidential information of such obligation of confidentiality.

SECTION 5.3 Reasonable Best Efforts. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions, limitations and other agreements set forth in this Agreement (including the limitations set forth in Section 5.4), each of the parties agrees to use its reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, and to assist and cooperate with the other parties in doing, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and make effective, as soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement, the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements.

SECTION 5.4 Consents, Approvals and Filings.

(a) Seller, Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall each use, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to use, their respective reasonable best efforts, and shall cooperate (and cause each of their respective Affiliate to cooperate) with each other, and Buyer Parent shall cause each Investor who holds, or who will hold as of the Closing, ten percent (10%) or more of the outstanding voting equity interests of Buyer Parent or would otherwise be deemed to be a controlling person pursuant to Chapter 521A of the Iowa Insurance Code (each such Investor, a "Control Investor"), to use their respective reasonable best efforts to (x) comply as promptly as practicable with all requirements of Governmental Entities applicable to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other Transaction Agreement and (y) obtain as promptly as practicable all necessary permits, orders or other consents, approvals or authorizations of Governmental Entities necessary in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements (including those set forth in Section 3.5 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, Section 4.1(d) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule or Section 4.2(c) of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule). In connection therewith, Seller, Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall, Buyer Parent shall cause each Control Investor to, and Reinsurer Parent shall cause each Reinsurer Party to, (i) make, and Buyer Parent and Seller shall cause their respective Affiliates to make, all legally required filings as promptly as practicable in order to facilitate prompt consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements, (ii) use reasonable best efforts to provide, and Buyer Parent and Seller shall cause their respective Affiliates to use reasonable best efforts to provide (and Buyer Parent shall cause each Control Investor to use reasonable best efforts to provide), such non-privileged information and documents to Governmental Entities as such Governmental Entities may request, (iii) use reasonable best efforts to take, and Buyer Parent and Seller shall cause their respective Affiliates to use reasonable best efforts to take, such actions as may be required or requested by any applicable Governmental Entities or as may otherwise be necessary in order to obtain the approvals of such Governmental Entities and (iv) consent to and comply with any condition imposed by any Governmental Entity on its grant of any such permit, order, consent, approval or authorization other than any such condition that would constitute a Burdensome Condition. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, and subject to the Resolution Process, none of Seller, Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent nor any Control Investor shall be obligated to take or refrain from taking or to agree to it, its Affiliates or any of the Acquired Companies taking or refraining from taking any action, if taking or refraining from taking such action, as applicable, would, or to suffer to exist any condition, limitation, restriction or requirement that would, constitute a Burdensome Condition with respect to Seller (in the case of clause (i) of the definition of Burdensome Condition) or Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent (in the case of clause (ii) of the definition of Burdensome Condition). Each of the parties shall provide (and Buyer Parent shall cause each Control Investor to provide) to the other party copies of all applications or other material written communications to Governmental Entities in connection with this Agreement in advance of the filing or submission thereof; provided, that no party shall be required to disclose to the other party, any of its or its Affiliates' or any Control Investor's confidential or competitively sensitive information or any personally identifiable information or non-public information of their respective officers, directors or other applicable individuals. Prior to any party being entitled to assert that a Burdensome Condition has been imposed, such party shall follow the Resolution Process.. For the avoidance of doubt, any reasonable steps a party agrees to take through the Resolution Process for the mitigation of any potential Burdensome Conditions shall not themselves constitute a Burdensome Condition hereunder, but shall be taken into account in determining whether any condition, limitation or qualification constitutes a Burdensome Condition hereunder.

(i) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, (A) as promptly as practicable and in any event within thirty (30) Business Days after the date hereof, (I) Buyer Parent shall, and shall cause each Control Investor to file a "Form A" change of control application with the Iowa Insurance Division with respect to the acquisition of the Shares at the Closing as contemplated by this Agreement, (II) Buyer Parent and, solely with respect to the Reinsurer Parties, Reinsurer Parent shall, and Buyer Parent shall cause it Affiliates to, file with all applicable Insurance Regulators all other requests for approval of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements that may be required to be obtained by it, respectively, prior to the Closing; and (III) Seller shall file, and cause its applicable Affiliates to file, with all applicable Insurance Regulators all requests for approval of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements that may be required to be obtained by it in connection with the entry into the Transaction Agreements or the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby; and (B) promptly following the time at which the filing required by clause (i)(A)(I) above has been made, Seller shall cause the Company to file with the Iowa Insurance Division requests for approval of the Pre-Closing Dividend. Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall, and Reinsurer Parent shall cause Reinsurer to, use reasonable best efforts in cooperating with Seller to obtain the approval of the Pre-Closing Dividend from the Iowa Insurance Division. A reasonable time prior to furnishing any written materials to any Insurance Regulator in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements, each party shall furnish the other parties with a copy thereof, and such other parties shall have a reasonable opportunity to provide comments thereon; provided, that no party shall be required to disclose to the other parties any of its, its Affiliates' or any Control Investor's confidential, competitively sensitive information or any personally identifiable information of their respective officers, directors or other applicable individuals. Each party shall give to the other parties prompt written notice if it receives any notice or other communication from any Insurance Regulator in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements, and, in the case of any such notice or communication which is in writing, shall promptly furnish the other parties with a copy thereof. If any Insurance Regulator requires that a hearing be held in connection with any such approval, each party shall use its reasonable best efforts to arrange for such hearing to be held as promptly as practicable after the notice that such hearing is required has been received by such party. Each party shall give to the other parties reasonable prior written notice of the time and place when any meetings, telephone calls or other conferences may be held by it with any Insurance Regulator in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements, and, to the extent permitted by the applicable Insurance Regulator, the other parties shall have the right to have a representative or representatives attend or otherwise participate in any such meeting, telephone call or other conference (other than a telephone call initiated by such Insurance Regulator and not scheduled in advance). Subject to Section 5.4(a), Buyer Parent shall cause the Control Investors to furnish any non-privileged information, representations, certifications, applications, affidavits, forms and other documents, make any filings and to take such other actions, in each case that may be required under Applicable Law or that otherwise may be requested or required by any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the other Transaction Agreements, including as necessary to complete and make any regulatory filing in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby. Buyer Parent acknowledges and agrees that any breach by any Control Investor of the provisions of this Section 5.4 will be deemed to be a breach by Buyer Parent hereunder; provided, however, that any such breach will be deemed to be cured if, within twenty (20) Business Days of receiving written notice of such breach, the amount of voting equity for which such Control Investor is entitled to subscribe is reduced such that the Control Investor is no longer a Control Investor and Buyer Parent and each of the other Control Investors have updated each applicable "Form A" change of control application to reflect such change. To the extent the Pre-Closing Dividend results in the Company's unassigned surplus being less than zero dollars ($0), the parties acknowledge and agree that Buyer Parent may make an application with the Iowa Insurance Division for a restatement of the Company's gross paid-in and contributed surplus and unassigned funds (surplus) under a quasi-reorganization in accordance with the Statement of Statutory Accounting Principles No. 72 to become effective as of or immediately following the Closing, such that the Company's unassigned funds (surplus) immediately following the Closing will be equal to zero dollars ($0); provided that the receipt of approval with respect to such application will not be a condition to any party's obligations under this Agreement.

(ii) Seller shall file or cause to be filed as soon as reasonably practicable (and, in any event, with respect to the FINRA CMA (as defined below)), within thirty (30) Business Days after the date of this Agreement an application for approval of a change in ownership or control of the Company under NASD Rule 1017 with FINRA (the "FINRA CMA") and any notice or other filing with any applicable State securities authority. Subject to the provisions of this Section 5.4, each Party shall, as promptly as practicable, supply any information or documentary material that may be requested by the other Party to complete any such application or filing, including with respect to any inquiries or requests for additional information or documents made by FINRA or an applicable State securities authority. Without the prior written consent of Buyer Parent, neither Seller nor DSL shall agree to any material restriction to be imposed by FINRA as conditions to the FINRA approval, including, without limitation, any requirement to maintain an amount of regulatory capital in excess of the amount of regulatory capital required under Rule 15c3-1 of the Exchange Act as of the date hereof. Prior to filing the FINRA CMA and any other materials or documents with FINRA, and prior to making or filing with a State securities authority, Seller shall provide Buyer Parent with a reasonable opportunity (not less than three (3) Business Days) to review and comment on such FINRA CMA, materials, documents or filings.

(iii) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, following the date hereof, Buyer Parent and each Control Investor shall be permitted to update each applicable "Form A" change of control application to reflect circumstances arising after the date hereof that result in any Other Investor ceasing to be a Control Investor, regardless of whether Seller has provided notice to Buyer Parent that any Control Investor is in breach of its obligations pursuant to Section 5.4(b)(ii). Buyer Parent shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, enter into any agreement or arrangement with any Person other than the Sponsors, Crestview or Reverence pursuant to which any Person other the Sponsors, Crestview or Reverence, or any of their Affiliates, would become a Control Person at or in connection with the Closing.

(iv) As promptly as practicable and in any event within thirty (30) Business Days after the date hereof, Buyer Parent and Seller shall file a Notification and Report Form pursuant to the HSR Act with respect to the acquisition by Buyer of the Shares, the DSL Interests and the equity of Services Company contemplated by this Agreement. Buyer Parent shall bear full responsibility for the filing fees associated with such HSR Act filing.

(c) Third Party Consents.

(i) Prior to the Closing, except as otherwise agreed by the parties, each party shall cooperate with the other and use reasonable best efforts to obtain the consents, waivers and approvals of Third Parties (other than Governmental Entities) that are necessary in order to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including those set forth in Schedule 5.4(c).

(ii) To the extent that any Allocated Asset or Allocated Contract may not be transferred or assigned to Buyer Parent or an Acquired Company without a third-party consent that has not been obtained by the Closing, this Agreement shall not constitute an agreement to transfer or assign the same, if an attempted transfer or assignment would constitute a breach or other contravention thereof or would be ineffective or unlawful.

(iii) If, on the Closing Date, any third-party consent required to effect the transfer of any Allocated Asset or Allocated Contract to Buyer or an Acquired Company has not been obtained, or if an attempted transfer or assignment of any Allocated Asset or Allocated Contract would be ineffective or unlawful, then the parties shall cooperate with each other to reach a mutually agreeable arrangement under which (A) Buyer or an Acquired Company would, in compliance with Applicable Law and, subject to and without limiting Section 5.24, obtain the benefits, assume the obligations, make all payments and otherwise bear the economic burdens associated with such Allocated Asset or Allocated Contract in accordance with this Agreement, including Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Acquired Companies and including that Buyer Parent shall indemnify the Seller Indemnified Persons for any and all Liabilities arising out of or resulting from any action or omission by Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates before the Closing Date with respect to such Allocated Asset or Allocate Contract) subcontracting, sublicensing or subleasing to Buyer Parent or an Acquired Company, and (B) Seller would, and would cause its applicable Affiliates to, enforce for the benefit (and at the expense) of Buyer Parent and the Acquired Companies, as applicable, any and all of their respective rights against any third party associated with such Allocated Asset or Allocated Contract, and pay, or cause its Affiliates to pay, to Buyer Parent all monies actually received by Seller or any of its Affiliates in respect of such Allocated Asset or Allocated Contract.

(iv) Subject to Section 5.4(c)(i), from and after the Closing Date, the parties shall continue to use reasonable best efforts to obtain, as promptly as practicable, any such third-party consent required to effect the transfer of any Allocated Asset or Allocated Contract to Buyer or an Acquired Company that have not been obtained as of the Closing Date.

SECTION 5.5 Public Announcements. Each of Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent and Seller, and their respective Affiliates, shall consult with each other before issuing, and provide each other the opportunity to review and comment upon, any press release or other public statement with respect to the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements (including regarding (a) its plans relating to employees, Producers or other third parties or with respect to the funding or operation of the Business or (b) any terms or conditions of any Transaction Agreement) and shall not issue any such press release or make any such public statement with respect to such matters without the advance approval of the other party following such consultation (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed), except as may be required by Applicable Law or by the requirements of any securities exchange; provided, that, in the event that any party is required under Applicable Law or the requirements of any securities exchange to issue any such press release or make any public statement and it is not reasonably practicable to obtain the advance approval of the other parties hereto as required by this Section 5.5, the party that issues such press release or makes such statement shall provide the other parties with notice and a copy of such press release or statement as soon as reasonably practicable.

SECTION 5.6 Related Party Agreements; Intercompany Obligations. Except as set forth in Section 5.6 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, take all actions as may be necessary (including executing one or more instruments evidencing such termination and releases, in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Buyer) prior to the Closing to terminate all Intercompany Agreements and Affiliate Agreements and Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, cause all intercompany Liabilities (excluding the Surplus Notes), owing by any Acquired Company to Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than any Acquired Company) to be paid in full and settled immediately in cash prior to the Closing.

SECTION 5.7 Use of Names; Cross-License.

(a) At or prior to the Closing, each Acquired Company shall transfer any and all right, title or interest, including all associated goodwill, which it may have in or to the Trademarks set forth in Section 5.7(a) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, any translations or derivations thereof, and any name or Trademark confusingly similar thereto (collectively, the "Seller Trademarks"), or any Internet domain name containing all or a portion of a Seller Trademark or set forth in Section 5.7(a) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule, at Seller's reasonable request and expense, to Seller or as Seller may direct.

(b) Except as provided in the Transaction Agreements, promptly following the Closing (but no later than ninety (90) days following Closing), Buyer Parent shall cause Buyer Parent and the Acquired Companies to, (i) cease and discontinue any and all uses of the Seller Trademarks, (ii) remove, destroy or irrevocably strike over the labeling, stationery, forms, supplies, displays, advertising and promotional materials, manuals, and other materials existing as of the Closing that bear any Seller Trademarks, and (iii) remove all Seller Trademarks from all assets, websites, email and other online materials and from all signage and other displays. All goodwill associated with the use by Buyer of the Seller Trademarks shall inure to the benefit of Seller. Neither Buyer Parent nor any of its Affiliates shall seek to register in any jurisdiction any trade, corporate or business name, Trademark or other name or source identifier that is a derivation, translation, adaptation, combination or variation of, or confusingly similar to, the Seller Trademarks. Buyer Parent may at all times after the Closing Date retain and use, solely for Buyer Parent's internal business purposes, records and other historical or archived documents containing or referencing the Seller Trademarks.

(c) Effective as of the Closing Date, with respect to any Excluded Intellectual Property used in the Business during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the date hereof, except to the extent that such Excluded Intellectual Property is, at any time, provided and/or made available to Buyer or any of its Affiliates as part of any of the Administrative Services Agreements and/or Transition Services Agreement, Seller does hereby, and shall cause its Affiliates to, grant to Buyer Parent and its Affiliates a perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide, non-terminable, non-sublicensable (except as set forth within Section 5.7(e)), non-transferable (except as set forth within Section 5.7(f)), non-exclusive, royalty-free, fully paid-up license fully to make, have made, use, sell, offer to sell, import, provide, commercialize, practice, copy, perform, display, render, develop, create derivative works from and otherwise exploit such Excluded Intellectual Property solely in substantially the same manner and scope such Excluded Intellectual Property was used in connection with the Business as conducted during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the date hereof, including any natural improvements and extensions to the Business, which license shall survive any transfer, whether in whole or in part, of any such licensed Excluded Intellectual Property. At any time until twelve (12) months after the Closing Date, Buyer Parent may request, and Seller shall provide, one (1) copy of any Ancillary Excluded Software included in the Excluded Intellectual Property, including documentation and source code that is reasonably available, that (i) is subject to the license granted to Buyer Parent under this Section 5.7(c); (ii) has not already been provided to Buyer Parent and (iii) is not otherwise in the possession of Buyer Parent or its Affiliates. Buyer Parent shall, and shall cause its Affiliates, to use commercially reasonable efforts to maintain any Trade Secrets contained within such licensed Excluded Intellectual Property as confidential, including refraining from disclosing such Trade Secrets to any other Person who is not bound by obligations of confidentiality other than pursuant to reasonable confidentiality terms (including in connection with sublicenses). Any improvements or modifications to, or derivative works of, such licensed Excluded Intellectual Property made by or on behalf of Buyer Parent or its Affiliates shall be owned by Buyer Parent and its Affiliates.

(d) Effective as of the Closing Date, with respect to any Licensed-Back Intellectual Property, Buyer Parent does hereby, and shall cause its Affiliates to, grant to Seller and its Affiliates a perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide, non-terminable, non-sublicensable (except as set forth within Section 5.7(e)), non-transferable (except as set forth within Section 5.7(f)), non-exclusive, royalty-free, fully paid-up license fully to make, have made, use, sell, offer to sell, import, provide, commercialize, practice, copy, perform, display, render, develop, create derivative works from and otherwise exploit such Licensed-Back Intellectual Property solely in substantially the same manner and scope such Licensed-Back Intellectual Property was used in connection with the operation of the Excluded Business as conducted using the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the date hereof, including any natural improvements and extensions, specifically excluding the Business, which license shall survive any transfer, whether in whole or in part, of any such Licensed-Back Intellectual Property. At any time until twelve (12) months after the Closing Date, Seller may request, and Buyer Parent shall provide, one (1) copy of any Ancillary Licensed-Back Software included in the Licensed-Back Intellectual Property, including documentation and source code that is reasonably available, that (i) is subject to the license granted to Seller under this Section 5.7(d); (ii) has not already been provided to Seller; and (iii) is not otherwise in the possession of Buyer Parent or its Affiliates. Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates, to use commercially reasonable efforts to maintain any Trade Secrets contained within the Licensed-Back Intellectual Property as confidential, including refraining from disclosing such Trade Secrets to any other Person who is not bound by obligations of confidentiality other than pursuant to reasonable confidentiality terms (including in connection with sublicenses). Any improvements or modifications to, or derivative works of, such Licensed-Back Intellectual Property made by or on behalf of Seller or its Affiliates shall be owned by Seller and its Affiliates.

(e) A party may sublicense the rights contained within Sections 5.7(c) and (d), as applicable, without prior written consent of the other party only to any of their respective suppliers, contractors, consultants or representatives for the purpose of providing products and services to or otherwise acting on behalf of and at the direction of such party or its Affiliates and in any event in a manner consistent with how such party sublicenses its own comparable Intellectual Property.

(f) No party may assign the rights contained within Sections 5.7(c) and (d), as applicable, without the prior written consent of the other party, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed; provided, that either party may assign or transfer such rights in whole or in part without the prior written consent of the other party in connection with any merger, public offering, consolidation, reorganization, or sale of any divisions, businesses, operating units or portion of such party or its respective Affiliates or substantially all of the assets related to any such division, business, operating unit or portion.

SECTION 5.8 Further Assurances. Seller shall and Buyer Parent shall cause Buyer to, and each shall cause their respective Affiliates to, use their reasonable best efforts to (i) execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered, such documents, certificates, agreements and other writings and shall, subject to Section 5.4(a), take, or shall cause to be taken, such further actions as may be reasonably required or requested by any party to carry out the provisions of the Transaction Agreements and consummate or implement expeditiously the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements and (ii) shall, subject to Section 5.4(a) and Section 5.1(d), refrain from taking any actions that could reasonably be expected to impair, delay or impede the Closing.

SECTION 5.9 Access to Books and Records.

(a) Until the seventh anniversary of the Closing (provided, that Buyer Parent shall cause Buyer to give thirty (30) days' notice to Seller prior to destroying any records to permit Seller, at its expense, to examine, duplicate or repossess such books and records), Buyer Parent shall (i) afford reasonably promptly to Seller and its Representatives reasonable access, during normal business hours, to the Acquired Company Books and Records, (ii) make available to Seller and its Representatives the officers, employees and auditors of the Acquired Companies and (iii) provide to Seller and its Representatives such additional information with respect to the Acquired Companies as is reasonably requested by Seller or such Representatives, in each case set forth in clause (i), (ii) or (iii) of this Section 5.9(a), to the extent relating to periods prior to the Closing Date and reasonably required by Seller for any litigation or disputes (except litigation or disputes involving Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent or any of their Affiliates), compliance, financial reporting (including financial audits of historical information), loss reporting, regulatory, Tax and accounting matters (including for any such matters related to the Transition Services Agreement) arising before the Closing Date, and Buyer Parent shall reasonably cooperate with Seller and its Representatives to furnish such Acquired Company Books and Records and information and make available such officers, employees and auditors of the Acquired Companies; provided, that (A) such access, making available of officers, employees and auditors and provision of information does not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of the business of any of Buyer Parent, Reinsurer, Reinsurer Parent or the Acquired Companies and is at Seller's expense, (B) such Acquired Company Books and Records and information are not subject to an attorney-client or other legal privilege that in the reasonable opinion of counsel to Buyer Parent would be impaired by such access, (C) prior to affording any such access, making available any such officer, employee or auditor or providing any such information, Buyer Parent may require that Seller and its applicable Representatives agree to customary confidentiality undertakings with respect to any non-public information received pursuant to this Section 5.9(a) and (D) no auditors of the Acquired Companies will be obligated to make any work papers available to Seller or any of its Representatives unless and until Seller or such Representative has signed a customary agreement relating to such access to work papers in form and substance reasonably acceptable to such auditors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of any inconsistency between this Section 5.9(a) and Section 8.4, Section 8.4 shall control with respect to access to records relating to Taxes.

(b) Until the seventh anniversary of the Closing (provided, that Seller shall give thirty (30) days' notice to Buyer Parent prior to destroying any records to permit Buyer Parent, at its expense, to examine, duplicate or repossess such books and records), Seller shall (i) afford reasonably promptly to Buyer Parent and its Representatives reasonable access, during normal business hours, to the books and records of Seller and its Affiliates relating to the Acquired Companies (after giving effect to the Pre-Sale Transactions), the Allocated Assets and the Allocated Liabilities, (ii) make available to Buyer Parent and its Representatives the officers, employees and auditors of Seller and its Affiliates and (iii) provide to Buyer Parent and its Representatives such additional information with respect to the Acquired Companies (after giving effect to the Pre-Sale Transactions), the Allocated Assets and the Allocated Liabilities as is reasonably requested by Buyer or such Representatives, in each case set forth in clause (i), (ii) or (iii) of this Section 5.9(b), to the extent relating to the Acquired Companies (after giving effect to the Pre-Sale Transactions), the Allocated Assets and the Allocated Liabilities and reasonably required by Buyer for any litigation or disputes (except litigation or disputes involving Seller or any of its Affiliates), compliance, financial reporting (including financial audits of historical information), loss reporting, regulatory, Tax and accounting matters (including for any such matters related to the Transition Services Agreement), and Seller shall reasonably cooperate fully with Buyer Parent and its Representatives to furnish such information and make available such officers, employees and auditors of Seller or its Affiliates; provided, that (A) such access, making available of officers, employees and auditors and provision of information does not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of the business of any of Seller or its Affiliates and is at Buyer Parent's expense, (B) such books and records and information are not subject to an attorney-client or other legal privilege that in the reasonable opinion of counsel to Seller would be impaired by such access, (C) prior to affording any such access, making available any such officer, employee or auditor or providing any such information, Seller may require that Buyer Parent and its applicable Representatives agree to customary confidentiality undertakings with respect to any non-public information received pursuant to this Section 5.9(b) and (D) no auditors of Seller or its Affiliates will be obligated to make any work papers available to Buyer Parent or any of its Representatives unless and until Buyer Parent or such Representative has signed a customary agreement relating to such access to work papers in form and substance reasonably acceptable to such auditors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of any inconsistency between this Section 5.9(b) and Section 8.4, Section 8.4 shall control with respect to access to records relating to Taxes. For the avoidance of doubt, any costs incurred by Seller and its Affiliates in responding to a request for books and records under this Section 5.9(b) for Acquired Company Books and Records that were not previously provided as a result of a breach by Seller of its obligations under Section 5.2(b), shall be borne solely by Seller.

SECTION 5.10 D&O Liabilities. For a period of six (6) years after the Closing Date, Buyer Parent shall not, and shall cause the Acquired Companies not to, take any steps that would reasonably be expected to affect adversely the rights of any individual who served as a director or officer of any of the Acquired Companies at any time prior to the Closing Date (each, a "D&O Indemnified Person") to be indemnified, either under Applicable Law (to the extent not inconsistent with the Organizational Documents) or the terms of the Organizational Documents of the Acquired Companies as they existed immediately prior to the date of this Agreement, against any costs or expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses of investigation, defense and ongoing monitoring), judgments, penalties, fines, losses, charges, demands, actions, suits, proceedings, settlements, assessments, deficiencies, Taxes, interest, obligations, damages, Liabilities or amounts paid in settlement incurred in connection with any claim, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising out of or pertaining to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Closing Date and relating to the fact that the D&O Indemnified Person was a director or officer of the Acquired Companies, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Closing Date.

SECTION 5.11 Non-Solicitation and Non-Hire.

(a) For a period of 24 months following the Closing Date, without the prior written consent of Buyer Parent, neither Seller nor any of its Subsidiaries shall, whether directly or indirectly, solicit for employment (or engagement as an independent contractor) the services of any Covered Employee; provided, that nothing in this Section 5.11(a) shall prohibit Seller or any of its Subsidiaries from engaging in general solicitations not directed at such Persons or from soliciting the services of any such Person whose employment with or engagement by Buyer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries (including the Acquired Companies) has been involuntarily terminated by Buyer Parent or its applicable Subsidiary (whether for cause, due to position elimination or otherwise) at any time or who has voluntarily ceased to be employed or engaged by Buyer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries (including the Acquired Companies) for a period of at least six months prior to the first contact by Seller or any of its Subsidiaries with such Person.

(b) For a period of 24 months following the Closing Date, without the prior written consent of Seller, neither Buyer Parent nor Reinsurer Parent, nor any of their respective Subsidiaries, shall, whether directly or indirectly, solicit for employment (or engagement as an independent contractor) the services of any Person who is employed by Seller or any of its Subsidiaries as of the Closing Date, other than any Business Employee or Available Employee; provided, that nothing in this Section 5.11(b) shall prohibit Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent or any of their respective Subsidiaries (including the Acquired Companies) from engaging in general solicitations not directed at such Persons or from soliciting the services of any such Person whose employment with or engagement by Seller and its Subsidiaries has been involuntarily terminated by Seller or its applicable Subsidiary (whether for cause, due to position elimination or otherwise) or who has otherwise voluntarily ceased to be employed or engaged by Seller or any of its Subsidiaries for a period of at least six months prior to the first contact by Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent or any of their respective Subsidiaries with such Person.

(c) For a period of 12 months following the Closing Date, without the prior consent of Buyer Parent, neither Seller nor any of its Subsidiaries shall hire or otherwise employ or engage any Designated Employee.

(d) Buyer Parent shall not, and shall not permit any of its Affiliates (including, without limitation, Reinsurer Parent and its Affiliates) to, without the prior written consent of Seller, hire or otherwise employ or engage any Available Employee who does not become an Additional Transferring Employee during the 12 month period immediately following the Closing Date, unless, prior to such hire or engagement, Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent or one of their respective Affiliates reimburses Seller and its Affiliates for any and all severance costs and benefits (including, without limitation, any amounts paid or benefits provided to such Available Employee during any period following the delivery of a notice pursuant to the WARN Act to the extent that such notice under the WARN Act was required solely by virtue of Seller's or its Affiliate's lay off of Available Employees, but excluding all amounts paid prior to the Closing) in respect of such Available Employee.

SECTION 5.12 Employee Matters.

(a) Transfer of Employment. Immediately prior to the Closing, Seller shall, and shall cause its applicable Affiliates to, (i) cause the employment of each employee of the Company or DSL and all Liability associated thereto (to the extent not related to the Business) to each such employee to transfer to Seller or one of its Affiliates (except as contemplated by clause (ii) of this sentence, other than an Acquired Company), and (ii) cause the employment of each Covered Employee (but no Liabilities) to transfer to Services Company. Seller shall identify all initial Qualified Employees and Select Advantage Employees and all Available Employees to Buyer as soon as possible after the date hereof, but in no event later than February 28, 2018. Seller covenants that the employee of Seller and its Affiliates identified by Seller to serve in each Qualified Role will have the seniority, experience and functional expertise to fill such Qualified Role. Seller shall use commercially reasonable efforts to ensure that the Covered Employees include individuals identified by Seller and consented to by Buyer Designee (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) to serve in all Qualified Roles. Seller shall provide Buyer and Reinsurer Parent with reasonable access at such times as are mutually agreeable to Seller and Buyer and Reinsurer Parent to the Available Employees and individuals identified as expected Qualified Employees (provided that Reinsurer Parent shall only have access to Available Employees who are not Qualified Employees or Designated Employee) between the date of this Agreement and the Closing Date to permit Buyer to perform any reasonable diligence necessary to evaluate such Available Employee for inclusion, as applicable, as an Additional Transferring Employee (or, with respect to Reinsurer Parent, an offer of employment) or a Qualified Employee. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, Buyer may, in its reasonable good faith discretion, exclude up to thirty Qualified Roles from the positions with respect to which Seller may or shall transfer individuals to Service Company pursuant to the first sentence of this Section

5.12(a) (any such Qualified Roles that Buyer excludes, an "Excluded Role"). Unless otherwise consented to by Seller, Buyer shall identify all "Additional Transferring Employees" to Seller as soon as reasonably practical after Seller identifies the Available Employees to Buyer, but in all events no later than April 1, 2018. Seller shall waive any noncompetition, non-solicitation, confidentiality and any other restrictions to the extent such restrictions would otherwise limit the scope of any Covered Employee's services to Buyer Parent's Subsidiaries (including, after the Closing, the Acquired Companies). In the event that any Inactive Employee becomes eligible to return to active employment within 180 days immediately following the Closing Date, Buyer Parent shall cause a Subsidiary to offer employment (on terms and conditions consistent with Buyer Parent's obligations pursuant to Sections 5.12(b) and (c) below) to such Inactive Employee commencing on the date on which such Inactive Employee is first eligible to return to active employment and, if such Inactive Employee accepts an offer of employment from a Subsidiary of Buyer Parent, such Inactive Employee shall be considered a Covered Employee for all purposes pursuant to this Agreement.

(b) Terms and Conditions of Employment. For a period of 12 months from and after the Closing Date (the "Covered Period"), Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries to provide to each Covered Employee who continues to be employed by an Acquired Company or one of Buyer Parent's Subsidiaries: (i) a base salary or hourly wage rate, as applicable, that is no less than the base salary or hourly wage rate, as applicable, provided to such Covered Employee by Seller and its Affiliates immediately prior to the Closing, (ii) annual cash incentive compensation opportunities that are no less favorable to the Covered Employee than the annual cash incentive compensation opportunities in effect for such Covered Employee immediately prior to the Closing, (iii) total compensation opportunities (including annual base salary or hourly wage rate, annual cash incentive compensation opportunities and long-term incentive compensation opportunities) of equivalent value to the total compensation opportunities (including, without limitation, the value of any incentive compensation opportunities that are provided in the form of equity or equity-based awards) provided to such Covered Employee immediately prior to the Closing Date; and (iv) employee benefits that, in the aggregate, are of substantially equivalent value to each such Covered Employee to those in effect for such Covered Employee immediately prior to the Closing Date and as set forth on Section 3.9(a) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule (other than defined benefit pension benefits, retiree health, retiree life or other retiree welfare benefits, nonqualified deferred compensation benefits or equity or equity-based compensation); provided, however, that, Buyer Parent shall be deemed to not be in breach of its obligations under this clause (iv) to the extent it uses commercially reasonable efforts to procure benefits of equivalent value but is not able to do so because equivalent benefits are not available on commercially reasonable terms to an employer group of comparable size to the Buyer and its Subsidiaries and it actually provides the maximum available benefits that its commercially reasonable efforts are able to procure on commercially reasonable terms. For the avoidance of doubt, Seller's employee stock purchase plan shall not be taken into account for purposes of this Section 5.12(b). Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent any Covered Employee accepts an offer of employment from Reinsurer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, Reinsurer Parent or such Subsidiary shall not be required to provide compensation and benefits consistent with the provisions of this Section 5.12; provided, however, that any Covered Employee who receives an offer of employment from Reinsurer Parent or any Subsidiary thereof (other than Buyer and its Subsidiaries) and rejects such offer and whose employment is subsequently terminated by Buyer or one of its Subsidiaries (including an Acquired Company) shall remain eligible for the severance pay and benefits described in this Section 5.12(b) (to the extent he or she otherwise qualifies for such benefits). Buyer Parent's obligations under this paragraph are expressly conditioned on Seller providing to Buyer all information reasonably necessary for Buyer Parent to comply with the obligations set forth in this Section 5.12(b) within a reasonable time following receipt of a reasonable written request from Buyer.

(c) Termination of Employment; Severance. The employment of all Covered Employees shall remain "at-will" after the Closing Date, subject only to any duly executed written employment agreement with a specific Covered Employee (if any). Without limiting the generality of Section 5.12(b) above, Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries to provide severance pay and benefits to any Covered Employee whose employment is terminated during the Covered Period for any reason pursuant to which such Covered Employee would have been eligible for severance pay or benefits pursuant to the severance policies described on Section 5.12(c) of the Seller Disclosure Schedule (the "Seller Severance Policies") had such termination occurred immediately prior to the Closing on terms and in amounts that are no less favorable than as set forth in the Seller Severance Policies, in each case, subject to the terminated Covered Employee's prompt execution of a general release of claims in favor or Buyer Parent and its Affiliates in a form reasonably acceptable to Buyer. Buyer Parent's obligations under this paragraph are expressly conditioned on Seller providing to Buyer all information reasonably necessary for Buyer Parent to comply with the obligations set forth in this Section 5.12(c) within a reasonable time following receipt of a reasonable written request from Buyer. To the extent Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries terminates the employment of any Qualified Employee during the six (6) month period immediately following the Closing, Seller shall pay to Buyer an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the severance pay and benefits payable by Acquired Company or its Subsidiaries with respect to such Qualified Employees pursuant to this Section 5.12(c); provided, however, that Seller shall not be required to make payments to cover severance pay and benefits to more than the difference between (i) thirty (30) Qualified Employees less (ii) the number of Excluded Roles.

(d) Credit for Service. On and after the Closing Date, Buyer Parent shall cause to be provided to each Covered Employee under each employee benefit plan maintained or contributed to by Buyer or any Subsidiary of Buyer (collectively, the "Buyer Benefit Plans") credit for purposes of eligibility to participate, vesting and level of benefits (including any welfare plan, retirement plan, vacation program or severance program but not for purposes of determining benefit accruals under a defined benefit plan) for full and partial years of service with Seller or its Affiliates (including the Acquired Companies and any of their respective predecessors) performed at any time prior to the Closing Date to the extent such service was taken into account under the analogous Employee Benefit Plan immediately prior to the Closing Date; provided, however, that no such prior service shall be taken into account to the extent it would result in the duplication of benefits.

(e) Preexisting Conditions, Exclusions and Waiting Periods; Deductibles. Buyer Parent shall cause the Acquired Companies and its Affiliates to as applicable: (i) waive or cause to be waived all limitations as to preexisting conditions, exclusions and waiting periods or required physical examinations with respect to participation and coverage requirements applicable to Covered Employees and their eligible dependents under any health, medical, disability and life insurance plans of Buyer, the Acquired Companies or one of their Subsidiaries, other than limitations or waiting periods that are already in effect with respect to such Covered Employees and that have not been satisfied as of the Closing Date; (ii) waive or cause to be waived all limitations as to preexisting conditions, exclusions and waiting periods with respect to participation and coverage requirements applicable to Covered Employees and their eligible dependents under any other Buyer Benefit Plans; and (iii) provide each Covered Employee with credit for any co-payments and deductibles paid by such Covered Employee and his or her respective dependents prior to the Closing Date and in the same plan year as that in which the Closing Date occurs for purposes of satisfying any applicable deductible or out-of-pocket requirements under the analogous Buyer Benefit Plan for its plan year in which the Closing Date occurs. As a condition to Buyer Parent's obligation under the preceding sentence, Seller shall provide Buyer or its designee all information reasonably requested and necessary to allow it to comply with such obligation.

(f) Vacation/PTO. Seller and its Affiliates shall pay out all accrued but unused vacation benefits and other paid time off as of the Closing Date to Covered Employees so that every Covered Employee has a zero balance of any such vacation benefits or other paid time off in the manner and timing required by Applicable Law as soon as administratively practicable following the Closing Date.

(g) COBRA. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Agreement, Buyer Parent shall cause the Acquired Companies or its Subsidiaries to be responsible and liable for providing, or continuing to provide, health care continuation coverage as required under COBRA with respect to any Covered Employee who experiences a COBRA "qualifying event" after the Closing Date.

(h) WARN. If a plant closing or a mass layoff occurs or is deemed to occur with respect to an Acquired Company at any time on or after the Closing, Buyer shall be solely responsible for providing all notices required under the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. Section 2109 et seq. or the regulations promulgated thereunder or any similar state laws (collectively, the "WARN Act") and for taking all remedial measures, including the payment of all amounts, penalties, Liabilities, costs and expenses if such notices are not provided. Seller agrees to identify for Buyer, within five (5) business days following the Closing Date, (i) each Affiliate of Seller from which any Covered Employee was transferred pursuant to Section 5.12(a), (ii) the number of employment losses of any employee that took place at such Affiliate in 90 days preceding the Closing at any single site of employment (within the meaning ascribed to such term in the WARN Act) at which a Covered Employee was employed at any time within 90 days prior to the Closing; (iii) for each employment loss that is identified in clause (ii) above, the physical location of the employment site; and (iv) the date of such employment loss.

(i) Tax-Qualified Plans. Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries to maintain or establish, a defined contribution plan that is intended to be tax-qualified ("Buyer's DC Plan") and in which the Covered Employees shall be eligible to participate as of the Closing Date, subject to satisfaction of eligibility provisions and after taking into account Section 5.12(d). Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries shall cause Buyer's DC Plan to accept any "eligible rollover distribution" (as defined in Section 402(c)(4) of the Code) elected by a Covered Employee from a tax-qualified plan maintained by Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Acquired Companies) (to the extent consisting of cash or notes relating to plan participant loans) in a direct rollover to Buyer's DC Plan. In the case of any portion of any such rollover amount that consists of a promissory note relating to a plan participant loan, Seller, Buyer and the Acquired Companies shall cooperate with each other and use reasonable best efforts to enable such direct rollovers to occur before such loans default.

(j) Cafeteria Plans. Effective as of the Closing Date, Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries to establish and maintain, a flexible spending reimbursement account under a cafeteria plan that is intended to meet the requirements of Section 125 of the Code (the "Company Cafeteria Plan") in which Covered Employees can participate. Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries to allow Covered Employees who participated as of the Closing Date (collectively, the "Cafeteria Plan Participants") in an Employee Benefit Plan that is intended to meet the requirements of Section 125 of the Code (a "Seller Cafeteria Plan") to participate in the Company Cafeteria Plan effective as of the Closing Date. During the period from the Closing Date until the last day of the plan year of the Seller Cafeteria Plan that commenced immediately prior to the Closing Date, Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of its Subsidiaries to continue, the salary reduction elections made by the Cafeteria Plan Participants as in effect as of the Closing Date (adjusted, to the extent necessary, to take into account any changes to applicable premiums related to any Buyer Benefit Plan) and allow each Cafeteria Plan Participant to receive reimbursement from such participant's flexible spending reimbursement account under the Company Cafeteria Plan on the same terms and conditions as would have been applicable to such participant as if such Cafeteria Plan Participant were employed by Seller or one of its Affiliates following the Closing during such period and continued to participate in a Seller Cafeteria Plan. As of the Closing Date, (i) if the aggregate accumulated contributions to the flexible spending reimbursement accounts made by Cafeteria Plan Participants prior to the Closing during the year in which the Closing occurs exceeds the aggregate reimbursement amounts paid to Cafeteria Plan Participants for such year from such accounts, Seller shall transfer, or cause an Affiliate to transfer, to Buyer, an Acquired Company or one of Buyer's Subsidiaries, as applicable, an amount equal to such excess as soon as practicable following the Closing Date and (ii) if the aggregate reimbursement amounts paid to Cafeteria Plan Participants for such year from the flexible spending reimbursement accounts made by Cafeteria Plan Participants exceed the aggregate accumulated contributions to such accounts prior to the Closing during the year in which the Closing occurs, Buyer Parent shall cause a Subsidiary to transfer, to Seller an amount equal to such excess as soon as practicable following the Closing Date. As of the Closing Date, Buyer Parent shall cause an Acquired Company or one of Buyer's Subsidiaries to assume and be solely responsible for all unreimbursed claims made by the Cafeteria Plan Participants under each Seller Cafeteria Plan that were incurred for the plan year of the Seller Cafeteria Plan that commenced prior to the Closing Date, or that are incurred anytime thereafter.

(k) Deferred Compensation Assumption. Prior to the Closing, Buyer Parent shall cause a Subsidiary to establish deferred compensation plans that are substantially identical with respect to time and form of payment provisions (but not, for the avoidance of doubt, benefit accrual or administrative provisions) to the Seller Deferred Compensation Plans (such new plans being, the "Buyer Deferred Compensation Plans") and, effective as of the Closing, the Buyer Deferred Compensation Plan shall assume from the Seller Deferred Compensation Plans (and thereafter be solely responsible for) all liabilities in respect of the Seller Deferred Compensation Plan for or relating to participants in the Seller Deferred Compensation Plans who are Covered Employees. Promptly following the Closing, Seller shall, or shall cause an Affiliate, to pay Buyer an amount in cash equal to the Seller Deferred Compensation Plan Accruals. Buyer covenants and agrees to make all payments pursuant to the Buyer Deferred Compensation Plan at the same time and in the same form as such amounts were required to be paid under the terms of the Seller Deferred Compensation Plans and any election forms thereunder (unless a Covered Employee makes, and Buyer permits, a valid subsequent deferral election to further delay the payment of such amounts or Buyer or its applicable Subsidiary elects to terminate such Buyer Deferred Compensation Plan). Buyer Parent's obligations under this Section 5.12(k) are expressly conditioned on Seller providing to Buyer all information it requests in order to establish and administer such Buyer Deferred Compensation Plans.

(l) No Modification. The provisions of this Section 5.12 are for the sole benefit of the parties to this Agreement and nothing herein, express or implied, is intended or shall be construed to (i) constitute an amendment to any Employee Benefit Plan, Buyer Benefit Plan or other compensation and benefits plans maintained for or provided to Covered Employees or any other Persons prior to or following the Closing Date or (ii) confer upon or give to any Person (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any Covered Employee or any current or former employees, directors, or independent contractors of the Acquired Companies, Seller or any of their Affiliates, or on or after the Closing, Buyer Parent, the Acquired Companies or any of their post-Closing Affiliates), other than the parties hereto, any legal or equitable or other rights or remedies with respect to the matters provided for in this Section 5.12 under or by reason of any provision of this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing contained in this Section 5.12 shall confer upon any Covered Employee any right to continued employment with Buyer Parent, any Acquired Company or their respective Affiliates after the Closing Date and nothing in this Section 5.12 is intended to guarantee employment to any Covered Employee for any period of time.

SECTION 5.13 Financing.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, prior to the Closing, Buyer Parent shall take or cause to be taken, all actions and do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and obtain the Financing on the terms and conditions set forth in the applicable Financing Commitments not later than the date that the Closing is required to occur in accordance with Section 2.2, including: (i) maintaining in full force and effect the Financing Commitments; (ii) satisfying all conditions applicable to Buyer Parent and in the case of the Debt Commitment Letter, Buyer, in the Financing Commitments that are within their control; (iii) complying on a timely basis with their obligations under the Financing Commitments; (iv) consummating the Financing at or prior to the date that the Closing is required to occur in accordance with Section 2.2; and (v) enforcing their rights under the Financing Commitments. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, nothing contained in this Section 5.13 will require, and in no event will Buyer Parent be required to seek the Financing from any source other than a counterparty to, or in any amount in excess of that contemplated by, the Financing Commitments.

(b) Buyer Parent shall not, without the prior written consent of Seller (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), permit any amendment or modification to be made to or waiver of any rights under the Financing Commitments, and, upon the consummation of the Financing to Buyer Parent or, in the case of the Debt Commitment Letter, Buyer, in accordance with the Financing Commitments, Buyer Parent shall draw down at Closing such amount of such Financing as is required to fully make the payments pursuant to Article II. Buyer Parent shall not permit Buyer to release or consent to the termination of the obligations of AAIA or Reinsurer under the Debt Commitment Letter without Seller's prior written consent.

(c) Buyer Parent shall provide Seller with prompt written notice of the receipt of any notice or other communication from AAIA or Reinsurer with respect to its failure or anticipated failure to fund its commitments under any Financing Commitment. Buyer Parent shall keep Seller reasonably informed on a current basis of the status of its efforts to consummate the Financing.

SECTION 5.14 Specified Contracts. Section 5.14 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule sets forth a list of the "Specified Contracts." Upon Buyer Parent's request, with respect to any Specified Contract, Seller and Buyer Parent shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to, reasonably cooperate in good faith with Buyer Parent's efforts to cause the counterparty to any such Specified Contract to enter into a new contract with Buyer Parent or its designee, effective as of the Closing or at the end of the relevant transition service period, if applicable, on terms substantially similar to those contained in such Specified Contract (each such new Contract, a "New Contract").

SECTION 5.15 Non-competition. From the Closing until the second (2nd) anniversary of the Closing Date (the "Non-Compete Period"), Seller agrees not to, and shall cause each of its Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, (a) solicit, induce or persuade or attempt to solicit, induce or persuade any Producer or other Person through which fixed annuity or fixed index annuity Insurance Contracts were written, marketed, produced, sold or solicited during the twenty-four (24) months preceding the Closing Date to (i) terminate, restrict or avoid entering into any business relationship or dealings with Buyer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries (including any Acquired Company after the Closing) or Reinsurer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, (ii) enter into any distribution, marketing, production or similar business relationship with Seller or any of its Affiliates with respect to the writing, marketing, production, sale or solicitation of fixed annuities or fixed index annuities or (iii) solicit any holders of Insurance Contracts or otherwise use policyholder lists for the purposes of writing, marketing, producing, selling or soliciting any fixed annuity or fixed index annuity products; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, and without restricting the generality of the foregoing, nothing in this Section 5.15 shall restrict the ability of Seller or any of its Affiliates to conduct its Retirement business (including the entirety of all business activities conducted under Seller's Retirement segment) in substantially the same manner as it is conducted on the date hereof.

SECTION 5.16 Financial Information.

(a) From the date hereof through the Closing Date, Seller shall make available to Buyer Parent (i) within forty-five (45) days following the end of each calendar quarter other than the last calendar quarter of any calendar year, (a) the unaudited statutory statements of the Company, in each case together with the exhibits, schedules and notes thereto (collectively, the "Future Quarterly Statutory Statements"), and (b) (x) the separate unaudited quarterly GAAP financial statements of each of the Acquired Companies and (y) the separate unaudited quarterly Modified GAAP financial statements of RRII (collectively, the "Future Quarterly GAAP Financial

(b) Seller shall, and shall cause its Representatives to, at Reinsurer Parent’s expense, provide reasonable cooperation to Reinsurer Parent and its Affiliates or Apollo and its Affiliates in connection with the preparation of any historical financial statements or other disclosures (including those required by GAAP or the SEC) or information with respect to the Business or the Acquired Companies that Reinsurer Parent or any of its Affiliates or Apollo and its Affiliates may be required to provide to or file with any Governmental Entity (including with the SEC under Regulation S-K or S-X) or delivered to any underwriter, including in connection with any offering, credit facility or borrowing by Reinsurer Parent, Apollo or any of their respective Affiliates. Such cooperation shall include, furnishing Reinsurer Parent or Apollo such financial statements, financial information and other pertinent information with respect to the Business or the Acquired Companies as may be reasonably requested by Reinsurer Parent or Apollo (including “carve-out” financial statements that give effect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements), including to assist Reinsurer Parent or any of its Affiliates or Apollo and its Affiliates with management’s discussion and analyses or other portions of any such documents.

(c) If the Company is reasonably likely to be required to file any quarterly or annual reports pursuant to the Exchange Act within thirty (30) days after the Closing, Seller will cause the Company to prepare draft reports that as of the Closing are sufficiently developed, taking into account the time that has elapsed since the end of the applicable reporting period and the time until such report is required to be filed, such that it can be timely filed with a reasonable amount of effort within the time available following the Closing (the “Post-Closing SEC Reports”). The Post-Closing SEC Reports provided will (i) not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements made therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading and (ii) comply in all material respects with the provisions of Applicable Law.

SECTION 5.17 Investment Assets. Seller shall, or shall cause its applicable Affiliates to, deliver to Buyer Parent, on a monthly basis until such time as the Closing is reasonably expected to occur within one month, and thereafter weekly, a summary report of (i) all transaction activity and other significant events with respect to the Investment Assets and (ii) the cash management strategy and activities of the Acquired Companies, RRII and, with respect to the Business, RLI. From and after the date hereof until the Closing, Seller shall cause the applicable managers having primary responsibility for the matters set forth in the foregoing clauses (i) and (ii) to consult with Representatives of Buyer Parent as reasonably requested by Buyer Parent with respect to such matters, including future planned or potential purchases and sales of Investment Assets and the treatment of any impaired or potentially impaired Investment Assets; provided that such consultations shall be upon reasonable notice at reasonable times during normal business hours and shall not unreasonably disrupt the business of Seller or the Acquired Companies. In such meetings with management, Buyer Parent or its Representative may make recommendations to Seller with respect to such matters.

SECTION 5.18 Policyholder Lists. After the date of this Agreement, neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates (including, prior to the Closing, the Acquired Companies) shall share or provide any policyholder or similar information with respect to the Business to any Producer or other Person, except for the provision of any such information as required by judicial or administrative process or, in the written opinion of counsel to Seller or any of its Affiliates, as applicable, by other requirements of Applicable Law, and except, prior to Closing, for the provision of any such information in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices of the Acquired Companies.

SECTION 5.19 Acquisition Proposals. From the date hereof through the earlier of the Closing Date and the date of termination of this Agreement pursuant to Article IX, as applicable, Seller shall not, and shall cause its Subsidiaries and its and their respective Representatives not to, directly or indirectly (a) solicit, initiate, knowingly encourage, facilitate or accept any inquiries, proposals, offers or other indications of interest by or from any Person with respect to: (i) any acquisition, purchase or other transaction involving the direct or indirect sale or transfer of all or any substantial part of the Business or the Allocated Assets (excluding sales of Investment Assets and the entry into the consummation of, or the making of payments under, any hedging transaction) or the equity interests of the Acquired Companies, or (ii) any merger, consolidation, business combination, reorganization, dissolution, recapitalization or similar transaction involving the Acquired Companies (each, an "Acquisition Proposal"), but excluding, in each case, this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, or (b) participate in any discussions or negotiations with respect to, or furnish or confirm any information to any Person in connection with, an Acquisition Proposal. In the event that Seller, an Acquired Company or any Affiliate of Seller or the Acquired Companies receives an Acquisition Proposal, the Person receiving such Acquisition Proposal shall promptly, but in no event later than forty-eight (48) hours thereafter, notify Buyer Parent in writing of such proposal and provide a copy thereof (if in written or electronic form) or, if in oral form, a written summary of the terms and conditions thereof, including the names of the interested parties. For the avoidance of doubt, any inquiries, proposals, offers or indications of interest or other agreements relating to any Permitted Transaction shall not be considered an Acquisition Proposal hereunder.

SECTION 5.20 Insurance.

(a) With respect to events or circumstances relating to the Acquired Companies that occurred or existed prior to the Closing Date that are covered by occurrence-based insurance policies and resulting in a loss or liability to the Acquired Companies or Buyer Parent or any of its other Subsidiaries after the Closing, the Acquired Companies may, to the extent permitted thereunder and to the extent of such loss or liability, make claims under such policies so long as such claims are not reasonably expected to result in non-de minimis increased costs or Liabilities to Seller or any of its Affiliates. Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, provide reasonable cooperation and assistance in the pursuit of such claims.

(b) With respect to any open claims against the insurance policies of Seller or any of its Affiliates (other than the Acquired Companies) relating to losses suffered by the Acquired Companies prior to the Closing Date that are not Excluded Liabilities and for which either (x) the applicable insured asset has been reflected on the Final Closing Statement without giving effect to the full impairment or loss of value resulting from the insured loss or (y) a receivable in respect of such claim is reflected on the Final Closing Statement, Seller shall (i) use reasonable best efforts to pursue such claims and shall reasonably cooperate with and assist Buyer Parent and its Affiliates in doing the same and (ii) remit to Buyer all proceeds realized from such claims; provided, that no Buyer Indemnified Person has been indemnified with respect to such amounts under Article VII.

SECTION 5.21 Additional FA Contracts. Upon written notice delivered by Seller to Buyer Parent at least 45 days prior to the Closing, Seller, in its sole discretion, may elect to cede the FA Contracts written by SLD and VRIAC that are identified in the Actuarial Reports (the "Additional FA Contracts") to Reinsurer. In the event that Seller elects to cede the Additional FA Contracts to Reinsurer, at the Closing, (a) Reinsurer shall enter into a reinsurance agreement with each of SLD and VRIAC, substantially in the form of the RLI FA Business Reinsurance Agreement, and SLD and VRIAC shall pay an amount equal to the absolute value of the ceding commission to Reinsurer set forth on Schedule 5.21; provided, however, that upon written notice delivered by Buyer Parent to Seller 10 days after receiving the notice described above from Seller, Reinsurer may, in its sole discretion, offer to ALRe and ALRe may elect that the Additional FA Contracts be ceded to Alternate Reinsurer instead of Reinsurer, and in such event, Alternate Reinsurer shall enter into a reinsurance agreement with each of SLD and VRIAC, substantially in the form of the Alternate RLI Business Reinsurance Agreement, and SLD and VRIAC shall pay the absolute value of the ceding commission to Alternate Reinsurer set forth on Schedule 5.21, and (b) the Company shall enter into an administrative services agreement, in the form of the RLI Retained Business Administrative Services Agreement, with each of SLD and VRIAC, pursuant to which, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth therein, the Company will provide to each of SLD and VRIAC administrative services with respect to the business of SLD and VRIAC related to the Additional FA Contracts, including cancelling, reinsuring and administering the Additional FA Contracts reinsured under the applicable reinsurance agreement entered into by Reinsurer or ALRe, as applicable, and each of SLD and VRIAC, as applicable (and SLD, VRIAC and the Company shall not enter into the SLD Administrative Services Agreement or the VRIAC Administrative Services Agreement, as applicable).

SECTION 5.22 Restructuring; Transaction Agreements. Prior to the Closing, and subject to its receipt of the approvals contemplated in Section 3.5, (i) Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates, to enter into the Restructuring Agreements and (ii) Seller shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, make any change or modification to the form of the CBVA Recapture Agreement or the form of any of the Restructuring Agreements that, individually or in the aggregate with other changes or modifications, (A) adversely affects Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent or any of their respective Affiliates or the Business or any Acquired Company (after giving effect to the Pre-Sale Transactions) or (B) prevents, impairs or delays the consummation of the transactions contemplated by, or the performance of any party's obligations under, the Transaction Agreements, in either case, without the prior written consent of Buyer Parent.

SECTION 5.23 CTE95 Reports. Seller shall prepare and deliver to Buyer Parent by the tenth (10th) Business Day of each calendar month between the date hereof and the Closing Date, and Buyer Parent shall prepare and deliver to Seller by twelfth (12^{th}) Business Day of each calendar month between the date hereof and the Closing Date, a report (each, an "Interim CTE95 Report") setting forth such party's calculation of the Required Adjusted Book Value as of the end of the immediately preceding month. Each Interim CTE95 Report delivered by Seller shall include Milliman's calculation of the CTE95 Amount as of the end of such prior month. Seller shall cause Milliman to calculate each such CTE95 Amount using the same CTE95 Model used for purposes of calculating the CTE95 Amount included in the Reference Closing Statement and in accordance with the CTE95 Model and Calculation Methodologies. Buyer Parent and Seller shall, and Buyer Parent shall cause Milliman to, each cooperate with each other in the preparation of the Interim CTE95 Reports, including providing all relevant information necessary to prepare such reports, including all information provided to Milliman by Seller or its Affiliates in connection with Milliman's preparation of the applicable Interim CTE95 Report or that Buyer Parent may otherwise reasonably request. Buyer Parent and Seller shall, and Seller shall cause Milliman to, use their reasonable best efforts to resolve any differences and to correct any errors or mistakes in the preparation of, and any inaccuracies reflected in, their respective Interim CTE95 Reports.

SECTION 5.24 Migration and Separation.

(a) Between the date hereof and the Closing Date, Seller and Buyer Parent shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates and Representatives to, discuss in good faith and cooperate and use reasonable best efforts to develop and implement a written migration plan based on the services necessary and targeted budget of $65,000,000 which sets forth steps required (i) to make an orderly separation of the Business, including Business IT Systems, following the Closing from that of the Excluded Business and other businesses of Seller and its Affiliates and (ii) for integration and migration of the Business, including required Business IT Systems, following the Closing or the end of a Service Term (as defined in the Transition Services Agreement) for a Scheduled Service (as defined in the Transition Services Agreement) provided under the Transition Services Agreement, as applicable, into the business and operations of Buyer Parent (including the Acquired Companies).

(b) All Separation and Migration Costs shall be borne 50% by Seller and 50% by Buyer Parent until the aggregate amount of all such Separation and Migration Costs equals $65,000,000 (the maximum aggregate liability of Seller under this Section 5.24(b) shall not exceed $32,500,000, and Buyer Parent will bear 100% of such Separation and Migration Costs that are in excess of $65,000,000). For the avoidance of doubt, the limitations set forth in this Section 5.24(b) shall not apply with respect to the third-party consent costs required to be obtained by Seller and its Affiliates to allow Seller and its Affiliates to perform services under the Transition Services Agreement and such third-party consent costs shall be borne 50% by Seller and 50% by Buyer Parent as described in Section 2.7 of the Transition Services Agreement, and, for clarity (i) such third-party consent costs are not Separation and Migration Costs and (ii) shall not be taken into account in determining whether such limitations under this Section 5.24(b) have been exceeded. If this Agreement is terminated for any reason and the Closing does not occur, each party shall promptly reimburse the other for any amounts previously paid by such other party that the first party is required to bear pursuant to this Section 5.24(b) and that it has not previously paid. If the Closing occurs, Seller may, after the Closing, choose to pay the aggregate remaining amount it is required to bear pursuant to this Section 5.24(b) by making equal quarterly installment payments to Buyer Parent over the first year after the Closing.

SECTION 5.25 Hedging Arrangements. Seller and Buyer Parent shall follow the hedging protocol set forth on Schedule 5.25. All costs and expenses relating to the termination of any hedging arrangements shall be reflected in the Estimated Total Adjusted Book Value and the Final Total Adjusted Book Value or otherwise be borne by Seller or its Affiliates (other than the Acquired Companies).

SECTION 5.26 Deregistration of the Company. Between the date hereof and Closing (with effect prior to the Effective Time), Seller shall use its best efforts, and shall cause the Company and its Affiliates as applicable to use their best efforts, to cause any Insurance Contracts and fixed or fixed index investment options under variable Insurance Contracts, as appropriate, currently registered with the SEC on Forms S-1 or S-3 to become exempt from registration under the Securities Act, pursuant to Section 3(a)(8) thereof by amending such Insurance Contracts in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit S, and to take such other steps as may be necessary to obtain all necessary Governmental Approvals related thereto, and, promptly upon obtaining such approvals, to use its best efforts to cause the Company, as of the Closing Date, to be exempt from the duty under Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act to file reports required by Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act (the "Company Deregistration").

SECTION 5.27 Bank Accounts. To the extent any individual other than a Business Employee at the Closing has authority to draw on or has access to the bank, savings, deposit or custodial accounts and safe deposit boxes maintained by the Acquired Companies, Seller and its Affiliates shall remove, effective as of the Closing, such individual's authority unless otherwise directed in writing by Buyer Parent.

SECTION 5.28 Transition Services Agreements; Final Transaction Agreements. Other than with respect to the terms relating to the payment of amounts under the Transition Services Agreement as contemplated thereby, between the date hereof and the Closing, Seller and Buyer Parent shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates and Representatives to, use reasonable best efforts to work together in good faith to (i) negotiate and complete the services schedules to the Transition Services Agreement and (ii) negotiate the terms of each other Transaction Agreement and other document required or contemplated to be delivered in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement that is not attached to this Agreement in substantially final form, including all exhibits, annexes and schedules thereto, including the LLC Agreement, the Investment Management Agreements and the Real Property Transfer Agreements. The parties agree that the services schedules attached to the form of Transition Services Agreement that is attached to this Agreement indicate the scope and other terms of certain services that will be finalized after the date hereof and prior to the Closing Date. Such services shall be sufficient to cause the representations and warranties set forth in Section 3.22 to be true and correct as of the Closing Date. As soon as practicable following the date hereof, each of Seller and Buyer Parent shall appoint a representative, who shall be the authorized representative of that party and empowered to act on its behalf in connection with the Transition Services Agreement and the matters described in this Section 5.28. Each of Buyer Parent and Seller shall use reasonable best efforts to ensure that its appointed representative, together with its functional leaders for each transition service under the Transition Services Agreement, attend a review meeting, in person or by telephone, within ten (10) Business Days following the date hereof, and thereafter until the Closing, whether in person or by telephone, on a weekly basis (or as the parties may mutually agree, more frequently than a weekly basis) and at such places, times and dates as the parties mutually agree, in order to finalize the services schedules to the Transition Services Agreement. The parties shall endeavor to resolve in good faith any disputes or conflict arising from or relating to the details of the aforementioned services schedules and the other matters described in this Section 5.28, failing which either party may submit such dispute to Marc Rowan and Rodney O. Martin, Jr. for resolution prior to Closing.

SECTION 5.29 Release. Seller (on behalf of itself and its Affiliates other than the Acquired Companies) shall, and hereby does, effective as of the Closing, release, waive and forever discharge each Acquired Company and each of its directors, officers, employees, Affiliates, agents and representatives from any and all actions, suits, debts, liens, sums of money, accounts, judgments, claims and demands whatsoever, at law or in equity, either in contract or in tort, whether known or unknown, on account of, arising out of or relating to or resulting from any Contract, transaction, event, circumstance, action, failure to act or occurrence of any sort or type, whether known or unknown, and which occurred, existed, was taken or expressly permitted prior to the Closing; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 5.29 shall release, waive or discharge any actions, suits, debts, liens, sums of money, accounts, judgments, claims and demands whatsoever, at law or in equity, either in contract or in tort, whether known or unknown, on account of arising out of this Agreement, any other Transaction Agreement, the Surplus Note or any of the Contracts contemplated to survive the Closing as specifically set forth in Section 5.6 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule.

SECTION 5.30 New Services Company.

(a) Prior to the Closing, Seller shall, or shall cause its Affiliates to, use its reasonable best efforts to form a wholly owned subsidiary corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware for the sole purpose of accepting the transfer of the employment relationships of the Covered Employees immediately prior to the Closing pursuant to Section 5.12 (the "Services Company"). Seller shall cause Services Company not to conduct any business or perform any activities except activities relating to its formation and activities it is contemplated to take under this Agreement.

(b) The Parties acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (i) Services Company has not been formed as of the date hereof, (ii) upon formation, Services Company shall be deemed an "Acquired Company" hereunder, and (iii) within five (5) Business Days following the date of formation of Services Company, Seller shall deliver to Buyer Parent the information required to be disclosed in Section 3.2(a) with respect to an Acquired Company for Services Company.

(c) Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, provide such information and cooperation as is reasonably requested by Buyer Parent from time to time (including claims history) to ensure that Services Company has all of the systems and procedures in place as of the Closing in order to employ the Covered Employees (e.g., establish a payroll system, employee benefit plans, etc.) from and after the Closing.

SECTION 5.31 Alternate Reinsurer. Upon written notice delivered by Buyer Parent to Seller prior to the filing of the Form A application referenced in Section 5.4(b)(i), Reinsurer Parent, in its sole discretion, may elect to offer to ALRe the opportunity to act as the reinsurer of the FA Contracts pursuant to the terms of this Section 5.31. In the event ALRe so elects, ALRe shall, operating from outside the United States, and in conformity with its operating guidelines, negotiate and enter into agreements with the Company and RLI substantially in the form as follows, with such changes as are mutually acceptable to the relevant parties: (i) a modified coinsurance agreement attached hereto as Exhibit O (the "Alternate Company FA Business Reinsurance Agreement"); and (ii) a modified coinsurance agreement with RLI, attached hereto as Exhibit Q (the "Alternate RLI FA Business Reinsurance Agreement" and together with the Alternate Company FA Business Reinsurance Agreement, the "Alternate FA Business Reinsurance Agreements"). In the event of any such election, Reinsurer shall have no obligations whatsoever under this Agreement or to enter into any Company FA Business Reinsurance Agreement or the RLI Business Reinsurance Agreement, and, other than in this Section 5.31, all references herein to the "Reinsurer" shall be deemed a reference to ALRe, all references to the "FA Business Reinsurance Agreements" shall be deemed a reference to the "Alternate FA Business Reinsurance Agreements," all references to the "Company FA Business Reinsurance Agreement" shall be deemed a reference to the "Alternate Company FA Reinsurance Agreement," all references to the "RLI FA Business Reinsurance Agreement" shall be deemed a reference to the "Alternate RLI FA Reinsurance Agreement" and each Alternate FA Business Reinsurance Agreement shall be deemed to be a "Transaction Agreement" hereunder. For the avoidance of doubt, neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates shall be responsible for any direct or indirect out-of-pocket costs (including, without limitation, any excise taxes, or other fees, expenses or costs) related to the Alternate FA Business Reinsurance Agreements or the cession of the FA Business to ALRe pursuant to this Section 5.31 that are in excess of the direct or indirect out-of-pocket costs that would reasonably have been expected to be incurred had no election been made pursuant to this Section 5.31.

SECTION 5.32 FA Reinsurance Timing. Upon written notice delivered by Buyer Parent to Seller prior to the filing of the Form A application referenced in Section 5.4(b)(i), Reinsurer, in its sole discretion, may elect for the reinsurance of the FA Business to be consummated after the Closing on the Closing Date (for the avoidance of doubt, whether it is consummated with the Reinsurer or the Alternate Reinsurer pursuant to Section 5.31). If Reinsurer so elects, the transactions contemplated by Section 2.1(c) shall occur on the Closing Date after the Closing; provided, however, that the provisions of Article II (including, without limitation, the calculation of the items set forth on the Estimated Closing Statement and the calculation of the amounts pursuant to Section 2.4) shall be applied as if the FA Business was reinsured to Reinsurer prior to the Closing as described in Section 2.2(c).

SECTION 5.33 Minimum DSL Net Capital Amount.

(a) Prior to the date on which the Estimated Closing Statement is required to be delivered, Seller shall, or shall cause its Affiliates to, if necessary, contribute to DSL an amount such that the Estimated DSL Net Capital Amount is not less than the Minimum DSL Net Capital Amount; provided, that in no event shall Seller or any of its Affiliates be required to contribute more than the sum of (i) $4,000,000 and (ii) the aggregate amount of any dividends or distributions made pursuant to Section 5.33(b).

(b) Between the date hereof and the Closing Date, Seller shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, use reasonable best efforts to obtain all necessary approvals from FINRA and other applicable Governmental Entities to permit DSL to pay one or more dividends or make one or more other distributions of capital held by DSL to VRIAC such that, at the Effective Time, the Estimated DSL Net Capital Amount will equal the Minimum DSL Net Capital Amount. Subject to the receipt of such required approvals, Seller shall cause DSL to make such dividends or other distributions to VRIAC prior to the Closing Date.

(c) Prior to the final determination of the Final DSL Net Capital, Buyer Parent shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, make any dividend or other distribution of capital from DSL. If the Final DSL Net Capital is greater than the DSL Closing Payment, Buyer Parent shall use its best efforts, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the final determination thereof pursuant to Section 2.4, to cause DSL to (i) obtain all necessary approvals (if any) from FINRA and other applicable Governmental Entities to permit DSL to pay or make one or more dividends or other distributions of excess capital held by DSL to its parent company in the amount of such excess and (ii) after receipt of such regulatory approvals (if necessary), promptly to pay or make such dividend or distribution. Promptly after any dividend or distribution is paid or made by DSL, Buyer Parent shall, or shall cause Buyer to, pay to Seller or its designee 100% of the amount of such dividend or distribution as additional purchase price for the DSL Interests until the total amount of payments pursuant to this Section 5.33(c) is equal to the excess of the Final DSL Net Capital over the DSL Closing Payment. Any such payment shall be treated as an adjustment to the amount paid for the assets of DSL as determined under Section 2.6(a) for federal and applicable state and local Tax purposes.

SECTION 5.34 Capital Contribution. Immediately after the Closing, Buyer Parent shall contribute to the Company an amount of capital that may not be less than zero and is at least equal to the Maximum Buyer Funding Amount minus the DSL Closing Payment.

SECTION 5.35 Communications Plan. Promptly following the date hereof, Seller shall communicate the items set forth in the communications plan attached hereto as Schedule 5.35 (the "Communications Plan") to each of the Producers set forth therein (the "Target Producers"). The parties shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to, cooperate in good faith in connection with any correspondence with the Target Producers regarding the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements following the date hereof. Following the date hereof and prior to the Closing, Seller and Reinsurer Parent or its designee shall have conference calls and in-person meetings no less frequently than quarterly to discuss updates regarding the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreement, monitor production from Target Producers and plan to transition production to AAIA at the Closing. Each party shall not, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates not to, initiate any communication with the Target Producers regarding the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements other than in accordance with the Communications Plan or as otherwise agreed by the parties.

SECTION 5.36 Tax Opinions. The parties shall have received an opinion or opinions of counsel reasonably acceptable to each of them with respect to certain U.S. federal income Tax matters related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; provided, that if such opinion or opinions have not been received on or prior to the Closing Date (such nonreceipt, a "Tax Event"), then Buyer Parent shall exercise its rights under each of the Equity Commitment Letters and the Subscription Agreement to call additional capital in an aggregate amount equal to the Tax Event Amount. The occurrence of a Tax Event shall not result in or contribute to the failure of any of the closing conditions in Article VI to be satisfied.

SECTION 5.37 Investment Management Agreements. The parties shall, in Buyer Parent's discretion, work in good faith to obtain any desired consents to assign or otherwise transfer any agreements with any Person set forth on Section 5.37 of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule (each, an "Existing Third-Party") or to terminate such agreements. If any such agreements with Existing Third-Parties continue after the Closing, any management fees and performance compensation due to the Existing Third-Parties thereunder will be borne by Buyer Parent or its Affiliates. Additionally, to the extent that any existing agreement with an Existing Third-Party is terminated at the request of Buyer as of or prior to Closing, any termination fees resulting from such termination shall be split equally between Buyer Parent and Seller. If such termination occurs prior to the Closing, without Buyer's consent, then such termination fees shall be borne by Seller.

ARTICLE VI
CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

SECTION 6.1 Conditions to Each Party's Obligations. The obligations of Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent and Seller to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby shall be subject to the satisfaction or waiver in writing at or prior to the Closing of the following conditions:

All consents, approvals or authorizations of, declarations or filings with or notices to any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, in each case that are set forth in Schedule 6.1(a), shall have been obtained or made and shall be in full force and effect and all waiting periods required by Applicable Law with respect thereto shall have expired or been terminated, in each case without the imposition of a Burdensome Condition with respect to the party asserting the failure of this condition; provided, however, that Seller shall not be entitled to assert that the condition set forth in this Section 6.1(a) is not satisfied due to the imposition of a Burdensome Condition on Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent and Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall not be entitled to assert that the condition set forth in this Section 6.1(a) is not satisfied due to the imposition of a Burdensome Condition on Seller.

(b) No Injunctions, Restraints or Actions.

(i) No temporary restraining order, preliminary or permanent injunction or other order issued by any court of competent jurisdiction and no statute, rule or regulation of any Governmental Entity preventing the consummation of the purchase and sale of the Shares or the DSL Interests, the consummation of the FA Business Reinsurance Agreements, the consummation of the Pre-Sale Transactions or any other material transaction contemplated by the Transaction Agreements shall be in effect.

(ii) No Actions brought by a Governmental Entity shall be pending before any Governmental Entity that would reasonably be expected to prevent the FA Business Reinsurance Agreements, the consummation of the Pre-sale Transactions or any other material transaction contemplated by the Transaction Agreements.

SECTION 6.2 Conditions to Obligations of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent. The obligations of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent, as applicable, to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby shall be subject to the satisfaction or waiver in writing at or prior to the Closing of the following additional conditions:

(a) Representations and Warranties. (i) The fifth and sixth sentences of Section 3.2 shall be true, complete and correct in all respects as of the Closing Date as if made on the Closing Date, (ii) except as set forth in clause (i) of this Section 6.2(a), the Seller Specified Representations that are qualified by materiality or Material Adverse Effect shall be true and correct in all respects, and the Seller Specified Representations that are not so qualified shall be true and correct in all material respects, in each case, as of the Closing Date as if made on the Closing Date (except to the extent any such representation or warranty speaks only as of an earlier date, in which event such representation or warranty shall have been so true and correct as of such date), and (iii) the other representations and warranties of Seller set forth in this Agreement (without giving effect to any limitation set forth therein as to materiality or Material Adverse Effect, other than as set forth in the first sentence of Section 3.8) shall be true and correct in all respects as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of the Closing Date (except to the extent any such representation or warranty speaks only as of an earlier date, in which event such representation or warranty shall have been true and correct as of such date), except where the failure of all such representations and warranties to be so true and correct has not had, and would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have, a Material Adverse Effect.

(b) Performance of Obligations of Seller. Seller shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all agreements, obligations and covenants required to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement on or prior to the Closing Date.

(c) Closing Deliveries. Seller shall have delivered or caused to be delivered to Buyer Parent each of the documents required to be delivered pursuant to Section 2.5.

(d) Capital Shortfall. (e) Buyer Parent-Specific Approvals. All consents, approvals or authorizations of, declarations or filings with or notices to any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, in each case that are set forth in Schedule 6.2(e), shall have been obtained or made and shall be in full force and effect and all waiting periods required by Applicable Law with respect thereto shall have expired or been terminated, in each case without the imposition of a Burdensome Condition with respect to Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent.

(f) Material Adverse Effect. Since the date of this Agreement, there shall not have been any Effect that, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to the Business or an Acquired Company.

SECTION 6.3 Conditions to Obligations of Seller. The obligations of Seller to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby shall be subject to the satisfaction or waiver in writing at or prior to the Closing of the following additional conditions:

(a) Representations and Warranties. (i) The Buyer Parent Specified Representations and the Reinsurer Parent Specified Representations that are qualified by materiality or Material Adverse Effect shall be true and correct in all respects, and the Buyer Parent Specified Representations and the Reinsurer Parent Specified Representations that are not so qualified shall be true and correct in all material respects, in each case, as of the Closing Date as if made on the Closing Date (except to the extent any such representation or warranty speaks only as of an earlier date, in which event such representation or warranty shall have been so true and correct as of such date), and (ii) the other representations and warranties of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent set forth in this Agreement (without giving effect to any limitation set forth therein as to materiality or Material Adverse Effect) shall be true and correct in all respects as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of the Closing Date (except to the extent any such representation or warranty speaks only as of an earlier date, in which event such representation or warranty shall have been true and correct as of such date), except where the failure of all such representations and warranties to be so true and correct has not had, and would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the ability of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent to consummate any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements.

(b) Performance of Obligations of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent. Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all agreements, obligations and covenants required to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement on or prior to the Closing Date.

(c) Closing Deliveries. Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall have delivered or caused to have delivered to Seller each of the documents required to be delivered pursuant to Section 2.5.

(d) Excess Capital. The sum of (i) the Estimated Total Adjusted Book Value plus (ii) the amount Buyer Parent is required to pay or cause Buyer to pay pursuant to Section

2.3(c) shall not exceed the Estimated Required Adjusted Book Value by more than $600,000,000. In addition, the RRII Trust Shortfall Amount shall not exceed the sum of (A) $200,000,000 plus (B) the Company Asset Reduction Amount plus (C) the amount, if any, by which the purchase price for the Shares contemplated by Section 2.3(b) would, after giving effect to the CBVA Recapture and the other Pre-Sale Transactions, exceed $0 (without giving effect to the proviso set forth at the end of Section 2.3(b)).

ARTICLE VII
INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 7.1 Survival of Representations, Warranties and Covenants.

(a) The representations and warranties of Seller, Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent contained in this Agreement shall survive the Closing solely for purposes of this Article VII and shall terminate and expire on the date that is eighteen (18) months after the Closing Date; provided, that (i) the representations and warranties made in Sections 3.1 (Organization, Standing and Corporate Power), 3.2 (Capital Structure), 3.4 (Authority) and 3.23 (Brokers) and Sections 4.1(a) (Organization and Standing), 4.1(b) (Authority), 4.1(e) (Purchase Not for Distribution), 4.1(h) (Solvency), 4.1(i) (Brokers), 4.2(a) (Organization and Standing), 4.2(b) (Authority) and 4.2(g) (Brokers) shall survive until the date that is thirty (30) days after the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations, (ii) the representations and warranties made in Section 3.22 (Sufficiency of Assets) shall terminate on the date that is twenty-four (24) months after the Closing Date, (iii) the representations and warranties made in Section 3.30 (Tax Treatment of Insurance Contracts) shall terminate on the date that is thirty-six (36) months after the Closing Date (subject to the limitations set forth in Section 7.9), (iv) the representations and warranties made in Section 3.10 (Taxes) (other than the representations and warranties made in Section 3.10(i), (j), (l), (m), (p) and (q) (such representations and warranties, the "Surviving Tax Representations")) shall not survive the Closing, (v) the Surviving Tax Representations shall terminate on the date that is thirty (30) days after the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations and (vi) the representations and warranties set forth in Section 3.28 (CTE95 Model) shall survive until the Final Closing Statement is made final and binding on the parties in accordance with Section 2.4. Any claim for indemnification in respect of any representation or warranty that is not asserted by notice given as required herein prior to the expiration of the specified period of survival shall not be valid and any right to indemnification is hereby irrevocably waived after the expiration of such period of survival. Any claim properly made for an Indemnifiable Loss in respect of such a breach asserted within such period of survival as herein provided will be timely made for purposes hereof.

(b) To the extent that it is to be performed after the Closing, each covenant in this Agreement will survive and remain in effect in accordance with its terms plus a period of six months thereafter, after which no claim for indemnification with respect thereto may be brought hereunder. All covenants in this Agreement that by their terms are required to be fully performed prior to the Closing shall survive and remain in effect for a period of eighteen (18) months after Closing, after which time no claim for indemnification with respect thereto may be brought hereunder.

SECTION 7.2 Indemnification.

(a) Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent and their respective Affiliates (for the avoidance of doubt, including the Acquired Companies from and after the Closing Date) (collectively, the "Buyer Indemnified Persons") from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent resulting from or arising out of:

(i) any breach or failure to be true of any representation or warranty of Seller made in this Agreement (other than those set forth in Sections 3.10, which shall be subject to indemnification under Section 8.1) or in any certificate furnished by a Seller Party in connection with this Agreement;

(ii) any breach or nonfulfillment of any agreement or covenant of Seller under this Agreement;

(iii) any Excluded Liability or the failure by Seller to pay for or discharge any Excluded Liability; or

(iv) any Employee Benefit Plan or any other arrangement that would be an Employee Benefit Plan if any Business Employee was a participant therein (but excluding any Liabilities for the Agent Deferral Plans and deferred compensation plans established pursuant to Section 5.12(k) to the extent reflected in the Final Total Adjusted Book Value).

(b) Buyer Parent shall indemnify and hold harmless Seller and its Affiliates (collectively, the "Seller Indemnified Persons") from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent resulting from or arising out of:

(i) any breach or failure to be true of any representation or warranty of Buyer Parent made in this Agreement or in any certificate furnished by a Buyer Party in connection with the Closing; or

(ii) any breach or nonfulfillment of any agreement or covenant of Buyer Parent under this Agreement.

(c) Reinsurer Parent shall indemnify and hold harmless the Seller Indemnified Persons from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent resulting from or arising out of:

(i) any breach or failure to be true of any representation or warranty of Reinsurer Parent made in this Agreement or in any certificated furnished by a Reinsurer Party in connection with the Closing; or

(ii) any breach or nonfulfillment of any agreement or covenant of Reinsurer Parent under this Agreement.

(d) For purposes of determining whether there has been a breach or failure to be true of any representation or warranty contained in this Agreement, and for calculating the amount of any Indemnifiable Losses under this Article VII, each representation and warranty contained in this Agreement (other than Sections 3.6(a), 3.8(ii), 3.9(a) and 3.13(a)(vii)) shall be read without regard to any materiality (including qualifiers as to "material," "materially," "in any material respect," "in all material respects" or other derivations of the word "material" used alone or in a phrase) or Material Adverse Effect qualifier contained therein.

SECTION 7.3 Certain Limitations.

(a) No party shall be obligated to indemnify and hold harmless its respective Indemnitees under Sections 7.2(a)(i) (in the case of Seller), Section 7.2(b)(i) (in the case of Buyer Parent) or Section 7.2(c)(i) (in the case of Reinsurer Parent) (i) with respect to any claim (or series of related claims arising from the same underlying facts, events or circumstances), unless such claim (or series of related claims arising from the same underlying facts, events or circumstances) involves Indemnifiable Losses in excess of $100,000 (the "Threshold Amount"), (nor shall any claim that does not exceed the Threshold Amount be applied to or considered for purposes of calculating the amount of Indemnifiable Losses for which the Indemnitor is responsible under clause (ii) below), (ii) unless and until the aggregate amount of all Indemnifiable Losses of the Indemnitees under such Section 7.2(a)(i) or such Sections 7.2(b)(i) and 7.2(c)(i) (which Indemnifiable Losses under Section 7.2(b)(i) and 7.2(c)(i) shall be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the Deductible and the Cap, each as defined below, have been exceeded), as the case may be, exceeds $10,000,000 for all Indemnifiable Losses (the "Deductible"), at which point such Indemnitor shall be liable to its respective Indemnitees for the value of the Indemnitee's claims under Section 7.2(a)(i) or Sections 7.2(b)(i) and 7.2(c)(i), as the case may be, that is in excess of the Deductible, subject to the limitations set forth in this Article VII and (iii) the maximum aggregate liability of Seller, on the one hand, and Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent, collectively, on the other hand, to their respective Indemnitees for any and all Indemnifiable Losses under Section 7.2(a)(i), in the case of Seller, or Sections 7.2(b)(i) and 7.2(c)(i), in the case of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall be $125,000,000 (the "Cap"); provided, however, that (A) none of the Threshold Amount, the Deductible or the Cap shall apply with respect to Indemnifiable Losses arising out of or resulting from any breach or failure to be true of any Seller Specified Representation, any Buyer Parent Specified Representation or any Reinsurer Parent Specified Representation and such Indemnifiable Losses shall not be taken into account in determining whether the Threshold Amount, the Deductible or the Cap have been exceeded, (B) the Threshold Amount and the Deductible shall not apply to Indemnifiable Losses arising out of or resulting from any breach or failure to be true of the representation and warranties set forth in Section 3.22 (Sufficiency of Assets) or Section 3.30 (Tax Treatment of Insurance Contracts) and such Indemnifiable Losses shall not be taken into account in determining whether the Threshold Amount or the Deductible have been exceeded and (C) except for Excluded Liabilities, the maximum aggregate liability of Seller to all Buyer Indemnified Persons for any or all Indemnifiable Losses under Section 7.2(a)(i) and 7.2(a)(ii) shall not exceed $500,000,000. In the event Seller is required to make a payment in respect of Indemnifiable Losses resulting from or arising out of breaches or failures to be true of any representations or warranties set forth in Section 3.30 (Tax Treatment of Insurance Contracts), the Cap shall be increased by the amount of such Indemnifiable Losses, up to a maximum of $20,000,000; provided that the maximum aggregate Liability of Seller with respect to Liabilities other than those resulting from or arising out of any breach of Section 3.30 (Tax Treatment of Insurance Contracts) shall continue to be as described above (and not increased by this sentence), and all other applicable limitations set forth in this Article VII shall apply with respect to Indemnifiable Losses resulting from or arising out of a breach or failure to be true of any representation or warranty set forth in Section 3.30 (Tax Treatment of Insurance Contracts).

(b) If any Indemnitee actually recognizes a Tax benefit in respect of an Indemnifiable Loss as described in the proviso in the definition of "Indemnifiable Losses" set forth in Section 7.4(d) subsequent to an Indemnity Payment made by an Indemnitor to an Indemnitee with respect to such Indemnifiable Loss, then such Indemnitee shall promptly pay to the Indemnitor the amount of such Tax benefit recognized by such Indemnitee up to the amount of such Indemnity Payment received by the Indemnitee, net of any expenses incurred by such Indemnitee in pursuing such Tax benefit, within fifteen (15) days after the Indemnitee recognizes such Tax benefit in the form of cash actually received or reduction in cash Taxes actually paid. If any Tax benefit (or portion thereof) in respect of an Indemnifiable Loss as described in the proviso in the definition of "Indemnifiable Losses" set forth in Section 7.4(d), that either (i) reduces the Indemnity Payments made by an Indemnitor prior to the time such payment is made or (ii) obligates an Indemnitee to make payments to the Indemnitor under the immediately preceding sentence of this Section 7.3(b), is disallowed as a result of an audit or otherwise, the applicable Indemnitor shall promptly pay to the applicable Indemnitee the amount of such disallowed Tax benefit within thirty (30) days after the Indemnitee notifies the Indemnitor that the adjustment with respect to such disallowance has been paid or otherwise taken into account.

(c) Each Indemnitee shall use reasonable best efforts to mitigate all Indemnifiable Losses for which indemnification may be sought hereunder, including by using reasonable best efforts to collect the maximum amount recoverable with respect thereto under any insurance or reinsurance coverage or other applicable source of recovery.

SECTION 7.4 Definitions. As used in this Agreement:

(a) "Buyer Parent Specified Representations" means the representations of Buyer Parent made in Sections 4.1(a) (Organization and Standing), 4.1(b) (Authority), 4.1(h) (Solvency), and 4.1(i) (Brokers).

(b) "Indemnitee" means any Person entitled to indemnification under this Agreement;

(c) "Indemnitor" means any Person required to provide indemnification under this Agreement;

(d) "Indemnifiable Losses" means any and all damages, losses, liabilities, obligations, Taxes, penalties, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses); provided, that any Indemnity Payment (i) shall in no event include any amounts constituting consequential, special or punitive damages except to the extent (A) such types of damages are paid to a Third Party in connection with a Third-Party Claim, (B) such damages result from or arise out of any Excluded Liability or (C) in the case of consequential damages (other than as contemplated by the foregoing clause (A) or (B)), (1) such damages are recoverable under the laws of the State of New York, (2) the Indemnitee satisfies all elements necessary for proof of such damages under such laws and (3) such damages result from or arise out of the Business as currently conducted or the use for which any Allocated Asset is currently being used and shall not take into account any current or future plans for the Business following the Closing Date regardless of whether such plans are communicated to or known by Seller; and (ii) shall be net of any (A) amounts actually recovered (after deducting related reasonable costs and expenses and premium increases) by the Indemnitee for the Indemnifiable Losses for which such Indemnity Payment is made under any insurance policy (including pursuant to Section 5.20(a)), reinsurance agreement, warranty or indemnity or otherwise from any Person other than a party hereto or any Affiliate of a party hereto, with such recovered amounts reduced by the amount of the costs and expenses incurred by the Indemnitee in procuring such recovery and the costs of any premium increases as a result of such recovery, and the Indemnitee shall promptly reimburse the Indemnitor for any such amount that is received by it from any such other Person with respect to an Indemnifiable Losses after any indemnification with respect thereto has actually been paid pursuant to this Agreement, (B) as determined pursuant to Section 7.3(b), Tax benefits actually recognized by the Indemnitee (or, in the case of a Buyer Indemnified Person, any other Buyer Indemnified Person) in respect of any Indemnifiable Losses for which such Indemnity Payment is made (it being understood that no Indemnity Payment to be made hereunder may be withheld or otherwise delayed due to the fact that an anticipated Tax benefit has not actually been recognized by the applicable Indemnitee);

(e) "Indemnity Payment" means any amount of Indemnifiable Losses required to be paid pursuant to this Agreement;

(f) "Reinsurer Parent Specified Representations" means the representations of Reinsurer Parent made in Sections 4.2(a) (Organization and Standing), 4.2(b) (Authority) and 4.2(g) (Brokers);

(h) "Third Party Claim" means any claim, action, suit, or proceeding made or brought by any Person that is not a party to this Agreement or any Affiliate of any party to this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, claims, actions, suits or proceedings between or among parties to this Agreement or their respective Affiliates will not be Third Party Claims hereunder.

SECTION 7.5 Procedures for Third Party Claims.

(a) If any Indemnitee receives notice of assertion or commencement of any Third Party Claim against such Indemnitee in respect of which an Indemnitor may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor reasonably prompt written notice (but in no event later than thirty (30) days after becoming aware) thereof (a "Claim Notice") and such Claim Notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim and an estimate of the Indemnifiable Loss to the extent known and shall reference the specific sections of this Agreement that form the basis of such claim; provided, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation or otherwise affect the rights of any Indemnitee hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay.

Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, within five (5) calendar days after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third Party Claim and, if it so chooses by giving written notice to the Indemnitee within thirty (30) days after its receipt of the Claim Notice with respect to such Third Party Claim, to assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor and reasonably acceptable to the Indemnified Party and at the Indemnitor's expense. Should the Indemnitor so elect to assume the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitor shall not as long as it conducts such defense be liable to the Indemnitee for legal expenses subsequently incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof; provided, however, that, if the Indemnitee concludes based on the advice of outside counsel that a conflict in interest between the Indemnitor and the Indemnitee exists with respect to such Third Party Claim, the Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable out-of-pocket legal expenses of one counsel that are incurred by the Indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense in accordance with this Section 7.5(b), the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof (other than during any period in which the Indemnitee shall have not yet given notice of the Third-Party Claim as provided above). If the Indemnitor chooses to defend any Third-Party Claim, the parties hereto shall cooperate in the defense thereof. Such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information that are relevant to such Third Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise or discharge, such Third Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise or discharge a Third Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed); provided, that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise or discharge such a Third Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (A) includes a complete and unconditional release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third Party Claim, (B) does not subject the Indemnitee to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy, and (C) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third Party Claim shall not exceed the sum of (x) the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer and (y) the amount of expenses incurred by the Indemnitee prior to the time of and in connection with the proposed settlement to which it is entitled to indemnification, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third Party Claim. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 7.5, the Indemnitee (and not the Indemnitor) shall have the exclusive right to assume the defense and control of any Third Party Claim, if (I) the Indemnitee in good faith determines that the nature of the Third Party Claim is such that it would reasonably be expected to involve criminal liability being imposed on the Indemnitee or its Affiliates or (II) such Third Party Claim seeks an injunction or other equitable relief against the Indemnitee that the Indemnitee reasonably determines, after consultation with its outside counsel, cannot be separated from any related claim for money damages; provided that if such Third Party Claim seeks an injunction or equitable relief against the Indemnitee that can be separated from a related claim for money damages, the Indemnitor may only be entitled to assume control of the defense of such Third Party Claim for money damages.

(i) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Seller shall have the sole right to represent the interests of the Acquired Companies, and to employ counsel of its choice at its expense, in any audit or other examination or administrative or court proceeding relating to (i) Taxes for any Tax period ending on or before the Closing Date, for any Straddle Period, in each case for which Seller could be liable under Section 8.1 and (ii) Taxes described in Section 8.1(a)(vi); provided, that Seller shall use commercially reasonable efforts in representing the interests of the Acquired Companies, and shall not pay, discharge, settle, compromise, litigate, or otherwise dispose of any item subject to such Tax proceedings (i) relating to a Straddle Period or (ii) in a manner that could be reasonably expected to result in a post-Closing increase in Tax for which Seller would not be liable under Section 8.1 without obtaining the prior written consent of Buyer Parent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Notwithstanding the foregoing and subject to Seller's rights set forth in the preceding sentence, Buyer Parent shall be entitled, at its expense, to participate in the conduct of any Tax audit and any judicial or administrative proceeding relating to any such Tax audit.

(ii) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Buyer Parent shall have the sole right to represent the interests of the Acquired Companies, and to employ counsel of its choice at its expense, in any audit or other examination or administrative or court proceeding relating to Taxes for any Tax period that begins after the Closing Date other than proceedings subject to control by Seller under Section 7.5(c)(i); provided, that Buyer Parent shall not pay, discharge, settle, compromise, litigate, or otherwise dispose of any item subject to such Tax proceedings for which Seller could reasonably expected to be liable under Section 8.1 without obtaining the prior written consent of Seller, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Notwithstanding the foregoing and subject to Buyer Parent's rights set forth in the preceding sentence, Seller shall be entitled, at its expense, to participate in the conduct of any Tax audit and any judicial or administrative proceeding relating to any such Tax audit.

SECTION 7.6 Direct Claims. The Indemnitor will have a period of thirty (30) days within which to respond in writing to any claim by an Indemnitee on account of an Indemnifiable Loss that does not result from a Third Party Claim. If the Indemnitor does not so respond within such 30 day period, the Indemnitor will be deemed to have rejected such claim, in which event the Indemnitee will be entitled to pursue such remedies as may be available to the Indemnitee. The foregoing does not apply with respect to a breach or alleged breach of any representation or warranty set forth in Section 3.30, which will be governed by the terms of Section 7.9.

SECTION 7.7 Sole Remedy. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that, except (i) equitable remedies that cannot be waived as a matter of law, (ii) in the event that a party is finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to have willfully and knowingly committed a fraud, with the intent to deceive or mislead any other party, regarding such party's representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements set forth in this Agreement or in any certificate furnished in connection with the Closing, (iii) as set forth in Section 10.7(b) or (iv) as otherwise specifically provided herein or in any other Transaction Agreement, if the Closing occurs, their sole and exclusive remedy following the Closing with respect to any and all claims for monetary relief arising out of or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be pursuant to the provisions set forth in this Article VII or Article VIII, as applicable.

SECTION 7.8 Certain Other Matters.

(a) Upon making any Indemnity Payment, Indemnitor will, to the extent of such Indemnity Payment, be subrogated to all rights of Indemnitee against any third Person (other than any Tax authority or any Affiliate of the Indemnitee, including the Acquired Companies) in respect of the Indemnifiable Loss to which the Indemnity Payment related. Without limiting the generality or effect of any other provision hereof, each such Indemnitee and Indemnitor will duly execute upon request and at the sole cost and expense of the Indemnitor all instruments reasonably necessary to evidence and perfect the above-described subrogation rights.

(b) The rights and remedies of any party in respect of any inaccuracy or breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement shall in no way be limited by the fact that the act, omission, occurrence or other state of facts or circumstances upon which any claim of any such inaccuracy or breach is based may also be the subject matter of any other representation, warranty, covenant or agreement as to which there is no inaccuracy or breach. The representations, warranties and covenants of Seller, and the Buyer Indemnified Persons' rights to indemnification with respect thereto, shall not be affected or deemed waived by reason of (and the Buyer Indemnified Persons shall be deemed to have relied upon the representations and warranties of Seller set forth herein notwithstanding) (i) any investigation made by or on behalf of any of the Buyer Indemnified Persons (including by any of its Representatives) or by reason of the fact that any of the Buyer Indemnified Persons or any of such Representatives knew or should have known that any such representation or warranty is, was or might be inaccurate, regardless of whether such investigation was made or such knowledge was obtained before or after the execution and delivery of this Agreement or (ii) Buyer Parent's waiver of any condition set forth in Article VI. The representations, warranties and covenants of Buyer Parent, and the Seller Indemnified Persons' rights to indemnification with respect thereto, shall not be affected or deemed waived by reason of (and the Seller Indemnified Persons shall be deemed to have relied upon the representations and warranties of Buyer Parent set forth herein notwithstanding) (i) any investigation made by or on behalf of any of the Seller Indemnified Persons (including by any of its Representatives) or by reason of the fact that any of the Seller Indemnified Persons or any of such Representatives knew or should have known that any such representation or warranty is, was or might be inaccurate, regardless of whether such investigation was made or such knowledge was obtained before or after the execution and delivery of this Agreement or (ii) Seller's waiver of any condition set forth in Article VI.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, any claim for indemnification based on an actual or alleged breach or failure to be true of any representation or warranty set forth in Section 3.28 must be brought in the context of, and will be resolved pursuant to, the dispute resolution mechanics set forth in Section 2.4 with respect to the finalization of the Final Closing Statement and the related calculations. After the Final Closing Statement has become final and binding on the parties in accordance with Section 2.4, except for (i) equitable remedies that cannot be waived as a matter of law or (ii) in the event that a party is finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to have willfully and knowingly committed a fraud, with the intent to deceive or mislead any other party, regarding such representations and warranties, Seller and its Affiliates shall have no further Liability to any Buyer Indemnified Person for any Indemnifiable Loss or other Liability resulting from or arising out of any breach or failure to be true of the representations and warranties set forth in Section 3.28.

SECTION 7.9 Policy Tax Claims.

(a) The Buyer Indemnified Persons may bring a claim pursuant to Section 7.2(a) that relates to a breach of a representation or warranty under Section 3.30, even if no related Third Party Claim has first been asserted or made against the applicable Indemnified Party with respect thereto; provided, however, that any such claim with respect to which no Third Party Claim has previously been asserted (a "Direct Product Tax Claim") must be based on the reasonable and good faith determination by the applicable Indemnified Party that a breach of a representation or warranty under Section 3.30 has occurred. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 7.9 shall, unless specifically provided herein, limit or otherwise restrict the right of any Buyer Indemnified Person to be indemnified under this Article VII for Indemnifiable Losses incurred, and for which a valid notice for indemnification was delivered, prior to the end of the survival period specified in Section 7.1(a) with respect to the representations and warranties set forth in Section 3.30.

(b) For the avoidance of doubt, the amount of any Indemnifiable Loss with respect to any claim for indemnification with respect to a breach of any representation or warranty set forth in Section 3.30 shall include, without limitation, costs and expenses reasonably incurred by the applicable Indemnified Party to correct or repair any information technology to avoid a recurrence of the circumstances that provided the basis for such claim (provided such circumstances would reasonably be expected to arise with respect to the administration of policies or contracts administered as of the Closing Date).

(c) If any Buyer Indemnified Person brings a Direct Product Tax Claim, Seller and the applicable Indemnified Party shall cooperate in good faith to determine whether any breach of a representation or warranty under Section 3.30 has occurred and, if necessary, to develop corrective measures that are reasonable, practical, cost effective and efficacious, taking into account all of the relevant facts and circumstances then applicable. If, with respect to a Direct Product Tax Claim, Seller and the applicable Indemnified Party cannot agree as to whether a breach of a representation or warranty under Section 3.30 has occurred, then (i) if Seller promptly (and in any event within 30 Business Days) after receiving a Claim Notice with respect to such Direct Product Tax Claim delivers or causes to be delivered to the applicable Indemnified Party an opinion addressed to such Indemnified Party and issued by a reputable nationally recognized law firm, accounting firm or actuarial firm that is familiar with analyzing matters of the type covered by the representations and warranties set forth in Section 3.30 to the effect that it is more likely than not that no such breach has occurred with respect to the Direct Product Tax Claim then in dispute, then (A) Seller shall not be required to indemnify the applicable Indemnified Party with respect to such disputed Direct Product Tax Claim, unless and until either a Third Party Claim with respect thereto subsequently arises, such opinion is subsequently withdrawn or qualified, the parties otherwise agree that such opinion is no longer controlling or such opinion is not subsequently reaffirmed or re-issued promptly upon the reasonable request by such Indemnified Party (other than as a result of a change in applicable Law) and (B) Seller shall, as provided under Section 7.2(a), indemnify the applicable Indemnified Party for any Indemnifiable Losses attributable to a breach of a representation or warranty under Section 3.30 (including any penalties or fees imposed by the IRS) arising out of or relating to any inaccuracy or incorrect conclusion set forth in such opinion or any delay in remediating the matter to which such Direct Product Tax Claim relates in reliance on such opinion and (ii) if Seller does not deliver or cause to be delivered to the applicable Indemnified Party any such opinion within such 30-Business Day period, then such breach of a representation or warranty set forth in Section 3.30 that is alleged by such Indemnified Party shall be deemed conclusively to have been established with respect to such Direct Product Tax Claim. If Seller and the applicable Indemnified Party cannot agree with respect to the appropriate reasonable, practical, cost-effective and efficacious corrective measures, the disagreement shall be resolved by a recognized law firm, accounting firm or actuarial firm mutually agreeable to the applicable Indemnified Party and Seller, and any such determination by such law firm, accounting firm or actuarial firm shall be final. Such law firm, accounting firm or actuarial firm shall render a determination within sixty days of the referral of such matter for resolution. The cost of engaging a law firm, accounting firm or actuarial firm pursuant to this Section 7.9(c) shall be borne 50% by Seller and 50% by the applicable Indemnified Party.

(d) In the event that the corrective measures described in this Section 7.9 with respect to any claim for indemnification for breach of any representation or warranty set forth in Section 3.30 include making any request to the IRS for relief with respect to such failure, the applicable Indemnified Party and Seller shall jointly participate in all discussions or other proceedings with the IRS, including attendance at meetings and joint approval of all written submissions. Seller shall control the decision of whether or not to enter into a closing agreement or other arrangement with the IRS in connection with such discussions or other proceedings; provided, that, if the closing agreement or other arrangement involves any admission that would reasonably be expected to form the basis of the determination of any future liability of the applicable Indemnified Party or any of its Affiliates, or any nonmonetary relief against or commitments by such Indemnified Party or any of its Affiliates, or otherwise restricts the future activity or conduct of such Indemnified Party or any of its Affiliates, then Seller may not enter into any such closing agreement or other arrangement without such Indemnified Party's prior written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Should the applicable Indemnified Party decide to withhold its consent to Seller's entering into any closing agreement or other arrangement with the IRS, such Indemnified Party shall promptly communicate such decision in writing to Seller. Seller shall direct the Buyer Indemnified Persons to implement the appropriate corrective measures described in this Section 7.9, and Buyer Parent shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to implement such measures at Seller's direction and not take any actions that would contradict any such reasonable directions.

(e) For purposes of Sections 7.2(a) and 7.9, breaches of a representation or warranty under Section 3.30 will be determined without regard to any matter included in Section 3.30 of the Seller Disclosure Schedule.

ARTICLE VIII
TAX MATTERS

SECTION 8.1 Indemnification for Taxes.

(a) Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnified Persons from and against any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent resulting from or arising out of the following:

(i) Taxes imposed on any Acquired Company, or for which any Acquired Company may otherwise be liable, as a result of having been a member of a Seller Group prior to the Closing (including Taxes for which any Acquired Company may be liable pursuant to Treasury Regulation § 1.1502-6 or similar provisions of state, local or foreign law as a result of having been a member of a Seller Group);

(ii) Taxes with respect to any Acquired Company for all Pre-Closing Tax Periods,

(iii) Taxes arising out of the Pre-Sale Transactions;

(iv) Taxes arising out of a breach or inaccuracy of the Surviving Tax Representations, other than any such breach or inaccuracy that is attributable to a retroactive change in Applicable Law between the date of this Agreement and the Closing Date;

(v) Taxes arising out of a breach of any covenant of Seller or its Affiliates (including the Acquired Companies, prior to the Closing Date) under Article V or this Article VIII, other than any such breach that is attributable to a retroactive change in Applicable Law between the date of this Agreement and the Closing Date;

(vi) Taxes imposed on Buyer Parent or its Affiliates after the Closing arising out of (i) any limitation or disallowance under Section 382 or 383 of the Code of any items of deduction or loss arising out of the Retained Hedge Losses or (ii) the Buyer Parent or its Affiliates (including the Company) not being able to utilize or recognize losses or deductions arising from the Retained Hedge Losses after the Closing as a result of the acceleration into current deductions or losses of the Retained Hedge Losses as a result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

provided, however, (i) Seller shall not be liable for any Tax liability to the extent such Tax liability is taken into account in Total Adjusted Book Value and (ii) in the event Buyer Parent elects for the reinsurance of the FA Business to occur after the Closing, the transactions contemplated by the FA Business Reinsurance Agreements shall not be treated as Pre-Sale Transactions.

(b) Buyer Parent agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Seller Indemnified Persons from and against any and all liabilities for Taxes that are not subject to indemnification by Seller pursuant to Section 8.1(a) to the extent resulting from or arising out of:

(i) Taxes imposed on any Acquired Company for all Post-Closing Tax Periods;

(ii) Taxes arising out of a breach of any covenant of Buyer Parent under this Article VIII.

(c) For purposes of this Agreement, Taxes for a Straddle Period shall be allocated between the Pre-Closing Tax Period and the Post-Closing Tax Period in the following manner:

(i) in the case of Taxes based on or measured by income, gain, or receipts, or related to the actual or deemed sale or transfer of property, or which are withholding Taxes, such Taxes shall be allocated based on an interim closing of the books as of the end of the Closing Date; and

(ii) in the case of Taxes calculated on a periodic basis, the portion of such Taxes allocable to the Pre-Closing Tax Period shall be deemed to be the amount of such Taxes for the entire Straddle Period multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in the portion of the Straddle Period ending on the Closing Date and the denominator of which is the number of days in the entire Straddle Period.

(iii) With respect to any partnership interest owned by an Acquired Company through a separate account, the items of income, gain, deduction, or loss arising from such partnership interest shall be allocated between the Pre-Closing Tax Period and the Post-Closing Tax Period in a manner that matches, as closely as reasonably practicable, the changes to the corresponding separate account reserves pursuant to Section 817 of the Code. With respect to any other partnership interest owned by an Acquired Company, the items of income, gain, deduction, or loss arising from such partnership interest shall be allocated between the Pre-Closing Tax Period and the Post-Closing Tax Period on a ratable basis consistent with the principles of Section 8.1(a)(c)(ii).

(iv) In the event Buyer Parent elects for the reinsurance of the FA Business to occur after the Closing on the Closing Date, the Tax consequences of such transactions shall be allocated to the Post-Closing Tax Period.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Seller Indemnified Persons shall not be liable for (and Buyer Parent shall indemnify the Seller Indemnified Persons against) any Taxes resulting from any transaction or event that is outside the ordinary course of business and occurs after the Closing but on the Closing Date, unless such transaction or event is initiated by Seller or either Acquired Company before the Closing or occurs pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

SECTION 8.2 Filing of Tax Returns.

(i) Seller shall prepare and timely file, or cause to be prepared and timely filed, all Consolidated Returns that include any Acquired Company, regardless of when such Tax Returns are required to be filed.

(ii) Seller shall prepare and timely file, or cause to be prepared and timely filed, all Tax Returns for the Acquired Companies for taxable periods that end on or before the Closing Date and that are required to be filed prior to the Closing Date (taking into account any extensions) other than Tax Returns described in Section 8.2(a)(i). Seller shall remit any Taxes due in respect of such Tax Returns.

(iii) Seller shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, (A) all Tax Returns for the Acquired Companies for taxable periods that end on or before the Closing Date and that are required to be filed after the Closing Date (taking into account any extensions) and (B) all Tax Returns for any Straddle Period, in each case other than Tax Returns described in Section 8.2(a)(i). Seller shall deliver any such Tax Return to Buyer Parent for Buyer Parent's review at least thirty (30) days (or, in the case of premium Tax Returns, ten (10) days) prior to the date such Tax Return is required to be filed and (i) in the case of any Tax Return relating to a Straddle Period, shall accept all reasonable comments of Buyer Parent in respect of such Tax Returns made prior to the date that is three days prior to the due date of such Tax Return, to the extent consistent with Applicable Law and prior practice of the relevant Acquired Company, and (ii) in the case of any Tax Return relating to a taxable period ending on or before the Closing Date, shall consider in good faith making any changes to such Tax Return reasonably requested by Buyer Parent. To the extent consistent with Applicable Law, Buyer Parent shall, or shall cause the Acquired Companies to, file all Tax Returns for any Straddle Period on the basis that the relevant Tax period ended as of the Closing Date, unless the relevant Tax Authority will not accept a Tax Return filed on that basis. Buyer Parent shall file, or cause to be filed, all Tax Returns described in clause (A) or (B) hereof consistent within this Section 8.2(a)(iii).

(iv) From and after the Closing, upon reasonable request of Seller, Buyer Parent shall cause the Acquired Companies to provide Seller and its Affiliates in a timely fashion in accordance with past practice all filing information relating to the Acquired Companies reasonably necessary for the preparation and filing of the Consolidated Returns for taxable years or periods beginning before the Closing Date or any Tax Return described in Section 8.2(a)(iii). Seller shall compensate the Acquired Companies for reasonable out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with providing the foregoing.

(v) All Tax Returns that Seller is required to file or cause to be filed in accordance with this Section 8.2(a) shall be prepared and filed in a manner consistent with past practice and with respect to ordinary course positions, no position shall be taken, election made or method adopted that is inconsistent with positions taken, elections made or methods used in preparing and filing similar Tax Returns in prior periods (including positions, elections or methods that would have the effect of deferring income to periods ending after the Closing Date or accelerating deductions to periods ending on or before the Closing Date), other than to the extent (i) required as a result of a change in Applicable Law, (ii) any such change from past practices, positions, elections or methods would not be reasonably expected to materially adversely affect an Acquired Company or (iii) Seller has obtained Buyer Parent's prior written consent, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Without limitation of the foregoing, Seller shall not take any position on any Tax Return required to be filed by it after the date hereof (whether originally filed or filed on an amended return) to the effect that the deferred losses from hedges of liabilities that are being taken into account under the agreed upon mark and spread method of accounting by the Company accelerate into current deductions or losses as a result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(vi) In the event that, as a result of a change in Applicable Law occurring after the date hereof, with respect to a Tax Return required to be filed by Seller pursuant to this Section 8.2(a), Seller is required to take a position for which there is no prior practice, make an election or select a method for the first time that is reasonably expected to materially adversely affect an Acquired Company, Seller shall consult with Buyer Parent prior to taking such position, making such election or selecting such method and shall not do so without Buyer Parent's prior written consent, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

(b) Unless required by Applicable Law, Buyer Parent shall not, and shall cause the Acquired Companies to not, take any action on or after the Closing Date (other than the transactions contemplated by this Agreement) that could be reasonably expected to result in an increased Tax of an Acquired Company attributable to a Pre-Closing Tax Period or an indemnity obligation (or increase in an indemnity obligation) of Seller under Section 8.1(a), without the prior written consent of Seller, which consent may not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Without limitation of the foregoing, unless required by a final determination Buyer Parent shall not, and shall cause the Acquired Companies to not, take any position to the effect that any items of deductions or loss attributable to Retained Hedge Losses accelerate into current deductions or losses as a result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or are limited or disallowed under Section 382 or 383 of the Code.

(c) Except to the extent otherwise required by Applicable Law, Buyer Parent shall not, and shall not permit any of its Affiliates to, without the prior written consent of Seller, which consent may not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, amend any Tax Returns of the Acquired Companies relating in whole or in part to a Pre-Closing Tax Period.

(d) Each of Seller and Buyer shall reimburse the other party, as applicable, for the Taxes for which Seller or Buyer, as applicable, is liable pursuant to Section 8.1, but which are remitted in respect of any Tax Return to be filed by the other party pursuant to this Section 8.2 upon the written request of the party entitled to reimbursement setting forth in detail the computation of the amount owed by Seller or Buyer, as the case may be, but in no event earlier than ten (10) days prior to the due date for paying such Taxes.

SECTION 8.3 Tax Refunds. Any Tax refund, credit, or similar benefit (including any interest paid or credited with respect thereto) (a "Tax Refund") relating to the Acquired Companies for Taxes paid for any Pre-Closing Tax Period shall be the property of Seller; provided, however, to the extent such Tax Refund arises from the carryback of an item of deduction or loss from a Post-Closing Tax Period to a Pre-Closing Tax Period or was taken into account in Total Adjusted Book Value, such Tax Refund shall be property of Buyer Parent. If received by Buyer Parent or either Acquired Company, Buyer Parent shall, or shall cause the Acquired Companies to, pay such Tax Refund to which Seller is entitled under this Section 8.3 promptly to Seller, net of any Tax cost to Buyer Parent or any of its Affiliates attributable to the receipt of such refund. In the event that any such Tax Refund is subsequently contested by any Tax Authority, such contest shall be handled in accordance with the procedures in Section 7.5. Any additional Taxes resulting from the contest shall be indemnified in accordance with Section 8.1.

SECTION 8.4 Cooperation and Exchange of Information. Seller and Buyer Parent shall provide each other with such cooperation and information as either of them or their respective Affiliates may reasonably request of the other in filing any Tax Return, amended Tax Return or claim for Tax Refund, determining a liability for Taxes or a right to a Tax Refund, or participating in or conducting any contest in respect of Taxes (a "Tax Contest"). Such cooperation and information shall include providing copies of relevant Tax Returns or portions thereof, together with accompanying schedules, related work papers and documents relating to rulings or other determinations by any Tax Authority. Each party and its Affiliates shall make its employees available on a basis mutually convenient to both parties to provide explanations of any documents or information provided hereunder. Each of Seller and Buyer Parent shall retain all Tax Returns, schedules and work papers, records and other documents in its possession relating to Tax matters of the Acquired Companies for each Tax period first ending after the Closing Date and for all prior Tax periods until the later of (i) the expiration of the statute of limitations of the Tax period to which such Tax Returns and other documents relate, without regard to extensions except to the extent notified in writing of such extensions for the respective Tax periods, or (ii) three (3) years following the due date (without extension) for such Tax Returns. Any information obtained under this Section 8.4 shall be kept confidential except as otherwise may be necessary in connection with the filing of Tax Returns or claims for Tax Refunds or in conducting a contest or as otherwise may be required by Applicable Law or the rules of any stock exchange.

SECTION 8.5 Conveyance Taxes. Buyer Parent or Seller, as appropriate, shall execute and deliver all instruments and certificates necessary to enable the other to comply with any filing requirements relating to any sales, use, transfer, value added, stock transfer and stamp taxes, any transfer, recording, registration and other fees and any similar Taxes ("Conveyance Taxes") which become payable in connection with the purchase of Shares or DSL Interests by Buyer Parent or the consummation of any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and shall file such applications and documents as shall permit any Conveyance Taxes to be assessed and paid. Any Conveyance Taxes incurred in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be paid one-half by Buyer and one-half by Seller.

SECTION 8.6 Miscellaneous.

(a) Each of Seller and Buyer Parent agrees that for U.S. federal income tax purposes, each of the Pre-Sale Transactions shall be treated as occurring in the taxable year of the period (or portion thereof) ending on the Closing Date; provided, however, in the event Buyer Parent elects for the reinsurance of the FA Business to occur after the Closing on the Closing Date, such transactions shall be treated as occurring on the day after the Closing Date for U.S. federal income tax purposes pursuant to the "next-day rule" of Treasury Regulation § 1.1502-76(b)(1)(ii)(B).

(b) Seller and Buyer Parent agree to treat all payments (other than interest on a payment) made by either of them to or for the benefit of the other or the other's Affiliates or the Acquired Companies under this Article VIII and under other indemnity provisions of this Agreement as adjustments to (i) the amount in respect of the purchase and sale of the Shares contemplated by this Agreement, (ii) the amount in respect of the purchase and sale of the DSL Interests or Services Company contemplated by this Agreement, (iii) the Company Ceding Commission or (iv) the RLI Ceding Commission, as appropriate in each case, for Tax purposes and that such treatment shall govern for purposes hereof to the extent permissible under Applicable Law.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement to the contrary, the obligations of Seller to indemnify and hold harmless the Buyer Indemnified Persons, as well as the obligations of Buyer Parent to indemnify and hold harmless the Seller Indemnified Persons, pursuant to this Article VIII shall terminate on the later of three months after the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations (taking into account any applicable extensions or tollings thereof) with respect to the Tax liabilities in question or sixty (60) days after the final administrative or judicial determination of such Tax liabilities, except for any indemnity obligations as to which a claim has been made before the expiration of the applicable period.

(d) In the event of any Tax Contest, the conduct of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of Section 7.5.

(e) Except for Sections 7.3, 7.4, 7.5 and 7.7, indemnification under this Agreement for or with respect to any Taxes of the Acquired Companies shall be provided exclusively in this Article VIII and the provisions of Article VII shall not apply. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) the provisions of Section 7.3(a) shall not apply to the provisions of this Article VIII, provided however, that (ii) Seller's liability arising out of Section 8.1(a)(vi) shall not exceed 21% of (A) the positive increase to the tax reserves in the deferred variable annuity business which is the subject of the CBVA Recapture and Amendment Agreement less (B) the absolute value of the decrease to the tax reserves in the payout annuity business which is the subject of the CBVA Recapture and Amendment Agreement, in each case as of January 1, 2018 resulting from Section 13517 of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act set forth in the Conference Agreement, dated as of December 15, 2017 (or any substantially similar provision of law).

(f) Should it be necessary, equitable adjustments will be made to prevent duplicate recovery for indemnification with respect to the same item.

(g) Any Tax Sharing Arrangement entered into by Seller or any Affiliate of Seller, on the one hand, and any Acquired Company, on the other hand, shall be terminated as to each Acquired Company on or prior to the Closing, and after the Closing the Acquired Companies shall not have any liability thereunder.

(h) Seller will file or cause to be filed a "Section 1.1502-36 Statement" (as defined in Treasury Regulation § 1.1502-36(e)(5)) with the timely filed U.S. federal consolidated income tax return for the consolidated group of which Seller is a member for the consolidated tax return year that includes the Closing Date substantially in the form of Schedule 8.6(h) hereto making a valid election pursuant to Treasury Regulation § 1.1502-36(d)(6)(i)(A) and (B) to (i) reattribute all or a portion of the tax attributes of the Acquired Companies described in Treasury Regulation § 1.1502-36(d)(6)(i)(B) immediately prior to the Closing other than the following Category C attributes: (x) deferred losses from hedges of liabilities that are being taken into account under the agreed upon mark and spread method of accounting, as identified by Buyer at least 30 days prior to the due date of the Tax Return to which such Section 1.1502-36 Statement will be attached, in an amount not to exceed $1.066 billion (such attributes, the "Retained Hedge Losses"), (y) previously capitalized amounts pursuant to Section 848 of the Code and (z) attributes arising from adjustments to tax reserves that will be reflected as items of income or deduction after the Closing Date pursuant to Section 807(f) of the Code or Section 13517 of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act set forth in the Conference Agreement, dated as of December 15, 2017 (or any substantially similar provision of law) and (ii) to reduce members' bases in shares of such Acquired Company by the excess of the "attribute reduction amount" attributable to such Acquired Company over the amount reattributed pursuant to clause (i) (the "Section 1.1502-36 Election"). For the avoidance of doubt, the parties agree that (i) Seller shall make the Section 1.1502-36 Election in whatever form is necessary to avoid any reduction in the Category C Attributes referred to in clauses (x) through (z) above and the Category D attributes of the Acquired Companies; (ii) Seller shall reattribute to itself all deferred losses from hedges of liabilities that are being taken into account under the agreed upon mark and spread method of accounting in excess of the Retained Hedge Losses; and (iii) Seller shall reattribute to itself all Category A and Category B attributes of the Acquired Companies arising as a result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Seller will deliver a copy of the Section 1.1502-36 Statement to Buyer Parent as soon as practicable following the filing of Seller's U.S. federal consolidated Tax Return. Seller and its Affiliates will not take any action that could be expected to result in a revocation of the Section 1.1502-36 Election.

(i) Neither Buyer Parent nor the Acquired Companies shall carryback to a Pre-Closing Tax Period any item of loss, deduction or credit or any net operating loss, net capital loss or other tax credit or benefit that is attributable to, arises from or relates to any taxable period (or portion thereof) commencing after the Closing Date; provided, however, that if Buyer is required under Applicable Law to carryback any such item and is not permitted by Applicable Law to waive such carryback, Buyer and Seller shall, reasonably and in good faith (taking into account potential benefits and detriments to Seller, Buyer and their respective Affiliates), consider any request by Buyer to amend a Tax Return filed by or with respect to the Company with respect to a Pre-Closing Tax Period (or take any other action reasonably required) in order to claim a Tax refund or other reimbursement attributable to such carryback and will pay to Buyer the net Tax benefits actually received by Parent, Seller or any of their Affiliates that are associated with such carryback (as determined taking into account (i) any costs, including any Taxes, attributable to the receipt of such refund or other reimbursement and (ii) the effect of such carryback on the Tax attributes of Parent, Seller and their Affiliates and any limitations on use of those attributes).

(i) In the event that, as a result of a change in Applicable Law occurring after the date hereof, (x) any of the representations and warranties made by Seller in Section 3.10 become materially inaccurate or untrue (without regard to any proviso or exception therein regarding changes in Applicable Law), (y) Seller would be in breach of its obligations under Section 5.1(a)(xiii) (without regard to any proviso or exception therein regarding changes in Applicable Law), or (z) Seller would be in breach of any of its obligations under this Article VIII (determined without regard to any proviso or exception regarding changes of Applicable Law) in a manner that is reasonably expected to materially adversely affect an Acquired Company, then Seller shall inform Buyer Parent as soon as reasonably practicable as to the nature of such change and the treatment under clause (x), (y), or (z) above.

(ii) At the Closing, Seller shall deliver to Buyer Parent a schedule setting forth the changes to Applicable Law occurring after the date hereof having any of the consequences described in clauses (x), (y) or (z) of this Section 8.6(j) and a description prepared in good faith setting forth in reasonable detail the consequences to the Acquired Companies of such changes ("Schedule 8.6(j)").

ARTICLE IX
TERMINATION PRIOR TO CLOSING

SECTION 9.1 Termination of Agreement. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing:

(a) by Seller or Buyer Parent in writing, if there shall be any order, injunction or decree of any Governmental Entity that prohibits or restrains any party from consummating the transactions contemplated hereby, and such order, injunction or decree shall have become final and non-appealable; provided, that the party seeking to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1(a) shall have performed in all material respects its obligations under this Agreement, including, if applicable, its obligations under this Agreement to contest such order, injunction or decree;

(b) by Seller or Buyer Parent in writing, if the Closing has not occurred on or prior to October 1, 2018 (as it may be extended as contemplated below or by Section 10.8(b), the "Outside Date"), unless the failure of the Closing to occur is the result of a material breach of this Agreement by the party seeking to terminate this Agreement; provided, that if on the Outside Date either of the conditions set forth in Section 6.1(a) or Section 6.1(b) has not been satisfied then, upon the written notice of either Seller to Buyer Parent or Buyer Parent to Seller, the Outside Date shall be extended to a date and time that is not later than 5:00 pm, New York City time, on January 2, 2019.

(c) by either Seller or Buyer Parent (but only so long as Seller or Buyer Parent, as applicable, is not in material breach of its obligations under this Agreement) in writing, if a breach of any provision of this Agreement that has been committed by the other party, or, in addition, in the case of Seller, by Reinsurer Parent, would cause the failure of any mutual condition to Closing or any condition to Closing for the benefit of the non-breaching party and such breach is not capable of being cured or is not cured within twenty (20) days after the breaching party receives written notice from the non-breaching party that the non-breaching party intends to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1(c);

(d) by Seller if (i) all of the conditions to the obligations of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent under this Agreement set forth in Section 6.1 or Section 6.2 have been satisfied (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing; provided, that such conditions must be capable of being satisfied assuming, for this purpose, that the Closing Date were the date that valid notice of termination of this Agreement is delivered by Seller to Buyer Parent pursuant to this Section 9.1(d)), (ii) Seller has confirmed in writing to Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent that all of the conditions to Seller's obligations under this Agreement set forth in Section 6.1 or Section 6.3 (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing; provided, that such conditions must be capable of being satisfied, assuming, for this purpose, that the Closing Date were the date that valid notice of termination of this Agreement is delivered by Seller to Buyer Parent pursuant to this Section 9.1(d)) have been satisfied or will be waived and that Seller is ready, willing and able to proceed with the Closing, and (iii) Buyer Parent fails to comply with its obligations under Article II to consummate the Closing (irrespective of whether Reinsurer Parent has paid the Estimated Ceding Commission) within the time specified in Section 2.2;

(e) (i) by Seller, by written notice to Buyer Parent within two (2) Business Days following the date on which the Closing would otherwise have occurred pursuant to Section 2.2 and has failed to occur for the second of any two consecutive months due, in each such month, solely to the failure of the condition set forth in Section 6.2(d) to be satisfied or waived by Buyer Parent, and in each of such consecutive months Seller provided written notice to Buyer Parent at least one (1) Business Day prior to the date on which the Closing would otherwise have occurred pursuant to Section 2.2 that all other conditions set forth in Article VI have been satisfied or waived (other than those other conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing) and requesting that Buyer Parent waive the failure of the condition set forth in Section 6.2(d), or (ii) by Buyer Parent, by written notice to Seller within two (2) Business Days following the date on which the Closing would otherwise have occurred pursuant to Section 2.2 and has failed to occur for the second of any two consecutive months due, in each such month, solely to the failure of the condition set forth in Section 6.3(d) to be satisfied or waived by Seller, and in each of such consecutive months Buyer Parent provided written notice to Seller at least one (1) Business Day prior to the date on which the Closing would otherwise have occurred pursuant to Section 2.2 that all other conditions set forth in Article VI have been satisfied or waived (other than those other conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing) and requesting that Seller waive the failure of the condition set forth in Section 6.3(d); or

(f) by mutual written consent of Seller and Buyer Parent.

SECTION 9.2 Effect of Termination. If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1, this Agreement shall become null and void and of no further force and effect without liability of any party (or any Representative of such party) to the other parties to this Agreement; provided, that no such termination shall relieve a party from liability for any fraud or Willful Breach of this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Section 1.1 (as applicable), Section 5.5, Section 5.16(b), Section 5.24(b), this Section 9.2 and Article X shall survive termination hereof pursuant to Section 9.1. If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1, (i) Buyer Parent shall return all documents received from Seller, its Affiliates and its Representatives relating to the transactions contemplated hereby, whether obtained before or after the execution hereof, to Seller and (ii) all confidential information received by Buyer Parent with respect to the Acquired Companies or the Business shall be treated in accordance with the Confidentiality Agreement, which shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the termination of this Agreement.

ARTICLE X
GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 10.1 Fees and Expenses.

(a) Except as provided below in this Section 10.1 and as otherwise provided in Section 5.4, Section 5.16(b), and Section 5.24(b), whether or not the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are consummated, each party hereto shall, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, pay its own Transaction Expenses incident to preparing for, entering into and carrying out the Transaction Agreements and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby.

(b) In the event Seller terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 9.1(c) as a result of a breach by Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent of their respective obligations under Section 5.4 or Seller terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 9.1(d), then Buyer Parent shall pay Seller a nonrefundable fee in the amount of $105,000,000 (the "Termination Fee"), by wire transfer of same-day funds, no later than two (2) Business Days after such termination; provided, however, that any failure by any Control Investor to comply with the terms of Section 5.4 after the cure period set forth in the last sentence of Section 5.4(b)(ii) shall be deemed to be a breach by Buyer Parent of such provisions for purposes of (a) Seller's ability to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 9.1(c) and Buyer Parent's obligation to pay Seller the Termination Fee pursuant to this Section 10.1(b) and (b) the proviso in Section 9.1(a). In no event shall Buyer Parent be required to pay the Termination Fee on more than one occasion, whether or not the Termination Fee may be payable pursuant to more than one provision of this Agreement at the same or at different times and upon the occurrence of different events.

(c) In the event that Seller is entitled to receive the Termination Fee and Buyer Parent fails to timely pay all or any portion of the Termination Fee and, in order to obtain such payment, Seller commences an Action against Buyer Parent and obtains a final judgment in Seller's favor, Buyer Parent shall promptly reimburse Seller for all reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses incurred by Seller (including the reasonable and documented fees and expenses of all attorneys, consultants and other experts retained by Seller) in connection with collecting the Termination Fee up to a maximum of $3,000,000 (the "Recovery Costs").

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, if Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent breaches this Agreement or fails to perform any of its covenants, obligations or agreements hereunder (whether such breach or failure is willful (including a Willful Breach), material, intentional, unintentional or otherwise), the sole and exclusive remedies (whether such remedies are sought in equity or at law, in contract, in tort or otherwise) of Seller or any of its Affiliates against Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent, the Investors and any of their respective Affiliates for any losses, damages, costs, expenses, obligations or liabilities arising out of or resulting from any breach or failure to perform their obligations under this Agreement (or any breach of or failure to be true of any representation, warranty contained in this Agreement or any other Transaction Agreement, or any breach of any covenant, obligation or agreement contained in this Agreement or any other Transaction Agreement) or any failure of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement to be consummated, including the failure of any aspect of the Financing contemplated by the Financing Commitments, shall be (i) the right to obtain an injunction, specific performance or other equitable relief pursuant to and subject to the limitations of Section 10.7(b) and of the Financing Commitments pursuant to the terms thereof; and (ii) Seller's right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 9.1(c) or Section 9.1(d) and (A) if this Agreement has been terminated in circumstances in which the Termination Fee is payable, receive (1) the Termination Fee and (2) all Recovery Costs in accordance with Section 10.1(c) or (B) if this Agreement has been terminated in circumstances in which the Termination Fee is not payable and (1) there has been any fraud by Buyer Parent with the intent to deceive or mislead Seller regarding Buyer Parent's representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements set forth in this Agreement or in any certificate furnished in connection with the Closing or a Willful Breach of this Agreement, recover monetary damages from Buyer Parent with respect to such fraud or Willful Breach or (2) there has been a breach by Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent of its covenant to reimburse Seller set forth in Section 5.16(b) or Section 5.24, recover monetary damages from Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent, as applicable, resulting from or arising out of such breach. Neither Buyer Parent nor Reinsurer Parent may avoid responsibility for any portion of the Termination Fee, the Recovery Costs in accordance with Section 10.1(c) or damages recoverable from Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent, in each case in circumstances in which such amounts are payable or recoverable, as applicable, arising out of or resulting from any breach or failure to perform by the other party, including that it did not breach or fail to perform under this Agreement. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, in no event shall any of Buyer, Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent, Reinsurer, any Investor or any of their respective former, current or future directors, officers, employees, agents, general or limited partners, managers, members, stockholders, Affiliates or assignees or any former, current or future director, officer, employee, agent, general or limited partner, manager, member, stockholder, Affiliate or assignee of any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Buyer Related Parties") have any monetary liability or obligations to Seller or any of Seller's Affiliates relating to or arising out of this Agreement, any Contract executed in connection herewith (including the Limited Guarantees or the Financing Commitments or any other Transaction Agreement) or any of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby (or the abandonment or termination thereof) in excess of an aggregate amount equal to the sum of (x) the amount of the Termination Fee plus (y) the amount of the Recovery Costs for which Buyer Parent is obligated to reimburse Seller in accordance with Section 10.1(c), and none of Seller, its Affiliates or their respective representatives shall be entitled to bring or maintain any Action against any Buyer Related Party arising out of or in connection with this Agreement or any other Transaction Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby (or the termination thereof) or any matters forming the basis for such termination except as provided in this Section 10.1(d), against each Sponsor, under, as and when required pursuant to the terms of the applicable Limited Guarantee, against Apollo, Reinsurer Parent and AAIA for performance of their respective obligations to fund their respective committed portions of the Financing solely in accordance with, and pursuant to the terms and conditions of, the applicable Financing Commitment. Buyer Parent and Seller acknowledge and agree that the agreements contained in this Section 10.1 are an integral part of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements, and that, without these agreements, Seller would not enter into this Agreement and that the Termination Fee is not a penalty, but rather is liquidated damages in a reasonable amount that will compensate Seller in circumstances in which the Termination Fee is paid for the efforts and resources expended and opportunities foregone while negotiating and seeking to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, which amount would otherwise be impossible to calculate with precision.

(e) While Seller may pursue either a grant of specific performance in accordance with Section 10.7(b) or the payment of the Termination Fee and any Recovery Costs under Sections 10.1(b) and (c), under no circumstances will Seller be permitted or entitled to receive both (i) a grant of specific performance to cause the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby following which the Closing occurs in accordance with this Agreement and (ii) any portion of the Termination Fee.

SECTION 10.3 Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to a Section, Exhibit or Schedule, such reference shall be to a Section of, or an Exhibit or Schedule to, this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. All references herein to any agreement, instrument, statute, rule or regulation are to the agreement, instrument, statute, rule or regulation as amended, modified, supplemented or replaced from time to time (and, in the case of statutes, includes any rules and regulations promulgated under said statutes) and to any section of any statute, rule or regulation including any successor to said section. Any fact or item disclosed in any section of each of the Buyer Disclosure Schedule and Seller Disclosure Schedule shall be deemed disclosed in all other sections of such Disclosure Schedule to the extent the applicability of such fact or item to such other section of such Disclosure Schedule is reasonably apparent on its face. Disclosure of any item in the Buyer Disclosure Schedule or Seller Disclosure Schedule, as the case may be, shall not be deemed an admission that such item represents a material item, fact, exception of fact, event or circumstance or that occurrence or non-occurrence of any change or effect related to such item would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The table of contents and headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. The word "or" shall not be exclusive except where the context otherwise requires. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation." Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate. Whenever the word "Dollars" or the "$" sign appear in this Agreement, they shall be construed to mean United States Dollars, and all transactions under this Agreement shall be in United States Dollars. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the parties hereto and shall not be construed by any Governmental Entity against either party by virtue of the fact that such party was the drafting party.

SECTION 10.4 Entire Agreement; Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement (including all exhibits and schedules hereto), the Confidentiality Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties, both written and oral, among the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and the other Transaction Agreements. Except as set forth in (i) Section 5.10 with respect to the directors and officers referred to therein and (ii) Articles VII and VIII with respect to the Buyer Indemnified Persons and the Seller Indemnified Persons, this Agreement is not intended to confer upon any Person other than the parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

SECTION 10.5 Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

SECTION 10.6 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise (other than following the Closing by operation of law in a merger), by either party without the prior written consent of the other party, and any such assignment that is not consented to shall be null and void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

SECTION 10.7 Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such action, suit or other proceeding is improper; provided, that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 10.2, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(b) The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that, without the necessity of posting bond or other undertaking, the parties hereto shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in accordance with this Agreement (including that Seller shall be entitled to cause Buyer Parent and its Affiliates to enforce their rights under the Financing Commitments or any definitive documents relating to the Financing), this being in addition (subject to the terms of this Agreement) to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity. In the event that any Action is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no party hereto shall allege, and each party hereto hereby waives any defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law. If, prior to the Outside Date, any party hereto brings any Action in accordance with this Section 10.7(b) to enforce specifically the performance of the terms and provisions hereof by the other party, the Outside Date shall be automatically extended (i) for the period during which such action is pending, plus ten (10) Business Days or (ii) by such other time period established by the court presiding over such action, as the case may be.

(c) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING

OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 10.7.

SECTION 10.8 Severability; Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

(a) Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under Applicable Law, but if any provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect under any Applicable Law in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability will not affect any other provision or portion of any provision in such jurisdiction, and this Agreement will be reformed, construed and enforced in such jurisdiction as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or portion of any provision had never been contained herein.

(b) This Agreement may be amended or a provision hereof waived only by a written instrument signed by each of Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent and Seller in the case of an amendment, or in the case of a waiver, by the party hereto entitled to make such a waiver.

(c) No delay on the part of any party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any waiver on the part of any party of any right, power or privilege, nor any single or partial exercise of any such right, power or privilege, preclude any further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other such right, power or privilege.

SECTION 10.9 Certain Limitations.

(a) Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent acknowledge and agree that neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates (including the Acquired Companies), nor any Representative of any of them, makes or has made, and Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent have not relied on, any inducement or promise to Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent except as specifically made in this Agreement or in any other Transaction Agreement or any representation or warranty to Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent, oral or written, express or implied, other than as expressly set forth in Article III. Without limiting the foregoing, and without limiting the scope of the representations and warranties set forth in Article III, (i) no Person has made any representation or warranty to Buyer Parent or Reinsurer Parent with respect to the Acquired Companies, the Shares, the DSL Interests or any other matter, including with respect to (A) merchantability, suitability or fitness for any particular purpose, (B) the operation of the Acquired Companies by Buyer Parent or of the FA Business by Reinsurer and the Company after the Closing, (C) the probable success or profitability of the Acquired Companies or the Business after the Closing or (D) any information, documents or material provided to Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent, their respective Affiliates or their respective Representatives in any "data rooms," information memoranda, management presentations, functional "break-out" discussions or in any other form or forum in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including any estimation, valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast with respect to the Acquired Companies or the Business and (ii) with respect to any such estimation, valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast, Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent each acknowledge that: (A) such estimations, valuations, appraisals, projections and forecasts are not and shall not be deemed to be representations or warranties of Seller or any of its Affiliates and (B) other than in the case of fraud, it shall have no claim against any Person with respect to any such valuation, appraisal, projection or forecast (it being understood that the foregoing shall not be deemed to limit any representation or warranty of Seller in Article III with respect to true, correct and complete copies of any such documents having been provided to Buyer Parent).

(b) Without limiting the foregoing, Seller makes no express or implied representation or warranty hereby or otherwise under this Agreement that the reserves held by or on behalf of the Company or otherwise with respect to the Business or the assets supporting such reserves have been or will be adequate or sufficient for the purposes for which they were established, or that the reinsurance recoverables taken into account in determining the amount of such reserves will be collectible.

(c) Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent each further acknowledges and agrees that it (i) has made its own inquiry and investigation into and, based thereon, has formed an independent judgment concerning the Acquired Companies and the Business, (ii) has been provided adequate access to such information as it has deemed necessary to enable it to form such independent judgment, (iii) has had such time as it deems necessary and appropriate fully and completely to review and analyze such information, documents and other materials and (iv) has been provided an opportunity to ask questions of Seller with respect to such information, documents and other materials and has received answers to such questions that it considers satisfactory. Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent further acknowledge and agree that neither Seller nor any of its Affiliates has made any representations or warranties, express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of, and that Buyer Parent, Reinsurer Parent and their respective Affiliates have made their investment decision with respect to the acquisition of the Shares and the DSL Interests without reliance upon, such information, documents and other materials other than the representations and warranties expressly set forth in Article III of this Agreement (including the Seller Disclosure Schedule), any other Transaction Agreement or any certificate delivered pursuant to the terms of this Agreement or any other Transaction Agreement.

SECTION 10.10 No Offset. No party to this Agreement may offset any amount due to the other party hereto or any of such other party's Affiliates against any amount owed or alleged to be owed from such other party or its Affiliates under this Agreement or any other Transaction Agreement without the written consent of such other party.

SECTION 10.11 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the parties and delivered to the other parties. Each party may deliver its signed counterpart of this Agreement to the other parties by means of electronic mail or any other electronic medium utilizing image scan technology, and such delivery will have the same legal effect as hand delivery of an originally executed counterpart.

SECTION 10.12 Reinsurer Parent Matters. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (i) Buyer Parent's and Reinsurer Parent's obligations under this Agreement shall be several, but not joint and several, (ii) each of Buyer Parent and Reinsurer Parent shall only be responsible under this Agreement for its own representations, warranties, covenants and obligations (including indemnification obligations), (iii) Buyer Parent shall not be responsible for any representations, warranties, covenants or obligations (including indemnification obligations) of Reinsurer Parent under this Agreement and (iv) Reinsurer Parent shall not be responsible for any representations, warranties, covenants or obligations (including indemnification obligations) of Buyer Parent under this Agreement.

SECTION 10.13 Attorney-Client Matters.

(a) Recognizing that Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP ("Willkie") has acted as legal counsel to Seller and certain of its Affiliates (including, prior to the Closing, the Acquired Companies) prior to the date hereof, and that Willkie intends to act as legal counsel to Seller and its Affiliates (which, following the Closing, shall not include the Acquired Companies), the Acquired Companies (i) hereby waive, on their own behalf and agree to cause their controlled Affiliates to waive, any conflicts that may arise in connection with Willkie representing Seller or its Affiliates after the Closing with respect to matters relating to the transactions contemplated hereby, and (ii) shall not, and shall cause their controlled Affiliates not to, seek to have or have Willkie disqualified from any such representation based on the prior representation of the Acquired Companies by Willkie.

(b) The Acquired Companies further agree that all communications in any form or format whatsoever between or among Willkie, Seller, or any of their respective Representatives, that result from or arise out of the negotiation, documentation and consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any dispute arising under this Agreement (collectively, the "Deal Communications") shall be deemed to be retained and owned by Seller, shall be controlled by Seller and shall not pass to or be claimed by the Acquired Companies or any of their Affiliates. All Deal Communications that are attorney-client privileged (the "Privileged Deal Communications") shall remain privileged after the Closing and the privilege and the expectation of client confidence relating thereto shall belong solely to Seller, shall be controlled by Seller and shall not pass to or be claimed by the Acquired Companies or any of their Affiliates (including, following the Closing, Buyer Parent and its Subsidiaries). Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Acquired Companies or any of their Affiliates (including, following the Closing, Buyer Parent and its Subsidiaries) intentionally or inadvertently come into possession of Privileged Deal Communications and in the event that a dispute arises between the Acquired Companies, on the one hand, and a third party other than Seller, on the other hand, the Acquired Companies may assert the attorney-client privilege to prevent the disclosure of the Privileged Deal Communications to such third party; provided, however, that the Acquired Companies may not waive such privilege without the prior written consent of Seller.

LLC Agreement Term Sheet

[See attached.]

THIS DRAFT SUMMARY OF TERMS IS NON-BINDING AND DOES NOT CONSTITUTE AN OFFER TO SELL OR A SOLICITATION OF AN OFFER TO BUY SECURITIES, AND IS FOR DISCUSSION PURPOSES ONLY. ANY BINDING AGREEMENT OR OFFER OR SOLICITATION TO SELL OR BUY SECURITIES WILL ONLY BE MADE PURSUANT TO FINAL AND DEFINITIVE DOCUMENTATION EXECUTED BY ALL PARTIES THERETO, DELIVERED IN ACCORDANCE WITH APPLICABLE LAW, INCLUDING SECURITIES LAWS, RULES AND REGULATIONS, INCLUDING THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED, AND THE LAWS, RULES AND REGULATIONS OF SUCH OTHER JURISDICTIONS AS MAY APPLY.

VA CAPITAL COMPANY LLC
SUMMARY OF TERMS OF PROPOSED PRIVATE OFFERING AND PRINCIPAL TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS

The following term sheet (this "Term Sheet") summarizes the principal terms with respect to a proposed private offering of equity interests (the "Offering") of VA Capital Company LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("InvestCo"), including a summary of the principal terms of certain transaction documents (the "Proposed Transaction Documents") that the parties will enter into with respect to the Offering. The Offering will be made available to certain eligible investors (as described below), as set forth in this Term Sheet and the Proposed Transaction Documents. This Term Sheet is intended for discussion purposes only and does not express, create or imply any definitive agreement regarding intent, and is not intended to and does not create any binding legal or equitable obligation. The parties agree that no liability shall arise upon any abandonment or restructuring of the proposals herein and do not intend to be bound until they enter into final and definitive agreements with respect to the Offering and other transactions described herein.

THE PROPOSED OFFERING
Issuer:	InvestCo, a newly-incorporated Delaware limited liability company. InvestCo is being formed to invest in Venerable Holdings, Inc., a newly-incorporated Delaware corporation ("NewCo"), and other potential closed blocks of annuity businesses. NewCo plans to conduct its operations through Voya Insurance and Annuity Company, an Iowa life insurance company ("Indigo"), that will be acquired from Voya Financial, Inc. a Delaware corporation ("Voya"), in connection with the Indigo Transaction (defined below). Following the Indigo Transaction Closing (defined below), (a) except for shares of NewCo's common stock issued under the Management Incentive Plan (defined below), NewCo will be 100% owned by InvestCo and (b) Indigo will be 100% owned by NewCo.
Securities Offered:	Units representing InvestCo membership interests (collectively, the "Units"). All Units will be exactly the same, provided that certain voting rights associated with the Units held by either Crestview or Reverence, as applicable, may be restricted during the duration of an Investor Non-Approval Condition (as defined below), as described below under "Investor Non-Approval".[1]
Size of Offering:	Up to $515.7 million (with the initial capitalization as described further in the section titled "Capitalization" below).
Initial Capital Commitment:	The Unitholders (as defined below) shall commit to make capital contributions to InvestCo of up to the following amounts ("Committed Capital"):

[1] If the IID (as defined below) requires, instead of the contractual restrictions on voting and governance described in this Term Sheet that InvestCo have multiple classes of stock, one voting and one non-voting, then InvestCo shall have two classes of stock, voting and non-voting, but otherwise the same in all respects

	Unitholder: Committed Capital Apollo $ 118.3 million Athene $ 110.8 million Crestview $ 118.3 million Reverence $ 118.3 million Voya $ 50 million TOTAL $ 515.7 million provided, however, that if a DTA Avoidance Event[2] occurs, then each Unitholder's Committed Capital will be automatically adjusted downward such that each Unitholder's Committed Capital will be as follows: Unitholder: Committed Capital Apollo $ 100 million Athene $ 93.7 million Crestview $ 100 million Reverence $ 100 million Voya $ 42 million TOTAL $ 435.7 million The difference between the amount of a Unitholder's Committed Capital if a DTA Avoidance Event occurs and the amount of a Unitholder's Committed Capital if a DTA Avoidance Event does not occur is referred to herein as the "DTA Adjustment Amount". It is understood and agreed that the amount of Committed Capital of each Unitholder (other than Voya) in excess of (a) $114.3 million (or, in the case of Athene, $107.1 million) if no DTA Avoidance Event occurs, (b) $96 million (or, in the case of Athene, $90 million) if a DTA Avoidance Event occurs, or (c) in the case of either of the foregoing clauses (a) or (b), such lower amount equal to the amount to be funded by such Unitholder at the Indigo Transaction Closing and pursuant to any Regulatory Funding Requirement, in each case, shall be called solely for the payment of Transaction Expenses[3] in the event the IID prohibits Indigo or its subsidiaries from paying such expenses ("Excess Transaction Expenses"); provided, however, that Excess Transaction Expenses borne by any Unitholder shall not, in any event, exceed $4,000,000.00.

[2] For purposes of this term sheet, "DTA Avoidance Event" means the receipt by InvestCo of an opinion or opinions of counsel reasonably acceptable to it with respect to certain U.S. federal income tax matters related to the transactions contemplated by the Indigo Purchase Agreement on or prior to the date of the Indigo Transaction Closing.

[3] For this purpose, "Transaction Expenses" means all expenses incurred by Apollo, Athene, Crestview, Reverence or their respective Affiliates in conducting diligence, the negotiation, execution and delivery of the Indigo Purchase Agreement, their respective equity commitment letters, limited guarantees, subscription agreements, all other agreements contemplated hereby and thereby, the formation and organization of InvestCo and NewCo and otherwise in connection with the Indigo Transaction and the transactions contemplated hereunder, the acquisition of Indigo and related equity financing, including, without limitation, filing fees and fees and expenses of consultants, lawyers, tax, accounting and other advisors and agents; provided, that Transaction Expenses shall be subject to a mutually agreeable allocation as to what expenses are qualifying expenses to be borne by InvestCo to be agreed among Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence.

[4] Initial capitalization of InvestCo assumes a $500 million purchase price, subject to a potential up-size to a $700 million purchase price. For purchase prices between (i) $500 and $600 million, components of InvestCo’s initial capitalization will be between the amounts shown in the first and second columns (calculated on a straight-line basis) and (ii) $600 and $700 million, the individual components of InvestCo’s initial capitalization will be between the amounts shown in the second and third columns (calculated on a straight-line basis). This illustration assumes that a DTA Avoidance Event occurs. If a DTA Avoidance Event does not occur, the equity values for (A) each of Apollo, Crestview and Reverence (in each of the three columns) would increase by $18.3 million, (B) Athene (in each of the three columns) would increase by $17.1 million and (C) Voya (in each of the three columns) would increase by $8 million (and the values in the row labeled “Total” would increase correspondingly).

[5] Will be intentionally structured to be just less than 10%.

[6] The Unitholders will cooperate, and coordinate with the IID, to ensure a balance between funding Capital Commitments at Closing and future Regulatory Funding Requirements such that any amounts held in reserve in respect of the Regulatory Funding Requirement are subject to a reasonable commitment period.

	future as required by the IID (a "Regulatory Funding Event") (such Committed Capital shall be called pro rata based on the amount of Committed Capital of a particular Unitholder as compared to the aggregate amount of Committed Capital of all Unitholders), it being understood and agreed that in no event shall the aggregate total of the purchase price in the Transaction (exclusive of transaction costs and expenses) and any Regulatory Funding Requirement exceed $700 million (inclusive of subordinated notes values). Each of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence agrees to reserve amounts for follow-on investments that would bring the combined amount of Committed Capital, considering the Committed Capital funded at the Indigo Transaction Closing, capital held pursuant to a Regulatory Funding Requirement and other reserved capital to $118.3 million (and, in the case of Athene, $110.8 million) (or, if a DTA Avoidance Event occurs, $100.0 million and $93.7 million, respectively). The parties agree that amounts of the Committed Capital funded pursuant to the Regulatory Funding Requirement or reserved capital up to $118.3 million (and, in the case of Athene, $110.8 million) (or, if a DTA Avoidance Event occurs, $100.0 million and $93.7 million, respectively) shall be funded at the original deal cost; provided, that, after the Indigo Transaction Closing, no party shall be required to fund capital in excess of any Regulatory Funding Requirement if it chooses not to, in which case, the other parties can choose to fund to make up that unfunded amount, and such amount shall also be funded at the original deal cost (and, for the avoidance of doubt, any non-funding party will be correspondingly diluted).
Use of Proceeds:	The initial capital raised by InvestCo, net of transaction and formation expenses, will be used to fund the acquisition of all of the outstanding shares of NewCo and, in turn, all of the outstanding shares of Indigo (including its closed block variable annuity business (the "CBVA")) (the "Indigo Transaction"). The closing of the Indigo Transaction is expected to occur following the receipt of applicable regulatory approvals, which are expected to be received within six (6) to nine (9) months after the signing of a Master Transaction Agreement for the Indigo Transaction (the "Indigo Transaction Closing").
Dividends:	It is anticipated that in connection with receiving regulatory approvals for the acquisition of Indigo, Indigo will be required to agree not to pay dividends without regulatory approval for a number of years following the Indigo Transaction Closing. Accordingly, the Unitholders should be prepared not to receive any dividends or other proceeds for a number of years following their investment.
Transaction Costs and Expenses:	The expenses involved in the formation of InvestCo and NewCo and the execution of the Indigo Transaction (including the expenses of the Unitholders incurred in connection therewith) will be paid and/or reimbursed out of the funds received from the Unitholders in connection with the Indigo Transaction Closing.
Transaction Fees:	Other than any transaction fees, monitoring fees or similar arrangements approved pursuant to the conflicts process described below under "Conflicts Process" or fees paid pursuant to the IMA (defined below) or the Indigo Reinsurance Agreements (as defined below), each transaction fee, monitoring fee or similar arrangement will be shared among the Unitholders pro rata based on Unit ownership.

Regulatory Approval:[7]	Approval of the Indigo Transaction will be required by the IID and each Unitholder (and, perhaps, affiliates thereof) will be required to file and be approved as a "control person" within the meaning of the Iowa Code. Regulatory approvals of the Indigo Transaction, including the structure contemplated in this Offering, will be a condition to the Indigo Transaction Closing.
INVESTCO LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT (THE "LLC AGREEMENT")
Parties:	InvestCo and the equityholders of InvestCo holding Units ("Unitholders").
Voting Rights:	Each Unitholder will have one (1) vote for each Unit held by it and will be entitled to vote at all meetings of the Unitholders; provided, that such voting rights shall be restricted during the duration of an Investor Non-Approval Condition as described further below under "Investor Non-Approval".
Governance:	InvestCo Board: The board of managers of InvestCo (the "InvestCo Board") shall consist of seven (7) managers. Each Unitholder owning not less than 15% of the Units as of the Indigo Transaction Closing, for so long as each such party owns at least a majority of the Units held by such Unitholder as of the Indigo Transaction Closing, will be entitled to appoint one (1) manager who is qualified under Delaware law, as applicable, to serve as a manager. Each Unitholder and InvestCo will agree to vote for, or take such other actions as are required to ensure the appointment of, the manager nominee selected by any Unitholder entitled to appoint a manager (each such manager or director nominated by a Unitholder or Unitholder Nominated Director to the InvestCo Board, the NewCo Board (as defined below) or the Indigo Board (as defined below) by a Unitholder (directly or indirectly) pursuant to this paragraph or the immediately following two paragraphs, a "Unitholder Nominated Director"). The chief executive officer of NewCo will serve as a manager on the InvestCo Board.[8] The other two managers of the InvestCo Board shall be independent managers nominated and appointed as described below. Voya will be entitled to appoint one (1) non-voting observer who, subject to certain exceptions, may attend meetings of the InvestCo Board and receive all documents and information pertaining to such meetings. For the avoidance of doubt, no action shall be permitted to be taken by any of NewCo or Indigo that would be inconsistent with the terms of the LLC Agreement, and, except as required pursuant to applicable law or insurance regulation, all governance shall be vested in the InvestCo Board. NewCo Board: The board of directors of NewCo (the "NewCo Board") shall consist of seven (7) individuals that are selected in the same manner as the managers on the InvestCo Board (and may, but need not, consist of the same persons nominated to the InvestCo Board). Each Unitholder, Unitholder Nominated Director, InvestCo and NewCo will agree to vote for, or take such other actions as are required to ensure the appointment of, such individuals to the NewCo Board. Voya will be entitled to appoint one (1) non-voting observer who, subject to certain exceptions, may attend meetings of the NewCo Board and receive all documents and information pertaining to such meetings.

[7] Each Unitholder owning 10% or more of InvestCo Units will be a control person of Indigo under the Iowa Code.

[8] Expected to be Dave Marcinek.

	Indigo Board: The board of directors of Indigo (the "Indigo Board") shall consist of seven (7) directors. Each of the Unitholder Nominated Directors on the NewCo Board will be entitled to appoint one (1) director to the Indigo Board who is qualified under Delaware and Iowa law, as applicable, to serve as a director. Each Unitholder, each Unitholder Nominated Director, InvestCo, NewCo and Indigo will agree to vote for, or take such other actions as are required to ensure the appointment of, the director nominee selected by any Unitholder Nominated Director on the NewCo Board. The other three directors of the Indigo Board shall be independent directors nominated and appointed as described below. Voya will be entitled to appoint one (1) non-voting observer who, subject to certain exceptions, may attend meetings of the Indigo Board and receive all documents and information pertaining to such meetings. If at any time, any Unitholder entitled to nominate a Unitholder Nominated Director ceases to own at least a majority of the outstanding Units held by such Unitholder as of the Indigo Transaction Closing,[9] then (a) any Unitholder Nominated Director appointed by such Unitholder (directly or indirectly) shall immediately resign or be removed from the InvestCo, NewCo or Indigo Board, as applicable, and (b) the rights of such Unitholder provided under this Term Sheet to (i) nominate a manager or director (including an independent manager or director) shall immediately terminate (but without impacting the rights of the other Unitholders to nominate managers or directors), (ii) take certain actions as described in "Conflicts Process" below, (iii) approve capital raises as described in "Unitholder Approvals" below, (iv) request an IPO pursuant to clause (c) or (d) of "Initial Public Offering" below (but without impacting the rights of the other Unitholders to request an IPO pursuant to such clauses) and (v) request a Company Sale as described in "Sale Rights" below (but without impacting the rights of the other Unitholders to request a Company Sale) (the rights described in this clause (b), together with the manager or director appointment rights described above, the "Significant Unitholder Rights"); provided, that for as long as such Unitholder continues to own at least 5% of the outstanding Units, such Unitholder shall be entitled to appoint one (1) non-voting observer who, subject to certain exceptions, may attend meetings of the InvestCo Board, the NewCo Board and the Indigo Board and receive all documents and information pertaining to such meetings. Independent Managers and Directors: At least one-third (1/3) of the directors on the Indigo Board will be independent and at least two members of the InvestCo Board and the NewCo Board will be independent. For example, an Indigo Board of seven (7) directors would have a minimum of three (3) independent directors. An independent director must be included in each meeting of the Indigo Board for there to be a quorum and each vote in order to approve any action.[10] Apollo and Athene, on the one hand,

[9] The requirement that a Unitholder own a majority of the outstanding Units held by such Unitholder as of the Indigo Transaction Closing in order to retain the Significant Unitholder Rights is referred to herein as the "Majority Unit Requirement".

[10] Required by IA Code 521A.5(4)(c) which requires at least one third of the board of an insurer and one third of each committee be independent, and that one independent director be included in any quorum for the transaction of business at a board or committee meeting. IA Code 521A.5(4)(e) exempts insurers from (c) if the person controlling the insurer has a board or committee that meets these requirements with respect to such controlling entity.

	and Crestview and Reverence, on the other hand,[11] shall have the right to nominate one independent manager or director, as applicable, to serve on each of the InvestCo Board, the NewCo Board and the Indigo Board (subject to adjustment for any increases in the size of the applicable board); provided, that the independent manager or director, as applicable, nominated by Apollo and Athene, on the one hand, and Crestview and Reverence, on the other hand, shall be reasonably acceptable to the other group. The Indigo Board shall include a third independent director reasonably acceptable to all four of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence.[12] Each Unitholder, each Unitholder Nominated Director, InvestCo, NewCo and, if applicable, Indigo will agree to vote for, or take such other actions as are required to ensure the appointment of each independent manager or director nominee nominated and approved pursuant to this paragraph. Managers and directors (as applicable) will be appointed for one (1) year terms, subject to re-election each year at the annual meeting of the Unitholders or shareholders (as applicable) of InvestCo, NewCo and Indigo. Each of the InvestCo Board, the NewCo Board and the Indigo Board may designate a Chairman and a Vice Chairman. Board Committees: The NewCo Board and/or the Indigo Board shall have the following committees, which shall perform, but not be limited to, the functions listed below. Each committee of the Indigo Board must have no fewer than one-third (1/3) (or, in certain cases, as indicated below, a majority) independent directors, one of whom must be included in each meeting for there to be a quorum and each vote in order to approve any action.[13] Except for the Compensation Committee of the Indigo Board and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee of the Indigo Board (or any other committee of the NewCo Board or the Indigo Board as the NewCo Board or the Indigo Board, as applicable, may establish in the future that has certain statutory participation requirements under applicable law or regulations), each of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence shall have the right to have its Unitholder Nominated Director serve on any NewCo Board or Indigo Board committee, sub-committee or working group, as applicable.[14] The InvestCo Board shall have the power and authority to determine whether to form any committees for itself, which such committees to have and, if applicable, the members of such committees. • Audit Committee (NewCo Board) – will assist the NewCo Board or the Indigo Board (if the Indigo Board has, in its discretion, determined to forego creating its own audit committee and delegate its audit function to the NewCo Audit

[11] If Apollo and Athene cannot agree on who to nominate as their independent manager or director, as applicable, then one party shall nominate three candidates and the other party shall select one of those candidates. The party to nominate the three candidates will be determined by a coin flip (unless the parties otherwise agree). The same process shall apply if Crestview and Reverence cannot agree on who to nominate as their independent manager or director, as applicable.

[12] If the parties are unable to agree on the third independent director, then one of the two independent directors shall nominate three candidates and the other independent director shall select one of those candidates as the third independent director. The independent director to nominate the three candidates will be determined by a coin flip.

[13] See FN 10; required by IA Code 521A.5(4)(c).

[14] In the event that the Iowa insurance commissioner requires any committee membership other than as set forth in this Term Sheet, it is the intent of the parties that the committee membership shall as closely as possible approximate the membership set forth herein as is permitted by the Iowa insurance commissioner, including the creation of any similar board and committee architecture at any sister entity of Indigo that may employ the employees who provide services to Indigo.

	Committee), as applicable, with oversight and monitoring responsibilities related to: NewCo's or Indigo's, as applicable, consolidated financial statements and financial and accounting processes, compliance with audit, internal accounting and internal controls requirements, internal accounting and financial controls of NewCo or Indigo, as applicable, legal and regulatory compliance, ethical standards and accounting-related complaints.[15] • Compensation Committee (Indigo Board) – will review and annually approve corporate goals and objectives, including financial and other performance targets, for executive officers and key employees of Indigo and its subsidiaries, as applicable; appoint executive officers of Indigo and its subsidiaries, as applicable; review and recommend Indigo's share-based management incentive plans or other incentive-based plans; review employment-related agreements and review compensation-related policies. The Compensation Committee of the Indigo Board must consist of a majority of independent directors.[16] • Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee (Indigo Board) – will evaluate and recommend individuals qualified to become independent members of the Indigo Board; recommend such nominees for election at the corresponding annual meetings; develop corporate governance guidelines and recommend them to the Indigo Board; oversee performance evaluation of Indigo Board members; and recommend managers or directors eligible to serve on committees of the Indigo Board. All Unitholder Nominated Directors that satisfy the qualification standards of the applicable Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will be nominated for election. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee of the Indigo Board must consist of a majority of independent directors.[17] • Risk and Investment Committee (NewCo Board and Indigo Board) – will oversee the investment strategies and investment advisory relationships of NewCo or Indigo, as applicable; assist the NewCo Board or the Indigo Board, as applicable, in fulfilling their respective oversight obligations and perform other functions related to overseeing risk, including fulfilling enterprise risk management oversight responsibilities required under state insurance laws. The Risk and Investment Committee of the NewCo Board and the Indigo Board shall jointly create a separate working group responsible for overseeing and monitoring the CBVA hedge portfolio. Members of the working group will consist of: one (1) member appointed by Apollo, one (1) member appointed by Athene, one (1) member appointed by Crestview, one (1) member appointed by Reverence, one (1) member of management and one (1) additional member as determined by the InvestCo Board. The members of the working group appointed by the Unitholders shall serve pursuant to a consulting arrangement which will provide standard indemnification and disclaimers from liability other than for fraud or willful misconduct. The working group will report to the Risk and Investment Committee of the NewCo Board on a regular basis and will work with the Risk and Investment Committee of the NewCo Board in establishing the hedging framework for the CBVA. The working group will report to the InvestCo Board on a quarterly basis (or on such other basis as determined by the InvestCo Board). For the avoidance of doubt, managers or directors selected to participate on a committee must be selected from then-existing managers or directors and shall be appointed, subject to the foregoing, by the NewCo Board or the Indigo Board (on recommendation from its Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee), as applicable. For each committee, sub-committee or working group of the NewCo Board or the Indigo Board that has certain statutory participation requirements under applicable law or regulation, including the Compensation Committee of the Indigo Board and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee of the Indigo Board, as a result of which not all Unitholder Nominated Directors may serve on any such NewCo Board or Indigo Board committee, sub-committee or working group, each Unitholder Nominated Director of such board shall be entitled to participate in such committee, sub-committee or working group as an observer.

[15] The number of independent directors required to be on the Audit Committee will be driven by the NAIC Model Audit Rule requirements, as adopted in Iowa, and will be based on the expected annual direct written and assumed premiums expected on the CBVA and other acquired business in Indigo.

[16] IA Code 521A.5(4)(d) requires one or more committees with a majority of independent directors be responsible for recommending or nominating director candidates for election by shareholders, evaluating performance of principal officers of the insurer and recommending to the board the selection and compensation of the principal officers of the insurer. IA Code 521A.5(4)(e) exempts insurers from (d) if the person controlling the insurer has a board or committee that meets these requirements with respect to such controlling entity.

Investor Non-Approval	Notwithstanding the foregoing, during the duration of an Investor Non-Approval Condition with respect to either Crestview or Reverence, the rights of Crestview or Reverence, as applicable, shall be modified as follows (provided, that (a) the following shall have no effect on the rights of the other of Crestview or Reverence with respect to which no Investor Non-Approval Condition applies, and (b) subject to the Majority Unit Requirement, the other of Crestview or Reverence, as applicable, shall succeed to the rights of the Unitholder for which an Investor Non-Approval Condition[18] is in effect (the "Non-Approval Unitholder") with respect to the designation of Unitholder Nominated Directors; provided, that after the one-year anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing, subject to the Majority Unit Requirement, if the Investor Non-Approval Condition continues, any Unitholder Nominated Director appointed by the other of Crestview or Reverence on behalf of such Non-Approval Unitholder shall be an independent director (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall be designated by the other of Crestview or Reverence on behalf of such Non-Approval Unitholder and shall be in addition to the other independent director nominated on behalf of Crestview and Reverence in accordance with this Term Sheet): • Voting Rights: The Non-Approval Unitholder shall have its voting rights reduced to 9.99% of the total voting percentage of InvestCo. • Unitholder Nominated Directors: The Non-Approval Unitholder shall no longer be entitled to the right to appoint Unitholder Nominated Directors, and such Non-Approval Unitholder will instead have the right to appoint an observer to each of the InvestCo Board, the NewCo Board and the Indigo Board. • Other Unitholder Rights: The Non-Approval Unitholder shall retain all other rights (including all Significant Unitholder Rights other than as modified above) of such Unitholder as described herein and subject to the conditions hereof, to the extent such rights are acceptable to the Iowa Insurance Department. During the duration of an Investor Non-Approval Condition with respect to both Crestview and Reverence, all of the limitations set forth above shall apply to both Crestview and Reverence, and the board seats on the InvestCo Board that would otherwise be filled by Unitholder Nominated Directors designated by Crestview and Reverence (or their Unitholder Nominated Directors) will be filled by managers that satisfy the independence requirements of the Iowa code and are approved by a plurality vote of the Units. For the avoidance of doubt, for purposes of selecting directors to serve on the Indigo Board, such directors will be deemed "Unitholder Nominated Directors" serving on the NewCo Board. During the duration of an Investor Non-Approval Condition, the affected Non-Approval Unitholder shall be able to pursue the approval required to remove the Investor Non-Approval Condition. Following the date at which an Investor Non-Approval Condition ceases to exist with respect to any Non-Approval Unitholder, such Unitholder will automatically have all rights (including all Significant Unitholder Rights) that such Unitholder would otherwise be entitled to in the absence of an Investor Non-Approval Condition.

Conflicts Process:	The InvestCo Board will develop and oversee a conflicts process whereby the managers unaffiliated with an interested Unitholder shall review and approve (by majority vote of such disinterested managers) certain material transactions (including any amendment or change thereto following approval in accordance with this Term Sheet) between InvestCo or any of its direct or indirect subsidiaries, on the one hand, and any Unitholder or any of its affiliates, on the other hand. The documented process will include provisions for: • reviewing the implementation or alteration of any and all fees payable by InvestCo or any of its direct or indirect subsidiaries to any Unitholder or Unitholder affiliate, • defining exceptions for transactions that will not require InvestCo Board approval, • requiring any conflicted Unitholder Nominated Director to recuse himself or herself when appropriate, and • terminating ongoing or previously-approved arrangements (other than the Indigo Reinsurance Agreements, which shall not be subject to termination; provided, that any modification or amendment to such arrangement shall be subject to approval (or disapproval) in accordance with this Conflicts Process). Such related party transactions, if approved by majority vote of disinterested managers as described above, will be subject to disapproval by a majority of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence who are disinterested (either directly or indirectly, including as an affiliate of an entity entering into any such arrangement with InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries), and to the extent arrangements are ongoing, they will be terminable (other than the Indigo Reinsurance Agreements; provided, that any modification or amendment to such arrangement shall be subject to approval (or disapproval) in accordance with this Conflicts Process) at the request of a majority of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence who are disinterested (either directly or indirectly, including as an affiliate of an entity that is a party to any such arrangement with InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries) upon 90-days' notice (and such termination shall not require the additional approval of the InvestCo Board).

Unitholder Approvals:	Matters requiring Unitholder approval must be approved based on a majority of the vote of the outstanding Units. Actions requiring Unitholder approval shall include: • IPO (as defined below) of NewCo or any of its subsidiaries (it being understood that InvestCo shall not effect an IPO), • change of control of InvestCo or NewCo (whether by sale of Units, stock, merger or otherwise) or a sale of all or substantially all of InvestCo's or NewCo's assets (a "Company Sale"); • liquidation of InvestCo or any material subsidiary; • issuances of equity securities of InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries other than issuances (x) to InvestCo (in the case of NewCo) or NewCo (in the case of its direct subsidiaries), (y) pursuant to the Management Incentive Plan or (z) issuances in respect of a Regulatory Funding Event; and • actions requiring Unitholder approval pursuant to Delaware law. In addition, capital raises (it being understood that no capital raises shall occur at any of NewCo or its subsidiaries) (including related to any acquisition but excluding issuances of Units in respect of any Regulatory Funding Event) of equity or equity-like capital in an amount in excess of $200 million (considered in the aggregate with all other such capital raises occurring following the Indigo Transaction Closing) shall require the approval of a majority of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence. For the avoidance of doubt, all such decisions would also require approval of the InvestCo Board and all other matters not listed herein shall be within the authority of the InvestCo Board, in each case, requiring a majority approval threshold.
Corporate Opportunity Doctrine:	The Unitholders (and, for the avoidance of doubt, the equityholders of NewCo and Indigo) will agree to waive the corporate opportunity doctrine in full, and the organizational documents for InvestCo, NewCo and Indigo and their respective subsidiaries will include provisions waiving the corporate opportunity doctrine; provided, that each Unitholder will present any business opportunity relating to the acquisition, consolidation or reinsurance of additional U.S.-based closed block variable annuities to InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries, and the InvestCo Board will discuss in good faith whether to pursue such opportunity. InvestCo shall have 15 business days following the presentation of such opportunity to decide whether to pursue such opportunity, and if InvestCo declines to pursue such opportunity, the Unitholder which brought such opportunity to InvestCo will have the right to pursue the opportunity independent of InvestCo, NewCo, any of their respective subsidiaries or any of the other Unitholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the organizational documents of InvestCo, NewCo and Indigo will not limit Athene's business model or require Athene to offer any variable annuity blocks to InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries (it being understood and agreed that, prior to offering any opportunity to co-invest in any such variable annuity business to a third party, Athene will first offer such opportunity to InvestCo).

	If any business opportunity required to be presented to InvestCo pursuant to the immediately preceding paragraph includes a fixed annuity component, such fixed annuities shall be offered to Athene in the same manner as offered to InvestCo.
Preemptive Rights:	In the event that InvestCo seeks to raise additional capital through capital commitments or the issuance of additional Units following the Indigo Transaction Closing, each Unitholder that meets certain qualifications shall have the right, for fifteen (15) business days after receipt of a preemptive offer notice from InvestCo to subscribe for his, her or its pro rata portion of the offered commitments or Units; provided, however, that such preemptive rights will be subject to customary exceptions, including with respect to securities issued: (a) in connection with a Regulatory Funding Event; (b) to any person in connection with an acquisition, amalgamation, merger, consolidation or reorganization approved by the InvestCo Board; (c) in connection with an IPO; or (d) as a Unit dividend or upon any Unit split or other pro-rata subdivision or combination of equity securities. No capital raise shall be effected other than through InvestCo (i.e., no capital raise shall occur at NewCo or any subsidiary thereof).
Syndication:	Before or within 6 months following the Indigo Transaction Closing, InvestCo shall permit one or multiple persons or entities who are affiliates, partners (general or limited), members, employees, officers or directors of a Unitholder or any of its affiliates to make commitments to such Unitholder in order to reduce such Unitholder's commitment to InvestCo as long as such transaction (i) does not violate any regulatory requirement or require any regulatory approval and (ii) is conducted through a vehicle that is controlled by such syndicating Unitholder (any such transaction, a "Syndication"). Any Units owned by any employees, officers, directors or affiliates of any Unitholder or any of its affiliates as a result of any Syndication shall be aggregated for purposes of measuring ownership of Units for purposes of this Term Sheet (including, but not limited to, the thresholds described in the section titled "Governance" above).
Transfer Restrictions:	Transfer Restrictions: After the Indigo Transaction Closing and until the earliest of (a) the fifth (5th) anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing, (b) the consummation of an IPO, and (c) the consummation of a Company Sale, no Unitholder may transfer any Units (or any commitment or rights related thereto) (other than transfers to affiliates or in connection with any Syndication) without the approval of the InvestCo Board (in its sole discretion). Additionally, any transfer (whether occurring before or after the fifth (5th) anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing and including any Syndication) must comply with certain requirements under the LLC Agreement, including, but not limited to, that (i) any such transfer may not (A) cause InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries to be required to register under the Investment Company Act or subject InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries or any Unitholder or Unitholder affiliate to any additional regulatory or tax requirements, or (B), in the determination of the InvestCo Board, be reasonably likely to violate or require notice or approval under any applicable regulatory or tax requirement except as would not reasonably be expected to have a material and adverse effect on InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries and (ii) each Unitholder may elect to purchase its pro rata portion (calculated on the basis of the Units held by all non-transferring Unitholders) of any Units proposed to be transferred by one Unitholder to another Unitholder. Moreover, any transfer must be made in accordance with all applicable regulatory requirements. Any transfer of Units by or on behalf of any Unitholder that is an individual (y) for estate planning purposes to any corporation, limited liability company, limited partnership or trust created for the benefit of such individual or one or more of such individual's parent, spouse, siblings or descendants or (z) by way of testamentary or intestate succession to such individual's beneficiaries or heirs is permitted.[19] See Appendix A for additional transfer provisions with respect to the Units during the duration of an Investor Non-Approval Condition.

Drag-Along Rights:	Subject to the restrictions on transfer described under "Transfer Restrictions" above, if, at any time, any Unitholder or group of Unitholders propose to transfer at least a majority of the outstanding Units (other than transfers to affiliates or in connection with any Syndication) or otherwise effect a Company Sale to one or more third parties in one or a series of related transactions, then all of the Unitholders shall take all actions required to consummate such transfer, including selling all Units owned by them on the terms proposed.
Tag-Along Rights:	Subject to the restrictions on transfer described under "Transfer Restrictions" above, if, at any time, any Unitholder or group of Unitholders propose to transfer at least 40% of the outstanding Units (other than transfers to affiliates or in connection with any Syndication) to one or more third parties in one or a series of related transactions, then such selling Unitholder must offer each of the other Unitholders the right to sell a portion of his, her or its Units on the same terms and subject to the same conditions (up to his, her or its pro rata share of Units) to the potential third party purchaser in such transfer pursuant to the terms of, and subject to the limitations of, the LLC Agreement (provided, that in the event that any of Apollo, Athene, Crestview or Reverence seeks to transfer any Units (other than transfers to affiliates or in connection with any Syndication), those of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence who are not transferring Units in such transaction shall have the opportunity to tag-along for their pro rata share of such transferring person(s)'s Units transferred in such transaction). Subject to the restrictions on transfer described under "Transfer Restrictions" above, if, at any time, Athene, Apollo or both proposes to transfer any Units owned by it or them (as applicable) (other than transfers to affiliates or in connection with any Syndication) to one or more third parties in one or a series of related transactions, such that, as a result of such transfer or series of related transfers, neither Athene nor Apollo (nor any of their respective affiliates) would hold any Units, then Voya shall have the right to sell all (but not less than all) of its Units on the same terms and subject to the same conditions as Apollo or Athene, as applicable, to the proposed third party purchaser in such transaction.
Initial Public Offering ("IPO"):	If (a) at any time, the InvestCo Board has, with the Unitholder approval described above, approved an IPO of NewCo, (b) at any time between the fifth (5^{th}) and sixth (6^{th}) anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing, Unitholders representing at least a majority of the total outstanding Units have requested an IPO of NewCo, (c) at any time from and after the sixth (6^{th}) anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing, any two (2) or more of Apollo, Athene, Crestview or Reverence have requested an IPO of NewCo or (d) at any time from and after the eighth (8^{th}) anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing, any of Apollo, Athene, Crestview or Reverence has requested an IPO of NewCo, each Unitholder shall, among other things, take all actions determined by the InvestCo Board or the NewCo Board to be reasonably necessary or desirable in connection with the offering or any reorganization in connection therewith. Additionally, InvestCo and NewCo shall use commercially reasonable efforts to promptly take all commercially reasonable actions to effect an offering contemplated by clause (a), (b), (c) or (d) above; provided, that, with respect to clauses (b), (c) and (d) above, InvestCo or NewCo may postpone the offering if the InvestCo Board or NewCo Board determines in good faith that effecting such offering (i) would adversely affect a material financing, acquisition, disposition, merger or other business combination transaction or (ii) would adversely affect InvestCo or any of its subsidiaries (including NewCo and Indigo) in any material respect; provided, that the right to so postpone such an offering may not be exercised more than three (3) times or for more than one hundred eighty (180) days in the aggregate. For the avoidance of doubt, there shall be no IPO of InvestCo or the Units. For the avoidance of doubt, the rights described in the sections hereof entitled "Preemptive Rights," "Transfer Restrictions," "Drag-Along Rights," "Tag-Along Rights " and "Sale Rights" shall terminate upon the consummation of an IPO of NewCo.

Sale Rights:	At any time from and after the sixth (6^{th}) anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing, any two (2) or more of Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence shall have drag-along rights to cause a Company Sale. In addition, at any time from and after the eighth (8^{th}) anniversary of the Indigo Transaction Closing, each of Apollo, Athene, Crestview or Reverence shall have drag-along rights to cause a Company Sale. If exercised, the other Unitholders shall take all actions required to consummate such Company Sale, including selling all Units owned by them on the terms proposed or consenting to the sale of InvestCo's assets (i.e., NewCo).
Tax Considerations:	The Units will be treated as equity in InvestCo. Athene's debt investment will contain such terms as are reasonably necessary and commercially standard to be treated as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes. InvestCo will elect to be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
Amendment / Waivers:	The LLC Agreement may not be amended except pursuant to a writing signed by (a) InvestCo and (b) Unitholders owning a majority of the outstanding Units; provided, that any amendment or modification that would materially and adversely affect any of the rights, obligations, powers or preferences of any Unitholder shall not be effective as to such Unitholder without his, her or its prior written consent.
Financial Reporting and Information Rights:	InvestCo shall deliver to each Unitholder: (a) audited annual financial statements of InvestCo, prepared consistent with U.S. GAAP; (b) quarterly unaudited financial statements and capital statements of InvestCo; (c) audited annual statutory financial statements of Indigo; and (d) quarterly and annual reports of Indigo as filed with the IID. Unitholders shall be entitled to a minimum of one (1) meeting of the Unitholders per year. Additional management reporting to Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence to be determined.[20]

REGISTRATION RIGHTS AGREEMENT (THE "REGISTRATION RIGHTS AGREEMENT")
Registration Rights:	Each Unitholder will be entitled to sell its equity interests in NewCo in an IPO of NewCo (following such reorganization as shall be effected in furtherance therewith) pro rata based on the percentage of such equity interests owned directly or indirectly by such Unitholder as of the date of the IPO of NewCo, subject to underwriter cutbacks, lock-up periods and other customary provisions. NewCo will grant Unitholders two (2) "demand" underwriting and unlimited "piggyback" registration rights following an IPO of NewCo, as well as the right to cause NewCo to register its common stock on a "shelf" registration statement on Form S-3 to the extent that NewCo is or becomes eligible to use such form. Unitholders will also agree to customary provisions relating to underwriter cutbacks, lock-up periods and the allocation of underwriting expenses incurred in connection with a registration of securities.
Lock-Ups:	Lock-ups will be for one hundred eighty (180) days following an IPO, and ninety (90) days following any additional offering after an IPO.
INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FOR PAYOUT BUSINESS
Services:	Voya (or one of its affiliates) will act as the initial asset manager for the Indigo payout annuity business, including asset allocation, portfolio advising, risk advising, hedging and asset liability advising. Voya (or its applicable affiliate) will also initially provide asset allocation services to Indigo in connection with the CBVA.
Compensation:	TBD
Term and Termination:	The investment management arrangement ("IMA") with Voya (or one of its affiliates) will be subject to term and termination provisions as will be set forth in the definitive agreements related thereto.
Future Investment Management Opportunities:	If additional asset management opportunities with respect to the Indigo payout annuity business (including asset allocation services in connection with the CBVA) become available following the Indigo Transaction Closing (including because of the resignation or termination of Voya as asset manager as described above), Indigo shall request proposals for such services. In addition to any proposal submitted by a third party unaffiliated with Indigo or the Unitholders, each Unitholder will have the right to submit a proposal on behalf of it or one of its affiliates to perform such services. The Indigo Board shall determine the winning proposal based on the totality of proposed terms, including (without limitation) such bidder's performance history, proposed fees and ability to manage the size of the portfolio. In the event the Indigo Board selects a proposal by one or more Unitholders or its affiliates, such proposal shall be subject to [20] If requested by Crestview or Reverence, then Apollo, Athene, Crestview and Reverence will cooperate reasonably between the date on which the Master Transaction Agreement in respect of the Indigo Transaction is executed and the date of the Indigo Transaction Closing to enter into appropriate management access and information rights relating to investment vehicles for purposes of satisfying VCOC requirements.

	approval (and disapproval) pursuant to the procedures described in the section entitled "Conflicts Process" above; provided, that the Indigo Board and the Unitholders may, pursuant to such section, approve the pro rata sharing of any such opportunity among multiple qualified Unitholders or their respective affiliates so selected by the Indigo Board.
INDIGO TRANSACTION AGREEMENTS
Agreements to be entered into in connection with the Indigo Transaction:	Agreements related to the following will be entered into at or prior to the Indigo Transaction Closing, on substantially the terms attached hereto as Appendix B (without requiring additional Unitholder approval) (the agreements and arrangements in clauses (a) and (b) below, the "Indigo Reinsurance Arrangements"): a. reinsurance of the Indigo fixed annuity business to an Athene insurance affiliate, b. reinsurance framework for future Indigo payout annuity business that emerges from the CBVA to an Athene insurance subsidiary, and c. the IMA. Notwithstanding the immediately preceding paragraph, from and after the Indigo Transaction Closing, any reinsurance business opportunity for, or transaction consummated by, InvestCo, NewCo, Indigo or any of their respective direct or indirect subsidiaries, (including the consolidation of additional U.S.-based blocks of run off variable annuities), and the agreements and arrangements entered into in connection therewith, will be (x) negotiated independently from the Indigo Reinsurance Arrangements and (y) approved in accordance with the governance and approval rights contained in this Term Sheet, including pursuant to the conflicts process described above under "Conflicts Process" (if applicable).
MANAGEMENT OF NEWCO
Management Incentive Plan:	Seven and one-half percent (7.5%) of the capital stock of NewCo will be reserved for issuance to management pursuant to performance targets and other metrics in a management incentive plan as determined and adopted by the NewCo Board (the "Management Incentive Plan").
Vesting:	Vesting of management options will be based on a combination of time and performance components, as follows: a. One third (1/3) – time vesting pro rata over five (5) years, b. One third (1/3) – upon achieving a fifteen percent (15%) internal rate of return ("IRR"), and c. One third (1/3) – upon achieving a twenty percent (20%) IRR. In the case of clauses (b) and (c) immediately above, IRR will be based on cash received by InvestCo in its capacity as stockholder of NewCo.

APPENDIX A

ADDITIONAL UNIT TRANSFER PROVISIONS

During the duration of an Investor Non-Approval Condition with respect to Crestview or Reverence, following the Indigo Transaction Closing, Crestview or Reverence (as applicable, the "Transferor") shall be permitted during the one-year period following the Indigo Transaction Closing to seek to transfer all or, in the case of subsection (b) below, a portion of its Units to one or more transferees (each, a "Transferee") as provided below; provided, that the Transferor shall first offer to InvestCo and the remaining Unitholders a right to purchase such Units at an asking price determined by the Transferor:

a. In the event the Units are not so purchased, the Transferor shall be permitted to transfer such Units subject to the Transferee's receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals; provided, that (x) all of the Transferor's Units shall be transferred, (y) the price is at least equal to the asking price offered to InvestCo and the other Unitholders and (z) the Transferee must be approved by Athene and Apollo, with such approval not to be unreasonably withheld. It shall be reasonable to withhold such approval of a Transferee that (i) in the reasonable judgment of Athene or Apollo would be unlikely to be approved by the applicable regulators as a result of (A) a disciplinary action of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission or insurance regulator against or related to such Transferee, (B) such Transferee having been convicted of any crime involving fraud, dishonesty or like moral turpitude, (C) such Transferee being subject to disqualification as a "Bad Actor" from Rule 506 Offerings under Regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or (D) such Transferee previously having applied to be a "control person" of an insurance company, and such application was denied; (ii) is a US or foreign actual or potential competitor of Athene; or (iii) is an actual competitor of Apollo with $25 billion or more in assets under management. After receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals for a transfer, such Transferee shall have all rights of the Transferor without taking into effect the modifications to the Transferor's rights as a result of the Investor Non-Approval Condition (subject, for the avoidance of doubt, to the Majority Unit Requirement measured against the Transferor's ownership as of the Indigo Transaction Closing). The other Unitholders and InvestCo shall reasonably cooperate to allow and facilitate any such transfer, including by making diligence materials and management reasonably available. InvestCo and the remaining Unitholders shall be reimbursed by the Transferor for any out-of-pocket costs associated with the transfer and their required cooperation.

b. As an alternative, but subject to the above described obligation to first offer to InvestCo and the other Unitholders, the Transferor shall be permitted to transfer to one or more Transferees all or a portion of its Units without the consent of Athene and Apollo; provided, that (x) no regulatory approvals would be required in connection with such transfer, (y) the price is at least equal to the asking price offered to InvestCo and the other Unitholders and (z) none of the Transferor's Significant Unitholder Rights or right to appoint a board observer will be granted to any Transferee.

If the Modco Adjustment is a positive number, such amount will be deposited by the Reinsurer into the Modco Account, and if the Modco Adjustment is a negative number, the absolute value of such negative amount will be withdrawn from the Modco Account and will be wired by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer.
Hedging...	Each party will be responsible for hedging its share of the risks associated with the Reinsured Policies, and the manner and nature of such hedging shall be determined by each party in its sole discretion.
Termination as to New Business......	At any time after the fifteen (15) year anniversary of the Effective Date, either party may terminate the GMIB Modco Agreement as to the reinsurance of new Reinsured Policies by providing sixty (60) calendar days' prior written notice to the other party. Subject to the termination provisions in the GMIB Modco Agreement and the payment of any Reinsurance Premiums payable to the Reinsurer in accordance with the Reinsurance Agreement, all then in-force Reinsured Policies will remain Reinsured Policies until the expiration thereof and the Reinsurer will remain liable thereon.

Schedules	The following Schedules are attached to and form a part of this Term Sheet: Schedule I – Reinsurance Premiums Schedule II – GMIB Rider Forms

SCHEDULE I

REINSURANCE PREMIUMS

"Reinsurance Premiums", with respect to each Reinsured Policy, will be an amount equal to the present value of the expected annuity payouts for such Reinsured Policy (the "PV Expected Annuity Payout").

The PV Expected Annuity Payout, with respect to each Reinsured Policy, shall be determined in accordance with a multiple of the "2012 IAM Base Table – ANB" mortality table, adjusted for Scale G2 mortality improvement, as set forth on Exhibit A attached hereto, using the Discount Rate.

The Reinsurer and the Ceding Company will review on an annual basis, or with a frequency as otherwise mutually agreed, the settlement best estimate mortality assumptions, which will be used in the determination of Reinsurance Premiums, and will negotiate in good faith to change the settlement best estimate mortality assumptions if the review indicates proper justification to make such change; provided, that the following principles should be considered in the review of such assumptions:

(i) the review of Ceding Company experience will be based on isolating the mortality experience of GMIB policyholders following their election to annuitize where experience is reasonably credible,

(ii) the review of Ceding Company experience will be based on the mortality experience of GMIB policyholders in aggregate where the mortality experience of GMIB policyholders following their election to annuitize is not reasonably credible, and

(iii) the Ceding Company's actual experience over the immediately preceding five (5) years will be considered most relevant.

The "Discount Rate" will be a rate equal to (a) the Reference Rate, plus (b) (i) 80% multiplied by (ii) the Credit Spread.

REINSURANCE PREMIUMS

"Reinsurance Premiums", with respect to each Reinsured Policy, will be an amount equal to the present value of the expected annuity payouts for such Reinsured Policy (the "PV Expected Annuity Payout").

The PV Expected Annuity Payout, with respect to each Reinsured Policy, shall be determined in accordance with a multiple of the "2012 IAM Base Table – ANB" mortality table, adjusted for Scale G2 mortality improvement, as set forth on Exhibit A attached hereto, using the Discount Rate.

The Reinsurer and the Ceding Company will review on an annual basis, or with a frequency as otherwise mutually agreed, the settlement best estimate mortality assumptions, which will be used in the determination of Reinsurance Premiums, and will negotiate in good faith to change the settlement best estimate mortality assumptions if the review indicates proper justification to make such change; provided, that the following principles should be considered in the review of such assumptions:

(i) the review of Ceding Company experience will be based on isolating the mortality experience of GMIB policyholders following their election to annuitize where experience is reasonably credible,

(ii) the review of Ceding Company experience will be based on the mortality experience of GMIB policyholders in aggregate where the mortality experience of GMIB policyholders following their election to annuitize is not reasonably credible, and

Annex A

Accounting Principles

[See attached.]

ANNEX A

Introduction

This annex sets forth, with respect to certain blocks of business of Voya Insurance and Annuity Company ("VIAC") and Directed Services LLC ("DSL"), the methodologies, procedures, assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Estimated Closing Statement, the Subject Closing Statement and the Final Closing Statement (each, a "Closing Statement"). Capitalized terms that are used but not defined herein have the meanings assigned to them in the Agreement.

The overriding principle for preparation of the Closing Statements will be to assure consistency with the preparation of the Reference Closing Statement. For the avoidance of doubt, GAAP and Applicable Law (with respect to DSL) and the statutory accounting principles, actuarial guidelines and principles and Applicable Law (with respect to VIAC) that were in effect on June 30, 2017 were the sole accounting principles, actuarial guidelines, regulations and law used to prepare the Reference Closing Statement and no effect shall be given to any subsequent changes in such accounting principles, permitted or prescribed practices, actuarial guidelines, regulations and law in the preparation of the Closing Statements, except that any new interest maintenance reserve that is required to be debited or credited after the date hereof and prior to the Closing shall be calculated using the applicable tax rate in effect as of the date on which the underlying Investment Asset is sold.

The cash and invested assets represented in the Reference Closing Statement are not the specific cash and invested assets that will be reflected in the Closing Statements. Individual asset selection must be completed before the allocation of Book Value of cash and invested assets can be finalized and shall follow the Asset Identification Protocols

Accounting Policies and Practices

The Reference Closing Statement is presented on the basis of statutory accounting practices prescribed by the Iowa Department of Insurance ("Iowa DOI") for VIAC, as defined in Exhibit 1. The Iowa DOI recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Iowa for determining and reporting the financial condition and results of operations of an insurance company for determining its solvency under Iowa Insurance Law. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual ("NAIC SAP") has been adopted as a component of prescribed or permitted practices by the State of Iowa.

VIAC has no objection letters for the business under the Agreement.

The Reference Closing Statement is presented on the basis of GAAP prescribed by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") for DSL as summarized in Exhibit 3.

Except as noted herein, the accounting principles and practices used in the preparation of the Closing Statements will be consistent with those used to report the Statutory Statements of VIAC as of and for the period ended June 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, and will be consistent with those used to report the GAAP-basis financial statements of DSL as of and for the period ended June 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016.

The Closing Statements will be prepared as of the Effective Time after giving effect to the Pre-Sale Transactions.

VIAC Significant Accounting Policies

1. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements of VIAC have been prepared in conformity with statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Iowa Insurance Division.

Investments: Investments in bonds and mandatorily redeemable preferred stocks are reported at amortized cost or fair value based on a rating by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners ("NAIC").

VIAC periodically reviews the value of its investments in bonds and mandatorily redeemable preferred stocks. If the fair value of any investment falls below its cost basis, the decline is analyzed to determine whether it is an other-than-temporary decline. To make this determination for each security, the following are some of the factors considered:

- The length of time and the extent to which the fair value has been below cost.
- The financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer of the security, including any specific events that may affect its operations or earnings potential.
- VIAC's intent to sell the security prior to its maturity at an amount below its carrying value.
- VIAC's intent and ability to hold the security long enough for it to recover its fair value.

Based on the analysis, VIAC makes a judgment as to whether the decline in fair value is other–than-temporary. When an other-than-temporary impairment (“OTTI”) is recorded because there is intent to sell or VIAC does not have the intent and ability to hold the security for a period of time sufficient to recover the amortized cost basis, the security is written down to fair value. The total loss recorded is bifurcated between the interest related loss and the non-interest related loss. The interest related portion is deferred through the interest maintenance reserve (“IMR”) and the non-interest related portion is included in the asset valuation reserve (“AVR”) in the period that the OTTI is considered to have occurred as prescribed by the NAIC. Losses resulting from OTTI charges, net of transfers to IMR, are recorded within net realized capital gains (losses) in the statements of operations.

VIAC invests in structured securities, including mortgage backed securities/ collateralized mortgage obligations, asset backed securities, collateralized debt obligations, and commercial mortgage backed securities. Structured securities are reported at amortized cost or fair value based on a rating by the NAIC. They are amortized using the interest method over the period which repayment of principal is expected to occur. For structured securities in unrealized loss positions, VIAC determines whether it has the intent to sell or the intent and ability to hold the security for a period of time sufficient to recover the amortized cost. If VIAC has the intent and ability to hold the security to recovery, VIAC must compare the present value of the expected future cash flows for this security to its carrying value. If the present value of the expected future cash flows for the security is lower than its carrying value, the security is written down to its present value of the expected future cash flows.

Net realized gains and losses on disposed investments are reported in the statements of operations, net of federal income tax and transfers to the IMR.

Asset Valuation Reserves: The AVR is intended to establish a reserve to offset potential credit related investment losses on most invested asset categories. AVR is determined by an NAIC prescribed formula and is reported as a liability rather than as a valuation allowance or an appropriation of surplus. The change in AVR is reported directly to unassigned surplus.

Interest Maintenance Reserve: Under a formula prescribed by the NAIC, VIAC defers the portion of realized gains and losses on sales of fixed income investments, principally bonds, derivatives and mortgage loans, attributable to changes in the general level of interest rates and amortizes those deferrals over the remaining period to maturity based on groupings of individual securities sold in five year bands. VIAC reports the net deferral of IMR as a liability on the accompanying balance sheets. When the net deferral of IMR is negative, the amount is reported as a component of other assets and nonadmitted.

Cash and Short-term Investments: Cash and short-term investments represent cash balances, demand deposits and short-term fixed maturity investments with initial maturities of one year or less at the date of acquisition.

Derivatives: VIAC follows the hedge accounting guidance in SSAP No. 86, Derivatives ("SSAP No. 86") for derivative transactions. Under SSAP No. 86, derivatives that are deemed effective hedges are accounted for entirely in a manner which is consistent with the underlying hedged item. Derivatives used in hedging transactions that do not meet the requirements of SSAP No. 86 as an effective hedge are carried at fair value with the change in value recorded in surplus as unrealized gains or losses. Embedded derivatives are not accounted for separately from the host contract.

Mortgage Loans: Mortgage loans are reported at amortized cost, less write downs for impairments. If the value of any mortgage loan is determined to be impaired (i.e., when it is probable that VIAC will be unable to collect all amounts due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement), the carrying value of the mortgage loan is reduced to the lesser of either the present value of expected cash flows from the loan, discounted at the loan's original purchase yield or fair value of the collateral. For those mortgages that are determined to require foreclosure, the carrying value is reduced to the fair value of the underlying collateral, net of estimated costs to obtain and sell at the point of foreclosure. The carrying value of the impaired loans is reduced by establishing a permanent write-down recorded in net realized capital gains (losses).

Deferred Income Taxes: Deferred tax assets and liabilities represent the future tax recoveries or obligations associated with the accumulation of temporary differences between the tax and financial statement bases of VIAC's assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets are provided for and admitted to an amount determined under a standard formula in accordance with SSAP No. 101. A valuation allowance is required if based on the available evidence, it is more likely than not (a likelihood of more than 50 percent) that some portion or all of the gross deferred tax assets will not be realized. This assessment is determined on a separate reporting entity basis.

After reduction for any valuation allowance, VIAC follows the admissibility formula laid out under SSAP No. 101. These provisions limit the amount of gross deferred tax assets that can be admitted to surplus to those for which ultimate recoverability can be demonstrated. This limitation is based on availability of taxes paid in prior years that could be recovered through carrybacks, the expected timing of reversals for accumulated temporary differences over the next three years to offset future taxes, surplus limits, and the amount of gross deferred tax liabilities available for offset. Any deferred tax assets not covered under the formula are nonadmitted.

SSAP No. 101 requires all changes in deferred tax balances to be included as surplus adjustments. SSAP No. 101 specifically prohibits establishing deferred state income tax assets and liabilities.

Investments in Real Estate: Investments in real estate are reported net of related obligations rather than on a gross basis. Real estate owned and occupied by VIAC is included in investments, and investment income and operating expenses include rent for VIAC's occupancy of those properties. Changes between depreciated cost and admitted asset investment amounts are credited or charged directly to unassigned surplus. Any real estate not meeting the appraisal requirements established in SSAP No. 40R, Real Estate, shall be nonadmitted until the required appraisals are obtained.

Policy Acquisition Costs: The costs of acquiring and renewing business are expensed when incurred.

Premiums: Life premiums are recognized as revenue when due. Premiums for annuity policies with mortality and morbidity risk, except for guaranteed interest and group annuity contracts, are also recognized as revenue when due. Premiums received for annuity policies without mortality or morbidity risk and for guaranteed interest and group annuity contracts are recorded using deposit accounting.

Benefits Paid or Provided: Benefits incurred for universal life and annuity policies represent the total of death benefits paid and the change in policy reserves.

Benefit and Contract Reserves: Life policy and contract reserves under statutory accounting practices are calculated based upon both the net level premium method and Commissioners' Reserve Valuation method ("CRVM") using statutory rates for mortality and interest. Annuity policy and contract reserves under statutory accounting practices are calculated based upon the Commissioners' Annuity Reserve Valuation method ("CARVM") using statutory rates for mortality and interest.

Reinsurance: For business ceded to unauthorized reinsurers, statutory accounting practices require that reinsurance credits permitted by the treaty be recorded as an offsetting liability and charged against unassigned surplus. Policy and contract liabilities ceded to reinsurers have been reported as reductions of the related reserves. Commissions allowed by reinsurers on business ceded are reported as income when received. Losses generated in certain reinsurance transactions are recognized immediately in income, with gains reported as a separate component of surplus and amortized over the remaining life of the business.

Nonadmitted Assets: Certain assets designated as "nonadmitted," principally disallowed deferred federal income tax assets, disallowed interest maintenance reserves, non operating system software, past due agents' balances, furniture and equipment, intangible assets and other assets not specifically identified as an admitted asset within the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual, are excluded from the accompanying balance sheets and are charged directly to unassigned surplus.

Policyholder Dividends: Policyholder dividends are recognized when declared.

Surplus Notes: Surplus notes issued are reported as a component of surplus on the balance sheets. Under statutory accounting practices, no interest expense is recorded on the surplus notes until payment has been approved by the Iowa Insurance Division. To the extent interest has been incurred but not yet accrued because it has not been approved by Iowa Insurance Division, the closing balance sheet will properly reflect interest incurred through the relevant balance sheet.

Separate Accounts: The assets and liabilities of the separate accounts are carried at fair value, and the reserves are calculated based upon the CARVM.

Other significant accounting practices are as follows:

Investments: Investments are stated at values prescribed by the NAIC, as follows:

Bonds not backed by other loans are principally stated at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Loan backed securities are stated at either amortized cost or the lower of amortized cost or fair value. Amortized cost is determined using the effective interest method and includes anticipated prepayments. The retrospective adjustment method is used to determine the amortized cost for the majority of loan-backed and structured securities. For certain securities the prospective adjustment method is used, including interest only securities and securities that have experienced an OTTI.

Redeemable preferred stocks rated as high quality or better are reported at cost or amortized cost. All other redeemable preferred stocks are reported at the lower of cost, amortized cost, or fair value and nonredeemable preferred stocks are reported at fair value or the lower of cost or fair value.

Common stocks are reported at fair value and the related unrealized capital gains/losses are reported in unassigned surplus along with an adjustment for federal income taxes. Federal Home Loan Bank ("FHLB") common stock is carried at par value.

VIAC engages in dollar reverse repurchase agreements with mortgage-backed securities ("dollar rolls") and reverse repurchase agreements with other collateral types to increase its return on investments and improve liquidity. Such arrangements meet the requirements to be accounted for as financing arrangements.

VIAC also enters into repurchase agreements. These transactions involve a purchase of securities and an agreement to sell substantially the same securities as those purchased.

VIAC engages in securities lending whereby certain domestic securities from its portfolio are loaned to other institutions for short periods of time. Initial collateral, primarily cash, is required at a rate of 102% of the market value of the loaned securities. The lending agent retains the cash collateral and invests in liquid assets on behalf of VIAC. The market value of the loaned securities is monitored on a daily basis with additional collateral obtained or refunded as the market value of the loaned securities fluctuates.

Short-term investments are reported at amortized cost which approximates fair value. Short-term investments include investments with maturities between three months and one year at the date of acquisition.

Partnership interests, which are included in other invested assets, are reported at the underlying audited U.S. GAAP equity of the investee. Changes in surplus from distributions are reported in investment income.

Residual collateralized mortgage obligations, which are included in other invested assets on the balance sheets, are reported at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Surplus notes acquired, which are included in other invested assets on the balance sheets, are reported at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Realized capital gains and losses are generally determined using the first in first out method.

Cash on hand includes cash equivalents. Cash equivalents are short-term investments that are both readily convertible to cash and have an original maturity date of three months or less from date of purchase.

VIAC's use of derivatives is primarily for economic hedging purposes to reduce VIAC's exposure to cash flow variability of assets and liabilities, interest rate risk, credit risk, and market risk. For those derivatives in effective hedging relationships, VIAC values all derivative instruments on a consistent basis with the hedged item. Upon termination, gains and losses on instruments are included in the carrying values of the underlying hedged items and are amortized over the remaining lives of the hedged items as adjustments to investment income or benefits from the hedged items. Any unamortized gains or losses are recognized when the underlying hedged items are sold. The unrealized gains and losses from derivatives not designated as accounting hedges are reported at fair value through surplus. Upon termination, interest related gains and losses on asset hedges are included in IMR and are amortized over the remaining lives of the derivatives; other gains and losses are added to the AVR.

VIAC enters into the following derivatives:

Credit Contracts:

Credit default swaps: Credit default swaps are used to reduce credit loss exposure with respect to certain assets that VIAC owns, or to assume credit exposure on certain assets that VIAC does not own. Payments are made to or received from the counterparty at specified intervals. In the event of a default on the underlying credit exposure, VIAC will either receive a payment (purchased credit protection) or will be required to make a payment (sold credit protection) equal to the par minus recovery value of the swap contract. VIAC utilizes these contracts in replication relationships for sold credit protection and non-qualifying relationships for purchased credit protection.

Equity Contracts:

Futures: Futures contracts are used to hedge against a decrease in certain equity indices. Such decreases may result in a decrease in variable annuity account values which would increase the possibility of VIAC incurring an expense for guaranteed benefits in excess of account values. VIAC also uses futures contracts as a hedge against an increase in certain equity indices. Such increases may result in increased payments to the holders of the fixed index annuity ("FIA") contracts. VIAC enters into exchange traded futures with regulated futures commissions that are members of the exchange. VIAC also posts initial and variation margin with the exchange on a daily basis. VIAC utilizes exchange-traded futures in non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Options: VIAC uses put options to manage the equity, interest rate and equity volatility risk of the economic liabilities associated with certain variable annuity minimum guaranteed living benefits. VIAC also uses call and collar options to hedge against an increase in various equity indices. Such increases may result in increased payments to the holders of the FIA contracts. VIAC pays an upfront premium to purchase these options. VIAC utilizes these options in non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Total return swaps: VIAC uses total return swaps as a hedge against a decrease in variable annuity account values, which are invested in certain indices. Using total return swaps, VIAC agrees with another party to exchange, at specified intervals, the difference between the economic risk and reward of assets or a market index and the London Interbank Offered Rates ("LIBOR"), calculated by reference to an agreed upon notional principal amount. No cash is exchanged at the onset of the contracts. Cash is paid and received over the life of the contract based upon the terms of the swaps. VIAC utilizes these contracts in non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Variance swaps: VIAC uses variance swaps to manage equity volatility risk on the economic liabilities associated with certain minimum guaranteed living benefits. An increase in the equity volatility results in a higher valuations of such liabilities. In an equity variance swap, VIAC agrees with another party to exchange amounts in the future, based on the changes in equity volatility over a defined period. VIAC utilizes equity variance swaps in non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Foreign Exchange Contracts:

Foreign exchange swaps: VIAC uses foreign exchange or currency swaps to reduce the risk of change in the value, yield or cash flows associated with certain foreign denominated invested assets. Foreign exchange swaps represent contracts that require the exchange of foreign currency cash flows against U.S. dollar cash flows at regular periods, typically quarterly or semi-annually. VIAC utilizes these contracts in qualifying hedging relationships as well as non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Currency forwards: VIAC uses currency forward contracts to hedge policyholder liabilities associated with variable annuity contracts which are linked to foreign indices. The currency fluctuations may result in a decrease in account values, which would increase the possibility of VIAC incurring an expense for guaranteed benefits in excess of account values. VIAC also utilizes currency forward contracts to hedge currency exposure related to its invested assets. VIAC utilizes these contracts in non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Interest Rate Contracts:

Interest rate swaps: Interest rate swaps are used by VIAC primarily to reduce market risks from changes in interest rates and to alter interest rate exposure arising from mismatches between assets and/or liabilities. Interest rate swaps are also used to hedge the interest rate risk associated with the value of assets it owns or in an anticipation of acquiring them. Using interest rate swaps, VIAC agrees with another party to exchange, at specified intervals, the difference between fixed rate and floating rate interest payments, calculated by reference to an agreed upon notional principal amount. These transactions are entered into pursuant to master agreements that provide for a single net payment to be made to/from the counterparty at each due date. VIAC utilizes these contracts in qualifying hedging relationships as well as non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Swaptions: A swaption is an option to enter into a swap with a forward starting effective date. VIAC uses swaptions to hedge the interest rate exposure associated with the minimum crediting rate and book value guarantees embedded in the retirement products that VIAC offers. Increases in interest rates will generate losses on assets that are backing such liabilities. In certain instances, VIAC locks in the economic impact of existing purchased swaptions by entering into offsetting written swaptions. Swaptions are also used to hedge against an increase in the interest rate benchmarked crediting strategies within FIA contracts. Such increases may result in increased payments to contract holders of FIA contracts and the interest rate swaptions offset this increased exposure. VIAC pays a premium when it purchases the swaption. VIAC utilizes these contracts in non-qualifying hedging relationships Futures: VIAC uses interest rate futures contracts to hedge interest rate risks associated with the CMO-B portfolio. Changes in the general level of interest rates can result in the potential for adverse changes in the portfolio. VIAC enters into exchange traded futures with regulated futures commissions that are members of the exchange. VIAC also posts initial and variation margins, with the exchange, on a daily basis. VIAC utilizes exchange-traded futures in non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Interest rate caps and floors: VIAC uses interest rate cap contracts to hedge the interest rate exposure arising from duration mismatches between assets and liabilities. Interest rate caps are also used to hedge interest rate exposure if rates rise above a specified level. VIAC uses interest rate floor contracts to hedge interest rate exposure if rates decrease below a specified level. VIAC pays an upfront premium for these caps and floors. VIAC utilizes these contracts in non-qualifying hedging relationships.

Contract Loans: Contract Loans are reported at unpaid principal balances but not in excess of the cash surrender value.

Aggregate Reserve for Life Policies and Contracts: Life, annuity, and accident and health reserves are developed by actuarial methods and are determined based on published tables using statutorily specified interest rates and valuation methods that will provide, in the aggregate, reserves that are greater than or equal to the minimum or guaranteed policy cash value or the amounts required by law. Interest rates ranged from 2.25% to 9.75% for 2016.

VIAC waives the deduction of deferred fractional premiums upon the death of the insured. It is VIAC's practice to return a pro rata portion of any premium paid beyond the policy month of death, although it is not contractually required to do so for certain issues.

The methods used in valuation of substandard policies are as follows:

For life, endowment and term policies issued substandard, the standard reserve during the premium paying period is increased by 50% of the gross annual extra premium. Standard reserves are held on Paid-Up Limited Pay contracts.

For reinsurance accepted with table rating, the reserve established is a multiple of the standard reserve corresponding to the table rating.

For reinsurance with flat extra premiums, the standard reserve is increased by 50% of the flat extra.

VIAC anticipates investment income as a factor in premium deficiency calculation in accordance with SSAP No. 54, Individual and Group Accident and Health Contracts.

The tabular interest has been determined from the basic data for the calculation of policy reserves for all direct ordinary life insurance and for the portion of group life insurance classified as group Section 79. The method of determination of tabular interest of funds not involving life contingencies is as follows: current year reserves, plus payments, less prior year reserves, less funds added.

Reinsurance: Reinsurance premiums, commissions, expense reimbursements, and reserves related to reinsured business are accounted for on a basis consistent with those used in accounting for the original policies issued and the terms of the reinsurance contracts. Reserves are based on the terms of the reinsurance contracts and are consistent with the risks assumed. Premiums and benefits ceded to other companies have been reported as a reduction of premium revenue and benefits expense. Amounts applicable to reinsurance ceded for reserves and unpaid claim liabilities have been reported as reductions of these items, and expense allowances received in connection with reinsurance ceded have been reflected in operations.

Electronic Data Processing Equipment: Electronic data processing equipment is carried at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation for major classes of such assets is calculated on a straight line basis over the estimated useful life of the asset, not to exceed three years.

Participating Insurance: Participating business approximates less than 1% of VIAC's life insurance in force. The amount of dividends to be paid to participating policyholders is determined annually by the Board of Directors. Amounts allocable to participating policyholders are based on published dividend projections or expected dividend scales.

Benefit Plans: VIAC provides noncontributory retirement plans for substantially all employees and certain agents. Pension costs are charged to operations as contributions are made to the plans. VIAC also provides a contributory retirement plan for substantially all employees.

Nonadmitted Assets: Changes in nonadmitted assets are generally reported directly in unassigned surplus as an increase or decrease in nonadmitted assets.

Claims and Claims Adjustment Expenses: Claims expenses represent the estimated ultimate net cost of all reported and unreported claims. VIAC does not discount claims and claims adjustment expense reserves. Such estimates are based on actuarial projections applied to historical claim payment data.

Guaranteed Benefits: For variable annuity guarantees, Actuarial Guideline 43 – Variable Annuity Commissioners Annuity Reserve Valuation Method (“AG43") is followed. This guideline interprets how to apply the CARVM. The greater of the result under a single deterministic “Standard Scenario” and the average of the most severe 30% of randomly generated stochastic scenarios is held as the reserve. Both reinsurance and hedging are also reflected. Taxes are not incorporated. All assumptions for the Standard Scenario are prescribed. For the stochastic scenarios, equity market returns must meet a calibration test. All other assumptions are set by the actuary using prudent best-estimates.

Separate Accounts: Most separate account assets and liabilities held by VIAC represent funds held for the benefit of VIAC’s variable life and annuity policy and contract holders who bear all of the investment risk associated with the policies. Such policies are of a non-guaranteed nature. All net investment experience, positive or negative, is attributed to the policy and contract holders’ account values. The assets and liabilities of these accounts, excluding the MVA and CAP, are carried at fair value and are legally segregated and are not subject to claims that arise out of any other business of VIAC. There are no product classification differences between STAT and U.S. GAAP. (See Note 2 for details related VIAC's prescribed practices related to the MVA and CAP.)

Reserves related to VIAC’s mortality risk are included in life and annuity reserves. The operations of the separate accounts are not included in the accompanying financial statements.

2. Permitted and Prescribed Statutory Basis Accounting Practices

The financial statements of VIAC are presented on the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Iowa Insurance Division. The Iowa Insurance Division recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Iowa for determining and reporting the financial condition and results of operations of an insurance company and for determining its solvency under the Iowa Insurance Law. The NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual has been adopted as a component of prescribed practices by the State of Iowa. The Commissioner of the Iowa Insurance Division ("the Commissioner") has the right to permit other specific practices that deviate from prescribed practices.

VIAC is required to identify those significant accounting practices that are permitted or prescribed, and obtain written approval of the practices from the Iowa Insurance Division.

Quasi-Reorganization Permitted Practice
On May 8, 2013, VIAC, with the permission of the Commissioner, restated the gross paid-in and contributed surplus and the unassigned funds components of surplus, as of December 31, 2012, similar to the restatement of surplus that occurs pursuant to the prescribed accounting guidance for a quasi-reorganization under SSAP No. 72, Surplus and Quasi-Reorganizations ("SSAP No. 72"). The restatement resulted in a decrease to gross paid-in and contributed surplus and an increase in unassigned surplus of $1,659.0. This permitted practice had no impact on net income, total capital and surplus or risk-based capital.

MVA Prescribed Practice

VIAC, with the explicit permission of the Commissioner, carries the assets of the MVA Separate Account at amortized cost instead of fair value as required by SSAP No. 56, Separate Accounts ("SSAP No. 56"). VIAC's net income decreased/increased by $(0.7) and $1.9 for the years ending December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, as a result of the prescribed practice. The impact to VIAC's capital and surplus as a result of this prescribed practice was a decrease of $19.8 and $19.2 for the years ending December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

CAP Prescribed Practice

VIAC, with the explicit permission of the Commissioner, carries the assets of the CAP Separate Account on a basis consistent with assets that are held in VIAC's General Account, instead of at fair value as required by SSAP No. 56. The impact to VIAC's capital and surplus as a result of this prescribed practice was immaterial as of December 31, 2016 and 2015. VIAC's net income was impacted by an immaterial amount as a result of the prescribed practice.

IAC 191-97 Prescribed Practice

Effective April 1, 2016, after receipt of non-objection from the Iowa Division of Insurance, VIAC adopted, Iowa Administrative Code 191-97 Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments Used to Hedge the Growth in Interest Credited for Indexed Insurance Products and Accounting for the Indexed Insurance Products Reserve ("IAC 191-97"). Under the prescribed practice, the derivative transactions used to hedge the growth in interest credited on fixed indexed annuities will be carried at amortized cost, with the corresponding reserve liability calculation updated to assume the market value of the options to be zero. Iowa Rule 191-97 supersedes SSAP No. 86. The effect of the adoption of this prescribed practice on April 1, 2016 was a decrease in surplus of $38.3, which is reflected in VIAC's Statement of Changes in Capital and Surplus as both a change in reserve on account of change in valuation basis and a cumulative effect of changes in accounting principle. This adjustment to surplus was comprised of a reversal of inception-to-date unrealized gains in surplus netted against the fair value adjustment on eligible derivative assets of $65.4, partially offset by a decrease in reserves of $27.0, and tax impacts on adjustment to surplus of $16.6 is included in the $82.0 cumulative effect.

VIAC's risk-based capital would not have triggered a regulatory event had VIAC not used any of these prescribed practices.

VIAC plans to execute the following three transactions and will be requesting approval from the Iowa DOI subsequent to June 30, 2017 to support the assumptions currently reflected in the Reference Closing Statement:

Recapture of CBVA business from Roaring River II into VIAC at Book Value

Our Reference Closing Statement assumes that the recapture of the CBVA business from Roaring River II into VIAC will be completed at Book Value through a reinsurance treaty modification. We will request approval for a reinsurance treaty modification from the Iowa DOI to account for this transaction.

Transfer of Derivatives Portfolio into Funds Withheld Trust at Book Value

Our Reference Closing Statement assumes that the transfer of the Derivatives assets portfolio in VIAC, supporting the static hedge program backing our Fixed Indexed Annuities products, will be transferred from our general account into the Funds Withheld portfolio at Book Value rather than at Fair Value, as NAIC SAP requires. We will request a permitted or prescribed accounting practice from the Iowa DOI to account for the transaction at Book Value.

Payment of Interest on Surplus Notes

Our Reference Closing Statement assumes that the surplus notes will remain outstanding with interest accruing thereon. NAIC SAP requires approval from the Iowa DOI before interest may be paid on the surplus notes.

EXHIBIT 2

Adjusted Book Value

Adjusted Book Value should be determined as follows:

Statutory capital and surplus as determined in accordance with the Accounting Principles in Exhibit 1, adjusted for the following:

- Add Asset Valuation Reserve.
- Subtract the greater of i) any DTAs less any DTLs, and ii) zero.

EXHIBIT 3

DSL Significant Accounting Policies

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The DSL financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("U.S. GAAP").

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the DSL financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Management believes that the estimates utilized in preparing its financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash

Cash represents cash on deposit.

Commissions, Concessions and Distribution Fee Receivables

Commissions, concessions and distribution fee receivables are shown at their net realizable value. Uncollectible receivables are charged to operations during the period they are deemed to be uncollectible.

Revenue Recognition

Commission revenue is earned when annuity contracts are issued. Investment advisory fees and services and Fee income are earned as the services are performed.

Liabilities Subordinated to the Claims of General Creditors

DSL had no liabilities subordinated to the claims of general creditors.

Future Adoption of Accounting Pronouncements

Revenue from Contracts with Customers

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers (ASC Topic 606)" ("ASU 2014-09"), which requires an entity to recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Revenue is recognized when, or as, the entity satisfies a performance obligation under the contract. The standard also requires disclosures regarding the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from contracts with customers. The FASB issued various amendments during 2016 to clarify the provisions and implementation guidance of ASU 2014-09.

The provisions of ASU 2014-09 are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2017, with early adoption permitted as of January I, 2017. Initial adoption of ASU 2014-09 is required to be reported using either a retrospective or modified retrospective approach.

DSL plans to adopt ASU 2014-09 on January 1, 201 8. DSL does not currently expect the adoption of this guidance to have a material impact; however, implementation efforts, including assessment of transition approach, are ongoing.

Additional FA Contracts

SCHEDULE 5.25

Post-Signing Hedging Protocol – Key Principles

1. [Subject to the parties reaching agreement on the Market Value Adjustment Amount Grid,] Seller to retain the flexibility to risk manage the CBVA Business at its discretion.

2. While Buyer's hedge program will eventually be different from that of Seller, ensure a seamless transition of hedging on the block through the closing process is of paramount importance.

3. Buyer would like the CBVA Business to be delivered with appropriate and reasonable amount of hedge protection intact. Recognizing that it is difficult to be prescriptive on what are the boundaries of "reasonable" hedge protection without having knowledge of inforce or the market conditions prevailing at the time of closing or near to the Closing Date, reasonableness will be measured by a combination of the following factors: (a) whether the hedge portfolio is consistent with the derivatives use plan of the Company, (b) whether the hedge program is consistent with the hedge limits and policies set or approved by the Company's board of directors, (c) whether the hedges on the books delivered at Closing are consistent with presentations made to the insurance regulators on how the Company in general hedges the CBVA Business, (d) whether the program has been designed to have sufficient equity delta and interest rate rho coverage to be economically insulated from adverse outcomes during the fifteen (15) Business Day period (the "Hedging Transition Period") following the closing to allow Buyer sufficient time to enact and trade its own hedging program, and (e) whether the hedge program is consistent with the hedge practices of the Company that existed in Q3 of 2017. Notwithstanding, anything to the contrary, through the Closing Date, Seller will cause the hedge program for the CBVA Business to be designed to offset the potential changes in CTE95 for given changes in equities and rates.

4. In addition, the parties agree to follow the framework set forth below between signing and Closing:

    a. One (1) month prior to the target closing date, Buyer will identify all exchange traded derivatives that are then outstanding and do not terminate in accordance with their terms prior to Closing, assuming these have no change of control or default triggers with FCM relationships. To the extent any futures contracts held to hedge the CBVA Business are set to expire before target closing date or are deemed by Seller to be inappropriate for holding through Closing, Buyer will work with Seller to determine appropriate hedge coverage through Closing and to possibly roll those exchange traded positions or to unwind those.

    b. For all OTC derivatives, the following process shall be adopted:

        i. Seller to provide Buyer with a listing of all OTC derivatives together with dealer / counterparty and CSA details (provided immediately post-signing with regular updates).

ii. Buyer to engage in discussions with counterparties around the survival of derivatives post Closing.

iii. Where counterparties have agreed with Buyer to waive any change of control, and subject to mutual understanding with Buyer around modifications to terms effectuated post-Closing, their respective derivatives shall not be unwound by the Company prior to Closing and will remain on the Company's balance sheet; this identification shall be completed one (1) month prior to the target closing date and communicated to Seller. If Seller reasonably determines that any of such hedges are deemed to be "economically not required" or considered inappropriate due to changes in the then prevailing inforce or market conditions, the Company will consult with Buyer in advance prior to terminating any such hedge.

iv. For all other OTC derivatives (likely subject to change of control triggers and where no consent has been obtained), the Company to take all steps necessary to unwind and terminate such derivatives immediately prior to or concurrently with Closing.

c. Buyer to update the identification of derivatives noted in 3(a) and 3(b)(iii) above on a weekly basis with final identification provided [5] days prior to the target closing date

i. Upon final identification, Seller to covenant not to unwind or terminate those derivatives identified for retention by VIAC

5. Buyer will require Seller's cooperation to effectuate the process outlined above

a. Covenant to cooperate with Buyer for the above process,

b. Covenant to provide regular data on hedges and hedge counterparties between signing and Closing on a weekly basis and then in the week prior to the target closing date such data shall be provided on a daily basis, and

c. Seller retains the ability throughout the period to modify its hedging strategy as appropriate including with regard to those hedges identified for retention, subject only to 3(c) above for those hedges identified for retention [5] days prior to the target closing date.

6. The terms above are based on the following assumptions:

a. For the duration of this reporting, the existing derivatives process flow and execution remain unchanged (Voya Market Risk Management is instructing and Voya IM Trading desk is executing),

b. The reporting request covers liability product hedges only (i.e., hedges of assets such as currency swaps are out of scope for the requested reporting), and

c. Books and records for Voya Financial reporting are only updated monthly. Therefore, to accommodate the weekly reporting request, Seller would need to report from Blackrock's Aladdin, its trading system (as opposed to Findur, its accounting system). Aladdin valuations may differ slightly from Findur, but there should be no significant valuation differences.

prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer or their respective permitted designees, (v) any breach or violation of any Applicable Law by the Administrator or any of its Affiliates in connection with this Agreement (except when such breach or violation happens as a result of the written or express direction or request of, or with the prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer or their respective permitted designees), (vi) solely with regard to the Reinsurer Indemnified Parties, any Reinsurer Extra-Contractual Obligation caused by, arising from or related to any act of, or failure to act by, the Administrator, or (vii) any enforcement of this indemnity.

Section 4.2 Ceding Company Indemnification. From and after the Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall indemnify and defend the Administrator and its Affiliates, controlling Persons, officers, designees, directors, employees, agents, representatives and assigns (each, an "Administrator Indemnified Party" and collectively, with each other Administrator Indemnified Party, the "Administrator Indemnified Parties") and hold each of them harmless from and against all Losses asserted against, imposed on or incurred by the Administrator Indemnified Parties, directly or indirectly, by reason of or arising out of or in connection with (i) fraud, theft or embezzlement by directors, officers, employees, agents, Subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Ceding Company during the term of this Agreement; (ii) acts of negligence or willful misconduct committed by directors, officers, employees, agents, Subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Ceding Company during the term of this Agreement; (iii) any breach of any term, condition, or obligation to be performed by the Ceding Company or its designees under this Agreement, (iv) any breach or violation of any Applicable Law by the Ceding Company (except when such breach or violation happens as a result of the written or express direction or request of, or with the prior written consent of, the Administrator), or (iv) any enforcement of this indemnity.

Section 4.3 Limitation of Administrator Liability. The Administrator's liability to the Ceding Company Indemnified Parties in respect of Losses incurred by the Ceding Company Indemnified Parties hereunder shall in the aggregate not exceed the Ceding Company Liability Cap; provided, that the limitation on liability herein shall not apply to Losses that arise as a direct result of the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Administrator.

Section 4.4 Indemnification Procedures.

(a) If any Person entitled to indemnification under Section 4.1 or Section 4.2 (the "Indemnitee") receives notice of assertion or commencement of any a claim or demand made by, or an action, proceeding or investigation instituted by, the Reinsurer or any Person not a party to this Agreement (a "Third Party Claim") against such Indemnitee in respect of which the party required to indemnify such Indemnitee under Section 4.1 or Section 4.2 (the "Indemnitor") may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor prompt written notice (but in no event later than 30 days after becoming aware) thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim and an estimate of the Loss (to the extent practicable) and shall reference the specific sections of this Agreement that form the basis of such claim; provided, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, within five (5) Business Days after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third Party Claim and may assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof. All of the parties hereto shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to, cooperate in the defense of any Third Party Claim, and, if the Indemnitor assumes such defense, such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information that are relevant to such Third Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise, or discharge, such Third Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), and any such admission, payment, settlement, compromise, or discharge without the Indemnitor's prior written consent shall be deemed to be a waiver by the Indemnitee of any right to indemnity for all Losses related to such Third Party Claim. If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, or discharge a Third Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed); provided that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise, or discharge such a Third Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a full and complete release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any non-monetary relief or to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy, and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability, or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent as provided in this Section 4.4(b) to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third Party Claim.

ARTICLE V

REGULATORY ACTIONS AND LEGAL ACTIONS

Section 5.1 Regulatory Actions.

(a) If the Administrator or the Ceding Company receives notice of, or otherwise becomes aware of, any Regulatory Action, such party shall promptly notify the Reinsurer and the other party thereof. The term "Regulatory Action" shall mean any examination or action initiated by a Governmental Authority related to the Reinsured Liabilities.

(b) The Administrator shall initially respond to and resolve all Regulatory Actions relating to the Reinsured Liabilities; provided, however, that the Administrator shall provide its proposed response to the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer for their prior review and comment and shall consider in good faith any recommendations made by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer.

(c) Except as set forth in Sections 5.1(b) and 5.2, the Administrator shall supervise and control the defense and/or settlement of all Regulatory Actions, at its own cost and expense, and in the name of the Ceding Company when necessary.

(d) At the Ceding Company's or the Reinsurer's request, the Administrator shall provide the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer with a report of any pending Regulatory Actions covered under this Section 5.1, summarizing the nature of any such pending Regulatory Actions, the alleged actions or omissions, if any, giving rise to such Regulatory Actions and copies of any files or other documents that the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer may reasonably request in connection with its review of such matters, other than such files, documents and other information as would, in the judgment of counsel to the Administrator, lead to the loss or waiver of legal privilege.

Section 5.2 Defense of Regulatory Actions.

(a) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, each of the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer shall have the right to engage their own respective legal representation, at their own respective cost and expense, and to each participate fully in the defense of any Regulatory Actions without waiving any right to indemnification that may be available under Article IV hereof. The Administrator, the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer shall cooperate with each other with respect to the administration of any Regulatory Actions.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Ceding Company, upon written notice to the Administrator, shall have the right at any time to assume sole and exclusive control over the response, defense, settlement or other resolution of any Regulatory Action; provided, that the Ceding Company shall be solely responsible for all costs and expenses related thereto and any increased liability of the Administrator hereunder and the Reinsurer under the Reinsurance Agreements resulting from the Ceding Company's control thereof. The Administrator shall have the right, at its sole expense, to engage its own separate legal representation and to participate fully in, but not control, any such defense, settlement, or compromise assumed by the Ceding Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Ceding Company shall not settle or compromise any such Regulatory Action without the Administrator's prior written consent (not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned) unless (i) there is no finding or admission of any violation of Applicable Law or any violation of the rights of any Person by the Administrator, the Reinsurer or any of their respective Affiliates, (ii) the Ceding Company pays all settlement amounts with respect thereto, and (iii) the terms of the proposed settlement of the Regulatory Action do not impose injunctive or any other equitable relief or result in any restriction or condition which could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsured Policies or any other business of the Administrator or the Reinsurer.

Section 5.3 Notice of Litigation.

(a) The Administrator shall promptly notify the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer of any litigation, arbitration or other legal proceeding (other than a Regulatory Action) that has been instituted or threatened in writing under any Reinsured Liabilities or that names the Ceding Company as a party and is related to any Reinsured Liabilities (each, a "Legal Action") and in no event more than five (5) Business Days after receipt or notice thereof.

(b) The Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Administrator and the Reinsurer of any Legal Action made, brought or threatened in writing to be made or brought against the Ceding Company after the Effective Date to the extent known to it and not made against or served on the Administrator as administrator hereunder, and in no event more than five (5) Business Days after receipt or notice thereof, and shall promptly furnish to the Administrator copies of all pleadings in connection therewith.

Section 5.4 Defense of Litigation.

(a) Subject to Section 5.4(b), the Administrator shall supervise and control the investigation, contest, defense and settlement of all Legal Actions, at its own cost and expense, and in the name of the Ceding Company when necessary; provided, that the Administrator shall provide its proposed response to the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer for its prior review and comment and shall follow any directions of the Reinsurer. In giving such direction, the Reinsurer shall consider in good faith any recommendations made by the Ceding Company.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer shall each have the right to engage their own separate legal representation, at their own expense, and to participate fully in, but not control, the defense of any Legal Action relating to the Reinsured Policies with respect to which the Ceding Company is a named party to the extent that such Legal Action, if successful, could (in the Ceding Company's reasonable opinion) materially interfere with the business, assets, liabilities, obligations, financial condition, results of operations or reputation of the Ceding Company other than the Reinsured Liabilities. The Administrator, the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate with each other with respect to the administration of any such Legal Action. The Administrator shall not settle or compromise any Legal Action without the Ceding Company's and the Reinsurer's prior written consent (not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned) unless (i) there is no finding or admission of any violation of Applicable Law or any violation of the rights of any Person by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer, (ii) the Administrator obtains a complete release for the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and their respective affiliates that are parties to such Legal Action, and (iii) the sole relief provided is monetary damages that are paid in full by the Reinsurer.

(c) The Administrator shall keep the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer informed of the progress of all pending Legal Actions and, at the Ceding Company's or the Reinsurer's request (which requests shall be reasonable in their frequency and nature as reasonably determined by the Administrator), provide to the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer a report summarizing the nature of any pending Legal Action, the alleged actions or omissions, if any, giving rise to such Legal Action and copies of any files or other documents that the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer may reasonably request in connection with its review of such matters, in each case other than such files, documents and other information as would, in the judgment of counsel to the Administrator, lead to the loss or waiver of legal privilege.

NOTIFICATION TO POLICYHOLDERS AND CONTRACTHOLDERS

Section 6.1 Notification to Policyholders and Contractholders. To the extent required by Applicable Law or as required for the efficient performance of the Services, the Administrator agrees to send to Policyholders a written notice prepared by the Administrator and reasonably acceptable to the Ceding Company to the effect that the Administrator has been appointed by the Ceding Company to provide the Services. The Administrator shall provide such notice at a time and in a manner reasonably acceptable to the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and the Administrator and in all events in accordance with Applicable Law.

COOPERATION

Section 7.1 Cooperation. The Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and the Administrator shall cooperate to the extent reasonably possible with each other and shall execute and provide such additional documentation as may become necessary or appropriate to enable each other to fully carry out their respective responsibilities under this Agreement and to effectuate the intention of the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and the Administrator under the Reinsurance Agreements and this Agreement.

DURATION; TERMINATION

Section 8.1 Duration. This Agreement shall commence at the Effective Time and continue with respect to each Reinsured Policy until no further Services in respect of such Reinsured Policy are required, unless this Agreement is earlier terminated under Section 8.2.

Section 8.2 Termination.

(a) This Agreement is subject to immediate termination at the option of the Ceding Company upon written notice to the Administrator, on the occurrence of any of the following events:

(i) A voluntary or involuntary proceeding is commenced in any jurisdiction by or against the Administrator for the purpose of conserving, rehabilitating or liquidating the Administrator;

(ii) There is a material breach by the Administrator or any applicable Subcontractor of any material term or condition of this Agreement that is not cured by the Administrator or such Subcontractor within thirty (30) days after receipt of written notice from the Ceding Company of such breach;

(iii) Any license required to be held by the Administrator under Applicable Laws to provide the Services in any material respect (A) shall be revoked and not reinstated within sixty (60) days of receipt of notice of such revocation by the Administrator or (B) shall expire and not be reinstated within sixty (60) days; or

(iv) Each Reinsurance Agreement is recaptured or terminated.

(b) This Agreement may be terminated at any time upon the mutual written consent of the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and the Administrator, which writing shall state the effective date of termination.

(c) In the event that this Agreement is terminated under Section 8.2(a)(i), (ii) or (iii), the Ceding Company shall select a third-party administrator that is reasonably acceptable to the Reinsurer to perform the services required by this Agreement. The Administrator shall pay all reasonable fees and charges imposed by the selected administrator and shall bear all reasonable transition costs associated with the transition of the performance of the services required under this Agreement to such administrator, including the expense of providing Policyholder notices as provided in Section 6.1.

(d) In the event that this Agreement is terminated, the Administrator shall cooperate fully in the transfer of services and the Administration Books and Records maintained by the Administrator pursuant to this Agreement (or, where appropriate, copies thereof) to the third-party administrator selected pursuant to Section 8.2(c) or the Ceding Company so that such third-party administrator or the Ceding Company will be able to perform the services required under this Agreement.

(e) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, following termination of this Agreement for any reason, at the Ceding Company's option and subject to the payment by the Ceding Company to the Administrator of the fees described in Section 2.5 for the Services hereunder, the Administrator shall continue to perform the Services in accordance with the terms of this Agreement for a period not to exceed nine (9) months from the date of such termination.

INABILITY TO PERFORM SERVICES; ERRORS

Section 9.1 Inability to Perform Services. In the event that the Administrator is unable to perform, or cause to be performed, all or a portion of the Services for any reason for a period that could reasonably be expected to exceed ten (10) days or such shorter period as may be required by Applicable Law, the Administrator shall as promptly as reasonably practicable provide notice to the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer of its inability to perform the applicable Services and the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and the Administrator shall cooperate in good faith to determine how to provide or otherwise obtain an alternative means of providing such Services. The Administrator shall be responsible for all fees, costs and expenses incurred in order to obtain such alternative means of providing the applicable Services and in order to restore such Services.

Section 9.2 Errors. The Administrator shall, at its own expense, correct any errors in the Services caused by it as promptly as reasonably practicable following notice of such errors from the Ceding Company or any other Person or upon discovery thereof by the Administrator.

INSURANCE COVERAGE

Section 10.1 Insurance Coverage. Without limiting the Administrator's undertaking to indemnify and hold the Ceding Company harmless as set forth herein, during the term of this Agreement, the Administrator shall obtain and maintain cyber, errors and omissions and fidelity bond insurance with limits of at least ten million dollars ($10,000,000) from an insurer or insurers with policyholder ratings of at least "A-" and financial ratings of at least "VII" in the then latest edition of Best's Insurance Guide; provided that the obligation to obtain and maintain cyber insurance in accordance with the foregoing shall not commence until the completion of the migration of the Business IT Systems (as defined in the Master Agreement).

Section 11.2 Assignment. This Agreement shall not be assigned by any party hereto without the prior written approval of the Reinsurer and the other party hereto; provided, however, that the Administrator may subcontract its rights and obligations to perform Services under this Agreement in accordance with Section 2.5. Subject to the foregoing, the rights and obligations of the parties under this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, the parties hereto and their respective designees, subcontractors, transferees, successors and permitted assigns.

Section 11.3 Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

Section 11.4 Independent Contractors. Each party hereto shall be deemed an independent contractor of the other for all purposes hereunder. This Agreement shall not be construed to create the relationship of employer or employee between either party hereto, and shall not create any right or legal relation (including that of joint venture or partnership) between either party hereto and any other Person.

Section 11.5 Entire Agreement. This Agreement supersedes all prior discussions and agreements between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and this Agreement and the Reinsurance Agreements, including the Schedules and Exhibits attached hereto and thereto, contain the sole and entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof.

Any term or condition of this Agreement may be waived at any time by the Reinsurer and the party which is entitled to the benefit thereof by a writing executed by, in the case of the Ceding Company, [the President, Chief Executive Officer or an Executive Vice President] and, in the case of the Administrator, [the President, Chief Operating Officer or a Vice President]; provided, however, that any waiver under this Section 11.6 shall also require the prior written consent of the Reinsurer. A waiver on any one occasion shall not be deemed to be a waiver of the same term or condition or any other term or condition on any future occasion.

Section 11.7 Amendment. This Agreement may be modified or amended only by a writing duly executed by the Reinsurer and each of the parties hereto.

Section 11.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument.

Section 11.9 Third Party Beneficiaries. The Reinsurer shall be an express third party beneficiary to this Agreement and shall be entitled to enforce any of the Ceding Company's rights provided hereunder with respect to the performance by the Administrator of the Services. Other than the Reinsurer and the parties specified in Sections 4.1 and 4.2, this Agreement is intended solely for the benefit of the parties hereto and their permitted successors and assigns, and it is not the intention of the parties to confer any rights as a third party beneficiary to this Agreement upon any other Person.

Section 11.10 Treatment of Confidential Information.

(a) Each party may come into possession or knowledge of Confidential Information of the other in connection with the obligations to be performed by such party under this Agreement.

(b) "Confidential Information" with respect to a party, means any and all information provided by, made available by or obtained on behalf of, such party, any of its Affiliates or Representatives, on, before or after the date hereof, including, with respect to the Ceding Company, Non-Public Personal Information and all data relating to the contractholders of the Reinsured Policies (including their rights and obligations under the Reinsured Policies) which is maintained, processed or generated by the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer in connection with administration of the Reinsured Liabilities; provided that Confidential Information does not include information that (i) is generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the receiving party in violation of its confidentiality obligation, (ii) is independently developed by the receiving party, its Affiliates or any of its Representatives without use or access to the disclosing party's Confidential Information, or (iii) is rightfully obtained by the receiving party from a third party without, to the knowledge of the receiving party, breach by such third party of a duty of confidentiality of any nature to the disclosing party; provided that the foregoing exceptions shall not supersede the obligations of the receiving party with respect to any Non-Public Personal Information. For the avoidance of doubt, as between the Ceding Company and the Administrator, Confidential Information of the Administrator includes the foregoing categories of information relating to the business or operations of, or provided by or on behalf of, any of the Administrator's Subcontractors, whether such information is provided to the Ceding Company on, before or after the date hereof.

(c) "Non-Public Personal Information" means any (i) personally identifiable information or data (including medical, financial and other personal information) concerning or relating to the Ceding Company's past, current or prospective applicants, customers, clients, employees, agents, suppliers, vendors, policy owners, contract holders, insureds, claimants, and beneficiaries of Reinsured Policies or contracts issued by the Ceding Company, and their representatives, (ii) any such personally identifiable information or data that the Administrator or its Representatives or Subcontractors collect or derive from interactions with the Ceding Company's past, current or prospective applicants, customers, clients, employees, agents, suppliers, vendors, policy owners, contract holders, insureds, claimants, and beneficiaries of Reinsured Policies, or (iii) an aggregation or a derivation thereof; provided that information that is otherwise publicly available shall not be considered "Non-Public Personal Information".

(d) The Ceding Company and the Administrator agree to hold each other's Confidential Information in strictest confidence and to take all reasonable steps to ensure that Confidential Information is not disclosed in any form by any means by such party, its Affiliates or by any of its Representative or Subcontractors to third parties of any kind, other than the Representatives performing services for such party who need access to such Confidential Information in the course and scope of providing such services, except as is authorized by the other party in advance and in compliance with all Applicable Law. If any Confidential Information needs to be disclosed as required by Applicable Law or court order, the disclosing party shall (if permitted by Applicable Law) provide prompt notice to the other party prior to such disclosure so that such other party may (at its expense) seek a protection order or other appropriate remedy which is necessary to protect its interest.

(e) The Administrator may disclose the Ceding Company's Confidential Information to the Administrator's Subcontractors with a reasonable need to know, subject to such Subcontractor first being obligated to information security, confidentiality and limited use restrictions no less protective of the Ceding Company's Confidential Information than the provisions in this Agreement. Further, the Ceding Company will negotiate in good faith and diligently to agree to additional confidentiality and limited use terms and conditions as may reasonably be required by the Administrator's Subcontractors whose confidential information may be disclosed to the Ceding Company in connection with the Services. Until such time as such additional confidentiality terms and conditions are agreed to in writing by the Ceding Company, the Administrator may be limited by its contractual obligations with its Subcontractors in sharing certain Confidential Information with the Ceding Company.

(f) The Administrator (and its Subcontractors) may use the Ceding Company's Confidential Information; provided that such party shall establish and maintain safeguards against the unauthorized access, destruction, loss or alteration of the Ceding Company's Confidential Information which are no less rigorous than those maintained by the Administrator (or such Subcontractor) for its own information of a similar nature (but not less than using a reasonable standard of care), and in compliance with the terms of the Privacy and Security Addendum in the form attached as Exhibit E hereto.

(g) Further to the foregoing, the Administrator shall, and shall cause its Representatives, Affiliates, and Subcontractors to, protect the confidentiality of the Ceding Company's Confidential Information (including the Non-Public Personal Information) by:

(i) holding all such information transmitted to them by or on behalf of the Ceding Company in strict confidence;

(ii) maintaining appropriate measures that are designed to protect the security, integrity and confidentiality of such information;

(iii) using such information solely in connection with carrying out the Administrator's obligations under this Agreement and in compliance with the Ceding Company's consumer privacy notices;

(iv) disclosing such information to third parties only as necessary to perform services under this Agreement and in compliance with the Ceding Company's consumer privacy notices; and

(v) disclosing such information as may be required by Applicable Law or court order; provided that the Administrator (or its Subcontractors) as applicable shall (if permitted by Applicable Law) provide prompt notice to the Ceding Company prior to such disclosure so that the Ceding Company may (at its expense) seek a protection order or other appropriate remedy which is necessary to protect its interest.

Section 11.11 Trademarks. The Administrator hereby acknowledges that the Ceding Company has adopted and is using the names and marks listed on Schedule IV hereto in connection with the Reinsured Policies (collectively, the "Licensed Names and Marks"). The Ceding Company and the Administrator agree as follows:

(a) The Ceding Company[6] hereby grants to the Administrator and the Administrator hereby accepts a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable (except to Subcontractors as permitted below), royalty-free license to use the Licensed Names and Marks in connection with the Services, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement. The Administrator is granted no rights to use the Licensed Names and Marks, other than those rights specifically described and expressly licensed in this Agreement and no right is granted hereunder for the use of the Licensed Names and Marks in connection with any services other than the Services. None of the rights licensed to the Administrator under this Section 11.11 may be assigned, sublicensed or otherwise transferred by the Administrator (other than to Subcontractors), nor shall such rights inure to the benefit of any trustee in bankruptcy, receiver or successor of the Administrator, whether by operation of law or otherwise, without the prior written consent of the Ceding Company, and any assignment, sublicense or other transfer without such consent shall be null and void.

(b) The Administrator agrees that it will use the Licensed Names and Marks in a manner that is consistent with the manner in which the Ceding Company used them prior to the date hereof and, otherwise, only in accordance with the performance and usage standards established by the Ceding Company and communicated to the Administrator in writing (including graphic standards as prescribed by the Ceding Company). The Administrator shall have no right to use the Licensed Names and Marks in connection with advertisements, brochures, audio or visual presentations, or any other materials used in the sale or advertising of the Administrator's services.

(c) The Administrator agrees not to use the Licensed Names and Marks in partial form without the prior written consent of the Ceding Company, which the Ceding Company may withhold at its sole discretion. The Administrator agrees not to adopt or use any trademarks, service mark, logo or design confusingly similar to the Licensed Names and Marks. It is understood that the Ceding Company retains the right, in its sole discretion, to modify the Licensed Names and Marks, upon reasonable prior notice to the Administrator, subject to a reasonable period to enable the Administrator to transition to the use of the modified Licensed Names and Marks.

(d) The Administrator acknowledges that all rights in the Licensed Names and Marks and the goodwill attached thereto belong exclusively to the Ceding Company. All uses of the Licensed Names and Marks by the Administrator shall inure solely to the benefit of the Ceding Company and any registration of the Licensed Names and Marks shall be registered by the Ceding Company in its name, it being understood that the present license shall not in any way affect the ownership by the Ceding Company of the Licensed Names and Marks, each of which shall continue to be the exclusive property of the Ceding Company. At its option, the Ceding Company may, in its own name and at its own expense, maintain appropriate trademark and service mark protection for the Licensed Names and Marks. The Administrator shall not at any time during the term of this Agreement or at any time thereafter do or cause to be done any act contesting the validity of the Licensed Names and Marks, contesting or in any way impairing or tending to impair the Ceding Company's entire right, title and interest in the Licensed Names and Marks and the registrations thereof or adversely affecting the value of the Licensed Names and Marks. The Administrator shall not represent that it has any right, title or interest in the reputation and good will of the Ceding Company. The Administrator shall not represent that it has any right, title or interest in the Licensed Names and Marks other than the rights expressly granted by this Agreement.

(e) The right to institute and prosecute actions for infringement of the Licensed Names and Marks is reserved exclusively to the Ceding Company, and the Ceding Company shall have the right to join the Administrator in any such actions as a formal party. Any such action shall be conducted at the Ceding Company's expense. The Administrator shall provide prompt written notice to the Ceding Company of any infringement or unauthorized use of the Licensed Names and Marks of which it is aware, and agrees to assist the Ceding Company at the Ceding Company's expense in any such action brought by the Ceding Company. It is understood, however, that the Ceding Company is not obligated to institute and prosecute any such actions in any case in which it, in its sole judgment, may consider it inadvisable to do so.

(f) The agreements and covenants contained in this Error! Reference source not found. shall continue in effect until such time as this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Article VIII or such longer period that the Administrator continues to perform the Services pursuant to Section 8.2(e). As promptly after termination of this Agreement (or such longer period that the Administrator continues to perform the Services pursuant to Section 8.2(e)) as is reasonably practicable, the Administrator shall discontinue all use of the Licensed Names and Marks. Upon termination, all of the Administrator's rights to the Licensed Names and Marks shall revert to and continue to reside with and be owned exclusively by the Ceding Company.

It is accordingly agreed that, without the necessity of posting bond or other undertaking, the parties hereto shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in accordance with this Agreement, this being in addition (subject to the terms of this Agreement) to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity. In the event that any Action is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no party hereto shall allege, and each party hereto hereby waives any defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law.

EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 11.14.

(f) All references herein to Articles, Sections, Subsections, Paragraphs, Exhibits and Schedules shall be deemed references to Articles and Sections and Subsections and Paragraphs of, and Exhibits and Schedules to, this Agreement unless the context shall otherwise require.

(g) All terms defined in this Agreement shall have the defined meaning when used in any Schedule, Exhibit, certificate, report or other documents attached hereto or made or delivered pursuant hereto unless otherwise defined therein.

ARTICLE II

COVERAGE

Section 2.01 Scope and Basis of Reinsurance.

(a) This Agreement shall be effective as of [●] [A.M.][P.M.] on the Effective Date.

(b) This Agreement is an agreement for indemnity reinsurance made solely between the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer.

(c) Subject to the terms, conditions and limits of this Agreement (including the exclusion from coverage of Excluded Liabilities), the Ceding Company shall automatically cede and the Reinsurer shall automatically reinsure (i) on a funds withheld basis, a portion of the Reinsured Liabilities equal to the Funds Withheld Amount, and (ii) on a coinsurance basis, all other Reinsured Liabilities.

(d) Subject to the terms, conditions and limits of this Agreement (including the exclusion from coverage of Excluded Liabilities), the Reinsurer shall follow the fortunes of the Ceding Company, and to that end the Reinsurer's liability for the Reinsured Policies shall be identical to that of the Ceding Company and shall be subject to the same risks, terms, conditions, interpretations, waivers, modifications, alterations and cancellations to which the Ceding Company is subject with respect to the Reinsured Policies, subject in each case to the Ceding Company's duty to adhere to its obligations pursuant to Article X.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Reinsurer shall not be liable for any Excluded Liabilities.

Section 2.02 Policy Changes.

(a) The Ceding Company shall not, without the prior written consent of the Reinsurer, terminate, amend, modify or waive any provision or provisions of the Reinsured Policies, except to the extent required by applicable Law.

(b) Any such terminations, amendments, modifications or waivers made without the prior written consent of the Reinsurer shall be disregarded for purposes of this Agreement, and the reinsurance with respect to the affected Reinsured Policy will continue as if such termination, amendment, modification or waiver had not been made.

Section 2.03 Reinstatement of Surrendered Policies. If a Reinsured Policy that has been surrendered is reinstated according to its terms and the Ceding Company's reinstatement policies, the Reinsurer will, upon notification, automatically reinstate the reinsurance with respect to such Reinsured Policy; provided, that, to the extent that the reinstatement of such Reinsured Policy requires payment of premiums in arrears or reimbursement of claims paid, the Ceding Company shall pay to the Reinsurer all Reinsurance Premiums in arrears and all reimbursements of Reinsured Liabilities paid on such Reinsured Policy.

Section 2.04 Misstatement of Fact. In the event of a change in the amount payable under a Reinsured Policy due to a misstatement of fact, the Reinsurer's liability with respect to such Reinsured Policy will change proportionately. Such Reinsured Policy will be rewritten from commencement on the basis of the adjusted amounts using premiums and such other terms based on the correct facts, and the proper adjustment for the difference in Reinsurance Premiums, without interest, will be made.

Section 2.05 Credited Rates and Non-Guaranteed Elements. The Ceding Company will be responsible for establishing contractual guarantees, credited interest rates and other non-guaranteed elements of the Reinsured Policies; provided, that the Reinsurer shall be permitted to provide recommendations regarding the contractual guarantees, credited interest rates and other non-guaranteed elements of the Reinsured Policies and, to the extent such recommendations comply with applicable Law, generally accepted actuarial standards of practice, and the terms of the Reinsured Policies, the Ceding Company shall not unreasonably take actions that contravene such recommendations and shall promptly incorporate such recommendations. If the Ceding Company fails to adhere to such recommendations, the Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Reinsurer in writing of such failure.

Section 2.06 Programs of Internal Replacement. The Ceding Company shall not solicit, or allow any of its Affiliates to solicit, directly or indirectly, policy holders of the Reinsured Policies in connection with any program of internal replacement. The term "program of internal replacement" means any program sponsored or supported by the Ceding Company or any of its Affiliates that is offered to a class of policy owners and in which a Reinsured Policy or a portion of a Reinsured Policy is exchanged for another policy that is written by the Ceding Company or any Affiliate of the Ceding Company or any successor or assignee of any of them.

Section 2.07 Conservation Program. Upon the request of the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company shall reasonably cooperate and work with the Reinsurer in good faith to develop and implement a conservation program with respect to the Reinsured Policies.

Section 2.08 Retrocession. The Reinsurer may retrocede all or any portion of the risks ceded to it pursuant to this Agreement without the consent of the Ceding Company.

Section 2.09 Interest Maintenance Reserve. The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer agree that the Ceded IMR shall be ceded to and maintained and calculated by the Reinsurer.

Section 2.10 Valuation of Liabilities. The Reinsurer shall calculate the statutory reserves and tax reserves with respect to the Reinsured Policies.[3]

ARTICLE III

REINSURANCE PREMIUMS

Section 3.01 Reinsurance Premiums. The payment of Reinsurance Premiums and the Company Required Initial Premium is a condition precedent to the liability of the Reinsurer under this Agreement. All Reinsurance Premiums other than the Company Required Initial Premium shall be payable in accordance with Section 7.03.

Section 3.02 Initial Premium; True-Up.

(a) On the Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall pay to the Reinsurer in accordance with this Section 3.02 an initial premium (the "Company Required Initial Premium") equal to:

(i) the Ceded Reserves as of the Effective Date, plus

(ii) the Pre-Tax Reform Existing IMR, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, plus

(iii) the Post-Tax Reform Existing IMR, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, plus

(iv) the New Effective Date IMR, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, minus

(v) the Quota Share of the amount of outstanding policy loans on the Reinsured Policies as of the Effective Date, if any, net of any unearned policy loan interest on such loans but including amounts of interest due and accrued with respect thereto, minus

(vi) the Quota Share of the aggregate Statutory Carrying Value of the Existing Hedges as of the Effective Date (for the avoidance of doubt, determined immediately prior to giving effect to the cession of the Reinsured Liabilities to the Reinsurer hereunder), plus

(vii) $67.5 million.

(b) The amount of the Company Required Initial Premium actually paid on the Effective Date (such estimated amount, the "Estimated Company Required Initial Premium") shall be determined on an estimated basis in accordance with the Master Agreement.

(c) To effectuate the payment of the Estimated Company Required Initial Premium, the Ceding Company shall transfer to the Reinsurer assets with an aggregate Fair Market Value equal to such Estimated Company Required Initial Premium. A list of the assets so transferred to the Reinsurer (the "Initial Premium Assets"), including an estimate of the Fair Market Value of each such asset as of the Effective Date, is set forth on Schedule III attached hereto.[4] The Initial Premium Assets shall be assigned or endorsed in blank by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer in order to transfer to the Reinsurer absolutely and unequivocally all right, title and interest in such assets.

(d) The Estimated Company Required Initial Premium shall be subject to adjustment following the Effective Date in accordance with the Master Agreement.

ARTICLE IV

(b) The Ceding Company shall notify the Reinsurer in writing if the Ceding Company determines that a claim for payment under a Reinsured Policy either requires investigation or should be contested or denied. The Reinsurer and the Ceding Company shall consult in good faith regarding the disposition of any such claim. The Reinsurer may, but shall not be required to, recommend to the Ceding Company how to handle such claim. In the event of any disagreement between the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer as to the validity or amount of such a claim, the Reinsurer shall have final authority over the disposition of such claim.

Section 6.03 Recoveries. Subject to Section 6.02(b), if the Ceding Company obtains any recoveries in respect of a claim with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities paid by it in accordance with the terms of any Reinsured Policy, the Ceding Company shall promptly pay to the Reinsurer the Quota Share of such recoveries.

(a) Each Business Day, the Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a daily accounting report (a "Daily Accounting Report") substantially in the form set forth in Exhibit A for the immediately preceding Business Day. The parties shall from time to time amend Exhibit A as necessary to appropriately effectuate the terms and conditions of this Agreement and to ensure the accounting and settlements made hereunder are correctly computed.

(b) Within three (3) Business Days following the end of each calendar week, the Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a weekly accounting report (a "Weekly Accounting Report") substantially in the form set forth in Exhibit B for the immediately preceding calendar week. The parties shall from time to time amend Exhibit B as necessary to appropriately effectuate the terms and conditions of this Agreement and to ensure the accounting and settlements made hereunder are correctly computed.

(c) Within five (5) Business Days following the end of each calendar month, the Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a monthly accounting report (a "Monthly Accounting Report") substantially in the form set forth in Exhibit C for the immediately preceding calendar month (a "Monthly Accounting Period"). (d) Within three (3) Business Days following the end of each Monthly Accounting Period, the Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a report of the Reinsured Policies in the form specified by the Reinsurer, which shall include, among other things, (i) a roll-forward of policy count and account values with respect to the Reinsured Policies and (ii) a report setting forth seriatim information with respect to each of the Reinsured Policies, including the information identified on Exhibit D, which shall be redacted such that it does not include Non-Public Personal Information, in each case, as of the end of such Monthly Accounting Period.

(c) The Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer: (i) within five (5) Business Days following the filing of the Ceding Company's unaudited annual statement with the Iowa Insurance Division but no later than March 20 of each year, a copy of such unaudited annual statement; (ii) within five (5) Business Days of the filing of the Ceding Company's audited annual statutory financial statements with the Iowa Insurance Division but no later than June 20 of each year, a copy of such annual statutory financial statements; (iii) within five (5) Business Days following the filing of the Ceding Company's unaudited quarterly statutory financial statements with the Iowa Insurance Division but no later than sixty (60) calendar days following the end of each calendar quarter, a copy of such unaudited quarterly statutory financial statements; and (iv) a report of the Existing Hedges and the effectiveness thereof in a form mutually agreed upon by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer.

(d) Upon request, the Ceding Company will promptly provide the Reinsurer with any additional information related to the Reinsured Policies which the Reinsurer requires in order to complete its financial statements.

(e) The Ceding Company acknowledges that timely and correct compliance with the reporting requirements of this Agreement are a material element of the Ceding Company's responsibilities hereunder and an important basis of the Reinsurer's ability to reinsure the risks hereunder. Consistent and material non-compliance with reporting requirements, including extended delays, will constitute a material breach of the terms of this Agreement.

Section 7.02 Reinsurer Reporting.

(a) Within ten (10) Business Days following the end of each calendar quarter and any Recapture Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall deliver to the Ceding Company a report setting forth (i) the Ceded Reserves, determined on a seriatim basis, and (ii) the Ceded IMR, in each case, as of the end of such calendar quarter or such Recapture Effective Date, as applicable.

Each Interim Net Settlement Amount shall be payable as follows:

(i) If the Interim Net Settlement Amount with respect to any period is positive, then the Ceding Company shall pay to the Reinsurer an amount equal to such Interim Net Settlement Amount on the date on which such Interim Net Settlement Amount is reported by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer; or

(ii) If the Interim Net Settlement Amount with respect to any period is negative, then the Reinsurer shall pay to the Ceding Company an amount equal to the absolute value of such Interim Net Settlement Amount within [two (2)] Business Days following the date on which such Interim Net Settlement Amount is reported by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer.

All Interim Net Settlement Amounts paid during any Monthly Accounting Period shall be reflected in the Monthly Accounting Report with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period and taken into account in determining the Net Settlement Amount with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period.

(b) The net balance payable under this Agreement for each Monthly Accounting Period (as set forth in the applicable Monthly Accounting Report, the "Net Settlement Amount") shall be calculated by the Ceding Company and reported to the Reinsurer in the Monthly Accounting Report delivered with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period. Each Net Settlement Amount shall be payable as follows:

HEDGING; FUNDS WITHHELD ACCOUNT

Section 8.01 Existing Hedges.

(a) The Ceding Company hereby assigns to the Reinsurer, as of the Effective Date, a fractional interest in the gross proceeds in respect of all Existing Hedges equivalent to the Quota Share of all amounts actually received (or deemed received) by the Ceding Company pursuant to the Existing Hedges from the relevant hedge counterparty, including upon an early exercise of an Existing Hedge by the Ceding Company, which amounts shall be determined without regard to any netting of amounts between the Ceding Company and the relevant hedge counterparty with respect to any derivatives that are not Existing Hedges (the "Existing Hedge Proceeds"). Such assignment shall occur automatically, without further action on the part of either party, on the Effective Date. Upon any termination of this Agreement, all of the Reinsurer's right, title and interest (legal, equitable and otherwise) in and to the Existing Hedge Proceeds will be immediately assigned to the Ceding Company without any further action by the parties hereto.

(b) Any Existing Hedge Proceeds shall be attributed to the Funds Withheld Account and reflected in the Monthly Accounting Report for the applicable Monthly Accounting Period. The Ceding Company shall pay to the Reinsurer any Existing Hedge Proceeds in accordance with Section 7.03.

(c) Other than with respect to the Existing Hedges, the Reinsurer shall be responsible for hedging its share of the index risk associated with the Reinsured Policies.

Section 8.02 Funds Withheld Account. On the Effective Date, (a) the Ceding Company shall (i) establish on its books a funds withheld account (the "Funds Withheld Account"), (ii) allocate to such Funds Withheld Account the Quota Share of the Existing Hedges, and (iii) establish and maintain on its books an account payable to the Reinsurer in the amount of the Funds Withheld Amount, and (b) the Reinsurer shall establish on its books an account receivable from the Ceding Company in the amount of the Funds Withheld Amount as of such date.

CREDIT FOR REINSURANCE

Section 9.01 Credit for Reinsurance. The Reinsurer shall maintain in full force and effect at all times during the term of this Agreement all Permits that are necessary to ensure that the Ceding Company will receive credit on its statutory financial statements in its domiciliary State for the reinsurance provided pursuant to this Agreement. If the Reinsurer fails to maintain all such Permits or the Ceding Company otherwise does not receive credit on its statutory financial statements in its domiciliary State for the reinsurance provided pursuant to this Agreement (a "Reinsurance Credit Event"), then the Reinsurer shall promptly take such steps as are necessary to: (a) restore such Permits; (b) become accredited as a reinsurer in the domiciliary State of the Ceding Company; or (c) establish a qualified reinsurance trust or provide a letter of credit or other form of collateral permitted under applicable Law, in each case, such that the Ceding Company shall be able to obtain credit on its statutory financial statements in its domiciliary State for the reinsurance provided by this Agreement, it being understood that the Reinsurer shall have the sole discretion to elect among the methods available to it. All such steps shall be completed no later than the end of the calendar quarter in which such Reinsurance Credit Event occurs.

ADMINISTRATION

Section 10.01 Policy Administration. The Ceding Company shall provide all required, necessary and appropriate claims, administrative and other services, including reporting under Article VII, with respect to the Reinsured Policies and the Existing Hedges. The Ceding Company shall conduct its administration and claims practices with respect to the Reinsured Policies and the Existing Hedges (a) with a level of skill, diligence and expertise that would reasonably be expected from experienced and qualified personnel performing such duties in similar circumstances, (b) in accordance with applicable Law and the terms of the Reinsured Policies, and (c) in a manner no less favorable to the Reinsurer, the Reinsured Polices and the Existing Hedges than those used by the Ceding Company with respect to other policies of the Ceding Company not reinsured by the Reinsurer hereunder or other hedges of the Ceding Company. The Ceding Company shall not outsource any administrative functions or claims administration with respect to the Reinsured Policies or this Agreement without the prior written consent of the Reinsurer. If the Reinsurer consents to any outsourcing of any administrative functions or claims administration with respect to the Reinsured Policies or this Agreement, the Ceding Company shall secure the Reinsurer's right to audit and inspect the party performing such outsourced services.

Section 10.02 Record-Keeping.

(a) The Ceding Company shall maintain all records and correspondence for services performed by the Ceding Company hereunder relating to the Reinsured Policies in accordance with industry standards of insurance record-keeping. In addition, such records shall be made available for examination, audit, and inspection by the department of insurance of any State within whose jurisdiction the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer operates. The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer further agree that in the event of the termination of this Agreement, any such records in the possession of the Reinsurer shall promptly be duplicated and forwarded to the Ceding Company unless otherwise instructed.

(b) The Ceding Company shall establish and maintain an adequate system of internal controls and procedures for financial reporting relating to the Reinsured Policies, including associated documentation, and shall make such documentation available for examination and inspection by the Reinsurer. All reports provided by the Ceding Company pursuant to Article VII shall be prepared in accordance with such system and procedures and shall be consistent with the Ceding Company's books and records.

ARTICLE XI

TERM AND TERMINATION

Section 11.01 Duration of Agreement. This Agreement shall continue in force until such time as the Ceding Company has no further liabilities or obligations with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 11.02 Recapture.

(a) Neither party shall be permitted to cause a recapture of the Reinsured Policies except in accordance with this Section 11.02. For the avoidance of doubt, neither party shall be permitted to cause a partial recapture of the Reinsured Policies pursuant to this Section 11.02.

(b) Recapture for Non-Payment or Other Material Breach. Either party may cause the Reinsured Policies to be recaptured in full and this Agreement to be terminated as to all Reinsured Policies if (i) the other party fails to pay any amounts due under this Agreement within thirty (30) calendar days following written notice of non-payment from the non-defaulting party or (ii) such other party otherwise materially breaches this Agreement and fails to cure such material breach within thirty (30) calendar days following written notice thereof from the non-breaching party.

(c) Recapture for Insolvency of Reinsurer. The Ceding Company may terminate this Agreement and recapture all of the Reinsured Policies in the event that the Reinsurer becomes insolvent (as set forth in Article XIV) by promptly providing the Reinsurer or its Authorized Representative with written notice of recapture, to be effective as of the date on which the Reinsurer's insolvency is established by the authority responsible for such determination. Any requirement for a notification period prior to the termination of this Agreement shall not apply under such circumstances.

Section 11.03 Recapture Payment.

(a) In the event the Reinsured Policies are recaptured in full (including if this Agreement is rejected by any liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, trustee or similar Person acting on behalf of the Ceding Company (a "Receiver")), a net accounting and settlement as to any balance due under this Agreement shall be undertaken by the Ceding Company in accordance with Article VII, which calculations shall be as of the Recapture Effective Date. Within five (5) Business Days following the Recapture Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a final Monthly Accounting Report as of the Recapture Effective Date (the "Terminal Accounting Report"), and the final Net Settlement Amount set forth in such Terminal Accounting Report shall be paid in accordance with Section 7.03. In addition, within ten (10) Business Days after Recapture Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall deliver to the Ceding Company a report setting forth the amount of the Recapture Payment. Within fifteen (15) Business Days after the Recapture Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall pay to the Ceding Company an amount (the "Recapture Payment") equal to:

(i) the Ceded Reserves, plus

(ii) the amount of the Pre-Tax Reform Existing IMR that remains unamortized as of the Recapture Effective Date, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, plus

(iii) the amount of the Post-Tax Reform Existing IMR that remains unamortized as of the Recapture Effective Date, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, plus

(iv) the amount of the New Effective Date IMR that remains unamortized as of the Recapture Effective Date, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, minus

(v) the Unamortized Ceding Commission;

in each case, as of the Recapture Effective Date. The Reinsurer may, at its option, pay the Recapture Payment in cash by wire transfer of immediately available funds or in kind with assets with an aggregate fair market value (determined in accordance with a methodology agreed to by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer that is substantially similar to the methodology set forth on Schedule IV) equal to such amount.

(b) The Reinsurer's right to terminate the reinsurance provided hereunder will not prejudice its right to collect premiums, and applicable interest as specified in Section 17.02, for the period during which such reinsurance was in force, through and including any notice period.

Section 11.04 Survival. All provisions of this Agreement will survive any termination of this Agreement and recapture of the Reinsured Policies to the extent necessary to carry out the purpose of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XII

ERRORS AND OMISSIONS

Section 12.01 Errors and Omissions. Any unintentional or accidental failure to comply with the terms of this Agreement which can be shown to be the result of an oversight or clerical error relating to the administration of reinsurance by either party will not constitute a breach of this Agreement; provided, that, upon discovery, the error shall be promptly corrected so that both parties are restored to the position they would have occupied had the oversight or clerical error not occurred. In the event a payment is corrected, the party receiving the payment shall be entitled to interest in accordance with Section 17.02. Should it not be possible to restore both parties to this position, the party responsible for the oversight or clerical error will be responsible for any resulting liabilities and expenses.

ARTICLE XIII

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Section 13.01 Negotiation.

(a) Within fifteen (15) calendar days after the Reinsurer or the Ceding Company has given the other party written notification of a specific dispute arising out of or relating to this Agreement, each party will appoint a designated officer of its company to attempt to resolve such dispute. The officers will meet at a mutually agreeable time and location as soon as reasonably possible and as often as reasonably necessary in order to gather and furnish the other with all appropriate and relevant information concerning the dispute. Any such meetings may be held by telephone or video conference. The officers will discuss the matter in dispute and will negotiate in good faith without the necessity of formal arbitration proceedings. During the negotiation process, all reasonable requests made by one officer to the other for information will be honored. The specific format for such discussions will be decided by the designated officers.

(b) If the officers cannot resolve the dispute within thirty (30) calendar days of their first meeting, the dispute will be submitted to formal arbitration pursuant to Section 13.02, unless the parties agree in writing to extend the negotiation period for an additional thirty (30) calendar days.

Section 13.02 Arbitration; Waiver of Trial by Jury.

(a) It is the intention of the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company that the customs and practices of the insurance and reinsurance industry will be given full effect in the operation and interpretation of this Agreement. If the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company cannot mutually resolve a dispute that arises out of or relates to this Agreement, including the validity of this Agreement, and the dispute cannot be resolved through the negotiation process, then the dispute will be finally settled by arbitration in accordance with the provisions of this Section 13.02.

(b) To initiate arbitration, either the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer will notify the other party by certified mail of its desire to arbitrate, stating the nature of the dispute and the remedy sought.

(c) Any arbitration pursuant to this Section 13.02 will be conducted before a panel of three (3) arbitrators who will be current or former officers of life insurance or reinsurance companies other than the parties to this Agreement, their Affiliates or subsidiaries, or other professionals with experience in life insurance or reinsurance; provided, that such professionals shall not have performed services for either party or its Affiliates within the previous five (5) years. Each of the arbitrators will be familiar with the prevailing customs and practices for reinsurance in the life insurance and reinsurance industry in the United States. Each of the parties will appoint one arbitrator and the two (2) so appointed will select the third arbitrator who shall be independent and impartial. If either party refuses or fails to appoint an arbitrator within sixty (60) calendar days after the other party has given written notice to such party of its arbitrator appointment, the party that has given notice may appoint the second arbitrator. If the two (2) arbitrators do not agree on a third arbitrator within thirty (30) calendar days of the appointment of the second arbitrator, then the third arbitrator shall be selected by the ARIAS-U.S. Umpire Selection Procedure (available at www.ARIAS-US.org), subject to the arbitrator qualification requirements of this paragraph.

(d) Each arbitration hearing under this Agreement will be held on the date set by the arbitrators at a mutually agreed upon location. In no event will this date be later than six (6) months after the appointment of the third arbitrator. As soon as possible, the arbitrators will establish arbitration procedures as warranted by the facts and issues of the particular case. Notwithstanding Section 17.17, the arbitration and this Section 13.02 shall be governed by Title 9 (Arbitration) of the United States Code.

(e) The arbitrators will base their decision on the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the customs and practices of the insurance and reinsurance industries rather than on strict interpretation of the law. The decision of the arbitrators will be made by majority rule and will be final and binding on both parties, unless (i) the decision was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means; (ii) there was evident partiality by an arbitrator or corruption in any of the arbitrators or misconduct prejudicing the rights of any party; or (iii) the arbitrators exceeded their powers. Subject to the preceding sentence, neither party may seek judicial review of the decision of the arbitrators. The arbitrators shall enter an award which shall do justice between the parties and the award shall be supported by written opinion. The parties agree that the federal courts in the State of Iowa, or the State courts of such State, have jurisdiction to hear any matter relating to compelling arbitration or enforcing the judgment of an arbitral panel, and the parties hereby consent to such jurisdiction. Each party hereby waives, to the fullest extent permitted by Law, any objection it may now or hereafter have to the laying of such venue, or any claim that a proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum. In addition, the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer hereby consent to service of process out of such courts at the addresses set forth in Section 17.06.

(f) Unless the arbitrators decide otherwise, each party will bear the expense of its own arbitration activities, including its appointed arbitrator and any outside attorney and witness fees. The parties will jointly bear the expense of the third arbitrator.

(g) Waiver of Trial by Jury. THE REINSURER AND THE CEDING COMPANY HEREBY WAIVE ANY AND ALL RIGHTS TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY MATTER ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT.

ARTICLE XIV

INSOLVENCY

Section 14.01 Insolvency.

(a) A party to this Agreement will be deemed "insolvent" when it:

(i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, rehabilitator, conservator, liquidator or statutory successor (the "Authorized Representative") of its properties or assets;

(ii) is adjudicated as bankrupt or insolvent;

(iii) files or consents to the filing of a petition in bankruptcy, seeks reorganization or an arrangement with creditors or takes advantage of any bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation, rehabilitation, conservation or similar Law; or

(iv) becomes the subject of an order to rehabilitate or an order to liquidate as defined by the insurance code of the jurisdiction of the party's domicile.

(b) In the event of the insolvency of either party, the rights or remedies of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect.

(c) Insolvency of the Ceding Company. In the event of the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation of the Ceding Company or the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company, the reinsurance coverage provided hereunder shall be payable by the Reinsurer directly to the Ceding Company or to its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor, on the basis of the liability of the Ceding Company for the Reinsured Liabilities without diminution because of such insolvency, liquidation, rehabilitation or appointment or because such liquidator, receiver or statutory successor has failed to pay any claims or any portion thereof. In any such event, the reinsurance being provided hereunder shall be payable immediately upon demand, with reasonable provision for verification, on the basis of claims allowed against the Ceding Company by any court of competent jurisdiction or by any liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. In any such event, the liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company shall give written notice to the Reinsurer of the pendency of each claim against the Ceding Company with respect to such Reinsured Liabilities within a reasonable time after each such claim is filed in the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding. During the pendency of any such claims, the Reinsurer may, at its own expense, investigate such claim and interpose in the proceeding in which such claim is to be adjudicated any defense or defenses that the Reinsurer may reasonably deem available to the Ceding Company or its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. The expenses incurred in connection therewith by the Reinsurer shall be chargeable, subject to court approval, against the Ceding Company as part of the expense of such insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation to the extent of any benefit that accrues to the Ceding Company, solely as a result of the defense or defenses undertaken by the Reinsurer. For the avoidance of doubt, the Reinsurer will be liable only for benefits reinsured as benefits become due under the terms of the Reinsured Policies and will not be or become liable for any amounts or reserves to be held by the Ceding Company as to the Reinsured Policies or for any damages or payments resulting from the termination or restructuring of the Reinsured Policies, in each case, that are not otherwise expressly covered by this Agreement.

TAXES

Section 15.01 Taxes. No taxes, allowances, or other expenses will be paid by the Reinsurer to the Ceding Company for any Reinsured Policy, except as specifically referred to in this Agreement.

Section 15.02 DAC Tax Election. The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer hereby elect and agree under Treasury Regulations Section 1.848-2(g)(8) as follows:

(a) The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer will each attach a schedule to its federal income tax return for the first taxable year ending after the Effective Date that identifies this Agreement as a reinsurance agreement for which a joint election under Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2(g)(8) has been made, and will otherwise file its respective federal income tax returns in a manner consistent with the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2 as in effect on the date this Agreement is executed;

(b) For each taxable year under this Agreement, the party hereto with the net positive consideration, as defined in the regulations promulgated under Section 848 of the Code, will capitalize specified policy acquisition expenses with respect to this Agreement without regard to the general deductions limitation of Section 848(c)(1) of the Code;

(c) The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer agree to exchange information pertaining to the amount of net consideration under this Agreement each year to ensure consistency or as otherwise required by the Code and applicable Treasury Regulations;

(d) The first tax year for which this election is effective is 2018;

(e) The Reinsurer will submit to the Ceding Company by May 15 each year its calculation of the amount of the net consideration for the preceding calendar year. This schedule of calculations will be accompanied by a statement that the Reinsurer will report such amount of net consideration in its tax return for the preceding calendar year;

(f) The Ceding Company may contest such calculation by providing an alternative calculation to the Reinsurer in writing within thirty (30) calendar days of the Ceding Company's receipt of the Reinsurer's calculation. If the Ceding Company does not so notify the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company will report the amount of net consideration as determined by the Reinsurer in the Ceding Company's tax return for the previous calendar year;

(g) If the Ceding Company contests the Reinsurer's calculation of the amount of net consideration, the parties will act in good faith to reach an agreement as to the correct amount within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on which the Ceding Company submits its alternative calculation.

Both the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer are subject to U.S. taxation under Subchapter L of Chapter 1 of the Code.

Section 15.03 Tax Treatment. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the transaction contemplated by this Agreement constitutes an "applicable asset acquisition" as defined in Section 1060 of the Code and the regulations thereunder. Within thirty (30) calendar days following the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall deliver a schedule setting forth an allocation of the consideration paid by the Reinsurer for federal income tax purposes among the assets acquired by the Reinsurer pursuant to this transaction. The parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve any disagreements with respect to such schedule. Each party shall file all tax returns and Form 8594 in a manner consistent with the schedule as ultimately agreed.

There are no understandings between the parties other than as expressed in this Agreement and the Exhibits hereto. In the event of any express conflict between this Agreement and the Exhibits hereto, the Exhibits hereto will control.

Section 17.13 Severability. The provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed severable and the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the other provisions hereof. If any provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any Person or entity or any circumstance, is found by a court or other Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unenforceable, (a) a suitable and equitable provision shall be substituted therefor in order to carry out, so far as may be valid and enforceable, the intent and purpose of such invalid or unenforceable provision and (b) the remainder of this Agreement and the application of such provision to other Persons or circumstances shall not be affected by such invalidity or unenforceability, nor shall such invalidity or unenforceability affect the validity or enforceability of such provision, or the application thereof, in any other jurisdiction.

Section 17.14 Construction. This Agreement will be construed and administered without regard to authorship and without any presumption or rule of construction in favor of either party. This Agreement is between sophisticated parties, each of which has reviewed this Agreement and is fully knowledgeable about its terms and conditions.

Section 17.15 Non-Waiver. Neither the failure nor any delay on the part of the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer to exercise any right, remedy, power, or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver thereof. No single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power or privilege shall preclude the further exercise of that right, remedy, power or privilege or the exercise of any other right, remedy, power or privilege. No waiver of any right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any occurrence shall be construed as a waiver of that right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any other occurrence. No prior transaction or dealing between the parties will establish any custom, usage or precedent waiving or modifying any provision of this Agreement. No waiver shall be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the party granting the waiver.

Section 17.16 Further Assurances. From time to time, as and when requested by a party hereto, the other party hereto shall execute and deliver all such documents and instruments and shall take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Each Interim Net Settlement Amount shall be payable as follows:

(i) If the Interim Net Settlement Amount with respect to any period is positive, then the Ceding Company shall deposit into the Modco Account an amount equal to such Interim Net Settlement Amount on the date on which such Interim Net Settlement Amount is reported by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer; or

(ii) If the Interim Net Settlement Amount with respect to any period is negative, then the Ceding Company shall be permitted to withdraw from the Modco Account an amount equal to the absolute value of such Interim Net Settlement Amount within [two (2)] Business Days following the date on which such Interim Net Settlement Amount is reported by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer.

All Interim Net Settlement Amounts paid during any Monthly Accounting Period shall be reflected in the Monthly Accounting Report with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period and taken into account in determining the Net Settlement Amount with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period.

(b) The net balance payable under this Agreement for each Monthly Accounting Period (as set forth in the applicable Monthly Accounting Report, the "Net Settlement Amount") shall be calculated by the Ceding Company and reported to the Reinsurer in the Monthly Accounting Report delivered with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period. Each Net Settlement Amount shall be payable as follows:

(i) if the Net Settlement Amount indicated in the Monthly Accounting Report is positive, then the Ceding Company shall deposit into the Modco Account, on the date of delivery of such Monthly Accounting Report to the Reinsurer, an amount equal to such Net Settlement Amount; or

(ii) if the Net Settlement Amount indicated in a Monthly Accounting Report is negative, then the Ceding Company shall be permitted to withdraw from the Modco Account, on the date that is five (5) Business Days following the delivery of the Monthly Accounting Report to the Reinsurer, an amount equal to the absolute value of such Net Settlement Amount; provided, that if the absolute value of such negative Monthly Net Settlement Amount is greater than the fair market value of the assets in the Modco Account as of the last day of the relevant Monthly Accounting Period, then the Reinsurer shall pay the amount of such difference to the Ceding Company no later than five (5) Business Days after the receipt by the Reinsurer of the applicable Monthly Accounting Report.

(c) The Modco Adjustment payable under this Agreement for each Quarterly Accounting Period (as set forth in the applicable Quarterly Accounting Report) shall be payable as follows:

(i) if the Modco Adjustment is positive, then the Reinsurer shall pay to the Ceding Company for immediate deposit into the Modco Account such positive amount no later than five (5) Business Days after the receipt by the Reinsurer of the applicable Quarterly Accounting Report; and

(ii) if the Modco Adjustment is negative, then, on the date of delivery of the Quarterly Accounting Report to the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company shall withdraw assets with a Statutory Carrying Value equal to the absolute value of such negative amount from the Modco Account and pay the absolute value of such negative amount to the Reinsurer.

(d) Except as otherwise set forth herein, any amount due under this Agreement shall be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the account or accounts designated by the recipient thereof.

MODCO ACCOUNT

Section 8.01 Modco Account.

(a) As of the Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall establish a modified coinsurance account (the "Modco Account") on the books and records of the Ceding Company, which shall consist of the assets maintained by the Ceding Company in the Separate Account[, which shall be held in a trust account established by the Ceding Company pursuant to that certain Trust Agreement, dated as of the date hereof, among the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and Citibank, N.A. (as trustee of such trust account, the "Trustee"),][4] and the Existing Hedges.[5] The Modco Account and the assets maintained therein will be owned and maintained by the Ceding Company and will be used exclusively for the purposes set forth in this Agreement. The assets maintained in the Modco Account shall be invested in and consist only of Permitted Assets, and the Permitted Assets shall be valued, for the purposes of this Agreement, according to their Statutory Carrying Value. In accordance with Iowa SAP, the Ceding Company elects to cede all capital gains and losses in respect of the assets maintained in the Modco Account to the Reinsurer on a gross basis.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision hereof, assets held in the Modco Account may be withdrawn by the Ceding Company at any time and shall be utilized and applied by the Ceding Company or any of its successors in interest by operation of law, including any liquidator, rehabilitator, receiver or conservator of the Ceding Company, without diminution because of insolvency on the part of the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer, only for the following purposes:

(i) to reimburse the Ceding Company for the Quota Share of premiums which are returned to the owners of the Reinsured Policies because of cancellations of such Reinsured Policies;

(ii) to reimburse the Ceding Company for the Reinsured Liabilities paid pursuant to the provisions of the Reinsured Policies;

[4] Note to Draft: To be confirmed that the assets in the Separate Account do not support any liabilities other than the Reinsured Liabilities.

[5] Note to Draft: To be determined whether the Separate Account assets will be held in a trust account.

(iii) to pay any Interim Net Settlement Amount, Net Settlement Amount and other undisputed amounts due to the Ceding Company under this Agreement; and

(iv) to pay any Modco Adjustment due from the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer;

provided, however, that, other than withdrawals made by the Ceding Company for the purpose of effectuating the payment of the Interim Net Settlement Amounts, Net Settlement Amounts and Modco Adjustments, the Ceding Company shall not withdraw funds from the Modco Account until the expiration of any payment period afforded the Reinsurer hereunder, and then only upon providing the Reinsurer with written notice at least five (5) Business Days prior to such withdrawal.

(c) The Ceding Company shall promptly return to the Modco Account any assets withdrawn in excess of the actual amounts required in paragraphs (i) through (iv) immediately above or any amounts that are subsequently determined not to be due under such paragraphs ("Modco Excess Withdrawals"). The Ceding Company shall also pay interest on any Modco Excess Withdrawals at a rate determined in accordance with Section 17.02 from and including the date of withdrawal to but excluding the date on which the Modco Excess Withdrawal is returned to the Modco Account. Any Modco Excess Withdrawals shall be held by the Ceding Company or any successor in interest of the Ceding Company in trust for the benefit of the Reinsurer and shall at all times be maintained separate and apart from any assets of the Ceding Company, for the sole purposes described in paragraphs (i) through (iv) immediately above.

(d) Determinations of statutory impairments of assets maintained in the Modco Account shall be made by the Ceding Company and shall be (i) based upon the statutory rules and guidelines and the impairment policy used by the Ceding Company and its auditors for purposes of calculating statutory impairments reflected in the Ceding Company's statutory financial statements and (ii) subject to consultation between the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company. The Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Reinsurer in writing if the Ceding Company determines that any assets maintained in the Modco Account have become impaired for purposes of determining Statutory Carrying Value. Such notice shall describe any such assets, the reason for the impairment and the effect on Statutory Carrying Value of such assets.

(e) The Reinsurer shall bear the administrative costs and expenses related to the establishment and maintenance of the Modco Account, including [the fees of the Trustee and] the fees of any investment manager appointed pursuant to Section 8.03 (including any sub-investment manager appointed in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement). The Ceding Company shall promptly forward to the Reinsurer any invoice it receives relating to such costs and expenses. On the fifth (5th) Business Day following the date on which it delivers such invoice to the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company shall authorize the withdrawal of the amount of such costs and expenses from the Modco Account; provided, that if such amount is greater than the Statutory Carrying Value of the assets in the Modco Account, then the Reinsurer shall pay the amount of such difference to the Ceding Company no later than eight (8) Business Days following the delivery of such invoice to the Reinsurer.

(f) The performance of the assets maintained in the Modco Account, including of all investment income paid or accrued, investment gains or losses, defaults and/or statutory impairments, will inure to the sole benefit or cost of the Reinsurer.

Section 8.02 Credit for Reinsurance. The Ceding Company shall own the Modco Account and the assets maintained therein, and the Reinsurer will not be required to provide reserve credit in respect of the Reinsured Liabilities ceded hereunder on a modified coinsurance basis.

Section 8.03 Investment Management. Pursuant to an investment management agreement (the "Investment Management Agreement"), the Ceding Company shall appoint Athene Asset Management, L.P. as investment manager to provide investment management services with respect to the assets maintained in the Modco Account (the "Investment Manager"). The Ceding Company shall not amend, modify or change the terms of the Investment Management Agreement, including the investment guidelines attached as an exhibit thereto, or remove or replace the Investment Manager without the prior written consent of the Reinsurer. In the event that the Investment Manager is removed or resigns, the Ceding Company shall appoint a replacement investment manager as directed by the Reinsurer. The replacement investment manager shall accept its appointment by entering into an investment management agreement in a form acceptable to the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer, and substantially similar to the Investment Management Agreement.

HEDGING

Section 9.01 Existing Hedges. The Ceding Company hereby assigns to the Reinsurer a fractional interest in the gross proceeds in respect of the Existing Hedges equivalent to the Quota Share of all amounts actually received (or deemed received) by the Ceding Company pursuant to the Existing Hedges from the relevant Hedge Counterparty, including upon an early exercise of an Existing Hedge by the Ceding Company, which amounts shall be determined without regard to any netting of amounts between the Ceding Company and the relevant Hedge Counterparty with respect to any derivatives that are not Existing Hedges (the "Existing Hedge Proceeds"). Such assignment shall occur automatically, without further action on the part of either party, on the Effective Date. Upon any termination of this Agreement, all of the Reinsurer's right, title and interest (legal, equitable and otherwise) in and to the Existing Hedge Proceeds will be immediately assigned to the Ceding Company without any further action by the parties hereto. The Existing Hedge Proceeds shall be attributed to the Modco Account and reflected in the applicable Weekly Accounting Report. The Ceding Company shall pay the Existing Hedge Proceeds to the Reinsurer in accordance with Section 7.03.

Section 9.02 Other Hedging. Other than with respect to the Existing Hedges, the Reinsurer shall be responsible for hedging its share of the index risk associated with the Reinsured Policies.

ADMINISTRATION

Section 10.01 Policy Administration. The Ceding Company shall provide all required, necessary and appropriate claims, administrative and other services, including reporting under Article VII, with respect to the Reinsured Policies, the Separate Account and the Existing Hedges. The Ceding Company shall conduct its administration and claims practices with respect to the Reinsured Policies (a) with a level of skill, diligence and expertise that would reasonably be expected from experienced and qualified personnel performing such duties in similar circumstances, (b) in accordance with applicable Law and the terms of the Reinsured Policies, and (c) in a manner no less favorable to the Reinsurer and the Reinsured Polices than those used by the Ceding Company with respect to other policies of the Ceding Company not reinsured by the Reinsurer hereunder or other hedges of the Ceding Company. The Ceding Company shall not outsource any administrative functions or claims administration with respect to the Reinsured Policies or this Agreement without the prior written consent of the Reinsurer. If the Reinsurer consents to any outsourcing of any administrative functions or claims administration with respect to the Reinsured Policies or this Agreement, the Ceding Company shall secure the Reinsurer's right to audit and inspect the party performing such outsourced services.

Section 10.02 Record-Keeping.

(a) The Ceding Company shall maintain all records and correspondence for services performed by the Ceding Company hereunder relating to the Reinsured Policies in accordance with industry standards of insurance record-keeping. In addition, such records shall be made available for examination, audit, and inspection by the department of insurance of any State within whose jurisdiction the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer operates. The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer further agree that in the event of the termination of this Agreement, any such records in the possession of the Reinsurer shall promptly be duplicated and forwarded to the Ceding Company unless otherwise instructed.

(b) The Ceding Company shall establish and maintain an adequate system of internal controls and procedures for financial reporting relating to the Reinsured Policies and the Separate Account, including associated documentation, and shall make such documentation available for examination and inspection by the Reinsurer. All reports provided by the Ceding Company pursuant to Article VII shall be prepared in accordance with such system and procedures and shall be consistent with the Ceding Company's books and records.

TERM AND TERMINATION

Section 11.01 Duration of Agreement. This Agreement shall continue in force until such time as the Ceding Company has no further liabilities or obligations with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 11.02 Recapture.

(a) Neither party shall be permitted to cause a recapture of the Reinsured Policies except in accordance with this Section 11.02. For the avoidance of doubt, neither party shall be permitted to cause a partial recapture of the Reinsured Policies pursuant to this Section 11.02.

(b) Recapture for Non-Payment or Other Material Breach. Either party may cause the Reinsured Policies to be recaptured in full and this Agreement to be terminated as to all Reinsured Policies if (i) the other party fails to pay any amounts due under this Agreement within thirty (30) calendar days following written notice of non-payment from the non-defaulting party or (ii) such other party otherwise materially breaches this Agreement and fails to cure such material breach within thirty (30) calendar days following written notice thereof from the non-breaching party.

(c) Recapture for Insolvency of Reinsurer. The Ceding Company may terminate this Agreement and recapture all of the Reinsured Policies in the event that the Reinsurer becomes insolvent (as set forth in Article XIV) by promptly providing the Reinsurer or its Authorized Representative with written notice of recapture, to be effective as of the date on which the Reinsurer's insolvency is established by the authority responsible for such determination. Any requirement for a notification period prior to the termination of this Agreement shall not apply under such circumstances.

Section 11.03 Recapture Payment.

(a) In the event the Reinsured Policies are recaptured in full (including if this Agreement is rejected by any liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, trustee or similar Person acting on behalf of the Ceding Company (a "Receiver")), a net accounting and settlement as to any balance due under this Agreement shall be undertaken by the Ceding Company in accordance with Article VII, which calculations shall be as of the Recapture Effective Date. Within thirteen (13) Business Days following the Recapture Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a final Monthly Accounting Report and Quarterly Accounting Report, each as of the Recapture Effective Date (collectively, the "Terminal Accounting Report"), and the final Net Settlement Amount and final Modco Adjustment set forth in such Terminal Accounting Report shall be paid in accordance with Section 7.03. In addition, within five (5) Business Days following the Recapture Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall pay to the Reinsurer an amount equal to the Unamortized Ceding Commission in cash by wire transfer of immediately available funds.

(b) The Reinsurer's right to terminate the reinsurance provided hereunder will not prejudice its right to collect premiums, and applicable interest as specified in Section 17.02, for the period during which such reinsurance was in force, through and including any notice period.

Section 11.04 Survival. All provisions of this Agreement will survive any termination of this Agreement and recapture of the Reinsured Policies to the extent necessary to carry out the purpose of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XII

ERRORS AND OMISSIONS

Section 12.01 Errors and Omissions. Any unintentional or accidental failure to comply with the terms of this Agreement which can be shown to be the result of an oversight or clerical error relating to the administration of reinsurance by either party will not constitute a breach of this Agreement; provided, that, upon discovery, the error shall be promptly corrected so that both parties are restored to the position they would have occupied had the oversight or clerical error not occurred. In the event a payment is corrected, the party receiving the payment shall be entitled to interest in accordance with Section 17.02. Should it not be possible to restore both parties to this position, the party responsible for the oversight or clerical error will be responsible for any resulting liabilities and expenses.

ARTICLE XIII

Section 13.01 Negotiation.

(a) Within fifteen (15) calendar days after the Reinsurer or the Ceding Company has given the other party written notification of a specific dispute arising out of or relating to this Agreement, each party will appoint a designated officer of its company to attempt to resolve such dispute. The officers will meet at a mutually agreeable time and location as soon as reasonably possible and as often as reasonably necessary in order to gather and furnish the other with all appropriate and relevant information concerning the dispute. Any such meetings may be held by telephone or video conference. The officers will discuss the matter in dispute and will negotiate in good faith without the necessity of formal arbitration proceedings. During the negotiation process, all reasonable requests made by one officer to the other for information will be honored. The specific format for such discussions will be decided by the designated officers.

(b) If the officers cannot resolve the dispute within thirty (30) calendar days of their first meeting, the dispute will be submitted to formal arbitration pursuant to Section 13.02, unless the parties agree in writing to extend the negotiation period for an additional thirty (30) calendar days.

Section 13.02 Arbitration; Waiver of Trial by Jury.

(a) It is the intention of the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company that the customs and practices of the insurance and reinsurance industry will be given full effect in the operation and interpretation of this Agreement. If the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company cannot mutually resolve a dispute that arises out of or relates to this Agreement, including the validity of this Agreement, and the dispute cannot be resolved through the negotiation process, then the dispute will be finally settled by arbitration in accordance with the provisions of this Section 13.02.

(b) To initiate arbitration, either the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer will notify the other party by certified mail of its desire to arbitrate, stating the nature of the dispute and the remedy sought.

(c) Any arbitration pursuant to this Section 13.02 will be conducted before a panel of three (3) arbitrators who will be current or former officers of life insurance or reinsurance companies other than the parties to this Agreement, their Affiliates or subsidiaries, or other professionals with experience in life insurance or reinsurance; provided, that such professionals shall not have performed services for either party or its Affiliates within the previous five (5) years. Each of the arbitrators will be familiar with the prevailing customs and practices for reinsurance in the life insurance and reinsurance industry in the United States. Each of the parties will appoint one arbitrator and the two (2) so appointed will select the third arbitrator who shall be independent and impartial. If either party refuses or fails to appoint an arbitrator within sixty (60) calendar days after the other party has given written notice to such party of its arbitrator appointment, the party that has given notice may appoint the second arbitrator. If the two (2) arbitrators do not agree on a third arbitrator within thirty (30) calendar days of the appointment of the second arbitrator, then the third arbitrator shall be selected by the ARIAS-U.S. Umpire Selection Procedure (available at www.ARIAS-US.org), subject to the arbitrator qualification requirements of this paragraph.

(d) Each arbitration hearing under this Agreement will be held on the date set by the arbitrators at a mutually agreed upon location. In no event will this date be later than six (6) months after the appointment of the third arbitrator. As soon as possible, the arbitrators will establish arbitration procedures as warranted by the facts and issues of the particular case. Notwithstanding Section 17.17, the arbitration and this Section 13.02 shall be governed by Title 9 (Arbitration) of the United States Code.

(e) The arbitrators will base their decision on the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the customs and practices of the insurance and reinsurance industries rather than on strict interpretation of the law. The decision of the arbitrators will be made by majority rule and will be final and binding on both parties, unless (i) the decision was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means; (ii) there was evident partiality by an arbitrator or corruption in any of the arbitrators or misconduct prejudicing the rights of any party; or (iii) the arbitrators exceeded their powers. Subject to the preceding sentence, neither party may seek judicial review of the decision of the arbitrators. The arbitrators shall enter an award which shall do justice between the parties and the award shall be supported by written opinion. The parties agree that the federal courts in the State of Iowa, or the State courts of such State, have jurisdiction to hear any matter relating to compelling arbitration or enforcing the judgment of an arbitral panel, and the parties hereby consent to such jurisdiction. Each party hereby waives, to the fullest extent permitted by Law, any objection it may now or hereafter have to the laying of such venue, or any claim that a proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum. In addition, the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer hereby consent to service of process out of such courts at the addresses set forth in Section 17.06.

(f) Unless the arbitrators decide otherwise, each party will bear the expense of its own arbitration activities, including its appointed arbitrator and any outside attorney and witness fees. The parties will jointly bear the expense of the third arbitrator.

(g) Waiver of Trial by Jury. THE REINSURER AND THE CEDING COMPANY HEREBY WAIVE ANY AND ALL RIGHTS TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY MATTER ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT.

ARTICLE XIV

INSOLVENCY

Section 14.01 Insolvency.

(a) A party to this Agreement will be deemed "insolvent" when it:

(i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, rehabilitator, conservator, liquidator or statutory successor (the "Authorized Representative") of its properties or assets;

(ii) is adjudicated as bankrupt or insolvent;

(iii) files or consents to the filing of a petition in bankruptcy, seeks reorganization or an arrangement with creditors or takes advantage of any bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation, rehabilitation, conservation or similar Law; or

(iv) becomes the subject of an order to rehabilitate or an order to liquidate as defined by the insurance code of the jurisdiction of the party's domicile.

(b) In the event of the insolvency of either party, the rights or remedies of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect.

(c) Insolvency of the Ceding Company. In the event of the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation of the Ceding Company or the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company, the reinsurance coverage provided hereunder shall be payable by the Reinsurer directly to the Ceding Company or to its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor, on the basis of the liability of the Ceding Company for the Reinsured Liabilities without diminution because of such insolvency, liquidation, rehabilitation or appointment or because such liquidator, receiver or statutory successor has failed to pay any claims or any portion thereof. In any such event, the reinsurance being provided hereunder shall be payable immediately upon demand, with reasonable provision for verification, on the basis of claims allowed against the Ceding Company by any court of competent jurisdiction or by any liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. In any such event, the liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company shall give written notice to the Reinsurer of the pendency of each claim against the Ceding Company with respect to such Reinsured Liabilities within a reasonable time after each such claim is filed in the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding. During the pendency of any such claims, the Reinsurer may, at its own expense, investigate such claim and interpose in the proceeding in which such claim is to be adjudicated any defense or defenses that the Reinsurer may reasonably deem available to the Ceding Company or its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. The expenses incurred in connection therewith by the Reinsurer shall be chargeable, subject to court approval, against the Ceding Company as part of the expense of such insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation to the extent of any benefit that accrues to the Ceding Company, solely as a result of the defense or defenses undertaken by the Reinsurer. For the avoidance of doubt, the Reinsurer will be liable only for benefits reinsured as benefits become due under the terms of the Reinsured Policies and will not be or become liable for any amounts or reserves to be held by the Ceding Company as to the Reinsured Policies or for any damages or payments resulting from the termination or restructuring of the Reinsured Policies, in each case, that are not otherwise expressly covered by this Agreement.

ARTICLE XV

TAXES

Section 15.01 Taxes. No taxes, allowances, or other expenses will be paid by the Reinsurer to the Ceding Company for any Reinsured Policy, except as specifically referred to in this Agreement.

Section 15.02 DAC Tax Election. The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer hereby elect and agree under Treasury Regulations Section 1.848-2(g)(8) as follows:

(a) The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer will each attach a schedule to its federal income tax return for the first taxable year ending after the Effective Date that identifies this Agreement as a reinsurance agreement for which a joint election under Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2(g)(8) has been made, and will otherwise file its respective federal income tax returns in a manner consistent with the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2 as in effect on the date this Agreement is executed;

(b) For each taxable year under this Agreement, the party hereto with the net positive consideration, as defined in the regulations promulgated under Section 848 of the Code, will capitalize specified policy acquisition expenses with respect to this Agreement without regard to the general deductions limitation of Section 848(c)(1) of the Code;

(c) The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer agree to exchange information pertaining to the amount of net consideration under this Agreement each year to ensure consistency or as otherwise required by the Code and applicable Treasury Regulations;

(d) The first tax year for which this election is effective is 2018;

(e) The Reinsurer will submit to the Ceding Company by May 15 each year its calculation of the amount of the net consideration for the preceding calendar year. This schedule of calculations will be accompanied by a statement that the Reinsurer will report such amount of net consideration in its tax return for the preceding calendar year;

(f) The Ceding Company may contest such calculation by providing an alternative calculation to the Reinsurer in writing within thirty (30) calendar days of the Ceding Company's receipt of the Reinsurer's calculation. If the Ceding Company does not so notify the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company will report the amount of net consideration as determined by the Reinsurer in the Ceding Company's tax return for the previous calendar year;

(g) If the Ceding Company contests the Reinsurer's calculation of the amount of net consideration, the parties will act in good faith to reach an agreement as to the correct amount within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on which the Ceding Company submits its alternative calculation.

Both the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer are subject to U.S. taxation under Subchapter L of Chapter 1 of the Code.

Section 15.03 Tax Treatment. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the transaction contemplated by this Agreement constitutes an "applicable asset acquisition" as defined in Section 1060 of the Code and the regulations thereunder. Within thirty (30) calendar days following the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall deliver a schedule setting forth an allocation of the consideration paid by the Reinsurer for federal income tax purposes among the assets acquired by the Reinsurer pursuant to this transaction. The parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve any disagreements with respect to such schedule. Each party shall file all tax returns and Form 8594 in a manner consistent with the schedule as ultimately agreed.

ARTICLE XVI

(a) Organization and Qualification. The Ceding Company is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of the State of Iowa and has all requisite corporate power and authority to operate its business as now conducted, and is duly qualified as a foreign corporation to do business, and, to the extent legally applicable, is in good standing, in each jurisdiction where the character of its owned, operated or leased properties or the nature of its activities makes such qualification necessary, except for failures to be so qualified or be in good standing that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Ceding Company has all requisite corporate power to enter into, consummate the transactions contemplated by and carry out its obligations under, this Agreement. The execution and delivery by the Ceding Company of this Agreement, and the consummation by the Ceding Company of the transactions contemplated by, and the performance by the Ceding Company of its obligations under, this Agreement have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate action on the part of the Ceding Company. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Ceding Company, and (assuming due authorization, execution and delivery by the Reinsurer) this Agreement constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of the Ceding Company, enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of any applicable bankruptcy, reorganization, insolvency, moratorium, or similar Laws relating to or affecting creditors' rights generally.

(c) No Conflict. The execution, delivery and performance by the Ceding Company of, and the consummation by the Ceding Company of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement do not and will not (i) violate or conflict with the organizational documents of the Ceding Company, (ii) conflict with or violate any Law or Permit of any Governmental Entity applicable to the Ceding Company or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, or (iii) result in any breach of, or constitute a default (or event which, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a default) under, or give to any Person any rights of termination, acceleration or cancellation of, any agreement, lease, note, bond, loan or credit agreement, mortgage, indenture or other instrument, obligation or contract of any kind to which the Ceding Company or any of its subsidiaries is a party or by which the Ceding Company or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective properties or assets is bound or affected, except, in the case of clause (iii), any such conflicts, violations, breaches, loss of contractual benefits, defaults or rights that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) Factual Information Relating to the Reinsured Policies. The information relating to the business reinsured under this Agreement and the Reinsured Policies that was supplied by or on behalf of the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer or any of the Reinsurer's representatives in connection with this Agreement (such information, the "Factual Information"), as of the date supplied (or if later corrected or supplemented prior to the date hereof, as of the date corrected or supplemented), did not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary to make such Factual Information, taken as a whole, not misleading in light of the circumstances under which the statements contained therein were made, and was otherwise complete and accurate in all material respects. The Factual Information was compiled in a commercially reasonable manner given its intended purpose.

(e) Solvency. The Ceding Company is and will be Solvent on a statutory basis immediately after giving effect to this Agreement. For the purposes of this Section 16.01(e), "Solvent" means that: (i) the aggregate assets of the Ceding Company are greater than the aggregate liabilities of the Ceding Company, in each case determined in accordance with Iowa SAP; (ii) the Ceding Company does not intend to, and does not believe that it will, incur debts or other liabilities beyond its ability to pay such debts and other liabilities as they come due; and (iii) the Ceding Company is not engaged in a business or transaction, and does not contemplate engaging in a business or transaction, for which the Ceding Company's assets would constitute unreasonably insufficient capital.

(f) Governmental Licenses. The Ceding Company has all Permits necessary to conduct its business as currently conducted and execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, this Agreement, except in such cases where the failure to have a Permit has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. All Permits that are material to the conduct of the Ceding Company's business are valid and in full force and effect. The Ceding Company is not subject to any pending Action or, to the knowledge of the Ceding Company, any threatened Action that seeks the revocation, suspension, termination, modification or impairment of any Permit that, if successful, would reasonably be expected to have, or with the passage of time become, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(g) Separate Account. The Separate Account has been maintained in accordance with applicable Law. No plan of operations with respect to the Separate Account was required to be filed and approved by any Governmental Entity.

Section 16.02 Covenants of the Ceding Company.

(a) Investigations. To the extent permitted by applicable Law, the Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Reinsurer, in writing, of any and all investigations of the Ceding Company conducted by any Governmental Entity commencing after the date hereof, other than routine State insurance department examinations that do not relate to the business reinsured pursuant to this Agreement or would not otherwise reasonably be expected to adversely affect the performance by the Ceding Company of its obligations under this Agreement; provided, however, that the Ceding Company may withhold any notice otherwise required to be delivered pursuant to this Section 16.02(a) to the extent that the delivery thereof to the Reinsurer would result in a waiver of the attorney-client privilege, the work-product doctrine or any other applicable legal privilege or similar doctrine.

(b) Statutory Accounting Principles. The Ceding Company shall prepare its financial statements as required by, and in accordance with, Iowa SAP.

(c) Existence; Conduct of Business. The Ceding Company shall do or cause to be done all things reasonably necessary to preserve, renew and keep in full force and effect its legal existence and the rights, Permits and privileges material to the conduct of its business.

(d) Compliance with Law. The Ceding Company shall comply with all Laws applicable to, and all Permits issued by any Governmental Entity to, the Ceding Company or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, except where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations, or on the Reinsurer's rights or obligations, under this Agreement.

(e) Governmental Notices. The Ceding Company shall provide the Reinsurer, within five (5) Business Days after receipt thereof, copies of any written notice or report from any Governmental Entity with respect to the business reinsured under this Agreement and a written summary of any material oral communication with any Governmental Entity with respect to the business reinsured under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Reinsurer has all requisite corporate power to enter into, consummate the transactions contemplated by and carry out its obligations under, this Agreement. (c) No Conflict. The execution, delivery and performance by the Reinsurer of, and the consummation by the Reinsurer of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement do not and will not (i) violate or conflict with the organizational documents of the Reinsurer, (ii) conflict with or violate any Law or Permit of any Governmental Entity applicable to the Reinsurer or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, or (iii) result in any breach of, or constitute a default (or event which, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a default) under, or give to any Person any rights of termination, acceleration or cancellation of, any agreement, lease, note, bond, loan or credit agreement, mortgage, indenture or other instrument, obligation or contract of any kind to which the Reinsurer or any of its subsidiaries is a party or by which the Reinsurer or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective properties or assets is bound or affected, except, in the case of clause (iii), any such conflicts, violations, breaches, loss of contractual benefits, defaults or rights that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

There are no understandings between the parties other than as expressed in this Agreement and the Exhibits hereto. In the event of any express conflict between this Agreement and the Exhibits hereto, the Exhibits hereto will control.

Section 17.13 Severability. The provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed severable and the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the other provisions hereof. If any provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any Person or entity or any circumstance, is found by a court or other Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unenforceable, (a) a suitable and equitable provision shall be substituted therefor in order to carry out, so far as may be valid and enforceable, the intent and purpose of such invalid or unenforceable provision and (b) the remainder of this Agreement and the application of such provision to other Persons or circumstances shall not be affected by such invalidity or unenforceability, nor shall such invalidity or unenforceability affect the validity or enforceability of such provision, or the application thereof, in any other jurisdiction.

Section 17.14 Construction. This Agreement will be construed and administered without regard to authorship and without any presumption or rule of construction in favor of either party. This Agreement is between sophisticated parties, each of which has reviewed this Agreement and is fully knowledgeable about its terms and conditions.

Section 17.15 Non-Waiver. Neither the failure nor any delay on the part of the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer to exercise any right, remedy, power, or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver thereof. No single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power or privilege shall preclude the further exercise of that right, remedy, power or privilege or the exercise of any other right, remedy, power or privilege. No waiver of any right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any occurrence shall be construed as a waiver of that right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any other occurrence. No prior transaction or dealing between the parties will establish any custom, usage or precedent waiving or modifying any provision of this Agreement. No waiver shall be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the party granting the waiver.

Section 17.16 Further Assurances. From time to time, as and when requested by a party hereto, the other party hereto shall execute and deliver all such documents and instruments and shall take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 17.17 Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the Laws of the State of Iowa without giving effect to any principles of conflicts of law thereof that are not mandatorily applicable by Law and would permit or require the application of the Laws of another jurisdiction.

Section 17.18 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each party hereto and delivered to the other party. Each party hereto may deliver its signed counterpart of this Agreement to the other party by means of electronic mail or any other electronic medium utilizing image scan technology, and such delivery will have the same legal effect as hand delivery of an originally executed counterpart. When this Agreement has been fully executed by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer, it will become effective as of the Effective Date.

(b) This Agreement is an agreement for indemnity reinsurance made solely between the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer.

(c) Subject to the terms, conditions and limits of this Agreement, the Ceding Company shall automatically cede and the Reinsurer shall automatically reinsure (i) on a funds withheld basis, a portion of the Reinsured Liabilities equal to the Funds Withheld Amount, and (ii) on a coinsurance basis, all other Reinsured Liabilities.

(d) Subject to the terms, conditions and limits of this Agreement, the Reinsurer shall follow the fortunes of the Ceding Company, and to that end the Reinsurer's liability for the Reinsured Policies shall be identical to that of the Ceding Company and shall be subject to the same risks, terms, conditions, interpretations, waivers, modifications, alterations and cancellations to which the Ceding Company is subject with respect to the Reinsured Policies. Without limiting the Reinsurer's rights under the Administrative Services Agreement or this Agreement, the Reinsurer acknowledges that the Administrator will make decisions with respect to the payment of Reinsured Liabilities in respect of the TPA-Administered Policies under the Administrative Services Agreement and the Ceding Company will make decisions with respect to the payment of Reinsured Liabilities in respect of RLI-Administered Policies under this Agreement, which decisions will be binding on the Reinsurer. Section 10.02 The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act. Both the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company agree to provide all information necessary to comply (or permit the other party to comply) with Sections 1471 – 1474 of the Code, (the "Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act" or "FATCA") and any Treasury Regulations or other guidance issued pursuant thereto, including, without limitation, Forms W-9, Forms W-8BEN-E, and any information necessary for the Reinsurer or the Ceding Company to enter into an agreement described in Section 1471(b) of the Code and to comply with the terms of that agreement or to comply with the terms of any inter-governmental agreements between the United States and any other jurisdictions relating to FATCA. This information shall be provided upon execution of this Agreement, promptly upon reasonable demand by either party and promptly upon learning that any such information previously provided has become obsolete or incorrect.

Section 10.03 Anti-Money Laundering. The Ceding Company has established and will maintain reasonable policies and procedures to comply in all material respects with applicable Laws relating to anti-money laundering and anti-terrorism financing activities including, without limitation, the U.S.A. (c) The Ceding Company shall establish and maintain an adequate system of internal controls and procedures for financial reporting relating to the RLI-Administered Policies including associated documentation and shall make such documentation available for examination and inspection by the Reinsurer. All reports provided by the Ceding Company pursuant to Article VII shall be prepared in accordance with such system and procedures and shall be consistent with the Ceding Company's books and records.

ARTICLE XI

TERM AND TERMINATION

Section 11.01 Duration of Agreement. Unless the Reinsured Policies are recaptured in accordance with Section 11.02, this Agreement shall continue in force until such time as the Ceding Company has no further liabilities or obligations with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 11.02 Recapture.

(a) Neither party shall be permitted to cause a recapture of the Reinsured Policies except in accordance with this Section 11.02. For the avoidance of doubt, neither party shall be permitted to cause a partial recapture of the Reinsured Policies pursuant to this Section 11.02.

(b) The Ceding Company may terminate this Agreement and recapture all of the Reinsured Policies in the event of the occurrence of a Recapture Triggering Event with respect to the Reinsurer by promptly providing the Reinsurer or its Authorized Representative with written notice of such recapture, specifying a recapture date (the "Recapture Effective Date").

(c) The Reinsurer may terminate this Agreement and cause the Reinsured Policies to be recaptured in full in the event of a Recapture Triggering Event with respect to the Ceding Company by promptly providing the Ceding Company or its Authorized Representative with written notice of such recapture, specifying a Recapture Effective Date.

Section 11.03 Recapture Payment. In the event the Reinsured Policies are recaptured in full (including if this Agreement is rejected by any liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, trustee or similar Person acting on behalf of the Ceding Company), a net accounting and settlement as to any balance due under this Agreement with respect to the TPA-Administered Policies shall be undertaken by the Administrator and a net accounting and settlement as to any balance due under this Agreement with respect to the RLI-Administered Policies shall be undertaken by the Ceding Company, in each case, which calculations shall be as of the Recapture Effective Date. Within fifteen (15) Business Days following the Recapture Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall deliver to the Ceding Company a report setting forth the amount of the Recapture Payment (the "Terminal Accounting Report"). Within three (3) Business Days after the finalization of the Terminal Accounting Report in accordance with Section 11.04, the Reinsurer shall pay to the Ceding Company an amount (the "Recapture Payment") equal to:

(i) the Ceded Reserves, plus

(ii) the amount of the Existing IMR that remains unamortized as of the Recapture Effective Date, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, plus

(iii) the amount of the New Effective Date IMR that remains unamortized as of the Recapture Effective Date, divided by the Applicable Tax Gross-Up Percentage, minus

(iv) solely in the event of a recapture other than pursuant to Section 11.02(c), the Unamortized Ceding Commission; in each case, as of the Recapture Effective Date and as set forth in the Terminal Accounting Report. The Reinsurer may, at its option, pay the Recapture Payment in cash by wire transfer of immediately available funds or in kind with assets with an aggregate fair market value (determined in accordance with a methodology agreed to by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer that is substantially similar to the methodology set forth on Schedule IV) equal to such amount.

Section 11.04 Determination of Recapture Payment.

(a) After the receipt by the Ceding Company from the Reinsurer of the Terminal Accounting Report provided for in Section 11.03, and until such time as such report is finalized pursuant to this Section 11.04, the Ceding Company and its authorized representatives shall have, upon prior written notice, reasonable access during normal business hours to the working papers of the Reinsurer relating to such report and the items set forth thereon. The Ceding Company shall have the right to review such report and comment hereon for a period of thirty (30) calendar days after receipt of such report. Any changes in such reports that are agreed to by the parties within such thirty (30) calendar day review period shall be incorporated into a final report. In the event the Ceding Company does not dispute such report within such thirty (30) calendar day review period, such report shall be deemed final.

(b) In the event that a dispute arises regarding any item or items in the Terminal Accounting Report within such thirty (30) calendar day review period, each of the parties shall appoint a designated officer of its company to attempt to resolve such dispute. The officers will meet at a mutually agreeable time and location as soon as reasonably possible and as often as reasonably necessary in order to gather and furnish the other with all appropriate and relevant information concerning the dispute. Any such meetings may be held by telephone or video conference. The officers will discuss the matter in dispute and will negotiate in good faith without the necessity of formal arbitration proceedings. During the negotiation process, all reasonable requests made by one officer to the other for information will be honored. The specific format for such discussions will be decided by the designated officers.

(c) In the event that the officers are unable to resolve such dispute within twenty (20) calendar days, each of the parties shall prepare separate written reports of such item or items remaining in dispute and refer such reports to the Third Party Actuary within ten (10) calendar days after the expiration of such twenty (20) calendar day resolution period.

(d) The Third Party Actuary shall resolve within thirty (30) calendar days the dispute regarding such item or items in Terminal Accounting Report; provided, however, that the dollar amount of each item in dispute shall be determined within the range of dollar amounts proposed by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer.

(e) The determinations by the Third Party Actuary as to the items in dispute shall be in writing and shall be final and binding on the parties. The fees, costs and expenses of retaining the Third Party Actuary shall be shared equally by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer.

Section 11.05 Survival. All provisions of this Agreement will survive any termination of this Agreement and recapture of the Reinsured Policies to the extent necessary to carry out the purpose of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XII

ERRORS AND OMISSIONS; INDEMNIFICATION

Section 12.01 Errors and Omissions. Any unintentional or accidental failure to comply with the terms of this Agreement which can be shown to be the result of an oversight or clerical error relating to the administration of reinsurance by either party will not constitute a breach of this Agreement; provided, that, upon discovery, the error shall be promptly corrected so that both parties are restored to the position they would have occupied had the oversight or clerical error not occurred. Should it not be possible to restore both parties to this position, the party responsible for the oversight or clerical error will be responsible for any resulting liabilities and expenses.

Section 12.02 Administrator Indemnification Obligations. From and after the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall indemnify and defend the Ceding Company and its Affiliates, controlling Persons, officers, designees, directors, employees, agents, representatives and assigns (each, a "Ceding Company Indemnified Party" and collectively, with each other Ceding Company Indemnified Party, the "Ceding Company Indemnified Parties") and hold each of them harmless from and against all Losses asserted against, imposed on or incurred by the Ceding Company Indemnified Parties directly or indirectly, by reason of or arising out of or in connection with (i) fraud, theft or embezzlement by directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of the Administrative Services Agreement; (ii) acts of negligence or willful misconduct committed by directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of the Administrative Services Agreement; (iii) any breach of any term, condition, or obligation to be performed by the Administrator under the Administrative Services Agreement to the extent the actions resulting in such breaches were not the result of the written or express direction or request of, or made with the prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, or its permitted designees, (iv) Losses arising from security breaches as described in Section 2.12 of the Administrative Services Agreement to the extent the actions resulting in such breaches were not the result of the written or express direction or request of, or made with the prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, or its permitted designees, (v) any breach or violation of any applicable Law by the Administrator or any of its Affiliates in connection with the Administrative Services Agreement (except when such breach or violation happens as a result of the written or express direction or request of, or with the prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, or its permitted designees), or (vi) any enforcement of this indemnity; provided, that such indemnification shall apply only to the extent that such Loss exceeds the Ceding Company Liability Cap.

ARTICLE XIII

Section 13.01 Consent to Jurisdiction. Each party hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and of any New York State court sitting in New York County for purposes of all legal proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement or for recognition and enforcement of any judgment in respect thereof. In any action, suit or other proceeding, each party hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such proceedings brought in such court and any claim that any such proceeding brought in such a court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Each party hereto also agrees that any final and nonappealable judgment against a party in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding shall be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Each party hereto agrees that any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered, sent or mailed in accordance with Section 17.05, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

Section 13.02 Service of Process. The Reinsurer hereby designates the Insurance Commissioner of the Ceding Company Domiciliary State as its true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served any lawful process in any action, suit or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the Ceding Company. A copy of any such process shall be delivered to the Reinsurer in accordance with Section 17.05.

Section 13.03 Waiver of Trial by Jury. THE REINSURER AND THE CEDING COMPANY HEREBY WAIVE ANY AND ALL RIGHTS TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY MATTER ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT.

ARTICLE XIV

INSOLVENCY

Section 14.01 Insolvency.

(a) A party to this Agreement will be deemed "insolvent" when it:

(i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, rehabilitator, conservator, liquidator or statutory successor (the "Authorized Representative") of its properties or assets;

(ii) is adjudicated as bankrupt or insolvent;

(iii) files or consents to the filing of a petition in bankruptcy, seeks reorganization or an arrangement with creditors or takes advantage of any bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation, rehabilitation, conservation or similar Law; or

(iv) becomes the subject of an order to rehabilitate or an order to liquidate as defined by the insurance code of the jurisdiction of the party's domicile.

(b) In the event of the insolvency of either party, the rights or remedies of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect.

(c) Insolvency of the Ceding Company. In the event of the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation of the Ceding Company or the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company, the reinsurance coverage provided hereunder shall be payable by the Reinsurer directly to the Ceding Company or to its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor, on the basis of the liability of the Ceding Company for the Reinsured Liabilities without diminution because of such insolvency, liquidation, rehabilitation or appointment or because such liquidator, receiver or statutory successor has failed to pay any claims or any portion thereof. The liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company shall give written notice to the Reinsurer of the pendency of each claim against the Ceding Company with respect to such Reinsured Liabilities within a reasonable time after each such claim is filed in the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding. During the pendency of any such claims, the Reinsurer may, at its own expense, investigate such claim and interpose in the proceeding in which such claim is to be adjudicated any defense or defenses that the Reinsurer may reasonably deem available to the Ceding Company or its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. The expenses incurred in connection therewith by the Reinsurer shall be chargeable, subject to court approval, against the Ceding Company as part of the expense of such insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation to the extent of any benefit that accrues to the Ceding Company, solely as a result of the defense or defenses undertaken by the Reinsurer.

ARTICLE XV

TAXES

Section 15.01 Taxes. No taxes, allowances, or other expenses will be paid by the Reinsurer to the Ceding Company for any Reinsured Policy, except as specifically referred to in this Agreement.

Section 15.02 DAC Tax Election. The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer hereby elect and agree under Treasury Regulations Section 1.848-2(g)(8) as follows:

(a) The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer will each attach a schedule to its federal income tax return for the first taxable year ending after the Effective Date that identifies this Agreement as a reinsurance agreement for which a joint election under Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2(g)(8) has been made, and will otherwise file its respective federal income tax returns in a manner consistent with the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.848-2 as in effect on the date this Agreement is executed;

(b) For each taxable year under this Agreement, the party hereto with the net positive consideration, as defined in the regulations promulgated under Section 848 of the Code, will capitalize specified policy acquisition expenses with respect to this Agreement without regard to the general deductions limitation of Section 848(c)(1) of the Code;

(c) The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer agree to exchange information pertaining to the amount of net consideration under this Agreement each year to ensure consistency or as otherwise required by the Code and applicable Treasury Regulations;

(d) The first tax year for which this election is effective is 2018;

(e) The Reinsurer will submit to the Ceding Company by May 15 each year its calculation of the amount of the net consideration for the preceding calendar year. This schedule of calculations will be accompanied by a statement that the Reinsurer will report such amount of net consideration in its tax return for the preceding calendar year;

(f) The Ceding Company may contest such calculation by providing an alternative calculation to the Reinsurer in writing within thirty (30) calendar days of the Ceding Company's receipt of the Reinsurer's calculation. If the Ceding Company does not so notify the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company will report the amount of net consideration as determined by the Reinsurer in the Ceding Company's tax return for the previous calendar year;

(g) If the Ceding Company contests the Reinsurer's calculation of the amount of net consideration, the parties will act in good faith to reach an agreement as to the correct amount within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on which the Ceding Company submits its alternative calculation.

Both the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer are subject to U.S. taxation under Subchapter L of Chapter 1 of the Code.

Section 15.03 Tax Treatment. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the transaction contemplated by this Agreement constitutes an "applicable asset acquisition" as defined in Section 1060 of the Code and the regulations thereunder. Within thirty (30) calendar days following the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall deliver a schedule setting forth an allocation of the consideration paid by the Reinsurer for federal income tax purposes among the assets acquired by the Reinsurer pursuant to this transaction. The parties shall negotiate in good faith to resolve any disagreements with respect to such schedule. Each party shall file all tax returns and Form 8594 in a manner consistent with the schedule as ultimately agreed.

ARTICLE XVI

REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

Section 16.01 Representations and Warranties of the Ceding Company. The Ceding Company hereby represents and warrants to the Reinsurer, as of the Effective Date, as follows:

(b) Authorization. The Ceding Company has all requisite corporate power to enter into, consummate the transactions contemplated by and carry out its obligations under, this Agreement. The execution and delivery by the Ceding Company of this Agreement, and the consummation by the Ceding Company of the transactions contemplated by, and the performance by the Ceding Company of its obligations under, this Agreement have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate action on the part of the Ceding Company. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Ceding Company, and (assuming due authorization, execution and delivery by the Reinsurer) this Agreement constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of the Ceding Company, enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of any applicable bankruptcy, reorganization, insolvency, moratorium, or similar Laws relating to or affecting creditors' rights generally.

(c) No Conflict. The execution, delivery and performance by the Ceding Company of, and the consummation by the Ceding Company of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement do not and will not (i) violate or conflict with the organizational documents of the Ceding Company, (ii) conflict with or violate any Law or Permit of any Governmental Entity applicable to the Ceding Company or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, or (iii) result in any breach of, or constitute a default (or event which, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a default) under, or give to any Person any rights of termination, acceleration or cancellation of, any agreement, lease, note, bond, loan or credit agreement, mortgage, indenture or other instrument, obligation or contract of any kind to which the Ceding Company or any of its subsidiaries is a party or by which the Ceding Company or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective properties or assets is bound or affected, except, in the case of clause (iii), any such conflicts, violations, breaches, loss of contractual benefits, defaults or rights that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) Solvency. The Ceding Company is and will be Solvent on a statutory basis immediately after giving effect to this Agreement. For the purposes of this Section 16.01(d), "Solvent" means that: (i) the aggregate assets of the Ceding Company are greater than the aggregate liabilities of the Ceding Company, in each case determined in accordance with Ceding Company Domiciliary State SAP; (ii) the Ceding Company does not intend to, and does not believe that it will, incur debts or other liabilities beyond its ability to pay such debts and other liabilities as they come due; and (iii) the Ceding Company is not engaged in a business or transaction, and does not contemplate engaging in a business or transaction, for which the Ceding Company's assets would constitute unreasonably insufficient capital.

(e) Governmental Licenses. The Ceding Company has all Permits necessary to conduct its business as currently conducted and execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, this Agreement, except in such cases where the failure to have a Permit has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. All Permits that are material to the conduct of the Ceding Company's business are valid and in full force and effect. The Ceding Company is not subject to any pending Action or, to the knowledge of the Ceding Company, any threatened Action that seeks the revocation, suspension, termination, modification or impairment of any Permit that, if successful, would reasonably be expected to have, or with the passage of time become, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

Section 16.02 Covenants of the Ceding Company.

(a) Investigations. To the extent permitted by applicable Law, the Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Reinsurer, in writing, of any and all investigations of the Ceding Company conducted by any Governmental Entity commencing after the date hereof, other than routine State insurance department examinations that would not otherwise reasonably be expected to adversely affect the performance by the Ceding Company of its obligations under this Agreement in any material respect; provided, however, that the Ceding Company may withhold any notice otherwise required to be delivered pursuant to this Section 16.02(a) to the extent that the delivery thereof to the Reinsurer would result in a waiver of the attorney-client privilege, the work-product doctrine or any other applicable legal privilege or similar doctrine.

(b) Existence; Conduct of Business. The Ceding Company shall use reasonable best efforts to do or cause to be done all things reasonably necessary to preserve, renew and keep in full force and effect its legal existence and the rights, Permits and privileges material to the conduct of its business.

(c) Compliance with Law. The Ceding Company shall comply with all Laws applicable to, and all Permits issued by any Governmental Entity to, the Ceding Company or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, except where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations, or on the Reinsurer's rights or obligations, under this Agreement.

(d) Governmental Notices. The Ceding Company shall provide the Reinsurer, within [five (5)] Business Days after receipt thereof, copies of any written notice or report from any Governmental Entity and a written summary of any material oral communication with any Governmental Entity, in each case, solely with respect to the RLI-Administered Policies.

(b) Authorization. The Reinsurer has all requisite corporate power to enter into, consummate the transactions contemplated by and carry out its obligations under, this Agreement. The execution and delivery by the Reinsurer of this Agreement, and the consummation by the Reinsurer of the transactions contemplated by, and the performance by the Reinsurer of its obligations under, this Agreement have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate action on the part of the Reinsurer. (c) No Conflict. The execution, delivery and performance by the Reinsurer of, and the consummation by the Reinsurer of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement do not and will not (i) violate or conflict with the organizational documents of the Reinsurer, (ii) conflict with or violate any Law or Permit of any Governmental Entity applicable to the Reinsurer or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, or (iii) result in any breach of, or constitute a default (or event which, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a default) under, or give to any Person any rights of termination, acceleration or cancellation of, any agreement, lease, note, bond, loan or credit agreement, mortgage, indenture or other instrument, obligation or contract of any kind to which the Reinsurer or any of its subsidiaries is a party or by which the Reinsurer or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective properties or assets is bound or affected, except, in the case of clause (iii), any such conflicts, violations, breaches, loss of contractual benefits, defaults or rights that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) Governmental Licenses. The Reinsurer has all Permits necessary to conduct its business as currently conducted and execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, this Agreement, except in such cases where the failure to have a Permit has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. All Permits that are material to the conduct of the Reinsurer's business are valid and in full force and effect. The Reinsurer is not subject to any pending Action or, to the knowledge of the Reinsurer, any threatened Action that seeks the revocation, suspension, termination, modification or impairment of any Permit that, if successful, would reasonably be expected to have, or with the passage of time become, a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

Section 16.04 Covenants of the Reinsurer.

(a) Compliance with Law. The Reinsurer shall comply with all Laws applicable to, and all Permits issued by any Governmental Entity to, the Reinsurer or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, except where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations, or on the Ceding Company's rights or obligations, under this Agreement.

(d) Subject to the terms, conditions and limits of this Agreement, the Reinsurer shall follow the fortunes of the Ceding Company, and to that end the Reinsurer's liability for the Reinsured Policies shall be identical to that of the Ceding Company and shall be subject to the same risks, terms, conditions, interpretations, waivers, modifications, alterations and cancellations to which the Ceding Company is subject with respect to the Reinsured Policies. Without limiting the Reinsurer's rights under the Administrative Services Agreement, the Reinsurer acknowledges that the Administrator will make decisions with respect to the payment of Reinsured Liabilities under the Administrative Services Agreement, which decisions will be binding on the Reinsurer. In addition, the Reinsurer shall comply with the provisions of the Administrative Services Agreement applicable to it.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Reinsurer shall not be liable for any Excluded Liabilities.

(b) Any terminations, amendments, modifications or waivers made by the Ceding Company in violation of Section 2.02(a) shall be disregarded for purposes of this Agreement, and the reinsurance with respect to the affected Reinsured Policy will continue as if such termination, amendment, modification or waiver had not been made.

Section 2.03 Reinstatement of Surrendered Policies. If a Reinsured Policy that has been surrendered is reinstated according to its terms and the Ceding Company's reinstatement policies, the Reinsurer will, upon notification, automatically reinstate the reinsurance with respect to such Reinsured Policy; provided, that, to the extent that the reinstatement of such Reinsured Policy requires payment of premiums in arrears or reimbursement of claims paid, the Reinsurer shall be entitled to all Reinsurance Premiums in arrears and all reimbursements of Reinsured Liabilities paid on such Reinsured Policy.

Section 2.04 Misstatement of Fact. In the event of a change in the amount payable under a Reinsured Policy due to a misstatement of fact, the Reinsurer's liability with respect to such Reinsured Policy will change proportionately. Such Reinsured Policy will be rewritten from commencement on the basis of the adjusted amounts using premiums and such other terms based on the correct facts, and the proper adjustment for the difference in Reinsurance Premiums, without interest, will be made.

Section 2.05 Credited Rates and Non-Guaranteed Elements. From and after the Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall establish all contractual guarantees, credited interest rates and other non-guaranteed elements of the Reinsured Policies (the "Non-Guaranteed Elements"); provided, that the Reinsurer shall be permitted to provide recommendations regarding the Non-Guaranteed Elements and, to the extent such recommendations comply with applicable Law, generally accepted actuarial standards of practice, and the terms of the Reinsured Policies, the Ceding Company shall not unreasonably take any actions that contravene such recommendations and shall promptly incorporate such recommendations. If the Ceding Company fails to adhere to such recommendations, then the Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Reinsurer in writing of such failure.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, but subject to Section 5.15 of the Master Agreement, neither the Ceding Company nor its Affiliates shall be prohibited from maintaining for issuance any existing products of the Ceding Company or its Affiliates that are offered to their respective clients generally or any products that are developed and offered generally by the Ceding Company or its Affiliates not specifically directed to the policyholders of the Reinsured Policies nor shall the Ceding Company or any of its Affiliates be prohibited from engaging in general solicitation or marketing efforts not targeted at policy owners of the Reinsured Policies.

Within [●] Business Days following the Recapture Effective Date, the Administrator shall deliver to the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer a final Monthly Accounting Report and Quarterly Accounting Report, each as of the Recapture Effective Date (collectively, the "Terminal Accounting Report"). Section 11.04 Determination of Final Terminal Accounting Report.

(a) After the receipt by the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer from the Administrator of the Terminal Accounting Report provided for in Section 11.03, and until such time as such report is finalized pursuant to this Section 11.04, each of the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer and their respective authorized representatives shall have, upon prior written notice, reasonable access during normal business hours to the working papers of the other party and the Administrator relating to such report and the items set forth thereon. Each of the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer shall have the right to review such report and comment hereon for a period of thirty (30) calendar days after receipt of such report. Any changes in such reports that are agreed to by the parties within such thirty (30) calendar day review period shall be incorporated into a final report. In the event neither the Ceding Company nor the Reinsurer disputes such report within such thirty (30) calendar day review period, such report shall be deemed final.

(b) In the event that a dispute arises regarding any item or items in the Terminal Accounting Report within such thirty (30) calendar day review period, each of the parties shall appoint a designated officer of its company to attempt to resolve such dispute. The officers will meet at a mutually agreeable time and location as soon as reasonably possible and as often as reasonably necessary in order to gather and furnish the other with all appropriate and relevant information concerning the dispute. Any such meetings may be held by telephone or video conference. The officers will discuss the matter in dispute and will negotiate in good faith without the necessity of formal arbitration proceedings. During the negotiation process, all reasonable requests made by one officer to the other for information will be honored. The specific format for such discussions will be decided by the designated officers.

(c) In the event that the officers are unable to resolve such dispute within twenty (20) calendar days, each of the parties shall prepare separate written reports of such item or items remaining in dispute and refer such reports to the Third Party Actuary within ten (10) calendar days after the expiration of such twenty (20) calendar day resolution period.

Any unintentional or accidental failure to comply with the terms of this Agreement which can be shown to be the result of an oversight or clerical error relating to the administration of reinsurance by either party will not constitute a breach of this Agreement; provided, that, upon discovery, the error shall be promptly corrected so that both parties are restored to the position they would have occupied had the oversight or clerical error not occurred. Should it not be possible to restore both parties to this position, the party responsible for the oversight or clerical error will be responsible for any resulting liabilities and expenses.

Section 12.02 Administrator Indemnification Obligations. From and after the Effective Date, the Reinsurer shall indemnify and defend the Ceding Company and its Affiliates, controlling Persons, officers, designees, directors, employees, agents, representatives and assigns (each, a "Ceding Company Indemnified Party" and collectively, with each other Ceding Company Indemnified Party, the "Ceding Company Indemnified Parties") and hold each of them harmless from and against all Losses asserted against, imposed on or incurred by the Ceding Company Indemnified Parties directly or indirectly, by reason of or arising out of or in connection with (i) fraud, theft or embezzlement by directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of the Administrative Services Agreement; (ii) acts of negligence or willful misconduct committed by directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of the Administrative Services Agreement; (iii) any breach of any term, condition, or obligation to be performed by the Administrator under the Administrative Services Agreement to the extent the actions resulting in such breaches were not the result of the written or express direction or request of, or made with the prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, or its permitted designees, (iv) Losses arising from security breaches as described in Section 2.12 of the Administrative Services Agreement to the extent the actions resulting in such breaches were not the result of the written or express direction or request of, or made with the prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, or its permitted designees, (v) any breach or violation of any applicable Law by the Administrator or any of its Affiliates in connection with the Administrative Services Agreement (except when such breach or violation happens as a result of the written or express direction or request of, or with the prior written consent of, the Ceding Company, or its permitted designees), or (vi) any enforcement of this indemnity; provided, that such indemnification shall apply only to the extent that such Loss exceeds the Ceding Company Liability Cap.

Each party hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and of any New York State court sitting in New York County for purposes of all legal proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement or for recognition and enforcement of any judgment in respect thereof. In any action, suit or other proceeding, each party hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such proceedings brought in such court and any claim that any such proceeding brought in such a court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Each party hereto also agrees that any final and nonappealable judgment against a party in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding shall be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. The liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company shall give written notice to the Reinsurer of the pendency of each claim against the Ceding Company with respect to such Reinsured Liabilities within a reasonable time after each such claim is filed in the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding. During the pendency of any such claims, the Reinsurer may, at its own expense, investigate such claim and interpose in the proceeding in which such claim is to be adjudicated any defense or defenses that the Reinsurer may reasonably deem available to the Ceding Company or its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. The expenses incurred in connection therewith by the Reinsurer shall be chargeable, subject to court approval, against the Ceding Company as part of the expense of such insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation to the extent of any benefit that accrues to the Ceding Company, solely as a result of the defense or defenses undertaken by the Reinsurer.

(d) Governmental Licenses. The Reinsurer has all Permits necessary to conduct its business as currently conducted and execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, this Agreement, except in such cases where the failure to have a Permit has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. All Permits that are material to the conduct of the Reinsurer's business are valid and in full force and effect. The Reinsurer is not subject to any pending Action or, to the knowledge of the Reinsurer, any threatened Action that seeks the revocation, suspension, termination, modification or impairment of any Permit that, if successful, would reasonably be expected to have, or with the passage of time become, a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

SERVICES

Section 2.1 Services Overview.

(a) Description of the Services. The Services shall consist of the services described in this Agreement or on Schedule III attached hereto, subject to the terms, conditions and limitations of this Agreement. Schedule III shall set forth the start date on which the provision of each Service shall commence (the "Commencement Date"). Recipient, in its sole discretion, may designate any Affiliate or designated third party to receive a Service; provided, that the Administrator shall not be required to perform any such Service for an Affiliate not a party hereto if the Administrator reasonably determines that its provision of such Services to such Affiliate (i) will violate Applicable Law, or (ii) is reasonably likely to require the Administrator to take actions with regard to any Governmental Authority which it reasonably determines could have a material adverse impact on its business; provided, further, that in no event shall the Administrator be required to perform any Services designated to an Affiliate of Recipient organized or incorporated in the State of New York. Any additional incremental cost to the Administrator caused by such change shall be borne by Recipient. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, Recipient shall have the right to direct the Administrator in connection with the Services to perform any action necessary to comply with Applicable Law, or to cease performing any action that constitutes a violation of Applicable Law.

(b) Additional Services. The parties each have used commercially reasonable efforts to identify and describe the Services. However, the parties acknowledge and agree that there may be services which are not identified on Schedule III that (a) were used in the Excluded Business (as defined in the Master Agreement) in the twelve (12) months prior to the effective date of the Master Agreement, (b) had been performed by the employees then-currently employed by, or Business IT Systems (as defined in the Master Agreement) then-used by, the Administrator or any of its Affiliates at the time of the request, (c) are necessary for the administration of the Administered Products after the Closing Date and (d) cannot be performed by the Recipient with its remaining assets and employees and those of its Affiliates using commercially reasonable efforts (the "Additional Services"). Recipient may provide written notice to the Administrator requesting such Additional Services setting forth in reasonable detail a description of the requested Additional Service(s), the proposed start date or dates, (w) at any time during the first one hundred and twenty (120) days following the Closing Date, (x) in the case of a recurring service provided on a quarterly basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the first full calendar quarter after the Closing Date, (y) in the case of a recurring service provided on a semiannual basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the second full calendar quarter after the Closing Date, and (z) in the case of a recurring service provided on an annual basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the first full calendar year after the Closing Date. The Administrator shall be afforded a reasonable period of time to notify Recipient of the Service Fees and Expenses based on the Administrator's actual cost and to commence providing any Additional Service after such service becomes a Service. For the avoidance of doubt, the Administrator's obligations to perform Additional Services shall be subject to additional limitations set forth in Section 2.2. Any Additional Services shall in all respects be subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall be considered added to Schedule III as applicable, shall constitute an amendment to this Agreement which shall be signed by the parties and shall thereafter be considered a Service.

Section 2.2 Commitment to Provide. Recipient hereby appoints the Administrator to provide, and the Administrator hereby agrees to provide to Recipient, from and after the Commencement Date for the applicable Service and during the term for such Service (the "Service Term"), the Services. The Services shall be provided by the Administrator in all material respects in accordance with the terms of the Administered Products. In addition, the Administrator shall provide the Services (a) in accordance with the applicable terms of this Agreement; (b) in compliance with Applicable Law, including the maintenance by the Administrator of all licenses, authorizations, permits and qualifications from Governmental Authorities required to perform the Services under this Agreement; (c) with care, skill, expertise, prudence and diligence that would be expected from experienced and qualified personnel performing such duties in like circumstances; and (d) subject to the foregoing, in accordance with the skill, diligence, care, effort and expertise that are at least equal in quality to the standards the Administrator applies in providing similar services in respect of annuity contracts and, to the extent there are any, other products similar to the Administered Products, issued by the Administrator in its own name.

Section 2.3 Facilities, Personnel and Resources. To the extent not subcontracted to a Subcontractor, the Administrator shall at all times maintain sufficient facilities and trained personnel of the kind necessary to perform its obligations under this Agreement in accordance with the performance standards set forth herein. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Administrator will have and maintain, from the date hereof and thereafter during the term of this Agreement, sufficient expertise, trained personnel, resources, systems, controls and procedures (financial, legal, accounting, administrative or otherwise) as may be necessary or appropriate to discharge its obligations under the terms of this Agreement.

Section 2.4 Subcontracting. The Administrator may subcontract for the performance of any Services at the Administrator's sole expense (except as set forth in Section 2.5(b)) to an Affiliate or, with prior written consent of Recipient, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, to a third party (in each case, a "Subcontractor"). In addition, each Subcontractor shall be duly licensed to the extent required under Applicable Law so as to permit the performances of the Services in compliance with Applicable Law. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no such subcontracting shall relieve the Administrator from any of its obligations or liabilities hereunder, the Administrator shall remain responsible for all obligations, liabilities, actions and omissions of such Subcontractor with regards to the providing of such service or services as if provided by the Administrator. Unless specifically agreed in writing by Recipient, neither Subcontractor nor its personnel shall have the power or authority to act as agent or attorney-in-fact of Recipient or bind Recipient in any way.

Section 2.5 Compensation.

(a) Recipient shall pay to the Administrator the Administrator's actual Direct Costs, allocable general corporate overhead, and, subject to Section 2.5(b), costs of vendors and approved Subcontractors) for providing the Services (the "Service Fees and Expenses"), with the methodologies for allocations of general corporate overhead charged to the Recipient being consistent with the historical methodologies for the allocation of such costs in the twelve (12) month period prior to the Closing Date; provided, that the allocated costs of such general corporate overhead shall not exceed sixteen percent (16%) of the Direct Costs. Each Recipient shall be jointly and severally liable for all Service Fees and Expenses and any other amounts due from a Recipient to the Administrator hereunder. The Administrator shall invoice Recipient on a monthly basis in arrears for Service Fees and Expenses. Each monthly invoice shall list all Services and Service Fees and Expenses in the format of Schedule IV. Payment in full of the amounts so invoiced or noticed shall be made by electronic funds transfer or other method satisfactory to the parties, within thirty (30) days after the date of receipt of the monthly invoice. Should Recipient dispute any portion of the amount due from it on any invoice or require any adjustment to an invoiced amount, then Recipient shall notify the Administrator in writing of the nature and basis of the dispute or adjustment within thirty (30) days of receiving the invoice using, if necessary, the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 2.16. The parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute prior to the payment due date.

(b) Recipient shall reimburse the Administrator for all of its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses actually incurred in connection with the provision of the Services to the Recipient, including the fees of any Subcontractors for which the Recipient has consented to the subcontracting to such Subcontractor (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) and the costs and expenses of any travel, including transportation, lodging and meals, of any employee or agent of the Administrator, its Affiliates or its permitted Subcontractors who is required to travel to any location other than the Administrator's facilities in connection with the performance of the Services; provided, that (i) such travel has been approved in writing by Recipient; and (ii) such costs and expenses of travel are incurred in accordance with Recipient's generally applicable travel policies that have been provided in writing to the Administrator.

Section 2.6 Books and Records; Other Information.

(a) On and after the Closing Date, the Administrator shall assume responsibility for maintaining accurate and complete books and records of all transactions pertaining to the Administered Products and all data used by the Administrator in the performance of Services, including claims (as identified in Schedule III hereto) files and any documents relating to such claims, any communications relating to any Administered Product, any communications with any Governmental Authority, complaint logs, and accounting and reporting, in each case, other than Retained Books and Records ("Administration Books and Records"). The Administration Books and Records shall be maintained (i) in accordance with any and all Applicable Laws and (ii) in an accessible format. The Administration Books and Records with respect to each Administered Product must be maintained for at least the seven (7) year period following the termination of this Agreement (or such longer period as would comply with the records retention policies of the Administrator then in effect with regards to its own business). Following the end of such seven (7) year or longer period, as applicable, the Administration Books and Records may be destroyed only after the Administrator has given Recipient at least sixty (60) days prior written notice of the Administration Books and Records the Administrator intends to destroy. During such sixty (60) day period, Recipient may, at its sole cost and expense, have the right to take possession of such Administration Books and Records in the format maintained by the Administrator. The Administrator shall maintain the confidentiality of such Administration Books and Records, including compliance with Section 8.10, and such information shall be used only for purposes relating to the transactions contemplated under this Agreement.

(b) All Administration Books and Records pertaining to an Administered Product shall be the property of Recipient and shall be made available (including access to appropriate employees and representatives of the Administrator, so long as such access shall not unreasonably interfere with the regular performance of such employees' and representatives' duties to the Administrator) to Recipient, auditors or other designees, and regulatory agencies, upon reasonable prior notice during normal business hours, for review, audit, inspection, examination and reproduction. Upon the reasonable request of Recipient from time to time, that Administrator shall also make copies of Administration Books and Records available to Recipient through electronic means. The Administrator shall have the right to retain copies of all such Administration Books and Records.

(c) The Administrator shall maintain facilities and procedures for safekeeping all Administration Books and Records relating to the Administered Products or otherwise used in the performance of services under this Agreement consistent with those applicable to the books and records of the Administrator and its Affiliates with respect to annuity contracts issued by the Administrator or its Affiliates. To the extent required by the Services, the Administrator shall back up all of its computer files relating to the Administered Products or otherwise used in the performance of services under this Agreement on the same basis and shall maintain back-up files in a manner consistent with the policies and procedures of the Administrator and its Affiliates regarding the back-up of computer files and storage of back-up files.

Section 2.7 Payments and Collections.

(a) The Administrator has established, and shall during the term of this Agreement, shall maintain, one account with [Citibank, N.A.] for each Recipient for use by the Administrator in providing the Services (each, an "Administrative Account"). The Administrator shall make payments concerning the Administered Products from funds in the Administrative Account.

(b) On a monthly basis or as more frequently as may be reasonably required in order to pay the liabilities under the Administered Products, the Administrator shall request that the Recipient deposit to the Administrative Account funds in an amount sufficient to pay amounts then due or reasonably expected to became due during the next month for Administered Products. The Recipient shall, at all times, maintain sufficient funds in the Administrative Account to pay all Administered Products as they become due.

(c) All premiums and other amounts collected by the Administrator pursuant to the authority granted hereunder and due to the Recipient shall be paid to the Recipient.

(d) Recipient check stock shall be used for all payments made in respect of the Administered Products and the Services.

Section 2.8 Power of Attorney.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, Recipient hereby appoints and names the Administrator, acting through its authorized officers and employees, as Recipient's exclusive lawful attorney-in-fact, from and after the Closing Date for so long as the Administrator is authorized to perform the Services and solely to the extent necessary to provide the Services, (a) to do any and all lawful acts that Recipient might have done with respect to the Administered Products, and (b) to proceed by all lawful means (i) to perform any and all of Recipient's obligations with respect to the Administered Products, (ii) to collect any and all sums due or payable in respect of the Administered Products, (iii) to sign (in Recipient's name, when necessary) vouchers, receipts, releases and other papers in connection with any of the foregoing matters, (iv) to take actions necessary to maintain the Administered Products in compliance with Applicable Law and (v) to do everything necessary in connection with the satisfaction of the Administrator's obligations and the exercise of its rights under this Agreement, but in all cases only to the extent of the rights and authority granted to the Administrator pursuant to this Agreement and in accordance with the terms hereof.

(b) In order to assist the Administrator in the performance of the Services hereunder, as reasonably requested by the Administrator in writing from time to time, Recipient shall deliver to the Administrator, in the form reasonably requested by the Administrator in writing, evidence of its appointment of the Administrator as its attorney-in-fact with respect to all matters required, necessary or appropriate to perform the Services.

Section 2.9 Information Safeguards and Security Breaches. The Administrator shall (to the extent it has the ability to access Confidential Information of a Recipient) maintain administrative, technical and physical safeguards that are reasonably designed to (a) ensure the security and confidentiality of such Confidential Information; (b) protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of such Confidential Information; (c) protect against unauthorized access to or use of such Confidential Information that could result in substantial harm or inconvenience to the Person that is the subject of such Confidential Information and (d) ensure the proper disposal of such Confidential Information, in each case not less than the standards required by Applicable Law. In the event of a security breach involving any Non-Public Personal Information in the possession or control of the Administrator, the Administrator shall, at its expense, as promptly as commercially reasonable but in no event later than required under Applicable Law, take all actions required of the Recipient or the Administrator by Applicable Law and as reasonably requested by the Recipient to inform each impacted individual of such security breach and to implement curative action required by Applicable Law. As promptly as reasonably practicable, but in no event later than forty-eight (48) hours after becoming aware of a security breach, the Administrator shall notify the affected Recipient(s) thereof.

Section 2.10 SOC Reports.

(a) Following the six (6) month anniversary of the completion of the migration of the applicable Business IT Systems (as defined in the Master Agreement), upon a Recipient's written request, but in no event more than once per contract year, the Administrator shall, and shall require its Subcontractors to, promptly complete, an industry standard information security audit and assessment process (the "Security Assessment"), which, if available, will include any industry standard information security questionnaires and relevant Service Organization Control ("SOC") audit reports (a SOC-1 Type II for datacenters or SOC-2 Type II for other facilities) relating to the Administrator and such Subcontractors. Promptly upon completion of the Security Assessment, the Administrator shall, and shall cause its Subcontractors to, take commercially reasonable steps to remediate, to Recipient's reasonable satisfaction, any material deficiencies identified by Recipient as a result of the Security Assessment. The Administrator's failure to (a) remediate such material deficiencies or (b) at any time during the term of this Agreement, to meet or exceed in all material respects any of the requirements, standards, or controls described in the Administrator's most recently completed information security questionnaire will, in either case, constitute a material breach of this Agreement by the Administrator. Recipient's consent, not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, shall be required prior to any change to the Administrator's administrative, technical and physical safeguards intended to protect Confidential Information if such proposed changes could reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the controls or standards of protection previously specified or approved through the Security Assessment process. The Administrator anticipates that it will receive annual SOC Reports from its Subcontractors and that such SOC Reports will be prepared by one of the nationally-recognized accounting firms, and the Administrator shall use it commercially reasonable efforts to enforce any rights the Administrator has to receive any such SOC Reports from its Subcontractors. The Administrator shall provide to Recipient such other publicly-available financial information concerning the Administrator and its Subcontractors as may be reasonably requested by Recipient. Further, commencing on the date hereof and for as long as this Agreement is in effect, within twenty (20) days after the end of each calendar quarter, the Administrator shall deliver to Recipient a completed quarterly management representation letter to Recipient's Chief Accounting Officer, in the such form as Recipient may reasonably request, on accounting, reporting, internal controls and disclosure issues in support of the management representation letter to be issued by Recipient to its independent accountants.

(b) The Administrator shall provide to each Recipient (i) access to the Administrator's Sarbanes-Oxley Act and Model Audit Rules control documentation and the results of any internal control testing performed by it with respect to the Administered Products, and access to the books, records and employees of the Administrator for purposes of independently performing tests of the Administrator's documentation and controls, as reasonably requested by Recipient from time to time; and (ii) prompt notice of significant deficiencies, material weaknesses or material omissions in internal controls identified in connection with such internal control testing related to the Administered Products. The Administrator shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to remedy, as promptly as reasonably practicable, significant deficiencies, material weaknesses or material omissions in internal controls identified in connection with such internal control testing related to the Administered Products.

(c) During the term of this Agreement, upon any reasonable request from Recipient or its Representatives, subject to compliance with Applicable Law relating to the exchange of information and to the confidentiality requirements under Section 8.10, the Administrator shall (i) provide, or cause its Subcontractors to provide, to Recipient and its Representatives reasonable on-site and desk access during normal business hours to review the books and records (including any such materials developed on or after the Closing Date) under the control of the Administrator or a Subcontractor pertaining to the Administered Products and the Services to be provided under this Agreement; provided that such access shall not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of the business of the Administrator or the Subcontractor, and (ii) permit, or cause its Subcontractors to permit, Recipient and its Representatives to make copies of such records, in each case at no cost to the Administrator. Access provided to Recipient or its Representatives pursuant to this Section 2.10 shall be provided by the Administrator upon forty-eight (48) hours advance written notice or as otherwise reasonably requested by Recipient. The parties agree and acknowledge that reasonable access includes facilitating audits by Recipient or its Representatives to comply with Applicable Laws relating to the Administered Products.

As of the Closing Date, the Administrator and Recipient shall appoint and provide written notice to the other party pursuant to Section 8.1, of the name, title and contact information for an individual who shall be a current officer or employee of such party or an Affiliate thereof and shall serve as such party's primary contact with respect to issues that may arise out of the scope or performance of this Agreement (each, a "Coordinator"). The parties may replace their respective Coordinator by giving notice pursuant to Section 8.1 to the other party stating the name, title and contact information for the new Coordinator. Each Coordinator will have primary responsibility on behalf of its respective party, to communicate and coordinate with the other Coordinator with respect to this Agreement. The Coordinators shall meet, either in person or telephonically, from time to time as necessary or appropriate to discuss open issues related to this Agreement and performance hereunder.

Section 2.12 Transition Services. The Administrator shall have no obligation to perform any particular Service or other obligation to the extent that it is unable to provide such Service or perform such obligation as a result of the failure of Recipient or its Affiliates to provide to the Administrator or its Affiliates services required to be provided by Recipient or its Affiliates under the Transition Services Agreement. Such nonperformance by the Administrator of any such Service or other obligation shall not be deemed to be a breach of this Agreement, shall not create liability for the Administrator under this Agreement, and the provisions of Section 4.1 shall be inapplicable thereto; provided that (a) the Administrator shall be obligated to provide any such Service and perform any such obligation in accordance with the terms of this Agreement following the cure or remediation of any such failure of Recipient or its respective Affiliates to provide to the Administrator or its Affiliates the applicable services required to be provided under the Transition Services Agreement, and (b) the Administrator shall, in any event, use commercially reasonable efforts to perform such Service despite any failure of Recipient or its respective Affiliates to provide to the Administrator or its Affiliates the applicable services required to be provided under the Transition Services Agreement.

Section 2.13 Shortfall in Services. If Recipient provides the Administrator with written notice of the occurrence of any Significant Service Shortfall (as defined below) in the Services, as reasonably determined by Recipient in good faith, the Administrator shall use commercially reasonable efforts to rectify such Significant Service Shortfall as soon as reasonably possible. For purposes of this Section 2.13, a "Significant Service Shortfall" shall be deemed to have occurred if the timing or quality of performance of one or more Services provided by the Administrator hereunder falls below the standard required by Section 2.2 hereof; provided that the Administrator's obligations under this Agreement shall be relieved to the extent, and for the duration of, any Force Majeure Event as set forth in Section 2.17. Any dispute as to whether a Significant Service Shortfall occurred shall be resolved in accordance with Section 2.16(a).

Section 2.14 Abandonment; Maintenance. The Administrator shall not Abandon (as defined below) any of the Services for which it is responsible. The parties agree that if the Administrator breaches or threatens to breach the foregoing covenant, Recipient may be irreparably harmed, and Recipient shall be entitled to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction compelling specific performance by the Administrator of its obligations under this Agreement. "Abandon" or "Abandonment" means the threatened or actual intentional refusal by the Administrator to provide or perform any material element(s) of the Services in breach of its obligations under this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Administrator shall have the right to: (a) shut down temporarily for routine maintenance the operation of any facilities or systems providing any Service if in the Administrator's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable for general maintenance purposes, provided that the Administrator gives Recipient at least seven (7) days prior written notice of such scheduled maintenance, which shall occur outside of normal business hours or at other time mutually agreed by the parties, (b) shut down for emergency purposes the operation of any facilities and systems providing any Service if in the Administrator's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable; provided, that the Administrator shall notify Recipient as soon as is commercially reasonable thereafter and shall use commercially reasonable efforts not to materially disrupt the operation of Recipient, and (c) shut down temporarily for "escalated" or "high priority" purposes (e.g., system security updates/patches) the operation of any facilities and systems providing any Service if in the Administrator's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable; provided, that the Administrator gives Recipient the same prior notice that it gives for any such maintenance to its internal clients and Affiliates.

Section 2.15 Disaster Recovery Program. The Administrator will implement a disaster recovery plan that is (a) consistent with current industry standards, (b) contains service level agreements for recovery time objectives and recovery point objectives to be agreed in good faith between the parties, and (c) no less stringent than what the Administrator deploys for its own system and records, maintain its systems and records (including the Administration Books and Records) in accordance with such plan, and test such plan from time to time. Such disaster recovery plan will include, but not be limited to, the provision of an incremental backup of the Administrator's applicable systems no less than daily, a full backup of the Administrator's applicable systems no less than weekly, and a second full backup of the Administrator's applicable systems no less than monthly. The daily backups will be stored by the Administrator for at least one (1) week, the weekly backups will be stored by the Administrator for at least one (1) month, and the monthly backups will be stored by the Administrator for at least one (1) year. The backups of the Administrator's applicable systems will be stored at a facility outside of the Administrator's facility. In the event of a Business Interruption, the Administrator will implement its disaster recovery plan. The term "Business Interruption" means (i) any material interruption or interference with the Administrator's ability to continue to provide Services, including any temporary loss of Customer information or adverse effect on the Administrator's operating environment or telecommunications infrastructure used to provide the Services or (ii) any event, whether anticipated or unanticipated, which disrupts the normal course of business operations.

Section 2.16 Dispute Resolution.

(a) Amicable Resolution. The parties mutually desire that friendly collaboration will continue between them during the term of this Agreement. Accordingly, they will try to resolve in an amicable manner all disagreements and misunderstandings connected with their respective rights and obligations under this Agreement, including any amendments hereto. In furtherance thereof, in the event of any dispute or disagreement (a "Dispute") between the parties in connection with this Agreement (including the standard of performance, delay of performance or non-performance of obligations, or payment or non-payment of Service Fees and Expenses hereunder), then the Coordinators shall seek to resolve the Dispute amicably. If the Coordinators are unable to resolve a Dispute in a timely manner, then either Coordinator, by written request to the other, may request that such Dispute be referred for resolution to a designated senior executive of each party ("Designated Senior Executives"), which Designated Senior Executives will have fifteen (15) days to resolve such Dispute. If the Designated Senior Executives for each party do not agree to a resolution of such Dispute within fifteen (15) days after the reference of the matter to them, either party may bring an action regarding such dispute.

(b) Non-Exclusive Remedy. Nothing in this Section 2.16 will prevent either party from immediately seeking injunctive or interim relief (i) in the event of any actual or threatened breach of any of the provisions of Section 2.14 or Section 8.10, (ii) in the event that the Dispute relates to, or involves a claim of, actual or threatened infringement or violation of intellectual property or (iii) to the extent necessary for either party to preserve any right. All such actions for injunctive or interim relief shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with Section 8.13. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for breach of this Agreement, and further remedies may be pursued in accordance with Section 2.16(a).

Section 2.17 Force Majeure. If performance by a party of any terms or provisions hereof shall be delayed or prevented, in whole or in part, because of or related to any of the following circumstances or events beyond the reasonable control of the party relying on such circumstance or event: changes in Applicable Law, riots, war, public disturbance, fire, explosion, storm, flood, acts of God, acts of terrorism (each, a "Force Majeure Event"), then (a) the party shall give written notice to the other party, (b) the parties shall promptly confer, in good faith, to agree upon equitable, reasonable action to minimize the impact, on both parties, of such conditions, and (c) the affected party shall be excused from its obligations to the extent limited by such Force Majeure

Event hereunder during the period such Force Majeure Event continues, and no liability shall attach against it on account thereof. The affected party shall not be excused from performance if it fails to use reasonable diligence to remedy the situation and remove the cause and effect of the Force Majeure Event. Recipient shall be relieved of the obligation to pay any Service Fees and Expenses and other amounts for the provision of the Services obligations limited by such Force Majeure Event throughout the duration of such Force Majeure Event.

Section 2.18 Notification to Customers. To the extent required by Applicable Law or as required for the efficient performance of the Services, the Administrator agrees to send to Customers a written notice prepared by the Administrator and reasonably acceptable to Recipient to the effect that the Administrator has been appointed by Recipient to provide the Services. The Administrator shall provide such notice at a time and in a manner reasonably acceptable to Recipient and the Administrator and in all events in accordance with Applicable Law.

On the Commencement Date of any Services with respect to an Administered Product, Recipient shall promptly transfer to the Administrator all Books and Records related to such Administered Product except for any such Books and Records that Recipient is required to retain under Applicable Law (the "Retained Books and Records"). On the Closing Date, the Recipient shall provide the Administrator with a copy of any Retained Books and Records. Further, Recipient shall, and shall cause its designees to, provide the Administrator with access to all information in the possession or control of Recipient and such designees which pertains to, and which the Administrator requests in connection with, any claim, loss or obligations arising out of the Administered Products; provided, however, that nothing herein shall require Recipient to disclose information to the Administrator or its representatives if such disclosure would jeopardize any attorney-client privilege, the work product immunity or any other legal privilege or similar doctrine or contravene any Applicable Law or contract (including any confidentiality agreement to which Recipient or any of its Affiliates is a party) (it being understood that Recipient shall use its reasonable best efforts to enable such information to be furnished or made available to the Administrator or its representatives without so jeopardizing privilege or contravening such Applicable Law or contract) or require Recipient to disclose its tax records (other than premium tax filings) or any personnel or related records; provided, further, the Administrator shall comply with all Applicable Laws with respect to the use and disclosure of such information. In addition, Recipient shall make all such Books and Records and other information contemplated in this Section 3.1 available for inspection and copying by the Administrator upon at least one (1) Business Day's prior notice by the Administrator to Recipient during regular business hours.

Section 3.2 Additional Documentation. On and after the Commencement Date for any Services with respect to an Administered Product, Recipient shall, and shall, if applicable, cause its designees to, cooperate with the Administrator and provide such access to Representatives of Recipient and such additional documentation, information, computer and hard copy files and data (including Books and Records, or copies thereof, which have not previously been provided to the Administrator) as may be necessary or appropriate to assist in the administration of such Administered Product of Recipient and to enable the Administrator to fully carry out its responsibilities under this Agreement.

Section 3.3 Licenses. Recipient hereby grants to the Administrator, and the Administrator hereby accepts, a non-exclusive, royalty-free, non-transferable license during the applicable Services Term, to use those items set forth on Schedule V attached hereto solely as necessary for the performance by the Administrator of the Services hereunder.

Section 3.4 Trademarks. Administrator hereby acknowledges that Recipients have adopted and is using the names and marks listed on Schedule V hereto in connection with the Administered Products (collectively, the "Licensed Names and Marks"). Recipients and Administrator agree as follows:

(a) Each Recipient hereby grants to the Administrator and Administrator hereby accepts a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable (except to Subcontractors as permitted below), royalty-free license to use the Licensed Names and Marks solely as necessary to provide the Services, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement. The Administrator is granted no rights to use the Licensed Names and Marks, other than those rights specifically described and expressly licensed in this Agreement and no right is granted hereunder for the use of the Licensed Names and Marks in connection with any services other than the Services. None of the rights licensed to the Administrator under this Section 3.4 may be assigned, sublicensed or otherwise transferred by the Administrator (other than to Subcontractors), nor shall such rights inure to the benefit of any trustee in bankruptcy, receiver or successor of the Administrator, whether by operation of law or otherwise, without the prior written consent of Recipient, and any assignment, sublicense or other transfer without such consent shall be null and void.

(b) The Administrator agrees that it will use the Licensed Names and Marks in a manner that is consistent with the manner in which Recipient used them prior to the date hereof and, otherwise, only in accordance with the performance and usage standards established by Recipient and communicated to Administrator in writing (including graphic standards as prescribed by Recipient). The Administrator shall have no right to use the Licensed Names and Marks in connection with advertisements, brochures, audio or visual presentations, or any other materials used in the sale or advertising of Administrator's services.

(c) The Administrator agrees not to use the Licensed Names and Marks in partial form without the prior written consent of Recipient, which Recipient may withhold at its sole discretion. The Administrator agrees not to adopt or use any trademarks, service mark, logo or design confusingly similar to the Licensed Names and Marks. It is understood that Recipient retains the right, in its sole discretion, to modify the Licensed Names and Marks, upon reasonable prior notice to the Administrator.

(d) The Administrator acknowledges that all rights in the Licensed Names and Marks and the goodwill associated therewith belong exclusively to each respective Recipient. All uses of the Licensed Names and Marks by the Administrator shall inure solely to the benefit of Recipient and any registration of the Licensed Names and Marks shall be registered by Recipient in its name, it being understood that the present license shall not in any way affect the ownership by Recipient of the Licensed Names and Marks, each of which shall continue to be the exclusive property of Recipient. At its option, each Recipient may, in its own name and at its own expense, maintain appropriate trademark and service mark protection for the Licensed Names and Marks. The Administrator shall not at any time during the term of this Agreement or at any time thereafter do or cause to be done any act contesting the validity of the Licensed Names and Marks, contesting or in any way impairing or tending to impair each Recipient's entire right, title and interest in the Licensed Names and Marks and the registrations thereof or adversely affecting the value of the Licensed Names and Marks or the reputation and goodwill of Recipient. The Administrator shall not represent that it has any right, title or interest in the reputation and good will of each Recipient. The Administrator shall not represent that it has any right, title or interest in the Licensed Names and Marks other than the rights expressly granted by this Agreement.

(e) The right to institute and prosecute actions for infringement of the Licensed Names and Marks is reserved exclusively to each respective Recipient, and each Recipient shall have the right to join the Administrator in any such actions as a formal party. Any such action shall be conducted at Recipient's expense. The Administrator shall provide prompt written notice to Recipient of any infringement or unauthorized use of the Licensed Names and Marks of Recipient of which it is aware, and agrees to assist Recipient at Recipient's expense in any such action brought by Recipient. It is understood, however, that Recipient is not obligated to institute and prosecute any such actions in any case in which it, in its sole judgment, may consider it inadvisable to do so.

(f) The agreements and covenants contained in this Section 3.4 shall continue in effect until such time as this Agreement is terminated pursuant to ARTICLE VI. As promptly after termination of this Agreement as is reasonably practicable, the Administrator shall discontinue all use of the Licensed Names and Marks (but in no event will such use extend beyond ninety (90) calendar days after termination). Prior to any such termination, the Administrator shall take all commercially reasonable actions necessary to effect such discontinuance, including notifying contractowners, producers, suppliers, service providers, regulatory agencies and other relevant Persons of the discontinuance. Upon termination, all of the Administrator's rights to the Licensed Names and Marks shall revert to and continue to reside with and be owned exclusively by Recipient.

Section 3.5 Other Obligations. Recipient shall (a) forward to the Administrator all mail, notices, communications and other correspondence received by Recipient in respect of the Administered Products as promptly as practicable following Recipient's receipt thereof and (b) maintain all Books and Records regarding any Administered Products that are terminated prior to the Closing Date. Each party shall adhere, and shall cause its Representatives to adhere, to (x) all applicable policies and procedures of the other party and its Affiliates in effect as of the Closing Date, and such other reasonable applicable policies and procedures with respect to which the other party notifies such party in writing, within a reasonable period of time following receipt of such notice (except that a party may require the other party to comply, and in such case the other party shall comply, immediately following receipt of any notice relating to policies or procedures addressing compliance with Applicable Law or such party's cybersecurity or data security policies or requirements), and (y) to all security and access policies of the other party, at all times during the term of this Agreement, to the extent that such party or its Representatives requires ingress to and egress from the premises occupied by the other party or its Affiliates, for reasonable purposes necessary to the delivery or receipt of Services hereunder or the performance of any obligations required by this Agreement.

Section 3.6 Disclaimer of Responsibility. The Administrator shall have no responsibility or liability and Recipient shall continue to be, at all times, solely responsible for each of the following:

(a) Determining non-guaranteed elements, and securing reinsurance, if any;

(b) Failure of Recipient or its Affiliates to fulfill all lawful obligations with respect to the Administered Products, regardless of any dispute between Recipient and the Administrator;

(c) Any prospectuses, advertisements and other solicitation materials, training programs and materials, insurance contracts, amendments, endorsements and other forms provided by, used by or required by Recipient or its Affiliates; or

(d) (i) The accuracy and completeness of all data and information provided by Recipient; (ii) any errors in and with respect to data obtained from Recipient caused by inaccurate or incomplete data provided by Recipient; or (iii) accuracy and completeness of Recipient's policies and procedures or business rules provided to the Administrator.

Section 3.7 Examinations. The Administrator acknowledges that regulators with jurisdiction over Recipient and any of its Affiliates may have authority to examine Recipient. To the extent any such examinations relate to this Agreement, the Administrator shall cooperate with any such examinations as reasonably requested by the Recipient at the Recipient's cost and expense. For the avoidance of doubt, such cooperation shall not be deemed to be a Service.

INDEMNIFICATION

Section 4.1 Indemnification of Recipient. From and after the Closing Date, Recipient and its Affiliates, controlling Persons, officers, designees, directors, employees, agents, representatives and assigns (each, an "Recipient Indemnified Party" and collectively, with each other Recipient Indemnified Party, the "Recipient Indemnified Parties") shall not be responsible for, and the Administrator shall indemnify and hold each Recipient Indemnified Party harmless from and against, any and all Losses asserted against, imposed on or incurred by the Recipient Indemnified Parties, arising out of or attributable to:

(a) Fraud, theft or embezzlement by directors, officers, employees, agents, Subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of this Agreement;

(b) Acts of negligence or willful misconduct committed by directors, officers, employees, agents, Subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of this Agreement;

(c) Security breaches as described in Section 2.9 to the extent the actions resulting in such breaches were not the result of the written or express direction or request of, or made with the prior written consent of, Recipient or its respective permitted designees;

(d) The Administrator's willful misconduct or negligence with regard to its provision of the Services; or which arise out of a material breach of this Agreement by the Administrator;

(e) Any wrongful use of Recipient's Confidential Information obtained under this Agreement;

(f) Fines, penalties and interest paid to a Governmental Authority arising out of a breach of Applicable Law by the Administrator;

(g) actual or alleged infringement or violation of a third party's Intellectual Property (as defined in the Master Agreement) rights ("IP Claims") arising out of or in connection with the supply of the Services provided by or on behalf of the Administrator; provided, however, that the Administrator shall have no indemnification obligations as to IP Claims based on the use of any Allocated Intellectual Property, Business IT Systems, Business Software (each, as defined in the Master Agreement) or any service provided consistent with Seller's practices as of the Closing Date; or

(h) Any enforcement of this indemnity.

Section 4.2 Indemnification of the Administrator. From and after the Closing Date, the Administrator and its Affiliates, controlling Persons, officers, designees, directors, employees, agents, representatives and assigns (each, an "Administrator Indemnified Party" and collectively, with each other Administrator Indemnified Party, the "Administrator Indemnified Parties") shall not be responsible for, and Recipient shall indemnify and hold each Administrator Indemnified Party harmless from and against, any and all Losses asserted against, imposed on or incurred by the Administrator Indemnified Parties, arising out of or attributable to:

(a) Acts of negligence or willful misconduct committed by directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, successors or assigns of Recipient during the term of this Agreement;

(b) Recipient's willful misconduct or negligence or which arise out of the breach of this Agreement by Recipient;

(c) Third party claims for loss or damage; except for third party claims for which the Administrator would have an obligation to indemnify Recipient under Section 4.1;

(d) Recipient's wrongful use of the Administrator's Confidential Information obtained under this Agreement;

(e) IP Claims arising out of or in connection with the use of the Services by Recipient; or

(f) Any enforcement of this indemnity.

Section 4.3 Indemnification Procedures.

(a) If any Person entitled to indemnification under Section 4.1 or Section 4.2 (the "Indemnitee") receives notice of assertion or commencement of any a claim or demand made by, or an action, proceeding or investigation instituted by, any Person not a party to this Agreement (a "Third Party Claim") against such Indemnitee in respect of which the party required to indemnify such Indemnitee under Section 4.1 or Section 4.2 (the "Indemnitor") may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor prompt written notice (but in no event later than 30 days after becoming aware) thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim and an estimate of the Loss (to the extent practicable) and shall reference the specific sections of this Agreement that form the basis of such claim; provided, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, within five (5) Business Days after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third Party Claim and may assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof. All of the parties hereto shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to, cooperate in the defense of any Third Party Claim, and, if the Indemnitor assumes such defense, such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information that are relevant to such Third Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise, or discharge, such Third Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), and any such admission, payment, settlement, compromise, or discharge without the Indemnitor's prior written consent shall be deemed to be a waiver by the Indemnitee of any right to indemnity for all Losses related to such Third Party Claim. If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, or discharge a Third Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed); provided that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise, or discharge such a Third Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a full and complete release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any non-monetary relief or to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy, and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability, or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent as provided in this Section 4.3(b) to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third Party Claim.

Section 4.4 IP Claims. Further, in the event that the provision of any Service infringes, violates or constitutes the misappropriation of, is alleged to infringe, violate or misappropriate or, in the reasonable judgment of the Administrator's counsel, is likely to infringe, violate or constitute the misappropriation of, any Intellectual Property of any third party, the Administrator shall use commercially reasonable efforts at its sole expense either (a) procure for Recipient the right to continue to use such infringing, violating or misappropriating portions of the Services or (b) modify or replace such infringing, violating or misappropriating portions of the Services so that they are non-infringing, non-violating or non-misappropriating, as applicable, and of at least equivalent performance and functionality to that prior to such modification or replacement. If the Administrator is unable after the use of commercially reasonable efforts, to complete either of the options under subsection (a) or (b) above, the Administrator shall notify Recipient, and the parties shall cooperate to determine a commercially reasonable alternative approach for the provision of such Service without infringing, violating or misappropriating the Intellectual Property of any third party.

Section 4.5 Mitigation of Damages. Each indemnified party must mitigate, in accordance with Applicable Law, any Indemnifiable Losses (as defined in the Master Agreement) for which such indemnified party seeks indemnification under this Agreement.

Section 4.6 Insurance. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, (a) each party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to use insurance provided by a third party to cover any Indemnifiable Losses applicable to it, and (b) no party indemnified under this ARTICLE IV shall be indemnified or held harmless hereunder to the extent such Indemnifiable Losses are covered by insurance provided by a third Person.

Section 4.7 Exclusive Remedy. Each party acknowledges and agrees that, following the date hereof, other than in the case of actual fraud or as otherwise provided by Applicable Law, the following shall be the sole and exclusive remedies of such party for any claims arising from or related to this Agreement: (a) the right to indemnification as provided in this ARTICLE IV; (b) the right to require performance of any Service to the extent required under Section 2.2; (c) the right to require re-performance of any Service to the extent required under Section 2.13; (d) the right to an injunction, specific performance or other equitable non-monetary relief when available under Applicable Law; (e) the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to ARTICLE VI; (f) the right to actual damages for breach of Section 3.4 or Section 8.10 (but, for the purposes of clarity, not for breach of any other section of this Agreement); and (g) with respect to equitable relief available hereunder, including Section 2.16(b).

Section 4.8 Limitation of Liability.

(a) NEITHER PARTY WILL BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR ANY PUNITIVE, EXEMPLARY OR OTHER SPECIAL DAMAGES, OR ANY INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER SUCH DAMAGES ARE BASED IN CONTRACT, BREACH OF WARRANTY, TORT, NEGLIGENCE OR ANY OTHER THEORY, EXCEPT (I) TO THE EXTENT AWARDED OR PAID TO A THIRD PARTY IN CONNECTION WITH A THIRD PARTY CLAIM OR PAID TO A THIRD PARTY IN CONNECTION WITH A DATA SECURITY BREACH; (II) FOR CLAIMS BASED ON A BREACH OF SECTION 8.10 HEREUNDER; OR (III) FOR CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FRAUD, GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT.

(b) THE MAXIMUM AGGREGATE LIABILITY OF A PARTY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE CAPPED AT THE AMOUNT OF SERVICE FEES AND EXPENSES PAYABLE BY RECIPIENT TO THE ADMINISTRATOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT DURING THE TWELVE (12) MONTH PERIOD IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO THE DATE OF THE EVENT GIVING RISE TO SUCH LIABILITY, EXCEPT FOR (I) CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FRAUD, GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, (II) CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FAILURE TO PAY SERVICE FEES AND EXPENSES IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF SECTION 2.3, AND (III) AS PROVIDED IN SECTION 4.8(c) BELOW; PROVIDED, THAT IF THE MOST RECENT EVENT GIVING RISE TO LIABILITY OCCURS PRIOR TO THE TWELVE (12) MONTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE AGREEMENT, THEN THE AMOUNT IN THIS SECTION 4.8(b) SHALL EQUAL TWELVE (12) TIMES THE RESULT OBTAINED BY DIVIDING (X) THE TOTAL FEES ACTUALLY PAID BY RECIPIENT TO THE ADMINISTRATOR UNDER THE AGREEMENT FROM THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS AGREEMENT THROUGH THE DATE ON WHICH SUCH EVENT OCCURRED, BY (Y) THE NUMBER OF MONTHS FROM THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS AGREEMENT THROUGH SUCH DATE.

(c) SEPARATE AND APART FROM THE LIMITATION SET FORTH IN SECTION 4.8(b), IN NO EVENT SHALL ANY PARTY BE LIABLE FOR DAMAGES AS A RESULT OF A DATA SECURITY BREACH IN AN AMOUNT IN EXCESS OF THIRTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ($35,000,000).

ARTICLE V

REGULATORY ACTIONS AND LEGAL ACTIONS

Section 5.1 Regulatory Actions. The Administrator shall have no responsibility or liability in respect of any complaints, inquiries or proceedings made by any Governmental Authority with respect to the Administered Products (each, a "Regulatory Action") other than (a) to notify Recipient in writing promptly of any such Regulatory Action of which the Administrator becomes aware as promptly as practicable after becoming aware thereof, and (b) to provide Recipient (and any third party that Recipient may designate in writing) copies of any files or other documents that Recipient may reasonably request in connection with its review of such matters, in each case, other than such files, documents and other information as would reasonably be expected to, in the judgment of counsel to the Administrator, lead to the loss or waiver of the Administrator's rights in respect of legal privilege. Recipient shall reimburse the Administrator for any reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Administrator in respect of any such Regulatory Actions.

Section 5.2 Contested Claims; Legal Actions.

(a) If, in the course of providing the Services pursuant to ARTICLE II, the Administrator determines that a claim for payment under any Administered Product either requires investigation or should be contested or denied, in whole or in part, the Administrator shall promptly, and in any event within five (5) Business Days of such determination, notify Recipient in writing of such determination for Recipient's direction. Following such notification, the Administrator shall act only in accordance with the direction of Recipient consistent with the Services in connection with such claim.

(b) The Administrator shall have no responsibility or liability in respect of any lawsuit, action, arbitration or other dispute resolution proceeding that is instituted or threatened with respect to any matter relating to the Administered Products (each, a "Legal Action") other than (i) to notify Recipient in writing promptly of any such Legal Action of which the Administrator becomes aware, and (ii) to provide Recipient (and any third party that Recipient may designate in writing) copies of any files or other documents that Recipient may reasonably request in connection with its review of such matters, in each case other than such files, documents and other information as would, in the judgment of counsel to the Administrator, lead to the loss or waiver of legal privilege. Recipient shall reimburse the Administrator for any reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Administrator in respect of any such Legal Actions.

TERM AND TERMINATION

Section 6.1 Term. Subject to Section 6.2, Section 6.3 and Section 6.4, this Agreement shall remain in force and effect for so long as any of the Administered Products are in effect unless terminated pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

Section 6.2 Termination by Mutual Consent. This Agreement may be terminated by mutual agreement of the parties in writing at any time.

Section 6.3 Termination Upon Notice. This Agreement, or all Services with respect to an Administered Products Block, may be terminated by Recipient upon one hundred and eighty (180) days' prior written notice to the Administrator.

Section 6.4 Financial Remedies Upon Material Breach. In the event of material breach of any provision of this Agreement by a party, the non-defaulting party shall give the defaulting party written notice thereof, and:

(a) If such breach arises from Recipient's non-payment of an amount that is not in dispute, Recipient shall cure the breach within fifteen (15) calendar days after receipt of written notice of such non-payment. If Recipient does not cure such breach by such date, then Recipient shall pay the Administrator, the undisputed amount plus an amount of interest equal to one percent (1.0%) per month from and including the date such payment is due under this provision until, but excluding, the date of payment. The parties agree that this rate of interest constitutes reasonable liquidated damages and not an unenforceable penalty.

(b) If such breach is for any other material failure to perform in accordance with this Agreement, the defaulting party shall cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days of the date of such notice.

(c) In the case of any such breach that is not cured in accordance with Section 6.4, and subsections (a) and (b) above, then the non-defaulting party shall also have the right to terminate Services with respect to the affected Administered Products Block upon written notice thereof to the defaulting party.

Section 6.5 Return of Information and Books and Records after Termination. Upon termination of this Agreement, Recipient will return to the Administrator all of the Administrator's Confidential Information, if any, and any other similar or related materials, and the Administrator will return all of the data and files of Recipient, including its Books and Records and Recipient's Confidential Information. Recipient agrees to allow the Administrator reasonable access to, including the right to make copies of, all such returned materials in the event such access is requested by the Administrator for any reasonable and legitimate purpose, including, but not limited to, as a result of any Regulatory Action or Legal Action.

Section 6.6 Effect of Termination. Termination of this Agreement for any reason under this ARTICLE VI shall not affect (i) any liabilities or obligations of either party arising before such termination or out of the events causing such termination; or (ii) any damages or other remedies to which a party may be entitled under this Agreement, at law or in equity, arising from any breaches of such liabilities or obligations. Termination of this Agreement shall automatically terminate any work orders then in effect and, other than as provided in Section 6.5, the Administrator's obligation to render any Service (including any Additional Service) to the Recipient. In the event of termination of this Agreement, Recipient will pay for all Services rendered through the effective date of termination (including for work in progress) and all work related to Section 6.5 performed before or after the effective date of termination in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

COOPERATION

Section 7.1 Cooperation. The Recipient and the Administrator shall cooperate to the extent reasonably possible with each other and shall execute and provide such additional documentation as may become necessary or appropriate to enable each other to fully carry out their respective responsibilities under this Agreement and to effectuate the intention of the parties under this Agreement.

ARTICLE VIII

Section 8.2 Assignment. This Agreement shall not be assigned by any party hereto without the prior written approval of the other party hereto; provided, however, that the Administrator may subcontract its rights and obligations to perform Services under this Agreement in accordance with Section 2.4; and provided further that Recipient may assign or subcontract its rights and obligations under this Agreement, in whole or in part, along with the sale or transfer of a block of Administered Products with the prior written consent of the Administrator. Subject to the foregoing, the rights and obligations of the parties under this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, the parties hereto and their respective designees, subcontractors, transferees, successors and permitted assigns.

Section 8.3 Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

Section 8.4 Independent Contractors. Each party hereto shall be deemed an independent contractor of the other for all purposes hereunder. This Agreement shall not be construed to create the relationship of employer or employee between either party hereto, and shall not create any right or legal relation (including that of joint venture or partnership) between either party hereto and any other Person.

Section 8.5 Entire Agreement. This Agreement supersedes all prior discussions and agreements between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and this Agreement, and including the Schedules and Exhibits attached hereto and thereto, contain the sole and entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof.

Any term or condition of this Agreement may be waived at any time by the party which is entitled to the benefit thereof by a writing executed by, in the case of Recipient, [the President, Chief Executive Officer or an Executive Vice President] and, in the case of the Administrator, [the President, Chief Operating Officer or a Vice President]. A waiver on any one occasion shall not be deemed to be a waiver of the same term or condition or any other term or condition on any future occasion.

Section 8.7 Amendment. This Agreement may be modified or amended only by a writing duly executed by each of the parties hereto.

Section 8.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument.

Section 8.9 Third Party Beneficiaries. Other than the parties specified in Sections 8.10(c) and 4.2, this Agreement is intended solely for the benefit of the parties hereto and their permitted successors and assigns, and it is not the intention of the parties to confer any rights as a third party beneficiary to this Agreement upon any other Person.

Section 8.10 Treatment of Confidential Information.

(a) Each party may come into possession or knowledge of Confidential Information (as defined below) of the other in connection with the obligations to be performed by such party under this Agreement.

(b) "Confidential Information" with respect to a party, means any and all information provided by, made available by or obtained on behalf of, such party, any of its Affiliates or Representatives, on, before or after the date hereof, including, with respect to each Recipient, Non-Public Personal Information and all data relating to the contractholders of the Administered Products (including their rights and obligations under the Administered Products) which is maintained, processed or generated by the Recipient; provided that Confidential Information does not include information that (i) is generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the receiving party in violation of its confidentiality obligation, (ii) is independently developed by the receiving party, its Affiliates or any of its Representatives without use or access to the disclosing party's Confidential Information, or (iii) is rightfully obtained by the receiving party from a third party without, to the knowledge of the receiving party, breach by such third party of a duty of confidentiality of any nature to the disclosing party; provided that the foregoing exceptions shall not supersede the obligations of the receiving party with respect to any Non-Public Personal Information. For the avoidance of doubt, as between Recipients and the Administrator, Confidential Information of the Administrator includes the foregoing categories of information relating to the business or operations of, or provided by or on behalf of, any of the Administrator's Subcontractors, whether such information is provided to Recipient on, before or after the date hereof.

(c) "Non-Public Personal Information" means any (i) personally identifiable information or data (including medical, financial and other personal information) concerning or relating to each Recipient's past, current or prospective applicants, customers, clients, employees, agents, suppliers, vendors, policy owners, contract holders, insureds, claimants, and beneficiaries of Administered Products or contracts issued by Recipient, and their representatives, (ii) any such personally identifiable information or data that the Administrator or its Representatives or Subcontractors collect or derive from interactions with Recipient's past, current or prospective applicants, customers, clients, employees, agents, suppliers, vendors, policy owners, contract holders, insureds, claimants, and beneficiaries of Administered Products, or (iii) an aggregation or a derivation thereof; provided that information that is otherwise publicly available shall not be considered "Non-Public Personal Information".

(d) Recipients and the Administrator agree to hold each other's Confidential Information in strictest confidence and to take all reasonable steps to ensure that Confidential Information is not disclosed in any form by any means by such party, its Affiliates or by any of its Representative or Subcontractors to third parties of any kind, other than the Representatives performing services for such party who need access to such Confidential Information in the course and scope of providing such services, except as is authorized by the other party in advance and in compliance with all Applicable Law. If any Confidential Information needs to be disclosed as required by Applicable Law or court order, the disclosing party shall (if permitted by Applicable Law) provide prompt notice to the other party prior to such disclosure so that such other party may (at its expense) seek a protection order or other appropriate remedy which is necessary to protect its interest.

(e) The Administrator may disclose each Recipient's Confidential Information to the Administrator's Subcontractors with a reasonable need to know, subject to such Subcontractor first being obligated to information security, confidentiality and limited use restrictions no less protective of Recipient's Confidential Information than the provisions in this Agreement. Further, Recipient will negotiate in good faith and diligently to agree to additional confidentiality and limited use terms and conditions as may reasonably be required by the Administrator's Subcontractors whose confidential information may be disclosed to Recipient in connection with the Services. Until such time as such additional confidentiality terms and conditions are agreed to in writing by Recipient, the Administrator may be limited by its contractual obligations with its Subcontractors in sharing certain Confidential Information with Recipient.

(f) The Administrator (and its Subcontractors) may use Recipient's Confidential Information; provided that such party shall establish and maintain safeguards against the unauthorized access, destruction, loss or alteration of the Recipient's Confidential Information which are no less rigorous than those maintained by the Administrator (or such Subcontractor) for its own information of a similar nature (but not less than using a reasonable standard of care), and in compliance with the terms of the Privacy and Security Addendum in the form attached as Schedule VI hereto.

(g) Further to the foregoing, the Administrator shall, and shall cause its Representatives, Affiliates, and Subcontractors to, protect the confidentiality of Recipient's Confidential Information (including the Non-Public Personal Information) by:

(i) holding all such information transmitted to them by or on behalf of Recipient in strict confidence;

(ii) maintaining appropriate measures that are designed to protect the security, integrity and confidentiality of such information;

(iii) using such information solely in connection with carrying out the Administrator's obligations under this Agreement and in compliance with the Recipient's consumer privacy notice;

(iv) disclosing such information to third parties only as necessary to perform services under this Agreement and in compliance with the Recipient's consumer privacy notice; and

(v) disclosing such information as may be required by Applicable Law or court order; provided that the Administrator (or its Subcontractors) as applicable shall (if permitted by Applicable Law) provide prompt notice to Recipient prior to such disclosure so that Recipient may (at its expense) seek a protection order or other appropriate remedy which is necessary to protect its interest.

(h) Unauthorized Acts. Each party shall (i) notify the other party promptly of any unauthorized possession, use, or knowledge of any Confidential Information by any person which shall become known to it, any attempt by any person to gain possession of Confidential Information without authorization or any attempt to use or acquire knowledge of any Confidential Information without authorization (collectively, "Unauthorized Access"), (ii) promptly furnish to the other party full details of the Unauthorized Access and use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the other party in investigating or preventing the reoccurrence of any Unauthorized Access, (iii) cooperate with the other party in any litigation and investigation against third parties deemed necessary by such party to protect its proprietary rights, and (iv) use commercially reasonable efforts to prevent a recurrence of any such Unauthorized Access. To the extent that a party inadvertently obtains access to any Confidential Information of the other party to which it was otherwise not intended to have access, such party shall immediately notify the other party when they are aware that they have received such Confidential Information or upon notice from the other party, they shall maintain confidentiality of such information until such time that it is either destroyed or returned to the other party, and shall promptly destroy any such Confidential Information and instruct its employees not use or otherwise act on such Confidential Information.

Section 8.11 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable under any present or future law or if determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unenforceable, and if the rights or obligations of Recipient or the Administrator under this Agreement will not be materially and adversely affected thereby, such provision shall be fully severable, and this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part of this Agreement, and the remaining provisions of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom.

Section 8.12 Survival. Upon termination of this Agreement for any reason whatsoever, the obligations set forth in Section 2.5 (to the extent amounts owed thereunder are in respect of periods up to and including such termination date), Section 6.5, Section 6.6 and ARTICLE IV and ARTICLE VIII shall survive such termination.

Section 8.13 Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such action, suit or other proceeding is improper; provided, that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 8.1, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(b) The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that, without the necessity of posting bond or other undertaking, the parties hereto shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in accordance with this Agreement, this being in addition (subject to the terms of this Agreement) to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity. In the event that any Action (as defined in the Master Agreement) is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no party hereto shall allege, and each party hereto hereby waives any defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law.

(c) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 8.13.

Section 8.14 Insurance Coverage. Without limiting the Administrator's undertaking to indemnify and hold the Recipients harmless as set forth herein, during the term of this Agreement, the Administrator shall obtain and maintain cyber, errors and omissions and fidelity bond insurance with minimum limits of no less than ten million dollars ($10,000,000) from an insurer or insurers with policy holder ratings of at least "A-" and financial ratings of at least "VII" in the then-latest edition of Best's Insurance Guide; provided that the obligation to obtain and maintain cyber insurance in accordance with the foregoing shall not commence until the completion of the migration of the Business IT Systems (as defined in the Master Agreement).

SERVICES

Section 2.1 Services Overview.

(a) Description of the Services. The Services shall consist of the services described in this Agreement or on Schedule III attached hereto, subject to the terms, conditions and limitations of this Agreement. Schedule III shall set forth the start date on which the provision of each Service shall commence (the "Commencement Date"). Recipient, in its sole discretion, may designate any Affiliate or designated third party to receive a Service; provided, that the Administrator shall not be required to perform any such Service for an Affiliate not a party hereto if the Administrator reasonably determines that its provision of such Services to such Affiliate (i) will violate Applicable Law, or (ii) is reasonably likely to require the Administrator to take actions with regard to any Governmental Authority which it reasonably determines could have a material adverse impact on its business. Any additional incremental cost to the Administrator caused by such change shall be borne by Recipient. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, Recipient shall have the right to direct the Administrator in connection with the Services to perform any action necessary to comply with Applicable Law, or to cease performing any action that constitutes a violation of Applicable Law.

(b) Additional Services. The parties each have used commercially reasonable efforts to identify and describe the Services. However, the parties acknowledge and agree that there may be services which are not identified on Schedule III that (a) were used in the Excluded Business (as defined in the Master Agreement) in the twelve (12) months prior to the effective date of the Master Agreement, (b) had been performed by the employees then-currently employed by, or Business IT Systems (as defined in the Master Agreement) then-used by, the Administrator or any of its Affiliates at the time of the request, (c) are necessary for the administration of the Administered Products after the Closing Date and (d) cannot be performed by the Recipient with its remaining assets and employees and those of its Affiliates using commercially reasonable efforts (the "Additional Services"). Recipient may provide written notice to the Administrator requesting such Additional Services setting forth in reasonable detail a description of the requested Additional Service(s), the proposed start date or dates, (w) at any time during the first one hundred and twenty (120) days following the Closing Date, (x) in the case of a recurring service provided on a quarterly basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the first full calendar quarter after the Closing Date, (y) in the case of a recurring service provided on a semiannual basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the second full calendar quarter after the Closing Date, and (z) in the case of a recurring service provided on an annual basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the first full calendar year after the Closing Date. The Administrator shall be afforded a reasonable period of time to notify Recipient of the Service Fees and Expenses based on the Administrator's actual cost and to commence providing any Additional Service after such service becomes a Service. For the avoidance of doubt, the Administrator's obligations to perform Additional Services shall be subject to additional limitations set forth in Section 2.2. Any Additional Services shall in all respects be subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall be considered added to Schedule III as applicable, shall constitute an amendment to this Agreement which shall be signed by the parties and shall thereafter be considered a Service.

Section 2.3 Facilities, Personnel and Resources. To the extent not subcontracted to a Subcontractor, the Administrator shall at all times maintain sufficient facilities and trained personnel of the kind necessary to perform its obligations under this Agreement in accordance with the performance standards set forth herein. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Administrator will have and maintain, from the date hereof and thereafter during the term of this Agreement, sufficient expertise, trained personnel, resources, systems, controls and procedures (financial, legal, accounting, administrative or otherwise) as may be necessary or appropriate to discharge its obligations under the terms of this Agreement.

Section 2.4 Subcontracting. The Administrator may subcontract for the performance of any Services at the Administrator's sole expense (except as set forth in Section 2.5(b)) to an Affiliate or, with prior written consent of Recipient, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, to a third party (in each case, a "Subcontractor"). In addition, each Subcontractor shall be duly licensed to the extent required under Applicable Law so as to permit the performances of the Services in compliance with Applicable Law. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no such subcontracting shall relieve the Administrator from any of its obligations or liabilities hereunder, the Administrator shall remain responsible for all obligations, liabilities, actions and omissions of such Subcontractor with regards to the providing of such service or services as if provided by the Administrator. Unless specifically agreed in writing by Recipient, neither Subcontractor nor its personnel shall have the power or authority to act as agent or attorney-in-fact of Recipient or bind Recipient in any way.

Section 2.5 Compensation.

(a) Recipient shall pay to the Administrator the Administrator's actual Direct Costs, allocable general corporate overhead, and, subject to Section 2.5(b), costs of vendors and approved Subcontractors) for providing the Services (the "Service Fees and Expenses"), with the methodologies for allocations of general corporate overhead charged to Recipient being consistent with the historical methodologies for the allocation of such costs in the twelve (12) month period prior to the Closing Date; provided, that the allocated costs of such general corporate overhead shall not exceed sixteen percent (16%) of the Direct Costs. Recipient shall be liable for all Service Fees and Expenses and any other amounts due from Recipient to the Administrator hereunder. The Administrator shall invoice Recipient on a monthly basis in arrears for Service Fees and Expenses. Each monthly invoice shall list all Services and Service Fees and Expenses in the format of Schedule IV. Payment in full of the amounts so invoiced or noticed shall be made by electronic funds transfer or other method satisfactory to the parties, within thirty (30) days after the date of receipt of the monthly invoice. Should Recipient dispute any portion of the amount due from it on any invoice or require any adjustment to an invoiced amount, then Recipient shall notify the Administrator in writing of the nature and basis of the dispute or adjustment within thirty (30) days of receiving the invoice using, if necessary, the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 2.16. The parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute prior to the payment due date.

(b) Recipient shall reimburse the Administrator for all of its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses actually incurred in connection with the provision of the Services to Recipient, including the fees of any Subcontractors for which Recipient has consented to the subcontracting to such Subcontractor (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) and the costs and expenses of any travel, including transportation, lodging and meals, of any employee or agent of the Administrator, its Affiliates or its permitted Subcontractors who is required to travel to any location other than the Administrator's facilities in connection with the performance of the Services; provided, that (i) such travel has been approved in writing by Recipient; and (ii) such costs and expenses of travel are incurred in accordance with Recipient's generally applicable travel policies that have been provided in writing to the Administrator.

Section 2.6 Books and Records; Other Information.

(a) On and after the Closing Date, the Administrator shall assume responsibility for maintaining accurate and complete books and records of all transactions pertaining to the Administered Products and all data used by the Administrator in the performance of Services, including claims (as identified in Schedule III hereto) files and any documents relating to such claims, any communications relating to any Administered Product, any communications with any Governmental Authority, complaint logs, and accounting and reporting, in each case, other than Retained Books and Records ("Administration Books and Records"). Following the end of such seven (7) year or longer period, as applicable, the Administration Books and Records may be destroyed only after the Administrator has given Recipient at least sixty (60) days prior written notice of the Administration Books and Records the Administrator intends to destroy. During such sixty (60) day period, Recipient may, at its sole cost and expense, have the right to take possession of such Administration Books and Records in the format maintained by the Administrator. The Administrator shall maintain the confidentiality of such Administration Books and Records, including compliance with Section 8.10, and such information shall be used only for purposes relating to the transactions contemplated under this Agreement.

(b) All Administration Books and Records pertaining to an Administered Product shall be the property of Recipient and shall be made available (including access to appropriate employees and representatives of the Administrator, so long as such access shall not unreasonably interfere with the regular performance of such employees' and representatives' duties to the Administrator) to Recipient, auditors or other designees, and regulatory agencies, upon reasonable prior notice during normal business hours, for review, audit, inspection, examination and reproduction. Upon the reasonable request of Recipient from time to time, that Administrator shall also make copies of Administration Books and Records available to Recipient through electronic means. (b) On a monthly basis or as more frequently as may be reasonably required in order to pay the liabilities under the Administered Products, the Administrator shall request that Recipient deposit to the Administrative Account funds in an amount sufficient to pay amounts then due or reasonably expected to became due during the next month for Administered Products. Recipient shall, at all times, maintain sufficient funds in the Administrative Account to pay all Administered Products as they become due.

(c) All premiums and other amounts collected by the Administrator pursuant to the authority granted hereunder and due to Recipient shall be paid to Recipient.

(d) Recipient check stock shall be used for all payments made in respect of the Administered Products and the Services.

Section 2.8 Power of Attorney.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, Recipient hereby appoints and names the Administrator, acting through its authorized officers and employees, as Recipient's exclusive lawful attorney-in-fact, from and after the Closing Date for so long as the Administrator is authorized to perform the Services and solely to the extent necessary to provide the Services, (a) to do any and all lawful acts that Recipient might have done with respect to the Administered Products, and (b) to proceed by all lawful means (i) to perform any and all of Recipient's obligations with respect to the Administered Products, (ii) to collect any and all sums due or payable in respect of the Administered Products, (iii) to sign (in Recipient's name, when necessary) vouchers, receipts, releases and other papers in connection with any of the foregoing matters, (iv) to take actions necessary to maintain the Administered Products in compliance with Applicable Law and (v) to do everything necessary in connection with the satisfaction of the Administrator's obligations and the exercise of its rights under this Agreement, but in all cases only to the extent of the rights and authority granted to the Administrator pursuant to this Agreement and in accordance with the terms hereof.

(b) In order to assist the Administrator in the performance of the Services hereunder, as reasonably requested by the Administrator in writing from time to time, Recipient shall deliver to the Administrator, in the form reasonably requested by the Administrator in writing, evidence of its appointment of the Administrator as its attorney-in-fact with respect to all matters required, necessary or appropriate to perform the Services.

The Administrator's failure to (a) remediate such material deficiencies or (b) at any time during the term of this Agreement, to meet or exceed in all material respects any of the requirements, standards, or controls described in the Administrator's most recently completed information security questionnaire will, in either case, constitute a material breach of this Agreement by the Administrator. Recipient's consent, not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, shall be required prior to any change to the Administrator's administrative, technical and physical safeguards intended to protect Confidential Information if such proposed changes could reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the controls or standards of protection previously specified or approved through the Security Assessment process. The Administrator anticipates that it will receive annual SOC Reports from its Subcontractors and that such SOC Reports will be prepared by one of the nationally-recognized accounting firms, and the Administrator shall use it commercially reasonable efforts to enforce any rights the Administrator has to receive any such SOC Reports from its Subcontractors. The Administrator shall provide to Recipient such other publicly-available financial information concerning the Administrator and its Subcontractors as may be reasonably requested by Recipient. Further, commencing on the date hereof and for as long as this Agreement is in effect, within twenty (20) days after the end of each calendar quarter, the Administrator shall deliver to Recipient a completed quarterly management representation letter to Recipient's Chief Accounting Officer, in the such form as Recipient may reasonably request, on accounting, reporting, internal controls and disclosure issues in support of the management representation letter to be issued by Recipient to its independent accountants.

(b) The Administrator shall provide to Recipient (i) access to the Administrator's Sarbanes-Oxley Act and Model Audit Rules control documentation and the results of any internal control testing performed by it with respect to the Administered Products, and access to the books, records and employees of the Administrator for purposes of independently performing tests of the Administrator's documentation and controls, as reasonably requested by Recipient from time to time; and (ii) prompt notice of significant deficiencies, material weaknesses or material omissions in internal controls identified in connection with such internal control testing related to the Administered Products. The Administrator shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to remedy, as promptly as reasonably practicable, significant deficiencies, material weaknesses or material omissions in internal controls identified in connection with such internal control testing related to the Administered Products.

(c) During the term of this Agreement, upon any reasonable request from Recipient or its Representatives, subject to compliance with Applicable Law relating to the exchange of information and to the confidentiality requirements under Section 8.10, the Administrator shall (i) provide, or cause its Subcontractors to provide, to Recipient and its Representatives reasonable on-site and desk access during normal business hours to review the books and records (including any such materials developed on or after the Closing Date) under the control of the Administrator or a Subcontractor pertaining to the Administered Products and the Services to be provided under this Agreement; provided that such access shall not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of the business of the Administrator or the Subcontractor, and (ii) permit, or cause its Subcontractors to permit, Recipient and its Representatives to make copies of such records, in each case at no cost to the Administrator. Access provided to Recipient or its Representatives pursuant to this Section 2.10 shall be provided by the Administrator upon forty-eight (48) hours advance written notice or as otherwise reasonably requested by Recipient. The parties agree and acknowledge that reasonable access includes facilitating audits by Recipient or its Representatives to comply with Applicable Laws relating to the Administered Products.

Section 2.11 Coordinators. As of the Closing Date, the Administrator and Recipient shall appoint and provide written notice to the other party pursuant to Section 8.1, of the name, title and contact information for an individual who shall be a current officer or employee of such party or an Affiliate thereof and shall serve as such party's primary contact with respect to issues that may arise out of the scope or performance of this Agreement (each, a "Coordinator"). The parties may replace their respective Coordinator by giving notice pursuant to Section 8.1 to the other party stating the name, title and contact information for the new Coordinator. Each Coordinator will have primary responsibility on behalf of its respective party, to communicate and coordinate with the other Coordinator with respect to this Agreement. The Coordinators shall meet, either in person or telephonically, from time to time as necessary or appropriate to discuss open issues related to this Agreement and performance hereunder.

Section 2.12 Transition Services. The Administrator shall have no obligation to perform any particular Service or other obligation to the extent that it is unable to provide such Service or perform such obligation as a result of the failure of Recipient or its Affiliates to provide to the Administrator or its Affiliates services required to be provided by Recipient or its Affiliates under the Transition Services Agreement. Such nonperformance by the Administrator of any such Service or other obligation shall not be deemed to be a breach of this Agreement, shall not create liability for the Administrator under this Agreement, and the provisions of Section 4.1 shall be inapplicable thereto; provided that (a) the Administrator shall be obligated to provide any such Service and perform any such obligation in accordance with the terms of this Agreement following the cure or remediation of any such failure of Recipient or its respective Affiliates to provide to the Administrator or its Affiliates the applicable services required to be provided under the Transition Services Agreement, and (b) the Administrator shall, in any event, use commercially reasonable efforts to perform such Service despite any failure of Recipient or its respective Affiliates to provide to the Administrator or its Affiliates the applicable services required to be provided under the Transition Services Agreement.

Section 2.13 Shortfall in Services. If Recipient provides the Administrator with written notice of the occurrence of any Significant Service Shortfall (as defined below) in the Services, as reasonably determined by Recipient in good faith, the Administrator shall use commercially reasonable efforts to rectify such Significant Service Shortfall as soon as reasonably possible. For purposes of this Section 2.13, a "Significant Service Shortfall" shall be deemed to have occurred if the timing or quality of performance of one or more Services provided by the Administrator hereunder falls below the standard required by Section 2.2 hereof; provided that the Administrator's obligations under this Agreement shall be relieved to the extent, and for the duration of, any Force Majeure Event as set forth in Section 2.17. Any dispute as to whether a Significant Service Shortfall occurred shall be resolved in accordance with Section 2.16(a).

Section 2.14 Abandonment; Maintenance. The Administrator shall not Abandon (as defined below) any of the Services for which it is responsible. The parties agree that if the Administrator breaches or threatens to breach the foregoing covenant, Recipient may be irreparably harmed, and Recipient shall be entitled to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction compelling specific performance by the Administrator of its obligations under this Agreement. "Abandon" or "Abandonment" means the threatened or actual intentional refusal by the Administrator to provide or perform any material element(s) of the Services in breach of its obligations under this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Administrator shall have the right to: (a) shut down temporarily for routine maintenance the operation of any facilities or systems providing any Service if in the Administrator's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable for general maintenance purposes, provided that the Administrator gives Recipient at least seven (7) days prior written notice of such scheduled maintenance, which shall occur outside of normal business hours or at other time mutually agreed by the parties, (b) shut down for emergency purposes the operation of any facilities and systems providing any Service if in the Administrator's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable; provided, that the Administrator shall notify Recipient as soon as is commercially reasonable thereafter and shall use commercially reasonable efforts not to materially disrupt the operation of Recipient, and (c) shut down temporarily for "escalated" or "high priority" purposes (e.g., system security updates/patches) the operation of any facilities and systems providing any Service if in the Administrator's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable; provided, that the Administrator gives Recipient the same prior notice that it gives for any such maintenance to its internal clients and Affiliates.

Section 2.15 Disaster Recovery Program. The Administrator will implement a disaster recovery plan that is (a) consistent with current industry standards, (b) contains service level agreements for recovery time objectives and recovery point objectives to be agreed in good faith between the parties, and (c) no less stringent than what the Administrator and its Affiliates deploy for their own systems and records, maintain its systems and records (including the Administration Books and Records) in accordance with such plan, and test such plan from time to time. Such disaster recovery plan will include, but not be limited to, the provision of an incremental backup of the Administrator's applicable systems no less than daily, a full backup of the Administrator's applicable systems no less than weekly, and a second full backup of the Administrator's applicable systems no less than monthly. The daily backups will be stored by the Administrator for at least one (1) week, the weekly backups will be stored by the Administrator for at least one (1) month, and the monthly backups will be stored by the Administrator for at least one (1) year. The backups of the Administrator's applicable systems will be stored at a facility outside of the Administrator's facility. In the event of a Business Interruption, the Administrator will implement its disaster recovery plan. The term "Business Interruption" means (i) any material interruption or interference with the Administrator's ability to continue to provide Services, including any temporary loss of Customer information or adverse effect on the Administrator's operating environment or telecommunications infrastructure used to provide the Services or (ii) any event, whether anticipated or unanticipated, which disrupts the normal course of business operations.

Section 2.16 Dispute Resolution.

(a) Amicable Resolution. The parties mutually desire that friendly collaboration will continue between them during the term of this Agreement. Accordingly, they will try to resolve in an amicable manner all disagreements and misunderstandings connected with their respective rights and obligations under this Agreement, including any amendments hereto. In furtherance thereof, in the event of any dispute or disagreement (a "Dispute") between the parties in connection with this Agreement (including the standard of performance, delay of performance or non-performance of obligations, or payment or non-payment of Service Fees and Expenses hereunder), then the Coordinators shall seek to resolve the Dispute amicably. If the Coordinators are unable to resolve a Dispute in a timely manner, then either Coordinator, by written request to the other, may request that such Dispute be referred for resolution to a designated senior executive of each party ("Designated Senior Executives"), which Designated Senior Executives will have fifteen (15) days to resolve such Dispute. If the Designated Senior Executives for each party do not agree to a resolution of such Dispute within fifteen (15) days after the reference of the matter to them, either party may bring an action regarding such dispute.

(b) Non-Exclusive Remedy. Nothing in this Section 2.16 will prevent either party from immediately seeking injunctive or interim relief (i) in the event of any actual or threatened breach of any of the provisions of Section 2.14 or Section 8.10, (ii) in the event that the Dispute relates to, or involves a claim of, actual or threatened infringement or violation of intellectual property or (iii) to the extent necessary for either party to preserve any right. All such actions for injunctive or interim relief shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with Section 8.13. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for breach of this Agreement, and further remedies may be pursued in accordance with Section 2.16(a).

Section 2.17 Force Majeure. If performance by a party of any terms or provisions hereof shall be delayed or prevented, in whole or in part, because of or related to any of the following circumstances or events beyond the reasonable control of the party relying on such circumstance or event: changes in Applicable Law, riots, war, public disturbance, fire, explosion, storm, flood, acts of God, acts of terrorism (each, a "Force Majeure Event"), then (a) the party shall give written notice to the other party, (b) the parties shall promptly confer, in good faith, to agree upon equitable, reasonable action to minimize the impact, on both parties, of such conditions, and (c) the affected party shall be excused from its obligations to the extent limited by such Force Majeure Event hereunder during the period such Force Majeure Event continues, and no liability shall attach against it on account thereof. The affected party shall not be excused from performance if it fails to use reasonable diligence to remedy the situation and remove the cause and effect of the Force Majeure Event. Recipient shall be relieved of the obligation to pay any Service Fees and Expenses and other amounts for the provision of the Services obligations limited by such Force Majeure Event throughout the duration of such Force Majeure Event.

Section 2.18 Notification to Customers. To the extent required by Applicable Law or as required for the efficient performance of the Services, the Administrator agrees to send to Customers a written notice prepared by the Administrator and reasonably acceptable to Recipient to the effect that the Administrator has been appointed by Recipient to provide the Services. The Administrator shall provide such notice at a time and in a manner reasonably acceptable to Recipient and the Administrator and in all events in accordance with Applicable Law.

Section 2.19 Discretionary Acts. The Administrator shall have no responsibility to provide any Service with respect to an Administered Product that would fall within the definition of "independent adjuster" contained in Section 2101(g)(1) of the New York Insurance Law (a "Discretionary Act"), other than (i) to promptly notify Recipient in writing of any such situation of which the Administrator becomes aware and (ii) to provide Recipient copies of any files or other documents that Recipient may reasonably request in connection with its review of such matters. The parties shall use reasonable best efforts to formulate the Services to be provided by the Administrator so as to avoid any Service becoming a Discretionary Act.

ARTICLE III

RESPONSIBILITIES

Section 3.1 Books and Records; Other Information. On the Commencement Date of any Services with respect to an Administered Product, Recipient shall promptly transfer to the Administrator all Books and Records related to such Administered Product except for any such Books and Records that Recipient is required to retain under Applicable Law (the "Retained Books and Records"). On the Closing Date, Recipient shall provide the Administrator with a copy of any Retained Books and Records. Further, Recipient shall, and shall cause its designees to, provide the Administrator with access to all information in the possession or control of Recipient and such designees which pertains to, and which the Administrator requests in connection with, any claim, loss or obligations arising out of the Administered Products; provided, however, that nothing herein shall require Recipient to disclose information to the Administrator or its representatives if such disclosure would jeopardize any attorney-client privilege, the work product immunity or any other legal privilege or similar doctrine or contravene any Applicable Law or contract (including any confidentiality agreement to which Recipient or any of its Affiliates is a party) (it being understood that Recipient shall use its reasonable best efforts to enable such information to be furnished or made available to the Administrator or its representatives without so jeopardizing privilege or contravening such Applicable Law or contract) or require Recipient to disclose its tax records (other than premium tax filings) or any personnel or related records; provided, further, the Administrator shall comply with all Applicable Laws with respect to the use and disclosure of such information. In addition, Recipient shall make all such Books and Records and other information contemplated in this Section 3.1 available for inspection and copying by the Administrator upon at least one (1) Business Day's prior notice by the Administrator to Recipient during regular business hours.

Section 3.2 Additional Documentation. On and after the Commencement Date for any Services with respect to an Administered Product, Recipient shall, and shall, if applicable, cause its designees to, cooperate with the Administrator and provide such access to Representatives of Recipient and such additional documentation, information, computer and hard copy files and data (including Books and Records, or copies thereof, which have not previously been provided to the Administrator) as may be necessary or appropriate to assist in the administration of such Administered Product of Recipient and to enable the Administrator to fully carry out its responsibilities under this Agreement.

Section 3.3 Licenses. Recipient hereby grants to the Administrator, and the Administrator hereby accepts, a non-exclusive, royalty-free, non-transferable license during the applicable Services Term, to use those items set forth on Schedule V attached hereto solely as necessary for the performance by the Administrator of the Services hereunder.

Section 3.4 Trademarks. Administrator hereby acknowledges that Recipient has adopted and is using the names and marks listed on Schedule V hereto in connection with the Administered Products (collectively, the "Licensed Names and Marks"). Recipient and Administrator agree as follows:

(a) Recipient hereby grants to the Administrator and Administrator hereby accepts a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable (except to Subcontractors as permitted below), royalty-free license to use the Licensed Names and Marks solely as necessary to provide the Services, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement. The Administrator is granted no rights to use the Licensed Names and Marks, other than those rights specifically described and expressly licensed in this Agreement and no right is granted hereunder for the use of the Licensed Names and Marks in connection with any services other than the Services. None of the rights licensed to the Administrator under this Section 3.4 may be assigned, sublicensed or otherwise transferred by the Administrator (other than to Subcontractors), nor shall such rights inure to the benefit of any trustee in bankruptcy, receiver or successor of the Administrator, whether by operation of law or otherwise, without the prior written consent of Recipient, and any assignment, sublicense or other transfer without such consent shall be null and void.

(b) The Administrator agrees that it will use the Licensed Names and Marks in a manner that is consistent with the manner in which Recipient used them prior to the date hereof and, otherwise, only in accordance with the performance and usage standards established by Recipient and communicated to Administrator in writing (including graphic standards as prescribed by Recipient). The Administrator shall have no right to use the Licensed Names and Marks in connection with advertisements, brochures, audio or visual presentations, or any other materials used in the sale or advertising of Administrator's services.

(c) The Administrator agrees not to use the Licensed Names and Marks in partial form without the prior written consent of Recipient, which Recipient may withhold at its sole discretion. The Administrator agrees not to adopt or use any trademarks, service mark, logo or design confusingly similar to the Licensed Names and Marks. It is understood that Recipient retains the right, in its sole discretion, to modify the Licensed Names and Marks, upon reasonable prior notice to the Administrator.

(d) The Administrator acknowledges that all rights in the Licensed Names and Marks and the goodwill associated therewith belong exclusively to Recipient. All uses of the Licensed Names and Marks by the Administrator shall inure solely to the benefit of Recipient and any registration of the Licensed Names and Marks shall be registered by Recipient in its name, it being understood that the present license shall not in any way affect the ownership by Recipient of the Licensed Names and Marks, each of which shall continue to be the exclusive property of Recipient. At its option, Recipient may, in its own name and at its own expense, maintain appropriate trademark and service mark protection for the Licensed Names and Marks. The Administrator shall not at any time during the term of this Agreement or at any time thereafter do or cause to be done any act contesting the validity of the Licensed Names and Marks, contesting or in any way impairing or tending to impair Recipient's entire right, title and interest in the Licensed Names and Marks and the registrations thereof or adversely affecting the value of the Licensed Names and Marks or the reputation and goodwill of Recipient. The Administrator shall not represent that it has any right, title or interest in the reputation and good will of Recipient. The Administrator shall not represent that it has any right, title or interest in the Licensed Names and Marks other than the rights expressly granted by this Agreement.

(e) The right to institute and prosecute actions for infringement of the Licensed Names and Marks is reserved exclusively to Recipient, and Recipient shall have the right to join the Administrator in any such actions as a formal party. Any such action shall be conducted at Recipient's expense. The Administrator shall provide prompt written notice to Recipient of any infringement or unauthorized use of the Licensed Names and Marks of Recipient of which it is aware, and agrees to assist Recipient at Recipient's expense in any such action brought by Recipient. It is understood, however, that Recipient is not obligated to institute and prosecute any such actions in any case in which it, in its sole judgment, may consider it inadvisable to do so.

(f) The agreements and covenants contained in this Section 3.4 shall continue in effect until such time as this Agreement is terminated pursuant to ARTICLE VI. As promptly after termination of this Agreement as is reasonably practicable, the Administrator shall discontinue all use of the Licensed Names and Marks (but in no event will such use extend beyond ninety (90) calendar days after termination). Prior to any such termination, the Administrator shall take all commercially reasonable actions necessary to effect such discontinuance, including notifying contractowners, producers, suppliers, service providers, regulatory agencies and other relevant Persons of the discontinuance. Upon termination, all of the Administrator's rights to the Licensed Names and Marks shall revert to and continue to reside with and be owned exclusively by Recipient.

Section 3.5 Other Obligations. Recipient shall (a) forward to the Administrator all mail, notices, communications and other correspondence received by Recipient in respect of the Administered Products as promptly as practicable following Recipient's receipt thereof and (b) maintain all Books and Records regarding any Administered Products that are terminated prior to the Closing Date. Each party shall adhere, and shall cause its Representatives to adhere, to (x) all applicable policies and procedures of the other party and its Affiliates in effect as of the Closing Date, and such other reasonable applicable policies and procedures with respect to which the other party notifies such party in writing, within a reasonable period of time following receipt of such notice (except that a party may require the other party to comply, and in such case the other party shall comply, immediately following receipt of any notice relating to policies or procedures addressing compliance with Applicable Law or such party's cybersecurity or data security policies or requirements), and (y) to all security and access policies of the other party, at all times during the term of this Agreement, to the extent that such party or its Representatives requires ingress to and egress from the premises occupied by the other party or its Affiliates, for reasonable purposes necessary to the delivery or receipt of Services hereunder or the performance of any obligations required by this Agreement.

Section 3.6 Disclaimer of Responsibility. The Administrator shall have no responsibility or liability and Recipient shall continue to be, at all times, solely responsible for each of the following:

(a) Determining non-guaranteed elements, and securing reinsurance, if any;

(b) Failure of Recipient or its Affiliates to fulfill all lawful obligations with respect to the Administered Products, regardless of any dispute between Recipient and the Administrator;

(c) Any prospectuses, advertisements and other solicitation materials, training programs and materials, insurance contracts, amendments, endorsements and other forms provided by, used by or required by Recipient or its Affiliates;

(d) (i) The accuracy and completeness of all data and information provided by Recipient; (ii) any errors in and with respect to data obtained from Recipient caused by inaccurate or incomplete data provided by Recipient; or (iii) accuracy and completeness of Recipient's policies and procedures or business rules provided to the Administrator; or

(e) Any Discretionary Acts.

Section 3.7 Examinations. The Administrator acknowledges that regulators with jurisdiction over Recipient and any of its Affiliates may have authority to examine Recipient. To the extent any such examinations relate to this Agreement, the Administrator shall cooperate with any such examinations as reasonably requested by Recipient at Recipient's cost and expense. For the avoidance of doubt, such cooperation shall not be deemed to be a Service.

ARTICLE IV

INDEMNIFICATION

Section 4.1 Indemnification of Recipient. From and after the Closing Date, Recipient and its Affiliates, controlling Persons, officers, designees, directors, employees, agents, representatives and assigns (each, an "Recipient Indemnified Party" and collectively, with each other Recipient Indemnified Party, the "Recipient Indemnified Parties") shall not be responsible for, and the Administrator shall indemnify and hold each Recipient Indemnified Party harmless from and against, any and all Losses asserted against, imposed on or incurred by the Recipient Indemnified Parties, arising out of or attributable to:

(a) Fraud, theft or embezzlement by directors, officers, employees, agents, Subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of this Agreement;

(b) Acts of negligence or willful misconduct committed by directors, officers, employees, agents, Subcontractors, successors or assigns of the Administrator during the term of this Agreement;

(c) Security breaches as described in Section 2.9 to the extent the actions resulting in such breaches were not the result of the written or express direction or request of, or made with the prior written consent of, Recipient or its respective permitted designees;

(d) The Administrator's willful misconduct or negligence with regard to its provision of the Services; or which arise out of a material breach of this Agreement by the Administrator;

(e) Any wrongful use of Recipient's Confidential Information obtained under this Agreement;

(f) Fines, penalties and interest paid to a Governmental Authority arising out of a breach of Applicable Law by the Administrator;

(g) actual or alleged infringement or violation of a third party's Intellectual Property (as defined in the Master Agreement) rights ("IP Claims") arising out of or in connection with the supply of the Services provided by or on behalf of the Administrator; provided, however, that the Administrator shall have no indemnification obligations as to IP Claims based on the use of any Allocated Intellectual Property, Business IT Systems, Business Software (each, as defined in the Master Agreement) or any service provided consistent with Seller's practices as of the Closing Date; or

(h) Any enforcement of this indemnity.

Section 4.2 Indemnification of the Administrator. From and after the Closing Date, the Administrator and its Affiliates, controlling Persons, officers, designees, directors, employees, agents, representatives and assigns (each, an "Administrator Indemnified Party" and collectively, with each other Administrator Indemnified Party, the "Administrator Indemnified Parties") shall not be responsible for, and Recipient shall indemnify and hold each Administrator Indemnified Party harmless from and against, any and all Losses asserted against, imposed on or incurred by the Administrator Indemnified Parties, arising out of or attributable to:

(a) Acts of negligence or willful misconduct committed by directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, successors or assigns of Recipient during the term of this Agreement;

(b) Recipient's willful misconduct or negligence or which arise out of the breach of this Agreement by Recipient;

(c) Third party claims for loss or damage; except for third party claims for which the Administrator would have an obligation to indemnify Recipient under Section 4.1;

(d) Recipient's wrongful use of the Administrator's Confidential Information obtained under this Agreement;

(e) IP Claims arising out of or in connection with the use of the Services by Recipient; or

(f) Any enforcement of this indemnity.

Section 4.3 Indemnification Procedures.

(a) If any Person entitled to indemnification under Section 4.1 or Section 4.2 (the "Indemnitee") receives notice of assertion or commencement of any a claim or demand made by, or an action, proceeding or investigation instituted by, any Person not a party to this Agreement (a "Third Party Claim") against such Indemnitee in respect of which the party required to indemnify such Indemnitee under Section 4.1 or Section 4.2 (the "Indemnitor") may be obligated to provide indemnification under this Agreement, the Indemnitee shall give such Indemnitor prompt written notice (but in no event later than 30 days after becoming aware) thereof and such notice shall include a reasonable description of the claim and any documents relating to the claim and an estimate of the Loss (to the extent practicable) and shall reference the specific sections of this Agreement that form the basis of such claim; provided, that no delay on the part of the Indemnitee in notifying any Indemnitor shall relieve the Indemnitor from any obligation hereunder unless (and then solely to the extent) the Indemnitor is actually prejudiced by such delay. Thereafter, the Indemnitee shall deliver to the Indemnitor, within five (5) Business Days after the Indemnitee's receipt thereof, copies of all notices and documents (including court papers) received by the Indemnitee relating to the Third Party Claim.

(b) The Indemnitor shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Third Party Claim and may assume the defense thereof with counsel selected by the Indemnitor. If the Indemnitor assumes such defense, the Indemnitee shall have the right to participate in the defense thereof and to employ counsel, at its own expense, separate from the counsel employed by the Indemnitor, it being understood that the Indemnitor shall control such defense. The Indemnitor shall be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel employed by the Indemnitee for any period during which the Indemnitor has not assumed the defense thereof. All of the parties hereto shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to, cooperate in the defense of any Third Party Claim, and, if the Indemnitor assumes such defense, such cooperation shall include the retention and (upon the Indemnitor's request) the provision to the Indemnitor of records and information that are relevant to such Third Party Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder. Whether or not the Indemnitor shall have assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitee shall not admit any liability with respect to, or pay, settle, compromise, or discharge, such Third Party Claim without the Indemnitor's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), and any such admission, payment, settlement, compromise, or discharge without the Indemnitor's prior written consent shall be deemed to be a waiver by the Indemnitee of any right to indemnity for all Losses related to such Third Party Claim. If the Indemnitor has assumed the defense of a Third Party Claim, the Indemnitor may only pay, settle, compromise, or discharge a Third Party Claim with the Indemnitee's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed); provided that the Indemnitor may pay, settle, compromise, or discharge such a Third Party Claim without the written consent of the Indemnitee if such settlement (i) includes a full and complete release of the Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Third Party Claim, (ii) does not subject the Indemnitee to any non-monetary relief or to any injunctive relief or other equitable remedy, and (iii) does not include a statement or admission of fault, culpability, or failure to act by or on behalf of the Indemnitee. If the Indemnitor submits to the Indemnitee a bona fide settlement offer that satisfies the requirements set forth in the proviso of the immediately preceding sentence and the Indemnitee refuses to consent as provided in this Section 4.3(b) to such settlement, then thereafter the Indemnitor's liability to the Indemnitee with respect to such Third Party Claim shall not exceed the Indemnitor's portion of the settlement amount included in such settlement offer, and the Indemnitee shall either assume the defense of such Third Party Claim or pay the Indemnitor's attorney's fees and other out-of-pocket costs incurred thereafter in continuing the defense of such Third Party Claim.

Section 4.4 IP Claims. Further, in the event that the provision of any Service infringes, violates or constitutes the misappropriation of, is alleged to infringe, violate or misappropriate or, in the reasonable judgment of the Administrator's counsel, is likely to infringe, violate or constitute the misappropriation of, any Intellectual Property of any third party, the Administrator shall use commercially reasonable efforts at its sole expense either (a) procure for Recipient the right to continue to use such infringing, violating or misappropriating portions of the Services or (b) modify or replace such infringing, violating or misappropriating portions of the Services so that they are non-infringing, non-violating or non-misappropriating, as applicable, and of at least equivalent performance and functionality to that prior to such modification or replacement. If the Administrator is unable after the use of commercially reasonable efforts, to complete either of the options under subsection (a) or (b) above, the Administrator shall notify Recipient, and the parties shall cooperate to determine a commercially reasonable alternative approach for the provision of such Service without infringing, violating or misappropriating the Intellectual Property of any third party.

Section 4.5 Mitigation of Damages. Each indemnified party must mitigate, in accordance with Applicable Law, any Indemnifiable Losses (as defined in the Master Agreement) for which such indemnified party seeks indemnification under this Agreement.

Section 4.6 Insurance. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, (a) each party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to use insurance provided by a third party to cover any Indemnifiable Losses applicable to it, and (b) no party indemnified under this ARTICLE IV shall be indemnified or held harmless hereunder to the extent such Indemnifiable Losses are covered by insurance provided by a third Person.

Section 4.7 Exclusive Remedy. Each party acknowledges and agrees that, following the date hereof, other than in the case of actual fraud or as otherwise provided by Applicable Law, the following shall be the sole and exclusive remedies of such party for any claims arising from or related to this Agreement: (a) the right to indemnification as provided in this ARTICLE IV; (b) the right to require performance of any Service to the extent required under Section 2.2; (c) the right to require re-performance of any Service to the extent required under Section 2.13; (d) the right to an injunction, specific performance or other equitable non-monetary relief when available under Applicable Law; (e) the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to ARTICLE VI; (f) the right to actual damages for breach of Section 3.4 or Section 8.10 (but, for the purposes of clarity, not for breach of any other section of this Agreement); and (g) with respect to equitable relief available hereunder, including Section 2.16(b).

Section 4.8 Limitation of Liability.

(a) NEITHER PARTY WILL BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR ANY PUNITIVE, EXEMPLARY OR OTHER SPECIAL DAMAGES, OR ANY INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER SUCH DAMAGES ARE BASED IN CONTRACT, BREACH OF WARRANTY, TORT, NEGLIGENCE OR ANY OTHER THEORY, EXCEPT (I) TO THE EXTENT AWARDED OR PAID TO A THIRD PARTY IN CONNECTION WITH A THIRD PARTY CLAIM OR PAID TO A THIRD PARTY IN CONNECTION WITH A DATA SECURITY BREACH; (II) FOR CLAIMS BASED ON A BREACH OF SECTION 8.10 HEREUNDER; OR (III) FOR CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FRAUD, GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT.

(b) THE MAXIMUM AGGREGATE LIABILITY OF A PARTY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE CAPPED AT THE AMOUNT OF SERVICE FEES AND EXPENSES PAYABLE BY RECIPIENT TO THE ADMINISTRATOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT DURING THE TWELVE (12) MONTH PERIOD IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO THE DATE OF THE EVENT GIVING RISE TO SUCH LIABILITY, EXCEPT FOR (I) CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FRAUD, GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, (II) CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FAILURE TO PAY SERVICE FEES AND EXPENSES IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF SECTION 2.3, AND (III) AS PROVIDED IN SECTION 4.8(c) BELOW; PROVIDED, THAT IF THE MOST RECENT EVENT GIVING RISE TO LIABILITY OCCURS PRIOR TO THE TWELVE (12) MONTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE AGREEMENT, THEN THE AMOUNT IN THIS SECTION 4.8(b) SHALL EQUAL TWELVE (12) TIMES THE RESULT OBTAINED BY DIVIDING (X) THE TOTAL FEES ACTUALLY PAID BY RECIPIENT TO THE ADMINISTRATOR UNDER THE AGREEMENT FROM THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS AGREEMENT THROUGH THE DATE ON WHICH SUCH EVENT OCCURRED, BY (Y) THE NUMBER OF MONTHS FROM THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS AGREEMENT THROUGH SUCH DATE.

(c) SEPARATE AND APART FROM THE LIMITATION SET FORTH IN SECTION 4.8(b), IN NO EVENT SHALL ANY PARTY BE LIABLE FOR DAMAGES AS A RESULT OF A DATA SECURITY BREACH IN AN AMOUNT IN EXCESS OF THIRTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ($35,000,000).

ARTICLE V

REGULATORY ACTIONS AND LEGAL ACTIONS

Section 5.1 Regulatory Actions. The Administrator shall have no responsibility or liability in respect of any complaints, inquiries or proceedings made by any Governmental Authority with respect to the Administered Products (each, a "Regulatory Action") other than (a) to notify Recipient in writing promptly of any such Regulatory Action of which the Administrator becomes aware as promptly as practicable after becoming aware thereof, and (b) to provide Recipient (and any third party that Recipient may designate in writing) copies of any files or other documents that Recipient may reasonably request in connection with its review of such matters, in each case, other than such files, documents and other information as would reasonably be expected to, in the judgment of counsel to the Administrator, lead to the loss or waiver of the Administrator's rights in respect of legal privilege. Recipient shall reimburse the Administrator for any reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Administrator in respect of any such Regulatory Actions.

Section 5.2 Contested Claims; Legal Actions.

(a) If, in the course of providing the Services pursuant to ARTICLE II, the Administrator determines that a claim for payment under any Administered Product either requires investigation or should be contested or denied, in whole or in part, the Administrator shall promptly, and in any event within five (5) Business Days of such determination, notify Recipient in writing of such determination for Recipient's direction. Following such notification, the Administrator shall act only in accordance with the direction of Recipient consistent with the Services in connection with such claim.

(b) The Administrator shall have no responsibility or liability in respect of any lawsuit, action, arbitration or other dispute resolution proceeding that is instituted or threatened with respect to any matter relating to the Administered Products (each, a "Legal Action") other than (i) to notify Recipient in writing promptly of any such Legal Action of which the Administrator becomes aware, and (ii) to provide Recipient (and any third party that Recipient may designate in writing) copies of any files or other documents that Recipient may reasonably request in connection with its review of such matters, in each case other than such files, documents and other information as would, in the judgment of counsel to the Administrator, lead to the loss or waiver of legal privilege. Recipient shall reimburse the Administrator for any reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Administrator in respect of any such Legal Actions.

TERM AND TERMINATION

Section 6.1 Term. Subject to Section 6.2, Section 6.3, Section 6.4 and Section 6.5, this Agreement shall remain in force and effect for so long as any of the Administered Products are in effect unless terminated pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

Section 6.2 Termination by Mutual Consent. This Agreement may be terminated by mutual agreement of the parties in writing at any time.

Section 6.3 Termination Upon Notice. This Agreement, or all Services with respect to an Administered Products Block, may be terminated by Recipient upon one hundred and eighty (180) days' prior written notice to the Administrator.

Section 6.4 Termination by the Administrator.

(a) This Agreement may be terminated immediately by the Administrator upon written notice to Recipient if any Governmental Authority determines that the assignment by the Administrator of its rights and obligations under this Agreement to any one of its Affiliates under Section 8.2 violates applicable law.

(b) This Agreement may be terminated by the Administrator with respect to any individual Service immediately upon written notice to Recipient if any Governmental Authority determines that the performing of such Service violates applicable law.

Section 6.5 Financial Remedies Upon Material Breach. In the event of material breach of any provision of this Agreement by a party, the non-defaulting party shall give the defaulting party written notice thereof, and:

(a) If such breach arises from Recipient's non-payment of an amount that is not in dispute, Recipient shall cure the breach within fifteen (15) calendar days after receipt of written notice of such non-payment. If Recipient does not cure such breach by such date, then Recipient shall pay the Administrator, the undisputed amount plus an amount of interest equal to one percent (1.0%) per month from and including the date such payment is due under this provision until, but excluding, the date of payment. The parties agree that this rate of interest constitutes reasonable liquidated damages and not an unenforceable penalty.

(b) If such breach is for any other material failure to perform in accordance with this Agreement, the defaulting party shall cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days of the date of such notice.

(c) In the case of any such breach that is not cured in accordance with Section 6.5, and subsections (a) and (b) above, then the non-defaulting party shall also have the right to terminate Services with respect to the affected Administered Products Block upon written notice thereof to the defaulting party.

Section 6.6 Return of Information and Books and Records after Termination. Upon termination of this Agreement, Recipient will return to the Administrator all of the Administrator's Confidential Information, if any, and any other similar or related materials, and the Administrator will return all of the data and files of Recipient, including its Books and Records and Recipient's Confidential Information. Recipient agrees to allow the Administrator reasonable access to, including the right to make copies of, all such returned materials in the event such access is requested by the Administrator for any reasonable and legitimate purpose, including, but not limited to, as a result of any Regulatory Action or Legal Action.

Section 6.7 Effect of Termination. Termination of this Agreement for any reason under this ARTICLE VI shall not affect (i) any liabilities or obligations of either party arising before such termination or out of the events causing such termination; or (ii) any damages or other remedies to which a party may be entitled under this Agreement, at law or in equity, arising from any breaches of such liabilities or obligations. Termination of this Agreement shall automatically terminate any work orders then in effect and, other than as provided in Section 6.6, the Administrator's obligation to render any Service (including any Additional Service) to Recipient. In the event of termination of this Agreement, Recipient will pay for all Services rendered through the effective date of termination (including for work in progress) and all work related to Section 6.6 performed before or after the effective date of termination in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

Section 8.10 Treatment of Confidential Information.

(a) Each party may come into possession or knowledge of Confidential Information (as defined below) of the other in connection with the obligations to be performed by such party under this Agreement.

(b) "Confidential Information" with respect to a party, means any and all information provided by, made available by or obtained on behalf of, such party, any of its Affiliates or Representatives, on, before or after the date hereof, including, with respect to Recipient, Non-Public Personal Information and all data relating to the contractholders of the Administered Products (including their rights and obligations under the Administered Products) which is maintained, processed or generated by Recipient; provided that Confidential Information does not include information that (i) is generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the receiving party in violation of its confidentiality obligation, (ii) is independently developed by the receiving party, its Affiliates or any of its Representatives without use or access to the disclosing party's Confidential Information, or (iii) is rightfully obtained by the receiving party from a third party without, to the knowledge of the receiving party, breach by such third party of a duty of confidentiality of any nature to the disclosing party; provided that the foregoing exceptions shall not supersede the obligations of the receiving party with respect to any Non-Public Personal Information. For the avoidance of doubt, as between Recipient and the Administrator, Confidential Information of the Administrator includes the foregoing categories of information relating to the business or operations of, or provided by or on behalf of, any of the Administrator's Subcontractors, whether such information is provided to Recipient on, before or after the date hereof.

(c) "Non-Public Personal Information" means any (i) personally identifiable information or data (including medical, financial and other personal information) concerning or relating to Recipient's past, current or prospective applicants, customers, clients, employees, agents, suppliers, vendors, policy owners, contract holders, insureds, claimants, and beneficiaries of Administered Products or contracts issued by Recipient, and their representatives, (ii) any such personally identifiable information or data that the Administrator or its Representatives or Subcontractors collect or derive from interactions with Recipient's past, current or prospective applicants, customers, clients, employees, agents, suppliers, vendors, policy owners, contract holders, insureds, claimants, and beneficiaries of Administered Products, or (iii) an aggregation or a derivation thereof; provided that information that is otherwise publicly available shall not be considered "Non-Public Personal Information".

(d) Recipient and the Administrator agree to hold each other's Confidential Information in strictest confidence and to take all reasonable steps to ensure that Confidential Information is not disclosed in any form by any means by such party, its Affiliates or by any of its Representative or Subcontractors to third parties of any kind, other than the Representatives performing services for such party who need access to such Confidential Information in the course and scope of providing such services, except as is authorized by the other party in advance and in compliance with all Applicable Law. If any Confidential Information needs to be disclosed as required by Applicable Law or court order, the disclosing party shall (if permitted by Applicable Law) provide prompt notice to the other party prior to such disclosure so that such other party may (at its expense) seek a protection order or other appropriate remedy which is necessary to protect its interest.

(e) The Administrator may disclose Recipient's Confidential Information to the Administrator's Subcontractors with a reasonable need to know, subject to such Subcontractor first being obligated to information security, confidentiality and limited use restrictions no less protective of Recipient's Confidential Information than the provisions in this Agreement. Further, Recipient will negotiate in good faith and diligently to agree to additional confidentiality and limited use terms and conditions as may reasonably be required by the Administrator's Subcontractors whose confidential information may be disclosed to Recipient in connection with the Services. Until such time as such additional confidentiality terms and conditions are agreed to in writing by Recipient, the Administrator may be limited by its contractual obligations with its Subcontractors in sharing certain Confidential Information with Recipient.

(f) The Administrator (and its Subcontractors) may use Recipient's Confidential Information; provided that such party shall establish and maintain safeguards against the unauthorized access, destruction, loss or alteration of Recipient's Confidential Information which are no less rigorous than those maintained by the Administrator and its Affiliates (or such Subcontractor) for their own information of a similar nature (but not less than using a reasonable standard of care), and in compliance with the terms of the Privacy and Security Addendum in the form attached as Schedule VI hereto.

(g) Further to the foregoing, the Administrator shall, and shall cause its Representatives, Affiliates, and Subcontractors to, protect the confidentiality of Recipient's Confidential Information (including the Non-Public Personal Information) by:

(i) holding all such information transmitted to them by or on behalf of Recipient in strict confidence;

(ii) maintaining appropriate measures that are designed to protect the security, integrity and confidentiality of such information;

(iii) using such information solely in connection with carrying out the Administrator's obligations under this Agreement and in compliance with the Recipient's consumer privacy notice;

(iv) disclosing such information to third parties only as necessary to perform services under this Agreement and in compliance with Recipient's consumer privacy notice; and

(v) disclosing such information as may be required by Applicable Law or court order; provided that the Administrator (or its Subcontractors) as applicable shall (if permitted by Applicable Law) provide prompt notice to Recipient prior to such disclosure so that Recipient may (at its expense) seek a protection order or other appropriate remedy which is necessary to protect its interest.

(h) Unauthorized Acts. Each party shall (i) notify the other party promptly of any unauthorized possession, use, or knowledge of any Confidential Information by any person which shall become known to it, any attempt by any person to gain possession of Confidential Information without authorization or any attempt to use or acquire knowledge of any Confidential Information without authorization (collectively, "Unauthorized Access"), (ii) promptly furnish to the other party full details of the Unauthorized Access and use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the other party in investigating or preventing the reoccurrence of any Unauthorized Access, (iii) cooperate with the other party in any litigation and investigation against third parties deemed necessary by such party to protect its proprietary rights, and (iv) use commercially reasonable efforts to prevent a recurrence of any such Unauthorized Access. To the extent that a party inadvertently obtains access to any Confidential Information of the other party to which it was otherwise not intended to have access, such party shall immediately notify the other party when they are aware that they have received such Confidential Information or upon notice from the other party, they shall maintain confidentiality of such information until such time that it is either destroyed or returned to the other party, and shall promptly destroy any such Confidential Information and instruct its employees not use or otherwise act on such Confidential Information.

Section 8.11 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable under any present or future law or if determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unenforceable, and if the rights or obligations of Recipient or the Administrator under this Agreement will not be materially and adversely affected thereby, such provision shall be fully severable, and this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part of this Agreement, and the remaining provisions of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom.

Section 8.12 Survival. Upon termination of this Agreement for any reason whatsoever, the obligations set forth in Section 2.5 (to the extent amounts owed thereunder are in respect of periods up to and including such termination date), Section 6.6, Section 6.7 and ARTICLE IV and ARTICLE VIII shall survive such termination.

Section 8.13 Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such action, suit or other proceeding, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such action, suit or other proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such action, suit or other proceeding is improper; provided, that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any action, suit or other proceeding will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any action or proceeding under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 8.1, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(b) The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that, without the necessity of posting bond or other undertaking, the parties hereto shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in accordance with this Agreement, this being in addition (subject to the terms of this Agreement) to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity. In the event that any Action (as defined in the Master Agreement) is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no party hereto shall allege, and each party hereto hereby waives any defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law.

(c) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 8.13.

Section 8.14 Insurance Coverage. Without limiting the Administrator's undertaking to indemnify and hold Recipient harmless as set forth herein, during the term of this Agreement, the Administrator shall obtain and maintain cyber, errors and omissions and fidelity bond insurance with minimum limits of no less than ten million dollars ($10,000,000) from an insurer or insurers with policy holder ratings of at least "A-" and financial ratings of at least "VII" in the then-latest edition of Best's Insurance Guide; provided that the obligation to obtain and maintain cyber insurance in accordance with the foregoing shall not commence until the completion of the migration of the Business IT Systems (as defined in the Master Agreement).

The Service Schedules set forth, for each Scheduled Service, the Providing Party and the Receiving Party. The Receiving Party, in its sole discretion, may designate any Affiliate to receive a Scheduled Service, provided that any non-de minimis additional cost to the Providing Party caused by such change shall be borne by the Receiving Party.

(d) The Providing Party may reasonably supplement, modify, substitute or otherwise alter any of the Scheduled Services from time to time in a manner consistent with supplements, modifications, substitutions or alterations made for similar services provided or otherwise made available by the Providing Party to itself or its Affiliates; provided, however, that the availability, level, scope and quality of service shall not be decreased in any material respect as a result of such supplements, modifications, substitutions or alterations nor shall the Service Fee therefor increase; provided, further, the Providing Party shall, to the extent practicable, provide Receiving Party with prior written notice of any such supplements, modifications, substitutions or alterations. Unless otherwise agreed by the Providing Party, the Providing Party shall not be required to provide a scope or volume of the Scheduled Services greater than the scope and volume of the applicable Scheduled Services provided to the Business or Retained Business (as applicable) during the twelve (12) month period immediately prior to the MTA Effective Date, plus increases to the Business or Retained Business (as applicable) during the Service Term in the ordinary course of business, consistent with past practice.

(e) Either Party may need to request minor changes to a Scheduled Service to resolve issues that were not apparent as of the Effective Date. In each such case the Transition Managers shall discuss such potential changes and determine possible scope impact. In the event the Parties mutually agree the changes are outside the description or scope of the Scheduled Services, and without limiting the Providing Party's rights under Section 2.1.1(d) above, then either Party may request in writing any modification, supplement, substitute or alteration (each, a "Change") to a Scheduled Service, which request shall include a description of the proposed Change requested and the associated business specifications. Any Changes proposed by a Party shall be considered and implemented pursuant to the change procedures set forth in this Section 2.1.1(e) except for changes that constitute requests for Additional Services which shall be governed by Section 2.1.5. Upon receipt of a request from a Party for a Change, the Providing Party shall provide the Receiving Party with a written proposal in respect of such Change, which proposal shall include: (i) a description of the services, functions and responsibilities the Providing Party anticipates performing in connection with such Change, (ii) a description of any additional obligations of the Receiving Party required in connection with the Change, (iii) a schedule for transitioning, commencing and completing such Change, (iv) any non-de minimis changes in the Service Fees associated with the Change, and shall take into account the resources and expense of the Providing Party for the then existing Scheduled Services that will not be required or incurred by the Providing Party if the Change is performed by the Providing Party, and (v) a description of the human resources necessary to provide the Change. A Change shall not be binding on the Parties until memorialized in a written document executed by both Parties.

(f) Notwithstanding the foregoing, except as set forth in the Migration Plan, the Providing Party and its Affiliates (i) shall not be required to expand their facilities, incur any capital expenditures, employ additional personnel or maintain the employment of any specific persons in order to provide the Scheduled Services, subject to the Providing Party's obligation to meet the standard required by Section 2.4.1 hereof, and (ii) shall be under no obligation to obtain any new licenses, systems or operations not already maintained by the Providing Party (including those acquired pursuant to the MTA) to comply with the obligations set forth in this Agreement.

2.1.2 Direction of Employees. Each Party shall be solely responsible for all salary, employment, payroll and other benefits of and liabilities relating to, and compliance with immigration and visa laws and requirements in respect of its personnel assigned to perform the Scheduled Services for which such Party is the Providing Party. In performing their respective duties hereunder, all personnel of a Party engaged in providing Scheduled Services shall be under the direction, control and supervision of such Party; and such Party shall have the sole right to exercise all authority with respect to the employment (including termination of employment), assignment and compensation of such personnel. The employees of a Providing Party engaged in providing Scheduled Services to a Receiving Party shall not, by virtue thereof, become employees of such Receiving Party.

2.1.3 Cooperation. The Receiving Party of a Scheduled Service shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate with the Providing Party with respect to the provision of such Scheduled Service and enable the Providing Party to provide such Scheduled Service in accordance with this Agreement. The Receiving Party shall provide the Providing Party with access to its facilities as is reasonably necessary for the Providing Party to perform the Scheduled Services, and information reasonably necessary for the Providing Party to perform the Scheduled Services other than, in the case of Scheduled Services provided to Buyer or its Affiliates, information that reasonably should have been known to the Providing Party based on historical ownership of the Business. In connection with the foregoing, the Providing Party shall comply with its obligations set forth in Section 2.11.2. If the Receiving Party is delayed in or fails to provide access or information as required by this Section 2.1.3 with respect to a Scheduled Service and such delay or failure could prevent or materially hinder the Providing Party from providing such Scheduled Service, the Providing Party shall provide clear and timely written notice to the Receiving Party detailing the access or information that is needed and the extent to which a delay or failure will be caused by not providing that access or information, and the Providing Party shall not be responsible for any delays or failures to provide such Scheduled Service in accordance with the terms of this Agreement to the extent detailed in such written notice so long as the Receiving Party has not provided such access or information, until such time as such access or information has been provided; provided, that the Receiving Party may reasonably dispute that such access or information is needed. Without limiting the foregoing, Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to perform such Scheduled Service despite any such failure to comply with this Section 2.1.3.

2.1.4 Permits. VSC represents and covenants that as of the date hereof, it has, and any of its Affiliates through which it intends to provide a Scheduled Service to Buyer or any of its Affiliates have, all Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which VSC and its Affiliates are responsible, and such Permits shall survive and remain effective after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the MTA through the end of the applicable Service Term. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Providing Party of a Scheduled Service shall not be obligated to provide such Scheduled Service if the provision of such Scheduled Service would violate any Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics. If a Providing Party is prevented from providing, or causing to be provided, any Scheduled Service because: (a) any necessary Permit is not in place; or (b) providing such Scheduled Service or causing it to be provided would violate Applicable Law or rules of professional ethics, such Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to (i) notify the Receiving Party of such prevention as soon as practicable, and (ii) provide alternative equivalent services, provided that the Receiving Party shall pay any additional costs associated with such alternative except to the extent Buyer or any of its Affiliates is the Receiving Party prior to the first anniversary of the Closing. If, after the date hereof, the Providing Party changes the manner in which it provides the Scheduled Services such that is must obtain any additional Permits necessary to provide the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible, the Providing Party shall be responsible for obtaining such necessary Permits, unless such change is made at the Receiving Party's request, and the Receiving Party is aware of additional Permit requirements, in which event the Receiving Party shall be responsible, at its own expense, for obtaining such necessary Permits provided that if the First Year Flat Fee has not yet been fully allocated then the cost of obtaining such necessary Permits shall first be applied as a credit against the First Year Flat Fee and any such costs that exceed the First Year Flat Fee shall be at the Receiving Party's expense. The Providing Party shall reasonably cooperate with the Receiving Party in connection with obtaining such Permits.

2.1.5 Additional Services. The Parties each have used commercially reasonable efforts to identify and describe the Scheduled Services. However, the Parties acknowledge and agree that there may be services which are not identified on the Service Schedules that (i) (A) were provided by VSC or its Affiliates to one of the Acquired Companies in the twelve (12) months prior to the MTA Effective Date, (B) had been performed by the employees now employed by VSC or its Affiliates or provided pursuant to contracts to which VSC or one of its Affiliates is now a party or assets now owned by VSC or its Affiliates, and (C) are necessary to appropriately transfer the Acquired Companies to Buyer or for Buyer to operate the Acquired Companies after the Closing, or (ii) (A) were used in the Retained Business in the twelve (12) months prior to the MTA Effective Date, (B) had been performed by the employees then-currently employed by Buyer or any of its Affiliates at the time of the request, and (C) are necessary to operate the Retained Business after the Closing (collectively, the "Additional Services"). Each Party may provide written notice to the other Party requesting such Additional Services setting forth in reasonable detail a description of the requested Additional Service(s), the proposed start date or dates and the proposed termination date or dates, (a) at any time during the first one hundred and twenty (120) days following the Effective Date, (b) in the case of a recurring service provided on a quarterly basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the first full calendar quarter after the Effective Date, (c) in the case of a recurring service provided on a semiannual basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the second full calendar quarter after the Effective Date, and (d) in the case of a recurring service provided on an annual basis, within thirty (30) days following the last day of the first full calendar year after the Effective Date. The Parties agree to cooperate and negotiate in good faith using commercially reasonable efforts in order to come to an agreement regarding the provision of Additional Services on reasonable terms and conditions that are mutually agreed to by the Parties; provided, however, that (x) the Additional Services shall be provided on terms and conditions as were applicable prior to the Closing Date and the price for such Additional Services shall be set at the Providing Party's actual Direct Costs, allocable general corporate overhead and, subject to Section 4.1.2, Out of Pocket Costs, with (i) the methodologies for allocations of general corporate overhead charged to the Receiving Party being consistent with the historical methodologies for the allocation of such costs in the twelve (12) month period prior to the MTA Effective Date; provided, that the allocated costs of such general corporate overhead shall not exceed sixteen percent (16%) of the Direct Costs, and (ii) all other fees and Out of Pocket

Costs to be passed through without mark-up, and (y) the Providing Party shall be afforded a reasonable period of time to commence providing any Additional Service after such service becomes a Scheduled Service. For the avoidance of doubt, the Providing Party's obligations to perform Additional Services shall be subject to additional limitations set forth in Section 2.1.1(e). Any Additional Services shall in all respects be subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall be considered added to Service Schedules as applicable, shall constitute an amendment to this Agreement which shall be signed by the Parties and shall thereafter be considered a Scheduled Service. Upon the identification and provision of any Additional Service for any reason, the then-applicable Annual Flat Fee shall be adjusted to be an amount equal to such Annual Flat Fee times an amount equal to one (1) plus a fraction equal to (I) the Allocated Service Fees associated with such Additional Services for the remainder of the first, second or third year of the Term, as applicable, divided by (II) the Allocated Service Fees associated with all Scheduled Services for the remainder of the first, second or third year of the Term, as applicable. Unless otherwise agreed by the Parties, the term for such Additional Services shall be the Termination Date of the last Termination Date of any other Scheduled Service.

2.1.6 Project Services. From time to time during the Term, a Receiving Party's Transition Manager may submit a written request in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A that the Providing Party provide a Project Service under this Agreement, which may include Migration Services. The Providing Party shall consider any request for a Project Service in good faith and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide the applicable Project Service; provided, that without limiting Seller and its Affiliates' obligations to perform the services contemplated by the Migration Plan in good faith and in accordance with the MTA, no Party shall be obligated to provide any Project Services if the provision of such Project Service would materially interfere with the operation of its business. The Providing Party shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, but in any event no later than fifteen (15) Business Days after the date of receipt of such request, either agree to provide such Project Service or provide a written counter proposal. If the Providing Party agrees to provide a Project Service, then a representative of each Party shall in good faith negotiate the terms of a statement of work (the "SOW"), which will describe in detail the service, project scope, term, and Service Fees for the applicable Project Service; provided, that any Service Fees for a Project Service shall be charged in a manner, and using the same allocation methodology, as is used for the Scheduled Services (and in any event not more than the Providing Party's actual costs during the applicable Service Term). Service Fees for Migration Services shall constitute "Separation and Migration Costs" as defined in the MTA and shall be subject to the cost sharing methodology set forth in Section 5.24(b) of the MTA. Once agreed to in writing, the SOW shall be deemed part of this Agreement as of such date and the Project Services shall be deemed Scheduled Services provided hereunder, in each case subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the SOW (except that such Project Services shall be excluded from the Annual Flat Fees unless otherwise expressly set forth on Schedule 2.1.6[2]). Schedule 2.1.6 sets forth any inflight Project Services that will continue to be provided by the applicable Providing Party and received by the applicable Receiving Party as of the Effective Date.

2.2 Provision and Migration of Scheduled Services.

[2] Note to Draft: Once identified, to be determined whether inflight Project Services as of the Closing will be subject to the First Year Flat Fee.

2.2.1 The Parties will work together and begin or continue the process of migrating, to the extent applicable, the Scheduled Services from the Providing Party to the Receiving Party, or one or more of its Affiliates, or to a third party (at the Receiving Party's direction) such that the completion of the migration of the applicable Scheduled Services shall occur no later than the end of the applicable Service Term.[3] Except as otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties, such migration shall consist of the procurement by the Receiving Party of replacements for the Scheduled Services (whether performed internally or by third parties). Each Providing Party shall provide or cause to be provided each of the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible through the expiration of the Service Term, except (a) as automatically modified by earlier termination of a Scheduled Service by the Receiving Party in accordance with this Agreement or (b) as otherwise agreed to by the Parties in writing.

2.2.2 VSC shall provide knowledge transfer services during the Term reasonably necessary to facilitate the execution of the Migration Plan and the separation and migration of the applicable books and records and other Allocated Assets and Acquired Companies by the Buyer during the Term and after the termination of the Scheduled Services to support the separation contemplated by the MTA; provided, that, if such knowledge transfer would be unreasonably burdensome to VSC, the Parties will discuss the extent to which such knowledge transfer can be reasonably accommodated and any such agreed additional knowledge transfer (and the associated Service Fees) shall be documented in writing by the Parties as a Migration Service and all applicable Service Fees shall constitute "Separation and Migration Costs" as defined in the MTA and shall be subject to the cost sharing methodology set forth in Section 5.24(b) of the MTA.

2.2.3 The Parties acknowledge and agree that all costs associated with the transfer and delivery of Acquired Company Books and Records required by Sections 2.5(a)(vii) and 5.2(b) of the MTA shall constitute "Separation and Migration Costs" as defined in the MTA.

2.3 Dispute Resolution.

2.3.1 Amicable Resolution. The Parties mutually desire that friendly collaboration will continue between them during the Term. Accordingly, they will try to resolve in an amicable manner all disagreements and misunderstandings connected with their respective rights and obligations under this Agreement, including any amendments hereto. In furtherance thereof, in the event of any dispute or disagreement (a "Dispute") between the Parties in connection with this Agreement (including the standard of performance, delay of performance or non-performance of obligations, or payment or non-payment of Service Fees hereunder), then the Transition Managers shall seek to resolve the Dispute amicably. If the Transition Managers are unable to resolve a Dispute in a timely manner, then either Transition Manager, by written request to the other, may request that such Dispute be referred for resolution to a designated senior executive of each Party ("Designated Senior Executives"), which Designated Senior Executives will have fifteen (15) days to resolve such Dispute. If the Designated Senior Executives for each Party do not agree to a resolution of such Dispute within fifteen (15) days after the reference of the matter to them, either Party may bring an action regarding such dispute as set forth in Section 11.6.

[3] Note to Draft: This sentence states a general obligation of the Parties and cannot be limited to circumstances where a specific Migration Service has been identified and is being paid for.

2.3.2 Non-Exclusive Remedy. Nothing in this Section 2.3 will prevent either Party from immediately seeking injunctive or interim relief (i) in the event of any actual or threatened breach of any of the provisions of Section 2.4.4 or ARTICLE VIII, (ii) in the event that the Dispute relates to, or involves a claim of, actual or threatened infringement or violation of intellectual property or (iii) to the extent necessary for either Party to preserve any right. All such actions for injunctive or interim relief shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with Section 11.6. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for breach of this Agreement, and further remedies may be pursued in accordance with Section 2.3.1.

2.4 Standard of Services.

2.4.1 General Standard. The Providing Party shall perform each Scheduled Service for which it is responsible or cause such Scheduled Services to be performed for the Receiving Party (A) in accordance with any service standard expressly set forth on the Service Schedules, or (B) in substantially the same manner and using at least the same standard of care and degree of efficiency and quality that the Providing Party, its Affiliates and its Subcontractors used in the twelve (12) months prior to the MTA Effective Date in performing such Scheduled Services or similar services for the Acquired Companies but in no event less than reasonable care, and (C) at all times in accordance with Applicable Law as then in effect, including the maintenance by the Providing Party of all licenses, authorizations, permits and qualifications from Governmental Authorities required to perform the Scheduled Services under this Agreement. The Providing Party's obligation to comply with such standard shall (i) be subject to any limitations or restrictions posed by or resulting from any restrictions imposed on the Providing Party by Applicable Law, and (ii) not extend to issues, error or downtime that are caused by any Force Majeure Event, or internet connectivity or other network traffic problems caused by failures of third party services, hardware, or software to the extent not caused by the willful misconduct or gross negligence of the Providing Party. The Receiving Party understands and agrees that the Providing Party is not in the business of providing transition services to third parties, and under no circumstances shall the Providing Party be held accountable to a higher standard of care than that set forth herein. To the extent there is a conflict between a service standard set forth in the applicable Service Schedule and this service standard, the standard set forth in such Service Schedule shall control.

2.4.2 No Advisory Services. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Scheduled Services hereunder shall in no event include investment management, advisory or legal services.

2.4.3 Shortfall in Services. If a Receiving Party provides the Providing Party with written notice of the occurrence of any Significant Service Shortfall (as defined below) in the Scheduled Services, as reasonably determined by such Receiving Party in good faith, the Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to rectify such Significant Service Shortfall as soon as reasonably possible. For purposes of this Section 2.4.3, a "Significant Service Shortfall" shall be deemed to have occurred if the timing or quality of performance of one or more Scheduled Services provided by the Providing Party hereunder falls below the standard required by Section

2.4.1 hereof; provided that the Providing Party's obligations under this Agreement shall be relieved to the extent, and for the duration of, any Force Majeure Event as set forth in ARTICLE VI. Any dispute as to whether a Significant Service Shortfall occurred shall be resolved in accordance with Section 2.3.1.

2.4.4 Abandonment; Maintenance. Neither Providing Party shall Abandon (as defined below) any of the Scheduled Services for which it is responsible. The Parties agree that if a Providing Party breaches or threatens to breach the foregoing covenant, the relevant Receiving Party may be irreparably harmed, and such Receiving Party shall be entitled to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction compelling specific performance by the Providing Party of its obligations under this Agreement. "Abandon" or "Abandonment" means the threatened or actual intentional refusal by a Providing Party to provide or perform any material element(s) of the Scheduled Services in breach of its obligations under this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Providing Party shall have the right to: (i) shut down temporarily for routine maintenance the operation of any facilities or systems providing any Scheduled Service if in the Providing Party's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable for general maintenance purposes, provided that the Providing Party gives the Receiving Party at least seven (7) days prior written notice of such scheduled maintenance, which shall occur outside of normal business hours or at other time mutually agreed by the Parties, (ii) shut down for emergency purposes the operation of any facilities and systems providing any Scheduled Service if in the Providing Party's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable, provided that the Providing Party shall notify the Receiving Party as soon as is commercially reasonable thereafter and shall use commercially reasonable efforts not to materially disrupt the operation of the Acquired Companies, and (iii) shut down temporarily for "escalated" or "high priority" purposes (e.g., system security updates or patches) the operation of any facilities and systems providing any Scheduled Service if in the Providing Party's reasonable judgment such action is necessary or advisable, provided, that the Providing Party gives the Receiving Party the same prior notice that it gives for any such maintenance to its internal clients and Affiliates.

2.4.5 Disaster Recovery Program. For as long as Scheduled Services are provided hereunder, each Providing Party shall, and shall cause its relevant Affiliates to, maintain backup, business continuation and disaster recovery plans consistent with past practices as they existed during the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the Closing Date.

2.5 Relationship of the Parties; No Agency. Each Party acknowledges that it has entered into this Agreement for independent business reasons. The relationship of the Parties hereunder are those of independent contractors and nothing contained herein shall be deemed to create a joint venture, partnership or any other relationship. Neither Party shall have any power or authority to negotiate or conclude any agreement, or to make any representation or to give any understanding on behalf of the other in any way whatsoever.

2.6 Subcontracting. Each Providing Party may subcontract for the performance of any Scheduled Service to any Person, except that in the case of VSC as the Providing Party, with respect to subcontracting Scheduled Services that are exclusively used by the Business, such subcontracting shall require the prior written consent of Buyer (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed); provided, that, in each case, (a) no such subcontracting shall relieve such Providing Party from any of its obligations or liabilities hereunder, (b) such Providing Party shall remain responsible for all obligations or liabilities of such subcontractor with respect to the providing of such service or services as if provided by such Providing Party, and (c) such Providing Party shall bear any incremental increase in Service Fees due to such Providing Party's selection of a subcontractor to provide Scheduled Services without approval from the Receiving Party.

2.7 Consents. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, if the provision of any Scheduled Service as contemplated by this Agreement requires the consent, license or approval not previously obtained of any third party that is a service vendor of the Providing Party as of Closing, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain as promptly as possible after the date of this Agreement such consent, license, or approval. Each Party shall be responsible for fifty percent (50%) of all out-of-pocket costs associated with obtaining such third party consents, licenses or approvals, including any payments that are required to such third party vendor (it being understood that the cost of obtaining third party consents required for the expansion of Scheduled Services beyond pre-Closing levels shall be the sole responsibility of the Receiving Party). If VSC is unable to obtain the aforementioned third party consents, until such time as such third party consent is obtained, VSC shall, and shall cause each of its Affiliates to, use commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate with Buyer in any lawful and economically feasible alternative arrangement to provide that Buyer shall receive such Scheduled Services. Each Party shall be responsible for fifty percent (50%) of all out-of-pocket costs associated with such alternative. Such arrangement may include performance by VSC or an Affiliate of VSC as agent, subcontracting, sublicensing or subleasing to Buyer, or the Providing Party or its Affiliates enforcing for the benefit (and at the expense) of VSC any and all of its respective rights against any non-affiliated third party associated with the applicable third-party agreement.

2.8 Transition Management. Each Party shall appoint a transition manager (each a "Transition Manager"), who shall initially be [______________] for VSC and [_____________] for Buyer. The Transition Managers shall make operational decisions regarding the Parties' performance of the Scheduled Services under this Agreement. Each Transition Manager shall appoint or designate in writing, directed to the other Transition Manager, a person or persons to act in his or her stead on day-to-day matters within various functional areas when the Transition Manager is unavailable. Subject to the right to delegate duties to others, the Transition Managers shall serve as the primary contact point for the respective principals with respect to the obligations of the Parties under this Agreement. The Transition Manager's responsibilities shall include: (a) conducting reviews of compliance with the service standard in Section 2.4.1; (b) monitoring compliance with this Agreement, including the Service Schedules; (c) resolving disputes under this Agreement; (d) mitigating and resolving technical and business issues; (e) managing the service migration process; and (f) participating in the Dispute resolution process under Section 2.3. The Transition Managers shall have regular meetings with each other in person or via teleconference, pursuant to a reasonable schedule agreed to by the Transition Managers, to discuss the performance of the Parties of their obligations under this Agreement and to resolve any disputes pursuant to Section 2.3. A Party may designate a replacement for its Transition Manager by written notice to the other Party. The Transition Manager, and any successor, shall have an educational background, experience, skills and other qualifications necessary to perform his or her assigned duties. Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to authorize either Transition Manager to amend this Agreement in any way.

2.9 Records and Audit. Each Party shall maintain true and correct records of all receipts, invoices, reports and other documents relating to the provision and receipt of Scheduled Services in accordance with their respective standard accounting practices and procedures, consistently applied, and shall provide each other with reasonable access to such records, subject to Applicable Law and the obligations of ARTICLE VIII.

2.10 Intellectual Property.

2.10.1 Solely to the extent required for the provision of Scheduled Services in accordance with this Agreement, each Party for itself and its Affiliates hereby grants the other Party and its Affiliates a non-exclusive, royalty-free license to use such Intellectual Property owned by such granting Party but only to the extent necessary for the other Party to provide or receive the Scheduled Services, as applicable, solely and exclusively to the extent and during the period such use is necessary to receive or provide such Scheduled Service in accordance with this Agreement. Upon expiration of the applicable Service Term with respect to a Scheduled Service, or the earlier termination of such Scheduled Service, in accordance with this Agreement, the license to use the relevant Intellectual Property in connection with the provision or receipt of the applicable Scheduled Service will terminate. Upon the expiration or termination of the Service Term for an applicable Scheduled Service, each Party shall cease use of all applicable Intellectual Property owned the licensing Party and shall return or destroy (at the licensing Party's request) all information or embodiments of such Intellectual Property provided in connection with this Agreement. Except as set forth above, no license or right express or implied is granted under this Agreement by either Party or its Affiliates in or to their respective Intellectual Property.

2.10.2 The performance of the Scheduled Services will not affect the ownership of any assets or Intellectual Property rights of either Party, and neither Party will gain, by virtue of the delivery and receipt of Scheduled Services, any rights of ownership in, to and under any Intellectual Property or other property owned by the other Party.

2.11 Certain Obligations of the Parties.

2.11.1 Each Party shall adhere, and shall cause its Representatives to adhere, to all applicable policies and procedures of the other Party and its Affiliates in effect as of the Closing Date, and such other reasonable applicable policies and procedures with respect to which the other Party notifies such Party in writing, within a reasonable period of time following receipt of such notice (except that a Party may require the other Party to comply, and in such case the other Party shall comply, immediately following receipt of any notice relating to policies or procedures addressing compliance with Applicable Law or such Party's cybersecurity or data security policies or requirements).

2.11.2 Each Party shall follow, and shall cause its Representatives to follow all security and access policies of the other Party, at all times during the Term of this Agreement, to the extent that such Party or its Representatives requires ingress to and egress from the premises occupied by the other Party or its Affiliates, for reasonable purposes necessary to the delivery or receipt of Scheduled Services hereunder or the performance of any obligations required by this Agreement.

2.11.3 The Receiving Party is and shall remain solely responsible for the content, accuracy and adequacy of all data that the Receiving Party or its Representatives transmit or have transmitted to the Providing Party for processing or use in connection with the performance of the Scheduled Services.

2.11.4 Each Party shall comply, and shall cause its Representatives to comply, with all Applicable Laws in connection with their respective operations and obligations under this Agreement, including the receipt and use of the Scheduled Services.

2.11.5 As of the Effective Date VSC has completed an industry standard information security audit and assessment process (the "Security Assessment"), and thereafter upon the Buyer's written request, but in no event more than once per contract year, VSC shall, and shall require its Subcontractors performing Scheduled Services to, promptly complete a Security Assessment. Following the six (6) month anniversary of the completion of the migration of the applicable Business IT Systems to Buyer and its Affiliates in accordance with the Migration Plan, Buyer shall complete a Security Assessment with respect to the applicable Business IT System(s), and thereafter upon the VSC's written request, but in no event more than once per contract year, Buyer shall, and shall require its Subcontractors performing Scheduled Services to, promptly complete a Security Assessment. In each case such Security Assessment may include any industry standard information security questionnaires and relevant Service Organization Control ("SOC") audit reports (a SOC-1 Type II for datacenters or SOC-2 Type II for other facilities) if available. Promptly upon completion of the Security Assessment, the Providing Party shall take commercially reasonable steps to remediate, to the Receiving Party's reasonable satisfaction, any material deficiencies identified by the Receiving Party as a result of the Security Assessment. The Providing Party's failure to (a) remediate such material deficiencies or (b) at any time during the Term, to meet or exceed in all material respects any of the requirements, standards, or controls described in the Providing Party's most recently completed information security questionnaire will, in either case, constitute a material breach of this Agreement by the Providing Party. The Receiving Party's consent, not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, shall be required prior to any change to the Providing Party's administrative, technical and physical safeguards intended to protect Confidential Information if such proposed changes could reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the controls or standards of protection previously specified or approved through the Security Assessment process.

2.11.6 The Providing Party acknowledges that regulators with jurisdiction over the Receiving Party and any of its Affiliates may have authority to examine the Receiving Party. To the extent any such examinations relate to this Agreement, the Providing Party shall cooperate with any such examinations as reasonably requested by the Receiving Party at the Receiving Party's cost and expense. For the avoidance of doubt, such cooperation shall not be deemed to be a Scheduled Service.

2.11.7 In the event of a security breach involving any Non-Public Personal Information in the possession or control of the Providing Party or its Affiliates or Subcontractors, the Providing Party shall, as promptly as commercially reasonable but in no event later than required under Applicable Law, take all actions required of the Receiving Party or the Providing Party by Applicable Law and as reasonably requested by the Receiving Party to inform each impacted individual of such security breach and to implement curative action required by Applicable Law. Within forty-eight (48) hours of making a determination that a security breach has occurred or is reasonably suspected to have occurred, the Providing Party shall notify the affected Receiving Party(ies) thereof.

2.11.8 In connection with the creation of the Migration Plan, the Parties shall discuss in good faith what third-party software or other technology systems used for the Scheduled Services (a) as of the Closing, and (b) during the relevant Service Term, are expected, within a material timeframe, to be in an end of life phase (e.g., no longer being supported by the vendor, or not receiving security patches).

ARTICLE III
TERM AND TRANSITION ASSISTANCE

3.1 Term. The term (the "Term") of this Agreement shall commence as of the date hereof and, subject as to any Scheduled Service continuing only to the earlier expiration of the Service Term with respect thereto, shall continue until the earliest of:

3.1.1 the date on which the last of the Scheduled Services under this Agreement is terminated; or

3.1.2 the date on which this Agreement is terminated by mutual agreement of the Parties.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, with respect to any Scheduled Services provided by VSC to Buyer, unless otherwise set forth on the Services Schedule, all IT Services shall have an initial Service Term of twenty-four (24) months, and all Non-IT Services shall have an initial Service Term of fifteen (15) months.

3.2 Extension and Termination.

3.2.1 Extension.

(a) If Buyer is not able by the end of the Term to complete its migration of or otherwise continues to require for its business one or more of the Scheduled Services that it receives, then upon written notice provided to VSC at least thirty (30) days prior to the end of the Service Term, Buyer shall have the right to request and cause VSC to extend the Term and provide such Scheduled Services for up to two (2) additional Extension Periods (as defined below) which shall be deemed to extend the applicable Service Term; provided, that Buyer shall pay all applicable Service Fees plus an additional (x) twenty-five percent (25%) markup of such Service Fees for the first Extension Period and (y) fifty percent (50%) markup of such Service Fees for the second Extension Period. Each "Extension Period" shall be (i) ninety (90) days for any Non-IT Service or (ii) equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the length of the initial Service Term for any IT Service (e.g., for an IT Service where the initial Service Term was twenty-four (24) months, each Extension Period shall be six (6) months).

(b) If VSC, Seller or one of its Affiliates is not able by the end of the Service Term to complete the migration of one or more Scheduled Services that it receives, then upon written notice provided to Buyer at least thirty (30) days prior to the end of the Service Term, VSC shall have the right to request and cause Buyer to extend the Term and provide such Scheduled Services for up to two (2) Extension Periods which shall be deemed to extend the applicable Service Term; provided, that VSC or Seller shall pay all applicable Service Fees plus an additional (i) twenty-five percent (25%) markup of such Service Fees for the first Extension Period and (ii) fifty percent (50%) markup of such Service Fees for the second Extension Period.

3.2.2 Early Termination. If the Receiving Party wishes to terminate a Scheduled Service (or a portion thereof) on a date that is earlier than the end of the Service Term, the Receiving Party shall notify the Providing Party in writing of the proposed date on which such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof) shall terminate (the "Termination Date"), (i) at least sixty (60) days prior to the Termination Date (unless a shorter or longer period of notice is expressly set forth on the Service Schedules) in the case of Non-IT Services, and (ii) at least ninety (90) days prior to the Termination Date (unless a shorter or longer period of notice is expressly set forth on the Service Schedules) in the case of IT Services. Effective on the Termination Date, such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof) shall be discontinued, except as expressly set forth in this Section 3.2.2, charges for such terminated Scheduled Service (or portion thereof) shall cease to accrue, and thereafter this Agreement shall be of no further force and effect with respect to such Scheduled Service (or portion thereof), except as to obligations accrued prior to the Termination Date, subject to the remainder of this Section 3.2.2. Notwithstanding the foregoing, within thirty (30) days of the termination of any Scheduled Service in accordance with this Section 3.2.2, the Receiving Party shall pay to the Providing Party any of the following costs that arise from the early termination of such Scheduled Service that were described on the applicable Service Schedule: (a) termination fees charged in connection with the early termination of a Providing Party Third Party Contract, (b) up-front payment of fees for all or a portion of the Service Term under a Providing Party Third Party Contract, and (c) the pro rata amount of any remaining non-terminable recurring payments for licenses, maintenance fees, or other similar vendor fees, solely to the extent specifically allocated to the Receiving Party, provided that if Providing Party is able to re-deploy any such resources (e.g., use seat licenses currently allocated to a Scheduled Service for another area of its expanding business) then the payment obligations of the Receiving Party under clause (c) above shall be reduced accordingly. "Providing Party Third Party Contracts" means any license or other contract primarily related to the Business between the Providing Party and applicable third parties. The Service Schedules shall expressly set forth: the categories of up-front payment of fees that could impact an early termination (including the amounts, if known); the date on which the term or related right expires, if applicable; the date on which notice for renewal or extension is due from the Providing Party to such third party, if applicable; and, to the extent known, the associated cost to renew; provided, that the Providing Party shall be permitted to update the Service Schedules reasonably promptly after (x) renewal of, or a material change to, any Providing Party Third Party Contract, or (y) to the extent permitted by, and subject to the terms of this Agreement, the commencement of a new Providing Party Third Party Contract; provided, further, that the Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide advance notice to the Receiving Party prior to effecting material changes to a Providing Party Third Party Contract.

3.3 Records and Return of Materials. The Providing Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, maintain and preserve such books and records related to the provision of the Scheduled Services as required by the Receiving Party's standard document retention policies or as may be required by Applicable Law, and in an accessible format, including VSC's and Seller's historical records regarding pre-Closing related activities. After a Scheduled Service is completed or terminated, the Providing Party shall transfer any records maintained by the Providing Party hereunder that pertain exclusively to such terminated and transferred Scheduled Service to the Receiving Party or to its designee, or if reasonably requested by the Receiving Party shall return or destroy all materials and property owned by the other Party and materials and property of a proprietary nature involving a Party or its Affiliates relevant solely to the provision or receipt of that Scheduled Service; provided, however that the Providing Party may maintain and preserve such books and records related to the provision of the Scheduled Services except (i) as otherwise required by Applicable Law, and (ii) to the extent that the materials are retained on e-mail platforms, in archival back-up tapes or similar storage media or are otherwise retained in accordance with the internal policies of the Providing Party, subject in each case to the requirements of ARTICLE VIII hereunder.

ARTICLE IV
COMPENSATION AND PAYMENT ARRANGEMENTS FOR SCHEDULED SERVICES

4.1 Compensation for Scheduled Services.

4.1.1 Compensation Generally. In accordance with the payment terms set forth in Section 4.2 and subject to Section 4.1.3, each Party, in its capacity of Receiving Party, agrees to timely pay the other Party, the fees for providing the Scheduled Services such Receiving Party have received hereunder as set forth in the applicable Service Schedule ("Service Costs").

4.1.2 Out of Pocket Costs. Without limiting the foregoing and subject to Section 2.7 and subject to Section 4.1.3, to the extent not already covered by the Service Costs, the Receiving Party shall reimburse the Providing Party for all of its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses actually incurred in connection with the provision of the Scheduled Services to the Receiving Party, including the costs and expenses of any travel, including transportation, lodging and meals, of any employee or agent of the Providing Party, its Affiliates or its permitted subcontractors who is required to travel to any location other than the Providing Party's facilities in connection with the performance of the Scheduled Services ("Out of Pocket Costs"); provided, that (a) such travel has been approved in writing by the Receiving Party; and (b) such costs and expenses of travel are incurred in accordance with the Receiving Party's generally applicable travel policies that have been provided in writing to Providing Party. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, any fees or costs for Migration Services performed by a Party shall constitute "Separation and Migration Costs" as defined in the MTA and shall be subject to the cost sharing methodology set forth in Section 5.24(b) of the MTA.

4.1.3 Annual Flat Fees.

(a) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Service Fees payable in the aggregate by Buyer for all Scheduled Services provided to Buyer and its Affiliates during each year of the Term, including Additional Services identified prior to the first anniversary of the Closing (except as set forth in subsection (iv) below), shall be:

(i) for the first twelve (12) month period beginning on the Closing: [Forty-Two Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($42,500,000)][4] ("First Year Flat Fee");

(ii) for the twelve (12) month period beginning on the first anniversary of the Closing: an amount equal to the First Year Flat Fee times an amount equal to one (1) minus a fraction equal to: (A) the Allocated Service Fees for all Scheduled Services that terminated or expired in the immediately preceding year, divided by (B) the Service Fees associated with all Scheduled Services provided during the first twelve (12) month period beginning on the Closing ("Second Year Flat Fee"); and

(iii) for the twelve (12) month period beginning on the second anniversary of the Closing: an amount equal to the Second Year Flat Fee times an amount equal to one (1) minus a fraction equal to: (A) the Allocated Service Fees for all Scheduled Services that terminated or expired in the immediately preceding year, divided by (B) the Service Fees associated with all Scheduled Services provided during the first twelve (12) month period beginning on the second anniversary of the Closing ("Third Year Flat Fee"),

(each, an "Annual Flat Fee" and collectively the "Annual Flat Fees"), in each case payable in twelve equal monthly installments in accordance with Section 4.2, and subject to the payment of the True-Up Amount payable pursuant to Section 4.1.3(c) below; provided that the following shall, in each case, be excluded from each of the Annual Flat Fees: (i) any Service Fees associated with any Project Services deemed a Scheduled Service pursuant to Section 2.1.6, (ii) any Migration Service, (iii) any non-de minimis incremental Service Fees associated with a Change pursuant to Section 2.1.1(e), and (iv) any non-de minimis incremental Service Fees required in order to provide a scope or volume of the Scheduled Services greater than the scope of volume of the applicable Scheduled Services set forth in Section 2.1.1(d). Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Annual Flat Fee shall be increased in the manner set forth in Section 2.1.5 upon any Additional Services becoming Scheduled Services.

(b) Within ninety (90) days of each anniversary of the Effective Date, VSC shall refund to Buyer any True-Up Amounts (as calculated pursuant to subsection (c)) below.

(c) The "True-Up Amount" means with respect to any Scheduled Service which terminated prior to the last day of the first, second or third year of the Term, as applicable, an amount equal to A x (B/12), wherein:

(i) A = The annualized Allocated Service Fees.

(ii) B = The fewer of (X) the total number of remaining months of the applicable year of the Term following the Termination Date of such Scheduled

---

[4] Note to Draft: Between the MTA Effective Date and the Closing Date, to the extent that a service is added as a Scheduled Service prior to the Closing Date, or a service that was a Scheduled Service as of the MTA Effective Date is removed as a Scheduled Service prior to the Closing Date, the First Year Flat Fee shall be increased or decreased as appropriate.

Service, and (Y) the total number of remaining months of the applicable Service Term for such Scheduled Service following the Termination Date.

4.1.4 Taxes.

(a) The Receiving Party will pay and be liable for all sales, service, valued added tax ("VAT"), lease use, transfer, consumption or similar taxes (the "Sales and Service Taxes") levied against or upon it (A) measured by the cost of services provided to such Receiving Party under this Agreement, or (B) measured by the relevant Providing Party's or its Affiliates' cost in acquiring property or services used or consumed by such Providing Party and its Affiliates in providing services under this Agreement. Such taxes will be payable by each Receiving Party to the Providing Party in the manner set forth in Section 4.2 or as otherwise mutually agreed in writing by the Parties and under the terms of the Applicable Law which governs the relevant Sales and Service Tax. The Receiving Party's obligation to pay Sales and Service Taxes under this Section 4.1.4 shall be subject to the receipt, at least 10 days before the due date for any return with respect to Sales and Services Taxes, or (A) a computation providing by the Providing Party of the Sales and Service Taxes payable, identifying the nature and amount of the goods or services on which the Sales and Service Tax is assessed and the applicable rate and (B) a valid and customary invoice or other document under the terms of Applicable Law for each Sales and Service Tax. If a Providing Party complies with the terms of this Section 4.1.4 regarding the payment of Sales and Services Taxes, it shall not be liable for any interest, penalties or other charges attributable to its improper filing relating to Sales and Services Taxes or late payment or failure to remit Sales and Services Taxes to the relevant tax authority. Each Party shall promptly notify the other Party of any deficiency claim or similar notice by a taxing authority with respect to Sales and Service Taxes payable under this Agreement, and of any pending tax audit or other proceeding that could lead to the imposition of Sales and Services Taxes payable under this Agreement. The Receiving Party shall have the sole right to control, contest, resolve and defend against any matters relating to Sales and Services Taxes for which it is responsible pursuant to this Section 4.1.4.

(b) Each Party shall pay and be responsible for its own personal property taxes and taxes based on its own income or profits or assets. Payments for Scheduled Services or other amounts under this Agreement shall be made net of withholding taxes, provided, however that if a Providing Party believes that a reduced rate of withholding applies or the Providing Party is exempt from withholding, the relevant Receiving Party shall only be required to apply such reduced rate of withholding or not withhold if such Providing Party provides the relevant Receiving Party with evidence satisfactory to the Receiving Party that a reduced rate of or no withholding is required. Satisfactory evidence for this purpose may include rulings from, or other correspondence with tax authorities and tax opinions rendered by qualified persons satisfactory to such Receiving Party, to the extent reasonably requested by such Receiving Party. The Receiving Party shall promptly remit any amounts withheld to the appropriate taxing authority and in the event that such Receiving Party receives a refund of any amounts previously withheld from payments to the Providing Party and remitted, such Receiving Party shall surrender such refund to such Providing Party.

4.2 Payment Terms. Each Party in its capacity as Providing Party shall invoice the other Party on a monthly basis in arrears for Service Fees, including with respect to the monthly installments of the Annual Flat Fees. Each monthly invoice shall list all Scheduled Services and Service Fees in the format of Schedule 3.2. Payment in full of the amounts so invoiced or noticed shall be made by electronic funds transfer or other method satisfactory to the Parties, within thirty (30) days after the date of receipt of the monthly invoice. Should a Party dispute any portion of the amount due from it on any invoice or require any adjustment to an invoiced amount, then such Party shall notify the other Party in writing of the nature and basis of the dispute or adjustment within thirty (30) days of receiving the invoice using, if necessary, the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 2.3. The Parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve the dispute prior to the payment due date.

ARTICLE V
INDEMNIFICATION

5.1 Indemnification by VSC. VSC shall indemnify and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates and their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives (each, an "Buyer Indemnified Person"), from any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent attributable to any suspected or actual data security breaches or third party Claims relating to, resulting from or arising out of: (a) any fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct by or on behalf of VSC or any of its Affiliates in providing any of the Scheduled Services that VSC is obligated to provide hereunder; (b) any material breach by VSC of any of its obligations under this Agreement; and (c) actual or alleged infringement or violation of a third party's Intellectual Property rights ("IP Claims") arising out of or in connection with the supply or use of the Services provided by or on behalf of the VSC.

5.2 Indemnification by Buyer. Buyer shall indemnify and hold harmless VSC and its Affiliates and their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives (each, an "VSC Indemnified Person") from any and all Indemnifiable Losses to the extent attributable to any suspected or actual data security breaches or third party Claims relating to, resulting from or arising out of: (a) any fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct by or on behalf of Buyer or any of its Affiliates in providing any of the Scheduled Services that Buyer is obligated to provide hereunder, (b) any material breach by Buyer of any of its obligations under this Agreement; and (c) IP Claims arising out of or in connection with the supply or use of the Services provided by or on behalf of the Buyer; provided, however, that Buyer shall have no indemnification obligations as to IP Claims based on the use of any Allocated Intellectual Property, Business IT Systems, Business Software or any service provided consistent with Seller's practices during the twelve (12) months prior to the MTA Effective Date.

5.3 Indemnification Procedures. Notwithstanding anything to contrary in this Agreement, the indemnification to be provided under in this ARTICLE V shall be governed by the procedures set forth in Section 7.5 of the MTA.

5.4 IP Claims. Further, in the event that the provision of any Scheduled Service infringes, violates or constitutes the misappropriation of, is alleged to infringe, violate or misappropriate or, in the reasonable judgment of the Providing Party's counsel, is likely to infringe, violate or constitute the misappropriation of, any Intellectual Property of any third party, the Providing Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts at its sole expense to either (a) procure for the Receiving Party the right to continue to use such infringing, violating or misappropriating portions of the Scheduled Services or (b) modify or replace such infringing, violating or misappropriating portions of the Scheduled Services so that they are non-infringing, non-violating or non-misappropriating, as applicable, and of at least equivalent performance and functionality to that prior to such modification or replacement. If the Providing Party is unable after the use of commercially reasonable efforts, to complete either of the options under subsection (a) or (b) above, the Providing Party shall notify the Receiving Party, and the Parties shall cooperate to determine a commercially reasonable alternative approach for the provision of such Scheduled Service without infringing, violating or misappropriating the Intellectual Property of any third party.

5.5 Mitigation of Damages. Each indemnified Party shall use commercially reasonable efforts to mitigate any Indemnifiable Losses for which such indemnified Party seeks indemnification under this Agreement, including by using commercially reasonable efforts to collect amounts recoverable with respect thereto under any insurance coverage maintained by such indemnified Party with a third party.

5.6 Insurance. No Party indemnified under this ARTICLE V shall be indemnified or held harmless hereunder to the extent any Indemnifiable Losses are actually collected by such indemnified Party with respect thereto under any insurance coverage maintained by such indemnified Party with a third party.

5.7 Exclusive Remedy. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that, following the Effective Date, other than in the case of actual fraud or as otherwise provided by Applicable Law, the following shall be the sole and exclusive remedies of such Party for any Claims arising from or related to this Agreement: (a) the right to indemnification as provided in this ARTICLE V; (b) the right to require performance of any Scheduled Service to the extent required under Section 2.4.1; (c) the right to require re-performance of any Scheduled Service to the extent required under Section 2.4.3; (d) the right to an injunction, specific performance or other equitable non-monetary relief when available under Applicable Law; (e) the right to terminate a Scheduled Service pursuant to Section 7.1.3; (f) the right to actual damages for breach of Section 2.10 or Section 8.1 (but, for the purposes of clarity, not for breach of any other section of this Agreement); and (g) with respect to equitable relief available hereunder, including Section 2.3.2.

FORCE MAJEURE

If performance by a Party of any terms or provisions hereof shall be delayed or prevented, in whole or in part, because of or related to any of the following circumstances or events beyond the reasonable control of the Providing Party relying on such circumstance or event: changes in Applicable Law, riots, war, public disturbance, fire, explosion, storm, flood, acts of God, acts of terrorism (each, a "Force Majeure Event"), then (i) the Party shall give written notice to the other Party, (ii) the Parties shall promptly confer, in good faith, to agree upon equitable, reasonable action to minimize the impact, on both Parties, of such conditions, and (iii) the affected Party shall be excused from its obligations to the extent limited by such Force Majeure Event hereunder during the period such Force Majeure Event continues, and no liability shall attach against it on account thereof. The affected Party shall not be excused from performance if it fails to use reasonable diligence to remedy the situation and remove the cause and effect of the Force Majeure Event and the Service Term for the affected service shall automatically be extended by an additional period of time equal to the length of the interruption caused by such Force Majeure Event. The Receiving Party shall be relieved of the obligation to pay any Service Fees and other amounts for the provision of the Scheduled Services obligations limited by such Force Majeure Event throughout the duration of such Force Majeure Event.

ARTICLE VII
REMEDIES AND SURVIVAL

7.1 Financial Remedies Upon Material Breach. In the event of material breach of any provision of this Agreement by a Party, the non-defaulting Party shall give the defaulting Party written notice thereof, and:

7.1.1 If such breach arises from a Party's non-payment of an amount that is not in dispute, such Party shall cure the breach within fifteen (15) calendar days after receipt of written notice of such non-payment. If such Party does not cure such breach by such date, then such Party shall pay the Party to whom the amount is due, the undisputed amount plus an amount of interest equal to one percent (1.0%) per month from and including the date such payment is due under this provision until, but excluding, the date of payment. The Parties agree that this rate of interest constitutes reasonable liquidated damages and not an unenforceable penalty.

7.1.2 If such breach is for any other material failure to perform in accordance with this Agreement, the defaulting Party shall cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days of the date of such notice.

7.1.3 In the case of any such breach that is not cured in accordance with Sections 7.1, 7.1.1 and 7.1.2 above, then the non-defaulting Party shall also have the right to terminate the affected Scheduled Service(s), upon written notice thereof to the defaulting Party.

7.2 LIMITATION OF LIABILITY.

7.2.1 NEITHER PARTY WILL BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR ANY PUNITIVE, EXEMPLARY OR OTHER SPECIAL DAMAGES, OR ANY INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER SUCH DAMAGES ARE BASED IN CONTRACT, BREACH OF WARRANTY, TORT, NEGLIGENCE OR ANY OTHER THEORY, EXCEPT (I) TO THE EXTENT AWARDED OR PAID TO A THIRD PARTY IN CONNECTION WITH A THIRD PARTY CLAIM OR PAID TO A THIRD PARTY IN CONNECTION WITH A DATA SECURITY BREACH; (II) FOR CLAIMS BASED ON A BREACH OF ARTICLE VIII HEREUNDER; OR (III) FOR CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FRAUD, GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT.

7.2.2 THE MAXIMUM AGGREGATE LIABILITY OF A PROVIDING PARTY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT DURING THE TERM SHALL BE CAPPED AT THE AMOUNT OF SERVICE FEES PAYABLE BY THE OTHER PARTY AS THE RECEIVING PARTY TO SUCH PROVIDING PARTY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT DURING THE TWELVE (12) MONTH PERIOD IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO THE DATE OF THE EVENT GIVING RISE TO SUCH LIABILITY, EXCEPT FOR (I) CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FRAUD, GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, (II) CLAIMS BASED ON A PARTY'S FAILURE TO PAY SERVICE FEES IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF SECTION 4.2, AND (III) AS PROVIDED IN SECTION 7.2.3 BELOW; PROVIDED, THAT IF THE MOST RECENT EVENT GIVING RISE TO LIABILITY OCCURS PRIOR TO THE TWELVE (12) MONTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS AGREEMENT, THEN THE AMOUNT IN THIS SECTION 7.2.2 SHALL EQUAL TWELVE (12) TIMES THE RESULT OBTAINED BY DIVIDING (X) THE TOTAL FEES ACTUALLY PAID BY THE OTHER PARTY AS THE RECEIVING PARTY TO SUCH PROVIDING PARTY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT FROM THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS AGREEMENT THROUGH THE DATE ON WHICH SUCH EVENT OCCURRED, BY (Y) THE NUMBER OF MONTHS FROM THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS AGREEMENT THROUGH SUCH DATE; AND PROVIDED FURTHER, THAT, AFTER THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE DATE HEREOF, IF THE AMOUNT OF SERVICE FEES PAYABLE BY THE OTHER PARTY AS THE RECEIVING PARTY TO SUCH PROVIDING PARTY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT DURING THE TWELVE (12) MONTH PERIOD IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO THE DATE OF THE EVENT GIVING RISE TO SUCH LIABILITY IS LESS THAN FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ($5,000,000) THEN THE MAXIMUM AGGREGATE LIABILITY OF A PROVIDING PARTY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE CAPPED AT FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ($5,000,000).

7.2.3 SEPARATE AND APART FROM THE LIMITATION SET FORTH IN SECTION 7.2.2, IN NO EVENT SHALL EITHER PARTY BE LIABLE FOR DAMAGES AS A RESULT OF A DATA SECURITY BREACH IN AN AMOUNT IN EXCESS OF THIRTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ($35,000,000).

7.3 Survival Upon Expiration or Termination. The provisions of Sections 2.5, 2.9, 2.10.2 and 3.3, and ARTICLE IV, ARTICLE V, ARTICLE VII, ARTICLE VIII, ARTICLE IX, ARTICLE X, and ARTICLE XI shall survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement unless otherwise agreed to in writing by both Parties.

CONFIDENTIALITY

8.1 Confidential Information. Each Party covenants that it shall, and shall cause its Representatives to (a) accord the Confidential Information (as defined below) of the other Party the same degree of confidential treatment that it accords its similar proprietary and confidential information, but in no event less than a reasonable degree of care, (b) not use such Confidential Information for any purpose other than those stated in this Agreement or reasonably required for performance of the Scheduled Services, and (c) not disclose such Confidential Information to any Person unless disclosure to such Person is made in the ordinary course of such Party's conduct of its business and is subject to protections comparable to those such Party would apply in connection with a comparable disclosure of its own Confidential Information, but in no event less than a reasonable degree of care. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, a Party may disclose Confidential Information of the other Party does not include any information that, to the extent the disclosing Party demonstrates that such disclosure is (v) required to be made pursuant to Applicable Law, government authority, duly authorized subpoena, or court order, (w) required to be made to a court or other tribunal in connection with the enforcement of such Party's rights under this Agreement or to contest claims between the Parties, (x) made to such Party's service providers or Affiliates or, with respect to client information and client account information or records, the applicable current or then-existing client, or (y) approved by the prior written consent of the other Party. Each Party will promptly notify the other Party, if it receives a subpoena or otherwise becomes aware of events that may legally require it to disclose Confidential Information of the other Party pursuant to (v) or (w) as set forth above, and will cooperate with the other Party (at the other Party's expense) to obtain an order quashing or otherwise modifying the scope of such subpoena or legal requirement, in an effort to prevent the disclosure of such Confidential Information. For purposes of this Agreement, "Confidential Information" means all confidential or proprietary information and documentation of either Party made available to the other Party under this Agreement that is either identified in writing as confidential or which the receiving Party should reasonably have recognized at the time of disclosure as being of a confidential nature.

8.2 Unauthorized Acts. Each Party shall (a) notify the other Party promptly of any unauthorized possession, use, or knowledge of any Confidential Information by any person which shall become known to it, any attempt by any person to gain possession of Confidential Information without authorization or any attempt to use or acquire knowledge of any Confidential Information without authorization (collectively, "Unauthorized Access"), (b) promptly furnish to the other Party full details of the Unauthorized Access and use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the other Party in investigating or preventing the reoccurrence of any Unauthorized Access, (c) cooperate with the other Party in any litigation and investigation against third parties deemed necessary by such Party to protect its proprietary rights, and (d) use commercially reasonable efforts to prevent a recurrence of any such Unauthorized Access. To the extent that a Party inadvertently obtains access to any Confidential Information of the other Party to which it was otherwise not intended to have access, such Party shall immediately notify the other Party when they are aware that they have received such Confidential Information or upon notice from the other Party, they shall maintain confidentiality of such information until such time that it is either destroyed or returned to the other Party, and shall promptly destroy any such Confidential Information and instruct its employees not use or otherwise act on such Confidential Information.

SYSTEM ACCESS AND CONSUMER PRIVACY

9.1 System Access. If the Providing Party and/or the Receiving Party (or any of their respective Representatives) are at any time given access (each in such capacity, a "Guest User") to the other's computer system(s) or software (collectively, "Systems") in connection with the performance of this Agreement, such Guest User shall comply with the other Party's (each in such capacity, a "Host") Systems security policies, procedures and requirements which the Host makes available to the Guest User from time to time.

9.2 Consumer Privacy. In providing the Scheduled Services, each Providing Party shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, comply with Applicable Law with respect to privacy or data security relative to Customer Information (as defined below), and each Receiving Party's privacy policies generally applicable to its respective vendors, employees, customers and site users, and shall maintain the information security program in place prior to the date hereof, if applicable. "Customer Information" means all tangible and intangible information provided or disclosed hereunder about present or former present or former clients, life insurance or annuity policy holders, annuitants, or other beneficiaries (collectively, hereinafter "Customers") or potential Customers of any Party or its Affiliates, including name, address, telephone number, email address, account or policy information, and any list, description, or other grouping of Customers or potential Customers, and any medical records or other medical information of such Customers or potential Customers and any other type of information deemed "nonpublic" and protected by privacy laws and any other Applicable Law.

DISCLAIMER OF REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

Except for the representations, warranties and covenants expressly made in this Agreement and the MTA and any documents executed pursuant thereto, each Party has not made and does not hereby make and hereby disclaims any express or implied representations, warranties or covenants, statutory or otherwise for which it is responsible as Providing Party. All other representations, warranties, and covenants, express or implied, statutory, common law or otherwise, of any nature, including with respect to the warranties of merchantability, quality, quantity, suitability or fitness for a particular purpose are hereby disclaimed by each Party.

Each Company Subsidiary is duly licensed or qualified to transact business and is in good standing (to the extent such concept applies in the applicable jurisdiction) in each jurisdiction in which the nature of the business transacted by it or the character of the properties owned or leased by it requires such licensing or qualification, except for those jurisdictions where the failure to be so licensed, qualified or in good standing would not have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company owns, directly or indirectly, all outstanding equity interests of each Company Subsidiary.

(b) For purposes of this Agreement, a "Subsidiary" means, with respect to any given Person, any other Person in which the first Person directly or indirectly owns or controls the majority of the equity interests or voting interests able to elect the board of managers, board of directors or comparable governing body. There is no commitment by any Company Subsidiary to issue shares, membership or other equity interests, subscriptions, warrants, options, convertible or exchangeable securities or other such rights or to distribute to holders of its equity interests any evidence of indebtedness or asset. No Company Subsidiary (i) is a party or subject to any agreement or understanding relating to the acquisition, disposition or voting or giving of written consents with respect to any equity interest of, or matter relating to, a Company Subsidiary, (ii) has any obligation (contingent or otherwise) to purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any of its equity interests or to pay any dividend or make any other distribution in respect thereof or (iii) has any restrictions on the transfer of its equity interests other than those arising from securities, insurance regulatory and other laws and regulations. No Person is entitled to (x) any preemptive or similar right with respect to the issuance of any capital stock or other equity interests of any Company Subsidiary or (y) any rights with respect to the registration of any capital stock or other equity interests of any Company Subsidiary under the Securities Act.

(d) Except for the Company Subsidiaries, neither the Company nor any Company Subsidiary owns, directly or indirectly, any capital stock or voting securities of, or other equity interests in, or has any direct or indirect equity participation or similar interest in, any interest convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for, any capital stock or voting securities of, or other equity interests in, any other Person.

The Units that will be purchased by the Investor hereunder, when issued, sold, and delivered in accordance with the terms of this Agreement for the consideration expressed herein, will be duly and validly issued, fully paid and non-assessable, will be free of all restrictions imposed by or through the Company other than restrictions as set forth in this Agreement or the Organizational Documents or under applicable securities, insurance regulatory and other laws and regulations, will have the rights, qualifications, limitations and restrictions set forth in the Organizational Documents and the issuance thereof is not subject to any preemptive or other similar right.

Section 4.6 Offering. Based in part on the accuracy of the Investor's representations and warranties set forth in this Agreement, the offer, sale and issuance of the Units as contemplated by this Agreement are exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, and will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities and "blue sky" laws. Neither the Company nor anyone acting on its behalf will take any action hereafter that would cause the loss of such exemption.

Section 4.7 Consents. Except (a) as set forth in Schedule 6.1(a) to the Indigo Purchase Agreement, (b) for any notices of sale required to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under Regulation D of the Securities Act or (c) for such other filings as may be required under applicable state securities laws, no consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, qualification, designation, declaration or filing with, any federal, state or local governmental authority or any Person is required on the part of the Company in connection with the execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Agreement and issuance, sale and delivery of the Units.

Section 4.8 Compliance With Other Instruments. The Company is not in violation, breach or default of (and to its knowledge, no other Person is in violation, breach or default of) (a) any provision of its Organizational Documents or (b) any judgment, decree, order, writ, United States federal or state statute, rule or regulation, license or permit of any governmental authority applicable to it except for such violations, breaches or defaults that, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Agreement and the agreements and transactions contemplated hereby will not (i) conflict with or result in, with or without the passage of time or giving of notice or both, any breach, default or loss of rights under, acceleration of, or give rise to any right of termination, rescission, acceleration or modification, under any mortgage, indenture, contract, lease, agreement, instrument, judgment, decree, order or writ by which the Company is bound or (ii) result in the creation of any mortgages, pledges, security interests, liens, charges, claims, restrictions, easements or other encumbrances of any nature ("Liens") upon any of the properties or assets of the Company except for such conflicts, breaches, defaults, loss of contractual benefits, rights or Liens that, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 4.9 Investment Company Act. Neither the Company nor any Company Subsidiary is required to register as an "investment company" as that term is defined in, and is not otherwise subject to regulation under, the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Investment Company Act").

ARTICLE V
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF THE INVESTOR

The Investor hereby represents and warrants to the Company as of the date hereof, and shall be deemed to reaffirm as of each Funding Date (other than any representation that by its terms speaks as of a specific date, in which case as of such date), that:

Section 5.1 Authorization. The Investor has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and the other agreements contemplated herein to which it is a party, and to carry out and perform the provisions of this Agreement and the other agreements contemplated herein to which it is a party. Any and all corporate, partnership or limited liability company action on the part of the Investor necessary for the authorization, execution and delivery of this Agreement and the performance of all obligations of the Investor hereunder has been taken. Any and all corporate, partnership or limited liability company action on the part of the Investor necessary for the authorization, execution and delivery of the agreements contemplated herein to which it will be a party will be taken prior to the authorization, execution and delivery of such agreements, as applicable. This Agreement has been duly and validly executed and delivered by the Investor and constitutes, and the agreements contemplated herein to which the Investor will be a party, when executed and delivered, will constitute, assuming due execution and delivery by the applicable other parties, valid and legally binding obligations of the Investor, enforceable against the Investor in accordance with their respective terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, and other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, and (b) as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief, or other equitable remedies.

Section 5.2 Compliance With Laws.

(a) The Investor is an "accredited investor" as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, and acknowledges that the Private Placement is being conducted pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, unless each member, partner or other holder of equity interests in the Investor is an "accredited investor", if the Investor is an entity, the Investor was not organized for the specific purpose of acquiring Units.

(b) The Investor is acquiring Units hereunder for investment for its own account and not with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any distribution thereof or any arrangement or understanding with any other Person regarding the distribution of such Units. The Investor is not acquiring Units hereunder as a result of any "general solicitation" or "general advertising," as such terms are used in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, including advertisements, articles, notices or other communications published in any newspaper, magazine or similar media or broadcast over radio or television, or any seminar or meeting whose attendees have been invited by general solicitation or general advertising.

(c) The Investor will not, directly or indirectly, offer, sell, pledge, transfer or otherwise dispose of (or solicit any offers to buy, purchase or otherwise acquire or take a pledge of) any of the Units acquired hereunder except in compliance with the LLC Agreement, the Securities Act and any applicable state securities or "blue sky" laws or an exemption therefrom.

(d) The Investor acknowledges that the Units have not been and may never be registered under the Securities Act or any applicable state securities or "blue sky" laws by reason of a specific exemption from the registration provisions of the Securities Act or any applicable state securities or "blue sky" laws which depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of the Investor's respective representations as expressed in this Agreement. The Investor agrees that in the absence of either an effective registration statement covering the Units or an available exemption from registration under the Securities Act or any applicable state securities or "blue sky" laws, the Units acquired hereunder must be held indefinitely.

(e) If the Investor is an affiliate of the Company or, by virtue of the Units subscribed for hereby, would own 20% or more of the aggregate Units of the Company as of the Initial Funding Closing, the Investor represents and certifies that, after due inquiry, for purposes of Rule 506(d) and Rule 506(e) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act (collectively, the "Bad Actor Rule"), neither the Investor nor any person who beneficially owns or will beneficially own equity of or beneficial interests in the Investor is subject to any disqualifying event, including any conviction, order, judgment, decree, suspension, expulsion or bar described in the Bad Actor Rule, whether such event occurred or was issued before, on or after September 23, 2013.

(f) The Investor is (i) a "qualified purchaser" as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act, (ii) not required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act and (iii) not a "business development company" as defined in the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

(g) If the Investor is a private investment company or non-U.S. investment company exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act pursuant to Section 3(c)(1), 3(c)(7) or 7(d) thereunder, (i) the Units purchased by the Investor hereunder will constitute less than 40% of the Investor's total assets and committed capital, or (ii) each beneficial owner of the Investor's securities is a "qualified purchaser" as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act.

(h) Neither the Investor nor any holder of any beneficial interest in the Investor (including any person reasonably known to be controlling the Investor) and, in the case that the Investor is an entity, nor any Related Person (as defined below) is a person or entity whose name appears on the List of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") of the United States Department of Treasury, as such list may be amended from time to time, or is prohibited pursuant to the sanctions programs administered by OFAC. "Related Person" means, with respect to any entity, any interest holder, manager, director, senior officer, trustee, beneficiary or grantor of such entity.

(i) To Investor's knowledge, the amounts contributed or to be contributed to the Company by the Investor were not, are not and will not be (as applicable) derived from activities that may contravene any applicable laws or regulations, including anti-money laundering laws or regulations.

Section 5.3 Investment Experience. The Investor confirms that it has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters that the Investor is capable of evaluating the merits and risks of an investment in the Units and of making an informed investment decision and understands that (a) this investment is suitable only for an investor which is able to bear the economic consequences of losing its entire investment, (b) the purchase of Units by the Investor hereunder is a speculative investment which involves a high degree of risk of loss of the entire investment, and (c) there are substantial restrictions on the transferability of, and there will be no public market for, the Units, and accordingly, it may not be possible for the Investor to liquidate the Investor's investment in case of emergency.

Section 5.4 Litigation. There is no action, suit, proceeding or investigation pending or, to the knowledge of the Investor, threatened against the Investor which is reasonably likely to adversely affect the validity of this Agreement or the agreements contemplated hereby or any material action taken or to be taken pursuant hereto or thereto (including the ability of the Investor to perform and comply with its obligations hereunder and thereunder), nor, to the knowledge of the Investor, has there occurred any event nor does there exist any condition on the basis of which any such material litigation, proceeding or investigation might properly be instituted.

Section 5.5 Brokers or Finders. No Person has or will have, as a result of the issuance of Units to the Investor pursuant to this Agreement, any right, interest or valid claim against or upon the Company for any commission, fee or other compensation as a finder or broker because of any act or omission by the Investor or his or its respective agents or representatives.

Section 5.6 Jurisdiction of Organization. The Investor's entity type (as applicable) and jurisdiction of incorporation, formation or organization (as applicable) is set forth on Schedule A.

Section 5.7 Financial Ability. The Investor will have, as of immediately prior to the Initial Funding Closing, sufficient liquid funds to satisfy the Closing Commitment, and shall have the right, to call capital sufficient to satisfy any Uncalled Commitment if and when required pursuant to the LLC Agreement.

Section 5.8 Acknowledgements.

(a) The Investor acknowledges and agrees that (i) the Company is not acting as a fiduciary or financial or investment adviser to the Investor, (ii) the Investor is not relying (for purposes of entering into this Agreement or otherwise) upon any advice, counsel or representations (whether written or oral) of the Company other than those representations expressly made hereunder, (iii) the Company has not given the Investor (directly or indirectly through any other Person) any assurance, guarantee, or representation whatsoever as to the expected prospects or projected success, profitability, return, performance, result, effect, consequence or benefit (including legal, regulatory, tax, financial, accounting or otherwise) of this Agreement or the business of the Company to be conducted after the Indigo Funding Date, (iv) the Company and its affiliates, and their respective officers, managers, directors, employees, agents and representatives, do not make, have not made and shall not be deemed to have made any representation or warranty to the Investor, express or implied, at law or in equity, with respect to (A) projections, estimates, forecasts or plans or (B) tax or economic or technical considerations of the Investor relating to the purchase of Units hereunder, (v) the Investor has consulted with the Investor's own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial, and accounting advisers to the extent the Investor deemed necessary, and the Investor has made its own decisions with respect to entering into this Agreement based upon the Investor's own judgment and upon any advice from such advisers the Investor has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Company, (vi) the Investor has received, carefully read and reviewed and is familiar with this Agreement and is entering into this Agreement with a full understanding of all the terms, conditions and risks hereof and thereof (economic and otherwise), and the Investor is capable of and willing to assume (financially and otherwise) those risks and (vii) the Investor is a sophisticated Person familiar with transactions similar to those contemplated by this Agreement. The Investor acknowledges that it and its representatives and agents have been permitted full and complete access to the books and records, returns, contracts, insurance policies (or summaries thereof) and other assets of the Company and the Company Subsidiaries that it and its representatives and agents have desired or requested to see or review, and that it and its representatives and agents have had a full opportunity to consult with the representatives of the Company and the Company Subsidiaries to discuss the business of the Company and the Company Subsidiaries and the terms of the purchase of Units hereunder to the full satisfaction of the Investor and that it and its representatives have conducted their own due diligence and other investigations, to the extent they have determined necessary or desirable, regarding the Company and the Company Subsidiaries and the Investor has determined to enter into and complete the transactions contemplated hereby based on such due diligence and investigations, and not in reliance on any representation or warranty or investigation made by, or information known by, any Person (other than the representations and warranties expressly set forth herein). The Investor is not purchasing the Units hereunder as a result of, or subsequent to, any advertisement, article, notice or other communication published on the internet, in any newspaper, magazine or similar media or broadcast over television or radio, any seminar or meeting, or any solicitation of a subscription by a Person not previously known to it in connection with investments in securities generally. The Investor's acknowledgements and representations hereunder do not in any way undermine the express representations or warranties made by the Company hereunder.

(b) The Investor understands that the Company has not been and may never be registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act in reliance upon an exemption from such registration.

(c) The Investor agrees to deliver to the Company such information as to certain matters under the Securities Act, the Investment Company Act, insurance regulatory and other laws and regulations as the Company may reasonably request in order to ensure compliance with such laws and regulations and the availability of any exemption thereunder.

(d) The Investor acknowledges that neither the Company nor any affiliate thereof has rendered any investment advice or securities valuation advice to the Investor, and that the Investor is neither subscribing for nor acquiring any interest in the Company in reliance upon, or with the expectation of, any such advice.

(e) The Investor's funds in respect of any payment for Units hereunder will not originate from, nor will it be routed through, an account maintained at a Foreign Shell Bank (as defined below), an Offshore Bank (as defined below) or any other financial institution organized or chartered under the laws of a High Risk or Non-Cooperative Jurisdiction (as defined below), nor have they been or shall be derived from any activity that is deemed criminal under United States law.

(i) For purposes of this Agreement, "Foreign Shell Bank" means a Foreign Bank without a Physical Presence in any country, but does not include a Regulated Affiliate. "Foreign Bank" means an organization that (A) is organized under the laws of a country outside the United States, (B) engages in the business of banking, (C) is recognized as a bank by the bank supervisory or monetary authority of the country of its organization or principal banking operations, (D) receives deposits to a substantial extent in the regular course of its business and (E) has the power to accept demand deposits, but does not include the United States branches or agencies of a Foreign Bank. "Physical Presence" means a place of business that is maintained by a Foreign Bank and is located at a fixed address, other than solely a post office box or an electronic address, in a country in which the Foreign Bank is authorized to conduct banking activities, at which location the Foreign Bank: (1) employs one or more individuals on a full-time basis, (2) maintains operating records related to its banking activities and (3) is subject to inspection by the banking authority that licensed the Foreign Bank to conduct banking activities. "Regulated Affiliate" means a Foreign Shell Bank that: (aa) is an affiliate of a depository institution, credit union, or Foreign Bank that maintains a Physical Presence in the United States or a foreign country, as applicable, and (bb) is subject to supervision by a banking authority in the country regulating such affiliated depository institution, credit union, or Foreign Bank.

(ii) For purposes of this Agreement, "High Risk or Non-Cooperative Jurisdiction" means any foreign country or territory that has been designated as high risk or non-cooperative with international anti-money laundering principles or procedures by an intergovernmental group or organization, such as the Financial Action Task Force ("FATF"), of which the United States is a member and with which designation the United States representative to the group or organization continues to concur. See http://www.fatf-gafi.org/publications/high-riskandnon-cooperativejurisdictions for FATF's current list of High Risk and Non-Cooperative Jurisdictions.

(iii) For purposes of this Agreement, "Offshore Bank" means a bank located outside the country of residence of its depositors, with most of its account holders being non-residents of such jurisdiction.

(f) The Investor acknowledges and agrees that any distributions paid to it will be paid pursuant to the terms of the LLC Agreement.

(g) The Investor agrees that, upon the Company's request, the Investor will use reasonable best efforts to provide to the Company any information requested that is necessary for the Company to make payments to the Investor without or at a reduced rate of withholding, or to enable the Company to satisfy any reporting or withholding requirements under the Code or other applicable laws. The Investor also agrees to provide, upon request by the Company, any certification or form required by law regarding such information with respect to the Investor (including with respect to the Investor's direct or indirect owners or controlling persons) that is requested by the Company, to the extent permissible to do so under applicable law. The Investor acknowledges that such information may be required by law to be disclosed to taxing or governmental authorities or to Persons making payments to the Company, and the Investor hereby consents to such disclosure. The Investor acknowledges that failure to provide the information requested by the Company pursuant to this paragraph may result in withholding on payments made to the Investor consistent with applicable law, and that the Company shall have no obligation to pay any additional amounts with respect to any such withholding.

(h) The Investor acknowledges that the Company or its affiliates may be obliged under applicable laws to submit information to the relevant regulatory authorities if the Company or its affiliates know, suspect or have reasonable grounds to suspect that any Person is engaged in money laundering, drug trafficking or the provision of financial assistance to terrorism and that the Company or its affiliates may not be permitted to inform anyone of the fact that such a report has been made. The Investor is advised that, by law, the Company may be obligated to "freeze the account" of the Investor, either by prohibiting additional investments from the Investor, withholding distributions or segregating the assets in the account in compliance with governmental regulations, and the Company may also be required to report such action and to disclose the Investor's identity to OFAC or other authorities if the Investor is on the list of Specially Designated National and Blocked Persons maintained by OFAC or if U.S. persons otherwise are prohibited from having dealings with the Investor under U.S. economic sanctions laws. The Investor further acknowledges that the Company may suspend the payment of distributions to the Investor if the Company reasonably deems it necessary to do so to comply with anti-money laundering or anti-terrorism regulations applicable to the Company, any of its affiliates or any of the Company's service providers.

(i) The Investor agrees that neither the Company nor any of its affiliates shall have any liability to the Investor for any loss or liability that the Investor may suffer to the extent that it arises out of, or in connection with, compliance by the Company or their affiliates in good faith with the requirements of applicable anti-money laundering and anti-terrorism legislation or regulatory provisions in connection with actual or alleged money laundering or terrorist financing by the Investor or suspicion thereof by the Company.

(j) The Investor acknowledges that the Company has relied and will rely upon the representations, warranties, covenants, agreements, acknowledgments and understandings of the Investor set forth herein, and that all such representations, warranties, covenants, agreements, acknowledgments and understandings shall survive the date of this Agreement. The Investor further acknowledges that the Units to be purchased hereunder are being offered and sold to the Investor in reliance upon specific exemptions from the registration requirements of United States federal and state securities laws, and that the Company is relying in part upon the truth and accuracy of, and the Investor's compliance with, the representations, warranties, covenants, agreements, acknowledgments and understandings of the Investor set forth herein in order to determine the availability of such exemptions and the eligibility of the Investor to acquire such Units. Accordingly, the Investor agrees to notify the Company promptly if there is any change with respect to any of the information or representations provided by the Investor in or pursuant to this Agreement, and to provide the Company with such further information as the Company may reasonably require.

(k) The Investor understands that the Company's assets will not constitute the assets of an employee benefit plan under ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, or under the provisions of any laws or regulations that are similar to those provisions contained in Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code.

(l) The Investor acknowledges and agrees that the Company has only recently been formed, and has no financial or operating history.

COVENANTS AND AGREEMENTS

Section 6.1 Public Disclosure. Neither the Company nor the Investor shall, except as required by applicable law, regulation or stock exchange rule, issue any press release that describes the transactions contemplated herein and that identifies the Company, the Investor, or any of their respective affiliates without the prior consent of the Company or the Investor (as applicable), which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. For the avoidance of doubt, the consent of the Investor shall not be required for any press release or other disclosure in regard to the transactions contemplated herein by the Company or its affiliates that does not identify such Investor.

Section 6.2 Further Assurances. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, each of the parties hereto shall use its commercially reasonable efforts (subject to, and in accordance with, applicable law) to take, or cause to be taken, promptly all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, promptly and to assist and cooperate with the other parties in doing, all things necessary, proper or advisable in order to consummate and make effective the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 6.3 Confidentiality. Prior to the Initial Funding Closing (after which this Section 6.3 shall be of no further force and effect):

(a) The Investor agrees that it will use the Confidential Information (as defined in Section 6.3(b) below) solely for the purpose of evaluating its potential investment in the Company and will use reasonable precautions in accordance with its established procedures to keep such information confidential; provided, however, that any such information may be disclosed to the Investor's affiliates, co-investors, partners (general or limited) and its and their respective managers, directors, officers, employees, agents, counsel, auditors, advisors, consultants and representatives (collectively, including such affiliates, co-investors and partners, the "Representatives") who need to know such information for the purpose of evaluating the Investor's potential investment in the Company (it being understood that such Representatives shall be informed by the Investor of the confidential nature of such information and agree to abide by these confidentiality provisions). To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Investor agrees to be responsible for any breach of this Agreement that results from the actions or omissions of its Representatives.

(b) The term "Confidential Information" means (i) all information related to the Company or the Company Subsidiaries provided to the Investor or any Representative thereof by or on behalf of the Company or its affiliates (the "Furnishing Parties"), and (ii) all analyses developed by the Investor or any Representative thereof using any information specified under clause (i) above. The term "Confidential Information" shall not include information that (A) is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the Investor or any Representative thereof in violation of this Agreement, (B) was within the Investor's possession prior to its being furnished to it by a Furnishing Party or a representative thereof; provided, that the source of such information was not known by the Investor to be bound by a confidentiality agreement with or other contractual, legal or fiduciary obligation of confidentiality to a Furnishing Party or any other party with respect to such information or (C) is or becomes available to the Investor on a non-confidential basis from a source other than a Furnishing Party or a representative thereof; provided, that such source is not known by the Investor to be bound by a confidentiality agreement with or other contractual, legal or fiduciary obligation of confidentiality to a Furnishing Party, or any other party with respect to such information.

(c) The Investor shall be permitted to disclose any Confidential Information in the event that the Investor is otherwise required by law, rule or regulation or requested by any governmental agency or other regulatory authority (including any self-regulatory organization having or claiming to have jurisdiction and any securities exchange on which the securities of the Investor or any affiliate thereof are listed) or in connection with any legal proceedings (including pursuant to any special deposition, interrogation, request for documents, subpoena, civil investigative demand or arbitration). The Investor agrees that it will notify the Company as soon as practical in the event of any such disclosure (other than as a result of an examination by any regulatory agency), unless such notification shall be prohibited by applicable law or legal process.

(d) With respect to Investor Confidential Information (as defined below) and subject to Section 6.3(f) below, the Company shall not, directly or indirectly or voluntarily or involuntarily, (i) communicate, disclose, divulge, reveal or convey (whether orally, in writing or otherwise) in any manner or by any means of communication whatsoever to any person or entity or (ii) otherwise use or employ such Investor Confidential Information in any manner other than for purposes of facilitating the consummation of the Private Placement and any other transactions contemplated thereby. The term "Investor Confidential Information" means confidential information relating to the Investor provided pursuant to this Agreement, whether such confidential information is furnished directly by the Investor or any affiliate or Representative thereof.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, Investor Confidential Information shall not include information that (i) is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the Company or any affiliate or representative thereof in violation of this Agreement, (ii) was within the Company's possession prior to such Investor Confidential Information being furnished to the Company by the Investor or an affiliate or Representative thereof; provided, that the source of such information was not known by the Company to be bound by a confidentiality agreement with, or other contractual, legal or fiduciary obligation of confidentiality to, the Investor or any other party with respect to such information or (iii) is or becomes available to the Company on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the Investor or any affiliate or Representative thereof; provided, that such source is not known by the Company to be bound by a confidentiality agreement with, or other contractual, legal or fiduciary obligation of confidentiality to, the Investor, or any other party with respect to such Investor Confidential Information.

(f) The Company shall be permitted to disclose any Investor Confidential Information (i) to a financial institution to the extent necessary and upon written notice to the Investor in connection with any credit facility agreement or other financing arrangement relating to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including in respect of such financial institution's know your customer (KYC), anti-money laundering or other credit due diligence information requirements or (ii) in the event that the Company is otherwise required by law, rule or regulation or requested by any governmental agency or other regulatory authority (including any self-regulatory organization having or claiming to have jurisdiction and any securities exchange on which the securities of the Company or any affiliate thereof are listed) or in connection with any legal proceedings (including pursuant to any special deposition, interrogation, request for documents, subpoena, civil investigative demand or arbitration). The Company agrees that it will notify the Investor as soon as practical in the event of any such disclosure (other than as a result of an examination by any regulatory agency), unless such notification shall be prohibited by applicable law or legal process.

Section 6.4 Change in Entity Classification. The Company shall not, without the prior written consent of the Investor, make any change in the entity classification of the Company for U.S. tax purposes prior to the Initial Funding Closing. Following the Initial Funding Closing, any changes to the entity classification of the Company for U.S. tax purposes shall be subject to the terms and conditions of the Organizational Documents.

Section 6.5 Benefit Plan Investor Status. The Investor (a) represents and warrants that is not a "benefit plan investor" as defined in Section 3(42) of ERISA, and (b) covenants that, during any time the Investor holds an interest in the Company, it will not be such a "benefit plan investor".

ARTICLE VII
TERMINATION

Section 7.1 Termination. This Agreement (a) may be terminated by either party hereto when the Investor has fully funded the Total Commitment or (b) shall terminate automatically, and the transactions contemplated hereby shall be abandoned, if the Indigo Purchase Agreement is terminated prior to the Initial Funding Closing. If this Agreement is terminated as described in this ARTICLE VII, this Agreement shall become null and void and of no further force and effect, except for the provisions of Section 6.1, Section 6.3, this ARTICLE VII and ARTICLE VIII, which shall survive such termination. Nothing in this ARTICLE VII shall be deemed to release any party from any liability for any willful breach by such party of the terms and provisions of this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the representations and warranties set forth in ARTICLE IV and ARTICLE V shall survive the date hereof and each Funding Date on which they are reaffirmed.

Section 8.2 Entire Agreement. This Agreement and any agreements entered into in connection with this Agreement (including the Closing LLC Agreement) (the "Relevant Agreements and Documents") constitute the final agreement between the parties hereto and are the complete and exclusive expression of agreement of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and thereof. All prior and extemporaneous negotiations, communications, arrangements, letters, term sheets and agreements between the parties hereto on the subject matters contained in this Agreement and the Relevant Agreements and Documents, whether written or oral, are expressly merged into and superseded by this Agreement and the Relevant Agreements and Documents. The provisions of this Agreement and the Relevant Agreements and Documents may not be explained, supplemented or qualified through evidence of trade usage or a prior course of dealing. There are no conditions precedent to the effectiveness of this Agreement.

Section 8.3 Binding Effect; Assignment; No Third Party Benefit. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective heirs, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns; provided, however, that this Agreement shall not inure to the benefit of or be binding upon, or be assignable or transferable by the Investor to, any Person acquiring Units in any Public Offering (as defined below). If the Investor ceases to beneficially own any Units, then the Investor shall cease to be bound by the terms hereof (other than Section 6.1, Section 6.3, ARTICLE VII and this ARTICLE VIII). Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests, or obligations hereunder shall be assigned by either party without the consent of the other party; provided, however, that the Investor may assign all or a portion of its Total Commitment (a) to one or more of its Affiliates or (b) to a transferee of such Investor's Units pursuant to a transfer made in accordance with the Organizational Documents, in each case, without the consent of any other party hereto. Except as otherwise set forth herein and in the case of clause (b) of the foregoing sentence, no assignment by the Investor hereunder shall relieve the Investor of any of its obligations hereunder and no assignment shall be permitted if it would reasonably be expected to prevent, impair or delay the consummation of the Initial Funding Closing or the Closing. Nothing in this Agreement, expressed or implied, is intended to confer on any Person other than the parties hereto, and their respective heirs, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns, any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement. The term "Public Offering" means (a) a public offering of Units (or equity interests of a Company Subsidiary upon a reorganization of the Company or such Company Subsidiary) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act or (b) any amalgamation, merger, scheme of arrangement or consolidation as a result of which the equityholders of the Company receive, as the consideration in such amalgamation, merger, scheme of arrangement or consolidation, equity interests (i) pursuant to a transaction that has been registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission as part of a public offering under the U.S. securities laws and (ii) of a class that is publicly listed and traded on any of the New York Stock Exchange, the Nasdaq Stock Market and any other securities exchange approved by the Manager.

Section 8.4 Severability. If any term, provision, covenant or restriction of this Agreement is held by a court of competent jurisdiction or other authority to be invalid, void or unenforceable, the remainder of the terms, provisions, covenants and restrictions of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, impaired or invalidated. Upon such a determination, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible in an acceptable manner so that the transactions contemplated hereby be consummated as originally contemplated to the fullest extent possible

Section 8.5 Governing Law. This Agreement, the Closing LLC Agreement and any other document or instrument contemplated hereby or thereby (collectively, the "Related Documents") and all claims or causes of action (whether in contract or tort, in law or in equity, or granted by statute or otherwise) that may be based upon, arise out of or relate to this Agreement or the Related Documents, or the negotiation, execution, termination, validity, interpretation, construction, enforcement, performance or nonperformance of this Agreement or the Related Documents or otherwise arising from the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or the relationship among the parties (including any claim or cause of action based upon, arising out of or related to any representation or warranty made in or in connection with, or as an inducement to enter into, this Agreement or the Related Documents) (collectively, the "Related Claims") shall be governed by the internal laws of the State of Delaware, without giving effect to any choice of conflict of law principles or rules that would cause the application of the laws of any other jurisdiction.

(a) Words in the singular include the plural and vice versa, and words of one gender include all genders.

(b) References to any Article, Section, clause, Exhibit or Schedule are references to the Articles, Sections, clauses, Exhibits or Schedules to this Agreement.

(c) The terms "hereof," "herein," "hereby," "hereto," "hereunder," and derivative or similar words refer to this Agreement as a whole and not merely to the provision in which such words appear.

(d) References to "$" are references to U.S. dollars.

(e) The word "including" and words of similar import, when used in this Agreement, mean "including, without limitation," and do not limit any general statement that they follow to the specific or similar items or matters immediately following them.

(k) The Exhibits and Schedules to this Agreement are hereby incorporated and made a part hereof as if set forth in full in this Agreement and are an integral part of this Agreement, and any capitalized terms used in any Exhibit attached hereto and not otherwise defined therein shall have the meanings set forth in this Agreement.

(l) Any references to statutes, statutory provisions or contracts (including the LLC Agreement) shall be deemed to include any amendment or re-enactment thereof and, if applicable, any enacting rules or regulations thereof.

Therefore, each party hereto is entitled to seek an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement by the other parties and to specifically enforce the terms and provisions of this Agreement against such other parties hereto in any court of competent jurisdiction, without bond or other security being required, and appropriate injunctive relief may be applied for by such parties and granted in connection therewith. Such remedies are, however, cumulative and not exclusive and are in addition to any other remedies which any party may have under this Agreement or otherwise.

Section 8.8 Submission to Jurisdiction; Consent to Service of Process; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) The parties hereto hereby irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (or, if the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware declines to accept jurisdiction over a particular matter, any federal court within the State of Delaware, or, if no federal court in the State of Delaware accepts jurisdiction, any state court within the State of Delaware) over all Related Claims, and each party hereby irrevocably agrees that all Related Claims may be heard and determined in such courts. The parties hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waive, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law, any objection which they may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any such Related Claim brought in such court or any defense of inconvenient forum for the maintenance of such dispute. Each of the parties hereto agrees that a judgment in any such dispute may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by law.

(b) Each of the parties hereto hereby consents to process being served by any party to this Agreement in any Related Claim by the delivery of a copy thereof in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.1 along with a notification that service of process is being served in conformance with this Section 8.8(b). Nothing in this Agreement will affect the right of any party to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

(c) EACH PARTY HERETO ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT, THE RELATED DOCUMENTS OR ANY RELATED CLAIMS IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY PROCEEDING OR RELATED CLAIM BROUGHT BY OR AGAINST IT, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE RELATED DOCUMENTS OR ANY RELATED CLAIMS.

Section 8.9 Waiver; Amendment.

(a) No provision of this Agreement may be waived except by an instrument in writing executed by the party against whom the waiver is to be effective.

(b) The provisions of this Agreement may only be amended, waived or modified by an instrument in writing executed by the Company and the Investor. No course of dealing or course of conduct between or among any Persons having any interest in this Agreement will be deemed effective to amend, modify or supplement any part of this Agreement or any rights or obligations of any Person under or by reason of this Agreement.

Section 8.10 Counterparts; Effectiveness. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, which may be by facsimile, email or other electronic means, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, with the same effect as if the signatures thereto and hereto were upon the same instrument. This Agreement shall become effective when each party hereto shall have received counterparts hereof signed by all of the other parties hereto.

Except for the parties hereto, no past, present or future officer, manager, director, equityholder, employee, incorporator, member, partner, agent, attorney, representative or affiliate of any party hereto (including any Person negotiating or executing this Agreement on behalf of a party hereto) shall have any liability or obligation with respect to this Agreement or with respect to any claim or cause of action (whether in contract, tort or otherwise) arising out of or relating to this Agreement (including the negotiation, execution or performance of this Agreement and any representation or warranty made in or in connection with this Agreement or as an inducement to enter into this Agreement).

Section 8.13 Limitation on Liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any Related Document, no Investor shall be liable for incidental, special, exemplary, punitive or other similar damages or damages which are not the natural, probable and reasonably foreseeable result of the breach giving rise to such damages in respect of any claim arising out of this Agreement or any Related Document.

ARTICLE II

EARN-OUT CALCULATION AND PAYMENT

Section 2.1 Earn-Out. Within forty-five (45) days of each Measurement Date, the Company shall deliver to Seller a statement setting forth, in reasonable detail, its calculation of the Earn-Out Amount as of such Measurement Date (each, an "Earn-Out Statement"). Each Earn-Out Statement shall be delivered to Seller together with a certificate executed by an authorized officer of the Company certifying, to the knowledge of such authorized officer, after review of the appropriate records of the Company and its Affiliates and reasonable inquiry, as to the amount of Actual Production set forth therein. Each Earn-Out Statement shall include the related Actual Production for the Earn-Out Period through such Measurement Date.

(a) Seller shall have ten (10) Business Days after the date on which each Earn-Out Statement is delivered to it to review the Earn-Out Statement and the calculations set forth therein (the "Earn-Out Review Period"). In furtherance of such review, the Company shall provide Seller and its representatives with access to such documentation, records and other information of the Company and its Affiliates related to the calculation of the Earn-Out Amount as Seller or any of its Representatives may reasonably request, including relevant documents, records and other information reasonably necessary to allow Seller to confirm the amount of Actual Production for the Earn-Out Period through the Measurement Date; provided, that such access does not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of the business of the Company or its Affiliates.

(i) If Seller disagrees with the Earn-Out Statement (including any amount or computation set forth therein) in any respect and on any basis, Seller may, on or prior to the last day of the Earn-Out Review Period, deliver a notice to the Company setting forth, in reasonable detail, each disputed item or amount and the basis for Seller's disagreement therewith (the "Earn-Out Dispute Notice"). The Earn-Out Dispute Notice shall set forth, with respect to each disputed item, Seller's position as to the correct amount or computation that should have been included in the Earn-Out Statement.

(ii) If no Earn-Out Dispute Notice is received by the Company with respect to any item in the Earn-Out Statement on or prior to the last day of the Earn-Out Review Period, the amount or computation with respect to such items as set forth in the Earn-Out Statement shall be deemed accepted by Seller, whereupon the amount or computation of such item or items shall be final and binding on the parties.

(iii) For a period of ten (10) Business Days beginning on the date that the Company receives an Earn-Out Dispute Notice, if any, the Company and Seller shall endeavor in good faith to resolve by mutual agreement all matters identified in the Earn-Out Dispute Notice. In the event that the parties are unable to resolve by mutual agreement any matter in the Earn-Out Dispute Notice within such ten (10) Business Day period, the Company and Seller shall jointly engage (A) [name of agreed firm], or if [name] is unwilling or unable to serve, another accounting firm of national reputation or any other Person, as mutually agreed by the parties hereto (the "Independent Accounting Firm"), to make a determination with respect to all matters in dispute.

(iv) The Company and Seller will direct the Independent Accounting Firm to render a determination within thirty (30) days after its retention, and the Company, Seller and their respective employees and representatives will cooperate with the Independent Accounting Firm during its engagement. The Company, on the one hand, and Seller, on the other hand, shall promptly (and in any event within ten (10) Business Days) after the Independent Accounting Firm's engagement each submit to the Independent Accounting Firm their respective computations of the disputed items identified in the Earn-Out Dispute Notice and information, arguments and support for their respective positions, and shall concurrently deliver a copy of such materials to the other party. Each party shall then be given an opportunity to supplement the information, arguments and support included in its initial submission with one additional submission to respond to any arguments or positions taken by the other party in such other party's initial submission, which supplemental information shall be submitted to the Independent Accounting Firm (with a copy thereof to the other party) within five (5) Business Days after the first date on which both parties have submitted their respective initial submissions to the Independent Accounting Firm.

The Independent Accounting Firm shall thereafter be permitted to request additional or clarifying information from the parties, and each of the parties shall cooperate and shall cause their Representatives to cooperate with such requests of the Independent Accounting Firm. The Independent Accounting Firm shall determine, based solely on the materials so presented by the parties and upon information received in response to such requests for additional or clarifying information and not by independent review, only those issues in dispute specifically set forth in the Earn-Out Dispute Notice and shall render a written report to the Company and Seller (each, an "Earn-Out Adjustment Report") in which the Independent Accounting Firm shall, after considering all matters set forth in the Earn-Out Dispute Notice, determine what adjustments, if any, should be made to the amounts and computations set forth in the Earn-Out Statement solely as to the disputed items and shall determine the appropriate Earn-Out Amount on that basis.

(v) The Earn-Out Adjustment Report shall set forth, in reasonable detail, the Independent Accounting Firm's determination with respect to each of the disputed items or amounts specified in the Earn-Out Dispute Notice, and the revisions, if any, to be made to the Earn-Out Statement, together with supporting calculations. In resolving any disputed item, the Independent Accounting Firm (i) shall be bound to the principles of this Section 2.1(a)(v) and the terms of this Agreement, (ii) shall limit its review to items specifically set forth in the Earn-Out Dispute Notice and (iii) shall not assign a value to any item higher than the highest value for such item claimed by either party or less than the lowest value for such item claimed by either party.

(vi) All fees and expenses relating to the work of the Independent Accounting Firm shall be paid by the party (that is, the Company or Seller) whose position with respect to the matter in dispute is furthest from the Independent Accounting Firm's final determination. Each Earn-Out Adjustment Report, absent fraud or manifest error, shall be expert determinations under New York law governing expert determination and appraisal proceedings. Any claim, dispute or controversy arising out of or relating to the final determinations of the Independent Accounting Firm, including enforcement of such final determinations, shall be resolved in accordance with Section 4.6.

(b) Each Earn-Out Amount, less the aggregate amount of all Earn-Out Amounts previously paid pursuant to this Section 2.1, if any, shall be paid by the Company to Seller within five (5) Business Days following the final determination of such amount pursuant to this Section 2.1. Any amounts paid pursuant to this Section 2.1 shall be treated for all federal, state and applicable local income tax purposes (but not for purposes of Article II of the Master Transaction Agreement) as (i) additional ceding commission under the Company FA Business Reinsurance Agreement (as defined in the Master Transaction Agreement) and (ii) an adjustment to the amount distributed by, or contributed to, the Company prior to the Closing under Section 2.3 of the Master Transaction Agreement. Seller, the Company, and VIAC agree to file all tax returns in a manner consist with this Section 2.1(b).

EARN-OUT COVENANTS

Section 3.1 Cooperation. Seller agrees that, during the Earn-Out Period, it shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to reasonably cooperate with the Company's efforts to increase the Actual Production. The Company agrees that it shall not and shall cause its Affiliates not to take any action the purpose or intent of which is to reduce the Earn-Out Amount during the Earn-Out Period or delay Actual Production until after the Earn-Out Period.

Section 3.2 Company Successors. If, at any point during the Earn-Out Period, the Company or any of its Affiliates sells, transfers, assigns or otherwise disposes of (whether through the sale, transfer, assignment or other disposition of assets or securities, through reinsurance or otherwise) all or substantially all of the FA Business (as defined in the Master Transaction Agreement), or the Company or any of its Affiliates or Buyer Parent or any of its Subsidiaries sells, transfers, assigns or otherwise disposes of all or substantially all of the assets and infrastructure needed to administer new fixed annuity contracts written by the Company or any of its Affiliates, the Company shall cause the acquirer or reinsurer of such business or assets to assume all of the Company's obligations hereunder, and the Actual Production shall, from and after the date of such sale, be calculated by reference to such acquirer or reinsurer and its Affiliates.

All references herein to any agreement, instrument, statute, rule or regulation are to the agreement, instrument, statute, rule or regulation as amended, modified, supplemented or replaced from time to time (and, in the case of statutes, includes any rules and regulations promulgated under said statutes) and to any section of any statute, rule or regulation including any successor to said section. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. The word "or" shall not be exclusive except where the context otherwise requires. Whenever the words "include," "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation." Whenever the singular is used herein, the same shall include the plural, and whenever the plural is used herein, the same shall include the singular, where appropriate. Whenever the word "Dollars" or the "$" sign appear in this Agreement, they shall be construed to mean United States Dollars, and all transactions under this Agreement shall be in United States Dollars. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the parties hereto and shall not be construed by any Governmental Entity against either party by virtue of the fact that such party was the drafting party.

Section 4.3 Entire Agreement; Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement (including all exhibits and schedules hereto), the Master Transaction Agreement, the RLI FA Reinsurance Agreement, and the Company FA Reinsurance Agreement together constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties, both written and oral, among the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and the Master Transaction Agreement. This Agreement is not intended to confer upon any Person other than the parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns any rights or remedies.

Section 4.4 Governing Law. This Agreement and any dispute arising hereunder shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof.

Section 4.5 Assignment. Subject to Section 3.2, neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise by either party without the prior written consent of the other party, and any such assignment that is not consented to shall be null and void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

Section 4.6 Jurisdiction; Enforcement.

(a) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of any court of the United States or any state court, which in either case is located in the City of New York (each, a "New York Court") for purposes of enforcing this Agreement or determining any claim arising from or related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In any such Action, each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to assert by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such Action is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such New York Court, that such Action is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue of such Action is improper; provided, that nothing set forth in this sentence shall prohibit any of the parties hereto from removing any matter from one New York Court to another New York Court. Each of the parties hereto also agrees that any final and unappealable judgment against a party hereto in connection with any Action will be conclusive and binding on such party and that such award or judgment may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, either within or outside of the United States. A certified or exemplified copy of such award or judgment will be conclusive evidence of the fact and amount of such award or judgment. Any process or other paper to be served in connection with any Action under this Agreement shall, if delivered or sent in accordance with Section 4.1, constitute good, proper and sufficient service thereof.

(b) The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that, without the necessity of posting bond or other undertaking, the parties hereto shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in accordance with this Agreement, this being in addition (subject to the terms of this Agreement) to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at law or in equity. In the event that any Action is brought in equity to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, no party hereto shall allege, and each party hereto hereby waives any defense or counterclaim, that there is an adequate remedy at law.

(c) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (I) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OR ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (II) IT UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH WAIVER, (III) IT MAKES SUCH WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (IV) IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 4.6.

Section 4.7 Severability; Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

(a) Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under Applicable Law, but if any provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect under any Applicable Law in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability will not affect any other provision or portion of any provision in such jurisdiction, and this Agreement will be reformed, construed and enforced in such jurisdiction as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or portion of any provision had never been contained herein.

(b) This Agreement may be amended or a provision hereof waived only by a written instrument signed by each party in the case of an amendment, or in the case of a waiver, by the party hereto entitled to make such a waiver.

(i) If the Interim Net Settlement Amount with respect to any period is positive, then the Ceding Company shall deposit into the Modco Account an amount equal to such Interim Net Settlement Amount on the date on which such Interim Net Settlement Amount is reported by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer; or

(ii) If the Interim Net Settlement Amount with respect to any period is negative, then the Ceding Company shall be permitted to withdraw from the Modco Account an amount equal to the absolute value of such Interim Net Settlement Amount within [two (2)] Business Days following the date on which such Interim Net Settlement Amount is reported by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer.

All Interim Net Settlement Amounts paid during any Monthly Accounting Period shall be reflected in the Monthly Accounting Report with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period and taken into account in determining the Net Settlement Amount with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period.

(b) The net balance payable under this Agreement for each Monthly Accounting Period (as set forth in the applicable Monthly Accounting Report, the "Net Settlement Amount") shall be calculated by the Ceding Company and reported to the Reinsurer in the Monthly Accounting Report delivered with respect to such Monthly Accounting Period. Each Net Settlement Amount shall be payable as follows:

(i) if the Net Settlement Amount indicated in the Monthly Accounting Report is positive, then the Ceding Company shall deposit into the Modco Account, on the date of delivery of such Monthly Accounting Report to the Reinsurer, an amount equal to such Net Settlement Amount; or

(ii) if the Net Settlement Amount indicated in a Monthly Accounting Report is negative, then the Ceding Company shall be permitted to withdraw from the Modco Account, on the date that is five (5) Business Days following the delivery of the Monthly Accounting Report to the Reinsurer, an amount equal to the absolute value of such Net Settlement Amount; provided, that if the absolute value of such negative Monthly Net Settlement Amount is greater than the fair market value of the assets in the Modco Account as of the last day of the relevant Monthly Accounting Period, then the Reinsurer shall pay the amount of such difference to the Ceding Company no later than five (5) Business Days after the receipt by the Reinsurer of the applicable Monthly Accounting Report.

(c) The Modco Adjustment payable under this Agreement for each Quarterly Accounting Period (as set forth in the applicable Quarterly Accounting Report) shall be payable as follows:

(i) if the Modco Adjustment is positive, then the Reinsurer shall pay to the Ceding Company for immediate deposit into the Modco Account such positive amount no later than five (5) Business Days after the receipt by the Reinsurer of the applicable Quarterly Accounting Report; and

(ii) if the Modco Adjustment is negative, then, on the date of delivery of the Quarterly Accounting Report to the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company shall withdraw assets with a Statutory Carrying Value equal to the absolute value of such negative amount from the Modco Account and pay the absolute value of such negative amount to the Reinsurer.

(d) Except as otherwise set forth herein, any amount due under this Agreement shall be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the account or accounts designated by the recipient thereof.

Section 8.01 Modco Account.

(a) As of the Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall establish a modified coinsurance account (the "Modco Account") on the books and records of the Ceding Company, which shall consist of, collectively, a trust account established by the Ceding Company pursuant to that certain Trust Agreement, dated as of the date hereof, among the Ceding Company, the Reinsurer and Citibank, N.A. (as trustee of such trust account, the "Trustee"), the Separate Account,[6] and the Existing Hedges.[7] The Modco Account and the assets maintained therein will be owned and maintained by the Ceding Company and will be used exclusively for the purposes set forth in this Agreement. The assets maintained in the Modco Account shall be invested in and consist only of Permitted Assets, and the Permitted Assets shall be valued, for the purposes of this Agreement, according to their Statutory Carrying Value. In accordance with Iowa SAP, the Ceding Company elects to cede all capital gains and losses in respect of the assets maintained in the Modco Account to the Reinsurer on a gross basis.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision hereof, assets held in the Modco Account may be withdrawn by the Ceding Company at any time and shall be utilized and applied by the Ceding Company or any of its successors in interest by operation of law, including any liquidator, rehabilitator, receiver or conservator of the Ceding Company, without diminution because of insolvency on the part of the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer, only for the following purposes:

(i) to reimburse the Ceding Company for the Quota Share of premiums which are returned to the owners of the Reinsured Policies because of cancellations of such Reinsured Policies;

(ii) to reimburse the Ceding Company for the Reinsured Liabilities paid pursuant to the provisions of the Reinsured Policies;

(iii) to pay any Interim Net Settlement Amount, Net Settlement Amount and other undisputed amounts due to the Ceding Company under this Agreement; and

(iv) to pay any Modco Adjustment due from the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer;

provided, however, that, other than withdrawals made by the Ceding Company for the purpose of effectuating the payment of the Interim Net Settlement Amounts, Net Settlement Amounts and Modco Adjustments, the Ceding Company shall not withdraw funds from the Modco Account until the expiration of any payment period afforded the Reinsurer hereunder, and then only upon providing the Reinsurer with written notice at least five (5) Business Days prior to such withdrawal.

(c) The Ceding Company shall promptly return to the Modco Account any assets withdrawn in excess of the actual amounts required in paragraphs (i) through (iv) immediately above or any amounts that are subsequently determined not to be due under such paragraphs ("Modco Excess Withdrawals"). The Ceding Company shall also pay interest on any Modco Excess Withdrawals at a rate determined in accordance with Section 17.02 from and including the date of withdrawal to but excluding the date on which the Modco Excess Withdrawal is returned to the Modco Account. Any Modco Excess Withdrawals shall be held by the Ceding

Company or any successor in interest of the Ceding Company in trust for the benefit of the Reinsurer and shall at all times be maintained separate and apart from any assets of the Ceding Company, for the sole purposes described in paragraphs (i) through (iv) immediately above.

(d) Determinations of statutory impairments of assets maintained in the Modco Account shall be made by the Ceding Company and shall be (i) based upon the statutory rules and guidelines and the impairment policy used by the Ceding Company and its auditors for purposes of calculating statutory impairments reflected in the Ceding Company's statutory financial statements and (ii) subject to consultation between the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company. The Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Reinsurer in writing if the Ceding Company determines that any assets maintained in the Modco Account have become impaired for purposes of determining Statutory Carrying Value. Such notice shall describe any such assets, the reason for the impairment and the effect on Statutory Carrying Value of such assets.

(e) The Reinsurer shall bear the administrative costs and expenses related to the establishment and maintenance of the Modco Account, including the fees of the Trustee and the fees of any investment manager appointed pursuant to Section 8.03 (including any sub-investment manager appointed in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement). The Ceding Company shall promptly forward to the Reinsurer any invoice it receives relating to such costs and expenses. On the fifth (5th) Business Day following the date on which it delivers such invoice to the Reinsurer, the Ceding Company shall authorize the withdrawal of the amount of such costs and expenses from the Modco Account; provided, that if such amount is greater than the Statutory Carrying Value of the assets in the Modco Account, then the Reinsurer shall pay the amount of such difference to the Ceding Company no later than eight (8) Business Days following the delivery of such invoice to the Reinsurer.

(f) The performance of the assets maintained in the Modco Account, including of all investment income paid or accrued, investment gains or losses, defaults and/or statutory impairments, will inure to the sole benefit or cost of the Reinsurer.

Section 8.02 Credit for Reinsurance. The Ceding Company shall own the Modco Account and the assets maintained therein, and the Reinsurer will not be required to provide reserve credit in respect of the Reinsured Liabilities ceded hereunder on a modified coinsurance basis.

Section 8.03 Investment Management. Pursuant to an investment management agreement (the "Investment Management Agreement"), the Ceding Company shall appoint Athene Asset Management, L.P. as investment manager to provide investment management services with respect to the assets maintained in the Modco Account (the "Investment Manager"). The Ceding Company shall not amend, modify or change the terms of the Investment Management Agreement, including the investment guidelines attached as an exhibit thereto, or remove or replace the Investment Manager without the prior written consent of the Reinsurer. In the event that the Investment Manager is removed or resigns, the Ceding Company shall appoint a replacement investment manager as directed by the Reinsurer. The replacement investment manager shall accept its appointment by entering into an investment management agreement in a form acceptable to the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer, and substantially similar to the Investment Management Agreement.

HEDGING

Section 9.01 Existing Hedges. The Ceding Company hereby assigns to the Reinsurer a fractional interest in the gross proceeds in respect of the Existing Hedges equivalent to the Quota Share of all amounts actually received (or deemed received) by the Ceding Company pursuant to the Existing Hedges from the relevant Hedge Counterparty, including upon an early exercise of an Existing Hedge by the Ceding Company, which amounts shall be determined without regard to any netting of amounts between the Ceding Company and the relevant Hedge Counterparty with respect to any derivatives that are not Existing Hedges (the "Existing Hedge Proceeds"). Such assignment shall occur automatically, without further action on the part of either party, on the Effective Date. Upon any termination of this Agreement, all of the Reinsurer's right, title and interest (legal, equitable and otherwise) in and to the Existing Hedge Proceeds will be immediately assigned to the Ceding Company without any further action by the parties hereto. The Existing Hedge Proceeds shall be attributed to the Modco Account and reflected in the applicable Weekly Accounting Report and Monthly Accounting Report. The Ceding Company shall pay the Existing Hedge Proceeds to the Reinsurer in accordance with Section 7.03.

Section 9.02 Other Hedging. Other than with respect to the Existing Hedges, the Reinsurer shall be responsible for hedging its share of the index risk associated with the Reinsured Policies.[8]

ADMINISTRATION

Section 10.01 Policy Administration. The Ceding Company shall provide all required, necessary and appropriate claims, administrative and other services, including reporting under Article VII, with respect to the Reinsured Policies, the Separate Account and the Existing Hedges. The Ceding Company shall conduct its administration and claims practices with respect to the Reinsured Policies (a) with a level of skill, diligence and expertise that would reasonably be expected from experienced and qualified personnel performing such duties in similar circumstances, (b) in accordance with applicable Law and the terms of the Reinsured Policies, and (c) in a manner no less favorable to the Reinsurer and the Reinsured Polices than those used by the Ceding Company with respect to other policies of the Ceding Company not reinsured by the Reinsurer hereunder or other hedges of the Ceding Company. The Ceding Company shall not outsource any administrative functions or claims administration with respect to the Reinsured Policies or this Agreement without the prior written consent of the Reinsurer. If the Reinsurer consents to any outsourcing of any administrative functions or claims administration with respect to the Reinsured Policies or this Agreement, the Ceding Company shall secure the Reinsurer's right to audit and inspect the party performing such outsourced services.

Section 10.02 Record-Keeping.

(a) The Ceding Company shall maintain all records and correspondence for services performed by the Ceding Company hereunder relating to the Reinsured Policies in accordance with industry standards of insurance record-keeping. In addition, such records shall be made available for examination, audit, and inspection by the department of insurance of any State within whose jurisdiction the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer operates. The Ceding Company and the Reinsurer further agree that in the event of the termination of this Agreement, any such records in the possession of the Reinsurer shall promptly be duplicated and forwarded to the Ceding Company unless otherwise instructed.

(b) The Ceding Company shall establish and maintain an adequate system of internal controls and procedures for financial reporting relating to the Reinsured Policies and the Separate Account, including associated documentation, and shall make such documentation available for examination and inspection by the Reinsurer. All reports provided by the Ceding Company pursuant to Article VII shall be prepared in accordance with such system and procedures and shall be consistent with the Ceding Company's books and records.

ARTICLE XI

TERM AND TERMINATION

Section 11.01 Duration of Agreement. This Agreement shall continue in force until such time as the Ceding Company has no further liabilities or obligations with respect to the Reinsured Liabilities.

Section 11.02 Recapture.

(a) Neither party shall be permitted to cause a recapture of the Reinsured Policies except in accordance with this Section 11.02. For the avoidance of doubt, neither party shall be permitted to cause a partial recapture of the Reinsured Policies pursuant to this Section 11.02.

(b) Recapture for Non-Payment or Other Material Breach. Either party may cause the Reinsured Policies to be recaptured in full and this Agreement to be terminated as to all Reinsured Policies if (i) the other party fails to pay any amounts due under this Agreement within thirty (30) calendar days following written notice of non-payment from the non-defaulting party or (ii) such other party otherwise materially breaches this Agreement and fails to cure such material breach within thirty (30) calendar days following written notice thereof from the non-breaching party.

(c) Recapture for Insolvency of Reinsurer. The Ceding Company may terminate this Agreement and recapture all of the Reinsured Policies in the event that the Reinsurer becomes insolvent (as set forth in Article XIV) by promptly providing the Reinsurer or its Authorized Representative with written notice of recapture, to be effective as of the date on which the Reinsurer's insolvency is established by the authority responsible for such determination. Any requirement for a notification period prior to the termination of this Agreement shall not apply under such circumstances.

Section 11.03 Recapture Payment.

(a) In the event the Reinsured Policies are recaptured in full (including if this Agreement is rejected by any liquidator, receiver, rehabilitator, trustee or similar Person acting on behalf of the Ceding Company (a "Receiver")), a net accounting and settlement as to any balance due under this Agreement shall be undertaken by the Ceding Company in accordance with Article VII, which calculations shall be as of the Recapture Effective Date. Within thirteen (13) Business Days following the Recapture Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall deliver to the Reinsurer a final Monthly Accounting Report and Quarterly Accounting Report, each as of the Recapture Effective Date (collectively, the "Terminal Accounting Report"), and the final Net Settlement Amount and final Modco Adjustment set forth in such Terminal Accounting Report shall be paid in accordance with Section 7.03. In addition, within thirteen (13) Business Days following the Recapture Effective Date, the Ceding Company shall pay to the Reinsurer an amount equal to the Unamortized Ceding Commission in cash by wire transfer of immediately available funds.

(b) The Reinsurer's right to terminate the reinsurance provided hereunder will not prejudice its right to collect premiums, and applicable interest as specified in Section 17.02, for the period during which such reinsurance was in force, through and including any notice period.

Section 11.04 Survival. All provisions of this Agreement will survive any termination of this Agreement and recapture of the Reinsured Policies to the extent necessary to carry out the purpose of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XII

ERRORS AND OMISSIONS

Section 12.01 Errors and Omissions. Any unintentional or accidental failure to comply with the terms of this Agreement which can be shown to be the result of an oversight or clerical error relating to the administration of reinsurance by either party will not constitute a breach of this Agreement; provided, that, upon discovery, the error shall be promptly corrected so that both parties are restored to the position they would have occupied had the oversight or clerical error not occurred. In the event a payment is corrected, the party receiving the payment shall be entitled to interest in accordance with Section 17.02. Should it not be possible to restore both parties to this position, the party responsible for the oversight or clerical error will be responsible for any resulting liabilities and expenses.

ARTICLE XIII

Section 13.01 Negotiation.

(a) Within fifteen (15) calendar days after the Reinsurer or the Ceding Company has given the other party written notification of a specific dispute arising out of or relating to this Agreement, each party will appoint a designated officer of its company to attempt to resolve such dispute. The officers will meet at a mutually agreeable time and location as soon as reasonably possible and as often as reasonably necessary in order to gather and furnish the other with all appropriate and relevant information concerning the dispute. Any such meetings may be held by telephone or video conference. The officers will discuss the matter in dispute and will negotiate in good faith without the necessity of formal arbitration proceedings. During the negotiation process, all reasonable requests made by one officer to the other for information will be honored. The specific format for such discussions will be decided by the designated officers.

(b) If the officers cannot resolve the dispute within thirty (30) calendar days of their first meeting, the dispute will be submitted to formal arbitration pursuant to Section 13.02, unless the parties agree in writing to extend the negotiation period for an additional thirty (30) calendar days.

Section 13.02 Arbitration; Waiver of Trial by Jury.

(a) It is the intention of the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company that the customs and practices of the insurance and reinsurance industry will be given full effect in the operation and interpretation of this Agreement. If the Reinsurer and the Ceding Company cannot mutually resolve a dispute that arises out of or relates to this Agreement, including the validity of this Agreement, and the dispute cannot be resolved through the negotiation process, then the dispute will be finally settled by arbitration in accordance with the provisions of this Section 13.02.

(b) To initiate arbitration, either the Ceding Company or the Reinsurer will notify the other party by certified mail of its desire to arbitrate, stating the nature of the dispute and the remedy sought.

(c) Any arbitration pursuant to this Section 13.02 will be conducted before a panel of three (3) arbitrators who will be current or former officers of life insurance or reinsurance companies other than the parties to this Agreement, their Affiliates or subsidiaries, or other professionals with experience in life insurance or reinsurance; provided, that such professionals shall not have performed services for either party or its Affiliates within the previous five (5) years. Each of the arbitrators will be familiar with the prevailing customs and practices for reinsurance in the life insurance and reinsurance industry in the United States. Each of the parties will appoint one arbitrator and the two (2) so appointed will select the third arbitrator who shall be independent and impartial. If either party refuses or fails to appoint an arbitrator within sixty (60) calendar days after the other party has given written notice to such party of its arbitrator appointment, the party that has given notice may appoint the second arbitrator. If the two (2) arbitrators do not agree on a third arbitrator within thirty (30) calendar days of the appointment of the second arbitrator, then the third arbitrator shall be selected by the ARIAS-U.S. Umpire Selection Procedure (available at www.ARIAS-US.org), subject to the arbitrator qualification requirements of this paragraph.

(d) Each arbitration hearing under this Agreement will be held on the date set by the arbitrators at a mutually agreed upon location. In no event will this date be later than six (6) months after the appointment of the third arbitrator. As soon as possible, the arbitrators will establish arbitration procedures as warranted by the facts and issues of the particular case. Notwithstanding Section 17.17, the arbitration and this Section 13.02 shall be governed by Title 9 (Arbitration) of the United States Code.

(e) The arbitrators will base their decision on the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the customs and practices of the insurance and reinsurance industries rather than on strict interpretation of the law. The decision of the arbitrators will be made by majority rule and will be final and binding on both parties, unless (i) the decision was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means; (ii) there was evident partiality by an arbitrator or corruption in any of the arbitrators or misconduct prejudicing the rights of any party; or (iii) the arbitrators exceeded their powers. Subject to the preceding sentence, neither party may seek judicial review of the decision of the arbitrators. The arbitrators shall enter an award which shall do justice between the parties and the award shall be supported by written opinion. The parties agree that the federal courts in the State of Iowa, or the State courts of such State, have jurisdiction to hear any matter relating to compelling arbitration or enforcing the judgment of an arbitral panel, and the parties hereby consent to such jurisdiction. Each party hereby waives, to the fullest extent permitted by Law, any objection it may now or hereafter have to the laying of such venue, or any claim that a proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum. In addition, the Ceding Company and the Reinsurer hereby consent to service of process out of such courts at the addresses set forth in Section 17.06.

(f) Unless the arbitrators decide otherwise, each party will bear the expense of its own arbitration activities, including its appointed arbitrator and any outside attorney and witness fees. The parties will jointly bear the expense of the third arbitrator.

(g) Waiver of Trial by Jury. THE REINSURER AND THE CEDING COMPANY HEREBY WAIVE ANY AND ALL RIGHTS TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY MATTER ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT.

ARTICLE XIV

INSOLVENCY

Section 14.01 Insolvency.

(a) A party to this Agreement will be deemed "insolvent" when it:

(i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, rehabilitator, conservator, liquidator or statutory successor (the "Authorized Representative") of its properties or assets;

(ii) is adjudicated as bankrupt or insolvent;

(iii) files or consents to the filing of a petition in bankruptcy, seeks reorganization or an arrangement with creditors or takes advantage of any bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation, rehabilitation, conservation or similar Law; or

(iv) becomes the subject of an order to rehabilitate or an order to liquidate as defined by the insurance code of the jurisdiction of the party's domicile.

(b) In the event of the insolvency of either party, the rights or remedies of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect.

(c) Insolvency of the Ceding Company. In the event of the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation of the Ceding Company or the appointment of a liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company, the reinsurance coverage provided hereunder shall be payable by the Reinsurer directly to the Ceding Company or to its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor, on the basis of the liability of the Ceding Company for the Reinsured Liabilities without diminution because of such insolvency, liquidation, rehabilitation or appointment or because such liquidator, receiver or statutory successor has failed to pay any claims or any portion thereof. In any such event, the reinsurance being provided hereunder shall be payable immediately upon demand, with reasonable provision for verification, on the basis of claims allowed against the Ceding Company by any court of competent jurisdiction or by any liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. In any such event, the liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of the Ceding Company shall give written notice to the Reinsurer of the pendency of each claim against the Ceding Company with respect to such Reinsured Liabilities within a reasonable time after each such claim is filed in the insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding. During the pendency of any such claims, the Reinsurer may, at its own expense, investigate such claim and interpose in the proceeding in which such claim is to be adjudicated any defense or defenses that the Reinsurer may reasonably deem available to the Ceding Company or its liquidator, receiver or statutory successor. The expenses incurred in connection therewith by the Reinsurer shall be chargeable, subject to court approval, against the Ceding Company as part of the expense of such insolvency, liquidation or rehabilitation to the extent of any benefit that accrues to the Ceding Company, solely as a result of the defense or defenses undertaken by the Reinsurer. For the avoidance of doubt, the Reinsurer will be liable only for benefits reinsured as benefits become due under the terms of the Reinsured Policies and will not be or become liable for any amounts or reserves to be held by the Ceding Company as to the Reinsured Policies or for any damages or payments resulting from the termination or restructuring of the Reinsured Policies, in each case, that are not otherwise expressly covered by this Agreement.

ARTICLE XV

TAXES

Section 15.01 Taxes. No taxes, allowances, or other expenses will be paid by the Reinsurer to the Ceding Company for any Reinsured Policy, except as specifically referred to in this Agreement.

Section 15.02 Excise Tax. In the event that any excise tax is due with respect to any amounts payable by the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer under this Agreement, the Ceding Company shall pay the entire amount of such excise tax. The Reinsurer shall reimburse the Ceding Company for any such excise tax paid by the Ceding Company in accordance with Section 7.03.

ARTICLE XVI

REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

Section 16.01 Representations and Warranties of the Ceding Company. The Ceding Company hereby represents and warrants to the Reinsurer, as of the Effective Date, as follows:

(a) Organization and Qualification. The Ceding Company is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of the State of Iowa and has all requisite corporate power and authority to operate its business as now conducted, and is duly qualified as a foreign corporation to do business, and, to the extent legally applicable, is in good standing, in each jurisdiction where the character of its owned, operated or leased properties or the nature of its activities makes such qualification necessary, except for failures to be so qualified or be in good standing that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Ceding Company has all requisite corporate power to enter into, consummate the transactions contemplated by and carry out its obligations under, this Agreement. The execution and delivery by the Ceding Company of this Agreement, and the consummation by the Ceding Company of the transactions contemplated by, and the performance by the Ceding Company of its obligations under, this Agreement have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate action on the part of the Ceding Company. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Ceding Company, and (assuming due authorization, execution and delivery by the Reinsurer) this Agreement constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of the Ceding Company, enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of any applicable bankruptcy, reorganization, insolvency, moratorium, or similar Laws relating to or affecting creditors' rights generally.

(c) No Conflict. The execution, delivery and performance by the Ceding Company of, and the consummation by the Ceding Company of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement do not and will not (i) violate or conflict with the organizational documents of the Ceding Company, (ii) conflict with or violate any Law or Permit of any Governmental Entity applicable to the Ceding Company or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, or (iii) result in any breach of, or constitute a default (or event which, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a default) under, or give to any Person any rights of termination, acceleration or cancellation of, any agreement, lease, note, bond, loan or credit agreement, mortgage, indenture or other instrument, obligation or contract of any kind to which the Ceding Company or any of its subsidiaries is a party or by which the Ceding Company or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective properties or assets is bound or affected, except, in the case of clause (iii), any such conflicts, violations, breaches, loss of contractual benefits, defaults or rights that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) Factual Information Relating to the Reinsured Policies. The information relating to the business reinsured under this Agreement and the Reinsured Policies that was supplied by or on behalf of the Ceding Company to the Reinsurer or any of the Reinsurer's representatives in connection with this Agreement (such information, the "Factual Information"), as of the date supplied (or if later corrected or supplemented prior to the date hereof, as of the date corrected or supplemented), did not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary to make such Factual Information, taken as a whole, not misleading in light of the circumstances under which the statements contained therein were made, and was otherwise complete and accurate in all material respects. The Factual Information was compiled in a commercially reasonable manner given its intended purpose.

(e) Solvency. The Ceding Company is and will be Solvent on a statutory basis immediately after giving effect to this Agreement. For the purposes of this Section 16.01(e), "Solvent" means that: (i) the aggregate assets of the Ceding Company are greater than the aggregate liabilities of the Ceding Company, in each case determined in accordance with Iowa SAP; (ii) the Ceding Company does not intend to, and does not believe that it will, incur debts or other liabilities beyond its ability to pay such debts and other liabilities as they come due; and (iii) the Ceding Company is not engaged in a business or transaction, and does not contemplate engaging in a business or transaction, for which the Ceding Company's assets would constitute unreasonably insufficient capital.

(f) Governmental Licenses. The Ceding Company has all Permits necessary to conduct its business as currently conducted and execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, this Agreement, except in such cases where the failure to have a Permit has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. All Permits that are material to the conduct of the Ceding Company's business are valid and in full force and effect. The Ceding Company is not subject to any pending Action or, to the knowledge of the Ceding Company, any threatened Action that seeks the revocation, suspension, termination, modification or impairment of any Permit that, if successful, would reasonably be expected to have, or with the passage of time become, a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(g) Separate Account. The Separate Account has been maintained in accordance with applicable Law. No plan of operations with respect to the Separate Account was required to be filed and approved by any Governmental Entity.

Section 16.02 Covenants of the Ceding Company.

(a) Investigations. To the extent permitted by applicable Law, the Ceding Company shall promptly notify the Reinsurer, in writing, of any and all investigations of the Ceding Company conducted by any Governmental Entity commencing after the date hereof, other than routine State insurance department examinations that do not relate to the business reinsured pursuant to this Agreement or would not otherwise reasonably be expected to adversely affect the performance by the Ceding Company of its obligations under this Agreement; provided, however, that the Ceding Company may withhold any notice otherwise required to be delivered pursuant to this Section 16.02(a) to the extent that the delivery thereof to the Reinsurer would result in a waiver of the attorney-client privilege, the work-product doctrine or any other applicable legal privilege or similar doctrine.

(b) Statutory Accounting Principles. The Ceding Company shall prepare its financial statements as required by, and in accordance with, Iowa SAP.

(c) Existence; Conduct of Business. The Ceding Company shall do or cause to be done all things reasonably necessary to preserve, renew and keep in full force and effect its legal existence and the rights, Permits and privileges material to the conduct of its business.

(d) Compliance with Law. The Ceding Company shall comply with all Laws applicable to, and all Permits issued by any Governmental Entity to, the Ceding Company or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, except where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Ceding Company's ability to perform its obligations, or on the Reinsurer's rights or obligations, under this Agreement.

(e) Governmental Notices. The Ceding Company shall provide the Reinsurer, within five (5) Business Days after receipt thereof, copies of any written notice or report from any Governmental Entity with respect to the business reinsured under this Agreement and a written summary of any material oral communication with any Governmental Entity with respect to the business reinsured under this Agreement.

(f) Restrictions on Liens. The Ceding Company shall not create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any liens on the assets in the Modco Account, including the Existing Hedges (whether owned on the date of this Agreement or hereafter acquired), or on any interest therein or the proceeds thereof.

(g) Plan of Operations. The Ceding Company shall not establish, amend or otherwise modify any plan of operations with respect to the Separate Account without the prior written approval of the Reinsurer.

Section 16.03 Representations and Warranties of the Reinsurer. The Reinsurer hereby represents and warrants to the Ceding Company, as of the Effective Date, as follows:

(a) Organization and Qualification. The Reinsurer is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of Bermuda and has all requisite corporate power and authority to operate its business as now conducted, and is duly qualified as a foreign corporation to do business, and, to the extent legally applicable, is in good standing, in each jurisdiction where the character of its owned, operated or leased properties or the nature of its activities makes such qualification necessary, except for failures to be so qualified or be in good standing that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Authorization. The Reinsurer has all requisite corporate power to enter into, consummate the transactions contemplated by and carry out its obligations under, this Agreement. The execution and delivery by the Reinsurer of this Agreement, and the consummation by the Reinsurer of the transactions contemplated by, and the performance by the Reinsurer of its obligations under, this Agreement have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate action on the part of the Reinsurer. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Reinsurer, and (assuming due authorization, execution and delivery by the Ceding Company) this Agreement constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of the Reinsurer, enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of any applicable bankruptcy, reorganization, insolvency, moratorium, or similar Laws relating to or affecting creditors' rights generally.

(c) No Conflict. The execution, delivery and performance by the Reinsurer of, and the consummation by the Reinsurer of the transactions contemplated by, this Agreement do not and will not (i) violate or conflict with the organizational documents of the Reinsurer, (ii) conflict with or violate any Law or Permit of any Governmental Entity applicable to the Reinsurer or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, or (iii) result in any breach of, or constitute a default (or event which, with the giving of notice or lapse of time, or both, would become a default) under, or give to any Person any rights of termination, acceleration or cancellation of, any agreement, lease, note, bond, loan or credit agreement, mortgage, indenture or other instrument, obligation or contract of any kind to which the Reinsurer or any of its subsidiaries is a party or by which the Reinsurer or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective properties or assets is bound or affected, except, in the case of clause (iii), any such conflicts, violations, breaches, loss of contractual benefits, defaults or rights that, individually or in the aggregate, do not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(d) Governmental Licenses. The Reinsurer has all Permits necessary to conduct its business as currently conducted and execute and deliver, and perform its obligations under, this Agreement, except in such cases where the failure to have a Permit has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement. All Permits that are material to the conduct of the Reinsurer's business are valid and in full force and effect. The Reinsurer is not subject to any pending Action or, to the knowledge of the Reinsurer, any threatened Action that seeks the revocation, suspension, termination, modification or impairment of any Permit that, if successful, would reasonably be expected to have, or with the passage of time become, a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

(b) Statutory Accounting Principles. The Reinsurer shall prepare its financial statements as required by, and in accordance with, Bermuda statutory accounting principles.

(c) Existence; Conduct of Business. The Reinsurer shall do or cause to be done all things reasonably necessary to preserve, renew and keep in full force and effect its legal existence and the rights, Permits and privileges material to the conduct of its business.

(d) Compliance with Law. The Reinsurer shall comply with all Laws applicable to, and all Permits issued by any Governmental Entity to, the Reinsurer or by which it or its properties or assets is bound or subject, except where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Reinsurer's ability to perform its obligations, or on the Ceding Company's rights or obligations, under this Agreement.

(e) Governmental Notices. The Reinsurer shall provide the Ceding Company, within five (5) Business Days after receipt thereof, copies of any written notice or report from any Governmental Entity with respect to the business reinsured under this Agreement and a written summary of any material oral communication with any Governmental Entity with respect to the business reinsured under this Agreement.
